2 Cor 3:7-18 (7 But if the ministration of death, written and engraved in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not steadfastly behold the face of Moses for the glory of his countenance; which glory was to be done away: 8 How shall not the ministration of the spirit be rather glorious? 9 For if the ministration of condemnation be glory, much more doth the ministration of righteousness exceed in glory. 10 For even that which was made glorious had no glory in this respect, by reason of the glory that excelleth. 11 For if that which is done away was glorious, much more that which remained is glorious. 12 Seeing then that we have such hope, we use great plainness of speech: 13 And not as Moses, which put a vail over his face, that the children of Israel could not steadfastly look to the end of that which is abolished: 14 But their minds were blinded: for until this day remained the same vail untaken away in the reading of the Old Testament; which vail is done away in Christ. 15 But even unto this day, when Moses is read, the vail is upon their heart. 16 Nevertheless when it shall turn to the Lord, the vail

shall be taken away. 17 Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. 18 But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same Image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord. (KJV)

In Matt 24:30, where we see the son of man coming in the clouds of heaven and clothed with the same clouds, we find that the word “coming” is NOT Parousia, but it means a process of coming, and it is applying to the same time of the end that we are looking at here in this Chapter, which is most likely from 1799AD and onward to 1874AD. 2064 erchomai (er'-khom-ahee); middle voice of a primary verb (used only in the present and imperfect tenses, the others being supplied by a kindred [middle voice] eleuthomai (el-yoo'-thom-ahee); or [active] eltho (el'-tho); which do not otherwise occur); to come or go (in a great variety of applications, literally and figuratively): KJV-- accompany, appear, bring, come, enter, fall out, go, grow, X light, X next, pass, resort, be set.

In Matt Chapter 24, we see that the “coming” phase represented events that were preparing the way for the actual “second presence”. From 1799-1874AD, there were several events shown in the prophecy of Matt, that were steps leading up to the actual coming of Christ, and only after he had arrived did he send out his angels and begin gathering his elect from the four winds. Only those of the church who were watching the signs of the time, recognized the call: “here comes the bridegroom”. See vol. 2-3 in “Studies in the scriptures”, for the chronology and the events that point to the second presence of our Lord in 1874AD. The rest of the fallen church systems, as represented by the foolish virgins who did not get oil for their lamps, and could not go out to meet the bridegroom—they lost the chance for the high calling because it was too late once they realized what was happening.

Why 1799

The Reformation that started at the Diet of Worms, led directly to the events of 1789-1799. The standing up of Michael as seen in Dan 12:1, began in 1799AD with the first blow on the feet of the Image as shown in Daniel Chapter 2, and that first blow separated the clay and iron which represented church and state. That standing up or coming from 1799AD, was a process that continued until our Lord fully arrived in 1874AD, and at that time we see that he was fully stood up and was ready to judge and punish the evil system at his Second Advent. The judgment against the evil system was announced in 1878AD, and the time of trouble that began the destruction and punishment of the evil system, started in 1914AD. That was the final blow upon the church and state system, that broke up the entire statue of gold, silver, and bronze, and the iron and clay, as shown in Daniel Chapter 2. That second blow was the end of the 2520 years of the Gentile Times. We are now in the crushing and grinding phase which breaks up the pieces, so that the final whirlwind can blow them away just before the kingdom.

The little book or scroll that we see in our Lords' hand, was started to be fully opened at the time of the end, but it would have taken until at least the time of the second presence in 1874AD to be opened fully. We will see that progression confirmed a little later in the Chapter, when we notice that the “little” book that is first seen in the angel’s hand at the start of this Chapter, changes to the “complete” book only at the time that we get to the place in the Chapter where it tells us about the angel with the seventh trumpet.

The ones who were diligently studying the Bible after the Reformation and at the time of the end, contributed greatly to the increase in Bible knowledge, and that led to the full understanding of the Divine Plan in the next church, which began in 1874AD. Those earlier ones, were the ones that developed the bits and pieces of doctrines that Pastor gathered up and put together in a complete package, which we know of as the Divine Plan of the Ages.

Revelation 10:2

Revelation 10:2 and he had in his hand a little book which was open. He placed his right foot on the sea and his left on the land; (NAU)

The Book is Almost Open Because 6 Seals Have Been Removed

The angel’s feet are planted on both the earth and sea, and those symbols are the same ones that Satan had attacked and conquered at the beginning of the Gospel Age. He is going to be taking that control back on this end of the age. Revelation 12:12 Therefore rejoice, O heavens, and ye that dwell in them. Woe for the earth and for the sea: because the devil is gone down unto you, having great wrath, knowing that he hath but a short time. (ASV)

We saw the terrible persecuting beasts came up out of the sea in Revelation 13:1, and out of the earth in 13:11, and that fallen system is what is being conquered by the Lord in the placing of these symbols under his feet.

Rev 13:1 And the dragon stood on the sand of the seashore. Then I saw a beast coming up out of the sea, having ten horns and seven heads, and on his horns were ten diadems, and on his heads were blasphemous names.

Rev 13:11 Then I saw another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like a lamb and he spoke as a dragon. NASU

That our Lord is placing his feet on the sea and the land, shows that he is going to be gradually taking control of the symbols of the sea and earth back away from Satan. Satan had been involved with and in control of those symbols since the early part of the Gospel Age, and he was allowed to keep that control for 1260 years. Our Lord began to take control of the earth and the sea in 1521, at the Diet of the Worms, but he did not begin to fully break apart the system until 1799. The full power of the church and state system was to be gradually broken down after 1799AD, as indicated by the steps of 1260, 1290, and the 1335 days, which we find in Daniel Chapter 12.

Feet of Fire Taking Control

In accordance with that chronology, we notice that the feet are like fire, which reminds us of 1 Cor Chapter 3, where we see that fire is going to test all things. The wood hay and stubble are burned up, but the good things represented by the gold and the silver are saved. There was a major step of that process in 1799, where we see that the false idea of church and state was destroyed when the church was separated from the state in the Papal system. In the next step of knowledge, we see that after 1829, that much more bible knowledge was brought forth into the church, and those were doctrines that were going to lead up to 1874AD, where Bro Russell was able to look at the doctrines that had been discovered before him, and he then added his part and he began to reveal the Divine Plan of the Ages, and the knowledge of the harvest and the judgment of the system.

In the following scriptures, we find it prophesied that our Lord was to make the earth his footstool, or begin to place the earth's affairs under his control at the end of the age: Ps 110:1, 1 Cor 15:25, Heb 1:13, 10:12-13, Eph 1:22, Matt 22:44, and Joshua 10:24. When our Lord put one foot on the land and the other foot on the sea, that shows us that he was going to gradually restrain and take away the power of the evil church and state system. "Till I make your enemies my footstool" is a figure of speech, meaning, "until I place the earth under your control."

To show that our Lord is already working at doing that, we see that the 1517-21 Reformation had weakened the church and state system by the time of the time of the end, because exactly in 1799AD the Pope died in a French prison, and the power of the Papacy was broken because of that. That happened seven months prior to March 14, 1800, which is the date the article below is talking about, and so the date the Pope died is Sept – Oct of 1799AD, which is the exact date of the end of the 1260 years— which was 1798.75AD.

Answers.com "The conclave that elected Chiaramonti to the Papal chair was forced to gather at Venice because of the seizure of Rome by French forces in the final months of his predecessor's reign. Pius VI had died in French captivity, and the resulting paralysis of the machinery of the Church evidenced itself in a consistory that took 7 months to elect a Pope. Cardinal Chiaramonti became Pope Pius VII on March 14, 1800.

Concordat of 1801

Pius VII's first task as supreme pontiff was to establish a modus vivendi with Napoleon I. Negotiations produced the Concordat of 1801, which removed the confusion that had plagued the French clergy since the promulgation of the Civil Constitution in 1790. The concordat stated that Roman Catholicism was the religion of most Frenchmen, implying thereby that other religions would be tolerated. It further provided that the French clergy would be paid by the state, thereby tacitly closing the door to any hope that the property confiscated from the Church during the Revolution would be returned. In the following year the French government added to these provisions the so-called

Organic Articles, which withdrew all Papal jurisdiction from France except that specifically authorized by the government.

A few years after that happened, we find Napoleon crowning himself and refusing to share the power of the crown with the Pope, and then to humiliate the Pope further, he annexed the Papal States. Those events broke the back of the superstitious Papal power at that time, which was an event from which they have not been able to recover!

Hyperhistory.net “In 1804, Napoleon was made Emperor, a title that was traditionally conferred by the Pope. But during the ceremony, Napoleon took the crown from the Pope's hands and crowned himself Emperor and his wife, Josephine, empress. This sent the cold and clear message that he, unlike Holy Roman Emperors of the past, would not share his power with the Pope. The citizens of Paris were oddly unfazed by all of this, but as Napoleon irreverently claimed, “I could marry [the Virgin Mary] without shocking the Parisians.” The Pope left Paris very displeased with his former friend”.

“He granted basic rights and freedom of religion through his Napoleonic Code. Freedom of religion displeased the Roman Catholic Church even further since most of the areas granted this freedom were originally Catholic.

Napoleon had been in control of Italy for some time, but when he ordered that the Papal State be annexed to his Empire, Pope Pius VII excommunicated those who were sent to carry out the annexation. Napoleon responded by arresting the Pope and throwing him in prison, where he died. Between his conquests of Europe and imprisonment of the Pope, the Emperor Napoleon was quickly gaining enemies.”

Sweet Messages of Truth & Mourning, Lamentation, & Woe

Since its Christ who is coming as judge with the scroll in Revelation Chapter 10, we see that he is going to do the judgment, and that judgment determines who is going to be in the book of life for the church. That is why we will find that the scroll the angel is bringing, is sweet in both John and Ezekiel's mouth, but it also contains mourning, lamentation, and woe. The flying scroll in Zechariah 5:1-2, is also showing us severe judgment. See the comments on Rev Chapter 5, regarding the scroll in Zechariah, for more information about the 40-year harvest and the 1000 years that are pictured by that scroll. Each half of the scroll was 40 cubits, picturing the 40 years of both harvests, and we are coming up on the harvest of the nominal house here in this Chapter.

There is going to be a rewarding of the faithful, as well as a judgment and punishment of the wicked and guilty. That is why we have concluded that the scroll that is in Jehovah's hand, contains the complete deciphered knowledge of the Bible. Because of that, it contains judgment of not only individuals, but it contained the judgment of the Jewish system, as well as the Christian system. At the same time, it's going to show us how Jehovah and our Lord are going to execute a plan that is going to save all who are willing.

There will be a plan of heavenly salvation for the church, and there will also be a plan of salvation for the world in the next age. The intent is to save all who are willing, which includes some who don't do so well initially, but who are saved anyway.

That is the same message that we see in Daniel Chapter 12, in that there are those who do good and get the reward and shine like the stars of heaven forever, and then there are those who don't do good and they awake to disgrace and everlasting contempt. We will consider the coming judgment in more detail when we consider the 1845-year parallel, which we will find is shown symbolically in Ezekiel Chapter 1—which we will look at later in this Chapter. We will also look at the 390 and 40 years, given in Ezekiel chapters 2-4, which we believe sets the time frame for this vision in chapter 10.

Dan 12:2-3) 2 "Many of those who sleep in the dust of the ground will awake, these to everlasting life, but the others to disgrace {and} everlasting contempt.

3 "Those who have insight will shine brightly like the brightness of the expanse of heaven, and those who lead the many to righteousness, like the stars forever and ever. (NAU)

Revelation 10:3-4

Revelation 10:3 and he cried out with a loud voice, as when a lion roars; and when he had cried out, the seven peals of thunder uttered their voices.

Revelation 10:4 When the seven peals of thunder had spoken, I was about to write; and I heard a voice from heaven saying, "Seal up the things which the seven peals of thunder have spoken and do not write them." (NAU)

What or who is the voice of the Lion here? Here are some scriptural references which point to Christ as being the lion.

Revelation 5:5 and one of the elders said to me, "Stop weeping; behold, the Lion that is from the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, has overcome so as to open the book and its seven seals." (NAU)

Gen 49:9-10) 9 "Judah is a lion's whelp; from the prey, my son, you have gone up. He couches, he lies down as a lion, and as a lion, who dares rouse him up? 10 "The scepter shall not depart from Judah, nor the ruler's staff from between his feet, until Shiloh comes, and to him {shall be} the obedience of the peoples.

Knowledge of the Scroll Gradually Consumed by Church

The voice of the Lion is the voice or message from our Lord Jesus. He is gradually revealing the message of truth and judgment that is found in the little book in his hand. This is the message of truth from the scroll with 6 seals removed, which must be gradually eaten and digested by the faithful church, from the time of the Reformation which was 1517 and even more so after 1799—and again especially after the 1829AD date. He eventually delivers the full message of the scroll through the office of the Seventh Messenger at the harvest time, but at the earlier point in history in this Chapter, John is instructed to seal up the message until the days of the Seventh Messenger. That almost full message is a composite message that is taken from the Bible. It includes the condemning fact that the 1260 years of the reign of terror that the apostate church system brought against the faithful church, was the great falling away that had been prophetically foretold ahead of time.

The scroll also represents the many truths that were being restored from the Reformation time and onward. They were not to be written down until the sounding of the Seventh trumpet. In other words, while the truth was being revealed in bits and pieces during the time of the end, it was not to be put into a coherent message or complete message until it was gathered together into the harvest message after 1874AD. We will consider that topic next.

Seven Thunders

What are the seven thunders found here? Thunder always comes after lightning, which symbolizes enlightenment through bright light. The seven thunders symbolize newly revealed, or re-discovered bible truths that were brought out during that time—but which were not put into a coherent and organized message yet. They also represent judgments that were going to come from that truth, and that is what we are going to look at. John is not to write or publish these revelations yet at that earlier time of the end, before 1874AD, because they were not to be revealed until the sounding of the seventh angel. Many of the harvest time doctrines existed already from the time of the Reformation and especially after 1799, but they were scattered throughout Christendom, some ideas being expounded by one group and other ideas coming out of other groups.

The message of the thunders seems to be especially leading up to the message of the harvest time judgment, but it also includes the earlier time of judgment against the system that came at the end of the 1260 days. The church was being freed from the evil system, and it was time to begin to judge and punish Babylon for the terrible things that they had done to the saints all throughout the Gospel Age. That punishment very likely includes the final wrath of God, which is satisfied through the seven bowls of wrath which are designed to destroy the evil system.

We will examine the seven voices found in Psalms Chapter 29, which we believe show us the seven thunders. For us to see the complete list of seven voices to be related to the seven thunders, we need to establish that there is a relationship between voice and thunder. To show that there is, we have a few scriptures that state that God's voice is like thunder. We also have one from Revelation, which is most likely Jehovah.

Job 40:9 Do you have an arm like God's, and can your voice thunder like his?

Isa 33:3 At the thunder of your voice, the peoples flee; when you rise-up, the nation's scatter. NIV

Ps 77:18 The voice of thy thunder was in the heaven: the lightnings lightened the world: the earth trembled and shook. KJV

Rev 14:2 And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and I heard the voice of harpers harping with their harps: KJV

We also see that when God had spoken from heaven in the time of Christ, in one of the accounts of the baptism, many of those present thought that it had thundered.

John 12:28-31 (28 Father, glorify your name!" Then a voice came from heaven, "I have glorified it, and will glorify it again." 29 The crowd that was there and heard it said it had thundered; others said an angel had spoken to him. 30 Jesus said, "This voice was for your benefit, not mine. NIV

Psalms Chapter 29

We find in Ps Chapter 29 that it has 7 voices or thunders, in which the Lords' voice does different things to different symbols. We see that all those things can be related directly to the symbolism of the book of Revelation. The events that are portrayed by that Psalms, point us to things that are happening on this end of the age, especially regarding judgment of the fallen system. The message of the Psalms, ends at the time of the kingdom.

There is a two-verse opening in the Psalm, that tells us to worship and give glory to God's majesty. We find several other places in Revelation that tell us the same thing.

1. In the first voice or trumpet, we find that God thunders over or against the waters. In the book of Revelation, we find that the waters were the peoples, multitudes, nations and tongues, which were supporting the beast and the harlot that was riding it. In Chapter 17, where that information is found, we are told that John is being shown the judgment of the harlot. That judgment starts in a sense in 1521, but it especially falls upon the system in 1799AD, where the harlot and the beast are separated from each other. A further judgment fell upon the harlot in 1870AD, when the Papal States were fully removed from that systems control—it had controlled them off and on from 1799 and onward.

The judgments go on into the seventh church, with the 1878 judgment of Great Babylon, which included both Papacy and the Protestants, and the destruction of the kings during 1914-1918. The final demise of Great Babylon, which includes all of Satan's system, will come in Chapter 16, with the drying up of the waters, and in Chapter 19 after the battle of Armageddon captures the false religious system and the remnants of its supporting army. A lot of the other voices or thunders will fall into the same kind of time frame, regarding the destruction of the system.

2. In the second voice or trumpet, we find that God's voice or trumpet is powerful. In Revelation, we see that God is powerful, and that he will defeat all the forces of evil and establish the kingdom. We also see that the son of God who is Jesus, is also

- powerful, and is acting for God, as described in the book of Revelation. We have a question about that, because Jesus is the Logos or spokesman for God, and so that could also make him a voice of God.
3. In the third thunder, we are told that the Lord is majestic, which means glorious. Why would we want to worship anything or anyone else? That worship of idols is one of the mistakes that the fallen church had made.
Rev 9:20-21 (20 The rest of mankind, who were not killed by these plagues, did not repent of the works of their hands, so as not to worship demons, and the idols of gold and of silver and of brass and of stone and of wood, which can neither see nor hear nor walk; 21 and they did not repent of their murders nor of their sorceries nor of their immorality nor of their thefts. NASU
  4. The fourth voice or thunder breaks the cedars of Lebanon. Trees can symbolize churches, countries, or leaders of the churches or governments. In Revelation 16:19, we find that the Great City of Papacy was broken up into three parts, and that the mountains were gone, and the islands were fleeing away. God's cup of wrath is poured out on Great Babylon, and the heavy destructive hail from this storm is poured out on that system. The destruction of this system starts partially in 1521, and then intensifies in 1799AD, and it follows the same pattern as the destruction of the waters that supports the beast. It greatly intensifies again after 1914AD when the seventh bowl is poured out upon it. That is where this thunder fully applies.
  5. In the fifth voice or trumpet, we have the hewing out flames of fire. Fire symbolizes judgment and destruction of anything that are not good. Only things that meet the Divine Standard survive the testing of fire. See 1 Cor 3:10-15. In Revelation, we find many examples of fire being used against the evil system. The destruction by fire is shown in Daniel, and is a key destructive symbol that come against Satan's system. Dan 7:11 "Then I kept looking because of the sound of the boastful words which the horn was speaking; I kept looking until the beast was slain, and its body was destroyed and given to the burning fire. NASU
  6. In the sixth voice or thunder, we find that the Lord shakes the wilderness. What does the wilderness represent—it represents at least the 1260 years of the terrible and evil church state system, if not more up until the final destruction. We find that wilderness described in Revelation Chapter 12, where we see that the woman was to be protected for the 1260 years. That tells us that after the 1260 years that God's thundering was going to come against that wilderness and begin to shake it. The wilderness will eventually break forth into the waters of truth and blessing that are described in Isaiah Chapter 35, and the highway of holiness will be opened for the earthly blessing and salvation that will begin there. But before that can happen, the desert condition of the evil system must be removed.
  7. In the seventh voice or thunder, we see that the strong oak trees will have their leaves stripped off. This one could be placed into the same place as the seventh bowl of wrath, but there is a statement right at the end of that verse that points us to the temple, and that one is where everyone in the temple says glory to God. We believe that is pointing us to the description of the temple after the church is complete.

8. In the conclusion of the psalm, we find the flood mentioned, and we believe that symbolizes the final destruction of that system. Beside Revelation, we are reminded about the prophetic warning about the flood in Matt 24:37 and in Luke 17:26. Just as that flood came upon the world in the time of Noah, they were unaware of it coming, so we find the same thing in that the old heavens and earth are being destroyed by the judgments that are coming upon them, and they are not aware that it is happening.

The conclusion of the chapter takes us into the earthly kingdom where all the people will be blessed and restored.

Do not Write Down The Seven Thunders

We believe that the reason why John was told not to write the seven thunders down, is that the full understanding was not due until after 1874AD, which was when the sounding of the Seventh trumpet began. Daniel 12:4, likewise was told to seal up the prophecy until the time of the end, 1799-1874AD, and because of that the seventh seal couldn't be fully broken until after that time. The time when the church would have full understanding, was pointed to by the 1260, 1290, and 1335 days. The last number that Daniel received from the angel was the 1335 days, which was where the prophecy said that we were to be blessed, and that number reaches to exactly 1874AD. This revealing of knowledge, is also seen in the eating of the scroll that the angel gave to John. The one in linen over the waters in Daniel 12:6-7 represents Christ, who was watching and keeping control over the flood of trouble so that it did not destroy the church.

The numbers and dates given above are from the second volume, and they apply to the church. We have elsewhere shown that there appears to be an overlap of those dates, that applies to the nation of Israel, and which are the final dates where the Abrahamic blessing can begin for Israel and the world. If we are correct, the overlap is 118.5 years.

There is another thought that some have given about why the thunders were sealed up. Some think that it was because the thunders were not biblical truth, but that they were things the world was fighting for. Our Study Group thought that the idea that this is biblical truth seems to be more appealing, since we are told in the same sentence that the mystery of God would be finished just before the days of sounding of the Seventh trump. The angel's statement seems to answer the unasked question—why not reveal what the thunders represented earlier. It should be obvious that God like any smart general, would not reveal in open text what he was going to do to defeat the enemy. If he did that, the enemy Satan would have tried to outflank him. That is why we believe that the seven bowls of wrath and what they were going to do to that false system, is part of what the seven thunders represents.

Since the message is in code or symbolism, God can reveal it only to those who have the means to decipher it. Only the church, by studying his word and through the influence of the Holy spirit, could get the correct interpretation of the message, and only at the proper time, since the message had a time lock of Bible chronology on it. The message could not be understood until enough key events had occurred that showed what some of the symbols were. The day for a year chronology was a key factor in deciphering the message, since it pointed to the correct time and events for the fulfillment.

A good example of the time lock is Sir Isaac Newton, who worked on Bible chronology, and he understood the day per year concept, but even he didn't know for sure at what point to start counting the 1260 years from in his time. His papers show several different possibilities that he was looking at. The information as to when to start the count, only became sure after the 1799AD date had come, and we could see that Papacies end had occurred.

Revelation 10:5-7

Revelation 10:5 Then the angel whom I saw standing on the sea and on the land lifted up his right hand to heaven,

Revelation 10:6 and swore by Him who lives forever and ever, WHO CREATED HEAVEN AND THE THINGS IN IT, AND THE EARTH AND THE THINGS IN IT, AND THE SEA AND THE THINGS IN IT, that there will be delay no longer,

Revelation 10:7 but in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he is about to sound, then the mystery of God is finished, as He preached to His servants the prophets. (NAU)

Some manuscripts have “and the sea, and the things which are therein”, as being spurious. An interesting thing that we see in verse 7, is that the word preached means evangelize. That points us back to the original evangelists, who were the apostles and the disciples in Jesus time, who received the prophecies, but did not always fully understand what they were hearing. So, we should expect that a lot of what was going to be revealed would be new information that the early church didn't fully understand.

Why Two Hands?

Why two hands in Daniel and one hand here? In the Daniel 12:7 account, we see that the angel there held up both of his hands to heaven, while here we only have one hand. We don't have a for sure reason why that would be, but we do have some ideas. One possibility is that in Daniel we had two ages to go through yet, both the Jewish and the Gospel, while in Revelation Chapter 10 we only have the Gospel Age left.

We also believe that there are two prophetic applications for the Daniel 12 account, and that may be why he holds up two hands, because he is confirming that both fulfillments of the prophecy will be true and will occur. One of the applications of Dan 12 would be the traditional one that applies to the church, and which is found in the Second Volume. The second application applies to the nation of Israel, and is being fulfilled by events that have happened to natural Israel literally—it appears to be offset by 118.5 years.

The raising of the hands in Old Testament times was done when swearing to God that what was said will be true. In the time of the giving of the law Covenant, it was done when God was swearing that he was making the law covenant with Israel, and that he would bless them if they kept it. He also promised that he was going to take retribution on their enemies, if they were faithful to the covenant.

In the Revelation account, there is only the prophetic fulfillment for the church being shown which is our traditional application of that chronology and prophecy, and it looks like that is the reason only the right hand needed to be raised. It's the right hand that is raised because the church will be seated on the right hand of Christ, which is the position of favor. It's also very likely that the scroll was in that right hand, because that was the hand that Jehovah had it in, in Chapter 5—which is the position of favor. The Sinaiticus Greek text, actually states that it is in the right hand. In Chapter 5, the Heavenly Father had it in his right hand, and so we would expect that the Lord Jesus would keep it in his right hand. He was given the right to execute the plan for the Heavenly Father, and so it would seem logical that he would consider it important and keep it in his right hand also.

The Days of the Seventh Angel No More Delay

Another question is, what in the days of the Seventh trumpet will not be delayed any longer? When we examine this Chapter we see that this angel had a scroll, and that he was told not to write down or reveal what the seven thunders had said until the time of the voice of the seventh angel with the trumpet. We think that what is "not" going to be delayed here is the final judgment and punishment of the fallen church, that was going to start happening at the time of the angel with the seventh trumpet. We see from many scriptures that there was to be a judgment and a punishment of God's enemies at the end of the age. We know that the judgment comes at the end of the age as is described in several parables, one of which was the wheat and the tares, where the wheat and the tares were to be separated and the tares burned at the end of the age.

A scripture which indicated what was going to be revealed was Psalms 29, which shows both judgment and the coming kingdom of blessing. If we are correct on our understanding of Palms 29, then we see that Palms 29 has both the punishment and destruction of the fallen system, but it also shows the help and blessing of God's people at the end of the age. If that is correct, then the seven thunders are directly related to that Psalms and the message of that Psalms is what is going to be revealed in the days of the Seventh Messenger.

Bible Knowledge to Increase

We also understand that there was to be a major revealing of knowledge about God's Plan at that time, that had not been previously known. We get that from Dan 12:4 and what he says about the unsealing of the book and the revealing of biblical knowledge that was to occur at the time of the end—biblical knowledge will be increased. We are also told the same thing here in Revelation 10:7, in that in the days of the voice of the Seventh trumpet—the mystery of God would be revealed. There are several scriptures that talk about the mystery of God, which shows that it definitely is the understanding of the Divine Plan of God. There is another mystery of the evil woman in Chapter 17, but that is not what is meant here.

Eph 3:9 And to make all men see what is the fellowship of the mystery, which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, who created all things by Jesus Christ KJV

The rewarding of the sleeping saints could also begin at that time, since the judgment of both them and the fallen church system was completed in 1878AD. We are going to explore these thoughts a little further as we go through the rest of this Chapter.

That this is the voice of the seventh angel with the trumpet, indicates that something is going to be disclosed, because that is what the word voice means. This Chapter does not give us an interpretation or explanation of what the mystery of God is, because it's message does not go past 1874AD. Bro Russell began to publish the truth in the early part of the seventh church which began in 1874AD. He not only published the message of the Divine Plan, but he also brought out the coming judgment and the time of trouble.

The angel swore by the eternal creator God, "Revelation 4:11, Dan 12:7", that there would be "no more delay when the seventh trumpet was about to sound. Below is another scripture that has similar wording that indicates a time for everything to be revealed. *Hab 2:3 "For the vision is yet for the appointed time; it hastens toward the goal, and it will not fail. Though it tarries, wait for it; for it will certainly come, it will not delay.

Heb 10:37-39) 37 FOR YET IN A VERY LITTLE WHILE, HE WHO IS COMING WILL COME, AND WILL NOT DELAY. 38 BUT MY RIGHTEOUS ONE SHALL LIVE BY FAITH; AND IF HE SHRINKS BACK, MY SOUL HAS NO PLEASURE IN HIM. 39 But we are not of those who shrink back to destruction, but of those who have faith to the preserving of the soul. (NAU)

Swearing toward heaven was appealing to the highest authority there is, which is God. The phrase "one who lived forever and ever" is taken from the song of Moses: "Deut 32:40 For I lift up my hand to heaven, and say, I live forever". The song of Moses was sung at the time of the original Law Covenant that God made with Israel. We have a foreshadowing of the New Covenant in the song of Moses, because the same wording that we see in the song of Moses, could be applied prophetically to the song of the Lamb which typifies the New Covenant. The New Covenant was guaranteed by the providing of the blood of Christ as the ransom price, and so the song of Moses is pointing to the New Covenant in anti-type. Just as the Mosaic Law had a high priest, Christ has now become our new and much better High Priest.

Heb 7:28-8:2 (7:28 For the Law appoints men as high priests who are weak, but the word of the oath, which came after the Law, appoints a Son, made perfect forever.

8:1 Now the main point in what has been said is this: we have such a high priest, who has taken His seat at the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens, 2 a minister in the sanctuary and in the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, not man. NASU

The song of Moses and the warning issued just before the song was sung, contained admonition to the elders of Israel about what would happen if they didn't keep God's Law Covenant. He had warned them that they would be punished if they didn't keep the covenant, and it says that if they failed to repent that they would be destroyed as a country, and after God had considered them punished long enough as a people, he would then restore them back to their land. That has happened in history to them several times. First the ten tribes were removed and then later the two tribes were removed. The third time occurred at the time of the First Advent. Israel's restoration as a nation has been taking place before our very eyes, especially during 1948-1967AD.

The angel over the waters in Dan, also swore by God who lives forever. Dan 12:7 The man dressed in linen, who was standing above the river, raised both his hands toward heaven and took this solemn oath by the one who lives forever: "It will go on for a time, times, and half a time. When the shattering of the holy people has finally come to an end, all these things will have happened." NLT

So we see that Daniel's angel, is saying the same thing as the angel in Revelation, in that there would not be any more delay after the full extent of the 1260, 1290, 1335 years. But at the time of the utterance of the seven thunders, the time was not up yet and so it was not to be revealed.

A Double Table of 1260, 1290, and 1335

Due to the importance of the nation of Israel in God's Plan, we are going to present a table that shows both the prophetic application for the church, as well as the literal aspect of Daniel Chapter 12 which applies to Israel. The ecclesiastical side on the left starts with the destruction of the ten tribes and ends with the beginning destruction of the apostate church and state power in 1914AD. The civil power side on the right starts with the calling of Nebuchadnezzar the head of gold, and ends in 1993AD with the Arabs being forced to admit that Israel has the right to exist.

The 1260, 1290, and 1335 that applies to the church, which is on the left side of the table, is the part that applies to our study here and is the chronology that shows that there is no more time left after 1874AD. That was when the 40-year harvest and the time of judgment came upon the church and state system. The fallen church was pronounced guilty in 1878AD, and at the end of a 40-year harvest period the time of trouble began, which was also the end of the 2520 years. When that trouble began, our Lord began to remove the kings from power and after 3.5 years of war the kings were gone and the Ottoman Empire, which was in the way of the return of natural Israel, was gone.

The 722 BC to 539AD = 1260 years in the table on the next page, is only true if we correct the time of the carrying away to Babylon by 19 years. As shown in the book “Biblical Count of the Years”, we then add 19 years back into the count in the time of Joshua to balance out the change. We also correct for the zero year BC, AD problem. Doing all of the above corrections, keeps all our end time dates the same as the second volume, and solves all the biblical and archeology problems that we know of, but it shifts the 722 BC date by 20-years, which make this table possible and many other things possible. See the second book of “The Divine Plan and its Chronology as Demonstrated by Cherubs, Living ones, Seraphim, and Cubits”, for a full explanation of those corrections.

This table also shows that just as there was a 40-year period before the final trouble began with the kings, it’s very likely that there is a similar 40-year period that leads up to the final trouble and redemption of Israel. Any nation that refuses to accept God’s arrangement by the end of that time, will not receive the blessings of the kingdom as is stated in the fourteenth Chapter of Zechariah, until they repent.

Time of 360 No More in 1874 or 1878?

The phrase “that there should be time no more”, has been thought by some to imply the end of a cycle of 360 years. The date 1517AD, is when Luther nailed the 95 theses to the church door, and in 1518 Luther was summoned to Wittenberg where he defended his argument against the indulgences. The date 1521 is when the split in the church occurred at the Diet of Worms. 1878AD is the time when the judgment of the apostate church system began, according to the 1845-year parallel. The Seventh Messenger to the churches, began to publish his message in about 1878 with Barber, but he switched to the new magazine, the Watch Tower in 1879. Because of that, there were slightly over 360 years between Luther at Wittenberg and the time that Seventh Messenger began to publish the truth through the Zion’s Watch Tower in 1879AD. From the Diet of Worms in 1521, until the date of 1881, which was the full extent of the nominal house’s favor, was exactly 360 years also.

At the time of the study, it was not clear if the use of 360 can be justified here, since the word used is not the same as the word used in “time, time and a half, which is kairos, but it is “chronos” which means “a span of time”. It’s the same word used in the fifth seal regarding the “time” that those who were slain were to wait. The count of 360 does work if the Lord meant that the count of time began at the end of the fifth church. Then we would have  $1517.75AD + 360 = 1877.75AD$ , in which 1518 is approximate for the date of the Reformation if we count from the summons to Augsburg. So we believe that the two words can represent 360 in Revelation. The following history is from Wikipedia.

But in 1517 Luther penned a document attacking the Catholic Church’s corrupt practice of selling “indulgences” to absolve sin. His “95 Theses,” which propounded two central beliefs—that the Bible is the central religious authority and that humans may reach salvation only by their faith and not by their deeds—was to spark the Protestant Reformation. Although these ideas had been advanced before, Martin Luther codified them at a moment in history ripe for religious reformation. The Catholic Church was ever after divided, and the Protestantism that soon emerged was shaped by Luther’s ideas. His writings changed the course of religious and cultural history in the West.

The 95 Theses were quickly distributed throughout Germany and then made their way to Rome. In 1518, Luther was summoned to Augsburg, a city in southern Germany, to defend his opinions before an imperial diet (assembly). A debate lasting three days between Luther and Cardinal Thomas Cajetan produced no agreement. Cajetan defended the church’s use of indulgences, but Luther refused to recant and returned to Wittenberg.

We don’t think that the angel meant that as soon as the seventh trumpet was sounded, that the mystery would be finished, but it seems to be better translated in the Revised Standard Version where it indicates during the sounding it would be fulfilled. Revelation 10:7 but that in the days of the trumpet call to be sounded by the seventh angel, the mystery of

God, as he announced to his servants the prophets, should be fulfilled. (RSV)

In other words, the mystery would be finished or revealed during the time of the trumpet call which began in 1874AD. The trumpet call is first to the church, Math 24:31 and then to the world afterward, Isaiah 27:13.

The Mystery of God

The mystery of God is the unfolding of the Divine Plan, which shows that the entire world, which includes the Gentiles, is to be included in that plan. The full mystery of the Divine Plan has been revealed during the harvest period. The concept of the salvation for all had been completely lost by the Dark Age system, and during the revealing of the Divine Plan by the Seventh Messenger to the seventh church it was restored again, but it was not believed by the fallen church system.

Rom 16:25 Now to him that is of power to establish you according to my Gospel, and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the Revelation of the mystery, which was kept secret since the world began,

Eph 3:3-6 (3 How that by Revelation he made known unto me the mystery; (as I wrote afore in few words, 4 Whereby, when ye read, ye may understand my knowledge in the mystery of Christ)

5 Which in other ages was not made known unto the sons of men, as it is now revealed unto his holy Apostles and prophets by the Spirit; 6 That the Gentiles should be fellow heirs, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the Gospel

*Col 1:26 He has kept this secret for centuries and generations past, but now at last it has pleased him to tell it to those who love him and live for him, and the riches and glory of his plan are for you Gentiles, too. And this is the secret: Christ in your hearts is your only hope of glory. (TLB)

During the singing of the song of Moses, which was a warning by God and Moses to Israel, the angel lifted up his hand to heaven and swore that: "he would judge their enemies and avenge himself against the enemies of his people Israel". We know that he has done that for literal Israel, and has been doing the same for spiritual Israel during the Gospel Age. Not only has he judged the fallen church system in 1878AD, but he has begun to render vengeance on them from 1914AD and onward. Literal Israel has been restored since then in 1948AD, and that is a necessary step that is needed for the establishment of the kingdom.

Revelation 10:8-10

Revelation 10:8 Then the voice which I heard from heaven, {I heard} again speaking with me, and saying, "Go, take the book which is open in the hand of the angel who stands on the sea and on the land."

Revelation 10:9 So I went to the angel, telling him to give me the little book. And he said to me, "Take it and eat it; it will make your stomach bitter, but in your mouth it will be sweet as honey."

Revelation 10:10 I took the little book out of the angel's hand and ate it, and in my mouth it was sweet as honey; and when I had eaten it, my stomach was made bitter. (NAU)

The Scroll

This is the same scroll with seven seals which the Lamb took from God's right hand in Chapter 5, but it is not fully opened yet at the start of this chapter. It's called a little scroll because not all of the lost truth had been restored yet, and the seventh seal was not removed until 1874-78AD. In verse 8, it uses a different word than what we see in verses 2, 9 and 10, which is the same 375 word used in Chapter 5. The 2, 9 and 10 verses give the 374 word which is small book or pamphlet. In verse 8 we find the word 375 which means a full book, indicating that the 375 book the angel has contains the full Plan of God. The church was not capable of absorbing all that is in the full book when they began to eat of it in verses 2, 9, and 10. When the book is still in the angel's hand, it was described as the bigger book, Strong's 375. That indicates that John or the church, took the book out of the angel's hand at the time of the Reformation in 1517 or for sure after 1799, and that it would take some time to absorb the truth that was in it. John was being offered the full book, which we believe was given at the harvest time by the seventh messenger.

Both Sweet and Bitter

At the time that John ate the scroll, it was seen that it had a message of blessing and because of that it's sweet in John's mouth. It's also is bitter in John's stomach, because it contains the coming judgments and retribution of the seven bowls of wrath that was going to punish the fallen church and state system, which was because of what they had done to God's Faithful Church. A good example is found in the fifth seal, where we see the ones who were slain under the altar. When the scroll was eaten and fully digested, which happened by 1878AD, John representing the harvest time church, was to witness again to others about what they had learned—that witness was the time of the harvest and the message of truth started going out in 1874AD. So, we see that the church from 1517AD and onward, was consuming a message of both blessed truth and righteous judgment, and learning of the punishment that was going to come.

When we turn to the parallel reference found in Ezekiel, we will see the same scroll in Ezekiel Chapters 2 and 3, but with more details. A little further along in this study, we intend to show that that scriptural link to Ezekiel, positively links this scroll and its message of judgment to the 1845-year harvest parallel. In chapter 4, we also see the 390 and the 40, which we believe symbolically applies to this chapter. In looking at the 1845-year parallel, we see that our Lord carried out a judgment on natural Israel in 33AD, and the church as symbolized by John was to help carry out the exact same kind of judgment in 1878AD on the spiritual house.

Standard of Judgment

This scroll contains the standard, by which it is to be determined who will be written in the book of life of the Lamb. The scroll does not contain the actual names now, of all who will make it, since there is no such thing as predestination, but it does contain the standard which determines who will be of the church and who will not be. That judgment standard determines who is going to have their names written in the book of life of the Lamb, and the book of life for the world will be written by a similar standard designed just for the world.

Rev 20:12 And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God; and the books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works. (KJV)

That this scroll is much more open now than it was in Chapter 5, is very important, because it implies a revealing of things that were not known previously regarding God's Plan, as well as containing the impending judgment that was coming after the harvest time in 1914! We will see in the Ezekiel account, which is parallel to this Chapter in Revelation, that Ezekiel could read both sides of the scroll, showing in that scriptural picture, that the book was open after 1878AD. We know that it's open after 1878AD because of the 1845-year parallel, and we will explain how we know that the book of Ezekiel proves that parallel a little further onward, when we look at the Ezekiel account. There is also a triple parallel between the time of Babylon, the First Advent, and the Second Advent, which shows the same thing. The vision in Chapter 10 of Revelation, does not go as far forward in time as the Ezekiel vision does—it only goes to 1874AD. Ezek 2:10 When He spread it out before me, it was written on the front and back; and written on it were lamentations, mourning and woe. (NAS)

We see that this book was gradually being revealed or eaten earlier by the church, first from the time of the Reformation, and then especially from 1799AD onward. It was to be gradually consumed by the church, so that by the time of the Seventh church the full plan could be revealed. That is in accordance with what Daniel was commanded to do, in that he was to seal up the book until the time of the end, which was 1799AD, and then it would be “opened”.

Dan 12:4 But you, O Daniel, shut up the words and seal the Book until the time of the end. [Then] many shall run to and fro and search anxiously [through the Book], and knowledge [of God's purposes as revealed by His prophets] shall be increased and become great. AMP

Sweeter than Honey

In the Psalms, we find that there it tells us seven things about the word of God, and the last one is that it's sweeter than honey and the drippings of the honeycomb. That is what

John finds when he eats the scroll, which would imply that the scroll contains the word of God, and that word contains sweet blessings and truths about the salvation of God's Plan. Ps 19:7-10 7 The law of the LORD is perfect, restoring the soul; the testimony of the LORD is sure, making wise the simple.

8 The precepts of the LORD are right, rejoicing the heart; the commandment of the LORD is pure, enlightening the eyes.

9 The fear of the LORD is clean, enduring forever; the judgments of the LORD are ; they are righteous altogether.

10 They are more desirable than gold, yes, than much fine gold; sweeter also than honey and the drippings of the honeycomb. (NAU)

The words of God here in Chapter 10, are eaten or absorbed by John, who represents the church from 1799 to 1874AD. But in Chapter 11, it's pictured as being taken up into the heavens in the symbol of the two prophets. That is perhaps the same event, but pictured from a different perspective. Taking the truth into the heavens, could indicate that the church had gained a heavenly viewpoint of what was being given them, and it also shows that the church had elevated God's word up to where the spiritual heavens were using it again. The fallen church had tried to get rid of the Bible, but on this end of the age it has been restored to its proper position in the spiritual heavens—being the only standard of truth.

The truth is sweet, but it becomes bitter in the belly when persecution or judgment arises because of it. Just as predicted in the previous verse, John confirms that it was sweet in his mouth, but bitter in his stomach. Jeremiah confirms the same thing about the word of God. He was joyful about God's word no matter what it implied in the way of trouble and judgment that was coming. Jer 15:16 Thy words were found, and I did eat them; and thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by thy name, O LORD God of hosts.

It can also be bitter in the belly when we find that those who we had trusted to be faithful followers of the Lord are seen to be corrupt. That is what Ezekiel was being shown in Chapter 8, where God is showing him all the idols that the elders of Israel had brought into the temple. That shows us in symbol that those who should have been faithful leaders of the Christian faith, were found to have been worshipping idols in the spiritual temple of the Lord. It's obvious that they will receive the same judgment as the Jewish house did in their time.

That was the experience of many of the Lord's people during the time of the Reformation and onward, and especially during the time of the 40-year harvest, when they found that those who were supposed to be faithful leaders of the church were corrupt. Many of those who were friends became bitter enemies, because they refused to acknowledge the truth, wishing to hang onto their traditional and corrupt doctrines. The bitter feeling in the stomach may also have come from the realization that those same friends were doing wrong in the Lord's sight, and that because of that they were going to fall into judgment.

Jeremiah Chapter 15

We think that the prophetic application of Chapter 15 of Jeremiah, is referring to the period of the sixth church. The events that were being talked about in that Chapter all point to the problems that the church was having with the fallen church and state system during that time. We understand that God gave the same promises to the church as he did to Jeremiah in his time, and so we see that the church will win out over their enemies also. Jer 15:19-21) 19 Therefore, thus says the LORD, "If you return, then I will restore you--before me you will stand; and if you extract the precious from the worthless, you will become My spokesman. They for their part may turn to you, but as for you, you must not turn to them.

20 "Then I will make you to this people a fortified wall of bronze; and though they fight against you, they will not prevail over you; for I am with you to save you and deliver you," declares the LORD.

21 "So I will deliver you from the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem you from the grasp of the violent."

Just as in the literal type, where we see Jeremiah was persecuted for his message of truth, we find the church being persecuted for its message from the time of the reformers and afterward. In all those situations, God's people will win out over those who were not being faithful.

If we read the context, we see that it says in verse 16, that Jeremiah was to be called by God's name. That is the same thing promised in the message to the sixth church in Revelation 3:12, and that helps to prove that the Jeremiah account is pointing to the sixth church period. Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name.

Ezekiel Chapters 1-4

At this point in time, we can probably determine better what Revelation Chapter 10 is referring to, by going back to Ezekiel Chapters 1-4, where we will find out from the context there, what is prophetically happening—although Ezekiel will go further forward in time and it will cover the harvest time, as well as the time of retribution that came in 1914AD. That prophecy is parallel to this one in Revelation, and what happened back there in anti-type, points to what was going to happen on this end of the age.

We are going to bring some important chronology parallels into this discussion, because they help define what was going on in the time of Babylon, the time of the First Advent and the time of the Second Advent. The 390-prophecy given in Ezekiel had a literal fulfillment with Israel, just before the carrying away to Babylon, which will help us to see what the prophetic outcome should be in Revelation. There was a second fulfillment of the 390 prophecy of Ezekiel at the First Advent of Christ, and again at the Second Advent of Christ. What happened at the time of Babylon is directly related to what happened at the First Advent, and that has an exact and third parallel to events that happened at the time of the Second Advent. The 1845 year parallels that are symbolically shown in Ezekiel Chapter 1, shows that there is a similar judgment and punishment in all three ages, but only the First and Second Advent are 1845 years apart. We will first start with Ezekiel Chapters two, three, and four, and we will throw in some interesting explanation regarding Chapter one when it becomes appropriate.

Ezek 2-3 & Rev 10

Ezek 2:2 As He spoke to me the Spirit entered me and set me on my feet; and I heard {Him} speaking to me. (NAU)	Revelation 10:4 And when the seven thunders uttered (their voices), I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven saying, Seal up the things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not. (ASV)
Ezek 2:9-10) 9 Then I looked, and behold, a hand was extended to me; and lo, a scroll {was} in it. 10 When He spread it out before me , it was written on the front and back, and written on it were lamentations, mourning and woe. (NAU)	Revelation 10:8 And the voice which I heard from heaven, (I heard it) again speaking with me, and saying, Go, take the book which is open in the hand of the angel that standeth upon the sea and upon the earth. (ASV)
Ezek 2:7 "But you shall speak My words to them whether they listen or not, for they are rebellious. (NAU)	Revelation 10:11 And they say unto me, Thou must prophesy again over many peoples and nations and tongues and kings. (ASV)
Ezek 3:1-3) 1 Then He said to me, "Son of man, eat what you find; eat this scroll , and go, speak to the house of Israel." 2 So I opened my mouth, and He fed me this scroll. 3 He said to me, "Son of man, feed your stomach and fill your body with this scroll which I am giving you." Then I ate it, and it was sweet as honey in my mouth . (NAU)	Revelation 10:9-10) 9 And I went unto the angel, saying unto him that he should give me the little book. And he saith unto me, Take it, and eat it up ; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but in thy mouth it shall be sweet as honey . 10 And I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth sweet as honey : and when I had eaten it, my belly was made bitter. (ASV)

A Watchman & A Watch Tower

In Chapters 2-3 of Ezekiel, it says that he was being sent to what was literally the house of Israel, and that he was not to worry, even if they resisted him. He was given the scroll and told to eat it, and it was sweet to him. It does not say that it was bitter in Ezekiel, but it was written on both sides with mourning, lamentation, and woe, which indicates the same thing regarding the judgment message contained in the scroll!

Ezekiel was appointed as a watchman unto them and was told that if they didn't believe him, that it would not be his fault if he gave them the message. We don't believe that it was an accident that Bro. Russell's publication was called the Watch Tower. Historically most didn't believe his warnings until after the destruction occurred, and even then, most still refused to believe. In the time of Ezekiel, the destruction of the city and temple occurred shortly after this prophecy and they were all carried away to Babylon.

Likewise, in the time of Christ, the same thing happened to the Jews. They were judged and found guilty because of their unbelief. The Romans came and carried them away, and they had been gone for almost 2000 years, before they recently returned. At this end of the age, they are back in their land in preparation for the kingdom. The spiritual house on this end of the age was spewed out, and they have been rejected and are not considered to be God's people anymore. If anyone in that system hears the message of truth, they can come out to the Lord, and they consecrate themselves to the Lord and be accepted.

Harvest Message

The Chapters in Ezekiel also have a third parallel at this end of the age, in that the apostate church system was also to be punished and destroyed for bringing idols into God's church and for having persecuted God's people. The faithful church was to publish a message to them, warning them about what they were doing wrong, and what was going to happen. The preaching of a judgment message occurred from the Reformation time onward, but that judgment became even more evident by the time of the seventh church, with the publishing of the 40-year harvest message. If that system had repented they could have been forgiven, and they could have escaped their judgment and punishment, but history shows that all three ages involved in Ezekiel's prophecy did not repent. The question then becomes, how does this fit in with what we see happening in Revelation Chapter 10? We think that the scroll in both ages, would represent not only the truth of God's word, but it also represents the judgment message which is contained in God's word. That same thing was what happened at the time of the early church, where the knowledge of what Christ had done on the cross was being understood by the church, and they were also given the warning about what was going to happen to Israel. In Chapter 10, the church is absorbing and developing that message of judgment, and John is told that he must prophecy "again" concerning peoples, nations tongues and kings—1845 years after the first time. In all three interpretations of the prophecy, the faithful ones that delivered the message were persecuted. At the final end of Satan's system, God's judgments as shown in the seven bowls of wrath, will destroy that system and all of his enemies.

Ezekiel's 390, 40?

Chapter 4 of Ezekiel defines for us through the 390-day period, at a day per year, the time-period that the prophecy points too. From those numbers, we can determine what time-area this prophecy was to be fulfilled in. If we look at Chapter 4, we see that Ezekiel is told to lie on his side for 390 days against the house of Israel, and 40 days for the house of Judah. There are three different applications of this prophecy that we will consider. See the table in a couple of pages for more information on what these time-periods point too.

In the first application for literal Israel, it was exactly 390 years from the death of Solomon until the rebellion of Zedekiah, which was 1.5 - 2 years year before the siege of Jerusalem began. Neb attacked Zedekiah because of his rebellion in the ninth year and the tenth month, but we don't have a Bible given date for the actual rebellion which happened some time before that, and so we are basing our exact date on the two right-hand columns of the First and Second Advent, where we do know the amount of time between events. Those two columns show that the date of rebellion should have been in the spring of the eighth year, which was 1 year earlier than when Neb attacked Jerusalem. One year could very easily make sense, since there was no high-speed travel in those days. Neb would have needed time to receive word of the rebellion, and then he would have needed time to get his army ready, and to travel to Israel and conquer the countryside before he came to Jerusalem. We also don't know if Neb was tied up with another problem at the time which could have taken some time to resolve. So if we place the rebellion 1 year before the siege, there is an approximate 3.5-year overlap of the 40 years past the end of the 390. If it was only .5 year before, which would be the barest minimum of time, we would be short by .5 of a year for 3.5, and so we suspect it was about 1 year before. The 40 years began with the start of the preaching of Jeremiah, and ended when they were all carried away to Babylon.

There is also a second application of the prophecy in which the 390 and the 40 apply to the judgment and destruction at the First Advent. On this end of the age, there is a third application of the prophecy where the 390 and the 40 point to the harvest period, and the beginning of the final destruction of the fallen church system in 1914AD. The 390 years would start exactly at the dividing of Papacy from Luther at the diet of worms. The last 40 years started with the presence of the Lord in 1874AD and the harvest. Those two-time-periods also overlap by exactly the same approximate 3.5 years. The last or third application of the prophecy is the one that we are especially interested in regard to this Chapter.

PARALLEL OF THE 390 AND THE 40 YEARS FROM EZEKIEL Chapter 4:

This parallel shows that the period of the kings, from the death of Solomon to the rebellion of Zedekiah, is exactly 390 years. The 40 years starts at the midpoint of the 7000 years in 626.25 BC. To get 3.5 years, we must assume 12 months to get the army ready and travel time for both ways and Neb attacking and conquering the countryside first, which is how it was normally done. Historically we see that the time-periods from 66 to 69AD, and from 1911 -1914AD, were about 3.5 years. The destruction of both temples occurred in August, and we see that WW1 began in August, and so this is an exact parallel. CONTROLLEFTCLICK

The table on the previous page contains a triple parallel. The first column is in the time of Babylon. The second column is at the First Advent during the time of Rome. The third column is at the Second Advent during the time of Great Babylon. The time between the first column in the time of Babylon and the Second Advent is 2500 years. We don't show it in the table, but from the baptism of Jesus back to the beginning of the flood, is also exactly 2500 years. That confirms that there is more to this pattern than what we see here, and a more complete pattern is shown in the book, "Biblical count of the Years". The exact time between the First and Second Advent in this table is 1845 years, which is what we find in the second volume, Studies in the Scriptures.

One thing that we are uncertain about in this table, is the exact events that are pointed to in the time of Alexander the Great. It had to be regarding Greece and Alexander the Great, because the power that was to be broken up had to have had control of the holy land at the time. Alexander had conquered the holy land from Persia in 333 BC. The events that caused the division of the kingdom later are listed in the table. Israel and Judah divided into two kingdoms at the top of the first column. In the second column, we see that Alexander's Empire split into two halves at his death. Later it was split into four. In the third column, we see that Christendom was split into two parts, Papacy, and Protestant. They also split into more parts later, but the events that match are the split into two parts in all three columns.

1845 Year Parallels

If you consult the book called "The Divine Plan and its Chronology, as Demonstrated by Cherubs, Living Ones, Seraphim, and Cubits", you will find that the visions seen in Chapters 1 and 10 of Ezekiel, can be graphically derived from the 1845-year judgment parallel. That parallel points to 1878AD at the time of judgment for the apostate church system. That book shows that Chapter one of Ezekiel indicates the 1845-year judgment parallels.

In the book, we see a repeating pattern of 1845-year circles that overlap each other. Those circles represent periods of judgment, and in Ezekiel's day there was a judgment that happened literally with Israel. The repeating pattern of 1845 years contains the two 1845 parallels from the Second Volume of Studies in the Scriptures. There is an 1845 circle that goes from the death of Jacob, to 33AD at the crucifixion of the Lord, and then we have a parallel of that which goes from 33AD to 1878AD. The scriptural type of what happened with Israel in 33AD, has an anti-type with the harvest judgment of the nominal house in 1878AD. In the above-mentioned book, we show that there are seven important biblical dates based on 1845 year cycles that have to do with judgment. The first judgment is when mankind fell in the garden, and the last one will be after the Millennial age when mankind has been restored back to perfection, and able to stand trial again. The entire pattern is 7000 years long from the fall to the restoration.

LinkBackToChap14

The 1845-year chronology is by itself very interesting, but what is even more amazing, is that the 1845 year circles can be shaded in graphically to represent the living creatures seen by Ezekiel. That this is possible, gives us overwhelming evidence that the 1845-year chronology parallel we have as Bible Students is correct, and that it's giving us very important lessons. For a much fuller treatment of this subject, see the chronology book mentioned above. In that book, we show in great detail many of the features mentioned by Ezekiel. Besides the four Cherubs and wheels within wheels pictured on the next page, we also show the eyes within the wheels, as well as the form of a man's hands.

That this 1845-year chronology is related to Ezekiel's vision, shows us that the angel in Revelation 10 is coming to judge at the end of 1845 years. Just as he judged his people in the time of Babylon, and then later again at the time of Rome, the same thing has happened again on this end of the age. The graphical representation of Ezekiel's vision confirms the Second Volume harvest parallels by showing us graphically the four Cherubim that Ezekiel saw. In other words, we won't see the Living Creatures as if we are seeing them in a photographic picture, but what is recorded in the scriptures matches up in great detail with the graphical pattern that you will see on the next page. There will be four living creatures with four wings apiece and wheels within wheels.

See the next page.

4 Cherubim

The four living creatures are shaded in above, one in each set of circles. There are only four possible Cherubs, just as Ezekiel described. Starting at the top and moving one position to the right for each creature, when we get to the fourth one, there are no more circles left to shade in. Each living creature has a wheel within a wheel centered with it. They are the two darker circles in the diagram above, the smaller and the bigger circles that are centrally located with each Cherub.

Eyes in the Wheels

The ten shaded in circles, show us the eyes in the midst of the wheels, and we also see the form of a man's hands in the wheels. The eyes are fairly easy to see, with the exception that they are turned 90 degrees from how we normally view them, so we have presented one eye turned over in the normal manner on the right.

The form of a man's hands is a little harder to see in the diagram, but the Hebrew word for hand used here means open hand, and that gives us a big clue. What we see above in the circles are the fingers of a man's open hands viewed from the ends. We see ten fingers which are protruding out from underneath the upper wings of the Cherubs, which are where the scriptures say that they are, and they are holding up God's Plan from beginning to end. The man whose open hands are under the wings supporting God's Plan, is Christ Jesus, who gave his life for both the church and the world.

The fire that was taken off the altar between the Cherubs, is shown by the cross at the intersection of two of the 1845 year circles. We don't show it here, but there are seven important dates in this pattern as seen two pages back. The date that the cross is placed at above is 32.25AD which is the spring of 33AD. That is the date of our Lords crucifixion.

Revelation 10:11

Revelation 10:11 And they said to me, "You must prophesy again concerning many peoples and nations and tongues and kings."
(NAU)

Divine Plan Revealed

You must prophesy again, what is that referring to? As we saw above in the chronology pattern, this Chapter is pointing directly to the 1845-year parallel. That is why this angel says you must prophecy again. The events of this time, are following an exact parallel to the First Advent, and because of that, the events that happened then, are being repeated through the parallel. There was to be a time of judgment, as well as a further revealing of Gods plan in both places.

Some believe that this is referring to the earlier work after 1799AD, and the prophesying that the Adventists through the Miller movement did. That is not a bad idea, but we believe that the parallel and the chronology from Ezekiel shows that what is being referring to is the harvest time work, which is fulfilling the 1845-year parallel. The “prophesying again” that the church was to get ready for, was going to be after 1874AD. The eating of the scroll, was from 1517, and it covered the entire time of the sixth church which began at the Reformation.

Having traced the course of history in this Chapter up to the Second Advent, we find that the Divine Plan was being revealed exactly at that point in time by the Seventh Messenger, and by those who were involved in the harvest work. That is the point in time that the seventh angel sounded his trumpet. The command is that the message should again be told to all people, starting with the so-called Christian religious organizations. Just as what happened at the First Advent and during the time of Ezekiel, most have not believed the wonderful message of salvation for all. This is a parallel and expansion of the work that had been done with the original message of salvation, which had been preached in the time of the Apostles. The preaching of the Divine Plan still goes on yet today, although there doesn’t seem to be much spiritual eyesight, or many hearing ears left now.

The message of truth was broadcast first to the fallen church system, just as the original truth had been to Israel, and likewise in the time of Ezekiel and Jeremiah, and then later in the time of the Apostles, and with similar results. It was of course not believed by most in all three ages for the same reasons as at the First Advent. They preferred to believe their tradition of elders, and could not accept the idea of a plan of God that was different than theirs. Regardless of the rejection of the message, it still needed to be broadcast to all, to gather out those who had a hearing ear and a seeing-eye.

Destruction of Jerusalem is Parallel to the 1914 War of Destruction

On this end of the age, once the 40-year harvest was completed, we then saw the beginning of the destruction of the church and state system in the war that began in 1914AD. As we saw in the previous Chapter, that war exactly parallels the destruction of Jerusalem, which occurred first with Nebuchadnezzar, and later after the time of Christ by Titus in 69-73AD. Both ages are shown to be parallel to 1914AD, first by the 390-40 of Ezekiel 4, and by the 1845-year time parallel!

There are an exact 40 years in all three places. There are 40 years from the center point of the 7000 years to 586.25 BC, which was when Jerusalem was destroyed at the time of Babylon. The 40 years in the time of Babylon went from the start of Jeremiah's ministry until the destruction of the city. In the First Advent, we have 28.75AD to 68.75AD, and in the Second Advent we have the parallel 1873.75AD to 1913.75AD. The crucifixion and the judgment of Israel occurred 3.5 years after 28.75AD in 32.25 or the spring of 33AD, and the judgment of the nominal occurred 3.5 years after 1873.75AD in 1877.25 or the spring of 1878AD!

That we are at the end of the age there is no doubt, and the message of the coming kingdom needs to be broadcast to all. Even if the fallen church doesn't believe it, the faithful church has obeyed the command to preach the message to them again.

Once the spirit of God is poured out on Israel and the world of mankind in the next age, then there will be no doubt as to what is happening with God's Plan. The people will see with their own eyes, that those who accept the salvation of the Lord will be blessed. To get the blessing, they must accept that salvation, or as it says in Zechariah Chapter 14, there will be no rain on them.

Chapter 11 Revelation 11:1-2

Revelation 11:1 Then there was given me a measuring rod like a staff; and someone said, "Get up and measure the temple of God and the altar, and those who worship in it.

Revelation 11:2 "Leave out the court which is outside the temple and do not measure it, for it has been given to the nations; and they will tread underfoot the holy city for forty-two months. (NAU)

The reed or rod is found in other places, such as the measuring of Ezekiel's temple, and the measuring of the city of New Jerusalem in Revelation 21:15. Ezek 40:3 And he brought me thither, and, behold, there was a man, whose appearance was like the appearance of brass, with a line of flax in his hand, and a measuring reed; and he stood in the gate.

Revelation 21:15 And he that talked with me had a golden reed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

The temple of God represents the Faithful Church.

1 Cor 3:16 Do you not know that you are a temple of God and {that} the Spirit of God dwells in you?

Rom 12:1 Therefore I urge you, brethren, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies a living and holy sacrifice, acceptable to God, {which is} your spiritual service of worship. (NAU)

Temple = Holy & Most Holy

The word used for the temple in Revelation Chapter 11, does not point to the entire complex, but only to the Holy and the Most Holy part of the temple building, and that symbolically indicates the church.

SANCTUARY 2. naos ^3485^ is used of the inner part of the Temple in Jerusalem, in <Matt. 23:35>, RV, "sanctuary." See TEMPLE. (from Vine's Expository Dictionary of Biblical Words) (Copyright (C) 1985, Thomas Nelson Publishers)

Measuring Rod or Writing Instrument?

The measuring rod that is being used, symbolizes the Divine standard that the church must measure up to. While the word used in this verse for rod can mean measuring rod, it can also represent a pen or writing instrument. For that reason, it becomes easy to see that this rod could easily represent God's word, which contains the divine standard that the church needs to measure up to.

PEN kalamos ^2563^, "a reed, reed pipe, flute, staff, measuring rod," is used of a "writing-reed" or "pen" in <3 John 13>. This was used on papyrus. Different instruments were used on different materials; the kalamos may have been used also on leather. "Metal pens in the form of a reed or quill have been found in the so-called Grave of Aristotle at Eretria." See REED.

(from Vine's Expository Dictionary of Biblical Words) (Copyright (C) 1985, Thomas Nelson Publishers)

3 John 1:13 I had many things to write to you, but I am not willing to write {them} to you with pen and ink;

To help confirm that this measuring rod is being interpreted correctly as a judgment or test, we quote Isaiah 28:17.

Isa 28:17 I'll make justice the measuring stick and righteousness the plumb line for the building. A hailstorm will knock down the shantytown of lies, and a flash flood will wash out the rubble. (from THE MESSAGE: The Bible in Contemporary Language © 2002 by Eugene H. Peterson. All rights reserved.)

Later, in Revelation 21:15, we will see that it's a golden rod—which is definitely representative of the Divine standard. In Chapter 21, we will see that it's being used for testing and measuring the people in the kingdom—they will also have to measure up to God's standard by the end of the Millennial age. In the Ezekiel 40:3 account, Bible chronology, as well as other important lessons regarding judgment, is hidden in the distances measured by the rod in Ezekiel's temple.

Coming back to Revelation Chapter 11 and the context of the first few verses, careful examination shows 5 things being discussed here, with only 3 of them being measured: (1) The temple of God, (2) the altar, (3) and them that worship therein are measured, (4) but the court is not measured, and (5) John is not told to measure the holy city, and we are told that it would be trampled underfoot by the gentiles for 42 months.

Only the Priest Class Are Allowed in the Temple

The inner part of the temple and the altar, are only accessible by the priest class. For that reason, the phrase "ones who worship therein", must represent the royal priesthood, the Faithful Church. No one in this age will be allowed in the inner arrangement of the temple in the Most Holy in the presence of Jehovah and Christ, unless they first measure up to the divine standard. That is pictured in the wilderness tabernacle, where we see that only the priests could only go into the holy. It's the same situation here in Chapter 11, and the holy is where they are being measured or tested to see if they will be of the 144,000, and if faithful they will then be able to pass onward into the Most Holy—where they will be on the throne with our Lord and the Heavenly Father. In the next age, the world will also have a divine standard that they must measure up to, as shown by the golden rod in Chapter 21, but they will not be able to enter the holy or Most Holy parts of the temple—they can only go into the court yard of the city. We will explain that more fully later when we get to the description of the New Jerusalem in Chapter 21.

The apostate church will not be found among the overcomers at the end of the age, because they failed their testing. Ezekiel Chapter 44, shows us that very situation in its prophecy, where we see both the faithful and unfaithful Levites. The unfaithful are shown as still having a role to serve and service the people and the temple, but they are not allowed to come directly before God. For more information on that Chapter in Ezekiel, see the notes on Revelation Chapter 7 regarding the Great Company.

Looking at the measure and symbolism of either the brazen altar or the golden altar, we can see that either one points us to Christ and the Day of Atonement sacrifice. The sacrifice of Christ satisfied justice for all, and all who accept it, can measure up to the Divine Standard if they remain faithful. It's most likely that this is the brazen altar, because it talks about that altar and the people that worship in the temple, and the common people would not be able to see into the Holy where the golden altar was.

The Higher Standard of the Rod

There is a couple of ways that you could count or measure the worshipers. If we were counting actual numbers, we see that there would be many spiritual worshipers including the Great Company that are being measured, but only the 144,000 measure up to the higher standard needed. We believe that the measure being referred to here, is not of numbers, but of quality. They are being measured, according to the Divine standard, represented by the rod.

This measuring, is like the sealing with the mark of God in Revelation Chapter 7. If we consider that the sealing in Revelation 7, is the same as the sealing in Ezekiel 9, we see that the man with the writer's inkhorn, is using a measure of the Divine standard. It's not stated, but we assume that some sort of writing instrument is used with the inkhorn that he is using to mark the faithful, which would symbolize the standard of Gospel Age truth and God's word. In the Ezekiel picture, those who do not measure up, are symbolically slain by the six men, who represent earthly or worldly ideas. Only those who measure up to God's highest standard will be of the 144,000.

Ezek 9:4 The LORD said to him, "Go through the midst of the city, {even} through the midst of Jerusalem, and put a mark on the foreheads of the men who sigh and groan over all the Abominations which are being committed in its midst." (NAU)

The only worshipers in the temple in Rev Chapter 11, are the church, because we understand that the court represents the world and that's where they will be allowed to come to in the kingdom, and it's not to be measured now during the Gospel Age, because that salvation is for the people in the Millennial age. The world's testing will be shown, and that will begin later in Revelation, when we see the people of the nation's entering the courtyard of the New Jerusalem.

Jerusalem Below

The Study Group looked at Luke 21, where we saw the literal city of Jerusalem being trampled during the 2520 years of the times of the gentiles, to see if it was the same as the trampling of the city here in Revelation. The conclusion was, that it is not what is being talked about in this Chapter. Luke 21:24 and they will fall by the edge of the sword, and will be led captive into all the nations; and Jerusalem will be trampled underfoot by the Gentiles until the times of the Gentiles are fulfilled. (NAU)

The times of the Gentiles in Luke 21, are referring to the 2520 years which reached from 603 BC to 1918AD, which is an alternate chronology system that applies only to Israel, which we explained earlier in chapter 10. The 539AD to 1799AD chronology system, is the chronology that applies to the church, and it is found in the Second Volume. We will discuss that in the next paragraph, where we will show that 1260 is the trampling under foot that is described here in Chapter 11.

In the alternate system that is for Israel, the 1290 reaches to 1948AD, which was Israel restored and the 1335 to 1993AD, which is the Oslo peace agreement with the Arabs. The last date on the 2520 pattern earlier in this book, is 1989, and from that date there is 40 more years to 2029 from that date? From 1993 + 40, we get 2033AD. Starting a 3.5-year pattern, we get 2029, 2033, and 2036. In the book, “Biblical Count of the Years, B2” we explore this possibility in much more detail, but we also warn about undue speculation, since many others have tried to determine the date of the kingdom, with disappointing results—but we think we may be on the right track, but only time will tell.

The destruction that was about to occur in the time of Jesus, was a second destruction of the city which occurred in 70AD, and the Jews didn’t get the actual city back until 1967AD. For that reason, we would say that the account in Luke is, “the Jerusalem below that Paul speaks of in Galatians”, that was to be trampled until at least 1918AD, which was when the 2520 and the alternate 1260 years ran out. The alternate 1290 restored the Jews back to their land in 1948AD, and in 1967AD Jerusalem was restored at the end of an alternate 2300 days for Israel, which began counting in 334 BC, when Alexander the Great conquered the Persians. The alternate 1335 reached to 1993, where the Palestinians signed an agreement which stated that Israel had a right to exist. They have since tried to ignore that document, but in the end God will hold them to their agreement, and Israel will exist as the key nation in the Millennial age. What is not known for sure, is how long after 1993 it will be before the blessing of the kingdom comes to Israel.

Jerusalem Above

We believe that it’s the trampling underfoot of the spiritual Jerusalem, that is described in these verses, because what we will see in more detail a little further in this Chapter in a different symbol, is the two witnesses who represent the word of God being symbolically killed in the city during that same 1260. The faithful church, which was also in exile all through the age of the 1260 years, just like Elijah is represented by the symbol of spiritual Jerusalem. It’s known as the Jerusalem above, and its stars are cast down by the evil system, as shown in Daniel and Rev 12:4, and trampled underfoot during the 1260 years, from 539 – 1799AD. The spiritual Israelites were going to be persecuted and trampled by the wild Roman beast during that same 1260-year time, which is defined by the 42 months mentioned in verse 2.

Dan 7:19 "Then I wanted to know the true meaning of the fourth beast, which was different from all the others and most terrifying, with its iron teeth and bronze claws — the beast that crushed and devoured its victims and trampled underfoot whatever was left. NIV

Dan 8:9-11 (9 Out of one of them came another horn, which started small but grew in power to the south and to the east and toward the Beautiful Land. 10 It grew until it reached the host of the heavens, and it threw some of the starry host down to the earth and trampled on them. 11 It set itself up to be as great as the Prince of the host; it took away the daily sacrifice from him, and the place of his sanctuary was brought low. NIV

The beast was to make war with the saints for the time of 42 months or 1260 years. The spiritual or heavenly Jerusalem that we see in Revelation Chapter 11, suffered extreme violence, especially during the 539-1799AD time frame. The Bible gives that same time-period in several places, sometimes referring to it as 1260 days, 42 months or 3.5 times. The following scripture is a good example of what was predicted to happen during that time, and which historically did happen.

Revelation 13:5-7) 5 And there was given unto him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and power was given unto him to continue forty and two months.

6 And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.

7 And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over all kindred's, and tongues, and nations. (KJV)

The unfaithful and corrupt church system, was going to take illegal control of the “holy city” or God’s kingdom, for 1260 years—trampling the faithful underfoot. They established a false kingdom that had nothing to do with God, but which they claimed was his kingdom. We will see that the evil city of Papacy, which in this Chapter is called “the Great City”, is pictured by the central “city” of Babylon, and later in Revelation the daughter systems add to her and make up the “country” of “Great Babylon”, but they are not a part of the Great City. The entire system is destroyed together in chapter 18. Revelation 18:21 Then a strong angel took up a stone like a great millstone and threw it into the sea, saying, "So will Babylon, the great city, be thrown down with violence, and will not be found any longer. (NAU)

The Temple

Jesus is the angel speaking here, because this is the same angel we first saw in Revelation 10:1. There is no mention of any other angel coming onto the scene, since the time we saw the angel with the open book at the beginning of Chapter 10.

If we look at the other uses of the word temple in Revelation, we should notice that the earthly temple in Jerusalem, has been replaced by a heavenly one since the time that the Gospel Age began. The temple shown in these verses cannot be the literal temple in the time of Jesus, because at the time that this was written, the literal temple had been destroyed already, so it’s obvious that this must be a symbolic use of the term temple. It is not a future temple built on the earth either, because we know the spiritual temple that is being built in the heavens, is the only authorized temple for the next age. It's symbolic of God's government and kingdom being established here on earth in the next age. When the church is complete, it will come down to the earth, symbolized by the New Jerusalem.

The Gentiles & The Outer Court

The word for “gentiles” or nations that is used here, and they are who are trampling the outer court, is 1484 ethnos (eth'-nos); probably from 1486; a race (as of the same habit), i.e. a tribe; specially, a foreign (non-Jewish) one (usually by implication, Pagan): \KJV--Gentile, heathen, nation, people.

In Ezekiel's temple, we see that it shows us that the outer court represents the only area that the people of the world will be able to come into in the kingdom. Ezek 46:20 He said to me, "This is the place where the priests shall boil the guilt offering and the sin offering {and} where they shall bake the grain offering, in order that they may not bring {them} out into the outer court to transmit holiness to the people."

Ezek 42:14 "When the priests enter, then they shall not go out into the outer court from the sanctuary without laying there their garments in which they minister, for they are holy. They shall put on other garments; then they shall approach that which is for the people." (NAU)

Who are the ones referred to by the word “they” in Rev Chapter 11, who are going to trample the Holy City? They, are the apostate church, who wore out and took control of the Faithful Church and trampled it. The word “they” is not pointing to the entire world, but only to those who fell away from the faith, and who are falsely claiming Christ's name.

The ones defined as “they”, can also be found in other scriptures, setting up this very same evil system of the Abomination of Desolation. Dan 11:30-31) 30 "For ships of Kittim will come against him; therefore he will be disheartened and will return and become enraged at the holy covenant and take action; so he will come back and show regard for those who forsake the holy covenant.

31 "Forces from him will arise, desecrate the sanctuary fortress, and do away with the regular sacrifice. And they will set up the Abomination of Desolation . (NAU)

The Abomination of Desolation, was the church and state power that came into existence during the dark ages of the 1260 years, and the scriptures had predicted that it would stand in the spiritual holy place, which we see historically happening here—Dan also says 1260 years. It is actually “they”, who are trampling God's city or spiritual kingdom. Therefore, the “they” class mentioned here in Revelation, are those who created the Abomination of Desolation, and who belong to the great falling away that had been predicted to come, Matt 24:15, 2 Thes 2:3.

The trampling of the holy city Jerusalem for the 42 months or 1260 years, is a serious matter. The city of New Jerusalem represents God's faithful church, government, kingdom, and salvation, which the fallen church system had tried to claim that they had already instituted during the 1260 years. That they are trampling it under foot, also shows that they were misusing the civil power that they were not supposed to have illegal control of during that time, and for that reason, they were misrepresenting God's kingdom by claiming that it had come, and they were claiming that they were God's representatives. The next section of verses in Chapter 11, are going to show us much more detail regarding those who trampled underfoot God's faithful church, and who slayed the two faithful witnesses.

There was going to be a judgment that would fall upon those doing the trampling, starting after the 1260 days, but which would be becoming even more serious against that system, after the end of the 1335 days. That is when the harvest began, and at the end of the 40 year harvest the destructive time of trouble fell upon that evil system in 1914.

Revelation 11:3-6

Revelation 11:3 Revelation 11:3 "And I will grant {authority} to my two witnesses, and they will prophesy for twelve hundred and sixty days, clothed in sackcloth."

Revelation 11:4 These are the two olive trees and the two lampstands that stand before the Lord of the earth.

Revelation 11:5 And if anyone wants to harm them, fire flows out of their mouth and devours their enemies; so if anyone wants to harm them, he must be killed in this way.

Revelation 11:6 These have the power to shut up the sky, so that rain will not fall during the days of their prophesying; and they have power over the waters to turn them into blood, and to strike the earth with every plague, as often as they desire.

NAU)

Witnesses of Old & New Testament And Those Who Use Them

We notice that the two witnesses were to prophesy during the same 1260-year time that the court was going to be trampled by the Gentiles, and so it's obvious that the two events are directly related and pointing to the same time-period. Even though the court of the temple was going to be trampled for that time-period, our Lord was also authorizing the faithful to use the Old and the New Testament to prophecy against the evil city that was doing the trampling. That the two witnesses were to prophesy for 1260 years, will be important when we decide what the 3.5 days represented, which was when they lay dead in the street of the Great City of Papacy.

Two Witnesses Can Be Dead & Witnessing at the Same Time

As strange as it may seem, we will find that the two witnesses which prophesy against the Great City of Papacy, will be able to continue to prophesy outside the city, while they lay dead at the same time in the streets of the Great City. That may seem impossible, but the two olive trees and the two candle sticks are not actual people, but they are symbolic of God's Holy spirit and the Old and New Testament word.

Common Mistakes in Interpretation of Chapter 11

- (4) It is a mistake to think that the two prophets are the church, when you try to interpret this prophecy. The two prophets are used by the church, but they are not the church.
- (5) Another problem is to think that the prophets finishing their testimony in verse 7, is the same thing as prophesying in verse 3. Those are two different words, with totally different meanings. Failure to see that will lead to a wrong conclusion in regard to the interpretation of this chapter—we will explain the difference later in this explanation, for now we will say that they mean different things, and they apply at different times and to different things.
- (6) We believe that the 1260 days in verses 3-6, are the same time period as the 3.5 days of the rest of the chapter, but the prophetic viewpoint is giving us two different visions of what is going on—one viewpoint in the city, and one viewpoint outside the city. Again we will explain that more fully, before we are done, explaining how 3.5 days can equal 1260 years.

Witnesses Preach Against Great City From Outside, But Not In It

We will also see that the saints in the Gospel Age, could use the scriptures to preach outside the Great City of Papacy during the 1260 years, but they were not allowed to preach or buy or sell in the Great City, when it was in power during the 1260 years. Rev 13:16-17 (16 And he causes all, the small and the great, and the rich and the poor, and the free men and the slaves, to be given a mark on their right hand or on their forehead, 17 and he provides that no one will be able to buy or to sell, except the one who has the mark, either the name of the beast or the number of his name. NASU

The Christian church contained individual members, who could preach outside the city from the scriptures during that entire time, but any individual who tried to use the scriptures to preach in the Great City when it was in power for the 1260 years, were imprisoned or killed—which effectively killed or stopped the use of the two witnesses of the bible in the city. Elijah as a picture of that danger, had to flee away from the power of Ahab and Jezebel, or he would have been killed, so we see that the same exact parallel was going on with the prophets during the Old Testament times.

The relationship between the Great City and Great Babylon, seems to be that the Great City started out with the Papal system, and that is the meaning of the Great City. Great Babylon, contains the Great City of Papacy, but it also contains all of the Daughter Systems that have sprang off from her, propagating the same false doctrines. Great Babylon is like ancient Babylon, in that it was made up of the many countries it had conquered, yet it contained the central city called Babylon—which is the Great City of Papacy.

The Catholics did not allow their lay people access to the scriptures during the entire time of the 1260 years. If anyone was found with a bible, it was taken away and destroyed, especially if it was translated into a tongue that they could read. The Protestant and the early reformers tried to bring the scriptures to the people, but the Catholic church was fighting, and even killing them during the entire time.

Keep Aaron & Moses in Mind

Like what we see here, when we look at what happened before the Exodus from Egypt, there were two witnesses before Pharaoh who were Aaron and Moses, symbolic of priest and prophet, who performed the miraculous signs before Pharaoh, who is one of the Old Testament types of Satan. The priest-like Moses, represents the law or Old Testament portion of God's word, and just as he turned water into blood, this witness is able to do the same.

The prophet like Elijah represents the Gospel or New Testament portion of his word, and just as he commanded it not to rain for 3.5 years, this prophet can do the same thing—the 3.5 years represents the entire 1260 years of the lack of God's word in the fallen system, which was caused by the evil system itself, and it also pictured the severe trial that the Gospel Age church had to go through during that time.

Acts 3:22 "Moses said, "THE LORD GOD WILL RAISE UP FOR YOU A PROPHET LIKE ME FROM YOUR BRETHREN; TO HIM YOU SHALL GIVE HEED to everything He says to you. (NAU)

Two Olive Trees + Lamps Are Old & New Testament

The prophecy in Zechariah Chapter 4, tells us that the two olive trees and the candle stick represented the word of the Lord to Zerubbabel, and that shows us that the candle sticks represent the scriptures, and the olive trees the Holy spirit. In Zechariah, there was only one candlestick giving out light, because only the Old Testament light had been revealed. In the New Testament, we will see that there is a second candle stick that was added, and it is bringing forth the light of the Gospel Age New Testament

The two olive trees represent God's Holy spirit, which brings forth God's light and word from the two lampstands, which symbolize God's Old and New Testament word, shining light out into the world. Zech 4:6 Then he said to me, "This is the word of the LORD to

Zerubbabel saying, 'Not by might nor by power, but by My Spirit,' says the LORD of hosts. NASU

It's tempting to say that two candle sticks are the Jewish and the Christian church, but the problem with that, is that the Jewish church was cast out, and will not be back into favor with God until the next age. If they represented Jewish and Christian churches, there would only be one candle stick or witness active during the Gospel Age, because the Jewish candle would be gone, and the Chapter shows us that both are active.

For that reason, the two candle sticks or the two prophets do not represent the Jewish church or the Christian church—if you use them that way you will come to a wrong interpretation, and you will have contradictions later in the chapter.

Rev 11:3-4 (3 And I will grant authority to my two witnesses, and they will prophesy for twelve hundred and sixty days, clothed in sackcloth." 4 These are the two olive trees and the two lampstands that stand before the Lord of the earth. NASU

Because of that, we can only say that the church uses the witnesses, but they are not actually the witnesses themselves. So, when the witnesses are killed, it's not the death of any members of the church, it represents the stopping of the witness of the Old and the New Testament in the city.

Is Sackcloth, Scriptures in Dead Languages?

That the two witnesses were clothed in sackcloth, indicates several possible lessons. One thing we know for sure is that the scriptures were hidden in dead languages for much of the 1260 years. That by itself would be a hiding of their beauty and truth, so most would not be able to appreciate their scriptural beauty. If you couldn't read what was in the Bible because it was in Latin, as was historically true during a lot of the 1260-year period, it wouldn't do you any good to have the book. But that explanation appears to be way too limited.

More to the Symbol of Sackcloth Than Dead Languages

We think there is much more symbolism to the sackcloth, than being buried in dead languages. Sackcloth was also a symbol of mourning and grief. We see that the symbol of sackcloth was used in the book of Joel, which is a parallel prophecy to much of Revelation. Joel told the Israelites to spend the night in sackcloth, because of the terrible situation the country was in, and the terrible trouble that was coming upon it. The same thing was true during the 1260 years of the Papal reign of terror.

Joel 1:13 Gird yourselves {with sackcloth} and lament, O priests; wail, O ministers of the altar! Come, spend the night in sackcloth O ministers of my God, for the grain offering and the drink offering are withheld from the house of your God. (NAU)

Sackcloth was also worn by prophets, when they were bringing a message of judgment and doom, and that is also true of these two scriptural witnesses. The scriptures contain the message of judgment against this evil system, and it was written in advance by God. The sackcloth symbol and the witness against the fallen church, was especially applicable during the 1260 years, because most of the religious system was in very bad spiritual shape. The faithful church, who were following God's word at that time, were very upset by the terrible loss of truth, and by those who had fallen away to the error of the evil system. It would be an appropriate symbol to wear symbolic sackcloth, to mourn and protest that deplorable condition, just as the prophets of old did, and to use the scriptures to warn that a day of punishment and judgment was going to come.

Two Or Three Witnesses

One other important point that we notice, is that we have at least 2 witnesses involved in this prophecy. The scriptures indicate that to prove someone guilty of doing something wrong, you need 2-3 witness.

Isa 8:2 And I took unto me faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the priest, and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah.

Deut 17:6 At the mouth of two witnesses, or three witnesses, shall he that is worthy of death be put to death; but at the mouth of one witness he shall not be put to death

Deut 19:15 One witness shall not rise-up against a man for any iniquity, or for any sin, in any sin that he sinneth: at the mouth of two witnesses, or at the mouth of three witnesses, shall the matter be established.

Matt 18:16 But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established.

That is what we see happening in this Chapter, in that we have at least the 2 witnesses of God's entire Old and New Testament word. There are prophecies in both the Old and the New Testament word against the evil system. Deut 31:26 "Take this book of the law and place it beside the ark of the covenant of the LORD your God, that it may remain there as a witness against you. (NAU)

Christ as God's Representative Is a Third Witness

We also see that God himself can be a witness to the apostasy that was being fought against, because he sees and knows all. Since Christ is acting in his stead, Christ will be the third witness against the evils of this system.

Jer 29:23 because they have acted foolishly in Israel, and have committed adultery with their neighbors' wives and have spoken words in My name falsely, which I did not command them; and I am He who knows and am a witness," declares the LORD." (NAU)

Micah 1:2 Hear, O peoples, all of you; listen, O earth and all it contains, and let the Lord GOD be a witness against you, the Lord from His holy temple. (NAU)

Zeph 3:8 "Therefore wait for me," declares the LORD, "For the day when I rise-up as a witness. Indeed, My decision is to gather nations, to assemble kingdoms, to pour out on them My indignation, all My burning anger; for all the earth will be devoured by the fire

of My zeal. (NAU)

Those who are faithfully following the Lord don't have to worry, but those who are not faithful, in the end will be found wanting, and there will be at least three witnesses testifying against them. As the Father's representative, the Lord Jesus will be the third witness.

The Prophecy of Zechariah Chapter 4

We're going to examine Zechariah Chapter 4 in more detail, and see what it shows us regarding the two candlesticks that we see in Revelation Chapter 11.

Zech 4:2-7(He said to me, "What do you see?" And I said, "I see, and behold, a lampstand all of gold with its bowl on the top of it, and its seven lamps on it with seven spouts belonging to each of the lamps which are on the top of it; 3 also two olive trees by it, one on the right side of the bowl and the other on its left side." 4 Then I said to the angel who was speaking with me saying, "What are these, my lord?" 5 So the angel who was speaking with me answered and said to me, "Do you not know what these are?" And I said, "No, my lord." 6 Then he said to me, "This is the word of the Lord to Zerubbabel saying, 'Not by might nor by power, but by My Spirit,' says the Lord of hosts. 7 'What are you, O great mountain? Before Zerubbabel you will become a plain; and he will bring forth the top stone with shouts of "Grace, grace to it!"'" NASU

Two Olive Trees & Two Lamps

In this text, there is no doubt as to what the two olive trees represent, since the angel in verse 6, tells us that they are God's spirit that supplies the word of the Lord. The spirit of the Lord that comes from those two olive trees, goes all the way back to the Abrahamic Promise, which is described by Paul as being the olive root. The two olive trees, along with the two lampstands, generate the Old and the New Testament word or truth for each age. The two olive trees are already there in Zechariah in the Old Testament time, because the New Testament promises were already hidden in the old.

In the Zechariah account, we see that there are two golden pipes that empty out olive oil into the lamp. There was only one lamp in the time of Zechariah, because only the Old Testament light of God's word was shining at that time, the New Testament hadn't been revealed yet.

The olive oil represents God's spirit, which generates his word and prophecies through the candlesticks, to supply light to both the Old and New Testament churches. As Zechariah informs us, the Lord is not going to use might or power to accomplish his purposes, but his spirit and word. In Revelation Chapter 11, we will see the same thing when he gives his spirit to the two witnesses of Old and New Testament scriptures, and he brings them back to life after they had been lying dead in the streets of the Great City of Papacy.

The lamp of the Jewish system in Zechariah, burned olive oil—which was producing light for the Jewish church. In Revelation, we see that there is a second lamp that was added—which is producing light for the Gospel age church. In Zechariah, the future promise of the second lamp, was only hinted at, because of the two olive trees that we see in the prophecy.

Rev 11:4 These are the two olive trees and the two lampstands that stand before the Lord of the earth. NASU

In the Old Testament, the two olive trees and the two pipes pouring oil into the single lamp, shows us that the Old and the New Testament promises were both there, but the new testament was still hidden in God's Old Testament word, because there was no lamp or light revealing it yet.

Oil = Holy spirit

The oil coming from the olive trees and flowing to the candlesticks, represents the Holy spirit, which provides the means by which the lamps give forth spiritual light. That the olive oil represented God's Holy spirit, is true no matter which age you are viewing the prophecy from. The Jews would see their light of the Old Testament, pictured by the first candlestick, and the Gospel Age church would see its Gospel light, pictured by the second candlestick. Both would be correct, and they both would get their oil and light from the respective olive tree that supplied their particular age, but the New Testament church would also be able to use the light from the Old Testament at the same time as its lamp, and that is why we see both lampstands or prophets in the New Testament. Both olive trees come from the same Abrahamic root, because without that original promise, there is no hope for either age. The Abrahamic Covenant contains both a stars of heaven promise of "heavenly hope", and a sand of the seashore promise which is the "earthly hope".

Light From the Lamps

The light coming out of the lamps, represents the truth and message of God's word that flows forth to all who follow him and study his word. The seven lamps seen in Zechariah, are picturing for us the seven lamps which represent the seven spirits of God, which are seen before the throne of God in Revelation 4:5. In Revelation Chapter 11, we don't see the seven lamps mentioned, but we assume that each lampstand has seven lamps on them—one for each church period.

Rev 1:12-13 (12 Then I turned to see the voice that was speaking with me. And having turned I saw seven golden lampstands; 13 and in the middle of the lampstands I saw one like a son of man, clothed in a robe reaching to the feet, and girded across His chest with a golden sash. NASU

The prophecy in Zechariah, indicates that there were seven channels or seven pipes, one each going to a lamp. Those would have most likely been seven different channels of the Holy Spirit and truth to the Jewish Age—being given by the prophets of God during that age. It would also be logical to assume, that each one of those pipes is a picture of the Holy Spirit and the channel of truth to each one of the seven Gospel Age churches. That is where the messages that we see being given to each of the seven churches in Revelation Chapters 2-3, come from. We are told at the end of each message to each church, to “hear what the spirit says to the churches”.

High Mountain

The high mountain, which symbolizes Satan’s evil kingdom, will in the end be leveled by the antitypical Zerubbabel, who pictures Christ, and he will do it by the power of God’s word and spirit. As a type, this mountain is a picture of Satan’s earthly power, which controls all the earthly kingdoms of the world. In the time of Zechariah, the main mountain would have been Babylon, and then later the Medes and the Persians, and after them Greece. In the time of the early church, they would have seen it as the Empire of Pagan Rome, but later during the 1260 years, it morphed and changed into the Papal church and state and system—which was an Apostate Christianized beast.

That bad situation got even worse, when the Papal church and state beast grew an eighth head out of the Image of the Beast. We will explain the image and the eighth head when we get to Chapter 13. Some brethren look for those symbols to be future, but we believe that they have existed already in history. We are not saying that the system will not rise-up and attack us, as some believe. Because they could rise back up as we will explain—that is something that is not known for sure, although it is less likely than it was earlier in that systems history, because the Lord has greatly reduced its power. Satan was behind all those evil Empires. In Chapter 17, we will see that there were seven different heads or mountains, each representing one by one, all the Empires leading up to the last and most terrible one, which was the last and the most terrible eighth head—it was an apostate theocracy. The first seven heads were Roman, but the eighth head was not a Roman government, but it had sprang up from German tribes. The vision of the Roman beast only had seven heads on it, because that was all that was revealed to Daniel, but Rev gives us more fine detail about the evil system and shows us that there is an eighth head.

The Promise of the Restored Temple

The foundation of the temple that was laid at the first return from Babylon, represented a literal promise of a restored temple. That second temple was eventually built, and then destroyed again in 70AD, when Rome destroyed the city. The permanent temple that will be built instead, is a spiritual temple, which is being built by the antitypical Zerubbabel who pictures Christ, and it will go into operation at the start of the next age. When it’s finished, it will be made up of the completed Christ head and body, which will establish God’s kingdom through the New Jerusalem that comes down from heaven. The city of New Jerusalem, represents God’s government coming to the earth. There will be no need of a literal temple in the next age as some think, because Christ and the church will be the temple of God.

When it is finished, it will be coming down from heaven to the earth, and the time of the Abrahamic promise of the blessing of the sand of the seashore class will have come to the world. The capstone mentioned in Zechariah, represents Christ as the head of the church, and the installation of it represents the marriage of the completed bride to our Lord. The bringing of it forth after the completion of the temple, pictures the completion of the church and the start of the kingdom.

Zech 4:7 "What are you, O great mountain? Before Zerubbabel {you will become} a plain; and he will bring forth the top stone with shouts of "Grace, grace to it!"'" (NAU)

One final thing that we should examine in Zechariah, before going back to Revelation Chapter 11, is that it tells us that the two olive trees and the two olive branches are the two anointed ones which stand by the Lord of the earth. The prophecy tells us that those two olive trees represented the word of the Lord to Zerubbabel. When we go back to Revelation 11:4, we will see the same symbols used. Since the two olive trees and candlesticks represent the word of the Lord, it becomes obvious that the two candlesticks or the two prophets must be God's word as represented in the Old and the New Testament. While the church uses the Old and New Testament, we need to understand that the church itself is not the two prophets—the two prophets are the Old and the New Testament, that the church uses to witness.

Moses & Elijah

There is an interesting thing involved in the two prophets, in that when our Lord went up to the mount of transfiguration, he had both Moses and Elijah appear with him.

Matt 17:2-3) 2 And He was transfigured before them; and His face shone like the sun, and His garments became as white as light. 3 And behold, Moses and Elijah appeared to them, talking with Him. (NAU)

We also find both Moses and Elijah mentioned in the last book of the Old Testament, where it talks about the destruction of the wicked, and the prophecy promises that God will send both Moses and Elijah before the day of the Lord. In this chapter, we see that he has already fulfilled that promise, just not in the way we thought he was going to—in other words, Moses and Elijah are not literally coming to change the hearts of the fathers and the children.

Mal 4:1-6) 1 For, behold, the day cometh, that shall burn as an oven; and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble: and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the LORD of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch.

2 But unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and grow up as calves of the stall.

3 And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I shall do this, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 Remember ye the law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel, with the statutes and judgments.

5 Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the LORD:

6 And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse. (KJV)

Moses represents the Old Testament, and Elijah represents the New Testament. Moses gave us the law and all the types and shadows leading to Christ. Moses was also involved in bringing the plagues against Egypt, so that Pharaoh would let the Israelites go. We see the same types of plagues mentioned here in Revelation Chapter 11, in that these two prophets can use any plagues as often as they wish. In Chapter 16, we will see seven final plagues poured out on the fallen system, which are designed to destroy it, root and branch.

Exod 7:19-20)19 And the LORD spake unto Moses, Say unto Aaron, Take thy rod, and stretch out thine hand upon the waters of Egypt, upon their streams, upon their rivers, and upon their ponds, and upon all their pools of water, that they may become blood; and that there may be blood throughout all the land of Egypt, both in vessels of wood, and in vessels of stone. 20 And Moses and Aaron did so, as the LORD commanded; and he lifted up the rod, and smote the waters that were in the river, in the sight of Pharaoh, and in the sight of his servants; and all the waters that were in the river were turned to blood. (KJV)	Revelation 11:6 These have power to shut heaven, that it rain not in the days of their prophecy: and have power over waters to turn them to blood, and to smite the earth with all plagues, as often as they will. (KJV)

Two Prophets are Not the Church

We don't believe that the symbol of the two prophets in Chapter 11, represents the church as we discussed earlier, because they represent the Old and New Testament word of God. But at the same time, the prophet Elijah does picture the new Testament church during the Gospel Age, because the word of God is what develops and feeds the Gospel Age church with the truth. The church is also using the word of God to attack their enemies, as we see in this Chapter, and because of that there is a close link between the symbols. Many of the things that happened to Elijah in the Old Testament, were a picture of the events that would happen to the faithful church in New Testament times, and that's another reason these prophets seem to do the same things that the church does during this time. The reason for that is because two prophets in this Chapter are picturing the word of God being used by the faithful church.

In this and the next few verses, we are reminded of things that literally happened in the time of Elijah.

I King 17:1 And Elijah the Tishbite, who was of the inhabitants of Gilead, said unto Ahab, As the LORD God of Israel liveth, before whom I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, but according to my word. (KJV)	Revelation 11:6 These have power to shut heaven, that it rain not in the days of their prophecy: and have power over waters to turn them to blood, and to smite the earth with all plagues, as often as they will. (KJV)
II King 1:10 And Elijah answered and said to the captain of fifty, If I be a man of God, then let fire come down from heaven, and consume thee and thy fifty. And there came down fire from heaven, and consumed him and his fifty.	Revelation 11:5 And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoured their enemies: and if any man will hurt them, he must in this manner be killed. (KJV)
Luke 4:25 But I tell you of a truth, many widows were in Israel in the days of Elias, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when great famine was throughout all the land; (KJV) James 5:17 Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he prayed earnestly that it might not rain: and it rained not on the earth by the space of three years and six months. (KJV)	Revelation 11:9 And they of the people and kindred's and tongues and nations shall see their dead bodies three days and an half, and shall not suffer their dead bodies to be put in graves. (KJV) Revelation 11:11 And after three days and an half the Spirit of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell upon them which saw them. (KJV)

Elijah & the Captains of 50

Verse 5 reminds us of Elijah and the captains of fifty, that kept coming to him, and who kept getting burned up. The third captain of fifty eventually came and pleaded with Elijah to spare his life, 2 kings' Chapter 1.

This all happened, because king Ahaziah had consulted Beelzebub, which was a God from a heathen religion, and Elijah told him he was going to die because of him doing that. Ahaziah tried to have Elijah arrested, and that failed, until God told Elijah to go with the third captain of fifty. In the end, Ahaziah did die just as prophesied.

II King's 1:3 But the angel of the LORD said to Elijah the Tishbite, Arise, go up to meet the messengers of the king of Samaria, and say unto them, Is it not because there is not a God in Israel, that ye go to inquire of Beelzebub the god of Ekron?

An interesting point about the captains of fifties that were burned up in the time of Elijah, is that there were three sets of fifty, and two of the three sets of fifty were burned up. If we figure out what that would be in a decimal fraction, we get two divided by three for the ones that were burned up, which is .666, etc. out to infinity. That calculation shows that the two-thirds, pictures the 666 of the Satanic church system.

The third captain that repented and pleaded for mercy, would seem to indicate those who like the reformers and their followers in the sixth trumpet, woke up to the fact that they were serving evil and repented. The one-third indicated in that number, points us to other places where God separates out one-third and then puts them through an even more rigorous testing and purifying. The one-third is .333, and the number three is God's number, showing that the one-third belong to God.

Two Third = 666

In the above calculations, some might object to using  $1 - .333 = .666$  as a decimal number because it's said that they did not have decimal numbers back in that time, and so we will show that God has been using this same method all through the Old Testament, but without using it as a decimal. In the book of Zechariah, we find this: Zechariah 13:8-9 "It will come about in all the land," Declares the LORD, "That two parts in it will be cut off and perish; But the third will be left in it. 9 "And I will bring the third part through the fire, Refine them as silver is refined, And test them as gold is tested. They will call on My name, And I will answer them; I will say, 'They are My people,' And they will say, 'The LORD IS my God.'" NASU

In the Zechariah prophecy, we see that God is defining the two parts that are cut off as being bad, and the one part that he takes out and refines in the fire, he is defining them as good. To prove that, we see that they are refined as gold and silver, which shows that they are further tested and refined, so that the Lord eliminates any dross. So, when you see us use the decimal number one third or two thirds anywhere in this book, Zechariah Chapter 13:8-9 is the principle behind that calculation.

The Old Testament corruption that we just looked at, which occurred during the time of the kings, has an anti-typical application here in Revelation. The apostate church system is guilty of consulting and worshiping false Gods through Satan's Pagan Papal system, instead of practicing God's true religion. Just like in the Old Testament times, the fallen church system didn't want anyone to point out the error of their ways, and so they tried to do away with the scriptures and those who were using them. That's exactly what Jezebel was doing when she tried to get rid of Elijah, who was witnessing against her and Ahab, because they had brought the worship of false Gods into Israel.

Enemies of God's Word Will be Consumed by Symbolic Fire

God, in Revelation Chapter 11, has promised that anyone who tried to harm his word would be destroyed by the judgmental fire expressed in his word. Note that the fire comes out of the prophets' mouth, symbolizing words of scriptural utterance. We see the power of God's word described in Hebrews and especially in Revelation, where it brings judgment and destruction against the evil system in many places.

Heb 4:12 For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

Revelation 9:18 By these three plagues a third of mankind was killed, by the fire and smoke and sulphur issuing from their mouths. (RSV)

The "symbolic fire", which is from God's word, will destroy anyone or anything that is found in opposition to it. Even those who appear to have escaped judgment during the height of the power of the fallen church system, will in the end suffer loss because God will judge them, and they will be punished appropriately, according to what they have done wrong. 1 Cor 3:11-15 (11 For no man can lay a foundation other than the one which is laid, which is Jesus Christ. 12 Now if any man builds on the foundation with gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, straw, 13 each man's work will become evident; for the day will show it because it is to be revealed with fire, and the fire itself will test the quality of each man's work. 14 If any man's work which he has built on it remains, he will receive a reward. 15 If any man's work is burned up, he will suffer loss; but he himself will be saved, yet so as through fire. NASU)

Cannot Use Carnal Weapons Only by God's Spirit

The phrase, "in this manner must they be killed", is interesting, because it limits the method of killing to the fire that proceeds out of their mouth. In other words, the church must not use carnal weapons to kill their enemies—but only the word of the Lord. Those who would advocate using earthly force against the fallen church, are not following God's command, because God does not want us to use violence. He will accomplish his purposes, by using his spirit and the truth to overcome the evil church system of Satan, just as he states in the Zechariah account.

Zech 4:6-7)6 Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the LORD unto Zerubbabel, saying, Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the LORD of hosts.

7 Who art thou, O great mountain? before Zerubbabel thou shalt become a plain: and he shall bring forth the headstone thereof with shouting, crying, Grace, grace unto it. (KJV)

Revelation 11:5 And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoured their enemies: and if any man will hurt them, he must in this manner be killed. (KJV)

Many Saw the Light & Reformed

Besides the outright condemnation of those who were in error, it's also possible that the fire kills their enemies in the sense of the third captain of fifty. He saw that Elijah was bringing judgment from God, and he did not attack him, and many in that evil dark age system likewise came to the same conclusion when confronted with the truth. So, we could also be looking at another meaning of the destruction by fire, where some were symbolically killed out of the corrupt system, by becoming converted to true Christianity. We see that demonstrated in the sixth trumpet, where it says that one third were killed, by the fire, the smoke, and brimstone that comes out of their mouth. That tells us that the horses like locusts that are pictured in that trumpet, are doing the same work that the two prophets are in this Chapter.

Rev 9:18 A third of mankind was killed by these three plagues, by the fire and the smoke and the brimstone which proceeded out of their mouths. NASU

Plagues of Egypt again!

The same thing is true regarding the plagues that the prophets could inflict, in that they were intended to be used against the fallen church system, and not against the Faithful Church. The word "plagues" mentioned here, indicates to us that we should look back to the Exodus of Israel from Egypt, to see what happened there. The plagues there, as well as the escape from Egypt, are types and shadows pointing to experiences that the church was to go through during the Gospel Age. The slavery and hard labor that the Egyptians kept Israel under, and their eventual escape from Egypt, is a picture of the deliverance that comes first to the church at the end of this age, and finally to the world in the next age. The deliverance of Israel from Egypt, is a picture of how God has plagued the fallen church system, to get them to let his people go.

In this Chapter, the plagues that God's word brought against the church and state system, were designed to get the Faithful Church to recognize their enemy, so that they could break free and escape to where they could worship God in the proper way. The truths that were brought out by the two prophets, embarrassed the fallen church system on and off through most of its history, but it wasn't until the time of the Reformation or shortly before, that there was a total split from the fallen church. The printing and the distribution of the scriptures contributed a great deal to the plaguing effect upon the system, because it exposed their error to the increased light of the scriptures. From the time of the three woe trumpets onward, God greatly increased pressure on the Papal church to reform. The truth that was brought out, annoyed the fallen church system, which is like Elijah who was told by Ahab that he had troubled Israel.

The drought that came upon the fallen church system, was a lack of God's word, and that was their own fault, because they had set aside God's word and clung to the traditions and philosophies of men. They would rather believe a lie than the truth, which would have brought the refreshing waters of God's word to them. All they had to do was to use and believe God's word, and most of the error and drought would have been eliminated. That the drought continued for 1260 years, as seen in the twelfth chapter, is another indication that God's word lay dead in the streets of the Great City of Papacy for 1260 years, not just 3.5 years—we will discuss that in detail in the second half of the chapter. Papacy did not allow their lay people the use of the scriptures during the entire 1260 years. They sometimes claimed that they did, but it was not until more modern times, that Catholics could own bibles that were in their own language—but even then they are told that only the church can interpret what is written in it.

The Protestant system did repent to a certain extent, and they began to use God's word at the time of the Reformation, although they unfortunately clung to some of the error of the mother church that they should have gotten rid of, and that is why most of the Protestant churches were also in trouble at the judgment time of the seventh church in 1878AD.

Regarding the ability to strike as often as they will—was that from them or from God? We believe, that they were getting the power and authority to torment the fallen church system from God. They didn't smite the fallen system because of anger, but they did it for reform, and they attempted to convert God's enemies over to the truth. Vines dictionary adds determination and purpose to the definition of the word, "as often as they will". In other words, the smiting was done with the intention of reforming them and getting them to admit their error.

Where is the Traditional 3.5 Days Fulfilled?

This part of the Chapter, presents some serious questions about where the 3.5 days are fulfilled. The Adventist and traditional Bible Student view, is that it was fulfilled during a 3.5-year time-period, where all religion was banned in France just before the end of the 1260 years. They interpret the 3.5 days as 3.5 years.

That interpretation has several severe problems, which we will detail a little further onward in this Chapter. To briefly outline a few things ahead of time, there is a major question about the banning of religion in France as being the fulfillment of the death of the two witnesses. Remember that the two witnesses are the Old and New Testament, and the banning of the bible in one country, does not seem to fulfill this as the killing of the scriptures in the Great City of Papacy.

A major problem is that France is not the entire Great City of Papacy, but only one tenth of it as is pointed out later in this chapter, and the verses above say they lay dead in the “entire city”. The banning of Religion only applied to France at that time of a few years for a short time, but the scriptures above say the entire city, the 10 kings or kingdoms, rejoiced over their spiritual death. The history of the 3.5 years is also disputed by some, who state that it did not happen in the manner that the Adventists believe. We will give some arguments later in this section, even from some Seventh Day Adventists who do not agree with the French Revolution fulfillment.

Another problem, is that the scriptures and true religion, were not banned for only 3.5 years, but the Catholic Church had banned the scriptures and true religion from the lay people, from about the same time as the scriptures canonization. We will present a publication explaining the history regarding that banning of the scriptures from the lay people, right after this introduction. We also should not forget, that the beast was going to stop all from buying or selling in the fallen church, unless they had the mark of the beast. In other words, unless you were for that system, you would not be able to preach or bring out scripture in that system—that total ban was not for only 3.5 years, it was for the entire 1260 years.

There was not a rising-up of a beast out of the abyss at that end time, which is another major problem for that interpretation—the Western Roman Empire beast was rapidly going down at that time of 1789, back into the abyss.

The Roman beast with the seventh head, had fallen in 476 when the barbarians overran the empire. It was restored in 539 when Ravenna was captured, and the city of Rome was cleansed of the barbarians—who were actually Christian Arians. The beast with the seventh head was restored in 539 when it came back up out of the abyss and began to come back together as an Empire, healing the smitten head. The beast with the seventh head, eventually grew an eighth head when Papacy took control of the kings later in history. That was the beast that was rapidly going down in power during the French Revolution, and it went completely down 10 years later in 1799, after all the kings split and left Papacy—note that it was exactly 1260 years between those dates.

In Appendix I, we gave several views of others, regarding what else could have fulfilled the death of the witnesses. One of them had to do with a 3.5-year time-period, just before the Reformation, where the Pope dispatched a Cardinal to Bohemia to try to bring the heretics back into the church. That was during the eighth session of the Lateran council. It was claimed after the investigation, that there was no opposition, or anyone that was still holding any doctrine or opposition to the church. Since they found no opposition, which was most likely because the people were afraid to admit anything, it is claimed by other commentators that this proved that this was where the two witnesses were dead. The first problem with that interpretation, is that we should be looking for the death of the use of the scriptures, not the death of any opposition to Papacy.

Another major problem with that interpretation, is that this theory is exactly like the one advocated at the time of the French Revolution. Bohemia was a small part of the Papal system, and so even if it was true that no one still apposed the church, that did not prove that the opposition was dead in the rest of the Papal church state system, which was the entire Great City of Papacy. In both the French Revolution, and in the Bohemian investigation, they were looking only at one country, and we are not looking for a single nation opposition to Papacy, but we should be looking for the banning of the scriptures, the two witnesses in the entire religious system, and not just in one country.

That historical event was in May 5, 1514 and about 3.5 years later in Oct 31, 1517, was when Luther nailed the 95 theses on the church door. Because that was a 3.5-year time-period, that is the reason why some think that was a fulfillment of the 3.5 days. The problem with that view is that since it was only 3.5 years later that the Reformation started, that shows that the opposition was not dead, because when Luther nailed the 95 theses up, it unleashed the pent-up frustration against the Papal system that had existed for a long time, not for just 3.5 years. The people saw that it was their chance to get free from the oppressive Papal system.

There also was no beast that rose-up out of the abyss at that time either, it had been out of the abyss for a long time before that time, as shown by Daniel. He tells us the beast rose-up and it made war with the saints and wore them down—it took more than 3.5 years to wear the saints down, and they were worn down way earlier than 1514 or 1789. The scriptures also told us that the evil system that banned the scriptures was going to continue for 1260 years, so that should tell us where we should be looking in order to find where the two prophets were killed—which is at 539AD when Papacy was put in charge of the religious affairs of both halves of the Empire. Anyone that did not agree with Papacy, soon found the Roman coming army after them, and that power lasted for 1260 years—do we doubt what Daniel was telling us about the length of the power of that evil system, in that it would wear down the saints or over power the saints.

Dan 7:19-22 (19 “Then I desired to know the exact meaning of the fourth beast, which was different from all the others, exceedingly dreadful, with its teeth of iron and its claws of bronze, and which devoured, crushed and trampled down the remainder with its feet, 20 and the meaning of the ten horns that were on its head and the other horn which came up, and before which three of them fell, namely, that horn which had eyes and a mouth uttering great boasts and which was larger in appearance than its associates. 21 “I kept looking, and that horn was waging war with the saints and overpowering them 22 until the Ancient of Days came and judgment was passed in favor of the saints of the Highest One, and the time arrived when the saints took possession of the kingdom. NASU

Dan 7:25-27 (25 ‘He will speak out against the Most High and wear down the saints of the Highest One, and he will intend to make alterations in times and in law; and they will be given into his hand for a time, times, and half a time. 26 ‘But the court will sit for judgment, and his dominion will be taken away, annihilated and destroyed forever. NASU

Were the Scriptures Dead For Only 3.5 Years Or 1260 Years?

As we look at this Chapter, looking for the correct solution, we need to ask ourselves a simple question. Did the scriptures historically lay dead in the street of the Great City of Papacy for only for 3.5 days, which is generally thought to represent only 3.5 years, or did they lay dead in the street for 3.5 time 360 or 1260 years? The history of the 1260 years, should tell us that the Bible was suppressed during the entire 1260 years, and so it had to be for the 1260 years and not 3.5 years—even when the reformers started to bring out the scriptures to their people, the Catholic system still totally banned the bible from its lay people! We will explain our conclusion more fully in the comments a little further onward, when we explain how we get 1260 years out of 3.5 symbolic days.

A Much Better Solution To the Death of the Two Witnesses

The bible tells us that the two witnesses could stop the rain during the 3.5 days of their prophesying, which was not done to harm the Faithful Church. What that means is that rain or spiritual blessings did not fall on the apostate church and state system during that entire time, but the Lord took care of and protected the Faithful Church, which is pictured by the ravens feeding Elijah, and the widow taking Elijah in during that time. That other things that Elijah did, that are repeated in this Chapter, are giving us a big hint that we should be looking at the life of Elijah, and how it pictured the church’s battle against the church and state system, and that great struggle pictured the entire 1260 years, not just 3.5 years.

The interpretation we are going to give for this part of the Chapter, is one that is not held by anyone else that we know of. It is based upon several scriptures from Daniel and Revelation, that show that the beast came back up and started to get back into power in 539AD, and at that time stopped all witnessing to the truth, because it got the use of the Roman army at that time to uphold its religious declarations to both halves of the empire. It actually banned the use of scriptures from the lay people before 539, which is the date it came up out of the abyss with the healed and smitten head—we will give that history shortly. The ban was most likely not able to be fully enforced until after 539, because many of the faithful church were still fighting during that time against error, and the right to keep the use of the scriptures—but as Daniel tells us, they were eventually worn down. The Arians were also able to stay independent during that time, because they had their own military force, until; after 539. After 539, we don't find any history of anyone publicly fighting against the so called Orthodox church—which was most likely because they had gotten too much control by that time, and any disagreement resulted in persecution or death.

Pope Got Use of Military Force in 539 to Back Him Up

The other thing that killed the scriptures at that time, was that the Pope was given access to the power of the army to back up his Justinian given right to decide doctrines in both halves of the Empire. The taking of Ravenna was a good example of the first use of military force, which defeated the Arians in the Western half of the Empire at that time. The right to argue against the Trinity doctrine was made illegal in 381, but the Pope did not have any military force to back up that declaration up until 539.

Before 539, the Ostrogoth's had enough military power that they were able to continue to argue against the Trinity, until they were defeated by the Roman army—that defeat also kicked them out of the city of Rome, leaving Papacy in control. The Arians had been trying to argue against the Trinity doctrine, using the scriptures, and after their defeat, that soon ended all opposition in the West. That power lasted until 1260 years later, when all civil power was taken away from Papacy, and he was not able to use military force any more to stop the truth. When Ravenna was captured, Papacy was the sole occupier of the Roman city, which was where the original Roman throne had been, before the move of Constantine to Constantinople—that gave Papacy superstitious power that the other bishops did not have, and he used that to increase his power and influence.

Rev 11:9 Those from the peoples and tribes and tongues and nations will look at their dead bodies for three and a half days, and will not permit their dead bodies to be laid in a tomb.

3.5 Periods of Time = 1260

Here we find that they lay dead in the Great City of Papacy for 3.5 days. Does it make sense that this is only 3.5 days at a day per year? It didn't make sense to the Study Group, because historically the scriptures lay dead in the city for the entire 1260 years—which was the time of their prophesying. They could be dead in the city and still prophesying outside the city since they were not people—they were the Old and the

New Testament. They could be used outside the city by the faithful church, but they were not allowed to be used in the city, and because of that they lay dead or unused in the city. That is the same thing as not being able to buy or sell in that evil system, as we will see described in Chapter 13. The buying and selling that was forbidden, was not just material goods, it was the truth from the scriptures that was being suppressed, and any who tried to preach was imprisoned or killed.

Rev 13:17 and he provides that no one will be able to buy or to sell, except the one who has the mark, either the name of the beast or the number of his name. NASU

There are several things that indicate that the 3.5 days needs to be interpreted differently, and we will list several in this section. This is one of the more difficult areas to explain, in order to show how we can get 1260 out of 3.5 days, but we have a few different possibilities. Common sense indicates that the only answer has to 1260 years, because that is the entire time period that the bible was suppressed—not just 3.5 years. Once we see that is correct, there are a few other things that will need to be explained, which we will then do.

One possibility is that when we look up the meaning of the word day, we see that it can mean a day, it can also figuratively represent an unspecified period of time, especially in Revelation, which is definitely made up of figurative language. So, using that definition as a guide, we can see that this could be 3.5 periods of undefined time, not necessarily days. The translators chose days, because they are not looking at this in a prophetic manner.

NT:2250 ἡμέρα hemera (hay-mer'-ah); feminine (with NT:5610 implied) of a derivative of hemai (to sit; akin to the base of NT:1476) meaning tame, i.e. gentle; day, i.e. (literally) the time space between dawn and dark, or the whole 24 hours (but several days were usually reckoned by the Jews as inclusive of the parts of both extremes); figuratively, a period (always defined more or less clearly by the context):

KJV - age, + alway, (mid-) day (by day, [-ly]), + for ever, judgment, (day) time, while, years.

(Biblesoft's New Exhaustive Strong's Numbers and Concordance with Expanded Greek-Hebrew Dictionary. Copyright © 1994, 2003, 2006 Biblesoft, Inc. and International Bible Translators, Inc.)

We also see that the same word is translated year in two verses in Luke. Which if we translated this that way, using that figurative definition, we would have  $3.5 \times 360 = 1260!$

Luke 1:7 But they had no child, because Elizabeth was barren, and they were both advanced in years. NASU

Luke 1:18-19 (18 Zacharias said to the angel, "How will I know this for certain? For I am an old man and my wife is advanced in years." NASU

If we were to assume that the term days is being used in a figurative manner, then we should look for something in the context, that would define what the 3.5 periods of time should be. The translators are assuming that this is days, but there actually is nothing that defines this as 3.5 days, except the assumption that is what it is, because that is what that word is normally, except for the examples above where it is used as years. We are first going to give one explanation, using 3.5 periods of figurative time which we believe should be 360, and that was the original explanation from the study. Then we will offer a second solution, based upon the 3.5 years of Elijah, which also pictures the 1260 years, and it may be that is the more correct and easy to explain solution.

3.5 Figurative Solution

But before we can conclude that 3.5 figurative periods of time are the correct solution, we need to see if there is anything that would point to a figurative interpretation. We believe that there is something that indicates that this should be three and a half, 360 year periods, although it is not obvious. When we were looking at the chronology that defines how long the beast was going to be able to torment and kill the saints, we found an important thing. It is right in plain sight, but it is partially hidden by the idea that the 3.5 days that the prophets lay dead in the city, was only 3.5, 24 hour days. If this was 3.5 years, such as in Luke, we would then prophetically have  $3.5 \times 360 = 1260$  years, which completes one chronology witness, as we will see when we come back to this. First we will look at chronology witness number two.

There is a chronology witness number two, which defines the chronology witness for us. In chapter 12, in verse 6, we have (1) 1260 years. In verse 14, we have (2) 3.5 times. In chapter 13, we have the third and final element of the chronology witness in verse 5, of (3) 42 months. So in those two chapters we have three different symbols defining the 1260 years of persecution. We will call this set of chronology witnesses, number two.

The reason that we are calling those three different chronology symbols witness two, is because there is a witness number one in the chapter we are looking at. Beginning in chapter 11, we have in verse 2, (1) 42 months, and in verse 3, (2) 1260 days. That means that in order to complete chronology witness one, we are missing a (3) 3.5 times. If we look all over the New Testament, including the rest of Revelation, it appears at first glance that we do not have a complete chronology witness number one—how can that be, since God proves all things by at least two, if not three witnesses. In this situation, we believe that there are three complete witnesses given by God, as we will show.

If we look at the 3.5 days of chapter 11 with a prophetic eye, we then can see that the two prophets could have been dead for 3.5 times 360 days or 1260 days, which would be 1260 years. That would complete the first set of chronology witnesses, giving us two complete witness sets of 1260, 42 months and 3.5 times in Revelation. Some will probably claim that the 3.5 days can only be 3.5 years, and so they will not accept the 3.5 times 360. For that reason, we will give a second way of arriving at 1260 years for that time period below, based upon Elijah, who actually is one of the prophets in this chapter!

There is a third chronology witness in Daniel, but there we only have 3.5 times 360 twice. In Dan 7:25 we have 3.5 times, and in Dan 12:7 we have 3.5 times. But notice that unless we prophetically determine that the 3.5 times 360 = 1260, the New Testament would then only have one complete witness of 1260, 42 months and 3.5 times. If we accept the prophetic interpretation for the 3.5 days, then we would have two complete witnesses in the New Testament, and One complete witness in the Old Testament, which gives us a total of three witnesses. In the next section, we are going to give another method of arriving at 1260 years.

3.5 Years of Elijah Pictures 1260 Years

A second and possibly the best solution, although both methods could be correct, is that another solution is found in the amount of time that Elijah spent in the wilderness hiding from Jezebel, which was 3.5 years. We should realize that the 3.5 years derived from the original Adventist calculation regarding the 3.5 days, actually matches the prophetic 3.5 years that Elijah spent in hiding. Since Elijah is one of the two prophets in this Chapter, the 3.5 years of his hiding from Ahab and Jezebel, symbolized the entire 1260 years.  $3.5 \text{ years} \times 360 = 1260$  symbolically derived years. There are several reasons that we say that is the answer, besides the fact that it fits historically with what happened during that dark time. That entire period of 1260 years, was when the scriptures were not given any authority in the fallen church, effectively killing them. That fits exactly, because history shows that the Laity of the Papal church were not allowed to use the scriptures for the entire 1260 years, not just 3.5 years at the close of the 1260!

Another reason that we conclude that Elijah's ministry symbolizes 1260 years, is that we find that James tells us that Elijah is mentioned as the prophet that kept it from raining for 3.5 years, creating the desert condition that the woman fled into in chapter 12. Many brethren have given talks, explaining that the plight of Elijah, symbolizes the church's plight during the 1260 years of the dark ages, and to prove that, we only have to look at the upper half of the Chapter, where we find that the two prophets prophesy outside the city like Elijah, for 1260 years and 42 and two months, which equals 1260 years. See the detailed notes about David Rice's talk on the symbolism of the 3.5 years of Elijah. That is symbolic of the same period of time that we have here in this prophecy, which is  $3.5 \times 360$ . We notice that the two prophets could stop it from raining, just as the original Elijah did in the Old Testament times, and here in our Revelation account.

James 5:17-18 (17 Elijah was a man just like us. He prayed earnestly that it would not rain, and it did not rain on the land for three and a half years. 18 Again he prayed, and the heavens gave rain, and the earth produced its crops. NIV

That the two prophets could issue fire to burn up their enemies, as is stated in this Chapter, is also found in both the time of Moses and in the time of Elijah, with the captains of 50. We see in the message to the fourth church, that Jezebel is mentioned as being the one that was feeding food to our Lord's church that had been sacrificed to idols, and so there should be no doubt that we need to be looking at the life of Elijah, and what he did in the fight against the false God's that Jezebel had brought into Israel.

3.5 Years of Elijah = 1260 Years for Church

Inside the city, it uses a different symbol that symbolizes 3.5 years, but as we explained above, the 3.5 years of Elijah actually symbolizes the entire 1260 years. Outside the city, they were plaguing the evil system for 1260 years, and inside the city the two prophets lay dead for 1260 years. Elijah and the events of his life picture the struggle of the church, and the eventual overcoming of Luke & James's 3.5 Years Represent 1260 Years

The suggestion is, that if the 3.5 days in Rev Chapter 11 represents 3.5 years, then just like the time of Elijah who is pictured in Chapter 11, why does that 3.5 years not equal the entire 1260 years, just like we see pictured in the 3.5 years of Luke, and James, when they explain the Old Testament picture of Elijah?

3.5 days=3.5 years=1260years

That method of calculating the 1260 years, fits into the picture of Elijah as being the persecuted church of the 1260 years. It answered the question we had about how the picture of Elijah's 3.5 years in Luke and James, is related to Rev Chapter 11. Since the earlier part of Chapter 11 is picturing Moses and Elijah, then why couldn't the 3.5 years shown in Chapter 11, be the same as what is presented in the two pictures of Elijah representing the church for the entire 1260 years, that we quote below? The not raining for 3.5 years, is what caused the 1260 years of the symbolic desert that the woman fled into!

Luke 4:25 But I tell you of a truth, many widows were in Israel in the days of Elias, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when great famine was throughout all the land; (KJV)

James 5:17 Elijah was a man with a nature like ours, and he prayed earnestly that it would not rain, and it did not rain on the earth for three years and six months. NASU

Since Elijah had to flee Jezebel, we are going to look at an interesting calculation. In the message to the fourth church, he says that he has given Jezebel time to repent. That shows us that Jezebel was in power at the time of the fourth church. There is some question about the word Chrono being a word that means a biblical time of 360 years, like kairos is. We have found that in some of the other places where chronos is used, that it appears to also represent 360. An example is in the fifth seal, where we see that saint's dead under the altar, and they are promised that after a time, that they would be avenged and the system judged. If you take the theoretical end for the fifth church, using the 360's, we get 1517.25AD. Adding  $360 + 1517.25 = 1877.25$ , which is exactly the end of the 1845-year judgment parallel, which is where judgment fell and vengeance was pronounced against the fallen church.

If we use that same concept, then the beginning of the fourth church is 797.25, which is just before where Papacy crowned Charlemagne and if we take the time of -360 away, that gives us the beginning of the third church, which is 437.25. The title or name of Papacy began at the time of Justinian giving Papacy power to set doctrine in the Roman Empire in 539, and that is also where the picture of Jezebel began, and that is also when the Arians were militarily defeated. Taking  $539 + 360 = 899$ , and we have the Lord in the fourth church warning about what he was going to do to Jezebel over the time periods of the next three churches—see the comments on the message to the fourth church.

Rev 2:20-21 (20 But I have this against you, that you tolerate the woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess, and she teaches and leads My bond-servants astray so that they commit acts of immorality and eat things sacrificed to idols. 21 I gave her time to repent, and she does not want to repent of her immorality. NASU

This is Not a Double Application of a Day Per Year

The above method is not a double application of the day per year method as some think, because we get the 3.5 years of Elijah's drought, from the 3.5 days at a day per year, in Rev Chapter 11, and then we use the picture of the 3.5 years of Elijah hiding from Ahab and Jezebel, to get the 1260 years. Just like here in Revelation, Elijah was not able to prophecy in the city of Jerusalem without being killed during that entire time, and Obadiah had to hide the other prophets of God in a cave to save them during that same time. Elijah was able to live by the brook, and be kept alive by being fed by ravens, and then he was later fed miraculously with the widow. We see that same miraculous feeding of the church pictured in Rev Chapter 12, where the woman fled into the wilderness to be fed for 1260 years. The prophetic pictures are all linked together!

In the third year of the drought, Elijah went to see Ahab. Using 360 days per year, the third year would start in 1259AD, and it would end in 1619, of which the 180 years left would seem like a reasonable time for the prophets of Baal to be confronted at the altar, and then be killed by 1799. That would correspond to the time of the early reformers, and the Reformation. That evil system is pictured by an angry Jezebel, who chased after Elijah trying to kill him, and the chronology associated with that chase brings us up to 1874-1914 as explained below.

Bro Rice's Presentation on Elijah

Bro. David Rice has a very good presentation, showing the timing, and the events picturing the church, and the chronology of that flight from 1799 to 1914. He has 1799 as the destruction of the priests of Baal. Stopping at the juniper tree and resting, he is fed twice there. The first time is at 1829, which was when there were a lot of solid kingdom type doctrines brought out. Then he ate again in 1843-1848 at the time of the Miller movement. He then fell back asleep until the end of the 1335 days, which brought us to 1874AD. The angel then woke him again, and had him eat again, picturing the harvest truth, and then he went 40 days and 40 nights to the mount of God, which is 1914. He then hid in a cave until the Lord came to him, and showed him the wind, the earthquake, and the fire, and a gentle calm. Those symbols represent war, revolution, anarchy, and the blessing of the kingdom, which all occur after 1914.

Elijah & the Widow

As we read in 2 Kings, we see that God fed Elijah and kept him alive with Ravens at a brook, and then he later lived with the widow and kept her alive with miracles until it was time for the end of the drought and famine. Those experiences are a picture of the church, and how it was going to have to struggle to survive during the dark time of the 3.5 times of the 1260 years. We will see that very thing shown in Rev Chapter 12, where we see the woman flee into the wilderness away from Satan—where she was to be fed by God.

Does Widow = Jewish System?

One suggestion about the widow and Elijah, which is not certain, but which makes sense, is that the widow could represent the Jewish system. The widow is widowed from the Lord, because they have been cast off and divorced by God for the 1845 years of the time of their punishment. The widow's child, which died and which was brought back to life by Elijah, would in that picture represent the hope of an earthly seed.

Perfecting Their Testimony

Another question that comes up about this, is how were they perfecting their testimony just before 539. Besides the canonization of the scriptures in 397, the arguments of truth that the faithful saints were using against the error of the fallen system, were being taken from the scriptures. That is the reason that the fallen church did not want the church to have the use of the scriptures—they were using the scriptures to fight against the Trinity doctrine.

That they had completed their prophesying just before the beast killed them, is also better rendered perfected their testimony. In the Horae Apocalypticae, Elliott shows that “perfected their testimony” is a better meaning for the Greek phrase that has traditionally been translated as “finished their testimony.” The two prophets had been perfected in 397, when they were canonized and put into one book, and they were being used and perfected against the error of the system, by the faithful of the church, prior to 539.

Difference Between Prophecy & Finishing

There is also a major difference between the two words in this chapter, prophesying (propheteuo) in verse 3 and finishing or perfecting (telo) their testimony in verse 7. They are totally different words, which mean totally different things, and any interpretation that make the finishing of the testimony, the same as their finishing of their earlier prophesying the same, as most do, will be coming to a totally wrong conclusion about this chapter. We will consider this problem a little later in a detailed examination of those two words.

Scriptures Were Banned Not Long After they were Canonized

In this Chapter, we will first present some historical evidence, that the scriptures were banned for lay people not long after they were canonized. That history is found in an article from the Huffington Post, which says that the church did not want its members to have access to the scriptures from very early in the church's history. The 1000 years that are mentioned in the article, appears to be counting backward from the time that the bible was translated into English by John Wycliffe in 1380-1382, which would reach back to 380-382AD, which was exactly at the decree of 381. It's not clear which event in the article that he is counting from, and so he could also be counting from the time that William Tyndale began printing bibles in earnest, or from where he was burned to death at the stake in 1534. That would make the banning of reading it reach back to about 534AD, which is very close to 539.

Don't forget that the church was being put under severe doctrinal restrictions after 381-383, regarding requiring a belief in the Trinity and other wrong doctrines. Banning the use of the whole bible after that, so that they could hide the truth and protect the power of the clergy, was a great and final fall into utter darkness. The date 534 is close to when the Pope was given control over the doctrines of both the East and the Western churches, and that was definitely another major step into darkness. He was most likely given that control, so that the arguments that were going on about false doctrines could be stopped, and the use of the army definitely stopped any further witnessing—killing the two witnesses in the city, but not outside the city, where many brave saints continued to preach against the error.

Just as it took some time for the canonized scriptures to be fully banned, it took some time for the reformers to bring the use of the scriptures back into common use. In 1381, which was towards the end of Wycliffe's life—he finished his English translation in 1380 or 1382—history gave both dates! He did a great deal of work, regarding the bringing of the scriptures back to the people. The darkest 1000 years was from 799-1799. After 1799, Papacy did not have the civil power supporting him very much anymore, and so he could not stop the spread of the scriptures, even in his own territory. Papacy did not allow the reading of the scriptures even after 1799, which was when their power was broken, but the bible was made widely available at that time and the Catholic people could secretly get it if they wanted to.

So the loss of the use of the scriptures was during an overlap of time, from 381 to 539, and then even worse in 799, when the Empire came back together. On this end of the age, the early reformers started to make it available in 1380-82, but the Catholics were not allowed to have it. The Protestants, especially at the time of the Reformation in 1517, allowed their people the use of the scriptures.

That the Catholics did not have the bible during the entire 1260 years, makes sense, because this chapter is talking about the Great City of Papacy having killed the prophets for 3.5 days, which as we have shown above in this chapter, symbolizes the entire 1260 years. So again, history supports the scriptures being banned for the entire time, not for only 3.5 years.

See the historical document on the next page that tells about the banning of the scriptures, shortly after the time that they were canonized.

History of Suppressing the Scriptures

“Why Christians Were Denied Access to Their Bible for 1,000 Years

05/20/2013 02:57 pm ET | Updated Jul 20, 2013

GETTY IMAGES

The Council of Nicaea called by the Emperor Constantine met in 325 C.E. to establish a unified Catholic Church. At that point no universally sanctioned Scriptures or Christian Bible existed. Various churches and officials adopted different texts and gospels. That’s why the Council of Hippo sanctioned 27 books for the New Testament in 393 C.E. Four years later the Council of Cartage confirmed the same 27 books as the authoritative Scriptures of the Church.

Wouldn’t you assume that the newly established Church would want its devotees to immerse themselves in the sanctioned New Testament, especially since the Church went to great lengths to eliminate competing Gospels? And wouldn’t the best way of spreading the “good news” be to ensure that every Christian had direct access to the Bible?

That's not what happened. The Church actually discouraged the populace from reading the Bible on their own — a policy that intensified through the Middle Ages and later, with the addition of a prohibition forbidding translation of the Bible into native languages. “

We can see in the article, that the church leaders were discouraging and forbidding the reading of the bible by the laity from before 539AD. When the Pope was given the right to decide all doctrine in the church around 539, that greatly discouraged the use of the bible to prove correct doctrine—especially since Papacy got the use of the power of the army to back him at that time. After the Pope crowned Charlemagne, the prohibition against having the scriptures became even more restrictive, with worse and worse punishment over time, and with death being the ultimate punishment. Some more examples are listed below that were given in the article. We also found in other articles, that if the ones that possessed the bibles from the time of Pope Innocent and onward, did not give them up, they were killed in the inquisition that began just before that time in 1184.

“Decree of the Council of Toulouse (1229 C.E.): “We prohibit also that the laity should be permitted to have the books of the Old or New Testament; but we most strictly forbid their having any translation of these books.”

Ruling of the Council of Tarragona of 1234 C.E.: “No one may possess the books of the Old and New Testaments in the Romance language, and if anyone possesses them he must turn them over to the local bishop within eight days after promulgation of this decree, so that they may be burned...”

Proclamations at the Ecumenical Council of Constance in 1415 C.E.: Oxford professor, and theologian John Wycliffe, was the first (1380 C.E.) to translate the New Testament into English to “...helped Christian men to study the Gospel in that tongue in which they know best Christ's sentence.” For this “heresy” Wycliffe was posthumously condemned by Arundel, the archbishop of Canterbury. By the Council's decree "Wycliffe's bones were exhumed and publicly burned and the ashes were thrown into the Swift River."

Fate of William Tyndale in 1536 C.E.: William Tyndale was burned at the stake for translating the Bible into English. According to Tyndale, the Church forbid owning or reading the Bible to control and restrict the teachings and to enhance their own power and importance."

As the reformers began to publish bibles, the Catholic church became even more desperate in trying to keep the scriptures out of the people's hands, because they knew that the bible would expose their doctrines as being false.

Why the two Prophets were Dead for 1260 Years Not 3.5 yr.

More on the problems of the scriptures being dead for only 3.5 years. Some of what we present, we outlined briefly at the start of this section of scriptures, but now we will go into much more detail. There will be a lot of historical evidence given, and we will go into much more detail about scriptural evidence. We will also try to answer any objections that we can think of.

The verses 11:7-10 that start this section, present some problems, because they appear to be only talking about 3.5 prophetic years, during which all the events in the four verses above are supposed to have happened. The traditional view and the Adventists present a historical solution, where it's thought that the 3.5 days that the prophets were dead, represent 3.5 years just prior to 1799 in the nation of France, where religion was banned during that time. There are some serious questions and problems with that view, which we will outline below. Then we will give what we think is correct, and which seems to fit history and the scriptures much better.

Extensive List of Problems With Traditional 3.5 Years

We are going to list some problems with this being 3.5 literal years of the scriptures being banned during the time of France, which explains why that event does not fulfill the Chapter 11 prophecy at all. Point number one will be a very long explanation but very important explanation, before we get to point number two.

- (1) The first major problem is that some historians say that the banning of the scriptures, may not have even happened in France for a total of 3.5 years, they think it was only for a few months—hence this was not a war on the bible as the Adventists claim. What did happen, was that there was a war on the Catholic church itself during the Revolution in France, and there were some attacks against the Protestant minority towards the end of the Revolution. The only place that we could find historical claims that this was a war on the scriptures, was from the Adventists themselves, and others that favor that particular interpretation of the death of the two witnesses.

Not all Bibles Banned Some Were Burned

Even then, the Adventist web sites do not actually tell us that there was a banning of all bibles, only that some were burned. They also point to some anti-religious statements which were made by some in the Cathedral, when they were proclaiming the start of the worship of the Goddess of Reason, which was an anti-religious celebration.

The Adventists, also refer to the fact that there were some bibles burned by some that wanted to banish all religion during that time, but there was no law made against the scriptures themselves that we could find. It may have been assumed that since all religion was eventually banned, that the bibles were banned also, but we could find no place that said that, except some religious web sites promoting the Adventist fulfillment.

Yes, there were all kinds of wild anti-religious claims made by some during the Revolution, but nothing official that banned the bible that we could find—the attacks and banning was mostly against the religion of the Catholic church, which is actually a Pagan church, even though they don't know it. That event was not a rising-up of the terrible beast out of the abyss, but it was a major defeat of that beast at the close of its 1260 years. The beast rising up out of the abyss, is the same beast that rises up out of the sea in chapter 13.

Some might complain that two of the places that the word is used, use abyss rather than the sea. But a close examination of the word, shows that it can be used for an ocean or flood of water, in other words something deep, and so that word can also be an abyss of the ocean or the sea.

NT:12 ábyssos [abyss] A term for the underworld as a. the prison of the disobedient (Luke 8:31; Rev 9:1) and b. the realm of the dead (Rom 10:7).

Originally an adjective for an implied "earth," ábyssos is used in Greek for the depths of original time, the primal ocean, and the world of the dead. In the LXX it denotes the original flood, then the realm of the dead (e.g., Ps 71:20).

Catholic Church Property was Confiscated

The other important thing that happened at that time, was that there was a law which was made against the Catholic church and its priests, which confiscated Catholic church property, churches, gold, silver etc. That law also caused many of the priests and bishops to be killed or imprisoned if they did not give up their priestly office. The war against the Catholic church was not just for 3.5 years, but it was from 1789 to 1801, when a concordant was signed between Napoleon and the Pope.

How is that a war against the scriptures, because the Catholic church does not even follow the bible, especially back at that time? They also were not a faithful church at that time, they were the church state harlot system of Chapter 17. That a beast rose-up, is what was supposed to have killed the two prophets, but there is no beast rising-up at that time, the Papal beast was going down at the end of the 1260 years.

There were several different things that happened on the 1893 date that is given by the Adventists as supposedly representing the death of the scriptures, and none of them was the death of the scriptures as far as we could see, but they were the death of the power of the Catholic church in France instead! The nonjuring priests were ordered to swear allegiance to the new order or face death. The seven-day calendar was abolished at that time, and many religious holidays were banished because of the calendar change, and any reference to the Catholic church was banned. Many of the holidays that were banned, were of Pagan origin.

By 1795, some religion was allowed again, but with strict restrictions, as outlined in the article quoted below. All the things being removed or banned belonged to the Catholic church, except for the calendar change, but none of them resulted in the death of the two witnesses of the bible, it especially did not happen in the entire Great City, but in only one horn of the Great City of Papacy—France.

Another problem, even if the scriptures had actually been banned, is the amount of time from 1789 to 1795 is not 3.5 years, neither is 1793 to 1795. Some try to go from 1793 to 1797, but we have a later article after the first one, that points out that religious freedom had been granted again in 1795, and that the claims that the Adventists made about the 1797 date could not be true, because the government that they claimed changed the law, was not in power anymore.

A good Wikipedia article on what really happened during that time is given at the following address.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Dechristianization\_of\_France\_during\_the\_French\_Revolution

Here is a partial quote from the article, but we recommend reading the entire history of about 1-2 pages.

“The DE Christianization of France during the French Revolution is a conventional description of the results of a number of separate policies conducted by various governments of France between the start of the French Revolution in 1789 and the Concordat of 1801, forming the basis of the later and less radical Laïcité movement. The goal of the campaign was the destruction of Catholic religious practice and of the religion itself.<sup>[1]</sup> There has been much scholarly debate over whether the movement was popularly motivated or something forced upon the people by those in power.<sup>[1]</sup>”

Not a War Against True Religion It Was Against Papacy

The Adventists treat the war against the Catholic church that happened then, as if it was a war against true religion, but that evil Papal system was not true religion! The problem is that the Seventh Day Adventists had left the Second Day Adventists and their more correct understanding of the scriptures, and they had gone back into the errors of the mother church. Since they believed many of the same erroneous doctrines, they did not see that much wrong with the Catholics, and for that reason they thought it was a war against true religion. The majority religion in France at that time, was the false religion of the Catholic church, and the Protestant minority was only protected from them because it had some political power. There was a law passed in 1789, that guaranteed freedom of religion, and that helped the Protestants, because otherwise the Catholics wanted to force them to attend the Catholic church, that law of protection for the Protestants was the “Declaration of the Rights of Man and of the Citizen”.

The war against the Catholic church, was an uprising and war against the excesses and abuses they had perpetuated against the people for many years. Instead of this time being a defeat for the scriptures, this was the final defeat for the Papal system, which cumulated in the arrest of the Pope and the breaking of the power of the 1260-year reign of terror!

Since the question of the 3.5 years of the banning of the scriptures is important regarding the question of whether the two witnesses of the scriptures were dead from 1793 to 1797, we researched this topic for the history of that time. Some that have researched this topic, say that they found writings that supported the 3.5 years. What we found was that if we looked at a religious interpretation of history, especially the Seventh Day Adventists, they tried to prove a 3.5-year time-period. If we looked at a secular history, they mentioned no such thing, only referring to a ban on first the Catholic religion, and then later a ban on all religion for a few months.

The following excerpt is from a history of that time, and it reflects what we found in most secular historical works. Most secular histories only talk about the banning of religion for a short time, but the religious histories claim that the bible was also banned and the secular histories do not. Even if the bible was banned, it appears from the following and other histories that I looked at, that the ban only lasted for a few months, and again it was only in one tenth of the city, which later in the Chapter is stated as being one tenth of the Great City of Papacy having fallen.

Article By an Adventist Against the 3.5 Year Fulfillment

The entire article, against what is presented by Harold Snide below, with the Adventist arguments for the 3.5 years just before 1799, is found in Appendix J. This partial quote from that article, gives the arguments against the 3.5 years, which we believe are correct.

The Development of My Ideas Concerning the Divine Inspiration of Mrs. E. G. White: A Personal History, written by Harold Snide in 1950

“French Revolution Lasted 3.5 Years?”

This subject appealed to me particularly because of my interest in the prophecy of Revelation 11 about the war on the "two witnesses," especially the time prophecy of "three days and an half" (verse 11) of which the statement is made in Great Controversy:

It was in 1793 that the decrees which abolished the Christian religion and set aside the Bible, passed the French Assembly. Three years and a half later a resolution rescinding these decrees, thus granting toleration to the Scriptures, was adopted by the same body. (GC 287)

I found that the facts were not as stated in Great Controversy.

Allowing these three days and a half to have their symbolic significance of three years and a half, they are sometimes begun with the events of November 1793. And truly the French government did make war on Christianity and on the Bible. The problem from a historical standpoint is to find three and one half years during which God's Word remained dead as a result of this government action, and after which period of three years and a half, the Bible was unusually exalted. Eschewing any detailed exegesis of the prophecy, and limiting our study to the strictly historical, we shall find no such period of three and a half years in the events of Revolutionary France. We shall find that the event usually suggested as terminating the period, either did not occur at the time indicated, or else was an affair of minor significance. Furthermore, we shall discover that the intense antagonism to God and His Holy Book did not last nearly so long as three and a half years but ended after a few months. A simple narration of the principal events of the Revolution, involving religion and the church, will make this all very clear.

The worship of Reason ... began early in November 1793. It was November 26 when the Council of the Commune outlawed all other religions. Previous acts of the revolutionary government had assured nominal liberty to worship to all; and just nine days after the Council of the Commune outlawed Christianity, the Convention, a superior governmental body, forbade violence contrary to liberty of worship. And on May 9, 1794, the Convention under the influence of Robespierre, decreed the worship of the Supreme Being. The government support of any worship was abolished September 20, 1794, without much discussion. This automatically brought a considerable degree of religious liberty. It is true that the non-juring priests still suffered some persecution, but this was far more from political than from religious animosity.

On February 21, 1795, Biossy d'Anglas made a speech and a motion for complete separation of Church and State. This was passed, allowing any kind of religious worship throughout France, but with some restrictions as to place, advertising, endowments, etc. The refractory clergy were still considered criminal, but this was a political matter, and could hardly be considered the death of God's Two Witnesses. In the provinces there was much delay and opposition by local officials in permitting the liberty granted by the Convention.

A further attempt was made in late 1794 and early 1795 to revive interest in the tenth-day festivals in the hope of competing with Christianity and its weekly Lord's Day; but this effort was a ludicrous and dismal failure.

*A new constitution was demanded to replace that of 1793. Its formation was in the hands of comparatively moderate men. Separation of Church and State and freedom of worship were incorporated in this new constitution. It was adopted August 17, 1795. Thus we see that in less than six months the atheistic enactment of November 26, 1793, was abrogated; and in less than two years there was actually greater religious freedom guaranteed on a fundamental legal basis, than existed prior to the outbreak of atheism. The "Two Witnesses" just simply did not stay "dead" three and a half years.

*Moreover, we can discover no adequately significant event coming even approximately three and a half years after the atheistic supremacy, to mark the close of the period. Three and a half years from November 1793, would bring us to the spring of 1797. It has been asserted that the Convention then repudiated its atheistic pronouncement. History shows no such action. In the first place, the Directory was in power, not the Convention, in 1797. Furthermore, the atheistic intolerance had spent its force and had been repudiated by decree and by the new constitution of 1795, so this work did not remain to be done in 1797.

Others take an earnest speech by Camille Jordan, June 17, 1797, as the event closing the three and a half days. On the contrary, this speech, instead of raising the "Two Witnesses," came at a time when they had been much alive for over a year; it dealt with minor phases of religious liberty such as the privilege of ringing church bells, and it failed in its object.

Aulard (Vol. 17, p. 12) summarizes the incident thus:

Jordan, in a fulsomely sentimental and pseudo-pathetical speech, depicts all France as desolated by the loss of her church bells. He earns the nickname of Bell-Jordan (Jordan Carillon), and his campaign fails."

A Second Adventist Against

In another article, which is also critical of the Adventist interpretation of the 3.5 years, was where an Adventist professor and two others had looked through the entire congressional library, and could not find any such action against the suppressing of bibles. In our research, which agrees with that, we did not find any secular history that said that bibles had been suppressed, only that some had been burned. What was suppressed was the Catholic church at first, and then for a short time all religion in France only.

"Adventist professor W.W. Prescott was aware of some of these problems, and on April 26, 1910, he wrote a letter to W.C. White in which he said:

"Two or three of us have made a very careful search of all the histories of the French Revolution to be found in the Congressional Library, in an effort to find some authority for this statement concerning this decree suppressing the Bible; but thus far we have been utterly unable to find any reference to any such action."

- (2) The second problem is that France is identified as being only one tenth of the city in verse 13. There were 10 horns on the beast, and France was only one of them, which is shown by one tenth of the city falling in verse 13—don't forget, this is the beast that killed the prophets, and it's the same beast that Daniel had warned about, stating that it would exist for 1260 years. That raises a problem for the traditional solution, because verse 8 tells us that the two prophets lay dead in the entire Great City of Papacy, and not just in one tenth of it. That problem indicates that we need to look for some historical thing that occurred in the entire Great City of Papacy, which was all of Christendom and not just one nation. We know of only one thing that fits that situation, of which we have already been giving evidence.
- (3) In verse 7, we are told that the beast came up out of the abyss, and that it made war with the two prophets, overcame them and killed them. The traditional Bible Student view in Reprint 81-7-4, does not identify any beast that came out of the abyss at that time, because there wasn't any, and it only mentions the date 1793 when it was referring to the 3.5 years, with no explanation of how it historically satisfied the 3.5 years.

The only beast that we know of in the bible, that came up out of the abyss, was the Apostate Christianized Roman Empire, and it did not happen at the time of 1793. The coming up out of the abyss of the Papal beast occurred in 539AD, when Western Rome was being restored. The 539 date was when the Western Empire was being restored from the smitten head, which had been smitten by the Christianized Roman Empire being overran by barbarians. The Apostate Christianized head of the beast, existed prior to 476, coming into existence from 334-381AD, but the seventh head of the beast was not in existence for some time after the barbarians had overran the Empire in 476AD. The scriptures in both Rev Chapter 13 and 17, predicted that it would come back up out of the abyss into existence, and it did that in 539AD.

The Adventist view, which we mentioned above, has the beast in Chapter 11 coming out of the abyss at the time that the 1260 years was almost over, by placing the 3.5 years within the last ten years of the 1260 in 1793. The beast in Chapter 11 and in Chapter 17, both have the same scriptural description of coming up out of the abyss, which makes it certain that they are the same beast. They evidently think that the beast that came up out of the abyss, was the French government attacking Papacy, who they think is a part of true religion—that is of course ridiculous, because Papacy is the terrible beast that came up out of the abyss, but in 539 where it attacked the true saints.

But if that is correct, then how does the beast that came out of the abyss in Chapter 17, fit into the history of the 3.5 years at the end of the 1260, where the beast from Chapter 11 had allegedly killed the two prophets? There is no way that Chapter 17, with the vision of the woman riding on the beast, is going to fit into the 3.5 years right at the end of the 1260 years. Instead, the French revolution had started destroying the beast that the woman was riding on in Chapter 17—that was some of the fire that the kings burnt her flesh with, which is mentioned later in this Chapter and in chapter 17.

Looking at history, nothing new had happened just prior to 1799 that would fit with a restored church and state system, but Chapter 17 fits with what happened during the 1260 years, especially what happened after 799-1179AD, with the Papal church taking gradual control of the Western Roman Empire. Since they are the same beast in both places, the only way to make them fit into history in both places, is to realize that the beast in both places was the same one that was coming back into existence just before 539AD, and not at the end of the 1260. *Rev 17:8 The beast, which you saw, once was, now is not, and will come up out of the Abyss and go to his destruction. The inhabitants of the earth whose names have not been written in the book of life from the creation of the world will be astonished when they see the beast, because he once was, now is not, and yet will come. NIV

Rev 11:7 When they have finished their testimony, the beast that comes up out of the abyss will make war with them, and overcome them and kill them. NASU

- (4) The scriptures in Daniel Chapter 7, do not agree that after the beast kills the two prophets, that they would be overcome for only 3.5 years, Daniel says that they would be worn down for 1260 years, which agrees with our conclusion regarding the 3.5 days. The scriptures are used by the saints, and so what happens to them, happens to the two prophets also.
- (5) Daniel tells us that the scriptures or God's law was changed at the same time as the wearing down of the saints, because he says that the evil beast made alterations in the law in verse 25. Papacy killed the two prophets by ignoring the bible, and by writing his own laws, and using that instead of the scriptures. He was to have the power to do that for 1260 years, as it says in verse 25, not 3.5 years.
Dan 7:21-22 (21 "I kept looking, and that horn was waging war with the saints and overpowering them until the Ancient of Days came and judgment was passed in favor of the saints of the Highest One, and the time arrived when the saints took possession of the kingdom. NASU
Dan 7:25 'He will speak out against the Most High and wear down the saints of the Highest One, and he will intend to make alterations in times and in law; and they will be given into his hand for a time, times, and half a time. NASU
- (6) If this was only France for 3.5 years, then why does it say that "all" of the peoples, tribes, tongues, and nations, look upon their dead bodies. Aren't those the same symbols, which represents all the nations and individuals in Chapter 17, which are all the people and nations that were supporting the Great Harlot? That is the entire society and all the nations involved in the ten horns who made up that system—which is the Great City. That scriptural reference, is obviously showing us more than one nation rejoicing over their death, and so we would have to say that the any solution to this prophecy must have entire Great City of Papacy involved, not just one tenth of it! If the entire Great City of Papacy is involved, then it should be obvious that the killing of the two prophets occurred a long time before the closing out of the 1260 years.
Rev 17:1 Then one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls came and spoke with me, saying, "Come here, I will show you the judgment of the great harlot who sits on many waters, NASU
Rev 17:15 And he said to me, "The waters which you saw where the harlot sits, are peoples and multitudes and nations and tongues. NASU
- (7) Why does it say that all of those who dwell upon the earth rejoice over their death, and sent gifts to one another, because the two prophets had tormented them? The two prophets had tormented that evil system, when the fallen system began to change the doctrines of the early church, because the scriptures were in opposition to what the apostate church was saying. Isn't the symbol of the earth representing the society of the entire church and state system, and not just France? France was the only country that banned all religion just prior to 1799, which was directed mostly at the Catholic church—which was definitely not an upholder of true religion. The Protestant minority was only briefly affected, since the ban started against only the Catholic church. The entire system rejoiced after Papacy had killed the two prophets, which meant that they had quit using the scriptures. The only time in history that was true, was during the time of the 1260 years. If we are looking for a major place where all scripture and religion was banned for many years, the Soviet Union would be a good candidate, but even then that was not a system wide banning.

- (8) The idea that the scriptures were only killed for 3.5 years, does not fit history at all. The Papacy and the Catholic system, ignored the scriptures from a very early time in the churches history. Once Papacy had gotten in league with Justinian, he was granted the right to settle doctrine in both halves of the Empire. While that was officially made a part of the Justinian laws a few years after 539, the Adventists said that he was verbally told that he had that power in 533, which is their date. Because Papacy was given that power, and because the Papal decisions were mostly not based on the bible after that, that was the final blow on the scriptures. It was not long before they lay dead in the street, still in the churches, but not officially used except to quote them out of context. That is exactly what we saw in the article above, which was quoted from the Huffington Post. Below is the quote about the Adventists, about the Pope becoming the head of the entire church, and was given authority over all doctrine, and he was also given the right to correct those who they considered to be heretics.

“It should be borne in mind that great things sometimes have small and apparently insignificant beginnings. It was in 533 A. D. that Justinian addressed the Pope as being "the head of all the churches."—Code of Justinian, lib. I, title I. A little later, but in the same year, the emperor repeats a decision previously made, "that all affairs touching the church shall be referred to the Pope, 'Head of all bishops, and the true and effective corrector of heretics.' " (See "Source Book," p. 383.) <https://www.ministrymagazine.org/archive/1931/08/why-the-year-538>”

- (9) In verse 8, we are told that the two prophets lay dead in the streets of the city, which is prophetically called Sodom and Egypt, which was where our Lord was crucified. The symbol Egypt could be partially applied to France, because Egypt is symbolic of part of the civil power that the Papal system was allied with—but there were ten horns on the beast, not one, and so the symbol of Egypt represents the civil power of all ten horns. Just as Israel was not supposed to go down to Egypt for help, the same thing was true of the church, but they went to the Roman Empire anyway, and that caused the worst church and state system that ever existed.

The symbol of Sodom, is also impossible to limit to France. In Matt Chapter 24, our Lord warned the church that when they saw the “Abomination of Desolation”, that they were to flee to the mountains of the Lord. How does that relate to Sodom? Remember that Lot and his wife were fleeing from Sodom, and his wife turned back and looked back at the city, and was turned to a pillar of salt. That is the same lesson for the church in Matt 24, which is that if they saw the Abomination of Desolation that Daniel and the Lord had warned about, that they should flee from it, forgetting and leaving behind any pleasant thing that they had enjoyed in the Great City of Papacy. The Abomination was established in 539AD by the beast coming back up out of the abyss, and after that time the faithful church was to have fled from it, either literally or symbolically if they saw it, or grew aware that was what it was?

The following scripture is not talking about the regular sacrifice being abolished after 1789-99, but it's talking about it being abolished after 539AD, which is the same time that the abomination was established. Dan 12:11 "From the time that the regular sacrifice is abolished and the abomination of desolation is set up, there will be 1,290 days. NASU

The covenant by sacrifice of the church, was not able to be carried out in the Great City of Papacy after 539AD. After that date, anyone that tried to bring out the truth, was condemned by the Pope or by an official of the evil system, and if they did not agree to stop witnessing against the system, they could be banished or killed. The Pope could even call upon the army after that time if he needed it to stop whatever supposed error that he did not agree with. A good example of that kind of enforcement was right at the beginning in 539, which was when they used the army to take control of Ravenna, capturing the Arians who were in opposition to the Trinity doctrine. Things went rapidly downhill after that time.

That this is symbolic of "the city where are Lord was also crucified", cannot be just France. Our Lord was crucified by the entire Jewish system. The error of the Jewish system parallels and pictures the entire so called Christian system, which became so corrupt that they were doing the same thing as the Jewish system had done, in that they were killing the ones that were sent to them from God to correct them. They killed the saints in the entire church and state system, during the entire 1260 years, and they eliminated the scriptures that would have condemned them for doing it.

John 15:20-21 (20 Remember the word that I said to you, 'A slave is not greater than his master.' If they persecuted Me, they will also persecute you; if they kept My word, they will keep yours also. 21 But all these things they will do to you for My name's sake, because they do not know the One who sent Me. NASU

- (10) One other thing that is not positive proof in Revelation Chapter 11, but which is appealing, is that we have 42 months in verse 2, 1260 days in verse 3, and 3.5 times in verse 8. That last one is pointing to 3.5 x 360. Alternately we have 3.5 days which equals 3.5 years. That 3.5 years then equals Elijah's 3.5 years, which equals 1260 years. See the more complete explanation given earlier.

(11) Most commentators believe that the prophesying by the two prophets in verse 3, is the same thing as the testimony in verse 7, and that they are finishing the prophesying when they are killed. In other words, they think that the testimony of the two prophets is being finished at the end of the 1260 years. The problem with that idea is that the 1260 years of prophesying is a totally different word, which means scriptural prediction.

The other word, which is testimony, means judicial evidence: NT:3141
μαρτυρία marturia (mar-too-ree'-ah); from NT:3144; evidence given (judicially or genitive case):
KJV - record, report, testimony, witness.

The Scriptures Present Judicial Evidence

That is a totally different meaning, in that it refers to judicial evidence that we believe was being given in the early church from the bible against the corruption of the church and its doctrines, and against those who was doing the corrupting. The judicial evidence points us back to the faithful who were arguing against the false doctrines that were coming into the church, such as Arius and others after him, and they were using the two prophets of the Old and the New Testament in their arguments against the corrupt doctrines, giving judicial evidence from the bible.

Nestorius One of Last That Fought in Open

Nestorius of Constantinople, is one of the last that we know of that was involved in those arguments, since he participated in the debate which led to the council of Ephesus in 431AD. He called into question the doctrine that said that Mary was the mother of God. He said that she should be called the mother of Christ, since to believe otherwise compromised the reality of Christ's human nature while he was here on the earth. The fallen church does not believe that Christ was an actual human being when he walked the earth, but they think he was half God and half man. That false theory is not compatible with the doctrine of the ransom, which says that Christ was a perfect man who paid the ransom price for the fallen man Adam, thus redeeming all of his posterity.

We will show evidence a little further onward, that the church did not stop witnessing outside the city, but Nestorius was the last one that was able to get the church to call a church council before the date of 539. There is no history of any other church councils after that time that fought for truth, and so we can see that the bible witness was shut completely down after 539. In other words, after Nestorius inside the Great City, they were not accepting any outside evidence after that time, and so the scriptures and the church that used them were dead in the city, not able to witness in the city.

Nestorius was condemned and thrown in prison for his views, after which he wrote a work entitled "tragedy", in about 435AD. All his books were destroyed to get rid of his arguments against the Trinity, except for one that was recently found, and that the title of that last book he wrote was called, "tragedy", tells it all. He was banished to a remote area, because of his views shortly after that. His ideas lost most of their influence in the west after the council of Chalcedon, but his views continued to spread in part of the Eastern churches for a time, but the East eventually fell completely into the Trinity error, or fell to the Islamic invasion. The error that Nestorius fought against, is still believed by most in the apostate church system, in that they think that Christ was part God and part man, and a part of a Trinity.

More Witnesses After Nestorius?

We are not sure if there were more witnesses after Nestorius that we don't know about, or if what happened to him frightened others from saying anything to the fallen church, because there were no more councils after 431 until 553, where the idea of reincarnation was correctly condemned. The Pope was the problem in that council, because he believed in that false doctrine of reincarnation, but Justinian forced the rejection of that false doctrine through the council, and then punished that Pope because he had resisted him.

We think that there were other witnesses, but those who were using the scriptures at that time, don't show up in history very easily because all disagreement was shut down. They were not able to make any progress against the errors after the time of Nestorius, because Papacy was given the right to set doctrines in both halves of the Empire in 534—the scriptures were then dead in the Great City. That Justinian gave Papacy that power, shows that there had to be controversy over church doctrine going on at that time, and to stamp it out he made the Pope the final authority. There had to be many that were still witnessing against Papal error, and both Justinian and the Pope wanted them silenced. Justinian wanted peace and prosperity in the Empire and the Pope wanted power and control over doctrine.

All those faithful witnesses, and many others that we don't even know about, were imprisoned or banished to remote areas during that time, for their witness against the fallen church. It had been made illegal to question Papal doctrines after 381 by Theodosius, and so anyone doing so was in great danger after that time. It didn't matter if the faithful were using the scriptures to prove the correct doctrines, or even showing the false system proof that they were the great falling away, because the fallen church had ceased to recognize the bible as the Divine standard, and they chose to believe the Pope and the church councils instead. That is why the two witnesses lay dead for 1260 years inside the Great City of Papacy, because Jezebel would not be reformed, Rev 2:21.

Matt Chap 24 Witness Goes Out Then Abomination Comes

We have a similar statement from our Lord in Matt Chapter 24, where he tells us about the witness that would go out to the whole known world, and he then tells us that after that witness was given, that the Abomination of Desolation would come. The scriptures and the church had indeed witnessed to all known countries very early in church history, and that was another form of completing or perfecting their testimony—their trying to stop the downfall of the church by their judicial perfecting. In the book of Daniel, the Abomination of Desolation is the terrible fourth beast that Daniel was warning us about.

The word testimony that is used in Matt 24:14 and in Rev Chapter 11:7, are the same word—which means a judicial testimony, see the definition of that word earlier in this writing. What that means, is that the church had understood that the scriptures were defining who the great falling away was going to be, and who the Abomination of Desolation was going to be, and they realized that they had been confronted with that evil system in 539AD, and they used the scriptural testimony of the time to judge and condemn that system. That is when the evil system attacked them, and they had to flee into hiding like Elijah did in his time. Matt 24,15-16 told the church, that as soon as they saw that system, that they needed to flee to the mountains of God. In other words, they would have to get away from that evil system and hide, just like Elijah had done in his time.

Daniel's Description of the Beast Important

If we look at what the angel is telling Daniel in chapter 7, regarding Chapter 11 about the killing of the two prophets, we find that he is describing exactly what we have been saying about this beast, and what the church would be doing about it. Even though they can't witness directly in the city, the prophecy indicates that they tried anyway and they were worn down and fell, but just like Elijah their witness continued outside the city, and even then, they were captured and killed many days, which was during the 1260 years. In chapter 11, we are not told the exact number of days, and we are not directly told about the date of the end time, which was to come at the appointed time. Since chapter 10, 11, and 12, are all part of one chapter, we find that the date of the end time was to be determined from the 1260, 1290, and 1335 days.

They were to be giving insight and understanding to the people from the scriptures, but since this prophecy is after the 539 date, many of them were instead being imprisoned and killed by the Abomination—they are lying dead in the Great City of Papacy after 539. Those who did give insight to the people anyway, we find described in Daniel 12:3, where it says that they will shine like the stars forever, and those who are witnessing outside the city, as we explained earlier.

Dan 11:31-33 (31 "Forces from him will arise, desecrate the sanctuary fortress, and do away with the regular sacrifice. And they will set up the abomination of desolation. 32 "By smooth words he will turn to godlessness those who act wickedly toward the covenant, but the people who know their God will display strength and take action. 33 "Those who have insight among the people will give understanding to the many; yet they will fall by sword and by flame, by captivity and by plunder for many days. NASU

So just as Elijah had to leave Jerusalem, and go hide in the wilderness for 3.5 years, picturing the 1260 years, that is the same thing that the church did. Starting in 539AD, the Pope had the use of the army to put down the Arians at the battle of Ravenna, and after that time he had the support of the Empire, every time that he wanted to enforce his false doctrines.

Papacy Changed God's Law & the Time of God's Kingdom

Another problem with accepting the solution of the 3.5 years just before the Reformation, was that we saw prophesied in several scriptures in both Daniel and Revelation, that Papacy was going to overcome the church and God's law or word for 3.5 times 360, and 42 months, which symbolically equals 1260 years, and not just 3.5 years. History even shows that those prophesies were fulfilled exactly during the 1260-year period. The first scripture below, that we are going to consider out of Daniel, even mentions that he would try to change the times and "the law", which is God's time for the kingdom, and he even changed God's word, during that time-period. We are quoting this a second time because of its importance. Dan 7:23-25) 23 Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be a fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all the kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces.

24 And as for the ten horns, out of this kingdom shall ten kings arise: and another shall arise after them; and he shall be diverse from the former, and he shall put down three kings.

25 And he shall speak words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High; and he shall think to change the times and the law; and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and half a time. (ASV)

In other words, he was going to change the time of God's kingdom, by falsely establishing a counterfeit version of the kingdom himself ahead of time, and he would change God's laws and words by substituting his own canon law in its place. As we are being shown here in Revelation, that is what he did to the two prophets of the Old and the New Testament. When he changed the law, he symbolically killed God's word, removing the Bible out of the spiritual heavens, so that it was not used as the standard of God's truth anymore. According to the Catholics, the word of Papacy was supposed to be the word of the Lord, and because of that, Papacy was supposed to be Christ's spokesman here on earth. No matter what was in the scriptures, what the Pope said was supposed to be the true, and anyone that doubted it was persecuted or killed.

Faithful Fought the Downfall

There were many servants of God and Christ, who tried to stop the downward slide, by witnessing with the scriptures in the Great City of Papacy, but eventually they were worn down, and they were not able to witness there anymore. The reason was that the system had begun to imprison, banish, and even kill anyone that tried to use scriptural argument against their false doctrines. Remember, in Revelation Chapter 13, it tells us that they would not be able to buy or sell in that evil system, and we don't believe that the Lord was concerned about them not being able to buy or sell earthly goods, it was spiritual ideas that were not allowed.

The Saints Power Was Shattered for 1260 Years

In Daniel, we are also told that the shattering of the power of the holy people would be for a time, two times, and half a time. That again was the entire 1260 years of the dark ages. We know that the power of the Holy people was derived from God's word, and when that was not being used in the Great City of Papacy anymore, then the faithful church did not have any influence inside that fallen system.

Dan 12:6 One of them said to the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, "How long will it be before these astonishing things are fulfilled?" (NIV)

Dan 12:7 The man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the stream, raised his right hand and his left hand toward heaven; and I heard him swear by him who lives forever that it would be for a time, two times, and half a time; and that when the shattering of the power of the holy people comes to an end all these things would be accomplished. (RSV)

Revelation Chap 13 & The Beast for 1260 Years

In Revelation Chapter 13, we will see that the scriptures tell us that the beast was to have authority for 42 months, which again is 1260 days at a day for a year. The ones that he was to have authority over for the 1260 years, were the saints, as well as over every tribe, people, tongue, and nation. When he overcame the saints in the city, he also overcame the word of God that they were proclaiming.

Revelation 13:4-7) 4 and they worshipped the dragon, because he gave his authority unto the beast; and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? And who is able to war with him?

*5 and there was given to him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and there was given to him authority to continue forty and two months.

6 And he opened his mouth for blasphemies against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, (even) them that dwell in the heaven.

*7 And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and there was given to him authority over every tribe and people and tongue and nation.
(ASV)

As we can see from the above scriptures, the killing of the two prophets had to of been for the entire 1260 years.

How Prophets Complete Testimony!

The Old and the New Testament by themselves, cannot witness, they need the faithful church to bring forth their message. The finishing of the testimony, is thus more than just the completion of the scriptures into a complete Old and New Testament, but it is also the testimony from those scriptures that the faithful of the church tried to bring out to stop the downward slide into darkness. But as Daniel said, they were gradually worn out by the beast.

That the Old and New Testament had completed their prophesying just before the beast killed them, is better rendered “perfected their testimony”. In the Horae Apocalypticae, Elliott shows that “perfected their testimony” is a better meaning for the Greek phrase that has been translated as “finished their testimony.” We see that the two prophets had been perfected in 397, when they were canonized and put into one book. That made it easier for the faithful, as recorded above in Daniel, to fight the downward slide with the use of the scriptures, which is another way of perfecting the judicial testimony against the establishment of the apostate system, but they could not stop it.

Testimony Means a Judicial Witness

Not long after the bible was completed, the church began to fall into darkness, even though the church faithful used the scriptures to witness against the false doctrines that were coming into the church. That witness continued, even to the point of telling the church that the darkness that they were sliding into was the Great Falling Away that had been prophesied to come.

The word that is used here for testimony, in Strong’s means a “judicial witness”. In other words, what they were bringing out was the evidence that the church system had turned into the beast of Daniel, and that it had completely fallen into darkness. When the fallen system wouldn’t tolerate them bringing forth the truth about that, they were no longer allowed to witness in the Great City of Papacy, and if they tried they were cast into prison, banished, or killed. That this was a condemning Judicial witness, is why the Great City of Papacy rejoiced when they were killed or stopped from witnessing, because they had been tormented by the two prophets. After that happened, the scriptures were not allowed to witness against the fallen system anymore for the rest of the 1260 years.

Satan Made War Against Scriptures and Faithful Saints

So, what we see happening in this prophecy, is that not long after the scriptures had been written down and had perfected their judicial testimony against the fallen erroneous system, Satan began to make war against God’s word, and the faithful. Earlier in history, the battle of the faithful saints who were using the scriptures, was against Paganism which was creeping into the church, but as time went on things got worse and the saints soon found themselves being attacked by those who claimed to be Christians, but were not. Paganism had invaded and overcome the faithful church.

The early witness that the bible was giving about the falling away, was against the false doctrines that the fallen church was advocating at the time of the first councils, such as the Trinity and the idea that they had already established God's kingdom. After the council of Nicaea, the fallen church very quickly developed and accepted even more false doctrines through the church councils that generally ignored God's word, unless they quoted it out of context.

The first major attacks against the true doctrinal faith, came as early as the second century. Paul told us that the mystery of iniquity was already working even in his time, but it was still being kept under control by the faithful in the church at that time and by the fact that the Roman power was standing in its way. By the time of Constantine in 325AD, the Roman Empire had begun to accept Christianity because it had political clout, and because it had made many converts by that time. The Emperor wanted the churches help in keeping the Empire together, but at the same time, many of the converts that were being forced into the church by the acceptance of Christianity, wanted to keep their Pagan doctrines. At the council of Nicaea and afterward, God's word in the Bible began to lose out, and political expediency and the seeking after both ecclesiastical and civil power began to take precedence.

2 Thess 2:6-7 (6 And you know what restrains him now, so that in his time he will be revealed. 7 For the mystery of lawlessness is already at work; only he who now restrains will do so until he is taken out of the way. NASU

381 & Theodosius Decree Sealed the Churches Doom

Things got bad enough, that by 381AD Emperor Theodosius issued a decree that said that everyone had to believe in orthodox doctrines, like the Trinity doctrine, and that anything else that the church decreed as the Gospel was to be believed no matter what—Arianism which was against the Trinity was also banned. That was the end of any serious debate against the rise of the Papal system with its non-biblical doctrines. By the time of the Council of Chalcedon in 451AD, they had largely set aside the scriptures as proof, and that gave the councils the authority to set doctrine based on what men believed. The Pagan worship was banned in the Empire at that time, and that forced the Pagans into the church, bringing their holidays and doctrines with them.

Dead For 1260 Years in Great City

So, we see that the scriptures and the saints who used them, were suppressed and stopped very early on at the beginnings of the evil system, and were dead or not able to witness in the Great City of Papacy for most of the 1260 years. See the article from the Huffington post at the start of this section of Chapter 11, where it says that the scriptures were banned from the common church member for at least 1000 years. During that terrible time of 1260 years, those who wanted to restore the scriptures, had no power to do so in the evil system, because they were not allowed to “buy or sell” in the Great City Papacy, and that is why the two prophets remained dead “in the city”.

They Only Could Witness Outside City

“Outside the city”, as we are told here in the earlier part of Chapter 11, the two witnesses had the ability to witness and to plague the fallen system as often as they wanted—but the witnesses at the same time lay dead inside the Great City of Papacy itself. Remember that these two prophets are symbols that represent the scriptures that the church uses to witness, and so they could be dead in one place and alive in another! The suppression of the truth, is the same thing that we see prophesied about in Rev Chapter 13, regarding the Image of the Beast. The buying and selling that was not allowed by the beast, was especially true regarding God’s word, and that is the same thing we see here, in that the two prophets of the bible were symbolically killed and the faithful church was not allowed to use them to witness in the city. The fallen church wanted the Papal authority to set doctrine regardless of what God’s word said, and that’s what they did.

Outside of that evil system, the saints could prophecy and plague the evil system, but only in hiding for their protection, and they couldn’t even try to witness in the Great City of Papacy, because there they were persecuted and killed. Rev 13:15-17 (15 And it was given to him to give breath to the Image of the Beast, so that the Image of the Beast would even speak and cause as many as do not worship the Image of the Beast to be killed. 16 And he causes all, the small and the great, and the rich and the poor, and the free men and the slaves, to be given a mark on their right hand or on their forehead, 17 and he provides that no one will be able to buy or to sell, except the one who has the mark, either the name of the beast or the number of his name. NASU

2 Thess 2:8-11 (9 that is, the one whose coming is in accord with the activity of Satan, with all power and signs and false wonders, 10 and with all the deception of wickedness for those who perish, because they did not receive the love of the truth so as to be saved. NASU

Early Reformers Began to Restore the Two Witnesses

But when God’s due time came, just as it took time for the scriptures to be defeated, we see that it took some time for their coming fully back to life. The prophets stood on their feet a little bit at the time of Hus and Wycliffe, and then a great deal more at the time of the Reformation in 1517AD, which eventually elevated the scriptures into the spiritual heavens, where they were recognized as the only authority by the Protestants. The Catholic church did not allow their lay members access to the scriptures even then. The scriptures after that, were elevated into even more prominence by the Bible societies and the Second day Adventists after 1799AD, who were actively promoting the scriptures as being God’s word. Because of that elevation, at the time of the Reformation we see in that scriptural picture, that the spirit of God entered back into the two prophets and those who used the scriptures.

Catholic Prohibition of Bible Reading

As we saw in the Huffington Post article, the Catholics try to claim that they did not withhold the scriptures from the lay people. Despite that claim, the continued restrictions still existed well into modern times. The reason is the great fear of the scriptures and the truth that they contained, which we will find a little later in this section, which occurred when the two prophets began to come back to life. That the scriptures were accepted as the only authority in the Reformation churches, caused their enemies great fear as we will see at the end of this Chapter. The reason for the great fear, was because they were elevated into the heavens, and were being used in most of the reformation churches as the standard of truth, and they were again being used to prove who the fallen and evil system was.

The elevation of the scriptures into the spiritual heavens, eventually became the complete and restored scroll that the angel in Chapter 10 is seen bringing to the seventh church—it was a small scroll in 1799, but in the Days of the Seventh Messenger it became the full scroll. The faithful church has had complete scriptural freedom in the seventh church, especially during the 40-year harvest and afterward. The scriptures during the harvest time, revealed God’s judgment against the fallen church system, and their punishment began in 1914AD, as we will see later in Revelation.

A Break in the Prophecy?

Another question that came up in the study, which was about the proposed interpretation of this Chapter, is that there was no clear break in the prophecy between the 1260 years in sackcloth and the 3.5 days or times, such as, “I saw” or “I heard”, even though there appeared to be a change in the prophecy.

The conclusion that we came to, was that there is no break needed, because we are looking at the same time-period of 1260 years in both places, but from two different scriptural viewpoints—in the city and outside the city!

Witnesses Outside the City

The description up to verse 6, gives the abilities of the witnesses from God’s viewpoint during the 1260 years, describing their capabilities against their enemies, as they witnessed “outside the city”. The description of the abilities and things that they can do outside the city, points us back to Elijah and the things he had to do in the fight against Jezebel and Ahaz, who symbolized church and state. Elijah as God’s witness, had to flee and hide in a cave outside the evil system that existed back then, and he worked against it from the outside. If he would have gone to Jerusalem and confronted the king right away, he would have been immediately killed. That same thing happened to those who dared to witness directly to the Papal system during the dark 1260 years. Most were tortured and killed or imprisoned someplace where they would never see the light of day again.

Witnesses Inside the City

From Rev 11:7 onward, we have a different viewpoint of the prophecy, and we then see that we are being given the description of how the system killed the witness of the prophets, “in the city” for the 3.5 times of 1260 years. The scriptures then go on to describe the conditions inside the city, and they tell us how those that belonged to the evil system rejoiced, because the scriptures were not allowed to preach in their midst. The scriptures and the faithful church who used them before that time, had been a thorn in their side, pointing out to the fallen church their errors, and what they were doing wrong. When the scriptures were not used, or recognized anymore, the fallen church did what they wanted, torturing and making money wrongly off what was supposed to be God’s church. As we will see, God had a set time that he would not let the evil and corruption go beyond, and that was the end of the 1260 years in 1799AD.

Great City Is Worldly Church State System

In summary, we see that the Great City of Papacy represents the worldly church and state system, which falsely claimed that they were God's kingdom. That this is where our Lord was killed, points us to Jerusalem, which is seen symbolically as represented religious persecution, murder, and corruption. The apostate church is doing the same things wrong that the old Jewish system had done, in that they are persecuting and killing all the Lord's saints and prophets that didn't agree with them.

Jerusalem, who crucified Jesus, was also the city that had stoned the prophets. Matt 23:37-38)

37"O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, you who kill the prophets and stone those sent to you, how often I have longed to gather your children together, as a hen gathers her chicks under her wings, but you were not willing. 38Look, your house is left to you desolate. NIV

Where Our Lord Was Crucified

This is a composite city, which is also described as being a part of Babylon the Great, later in Revelation. Babylon the Great is the church and state system that is seen drunk with the blood of the saints in Revelation 17:6. In that picture, the Great City of Papacy is the central city of Babylon. Babylon the Great, is pictured by the entire country of Babylon, and it includes all of the daughter system that descended from Papacy. The reference to the city where also their Lord was crucified, is a reminder that his disciples must also take up their cross and follow Jesus, even if it leads to death. This verse was prophetically telling the faithful church ahead of time, that they would be killed by the evil church and state system, just as our Lord had been killed by the corrupt Jewish system.

Our Lord was crucified under a similar situation. In Jerusalem, the Jewish religious leaders were corrupt, and they were not interested in doing God's will, but they wanted to keep their power and influence. Rome, the civil power that had conquered Israel, was the problem which corrupted literal Israel. Both the Jewish religious system and the Romans, were involved in our Lord's crucifixion—Israel brought the accusations and Rome carried out the death sentence.

Later, under Papacy, Rome and the apostate spiritual Jerusalem were again involved in the persecution and death of the saints. The church leaders would bring the charges, and the state would carry out the torture and death sentence, and afterward they would take whatever land or wealth that the individuals had. Some of the same problems that the Jews were guilty of, were again the same reason that the evil system fell into error. They resisted anything that would reduce their power and control over the church. They were not interested in what God wanted, but they were only interested in whatever benefitted them—especially wealth and power. A lot of them did not even believe in God, because they were not following the scriptures that would have shown them that he existed. They didn't worry about killing the faithful, because they were only concerned with preserving the system that was benefitting them with worldly possessions.

Rev 13:15 And he had power to give life unto the Image of the Beast, that the Image of the Beast should both speak, and cause that as many as would not worship the Image of the Beast should be killed. (KJV)

Called Sodom

Figuratively, the Great City of Papacy is also called Sodom, which implies extreme wickedness, and perversion. We also remember that Lot's wife looked back, and she was turned into a pillar of salt because she desired things in that city. That is a warning to us, to not be tempted to go back to that system, because of something that we may like there. Egypt, symbolizes them having worldly civil power and oppression. Those two names, should tell us just how bad the Lord viewed this situation, and they indicate to us many Old Testament types that picture this evil system. Sodom was destroyed because of its sins, and she also pictures the Great City of Papacy that the saints must flee from, because it will be punished and completely destroyed itself.

This Church was also Jezebel

A harlot like Jezebel, is a very appropriate symbol for the woman we see in Revelation 17:1, because Papacy was having an illegal union with the kings—just as Jezebel was doing with Ahab. The church was not supposed to have gotten involved in worldly politics. To do so was viewed by the Lord as harlotry, since they were leaving him and the truth for worldly influence and power, and history shows that was exactly what happened. Egypt was a source of false religion for Israel, just as Paganism and Rome were for the church, and the union of the two corrupted each other.

This is the Jezebel that the Lord speaks out against in the message to the fourth church, saying that he had tried to reform her, and she wouldn't be reformed. Jezebel is the Old Testament queen, who chased after Elijah trying to kill him, and she is a New Testament type of the fallen and corrupt church, trying to kill all who disagreed with the paganism she brought into the church. She is in the fourth message to the churches, because that was at the beginning of her highest power, where she was taking control of the kings.

The original Jezebel introduced the Pagan worship of Baal into Israel, just like the fallen church system introduced Pagan doctrines into the Faithful Church. In other words, the symbols of Sodom and Jezebel were a type or picture, showing the corruption of the church, just exactly like what had happened to Israel back in the time of literal Jezebel. In the original type, Ahab pictured the civil power that Papacy had gotten control of, and was using to further its own interest—which was to get wealth and power.

Called Egypt Don't Go Down to Egypt

Egypt was of course prophesied against many times in the Old Testament scriptures, because Israel kept trying to go to them, and was making deals with them for protection. The Lord had said that they should not have done that, but that they should have trusted him to protect them. The church should not have gotten involved with Roman power either, because that led them into the great falling away!

The same problem was true of the corrupt religious system, in that they were not to have gone to Egypt or the civil power for help either—but history shows that they did. They joined forces with the remnants of the Roman Empire, and they built up a powerful Empire, that became known as the so-called Holy Roman Empire—but which was really Pagan. God of course had warned them, just as he had warned Israel, not to make alliances with the world. Both the Old Testament and the New Testament church systems, became bloody, oppressive, and corrupt. The faithful church is not supposed to become a civil power until the next age, when they will live and reign with the Lord Jesus, bringing a righteous reign of restoration, Revelation 20:4, 6.

Did Not Allow Them Burial

When we first looked at the verse, that said that they would not allow the prophets to be buried, we at first thought that the ones who would not permit the prophets to be buried, were the fallen church system. In other words, it looked like they were not showing proper respect for the dead, because they wouldn't give them a burial. In that regard, a question eventually came up, why wouldn't the Papal church want to bury or get rid of the scriptures? After all, the scriptures had challenged their false doctrines, and they were saying that they should not have had the alliance that they did with the kings. You would have thought that if this were the fallen church system, they would have tried to have gotten rid of the Bible completely.

That is still the possible solution to this verse, in that the fallen church tried to get rid of the scriptures, and they were successful in stopping the witness, but they did not remove God's word completely from the churches, because of the superstitious people—it gave them superstitious power over the people. So, they kept the book in the churches, but they didn't allow it to be used by the common people, even after it had been canonized. As far as them not burying the two prophets, it could also be that they felt that the Bible was not a threat anymore, because it was in Latin which most could not understand. What they mostly did to keep it out of the hands of the common person, was that they forbid it to be translated into the native tongue of the church members. Since the people had a superstitious reverence for the book, they may have kept it simply to impress the people.

The fallen church system, made virtually no effort to use them as their basis for doctrine, so they remained dead. They preferred the tradition of men, Papal bulls, and the rulings of church councils. The Bible was in that sense, lying there dead, in full sight of everyone in church, which is in the same place you find the scriptures in the churches today, but they were not being used very much at all. No one was actively using them during that dark time, and the ones who had tried to use them, had been exterminated or silenced by fear! On this end of the age, they have begun to read from some selected passages during the Mass, so that the people believe that they are following the scriptures, but they are not fooling God. They do not quote the parts that point to their condemnation.

If you would have asked the Papal church system about the scriptures during the earlier times, they would most likely have told you that they still used them, and that the proof of that, was that they were in their churches up in front. The priests sometimes even read from a book that quotes the scriptures, but that usually is done so that the small section that they read, would seem to support what they were saying. Unfortunately, there were many priests during that early time that couldn't even read, let alone interpret scripture for the people. Even of those who could read, they didn't get their doctrine from the word of God, but relied on church canon and catechism for that!

One important thing that we had at first ignored in interpreting this verse, was that the prophets were not actually people, but they were symbolic of God's word, the bible. For that reason there is one other possibility, and that is that those who were still faithful, fought hard to keep the scriptures in the church, because they knew that they contained God's truth. The fallen church probably had wanted to get rid of them, but they also wanted the superstitious power that was in them. We see that even if we are not sure of the exact reason, the result was that the scriptures were not buried or gotten rid of, even if they were not allowed to be used.

Dwelling on the Earth

There are several references, that link those who "dwell on the earth" in Revelation, to the apostate church system, which was the Papal system. The earth used in the prophetic sense, seems to be symbolic of the people or society that supported Papacy.

Revelation 6:10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and , dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth? KJV

Revelation 13:14 And deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by the means of those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an Image to the beast, which had the wound by a sword, and did live. KJV

Revelation 14:6 And I saw another angel fly in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting Gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people, KJV

Gifts of Reasoning That Allowed Them to Collect Money

The word used as gifts in this verse is interesting, when it is looked up in Vines. It can be used as an ordinary gift, but it's used very often regarding gifts for God or for the temple. Perhaps it indicates that the ones that had suppressed the scriptures, felt that they were doing God a service. They claimed that the scriptures were being misinterpreted by the common people, and because of that, they claimed that they were the source of what they considered heresy. They said that the ones using them were twisting them to prove heretical ideas, and that was why they did not want the common people to have access to the book. They were glad to be rid of them, in the sense that they were not using them and were keeping others from doing so, since the ideas found in them were against them and their false traditional doctrines.

With the scriptures not being used, they could happily and without conscience each give each their reasons for their scriptural perversions, because there was nothing to stand in their way.

GIFT, GIVING

1. doron ^1435^, akin to didomi, "to give," is used (a) of "gifts" presented as an expression of honor, <Matt. 2:11>; (b) of "gifts" for the support of the temple and the needs of the poor, <Matt. 15:5; Mark 7:11; Luke 21:1,4>; (c) of "gifts" offered to God,

<Matt. 5:23,24; 8:4; 23:18,19; Heb. 5:1; 8:3,4; 9:9; 11:4>; (d) of salvation by grace as the "gift" of God, <Eph. 2:8>; (e) of "presents" for mutual celebration of an occasion, <Revelation. 11:10>. See OFFERING.# (from Vine's Expository Dictionary of Biblical Words) (Copyright (C) 1985, Thomas Nelson Publishers)

One other good possibility is that since the word used for gifts here, could mean gifts for the support of the temple or gifts offered to God, what they were sending to each other may have been the gifts of erroneous or out of context use of doctrines that became possible when they did not have to square them with the actual Bible anymore—nor did they allow anyone access to them, so that they couldn't be questioned about their twisted use of the scriptures during that time. They would have been happy and celebrating, because the pesky biblical prophets were not being used anymore by the Great City of Papacy during the 1260 years, and the faithful saints that were using and quoting them, weren't able to use them to oppose or contradict their false doctrines anymore.

For example, they still use the tithe of 10%, which is a law for collecting money for the temple—in other words, they were putting the people under the old law, so they could collect money. In modern times, we have even heard of them trying to collect more than 10% from the people.

The Sale of Indulgences

One kind of the gifts that the officials of the corrupt church received or sent to each other, because they didn't have the scriptures to tell them it was wrong, was when they began to collect money from the sale of indulgences. Without the Bible, the church could make up arguments that said that the extra grace that saints had saved up during their lives, could be used for others still alive, as long that one gave the church an appropriate amount of money.

So, it's a very good possibility that the gifts that they sent to one another, would have been canonical arguments supporting their sinful and greedy ways to collect more money, since at that time the scriptures were not able to be used to contradict them. All manner of sinful things become possible if you don't have God's word to contradict you. The history of this corrupt system, shows that they did practice many evil and sinful things, because they were not being exposed to God's word very much during the 1260 years of that dark time.

Revelation 11:11-12

Revelation 11:11 But after the three and a half days, the breath of life from God came into them, and they stood on their feet; and great fear fell upon those who were watching them.

Revelation 11:12 And they heard a loud voice from heaven saying to them, "Come up here." Then they went up into heaven in the cloud, and their enemies watched them. (NAU)

Ezekiel 37 Three Prophetic Applications for Ezekiel 37?

(1)

We see that Ezekiel Chapter 37, was fulfilled literally when Israel had been carried away to Babylon, and they then returned as a nation. At that time, the Lord restored the nation back to life and health. That was only a partial fulfillment of the prophecy, but enough was fulfilled that it was kept as scripture.

(2)

The prophecy also shows us, that the nation of Israel will again be restored on this end of the age, which to a large extent has happened already. This prophecy will still have a greater or more complete fulfillment, when not only the nation of Israel is restored, but when the world is joined to them, and they are all restored back to the perfection that Adam lost in the garden. The spirit that comes from the four winds in this prophecy, is the same as the spirit that we see poured out in Joel 2:28-29.

(3)

Even though we see a couple of literal fulfillments for Israel in Ezekiel 37, we need to consider that this prophecy could also represents the Faithful Church, trapped in Great

Babylon, just as the faithful of natural Israel were literally trapped in literal Babylon. In other words, the prophetic interpretation in Ezekiel and in Chapter 11, shows us what the Lord was going to do to help the scriptures that were symbolically lying dead in Great Babylon, and he would also help the saints who used them to stand up on their feet at the same time.

Just as the downfall of the church took some time, we will see that the restoration will also take some time. The early reformers began this work, but we should recognize that when we see the Great Army of God, we are in the time of both the sixth and seventh church.

In Revelation 11:11, the spirit restores God's word back into life, as well as helping the faithful church that had been following his word back to life. In verse 12, the scriptures are taken back up into the spiritual heavens, where they are then recognized as the standard of truth, and they are used again. That is why that system had great fear when they saw the two witnesses come back to life. The scriptures and the church, were in a spiritual sense being removed from Great Babylon, just as literal Israel had been removed from Babylon and restored.

Four Winds of War and Change

The four winds which are mentioned in both Ezekiel and in Revelation Chapter 7, point us to the political and ecclesiastical change that was going to free the church from the Papal system. This was not the full force of the winds that will destroy the evil system completely at the end of the age as we see in chapter 7, but it was a partial release of the winds of war and that change weakened the fallen church state system so that the faithful church could escape.

This prophetic picture of the winds blowing and restoring the church, fits very well historically, because the Reformation eventually brought about the Bible societies that came into existence after 1799AD. The spirit that was poured out, revitalized those who had God's word, and energized them to new efforts to defeat the fallen church system.

They Stood on their Feet as a Great Army

As we saw in the commentary on the fifth and sixth trumpets, that restoration of the faithful church like a great army of locusts, is exactly what happened! If we look at the Ezekiel 37:10 reference above, we see that when they stood on their feet, they were an exceeding great army. That is a parallel reference to the Lord's great army in Joel, as well as it's a parallel reference to the huge army that was seen in the sixth trumpet. The locusts in the fifth and the sixth trumpet, prophetically describe the Lord's army that began during the fifth church, and became a Great Army in the sixth church period. Those two trumpets show us that the spirit of God began to restore the two prophets which represented the scriptures from the time of the fifth church, and that the restoration of the scriptures was especially accomplished during the time of sixth church period, and into the seventh.

That the scriptures stood on their feet, implies that they came back to ecclesiastical life, and were considered to have power by the faithful church who were using them at that time. The uplifting of the scriptures, also uplifted a great army which was against the fallen church and its error. Fear came upon the fallen system when they witnessed the start of the Protestant Reformation. They especially became frightened when the scriptures were being printed by the bible societies after 1799, because they knew that they could not stop the spread of the scriptures after that happened. They were horrified to find that the scriptures that they had thought they had eliminated forever, were coming back to life and falling into the hands of their enemies, which were the faithful of the church—the scriptures that they had suppressed for so long were coming back to life, and they were going to expose the evil of that entire system.

Scriptures Were Translated Into the Languages of the People

Once the scriptures had been translated into the common language of the people, and distributed to the masses, the Papal church system could not stop the spread of the truth that was in them anymore. When the common people could read God's word for themselves, there was no way the scriptures could be killed again, although that evil system did try by burning the bibles and those who were printing them. They persecuted and killed many who were active in bringing the scriptures to the common people. The spirit of God entered into the faithful church during the fifth and the sixth churches, and uplifted the scriptures in the faithful's sight so that they recognized them as the only legitimate source of God's word, and that uplifted situation continued into the seventh church.

Became Prominent & Recognized in the Spiritual Heavens

In verse 11, the witnesses only stood on their feet, and in verse 12 they are called up to heaven, implying that this was a further step in the restoration of their acceptance as God's word. Earlier, only parts of the scriptures could be given out, but as time went on the invention of printing made the entire book available. We suggest that the standing up on their feet began in the fifth and the sixth church, where we saw the large army, and the scriptures were for sure taken up into heaven by at least 1799AD, or possibly at the earlier time, when the Protestant churches recognized the scriptures as the only source of God's word and truth, and began to print large numbers of bibles. We should remember these prophets are not people, but they are symbolic of the Old and the New Testament, and for them to be called up to heaven, would indicate that they had gained respect, and were being recognized in the spiritual heavens as God's authority on the earth by the faithful church that was using them. Before that time, the Pope and the church councils were claiming to be God's only authority, and the scriptures and the faithful church were not allowed to preach to them.

Scriptures or Two Witnesses Become the Authority

After the time of 1799AD, Papacy lost its civil power, and much of its power to persecute, and the scriptures were given a great deal more recognition because of the Bible societies, who had spread the Bible in all the worlds' languages. The Second Day Adventist also brought the scriptures into greater use, and elevated them to prominence by using them to identify very clearly the Papal system as the great falling away, or the anti-Christ that had been predicted.

I King 17:1 And Elijah the Tishbite, who was of the inhabitants of Gilead, said unto Ahab, As the LORD God of Israel liveth, before whom I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, but according to my word. (KJV) I King 17:4-7) 4 And it shall be, that thou shalt drink of the brook; and I have commanded the ravens to feed thee there. 5 So he went and did according unto the word of the LORD: for he went and dwelt by the brook Cherith, that is before Jordan. 6 And the ravens brought him bread and flesh in the morning, and bread and flesh in the evening; and he drank of the brook. 7 And it came to pass after a while, that the brook dried up, because there had been no rain in the land. (KJV) James 5:17 Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he prayed earnestly that it might not rain: and it rained not on the earth by the space of three years and six months. (KJV)	Revelation 12:6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there a thousand two hundred and threescore days. (KJV) Revelation 12:14 And to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent. (KJV)

II King's 2:21 And he went forth unto the spring of the waters, and cast the salt in there, and said, Thus saith the LORD, I have healed these waters; there shall not be from thence any more death or barren land. (KJV)	Revelation 21:4 And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away. (KJV) Rev 22:1-3) 1 And he shewed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb. (KJV) 2 In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. 3 And there shall be no more curse: but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him: (KJV)

We think that the one with the loud voice from heaven, is the Lord Jesus, who is seen in Math 24:30, coming on the clouds to gather his saints from the four winds. We understand that the starting point of his coming in this prophecy was prior to 1874, because the word coming in Matt 24:30 is not parousia, but it means exactly what it says “to be coming”. 2064 erchomai (er'-khom-ahee); middle voice of a primary verb (used only in the present and imperfect tenses, the others being supplied by a kindred [middle voice] eleuthomai (el-yoo'-thom-ahee); or [active] eltho (el'-tho); which do not otherwise occur); to come or go (in a great variety of applications, literally and figuratively): KJV-- accompany, appear, bring, come, enter, fall out, go, grow, X light, X next, pass, resort, be set.

In Matt Chapter 24, the coming is a preparatory work of coming that most likely started in 1799, and leads up to the seventh trumpet and the harvest gathering of the saints—see notes on Rev chap 10. The gathering of the saints, is not a literal rapture as the fallen church system thinks. It's the Lord gathering his flock together, first here on earth and then later after all the church has proven faithful, they are brought to him in an actual gathering to glory.

Elijah & Two Prophets

The scripture table on the previous page, is very interesting, in that we can see that what happened to Elijah in the Old Testament, appears to parallel much of what is described in Revelation regarding similar events. We are still looking at this and wondering about exactly how to look at the last events of Elijah's life. Do they apply to this Chapter or not?

The parallel between the two areas is remarkable enough, to cause us to take a serious look at the two accounts together. We see that Elijah had many parallel experiences, that are like the two prophets who represent the scriptures, and that he was also taken up to heaven at the end of his ministry, just as they were. Does this have any bearing on the interpretation of either place as a picture, since we see that Revelation 11 has been following the type of both Moses and Elijah?

A Major Difficulty

One problem with them being the same, is that Elijah and the events that surrounded him, were picturing the church during the 1260 years, and then after. But the two prophets, only picture God's Old and New Testament word. So, we would have to say that they are two different pictures, but related because the church uses the scriptures.

Another question that we would have, with comparing the two prophets with Elijah being taken up into heaven, is that it appears that Elijah as the faithful church couldn't go up in a whirlwind until at least 1914AD and after, since that is when the time of trouble began and the symbol of the whirlwind in Elijah's time would be the only thing that would match up with what occurred in WW1. For the last members of the church to go up in a whirlwind, we would have to see that the whirlwind that began in 1914AD doesn't quit, but it continues until the last member of the church is gone. As we will see when we study the seven bowls of wrath, that may be a possibility in that we had a destructive wind in 1914, which continues like travail upon a woman, but there is a more severe and final blow coming at the end of the age.

An Interesting Greek Text

There is an interesting thing in the Greek text, regarding the translation of the verse in Revelation 11:12, in that those who translated it were looking for a literal rapture, and so they translated it accordingly, making it say that their enemies would see them go into heaven. This is not a literal rapture, nor were these actual Christians, because they symbolize the scriptures and not the church, and so this verse is most likely not translated correctly. The Greek side of the text, as found in the Diaglott, seems to be saying that as they were taken up into heaven, “they beheld them the enemies of themselves”.

In other words, it could be that what has happened, is that as the scriptures are taken up to the heavenly viewpoint or place of prominence in the spiritual heavens, and then the church that uses them was then able to use them to see who their enemies were, because of the description of the apostasy in the scriptures. Once the scriptures became the standard by which all things were judged or determined in the ecclesiastical realm, it could then be shown who in the church systems were guilty. Before that time, when the Bible was not seen as the only standard of truth, and it was not as easy to prove the apostate church was guilty. We note that not all interlinear Greek texts support the above thought, since some leave out the English word “they.

There is no problem with the normal interpretation that you find in most bibles, if it means that their enemies see the scriptures being elevated to a high position in the spiritual heavens. In other words, their enemies could see the scriptures coming back into use and being raised in importance, and they were frightened by that. But the other interpretation, would also fit with what happened historically, if it is saying that the scriptures and those who use them, could recognize who their enemies were from their new position of scriptural importance and understanding.

Either way it fits historically with what happened. As the scriptures were lifted into prominence and studied more and more, it became clear to those who studied them who their enemies were. In other words, they saw for sure that their enemies were the apostate church system that had been persecuting the Faithful Church for 1260 years.

We see that there was an uplifting of both the scriptures and those who used them to a heavenly viewpoint together. That uplifting began at the time that the scriptures began to be made available to the church by the early reformers, and that uplifting continued all the way up to the harvest time, which started in 1874AD. The renewed truth is then able to bring the church to a faithful completion of its course, where the members of the church are then able to be literally resurrected, one by one after 1878. That process continues until the church class is totally gone from the earth—that is possible only if we take in to account the promise by Elijah to Elisha. In other words, if the Elisha part of the church after 1914-18 remain faithful to the conditions that they received from Elijah, they are also taken up to meet the Lord, just as the scriptures tell us that those who remain alive at the last day would do. Those of the Elisha class who do not satisfy Elijah's conditions, do not get the heavenly reward, and they cross over the Jordan into the earthly kingdom.

Once the scriptures were recognized as the only source of God's truth, then the scriptures began to help to complete the church, so that all the faithful are caught up to meet the Lord in the air, as Paul prophesied would happen in the last day.

Revelation 11:13

Revelation 11:13 And in that hour there was a great earthquake, and a tenth of the city fell; seven thousand people were killed in the earthquake, and the rest were terrified and gave glory to the God of heaven. (NAU)

We think that this verse, in referring to the "hour" and the earthquake", steps us back in time to the beginning of the Reformation. The angel that gave the command to release the four angels that had been bound in the Euphrates, said that this had been prepared for the hour, day, month and year. With the hour and time of the earthquake, the sixth trumpet showed us what started the Reformation, which was the restoration of the altar by the Protestant Reformation, we then move forward during the shaking of the quake, to the time of the French Revolution, which is when the tenth of the city fell.

Rev 9:13-15 (13 And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the horns of the golden altar which is before God, 14 one saying to the sixth angel that had one trumpet, Loose the four angels that are bound at the great river Euphrates. 15 And the four angels were loosed, that had been prepared for the hour and day and month and year, that they should kill the third part of men. ASV)

That city symbolized the nation of France, who rejected the Papal religion at the French Revolution. The hour that we see here, is the same hour that is also mentioned in the message to the sixth church of Revelation 3:7, and so that hour most likely belongs to the testing of the Reformation and not to the time of the seventh church. See the notes on the message to the sixth church for more information as to why that is most likely what that hour represents. In our explanation we did hold out a slight possibility that it could be referring to the testing of the seventh church, but there are some good reasons that we gave as to why it may have been more likely the testing of the Reformation that is meant. Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth.

Hour Testing Was Reformation

The test of the hour that the Reformation church had to endure, was to choose if they were going to stay with the Papal church or if they were going to go with the Reformation and the Bible. That is the same question or test that Elijah had put before the people in his time at the end of the 3.5 years of drought, which pictures the end of the 1260 years of Papal power. 1 King 18:21 And Elijah came unto all the people, and said, How long halt ye between two opinions? if the LORD be God, follow him: but if Baal, then follow him. And the people answered him not a word. (KJV)

The ones that did not follow the Lord at that time, and who chose the prophets of Baal, were slain, and that shows us a picture of many of those who refused to follow the Lord in the Reformation and afterward, and because they stayed with that evil system, they lost any chance for the high calling.

The testing of the hour, began most likely at the beginning of the 390 years we find in Ezekiel Chapters 2-4. The testing that we saw prophesied about in Ezekiel, parallels the testing that we saw in Chapter 10 of Revelation, where we included a table that shows us that parallel of the 390 applies to the time leading up to three ages—time of Babylon, First Advent, Second Advent.

Those who were true to the Lord and his word, were going to be looked after to make sure that they understood what the correct decision was at that time. See the notes on the message to the sixth church, for more reasoning on why that is most likely the correct place for the hour of trial. We also allowed that the hour of trial, could be the time after the sixth church ended, but it seemed more likely that the testing was the test of the sixth church, which was, are you going to leave the mother church to get the restored truth and to follow the Lord, or not?

The Earthquake

The trouble represented in the earthquake, which began at the start of the Reformation, removed France from the Papal influence at the time of the French Revolution. The earthquake started on the Ecclesiastical part of the city first, and then in the French Revolution, the civil part was separated away from Papacy. Since there were ten horns on the beast, and France fell away or refused to recognize Papacies power anymore, that is why one tenth of the city fell. This is the same earthquake that we saw described in the sixth seal, and the trouble that began there rolled up the Papal heavens like a scroll.

The two parts of the scroll that came into existence were the Papal and the Protestant churches, and the Papal half began to be removed or rolled up so that it could be gradually removed. The Protestant half, began to replace the Papal system in the symbolic heavens, because they were following God's word at the time, and the Papal part was not—what was rolled up, was the Papal presence in God's true spiritual heavens, and they were replaced by the Protestants.

*Rev 6:12-15(12 I looked when He broke the sixth seal, and there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as sackcloth made of hair, and the whole moon became like blood; 13 and the stars of the sky fell to the earth, as a fig tree casts its unripe figs when shaken by a great wind. 14 The sky was split apart like a scroll when it is rolled up, and every mountain and island were moved out of their places. NASU

That a tenth of the city fell, shows us that France was a part of the Great City of Sodom and Egypt, mentioned in Revelation 11:8. Sodom represented the fallen church of Papacy that is symbolized by the harlot, and Egypt represented the civil power that was associated with the harlot's church and state system.

Elijah's 7000

Elijah's 7000, are the same as the 7000 Killed in the Earthquake. Elijah historically had to flee from Jezebel, and hide to save his life. God told him not to worry, but that he had left 7000 men who had not bent the knee to Baal. This is not a literal number in Revelation, but it is symbolic of the total or complete number, and it probably was also symbolic of the total at the time of Elijah.

1 King 19:18 Yet I have left me seven thousand in Israel, all the knees which have not bowed unto Baal, and every mouth which hath not kissed him.

The 7000 being slain, seems at first glance to be different than the 7000 who had not bowed the knee to Baal, because being literally killed is generally not a good thing. We believe that the answer is that the 7000 were not literally killed, but they were symbolically killed, or again they were removed from the evil control of the fallen church system, and began following God. This would be the same type of death that we saw in the situation of the sixth trumpet, where the 1/3 of mankind who were killed, were those who left Papacy and went with the Protestant Reformation.

See the notes on Revelation 9:18, for more reasoning on that interpretation. When you take one-third away from the number one, the remainder to three decimal places is .666. The one-third that you took away would be .333, and 3 is God's number which would show that the ones killed were being consecrated to God and Christ, and that they were not literally killed, but only symbolically killed, giving their lives to God. It also stated in the sixth trumpet, that all of those who were not killed, were those who stayed with the fallen church, and who didn't repent, and that shows us that those who were symbolically killed had repented.

The Fallen System Was Frightened

Of course, if the above interpretation is correct, we would have to look at the second part of the verse somewhat differently. That the others who didn't consecrate to God, were frightened, shows us that they were aware of the momentous events that occurred at that time. That they gave glory to the God of heaven, would simply mean that they were frightened by the events that had just occurred, and that they Admitted that such great events showed that God had done it, but they were not sure what it meant because they were not using or understanding the scriptures.

That would be like those who were hiding from the wrath of God in the sixth seal, which was occurring at the same time as this section of Chapter 11, which was just before and after 1799AD. They were giving glory to God, in acknowledging that he had done it. This would be like Pharaoh when the firstborn was killed. He knew that it was no accident, and that only God could have done that, killing only the Egyptian first born. It may be that some did turn to God when they saw what had happened to Papacy, but historically we know that it was not the entire unfaithful city!

After all, Papacy had held complete civil power and control for almost 1260 years, and for the evil system to suddenly to lose it, was nothing short of a miracle. A translation that seems to bear this out, says that “in their terror”, they gave glory to God.

Revelation 11:13 The same hour there will be a terrible earthquake that levels a tenth of the city, leaving 7,000 dead. Then everyone left will, in their terror, give glory to the God of heaven. (TLB)

Remember that the fallen church system, was terrorized in verse 11, when the two prophets stood on their feet, showing that these are most likely the same group that was terrorized earlier.

Another reason that we think that this way of looking at these verses is correct, is that we see that to be left in the city, would not be a good thing, since this is the same city that is called Sodom and Egypt in verse 8. For that reason, to be killed symbolically and taken away from this city, is a good thing! If you stayed in this city after the Lord had commanded you to come out, you would lose your spiritual life.

Rev 18:4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues. (KJV)

Flee the System Whenever You See The Abomination

Some might think, that it's too early in 1799AD to require the church to come out of the fallen church system, but if we look at Matt Chapter 24, the Lord warns us there that “whenever” you see the Abomination of Desolation standing in the holy place, you are to flee to the mountains of God”. That command was actually valid for the entire Gospel age. There were many that fought against error, all through the entire age. At the time of the early reformers who had pointed out that Papacy was the great falling away, and those who saw that and agreed with that conclusion, also saw that they should be leaving her and going over to whatever reform movements that were available in their historical time.

At the time of the Reformation, there were several different groups, the main one was the Protestant movement, but there was another set of brethren that were the Ana-Baptists groups, which we believe had more of the truth than even the Protestants. Unfortunately, the Protestant groups persecuted and killed many of them, because they did not follow all the traditional doctrines that the Lutheran Reformation had—unfortunately many of those traditional doctrines were wrong doctrine from the fallen harlot. The Ana-Baptists doctrine, is what led to the Adventist doctrines later.

With that interpretation, we see that the 7000 that did not bend the knee to Baal, are a picture of those who didn't fall into the worship of the apostate church system, or if they did they had gotten free from it at that time. They would represent those that were freed from the fallen church, and they were set free to the Lord and the truth that he supplied to them during that time. In other words, they consecrated to the Lord unto death, and were symbolically removed from the system by coming to the Lord.

In 1 Kings, in the same area as the 7000 who didn't bow the knee to Baal, we also find that Ahab gathered 7000 to defeat a large multitude of the enemy, who were arrayed against him. The 7000 that Ahab gathered were only allowed to benefit Ahab, because God was using that victory to try and reform him.

I King 20:13-15) 13 Now behold, a prophet approached Ahab king of Israel and said, "Thus says the LORD, "Have you seen all this great multitude? Behold, I will deliver them into your hand today, and you shall know that I am the LORD."

14 Ahab said, "By whom?" So he said, "Thus says the LORD, "By the young men of the rulers of the provinces.'" Then he said, "Who shall begin the battle?" And he answered, "You."

15 Then he mustered the young men of the rulers of the provinces, and there were 232; and after them he mustered all the people, {even} all the sons of Israel, 7,000. (NAU)

Revelation 11:14

Revelation 11:14 The second woe is past; behold, the third woe is coming quickly. (NAU)

This implies that as soon as the events of the sixth trumpet are done, the seventh church period is ready to begin. The seventh woe trumpet, was to start to blowing in 1874AD. See studies in the scripture volumes 2-3, for more information on time-periods and prophecy relating to chronology, and as to how the beginning of the seventh day is determined. On the seventh day, we have the message of seventh church, the seventh seal, and the seventh trumpet, the judgment of the church and state system, and the completing of the pouring out of the seven bowls of wrath. When all of that is done, the church is complete and the kingdom of God will be established in full power, and be ready to bless the rest of the world who didn't accept the message of good news during the Gospel Age

Trumpet 7 Revelation 11:15

Revelation 11:15 Then the seventh angel sounded; and there were loud voices in heaven, saying, "The kingdom of the world has become {the kingdom} of our Lord and of His Christ; and He will reign forever and ever." (NAU)

This trumpet follows the events of 1799, in which one tenth of the city and 7000 names of men fell. The tenth of the city that fell was France, and the earthquake that occurred there separated the Papal system from its civil power, and its claim of being the Emperor of the Western Empire. Some think that the fact that this is occurring in 1799, that it dates the seventh trumpet which falls, to that dating. The problem with that conclusion, is that it says that the second woe is past and the third follows quickly. That indicates that there will be some time before the seventh trumpet is blown. The chronology system, and events that occur at the 1874 time, seems to indicate that is the correct start date for the seventh trumpet.

1873.75AD -???????AD

Joel 2:15-17 (15 Blow a trumpet in Zion, Consecrate a fast, proclaim a solemn assembly, 16 Gather the people, sanctify the congregation, Assemble the elders, Gather the children and the nursing infants. Let the bridegroom come out of his room And the bride out of her bridal chamber. 17 Let the priests, the Lord's ministers, Weep between the porch and the altar, And let them say, "Spare Your people, O Lord, And do not make Your inheritance a reproach, A byword among the nations. Why should they among the peoples say, 'Where is their God?'" NASU

This is the seventh trumpet, that was mentioned in Revelation Chapter 10—it is now time for it to be sounded, and we are going to see what was in it.

Seventh Trumpet is Parallel to Joel

Since we have showed that the trumpets are parallel with the book of Joel, we are going to continue to do that with the seventh trump, and we believe that we will find some interesting things that not only happened in the time of Joel, but which picture things that were fulfilled during the harvest time. The first thing that we notice above, is that it says to blow a trumpet in verse 15. According to our understanding of Joel, the reference above is the parallel to the seventh trumpet, which is the trumpet that we are looking at here in Revelation.

We originally thought that this was the sixth trumpet, because the period of the sixth church is not marked directly by a trumpet blast in Joel. The sixth trumpet is still there, because Joel's Great Army parallels the two hundred-million-man army found in the sixth trumpet. The people are told in verse 12, which is during the time of the sixth church, that if they would repent and return to him, that he would bring them a blessing instead of the terrible trouble that they were having. That was the blessing that the Reformation was offering the sixth church, if they would leave their allegiance to the Catholic Church, and return to our Lord and sound doctrine.

Gather the People Together

When we read further in Joel, we came to the seventh trumpet, which is from Joel 2:15 and afterward. That description, parallels the seventh trumpet or seventh church. In Joel, the people are told to begin a fast, and to proclaim a solemn assembly, and to gather the people. That fits with what happened in the harvest time church, in that the call, “to come out of her my people”, went out to all the churches and people that would heed the call. The harvest call went on for the entire 40 + years, and many answered the call and came to the truth. They were to assemble the elders, the children, and nursing infants, and that meant that any who would heed the call, could come into the assembly of the faithful, no matter how spiritually Advanced or how much truth that they had.

The elders, the children, and nursing infants, are symbols of the different stages of Advancement of those who were in Great Babylon. Elders were those who had a great deal of knowledge and were leaders, children were those who had started studying, but were not fully knowledgeable yet, and nursing infants were those who didn’t know very much and who were dependent on other Christians, and who still needed help in developing a Christian faith that would be self-sustaining.

1 Cor 3:1-2 (1 And I, brethren, could not speak to you as to spiritual men, but as to men of flesh, as to infants in Christ. 2 I gave you milk to drink, not solid food; for you were not yet able to receive it. Indeed, even now you are not yet able, NASU

Sanctify the People

Joel says that they were to “sanctify” the people, who on this end of the age have been sanctified in the harvest, by the truth that had been revealed by the harvest message. There was a tremendous amount of truth that was revealed at that time, including the Divine Plan of the Ages. Sanctify means to set apart, and the ones who came into the truth were being set apart for God, with the intention that the 144,000 would be completed. A part of the selecting process involved testing those who would run for the high calling, to make sure that they would remain faithful to God, no matter what, and unfortunately some of those who initially came out of the fallen system, and even some who had a self-sustaining faith before the harvest, needed to be replaced because they fell in the testing. As far as we know, the replacement and testing process is still going on yet today, but we know that it will end soon.

The Bridegroom is to Come Out

The final result of the testing and completion of the church, will be so that the bridegroom and the bride can come out and be joined together in marriage, as is described in Joel 2:16, Rev 19:7-9. The groom is our Lord Jesus, and the bride will be those who are being selected to be of the 144,000. That event is called the Marriage of the Lamb, and once that is accomplished, the kingdom blessing can begin. One of the first things that will be done by Christ head and body, will be the removal of the anarchistic Great Army, and all remnants of Satan's evil system, as shown in Revelation Chapter 19. The army of society type vultures that had been called earlier, from the fifth church and onward, are called again at the end of the age to begin the final destruction of the system in 1914, as shown in Rev Chapter 19. The anarchistic army had served the Lord's purpose of weakening and tearing down the evil church and state system at the earlier time, but it has to carry out the final destruction at the end of the age. It in turn has to go when the kingdom begins, because it contains some bad elements that will not be allowed into the kingdom.

There is some evidence, that part of the terrible army in Joel, is radical Islam that is literally threatening Israel on this end of the age. We believe that is very likely found in the Joel account, but it does not appear to be what Revelation is showing us, as far as we can see. The Revelation account is concerned with what happens to the Gospel Age church, and it does not appear to show the Islam part of the army, which affects Israel.

The Pouring Out of the Spirit

Reading further in Joel, we then come to the final time of trouble, and the promise of the early and latter rain, which is the start of the blessing of literal Israel. That is most likely the restoration of the Jews back into their nation, and the restoration of the city of Jerusalem which has already happened. The full blessing of Israel and the world, for that reason cannot be that far off. The next thing after that in Joel, is the pouring out of God's spirit upon the people, which is the beginning of the kingdom blessings, and which is when the world will be joined to Israel so that they can receive the sand of the seashore part of the Abrahamic blessings. That is when Israel will finally accept the New Covenant that the Lord Jesus had established and guaranteed on the cross at the First Advent.

All Nations Have to Come to Jerusalem for Blessing

After that, we see in Zechariah Chapter 14, that the world must come to Jerusalem to get the blessing from the rain, and the sand of the seashore part of the Abrahamic Covenant. If they don't, the scriptures say that they will not get any rain upon them, which means that they will not receive the kingdom blessings. From that prophecy, it appears that there will be some that will be reluctant to submit to the new king. Once the people see the blessings that those who have accepted the kingdom receive, we pray that there will not be very many that will not accept coming to the New Jerusalem, which is symbolic of accepting God's government that will be established on the earth at that time.

Coming back to Revelation and the seventh trumpet, we are next going to look at the description that we find in Revelation regarding the seventh trumpet, and see if it's following along with Joel, at least with it being in the same time frame. As we will see, it will be talking about many of the same symbolic events.

Voices in Heaven

The voices in heaven that are heard in verse 15, are from the Faithful Church, who preached and published the harvest message from 1878AD onward, and who were using the scriptures to proclaim the presence of the Lord and the harvest truth which was due at that time. The church was very active in proclaiming that Christ had returned at that time in an invisible presence, and that only those who were earnestly watching would recognize that he was back. That is what is being said in Rev 11:15-17, when it says that the kingdoms of the world have become the kingdoms of our Lord and his Christ, and it tells us that he had taken his great power and had begun to reign. The harvest call to the people to come together with those of like faith, is exactly what Joel told Israel to do, in that they were to call everyone to a solemn assembly.

The reason that it was solemn, was because the message that was going out at the time was a message of judgment, even though it also contained a message of great hope. The salvation of the Divine Plan and the 1845-year judgment parallel, was and still is a major part of the message of Zion's Watchtower, which is now known as the Bible Students.

Those who say that the world is under judgment now, are not a part of the faithful, but belong to those who fell away from the Harvest truth, and their message is in error. The world cannot come under judgment until the 144,000 are complete, we pray that when that becomes obvious that they will hurriedly help not only themselves, but also help others enter the kingdom blessings that will be due at that time!

Part of the Message About Guilt of Nominal House

The solemn part of the message, was that the main bulk of the Apostate Christian church was being judged for the evil that not only Papacy, but some of the Protestant churches had done during the dark time of the 1260 years of terror and even after that. They were guilty of ignoring the truth about the salvation that Christ had established by his death on the cross, and they had brought Pagan doctrines into the church, which had replaced the truth of the salvation that Christ had won on the cross with gross error. They had established the Abomination of the Mass, which is where they crucify Christ repeatedly, every hour on the hour. That is why the scriptures call this system the Abomination that makes Desolate, because they had lost all knowledge of what Christ had accomplished for us and the world on the cross. They preferred to believe a lie, rather than to actually believe the truth about the true salvation that was being published at the time.

To make matters worse, they persecuted and killed those who tried to reform the church, and they did that throughout most of the 1260 years, and even afterward if they thought that they could get away with it. They thought that they were doing that for God, and that they were doing a favor to those that they tortured with all manner of extreme torture, thinking that they were saving them from hell. Those who did such things, will have to bow down at the feet of those that they did that to in the kingdom.

Pastor Russell, and the church members that were with him at the time of the 40-year harvest, published the harvest message far and wide, and it's still going forth even today. See the Second Volume Studies in the Scripture, for more information about the 1845-year judgment parallel, and why that judgment occurred at that time. Most still don't believe it, but when the church is complete and the kingdom has arrived, it will be seen that it was correct.

Unfortunately, after Pastor Russell died, there was a testing which caused many to fall and lose their crowns. The replacement phase for those who lost their crowns is still going on, but we expect that there is not much time left before the church is complete, and the kingdom will begin.

The two witnesses, which symbolize the old and New Testament scriptures, had just before this time been taken up into the symbolic heavens, as we saw in the previous section of Chapter 11. God's word taken up into heaven, shows us that the scriptures were being recognized as the only true authority by the Faithful Church. The message of judgment against the fallen church, was also very clearly brought out by the scriptures during the harvest time, and we will see in this trumpet, that judgment was an important part of the seventh trumpet message. Our Lord Jesus is reigning and judging for Jehovah now, and he will have that authority until the end of the Millennial age. The kingdom that he establishes will never pass away, but will exist forever.

*Dan 7:13-14(13 I saw in the night visions, and, behold, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him.

14 And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations, and languages, should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed. (KJV)

1 Cor 15:23-25 (23 But every man in his own order: Christ the firstfruits; afterward they that are Christ's at his coming.

24 Then cometh the end, when he shall have delivered up the kingdom to God, even the Father; when he shall have put down all rule and all authority and power.

25 For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet. (KJV)

Daniel tells us, that after Satan's evil system is judged, his dominion will be taken away, and we see that happening now, but not fully accomplished yet.

Dan 7:26-27) 26 "But the court will sit {for judgment} and his dominion will be taken away, annihilated and destroyed forever.

27 "Then the sovereignty, the dominion and the greatness of {all} the kingdoms under the whole heaven will be given to the people of the saints of the Highest One; His kingdom {will be} an everlasting kingdom, and all the dominions will serve and obey Him.'" (NAU)

The Time of the Seventh Trump

The seventh trumpet is a reference to the last trumpet, which announces the coming of Christ and his holy angels, and the resurrection of the dead in Christ. The message about the resurrection and gathering of the saints to Christ that had died previously to 1878AD, was a major part of the harvest message. After that time, anyone else that died did not have to sleep in the dust of the earth anymore, but they were immediately caught up to the Lord, if they had been faithful.

Matt 24:31 "And He will send forth His angels with A GREAT TRUMPET and THEY WILL GATHER TOGETHER His elect from the four winds, from one end of the sky to the other. (NAU)

1 Cor 15:52 in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet; for the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised imperishable, and we will be changed. (NAU)

1Thes 4:16 For the Lord Himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of {the} archangel and with the trumpet of God, and the dead in Christ will rise first. (NAU)

This is Also the Third Woe Trumpet

This is the third and last woe trumpet, and so we should expect that during this trumpet, that God would complete the judgment of the fallen church system, and begin its final punishment with the seven bowls of wrath. Regarding the time frame of this trumpet, we think that it began blowing in Oct 1874 or 1878AD at the latest. The date 1874AD was the end of Daniel's 1335 days at a day per year, and it was also exactly 6000 years from the fall of Adam in the garden. The 1874AD date is also pointed to by the end of the 2500-year Jubilee cycle, and the date 1878AD is the date that the 1845 year parallel points to the judgment of the church and state system.

The Symbol of Christ in These Verses Represents Christ

There was a question regarding this trumpet, that we discussed in our study. Some brethren think that when it says that the kingdoms of this world, have become the kingdoms of our Lord and his Christ, that the term Lord represents Christ, and the term Christ represents the anointed or the church. The reason that that some think that is the proper interpretation, is because they think that there is a problem with Jehovah coming with our Lord Jesus. What the Study Group decided, is that our Lord Jesus comes as the Fathers representative, and for that reason there is no problem. The reason that we say that is the proper interpretation, is because there are several other places in Revelation that say that Jehovah is coming with Christ, and in those places there is no doubt that is what is meant.

The other problem with saying that the symbol Christ represents God, and that the symbol Christ represents the anointed church, is that the church was not complete at the time of 1878AD. It's true that the sleeping saints began to be raised at that date, but the full number of the 144,000 was not filled yet at that time, and it seems reasonable that until that number is complete, that the church will not enter fully into the reign. That is when Christ head and body will be complete, and the body members will enter the marriage and begin the full reign.

The Son Administers the Kingdom Until the End

We don't believe that the world will directly see Jehovah in the kingdom, but we think that initially Christ comes as his representative, and in that sense Jehovah comes with him. We also have the scripture in Corinthians, which says that after Christ has put all enemies down, which is by the end of the millennium, he then turns the kingdom back over to the Father. What that means regarding where Jehovah will be and how he reigns over the kingdom is unknown at this time. If the son continues to administer the kingdom for Jehovah after the close of the millennium, then nothing much will be different, but if Jehovah comes directly to his creation, then the world may see something different, but we don't think that they will be able to look directly at him without harm, and so anything that they would see would only be a representation that could be viewed without harm. That may also be the time that the little season applies, which is when Jehovah comes and inspects the son's kingdom, eliminating any that do not pass the perfect standard of the New Covenant.

1 Cor 15:22-26 (For just as all people die because of their union with Adam, in the same way all will be raised to life because of their union with Christ. 23 But each one will be raised in his proper order: Christ, first of all; then, at the time of his coming, those who belong to him. 24 Then the end will come; Christ will overcome all spiritual rulers, authorities, and powers, and will hand over the Kingdom to God the Father. 25 For Christ must rule until God defeats all enemies and puts them under his feet. 26 The last enemy to be defeated will be death. TEV

Ex 33:19-20 (19 And He said, "I Myself will make all My goodness pass before you, and will proclaim the name of the Lord before you; and I will be gracious to whom I will be gracious, and will show compassion on whom I will show compassion." 20 But He said, "You cannot see My face, for no man can see Me and live!" NASU

The other problem is that the term Christ, is not used that way in any other place in Revelation that we know of. Even later in Revelation in Chapter 20:6, when it does talk about the church reigning with God and Christ, it uses the word "Christ" as meaning Christ, and it describes the church as being priests separate from him. So, to use the same symbol inconsistently in the same book is not correct. The brethren in the study didn't see any problem with the scripture as its written, and since we don't have a good reason to change the meaning of the terms God and Christ, we will leave the scriptures say exactly what they will say! Here is a good example of what we are saying, where it is obvious that God is Jehovah, and Christ is Christ.

Revelation 20:6 Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

This is Not Destruction of World
But a Rebuilding of It

Some in the nominal churches wouldn't agree with the dating we have for this event as being in 1874AD, because they think that the reign of Christ causes the destruction of the world, and the removal of the church in the blink of an eye. What they don't understand, is that the destruction that comes with these events, is the destruction of Satan's evil system of things, and that the system or society is being symbolically destroyed, and because of that the people are not killed, but are freed from Satan's power. It's also clear, that the world is not going to be destroyed, but only that the present evil world will be transformed into a new heavens and earth, where evil will have been removed.

The intention of the Lord's reign, is to destroy the system that is keeping the people in bondage to sin and error, and too free them so that they will be able to accept the kingdom that will begin once the church is complete. With that view, we see that these events did indeed begin at the harvest time, and that the Old-World order is gradually being removed, and the church is gradually being completed. Once the church is completed, the removal of the entire evil system will speed up considerably, since our Lord will not have to hide his power anymore, and he will have the 144,000 working with him.

Psalms
Says the Same Thing

Another good reason for the Study Groups opinion, that we favor the thought that this is Jehovah and Jesus, is because that is exactly what it says in Palms Chapter 2, where it is describing the same events! As we can see below, the Old Testament shows irrevocably that this must be Jehovah, since that is the actual meaning of the word LORD in Psalms, Chapter two. 3068 Yehovah (yeh-ho-vaw'); from 1961; (the) self-Existent or Eternal; Jehovah, Jewish national name of God: KJV-- Jehovah, the Lord. Compare 3050, 3069.

Ps 2, 110 & Seventh Trumpet

Ps 110:1 The LORD says to my Lord: "Sit at My right hand Until I make Your enemies a footstool for Your feet." 2 The LORD will stretch forth Your strong scepter from Zion, saying, "Rule in the midst of Your enemies." 3 Your people will volunteer freely in the day of Your power; In holy array, from the womb of the dawn, Your youth are to You as the dew. 4 The LORD has sworn and will not change His mind, "You are a priest forever According to the order of Melchizedek." 5 The Lord is at Your right hand; He will shatter kings in the day of His wrath. 6 He will judge among the nations, He will fill them with corpses, He will shatter the chief men over a broad country 7 He will drink from the brook by the wayside; Therefore He will lift up His head. ### Revelation 11:16-18

Revelation 11:16 And the twenty-four elders, who sit on their thrones before God, fell on their faces and worshiped God,

Revelation 11:17 saying, "We give You thanks, O Lord God, the Almighty, who are and who were, because You have taken Your great power and have begun to reign.

Revelation 11:18 "And the nations were enraged, and Your wrath came, and the time {came} for the dead to be judged, and {the time} to reward Your bond-servants the prophets and the saints and those who fear Your name, the small and the great, and to destroy those who destroy the earth." (NAU)

Some students think that the above verses are not in the correct order for a reasonable historical explanation of the above events. One thing that helps on this, is that it's important to see that this chapter is following Ps chapter 2 exactly, in regard to God's anger and the establishment of the kingdom—see table above.

One problem in understanding this chapter, is that it is said that because it says that the Lord is angry, that indicates the final time of anger of the Lord when the seven bowls of wrath are poured out. Its felt that it is out of place because the final anger of the seven bowls is at the end, not at the beginning of the seventh trump. Don't forget that the Lord can be angry, but that he does not have to satisfy that anger until after the system is judged. That is the explanation we see for this question, in that the Judgement occurs first, and then the destruction of the system with the seven bowls occurs afterward—Daniel shows the same thing as what we see.

Dan 7:9-11 (9 I beheld till thrones were placed, and one that was ancient of days did sit: his raiment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like pure wool; his throne was fiery flames, (and) the wheels thereof burning fire. 10 A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: thousands of thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgment was set, and the books were opened. 11 I beheld at that time because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake; I beheld even till the beast was slain, and its body destroyed, and it was given to be burned with fire. ASV

Dan 7:26 But the judgment shall be set, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it unto the end. ASV

It's also thought that the judgment of the dead should not be before the rewarding of the saints. The reason for that question, is because it's thought that the judgment mentioned here is of the world and not the church. We need to not forget that the saints have to be judged first, before they receive their reward.

1 Peter 4:17 For the time (is come) for judgment to begin at the house of God: and if (it begin) first at us, what (shall be) the end of them that obey not the gospel of God? ASV
The above scripture shows us that the judgment in Rev chapter 11, is the judgment of the church. After the church is judged, then the resurrection of the ones found faithful can proceed. Those who were not faithful wind up in the Great Company class, and they may not be resurrected until later, but it's not for sure where they are resurrected, except they are seen at the marriage supper. The world will be resurrected after the complete 144,000 of the church has been resurrected.

God is the author of our salvation. For that reason, we see that the scriptures as represented by the 24 elders are all pointing to Jehovah, and giving him thanks because all their authority comes from him. The Plan of God, and the events regarding the kingdom that are described in the scriptures, were all authored by him. At the beginning of the harvest time in 1874AD, the scriptures began witnessing to the fact that it was time for the Lord Jesus to begin to take control of the world, and to remove all who were destroying it, both physically and spiritually. See the Second Volume of the Studies in the Scriptures, for the evidence that Christ has begun his reign in 1874 or 1878AD. That this is Jehovah's reign as we said above, is true, but Christ is his representative carrying out the work of the kingdom for him.

Jesus Begins to Make The Earth His Footstool

This is the time that the scriptures describe Christ as making the earth a footstool for his feet. To make the earth a footstool for his feet, means that Jesus begins gradually takes control of the earth after he comes in his second presence and it will be fully placed under our Lord's control after the 144,000 is complete—Satan will be bound.

Heb 10:12-13 (12 But when Christ had offered for all time a single sacrifice for sins, "he sat down at the right hand of God," 13 and since then has been waiting "until his enemies would be made a footstool for his feet." NRSVPs

110:1-2 (1 The Lord says to my Lord: "Sit at My right hand Until I make Your enemies a footstool for Your feet."

2 The Lord will stretch forth Your strong scepter from Zion, saying, "Rule in the midst of Your enemies." NASU

Jesus Reigns For the Father

The verses here in the seventh trumpet, tell us that Jehovah is going to reign here, but we know that he isn't going to do that in person, at least not now, but he is going to reign through our Lord Jesus as his representative. Since the year 1874AD and the return of Christ that began there, it was time to begin to set up the full kingdom of God. The process of installation and removal of the old order of things, is also pictured in the smiting of the stone of Daniel Chapter 2, which smote the entire Image in 1914AD. That blow shattered the nations that made up the Image, and then began crushing them into small pieces like powder. Daniel tells us that after they are crushed, that they would blow away in the winds of trouble that are going to come just before the kingdom begins. After the removal of the old system of things, the stone is then going to grow into a huge mountain and fill the earth—the mountain represents the kingdom of God and Christ.

Destroying Those Who Destroy the Earth

The destroying of those who are destroying the earth that is mentioned here, are both those who are guilty of the literal destruction of parts of the creation, and the figurative destruction of the faithful church. The word destroy that is used here, means corrupt or to rot or ruin, which fits better with the destruction of those who were corrupting the church. They will be rotted away or removed and then literally taken away. We see that mankind through greed, is destroying and harming the literal earth now. Since the destruction of God's church and his truth is what concerns God the most at this point and time, we think that is most likely what is being referred to initially, in that the spiritual destruction will be ended.

Those who are literally destroying the earth, will also be dealt with by the time of the full establishment of the kingdom, since nothing will be allowed to hurt or destroy during that time. Man has not been a good steward in his taking good care of the earth, and science is warning that if nothing changes we are headed for a disaster. The warnings that the scientists are giving us now, say that if this problem isn't fixed, that the earth can't sustain the amount of abuse that is being put upon it. That abuse will be one of the first things that the new kingdom will correct before the world falls into disaster, in order to teach us a lesson. A lot of the members of the fallen church system, have erroneously concluded that the earth is going to burn up literally anyway, and so they don't care about pollution and the destruction of the environment or the wasting of natural resources that they invest money in. God will deal with them and their greed at the start of the kingdom, and they will need to change or they will not survive the testing of the kingdom.

As we saw in the interpretation of the throne scene in Revelation Chapters 4 and 5, the 24 elders symbolized the Old Testament scriptures. They were singing the new song of the New Testament in Chapter 5, and they were proclaiming the establishment of the church and the eventual praise of God by all created beings. From them, we know that without God and his plan that nothing would have been possible. The falling-down in that Chapter, confirms that they recognized Jehovah as their King, and they fell on their faces before him to give the entire honor for his plan to him.

Even though they as scriptures contain the complete knowledge of God's Plan, they aren't taking the credit for that plan, but they are acknowledging that Jehovah is the author of the plan. Jehovah is being worshiped here because it's his plan that is going to save all. They fall-down again in this Chapter, because they know that this trumpet is the beginning of the next phase of Gods plan. The church and the plan of God that began because of the blood of the Lamb as seen in the fifth Chapter, will be completed by the end of the seventh church. We notice that there is no complaint against worshipping God and Jesus, because they are the authors and the executers of the Plan. Those who reveal the Plan are just servant of God, and thus they are not to be worshipped, as we will see later in Revelation!

The Salvation Contains a Heavenly as Well as an Earthly Salvation

This plan is more comprehensive and wonderful than anyone could have imagined. It includes not only a church class, but also an opportunity for all the rest of the world of mankind to be restored back to perfection and the life rights that Adam had lost in the garden. All those who either didn't hear or didn't believe the good news during the Gospel Age, and all of those who don't have an opportunity for salvation before the close of the Gospel Age, will have a chance for salvation in the Millennial age. The earthly part of this plan, even includes help for those who rejected the harvest time message. As we saw in the seventh Chapter, they will fall into the great Company, but they will still be happy that they will receive salvation and life. The scriptures are giving honor to God for having planned the salvation from the beginning, and for Christ being able to carry out the steps of the plan throughout all the ages since.

The revealing of the beginning of the reign of Christ, and the coming of God's kingdom, was a major part of the harvest message. It was also predicted at that time, that there would be a time of trouble that would begin in 1914AD. During the time of trouble, it was predicted that the nation of Israel would return, and as history shows, Israel was back in their land as a nation in 1948AD. See the book, The Biblical Count of the Years, for several ways to calculate the return of Israel to their land after the 1845 years of their punishment. Their time of trouble is continuing at this time, and that will continue until the final phase of trouble comes, and that trouble will be against Israel as seen in Ezekiel Chapters 38-39.

The portion of the verse which says, "who is to come", is spurious and is for that reason not included in most modern translations. Without that phrase, this verse means that God does not change, and for that reason the promises that he made in the Old Testament, are now going to come to pass. God had promised to establish a reign of righteousness, and he is gradually doing that from the time of the seventh trump onward, and he is now making sure that things are moving towards that goal.

God is Here Through His Son During the Kingdom

The Bible predicted that God would eventually step into the affairs of men, and that his kingdom would begin the process that would eventually restore all those of the entire human race that are willing, back to the perfection and life that Adam had lost in the garden. Anyone that recognizes that, should be happy and thankful that the time of blessing has come or at least is close. We are close to the time for the earthly portion of the blessing to start, but as we will see, before the master builder can begin, he must clear a lot of Satan's evil and corrupt system out of the way—the seven bowls of wrath!

Acts 3:20-21 (20 and that He may send Jesus, the Christ appointed for you, 21 whom heaven must receive until the period of restoration of all things about which God spoke by the mouth of His holy prophets from ancient time. NASB

The old order of national power, does not want to step down, and to add to that problem, Satan is fighting a last-ditch effort to try to defeat God's Plan. We also see that those who have much wealth or goods, don't want to share with those who are poorer than them. That greedy attitude is what will lead to the final whirlwind of trouble, that will usher in the kingdom.

That Nations are Angry Is One of The Problems

That the nations are angry here, is one of the problems that this trumpet is showing us. The fallen church system, and the nations that supported it, should have been happy that Jehovah and Christ had started to take up their power—times would be good for all if they gave up control over their wealth. If they had been glad and accepted that Christ was here and that he was taking control, the world wars and the cold war could have been avoided.

Unfortunately, they have ignored the advice of Psalm Chapter 2, and they don't want to give up their power to the rightful king. As they were warned, the Son was going to soon be angered, and that anger began the process of their destruction, from 1914AD onward. The anger of the nation's that's here, especially applies to those who had been associated with the harlot. Even though the time of trouble had come upon them, they didn't want to give up their power, and the new forms of nations that succeeded them after they lost their kingdoms in WW1, don't want to give up their power either. Because the evil system should have believed the harvest message, and they didn't, the final whirlwind of trouble is going to come and sweep them all away. We will see that destruction described in the last three bowls in Chapter 16.

If the kings do not submit to the new king, they will be forced to come by their own people.

*Isa 60:11-13(11 "Your gates will be open continually;
They will not be closed day or night,
So that men may bring to you the wealth of the nations,
With their kings led in procession. 12 "For the nation and the kingdom which will not serve you will perish,
And the nations will be utterly ruined. 13 "The glory of Lebanon will come to you,
NASU*

In all the other trumpets, there was something bad being shown in each one, and in this one it's obvious what that is. Both the kings and the fallen church should have submitted to the Lord and let the blessing flow forth to the world, but they refused to recognize his message of truth and blessing. They didn't want to believe the harvest message that was being given out at the start of the seventh church. That, is the exact same thing that we saw at the First Advent, in that Israel didn't believe the message of good tidings either, and that disbelief led to the loss of the temple and their national existence. The same thing happened here in that the nominal house was rejected, and all the kings lost their crowns because they did not believe, and they did not submit to the new king.

Time For The Wrath of God

It's also an important point here, that we see that it says that this is the time that the "the wrath of God" was to come. That is an important phrase, because we believe that the "wrath of God" is the same as the pouring out of the seven bowls of wrath, which we will consider in more detail a little further onward. The wrath of God that is mentioned here, is the beginning of the wrath of God that we will see described in Chapters 15-16. The anger that is mentioned first in this vision is not the time that the wrath is poured out, because the judgment has to take place first.

*Revelation 15:1 And I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvelous, seven angels having seven plagues, (which are) the last, for in them is finished the wrath of God.

The corrupt church refused to believe the Divine Plan and harvest message, and the kings didn't want to give up their power. Punishment was due to come upon them at the end of the 2520 years, and that punishment began in 1914AD with the outbreak of the world war in Europe. Since then, the remnants of that system have been subjected to trouble that has come upon them, like a woman in travail through this interim time. Eventually the clock will run out, and that evil system will be overtaken with the final whirlwind of trouble. The final phase of that trouble will be worldwide, and it will remove all of Satan's evil system and establish a kingdom of blessing instead.

Servants and Prophets Rewarded

When we look at the giving of the rewards to the servants and the prophets in this scripture, we see that those who the symbol represents could be viewed in a couple of different ways. If we look at the definition of the word prophet, we see that it means public expounder, especially of God's word or plan. That definition fits the Old Testament prophets, as well as the prophets or public exponents of the Gospel church.

In the full sense of the symbol "servants or saints", they could be both the Old Testament saints and the new. Regarding who was being rewarded here in this Chapter, the Study Group, concluded that we should take the term saint here in its usual New Testament meaning, and apply it to the faithful Gospel Age church, because Revelation is concerned about the church and not the Old Testament. When the next age begins, all the others that were faithful from the Old Testament times will also be rewarded.

In the rewarding of the church, the most immediate reward was the beginning of the resurrection of the sleeping saints in 1878AD. When the church is complete, the Old Testament Ancient Worthies will be resurrected and also rewarded. The word fear that is used here, can mean reverence as well as actual fear. The description of small and great, fits best with the church, because there are going to be differences in the glory of small and great in the church. It's true that the same thing will be true of the worldly class, but the time of the seventh trumpet is too early for that to be true for the world.

So, what we very likely have here in this Chapter are Adjectives, which apply only to the faithful church. In other words, the terms (1) prophets, (2) saints and (3) those that fear God's name, small, and great, apply to different parts of the faithful church, which are being rewarded during this time-period as they prove faithful.

Judgment in Favor of Saints

From 1799AD to 1878AD during the time of the end, the heavenly court sat and pronounced the apostate system guilty. Because of that judgment, the punishment and destruction of the guilty system could begin for sure at the end of the harvest parallel in 1914AD. We believe that 1914AD was only the beginning of that destruction, and that the process of the removal of the entire evil system, will require a period of time before the final whirlwind takes it all away. The seven bowls of wrath, must be poured out on them, and then the complete and final destruction of the evil system is shown in Chapter 19 of Revelation.

In Daniel 7:22, we see that the events that are described there give judgments that are eventually rendered favorable to the saints. That description of the favorable judgment, shows the difference between those who were faithful and those who were not. Those who were faithful, will begin reigning with the Lord when the church is complete. The consuming and the destruction of the power of the beast in the fire described in Daniel, began in 1914AD, and in the war that began there, and to prove that, all the kings that had been associated with the harlot were removed from power.

We now see the remnants of those kingly governments being gradually broken into smaller pieces, consumed and removed. Daniel says, that the remaining beasts are allowed to live for a set time, but we are not told how long that time will be. At the end of that set time, we will see the final whirlwind of trouble that will sweep away all the pieces. Once that whirlwind of trouble is completed, the kingdom of Christ as symbolized by the great mountain, will grow and take complete control of the earth.

*Dan 7:26-27) 26 But the judgment shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it unto the end.

27 And the kingdom and dominion, and the greatness of the kingdom under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the most High, whose kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey him. (KJV)

The message to the Laodicea church, also agrees with judgment as a theme in the seventh church, in that we find the Lord telling the fallen church system that he was going to spew them out, because they were not doing what they should. They thought that they were rich, but they were blind, poor, and naked.

Revelation 11:19

Revelation 11:19 And the temple of God which is in heaven was opened; and the ark of His covenant appeared in His temple, and there were flashes of lightning and sounds and peals of thunder and an earthquake and a great hailstorm. (NAU)

The Temple in Heaven Is Open

The vision of the temple shows it open in heaven, and the viewing the Ark of the Covenant inside represents a further insight into God's Plan of salvation. We see a similar description to this in the fifteenth Chapter, where it also tells us that the tabernacle in heaven was opened. As soon as it was opened in Chapter 15, we are shown the seven angels coming out, with the seven bowls of wrath. That indicates that one of the things that would begin happening with the opening of the temple, was the punishment of those who had been persecuting God's church all through the Gospel age. We see that same punishment start here, in the symbols of the lightnings, thunders, great earthquake, and a great hail storm.

Rev 15:5-6 (5 And after that I looked, and, behold, the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened:

6 And the seven angels came out of the temple, having the seven plagues, clothed in pure and white linen, and having their breasts girded with golden girdles. KJV

These Symbols Are Pointing Us To the Seventh Bowl of Wrath

Hail, lightning, and an earthquake, are common manifestations of God's presence, which point to punishments, bright revelations of truth and the overthrowing of different systems at the time of the end. These same symbols appear again in the seventh bowl of wrath, and so it's likely that they refer to a continuation of the punishment of the same events, but the seventh bowl is showing us more details than here. We believe that the reason that these symbols are mentioned here, is to point us to the seven bowls of wrath as being how the anger of God is going to be satisfied. As we will see, when we consider the bowls of wrath, the last three bowls of wrath are different than the first four bowls of wrath, and they appear to cover a much longer period of time than the first four—that is especially true of bowl number seven.

That we see the temple open here and in Chapter 15, appears to mark the same point in time which would be 1874 or 1878AD. It seems likely that the description of the punishment that we see beginning here in the seventh trumpet, is directly related to the bowls of wrath in Chapter 16, and especially to the seventh bowl of wrath. In that bowl, the thunder, sounds, and flashes of lightning, and earthquake, were striking severe blows against the church and state system around 1914, as we are also being shown here in the seventh trumpet. The last three bowls of wrath, and especially the seventh bowl with the same above symbols lightning, thunder, earth quake and hail, continue onward and shows us a more detailed application of these same symbols, that finishes off the entire evil Satanic system in time for the kingdom.

Revelation 8:5 Then the angel took the censer and filled it with the fire of the altar, and threw it to the earth; and there followed peals of thunder and sounds and flashes of lightning and an earthquake. (NAU)

Revelation 16:21 And huge hailstones, about one hundred pounds each, came down from heaven upon men; and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail, because its plague was extremely severe. (NAU)

The initial effects of that symbolic earthquake, broke up the last of the church and state system into its three separate parts, and with the destruction of the kings, the churches, have lost the support of the civil governments. The final application of the earthquake, and the hail in the seventh bowl of wrath, will take Satan's worldwide system of error completely down.

Hail Destroys the Refuge of Lies

The great hail we see here in the seventh trumpet, is the frozen water or hard truth, that

God has been storing up for the day of wrath, and the casting down of that hail or truth is what is causing the final destruction to the apostate church system and its error. The first application of the hail that we are shown in the seventh trumpet, did not finish off the doctrinal errors of the evil system completely, but the continuance of the hail that comes from the seventh bowl, will accomplish that destruction, because the hail storm gets much bigger as the time of trouble goes on.

In the final application of the last three bowls of wrath, anyone that is supporting Satan's evil system, will find out that they are supporting the wrong thing, and they must change and begin to follow our Lord. If they do not, they will not get the blessing of the kingdom!

Isaiah Chapter 60, which is a parallel reference to Revelation Chapter 21, indicates that the kings of the earth will be forced by the people to come into the blessings of the kingdom. The drying up of the support for the present evil world, will enable everyone that wishes to do so, to be able to get up on the highway of holiness, and those who want to hold onto power and wealth will not be able to do so. Those who do not leave the evil waters of that system and get up on the highway of holiness, will not get any blessing and if they continue to refuse they will lose their life.

Some of the same kinds of events that we see in the seventh trumpet, also appeared when God gave the law at Sinai. The giving of the law in Exodus 19, is a picture of the establishment of the New Covenant, which is symbolized by the Ark of the Covenant. That ark is what we see here in the open heavenly tabernacle in the seventh trumpet. The opening of the tabernacle, was when the knowledge of the New Covenant became available to the seventh church, because it was restored during the early part of the harvest message.

The New Covenant, is going to come to the world with the New Jerusalem, and it will be how both Israel and the world will receive their salvation in the Millennial age. The New Covenant had been won by our Lord at the First Advent on the cross, but most of Israel did not accept the salvation offered to them at that time, and when the church is complete, it will be offered to Israel again and they will be able to be grafted back into the root of the Abrahamic Covenant—but because they refused the heavenly blessing at the First Advent, they will only get the earthly blessing.

As Paul tells us in Hebrews, he is able always to save those who approach God through him, and so Israel will have a chance to accept the new agreement. They won't be able to get the high calling at that time, because the church will be complete then, and the heavenly salvation will not be offered in the Millennial kingdom.

Heb 7:20-25(20 This was confirmed with an oath; for others who became priests took their office without an oath, 21 but this one became a priest with an oath, because of the one who said to him,

*"The Lord has sworn and will not change his mind,
'You are a priest forever'" —*

22 accordingly Jesus has also become the guarantee of a better covenant.

23 Furthermore, the former priests were many in number, because they were prevented by death from continuing in office; 24 but he holds his priesthood permanently, because he continues forever. 25 Consequently he is able for all time to save those who approach God through him, since he always lives to make intercession for them. NRSV

Exod 19:16 So it came about on the third day, when it was morning, that there were thunder and lightning flashes and a thick cloud upon the mountain and a very loud trumpet sound, so that all the people who {were} in the camp trembled. (NAU)

Objects in the Ark

Exod 19:16 And it came to pass on the third day in the morning, that there were thunders and lightnings, and a thick cloud upon the mount, and the voice of the trumpet exceeding loud; so that all the people that was in the camp trembled. (KJV) Exod 19:19 And when the voice of the trumpet sounded long, and waxed louder and louder, Moses spake, and God answered him by a voice. (KJV)	Revelation 11:15 And the seventh angel sounded; and there were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign forever and ever. (KJV) Revelation 11:19 And the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his testament: and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunderings, and an earthquake, and great hail. (KJV)
Dan 7:26-27) 26 But the judgment shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it unto the end. 27 And the kingdom and dominion, and the greatness of the kingdom under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the most High, whose kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey him. (KJV) Hosea 6:2 After two days will he Revive us: in the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his sight. (KJV)	Revelation 11:18 And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead, that they should be judged, and that thou shouldest give reward unto thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and them that fear thy name, small and great; and shouldest destroy them which destroy the earth.
Dan 7:26 But the judgment shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it unto the end. (KJV) Dan 8:25 And through his policy also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart, and by peace shall destroy many: he shall also stand up against the Prince of princes; but he shall be broken without hand. (KJV)	Revelation 11:18 And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead, that they should be judged, and that thou shouldest give reward unto thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and them that fear thy name, small and great; and shouldest destroy them which destroy the earth.

There were several objects placed in the ark in the time of Moses, that symbolized different elements of truth. These objects are pointing to the special revealing of God's purposes and plan that were brought out in the harvest time by the Seventh Messenger. These truths were always there hidden in God's word, but now they are brought into view by the opening of the temple on this end of the age, which makes it possible for anyone that cares to consider these things, to be able to do so. God's Plan or mystery, is now being revealed to a greater extent than it ever has been before! We can now see into the symbolic heavenly temple where we could not before, and we can see how wonderful God's Plan is and we want to tell everyone the good news.

The word testimony in the name "ark of the testimony", implies that there is something to be testified about, and we see that the meaning of the word testament is very instructive. 1242 diatheke (dee-ath-ay'-kay); from 1303; properly, a disposition, i.e. (specially) a contract (especially a devisory will): KJV-- covenant, testament.

We are Under the Spirit of the Law

The wilderness Ark of the Covenant contained the stone tablets, which were given to Moses at Sinai with the law on them. That was the standard by which the Israel was to be judged when they were under the Mosaic Law. The church is not going to be judged by that same standard, but we are judged by the spirit of the law under the Melchizedec priesthood, which symbolizes Christ as our High Priest. Because the church is covered by the blood of Christ, we are judged regarding our intentions, and not our actions. If we intend to do right and we fall, we are forgiven and helped back up, if we do it deliberately, we risk sliding deeper into sin and losing our lives. In other words, if know better, then we are judged for that. That is also the way the Great Company falls, in that they do not work hard enough on cleansing their robe. If we fall, we need to get back up again and ask the Lord for forgiveness and help in overcoming the problem. See the notes on Chapter seven.

The Apostate church system had failed in that regard, because they deliberately intended to do harm to the Lord's church. It was time for their punishment to begin after the blowing of the seventh trumpet. That is why we see the temple open and the Ark of the Covenant with the stone tablets is seen in it, because it represents the standard of judgment against which their deeds are going to be compared. History shows that they have failed to keep their covenant with the Lord, and they are going to fall and fail because of that. God is going to satisfy the balance of justice before he is done with their punishment.

Since the Old Testament law has been replaced by the New Law or New Covenant, the New Law is what was being seen in the temple, as is explained by Paul below. That covenant, will provide the means by which Israel and the world can be restored back to the life rights that Adam lost in the garden.

Heb 8:1-6 (8 Now the main point in what has been said is this: we have such a high priest, who has taken His seat at the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens, 2 a minister in the sanctuary and in the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, not man. 3 For every high priest is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices; so it is necessary that this high priest also have something to offer. 4 Now if He were on earth, He would not be a priest at all, since there are those who offer the gifts according to the Law; 5 who serve a copy and shadow of the heavenly things, just as Moses was warned by God when he was about to erect the tabernacle; for, "SEE," He says, "THAT YOU MAKE all things ACCORDING TO THE PATTERN WHICH WAS SHOWN YOU ON THE MOUNTAIN." 6 But now He has obtained a more excellent ministry, by as much as He is also the mediator of a better covenant, which has been enacted on better promises. NASU

The Manna = Immortality

The ark also contained the manna that Israel had lived on during the 40 years in the desert. The ark was seen in the Holy of Holies and the glorious light that was seen above it signified God's presence. Since the manna was to last for all generations, it represents immortality, which those who are judged faithful will receive.

1 Chr 13:6 David and all Israel went up to Baalah, {that is} to Kiriath-jearim, which belongs to Judah, to bring up from there the ark of God, the LORD who is enthroned {above} the cherubim, where His name is called. (NAU)

Heb 9:3-5) 3 Behind the second veil there was a tabernacle which is called the Holy of Holies,

4 having a golden altar of incense and the ark of the covenant covered on all sides with gold, in which was a golden jar holding the manna, and Aaron's rod which budded, and the tables of the covenant;

5 and above it {were} the cherubim of glory overshadowing the mercy seat; but of these things we cannot now speak in detail. (NAU)

Two Salvations

At the harvest time, the church understood the Divine Plan and the New Covenant, and the fact that there was going to be not only be salvation for the church, but that there was also a salvation that was going to be revealed to Israel and the world that will save “all” in the next age if they are willing. The New Covenant is how the type of the Abrahamic covenant can be fulfilled, in which there were two different salvations promised. The promise of the sand of the seashore represents the earthly salvation, and the stars of heaven represent the heavenly salvation. That there were two distinct salvations was not seen clearly by many, except the apostles until this end of the age. That double salvation is the key of understanding, that led to the doctrine of the Divine Plan of the Ages.

The High Priest and The Second Application of Blood

The high priest was the only one able to enter the Most Holy and to see the Ark of the Covenant, and then only on the Day of Atonement. Our Lord has been in the spiritual temple in the heavens since the First Advent, and now after 1874AD he is preparing for the use of the second application of blood, which was symbolized by the blood of the goat. That goat was offered second on the Day of Atonement. The blood in the goat is our Lord's blood that he shed on the cross, but it is being used by the church until the 144,000 is complete, and then the blood can be used a second time for the salvation of the world. As soon as the church is complete, the second application of the blood will then be used to pay the price for the world, and the blessing will then spread to the whole world through Israel.

God's Plan Is Revealed in Much More Detail

We don't think that the temple being opened in the seventh trumpet, shows the completed church as some think, but we do agree that it pictures a major revelation and step regarding God's Plan. We would suggest that part of what is being revealed, is the truth that was brought to the church during the time of the harvest. That truth was both the judgment that was then due, and the revealing of the Divine Plan of the Ages.

Those who dwelt in the spiritual heavens at the time of the second presence and who were watching, could see God's Plan in much more detail than had ever been seen before. That the Ark of the Covenant was seen in the open temple, seems to point to the fact that God's Plan of salvation was not only going to be understood much more clearly by the church at that time, but that the world will eventually see it and understand it when the kingdom is established. All the objects in the ark, in symbol represent many of the truths that were restored at the time of the Seventh Messenger.

One of the very important doctrinal understandings that was cleared up in the harvest message, was that there was a difference seen between the heavenly church, and the rest of the world as far as salvation was concerned. It therefore seems reasonable, that seeing the ark of the testimony in the temple or in the heavens, was at least partially representative of the truth that was seen on those subjects at the time of the harvest. The spiritual heavens, contained the essential truths that had been lost sight of during the dark ages, as well as many new truths that were then due. One of the major doctrines that was understood at that time, was that natural Israel would become the nucleus of the earthly salvation.

The Dedication of Solomon's Temple

It was also suggested in our study, that the dedication of Solomon's temple fits the picture we see here in Revelation, in that it was dedicated one month before it was completed. The dedication in a symbolic sense began anti-typically in 1878AD, before the full number of the church was gathered and available to be completed. The following scriptures show that Solomon's temple was dedicated in the seventh month, which was one month before it was completed in the eighth month. I Kings 6:38, 8:2 See also 2 Chron 5: In other words, the temple could be dedicated in 1878AD, which was at the time that the sleeping saints were being resurrected, and the 144,000 could still be finished after the full number of the church is completed.

The Law of the Passover

The same thing is seen in the law of the Passover, where those who could not keep the Passover in the first month, can do so in the second month. Since there were not enough saints sealed and ready to make up the 144,000 in 1878AD, we see that the rest that were needed to complete the number, will keep the Passover in the second month. That shows that the selection of the church continues onward, until the full number of the church is complete, but we also know that God has a set time for everything to be completed, so we need to strive with all of our might to enter in. We don't know what that time is, but we know that the time is growing shorter with each passing year.

Regarding the symbol of one month, looking at the dedication of Solomon's temple, we see that it may also signify a symbolic change in the law or God's word, since a month or moon is symbolic of God's law. We originally at the time of the First Advent, had a change from the literal law of the Jews and the Old Testament, to what we call the New Testament. Just as Abraham's covenant had two parts, the New Testament gives us two parts, the first for the church as shown in the stars of heaven, and the second part for the world as shown by the sand of the sea shore. Those two salvations seem to be represented by two different moons, or one new moon to another new moon, such as Isaiah mentions in Chapter 66.

After the first month of the Gospel Age is done, we see that God's kingdom begins, as is symbolized by the second moon, which represents the Millennial age and which opens the salvation of the New Covenant for the world.

Isa 66:22-23 For as the new heavens and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, saith the LORD, so shall your seed and your name remain.

23 And it shall come to pass, that from one new moon to another, and from one Sabbath to another, shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the LORD. (KJV)

Smoke at Dedication of Solomon's Temple Equals Same Here

Just as in the type at the time of Solomon, when the smoke in the temple signified that God was present, the smoke that is seen in the temple in Chapter 15 shows that God is present through the presence of his son Jesus—the high priest. Both Jehovah and Christ in that sense, entered the heavenly temple in 1874-1878AD, just as we saw in the dedication of Solomon's temple. Those who missed out on the Passover in the first month by failing, their replacements must keep the Passover in the second month, and then the church will be complete. What date the church is finished on we don't know. Once the full number of the priests is present in the temple, the dedication is complete and the temple is completed, and then the New Jerusalem which contains the completed temple, will after that come down to the earth and it will be open for the people to come and worship.

Smoke In Isaiah 6:1

In Isaiah Chapter 6, we see a vision of the Lord in his temple, and that vision indicates the same time of 1874AD as what we are discussing in this trumpet. At that time, we also saw the temple filled with smoke, and Isaiah was cleansed by a coal of the fire off the altar. In Ezekiel, we see the same thing when the man with the writer's inkhorn is commanded to take fire off the altar. Both of those scriptural references are indicating the clear understanding of the ransom doctrine which covers our iniquities, the knowledge of that ransom doctrine was restored at the Second Advent. Isa 6:3-7 (3 And one cried unto another, and said, Holy, holy, holy, is Jehovah of hosts: the whole earth is full of his glory. 4 And the foundations of the thresholds shook at the voice of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke.

5 Then said I, Woe is me! for I am undone; because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: for mine eyes have seen the King, Jehovah of hosts.

6 Then flew one of the seraphim unto me, having a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with the tongs from off the altar:

7 and he touched my mouth with it, and said, Lo, this hath touched thy lips; and thine iniquity is taken away, and thy sin forgiven. ASV

Ezek 10:6-8 (6 It came about when He commanded the man clothed in linen, saying, "Take fire from between the whirling wheels, from between the cherubim," he entered and stood beside a wheel. 7 Then the cherub stretched out his hand from between the cherubim to the fire which was between the cherubim, took some and put it into the hands of the one clothed in linen, who took it and went out. 8 The cherubim appeared to have the form of a man's hand under their wings. NASU

Exodus Chapter 19

If we also look at Ex 19, we see that the symbols of the smoke and trumpet sound are a picture of what we see going on here in Revelation.

Exod 19:16-22) 16 So it came about on the third day, when it was morning, that there were thunder and lightning flashes and a thick cloud upon the mountain and a very loud trumpet sound, so that all the people who {were} in the camp trembled.

17 And Moses brought the people out of the camp to meet God, and they stood at the foot of the mountain.

18 Now Mount Sinai {was} all in smoke because the LORD descended upon it in fire; and its smoke ascended like the smoke of a furnace, and the whole mountain quaked violently.

19 When the sound of the trumpet grew louder and louder, Moses spoke and God answered him with thunder.

20 The LORD came down on Mount Sinai, to the top of the mountain; and the LORD called Moses to the top of the mountain, and Moses went up.

21 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, "Go down, warn the people, so that they do not break through to the LORD to gaze, and many of them perish.

22 "Also let the priests who come near to the LORD consecrate themselves, or else the LORD will break out against them." (NAU)

Chapter 12

The Vision of the Woman Forward

This Chapter has been a source of questions for some Bible Students. Many Bible Students see no problem with the traditional view, because it seems to fit with what happened historically with the Papal church and the Roman Empire. The traditional view as it interprets this Chapter, is the view that is found in the Bible Student manual, and some brethren have different and more elaborate versions of that view, which is based on that same theme.

At the same time, some question why the traditional view doesn't seem to let scripture interpret scripture, like is used in the rest of the book of Revelation. Since most of the participants in this study had questions about this Chapter, those questions are what we are going to explore. Here are some, but not all of the questions. We will add some comments with the questions, to help show that the Study Group found another way to look at these symbols. We will cover these in great detail later.

1. Why does the traditional view change the meaning of the Man-Child, from being Christ to being Papacy, when all other scriptures in the Bible show us that symbol represents Christ, the seed of the Abrahamic promise? Galatians 3:16. See also Isaiah Chapter 66:5, where a man child is born, which is the same man child that we see born in Rev 12:5.
2. Likewise, why does the traditional view change the symbol of Michael into being Papacy, instead of him representing Christ in his pre-crucifixion role, as all other scriptures in the Bible show him? We intend to show that he is called Michael in that part of the Chapter because the war he won began before the First Advent, when he only had the name Michael, and the battle in the heavens was won because of the blood of the Lamb, as it tells us in this chapter! See Dan 10:13 where Gabriel mentions the conflict and struggle that was going on at the time of Daniel.
3. How can we say that Michael is Papacy, when we see him waging war against the dragon and his angels? Are Papacy and Satan at war with each other, or is this Christ defeating Satan with the blood of the cross, as it actually tells us in the chapter? The answer should be obvious!

Likewise, how can we say that Michael represents Papacy, if Michael overcame the dragon with the blood of the Lamb? Papacy does not even understand what the blood of the Lamb does for us, because they believe that they have to crucify Christ over and over again in the mass in order to provide salvation. They could not defeat Satan with something they don't have or understand.

4. How can the woman represent the church, if her offspring are the faithful seed of the church in verse 17—the woman and the seed cannot symbolize the same thing? Those faithful seed are the stars of heaven seed, that was promised in the heavenly part of the Abrahamic

Covenant promises—the woman that has the two wings and is flying, is the one that has the faithful seed. We intend to show that the woman without the wings, and who is on foot, symbolizes and points to the next age and the earthly salvation that was promised in the Abrahamic Covenant—the sand of the sea shore.

5. Why don't we interpret the woman as being Sarah of the Abrahamic Covenant, and then all of the other symbols that are seen with her are all of the other covenants that God uses to provide restoration for the world of mankind? See Isaiah Chapter 54, Genesis 22:17-18, where we see a heavenly seed and an earthly seed, and Galatians 3:16-29, which defines the promised seed as singular, but which also tells us that we can become a part of the promised heavenly seed, by being body members of Christ.
6. Why do we say that Papacy was the one destined to rule the nations with a rod of iron, when Psalms 2:9 and Rev 2:27, 19:15, are the only other places that the rod of iron is mentioned in the scriptures? All of those places show that only Christ has the use of the rod of iron, and there are no places that show Papacy with a rod of iron. The Revelation 2:27 reference, shows that the Lord Jesus has promised the faithful church the use of the rod of iron in the next age. Papacy has illegally "claimed" the use of the rod of iron, but there are no scriptures that show him with it.
7. Why don't we use the other scriptures in the bible, that define the above symbols for us, in order to correctly interpret what they represent? That is the method that is used or should be used for all of the other symbols found in Revelation and the Bible. What happened to the scripture upon scripture interpretation, where we use the bible to interpret itself?

Private Interpretation Not Allowed

The pattern seen in other areas of the Bible and in Revelation, is that we need at least two or three witnesses from other scriptures to help interpret a scripture or a section of scriptures. We believe it's a valid Bible concept, that no scripture is of private interpretation! If we make a private interpretation, and place our own understanding on scripture, without other parallel scriptural evidence, we are being told by Peter that's not the correct way to interpret the Bible. If there is no other place that defines what we are studying, we can only do that only with great caution, but if there are other scriptures that tell us what each symbol means, then we need to use the other scriptures meaning to interpret what we are looking at!

2 Pet 1:20 First of all you must understand this, that no prophecy of scripture is a matter of one's own interpretation, (RSV)

If there weren't any parallel scriptures to help us interpret this area, we still couldn't see reversing the apparent meaning of the symbols in this Chapter without good reason. In our study, we concluded that reversing the symbols isn't the correct solution, as we have many scriptures from both the Old and New Testament to help us arrive at the meaning of the different verses and symbols in this Chapter. When we use that method, we get a clear message of salvation for not only the church, but as we will see, this Chapter will also show us the promise of earthly salvation for the world—in other words it will show us the complete Divine Plan of the Ages. We believe that the traditional interpretation for this Chapter, came from looking for an interpretation that seems to fit historically, but was accepted without allowing the rest of the Bible to interpret it for us. The traditional interpretation that we have for Rev Chapter 12, actually came from the Second Day Adventists and not Pastor Russel, as we will show in the comments on verse 1. There is only one early mention of this interpretation in the reprints, showing that Pastor was most likely not satisfied with that interpretation, and he never published it again. There were some questions that were asked about problems in that interpretation later in his ministry, and Bro Russell said that he didn't know the answer.

Traditional Interpretation Reverses Meaning of Symbols

The traditional interpretation given for this Chapter, appears to be the exact opposite of what the vision seems to be plainly telling us. That interpretation says that the Man-Child is not Christ, but it believes the Man-Child is Papacy. The traditional interpretation does not believe that Michael is a pre-crucifixion Christ, and it believes that he also represents Papacy. Besides the obvious reversal of the meaning of those symbols, why would we have two different symbols in the same Chapter representing Papacy? If the reversed meaning of symbols were found to be the pattern of interpretation regarding other scriptures in the Bible and especially in Revelation, we could perhaps see doing that. But to our knowledge, this is the only place where such a contrary method was used. That raises a serious question about the correctness of reversing the obvious meaning of the important symbols used in this Chapter, especially since those symbols are very clearly defined elsewhere in the Bible.

Chap 12 Woman Questioned, Regarding Being Abraham Covenant?

One thing we wish to make note of here, is that some believe that the woman here cannot represent a covenant, and that she must represent a church, because there is another woman in Revelation that represents a church, although its admitted the second woman is shown as being a bad church—a harlot.

In defense of the woman in Chapter 12 being a covenant, we can only say that the Bible describes her exactly in that manner, as shown in Isaiah 54:1, where we see the woman Sarah picturing the Abrahamic Covenant. The Apostle Paul also defines her as being a covenant in Galatians 4:24. There is no doubt that is what she symbolizes, because it is stated in Isaiah that the sons of the desolate, Sarah, will be more than the sons of the married one, which was the Jews married to Jehovah through the law.

So, to answer the objection, we can only state that there is no doubt that is what she represents, because we have a parallel scripture from the Old Testament, that shows her as the Abrahamic covenant at the time it was beginning to be fulfilled at the First Advent, and Paul also directs us to that same Chapter from Galatians. As to why the symbol is not the same as the evil woman is perhaps because of all the other covenant symbols that this woman is seen with. In other words, this woman has a package of accessories with her, that adds to the meaning of what she represents.

The other evil woman's accessories, such as the beast and the ten horns and the golden cup full of abominations and unclean things of her immorality, is what defines her as being different, and shows that she is an evil harlot. She might also be looked at, as those who originally had the covenant promises that came from the blood of Christ, but who like Esau sold their birthright for the wealth and power that came from the union of church and state. A woman can symbolize a covenant or a church, but a harlot can only symbolize a harlot, an unfaithful woman, who is not faithful to her covenant with the Lord. The unfaithful harlot could have been faithful, but those who created that system, did so because of the wealth, power and prestige that system brought to them. They fell before the same lies that Satan had tried to corrupt Christ with in the three testing's in the desert, but Christ remain faithful, but the fallen church did not because they accepted Satan's offer.

Woman Not Pictured in White?

Another complaint about this woman, is that it's said that she is not pictured in white, so the implication is that she is not a virgin. There a couple of things about that, the first is that she is clothed with the sun, which is like being clothed with bright white light. We see that same kind of thing when Jesus went up on the mountain and Moses and Elijah appeared to them, and Jesus became transfigured in glory. The vision of her being clothed with the sun, shows that whatever this woman represents, she cannot be something that is commonplace, but she has to represent something that is glorious and wonderful. Matt 17:2 And He was transfigured before them; and His face shone like the sun, and His garments became as white as light. NASU

The other thing that we would say about this, is that the woman is actually married. If she is Sarah picturing the Abrahamic Covenant, then in the type, she was married to Abraham who typifies Jehovah. To show that we are looking at this correctly, we are actually told in Isaiah chapter 54, that the woman is married to Jehovah.

Sarah was in a sense rejected when she could not bear children, and Abraham went to Hagar in order to try to get the child of promise—but that was not God's plan. Hagar pictured the law covenant, and God did not intend that the child of promise would come from the law—it was to come from the promise to Abraham. At the proper time, after being 90 years old, Sarah had the child. In the fulfillment of this type, we see that after more than 2000 years, God returned back to Sarah, the Abrahamic promise, and the child of promise who was Christ was born, starting the fulfillment of the Abrahamic blessings.

Isa 54:5-6 (5 For your Maker is your husband —the LORD Almighty is his name — the Holy One of Israel is your Redeemer; he is called the God of all the earth. 6 The LORD will call you back as if you were a wife deserted and distressed in spirit — a wife who married young, only to be rejected," says your God. NIV

Isaiah Chap 54 Woman Has Birthright of Abraham Covenant

So, to answer the objection, we can only state that there is no doubt that the Abrahamic covenant is what Sarah symbolically represents, because we have a parallel scripture from the Old Testament that shows her as the Abrahamic covenant, at the time it was beginning to be fulfilled at the First Advent.

The Woman In Chap 17 Sold Her Birthright

The woman in Chapter 17, is found with other symbols that define who she is, and which show us her sinfulness. She has rejected the covenant of the Lord that would have given her legitimacy and salvation, and she has established her own corrupt idea of salvation, which gives her civil power. For that reason, all of her seed or offspring will not receive crowns of Glory. In other words, just like Esau, she sold her birthright for earthly gain! She is clothed in scarlet and in purple, showing great sin, and she has mixed the Lords truth with the vile things in the cup that she has in her hand.

Regarding the two women that Paul talks about, he says in Galatians that the two women represent two Covenants, he names the law, and the Abrahamic Covenant is understood from the context he is talking about, and the fact that the quote Paul uses comes from Isaiah Chapter 54.

Gal 4:23-24 (24 This is allegorically speaking, for these women are two covenants: one proceeding from Mount Sinai bearing children NASU

Woman & Her Accessories Change Meaning At Birth Man-Child

One complaint that is given regarding the Abrahamic Covenant interpretation, is that it is said that at the time of the birth of the Man-Child, that the woman seen in Chapter one would not fit, because she would not have had the Gospel yet, nor the spirit of the law, and that she would not have had the 12 apostles. That is correct, but the symbols that she is seen with, have different meanings depending on when in history they are seen with the woman. Before the birth and sacrifice of the man-child, Christ, the moon that she is standing on, represented the Mosaic law covenant. The 12 stars symbolized the 12 sons of Jacob, and the sun or light, was the lesser light of the law covenant. The Sinaiticus has both the sun and the moon under her feet, shining light on her from below, which could make sense, but that is an unsure text, and so we only mention it for future study.

After the man-child completed his sacrifice, the meaning of the symbols become greatly enhanced. Because of the blood of the Lamb, the moon become the new law covenant, which is the spirit of the law. The 12 stars became the 12 apostles, and the light of the sun became the greater light of the Gospel of Christ.

Regarding another problem with the traditional interpretation, but we have not been able to locate it, but we remember reading an answer that Pastor Russell gave regarding a question on the blood of the Lamb found in this Chapter. The question was as best we can remember: If Michael and his angels are Papacy, and the dragon is Rome, why does it say that they overcame him, the dragon, with the blood of the Lamb? With the symbols used in that manner, you would have Papacy overcoming the dragon, which is a Satanic Roman power, with the blood of Christ, instead of Christ defeating Satan with his blood. Pastor answered that he didn't know how that could be! Even if we do not remember that question correctly, that is still a good question that needs to be examined!

Another thing which we have recently found out about, is that Constantine claimed that he had overcome the Pagan Roman dragon, which has some problems, because Constantine did not actually overcome the core of the dragon which is Satan, with the blood of the Lamb as we will explain later on in this document. The Pagan dragon symbol that is first seen in this chapter, has seven heads and ten horns on it, which is the part that symbolizes the Roman Empire in it's different iterations—as we will see, the Pagan Roman Empire that Constantine defeated, was only the sixth head. Constantine was actually guilty of setting up the conditions that led directly to the creation of the seventh head of the new beast that followed. The argument that he had defeated the dragon, was used in his time, to support the idea that the dragon was defeated, and because of that the kingdom of God had come. When we look at history, we can see that was a bad interpretation that helped to cause the evil church and state system that came into existence, during and after his time.

Reverse Interpretation Came from at Least 1857 & Not Pastor

In Addition, we have found that the traditional interpretation for this Chapter came from earlier sources, and was not something that Pastor Russell himself came up with. In researching the interpretation that is traditionally given in this Chapter, we found one publication with the same kind of interpretation regarding the Man-Child that existed as early as 1857AD. That publication interpreted it to be the rise to power of Papacy and being caught up to a Roman throne of power in the heavens, just exactly like we find in Reprint 306. That Reprint is where the interpretation of Revelation Chapter 12 was first introduced to the Bible Students, and which is where the anti-Christ is discussed. That is also the last place where that interpretation was ever published, except for the so-called Seventh Volume. The publication where we found the earlier interpretation that was like Reprint 306, was in the 1857 British Millennial Harbinger. The comments in that writing didn't explain the entire details of Chapter 12, but just gave their view of the woman, the birth and being caught up to the throne and the idea that the woman had to be the Christian church.

From Google books, 1857 British Millennial Harbinger, Pages 451- 455. This appears to be page 453—the pages aren't numbered very well in the text that is provided for this book.

“No other kingdom on earth has been found to contain this number. A beast is the symbol of a kingdom. 'He Latine Basileia' is in numerical import exactly 606. The demonstration is perfect. Thus do we bring our search for Daniel's little horn kingdom, John's Babylon, and Paul's Mystery of Iniquity to a satisfactory termination. The Man-Child was caught up to the throne of the Empire in the fourth century, grew mightily during the fifth and sixth, obtained dominion over all the churches in 606, when Eoniface III. received from Phocas the title of Universal Patriarch or Pope, stretched the iron rod of despotic rule over the nations when Pepin and - Charlemagne gave him political power and glory in 760, and was in full prime when Greg”

We found other interpreters closer to Pastors time, that treated the entire subject in the same manner as reprint 306 which we won't quote here, except to say that the reason that they gave for changing the meaning of the symbols, was that they felt that the woman could only be interpreted as the Christian church. We have heard that there were even earlier sources, for that interpretation than 1857, but we do not have the references for them, but the article we did find shows that the reprint 306 interpretation was an Adventist thought, not Bro Russel's.

We believe that Pastor Russell used, or that he got the idea from the earlier Adventist writers about this Chapter and not having a better explanation he went with that one, but there must have been doubts in his mind, because it was never mentioned it again after R 306. We would have to agree that if the woman had to be the Christian church, there is no way that she could give birth to the real Messiah. The Messiah started the Christian church and for that reason the Christian church could not give birth to the Messiah! But, we are going to show that with the proper interpretation, that the Man-Child Christ could start the church, which is the seed of the woman that Satan is attacking in this very chapter!

Satan's Deceptive Interpretation of the Chapter

Before we look at the symbols, we wish to mention that there is a second counterfeit fulfillment of this chapter that was orchestrated by Satan. It actually follows closely along with the Adventist-Bible Student interpretation, because the interpretation which was given to the early church at the time of Constantine, is actually following events that were brought about by Satan, which were designed to fool the church into thinking that the kingdom of God had come to the earth—but it was really a counterfeit kingdom.

In that false interpretation, Constantine has the woman represent the church, and the Man-Child represent Papacy, the same as the Bible Student interpretation. We will show some later history about the Papal claims about this interpretation in the full note section, that comes after the parallel table. The Papal system when they had gotten into power, claimed that the Man-Child being elevated up into power, was Papacy being elevated into supreme power by God. The Bible Student interpretation notes the rise to power, and correctly states that was a bad thing, but we don't believe that is what this chapter is designed by God to show.

During the time period where the Papal system began to rise to power, Constantine claimed that he had slain the dragon, which he believed symbolized the Pagan Roman Empire. Constantine did defeat the Pagan Roman Empire, which he claimed was the dragon. The problem was that he did defeat Paganism, but he did not defeat the dragon Satan, since we see the dragon "Satan" again, at the beginning of chapter 13, giving his power of the throne to the new beast. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast.

Unfortunately the church shortly after that statement, began to believe the claim that the kingdom of God had come to the earth, and so they looked for ways to help prove that. One way was that they have the war in heaven, be the war of the church with Paganism, but as we will show in the full explanation, it has a much more important meaning. Papacy is still using this explanation of the chapter at this very time, to claim that they are going to be back in power again at the end of the age, as we will show a little further onward.

Most of the rest of the chapter is similar to the explanation we will offer, except we believe that the two women represent the heavenly and the earthly portions of the Abrahamic Covenant. We see that the attacks by the Dragon or the beast in Rev 12 and 13, are attacks by Satan against the seed of the woman, which is the church.

After looking at this Chapter in detail, with the "scripture on scripture method", the Study Group concluded that the problem interpretation starts with the wrong conclusion of who the woman represents. That is the central problem symbol, that when correctly understood, unlocks the narrative of the key covenants of God and the hidden Divine Plan in this Chapter. When we interpret the Chapter with the Abrahamic Covenant method, we find that the symbols in this Chapter are showing us the two salvations that God has provided through the Abrahamic Covenant—the heavenly and the earthly salvation. The listing below defines the symbols that we looked at.

Symbols Meanings Before & After

- (1) Woman = Abrahamic Covenant with stars of heaven, sand of seashore promises of blessing-only change is the fulfillment of the covenant promises.
- (2) 12 Stars = sons of Jacob prior to birth of seed Christ, after sacrifice of Jesus = 12 Apostles
- (3) Sun = Gospel--Woman does not have the gospel light until sacrifice of Jesus, but there was a lessor fading light of the Old Testament as seen in the face of Moses.
- (4) Moon = Aaronic Law covenant = New law or spirit of law after ransom sacrifice of Jesus.
- (5) Heaven = Ecclesiastical heavens either age, but with different promises.

- (6) Woman in labor = Due time promised of seed Christ to be born—Midst of seventieth week pointed to correct time. Nation in expectation.
- (7) Faithful Gospel Age Church, will be the faithful seed of the woman, but they were to be plunged into the Great Tribulation and tested as part of Christ Head & Body.
- (8) Dragon = Satan—the accessories he has, are heads, horns, and they picture different Empires & civil power he controls during his history, and he propagates the false doctrine of Paganism through his entire history.
- (9) 7 heads = Empires he has and will control—6th Pagan Rome was in existence at time of John. Seventh is so called Christianized Roman Empire.
- (10) 10 crowns = 10 kings = total symbolic civil power as defined by Bullinger. Not limited to any particular time—there were literally ten at the restoration of the empire in 539.
- (11) 7 crowns = 7 Empires or 7 different forms of governments of Rome up to Apostate Christianized Rome, all of which at first had total & central control. The seventh lost central control, and the crowns moves to the 10 horns-see the explanation of the 10 horns and crowns. The eighth head is not a dragon or beast head, since it is a Papal controlled government. Became eighth head when Papacy got control over kings in 1169AD. The first seven heads were Roman, but the eighth head was not a Roman government, but it had sprang up from German tribes. That is why the vision of the original Roman beast, only had seven heads on it, the eighth was not Roman.
- (12) 10 crowns = After Rome was restored by 539, the restored kingdoms kept a measure of their civil power. The crowns were moved from the heads or central control, to the civil power of the kingdoms.
- (13) 1/3 Stars = First application = Faithful Jews being cast out of Jewish system, by apostates
1/3 Stars = Second application = Good Christians being cast out of Great City of Papacy, by apostates.
- (14) Earth = All of society—Good stars which were cast down from above, were persecuted and killed by this system in the earth—pictured by Elijah, 3.5 years = 1260.
- (15) Man-Child = Promised seed of Abrahamic Covenant— which is Christ Nations = Nations making up Empire of Rome-Might also include outside Barbarians who came into the Empire in some applications?
- (16) Rod of iron = Christ's Sheppard rule over kingdom. Ps Chap 2, Psa 110:2, 89:32, 1Cor 4:21, Heb 1:8
- (17) Wilderness = Desolate spiritual condition caused by Abomination of Desolation— Gradually restored as shown in Isaiah 35, by the springs of water which appear after the 1260 years expires.

About Sarah as a Covenant

To start our explanation, we are going to suggest that the woman represents Sarah as seen in Isaiah Chapter 54, and that she symbolizes the Abrahamic Covenant. We also see that her accessories that she has with her, represent all the other covenants that God has given mankind, which are designed to complete mankind's restoration back from the fall in the garden. The vision in verse one, is a complete vision of all of the salvation that is going to restore mankind. As we mentioned above, the woman at the time of the birth of the mankind, did not have the finished version of those symbols yet. The birth of the Man-Child and his sacrifice, is what made it possible for her to attain the finalized meaning of all of those symbols. The Abrahamic Covenant had lain dormant for over 2000 years, and when the child of promise arrived and completed his sacrifice, the heavenly part of the salvation began to be fulfilled. That original promise of the Abrahamic Covenant, also points to an earthly sand of the sea shore salvation in the next age.

Yes, Sarah does “picture” the church at the time of her death, but she is a “type” at the time that God gave the promises to Abraham, when she represents the Abrahamic Covenant. Not seeing that Sarah represents one thing through a “picture” at her death, and a totally different thing as a “type” when God gave the promises of the Abrahamic Covenant, causes a great deal of confusion over what Sarah represents. The scripture in Isaiah Chapter 54, that we will consider in detail later, shows us that the woman Sarah, as a “type” definitely represents the Abrahamic Covenant!

As you examine the following explanation of this Chapter, we ask that you look at it with an open mind, leaving all preconceived ideas behind. Since this is a complicated subject, please read all the way through from beginning to end before you decide. Yes, you will find that this is a very long read, versus the condensed version at the beginning of this book, but we want to make this Chapter overwhelmingly clear because of its importance regarding the Divine Plan of the ages, and the proof of the two salvations that are contained within it.

Study Group Concluded The New Interpretation Was Much Better

The conclusion that the Study Group arrived at, wasn't in agreement with the traditional view, but everyone felt that the interpretation discovered in this study is a great deal better, because it most firmly confirms both salvations of the Divine Plan of the ages, and it shows us the legal workings of God's Plan of salvation for both the church and the world. In the interpretation that we are going to present for Chapter 12, we will see that this area still shows us the corrupt development of the apostate church-state system and the persecution of the church—but it does not do that through the symbol of the Man-Child or the symbol of Michael. We will find that the severe persecution, especially occurred during the 1260 years of church and state power that is shown in this Chapter and in Chapter 13, and it comes through the power of the evil beast that Satan controls from behind the scenes. The situation became even worse, when later on we will see that the fallen church eventually got enough power to kill the saints, while thinking that they was doing them a favor.

But more importantly, this interpretation shows us the entire plan of God, both the earthly and the heavenly aspects of God's salvation. It doesn't do that if just this Chapter is read, and we put our own interpretation on it while the rest of the Bible is ignored. By bringing the rest of the Bible into the interpretation, using a scripture upon scripture interpretation, the beauty of the Chapter unfolds. By comparing the symbols in this Chapter with other scriptures, we will find that the entire Divine Plan of God is hidden in symbols in the midst of the book of Revelation! The woman and the symbols shown with her, will show us what God has been doing behind the scenes in the world as he has implemented his plan to bring mankind back to perfection and harmony with God, and to restore the life rights that Adam lost in the garden.

Everlasting Covenants

The study group concluded that at the beginning of Chapter 12, the symbol of the woman and all her accessory symbols, represent “all” of the covenants that are used by God to develop the Divine Plan of God. The Abrahamic Covenant promises are central to what the woman represents, but all the other things she is seen with, like the sun, moon and the stars, together will be seen to represent a composite of all the other covenants that God has made with mankind. Those covenants were given by God with the purpose of restoring mankind. This woman symbolizes Sarah, who gave birth to Isaac the promised child of the Abrahamic Covenant, who symbolizes Christ—who is the Man-Child of this Chapter.

But there is more than just Sarah in the picture here in Revelation. We see that the law covenant is shown by the moon the woman is standing on. That agrees with the covenant situation that existed at the First Advent, because the Jews had the promise of the Abrahamic Covenant, and they were also under the law covenant at the same time—although the law was not able to bring about the fulfillment of the Abrahamic promises, which needed and required the sacrifice of the promised seed who was Christ. That is why, at the sacrifice of the Jesus, the moon symbol changes to the new law, which is the spirit of the new law that we are able to keep, Romans 7:6, 8:2-4, Gal 5:18, and Heb 7:12.

Hagar Symbol Changes to Keturah at Kingdom

So while the main symbol of the woman represents the promises of the Abrahamic covenant, we see that there is additional symbolism seen in the vision, as shown by the other symbols with the woman, like the moon she is standing on. Those two symbols together represent both the Sarah and the Hagar aspects of the covenants. Paul explains those symbols in Galatians, explaining that they represent two great covenants. They are both major covenants that have produced seed or children, but Israel will not have her their children blessed until the fullness of the gentiles has come into the church—the church complete.

That is because most of Israel as represented in Hagar, had kept herself in bondage to the law and did not accept Christ, which would have brought her into the freedom of the Gospel Age. There was nothing that said they had to stay under the law covenant, they just kept themselves under the law because they did not recognize that their Messiah had come, but in the next age they will have to accept the salvation of the New Covenant that the Messiah had secured on the cross at the First Advent, or they will not get the sand of the seashore blessing, from the Abrahamic Covenant.

The Jews will not get their salvation through Hagar, but they must change to the symbol of Keturah to be blessed. The reason for the symbol change, is that the blessing will not come through the Hagar or law covenant in the next age, but it will come through the new law covenant, which is the New Covenant. The stars of heaven or the heavenly part of the Abrahamic Covenant began to be fulfilled at the First Advent, but most of Israel rejected the heavenly salvation which was available then, and because of that most of the blessing fell to the gentiles. The salvation which will be offered to Israel when the kingdom begins, will not be through the law, but it will be the earthly blessing part of the Abrahamic Covenant, and that blessing is pictured by Keturah. The Mosaic law or Hagar portion was not ever able to provide any salvation. In the next age, they will have only one choice left in order to get salvation, and that is that they must give up the law which is pictured by Hagar, and they must accept the New Covenant in order to get the promised sand of the seashore salvation, and that earthly blessing is pictured by the symbol of Keturah when she symbolically marries Abraham—who pictures Jehovah.

Two Women Two Salvations

We will find that there is a split in the woman after the promised seed, the Man-Child completes his sacrifice. The two different women that we will see in this Chapter, we believe represent two separate salvations that become possible because of the sacrifice of Jesus. We will explain that important observation later in the Chapter, when we consider the fleeing of the two different women into the wilderness. What is not generally noticed in Chapter 12, is that there are two different women fleeing, one flying with two wings, and the other one fleeing on foot. Those two-different women represent the two different salvations that are contained in the Abrahamic Covenant—the earthly sand of the sea and the heavenly stars of heaven.

The rest of the interpretation of this chapter is not dependent upon the two woman interpretation. If there is only one woman, which is given the wings at a latter point in her fleeing into the wilderness, that does not change anything else in the chapter. In that interpretation, we would only have one Abrahamic Promise woman which would be Sarah, with two promises of blessing in her, the stars of the heaven, and the sand of the sea shore. But we think that the idea that the woman splits into the two different promises of the Abrahamic Covenant at the birth of the Man-Child and his sacrifice, has merit and that is what you will find in this explanation until proven otherwise. If there isn't something different about the two different visions of the women, then why the different descriptions, which just happen to match the characteristics of the two different blessings of the Abrahamic Covenant—heavenly stars blessing and the earthly sand of the sea blessing.

Man-Child Equals Christ

Since the Abrahamic covenant looked for a child of promise through whom the blessings could be fulfilled, we should not be surprised to find that the child that she gave birth to, is the promised seed of the Abrahamic Covenant, the Man-Child”, who is Christ. By being faithful and offering his life, we see that he provided the blood of the covenant by which the Abrahamic covenant could begin to bless the heavenly seed. As we mentioned above, the blood of the Lamb, which is the blood of the covenant, is what made it possible for the woman to receive the greater meaning of the moon, the sun, and the 12 stars, etc. and she was then able to begin to bless the stars of heaven seed—the second part of the Abrahamic Promise of the sand of the seashore offspring, has to wait until the next age.

Faith in the Blood of the Lamb Is Critical to Salvation

The earthly seed will also get its salvation from that same blood, but the earthly seed will not be blessed until the fullness of the gentiles has come in—which is the church complete. It even tells us in this Chapter, that the Lamb's blood was how the Dragon or Satan was overcome, and that was how he was symbolically cast out of the ecclesiastical heavens and thrown down to the earth. He is not able to accuse us in the heavenly sphere, because Christ is sitting on the throne of God pleading our case for us. That means that if we believe in and have faith in our Lord's blood, Satan is not able to accuse us anymore during the Gospel Age, because all our sins are covered. If we lose faith in that blood, he can overcome us, which unfortunately has happened to many during the Gospel Age.

Without the blood of the Lamb, the church would not have been possible, and they could not individually have overcome the dragon or Satan during the Gospel Age, and neither would there be any salvation later for the world. That is why Satan worked so hard with the flood of error that he spewed out after the woman, trying to defeat the knowledge of the covenant that brings salvation to the seed of the woman, which is the Gospel Age church. As we will see, he was largely successful in drowning out the knowledge of the covenant, except for some faithful who were forced into hiding like Elijah.

There was also a literal attack by a flood of people, which were the Pagan Romans, and even some barbarians that came into the Empire. The most tragic thing that happened, was that the main church fell so far into error, they began to kill and persecute the faithful church. That especially happened during the 1260 years from 539-1799 AD.

The Faithful Seed Is Seen in Verse 17

In verse 17, we see the faithful remnant or the seed of the woman, the seed being the church. That is an important point to notice, because if the seed of the woman is the church, as it very clearly shows and tells us in that verse, then the symbol of the woman cannot be the church!

Paul gives us the quote from Isaiah Chapter 54, telling us that we are the children of the Sarah Covenant as seen in Isaiah Chapter 54, and that makes us children of Sarah in this Chapter in verse 17—Sarah symbolizes the Abrahamic Covenant!

Gal 4:25-28 (26 But the Jerusalem above is free; she is our mother. 27For it is written, "REJOICE, BARREN WOMAN WHO DOES NOT BEAR; BREAK FORTH AND SHOUT, YOU WHO ARE NOT IN LABOR; FOR MORE NUMEROUS ARE THE CHILDREN OF

THE DESOLATE THAN OF THE ONE WHO HAS A HUSBAND." 28 And you brethren, like Isaac, are children of promise. NASU

Gal 4:31 So then, brethren, we are not children of a bondwoman, but of the free woman. NASU

This Chapter also introduces us to a detailed description of our Adversary Satan, and describes how he tries to defeat the knowledge of heavenly salvation that Christ has provided. We see that the blood of the Lamb is what has symbolically cast him out of the heavens, so that he cannot accuse us before the Father anymore. Prior to the providing of the ransom price, Satan could accuse us, as in the example of Job and the high priest in Zechariah Chapter 3. In that scripture, our Lord put a white robe on Joshua and a miter on his head, covering him for his sins.

We Must Keep the Robe On

But now as we will see in this Chapter, Satan has been overcome and cannot accuse us of anything if we keep the robe of Christ's righteousness on. Even death cannot defeat us, because our life is guaranteed through Christ, and if killed we have the resurrection to restore us to life with Christ. The only way he can defeat us, is if we think we can stand on our own without Christ's blood, or if he can get us to accept a false doctrine that negates the blood of the ransom—like the mass or the Trinity. That has been one of his main tactics all through the age, and many have fallen after first losing sight of what Christ had done for us. If we lose our faith or our knowledge of what the blood of Christ has done for us, we are then able to be accused, and we will lose, because we have no standing on our own.

In the study of this vision, the Study Group decided to see if it would be possible to continue our previous scripture upon scripture method of interpretation, which is allowing the Bible to interpret itself. The reason why that is a better way of getting the proper understanding of the Chapter, will be obvious when you look at the scripture table that follows this section. As you will see, when we examine it, there is a great deal of evidence in other scriptures that interprets all the verses for us—if we have the correct understanding of the verses that parallel the Rev Chapter 12 verses. That interpretation derived from that scriptural comparison, will be drastically different than the traditional interpretation.

Please study the following table carefully. Looking at the cross-references in the table will help in understanding the explanation that will follow. There will still need to be a lot of explaining of how what's in the table applies to this Chapter, but with this table in mind, it will be easier to see what the correct interpretation is, which is based upon a scripture upon scripture interpretation.

On the Rev Chapter 12 side of the table, we are going to give a short definition for all of the symbols that are found in the Chapter, but without any complex explanation. Giving definitions for those symbols will help to outline what this Chapter is telling us. Having those definitions in front of us when we are considering the parallel scriptures, will help us to see what is being shown in the Chapter. See the table on the next page. After the table which begins on the next page, we will begin a verse by verse study of the Chapter and what it means. Many points that were not discussed in the above section, will be covered and explained.

Detailed Explanation of Rev 12

Rev 12:1 A great sign appeared in heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and on her head a crown of twelve stars; (NAU)

The Woman

This explanation will be quite long and detailed, but that is necessary because of the importance of understanding the vision of salvation found in this Chapter. Some of what we will explain in this first section, will be covered verse by verse again later, but we want the entire interpretation to be all in one place in this first verse, to make it more understandable.

There is a summary of this Chapter at the beginning of this book, and just before the scripture table above, which are for those who want an overview, but they do not provide that much scriptural evidence, so we recommend reading the full section that begins here, and it's important to look at the scriptural table and the forward above to get the full import of the Chapter. The summary sections do provide a complete interpretation, and they would be a good place to start if you lack the time to read the full account, but the explanation given here provides much more detailed evidence. There has been a different interpretation given by the traditional view regarding this Chapter, and that is why it's necessary to explain everything in great detail, in order to help everyone sort out what is correct.

First Looking At Who the Woman is Not

A very important key to understanding this Chapter, is to get a scripturally correct definition of what the woman represents. Let's first look at who she is not and why, and then we will talk about what she actually represents.

One Catholic idea, that the woman is Mary, is not an idea that we need to take seriously. The only reason we mention it, is because that is one of the interpretations that they place on the woman in their attempt to make Mary into something that she is not. Unfortunately, they make Mary into something that she is not, with ideas such as Immaculate Conception and so on. There are many in the Catholic system, that place Mary into a position of where they think that she has more power to forgive our sins than Christ. That is an example of an anti-Christ doctrine, that is part of the Abomination of Desolation—it also shows how oblivious they are regarding the true salvation of Christ.

Mystical Interpretation of Church Officials Equals Man-Child

In this interpretation, they do have the Man-Child as Christ, which we believe is correct. The problem that happens in their Man-Child explanation, is that they change the head of the church who is Christ into Papacy and the church hierarchy after he has gone into heaven. In other words they make the Pope his representative here on earth, with Christ's power to make decisions for the church. That makes the Pope into something that he is not, and that is what has caused much of the problems for the church, all through the age.

That idea is a mystical interpretation, where they say that the woman is the church who continually and mystically gives birth to the Man-Child, who they say is the Catholic hierarchy which includes Papacy. They think that when the Man-Child was elevated up to God's throne, that was when God gave the church officials the authority and power to rule over the nations, with the rod of iron in Christ's name.

We are not sure how they explain the loss of power on this end of the age, but they probably claim it's from attacks by Satan. That explanation is the Papal counterfeit kingdom claiming to be the victim, when they really are Satan's evil system.

We are taking special notice of this interpretation, because they make the church officials into the Man-Child, with Papacy at the head. They say that is a good thing, while we know that is a bad thing. The kind of theology found in the article we give below, is what was used to justify Papacies reign of terror over the nations during the 1260 years. The entire article is at the link below. In giving the history of this idea, they say that it existed in one form or other from a few hundred years after Christ, until it fell out of favor with a Pope that they name in the article, and that was when the Mary theory became dominant. In modern times, the mystical interpretation has been again promoted by the last few Popes—probably because they hope to use this theology to justify getting into power again.

One important thing that we have been made aware of, is that Satan has spent a great deal of effort into making this chapter into something that the early church believed was fulfilled. That was how he convinced the church at the time of Constantine and afterward, that the kingdom of God had come. The elevating of the man-child into the heavens, and claiming that it is the Papal hierarchy being given power and control over both the church and the earth, is how he convinced the early church that the kingdom had come, and that Papacy was Christ's appointed representative. Those lies is what led the church into darkness, and caused the worst time of trouble since there was a nation. We will see more of this kind of interpretation as we go through the chapter. The following idea was the basis for the church and state system, and the author of the following is trying to modify the original idea and doctrine, so as to re-apply it again at the end of the age, thinking that Papacy will get the original power back again.

The quoted article is an attempt by the author to modify the original Catholic interpretation of the mystical Man-Child, giving the interpretation a future fulfillment at the end of the age, in other words they plan on taking power again like they had in the dark ages. What we were interested in this article for, was the earlier thoughts where they had Papacy as the Man-Child ruling in the heavens with God, but we also take notice of the new future looking interpretation, which could justify a grab for ecclesiastical and civil power again. We note that the original definition of the man-child being caught up to God, is very close to the

“Although in this world the Church is persecuted by the infidels, she has never ceased to generate the Logos from her heart. As it is written, she has given birth to a male child, who is to reign over all the people, the virile and perfect Christ, the Son of God, God and Man...and the Church, generating him continually, instructs all the people” (Hippolytus); “The woman in labour, who is giving birth to the virile Logos in the hearts of the faithful, is our Mother, the Church” (Methodius); “Even though the serpent opposes her, the Church eternally generates Christ; in fact, the Church daily reproduces herself as the Church, ruling the world in Christ” (Bede).”

The article that we quote from above, gave its quotes from writers who lived during the 1260 years when Papacy did have great power, but the modern author changed from what the earlier writers thought the meaning was, and he now points to a future ruling of the earth by Papacy, rather than the ones in the quotes above, who believed it was being done in their time. The new interpretation that this article has put forth, has most likely been inspired because the Catholic Church is not ruling over the world at present, but they believe that they will reign again later.

They thought that their ruling over all the nations was a good thing, while we know it was a very bad thing, especially since history of that time shows that it was a time of terror. Their interpretation, also removes the biblical interpretation of who the Man-child actually is. Satan likes to get rid of anything that shows what Christ accomplished on the cross.

Is the Woman The Nation of Israel?

Others expositors think that the woman is the nation of Israel, but in our study, we determined that the woman cannot represent the nation of Israel, as she appears to be at the point in time that she is in labor, because calling the woman the nation of Israel will not work as a consistent symbol throughout the entire Chapter. Whatever the woman represents, the symbolism must work in all places in this Chapter.

Is the Woman The Christian Church?

In the second description of the woman where she is given the two wings, she seems to represent the Christian church, rather than the literal Jewish nation, but as we will see, that definition does not work in all places either. If we make the woman represent the Christian church in all places, as the traditional view does, then we have a major conflict in the Chapter itself in verse 17, because the church is identified as the seed of the woman. The church is not the church buildings, but it is the individuals that make up the church, the seed of the woman. So it should be obvious that whatever the woman is, the seed shown in verse 17 came from the woman symbol, but they are not the woman—they are only her seed.

The church cannot give birth to the church either, because the church did not exist before the Man-Child. We would also have a problem with every place except where the woman gives birth to the Man-Child, because that was when the nation of Israel was in existence—after that the church would be in existence. So the woman symbol would not work as the nation of Israel.

If we say that the chapter is about the church and Papacy, then we would have the traditional view, which seems to work, except it ignores the rest of the bible. There is conflict with several Old and New testament scriptural cross-references, that tell us that the Man-Child is Christ and that he was caught up to God and his throne at the First Advent. The new Testament tells us the same thing, in that Christ was caught up to God's throne, and he sits on his right hand, waiting for the time that the earth will be made a footstool for his feet—take control over the earth in his millennial reign. If we wish to ignore the rest of the Bible, we may be able to support the traditional view, but we would still not have an explanation of why all the symbols in this Chapter are reversed from their normal biblical meaning.

If we bring in the rest of the Bible, using the scripture on scripture interpretation method, then we find that the interpretation which says that the woman in travail represents the Gospel Age church can't be right. That is because the church cannot give birth to Christ, since Christ the Man-Child and his sacrifice is the one who started the church. He was the promised seed of the Abrahamic Covenant, and that should give us a big hint and proof as to what the woman must represent symbolically in order to work in all places in this Chapter! If Christ is the seed of the Abrahamic Covenant, then shouldn't we be looking at the woman as being Sarah, who represents the Abrahamic Covenant? In the type, Sarah was to produce the Man-Child or seed, and that is what we are looking at in this vision! That is an important observation that we are going to explore in detail.

If you have two symbols in the same book of the Bible, interpreted as being the same thing, with one symbol giving birth to the other, then you should realize that you have at least one of them interpreted incorrectly. We can't change who the seed or children represent, because the scriptures in verse 17 tell us that they are the faithful church that Satan wars against, and so it becomes obvious that the problem is with the traditional interpretation of who the woman is. That symbol is what we need to examine and find the correct interpretation for!

If the woman is viewed as just the Christian church, then any attempt to interpret it that way must start after the church is in existence and not in the time of the First Advent, before the crucifixion. That is why it's traditionally thought that the Man-Child can't be Christ, because in that kind of interpretation he was already caught up to God hundreds of years before, and therefore, the Man-Child would have to symbolize something else. The only other possible candidate seemed to be Papacy, and that is why the symbols in the traditional Bible Student interpretation have their meaning changed to their exact opposite from what the scriptural cross-references tell us that they should be. Strangely enough, that is also why the symbolism of Michael is reversed in this Chapter by the traditional view, making him Papacy, which again is another problem, in that the traditional view has both Michael and the Man-Child being interpreted as being Papacy. We don't believe that either traditional interpretation of those symbols is correct.

Bible Cross References Are the Only Correct Interpretation Method

Since the entire book of Revelation, as well as most other scriptural areas, are interpreted by using a scripture on scripture or cross-reference method of interpretation, we believe that ignoring the scriptural cross-references to other parts of the Bible is a big mistake. The wrong idea of who the woman must be, has caused the wrong interpretation of much of this Chapter, as we will see when we examine it. That solution will also have the hidden beauty of showing us the entire Divine Plan of the Ages, which we will find is shown in the symbols of this Chapter, when they are viewed in the revealing light of other scriptures.

Objection to the Woman Being the Abrahamic Covenant

This is a repeat from the summery above, because of its importance. One thing we wish to make note of here, is that some believe that the woman here cannot represent a covenant, and that she must represent a church, because there is another woman in Revelation that represents a church, although its admitted the second woman is shown as being a bad church—a harlot.

In defense of the woman in Chapter 12 being a covenant, we can only say that the Bible describes her exactly in that manner, as shown in Isaiah 54:1, where we see the woman Sarah picturing the Abrahamic Covenant. The Apostle Paul also defines her as being a covenant in Galatians 4:24, by naming the law covenant, and then pointing to Isaiah chapter 54 to show what covenant was the other great covenant. There is no doubt that is what Sarah symbolizes, because it is stated in Isaiah that the sons of the desolate one without child, Sarah, will be more than the sons of the married one, which was the Jews married to Jehovah through the law.

So, to answer the objection, we can only state that there is no doubt that is what she represents, because we have a parallel scripture from the Old Testament, that shows her as the Abrahamic covenant, at the time it was beginning to be fulfilled at the First Advent, and Paul also directs us to that same Chapter from Galatians. As to why the symbol is not the same as the evil woman is perhaps because of all the other covenant symbols that this woman is seen with. In other words, this woman has a package of accessories with her, that adds to the meaning of what she represents.

The other evil woman's accessories, such as the beast and the ten horns and the golden cup full of abominations and unclean things of her immorality, is what defines her as being different, and shows that she is an evil harlot. She might also be looked at, as those who originally had the covenant promises that came from the blood of Christ, but who like Esau sold their birthright for the wealth and power that came from the union of church and state. A woman can symbolize a covenant or a church, but a harlot can only symbolize a harlot, an unfaithful woman, who is not faithful to her covenant with the Lord. The unfaithful harlot could have been faithful, but those who created that system, did so because of the wealth, power and prestige that system brought to them. They fell before the same three lies that Satan had tried to corrupt Christ with in the desert, but Christ remain faithful, but the fallen church did not because they accepted Satan's offer.

Woman Not Pictured in White

Another complaint about this woman, is that she is not pictured in white, so the implication is that she is not a virgin. There a couple of things about that, the first is that she is clothed with the sun, which is being clothed with bright white light. We see that same kind of thing when Jesus went up on the mountain and Moses and Elijah appeared to them, and Jesus became transfigured in glory. That shows that whatever this woman represents, she cannot be something that is commonplace, but she has to represent something that is glorious and wonderful. Matt 17:2 And He was transfigured before them; and His face shone like the sun, and His garments became as white as light. NASU

The other thing that we would say about this, is that the woman is actually married. If she is Sarah picturing the Abrahamic Covenant, then in the type, she was married to Abraham who typifies Jehovah. To show that we are looking at this correctly, we are actually told in Isaiah chapter 54:5-6, that the woman is married to Jehovah.

Sarah was in a sense rejected when she could not bear children, and Abraham went to Hagar in order to try to get the child of promise—but that was not God's plan. Hagar pictured the law covenant, and God did not intend that the child of promise would come from the law—it was to come from the promise that was given to Abraham. At the proper time, after being 90 years old, Sarah had the child. In the fulfillment of this type, we see that after more than 2000 years, God returned back to Sarah. When that happened, the Abrahamic promise was started to be fulfilled, with the child of promise who was Christ being born, which started the fulfillment of the Abrahamic blessings.

Isa 54:5-6 (5 For your Maker is your husband —the LORD Almighty is his name — the Holy One of Israel is your Redeemer; he is called the God of all the earth. 6 The LORD will call you back as if you were a wife deserted and distressed in spirit — a wife who married young, only to be rejected," says your God. NIV

So, to answer the objection, we can only state that there is no doubt that is what Sarah represents, because we have a parallel scripture from the Old Testament that shows her as the Abrahamic covenant, at the time it was beginning to be fulfilled at the First Advent.

The Woman In Chap 17 Sold Her Birthright

The woman in Chapter 17, is found with other symbols that define who she is, and which show us her sinfulness. She had rejected the covenant of the Lord, that would have given her legitimacy and salvation, and she has established her own corrupt idea of salvation, which gave her access to civil power. In other words, just like Esau, she sold her birthright for earthly gain!

The Legal Framework of the Divine Plan of the Ages

The Core Symbol of the Woman Equals the Abrahamic Covenant

To start the study regarding what the woman represents, we are going to suggest that we need to begin with the explanation that the woman and her accessories together are representing all the covenant promises of God—with God's promises to Abraham being central to what the woman represents. As we will see when we examine each one, the accessories that the woman has with her, represent all the other covenants that God has or will make with mankind. Because she centrally represents the Abrahamic promises, she contains the salvation of both the heavenly and the earthly seed.

The Abrahamic covenant is central to what she represents, but the accessories she is seen with represent all the other covenants of God, which all work together with the goal of bringing mankind back into harmony with God. The symbol of the woman with her accessories such as the sun, the moon, and the stars, are all together showing us God's Plan of the ages and how it's being carried out, step by step, from the beginning to end. But, she did not have the full meaning of all of those symbols yet, until Christ provided the blood of the ransom, which is actually mentioned in verse 11.

Rev 12:11 And they overcame him because of the blood of the Lamb and because of the word of their testimony, and they did not love their life even when faced with death.

NASU

All of the symbols of God's covenants, that are necessary for the development of the church and for the restoration of all of mankind, are included with the woman. Looking at the woman in that way will be seen to have eliminated all the difficulties, conflicts, and objections that we and others have noted regarding this chapter.

Core symbols of Woman Man-Child & Michael Interpreted by Bible

Starting with that kind of interpretation, we will find that the symbols of the Man-Child and Michael, will also prove to be exactly who the Old Testament and New Testament scriptures tell us they are. Michael was Christ in his pre-human existence, who was as a faithful archangel of God, and the Man-Child is the promised child or seed of the Abrahamic covenant, who provided the means through his blood, by which the Abrahamic Covenant could begin to be fulfilled.

Dan 12:1 "Now at that time Michael, the great prince who stands guard over the sons of your people, will arise. And there will be a time of distress such as never occurred since there was a nation until that time; and at that time your people, everyone who is found written in the book, will be rescued. NASU

Jude 9 But Michael the archangel, when he disputed with the devil and argued about the body of Moses, did not dare pronounce against him a railing judgment, but said, "The Lord rebuke you!" NASU

1 Thess 4:16 For the Lord Himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel and with the trumpet of God, and the dead in Christ will rise first. NASU

Accessories of the Woman Equals the Support Covenants

Keeping in mind that there is a difference between a covenant and the seed of the covenant, we are now going to explain the symbols of the woman individually, and in more detail. The woman as shown in verse one, represents a picture of God's Divine Plan, as defined by all the covenants that God needed to make with mankind, in order to restore them. As we mentioned earlier, the accessories symbols she is seen with in the initial vision, do not get their full meaning yet, until Christ supplies the blood of the ransom on the mercy seat—as we explained earlier.

When Paul says that the two women represent two Covenants, he names the law covenant, and the Abrahamic Covenant is understood from the context of what he is talking about, which included Isaiah Chapter 54, which he quotes from.

Full Meaning of Accessory Covenants Require the Ransom to Initialize

One complaint that is given regarding the Abrahamic Covenant interpretation, is that it is said that at the time of the birth of the man Child, that the woman seen in Chapter one would not fit, because she would not have had the Gospel yet, and she would not have had the 12 apostles. That is correct, but the symbols that she is seen with, have different meanings, depending on when they are seen with the woman.

She is after the blood of the Lamb is paid, seen together with all the items or symbols of the different covenants, and they then show us the different parts of God's Plan which are developed through those covenants. Looked at that way, the vision of the woman in verse one, is not limiting us to God's Plan as seen prior to the time of Christ, but after the blood of the cross it's supplying a new and completed picture of God's covenant salvation through the Gospel Age and the Millennial Age.

The Gospel

For example, we see that the woman is clothed with the full sun of the Gospel after the man-child is taken up and he provides the blood of the Lamb, and that is when the new brighter light of the New Testament, replaces the lesser light of the Old Testament which was seen in Moses' face when he took the veil off. The glory that the woman or the covenant is clothed with, is the glory of the Gospel or good news that Paul was talking about in 2 Corinthians, which is a much greater glory than the one that Moses saw regarding the law. The light of the law is only a reflected light of the sun, and it should be obvious that the source of that reflected light, is the full sun which is much brighter and glorious.

2 Cor 3:7-11 (7 The Law was carved in letters on stone tablets, and God's glory appeared when it was given. Even though the brightness on Moses' face was fading, it was so strong that the people of Israel could not keep their eyes fixed on him. If the Law, which brings death when it is in force, came with such glory, 8 how much greater is the glory that belongs to the activity of the Spirit! 9 The system which brings condemnation was glorious; how much more glorious is the activity which brings salvation! 10 We may say that because of the far brighter glory now the glory that was so bright in the past is gone. 11 For if there was glory in that which lasted for a while, how much more glory is there in that which lasts forever! TEV

The Gospel or good news was preached to the nation of Israel at the time of the Apostles before the crucifixion, and even more so after the Gospel Age started. The message of good news has continued throughout the Gospel Age, and eventually that preaching will have brought in the fullness of the Gentiles, which is when the church will be completed. After the Gospel Age church is complete, the earthly blessing will go forth to the world through the sand of the seashore portion of the Abrahamic covenant. The brightness of the sun of righteousness will heal those who fear God, but it will destroy or burn up all who are evil and refuse to repent. The good news of the Gospel Age, is that Christ has died for our sins, and because of that, all who are willing to accept that salvation, which includes both the church and the world, will eventually be saved.

That she is clothed with the sun, also shows us that the seed of the children that are in her, are covered with Christ's righteousness. In the Old Testament, Christ is called the Sun of Righteousness, and to be clothed with that sun would indicate that we have put on Christ. That we are covered with Christ, is the same thing as being covered with the robe of righteousness. God does not look upon our sins now, but only sees the righteousness of Christ covering us.

Gal 3:27 For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ. (KJV)
Mal 4:2 "But for you who fear My name the sun of righteousness will rise with healing in its wings; and you will go forth and skip about like calves from the stall. (NAS)

Isa 61: I will greatly rejoice in the LORD, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decked himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorned herself with her jewels. (KJV)

The Mosaic Law Changes to the New Law

The law covenant or the Hagar portion of the covenant, had been added to the promise of the Abrahamic Covenant at the time of Moses, but the law had not been able to and was not even designed to bring about the fulfillment of the Abrahamic Covenant.

Gal 3:18-19 (For if the inheritance is based on law, it is no longer based on a promise; but God has granted it to Abraham by means of a promise. 19 Why the Law then? It was added because of transgressions, having been ordained through angels by the agency of a mediator, until the seed would come to whom the promise had been made. NASU

We see the law covenant portion of God's Plan in verse one, in Rev Chapter 12, where we see the woman standing on the symbol of the moon and at that time the moon symbolized the Mosaic Law—this vision also changes when the blood of the Lamb is supplied. The Jews prior to the time of Christ, were under the literal law, but since the crucifixion and the birth of the man-child and his sacrifice, the literal law has been replaced with Christ as a high priest, who has offered better sacrifices, good for all times. He is now a high priest under the priesthood of Melchizedek—which means that we are under a changed law, and we are not under the Law of Moses anymore.

We are not under the letter of the law which kills, but we are now under the spirit of the law which brings life. We need to keep our hearts pure and working on overcoming sin, and if we do that, our sins and mistakes are covered by the blood of Christ. The New Creature will leave the sinful old earthly nature which is dead behind, and not being burdened by that original sinful nature, the new mind or will that was developed while resisting that old nature, will as a spirit be able keep God's law perfectly.

2 Cor 3:5-6 (Not that we are adequate in ourselves to consider anything as coming from ourselves, but our adequacy is from God, 6 who also made us adequate as servants of a new covenant, not of the letter but of the Spirit; for the letter kills, but the Spirit gives life.

Heb 7:11-17(11 Now if perfection was through the Levitical priesthood (for on the basis of it the people received the Law), what further need was there for another priest to arise according to the order of Melchizedek, and not be designated according to the order of Aaron? 12 For when the priesthood is changed, of necessity there takes place a change of law also. 13 For the one concerning whom these things are spoken belongs to another tribe, from which no one has officiated at the altar. 14 For it is evident that our Lord was descended from Judah, a tribe with reference to which Moses spoke nothing concerning priests. 15 And this is clearer still, if another priest arises according to the likeness of Melchizedek, 16 who has become such not on the basis of a law of physical requirement, but according to the power of an indestructible life. 17 For it is attested of Him,

"YOU ARE A PRIEST FOREVER
ACCORDING TO THE ORDER OF MELCHIZEDEK." NASU

Christ Has Taken the Place of All of the Animal Sacrifices

All the literal ordinances and animal sacrifices, are no longer necessary, because of what Christ did in fulfilling the law, and that is that he has taken the place of those sacrifices. The symbol of the “moon” under the woman’s feet, does not change, only how the new moon is now satisfied has changed by what Christ accomplished with his blood on the cross. We now don’t have to keep the letter of the law, because we only need to keep the spirit of the law, and that change was made possible because of the blood of Christ, which sets us free from the condemnation of the law.

Rom 8:1-4 (1 Therefore there is now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. 2 For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus has set you free from the law of sin and of death. 3 For what the Law could not do, weak as it was through the flesh, God did: sending His own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and as an offering for sin, He condemned sin in the flesh, 4 so that the requirement of the Law might be fulfilled in us, who do not walk according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. NASU

In Galatians, we see that the law and the Jews were pictured by Hagar, and that the law was at the time of Moses added on to the Abrahamic promise, but it didn’t change the original promise of the Abrahamic Covenant, nor was it able to bring about its fulfillment. The salvation which Christ has brought to us, didn’t come from the law, but the law did point the way through types and shadows to Christ, and what he was going to do. The salvation that he brings to all in both ages, comes to us through the promise to Abraham, when God promised Abraham, that “through thee and thy seed, shall all the families of the earth be blessed”.

The coming of the promised seed, which was the Man-Child, and his having shed his blood for us, is what has made the salvation of the Abrahamic Covenant able to be fulfilled, with the stars of heaven portion being blessed first. The blood of Christ, which is the blood of the New Covenant, has made that salvation possible, as is explained in verse 11, because it has made it possible for the church to overcome Satan.

The 12 Stars of Jacob Change to 12 Apostles

That the woman had a crown of twelve stars, has at least two different possible meanings, both of which are valid and important, but fulfilled at different times. In the initial sense the twelve stars picture the 12 tribes of Israel, which came from the 12 sons of Jacob. We see that pictured in the vision that Joseph had regarding his status over his brothers. He saw eleven stars bow down to himself, who was the twelfth star, and they represented the eleven brothers who would later have to bow down to him, when he was in charge of Egypt. Those twelve brothers became the nation of Israel, which is made up of twelve tribes, which descended from those brothers. So, in those initial 12 stars, we can see the 12 tribes of Israel being pointed to.

Gen 37:9 And he dreamed yet another dream, and told it his brethren, and said, Behold, I have dreamed a dream more; and, behold, the sun and the moon and the eleven stars made

obeisance to me. (KJV)

After Christ died on the cross and established the church, after securing the ransom price, the view of the woman expanded, just like the description of the expanded tent of salvation in Isaiah Chapter 54, and that gives us a greater or more completed picture of God's salvation, wherein the twelve stars then represent the twelve Apostles, and Joseph pictures Christ. The twelve Apostles were how spiritual Israel, which is the church, was enlightened and established, and they have brought many other stars to a heavenly salvation—in Daniel 12:3, we are told that those who teach others will shine like the stars forever and ever. The Apostles, as well as the rest of the 144,000, will be of those who shine like stars in the next age, since we are all to be lights of knowledge and salvation for the world. Dan 12:3 And they that are wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars forever and ever. ASV

Is there a Millennial Age Meaning of the Symbols?

The woman remains the same in all ages, because she represents the promise of the Abrahamic Covenant.

In Revelation Chapter 7, we see the even greater fulfillment of the symbol of the 12 stars, where we see that the twelve literal tribes have become the 144,000 faithful of the heavenly salvation.

Later in Chapter 21, we see the twelve Apostles shown as twelve foundation stones under the wall of the New Jerusalem, which shows their importance in establishing God's church. There are also 12 gates and 12 foundation stones in the city. The city of the New Jerusalem, when it will have come down on the earth, pictures the ultimate completion of Gods plans and the salvation of the New Covenant under which the entire world is going to receive salvation in the Millennial age.

Ps 89:4 I will establish your seed forever And build up your throne to all generations." Selah NASU 29 His seed also will I make to endure forever, and his throne as the days of heaven.	Rev 12:5-6 (5 And she gave birth to a son, a male child, who is to rule all the nations with a rod of iron; and her child was caught up to God and to His throne. NASU Rev 12:17 And the dragon waxed wroth with the woman, and went away to make war with the rest of her seed, that keep the commandments of God, and hold the testimony of Jesus: ASV
32 Then will I visit their transgression with the rod, and their iniquity with stripes.	Rev 12:5-6 (5 And she gave birth to a son, a male child, who is to rule all the nations with a rod of iron; and her child was caught up to God and to His throne. NASU

Ps 89 is talking about the throne of David, which belongs to Christ, and it contains the same symbolic elements as Rev Chapter 12. In Psalm 89, we see the seed, the rod, the sun, the moon, and a faithful witness in the heaven, which are the same symbols that we see in Chapter 12 of Revelation.

The Man-Child or Christ, is shown as the one who will have his throne established in the heavens forever. You should have no trouble realizing that Psalm 89, is talking about Christ and not Papacy. Christ has inherited the promises that were made to David, and they will endure forever. That this is talking about a covenant, is mentioned in verses 28 and 34. The covenant will have its seed endure forever, as seen in verse 36—is the seed of the New Covenant. We also know from the Abrahamic Covenant, that there will be a heavenly as well as an earthly seed that comes from the blood of the New Covenant. The seed that is going to bless all the families of the earth, is explained to us in Galatians, where Paul tells us that the seed is Christ, who is the promised seed or offspring that came forth from that covenant.

Gen 22:15-18 (15 Then the angel of the Lord called to Abraham a second time from heaven, 16 and said, "By Myself I have sworn, declares the Lord, because you have done this thing and have not withheld your son, your only son, 17 indeed I will greatly bless you, and I will greatly multiply your seed as the stars of the heavens and as the sand which is on the seashore; and your seed shall possess the gate of their enemies. 18 "In your seed all the nations of the earth shall be blessed, because you have obeyed My voice." NASU

The sun that the woman is clothed with in Chapter 12, is also mentioned in Psalms 89, in that it says Christ's throne shall endure like the sun. The brightness of the sun, comes from the message of the New Covenant or the Gospel of good news, that Christ secured at the First advent.

2 Cor 3:7-11 The administration of the Law which was engraved in stone (and which led in fact to spiritual death) was so magnificent that the Israelites were unable to look unflinchingly at Moses' face, for it was alight with heavenly splendor. Now if the old administration held such heavenly, even though transitory, splendour, can we not see what a much more glorious thing is the new administration of the Spirit of life? If to administer a system which is to end in condemning men was a splendid task, how infinitely more splendid is it to administer a system which ends in making men good! And while it is true that the former temporary glory has been completely eclipsed by the latter, we do well to remember that is eclipsed simply because the present permanent plan is such a very much more glorious thing than the old. PHILLIPS

We also see, that the covenant will be established like the moon forever. This covenant is under the New Law that Christ established after the order of Melchizedec, Heb 7:12-17. That it is Christ accomplishing this, is further testified by the statement about the faithful witness in the heavens in verse 37, which we know is Christ, since he has elsewhere declared himself to be that faithful witness, Rev 1:5, 3:14, 19:11. Here is the full text of the Psalms.

*Ps 89:28-37) 28 My mercy will I keep for him for evermore, and my covenant shall stand fast with him.

*29 His seed also will I make to endure forever, and his throne as the days of heaven.

30 If his children forsake my law, and walk not in my judgments;

31 If they break my statutes, and keep not my commandments;

32 Then will I visit their transgression with the rod, and their iniquity with stripes.

33 Nevertheless my lovingkindness will I not utterly take from him, nor suffer my faithfulness to fail.

34 My covenant will I not break, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.

35 Once have I sworn by my holiness that I will not lie unto David.

*36 His seed shall endure forever, and his throne as the sun before me.

37 It shall be established for ever as the moon, and as a faithful witness in heaven. Selah.

First Part of the Flood Error From the Lying Serpent

Satan, has from the time of the early church, been trying to corrupt the doctrines of salvation, which are based on the blood of the New Covenant that Christ won on the cross at the First Advent. He has constantly been working to eradicate the knowledge of the Plan of God, with the lies and corrupt doctrine that came “out of the “mouth” of the lying serpent”, so that the understanding of what Christ had done for us, would be lost. Remember that the lies that Satan told in the garden to Eve, came from the mouth of the serpent also. We will consider the other part of the flood, that came from the civil power of the dragon, a few paragraphs from here. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast.

The serpent began his doctrinal attacks very early in the church, with Paganism and Gnosticism, and those doctrinal attacks greatly intensified after Rome had accepted Christianity in 313AD. The acceptance of Christianity by the Empire, at first had seemed like a good thing, but historically we see that it was not a good idea for the church to have joined together with the civil power of the Pagan Empire. As time went on, the church became joined to the civil power of the later Satan controlled beast of the Apostate Christianized Empire, and that civil power became available to those who were fighting against the truth of the New Covenant that Christ had secured on the cross. The entire Chapter 13, which follows that first attack, gives us a vivid picture of the terrible persecution that came against the faithful church during the 1260 years, which happened because of the joining of church and state together.

Those who wanted to corrupt the churches doctrines with Pagan ideas, began to use the power of Rome to attack those who still held to the truth. Rev 12:17, tells us that the faithful seed of the woman, were those who had the testimony of Jesus. In other words, the ones being attacked understood the salvation that was promised in the Abrahamic Covenant, and which had become able to be fulfilled because of Christ’s blood, and the truth of their testimony about that is what made them into the faithful seed. The doctrinal attacks against the woman, who symbolized the truth of the covenant, were the attacks by Paganism, Gnosticism, and then later it was coming from the church councils, and from the corrupted church leaders that were arguing against the truth that the early church had been given by our Lord and the Apostles.

Papacy Having Control Over All Doctrine Doomed the Church

In the third church period, Papacy was given the right to settle doctrinal disputes in both halves of the Empire, and that meant that no one could challenge any corrupt doctrine that he forced upon the church. Because the Emperor Justinian had given him that power, he could after that time, call on the armies of the Empire to enforce his decrees. The siege of Ravenna is a good example, where the Roman armies eventually took the city, and all the Arians that were there had to surrender, and that meant the end of the fight against the Trinity doctrine and other corrupt doctrines in the Western Empire.

That was definitely an attack against the knowledge of those who opposed the corruption of the doctrines of salvation, which is based on the Abrahamic Covenant that the woman represented. That attack and loss at Ravenna in 539, also put Papacy in control of the seat of the Old Roman Empire, which was in Rome—which gave him a lot of superstitious power over the people.

The Trinity doctrine, which was being forced on the church, made it impossible to understand the ransom, because you could not have a God + man be an equal price for the fallen man Adam. That is why the scriptures make it clear, that those who do not believe that Christ came in the flesh, are the anti-Christ.

2 John 7 For many deceivers have gone out into the world, those who do not acknowledge Jesus Christ as coming in the flesh. This is the deceiver and the antichrist. NASU

The Doctrine of the Mass Replaced the Knowledge Of the Divine Plan

The beginnings of the doctrine of the mass, was already beginning to come into existence at that early time, and all the corrupted doctrines being brought out by the church councils, are what caused the Abomination of Desolation to make the evil system spiritually desolate. That abomination corrupted the understanding of what Christ had done for us and the world, and the church sank further and further into darkness after that time. That is why it is called the Abomination that makes desolate, because that is exactly what it did to the true knowledge of God's salvation, and that is why the woman is shown symbolically fleeing into a symbolic desert, where like Elijah, she could be hidden from the power of the corrupt church state system. That system was an Abomination, because what they preached wasn't true, and that hid the true salvation that the church had received from Christ and the Apostles—it was a desolation or desert, because there was no true doctrinal understanding in that fallen system at all.

It was the faithful church that was fleeing into the wilderness like Elijah, but they were carrying the knowledge of Christ's salvation with them—hence the knowledge of the covenant and the blood of the Lamb, was being taken out of the fallen church with them, so it could be preserved.

The gross error coming into the church, drove many of the faithful church into hiding or out of the Empire, where they could not be forced to believe the errors. Satan was using the church councils to bring in error, and to remove the Bible from being the key to the understanding of God's Plans. This is the same attack that we saw come against the two witnesses in Chapter 11, where God's word was symbolically killed, and it lay dead in the streets of the Great City of Papacy. Inside the Great City of Papacy, the woman or the truth of the covenant had been overcome, but there were many of the faithful seed of the woman outside of the evil system that still resisted, and so the woman with the two wings, who contained the knowledge of the heavenly salvation, survived through the 1260 years of persecution, being miraculously fed in the desert.

Second Part of the Flood From the Civil Power of the Dragon

The second part of Satan’s attack with the water, is described as coming “from the dragon”, which was the civil power that Satan was controlling at the time—the other attack of error we mentioned earlier, came from the serpent. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast. That second part of the attack was different, in that it was literally and physically against the faithful seed of the woman that still held the understanding of the covenant. The faithful were attacked by those who had taken control of the church, and who had enlisted the help of the Roman Empire in overcoming the faithful church.

In the physical attacks against the woman, he first had the Pagan dragon try to eliminate the woman, by physically killing those who had the knowledge of the covenant, starting at the time of the early church—those attacks continued off and on after that. A major physical set of attacks came when Emperor Diocletian took control in 303, and tried to wipe out the church during the ten years of persecution.

Later on, there were also hordes of barbarians that swept through the Empire, and if they would have successfully taken control of the Empire, they would have wiped out the Christians. It was not the Roman power in those attacks, but it was the Barbarians like the Huns, who Satan used to try to kill off those who still believed in the Arian doctrine, and who still existed outside the borders of the Empire. The Western Roman power had collapsed at that time in about 476, and that was when the Pagan Barbarians like the Huns were coming into the surrounding nations and into the Empire. There were a lot of Arians or non-Trinitarians in the outlying nations outside the Empire, and they were the faithful non-trinitarian Christians who Satan was trying to eliminate by the barbarian attacks. As we will explain later, most of them fled into the Empire, and they took control of the city of Rome and the surrounding territory, and then they helped the Roman army to ward off the other barbarians.

When that attack by the barbarians wasn’t successful, we then see him begin to use more direct methods of attack, like when he began to directly use the power of a restored Rome after 539, to persecute and kill the seed of the woman, who represent the faithful church who were proclaiming and trying to protect the good news of the covenant, which made the Gospel Age possible. In other words, when each of those early attacks failed, he then began to even more aggressively to attack the seed of the woman, trying to eradicate them completely, as we will see described in Chapter 13. Those more intense and terrible attacks were from Apostate Christians, who had gotten the upper hand over the church during the 1260 years.

The Birth Of the Promised Seed Of the Covenant

One place where we definitely need to see the woman as a covenant, is where she is struggling to give birth in this Chapter. In that place it's important to see that she is Sarah, who represents the Abrahamic covenant, because the promised seed of that covenant was Isaac, who pictures Christ, and he was the seed that was being given birth to. We will discuss that in greater detail before we are done, and we intend to show that the Man-Child is that seed of promise.

Paul's Two Women Were Hagar & Sarah

In Paul's explanation in Galatians Chapter 4, Hagar represents the Jews who were in slavery under the law, but he also tells us that the other woman represented another great covenant. The other woman or covenant that Paul was talking about is Sarah, who is a type representing the promise of the Abrahamic covenant, which is shown through the allegory that Paul gives in Galatians. The Abrahamic Covenant, had two different groups of people who were promised a blessing, the stars of heaven and the sand of the sea shore classes of salvation. Those promises respectively represent the heavenly call of the church, and the salvation that the world will get in the Millennial kingdom.

Some might argue that Paul does not say that covenant is represented by Sarah, and it's correct that he does not directly say that. But Paul was taking his lessons and understanding from Isaiah Chapter 54, where we are told that the woman who did not have children, was going to have many more children than the one that did have children, which was the Jews, that were married to the law. That is why we know that the other woman was Sarah, because she was the one in the type that was barren and without child, until God sent the angel to her and told her that she was going to have the child of promise.

That was the time that she laughed because she was 90 years old at the time, and it should have been impossible for her to have a child. What occurred then, was a picture of what was going to happen at the time of the First Advent, when the more important child of promise was going to be born. The Abrahamic promises were over 2000 years old at the time of the First Advent, and just like Sarah, those promises seemed to have been too old to be fulfilled. But regardless of the great age of the promise, the promised seed came in 33AD, and he provided the means by which the Abrahamic Covenant could begin to be fulfilled, which was through the shedding of Christ's blood.

The Woman That Was Married in Isaiah Was Hagar

The woman that was married and who already had children that were in bondage, was Hagar, who represented the law covenant. The one that did not have children yet, but who would have many more children than Hagar, was Sarah, and in the type Sarah represents the promised two-fold blessing of the Abrahamic Covenant. That promise had been barren for over 2000 years, but at the First advent it was going to start to be fulfilled by the birth of the promised seed of Isaac, who pictured Christ. The reason that Sarah would have more children than Hagar, who symbolized the law covenant, is because the fulfillment of the Abrahamic Covenant is destined to bring forth both seeds that had been promised—the stars of heaven and the sand of the sea shore. In other words, there was going to be both a heavenly salvation and an earthly salvation.

Heavenly Seed Blessed First

The first part of the seed that was going to be developed, was the heavenly seed, and Paul even explains that Christ was the seed singular, but he also explained that if we are baptized into Christ, which means that we are to be a part of his body, that we would then be a part of that seed, and heirs according to the promise. For that reason, the promised seed of the Abrahamic Covenant was at first Christ singular, which was when he was the Man-Child who is born in this Chapter, and who is caught up to God and to his throne. When the church becomes a part of Christ's body, then they are the faithful seed that is seen in this chapter in verse 17.

Gal 4:24-27 (24 This is allegorically speaking, for these women are two covenants: one proceeding from Mount Sinai bearing children who are to be slaves; she is Hagar. 25 Now this Hagar is Mount Sinai in Arabia and corresponds to the present Jerusalem, for she is in slavery with her children. 26 But the Jerusalem above is free; she is our mother. 27 For it is written,

"REJOICE, BARREN WOMAN WHO DOES NOT BEAR; BREAK FORTH AND SHOUT, YOU WHO ARE NOT IN LABOR; FOR MORE NUMEROUS ARE THE CHILDREN OF THE DESOLATE THAN OF THE ONE WHO HAS A HUSBAND." NASU

Isa 54:1-3 (54 "Sing, O barren woman, you who never bore a child; burst into song, shout for joy, you who were never in labor; because more are the children of the desolate woman than of her who has a husband," says the Lord.

2 "Enlarge the place of your tent, stretch your tent curtains wide, do not hold back; lengthen your cords, strengthen your stakes.

3 For you will spread out to the right and to the left; your descendants will dispossess nations and settle in their desolate cities. NIV

The Tent in Isaiah Chap 54 Symbolized God's Salvation For All Mankind

The tent that is being talked about in Isaiah chapter 54, represents God's Plan of salvation, and that tabernacle or tent was expanded at the First Advent, to include all who are willing to accept that salvation. That is why it says to lengthen the tent cords and strengthen the stakes. The tent was going to be made big enough to not only to cover Israel, but it was going to cover all of mankind, starting with the church and the added Gentiles in the Gospel Age, and then expanding its salvation further to Israel and the rest of the world in the Millennial Age. Both the stars of heaven and the sand of the seashore, were going to be developed under the same tent of the Abrahamic promise, and so there needed to be a huge expandable tent or tabernacle.

All nations must come in under that tent, which is the New Jerusalem that will come down to the earth in the next age, and be adopted in as Israelites, or they will not receive the blessings, Zech 14:16-19. In the end, Israel will possess all nations, who must receive salvation through them and the government that is established at that time will cover the entire earth. In Revelation, it's pictured as being the New Jerusalem, and it's also shown in Isaiah Chapter 54, where it's described from verse 11 to the end of the Chapter. Isaiah Chapter 55, continues with a description of the salvation that God has made available for all, and it uses the symbol of the giving of the water of life, and some of that same prophecy is repeated in Chapter 22 of Revelation.

Vision of Two Women, Two Different Salvations

If you look carefully at the two descriptions of the woman fleeing, you should notice that one of the descriptions has a woman fleeing on foot, and the other one has a woman flying in the heavens. While it is not crucial to our understanding of this chapter, we believe that the symbol of the woman starting in verse six, after the taking up of the Man-Child to God after he completed his sacrifice, is split into two different symbols, the one with wings representing the stars of heaven blessing and the other woman on foot, representing the sand of the sea shore blessing. Seeing the two fold application of the woman, adds an important element to this chapter, in that it proves the two-fold salvation of the Divine Plan.

The stars of heaven symbol, represents the blessing of the spiritual class of the church, and the sand of the sea shore symbol, represents the blessing that will be for Israel and the world in the next age. We believe that this chapter shows us both of those salvations, because we see two different women appear after the Man-Child completes his sacrifice. The first one is on foot, and we believe that she is Keturah who pictures the promise of the earthly salvation. Her blessing will not be able to begin, until Israel accepts the New Covenant at the start of the kingdom. The world will be able to be saved through Israel's blessing, by being adopted in as Israelites.

The second woman that is given the two wings is the heavenly promise, and her children represents those who accepted Christ and the blood of the New Covenant. That woman is the one that Satan is especially worried about, because he knows that if the church is completed, then he will be cast into the pit, and locked up. That is why he became so angry, and tries to corrupt the knowledge of salvation represented in the woman and he tries to kill her offspring.

We will examine that thought more later, when we get to those verses. Some might think, how can you split a woman into two different women, and the answer is that she is not a real woman, since she is symbolic of the Abrahamic Covenant, and the supporting covenants that are seen with her—the two women represent the two different blessings or salvation of the Abrahamic Covenant.

Even if the two woman application is not correct, we would still see both salvations in the symbol of the woman, because Sarah who symbolizes the Abrahamic Covenant, contains both promises—the two woman symbol is easier to explain to others who are not familiar with the promises of the Abrahamic Covenant, but the single woman of Sarah, who represents the Abrahamic Covenant, has both promises included either way.

Salvation to the Jews and the World in the Next Age Does not Come From Hagar

In the next age, Hagar's symbol changes, and the salvation is symbolized as coming from Keturah when she marries Abraham, because she pictures the earthly salvation that comes after the church is complete. The reason for the change, is because Hagar who represents the Jews under the law, will not be the means through whom salvation comes. The salvation for the world will not come from the law, but it will come from the better promises of the New Covenant, which vitalizes the Abrahamic Covenant. Since Sarah is not a real woman in this Chapter, and she is a type of the Abrahamic Covenant, there is no problem with both parts of the blessing of the Abrahamic Covenant being symbolically shown by two different women.

When we had first looked at the two different women, we had thought that what we were seeing with the woman on foot, was just the Hagar or Jewish portion of the woman in this Chapter, which is the Jerusalem below that is described by Paul in Gal Chapter 4. But we eventually realized that the blessing can't come from Hagar, because she represents the Jews under the law. In the next age, Hagar's symbol switches to Keturah, which is when Israel accepts the New Covenant, and when that happens the earthly promises of Abraham then come through Keturah. When Keturah marries Abraham, she receives the benefits of the earthly promise, which she has to pass on to the rest of the world. The woman on foot will in the next age be the covenant means that will be used to bring the sand of the seashore promises to Israel and the world, and for that reason she has to symbolically flee to the wilderness in order to be saved for that blessed day. The next age is the time that the earthly portion of the covenant will have her children, which are the earthly children. We will explain that in more detail later when we get to those verses.

Meaning of the Picture of Keturah

Most Bible Students look at Keturah as a type of the New Covenant, but she is not, because she is only a “picture” and not a “type”. She is actually a picture of how Israel and the world will be grafted back into the Abrahamic root of the olive tree. Keturah’s children do not get the heavenly portion of the Abrahamic Covenant, because she was not a wife of Abraham until after Sarah died, even though she was most likely a concubine of Abraham’s while Sarah was still alive. Sarah dying pictures the close of the heavenly call to the church, but an important point is that is a picture and is not the same as the type of Sarah, which symbolizes the entire Abrahamic Covenant. Failure to see that, is what has caused a great deal of confusion about the Abrahamic Promises and the New Covenant.

That Keturah was originally a concubine, pictures Israel and the world being in bondage to sin and death during this age. Her seed will not get the heavenly reward, because that part of the heavenly promise will have already gone to Isaac and his seed, which is the completed church, head and body. Then the blessing of the sand of the seashore and the dust of the earth, will come to Israel and the world, who will get that blessing by accepting the blessing of the New Covenant.

The woman on foot, is carrying the future promise for Israel, because God is not going to take the Abrahamic promise away from them, but they must accept the benefit of the New Covenant in order to get that promise. That is why the symbol of Hagar is not through whom the blessing will come, Israel will have to switch to the symbol of Keturah at the start of the kingdom, by accepting the New Covenant. The Old law covenant is not in effect anymore—the New Law covenant which is the spirit of the law has replaced it.

Israel is also to be Protected & Nourished During the 1260 Years

Because Israel is going to be the nation who the kingdom begins with, they as well as the earthly knowledge of the covenant were to be protected and kept alive through the Gospel Age. The woman on foot carries the Abrahamic Covenant blessing that will be for the world in the next age, and since Israel as a nation will be a key and needed part of that blessing, they will also be preserved through that dark time.

In Rev 12:6, we see the earthly portion of the covenant on foot, and she is not shown with her earthly seed or children, because she is still waiting for the future Millennial age when it will be time for the earthly children to be delivered under the Keturah picture—6 children + 1 of Isaac = 7. The future recipients of the earthly part of the covenant, needed to be protected in the wilderness from the Abomination of Desolation that was coming, because Satan would have liked to wipe out not only the church, but also the promise of the earthly salvation for the next age. We see historically that he has tried to wipe out the Jews off and on during the Gospel age, who are the ones that the earthly salvation is destined to come from, but because God had scattered them all over the earth, Satan had not been able to accomplish that, even when he killed millions of Jews in the gas chambers of WW2.

Woman With Two Wings Produces the Heavenly Children

The Jerusalem above or the woman that we see flying with the two wings in verse 14, is not herself the church, but she gives birth to the seed of the Gospel Age church, and that is the seed that is described in verse 17. In Revelation 12:17, it tells us that her seed represents those who keep the commandments of God, and who bear the testimony of Jesus. That verse even uses the same phraseology as Paul does in Romans, by calling the seed “the faithful remnant.”

Rev 12:17 And the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus Christ. (KJV)

Rom 9:27 And Isaiah cries out concerning Israel: "Though the number of the sons of Israel be as the sand of the sea, only a remnant of them will be saved; (RSV)

Rom 11:5 Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace. (KJV)

God, Supplied the Man-Child

Israel didn't supply the Man-Child or Christ, but God through the promise of the Abrahamic Covenant did. Christ was the promised seed of that covenant, through which all the nations of the earth were to be blessed, and that was the reason he came and provided the ransom price, which is the blood of the Lamb. When he did that, the Abrahamic covenant was then able to begin the process through which the heavenly seed of the church would be selected and blessed first, and then afterward all the earthly seed of the nations of the earth will be blessed. That is why we see very clearly, that Christ is the Man-Child that is caught up to God and his throne in Rev Chapter 12, and we also see that it's his blood that defeated the dragon which was controlled by Satan in Rev 12:11. If the woman is the promises of the Abrahamic Covenant and not the church, then there is no difficulty with that interpretation.

Gal 3:14 That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith. (KJV)

Gal 3:17 And this I say, that the covenant, that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the law, which was four hundred and thirty years after, cannot disannul, that it should make the promise of none effect. (KJV)

Gal 3:19 Wherefore then served the law? It was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come to whom the promise was made; and it was ordained by angels in the hand of a mediator. (KJV)

Gal 3:29 And if ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise. (KJV)

Rom 4:16 Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace; to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham; who is the father of us all, (KJV)

Blood of Promised Seed Enables the Abrahamic Covenant!

At the time of the Man-Child being caught up to God, that is when the greater meanings of the symbols of the sun, the 12 stars, and the spirit of the law were added to the woman, as we saw earlier, and that is what makes the fulfillment of the promises of the Abrahamic Covenant possible. Remember, that the Abrahamic Covenant needed the promised seed or Man-Child and his sacrifice, before it could begin to bless all the families of the earth, and when Christ appeared and was caught up to God, that was when the salvation of the Gospel Age began.

All aspects of the plan of God, are seen fully pictured with her in the heavens when the Man-Child completes his sacrifice, and is caught up to God with the blood of the cross, after he completed his mission here on earth. The woman has the new law under her feet, she is clothed with the bright gospel light and the sun, and she has the 12 apostles on her head. Realizing that is what she represents, will help us to understand how this chapter is showing us God's plan in its entirety, including both the heavenly and the earthly portion of salvation. It's also why her symbol works in all of the historical places and times that she is seen in this chapter.

Seven Times Promise Given to Abraham, Isaac, & Jacob

The main type of the Abrahamic Covenant, is given in the seven times that God spoke about the promise of the covenant to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, five times for Abraham and once apiece for Isaac and Jacob. That Abraham marries Keturah, is not showing the establishment of a covenant at all, it's only showing us in a picture how Israel and the world will get the promised benefit from the sand of the seashore part of the covenant promise that already existed, and that blessing can only occur when Israel accepts the blessing of the New Covenant that Christ secured on the cross.

The complete inheritance of all that Abraham gave to Isaac, later passed on to Jacob, who in another part of the type, shows us the earthly salvation as represented in the 12 tribes that descended from him. God only mentioned the dust of the earth part of the Abrahamic Covenant to Jacob when he repeated the promise to him, and Jacob and his 12 sons therefore typified the earthly salvation. It's interesting that instead of the sand of the seashore, we have the dust of the earth used as a symbol when God repeats the promises to Jacob.

One suggestion that has been made regarding the difference, is that the symbol of the dust represents the promises of the Abrahamic Covenant to the earthly nation of Israel, and the other symbol of the sand of the seashore represents the promises to the entire world. The promises to the sand of the seashore seem to be the one that represent the entire world, because the forces of Gog and Magog at the end of the millennium, will be coming from the sand of the sea shore, which represents the entire world and not just Israel.

Rev 20:7 When the thousand years are completed, Satan will be released from his prison, 8

and will come out to deceive the nations which are in the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together for the war; the number of them is like the sand of the seashore. NASU

Jacob's Ladder

Just after God repeated the promises to Jacob, he had the vision of the ladder with angels ascending and descending, and that shows that in the Millennial age, the heavens will have contact with the earth and will be able to directly help all of mankind. The Abrahamic Covenant is central to all the other supporting covenants surrounding the woman, and the core promises of the Abrahamic covenant shows us both the earthly and the heavenly salvation contained in God's promises to Abraham. That is why the descendants of Abraham will be like the stars of heaven, "heavenly salvation", and the sand of the sea shore, "earthly salvation."

An important thing that we need to emphasize again, is that the Abrahamic Covenant was not able to accomplish anything for over 2000 years, until the promised seed of the covenant came, and that seed was Christ the Man-Child! Even when the law was established with the nation of Israel, no redemption was possible because imperfect man was not able to keep it. The law through types and pictures did point the way to the better sacrifices, which we see were fulfilled through Christ. Christ proved faithful by fulfilling the law, and he also supplied the blood of the New Covenant, which has made salvation possible for both ages. Rev 5:5-6 (5 Then one of the elders said to me, "Do not weep! See, the Lion of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, has triumphed. He is able to open the scroll and its seven seals." 6 Then I saw a Lamb, looking as if it had been slain, standing in the center of the throne, encircled by the four living creatures and the elders. He had seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven spirits of God sent out into all the earth. NIV

Christ actually received the entire inheritance from the Heavenly Father, just as Isaac did from Abraham, and he has chosen to share it with the members of the church that are pictured as being his body members or the seed of the covenant. Isa 53:12 Therefore I will give him a portion among the great, and he will divide the spoils with the strong, because he poured out his life unto death, and was numbered with the transgressors. For he bore the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors. NIV

Marriage of Keturah

Puts Jews

Back into Covenant Relationship

The "marriage" of Keturah to Abraham, pictures the return of the Jews back into a Covenant relationship with the Heavenly Father, but they will not be under the original law covenant at that time. They will be under the benefits of the New Covenant, which makes it possible to fulfill the sand of the sea portion of the Abrahamic covenant. That relationship and salvation starts with the Jews in the next age, and then we see that the world is added to the promise by their being adopted as Israelites, as shown to us in the picture of Ezekiel's temple.

Ezek 47:21-23 (21 "So you shall divide this land among yourselves according to the tribes of Israel. 22 "You shall divide it by lot for an inheritance among yourselves and among the aliens who stay in your midst, who bring forth sons in your midst. And they shall be to you as the native-born among the sons of Israel; they shall be allotted an inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel. 23 "And in the tribe with which the alien stays, there you shall give him his inheritance," declares the Lord God. NASU

Keturah's Six Children Are a Picture

At that time, Keturah's six children, who picture both Israel and the world together, become eligible to receive the earthly blessing, because they are then legal sons of Abraham, having been adopted by Abraham's marriage to Keturah. That she has six children is significant, because six is an earthly number or the number of man. Some believe that Keturah had her six children with Abraham as a concubine. That would make a really good picture, because the marriage to Abraham as a legal wife gives the six children inheritance rights as adopted children, and that is how Israel and the world will be blessed through the promise of the blessing of the sand of the seashore. In that picture, the 6 earthly children are not the same as the evil church and state system that is known as 666, but the earthly number of six is the number of man. Man, as six is not complete without God, who makes it a total of 7 in the Millennial age, which is a perfect number.

To get the blessing of the Abrahamic Covenant, Keturah's children must come to Isaac, because Abraham left an inheritance of everything to Isaac, who pictures Christ. What we see pictured by that, is that the entire inheritance of life for both ages, must come through Isaac or Christ, because he has control of the inheritance. Even the inheritance of salvation for Jacob, which pictures the earthly salvation as seen in the angels ascending and descending the ladder, still comes in the type from the father of Jacob, who was Isaac. The number of the children of the promise is  $6 + 1 = 7$ . Six for Keturah, and one for Isaac!

Gen 25:5-6 (5 Now Abraham gave all that he had to Isaac; 6 but to the sons of his concubines, Abraham gave gifts while he was still living, and sent them away from his son Isaac eastward, to the land of the east. NASU

The Woman & The Man-Child

With the above definition of the types and pictures of the different symbols seen with the woman, we can now summarize what we are being shown by the woman, regarding salvation in Revelation Chapter 12. As we just discussed, the woman and her accessories represents all the covenants of God, which he has designed to restore the world of mankind back into harmony and perfection with himself.

The woman did not get the greater meaning of those accessories until the Man-Child was born. After Christ provided the blood of the New Covenant, that then made it possible to fulfill both the heavenly and the earthly promises of the Abrahamic Covenant. In a complete sense. Jesus did not become the Man-Child until he paid the ransom price over to the Father, which vitalized the Abrahamic Covenant so that it could begin to be fulfilled. Verses 4-6, are showing us the birth of the promised seed of the Abrahamic Covenant, the Man-Child.

The Man-Child that we see in this Chapter, is Christ, who was able at the First Advent because of his having shed his blood for us, to begin the stars of heaven part of the blessing and salvation, which God had promised in the Abrahamic Covenant. He provided the legal means through the payment of his blood, by which the Abrahamic covenant could begin to be fulfilled, even though it had been barren for over 2000 years.

The Blood of the Covenant Is mentioned in Verse 11

As an additional proof that shows that what we are seeing here about the Man-Child is correct, note that the central part of this Chapter describes and talks about the blood of the covenant that provided the means to overcome Satan, and that is the blood of the covenant that the Man-Child or Christ provided on the cross. The paying of the blood did not completely defeat Satan right away, but he will be eventually defeated because of his being blocked in heaven, where Christ sits on the right hand of the Father, pleading our case for us—so the ultimate result of the payment of the blood is Satan’s final defeat, even on earth. But even though the church is covered during the Gospel Age, Satan is still going to cause a great deal of trouble on the earth, until the 144,000 is complete. The church is told by the scriptures that Satan cannot spiritually defeat us if we keep the belief in his blood—but he can still cause us physical harm.

By reversing the obvious meaning of these symbols, we are ignoring the important basics that the early church recognized about what Christ had accomplished. They recognized that he had succeeded on the cross, and that the sacrifice of the blood that he had provided was the key to salvation. They also saw that he had been elevated by the Father and seated on the throne next to him.

Since then, Christ has been waiting for the time that the earth will be made a footstool for his feet—which means everything being placed under his control. Do we really want to change all of these powerful symbols of a wonderful salvation “for all”, into something bad in this Chapter? We intend to show as we examine this Chapter in detail, that the Biblical cross references that interpret these symbols for us, will show us that the Man-Child that is found in this Chapter, can only be Christ. He is the Man-Child that was caught up to God and his throne, and he is waiting for the time that he is to take control of the earth. Yes, Satan did create a counterfeit Man-Child, claiming that it was Papacy being put in control of the heavens and the earth, but the genuine interpretation of the Man-Child is that it is Christ and what he accomplished on the cross.

Heb 10:12-14(12 but He, having offered one sacrifice for sins for all time, SAT DOWN AT THE RIGHT HAND OF GOD, 13 waiting from that time onward UNTIL HIS ENEMIES BE MADE A FOOTSTOOL FOR HIS FEET. 14 For by one offering He has perfected for all time those who are sanctified. NASU

The Seed of the Woman

God first made an obscure statement early on in Genesis, telling Adam and Eve, that the seed of the woman would bruise his heel on the head of the serpent, and the serpent would bruise his head on the seed's heel. Gen 3:15 And I will put enmity Between you and the woman, And between your seed and her seed; He shall bruise you on the head, And you shall bruise him on the heel." NASU

While that statement was not called a covenant, it was a hint of something more to come, especially in the mention of the woman's seed. Christ, as is explained in Galatians, is the initial seed singular that had been promised. But Paul tells us that we can become a part of that seed, if we belong to Christ. We now see that Christ head and body is the seed that is going to crush the head of the serpent, once the 144,000 are complete. As we are told in Galatians, if you are Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed and heirs according to the promise, and because of that, you are a part of that promised seed.

Binding & Bruising Satan

That complete seed is Christ head and body, which when complete will bind Satan and remove his influence from the earth. The heel of Christ and the body members, has been bruised all through the Gospel Age, but in the end they will succeed in binding Satan and removing him from the earth for the duration of the Millennial age, as we will see in Chapter 20. The bruising of the snakes head, will release all of those who are in bondage to the snake and the slavery of his evil system, so that they can then get up on the highway of holiness. After the little season is finished at the end of the next age, Christ head and body, will be how Satan will be totally crushed and destroyed.

Rom 16:20 And the God of peace shall bruise Satan under your feet shortly. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen. (KJV)

The stars of heaven seed of the woman, will be the faithful 144,000 that we see in Revelation Chapter 7. After the marriage of the Lamb later in Revelation Chapter 19, we then see in Chapter 20, that Satan is bound and cast into the abyss. That doesn't happen until after the time frame that this Chapter covers, since this Chapter is dealing with the time leading up to the start of the Gospel Age tribulation of 1260 years.

The seed will not become Christ head and body in the completed sense, until the end of the Gospel Age, and we will see that happen in Chapter 21 with the vision of the New Jerusalem coming down to the earth. So, while we see that the completed seed will eventually be Christ head and body, at the point in time that we see the Man-Child born in Rev Chapter 12, it's still Christ singular. Some of the nominal churches try to say that the Man-Child in this Chapter is Christ head and body plural and that it is their church which makes up the body, but that is not the lesson that the Chapter is designed to teach us.

Everlasting Covenants Examined

The first actual covenant that we find being given in the Bible, is called the rainbow covenant. That is found in Genesis Chapter 9:1-17. In that covenant, God had promised that he would no longer destroy all flesh or animals off the face of the earth with a flood. We notice in verse 16, that the covenant is called an everlasting covenant.

To keep that promise, while it is not evident in Genesis, we know that God had to provide a means by which mankind could be restored back from the fall in the garden. If that means was not provided, God would not have been able to allow a sinful mankind to continue to exist.

That is why later in Genesis, we see him provide the promises to Abraham, which expanded upon the original covenant promises given after the flood. The promise given in the Abrahamic covenant, was that it would bless all the families of the earth, and it showed that there was to be a heavenly seed as well as an earthly seed, and a seed of promise was to come—who is Christ.

We next see that the law covenant was added to the Abrahamic promise, and that covenant was pictured by Hagar. Just as Hagar in the type didn't provide the legitimate child of promise, even though Sarah and Abraham tried to do it that way, we see that the law was not able to bring salvation either.

A scriptural comparison, shows that regarding the Abrahamic covenant and in all the other covenants, we see that God called them all everlasting covenants. That shows that they will always exist, and that they are all related to each other regarding the plan of salvation that God brings through the covenants.

The question then that comes up regarding the New Covenant, is it also an everlasting covenant? The answer is yes!

Ezek 37:25-26) 25 And they shall dwell in the land that I have given unto Jacob my servant, wherein your fathers have dwelt; and they shall dwell therein, even they, and their children, and their children's children for ever: and my servant David shall be their prince forever. 26 Moreover I will make a covenant of peace with them; it shall be an everlasting covenant with them: and I will place them, and multiply them, and will set my sanctuary in the midst of them for evermore. (KJV)

Heb 13:20 Now the God of peace, who brought up from the dead the great Shepherd of the sheep through the blood of the eternal covenant, {even} Jesus our Lord, (NAS)

How does all this apply to who the woman is? We see that the woman and the symbols seen with her, are a composite of all the above everlasting covenants. Just as God's Plan was complete from the beginning of the foundation of the world, this woman and the accessories seen with her, are the complete plan of God—which is vitalized with the blood of the Lamb. That way, when she is seen in the different places in the prophecy, we are then able to see the part of her that represents whatever had been revealed of God's Plan at the time indicated in the prophecy.

Revelation 12:2

Rev 12:2 and she was with child; and she cried out, being in labor and in pain to give birth.

See the comprehensive comments on verse one above, for the full explanation of the covenants as they are represented in the symbol of the woman and her accessories—which are picturing the Divine Plan of the Ages. In the remaining explanation of this Chapter, we will cover the covenant aspect only as needed, and we will focus on other important details that are described in each individual verse, as we examine the Chapter with a verse by verse study. Some of what we gave in the explanation of verse one, will be repeated as needed in each individual verse.

She was in pain to give birth, because it was due time for the Abrahamic Covenant to be fulfilled, as was being shown by the 70 weeks in Daniel chapter 9. The means by which that was going to be accomplished, was through the woman in this vision, and the Man-Child that she was giving birth to. We can only see this important picture of salvation, if we realize that the woman is a covenant and not the church!

The Seed of the Woman Is the Church the Woman is Not

The interpreters that think that the woman is the church, fail to note at least a couple of problems with that definition, one of which is that we see that the faithful church is defined as being the seed of the woman in verse 17. In that verse, we see that the woman had a seed or offspring which were faithful to God and Christ, and they are described separately from both the woman and the Man-Child. If we believe that the seed of the woman represented the faithful Christian church, we need to ask ourselves a simple question. How could the woman be the faithful members of the church, and at the same time give birth to the faithful members of the church—does the woman give birth to the woman, which would be herself? It's obvious that the woman cannot represent the church, but she has to represent the part of God's plan that produced the faithful children of the church. As we described earlier, she can only be the Abrahamic Covenant, which had both the heavenly as well as the earthly salvations contained in her promises—the Divine Plan!

Is the Man-Child Papacy or Christ?

The idea that the Man-Child is Papacy, would only make sense historically if the Man-Child was the one that was shown attacking the faithful seed of the woman or the church later in this Chapter, but that is not what we are being shown happening. What we are shown happening, is that Satan himself was standing by trying to devour or destroy the Man-Child, but as we find recorded in the New Testament scriptures, he was not successful. He also later on, tried to get rid of the faithful seed of the woman—which is the church.

Satan has tried to convince the church, that the Man-Child that was caught up was the Papal hierarchy, being elevated into control over both the church and the world by God. That is a large part of Satan's deception regarding this chapter, in that he used that false interpretation of the chapter to claim that the kingdom of God had come to the earth. The rise of Papacy to great power over the church and the world, was all based on several lies like that one, that deceived the people into accepting the false kingdom, instituting the worst time on earth that there ever was.

Man-Child Was Snatched Up

If Satan was the one behind the elevation of Papacy, why would Satan try to devour the Papacy just before he was elevated into heaven? Some might say that he was taking control of the church, when he was before the woman, but the meaning of the world used in that verse does not allow that interpretation. If we look at the word caught up or snatched, NT:726, we see that it implies that the Man-Child was taken by force or plucked or pulled up and away from Satan. The root word that it is derived from, NT:138, means to take for oneself, to prefer. Both words taken together fit exactly with what the Heavenly Father did, bringing Jesus up from the grave, up to be seated on God's right hand side. Being snatched away from the dragon Satan, does not fit with Papacy being raised to power!

NT:726_a(rpa/zw harpazo (har-pad'-zo); from a derivative of NT:138; to sieze (in various applications): KJV - catch (away, up), pluck, pull, take (by force).

NT:138_ai(re/omai haireomai (hahee-reh'-om-ahee); probably akin to NT:142; to take for oneself, i.e. to prefer: KJV - choose. Some of the forms are borrowed from a cognate hellomai (hel'-lom-ahee); which is otherwise obsolete.

(Biblesoft's New Exhaustive Strong's Numbers and Concordance with Expanded Greek-Hebrew Dictionary. Copyright © 1994, 2003, 2006 Biblesoft, Inc. and International Bible Translators, Inc.)

That definition shows us that the Lord Jesus was snatched up to the Heavenly Father, just as this chapter describes.

Snatched is Same Word as 1 Thes 4:17

Snatched up is the same word used in 1Thes 4:17, which shows that the church is to be caught up to the Lord, just like Jesus was to the Father. The usage of this word, snatching up, does not fit with the rise of Papacy to Power. Papacy rose to power by his own conniving, and the verb snatching up does not fit that, because the snatching up was said to be up to the Heavenly Fathers throne—which means that the Heavenly Father was the one that did it. The same thing is true of us, in that we are also to be snatched up to meet the Lord Jesus in the air, at the end of the age.

1 Thess 4:17 Then we who are alive and remain will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air, and so we shall always be with the Lord. NASU

The Man-Child, which was Christ, accomplished what he came here to the earth to do, and he was then caught up to God and his throne, just as we are told in this Chapter, and many other times in the rest of the New Testament. Below are a few scriptural descriptions, that say that very thing.

Rev 12:5 And she gave birth to a son, a male child, who is to rule all the nations with a rod of iron; and her child was caught up to God and to His throne. NASU

Heb 8:1 Now the main point in what has been said is this: we have such a high priest, who has taken His seat at the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens,

Heb 12:2 fixing our eyes on Jesus, the author and perfecter of faith, who for the joy set before Him endured the cross, despising the shame, and has sat down at the right hand of the throne of God.

Rev 3:21 He who overcomes, I will grant to him to sit down with Me on My throne, as I also overcame and sat down with My Father on His throne.

Rev 7:17 for the Lamb in the center of the throne will be their shepherd, and will guide them to springs of the water of life; and God will wipe every tear from their eyes." NASU

The Man-Child is not heard from again as a symbol in this Chapter, or even the rest of Revelation, and that is not historically correct if this symbol represents the Papal hierarchy. That the Man-Child is not seen again, is true historically if that symbol represents Christ, because Christ went to the Father with the blood of the New Covenant, and he is now sitting on his right hand waiting for the time to come when he can establish his kingdom over the earth.

Heb 10:11-14 (11 Day after day every priest stands and performs his religious duties; again and again he offers the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins. 12 But when this priest had offered for all time one sacrifice for sins, he sat down at the right hand of God. 13 Since that time he waits for his enemies to be made his footstool, 14 because by one sacrifice he has made perfect forever those who are being made holy. NIV

Papacy is Never Described Elsewhere With the Man-Child Symbol

Papacy was historically involved with the Roman dragon, when it is seen attacking the faithful church in Chapter 13, but we don't see him described as being the Man-Child when he does that. He is seen differently, depending on when in history he is being shown: as a mouth speaking great things, a little horn, a two-horned beast, or a woman riding on a beast.

That the woman gave birth to the Man-Child, who was caught up to God in heaven and sat down on the throne of God, is exactly what happened with Christ. Why would we want to change these important biblical symbols to something bad, when there is nothing in the Bible anywhere that defines the Man-Child as being bad? When the Man-Child was born, and caught up to God, then the woman's accessories that she was seen with, are all transformed into their greater meaning. For example we see the moon being changed from the law covenant, to the New Covenant. Once that happened, the Abrahamic Covenant could begin to be fulfilled, because of the blood of the New Covenant was able to begin to fulfill the Abrahamic Covenant.

Rev 12:3 Then another sign appeared in heaven: and behold, a great red dragon having seven heads and ten horns, and on his heads {were} seven diadems.

Symbol of Red Dragon Exists for Entire History
Up to Time of Kingdom

What we see next in Rev 12, is the red dragon and it marks a break in the prophecy, because it tells us that “another sign” appeared in heaven. The vision of the Dragon covers the entire Gospel Age, but at the beginning of chapter 13, we notice that the heads and horns move from the dragon to the beast, so that shows us that the horns and heads are accessory symbols on the dragon. Verse 9, later in this Chapter, defines the dragon symbol as representing Satan. We can add to that definition, by stating that the main or core symbol of the dragon does represent Satan, but all the accessories on the dragon like the seven heads and seven horns, symbolize the Empires or civil power that he controls, which at the time of John was Pagan Roman. Later, Satan transferred the seven heads and the ten horns from the dragon to the Apostate Christianized beast, which pictured Pagan Rome losing control of the Empire and the apostate Christianized Rome coming into power in the Empire instead. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast.

The seven heads and ten horns, are actually symbols of all of the Empires that Satan will control throughout his entire history, but at the time of the First Advent, the Empire that was in control was Pagan Rome. There were five Empires prior to the Pagan Roman Empire, and there was going to be two more. The seventh head is the Christianized Roman Empire we just mentioned, and the eighth head was created later on, which was when Papacy took control of the image, creating a theocracy in 1179. The reason it had become a theocracy, was because Papacy was at that point in history, ruling over and controlling the ten kings—Rev 17:9-13. The eighth head is not directly shown in verse three, because the eighth head was not a Roman head, it came into existence from German tribes, who restored the Empire in the West at the time of Charlemagne. Both Germany and France came into control of the Empire later in history. Charlemagne founded what was called the Carolingian Empire, and from that point onward, it was a power struggle between the Empire and Papacy as to who would control the power of the kingdom—eventually Papacy won.

When we examine the history of what Constantine claimed about this Chapter and how he thought it applied to him, we see that he thought that he did defeat the dragon, because he did not understand the Satan aspect of the symbol of the Dragon, but he only saw the Pagan Rome meaning. So when he defeated the sixth head, which was the Pagan control of Rome, that is what caused a serious problem. The wrong idea that the dragon was defeated, was used to justify the idea that the kingdom of God had been fully established, as we will explain later. When the Emperor of Rome claimed that he had defeated the dragon, and he gave Christianity the favored religion status in the Empire, the church wrongly thought that he had actually defeated the dragon and had established the kingdom of God. A simple look at history after Constantine's time, shows that the dragon that represented Satan was alive and well, and that it was too late for the church to recognize their error, because the church state system had taken control of the church. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast.

In Chapter 17, we will present an explanation showing who all the heads are, in that we believe that the sixth head was in power at the time of Apostle John, just as the angel tells us in Chapter 17.

Ten Horns Are ten Literal nations & Beast's Full Civil Power

The ten horns, do have a literal interpretation at the time of 539AD, when there were ten countries that had crowns on their money, as we will explain in Chapter 17. We don't believe that is the primary and more complete interpretation of the ten horns, as we will fully explain later, but they are a secondary interpretation which helps to define a very important time in the history of this dragon, which was 539AD. There is a problem with saying that is the only correct interpretation of the ten horns, because the horns on the dragon and the beast, have to fit both earlier and later in history, and before and after 539, there was not a literal 10 horns. So how do we explain that problem?

We believe that there is a second meaning of the ten horns, in that they can also represent the full civil power of the dragon or beast, no matter when we are looking at it in history. If we look at the symbolic meaning of ten horns on the dragon, we then can then fit the dragon into any point in history. The horns and heads, are actually moved from the Pagan Dragon, to the Christianized beast in chapter 13, showing that they symbolize the different types of Empire rule and the civil power of the kingdoms. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast. That transfer of power, is a good example of why the ten horns have to be the total power of the Empire, no matter if it was Pagan Rome, or if it was the Christianized beast. The ten kings that this beast had, is what resulted in the doctrine of the Divine right of Kings being adopted, which was done to give the civil power legitimacy.

See Bullinger's definition of the meaning of ten.

“E.W. Bullinger- PART II ITS SPIRITUAL SIGNIFICANCE-Ten

ANTICHRIST'S WORLD-POWER is comprised in the ten kingdoms, symbolized by the ten toes on the feet of the Image of Nebuchadnezzar's dream (Dan 2:41), and by the ten horns of the fourth beast of Daniel's vision (Dan 7:7,20,24, etc.; Rev 12:3, 13:1, 17:3,7,12).”

If we take the meaning that is given by Bullinger in his title, Anti-Christ World-Power, we then find that the ten horns will fit into history at any place where that evil system had control over the nations. In other words, the ten horns symbolize the full civil power that Satan’s system had, at any point in the dragon’s or beasts existence. If we see the dragon at the time of the early church, the ten horns would be the power of the Pagan Roman Empire. When we see the dragon in Chapter 13, Satan had transferred the horns and heads onto the Apostate Christianized beast, which was the Roman Empire after 333-381AD. If we see it at a later time, then the horns represent the kings of the church state system which Papacy had gotten control of during the time of 799-1179AD. The only time that there were ten literal countries, seems to be more correct at the 539 time.

To prove that the ten horns have to equal the total civil power, we point to Dan 7:7-8, where we see that the beast is described as having ten horns, and that description was given before the little horn came up, and so the prophecy has to include the time that the beast was a Pagan beast, which also had ten horns. So unless we want to think that the Pagan Roman Empire only had ten kingdoms, we need to see that ten represents the total civil power.

Dragon Gives His Throne to the Beast

Further along in Revelation, we will see the dragon gave his throne to the Christianized beast, and at that time the beast then had the same symbols of the heads and horns, that we originally saw on the Pagan dragon in Chapter 12. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast. There is no mention of the horns or heads on the dragon at that later time in Chapter 13:1, and even in Chapter 20. After the collapse of 476-539, Rome lost central control of the nations that had made up the original Empire. Because when the Empire began to come back together after the collapse, the individual nations kept a measure of power for themselves—in other words the Roman Empire came back into existence again. The individual nations only joined back up for protection, and because of that, the Western Roman Empire was after 539 made up of individual nations until 799AD, which is when Papacy created the image by crowning Charlemagne, who re-established the Western Empire—which came from German roots, not Roman.

In verse 3, the dragon symbol with the heads and the horns, represents Pagan Rome, but what we need to recognize, is that the dragon symbol without the heads and horns, as he is seen later in Revelation, is still Satan, but without the Roman civil power symbols on his dragon symbol. The seven heads and the ten horns that the dragon had in Revelation 12:3, were onto his Dragon symbol to show that he was controlling the civil power of the Pagan Roman Empire. That view of him, was at the earlier time when he was standing before the woman who was about to give birth to the Man-Child in 33 AD.

In Chapter 13, we will see the Apostate Christianized beast with the heads and horns on it instead, which was after Satan had given the power of his throne to the Christianized beast. When Satan is seen standing on the sand of the sea, waiting for the Christianized Roman Empire to come back out of the sea, after its fall and destruction, we notice that he doesn't have the heads and horns on his dragon symbol anymore. The Christianized beast that was to come back up out of the abyss in about 539, had been given the throne of the beast, which was symbolized in the heads and horns. Revelation shows us that it was going to be restored back again with the same heads and horns, but with the seventh head as if it had been smitten—the head was smitten by it having been overran by the barbarians. The crowns that had been on the heads before the fall, moved to the ten horns, showing the loss of central control. The crowns on the horns, shows that the kings that came back together at that time, kept control of their own nations, but they still claimed loyalty to the Roman Empire, because of the protection that came from belonging to the Empire.

Satan's Control of Christianized Rome Is Seen as a Beast

That Satan's control of the Christianized Roman Empire, is seen as a beast further along in Revelation, shows a progression of history, by showing us how the Pagan Roman government that Satan was controlling, changed to the so called Christianized Roman government. When we examine Chapters 13 and 17, it will become obvious that each vision that we see in those Chapters, will show us a further and worsening progression of the evil church and state system that Satan controlled. Starting in Chapter 13, that vision started at about the 539AD date, which is the date that the 1260 years of the Papal reign of terror began at.

In the prophecy in Chapter 13, we will see that Satan is still behind and controlling the new symbol of the beast, because it tells us that the dragon gave that beast his power, the throne and great authority. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast. In other words, the earthly power that Satan controlled in the Pagan Roman Empire, was still being controlled by Satan when the Empire became the Apostate Christianized Roman beast of Chapter 13. Satan was behind the scenes, and was using Rome to accomplish his evil purposes, no matter if it was the Pagan Roman Empire or if it was the Apostate Christianized Roman Empire. That was why it was foolish for the church to have gotten involved with the Roman Empire, because when they did that they allowed Satan an even greater inroad into the church.

Serpent = Liar

That Satan is represented by four different symbols, shows us that he has four different evil aspects. That he is seen as a serpent reminds us of the deception of Eve, through his lies in the Garden of Eden. So, when we see him described as a serpent in this Chapter, we are seeing a deceiver and a liar at work. Since one of the descriptions, says that it was the mouth of the serpent that spewed out the water that tried to drown the woman, we see in that symbol of the mouth of the serpent, that he spewed out corrupted doctrine and Satan's lies and deceptions into the church. That is why we see the Serpent, spewing water after the woman who had the two wings, trying to overwhelm the knowledge of the covenant that she represents. We also see the Pagan dragon spewing out water, trying to eliminate her faithful seed of the church by armed force. Satan was trying to corrupt and overthrow the truth, which was about the salvation that had come from the Lord's death on the cross, and those he couldn't corrupt, he tried to kill.

Unfortunately, he is still trying to do that yet today, even in the midst of the Bible Students. Many who were originally harvested out of the fallen church during the 40-year harvest, lost the truth that was revealed in the harvest message, and they fell away back into nominal system type doctrines—such as is found in the organization of the Jehovah witnesses, where they believe that only they are going to be saved. The Pagans in the time of the early church, came into the church in great numbers, and they overwhelmed it with Pagan doctrine.

Dragon = Civil Power

In another description, it uses the symbol of the dragon, when talking about the water, which points to civil Pagan Rome itself. Don't forget that the dragon symbol, also represents Satan himself, who has control of all of the civil power of the world. In that instance, the dragon was spewing out water after the seed of the woman, and the water was the literal people, nations and tongues of the Roman Empire, that supported the harlot in Rev Chapter 17. He brought barbarians against the Empire, in an effort to overwhelm those who were being faithful to the Lord. For that reason, the dragon symbol, represents the civil power attacks that came against the faithful seed, that we will see in Chapter 13 and 17.

Rev 17:1 Then one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls came and spoke with me, saying, "Come here, I will show you the judgment of the great harlot who sits on many waters,

Rev 17:15 And he said to me, "The waters which you saw where the harlot sits, are peoples and multitudes and nations and tongues. NASU

Satan Called Devil or False Accuser

That Satan is also called the devil in this Chapter, is interesting when we look at the meaning of the name.

1228 diabolos (dee-ab'-ol-os); from 1225; a traducer; specially, Satan [compare 7854]: KJV-- false accuser, devil, slanderer.

The name shows us another one of his traits in that he is the accuser and slanderer of the brethren. Those who were trying to implement the Trinity doctrine and other errors, used that tactic against those who were trying to preserve the true doctrine of Christ, which was the truth about who Christ was and what he had accomplished on the cross.

Satan Also Means An Adversary

The word Satan is defined as an accuser in Strong's dictionary, but it's more interesting meaning is found in Vines dictionary where he is described as an adversary, SATAN satanas ^4567^, a Greek form derived from the Aramaic (Heb., Satan), "an adversary," is used (a) of an angel of Jehovah in <Num. 22:22> (the first occurrence of the Word in the OT); (b) of men, e. g., <1 Sam. 29:4; Ps. 38:20; 71:13>; four in <Ps. 109>; (c) of "Satan," the Devil, some seventeen or eighteen times in the OT; in <Zech. 3:1>, where the name receives its interpretation, "to be (his) adversary," RV (see marg.; KJV, "to resist him"). (from Vine's Expository Dictionary of Biblical Words) (Copyright (C) 1985, Thomas Nelson Publishers)

"From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article is about the figure who is labelled "Satan". For the general concept of devils, see Devil. For other uses, see Satan (disambiguation).

Satan (Hebrew: שָׂטָן Satan, meaning "enemy" or "adversary";<sup>[1]</sup> Arabic: شيطان shaitan, meaning; "astray", "distant", or sometimes "devil") is a figure appearing in the texts of the Abrahamic religions<sup>[2][3]</sup> who brings evil and temptation, and is known as the deceiver who leads humanity astray. Some religious groups teach that he originated as an angel, or something of the like, who used to possess great piety and beauty, but fell because of hubris, seducing humanity into the ways of falsehood and sin, and has power in the fallen world. In the Hebrew Bible and the New Testament, Satan is primarily an accuser and adversary, a decidedly malevolent entity, also called the devil, who possesses abhorrent qualities."

That name shows us that he is going to be our adversary and go out of his way to oppose the church. History shows us that is exactly what he has done throughout the entire age. Sometimes he has had more power and influence than other times, but he has never quit trying to eradicate the faithful church in his attempt to stop the completion of the church and the fulfillment of the Abrahamic Covenant. So, wherever we find a particular name used for Satan in this Chapter or even later in Revelation, we should look at which of the four aspects of Satan are being used at that time, to help us to understand what is happening in that particular prophecy.

Satan's Attributes Are Opposite of God's

The four attributes that Satan has, are the opposite of God's four attributes. Satan counterfeits the power that God has when he rules through the dragon of Pagan Rome or the beasts. That he is a Devil or false accuser of the brethren, is the opposite of justice. That he is serpent or a liar and a deceiver, is the opposite of wisdom or truth. That he is Satan or an adversary of the brethren, is the opposite of love, in which we see that Christ pleads our case for us, but Satan tries to find or make us guilty.

Satan has control of all the nations of this world and at the time of the First Advent, Rome was his biggest Empire. For example, we see from our Lords dialogue with Satan during his testing in the desert, that Satan had power and control over all the governments of the world. Our Lord didn't dispute the claim that he controlled all of that, but he refused to fall down before Satan, saying that only God should be worshiped.

Satan Had Herod Try to Kill Our Lord

The dragon representing Pagan Rome and Satan, had control over the nation of Israel at the First Advent. It's not certain, but it looks like he knew that the seed of the covenant was going to be born soon, perhaps because of the 70-week prophecy. Satan is pictured in front of the woman, because he was trying to defeat the promised seed of the Abrahamic Covenant. That was why through Herod, that he had all the two-year-old children killed, thinking that he was going to kill our Lord and stop him from carrying out his mission or at least disrupt the prophecy.

Revelation, only deals with the history of the beast from about the time of the First Advent forward, until the beginning of the kingdom. Daniel contains more information, in that he describes all the Empires that were to come after his time and before the establishment of Gods kingdom. Those Empires were Babylon, the Medes and Persians, Greece, and finally Pagan Rome, which eventually turned into a so called Christianized Roman beast. That last beast was the power that was eventually being manipulated by Papacy, and was used by him to terrorize both the Faithful Church and the world.

Satan Drowned out the Covenant Knowledge In the Fallen Church

It was an Abomination because it wasn't true, and it hid the salvation that the church had received from God and Christ under the flood of Pagan Doctrine that came into the church—there was no true salvation in it at all. In other words, anyone that belonged to that system and believed in it, did not have any ability to understand the meaning of the symbols of the woman—because they did not understand how their salvation worked anymore. That was exactly what Satan was trying to do, when the water of corrupted doctrine was spewed out of the mouth of the serpent after the woman, polluting the knowledge of Christ's salvation. The knowledge of the covenant still existed, as we saw in Chapter 11 with the ones outside the city, but they had to go into hiding during that terrible time—just like Elijah. In the city, the knowledge of the covenants, and the Old and the New Testament, were not allowed to be preached as we will see in Chapter 13.

Rev 12:4 And his tail swept away a third of the stars of heaven and threw them to the earth. And the dragon stood before the woman who was about to give birth, so that when she gave birth he might devour her child.

Faithful One Third of the Stars Cast Down

In the interpretation of this verse, we have a unique way of viewing the 1/3 of the stars that are cast down in Rev 12, which is an opposite meaning from the traditional method. The first four trumpets are one of the other places that we know of, where the same kind of reducing by 1/3 is shown, and since the interpretation of one third that we used with the trumpets fits very well there, we see no reason to change the method of the one-thirds here either.

The casting down of a third of the stars of heaven, is at first puzzling until we look at what is left if we take one-third away, ( $1 - 1/3 = 2/3$ ). The fraction  $2/3$  converts into .666, etc. While we know that the number 666 applies to the church-state system of the dark ages, the symbolism is the same in the Old Testament as we see in Zech Chapter 13, which shows that God had used the same system regarding 1/3's in the Old Testament. In Zechariah, the number means the same thing, but it's applied in the opposite manner in that we see the  $2/3$  or 666 is taken away, being the bad part, and the  $1/3$  or 333 that is left being the good part.

That consistency between the old and the New Testament, shows that the interpretation of the good one-thirds and the bad two-thirds is correct. In the scripture here in Revelation Chapter 12, we see an evil  $2/3$  or 666 taking control of the heavens, and a good one-third being cast out.

Zech 13:8-9(8 "It will come about in all the land," Declares the LORD, "That two parts in it will be cut off and perish; But the third will be left in it. 9 "And I will bring the third part through the fire, Refine them as silver is refined, And test them as gold is tested. They will call on My name, And I will answer them; I will say, 'They are My people,' And they will say, 'The LORD is my God.'" NASU

In the Zechariah prophecy, we see that God is defining the two parts that are cut off as bad, and the one part that he takes out and refines in the fire, he is defining them as good. To prove that, we see that they are refined further as gold and silver. So, when you see us use the decimal number one third or two thirds anywhere in this book, Zechariah Chapter 13:8-9 is the principle behind that calculation.

Stars Cast Down in Third Church

By removing one-third of the stars out of the symbolic heavens in Revelation Chapter 12, the light coming from the remaining two-thirds of the stars in the control of the heavens, was no longer God's light. The remaining stars were the leaders and teachers of the church that had been corrupted by the church councils and the false doctrines that had been brought into the church by Satan. The remaining stars had been transformed into Satan's deceptive and false light. What should have been God's religion, was transformed into Satan's and man's religion, hence the number 666 which is the number of man and Satan, and it is the same evil number found at the end of Chapter 13! In the fourth trumpet, we also saw one-third of the stars darkened, and we saw the same total corruption of the Gospel Age church that we see here. The 666 corruption of the Jewish system, was also true at the end of the Jewish age, as we will see as we discuss this further.

In the Bible, three is God's number, which shows that the 1/3's or .333 represent the faithful of the Gospel Age church. So in both the corruption of the Jewish leadership by Pagan Rome, as well as in the corruption of the church's leadership, the faithful were cast out and of those remaining, Satan turned them into teachers of lies, so that they were not true lights of God anymore. Those who are true faithful lights will in the end shine forever and ever as we are shown in Daniel 12:3.

The symbol of the tail, is defined in Isaiah as being the prophet who teaches lies. That definition of the tail, indicates that the unfaithful religious leaders were corrupting the people with false ideas, and they were forcing out anyone who didn't agree, as pictured by the casting out of the stars by the tail, which symbolizes the followers of the dragon's corrupted doctrines. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast.

That happened literally with the faithful of Israel, just before the First Advent, and in the same manner it happened with the faithful Christian church during the Gospel Age, and especially after 381AD by the edict of Theodosius, which banned any non-orthodox doctrines such as the Arian view of God and Jesus, which had declared the Trinity doctrine false. That situation became worse when Ravenna was captured in 539AD, which was the physical defeat of the last of the Arians in the Western Empire—the stars were definitely being cast down and trampled by the beast at that time.

Daniels Vision of the Cast out Stars

In support of the view that it was the faithful stars that were the ones being cast down or out, we see that there is a prophecy in Daniel Chapter eight, which shows that after the stars were cast down, they were being trampled by the terrible fourth beast. That is the prophecy where the little horn of Papacy cast down the stars of heaven, and he then trampled them underfoot. In Daniel, a lot of the prophecy has two fulfillments, one for Israel and the other for the Christian church. In the Jewish Age fulfillment of that prophecy, we see that it's showing the Roman power in league with corrupt Jewish leaders doing the trampling upon the faithful Jewish stars, just before the time of Christ.

Some also apply that prophecy to Antiochus IV Epiphanes who caused many of the Jews to fall at an earlier time, but we look at him as more of a "picture of the Anti-Christ" who was to come, which fulfilled that part of the chapter exactly. In the second and more complete fulfillment of that prophecy, we see the casting down of the faithful church and the trampling of them by the church and state system of Papacy and Rome.

Dan 8:9-12 (9 Out of one of them came another horn, which started small but grew in power to the south and to the east and toward the Beautiful Land. 10 It grew until it reached the host of the heavens, and it threw some of the starry host down to the earth and trampled on them. 11 It set itself up to be as great as the Prince of the host; it took away the daily sacrifice from him, and the place of his sanctuary was brought low. 12 Because of rebellion, the host [of the saints] and the daily sacrifice were given over to it. It prospered in everything it did, and truth was thrown to the ground. NIV

So we see that the prophecy in Daniel has a double fulfillment, one for the Jewish system, and then another for the Christian Church. Just as Israel's leaders cast out the Jews who were trying to be faithful, we see that the fallen church did the same thing. That would agree with what we find in Isaiah Chapter 66, where we see that the faithful Jews were being cast out just before the end of the Jewish age. That timing is shown in the context of that Chapter, because verse 6 in Isaiah Chapter 66, tells us that there was going to be recompense that was going to come upon the evil ones, and historically it did in 70AD. Isa 66:5-6 (5 Hear the word of Jehovah, ye that tremble at his word: Your brethren that hate you, that cast you out for my name's sake, have said, Let Jehovah be glorified, that we may see your joy; but it is they that shall be put to shame. 6 A voice of tumult from the city, a voice from the temple, a voice of Jehovah that renders recompense to his enemies. ASV

So we see that we should be looking at the description of the dragon, in the same manner that we looked at the symbol of the woman, in that the vision is giving us a complete historical description of the entire evil reign of Satan, not just at one point in time. That way there would be no conflict with either way of looking at the vision of the Dragon, because he has always warred against God's faithful, and he has cast out a third of the faithful stars of both ages.

At this time, it seems most likely that the stars fallen from heaven includes both ages. That interpretation does not require any fancy explanations, and it's historically accurate. It also agrees with the war in heaven that we will see a little further onward in our discussion of this Chapter, in that we will find that the war described in verse 7-12, had been going on during the Jewish age, and even before.

Rev 12:5 And she gave birth to a son, a male {child} who is to rule all the nations with a rod of iron; and her child was caught up to God and to His throne.

“Ho Theos” Equals, The God

It's very unlikely and against common usage, that the word “God” in Rev 12:5, represents Papacy even in symbol, because in the Greek text it's written “Ho Theos”. As Pastor Russell explained in the volumes, almost everywhere that it uses “Ho Theos” “The GOD”, it means Jehovah, see Studies in the Scriptures, Vol. 2 page 275, Vol. 5, page 70, 86. Even if that is not true in all usages, we see that in most places that it uses “the” with “God” that it's actually Jehovah. That it actually uses “The God” here, again lends a great deal of weight to the idea that the Man-child or Christ is being caught up to Jehovah, and it is not Papacy being elevated to a position of power.

In the interpretation that we believe is correct, which is where we don't believe the woman is the church, but that she is the Sarah who is the type of the Abrahamic Covenant, we see no problem in taking the plain scriptural sense of these verses, and interpreting them exactly for what they say. Since everything that is described in these verses is confirmed by many other scriptures as being Christ, we find it impossible to say that this Man-Child is anyone other than the Christ, who is going to rule the nations in the next age with a rod of iron, just as it says in the verse.

If we don't interpret these verses in that manner, we are guilty of having created a private interpretation, or in other words one where we have put our own interpretation on the verses and not God's. 2 Peter 1:20-21 (20 But know this first of all, that no prophecy of Scripture is a matter of one's own interpretation, 21 for no prophecy was ever made by an act of human will, but men moved by the Holy spirit spoke from God. NASU

By allowing scripture to interpret scripture, we then allow the other scriptures to tell us what a prophecy means.

Man-Child Was Snatched Up

Because this point is so important, this is a repeat from earlier in this explanation.

If Satan was the one behind the elevation of Papacy, why would Satan try to devour the Papacy just before he was elevated into heaven? The word that is used in this verse, has a meaning that excludes the possibility of this being Papacy. If we look at the word caught up or snatched, NT:726, we see that it implies that he was taken by force or plucked or pulled away from Satan. The root word that it is derived from, NT:138, means to take for oneself, to prefer. Both words taken together fit exactly with what the Heavenly Father did, bringing Jesus up from the grave, up to be seated on God's right hand side. Being snatched away from the dragon Satan, does not fit with Papacy being raised to power!

NT:726_a(rpa/zw harpazo (har-pad'-zo); from a derivative of NT:138; to sieze (in various applications): KJV - catch (away, up), pluck, pull, take (by force).

Snatched is Same Word as 1 Thes 4:17

The Lord Jesus was caught up first to the Heavenly Father, just as this describes. Snatched up is the same word used in 1Thes 4:17, which shows that the church is to be caught up to the Lord, just like Jesus was to the Father. The usage of this word, snatching up, does not fit with the rise of Papacy to Power. Papacy rose to power by his own conniving, and the verb snatching up does not fit that, because the snatching up was said to be to the Heavenly Father's throne—which means that the Heavenly Father was the one that did it. The same thing is true of us, in that we are to be caught up to meet the Lord Jesus in the air.

Historically Jesus was caught up to God and his throne, just as is described in this verse, and so why would it be anyone else? Any explanation should be centered around that central concept of Christ being the Man-Child, which the early church would have recognized in this verse, because we are told in many other scriptures, that Jesus was taken up and he was seated on the right hand of the throne with God.

Rev 12:5 And she gave birth to a son, a male child, who is to rule all the nations with a rod of iron; and her child was caught up to God and to His throne. NASU

*Heb 8:1 Now the main point in what has been said is this: we have such a high priest, who has taken His seat at the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens.

*Heb 12:2 fixing our eyes on Jesus, the author and perfecter of faith, who for the joy set before Him endured the cross, despising the shame, and has sat down at the right hand of the throne of God.

*Rev 3:21 He who overcomes, I will grant to him to sit down with Me on My throne, as I also overcame and sat down with My Father on His throne.

Rev 7:17 for the Lamb in the center of the throne will be their shepherd, and will guide them to springs of the water of life; and God will wipe every tear from their eyes." NASU

Man-Child is Not Used Again in Revelation

The Man-Child, is not used again as a symbol in this Chapter or even the rest of Revelation, and that is not historically correct if this symbol represents Papacy. That the Man-Child is not seen again, is true historically if that symbol represents Christ, because Christ went to the Father with the blood of the New Covenant, and he is now sitting on his right hand, waiting for the set time to come, when he can fully establish his kingdom.

Heb 10:11-14 (11 Day after day every priest stands and performs his religious duties; again and again he offers the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins. 12 But when this priest had offered for all time one sacrifice for sins, he sat down at the right hand of God. 13 Since that time he waits for his enemies to be made his footstool, 14 because by one sacrifice he has made perfect forever those who are being made holy. NIV

This Does Not Say “Like” a Man-Child

That Jesus is in heaven, sitting at the right hand of the Father, waiting for the time of his kingdom when his enemies would be made a footstool for his feet, was an important doctrine to the early church, and we can see no reason why the scriptures here would turn the obvious meaning of this symbol into something bad, unless they made it plain that they had done so, and that the symbol was a counterfeit.

For example, in Rev 13:11 it says that John saw a two-horned beast that was “like” a lamb, but which actually spoke as a dragon. In other words, it warns us that the two horned beast was not really “lamb-like” or Christ like, but it’s telling us that it’s actually a Satanic civil powered entity in sheep’s clothing. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast.

In Rev Chapter 12, that same kind of distinction is not made regarding the Man-Child, so we again see no reason to change the obvious and scriptural meaning—it does not say that it is “like” the man-child.

Rev 13:11 Then I saw another beast, coming out of the earth. He had two horns like a lamb, but he spoke like a dragon. NIV

Another important point here, is that this beast spoke like a dragon. In Rev 16:13-14, we see three evil characters, the beast, the false prophet, and the dragon, uttering three unclean spirits. We will present evidence that the three unclean spirits are three lies, from the dragon Satan, the beast or civil power, and the false prophet or false doctrines of the evil system. In the end, those three lies will draw this evil system to the final battle of Armageddon. We will discuss what we believe the lies are in the explanation of those verses of chapter 16.

Scriptures Apply Rod of Iron to Jesus & Church in Next Age

There are other scriptures both in the New and the Old Testament, that put limits on what the interpretation of the Man-Child in Rev Chapter 12 can be. The traditional Bible Student view, says that this is Papacy—which is actually an earlier Adventist interpretation. As we mentioned earlier, Papacy even applies this to himself, stating that this represents his legal rise to power over the church and the earth—but we see that interpretation is a deception of Satan. There are several scriptures in the Bible that disagree with that interpretation, and which say that it will be Christ or Christ head and body that will rule with the rod of iron, and there are none that say it will be a Papal like character, unless you try to force this one into saying that like the false church did.

Ps 2:9 Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; Thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel. ASV

Rev 2:27 and he shall rule them with a rod of iron, as the vessels of the potter are broken to shivers; as I also have received of my Father: ASV

Rev 19:15 And out of his mouth proceedeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the winepress of the fierceness of the wrath of God, the Almighty. ASV

The Problem is the Idea that the Woman Represents Church

Not seeing that the woman represents Sarah, who symbolizes the Abrahamic Covenant and that she has as accessories, all of the other covenants of God, is why many think she represents the Papal church at this later point in history of 539AD. They believe that the Man-Child being caught up to God, is when Papacy was being exalted into power. The students that interpret the Chapter in that way, are also forced to start the prophecy after the time of our Lord's death, because of the misidentification of the woman as being the church, instead of her representing the promises of the Abrahamic Covenant. That introduces an interpretation that has many problems, and which misses the beauty of seeing the Divine Plan of God, and the picture of the two salvations that are shown in this Chapter.

In the interpretation that the Study Group believes is correct, we see that the Man-Child and the seed of the woman, are both good symbols, and that they represent what actually happened regarding Christ being taken up into heaven! This vision, is the same thing that we will see prophesied about in Isaiah Chapter 66, and there we will see that both the Man-Child and the seed or children are described separately, and there they are both shown as good symbols. Another obvious problem for the traditional view, is that the Old Testament Bible Student interpretation of the Man-Child in Isaiah Chapter 66, does not agree with the definition that the traditional Bible Student view has for the Man-Child in Chapter 12 of Revelation, where the Man-Child is said to be Papacy. Whatever happened to having scripture interpret scripture?

If we use the scripture upon scripture method, that we have used throughout the rest of the book of Revelation and other areas of scripture, we should see that we have a big problem, in that the two definitions do not even come close to agreeing. So, unless we want to throw out the scripture on scripture method, and start making private interpretations for all other scriptures in order to make them say anything that we want, we suggest that we should examine the scriptures used with the scripture upon scripture method to see if they make sense, and to see if they tell us something very important in this Chapter.

Man-Child In Isaiah Chapter 66

We believe that the definition that is traditionally given for the Man-Child in Isaiah Chapter 66, is much closer to being correct than the traditional Revelation Chapter 12 definition, but it's not completely correct, in that we think that the Man-Child is just Christ, and not Christ head and body. We also believe that the children or seed, that are brought forth by the travail in Isaiah Chapter 66, are the same children who are the faithful seed of the winged woman in verse 17 of Revelation 12. They are brought forth during the travail of Zion—the travail that brings forth the children takes place during the entire Gospel Age. That travail or tribulation goes on through the entire Gospel Age, until the 144,000 are completed.

This table shows the parallel between the two areas, showing that they are talking about the same thing. After the table we will examine Isaiah Chapter 66, verse by verse, explaining what we believe is correct.

Table of Isaiah 66 & Rev 12

Isaiah Chapter 66	Revelation Chapter 12	Explanation
Isa 66:5 Hear the word of the LORD, ye that tremble at his word; Your brethren that hated you, that cast you out for my name's sake, said, Let the LORD be glorified: but he shall appear to your joy, and they shall be ashamed.	Rev 12:4 and his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth ; and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her child as soon as it was born.	Satan cast out the faithful of the Jewish age also, but the Rev 12 applies mainly to the casting out of the church.
Isa 66:7 Before she travailed, she brought forth; before her pain came, she was delivered of a man-child . ASV	Rev 12:5 So the woman gave birth to a son, a male child , who is going to rule over all the nations with an iron rod . Her child was suddenly caught up to God and to his throne,	The Birth of the Man-Child is Christ. He became the Man-Child or seed of promise on the cross.
Isa 66:8 Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seen such things? Shall a land be born in one day? shall a nation be brought forth at once? for as soon as Zion travailed, she brought forth her children .	Rev 12:17 So the dragon became enraged at the woman and went away to make war on the rest of her children , those who keep God's commandments and hold to the testimony about Jesus. Matt 24:8 But all these things are the beginning of travail . ASV Matt 24:20-22 (20 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on a Sabbath: 21 for then shall be great tribulation , such as hath not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, nor ever shall be. 22 And except those days had been shortened, no flesh would have been saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened. ASV	The travail of Zion occurs during the entire Gospel Age, resulting in the delivery of the children, and the birth of a nation—the kingdom.  We see that travail begins right away in Rev 12:17, where Satan begins to make war against the faithful children.  Math 24 tells us that the winter time of the 1260-1335 would be bad, but it also tells us that even the Sabbath day which started in 1874, would also be bad.

Isa 66:10-11(10 Rejoice ye with Jerusalem, and be glad for her, all ye that love her: rejoice for joy with her, all ye that mourn over her; 11 that ye may suck and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations; that ye may milk out, and be delighted with the abundance of her glory.	Gal 4:25-26 (25 Now this Hagar is Mount Sinai in Arabia and corresponds to the present Jerusalem, for she is in slavery with her children. 26 But the Jerusalem above is free; she is our mother. Rev 21:2 And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.	The Jerusalem that is being spoken about here, is the Jerusalem above that is being developed in the spiritual heavens. When the seed of the children are brought forth, then the New Jerusalem which is the bride of Christ, comes down to the earth in order to begin the kingdom.
Isa 66:21 And I will also take of them for priests and for Levites, saith the LORD.	Rev 20:6 Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.	The faithful church will be under priest with our Lord Jesus.
Isa 66:22 For as the new heavens and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, saith the LORD, so shall your seed and your name remain.	Rev 21:1And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea.	The new heavens and earth replace the old and corrupted heavens and earth during the kingdom.
Isa 66:23 And it shall come to pass, that from one new moon to another, and from one Sabbath to another, shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the LORD.	Gal 4:27 For it is written, Rejoice, thou barren that beareth not; break forth and cry, thou that travailest not: for the desolate hath many more children than she which hath an husband. (KJV) Rev 21:24-25) 24 And the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it. 25 And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shall be no night there.	All nations of the world will eventually come to the kingdom and worship our Lord Jesus and Jehovah.

Punishment of Israel & Jerusalem in 70AD

Isa 66:6 Do you hear that noise in the city and those shouts coming from the temple? It is the LORD shouting as he punishes his enemies. CEV

This verse is referring to the destruction of Jerusalem in 70AD, which was punishment for their having killed Jesus, their Messiah, as well as all the other prophets. There should be no doubt about that interpretation. There may have been another application of this prophecy at the time of Babylon, but we are looking at the main application that applies at the First Advent. The punishment that is going on here, is not the tribulation that we will see in verse 8, this is not called a tribulation, it's a punishment, which is different.

Matt 23:34-36 (34 "Therefore, behold, I am sending you prophets and wise men and scribes; some of them you will kill and crucify, and some of them you will scourge in your synagogues, and persecute from city to city, 35 so that upon you may fall the guilt of all the righteous blood shed on earth, from the blood of righteous Abel to the blood of Zechariah, the son of Berechiah, whom you murdered between the temple and the altar. 36 Truly I say to you, all these things will come upon this generation. NASU

Man-Child Being Born

Isa 66:7 Before she travailed, she brought forth; before her pain came, she was delivered of a man-child. ASV

Before the destruction of Jerusalem in 70 AD, there was going to be a Man-Child born, and the only singular Man-Child ever born, was Christ. The traditional Bible Student view in Isaiah Chapter 66, has the Man-Child that is born as being Christ head and body, and the children as being the Great Company, but since the Man-Child is singular in the Hebrew text, that interpretation is impossible.

The other thing about this, is that the context of the Chapter in Isaiah 66, does not support the Man-Child as being Christ head and body as we will see. The birth of the Man-Child, directly leads to the birth of the other children who are the faithful seed of the church, which leads to the kingdom when the church is complete—as shown in Isaiah chapter 66!

The Tribulation & Spiritual Children of the Gospel Age Land Born in One Day

Isa 66:8 Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seen such things? Shall a land be born in one day? shall a nation be brought forth at once? for as soon as Zion travailed, she brought forth her children. ASV

Can a land or nation be brought forth at once, yes it can if it is brought forth at the start of the Gospel Age Church, which began at the pouring out of the Holy spirit at Pentecost. The travail continues all through the Gospel Age, and all of the spiritual children are born out of that travail. Once the 144,000 of the church are complete, and then there is a further development, in which the millennial kingdom comes to the world, as is shown in the rest of Isaiah chapter 66.

Reason for Two phases To the Nation being Born

The reason that we have put forth two phases for the day, is because in another more complete sense, the full number of children are born during the fulfillment of the Day of Atonement. The Day of Atonement comes in two parts, and the second part brings salvation to the earthly children. Both of those ages are guaranteed by the blood of the Lamb, which is mentioned in Revelation Chapter 12, in verse 11, and the salvation for both ages comes from the promises of the Abrahamic Covenant—the stars of heaven, and the sand of the sea shore blessings.

In the Revelation account, we don't see the earthly children yet, because it's not time for them to be born during the Gospel Age. There is a strong possibility, which we will talk about later in the Chapter, that both salvations are talked about in Revelation Chapter 12, in that one woman is on foot, running or fleeing, earthly, and the other one has two wings and is flying, heavenly. The one flying is the one that is said to have the seed or children that keep the commandments of God, and who hold to the testimony of Jesus.

The Travail is the Travail of the Gospel Age Church

The travail that it is talking about in Isaiah 66:8, is not the literal destruction of Jerusalem and the temple in verse 6, as some interpret this, but it is the travail of "spiritual Zion", which suffers travail through the entire Gospel Age. In the verse 6 punishment on Jerusalem, it does not even use the word travail for the destruction of the city, only referring to it as the Lord punishing his enemies—note that it only calls it "the city", and we are now talking about Zion in this verse, which is completely different. To make the travail and the punishment the same event, is what is causing confusion as to what the prophecy is telling us.

The church, Zion, is the one that was going to have to go through travail, through the entire Gospel Age. The children that are born in a "single day" in Isaiah, are the faithful members of the church, who are born during "the day of the Gospel Age". As we mentioned above, there will also be earthly children once the heavenly children are finished. Below are several scriptures, that show that our Lord predicted the exact tribulation that is described in Isaiah Chapter 66:8.

Matt 24:8-9 (8 But all these things are the beginning of travail. 9 Then shall they deliver you up unto tribulation, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all the nations for my name's sake. ASV

Matt 24:15-22 (15 "Therefore when you see the ABOMINATION OF DESOLATION which was spoken of through Daniel the prophet, standing in the holy place (let the reader understand), 16 then those who are in Judea must flee to the mountains. 17 Whoever is on the housetop must not go down to get the things out that are in his house. 18 Whoever is in the field must not turn back to get his cloak. 19 But woe to those who are pregnant and to those who are nursing babies in those days! 20 But pray that your flight will not be in the winter, or on a Sabbath. 21 For then there will be a great tribulation, such as has not occurred since the beginning of the world until now, nor ever will. 22 Unless those days had been cut short, no life would have been saved; but for the sake of the elect those days will be cut short. NASU

Matt 24:29-31 (29 But immediately after the tribulation of those days the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken: 30 and then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory. 31 And he shall send forth his angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other. ASV

Brief History of the Attacks

The early Christians came under immediate attack from the Romans and the Jewish nation. When the Jewish nation was destroyed in 70AD, then the attacks continued afterward from the Roman Empire, and even from Jews in outlying areas that were not carried away.

Then, there were direct attacks against Christianity by the Pagan religion, from 303-313. No more did that attack stop at the time of Constantine in 313, then there were doctrinal attacks for several years. After that, the church came under the attack by the terrible beast in 539, which was the Abomination of Desolation, and that lasted for 1260, 1290, 1335 years. Those attacks were both literal and spiritual.

While that beast has lost most of its power at the present time, that false religious system still exists. If it had the power, it would go back to its old profession of killing the saints. The scriptures even say that they have not repented of their murders, Rev 9:21.

We were to beware in the winter time of the 1260-1335 days, and we were to also beware even on the Sabbath Day—1874 to “????”. In other words, it is not finished yet.

The Children Are Not Great Company

There are some major problems with the children in Isaiah Chapter 66 being the Great Company, as is traditionally thought. A big problem with the children in Isaiah being the Great Company, is that there is no such thing as a call to the Great Company, so why would the scriptures define them as being children or even show them as being children if they were Great Company. From the scriptural explanation of the children in Rev Chapter 12, that we considered earlier, we see that the children are the faithful children of the stars of heaven part of the Abrahamic covenant, that are seen in Rev 12:17.

Later on in Rev chapters 21-22, we will find that there is also a call to the earthly class, but there is no call to the earthly salvation until the next age. The Great Company are not developed under any special covenant, but are only saved because of the grace of God, who has provided means of salvation through the blood of Christ and the New Covenant. For that reason, the idea that the children represent the Great Company, shouldn't be a part of our consideration, because they are only indirectly saved by a special provision of God, which is only because of the blood of the Lamb—they are not a deliberate offspring of any covenant, they are only saved by the mercy of God.

We also need to carefully examine Rev Chapter 12:17, where we see that the seed or children are defined as being the faithful church, which means that they are definitely not the great Company, and there they are definitely defined as faithful children of the stars of heaven portion of the Abrahamic Covenant.

God Begins His Work
Through the Birth of the Man-Child
& Nothing Will Stop its Success

Isa 66:9 Shall I bring to the birth, and not cause to bring forth? saith Jehovah: shall I that cause to bring forth shut (the womb)? saith thy God. ASV

Barnes explains this fairly well, in that he recognizes that God would not start this endeavor of salvation, and not finish it. When we get to the next few verse after this one, we will see that this verse has brought us to the time of the kingdom, proving that we have interpreted these verses correctly.

Isaiah 66:9 [Shall I bring to the birth?] The sense of this verse is plain. It is, that God would certainly accomplish what he had here predicted, and for which he had made ample arrangements and preparations. He would not commence the work, and then abandon it. The figure which is used here is obvious; but one which does not render very ample illustration proper. Jarchi has well expressed it: 'Num ego adducerem uxorem meamad sellam partus, sc.ad partitudinem, et non aperirem uterum ejus, ut foetum suum in lucem produceret? Quasi diceret; an ego incipiam rem nec possim eam perficere?'

[Shall I cause to bring forth?] Lowth and Noyes render this, 'Shall I, who begat, restrain the birth?' This accurately expresses the idea. The meaning of the whole is, that God designed the great and sudden increase of his church; that the plan was long laid; and that, having done this, he would not abandon it, but would certainly effect his designs.

Isa 66:10-13 (10 Rejoice ye with Jerusalem, and be glad for her, all ye that love her: rejoice for joy with her, all ye that mourn over her; 11 that ye may suck and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations; that ye may milk out, and be delighted with the abundance of her glory. 12 For thus saith Jehovah, Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river, and the glory of the nations like an overflowing stream: and ye shall suck (thereof); ye shall be borne upon the side, and shall be dandled upon the knees. 13 As one whom his mother comforted, so will I comfort you; and ye shall be comforted in Jerusalem. ASV

Heavenly or New Jerusalem is Mother of Church & World

We aren't going to comment to much here, because the quoted verses above all apply to the kingdom, and actually all of the rest of the verses of this Chapter in Isaiah all apply to the kingdom. The Jerusalem that it is being talking about here, is the New Jerusalem, that is going to come down to the earth and give spiritual and physical restoration to all who will accept it. It has been in the heavens during the entire Gospel Age, being developed by the individuals who were faithful to the Lord, so that it can come down and bless the world.

We also see that there is going to be a New Heavens and a New Earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness, just as Revelation shows, which means that the old corrupted and sinful heavens and earth, will be replaced by new versions that will be restored to perfection.

The Acceptance of the Kingdom

It also tells us that all flesh will come to worship him, from one new moon to another. Since the law is symbolized by the moon, the new moon would be the New Covenant or New Law, that will save all who are willing.

Coming to the Heavenly City of Zion

Someone might try to say that the children in Isaiah, are only worldly children, but that likewise can't be true, because Zion is the one that travails, and Zion corresponds to the New Jerusalem above that Paul tells us we are a part of in Galatians, and then again in Hebrews. That city is said by Paul to be the Mother of us "all". That city provides salvation for first the church, and then in the next age it provides salvation for the earthly children. All who are symbolically named in that city, are all who will be saved by the salvation of God, and so that vision of the city of New Jerusalem, represents both ages of salvation. Paul told the early church, that they had approached up to it like Moses and the Israelites at the mountain. He then said to the church, don't refuse the salvation being offered, first for the church, which is what he was advocating they accept, and then what he was pointing to for the world in the next age, with the vision in Hebrews.

Mt. Zion is the city that we the church have come to, and in those verses Paul describes all the different classes of salvation for both of the ages.

Heb 12:22-24 (" 22 But you have come to Mount Zion and to the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to myriads of angels, 23 to the general assembly and church of the firstborn who are enrolled in heaven, and to God, the Judge of all, and to the spirits of the righteous made perfect, 24 and to Jesus, the mediator of a new covenant, and to the sprinkled blood, which speaks better than the blood of Abel. NASU

It will have both Gospel Age children, as well as earthly children in the next age after it comes down to the earth, but the spiritual children are born first in the heavens and that is what is being shown in Isaiah. The salvation of the world isn't seen in the prophecy in Isaiah until later in the Chapter in verse 23. *Isa 66:23 And it shall come to pass, that from one new moon to another, and from one Sabbath to another, shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the LORD.

Same Children, in Micah 5:2-3

To help show that our interpretation of Isaiah 66 is correct, we have another scripture in Micah 5:2-3 that also tells us about the one who was to come forth from Bethlehem--Christ. In Micah, we are also told that Israel was to be given up until the one in travail has brought forth "her children"—the faithful church. The idea that this refers to Israel not being blessed until the children of the Gospel Age church are brought forth, is supported by the New Testament in Romans 11:25, where it says that the fullness of the Gentiles must come in before Israel will be grafted back into the root of the Abrahamic promise.

That is exactly the same thing that we are shown in Isaiah Chapter 66, where we have the Man-Child delivered first, and then the children are born out of Zion's travail of the entire Gospel Age, and later in that Chapter we then see the New Heavens and the New Earth that comes down to the earth after the completion of the 144,000 of the children—that is when Israel will again be blessed by the Jehovah. Micah 5:2-3) 2 But you, O Bethlehem Eph'rathah, who are little to be among the clans of Judah, from you shall come forth for me one who is to be ruler in Israel, whose origin is from of old, from ancient days.

3 Therefore he shall give them up until the time when she who is in travail has brought forth; then the rest of his brethren shall return to the people of Israel. (RSV)

Rom 11:25 For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, lest ye should be wise in your own conceits; that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fullness of the Gentiles be come in. (KJV)

Micah 5:3, shows us that until the woman has brought forth or has delivered all the children of the Gospel Age, the Jews will not be allowed to return to full favor. The process of restoring Israel, is already occurring now since we see that the nation of Israel has returned literally to the land, but they will not be back into full favor until all the Gentiles have come in—which is when the church is complete. Then God will open their blinded eyes, and they will weep and wail because of what they had done to the Messiah, as it says in Zechariah Chapter 12. It appears that as the Gospel Age church completes member by member, more favor gradually returns to Israel.

Man-Child is Singular in Both Isaiah 66 and Rev 12

In both Rev Chapter 12 and Isaiah Chapter 66, “the Man-Child is singular in both the Greek and the Hebrew texts”, and because of it being singular, that proves that symbol cannot represent the hierarchy of the Papal system, nor can it represent Christ head and body, but it must represent Christ and only Christ himself. He is the singular seed of the Abrahamic Covenant, the seed that had been promised to come, and he did.

When the church is complete, it will be the heavenly New Jerusalem that comes down to the earth. The heavenly city will rule through the literal earthly city, but it will be the heavenly that issues the orders to the Ancient Worthies in the literal city. The prophecy of Isaiah Chapter 66, also mentions the same new heavens and the new earth, that we will see later in Revelation, where we are shown the establishment of the earthly kingdom.

Isa 66:22 For as the new heavens and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, saith Jehovah, so shall your seed and your name remain. (ASV)

Rev 3:12 Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my

God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name. (KJV)

Rev 21:2 And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. (KJV)

Rev 12 & How the Dragon Tries to Kill Jesus

Coming back to Revelation Chapter 12, and looking at the verses after the Man-Child is born, the succeeding verses give us more detail about how the dragon tries to stop Jesus. That Satan tried to devour the woman's child, was literally true at the time of the First Advent. First of all, he tried to have our Lord killed at the age of two by Herod. Satan also tried to tempt the Lord to do things his way, so that he could destroy him spiritually when he tempted him for the 40 days in the desert, trying to get him to abandon the plan that the Father had laid down for him to complete during his mission. Later when Christ had completed his mission on the earth, Satan instigated the crucifixion, trying to physically get rid of him. All of these things are what we see described here in Revelation, when it tells us that he tried to devour the woman's child at the time of the First Advent.

Woman's Child Was Caught Up to God

As described in the New Testament, and from what actually happened historically, we see that the woman's child, who was Christ, was restored from death and caught up to God and he sat down on God's right hand and was given great power and authority in regard to all things necessary for God's Plan. The attempt on Christ's life backfired against Satan, since what he had thought would defeat God's Plan, actually was the means by which it was able to move on to the next step. The next step was the development and testing of the Gospel Age church, which became possible because of the payment of the ransom price through the blood of the covenant. Earlier in this work, we noted that the word "snatched up", is the same word used in 1 Thes 4:17, so Christ is snatched up to the Father, and then we also, are later on snatched up to the Lord Jesus. That is why Satan grew angry, because he figured out that the knowledge of salvation that had become available at the beginning of the Gospel Age, was eventually going to defeat him if he could not defeat it and the faithful of the church.

Other Scriptures Confirm That He Was Snatched Away From Satan, And Taken Up to God's Throne

All who study the scriptures, should have no doubt that Christ was actually caught up to Jehovah and his throne at the First Advent, just as we are told elsewhere in the New Testament.

*Eph 1:20-22) 20 which He brought about in Christ, when He raised Him from the dead, and seated Him at His right hand in the heavenly {places}

21 far above all rule and authority and power and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this age, but also in the one to come.

22 And He put all things in subjection under His feet, and gave Him as head over all things to the church, (NAS)

Psalms 91 is Parallel to Rev 12

Many of us are familiar with Ps 91, but most are not familiar with the fact that there are some very compelling parallels between Psalms 91 and Chapter 12 of Rev, as well as the rest of the book of Revelation.

See the table on the next page.

Psalms 91 & Chap12

Ps 91:1-3) 1 He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.  2 I will say of the LORD, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust.  3 Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence. (KJV)	Rev 12:14 The woman was given the two wings of a great eagle, so that she might fly to the place prepared for her in the desert, where she would be taken care of for a time, times and half a time, out of the serpent's reach. (NIV)
Ps 91:4-7) 4 He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.  5 Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that lieth by day;  6 Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasted at noonday.  7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee. (KJV)	Rev 12:14 The woman was given the two wings of a great eagle, so that she might fly to the place prepared for her in the desert, where she would be taken care of for a time, times and half a time, out of the serpent's reach. (NIV)
Ps 91:8-12) 8 Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.  9 Because thou hast made the LORD, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation;  10 There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.  11 For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.  12 They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone. (KJV)	Rev 19:20 And the beast was taken, and with him the False Prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that worshipped his Image. These both were cast alive into a lake of fire burning with brimstone. (KJV)
Ps 91:13 Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet. (KJV)	Rev 12:9 The great dragon was hurled down-- that ancient serpent called the devil, or Satan, who leads the whole world astray. He was hurled to the earth, and his angels with him.  Rev 20:2-3)2 And he laid hold on the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan, and bound him a thousand years,  3 And cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him, that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little season. (KJV)  Rev 20:10 And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the False Prophet are, and shall be tormented day and night forever and ever.
Ps 91:14 Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my name. (KJV)	Rev 12:5 She gave birth to a son, a male child, who will rule all the nations with an iron scepter. And her child was snatched up to God and to his throne. (NIV)
Ps 91:15-16) 15 He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honour him.  16 With long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.	Rev 12:10-11) 10 Then I heard a loud voice in heaven say: "Now have come the salvation and the power and the kingdom of our God, and the authority of his Christ. For the accuser of our brothers, who accuses them before our God day and night, has been hurled down.  11 They overcame him by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony; they did not love their lives so much as to shrink from death. (NIV)

In the table above we see the same symbols and events in Ps 91, that we find in Rev. We see the dragon cast down on the earth, where he is eventually trampled underfoot just as was predicted would happen in Genesis to the serpent's head.

We see the promise that our Lord, as well as the church, will be protected under the wings of the Almighty. In Rev Chapter 12, we see the wings of the great eagle being given to the church.

In Ps 91, we see that God promised to show his salvation to Christ, and in Rev Chapter 12, we find that he revealed that salvation through the blood of the Lamb.

We also see that our Lord was to be raised on high, because he trusted in and loved Jehovah, and in Rev Chapter 12, we see that he is caught up to God and to his throne.

Again we see that Ps 91:14, supports the thought that the Man-Child has to be Christ, and that it's him that is caught up to God and his throne, not Papacy or the Papal church hierarchy.

Rev 12:6 Then the woman fled into the wilderness where she had a place prepared by God, so that there she would be nourished for one thousand two hundred and sixty days. (NAU)

Description of Two Women?

We can definitely see that there are two different descriptions of the woman fleeing into the wilderness in this Chapter, one in verse 6, and a different one in verse 14. There is an insert of prophecy between the two accounts that shows us the battle in the heavens, and how Satan was defeated by the blood of the Lamb, and then the Chapter comes back to a different description of the woman. Both places that show us the woman fleeing into the wilderness have some similarities, but they also have some very important differences.

One of them shows the woman running or fleeing away into the wilderness on foot, and the other one shows her being given wings and flying there. Rev 12:6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there a thousand two hundred and threescore days. (KJV)

Rev 12:14 And to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent. (KJV)

If There is One Woman

One way of interpreting these verses, is to see that we have the insert of a parenthesis explanation between the two accounts, and then we simply come back to the woman's flight and the addition of two wings, and are given more information about why and what occurs after that. That actually could be a correct interpretation, and doing it that way does not affect any other parts of the explanation of the woman and covenants of this Chapter, except that we would not be directly seeing the sand of the sea shore portion of the covenant with that interpretation, only the stars of heaven part.

The symbol of the woman, would then have to be understood as carrying both parts of the covenant—that conclusion is actually contained in the Abrahamic Covenant itself. The promise to Abraham, was that the blessing would be for the offspring that were like the stars of heaven, and that there would be a blessing for the offspring that were like the sand of the seashore. One positive thing about that interpretation, would be that we would see the woman given the two eagles wings after the battle in heaven was won, and the blood of the Lamb is what made that victory possible.

If There Are Two Different Women

If there are actually two different women shown after the Man-Child is taken up, it gives us an extra visible lesson in regard to the fulfillment of the two salvations that are in the Abrahamic covenant. The next few paragraphs will present that alternate possibility. The explanation included with this interpretation, which also explains how the covenants work, is the same with both interpretations. The only difference is that with the one-woman explanation, you must then get the two salvations from the understanding of the Abrahamic Covenant, but with the two-woman explanation you automatically have the two salvations, which would point back to the two Salvations given in the Abrahamic Covenant. The descriptions of the two women are different enough, that the Study Group felt that the two-woman explanation was more likely—besides the fact that the two woman picture shows us the Divine Plan of the Ages, because of the two salvations.

In order to interpret the symbol of the woman, as having split into two women, we would need to remember that she is not a real woman, but that she represents the two promises of the Abrahamic covenant. Because of that, we believe that it's possible that there are two aspects to the symbol of the Abrahamic covenant that the two views of the women are showing us. We don't think that the Heavenly Father would have missed showing us that important lesson here, and so we believe that the one fleeing on foot into the wilderness, is showing us the earthly blessing of the promises of the Abrahamic Covenant, and the one that flies into the wilderness is showing us the heavenly blessing of the promises of the covenant.

When we looked at the symbol of the woman earlier, we saw that while she centrally represents the Abrahamic covenant, we saw that the vision of her did not represent just the symbol of the Abrahamic Covenant, but all of the accessories with her represented all of the other everlasting covenants that God has made with mankind since the time of Abraham—earlier we explained that the symbols meant different things before the crucifixion, and afterward their symbolism was changed and magnified. The picture of the birth of the Man-Child, does include the Gospel or good news, because that is what the birth of the Man-Child guarantees. That is also why the Chapter mentions the blood of the Lamb—which the Man-Child or Christ provided on the cross, and which was why the fulfillment of the Abrahamic Covenant could begin.

Woman on Foot

In the interpretation, which includes two women, we had first thought that what we were seeing with the woman on foot, was just the Hagar or Jewish portion of the woman in this Chapter, which is the Jerusalem below that is described by Paul in Gal Chapter 4. But we eventually realized that cannot be exactly true without some explanation, because Hagar represents the Jews under the law, and Paul tells us that the blessing will not come from the Mosaic law.

The spirit of the law, instead of the literal law, was made possible because of the blood of the Covenant that Christ had secured on the cross. When the earthly blessings begin in the next age, it will be the nation of Israel that the pouring out of the spirit will first come to before it goes to the world, but the blessing will not come from the law covenant, it will come from the blood of the New Covenant, which initializes the earthly part of the Abrahamic Covenant. Because of that, the woman on foot represents the earthly salvation the Abrahamic covenant, but she has no children yet in the Gospel Age. She is the promise of the sand of the sea shore, which is the earthly blessing of the Abrahamic covenant, and that is the salvation that Israel will get after she accepts the blessing of the New Covenant. Israel, will be the channel of the earthly blessing at the time of the kingdom, and for that reason the nation of Israel, also has to be preserved through the 1260 years—but to get that blessing they have to accept the New Covenant.

Hagar Changes to Keturah

As we explained earlier in the comments on the first verse of the Chapter, the symbol of Hagar will change to the symbol of Keturah at the start of the kingdom, because the Old Law covenant will not be in effect anymore—the New Law covenant which is the spirit of the law has replaced it. Israel must accept that change, and accept the New Covenant at that time, or they will not be blessed, and when they do accept the New Covenant, then they will become Keturah.

The woman on foot, represents the Abrahamic Covenant blessing that will be for the world in the next age, and since Israel as a nation will be a key and needed part of that blessing, they will also be preserved through that dark time. The situation with Israel, is like the situation with the woman with the two wings, in that she does not represent the church, but the church carries and preaches about the knowledge of the heavenly covenant that the woman with wings represents.

To see if these two different descriptions of the woman might be showing us both the heavenly and the earthly aspect of the Abrahamic covenant, we are going to take a closer look at the two places.

1260 Years

In one of the accounts where the woman is described, it uses 1260 days and in the other one it uses 3.5 times which represents  $3.5 \times 360 = 1260$ . Because we had decided that there were two different women in this Chapter, we discussed the possibility in the study whether those two different accounts of the woman might be two different time-periods.

When we first looked at that question, the Study Group had concluded that there was no difference, and that only the traditional 1260, 1290, 1335 chronology applied. In looking at this question a second time later on, we noted that there is some very good evidence, that there is a different application of the 1260, 1290, and 1335 years that applies to the literal nation of Israel, while the application that we are used to from the Second Volume applies only to events that happened to spiritual Israel or to the church, 539-1799AD. The second application of 1260 years overlaps the original one which is for the church, by 118.5 years, and it points to 1918, 1948, and 1993AD. In those three dates, we have the Belfour declaration and the fall of the Ottoman Empire, the restoration of Israel, and the Oslo peace accords.

Because there is an 118.5 years difference, it does show that the one with the earthly promises is running on a later time frame, which is why the kingdom is not here yet—we also believe that there is an overlap of time past the 1993 date which is derived from theory, but how much time is uncertain—we are guessing 40 or 43 years, but that is uncertain. Because of that time shift, it does make a difference and it explains why 1914 was not the end and the start of the kingdom as was originally thought.

The overlap of time that we are experiencing now, is there so that Israel could be returned to their land in time for the kingdom. We supplied the double application table for this 1260, 1290, 1335 year chronology earlier in these Revelation notes, in the comments on Chapter 10. That double application of the 1260 years seems to confirm that the two different places that it talks about the flight into the wilderness, are two different portions of the covenant.

One Woman Or One of Two?

The first account of the woman's flight in verse 6, which seems to represent the earthly aspect of salvation, is described differently than the second woman in verse 14, who represents the heavenly salvation. Verse 6 says that the woman, "fled" into the desert to be taken care of for 1260 days.

The word "fled" is Strong's word no 5453, and it means to run away or escape, either literally or figuratively. Some complain that the verb "to flee" does not mean that she is running on foot. That may be correct, in that it does not specify how she is escaping, but in what other manner would she be able to flee without wings, and Strong's definition does include the thought of running away? It would be impossible to run and fly at the same time.

Even if she is the same woman, she is not given the wings until verse 14, so she would have to be running until then. As we said earlier in this section, this being the same woman would not change anything, for or against the rest of the interpretation of this Chapter, because the Abrahamic Covenant contains the promise of both salvations anyway. But, due to the woman representing the Abrahamic Covenant, we would be surprised if she did not represent the earthly promise of the blessing of the covenant. NT:5343 feu/gw pheugo (fyoo'-go); apparently a primary verb; to run away (literally or figuratively); by implication, to shun; by analogy, to vanish:

Wings Are More Than Scriptures

In arguing that this is the same woman as in verse 14, some might argue that the early church didn't have the wings yet, because the Bible wasn't compiled until later. It's true that the approved canon didn't come until later, but all the New Testament writings did actually exist very early in the history of the church, even if they were not officially bound into one volume.

The Holy spirit at Pentecost

The other aspect of the wings or help that was given to the church, was the Holy spirit that came at Pentecost in 33AD, and so we see that the church was getting that aspect of the help of the wings from the very beginning of the church. The guidance of the Holy spirit, was what the Apostles used when writing the New Testament, and so the Holy spirit which was given at Pentecost, is the most important thing regarding the wings. The Holy Spirit lifted the church up into the spiritual heavens, so that they could understand the full meaning of the scriptures, and that help is what the writings of the New Testament came from. The addition of eagle wings, is also pictured in the Old Testament, when Israel was given help from God. That shows that the help from God, is more than just the writing of scriptures.

Ex 19:4 'You yourselves have seen what I did to Egypt, and how I carried you on eagles' wings and brought you to myself. NIV

Since the wilderness is described as a period of 1260 years, which began in 539AD for the church, then we should look for the flight into the wilderness, to start at the time of the early persecution of the church by Israel and the Romans. When the church arrived at the wilderness in 539AD, they had arrived at the beginning of the 1260 years, and that was made obvious by the use of the power of the Roman Empire against the faithful Arians who were against the Trinity.

The use of the scriptures, was also denied for the laity, just before 539—which was enforced when Papacy was given the control of doctrine in both halves of the Empire around 539 or shortly afterward. That early use of the army, gave Papacy the means to enforce the false doctrines of the church on both halves of the Empire. That was the time that the city of Ravenna came under siege and it was defeated, and because of that defeat the Arians were no longer found in the Western Empire within a few years. That military defeat, also removed the Ostrogoth's from the city of Rome, giving Papacy sole access to the original seat of power. The help of Roman power, is what created what we call Papacy. The central location of the Roman seat of power, was what eventually gave the city of Rome's bishop, power over all other bishops.

No Doubt This Woman is Flying

In contrast to the first woman on foot, if we look at Rev 12:14, where we see the second woman, it says, “That she might “fly” into the wilderness.” The word fly is Strong’s word # 4072, which means, “to fly flying”. In the first reference in verse 6, the woman is just described as fleeing, and if we contrast her to the one flying, we get the idea that the one fleeing on foot is earthly, while we see that the one that is flying is spiritual or heavenly. In other words, that we see that one is running and the other one is flying, definitely suggests the two different classes of salvation from the Abrahamic covenant—the heavenly and the earthly. Those two salvations correspond to the stars of heaven, and the sand of the sea shore parts of the Abrahamic Covenant.

Other Differences In Description of Both Women

There are some other differences, that make it seem likely that these are two different aspects of the Abrahamic Covenant. In verse 6, we see one other major difference, because in that verse the woman is not attacked or pursued by the dragon or the serpent, like we see in verse 14. Verse 6 simply tells us that the woman fled into the wilderness, where she was to be taken care of, with no mention of anything like what happens to the second woman.

The second woman was pursued by the dragon, and her seed or offspring were persecuted by him. Satan’s pursuing after the second woman, began with the attempt to remove or corrupt the knowledge of salvation represented in the heavenly aspect of the Abrahamic Covenant. Everything Satan was doing, was done with the intent to eradicate the truth of the salvation that Christ had won and delivered to the church at the First Advent. Satan tried to do that with the bringing in of the Gnostic and Pagan doctrines into the early church, and through the error of the church councils, as well as by physical attacks by the Jews, the Romans, and the Barbarians that overran the Empire. We will discuss all of that later in this Chapter and into the next.

Since the first woman didn’t accept the message of the Good News, Satan mostly ignored her at first, and went more intently after the knowledge of the second woman, that did have the newly revealed message of heavenly salvation.

Two Different Descriptions Of the Nourishing the Women

Another difference, is that the second woman with wings is to be nourished from before the face of the serpent during the 3.5 times, whereas in the first account the woman fleeing on foot is only nourished in order to keep her earthly promise alive in the Jewish nation, and there is no mention of the serpent at all. The serpent is the lying or deceiving aspect of Satan, and that is why the second woman is being nourished, so as to keep that knowledge of the covenant intact. The second woman, is the one that the dragon concentrated his efforts on, as we will see as we study Chapters 13 and 17. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast. *Rev 12:14 But she was given two wings like those of a great eagle so she could fly to the place prepared for her in the wilderness. There she would be cared for and protected from the dragon for a time, times, and half a time. Holy Bible, New Living Translation ®, copyright © 1996, 2004 by Tyndale Charitable Trust. The second woman, being nourished before the face of the serpent, means that the heavenly portion of the covenant and her faithful seed, were to be kept safe from the dragon aspect of Satan. That didn't mean that individually her seed couldn't be persecuted or even killed or even corrupted, but Satan was not going to be able to eradicate completely the understanding of the covenant, which is symbolized by the woman. Satan did try to corrupt and change the meaning of God's Plan and covenants, but God's word contained the promises, and he made sure that his word survived the many attempts of Satan to remove it—even if most weren't allowed to read it. If Satan could wipe out the truth of what Christ had done for us or if he could destroy those who upheld and preached those truths, he could then stop God's Plan from succeeding. He knew that his time was short, and so he has put forth all the effort that he could to overturning God's Plan, hoping that he could win out over the truth or extend his time.

Remember, in the previous Chapter, the two prophets which symbolized the scriptures, were killed in the midst of the Great City of Papacy. Later after the power of the apostate church system began to wane, the Holy spirit led the church gradually back into an understanding of what God's Plan was accomplishing in regard to the restoration of mankind from the fall in the garden—the wings again. That restored understanding was only possible because of the restoration of the scriptures, which greatly angered Satan and the Papacy.

Dan 7:25 He shall speak words against the Most High, shall wear out the holy ones of the Most High, and shall attempt to change the sacred seasons and the law; and they shall be given into his power for a time, two times, and half a time. NRSV

Jewish House Scattered, To Protect Them

The Jewish house was removed from the holy land in 69-70AD, and scattered all over the world. That was one way that God was able to preserve them as a people, since with them scattered all over the world, Satan has not been able to wipe them out. If they had been located only in one place, it would have been easier to do that. Instead the best that he could do was to persecute them in individual countries from time to time, which allowed them in many situations to be able to flee to another place, where they were then safe. They are kept safe as a people, so that the second half of the blessing of the Abrahamic Covenant can start with them, when the time has come.

The earthly portion of the seed, even though they were persecuted during that same time, didn't receive the brunt of the persecution. Depending on the historical time, they were sometimes allowed to practice their Jewish faith without persecution, because the fallen church considered them to be lost anyway. Later on, if Satan had a good opportunity, he didn't hesitate to convince the people that the Jews were greedy, and that they were causing the economic hardships of the church-state system. That lie from time to time, caused them to be persecuted and killed, especially in more modern times as we have gotten closer to the time that the earthly seed is going to be adopted back in as God's people.

It looks like Satan on this end of the age, has suddenly realized that the church is almost complete, and that the only other thing that he hadn't tried, was to completely kill off all of the earthly seed of the Jews. He evidently thinks that if he can get rid of the Jews, who carry the earthly part of the Abrahamic Covenant blessings, that God's Plan will be stopped. That is one reason why we had the holocaust, which again backfired and is helping defeat Satan, because that persecution was a principle reason that the Jews were allowed to go back to their homeland.

He is still trying to eradicate them in their homeland, by inciting Islam against them, but we know that their destruction will not be allowed, since God will defeat all of their enemies, and make himself known to all of the nations, through the final battle which is described in Ezekiel Chapters 38-39. As we write this, we see that time is coming much closer, as we see a lot of nations starting to turn against Israel, wanting to take her land back away from her, including the City of Jerusalem.

Fleeing into the Desert and Elijah

Why are the women pictured as fleeing into a desert condition in both places? In trying to decide what that flight into the desert represents, we need to remember that the sign of the woman in the heavens, contained the complete plan of God as shown to us by the everlasting covenants, and that there was an earthly as well as a heavenly seed to that plan. In a desert, nothing can grow or develop very easily, and that is the situation that both aspects of God's Plan found themselves in shortly after the First Advent. The only difference, is that the heavenly woman with the wings, was able to bring forth and to develop her children or seed, but it was with great difficulty and tribulation. That she was to be nourished, is similar to Elijah, who pictures the church during the 1260 years, when he was fed by the ravens and when God kept him and the widow miraculously alive.

The Heavenly Church & the Widowed Jewish nation?

Since Elijah in a picture represents the church, it makes us wonder who the widow would represent that he stayed with during the drought. In looking at that picture and what is happening here in Revelation Chapter 12, it seems that a good suggestion would be that she would represent the nation of Israel, who was widowed from the Lord when he rejected her—in other words the woman on foot. Jer 31:31-34 tells about how Israel will receive the New Covenant, that will be written on their hearts and minds. Before that, they are pictured as being married to the Lord through the law covenant. Elijah told the woman, that the flour and the oil would not perish before God would send rain on the earth. That is when Israel and the world will receive the blessing of the New Covenant, that New Covenant will not be like the old covenant that they broke, which caused the Lord to turn away from them.

Heb 8:9 It will not be like the covenant I made with their forefathers when I took them by the hand to lead them out of Egypt, because they did not remain faithful to my covenant, and I turned away from them, declares the Lord. NIV

That is exactly what we see pictured here in Revelation, in that we have both salvations protected and represented in the two women, and they are both being protected and fed by the Lord. The nourishing of them, represents the strengthening of the truth about the salvation, that both of their seeds need to make it through the dark time of the 1260 years. Just like Elijah, neither one will run out of the symbolic flour nor the oil, before the latter rain of the kingdom begins to fall on the earth. This reminds us of the third seal, where the oil and the wine was not to be harmed, even though there was a severe spiritual drought by the time of the third church.

Elijah's widow that he stayed with, is most likely the woman on foot. If that's correct, that would be another indication that we have two different women pictured in this Chapter—the heavenly church & the widowed Jewish nation—more correctly the two aspects of the Abrahamic Covenant. We also remember that the woman's child that died, was restored to life by Elijah, showing that her promise of an earthly seed will be fulfilled, even though she was rejected by the Lord for a time.

1 Kings 17:14-16 (14 "For thus says the Lord God of Israel, 'The bowl of flour shall not be exhausted, nor shall the jar of oil be empty, until the day that the Lord sends rain on the face of the earth.'" 15 So she went and did according to the word of Elijah, and she and he and her household ate for many days. 16 The bowl of flour was not exhausted nor did the jar of oil become empty, according to the word of the Lord which He spoke through Elijah. NASU

The work of the earthly woman, the sand of the seashore portion of the Abrahamic Covenant blessing, can't bring forth any earthly seed or be fully blessed, until after the heavenly seed is completed, but the Jews still needed to be protected all through that dark time, because they will be a major part of the beginning of the kingdom. God had promised Abraham that the world would be blessed through his seed, and so that blessing will start with the nation of Israel and then spread to the Gentiles.

The unbelieving seed that carries the earthly portion of the covenant, was scattered to the four corners of the earth, where they were to be kept alive, remolded and shaped, so that they would be ready when the time for the earthly kingdom arrives. While they are in the earth, they are to be protected as a people, so that there would be a Jewish nation able to return back to their land at this end of the age—which happened in 1948-1967, where Israel and then Jerusalem were restored.

World is in the Desert Condition

The world is still in a desert condition, with no salvation or earthly kingdom possible until later, although there are some blades of hope springing up at this time. As we see in Isaiah Chapter 35, the desert will blossom as a rose when the kingdom is being established, and springs of water will come forth in the desert, and then God's kingdom will begin to work with the earthly seed, and everyone will have to get up on the highway of holiness.

Since we are actually coming up out of the 1260 year time-period of that desert, we see that the desert is even now gradually coming back to life, because God's word is already watering it, as is described in Joel chapter 2. If we are correct, and the 1260 has two applications, one for the church, and the other for Israel, then we can see an interesting possibility. The time of the first 1260 has passed, and we see that there has been a great uplifting and restoration of the desert condition for the church. The second 1260 for Israel, has also expired in 1918, with that date having removed the Ottoman Empire which had control of the promised land. The 1290 brings us to 1948, which was when Israel was re-established. The 1335 date brings us to 1993, which was when the PLO signed the document that said that the nation of Israel has a right to exist. The next question, is how much overlap is there to the time of the kingdom—is it the same as the first 1335—which was 40 or 43 years?

The process of restoration, will continue until the time of the earthly kingdom, when God's word will cover the earth completely, as the waters cover the sea. At that time, the desert will indeed be fully blossoming like a rose. When the Millennial kingdom is established with the Jews, it will include not only the literal restored nation, but also the rest of the world will be added to the earthly promises of the Abrahamic Covenant, and become part of her seed.

While there can be life in a desert, it usually requires rain to make it flourish, which as we see, comes at the end of the Gospel Age. That is the same rain that is mentioned in the statement to the widow, which told her that she would not run out of food and oil until the rain would come upon the earth.

The earthly part of the covenant, was to be dormant for about 2000 years waiting for the rain. The church has gotten a blessing of rain or truth already on this end of the age, but Israel will have to wait until the church is complete in order to get their full earthly blessing from the Abrahamic Covenant, although they have gotten some blessing already.

Joel 2:23 So rejoice, O sons of Zion, And be glad in the Lord your God; For He has given you the early rain for your vindication. And He has poured down for you the rain, The early and latter rain as before. NASU

Isa 35:6-8 (6 Then shall the lame man leap as a hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing; for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert. 7 And the glowing sand shall become a pool, and the thirsty ground springs of water: in the habitation of jackals, where they lay, shall be grass with reeds and rushes. 8 And a highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for (the redeemed): the wayfaring men, yea fools, shall not err (therein). ASV

The evil church had actually helped to worsen the desert condition of the world, in the sense that they were and are keeping any blessing from coming, because what they advocate as God's kingdom is actually Satan's evil system. God, just as he did in the situation with Elijah, has provided a place for his people, so that they could hide and survive through that dark time. His church typified by Elijah, was hidden in the midst of the fallen system, so that they would be saved from Jezebel and Ahab, who picture the church and state system that tried to kill the saints all during the dark ages.

Four Waves of Locusts in Joel

In Joel Chapters 1-2, where the apostate church and state system is pictured as coming in and taking over God's land, we see four waves of locusts which are described as changing it into a desert—even though Joel says that there should not have been any reason that it could not have been like the Garden of Eden. Joel 2:3 A fire devoured before them; and behind them a flame burned: the land is as the garden of Eden before them, and behind them a desolate wilderness; yea, and nothing shall escape them. (KJV)

Later in Joel, we see God take control of the great army, and use it against the false church, and finally we see that God removes the Lord's great army, and then he blesses Israel and pours out rain and his spirit on them—which is the start of the kingdom. See the notes on the trumpets, where we have paralleled the book of Joel to the seven trumpets, which shows that Joel is a prophecy that shows the church and state system coming against the church.

In that prophecy, the church is symbolized by the land of Israel, and the attacks by the evil great army that came against them, was Satan's system taking over the church. Towards the end of the prophecy, the latter part of that prophecy applies to a returned Israel. Just as the church had the spirit poured out on them to bring them back to spiritual life, the same thing will happen to Israel just before the kingdom.

Israel has physically returned at this time, but they are not fully returned to God's favor yet, but when that happens the kingdom will begin at the outpouring of the Holy spirit.

Joel 2:28-29 (28 "It will come about after this That I will pour out My Spirit on all mankind; And your sons and daughters will prophesy, Your old men will dream dreams, Your young men will see visions. 29 "Even on the male and female servants I will pour out My Spirit in those days. NASU

The church had initially hoped that the blessing of the nations could begin immediately, but that was not to be. Just as is pictured in Joel, the evil system destroyed what could have been the Garden of Eden and turned it into a desert. Satan had removed any blessing that would have been there by deception, lies, and attacks on the saints, and opposition to the truth and God's Plan. The doctrine of the trinity and the mass, finished off any possibility that Jezebel could be reformed, as we saw described in the message to the fourth church. As we see above, God has prepared the time of blessing which is when he pours out his spirit on them, and there is nothing that can stop it.

Israel's Flight From Egypt Pictured in Revelation

In Israel's flight from Egypt, we again see some similar events, in that Pharaoh who represents Satan, chased after Israel as they were fleeing into the desert, and tried to bring them back to Egypt—Egypt symbolizes Satan’s evil system. In Exodus, Israel fled across the red sea after God divided the waters for them, allowing them to escape.

In Rev Chapter 12, we see that Satan spewed water out of the mouth of the dragon, after the woman with the two wings, trying to drown her, but the earth swallowed up the water and saved the woman, who represents the church. The serpent also spewed water out after the woman, and that water was doctrinal error. It’s not immediately obvious unless we read very carefully, but there were two streams of water, one from mouth of the serpent, and one from the mouth of the dragon. The dragon water was swallowed up, but the serpent water was not, and that is the water that we see in Revelation chapter 16, pictured by the Euphrates river.

In the sixth bowl of wrath, we will see the water of error of the Euphrates dried up, so that the earthly people can escape—just as in the time of Egypt. In the type of the Exodus, both the priests and the common people escaped, so that they could travel to the Promised Land, and the same thing is true here in Revelation. The church escapes first, and then Israel and the world escapes after the church is completed.

God brought literal Israel up out of Egypt, with a pair of Eagle wings, establishing a type, and here we see the same thing in anti-type, happening to spiritual Israel in the symbol of the woman with the eagles wings.

Exod 19:4 Ye have seen what I did unto the Egyptians, and how I bare you on eagles' wings, and brought you unto myself. (KJV)

So it seems positive, that the two different descriptions of the woman, represent two salvations, the heavenly and the earthly. That they both will be protected through the 1260 years of trouble, shows us that God is going to make sure that his plan of salvation succeeds—both for the heavenly and the earthly seed.

In this Chapter of Revelation, we are being shown another example of how God hides the complexity of his plan in plain sight. Once the church is complete, the earthly blessing as seen in the Abrahamic covenant, will then bring the second portion of the blessings of the covenant to the world, and restore them back to the perfection and life rights that Adam had lost in the fall in the garden!

Revelation 12:7-12

Fall of Satan

Rev 12:7 And there was war in heaven, Michael and his angels waging war with the dragon. The dragon and his angels waged war, Rev 12:8 and they were not strong enough, and there was no longer a place found for them in heaven.

Rev 12:10 Then I heard a loud voice in heaven, saying, "Now the salvation, and the power, and the kingdom of our God and the authority of His Christ have come, for the accuser of our brethren has been thrown down, he who accuses them before our God day and night.

Rev 12:11 "And they overcame him because of the blood of the Lamb and because of the word of their testimony, and they did not love their life even when faced with death.

When was the Devil Cast Down?

This was a complete victory over Satan, making it possible for the church to be completed, because if we keep the blood of Christ before us, none of his four aspects can defeat us. We will explain why this event symbolized the eventual complete defeat of Satan, although the full defeat was going to take until the end of the Gospel Age.

One thing that we need to bring out here, is that it says in verse 9, that the dragon was defeated and cast down, but it also gives four different aspects of the dragon being cast down—which shows that there is more to the dragon than it being just the Pagan Roman Empire. Constantine claimed he had defeated the dragon by defeating the Pagan Roman Empire, but the problem with that idea was that he only defeated one of the four aspects of Satan, temporarily, and that was through the ending of the sixth head. The seventh Apostate Christianized head was already being developed to take its place when that happened. It was not long before Satan was using the seventh head to control the people of the Empire, having replaced Paganism with an Apostate and Paganized Christianity—which was a seventh head because it was a different form of government.

When Was the War?

One question that we had about these verses, was where in the stream of time does this war belong? And when was Satan cast down out of heaven, and how? At first we tried to place this portion of the prophecy on this end of the age, especially after 1799AD or even after 1874AD, or especially at the very end of the age. But then we realized that can't be correct, because Satan is bound by the Lord and cast into the abyss, not into the earth as this says.

It seemed reasonable at first that Satan would be cast out, right at the close of the age. Another problem we ran into with that placement, is that the context of these verses shows us that the dragon or Satan had to have been cast out of the spiritual heavens, before the beginning of the 1260 years. The reason for that conclusion, is found in verses 13-14, which shows us that after Satan was cast out of heaven, he then pursued after the woman and she fled to the wilderness where she was to be nourished or protected for the 3.5 times or the 1260 years of the church and state power.

It should be obvious, that if Satan was going to get angry and pursue the woman while she was fleeing or flying into the 1260 years of the desert, then he had to have been cast down before the 1260 years began in 539AD. We are also told that the battle in heaven was won by the blood of the Lamb, and we know that the blood was acquired at the First Advent in 33AD on the cross. So if the war in heaven was won in 33 AD, then that means the war was going on before 33 AD, not afterward, as we will discuss in the next section.

Satan Was Cast out of Actual & Ecclesiastical Heavens

When we first began looking at this, we were making a simple mistake in how we were looking at Satan being cast out of heaven. We were only thinking that he was cast out of the literal heaven, where God's throne is located at, but with further reflection we believe that both literal heaven and the ecclesiastical heaven are meant. The way that he was cast out of the literal heaven, was by having his access to complain about the saints to God being barred by our Lord Jesus, who is sitting at the right hand of the Father. With Christ interceding for us, and if we are keeping our faith in the blood, Satan cannot overcome us spiritually, but he can still persecute and kill us here on the earth. Eventually, enough saints will be tested and saved, so that the 144,000 are finished—that is when he is fully defeated. The paying of the blood of the Lamb in 33AD, is what made that eventual defeat possible.

Rom 8:33-36 (33 Who will bring a charge against God's elect? God is the one who justifies; 34 who is the one who condemns? Christ Jesus is He who died, yes, rather who was raised, who is at the right hand of God, who also intercedes for us. 35 Who will separate us from the love of Christ? Will tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? 36 Just as it is written, NASU

Satan was cast out of the ecclesiastical heavens, because of the blood of the Lamb, and that tells us that he was for sure cast out in 33AD, when Christ secured the blood by his sacrifice on the cross. We will consider that section of verses in more detail when we get to that part of the prophecy, but the next section of verses states that what caused Satan to be cast down out of heaven was the blood of the Lamb. If we keep our faith in the blood of the Lamb, keeping our robe of righteousness on, Satan cannot spiritually overcome us.

That is why Paul continues and mentions several things that could separate us from Christ if we let them, but he says that he is convinced that nothing will separate us from the love of God. That is why Satan has spent a great deal of effort towards making the church lose, and forget the meaning of what Christ accomplished for us on the cross. Unfortunately, he has been very successful in selling the concept of the mass, and bringing in the Trinity doctrine, which negates the ransom, as well as other corrupting doctrines.

Rom 8:37-38 (37 But in all these things we overwhelmingly conquer through Him who loved us. 38 For I am convinced that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor any other created thing, will be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord. NASU

Satan was cast down to the earth, and that is the only place that he can still cause trouble and hope to defeat us. That is why the two symbols of the earth and the sea are warned that he was very angry and that he is was going to attack them. He can't defeat us spiritually in the ecclesiastical heavens if we keep our faith, but he can literally attack society and the people on the earth, and that is where the church physically dwells. Those are the types of trouble that we will see described, after we are told that he is going to make war with the faithful seed of the woman in verse 17.

Here is another reference, that show that he was actually cast out at the time of the crucifixion. The reference in John Chapter 12, which actually says that because Christ was about to be lifted up, that Satan would be cast out, but again we believe this casting out was in a more symbolic manner, rather than literal. Jesus was pointing to his victory over death on the cross, which was going to occur at the end of his ministry. It's not clear if Christ meant that Satan would be cast out immediately, or if it would occur after the completion of the church—looking at the context of what Christ says about his drawing all men to him, it's most likely after the church is complete.

John 12:27 (Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: but for this cause came I unto this hour. 028 Father, glorify thy name. Then came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again. 029 The people therefore, that stood by, and heard it, said that it thundered: others said, An angel spake to him 030 Jesus answered and said, This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes. 031 Now is the judgment of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out 032 And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me. 033 This he said, signifying what death he should die).

Christ was Given All Power & Authority

There is one other thing mentioned in these verses, that definitely dates the falling of Satan without a doubt. The verses here in Rev Chapter 12, mention the great power and authority that Christ had received when he had proven faithful on the cross, and so that definitely dates the time of when Satan was cast out of heaven, not able to accuse the church anymore, to being at the crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus.

Matt 28:18 And Jesus came up and spoke to them, saying, "All authority has been given to Me in heaven and on earth." NASU

Rev 12:7-12 (7 And there was war in heaven, Michael and his angels waging war with the dragon. The dragon and his angels waged war, 8 and they were not strong enough, and there was no longer a place found for them in heaven. 9 And the great dragon was thrown down, the serpent of old who is called the devil and Satan, who deceives the whole world; he was thrown down to the earth, and his angels were thrown down with him. 10 Then I heard a loud voice in heaven, saying,

"Now the salvation, and the power, and the kingdom of our God and the authority of His Christ have come, for the accuser of our brethren has been thrown down, he who accuses them before our God day and night. 11 "And they overcame him because of the blood of the Lamb and because of the word of their testimony, and they did not love their life even when faced with death. 12 "For this reason, rejoice, O heavens and you who dwell in them. Woe to the earth and the sea, because the devil has come down to you, having great wrath, knowing that he has only a short time." NASU*

Nominal Churches Think Casting Out is Future

The more common view and literal view of the casting out of Satan, is that most commentators think the casting of Satan to the earth is still future and that it happens at the final end. The way they get around the above problem of the 1260 years, is that they think that the 3.5 times, are a future three and a half year time-period. They believe that Satan will take control of the earth with the anti-Christ, and that he will rule for 3.5 literal years. Since we know that prophetic time is not counted that way, we know that is not a correct interpretation. Because of the chronology of the 3.5 times, and the day for a year chronology, we see that the casting down would have to of been at least before 539AD.

As we indicated before, we are going to suggest that the casting down, which was his spiritual defeat, was for sure in April 33AD, and we will give some more reasons for that conclusion, beyond the ones that we have already given as we discuss this further. In other words, Satan and the anti-Christ have already been here for the entire Gospel Age—the anti-Christ was already beginning to work in the early church.

1 John 2:22 Who is the liar but the one who denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, the one who denies the Father and the Son. NASU

1 John 4:2-3 (2 By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God; 3 and every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God; this is the spirit of the antichrist, of which you have heard that it is coming, and now it is already in the world. NASU

2 John 7 For many deceivers have gone out into the world, those who do not acknowledge Jesus Christ as coming in the flesh. This is the deceiver and the antichrist. NASU

Where Is or Was The War in Heaven

In regard to the war in heaven, we believe that it represents the struggle that had been going on between Satan and those who have been trying to be faithful to God in the spiritual heavens, prior to the time of the First Advent. In other words, the war would most likely include the efforts of all of the patriarchs, and it definitely would include all of the prophets, Ancient Worthies, and the prophets and other faithful of Israel during the Jewish age. In a sense the war in heaven actually began in the garden of Eden, when Satan deliberately deceived the woman, which was the start of a war against God. The reason for that conclusion, is that the fall in the garden is what has necessitated the need for salvation to restore mankind, and Satan has been fighting against that restoration during that entire time, and Jehovah and Michael have been fighting him and his deception, working to restore mankind.

We also see that the war in heaven for sure includes the events of the ministry of Christ. That would then include our Lord, the disciples, and even the angels in heaven, who would be controlling the spirits in the heavenly places as well during our Lord's ministry. We suggest that the ones who helped Michael who is Christ, overcome Satan in the war in heaven, were all of the faithful angels, prophets, and the Ancient Worthies through their word and testimony and finally our Lord on the cross, who defeated Satan with his blood. The war in heaven has been a war in the ecclesiastical heavens, where the Patriarchs and the prophets of the Jewish church were involved in the struggle.

We also know from history and the Bible, that many of the Old Testament prophets were killed and tormented after giving their testimony. The "word of their testimony", is the Old Testament scriptures that were used by the two prophets in Chapter 11. In the scriptures, we find that God had hidden his plan of salvation in types and shadows that pointed the way to Christ. So besides the completion of the plan at the First Advent, we find that the foundation for the understanding of that plan, had also been given in that testimony. Without that, we would not have been able to understand what God has done for us.

Rev 12:10-11 (10 Then I heard a loud voice in heaven, saying, "Now the salvation, and the power, and the kingdom of our God and the authority of His Christ have come, for the accuser of our brethren has been thrown down, he who accuses them before our God day and night. 11 And they overcame him because of the blood of the Lamb and because of the word of their testimony, and they did not love their life even when faced with death. NASU

Victory Was Guaranteed When Christ Supplied the Blood Ransom

The important thing about this battle, is that the victory was won or became assured when Christ provided the ransom price of his blood. That was when Christ sat down at the right hand of God, and is now able to plead our case for us, and stop Satan from accusing us. The victory of casting him down out of heaven, was not a total defeat or destruction of Satan at that time, but it defeated him in the sense that he is not able to falsely accuse the saints in heaven before God anymore, which is one of his four aspects—lying and accusing the brethren. We are also covered for our sins and mistakes, which would have for sure defeated us before we were covered by the blood—but we need to keep it in mind that we only have that salvation because of what Christ did on the cross, when he provided the blood of the New Covenant.

The Four Aspects are Dragon, Serpent, Devil and Satan

1. The Dragon = civil power of Satan, which at the time of Christ was Pagan Rome, but later the civil power came from Christianized Rome, but Satan was still bringing Pagan doctrines into the church.
2. He is also an adversary, trying his best to trip us up so that we fail.
3. Satan is also called a Devil or False accuser, which is another method he uses against the church. That accusation is pictured in Zechariah chapter 3, where we see Zechariah the high priest standing before the Lord, and Satan being rebuked. Joshua is protected by the clean robe and turban, and his sins are forgiven—the robe and turban actually protect against all four aspects of Satan. Using false accusations was the method he used to get the Pagan Empire to attack the church for a 10-year time-period from 303-313.
4. The other aspect is that he was a serpent just like in the garden of Eden, when he lied to Eve. He is still using that method to spread lies about God, the faithful church, and to try to corrupt the truth that was given to the early church. He is still spreading the lie, that you will not die when you pass away.

Since all four aspects of Satan were defeated and cast out of the ecclesiastical heavens by the blood of the Lamb, then if we keep our faith in that blood we can overcome Satan spiritually, as it says in verse 11. But it also says that they overcame him with the word of their testimony, and so that means that the truth during the Gospel overcomes him, because it neutralizes his lies and frees some people from his control.

Completely Overcome by Millennium

That victory indicates that the overcoming by the church, is being accomplished through the entire Gospel Age, with the blood of the Lamb protecting us, and shows us that Satan will not be completely overcome literally until he is bound and cast into the pit. We are also told that the saints did not love their life unto death, and so we see that the overcoming of Satan, did not include protection of earthly life, only spiritual life—in other words, remain faithful unto death, no matter what.

We Can Overcome Our Sins Because of the Blood

Even those who mess up during the Gospel age, are able to overcome their sin and error, by coming to the throne of grace and asking forgiveness and for help in overcoming their weaknesses, Heb 4:16. Our Lord's victory on the cross, guaranteed that the church would be able to overcome Satan throughout the entire Gospel Age, no matter what, until Satan is completely bound and thrown into the abyss at the end of the age. As we will see as we go through this Chapter and the next, it does not stop Satan from attacking the church and even killing us, but it guarantees our spiritual victory if we can keep our faith in our Lord and in the blood of the cross.

The events that happened at the First Advent, showed that Satan's false doctrine of Paganism was gross error, and that the true plan of God, which had been hidden since the foundation of the earth, was shown to be vastly superior because the salvation that is provided through Christ is the only way by which anyone can be saved. Satan's lies of blasphemy are no longer tolerated in heaven, and his only place of influence is in the earth after that time. Unfortunately, there are many who don't have good motives that are willing to listen to his whispered suggestions, and that is what brought about the terrible time of the 1260 years of terror.

Constantine thought that he had defeated Satan when he defeated the pagan Roman Empire, replacing Paganism with Christianity. As we will see, there was more to the dragon than just Paganism, and that when Paganism was defeated, Satan wasted no time in joining the Christian church and the Roman Empire together. Since the people still believed in Pagan doctrine, it was not very long before the entire church was corrupted with Pagan doctrine. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast. The church and state system that resulted, was not long in becoming an even worse and apostate Roman Empire, persecuting the faithful church—which is what we will see described towards the end of this chapter and in the next.

Who is Michael?

There is an argument against Michael being Christ in Rev Chapter 12, that we need to address. Some argue that there is no reason why the name of Christ could not have been used instead of Michael in this Chapter, if Michael really represented Christ. We agree, that is a reasonable complaint, unless there is a good reason for the use of Michael here.

We think that there is a very good reason that the name Michael is used instead of the name Christ, and it proves that we are correct in saying that the battle that is being described in this Chapter began a long time before the First Advent. We see the name Michael was used, because that is the name that our Lord used prior to his becoming Christ at the First Advent. The battle that's is described in Rev 12, has been going on since the garden of Eden, and it includes the Patriarchs, and after that the entire Jewish age prophets.

During the entire time of that battle in heaven, our Lord's pre-crucifixion name was Michael, and that is why we see him named that in this Chapter. The battle was not won until we see that they, the church, were able to overcome him by the blood of the Lamb. After the blood of the Lamb was shed in 33AD, then Michael became Christ. But the name Michael was used here to help prove that this was a pre-crucifixion battle. In the war that was going on prior to 33AD, our Lord was identified with the name Michael, and that is why it uses that name in Rev 12:7-9.

Example of Michael In Book of Daniel

Here is one example of a battle that was going on in the time of Daniel, with both Gabriel and Michael in it. It's not at first apparent that both Gabriel and Michael are represented in Chapter 10, but as we see in verse 21, that's who was helping Gabriel. We also notice that in agreement with the war in heaven that is described here, we see that Michael and Gabriel are seen together in other places in the book of Daniel, battling against evil forces that were standing in the way of God's Plans.

Dan 10:18-21(10:18 Then this one with human appearance touched me again and strengthened me. 19 He said, "O man of high esteem, do not be afraid. Peace be with you; take courage and be courageous!" Now as soon as he spoke to me, I received strength and said, "May my lord speak, for you have strengthened me." 20 Then he said, "Do you understand why I came to you? But I shall now return to fight against the prince of Persia; so I am going forth, and behold, the prince of Greece is about to come. 21 "However, I will tell you what is inscribed in the writing of truth. Yet there is no one who stands firmly with me against these forces except Michael your prince. NASU

As we will see in the next section of verses, the important thing is that the war was won by the paying of the price of our Lord's blood. If we keep our faith in that blood, Satan cannot overcome us. That is why we should not accept anything that takes that faith away from us, especially regarding the price of the blood. This battle had been a long struggle between God's Plans and Satan's plans, with Satan trying to stop God's Plans from succeeding. The angel of the Lord Michael, is always shown in the Bible, as championing and carrying out God's Plans—always resisting Satan when he has tried to stop God's Plans.

The name Jesus or Christ, was not applied to our Lord until the First Advent, which was when he finally defeated Satan with the blood of the ransom—becoming our Savior. That is in itself a good proof that Michael in this Chapter is a pre-crucifixion Christ, because we are shown Michael leading the battle in the heavens, and then we see that Michael had won the battle by providing the blood of the Lamb to the church.

We believe that Christ still does have the name Michael after the crucifixion, because it is used after the crucifixion in the scriptures, when we told that the Lord would come with the voice of the Archangel in 1 Thes 4:16. In Daniel 12:1, we also see that Christ, when he is shown coming at the time of the Second Advent, is called Michael in that prophecy. That prophecy was written way before the time of the crucifixion, and that is the name that he had at the time, and Daniel had to use that name because no would know who Christ was if he didn't use that name.

Michael Stands Up For His People Twice

There may also be another reason that he uses the name Michael in Rev 12:1. Because there are actually two fulfillments of Daniel Chapter 12. The first time that Michael stands up for his people was prior to the First Advent, when he came to them and offered himself on the cross. That was how he stood up for them there, but most did not accept him then. In that fulfillment, the time of trouble was the destruction of the Jewish nation.

The second fulfillment of that Chapter, is the coming of our Lord at the time of the Second Advent, and that time of trouble began in 1914AD, with the destruction of the kings. He came to help both the church offered them the truth about what he had accomplished on the cross, and they again rejected it, and because of that, the time of trouble came upon the fallen church, just as what had happened to Israel. In the first application of the prophecy, he was still Michael before he gave up his glory and came down to the earth. When Christ has fully come on this end of the age with the completed church, he will be the prophet like unto Moses, which is mentioned in Acts chapter 3. That prophet is Christ head and body, coming at the beginning of the kingdom.

Michael was always the Jewish nation's champion and helper, but Satan was not fully overcome until the church could be covered by the ransom, which supplies us the robe of righteousness. Until that was done, he was Michael, but as soon as the battle was won, which was when the ransom price was secured, he became the Lamb or simply Christ. That is why Revelation Chapter 12 tells us that “they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb”!

Michael Was the Angel Assigned to Israel

Looking before the time of Daniel, Michael is most likely the same angel that Jehovah assigned to them when they first came up out of Egypt, who was to help bring them to the Promised Land.

Exod 23:20-23) 20 Behold, I send an Angel before thee, to keep thee in the way, and to bring thee into the place which I have prepared.

21 Beware of him, and obey his voice, provoke him not; for he will not pardon your transgressions: for my name is in him.

22 But if thou shalt indeed obey his voice, and do all that I speak; then I will be an enemy unto thine enemies, and an adversary unto thine adversaries.

23 For mine Angel shall go before thee, and bring thee in unto the Amorites, and the Hittites, and the Perizzites, and the Canaanites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites: and I will

cut them off. (KJV)

If they would obey the voice of the angel, God told them that he would defeat and remove their enemies. That is the same role that we see Michael carrying out in both Daniel and Rev Chapter 12, in that he is fighting on the side of Israel against the dragon and his angels. In the second application of Dan Chapter 12, we see that Michael stands up for the children or offspring of his people, the church, and he also fights against their enemies. In regard to the helping of the church, the Lord's final and full standing up and the defeat of his enemies has been happening since 1799 - 1874AD.

As we saw in Rev Chapter 10, there was to be "time no more" in the days of the Seventh Angel, and that meant that our Lord was going to begin to directly help the church at that point in time. In other words, the time had come to judge and remove God's enemies completely, and punish them for what they have done wrong. We see that Satan's system of things will literally go down in the final defeat pictured in Rev Chapter 19.

Here are some other things to consider regarding who Michael is. If we look at the word prince in Daniel, we can see that the word prince as used in Daniel helps to prove that Jesus is Michael.

Dan 10:21 But I will shew thee that which is noted in the scripture of truth: and there is none that holdest with me in these things, but Michael your prince. (KJV)

Dan 8:25 And through his policy also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart, and by peace shall destroy many: he shall also stand up against the Prince of princes; but he shall be broken without hand. (KJV)

Dan 12:1 And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people: and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book. (KJV)

"Prince," here, is the same word that is translated "Captain of the Lord's host" in Joshua 5:14, 15. The Hebrew word, sar, often refers to military commanders or the commander of the heavenly host. Revelation identifies Jesus as "still holding" that position at the end of the Gospel Age, leading "the armies which were in heaven.

Rev 19:14 And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean. (KJV)

If we look at the phrase "The Lord rebuke thee", we find it is used in a couple of places.

Jude 1:9 Yet Michael the archangel, when contending with the devil he disputed about the body of Moses, durst not bring against him a railing accusation, but said, The Lord rebuke thee. (KJV)

Notice that it says, "The archangel." There is only one. This verse mentions Michael contending with Satan over the body of Moses, and saying, "The Lord rebuke thee." Compare that with Zechariah 3:2, where we find that "the angel of the Lord" also said unto Satan, The Lord rebuke thee".

The Voice of the Archangel

The Archangel is the one whose voice will be heard at the resurrection, 1 Thessalonians 4:16. That voice is "the voice of the Son of God", who we know is Jesus, thus tying the two names together proving that Christ is the archangel.

*1Thes 4:16 For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first: KJV

We aren't saying that the struggle between good and evil ended at the First Advent, but only that the situation changed. Satan was not able to accuse the church directly before God anymore, because we are covered with the blood and the robe of righteousness, and we have a direct advocate Christ, who pleads our cause for us now. There was and is still going to be trouble and persecution, but the struggle is down here on earth, and not in the heavens anymore. If you keep your belief in the blood, Satan is not able to hurt you in the Ecclesiastical heavens, but he is symbolically cast to the earth, because that is the only place that he can cause problems, and they are very bad troubles as we will see described.

Satan Became Very Angry at the Woman

After the war in heaven and the casting to the earth of Satan, we see that Satan became very angry with the woman or the covenant that she represents, and he then tried to make war with the remnant of her seed, which are the actual members of the faithful church. The reason that he was angry at the woman or covenant, is because of the blood of the Lamb that covers the members of the church, and makes them acceptable through the spirit of the law, as long as they keep their faith in that blood.

The knowledge of what that blood has accomplished for us, is what he has tried to wipe out, along with the general knowledge of the covenant in the church, and he also tries to lead each individual back into error, by making them lose sight of h blood of the cross. The war or trouble against the covenant that the woman represents, and which is also against the faithful seed of the covenant, has continued during the entire Gospel Age, and is still going on yet today because Satan is still trying to defeat us even now.

List of Salvation Scriptures

Here are some references that show that we actually have overcome and won because of the blood of the Lamb. These verses don't say that we will get the victory, but they say that the victory has been won if we are faithful! As you can see, there are a lot of them.

1 John 2:14 I have written to you, fathers, because you know Him who has been from the beginning. I have written to you, young men, because you are strong, and the word of God abides in you, and you have overcome the evil one. (NAU)

1 John 5:18 We know that no child of God keeps on sinning, for the Son of God keeps him safe, and the Evil One cannot harm him. (TEV)

*1 Cor 15:57 But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus

Christ. (KJV)

Rom 8:33-34)33 Who shall lay anything to the charge of God's elect? It is God that justified.

34 Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ that died, yea rather, that is risen again, who is even at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us. (KJV)

Heb 2:14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil; (KJV)

*Heb 7:25-27) 25 Consequently he is able for all time to save those who draw near to God through him, since he always lives to make intercession for them.

26 For it was fitting that we should have such a high priest, holy, blameless, unstained, separated from sinners, exalted above the heavens.

27 He has no need, like those high priests, to offer sacrifices daily, first for his own sins and then for those of the people; he did this once for all when he offered up himself. (RSV)

Satan is Not Defeated on Earth Yet

Yes, Satan is symbolically cast down to the earth, having been defeated by Christ in both the actual heavens and the true ecclesiastical heavens. But he has not been defeated on earth yet, so he has been able to cause trouble for both the church and for the world throughout the entire Gospel Age. That is why the “earth” and the “sea” are warned about his anger, and we will see his attacks, that were going to be coming against the church and the world. We also saw earlier in Revelation, that Satan attacked and corrupted both the sea and the earth, in the third and the fifth trumpet. We will see that attack begin a few verses from now.

The church has even had to suffer torture and death at the hands of Satan’s followers here on earth, but death cannot defeat the faithful church members, because they will be resurrected and will be able to join the Lord in the heavens—the resurrection of the faithful church started in 1878AD.

Rev 12:11 And they overcame him because of the blood of the Lamb and because of the word of their testimony, and they did not love their life even when faced with death.

*Luke 12:4-5) 4 "And I say to you, My friends, do not be afraid of those who kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do.

5 "But I will warn you whom to fear: fear the One who after He has killed has authority to cast into hell; yes, I tell you, fear Him! (NAS)

Rev 2:10 Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.(KJV)

The church has suffered persecution and death all through the age to test us, to see if we would remain faithful to the Lord and uphold the truth of what he did for us and the world on the cross. Now that we have arrived at this end of the age, we see that our Lord is rendering recompense to our enemies for the evil and wrongs they have done to the church. The evil system has been judged and found wanting, and we see that their political power has been to a large extent removed, and as the light of truth gets brighter they now face all kinds of internal problems. As our spiritual enemies are going down in defeat, Israel's earthly enemies are gathering strength, showing that we are almost at the end of the age.

Satan is Bound At the End of the Age

Satan will eventually be completely bound after the church is complete, and not able to do anything in the world or on the earth in the next age. That is when he is bound and cast into the abyss, but the initial and the final defeat that will overthrow him was won on the cross. If that salvation hadn't been secured, none of the other things would have been possible, because we would all be guilty, just as Satan has claimed. Without Christ, we would be done for, with no way to escape the just penalty of death for sin.

Blood of Lamb Overcame Him

The following verse is inserted into the narration of this Chapter to explain what had defeated Satan in the heavenly realm and it guarantees us that Satan will eventually be overcome even on the earth. And they overcame him because of the blood of the Lamb and because of the word of their testimony, and they did not love their life even when faced with death.

Faithful Rejoice, but Woe to Earth & Sea

The twelfth verse tells the church to rejoice because of that victory, but then the earth and the sea are warned about the great wrath that Satan has because of his defeat. Rev 12:12 For this reason, rejoice, O heavens and you who dwell in them. Woe to the earth and the sea, because the devil has come down to you, having great wrath, knowing that he has only a short time." NASU

As we will see, that great wrath proves that he was cast out of both the actual heavens and the ecclesiastical heavens at the First Advent, because as long as we keep our faith in the blood of the Lamb, he cannot defeat us spiritually. He knew that what Christ had accomplished on the cross, had caused him a major setback, and that eventually he will lose completely because of it. He can't falsely accuse the church before the Heavenly Father anymore, because Christ sits on his right-hand and blocks his access, and he makes intercession for us—covering us for what we can't do. Because of the blood of the Lamb, we can no longer be found guilty if we keep our faith in the blood of the New Covenant.

Trinity & Mass Are Two of His Greatest Weapons

In the meantime, Satan is trying to overcome the faith of all who are members of the faithful church, because if he can do that, he thinks that he can stop the earthly kingdom from being established, thus keeping him from being cast into prison for the 1000 years. One of his biggest successes is the Trinity doctrine that negates the ransom, and the other one is the mass, where he defeats the blood of Christ and the knowledge of that blood. He instead would have you believe that the blood of Christ was not sufficient, and that the Mass is needed to sacrifice him over and over again, all day long. We need to deny any attempt to negate the blood of Christ, which some seem to think was not sufficient, like when they think that the church has to do more to help out Christ's salvation, and anything that defeats the ransom like the Trinity doctrine needs to be rejected.

Satan would like us to forget Paul in Hebrews, where he tells us that Christ paid the full price for salvation, once and for all times.

Heb 9:25-28 (25 The high priest enters the Most Holy Place once every year with blood that is not his own. But Christ did not offer himself many times. 26 Then he would have had to suffer many times since the world was made. But Christ came only once and for all time at just the right time to take away all sin by sacrificing himself. 27 Just as everyone must die once and be judged, 28 so Christ was offered as a sacrifice one time to take away the sins of many people. And he will come a second time, not to offer himself for sin, but to bring salvation to those who are waiting for him. NCV

It may not be impossible to make your calling and election sure while believing in those false doctrines, but it makes it much harder, because you don't understand the true mechanism of how your salvation works. We suspect that the Lord made a greater allowance for those who could not get access to the scriptures during the 1260 years, but we will leave that up to him. Even today, the Catholic System discourages reading the scriptures without their commentary about what it means, thus keeping them in darkness. We are not sure about the Protestant systems, because it looks like they have access to the scriptures, but they have been led into a literal understanding of prophecy after 1918.

Accusing of Job is a Picture of Satan's Accusations Against Church

Satan has always been an accuser of the brethren. In the story of Job, we find an example where Satan accuses Job of serving God, only because God had made life blessed and easy for him. God then allowed Job to be tested, to prove that Job would serve him no matter what. That is a good picture, of how the church is being tested during the Gospel Age.

All of Church To be Tested

In the New Testament, we see that Jesus tells the disciples that Peter and the rest of the church were going to be tested by Satan. We sometimes only think that Peter was going to be tested that night, but if we read what Jesus said very carefully and in the right translation, we find that it says that Satan was going to test all of you and that he had been given permission to do it. So, we can see that tells us that we all are all going to be tested, one way or the other.

Peter needed to strengthen his brothers after his testing, because they were all going to be tested, and we need to do the same for our brethren, and even ourselves.

*Luke 22:31-32) 31 {Jesus Predicts Peter's Denial--} "Simon, Simon! Listen! Satan has received permission to test all of you, to separate the good from the bad, as a farmer separates the wheat from the chaff.

32 But I have prayed for you, Simon, that your faith will not fail. And when you turn back to me, you must strengthen your brothers.”(TEV)

Don’t Take Off the Robe!

Only if Satan can get us to take off the robe, such as the puffed up individual in the parable of the wedding feast did, can he defeat us. We also need to be careful not to get our robes spotted, or we will wind up in the Great Company class. If we have things that we are not trying to overcome, then we are in danger of spotting our robes.

Rom 13:14 But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts thereof. (KJV)

Matt 22:11-14 (11 "But when the king came in to look over the dinner guests, he saw a man there who was not dressed in wedding clothes, 12 and he said to him, 'Friend, how did you come in here without wedding clothes?' And the man was speechless. 13 Then the king said to the servants, 'Bind him hand and foot, and throw him into the outer darkness; in that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.' 14 For many are called, but few are chosen." NASU

Satan’s Case Has been Thrown Out of Court

That brings us to a major point regarding the result of Satan’s casting out of heaven, that we are going to mention again, and that is that it removes his ability to accuse the brethren before God. God refuses to hear any accusations against the church, because we are all clothed with the righteousness of Christ.

In other words, Satan’s case has been thrown out of court, as long as we are keeping our faith in the blood of the Lamb and keeping our robe on. That is why he is busy trying to corrupt the truth about what Christ has accomplished on the cross, because if he can get us to lose sight of that salvation and take off our robe, we are then standing before God without our covering for sin.

Our Intentions Are What Counts With God

With Christ pleading for us, God doesn’t see our imperfections, but only the intent of the heart, which the church needs to be careful to keep intellectually perfect—even if our actions sometimes fail to follow through. As Romans 8:35 implies, Satan will test us to see if he can separate us from the salvation of Christ, but if we are faithful and hang onto the blood of Christ, we will be saved. If we can keep our heart pure, when we die we will leave the imperfections of the old man or nature behind, and our good intentions will be what is placed into a new body for us.

The Condemnation of the Old Law is Removed

We also see that Christ has removed the condemnation of the old law, and has triumphed over principalities and powers. Because of that, we cannot be found guilty in regard to any of the old ordinances of the law, because we are only under the spirit of the law. The following verses again confirm that our Lord has triumphed over Satan, who was one of the major principalities and powers that he defeated.

*Col 2:13-17) 13 And you, being dead in your sins and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses;

14 Blotting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross;

15 And having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them in it.

16 Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an holyday, or of the new moon, or of the Sabbath days:

17 Which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Christ. (KJV)

UBS Notes

If we look at the United Bible Societies translator's notes on this scripture, we find that the above verse is talking about his overcoming of the spiritual rulers and authorities, which would include Satan. This scripture confirms that more than Satan was defeated in the ecclesiastical heavens at the First Advent—in other words, all other spiritual powers will not be able to interfere in the earthly kingdom.

If one follows the TEV interpretation [freed himself], it is possible to say "caused himself to no longer be under the power of." If, however, one interprets the verb in an active sense, then one may say "he took away the power of the rulers and authorities" or "he caused the rulers and authorities to no longer have power."

Commentators are agreed that "the rulers and authorities" are spiritual, supernatural, powers-- so TEV [the spiritual rulers and authorities]. As in other contexts, it may be useful to translate [spiritual] by "spirits" and the to reproduce [rulers and authorities] by verbs indicating activities, for example, "spirits that rule and govern."

[Made a... spectacle of them] translates the verb which appears only here and in <Matt 1:19> (compare the noun [deigma] in <Jude 1:7>). [Public] (RSV TEV and others) can be understood as "boldly" (so Lightfoot, Abbott, Moule); the noun [parreesia] usually means "confidence, boldness."

[He made a public spectacle of them] may be translated as "he caused everyone to see," or "he showed them off to everyone," or "what happened to them he made very conspicuous," or "he caused them to walk along behind him, so that everyone would see."

[Leading them as captives in his victory procession] translates the Greek verb [thriambeuoo], found only here and in <2 Cor 2:14>. It refers to the well-know triumphal procession of a victorious general, leading captive rulers in chains at his chariot wheels. Compare JB "paraded them in public, behind him in his triumphal procession," NEB "led them as captives in his triumphal procession."

[By leading them as captives] may be expressed as "by having them tied up and walking along behind him" or "by making them march behind him with hands tied."

[In his victory procession] may be expressed as "as he rides along showing that he has been victorious" or "showing that he has conquered these powers" or "...these spirits." But in view of the figurative usage involved in this passage, again it may be necessary to mark the expression as a simile, for example, "as though marching in triumph." (from UBS Translator Handbook Series)

Here are some more examples of principalities and powers that prove that these generally represent heavenly powers such as Satan.

Eph 3:10 To the intent that now unto the principalities and powers in heavenly places might be known by the church the manifold wisdom of God, (KJV)

Eph 6:12 For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places. (KJV)

Dragon Cast Down Was Not Conversion of Rome to Christianity

Some churches try to claim that Satan being cast out by the blood of the Lamb, was the church converting the Roman Empire to Christianity. The mistake that they are making is that they are looking at the symbol of the Dragon as being only the Pagan Roman Empire like Constantine did. They like to believe that the Pagan Dragon being defeated was the fall of the entire dragon, because then they can then claim that Christ's kingdom on earth was created at that time, because of Satan's defeat. That idea had its start with Constantine who claimed that he had slain the dragon, when he had really only had defeated Pagan Rome, which was only the sixth head out of seven or even eighth on the dragon or beast. The eighth head was not on either of the sixth or seventh heads of the Roman beasts, but it was created through the image as we will explain later. The first seven heads were Roman, but the eighth head was not a Roman government, but it had sprang up from German tribes. That is why the vision of the Roman beast, only had seven heads on it.

Since the core of the dragon symbol was Satan, those who believe that way, are not seeing the full scope of what happened, which was that Christ had defeated Satan in the spiritual heavens with the blood of the Lamb—the fall of Pagan Rome did not defeat Satan. The Pagan Roman Empire being defeated, did not do anything to overcome the Roman Empire, which still existed—the seventh head of the Apostate Christianized beast that replaced the Pagan head, was just as bad and in the long term was worse. The fall of Pagan Rome, was Satan getting himself into a position where he could take control of the church, and he did!

Was Not the Defeat of the Dragon & Establishment of the Kingdom

Because of that, the idea that the dragon being cast out was the defeat of Pagan Rome and the establishment of the kingdom is wrong. First of all, the civil power of the dragon aspect was not even defeated by Constantine, because Satan just transferred the throne of his power to the Christianized beast that we will see in the next Chapter, Rev 13:2. We should not forget that the core symbol of the dragon is Satan himself, and the Empires that we associate with the dragon, like Pagan Rome and Christianized Rome, are found in the heads and the horns on the beast, not the dragon itself. In other words, when Satan transferred the horns and heads to the beast, that was when Pagan Rome was removed, and the Apostate Christianized Rome came into existence—but the dragon that represented Satan still existed, as seen in the latter half of Chapter 12 and in 13:1, 20:1-3. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast. We notice that the dragon symbol is not seen, when Satan is released from prison after the 1000 years. We will discuss what that means in that chapter.

The other three aspects of Satan still existed after the battle was won by Christ, and they can still defeat us if we do not use the blood of Lamb to keep us from being overcome. In other words, Constantine's idea that he had defeated the dragon, was not true at all. History shows that his idea that the Pagan Rome was the defeat of the dragon, was incorrect by what happened next.

Kingdom Was not Established at Time of Constantine

The ones that believe that the kingdom was established, think that the church taking control of the Empire was a good thing, and that Paganism and Satan were being cast out of the Empire so they could establish God's kingdom. That scenario was exactly what Constantine believed, and many churches are still believing it today—hence the title Christendom. What really happened was that the sixth or Pagan controlling head on the dragon was removed, and that aspect of the dragon power was gone, but the seventh or Paganized Christianized head was then developing and coming into power—the Satanic dragon was giving the new Christianized beast the throne and great power, which transferred the heads and horns of Rome onto the new beast. The dragon or Satan himself was not removed by the fall of the Pagan head, and that is why we still see the dragon in Rev 13:1. The heads and horns are accessories on the dragon, and in chapter 13, we see that he transferred them to the beast, and because of that, we see the dragon or Satan as a separate core entity.

A look at what happened historically, after the dragon was supposedly cast out, should make it clear that Constantine's and the early churches thought was not a correct interpretation. Chapter 13 has the dragon standing on the sand of the sea, and it tells us about the persecuting power of the Apostate Christianized beast that was being restored back out of the "sea". It also tells us that it would be in power during a 42-month period, which prophetically is the 1260 years, which is 539–1799AD. That beast and what it did to God's people, is described in that Chapter as a terrible persecuting power that made all nations follow it. History confirms that what was predicted there, actually happened during that time, to both the church and the world.

The thing that happened to Satan that made him mad, was that the Lord paid the ransom price for us and covered us with the robe of righteousness. As long as we keep our belief in that blood, he cannot spiritually defeat us. That is why his attacks became very physical and even doctrinally corrupting against the faithful church.

Rev 12:10-11 (10 And a great voice in heaven came to my ears, saying, Now is come the salvation, and the power, and the kingdom of our God, and the authority of his Christ: because he who says evil against our brothers before our God day and night is forced down. 11 And they overcame him through the blood of the Lamb and the word of their witness; and loving not their lives they freely gave themselves up to death. BBE

1 Peter 3:20-22 (21 Corresponding to that, baptism now saves you—not the removal of dirt from the flesh, but an appeal to God for a good conscience—through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, 22 who is at the right hand of God, having gone into heaven, after angels and authorities and powers had been subjected to Him. NASU

What these verses are saying, is that the faithful church will be able to overcome because of the blood of the Lamb, and that the real kingdom and authority of Christ has taken charge of the spiritual heavens, just as 1 Peter 3:20-22 says. Because of that same blood, and Satan being blocked or “forced down” from accusing in heaven, he was spiritually defeated—but the kingdom did not come down on the earth yet back in the time of Constantine—that is why the earth and the sea are warned about him coming against them! Our Lord sits at the right hand of the Father and intercedes for us in heaven, so that Satan cannot accuse us in heaven anymore.

Rom 8:33-35 (33 Who will bring a charge against God's elect? God is the one who justifies; 34 who is the one who condemns? Christ Jesus is He who died, yes, rather who was raised, who is at the right hand of God, who also intercedes for us. 35 Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? NASB

Heb 10:12-13 (12 But Christ offered himself as a sacrifice that is good forever. Now he is sitting at God's right side, 13 and he will stay there until his enemies are put under his power. CEV

The time that Christ’s enemies will be placed under his control, is in the next age, after the church is complete, and that is when he will come down to the earth with the 144,000.

Two-horned Beast Was an Even Worse Development

In the second half of Chapter 13, we will see a two-horned beast come up from the “earth”, and it advocates making an Image to the first beast, that had come out of the sea, and which had been restored. We are again given a description of the further development of that terrible persecuting power. It doesn't give us the time frame for that event, except that the context of the Chapter shows that it's after the first beast had been restored to power from a smiting of the seventh head—which was in 539AD.

The reason that the first beast came up out of the sea in Chapter 13, is that the scriptures are looking at the rise of the Roman power back into existence after its collapse, which was just after when the Western half had been overrun by Barbarians in 476AD. That the nations were in a sea condition, would imply that they were not fully controlled by anyone at the time, in other words, the Apostate Christianized beast had dissolved back into the sea condition that had existed before Daniel saw the beasts rising back out of the sea.

539AD Is a Key Point in History

Rome had re-conquered some of her Western territory by 539AD, and rebuilt part of the Empire, but it was not the same as it had been before the collapse, in that it was divided up into several independent states that still looked to the Empire for support, but each of them still held a measure of independence. Some of the breaking up of the Empire had occurred prior to the fall, but afterward it was even more fragmented. Because there is more than one nation making up this new power, that is why we see the crowns shift from the heads in Chapter 12, to the horns at the beginning of Chapter 13. We will discuss that shift of the crowns in more detail when we discuss Chapter 13.

Severe Trouble is Coming, Starting in 539

So to summarize, we see that it was indeed going to be a woeful time for the sea and for the earth. The spiritual heavens can be glad because the victory has been assured, but there was still going to be a very severe trouble and persecution upon both the church and the world down here on the literal earth. In the ecclesiastical heavens, we are safe if we keep our faith in the blood—so Satan began trying to physically kill off the faithful church, since he was not able to spiritually defeat the saints that believed in the blood of Christ. In attempting to stop the church, Satan created the most oppressive system that the world has ever known, Matt 24:21, Dan 12:1. They not only oppressed and killed the Faithful Church, but they oppressed and killed their own people for the entire time of their power during the 1260 years.

Shortening of the Days

In Matt 24:20-22, it names two different time areas, when it warns about the need for the days to be cut short. We believe that the first one, which is the winter time, was upon the church during the 1260-1335 days of trouble. We believe that there was even an application of the days being cut short during that terrible time, but as we will explain, there will be an even worse application of that prophecy in the Sabbath day application.

The second time period is also upon the church, but it is upon both the church and Israel on the Sabbath day, 1874 to an uncertain end date. The shortening of the days, also has a time-period that applies to the second application of the 1260-1335 chronology. That second fulfillment of the days being cut short on the Sabbath day, will definitely apply to Israel at the very end, when the nation's come against the land of Israel, and it is related to the second application of the 1260, 1290, and 1335 days—plus whatever the overlap of time is past the 1335. That no flesh would be saved alive, may be literal at that second time, and it may indicate that the nations would threaten to use nuclear weapons, if God and Christ were not going to intervene and stop them.

One of the first aspects of the days of power being cut short for the church during the winter time, meant that the power of the system would be removed before the end of the church came, and we see that according to Daniel that would be accomplished by the end of 1260, 1290 and the 1335, where the church was to come to a blessed time. If the power of the evil system had not been reduced before that time, the church would not be completed, and no flesh would then be able to be saved.

There is going to be another severe time of trouble on the Sabbath day, which is the seventh seven thousand year time period. The trouble also comes upon the church, but it more specifically will target Israel at the end of that time, just before the kingdom begins. That time applies to Israel, in that when the 1335 days + 40 or 43.5 or ? ends, they will have come to the blessed time of Dan chapter 12. You may look at, Biblical Count of the Years-B2, for a guess as to how much overlap, but then you especially need to heed the warning about end time speculation. The following verse applies to both the church and to Israel at that last time Matt 24:20-23 (21 "For then there will be a great tribulation, such as has not occurred since the beginning of the world until now, nor ever will. 22 "Unless those days had been cut short, no life would have been saved; but for the sake of the elect those days will be cut short. NASU

Authority of Christ

One question that came up in regard to the statement in verse 10, is in what manner had the kingdom of God and Christ come into power at the First Advent—since the Millennial kingdom didn't exist yet? The answer is that Christ has been elevated to the throne of God, and is waiting for the time when he can extend his kingdom to the earth. In the meantime in the heavenly realms, he is king above all others except God. That is one reason that Satan is not able to accuse us before God anymore, because Christ is sitting on the right hand of Jehovah.

1 Pet 3:22 Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God; angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him. (KJV)

Phil 2:9-10) 9 Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name:10 That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth; (KJV)

Matt 28:18 And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. (KJV)

Jesus Has the Crown of David

Jesus had actually received the crown of David at the First Advent—which is the crown that the kings of Israel had lost in the time of Babylon. While he will not exercise that power on earth until the Millennial kingdom is here, he was the one who came at the appointed time and received it.

Ezek 21:25-27) 25 And thou, profane wicked prince of Israel, whose day is come, when iniquity shall have an end,

26 Thus saith the Lord GOD; Remove the diadem, and take off the crown: this shall not be the same: exalt him that is low, and abase him that is high.

27 I will overturn, overturn, overturn, it: and it shall be no more, until he come whose right it is; and I will give it him. (KJV)

Waiting For Proper Time of Kingdom

Christ is waiting until the proper time to establish the full kingdom here on the earth. That is what it tells us in the Ps 110:1 scripture, when God tells our Lord to wait until he makes his enemies a footstool for his feet. It's a figure of speech, that means that Jesus is to wait until God will place his enemies under his control. That happens at the establishment of the earthly kingdom, during which time Jesus is going to eliminate all enemies including death. Then he will turn the perfected kingdom back over to the Father, having removed all offensive things including sin and death.

Ps 110:1 The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool. (KJV)

1 Cor 15:25-28) 25 For he must reign until he has put all his enemies under his feet.

26 The last enemy to be destroyed is death.

27 "For God has put all things in subjection under his feet." But when it says, "All things are put in subjection under him," it is plain that he is excepted who put all things under him.

28 When all things are subjected to him, then the Son himself will also be subjected to him who put all things under him, that God may be everything to everyone. (RSV)

But because of what Christ accomplished at the First Advent on the cross, the heavens above can rejoice. Our Lord is now seated at the right hand of the Father, where he pleads our case for us. He is also blocking Satan's ability to accuse us, and he is now elevated above all other names. Since Satan cannot accomplish anything more in the ecclesiastical heavens, his only chance is to try to literally stop the church here on earth, so he comes against the earth and the sea with great frustration, animosity and violence. He also tries at the same time, to wipe out the knowledge of what the blood of Christ has accomplished for us. That is what we will see described in the rest of Chapter 12, and then in more detail in Chapters 13, 17.

Revelation 12:13-14

Rev 12:13 And when the dragon saw that he was thrown down to the earth, he persecuted the woman who gave birth to the male {child.}

Rev 12:14 But the two wings of the great eagle were given to the woman, so that she could fly into the wilderness to her place, where she was nourished for a time and times and half a time, from the presence of the serpent.

In verse 13 above, the correct translation does not use the word persecute, but it says that he pursued the woman as NIV translates it.

Rev 12:13 When the dragon saw that he had been hurled to the earth, he pursued the woman who had given birth to the male child. NIV

In the comments on verse six, we earlier outlined the reasons why we believe that after the birth of the Man-Child and his sacrifice, that the woman split into two different symbolic women, one with wings flying away, and the other one on foot fleeing away. The wonderful reason that we see two different women, is because we believe we are seeing the fulfillment of the Abrahamic Covenant, which has two blessings, one for the stars of heaven and one for the sand of the sea shore, and that fulfillment proves that the Divine Plan of the Ages is correct.

As we mentioned in our comments on verse 6, if it should be proved that there is only one woman, then the concept of the two salvations can still be derived from the Abrahamic Covenant—the stars of heaven and the sand of the seashore. Everything else in this Chapter would remain the same. For simplicities sake and because we believe it's right, we will continue as if we know for sure that there are two different women, if not, the only thing that would have to be changed, is the concept of two women would have to be changed to one, with the added explanation of the two different salvations being derived from the Abrahamic Covenant.

Man-Child Vitalizes the Abrahamic Covenant

The stars of heaven portion of the Abrahamic Covenant, points us to the woman with two wings flying in the spiritual heavens. The sand of the seashore portion of the covenant, points us to the woman on foot, running. In other words, once the seed of the covenant, the Man-Child was born or caught up to heaven with his sacrifice, then the Abrahamic Covenant could begin to be fulfilled. Because of that, the woman that we see here in this verse is the heavenly aspect, who as we will see has children who have the commandments of God and the testimony of Jesus Christ.

For a more detailed explanation of the flight of the two women into the wilderness, see verse 6, where we discuss in greater detail both descriptions of the two women's flight into the wilderness. In that verse, we examined what the two women were showing us regarding the two salvations. The woman with the wings in this Chapter is showing us the stars of heaven or the heavenly salvation that comes from the Abrahamic promise, and the other woman which is on foot in verse 6, is showing us the sand of the sea shore or the earthly salvation that also comes out of the Abrahamic promise. We also explain in the verse 6 commentary, why we see a woman fleeing on foot into the wilderness, where she is also nourished or protected—Satan would also like to defeat the earthly kingdom, and that woman has to be protected also. The woman on the earth, represents the earthly covenant that will bless both Israel and the world, and for that reason, even the natural Israelites had to be protected through that terrible time of tribulation.

Verse 13 is a resumption of the discussion regarding Satan having been cast down and what was going to happen afterward. When Satan saw that he had lost the battle in the heavens, he pursued after the woman with the two wings and began to persecute her seed on the earth. Not only the church, but also the Jews were persecuted during the dark time of Papacies power, but Satan knew the importance of the faithful church, and so they were persecuted the most during the 1260. On this end of the age, he has shifted some of his efforts towards getting rid of all the Jews, thinking that will stop the kingdom, and we believe those attacks will get worse as time goes on.

The Two Wings

Some think that the Two wings are just the Old and the New Testament scriptures, but we think that definition is too limited, in that while the scriptures are certainly represented in the wings, we think the wings represent even more. If we look at the following scriptures that have similar phraseology, we find some interesting reference that will help us to see more fully what the wings represent.

We see in Ex Chapter 19, that the wings represented the help of the angel of the Lord, which was given to Israel at the time of the escape from Egypt, and for that reason we would say that the same thing is true here, that the wings represent the help that the church has had from the Lord throughout the entire age. The scriptures would definitely be a part of that help, but the Holy spirit or any other aid from our Lord would also be divine help.

Exod 19:4 Ye have seen what I did unto the Egyptians, and how I bare you on eagles' wings, and brought you unto myself.

*Deut 32:9-11) 9 For the LORD's portion is his people; Jacob is the lot of his inheritance. 10 He found him in a desert land, and in the waste howling wilderness; he led him about, he instructed him, he kept him as the apple of his eye. 11 As an eagle stirred up her nest, fluttered over her young, spreads abroad her wings, taketh them, beareth them on her wings:

Isa 40:31 But they that wait upon the LORD shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint.

Without the Holy spirit, the scriptures couldn't have been written, and it's not always possible to understand what the scriptures are telling us, but with the help of the Holy spirit we are able to gain an understanding of what we are to be doing during our consecration. The Holy Spirit, lifted the church up into the ecclesiastical heavens, greatly magnifying the understanding of the prophecies, and that is how the New Testament was written. Without the Holy Spirit, the Apostles would have been stuck with the Old Testament understanding and they would not have understood what Christ accomplished, and where our salvation comes from.

John 14:26 But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you. (KJV)

1 Cor 2:12-13(12 Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit who is from God, so that we may know the things freely given to us by God, 13 which things we also speak, not in words taught by human wisdom, but in those taught by the Spirit, combining spiritual thoughts with spiritual words. NASU)

The scriptures are a big part of the wings, because the New Testament scriptures came out of the help that the Holy spirit gave to the early church, but the help of the Holy spirit is not limited to just the scriptures. The prophets and the Apostles wrote the Bible while under the influence of that same spirit—so we can say that the Holy spirit is responsible for bringing the word of the New Testament to us. That is why we include the New Testament scriptures in an explanation of what the wings are, but the help of the Holy spirit does even more than that, in that it even helps us to understand the scriptures. Without the Holy spirit we would have a book of scripture that wouldn't have been written, and we would have an Old Testament that we couldn't understand.

Since the wings represent not only the scriptures, but especially the help of Holy spirit which was given at Pentecost, we can then conclude that the wings were given to the church at Pentecost, and that shows us that the woman with the wings existed from the very beginning of the church. If we try to say that the woman without wings is the same as the woman that received the wings, but she was only being shown at an earlier time, then there would have been no reason for the scriptures to say that that the first woman fled on foot into the wilderness for 1260 years. They both are fleeing or flying into the wilderness.

It's very unlikely that the two women are the same, because of the differences between the two of them. Because of that, it seems obvious that the woman with wings has the heavenly seed, and that the first woman on foot carries the promise of the seed of the sand of the sea portion of the Abrahamic Covenant.

Revelation 12:15-16

Rev 12:15 And the serpent poured water like a river out of his mouth after the woman, so that he might cause her to be swept away with the flood

Rev 12:16 But the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened its mouth and drank up the river which the dragon poured out of his mouth.

The woman that is being pursued here, is for sure the stars of heaven aspect of the Abrahamic covenant, and that is the reason that the children she has, are described as those who keep the testimony of Jesus.

Traditional Thought Regarding Flood of Water

The traditional Bible Student idea, regarding the flood from the dragon and the serpent's mouth, is that it occurred at the end of the 1260 years. That idea has some severe problems, since the context of the description in Rev Chapter 12 and 13, and history itself, shows us that the flood of trouble began before the 1260 years started!

These verses are found in the same context of the Chapter, in which we previously saw that Satan had to have been symbolically cast down at the First Advent, before the beginning of the 1260 years. He became angry because of that, and he then spewed the water out after the woman, as she was flying to her place in the wilderness—where she was to be protected for  $3.5 \times 360 = 1260$  years. Since the flood began while she was fleeing, that means that the flood had to have occurred prior to the 539AD date, because that was the beginning of the 1260 years of the desert that she was fleeing to.

We also notice that the first woman that was fleeing on the ground, did not have water cast out after her, but only the woman with wings had the water spewed out after her. The knowledge of the covenant was not under attack with her, because Israel had already rejected the knowledge of the New Covenant, and so there was nothing to corrupt.

Rev 12:14 And to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

Rev 12:15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water as a flood after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood. (KJV)

Flood of Water From Mouth of Serpent Aspect of Satan

As we look at these verses, we believe that we will find that there are two aspects to the flood that we see described above, one part which was out of the lying mouth of the serpent and one part that was out of the mouth of the dragon. With the mouth of the serpent, Satan uses the tactic of lies and doctrinal error and that was one way he tried to overwhelm the knowledge of the covenant, and those who were the seed of the covenant. He tried to drown out the knowledge of Christ with Pagan doctrine, and other lies that were designed to hide what Christ had done on the cross. Remember that Satan was a lying serpent in the garden. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast.

As we look at this section of verses, pay attention to the fact that the dragon aspect is the water that was swallowed up. The water of error out of the mouth of the lying serpent was not dried up, and that would agree with the fact that the nominal church still has all of the Pagan doctrines that Satan spewed out after the woman.

Food of Water
From Mouth of Dragon Aspect of Satan

The other flood was from the mouth of the dragon or beastly civil power aspect, which was the Satan controlled civil power. That main civil power attack was from the Pagan Roman Empire itself, and just before that, there were Barbarians that were attacking and coming into the Empire. Those two different sources of water, represent two different historical sets of events that happened when Satan became angry.

The Study Group, saw at least two different aspects to this flood of water—both of which were prior to the 539AD date. The doctrinal corruption in the church had some small beginnings in the Gnostics that started at the time of the Apostles and afterward. There was also a lot of early debate between Christianity and Paganism which may have corrupted some of the doctrines.

The dragon or civil power part of Satan, was persecuting the early church, from the time of the apostles and onward. The Emperors that believed in Paganism, had fought off and on against the Christians, trying to root them out. Later on, when a large number of Barbarians came into the Empire, causing the Empire to lose land and people, they blamed the Christians at the time, saying that because they were not worshipping the Pagan God's, that they had angered the Gods causing them to abandon the Empire. Diocletian and several others, decided that the right thing to do to save the Empire and Paganism, was to persecute and kill all of the Christians, and in 303AD they began the 10 years of severe persecution that is mentioned in the message to the second church. Thousands of Christians were killed when they did not denounce Christianity, and accept the Pagan doctrine.

End Persecution
Earth Swallows up Water

After 10 years, Constantine became Emperor, and he defeated Paganism, and ended the persecution in 313AD, and issued a decree stating that all religions could be practiced in the Empire, including Christianity. He also seemed to give special favor to the Christians, perhaps because he was hoping that they would help unite the Empire. In some ways they did partially unite the Empire, and that helped to stave off the Barbarian attacks that had been attacking the Empire for a while.

By the recognizing of Christianity, the earth (the Roman Empire and its society), had opened its mouth and helped the woman, by swallowing up the civil power of Paganism and the Barbarians that were attacking. The acceptance of Christianity, stopped the persecution from the Empire and it helped to stop the Barbarian attacks for a time, because of the greater unity in the Empire. That seemed like a good thing at the time, but as we will see next, that caused the church to fall into error later. Notice that only the physical attacks out of the mouth of the dragon were dried up, the influx of Pagan doctrine into the church from the mouth of the serpent became much worse, with the council of Nicaea in 325, and Theodosius in 381, and other councils, and those false doctrines never went away.

Theodosius, and Decree of 381

The council of Nicaea in 325AD, was the start of many false doctrines being forced upon the church. The other problem, was the large influx of Pagan people into the church after the decree of Theodosius in 381 banning Paganism, which caused the faithful church to not have as much control over what doctrines were held by the church, and that resulted in a rapid decline in the purity of the doctrine of the church. Theodosius also stated that all Christians had to believe in the so called orthodox belief, which promoted the doctrine of the Trinity. When the flood of Pagan people began to join the church, they also overwhelmed it with false doctrine. Pagan holidays and ideas were also freely mixed with God's truth, and the decline into darkness began. They even began to claim that the help of Roman power, had brought the kingdom of God to the church. The idea that the kingdom of God had come, is what led to the oppressive church and state system, which began to kill all Christians that did not agree with the church.

Flood of Pagans Took Over Church

The situation had gotten so bad after 381, that the flood of Pagans actually took control of the church with the help of the Roman Empire, and they began to call church councils that forced false doctrines like the Trinity doctrines on the church. The decree of Theodosius in 381, not only banned Pagan doctrine in the Empire, but it also banned all Christian doctrine that was not considered orthodox, which was the Arians who were against the Trinity. That decree is why the Pagans came into the church in large numbers—bringing their Pagan doctrines with them. That is an important point in history, because when we consider the beast in Chapter 13, this event will be key to seeing the beginning of the rise of the sea beast. The 381 decree, was where the seventh head was fully formed on the beast.

Once that decree was given, any resistance to the false doctrines that were coming into the church was illegal. The Arians still fought against the Trinity and other errors for a while, because they had civil control of their own territory which included Rome. In 539 the Roman Empire sent the army, and they were pushed out of Rome, and the Roman territory that they had controlled, which left Papacy sitting in the seat of power! Using the superstitious appeal of the seat of Rome, Papacy began his climb to power, which eventually resulted in him riding on the image of the beast and controlling it in about 1179. 2 Thess 2:8-11 (9 that is, the one whose coming is in accord with the activity of Satan, with all power and signs and false wonders, 10 and with all the deception of wickedness for those who perish, because they did not receive the love of the truth so as to be saved. NASU

We believe that what the dragon, Satan, gave to the new beast, was the original seat of power. The help of Roman power, is what created what we call Papacy. The central location of the Roman seat of power, and Justinian's decree giving the Pope ecclesiastical power over both halves of the Empire, was what gave the city of Rome's bishop, power over all other bishops.

The faithful saints who were mostly Arians, were being told by the 381 decree that they had to give up their correct doctrines regarding the nature of Christ or face severe penalties. That was the first doctrinal attack against the Arians, and after 539 the Arians were driven out of the Western Empire, although it did not completely get rid of the Arian faith at that time, because it existed in some areas of the Eastern Empire for a while.

While the attempt at overwhelming the church doctrinally by Satan, was part of what he did, it wasn't the only aspect of the spewing out of the water that we see in this Chapter. We see that Satan was also going to continue to attack the faithful church with civil power, which was literally the civil power of Rome that Satan controlled at that time, as well as the barbarians who had Pagan doctrine, and who came into the Empire after the fall of Rome.

Section, With More Details & History of What Happened

More Barbarians Some Arian

The first dragon attacks, were the attempt by the Roman power to wipe out the church in 303-313. After that there was the influx of more Barbarians, which pushed some German Arian barbarians who lived outside the Empire, to flee into the Empire to try to escape. They were able to escape the initial attacks when they crossed into the Empire over the frozen river Rhine, and they conquered some territory inside the Empire so they would have someplace to live and support themselves. The city of Rome itself was a part of that successful conquest.

This also was part of the spewing out of water after the woman, because if Satan could have successfully overwhelmed the faithful Arians with the Barbarians, no one would have been left to resist the churches decline into error. Below is some history of what was happening at the time. As we will see, the Arians and the Empire joined together and worked together against their common enemy at the time to stop the attacks. Because of that help, they were even able to stay in the Empire for a while. The quote below is from Wikipedia.

Romans and Barbarians

From Wikipedia

“Some decades after the first Christian Emperor, Constantine I, Theodosius I, after he converted to Christianity in 380, was the first to make Christianity the official religion of the Empire, forbidding Arian Christianity, Pagan cults, and Manichaeism. He was also the last Emperor of a united Empire; at his death, the Empire was divided between his two sons in what turned out to be a final separation between East and West. In December, 406, at a time when the Huns had invaded what is now Germany, the Rhine froze over. On the 31st of December, tens of thousands of people of the Germanic tribes, fleeing the Huns, crossed the ice into Gaul, entering the Roman Empire. The Suebi settled in Gallaecia (modern Galicia and northern Portugal), the Vandals and the Alans went south as far as Andalusia.

During this time, Alaric, chief of the Visigoths, seized Rome in 410. His successor, Ataulf, married Galla Placidia, daughter of Theodosius. But, pursued by the Roman government based now in Ravenna, Ataulf went on to Hispania. From this time on, the wars between Barbarians tribes intensified on the Iberian peninsula.

But at the same time, these tribes were becoming Romanized, and some of them, like the Visigoths and the Franks, joined with Roman imperial troops to stop Attila the Hun in 451 near Orléans (the battle of Châlons or the "Battle of the Catalaunian Fields"). The Visigoth King Theodoric died in the battle.

Soon afterwards, his son Euric, the king of the Visigoths, conquered most of Hispania in two campaigns and became the first independent sovereign of this tribe from the Roman rule. The Roman Empire no longer existed. Faithful to Arianism, Euric forced the Suebian king of the Asturias to convert." Wikipedia

Attack by Barbarians

The Huns, which were led by Attila, attacked the Empire and tried to take control of some of its territory. They were also attacking some of the surrounding nations that were not part of the Empire, where the Arians lived, who were against the Trinity doctrine. The Bulgars were allied with the Huns, and they joined in the conquest of what was left of the Roman Empire. The Barbarians hordes would have wiped out both the Arians and the orthodox Christians if the Huns and the Bulgars had been allowed to succeed, because those Barbarian hoards were barely civilized and would have stamped out any Christian beliefs that the people had at the time.

The river was providentially solidly frozen over that winter, and that allowed the Germanic tribes to escape and come into the Empire, and once the Germanic tribes came into the Empire, they moved into a lot of territories and took control, which they were allowed to keep for themselves until 539AD. They were the ones that succeeded in sacking Rome, and they helped bring the Western Roman Empire to a temporary end before they were done. Because of their fear of the Huns, many of them then joined with the Roman army, and helped to repulse the Huns and other Pagan Barbarians that were overrunning the Empire. Because of that help, the remnants of the Roman Empire accepted them for a time, and they became part of the joint armies defeating the Barbarians.

The German Tribes were Arian

Many of the German tribes had been converted to Arian Christianity by missionaries, and by Arians that had been forced out of the Empire. Because they had not been a part of the Empire, Theodosius had not been able to ban their religious belief in Arianism, so by their flight from the Huns into the Empire, they brought Arianism back before the people, and at the same time escaped from the Huns. Later, because of their help in repulsing the Huns, they were accepted for a time and absorbed into the individual nations that were left of the collapsed Empire, and given some of the territories that they had conquered. The Empire accepting them appears to be how the earth swallowed up the water of barbarians that had pursued them into the Empire.

Historians say that the two different religions beliefs cooperated, and allowed each other into their different church services, because of the help that they had given each other. Because of that, the Barbarians were repulsed, and the Arians were accepted into the fragments of the Empire, and Satan's attempt to stamp out the more correct faith of Arianism failed for a time.

As we will see in the next Chapter, Satan then became even more angrier that the Barbarians attacks had failed, and he changed his tactics again and continued his attempt to wipe out the true faith, with even worse attacks—which came about because he allowed Papacy to get great influence and power in both the Empire and the church.

Rome was Politically and Socially Corrupt

The thing that had happened, that had allowed the Barbarians to overwhelm the Roman Empire at that time, is that Rome began to fall apart politically and socially. The central authority of Rome became weak, and they could not control the outlying area of the Empire. Part of the problem was that many of the rich land owners did not want to pay any taxes, and because of that, the infrastructure of the Empire began to fail, and the army was not kept strong because of the lack of money. The original symbol of the sea that the beast was seen coming up out of in Daniel, was beginning to swallow the Empire back up, piece by piece. The Empire had become so corrupt, that they had lost their military might, and they were divided politically, and because that had happened, that was the reason that the Barbarians were able come into the Empire and overwhelm it.

When the Empire began to come together again after it had collapsed, the Adventists say that Papacy persuaded the Emperor Justinian in 539AD, to re-conquer the areas held by the Arians. The reason that Papacy wanted that done, was because he was located in the city of Rome, which was held by the Arians. Justinian was trying to put the Empire back together, and Papacy was able to get him to eliminate what he thought was a heresy, but he didn't realize that he was the real heretic. What happened at Ravenna in 539AD, was the beginning attacks of the beast against the seed of the woman that we find described in Chapter 13. The Trinity doctrine is not compatible with the philosophy of the ransom, and for that reason, anyone that accepted that doctrine soon lost the truth of what Christ had accomplished on the cross, and that is why Satan had pushed so hard to establish that false doctrine. We can still see how deeply entrenched that idea is in the churches yet today, in that they think that anyone that does not believe in the Trinity is a heretic.

Ravenna 539

The physical attack against the Arians at Ravenna in 539-40AD and their defeat, was the start of the trouble and persecution that we see at the beginning of Chapter 13. From that time onward, for 1260 years, the Faithful Church was forced more and more into hiding and flight to escape the persecution of the fallen church which had allied itself with the Roman power.

“Arianism, which had been taught by the Arian missionary Ulfilas to the Germanic tribes, was dominant for some centuries among several Germanic tribes in Western Europe, especially Goths and Lombard’s (and significantly for the late Empire, the Vandals), but ceased to be the mainstream belief by the 8th century, as it was successfully crushed through a series of military and political conquests, culminating in the political-religious domination of Europe over the next 1,000 years by Trinitarian forces in the Catholic Church. “Wikipedia

That flight of the church into safety, is pictured by Elijah being fed in the wilderness, and by Elijah feeding the widow and himself. Things were so bad when Ahab and Jezebel were pursuing him, that he began hiding from them in a cave, so that he wouldn’t be killed. We also see that 7000 faithful men were left in Israel at that time, and Jezebel was not able to kill them either, even though she tried. That picture shows us that our Lord had a faithful remnant all during that dark time, that were still trying to serve him.

1 Kings 19:18 "Yet I will leave 7,000 in Israel, all the knees that have not bowed to Baal and every mouth that has not kissed him." NASU

False Idea of the Defeat of the Dragon by Constantine

Constantine put himself into the fulfillment of this Chapter, believing that he had overcome the Pagan dragon when he defeated the last Pagan Emperor. In a sense, it’s true that he literally did overcome the civil power of the Pagan dragon of Rome, but that is not what the Chapter is showing us about the fall of the dragon, because there is more to the dragon than Pagan Rome. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast.

Four Aspects of Satan Cast Down Was Not Just the Dragan

If you take a close look at the scriptures where it says that Satan was cast down, we find that he had four different aspects.

Rev 12:9 And the (1) great dragon was thrown down, (2) the serpent of old who is called (3) the devil and (4) Satan, who deceives the whole world; he was thrown down to the earth, and his angels were thrown down with him. NASU

If we only look at the Pagan dragon aspect, as we considered earlier in this Chapter, then we get the wrong idea that Satan and Pagan Rome were defeated completely. The problem is that all four aspects of Satan were to be defeated by the Lord, not just the dragon part. The paying of the ransom is what defeated Satan at the time of the early church, but he still exists with all four aspects, he just can't falsely accuse the church anymore, as long as they keep their belief in the blood. At the start of the 1000 years, in chapter 20, we will see all of Satan's aspects cast into the abyss and locked up for 1000 years.

Was Not the Defeat of the Dragon & Establishment of the Kingdom

Because of that, the idea that the dragon being cast out was the defeat of Pagan Rome and the establishment of the kingdom is wrong. First of all, the civil power of the dragon aspect was not even defeated by Constantine, because Satan just transferred the throne of his power to the Apostate Christianized beast that we will see in the next Chapter, Rev 13:2. We should not forget that the core symbol of the dragon is Satan himself, and the Empires that we associate with the dragon, like Pagan Rome and Christianized Rome, are symbolized in the heads and the horns which were first on the dragon, and which later moved to the beast in chapter 13.

The sixth pagan head of the dragon was defeated at the time of Constantine, but since Christianity was being adopted into the Empire, the seventh Apostate Paganized Christian head was already being developed to replace it. In other words, when Satan transferred the horns and heads to the beast that we see in the beginning of chapter 13, that was when Pagan Rome was removed, and the Apostate Paganized Christianized Rome came into existence—but the dragon that represented Satan still existed, as seen in the latter half of Chapter 12 and in 13:1, 20:1-3. The other aspects of Satan still existed also, and they can still defeat us if we do not use the blood of Lamb to keep us from being overcome. In other words, Constantine's idea that he had defeated the dragon, was not true at all, and history proves that by what happened afterward.

The ones that believe that way, think that the church taking control of the Empire was a good thing, and that Satan was being cast out of the Empire so they could establish God's kingdom. That scenario was exactly what Constantine believed, and many churches are still believing it today. That is why it was called Christendom, which means Christ's kingdom. A look at what happened historically after he was supposedly cast out, should make it clear that is not a correct interpretation. Chapter 13 tells us about the persecuting power of the first beast that came back up out of the "sea". It also tells us that it would be in power during a 42-month period, which prophetically is the 1260 years, which is 539–1799AD. That beast and what it did to God's people, is described in that Chapter as a terrible persecuting power, that made all nations follow it. History confirms that what was predicted there, actually happened during that time to both the church and the world.

The Chapter is showing us the dragon falling from heaven, and that was because Christ had defeated Satan on the cross with the blood of the Lamb. If what Constantine did, had really been the full defeat of the Pagan dragon in 313, then he would not have been able to spew water out, trying to drown the woman after he fell to earth. Because the core of the dragon is Satan, and the heads and horns are only accessories showing his civil power and the history of previous Empires, that is why Satan when he was defeated and fell to the earth, was still able to spew out both doctrinal error and send people out to try to destroy the knowledge of the covenant. His four evil aspects were only blocked in heaven, not on the earth yet, because that will not happen until the church is complete. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast.

The blood of the Lamb did not physically get rid of Satan, but it stops him from accusing us in heaven, if we keep our belief in the blood. That is why it says here in chapter 12, that they overcame him with the blood of the Lamb. The church has been protected by the blood from the time of Pentecost onward, and the church will by the end of the gospel Age, still using that blood, overcome Satan completely so that he will not be able to interfere in the uplifting of the earthly individuals in the kingdom. From the time of the cross and the giving of the Holy spirit in 33AD, the church was already spiritually overcoming him because of the protection of the blood.

Wrong Ideas Lead to Wrong Conclusion

When Constantine incorrectly attributed the defeat of the symbol of the dragon to himself, when he defeated Pagan Rome in 313, that turned out to be a dangerous idea for him and the church to have at the time, because it was not correct. The idea that the dragon was only Pagan Rome, is where the problem began—what they didn't understand, was that he had four different aspects that he uses to control and defeat the faithful of the church, and that the defeat of the Pagan head, was not the defeat of the symbol of the dragon which was Satan.

When the dragon symbolically fell to the earth, Revelation shows that the dragon was still alive and causing trouble on the earth, and still attacking the woman as history shows. So, the idea that Constantine defeated the dragon in 313, could in no way be true. He defeated Pagan Rome by putting them out of power, but that was not only what the dragon in Revelation Chapter 12 represented, as we showed above—his mistake was that the core symbol of the dragon symbolized Satan, and it was not limited to the power of the Pagan Roman Empire. He controlled all of the civil power in the world, and so to switch from a Pagan Roman Empire, to an Apostate Paganized Christianized Empire, was no problem for him.

Thought Kingdom Had Arrived

Because of the wrong idea about Constantine defeating Pagan Rome, that is when the church began to view the cooperation between Rome and the church as being Christ's kingdom. With the introduction of the civil power of Rome into the church, that made many of the Bishops begin to look for wealth and influence. Because of the Pagans coming into the church, the correct doctrines of the church regarding the salvation of the Lambs blood, were being eroded away by Pagan ideas. There were many other ideas put forth at the time, on how the scriptures in Chapter 12 and other Chapters, had already been fulfilled by the new church and state system, and that the days of blessing were here because of that fulfillment. It was not long, because of that idea, that the church was heading downhill spiritually, and by 539AD the reign of terror had begun, instead of the reign of blessing.

The church of the time, did not understand the danger of the new beast of Chapter 13 when it came into the picture—that is the Apostate Paganized Christianized beast that the dragon “Satan” gave his throne, power, and great authority too. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast. They did not understand, that by the cooperation of church and state, they had created an evil and dangerous beast, which was the beast of Chapter 13. So, because of that lack of understanding, the idea that this was Christ’s kingdom was allowed to take root—with terrible results. What we see, is that the wrong interpretations that they had, eventually led to the idea that the kingdom was established, and that led to the terrible beast system that existed for 1260 years.

Forming of the Seventh Head

The seventh head was formed when the so called Orthodox Christianity, took control of all religion in the Empire in about 381. That finished changing the Pagan sixth head, into the Christian seventh head—that change had already been in process since 313. All other religion was banned, including Paganism in 381, and that is what formed the new head, by the change of the form of government. The bad part was that Arianism was also banned, which was fighting against the Trinity. From that point on, anything except the so called Orthodox Christianity was banned, and that ban was supported by the power of the Roman Empire itself, especially after 539. The banning of Paganism, also forced Pagans into the Christian Churches, where their overwhelming numbers speedily took control of the church, and Paganism speedily corrupted the doctrines of the church.

Smiting of the Seventh Head

The smiting of the head occurred, when the so called Christianized Empire was overran by the barbarians that came into the Empire, as we explained a little earlier in this Chapter. They took control of Rome and the territory around it, and the ones that overran that part of the Empire were Arians, which played a big part in Papacy being in favor of the re-conquering of that area and the city of the Rome. One reason that he wanted that to happen, was that when they were removed from Ravenna, they also were removed from Rome, leaving Papacy in control of the city of Rome. That is why, at the beginning of Chapter 13, we see the beast with the smitten head recovering, and coming back up out of the sea that it had dissolved into.

John was told that 5 heads had fallen, # 6 was in existence, and that there would be a seventh, and an eighth out of the seventh. Rev 17:11.

Constantine recognized Christianity, Paganism loses rule of Empire but still exists. Christianized seventh head begins to form.

Theodosius bans all religion in Empire, except Orthodox Christianity, the ban includes Paganism & the Arian view. This is the completed seventh head, because the form of government changed to Apostate Orthodox Christianity. Pagans are forced into church and they bring their Pagan doctrines and holidays with them.

Seventh smitten head restored when Rome partially recovers, but crowns move to horns instead of heads, because Rome was not centrally controlled like it was before fall. Begin 1260 years of reign of terror, Papacy is in control of city of Rome, and soon had control of doctrine in both halves of Empire.

Pepin gives the Pope, some of his conquered land. That land made Papacy a civil power ruler of the Papal States. Papacy had helped Pepin get supremacy of ruler ship over another king and this was payment for that. With the acquisition of land, he became the two-horned beast. He had an Ecclesiastical horn (1) that he had gotten from Justinian, and now he had a civil power horn (2) that he had gotten from Pepin. (3) He also Claimed there was Donation of Constantine. He was only like a lamb, because he was a wolf in sheep's clothing, and he spoke like a dragon, because he was a ruler of the Papal States. The Papal states lasted until 1799-1870.

The Pope Crowned Charlemagne Emperor, forming a new Western Empire, where none had existed since 410-476. This was not a true Roman Empire because its legality came from Papacy and not from Roman Empire laws. The German tribes restored and controlled the new government, and thus it was not Roman. That is why it is an image of the Beast, because it looked like the original, but wasn't.

The two-horned beast Papacy, argued for this creation, and it was created in the sight of the original Roman Empire that still existed in the East.

Conflict of Investitures
 Papacy excommunicated the Emperor in 1075, fighting over who had control in the Empire. After a long fight, Papacy won in 1122-1179, and Papacy was on top, riding the beast. That created an eighth head, because this was a new form of government, which was a theocracy, a government controlled by the church.

381 Seventh Head = Apostate Christian Rome, only Orthodox allowed.
 799AD Image of beast = New Western Empire with Charlemange crowned, which was not a resurrected Roman Empire, because it was German.
 1179AD Eighth head = Papacy riding Image of beast = Theocracy.

Christianized Roman Beast

Coming Back Out of Sea

Because Satan was not able to defeat the woman, who symbolized the knowledge of the covenant, he then became angry and began a new and worse attack, trying to defeat or kill her seed, who are the seed of the Abrahamic Covenant—the members of the faithful church.

Gal 3:16 The promises were spoken to Abraham and to his seed. The Scripture does not say "and to seeds," meaning many people, but "and to your seed," meaning one person, who is Christ. NIV

Gal 3:26-29 (26 You are all sons of God through faith in Christ Jesus, 27 for all of you who were baptized into Christ have clothed yourselves with Christ. 28 There is neither Jew nor Greek, slave nor free, male nor female, for you are all one in Christ Jesus. 29 If you belong to Christ, then you are Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise.

NIV

We believe that the dragon is pictured as standing on the sand of the sea of mankind, symbolizing that Satan had authority or control over them. That shows that Satan is exercising control over the sand of the sea, which symbolizes mankind. One reason that we think that shows Satan in control of mankind, is that in Chapter 10, we see the Lord standing on both the land and the sea, symbolizing that he was beginning to take back control of them away from Satan, getting ready for the kingdom.

Satan was standing on the sand of the seashore after Rome had collapsed, and we believe that he was waiting for, and most likely helping the Apostate Christianized beast to re-emerge back out of the sea of mankind. The sea that existed at that time, was in an unsettled and chaotic state, because the Empire of Rome had collapsed, and there was no stable government. That we still see the symbol of the dragon in this Chapter, proves again that Constantine was wrong about defeating the dragon, because here he is again. Constantine defeated Paganism, but the dragon which symbolized "Satan", was still alive and propagating Pagan doctrines. As we can see, the dragon was very much alive at this point in history, which was in 539AD, which was 226 years after Constantine's defeat of the Pagan Roman Empire—which was when he thought he had defeated the dragon. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast. Since the core of the dragon was Satan, and the heads and horns were accessories symbolizing Empires and countries, what we are seeing here is Satan himself.

The beast with the smitten head, that John sees coming up out of the sea, was the result of the events that started when Constantine recognized Christianity in 313AD—gradually bringing the seventh Apostate Christianized head into existence. This Apostate Christianized head, is said to be blasphemous. That fits exactly with this evil system, because they were Pagan and not really Christian, and they had blasphemed God by creating doctrines and laws that implied that God is unjust and cruel. The first definition of blasphemy, taken from the Catholic's own dictionary, definitely applies to this system and beast.

New Advent-Catholic Dictionary

Blasphemy, by reason of the significance of the words with which it is expressed, may be of three kinds.

1. It is heretical when the insult to God involves a declaration that is against faith, as in the assertion: "God is cruel and unjust" or "The noblest work of man is God".
2. It is imprecatory when it would cry a malediction upon the Supreme Being as when one would say: "Away with God".

3. It is simply contumacious when it is wholly made up of contempt of, or indignation towards, God, as in the blasphemy of Julian the Apostate: "Thou has conquered, O Galilaeen".

We are not certain of the exact point in time, but it appears that we should look at the seventh Christianized head, as being fully formed either by 313 where Christianity was accepted by the Empire or by the decree of 381—which was given by Theodosius. The date 381 was the point in time that all other religions were made illegal, except for the so the called orthodox Christianity. That decree, also banned Paganism and Arianism. Arians were still fighting against the false doctrine of the Trinity at that time. It became a new and seventh head at that time, because the form of government changed from Paganism to Apostate Christianity. See Appendix H, for several tables that show the relationship, between Daniel's beast, Paul in Thessalonians, and John in Revelation. This tables shows Daniel's sea beast, the two horned beast, man of sin of lawlessness, and etc. #Tables of Beasts

We note that the harlot of chapter 17, was said to be sitting on many waters in verse one, and on multitudes, people, nations and tongues in verse fifteen. That helps to prove that the beast and the harlot of chapter 17, are sitting on the same water of people that this beast came up out of. That shows that the chapter 17 beast, is descended from this beast, but as we will see, it is not the same beast as this beast which had a seventh head, because it has an eighth head or government which was a theocracy, and it is being seen at a later time, when all of the waters of people had been absorbed into the evil church and state system.

The beast that came up out of the sea in this chapter, was a restored Roman Empire, that had a Papal element of the mouth with it, which was developed after the church that had gotten control of the original throne of the beast in the city of Rome, and because of that was given religious power and influence in the Empire. Here we only see the mouth of Papacy, which was all the power that the fallen church had at that time, but in seventeen, we will see that the power had grown greatly by that time, and Papacy is seen separate from the newly created image of the beast, riding and controlling it. It's interesting, that Sir Isaac Newton, said that the two horned beast was the harlot of chapter 17, and that is being shown to be exactly right.

The order that it names the heads and horns, also appears to be important, in that the horns are first, and the heads come up last. That is exactly what happened in history, in that the ten horns came back into existence, before the seventh head was restored.

We also see in verse two, that the beast was like a leopard, he had the feet of a bear, and his mouth was like a lion. This is in the order that you would see if you were looking back through history: You first would see Rome, then Greece, then Media Persia, and then Babylon. Each of those Empires contributed ideas and culture to the final Roman beast, and that is why this beast is pictured as having parts of the other three beasts, added to the Roman beast.

Beast's Head Restored About 539

The reason that we think that this head came fully into existence by 381, was because prior to that date, but after 313, you could still worship any way that you wished, but after 381 all other religions were banned—Pagan Rome was gone and a so called Orthodox Christianized Roman Empire had taken full control, hence the birth of the seventh head, which was an Apostate Christian head. That seventh head was smitten in 476, and then it was restored when it came back into control of the Roman beast in 539AD. Some commentaries say that the head was actually slain, and then restored. That is actually true, since Rome was completely disintegrated at the time. When it was restored was when Papacy had gotten full control over the city of Rome, and was cooperating with Justinian. The beast that John saw, had a head that had been smitten, and then healed—the beast that came into existence because of the decree of 381, was the one that had its head smitten in 476, because all of Western Rome and part of the East, was overrun by the barbarians. The 539AD date was when it's head was healed, which was when John was seeing it coming back into existence out of the sea of mankind.

The dragon gave the new beast, his power, his seat, and his authority. We will cover those three things, one by one.

Dragon Gave the Beast His Seat and Power

After John identifies the beast as having some of the elements of all four of the beasts that Daniel had seen, he then tells us that the dragon had given the beast his seat, power, and authority. That is exactly what Satan did, but it took some time for him to fully accomplish that. Constantine first recognized Christianity as a legal religion in 313. Then after Rome had fallen and then recovered, Justinian gave Papacy more say in the Empire, and he used the Roman army to remove the Arians in 539, putting Papacy in control of the seat of the superstitious power of the city of Rome. We believe that what Satan gave to the new beast, was the original seat of power, and the help of Roman power, is what created what we call the Papacy. The central location of the Roman seat of power, was what eventually gave the city of Rome's bishop, power over all other bishops. The dragon which is Satan, married the civil power to ecclesiasticism, which was largely Pagan in doctrine, which it never lost through its entire history.

He Was Given the Authority of the Dragon

Justinian put Papacy in control of the religious doctrines of both halves of the Empire at about that same time, which guaranteed his power over the church. Because of the written authority that he was given by Justinian, any time that someone disagreed with the doctrines that he was promoting, he could call upon the civil power of the Empire to enforce the doctrines. That this power of control came from Satan, that guaranteed that the doctrines that were being brought out, were Pagan.

Over the course of time, Papacy got more and more power over the Christianized beast, because Constantine had transferred the Capital of Rome to Constantinople, and that eventually left the church in control of the original seat of power of Rome. While the Ostrogoth's controlled Rome, Papacy was not able to get control of any of that power. Once Papacy was in possession of the seat of power after 539, he gradually over time, got more and more power and control over the city and the surrounding countryside, and even the other bishops.

Horns & Heads Moved to New Beast

In this Chapter, we will see that the dragon give his throne to the beast, and because of that, the new beast now has the same symbols of the heads and horns that were on the dragon in Chapter 12. There is no mention of the horns or heads on the dragon anymore when we get to Chapter 13, because they were given to the new Christianized beast. That shows that Satan is controlling the Christianized beast from behind the scenes, just as he did the Pagan beast, as we will see in this Chapter. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast.

The throne he gave to the new beast, was the backing of the civil power of Rome, and because of that, the same symbols of the heads and the horns continued with the new form of the Empire—which was an Apostate Christianized Rome. The only difference after 539, was the moving of the crowns from the heads to the horns, because the nations after 539 did not give all of their civil power up to central Rome, they only came together under the name of Rome for protection. That beast lasted in one form or another, until all the Protestant kings were destroyed in WW1, but a lot of the kings earlier on had deserted Papacy in 1799AD. When he gave the power of the throne to the Apostate Christianized Roman Empire, Satan still kept the dragon symbol for himself.

Pepin Gave Papacy Land

Starting in 754AD, Papacy was given the land, which was known as the Papal States, making him a head of a state. His control over the land given him, lasted until 1799-1870. Daniel shows the little horn of Papacy, plucking up three horns, which is the land that he took control of for the Papal States. Papacy had favored Pepin over another ruler, regarding who was going to rule over a territory, and that land was payback for his support.

At that point in history, Papacy became the two-horned beast, because he then had acquired a civil power horn, as well as the ecclesiastical horn that he had gotten earlier. The ecclesiastical horn had come into existence earlier, because around 539 he was give control of the religious doctrine of both halves of the Roman Empire. That new beast had two horns “like” a Lamb, but it really wasn't Christ's church, and it spoke like a dragon, because Satan was controlling it, and it was also a civil power because of the Papal States. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast.

It is traditionally thought that the three countries that were plucked up just prior to 539, are the three horns that Daniel saw plucked up and given to Papacy. That is not exactly true, because Papacy did not get that civil power given to him until later on in 754, and just before he crowned Charlemagne in 799, he also took control of the city of Rome and its surrounding territory—taking it away from the rich owners of the time.

Crowning Charlemagne

In 799-800AD, Papacy crowned Charlemagne, creating an Image of the Beast, in the sight of the original beast, which was what was left of the Roman Empire—mostly in the East at that time. It was an Image, because it claimed to be a resurrected Western Roman Empire, but it really was not. It looked like the old Western Roman Empire, but it was not getting its existence from the original Roman Empire's rules and laws, but it got its existence from the crowning of the Emperor by Papacy, which had nothing to do with the old Roman Empire. The kings that made up this New Empire were not even Roman, but they were German, hence it definitely was not a new Roman Empire. Because the Pope still controlled the church of the Eastern Empire at that time, this new beast had great influence over the Eastern Empire, which was the original Roman Empire, and the two Empires worked together for some time, but eventually there was a final split between the two halves in 1054AD, because Papacy tried to force his total control over the Eastern church and Empire, and they rejected his claim.

Eighth Head Formed

After he crowned Charlemagne, he began working on getting control of the civil power, but full control did not happen for a number of years, because the civil and the ecclesiastical struggled back and forth for many years—one gaining power for a while and then the other. There eventually was an agreement, between the Popes and the Emperor, which supposedly settled the issue, but which led to the Pope in a short time, taking full control. Henry IV fought against the power of the Pope during his reign just before that time, but he was not successful, and neither was the Pope until later.

“When Victor III died, the cardinals elected Urban II (1088–99). He was one of three men Gregory VII suggested as his successor. Urban II preached the First Crusade, which united Western Europe, and more importantly, reconciled the majority of bishops who had abandoned Gregory VII. In the end, Gregorian Reform won out over Henry IV.<sup>[17]</sup> Preaching the Crusade had one important consequence. The pope was now viewed as the head of the Church. No longer would kings and emperors think themselves equals of the pope, or the head of the Church in their kingdom. This was the situation from 1122 until the Reformation.<sup>[18]</sup>”

Several years later, Henry IV died in a deep gloom as had Gregory. It remained for his successor, Henry V to agree with Pope Calixtus II in 1122 to a compromise of the conflict over lay investitures known as the Concordat of Worms.<sup>[13]</sup>”

A compromise was reached in Worms in 1122, by which the emperor abandoned investiture “by ring and staff” to the pope, and promised to respect the freedom of elections and consecrations, but kept for himself the right to invest bishops with the temporalities of their sees “by scepter”.[11] Though the Emperor retained some power over imperial churches, his power was damaged irreparably because he lost the religious authority that previously belonged to the office of the king. In France, England, and the Christian state in Spain, the king could overcome rebellions of his magnates and establish the power of his royal demesne because he could rely on the Church, which, for several centuries, had given him a mystical authority. From time to time, rebellious and recalcitrant monarchs might run afoul of the Church. These could be excommunicated, and after an appropriate time and public penance, be received back into the communion and good graces of the Church.[12]

Some say that the Pope did not fully get power over the Emperor, until he crowned Alexander III in 1179. That was why Gregory VII had fought against the Pope in about 1073 AD, because Gregory still claimed that right of crowning at that time, while at the same time the Pope was claiming it. That started the fight over who had that power, which the Pope won in 1122 when he got the kings to agree to a compromise, or for sure in 1179, when he actually took and exercised the power of crowning royalty. In 1179 he conferred the title of king, with ensigns of royalty, upon Alphonso I, duke of Portugal. Regardless of which date is correct, once he had all of that power, that is when the beast became the eighth head—it was the eighth head because it was a different kind of government than the seventh head. It became an Apostate theocracy, which began when Papacy had gotten full control over the civil power. Within 5 years after that final capture of power, is when the Papacy began to persecute and kill all who disagreed with him, and that was when the woman began riding the beast.

When we get to chapter 17, we will notice that the heads and the horns both do not have crowns on them. The reason, is that the beast the woman is riding is a new beast with an eight head, which is not a Roman beast, and the ten kings gave their crowns to the beast, so the horns do not have any crowns on them in that chapter.

*The Medieval Inquisition was a series of Inquisitions (Catholic Church bodies charged with suppressing heresy) from around 1184, including the Episcopal Inquisition (1184–1230s) and later the Papal Inquisition (1230s). The Medieval Inquisition was established in response to movements considered apostate or heretical to Christianity, in particular Catharism and Waldensians in Southern France and Northern Italy. ### The Mouth Speaking Great Things

Coming back to Rev 13:5, we see the mouth speaking great things that was added to the beast, is when Papacy was made the spokesman for the entire East and West church, just prior to 539AD. From 539 and onward, is where the 1260 years began, and it ends in 1799AD. We also see that same beast in Dan 7:8, where the little horn is said to have eyes and a mouth uttering great boasts. The beast in Daniel and Revelation is the Christianized Roman Empire, and Papal authority was added to the beast to enforce the so called Orthodox Christianity that was being forced upon the church.

We are going to insert some information about the dragon, and the transfer of power to the Christianized Beast that we see described here in Chapter 13 and in Chapter 17, because it will be important in understanding the history of the evil system. Some of this information will be repeated later, as we go through the Chapter again, but this section more fully explains the dragon symbol, and why we later see the dragon and the beast at the same time in the beginning of Chapter 13. We are going to explain the change from the dragon, to the terrible beast that we see here in Chapter 13, and give a summery explanation of the other beasts, that we will see in this Chapter and in Chapter 17.

Dragon = Pure Satan

The core of the dragon, without his accessories of the heads and horns, is Satan, who controls the civil power of the Empires from behind the scenes. The heads and horns, symbolize the Empires and Kings that Daniel saw in his visions, which Satan has controlled throughout history. The dragon has seven heads, which represent seven different kingdoms that have ruled over Israel's land and people, including the church, and those seven heads are seven different kinds of governments. The seventh head was Christianized Rome. Those heads and horns, also represent the throne of Pagan Roman power that Satan later transferred to the so called Christianized beast.

Dragon Initially in Control of Pagan Rome

The dragon which is Satan, when first seen in Rev 12:3, was in control of the Pagan Roman Empire, as symbolized by the seven heads with crowns, and the ten horns on the dragon symbol. It's important that we notice that the crowns are on the heads at the time of it first being seen in Rev 12:3, but the horns do not have crowns at that time—which is the time of the Pagan Roman Empire. That is because Rome was a strong centrally controlled Empire at that time. In the time of John, the angel in Chapter 17, told John that five had fallen and one was, which was the Pagan head. The seventh head that was coming, was the so called Christianized head, which was formed from 313-381, when all religion except Orthodox Christianity were banned in the Empire. It's possible that we should see the head as completed in 313, but there were still other religions in the Empire until the 381 decree which banned all other religion, and so we favor the later date of 381.

Dragon to Beast Symbol

We believe, that is when the Pagan dragon symbol became a beast symbol, because the Empire was Christianized—the core symbol of the dragon is Satan, but the heads and horns are the kingdoms and the civil power he controls. The reason that the symbol changed in Chapter 13, is that there was a change of religion, from Paganism to Apostate Christianity.

That made this a terrible animal, which was beastly in God's sight, because the church was not to have gotten involved with civil power, and this was the apostate or fallen church that did that, not the faithful church. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast.

It also makes the symbols match what Daniel was seeing in Chapter 7, where we see that all the animals were different forms of beasts, showing how terrible the earthly governments were in God's sight. In Dan Chapter 2, we are shown the governments from Nebuchadnezzar's favorable point of view, where he sees the governments as a beautiful statue, with different metals in it—with his metal being gold.

In 13:1 Dragon is Pure Satan

In 13:1, we see the dragon, which is purely Satan, with no civil power, no heads or horns, waiting or helping the Christianized Beast with the smitten head, to emerge back out of the sea of humanity. When it does, he takes control of the Christianized beast again, but there is a difference! The crowns have moved to the horns, and the heads do not have crowns on them. That is a very important change, because it defines exactly the point in time that we are looking at, which is 539.

An important thing to keep in mind, is that the dragon symbol by itself is Satan, our personal enemy, because some would like to think that there is no such thing as a personal Satan. Perhaps, the reason that they conclude that the dragon is only the Pagan Roman Empire, is because they are looking at the accessory symbols of the heads and horns on the dragon, and they rightly see that those represent Empires and governments, but they don't understand that the actual core of the dragon itself is Satan, who is controlling those Empire and nations.

As we mentioned earlier, there were only seven heads seen on the dragon in the initial view in Rev 12:3. The Christianized Roman Empire, was the seventh head or form of government of the last centrally controlled Empire, because when it came back together after having fallen, the Empire was made up of several governments that joined back to Rome for protection, but they kept control of most of their civil power to themselves. They came back together again, under the name of Rome for protection.

Reason, Crowns Moved to Horns

That is why the crowns moved to the horns at that time—the actual power was in the individual nations, grouped together under the name of Rome. That occurred in about 539, when Justinian was trying to put the Roman Empire back together again. There were 10 countries at that time that could place crowns on their coins at that time, and that seems to be the likely reason there are ten horns then. That, as a second witness, nails down the time it happened, because the number of countries changed after that, and that was most likely the only time that the count of 10 countries was literally true. We will explain that more fully, later, especially in the detailed notes.

We also believe, that there is a symbolic meaning of the ten horns, that will fit the entire history of the beast, which we will explain shortly. Satan, had given his throne of power to this restored beast, showing that it was using and claiming the power of the original Pagan Rome. Western Rome did not come back together again, or at least claim they were restored, until 799-800, which was when the Image of the Beast was formed by the crowning of Charlemagne “Emperor” of the Western Roman Empire.

The Eighth Head

The Eighth head, which grew out of the seven, was when Papacy took control of the Image of the Beast shortly after 1122 or 1179AD, and began to ride it, as we see in Chapter 17. After that date, is when the ten kings gave their crowns of civil power to the beast, and so there is a change again in Chapter 17. This new head was the eighth, and it was a theocracy, because Papacy was in charge, telling the people under the control of the beast what to believe and do. 2 Thess 2:8-11 (9 that is, the one whose coming is in accord with the activity of Satan, with all power and signs and false wonders, 10 and with all the deception of wickedness for those who perish, because they did not receive the love of the truth so as to be saved. NASU

The beast that the harlot is riding on in Chapter 17, is a vision of the Western beast later in history than the image, and it was when Papacy became the eighth head and was in full control—hence the riding on the beast by Papacy. We don’t know the exact date for the Chapter 17 vision, but that was the time of church state power and the killing of the saints, which we saw in the fifth seal. The vision of Chapter 17, for sure existed by the time of Pope Innocent in 1198, where the inquisition was taking place, but the beginning of the vision most likely starts before that time, probably in 1184 where the inquisition began. The first seven heads were Roman, but the eighth head was not a Roman government, but it had sprang up from German tribes. That is why the vision of the Roman beast, only had seven heads on it.

The Medieval Inquisition was a series of Inquisitions (Catholic Church bodies charged with suppressing heresy) from around 1184, including the Episcopal Inquisition (1184–1230s) and later the Papal Inquisition (1230s). The Medieval Inquisition was established in response to movements considered apostate or heretical to Christianity, in particular Catharism and Waldensians in Southern France and Northern Italy. These were the first inquisition movements of many that would follow.

In Chap 17

No Crowns on Heads or Horns!

We notice in Chapter 17, that we don’t see the crowns on the heads or on the horns at that time. We believe that is because that new beast was not a true Roman Empire beast. It was an Empire that was created by Papacy, by the crowning of Charlemagne, and it was only an Image that looked like the Roman Empire—for that reason there is no crown on the eighth head, because it is not a true descendant of the original seven mountains—it was German. That is why the original dragon and beast of chapter 13 only have seven heads, because that beast was the last empire of the beasts that was seen by Daniel. This was a new beast that was created by Papacy, and it was not legally a Roman Empire beast, it only looked like it.

There are also no crowns on the horns at the time that the Harlot is seen riding it, and the reason for that is that to ride the beast, Papacy had to of taken full control of the kings at that time, and that is symbolized by the horns giving their crowns to the beast, as described in Rev 17:13—shortly after 1179.

That new form of the image of the beast with the eighth head, lasted until 1799, which was when the kings took back their crowns, and hated her and burned her flesh with fire.

Full Meaning of Ten Horns

There are ten horns on the beast, which at about the time of 539 existed as 10 literal countries. The problem is that they do not all stay the same or even stay in existence during the entire 1260 years. We believe that there is a second and perhaps much fuller meaning of the ten horns. If we look at the symbolic meaning of ten horns on the dragon as being total civil power, then we can fit the dragon or the beast into any point in history. Bullinger gives us a definition of ten that supports that conclusion, at least in his title regarding the ten horns. Bullinger mentions a spiritual meaning regarding ten kings as being Antichrist's World Power. He also refers to ten, as ten literal kingdoms, but we additionally understand that ten can be symbolic of total power. The ten kings that this beast had, is what resulted in the doctrine of the Divine right of Kings being adopted, which was done to give the civil power legitimacy.

Dragon

The symbol of the dragon, is like the woman's symbol in Chapter 12, in that the vision of the Dragon in verse 3, covers the entire history of the dragon—that is why the dragon symbol is still seen at the end of the age in Chapter 20. The dragon originally is seen with seven heads, which represent seven different Empires, with seven different forms of government that have ruled over Israel's land and people. In Chapter 17, we will see that the sixth head was in power at the time of Apostle John, just as the angel tells us in Chapter 17.

Ten Horns

If we use the symbolic meaning of ten horns on the dragon, we then can fit the dragon into any point in history. The horns and heads, are actually moved in Chapter 13, from the Pagan Dragon to the Apostate Christianized beast, showing that they symbolize different types of the Empire's governments and the total civil power of the kingdoms, that supported Rome. That transfer of power, is a good example of why the ten horns have to be the total power of the Empire, no matter if it was Pagan Rome, or if it was the Christianized beast. That transfer of power, is the creation of the seventh head.

“E.W. Bullinger- PART II ITS SPIRITUAL SIGNIFICANCE-Ten ANTICHRIST'S WORLD-POWER

ANTICHRIST'S WORLD-POWER, is comprised in the ten kingdoms, symbolized by the ten toes on the feet of the Image of Nebuchadnezzar's dream (Dan 2:41), and by the ten horns of the fourth beast of Daniel's vision (Dan 7:7,20,24, etc.; Rev 12:3, 13:1, 17:3,7,12).”

Ten Horns = Total Civil Power

If we take the meaning that is given by Bullinger, we then find that the ten horns will fit into history at any place where that evil system had control over the nations. In other words, the ten horns symbolize the full civil power that Satan's system had, at any point in the dragon's existence. If we see the dragon at the time of the early church, the ten horns would be the power of the Pagan Roman Empire. When we see the dragon in Chapter 13, he has transferred the horns and heads onto the Christianized beast, which was the Roman Empire after 333-381AD. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast. If we see the ten horns at a later time, then they are the kings of the church state system that Papacy got complete control of during the time of 799-1179AD. The only time that there were ten literal countries, seems to be at about the 539 time.

Different Interpretations Amongst Brethren

There are different opinions amongst the Bible Students, as to when the different beasts seen in this Chapter existed or will exist, and what they represent. Most Bible Students believe that the beast seen in the first part of the Chapter, already exists, and many are looking at the two-horned beast as being the British and Ireland Colonial Empires, and likewise a lot of brethren are still looking for the Image to come into existence in the future. When we get to Chapter 17, we will find the same situation, in that many are still looking for that Chapter to be fulfilled in the future also.

It Already Happened

In this Chapter, we will attempt to show that all of it has been fulfilled already, in that these symbolic beasts existed already or still exist. At the same time, we wish to give a word of warning, because what is not know for sure, is if all the terrible events shown in these Chapters are finished, or if the church must endure one final persecution yet. We believe that all of what is shown in these Chapters, has occurred in one form or another already, but we can't say for sure that all of it is finished. In other words, the dying beast or system that we will see in the latter part of the Chapter, could still lash out and persecute and kill if it is given the opportunity.

Chapter 13, will require a lot of explanation, because of the need to supply the historical evidence that matches this Chapter. It will be necessary to explain what was going on in the Roman Empire at the time, and we will also need to explain what the church and Papacy were doing during the historical time that is covered by this Chapter. The events of this Chapter, also include the rise of Papacies power during the earlier time in church history, and especially in the latter half of the Chapter, we will need to explain how Papacy came out on top, regarding the controlling of the evil church and state Empire that was created—which lasted for 1260 years. Even though this will be a lengthy read, we believe that you will come away convinced that this Chapter describes exactly what happened during that evil time, and the interesting thing about this, is that it was all written in advance.

In the attack on the woman that is described in the previous Chapter, Satan used the flood of peoples and Pagan doctrines from the Roman Empire, to doctrinally and physically attack faithful Christianity, and he was behind the later attacks by the Barbarians. Chapter 13, shows us a new and further progression in the attacks on the seed of the woman—the faithful church. The new and worse attack, is what we call the sea beast that we find described here at the beginning of Chapter 13. We call it the sea beast, because it came back into existence out of the sea of mankind, just as Daniel describes the four beasts in Chapter 7.

If we start Chapter 13, with verse 17 of the previous Chapter, that makes it easier to see that what we are looking at here is the next phase of Satan's attacks against the faithful seed, which is described as a war against the saints. The vision of the start of that war, is where we are shown the beast coming out of the sea in Rev 13:1. That it's called a war which is against the saints in this Chapter, should prepare us for the viciousness of the attack by the beast.

Dragon Initially in Control of Pagan Rome Seven Heads Represent Seven Types of Governments

The dragon which is Satan, when first seen in Rev 12:3, was in control of the Pagan Roman Empire, as symbolized by the seven heads with crowns, and the ten horns on the dragon symbol. It's important that we notice that the crowns are on the heads, at the time of it first being seen in Rev 12:3, but the horns do not have crowns at that time—which is the time of the Pagan Roman Empire. That is because Rome was a strong centrally controlled Empire at that time. In the time of John, the angel in Chapter 17, told John that five had fallen and one was, which was the Pagan head.

The symbolism changed from the time that Satan was the core of the Pagan Roman Empire, with the ten horns and the seven heads. When Paganism fell and the Empire became Christianized, the symbol used to represent that new Empire, was a beast, which then had the ten horns and the seven heads instead of the dragon. We think that the symbol changed to a terrible beast, because from God's viewpoint, this was going to be the worst system and government of all, and the beast symbol then points us back to Daniel and the last and worst beast that he saw coming up out of the sea.

The seventh head, was the Apostate Christianized head, which was formed from 313-381, and 381 was when all religion except Orthodox Christianity was banned in the Empire. It's possible that we could see the seventh head as completed in 313, but there were still other religions in the Empire until the 381 decree which banned all other religion, and so we favor that date. They were different heads, because the seven heads represented seven different forms of governments, the sixth being Paganism, the seventh being Apostate Christianized Rome. The eighth head was a theocracy, which was not from Roman decent, and so it was not shown on Daniel's beast, but from John's viewpoint, it is a new head that did descend or come up out of the beast that had the seventh head, and so it seen with eight heads. That is the beast that the woman rides in chapter 17.

The Beast With the Smitten Head

The beast with the smitten head, that John sees coming up out of the sea, was the result of the events that started when Constantine recognized Christianity in 313AD—gradually bringing the seventh Christianized head into existence. This Apostate Christianized head, is said to be blasphemous. That fits exactly with this evil system, because they are not really Christian, and that have created doctrines and laws that imply God is unjust and cruel. The first definition, taken from the Catholic's own dictionary, definitely applies to this system and beast.

New Advent-Catholic Dictionary

Blasphemy, by reason of the significance of the words with which it is expressed, may be of three kinds.

1. It is heretical when the insult to God involves a declaration that is against faith, as in the assertion: "God is cruel and unjust" or "The noblest work of man is God".
2. It is imprecatory when it would cry a malediction upon the Supreme Being as when one would say: "Away with God".
3. It is simply contumacious when it is wholly made up of contempt of, or indignation towards, God, as in the blasphemy of Julian the Apostate: "Thou has conquered, O Galilaeen".

Ten Horns Represent?

Rev 17:12-13 (12 The ten horns which you saw are ten kings who have not yet received a kingdom, but they receive authority as kings with the beast for one hour. 13 These have one purpose, and they give their power and authority to the beast. NASU

We can see from the reference above, that the ten horns are ten countries that give their power unto the beast. From that reference, we see that all we need to do is figure out which ten kings are being referred to. In doing that, where the critics have a valid argument, is that it's hard to determine for sure what ten countries were meant, because there were more than ten actual countries making up Rome at the time, and that got even worse later on. As to whom these nations were, there are various lists depending on which commentator you look at. There are various suggestions to establish who those ten countries were, but we aren't sure now of which is correct, except that whatever the solution is, it needs to include the three countries listed above that were plucked up by Papacy.

One possibility that we have been recently made aware of, is that there were ten nations of Rome that were allowed to place a crown on their money. Three of those were the ones that we mentioned already, regarding their being plucked up by Papacy, the Heruli, the Vandals, and the Ostrogoth's. So, we don't know if those ten countries are the ten kings, but it's interesting that they each could use the symbol of a crown on their money.

A Better Suggestion

One suggestion that we think is correct regardless, is that it's not necessary to look at the ten horns as being ten literal counties. A lot of times, there is just enough of a literal fulfillment of a prophecy, that we only see that part of the prophecy and don't look for a greater symbolic significance. If there is a symbolic significance, that greater interpretation is usually much more important, and in this situation it seems necessary to look for that fulfillment to satisfy the prophecy more exactly, throughout the “entire” history of this system.

Since ten is a number that represents a complete earthly government or power, the vision seems to be simply showing us that the ten horns represent the total civil power that was available to the beast at that time and throughout the rest of the history of the Empire, no matter how many nations there were. See the explanation regarding ten from Bullinger we included close to the beginning of Chapter 13. That kind of interpretation, regarding the ten horns, would get us out of the problem of having to have the same ten horns or literal governments in each of the several different historical times where we see the beast. We know that those ten original kings, historically changed as time passed, with countries being conquered by others, etc.

Three of the Horns Eventually Plucked Up by Papacy

While Revelation doesn't show us this, Daniel tells us that three of the horns were going to be plucked up by the little horn which symbolizes Papacy. Some dispute that interpretation, and say this is something that is going to happen in the future, because they say there were more than ten divisions of the Empire at the time that we are discussing. Even if there were more than ten nations at that time, which we agree is most likely correct, that doesn't make any difference as to how we would look at it. As we will explain later, the initial interpretation of the ten horns, is ten nations that had the right to put crowns on their heads, which was only true around 539. After that, there is an greater interpretation regarding the ten horns, which is that the ten horns no matter how many nations there are, represents the total civil power of the Roman beast.

There doesn't seem to be any argument against the idea that there were three literal countries that were plucked up, because history documents that very well. The three were the Heruli in 493AD, the Vandals in 534AD, and the Ostrogoth's in 539AD. Papacy cooperated with the Empire in having those nations overthrown, because many of the people in them had the Arian faith, and their removal gave him control of the city of Rome, and the surrounding territory. Later on in 754, a lot of that territory was given to Papacy by Pepin, in the form of what was called the Papal States.

Because the Arian Ostrogoth's had helped the army push the Barbarians back out of the Empire, they kept that territory until 539AD. History shows that once the final city of Ravenna fell in 539AD, it wasn't long until any open expression of the Arian faith was overthrown in the Western Empire. Much of that same territory was in 754AD, given to Papacy by Pepin, who was the father of Charlemagne, and as we will see, that gift was another major step in Papacies rise to power. That gift of land to Papacy, was the plucking up of the three horns that Daniel shows us in his prophecy in Chapter seven. It's interesting that if we have three horns plucked up from ten, we get seven, which symbolizes ecclesiastical perfection. The reason that it is not perfect, is because it had the little horn in the midst of the seven, creating imperfection. Dan 7:8 "While I was contemplating the horns, behold, another horn, a little one, came up among them, and three of the first horns were pulled out by the roots before it; and behold, this horn possessed eyes like the eyes of a man and a mouth uttering great boasts. NASU

The little Ecclesiastical horn, is seen in Daniel, and that three civil power horns were plucked up and that some of that land was given to Papacy, will be important in deciding what the two horned beast was—Ecclesiastical horn, plus civil land horn, equals two horns of power!

Dragon to Beast Symbol What is the Beast?

One of the problems with interpreting this Chapter, comes from some confusion about the symbol of the beast. It's thought by many, that the beast at the beginning of Chapter 13 represents Papacy. There is a major problem with that interpretation, in that the book of Daniel Chapter 7 and Revelation Chapter 17, shows us that the fourth beast in its pure form is civil power, not religious power. As we will explain, Papacy is shown in all visions of the beast, as a separate symbol.

We also see in verse two, that the beast was like a leopard, he had the feet of a bear, and his mouth was like a lion. This is in the order that you would see if you were looking back through history: You first would see Rome, then Greece, then Media Persia, and then Babylon. Each of those Empires contributed ideas and culture to the final Roman beast, and that is why it is pictured as having parts of the other three beasts.

As we have studied Revelation, we have broadened our interpretation of the beast, to include more than just the civil power. We now believe that the symbol of the beast, represents not only the civil power of the beast, but that it includes several other elements, such as the financial, and the social support of the people. There is also in some places, an ecclesiastical or religious element added to the beast, that is part of its power, such as the mouth speaking arrogant words in Daniel, and the blasphemies that we see at the beginning of Chapter 13.

The mouth in this Chapter, is the part that those who think this is Papacy are looking at, but we shouldn't forget, that the symbols of the other elements or other parts of the beast, represent other things. In agreement with that interpretation, we see that Papacy in Daniel Chapter 7, is added to the beast in the form of the little horn speaking great boasts, and that it had the eyes of a man, but that does not make the little horn the beast. The three horns that were plucked up by the little horn, were the countries that were removed in order to give Papacy the Papal States. The reason Papacy is described that way, is because he had a voice and some power in the Christianized Empire, but at the time that the vision applies at the beginning of Chapter 13, we see that the main body of the beast is still civil Rome, even though it is giving Papacy religious power over the people, so that the Empire can control the people.

Dan 7:8 "While I was contemplating the horns, behold, another horn, a little one, came up among them, and three of the first horns were pulled out by the roots before it; and behold, this horn possessed eyes like the eyes of a man and a mouth uttering great boasts. NASU

Chapter 13, is where the dragon symbol changed to a beast symbol. The reason that the symbol changed, is that there was a change of religion from Paganism to Apostate Christianity. This was a terrible animal, which was beastly in God's sight, because the church was not to have gotten involved with civil power. It also makes the symbols match what Daniel was seeing in Chapter 7, where we see that all the animals were different forms of beasts, showing how terrible the earthly governments were in God's sight. In Dan Chapter 2, we are shown the governments from Nebuchadnezzar's favorable point of view, where he sees the governments as a beautiful statue, with different metals in it, with his metal being gold.

In 13:1 Dragon is Pure Satan No Civil Power

An important thing to keep in mind, is that the dragon symbol by itself is Satan, our personal enemy, because some would like to think that there is no such thing as a personal Satan. Perhaps the reason that they conclude that the dragon is only the Pagan Roman Empire, is because they are looking at the accessory symbols of the heads and horns on the dragon, and they rightly see that those represent Empires and governments, but they don't understand that the actual core of the dragon itself is Satan, who is controlling the empires and countries from behind the scenes.

To prove that, in 13:1 we see the dragon which is purely Satan, with no Roman civil power, no heads or horns, waiting or helping the so called Christianized Beast with the smitten head to emerge back out of the sea of humanity. When it does, Satan takes control of the Christianized beast again and uses it, but there is a difference! The crowns have moved to the horns, and the heads do not have crowns on them in this restored beast. This is a very important change, because it defines exactly the point in time that we are looking at. When Rome came back together in 539, it was not centrally controlled like it had been before the collapse. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast.

The Christianized Roman Empire, was at first the seventh head or form of government of the last centrally controlled Empire, but when it came back together after having fallen, the Empire was then made up of several governments that joined back to Western Rome for protection, but they kept control of most of their civil power to themselves. The Western Empire did not come completely back together at that time, but it was made up of several independent nations who came back together under the name of Rome for protection. At that time, the city of Rome did not have an Emperor anymore, Papacy controlled that city, and Constantinople was the only central Roman Government, and it was too far away to successfully govern the Western Empire.

Dragon on Sand of Seashore

As shown here at the beginning of Chapter 13, the beast is still Roman, but it has the ecclesiastical power of the church in cooperation with it. What we first see prophesied in the first few verses at the beginning of Chapter 13, is a summary of the terrible things that the Roman beast does all through its 1260 years of history, which began in 539AD. In the second half of the Chapter, we are going to see things more from the ecclesiastical perspective, showing us how Papacy had gotten a great deal of control over the Empire by that later time.

Some Greek texts say that it is the dragon that is standing on the sand of the sea shore, and some say “I”, as in John is standing on the Sand of the sea. It’s not know for sure which is correct, but the UBS notes say that there is more textual proof for the dragon standing on the sand of the sea shore. That is likely to be more correct, because we see that the dragon which is Satan, is separate from this beast, and that “he had given” the beast his power and throne and dominion in 13:2, 4—that is why the heads and horns were now on the beast and not on the dragon. That he is standing on the sand or people of the earth, shows that he is in control of the earth at that time. When he earlier on had told our Lord that he could give him control of all the nations of the earth, our Lord did not dispute that claim.

That Satan was behind this Empire, is why it was such a terrible beast, and so corrupting. Satan was using his power behind the scenes to control the Empire, and to use its power to defeat the faithful church. That is why Daniel describes this beast as eventually wearing out the saints of God.

Dragon Gave the Beast His Seat and Power

After John identifies the beast as having some of the elements of all four of the beasts that Daniel had seen, he then tells us that the dragon had given the beast his (1) seat, (2) power, and (3) authority. That is exactly what Satan did, but it took some time for him to fully accomplish that. Constantine first recognized Christianity as a legal religion in 313. Then after Rome had fallen and then recovered, Justinian gave Papacy more say in the Empire, and he used the Roman army to remove the Arians in 539, putting Papacy in control of the seat of the superstitious power of the city of Rome. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast. We believe that what Satan gave to the new beast, was the (1) original Roman seat of power, and the (2) help of Roman civil power to overcome all opposition in the church. Papacy was given (3) authority over all other bishops by Justinian. If the church resisted, he could call upon the (2) power of the army to put down any opposition. The (1) seat of the old empire, gave him superstitious control over the masses of people, and helped him get dominance over all other bishops.

He Was Given the Authority of the Dragon

Justinian put Papacy in control of the religious doctrines of both halves of the Empire at about that same time, which guaranteed his power over the church. Because of the written authority that he was given by Justinian, any time that someone disagreed with the doctrines that he was promoting, he could call upon the civil power of the Empire to enforce the doctrines. That this power of control came from Satan, that guaranteed that the doctrines that were being brought out, were from Pagan doctrine.

Became Seventh Beast From 313 to 381

We believe that that the seventh head began to be formed in 313AD, when Rome recognized Christianity as a religion of the Empire. The reason that the seat of power had switched from the Dragon symbol to the beast symbol, is because Rome from 313 to 381 had become Christianized, even though it really wasn't Christian. For that reason, the symbol changed from a Pagan dragon, to a terrible church and state Apostate Christianized beast, but with all of Satan's original accessories of the horns, heads, and, etc., that were on the new beast. Constantine moved the Roman capital to Constantinople, leaving the city of Rome to govern the West.

Satan's Throne

Satan's throne, was the Roman Imperial throne of the city of Rome that is mentioned in the message to the second church. The end of the second church, and the start of the third church in 433AD, was just prior to the time that Western Rome fell in 478AD. After Western Rome was restored in 539, that was when Papacy gained control over the original throne of Rome.

As seen in the scripture table in Appendix H, the symbols used in Daniel Chapter 7, are the same symbols that we find at the beginning of Revelation Chapter 13. For that reason, we see that Chapter 13 of Revelation, is the same as the fourth beast of Daniel. In the description of the beast in Revelation 13:1, we are told that it had 10 horns and seven heads, which shows us that it's the same as the beast in Daniel 7:7. The only difference, is that the Revelation account gives us more information. The seven-headed beast, just before it was overrun by the Barbarians, included the entire Empire of both East and West.

The Smitten Head

That we see the Empire or beast with the smitten head, is because the Western Roman Empire had collapsed in 476AD, and ceased to exist because of the attacks of the Barbarians. That is why the dragon which is Satan, is seen waiting by the sea, waiting for it to come back out of the sea of people and come back into existence. When it did that in about 539AD, Satan took control of it again, and that is when the terrible time of 1260 years of the reign of terror began. The weakness of the Empire after it had fallen in 476AD, was most likely why Justinian formed a partnership with Papacy around 539AD. That turned out to be a mistake in the long run, because over a long time, Papacy eventually took full control of the Empire, where he had the ability to tell the Emperor what to do, which was after 1179AD or shortly afterward as we will discuss shortly.

“BBC history - In September 476AD, the last Roman Emperor of the west, Romulus Augustulus, was deposed by a Germanic prince called Odovacar, who had won control of the remnants of the Roman army of Italy. He then sent the Western imperial regalia to Constantinople.

The Roman Empire in Western Europe - a centralised super state which had been in existence for 500 years - had ceased to exist, its single Emperor replaced by upwards of a dozen kings and princes”

We know that Satan restored his control of the Christianized beast, when it came back up out of the sea around 539AD. Satan is still seen at the beginning of this Chapter as a dragon, because that is the central symbol of Satan—who keeps polluting the church with Pagan doctrines. During the temptation of our Lord, he had offered him all the kingdoms of this world, and because of that even though Rome had collapsed and disappeared for a time, the dragon aspect which controlled all civil power still existed. The dragon symbol without heads and horns, reappears again in Chapter 20, when we see that the Lord is going to bind him and throw him into the abyss. On this end of the age, he is still in control of all the kingdoms of the world.

Same as Beast That Came Out of Abyss?

As a side note, we believe that the beast that is seen coming up out of the sea here, is the same beast that is described as coming up out of the “abyss” in two other places in Revelation. It may use the different symbol of the sea here, because this is showing us the restoration of Christianized Rome out of the masses of people, where the other two places use the abyss symbol, to show it coming back out of a completely destroyed condition. In all three places, we see that it’s the same beast, with the same terrible results for the church, in that it makes war with the saints and with God’s word after it gets power, and we will see historically that it did overcome them.

Some might complain that two of the places that the word is used, use abyss rather than the sea. But a close examination of the word, shows that it can be used for an ocean or flood of water, in other words something deep, and so this can be an abyss of the ocean or a sea.

NT:12 ábyssos [abyss] A term for the underworld as a. the prison of the disobedient (Luke 8:31; Rev 9:1) and b. the realm of the dead (Rom 10:7).

Originally an adjective for an implied "earth," ábyssos is used in Greek for the depths of original time, the primal ocean, and the world of the dead. In the LXX it denotes the original flood, then the realm of the dead (e.g., Ps 71:20).

The Restored Beast Began in 539

As we mentioned in the previous section, some wish to move the smiting of the head to the latter end of the 1260 years. They think that the beast was healed from the blow that the Reformation gave it, and others think that the healing of the head was when Papacy recovered from the blow that Napoleon gave it in 1799AD. When we look at the “context” of the vision, we find both of those interpretations to be impossible. If the beast that we saw come up out of the sea, was going to get authority for 42 months or 1260 years after the healing of its head, it’s obvious that neither of those interpretations can be correct, and that the healing had to take place just prior to 539AD, or right on that date.

The other problem with the healed head being the recovery from its loss of power at the end of the 1260, is that the recovery of the Papal States after 1799AD, was off and on and by 1870AD Papacy had lost complete control of all the states that it had controlled for over 1000 years.

Chap 17 Beast Was, Was Not, Will Be

In Rev Chapter 17, it tells us in symbolism the very same thing as what we see here, in that it says that the beast that John saw, “was or had been”, but “was not”, just before it came back up out of the abyss. When referring to when it will come up out of the abyss, it defines it as the beast “that will come”, which is where we are at historically in this Chapter. In Chapters 11 and 17, we see that it uses the symbol of the abyss instead of the sea, but the context is showing us the same restoring of the beast that we see here in Chapter 13, and we have the same worshipping of the beast in both places.

The correct interpretation, is that the beast with the seventh head existed prior to 476AD, and then it was gone because it had been smitten, the Roman Empire had fallen, and now it was seen coming back up out of the abyss. In other words, Chapter 17 tells us that it had existed previously, and then it did not exist for a time, but that it was going to exist again, and Chapter 13 is describing the same thing, in that it existed, then it did not, and now it is returning.

The prophecy in Chapter 11, is showing us the defeat of the two prophets by the fallen church and state system, which was at the beginning of the 1260 years. The two Prophets, symbolized the Old and the New Testament. Chapter 11, shows us the two prophets being overcome, and we should realize that the reason that God's word had been overcome in the city, was because the evil system had worn out the saints in the city at that point in time—just as Daniel had predicted would happen. We believe that there was still a faithful church yet at that time, but they had to go into hiding, just as Elijah had to in his day.

Rev 11:7 And when they shall have finished their testimony, the beast that cometh up out of the abyss shall make war with them, and overcome them, and kill them. ASV

Rev 17:8 The beast that thou sawest was, and is not; and is about to come up out of the abyss, and to go into perdition. And they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, (they) whose name hath not been written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast, how that he was, and is not, and shall come. ASV

Dan 7:25 'He will speak out against the Most High and wear down the saints of the Highest One, and he will intend to make alterations in times and in law; and they will be given into his hand for a time, times, and half a time. NASU

Some might complain that two of the places that the word is used, use abyss rather than the sea. But a close examination of the word, shows that it can be used for an ocean or flood of water, in other words something deep, and so this can be an abyss of the ocean or the sea.

Satan has controlled the earth through most of its history. That has been especially true since the rise of what has been called the four universal Empires. Those Empires began to rise in the time of Daniel, at the beginning of the 2520 years of the Gentile Times. We see historically that the Babylonians were first, then the Medes and the Persians, then Greece and finally Rome.

Separate Beasts Develop By Second Half of Chapter

At the beginning of Chapter 13, it's a Christianized Roman Empire, but it's not yet directly controlled by Papacy, as it is when we see it in Chapter 17, where the harlot is riding on the beast, controlling and directing its course. A horse is a separate entity from the rider, and the rider controls it with the bridle, spurs, and whips, and that corresponds to how Papacy kept control of the civil power at the height of his power, through superstition, threats, military action and intimidation.

In Chapter 17, the distinction or difference between the two symbols is clear, in that we see the beast has the original civil power of Rome, with all other aspects of society that we mentioned earlier, and we see that the harlot is the separate apostate church as represented in Papacy, who is controlling and using the power of the Roman Beast. Papacy had gotten control over what was the Papal states, but that did not satisfy that system, and in seventeen, we will see that the Papal system was controlling the ten kings of the Western Empire. In the first part of Chapter 13, Papacy is not shown as being a separate entity, he is only shown as the mouth, but when we get to the second half of the Chapter we will begin to see new and separate entities, which are a two horned beast and a new Empire called the Image of the Beast. And just as is described about the beast and harlot in Chapter 17, we will see the same thing in the latter half of Chapter 13. That was when Papacy began to take control in 1179 over the Image of the Beast that he had helped create. The scriptures tell us about the saints that are killed by that evil system after it gets church and state power, and Chapter 17 also mentions the same murdered saints.

So, to clearly understand this Chapter, we need to realize that the symbol of the beast in a pure form is not Papacy, but that it represents the civil power of Rome, with the combined social, financial, and the religious support for the beast. That definition will be important when we see it again in Chapter 16, where we see the dragon, the beast, and the False Prophet, uttering unclean spirits, which symbolizes their lies and deceptions of that later time. The ecclesiastical power was added to the beast, for example in the little horn of Daniel and in the mouth speaking great things, but the beast at the beginning of the Chapter 13, is more representative of just the civil power of Rome.

Dragon & Beast

That the dragon gave its power to this beast, shows that Satan transferred Roman civil power to the Apostate Christianized Empire. When Papacy gained political power and control over the beast in 799AD and afterward, he then had the full power of Satan behind him. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast. What Paul had predicted in 2 Thess had come to pass, and will be shown in more detail in the second half of this Chapter. II Thes 2:9-10) 9 The coming of the lawless one by the activity of Satan will be with all power and with pretended signs and wonders,10 and with all wicked deception for those who are to perish, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. (RSV)

*Rev 13:13-14 (3 And he performed great and miraculous signs, even causing fire to come down from heaven to earth in full view of men. 14 Because of the signs he was given power to do on behalf of the first beast, he deceived the inhabitants of the earth. He ordered them to set up an Image in honor of the beast who was wounded by the sword and yet lived. NIV

Worshipping the Beast

That the ancient people worshiped the Roman Empire and felt that it was unconquerable, is a historical fact. They therefore unknowingly worshiped Satan through Paganism, which was the state religion up until the fourth century. The superstition of the people, was a large part of the power or authority of the dragon, which was also given to the new beast in Rev 13:2. The original Roman Empire felt that the so-called Gods were helping and supporting the Empire, and that it would never fall. That superstition was believed by the Empire, and by the nations which surrounded it. The new Christian beast continued to claim the same thing.

The State Religion Christianity

When Christianity was made the state religion, the people were still worshipping Satan, but not knowing it, because the only thing that changed was the form of government. They again were claiming that God was supporting the Christianized Roman Empire, and that it would never fall because of his support, but we know that Satan was the one behind it and supporting it. They felt that they would eventually be successful in ruling the entire world, because they believed that God was going to use the power of Rome to conquer the world for Christ. Because they had the Roman army and all of the military power, no one could resist the demands of the Empire. So, when the church found that they could dictate church doctrine and policy with the use of the army, there was no human power able to stop them after that.

Later, once Papacy had gained a great deal of power and influence over the Western Roman Empire, the situation became much worse. The claim that this was God's kingdom was enough to throw a great deal of fear into the civil power. That was when Papacy could put an area under interdiction, and the area was cut off from all salvation, until the king would capitulate and fall into line.

When that was done, the churches were shut, and there was no access to communion, confession, the mass, marriage, burial, etc. The superstitious people of the time, considered an interdiction of those things to be a death sentence, and that caused them to pressure the king to give in to Papacy. That tactic allowed Papacy to have a great deal of power over the people and the civil power until the time of the Reformation. At the time of the Reformation, Papacy was understood by many of the people to be the anti-Christ, and that it was not the true source of salvation, and because of that Papacies claim lost its superstitious power for the Protestants.

Where Papal States Came From

Pepin, who was Charlemagne's father, gave the Pope land in 756AD from the territories that the Bible describes as the 3 horns that were plucked up. He gave him that land because the Pope had favored him over another king in regard to who was going to be the ruler over that territory. That was the beginning of the civil power of the Pope, and as we will see, that is when he became the two-horned beast. That gift of land was called the donation of Pepin.

In addition, Papacy put forth a legal claim that he had the right to a civil Empire in 776AD through a falsified document. It was claimed that Constantine had given Papacy the right to the Western Empire's lands, and through that false claim Papacy claimed roots all the way back to the old Roman Empire, and he used that as a justification for acquiring further civil power. Through the falsified document, called the donation of Constantine, which he presented to Charlemagne, Papacy claimed control of a bunch of countries in the Western Empire. We are not sure if Charlemagne believed that claim, but Papacy used that claim later.

Some say that the Pope did not fully get full power over the kings until he crowned Alexander III in 1179, which was what Gregory VII had fought against the Pope about in 1073 AD. Gregory had still claimed that right of crowning, while at the same time the Pope was claiming it. That started the fight over who had that power, which the Pope won when he got the kings to agree to a compromise in 1122, or for sure in 1179 when he actually took and exercised all of the power. Regardless of which date, once he had all of that power, that is when the beast became the eighth head—it was the eighth head because it was a different kind of government than the seventh head. It became an Apostate theocracy, which was when Papacy had full control over the civil power. Within 5 years of that date, the Papacy began to persecute and kill all who disagreed with him in the inquisition.

The Medieval Inquisition was a series of Inquisitions (Catholic Church bodies charged with suppressing heresy) from around 1184, including the Episcopal Inquisition (1184–1230s) and later the Papal Inquisition (1230s). The Medieval Inquisition was established in response to movements considered apostate or heretical to Christianity, in particular Catharism and Waldensians in Southern France and Northern Italy. These were the first inquisition movements of many that would follow.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Medieval\_Inquisition

Papacy is symbolized by the little horn in Daniel, that plucked up three of the ten horns, and that left seven horns on the beast, plus the little horn of Papacy. Seven in the Bible represents ecclesiastical things, such as when we see the seven churches. That the ten horns were changed to seven horns by Papacy getting the territory of the three horns, shows exactly what happened in history, in that the Roman government eventually became a theocracy, which was when Papacy had gotten ecclesiastical control over Western Rome. The description of the removal of the three horns in Daniel, is that they were plucked up by the roots—they were removed with no thought of them ever being restored. Much of the land of those three governments was given to Papacy by Pepin in 756AD, and that gift became known as the Papal States.

The beast or government that was created by the transformation of the ten horns into seven, was a counterfeit ecclesiastical kingdom of Christ, which gained more power in several steps. When Charlemagne was crowned by the Pope in 799-800, that is when the Image was formed, that we will see in the latter half of the Chapter. Later, the eighth head was formed when the Pope got control over the kings in about or shortly after the time of 1122-1179. That was when the murders and evils thing we will see in the latter half of this Chapter, and in Chapter 17, began in the inquisition as we showed above.

We see a perfect picture of the government of Christ, when we look at the seven horns and seven eyes on the Lamb in Rev 5:6, which is going to be the true government and kingdom of God in the next age. The unfaithful church system doesn't have the spirit of God, but it instead had the spirit of anti-Christ, who is the little horn who has spoiled the ecclesiastical perfection of seven.

Arians Plucked Up

The last of the three countries that were overthrown above, was the last of those who were openly Arian in faith, which the Church of Rome opposed doctrinally, since the Arians didn't believe in the Trinity. The army laid siege to the city of Ravenna in 539AD, eventually causing them to surrender, and that event spelled the end of any open religious opposition to the doctrine of the Trinity in the Western Empire.

Papacy had gained control over Rome and the religious center of the Empire in 539 when Ravenna was captured and the last of the barbarian tribes were removed from Rome, leaving Papacy in control. Because of that, Papacy had defacto control over the religion of the Empire. Because of that, the Emperor Justinian gave Papacy the absolute right of doctrinal control over both halves of the Empire in 545AD, which is when that decree was written into the Justinian code of laws—The Novellae Constitutiones Post Codicem. The Adventists say that he was verbally given that power by Justinian in 534AD, but they offer no proof. We included a copy of the Justinian Code, below, because that was also a very important event, which set the stage for what occurred during the 1260 years.

Some historians think that Papacy had influenced Justinian to take control of those three countries, because he wanted what he thought was an Arian heresy eliminated. Their removal, also gave him control over the city of Rome, and its surrounding territories. So, in a sense, Papacy acquired some civil power at that point in time, but he got even more later when he got the Papal States. After that point in time, the Papal system along with the Western Roman beast began to use military power to silence anyone that didn't agree with it.

The Code of Justinian

We have inserted the entire document, because of the importance of the establishing the Roman law that caused Papacy to get complete control over the church. James Hartley, Frere Notes on Apocalypse places it in 533. The Adventists believe that Justinian verbally gave Papacy the power over the doctrines in 533AD, but it looks like the document was codified into written law afterward in 545, as shown here. This document is what gave Papacy written control over the church, so that no one could question his authority under the threat of military action. We recommend that everyone read this important historical document that started the rise of Papacy. This document, besides giving Papacy complete control of the church regarding any doctrine, was especially against anyone that did not accept the Trinity doctrine, which were ones like Arius and Nestorius.

(2) Let those who do not accept those doctrines cease to apply the name of true religion to their fraudulent belief; and let them be branded with their open crimes, and, having been removed from the threshold of all churches, be utterly excluded from them, as We forbid all heretics to hold unlawful assemblies within cities. If, however, any seditious outbreak should be attempted, We order them to be driven outside the walls of the City, with relentless violence, and We direct that all Catholic Churches, throughout the entire world, shall be placed under the control of the orthodox bishops who have embraced the Nicene Creed.

3. The Emperor Martian to Palladius, Praetorian Prefect.

No one, whether he belongs to the clergy, the army, or to any other condition of men, shall, with a view to causing a tumult and giving occasion to treachery, attempt to discuss the Christian religion publicly in the presence of an assembled and listening crowd; for he commits an injury against the most reverend Synod who publicly contradicts what has once been decided and properly established; as those matters relative to the Christian faith have been settled by the priests who met at Chalcedony by Our order, and are known to be in conformity with the apostolic explanations and conclusions of the three hundred and eight Holy Fathers assembled in Nicea, and the hundred and fifty who met in this Imperial City; for the violators of this law shall not go unpunished, because they not only oppose the true faith, but they also profane its venerated mysteries by engaging in contests of this kind with Jews and Pagans. Therefore, if any person who has ventured to publicly discuss religious matters is a member of the clergy, he shall be removed from his order; if he is a member of the army, he shall be degraded; and any others who are guilty of this offence, who are freemen, shall be banished from this most Sacred City, and shall be subjected to the punishment prescribed by law according to the power of the court; and if they are slaves, they shall undergo severest penalty.

Given at Constantinople, on the eighth of the Ides of February, under the consulship of Patricius.

4. John, Bishop of the City of Rome, to his most Illustrious and Merciful Son Justinian.

Among the conspicuous reasons for praising your wisdom and gentleness, Most Christian of Emperors, and one which radiates light [pg. 11] as a star, is the fact that through love of the Faith, and actuated by zeal for charity, you, learned in ecclesiastical discipline, have preserved reverence for the See of Rome, and have subjected all things to its authority, and have given it unity. The following precept was communicated to its founder, that is to say, the first of the Apostles, by the mouth of the Lord, namely: "Feed my lambs."

This See is indeed the head of all churches, as the rules of the Fathers and the decrees of the Emperors assert, and the words of your most reverend piety testify. It is therefore claimed that what the Scriptures state, namely, "By Me Kings reign, and the Powers dispense justice;" will be accomplished in you. For there is nothing which shines with a more brilliant lustre than genuine faith when displayed by a prince, since there is nothing which prevents destruction as true religion does, for as both of them have reference to the Author of Life and Light, they disperse darkness and prevent apostasy. Wherefore, Most Glorious of Princes, the Divine Power is implored by the prayers of all to preserve your piety in this ardor for the Faith, in this devotion of your mind, and in this zeal for true religion, without failure, during your entire existence. For we believe that this is for the benefit of the Holy Churches, as it was written, "The king rules with his lips," and again, "The heart of the King is in the hand of God, and it will incline to whatever side God wishes"; that is to say, that He may confirm your Empire, and maintain your kingdoms for the peace of the Church and the unity of religion; guard their authority, and preserve him in that sublime tranquility which is so grateful to him; and no small change is granted by the Divine Power through whose agency a divided church is not afflicted by any griefs or subject to any reproaches. For it is written, "A just king, who is upon his throne, has no reason to apprehend any misfortune."

We have received with all due respect the evidences of your serenity, through Hypatius and Demetrius, Most Holy men, my brothers and fellow-bishops, from whose statements we have learned that you have promulgated an Edict addressed to your faithful people, and dictated by your love of the Faith, for the purpose of overthrowing the designs of heretics, which is in accordance with the evangelical tenets, and which we have confirmed by our authority with the consent of our brethren and fellow bishops, for the reason that it is in conformity with the apostolic doctrine.

The following is the text of the letter of the Emperor Justinian, Victorious, Pious, Happy, Renowned, Triumphant, always Augustus, to John, Patriarch, and Most Holy Archbishop of the fair City of Rome:

With honor to the Apostolic See, and to your Holiness, which is, and always has been remembered in Our prayers, both now and formerly, and honoring your happiness, as is proper in the case of one who is considered as a father, We hasten to bring to the knowledge of Your Holiness everything relating to the condition of the Church, as We have always had the greatest desire to preserve the unity of your Apostolic See, and the condition of the Holy Churches of God, as they [pg. 12] exist at the present time, that they may remain without disturbance or opposition. Therefore, We have exerted Ourselves to unite all the priests of the East and subject them to the See of Your Holiness, and hence the questions which have at present arisen, although they are manifest and free from doubt, and according to the doctrines of your Apostolic See, are constantly firmly observed and preached by all priests, We have still considered it necessary that they should be brought to the attention of Your Holiness. For we do not suffer anything which has reference to the state of the Church, even though what causes difficulty may be clear and free from doubt, to be discussed without being brought to the notice of Your Holiness, because you are the head of all the Holy Churches, for We shall exert Ourselves in every way (as has already been stated), to increase the honor and authority of your See.

Forty Two Months

Regarding the 42 months or 1260 days that the beast was to have power, these symbols are applied at the rate of a day per year. The time of 1260 years, was from 539-1799AD. The Bible uses three different symbols which define that same period, 1260 days, 42 months, and 3.5 times, which is  $3.5 \times 360 = 1260$  days. At a day per year, we see that there are 1260 years for all three methods. The correct starting point for the 1260, is the 539AD date we have already been looking at.

Beast Makes War With the Saints

This is the fourth beast and last beast that Daniel was warned about, and the vision he was given showed that this beast was indeed going to make war with the saints, and wear them out during the period of 3.5 times, which is the same as the 42 months or 1260 years.

Dan 7:21-22 (21 "I kept looking, and that horn was waging war with the saints and overpowering them 22 until the Ancient of Days came and judgment was passed in favor of the saints of the Highest One, and the time arrived when the saints took possession of the kingdom. NASU

Dan 7:25 'He will speak out against the Most High and wear down the saints of the Highest One, and he will intend to make alterations in times and in law; and they will be given into his hand for a time, times, and half a time. NASU

Papacy Was the Mouth on the Beast

Justinian is known historically for having done a lot of work towards restoring the Western Roman Empire, and for having partially reunited the Eastern and Western parts of the Empire. While Justinian was re-conquering parts of the Western Empire, he made some deals with Papacy as it existed at that time, in that he gave the Western Pope ecclesiastical power and authority over both of the East and West churches, and a voice in the affairs of the Western Empire. That control of Ecclesiastical power, is why this beast is described as having a Mouth in verse 5. Justinian did that, so that he could have the support of the church in his efforts to restore the Empire, and he also wanted to keep doctrinal peace in the Empire. That cooperation with Rome gave Papacy the start that it needed, and over a period of time, the small power it began with at that time, grew and expanded into the persecuting power of the evil church and state system mentioned in the section of verses we are considering, and which we will see described in even much more detail later in this Chapter.

The beast as we first see it at the beginning of Chapter 13, is showing us the rise of the power of Christianized Rome. We don't think that the pure symbol of the beast "by itself", is actually showing us a full blown church and state system. The reason that we say that, is because when we look at the symbol of the beast in Chapter 17, we see that the harlot or the apostate church is actually riding on the beast at that later time. In its earlier form in Chapter 13, we see the Papal system as only being added onto the beast, by the addition of the mouth speaking great things, blaspheming God and everything that has to do with Gods plan. That the beast has the evil mouth, shows that Papacy had a voice in the Empire at the time area we are looking at, and that is historically correct, because Justinian had given Papacy religious control over both halves of the Empire, just before 539AD. Both halves of the Empire were to follow the religious dictates of Papacy, even if they didn't agree with them. The Emperor wanted religious harmony between the two halves of the Empire, so that the Empire would be unified again.

We again want to mention that the beast we see in this vision, was more than just the civil power of the beast, but it also included the social, financial, and the ecclesiastical elements. Seeing that is important, because of the multi-nation makeup of the Empire which was the beast that existed at that time, and we also need to understand the historical makeup of the beast, so that we can recognize what's left of the beast on this end of the age. What's left of the beast at the time of the end, will become important when we consider the bowls of wrath.

In Daniel, Papacy is also pictured as an actual part of the beast, by being the little horn that was seen on the beast with the eyes of a man and great boasts. Here in Revelation, we see that he had a mouth that was speaking arrogant words and blasphemies, although it doesn't show him at this early point in time to be in control of the Empire, but we will see in the second half of the Chapter that he was destined to get that power. The mouth of the beast symbolizes the ability of Papacy to speak and dictate church doctrine, which corrupted the doctrine of the church. Papacy became the sole voice of doctrine in the Empire, because the Emperor Justinian had given him religious control over both halves of the Empire.

In 539AD, Papacy had a voice in the religious affairs of the Empire, but control over the civil power started first with the donation of Pepin in 756 and then even more in 799AD when he crowned Charlemagne, and it became an fact after 1122-1179. After 799AD, when he crowned Charlemagne, he gradually wormed his way into more and more control, even though the kings resisted him for some time. The peak of his power was from about 1179-1500AD. It was during that time frame that the inquisition was given the power to persecute and kill all who would not follow the church and state system—the Reformation began to weaken the Papal power after 1500.

We have in the past, pointed to the 799 crowning of Charlemagne by Pope Leo, as the key factor which eventually led to the Papal system getting supremacy over the kings, but we had not included any history of when and how that happened. That event is very important, because that is when the eighth head began to be formed. Charlemagne's son was instructed by him, to not let the Pope crown him, and at his ceremony he took the crown off the altar himself. It appears that Charlemagne was suspicious that such a ceremony would lead to the overthrow of the throne of the Empire, and history shows that he was right. The arguments back and forth between the Emperors and Papacy, continued back and forth for some time, the one incident below is the one that placed the church on top.

There is a great deal more information in the Wikipedia article, including the information that He excommunicated Henry IV three times. Consequently, Henry IV would appoint Anti-Pope Clement III to oppose him in the political power struggles between the Catholic Church and his Empire. Henry IV lasted in opposition to four Popes in the other line of Popes, but after he died, his body was dug up by the religious authorities and dumped in a river, and it appears that was the end of most of the resistance of the kings. Gregory III was Pope from 1073-1085, and most of this occurred towards the end of his reign.

History Of Papal Rise to Supremacy

Gregory VII Latin: Gregorius VII (born Hildebrand of Sovana (Italian: Ildebrando da Soana; c. 1015 – 25 May 1085 AD) was Pope from 22 April 1073 to his death in 1085

One of the great reforming Popes, he is perhaps best known for the part he played in the Investiture Controversy, his dispute with Henry IV, Holy Roman Emperor that affirmed the primacy of Papal authority and the new canon law governing the election of the Pope by the College of Cardinals. He was also at the forefront of developments in the relationship between the emperor and the papacy during the years before he became Pope. He was the first Pope in several centuries to rigorously enforce the Western Church's ancient policy of celibacy for the clergy and attacked the practice of simony.

He excommunicated Henry IV three times. Consequently, Henry IV would appoint AntiPope Clement III to oppose him in the political power struggles between the Catholic Church and his Empire. Hailed as one of the greatest of the Roman pontiffs after his reforms proved successful, Gregory VII was, during his own reign, despised by some for his expansive use of Papal powers.

Pope and Emperor depose each other

The reprimands of the Pope, couched as they were in such an unprecedented form, infuriated Henry and his court, and their answer was the hastily convened national council in Worms, Germany (the synod of Worms), which met on 24 January 1122. In the higher ranks of the German clergy Gregory had many enemies, and a Roman cardinal, Hugo Candidus, once on intimate terms with him but now his opponent, had hurried to Germany for the occasion. All the accusations with regard to Gregory that Candidus could come up with were well received by the assembly, which committed itself to the resolution that Gregory had forfeited the papacy. In one document full of accusations, the bishops renounced their allegiance to Gregory. In another, Henry pronounced him deposed, and the Romans were required to choose a new Pope.

The council sent two bishops to Italy, and they procured a similar act of deposition from the Lombard bishops at the synod of Piacenza. Roland of Parma informed the Pope of these decisions, and he was fortunate enough to gain an opportunity for speech in the synod, which had just assembled in the Lateran Basilica, to deliver his message there announcing the dethronement. For the moment the members were frightened, but soon such a storm of indignation was aroused that it was only due to the moderation of Gregory himself that the envoy was not murdered.

On the following day, 22 February 1122, Pope Gregory VII pronounced a sentence of excommunication against Henry IV with all due solemnity, divested him of his royal dignity and absolved his subjects from the oaths they had sworn to him. The act of excommunicating a king was incredibly bold, but not without precedent. Pope Zachary had brought significant challenges to rulers of his era a full 200 years earlier, in a move Thomas Hobbes would famously call "one of the greatest abuses of the papacy in the history of the Church".

This sentence purported to eject a ruler from the Church and to strip him of his crown. Whether it would produce this effect, or would be an idle threat, depended not so much on Gregory VII as on Henry's subjects, and, above all, on the German princes. Contemporary evidence suggests that the excommunication of Henry made a profound impression both in Germany and Italy.

He was also guilty of confirming a key and false doctrine of the Mass, which was transubstantiation.

Gregory VII was seen by Pope Paul VI as instrumental in affirming the tenet that Christ is present in the Blessed Sacrament. Gregory's demand that Berengarius perform a confession of this belief was quoted in Pope Paul VI's historic 1965 encyclical Mysterium fidei:

I believe in my heart and openly profess that the bread and wine that are placed on the altar are, through the mystery of the sacred prayer and the words of the Redeemer, substantially changed into the true and proper and lifegiving flesh and blood of Jesus Christ our Lord, and that after the consecration they are the true body of Christ.

This profession of faith began a "Eucharistic Renaissance" in the churches of Europe as of the 12th century.

Hailed as one of the greatest of the Roman pontiffs after his reforms proved successful, Gregory VII was, during his own reign, despised by some for his expansive use of Papal powers. Gregory also reach out to more distant countries and began bringing them under the church umbrella, by claiming Papal supremacy. This was the when the Pope had gotten almost total control over the kings in the Western Empire, and he began to try to gather other countries in under his control, especially those in the East.

Eighth Head Formed

After Papacy had crowned Charlemagne, he began working on getting control of the civil power, but full control did not happen for a quite a few years, because the civil and the ecclesiastical struggled back and forth for many years—one gaining power for a while and then the other. There eventually was an agreement, between the Popes and the Emperor, which supposedly settled the issue, but which eventually led to the Pope taking full control. Henry IV fought against the power of the Pope during his reign, but he was not completely successful, and neither was the Pope.

“When Victor III died, the cardinals elected Urban II (1088–99). He was one of three men Gregory VII suggested as his successor. Urban II preached the First Crusade, which united Western Europe, and more importantly, reconciled the majority of bishops who had abandoned Gregory VII. In the end, Gregorian Reform won out over Henry IV.<sup>[17]</sup> Preaching the Crusade had one important consequence. The pope was now viewed as the head of the Church. No longer would kings and emperors think themselves equals of the pope, or the head of the Church in their kingdom. This was the situation from 1122 until the Reformation.<sup>[18]</sup>

Several years later, Henry IV died in a deep gloom as had Gregory. It remained for his successor, Henry V to agree with Pope Calixtus II in 1122 to a compromise of the conflict over lay investitures known as the Concordat of Worms.<sup>[13]</sup>

A compromise was reached in Worms in 1122, by which the emperor abandoned investiture “by ring and staff” to the pope, and promised to respect the freedom of elections and consecrations, but kept for himself the right to invest bishops with the temporalities of their sees “by scepter”.<sup>[11]</sup> Though the Emperor retained some power over imperial churches, his power was damaged irreparably because he lost the religious authority that previously belonged to the office of the king. In France, England, and the Christian state in Spain, the king could overcome rebellions of his magnates and establish the power of his royal demesne because he could rely on the Church, which, for several centuries, had given him a mystical authority. From time to time, rebellious and recalcitrant monarchs might run afoul of the Church. These could be excommunicated, and after an appropriate time and public penance, be received back into the communion and good graces of the Church.<sup>[12]</sup>

Some say that the Pope did not fully get power over the Emperor, until he crowned Alexander III in 1179, which was what Gregory VII had fought against the Pope in about 1073 AD, because Gregory still claimed that right of crowning, while at the same time the Pope was claiming it. That started the fight over who had that power, which the Pope won in 1122, when he got the kings to agree to the investiture compromise above, or for sure in 1179, when he actually took and exercised the power of crowning royalty. In 1179 he conferred the title of king, with ensigns of royalty, upon Alphonso I, duke of Portugal. Regardless of which date is correct, once he had all of that power, that is when the beast became the eighth head—it was the eighth head because it was a different kind of government than the seventh head. It became an Apostate theocracy, which was when Papacy got full control over the civil power. Within 5 years of that time, was when the Papacy began to persecute and kill all who disagreed with him in the inquisition, and it was the time when he began riding the beast.

The first seven heads were Roman, but the eighth head was not a Roman government, but it had sprang up from German tribes, and it eventually included what we call the Italy. That is why the vision of the Roman beast, only had seven heads on it, but this last beast had eight.

The Medieval Inquisition was a series of Inquisitions (Catholic Church bodies charged with suppressing heresy) from around 1184, including the Episcopal Inquisition (1184–1230s) and later the Papal Inquisition (1230s). The Medieval Inquisition was established in response to movements considered apostate or heretical to Christianity, in particular Catharism and Waldensians in Southern France and Northern Italy. These were the first inquisition movements of many that would follow.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Medieval\_Inquisition

Once he had all of that power, that is when the beast became the eighth head—it was the eighth head because it was a different kind of government than the seventh head. It became an Apostate theocracy, which was when Papacy got full control over the civil power. That is also the time that the Papacy began to persecute and kill all who disagreed with him.

A Theocracy

The symbol of the Image of the Beast that developed an eighth head, fits the definition of a theocracy, in that it claimed to be religious, and its laws were derived from the false religious theology that Papacy was advocating. During the time of the peak of its power, its religious influence was far beyond its civil power borders, which were mainly in central Europe. Papacy controlled that Empire until 1799AD, when after that time in 1804, Napoleon took the crown and placed it on his own head. That was 1000 years later than the crowning of Charlemagne. After the rest of the Kings, who were still in power at that time, had seen that Napoleon got away with that without being struck down by God, it was only a matter of a short time that Papacy lost control and influence over the entire civil power of the Empire. 2 Thess 2:8-11 (9 that is, the one whose coming is in accord with the activity of Satan, with all power and signs and false wonders, 10 and with all the deception of wickedness for those who perish, because they did not receive the love of the truth so as to be saved. NASU

Papacy got full control of the Image, and that created the eighth head, which was formed from 799-1179AD, or shortly after that time. In 539, Justinian used Papacy and the false doctrines and superstitions of the Christian church, to control the people. The difference after 1179AD, was that Papacy was telling the Emperor and the kings what to do, and he also had full civil power to enforce the false doctrines of the church, and he ruled the people through superstition. The role of church and state was reversed in this new Empire, and because of that it was a theocracy.

Blasphemy

They blasphemed God himself, by claiming they were representing God and that they were in charge of his kingdom. The Papal church during its rise to power, blasphemed God's character by preaching the false eternal damnation of hell-fire and the Trinity doctrine, and they instituted the false doctrine of the mass. They believed that the bread and wine were changed into the actual body and blood of Christ in the ceremony. By doing that they believed that they were sacrificing the Lord over and over again, essentially saying that what Christ had done on the cross was not good enough. They had lost sight of the fact that Christ had provided the ransom price once and for all ages, and that nothing else would ever be needed. The very scriptures that they did not use, would have told them that Christ had done it all on the cross, and that nothing more was needed.

Another way that they blasphemed God character, was by claiming that the church and state system that they had created, and which was torturing and killing all who did not agree, was God's kingdom. The faithful church was being blasphemed, by being accused of being heretics. By claiming that they had created heaven on earth, they were blaspheming the true and perfect heavens that will come in the next age.

Later, just before the time of the Reformation, the sale of indulgences was another affront to God's character. They were suggesting that God would pardon any sin, if a sufficient sum of money was given to the church. That was one of the major factors in causing the Reformation. That practice still goes on in a hidden form today, in that they sell masses to the relatives of the deceased, because they make people think they can have their loved one removed from a mythical purgatory, where they are supposed to be tortured until the priest says enough masses to get them out.

The more money the people contribute, the more masses are said, and the loved one supposedly gets out quicker. That is just another way to extort money from the people, which is subtler than the original indulgences, but is just as wrong, and it is blasphemous to God to suggest that he would do that. The people were paying for indulgences, that were supposedly giving them forgiveness for any sin before they died, no matter how bad, and the practice of paying for masses to get them out of Purgatory after they died, is essentially the same thing after the fact and just as bad.

The Woman Riding the Beast

We don't think that Papacy ever had to gain absolute control over all civil governments in the Empire, to fulfill the prophecies that we are considering! He only had to be able to exercise a considerable influence over the Empire, as shown by the harlot riding the beast. That Papacy could do that, became a historical fact starting in 539AD, and then increasing in power in 799AD, and then especially by 1122-1179AD and afterward, where the church and state system was at the peak of its power. That was when the harlot was riding and controlling the beast, as we will see when we look at the prophecy in Chapter 17. After that time, his power began to weaken again, and right on time, in exactly 1799AD, Napoleon broke the superstitious hold on the kings that had existed for 1000 years, which was 799 to 1799AD, and right on time after 1799 the kings took their power back.

How can there be any doubt, that the woman riding on the beast in Chapter 17, is Papacy in control of the Western Roman Empire. Did Papacy make war with the saints? Yes, that war started with the church councils, and the replacing of truth with worldly doctrine. Eventually when the power of the system became great enough, which was when they took control of the kings, that was when they began to literally persecute and kill all who didn't agree with them, just as the second half of this Chapter shows.

Some try to say that Papacy never fulfilled this prophecy, because they never controlled the entire world all at one time. We don't think they had to control the entire world, but only the portion that the Bible has been concerned with, the fourth universal Empire. Eventually, even though they never accomplished it in fact, Papacy did lay claim to the entire world. They divided up different parts of the world, to different countries of the Empire. When a part of the Empire succeeded in conquering a new territory, they were given so-called legal rights to it. Fortunately for the rest of the world, the claims that they made regarding what part of the world belonged to which country, were never fully realized.

The Approaching End of the Age

That he made war with the saints, is a historical fact, which they declare openly and without shame. Here is a quote from "THE APPROACHING END OF THE AGE by H. Grattan Guinness. 1879AD".

"Now it is a notorious fact that the Church of Rome considers heresy (i.e., any dissent from her teachings, the worst crime of which a man can be guilty; she asserts that no heretic can be saved. She teaches that no faith is to be kept with heretics, that they are to be cut off from all social intercourse, deprived of all natural, civil, and political rights; that they forfeit all claim and right to their property; that they are to be put to death, and that if they have died a natural death, their very bones and dust are to be taken up and burnt. And who are to be regarded as heretics? Let the bull In Coena Domini (or, "at the supper of the Lord") answer. Every Thursday of Passion Week, that is the day before Good Friday, this bull is read in the presence of the Pope, Cardinals, Bishops, and a crowd of people. His Holiness appears with a pair of peacock's feathers, one on each side of his head, and when the bull is finished, flings a lighted torch into the court of the palace, to make the effect of the anathema the more dreadful. The object of the bull, as defined by Pope Paul III., is "to preserve the purity of the Christian religion, and to maintain the unity of the faithful" The following is one of its clauses. "We excommunicate and anathematize in the name of God Almighty, Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, and by the authority of the blessed Apostles, Peter and Paul, and by our own, all Hussites, Wickliffites, Lutherans, Zwinglians, Calvinists, Anabaptists, Huguenots, Trinitarians, and apostates from the faith, and all other heretics, by whatsoever name they are called, and of whatsoever sect they be, as also their adherents, receivers, favourers, and generally all defenders of them; together with all who without our authority, or that of the Apostolic See, knowingly read, keep, print, or any way for any cause whatsoever, publicly or privately, on any pretext or colour, defend their books, containing heresy or treating of religion."

Again from the same source.

The following is one of the authorized curses, published in the Romish Pontifical, to be pronounced on heretics by Romish priests,. "May God Almighty and all his saints curse them, with the curse with which the devil and his angels are cursed. Let them be destroyed out of the land of the living. Let the vilest of deaths come upon them, and let them descend alive into the pit. Let their seed be destroyed from the earth; by hunger, and thirst, and nakedness, and all distress let them perish. May they have all misery, and pestilence, and torment. Let all they have be cursed. Always and everywhere let them be cursed. Speaking and silent let them be cursed. Within and without let them be cursed. By land and by sea let them be cursed. From the crown of the head to the sole of the foot, let them be cursed. Let their eyes become blind, let their ears become deaf, let their mouth become dumb, let their tongue cleave to their jaws, let not their hands handle, let not their feet walk. Let all the members of the body be cursed. Cursed let them. be standing, lying, from this time forth for ever; and thus let their candle be extinguished in the presence of God, at the day of judgment. Let their burial be with dogs and asses. Let hungry wolves devour their corpses. Let the devil and his angels be their companions for ever. Amen, amen; so be it, so let it be.

Entire volumes would be requisite to give an adequate idea of the way in which the Papacy has worn out and overcome the saints of the Most High, by her cruel persecutions."

Revelation 13:9-10

Rev 13:9 If anyone has an ear, let him hear.

Rev 13:10 If anyone {is destined} for captivity, to captivity he goes; if anyone kills with the sword, with the sword he must be killed. Here is the perseverance and the faith of the saints. (NAU)

In verse 9, we find the same statement which is found at the end of each of the messages to the seven churches. That this admonition is repeated here, implies that the problems shown to us by the Lord in each of the seven churches, were the cause of the fallen church-state system that we have been examining in the first part of this Chapter. Since the seven churches were symbolic of the history of the entire Gospel Age, the entire church is being warned to have an ear to hear and to watch out for the evil of the fallen church. The warning is that the apostate church system was going to exist in one form or another through the entire seven churches, and a spiritual hearing ear was required to heed the warning, and escape from falling into error, which would cause you to be spiritually captured by that evil system.

A Spiritual Capture

Going into captivity is not necessarily a literal capture, but it's a spiritual capture when someone accepts the heretical doctrines of that fallen system. They are captured by the error, and are placed in spiritual bondage. Killing with the sword could be literal, because this system did do that, but it also refers to those who doctrinally attacked those who are trying to maintain the true Christian faith. As we will see, the next part of the history of the fallen church system, will be the worst and the evilest part, with them killing and trying to destroy all of the true and faithful church of God. The evil system had no problem with using terrible methods of torture and killing, thinking they were helping God. That history became especially bad after Papacy got full control over the ten kings that we mentioned in the previous section, and he began to use their power to kill all who disagreed.

The warning to the faithful church, is that the saints are not to use violence to fight violence, or they will lose their spiritual reward. Those who are taken captive doctrinally by that evil system, would be held captive and there will be nothing that can easily free them during that time, because of the deceiving power of Satan. The church was to be tested by these events, and they needed to persevere and not get involved in doing any of the wrong things. Unfortunately, many became ensnared by the temptation of worldly power and influence. It probably seemed like a good thing to have the Roman Empire backing your religion, but as history shows, that was the beginning of the worst time of persecution and tribulation that the world has ever seen. The next half of the Chapter will give us a lot more detail about that evil system and what it did wrong.

Daniel was given the prophecy about this evil system, and what it was going to do for 1260 years, and we will see that the wickedness that he saw, definitely happened to the faithful saints.

*Dan 12:7-11(7 I heard the man dressed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, as he raised his right hand and his left toward heaven, and swore by Him who lives forever that it would be for a time, times, and half a time; and as soon as they finish shattering the power of the holy people, all these events will be completed. 8 As for me, I heard but could not understand; so I said, "My lord, what will be the outcome of these events?" 9 He said, "Go your way, Daniel, for these words are concealed and sealed up until the end time. 10 "Many will be purged, purified and refined, but the wicked will act wickedly; and none of the wicked will understand, but those who have insight will understand. ## Revelation 13:11-17

Two-horned Beast & Image

Rev 13:11 Then I saw another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like a lamb and he spoke as a dragon.

Rev 13:12 He exercises all the authority of the first beast in his presence. And he makes the earth and those who dwell in it to worship the first beast, whose fatal wound was healed.

Rev 13:13 He performs great signs, so that he even makes fire come down out of heaven to the earth in the presence of men.

Rev 13:14 And he deceives those who dwell on the earth because of the signs which it was given him to perform in the presence of the beast, telling those who dwell on the earth to make an Image to the beast who had the wound of the sword and has come to life.

Rev 13:15 And it was given to him to give breath to the Image of the Beast, so that the Image of the Beast would even speak and cause as many as do not worship the Image of the Beast to be killed.

This is a New Vision Defined by “I saw”

This section of Rev Chapter 13, is divided from the section above or from the first half of the Chapter by the words “I saw”, which marks this as a new vision separate from the previous vision. Revelation can be very confusing, especially if a break in prophecy is not noticed. In some places, the break is very subtle and hard to see, but in the instance of Rev 13:11 the break is very clearly marked by the words, “and I saw”.

We think that this break in the Chapter, is an important factor in determining where to start this portion of the prophecy in the stream of time. Some make the mistake in thinking that these are events that must occur after the 1260 years have expired, because they don’t see the break in the prophecy, and they read this as being events that continue onward after the 1260 years had ended. That there is a break in the Chapter, allows us to see that this section of verses is a further explanation of the system at the height of its power, and much more detail about what was going to occur during that time of evil power. In other words, we are going to be given a description of the great many prophetic events that this evil two horned beast would do during its time of power. That description will help us to identify who fulfilled this prophecy, and it will show us step by step, how the church and state system was developed. It will fall within the time period that we examined above, which was where Papacy eventually got power and control over the kings. The time period that this chapter occurred during, will be seen to be during the 1260 years of Daniel’s and Revelation’s prophecy.

That the beast is rising up out of the earth, shows that it is coming out of an existing government, or stable society.

Two Horns
Not Religious Control over East & West

Some who see this symbol as historically fulfilled, believe that the two horns on the beast that are described here, are the ecclesiastical control over the two halves of the Roman Empire that Justinian had given Papacy around 539AD, which is close to the date the Adventists use. It can’t be civil power control over the two halves of the Empire, because the Pope never got full control of the East, although he tried. While ecclesiastical control was possible, because he did have that for a while, we believe that the interpretation that we are going to give next, is more likely, because the description of this symbol says that this beast was speaking like a dragon, and the symbol dragon represents Satan’s civil power, not ecclesiastical power. It was also like a lamb, but as we will see, it did not have the gentle characteristics of a lamb like church. It only had a lamb like Christian horn, because it was a counterfeit Christian church. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast.

Because of the dragon or civil power symbol, we see that the interpretation of the vision cannot be Ecclesiastical control of both halves of the Empire. The two-horned beast, also needs to be a separate entity from the Roman Empire anyway, it has to work with the remnants of the Empire to form the Image out of the 10 kings of the West, and it needed to do it in the sight of what was left of the original Roman Empire, which existed mainly in the East at the time.

If the two-horned beast is both the East and Western Roman Empire, it would then not be able to form the Image, because it needed a separate land area from the Roman Empire to form the image out of. That separate area was the many separate kingdoms of what was left of the Western Empire.

It also needs to exist as the false prophet at this end of the age to fulfil the prophecy, because it's obvious from the description later in Revelation, that the two horned beast and the false prophet are the same, in that the two horned beast changes into the false prophet towards the end of its existence, as we will explain later. And having ecclesiastical control over the two halves of the Empire did not fulfill that, because Papacy lost control over the Eastern half of the church in 1054AD, when the Eastern Orthodox church split from the Papal system. He also lost control of the Protestant churches, when they split away in 1517.

Ecclesiastical Horn Acquired by Spiritual Control over Both Halves of Empire

In the view that we believe is correct, the first horn of the two-horned beast was acquired when Justinian gave Papacy the religious authority over both halves of the Roman Empire in 545AD—he had defacto control anyway since 539, when he acquired the seat of the old Roman Empire in Rome. Justinian retained the right of veto, and for that reason some believe that the Pope did not get full control until 565AD when Justinian died, but we prefer the earlier dates. Regardless of the exact date, the important point is that the Pope received religious control over the entire church during that early time, and that is where the Ecclesiastical horn on the head of the counterfeit Lamb came from.

Civil Power Horn Came From Pepin Giving Papacy the Papal Estates

Daniel describes Papacy as a little horn, which is the Ecclesiastical horn, which was just before Daniel shows him plucking up three of the ten horns on the beast. Papacy did get control of Rome and some surrounding territory in 539, but that was only a part of the land that he was going to get from Pepin, and it appears from Sir Isaac Newton's description of events just before 799, that he actually did not get full control of that land until just before 799. So, in a sense the civil horn began to grow at that earlier time of 539, but it was not fully formed until later, when Pepin gave him the land which was taken from the three horns or countries that were plucked up. A large portion of the three horns or nations that were plucked up, were combined into a civil power horn that became the Papal States on the two-horned beast. The Heruli, Vandals, and Ostrogoth's were eliminated by the year 539AD, but that land was not given to Papacy until 754-756. That is why Papacy could then speak as a dragon, because he had become a civil power, that was controlled by Satan. As time went on, the two horned beast became so powerful, that it took control of all of the land of the symbolic ten kings. That was when the Woman began to ride the beast. Dan 7:8 I considered the horns, and, behold, there came up among them another little horn, before whom there were three of the first horns plucked up by the roots: and, behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking great things. KJV

Charlemagne Crowned by Pope

When Papacy crowned Charlemagne in 799-800AD, he did more than crown a king, he crowned what "looked like" a new Roman Emperor who was going to reign over the Western Roman Empire. One very important thing about that, was that there had been no Emperor in the Western Empire since before the fall of Rome in 476AD, and so when Papacy did that, he created a new Western Empire where there had not been one for 323 years.  $799-323 = 476BC$ . We believe that the date of the crowning was in 800AD, but there were events that happened the previous year, that caused Charlemagne to come to the rescue of Papacy, deposing the church officials that were against the Pope taking control of Rome and the surrounding territory. Those who were supporting those two church officials were executed after the mock trial, and the two officials were banished to where they could not get back from again. See, Sir Isaac Newton's history notes, at the beginning of the message to the fourth church.

Historians say that it was not an actual restoration of the Roman Empire, it only looked like it—an image. The reason that was true, was because this new Empire did not grow back up out of the civil power of Rome, but it came about because Papacy claimed the right to create it through his ecclesiastical power. That is why this new beast is described as an Image. It looked like a restored Roman Empire, but it was not really, because it did not come from Roman laws. The new Emperor was only created through Papacies arguments of the time! The Empire was actually created out of German princes, and so it was not an extension of the original Empire, but it was a new Empire that was not Roman. We found that they were Teutons which were Carolingian rulers, or Germans. The new Empire was not Roman. "Cairns Christianity Through the Centuries". Page 181. For that reason, it's eighth head is not shown on Daniels beast nor on the earlier beast in Rev chapter 13, because it is not actually a Roman beast. It does inherit its power from the original beast and so chapter 17 says that the eighth head descends out of the seventh head, which is historically correct.

Beast & Wilderness, 799 or 800?

That we see the harlot sitting on the Western Roman beast, helps us with our definition of the Image of the Beast in Chapter 13, which was created in 799-800, since the Western Empire is the territory that Papacy sat on or ruled over, Rev 17:1. Our chronology points us to 799, but historians point us to 800—which is the correct date for the forming of the image? We believe that the answer is that Papacy began taking control of the city and surrounding area of Rome in 799AD, by making deals with Charlemagne as we show in the message to the fourth church. That was when he was resisted by a couple of church individuals who filed charges against him, one of which is most likely the messenger of the fourth church.

The Pope fled to Charlemagne, who he had made offers too previously about a protection agreement between him and Charlemagne regarding Rome and the surrounding territory, which previously had belonged to an aristocratic class of rich rulers at the beginning of his rising to Pope. In the latter part of 800, the Pope and Charlemagne came back to the city of Rome. The two church officials who had resisted Papacies attempt at taking control of all of the civil power of the area of Rome and the land surrounding it, expected that their charges against the Pope would be heard. The Pope was allowed to stand and swear that none of the charges were true, and the two accusers were not allowed to present their side of the charges. Some believe that it was thought that a sitting Pope could not be accused, and held for trial. Their supporters were immediately killed and the two officials were banished, never to be heard from again. Two Days later, the Pope crowned Charlemagne, and the 1000 years of the image of the beast began! See the detailed notes at the beginning of the message to the fourth church. Those detailed notes mainly came from Sir Isaac Newton's notes about what happened during that time. *2 Thess 2:8-11 (9 that is, the one whose coming is in accord with the activity of Satan, with all power and signs and false wonders, 10 and with all the deception of wickedness for those who perish, because they did not receive the love of the truth so as to be saved. ## Two Horns of Papacy

The two powers of Papacy were represented by the Papal symbols of two swords and two keys, which in symbol stated that Papacy had control over both the church and the civil power. They actually had two swords and two keys, made that symbolized that doctrine. Papacy claimed both powers, because he claimed to be the Vicar of Christ. Most significantly, the bull proclaimed, "Extra Ecclesiam nulla salus": "outside of the Church, there is no salvation". It is an form of the concept known as plenitudo potestatis (plenitude of power); it declares that those who resist the Roman Pontiff are resisting God's ordination.<sup>[1]</sup> The bull declares that the Church must be united and the Pope was its sole and absolute head: "Therefore, of the one and only Church there is one body and one head, not two heads like a monster."<sup>[2]</sup>

The Bull also states, "We are informed by the texts of the gospels that in this Church and in its power are two swords; namely, the spiritual and the temporal."<sup>[2]</sup> The swords being referred to are a customary reference to the swords yielded by the Apostles upon Christ's arrest (Luke 22:38; Matthew 26:52).<sup>[2]</sup> Early theologians believed that if there are two swords, one must be subordinate to the other. This then became a spiritual hierarchal ladder, the spiritual judges the secular "on account of its greatness and sublimity,<sup>[2]</sup> while the lower spiritual power is judged by the higher spiritual power, etc.<sup>[11]</sup> Thus, it was concluded, the temporal authorities must submit to the spiritual authorities, not merely on matters concerning doctrine and morality: "For with truth as our witness, it belongs to spiritual power to establish the terrestrial power and to pass judgment if it has not been good." The bull ends, "Furthermore, we declare, we proclaim, we define that it is absolutely necessary for salvation that every human creature be subject to the Roman Pontiff."<sup>[12]</sup>

The Papal tiara (triple-crown), also represents the Holy Empires Holy Trinity claim to rule the earth.

England & Ireland?

The failure to see the break in this prophecy, is most likely what has led to the conclusion of those who have looked for a separate two-horned beast of power to develop. That conclusion has a big problem, in that the two horned beast exercised all of the power of the first beast, which was Rome. England never used Roman power. The two candidates that are usually selected to be the two horns of the beast, are England and Ireland, that are both in league with the church of England. We believe that England and the church of England, is one of the daughter church and state systems that developed out of the Reformation, but it does not fulfill the requirements of the symbol of the two-horned beast as described in this Chapter.

Yes, it was a persecuting power after England had separated from Papacy in 1531, but so were the other Protestant churches of the time. History shows that the Catholic church was also a major persecuting power at that same time, as it tried to regain control over the Protestants. The common idea of the time, was that the governments had the right to force the people under their control into a common belief that they believed was the only truth, and they were all doing it at the time. That was why so many people packed up and moved to the new world, so that they could be free to worship in the way they wished.

Another argument that is made, is that the Church of England had spread out and gained great power during the time of colonialism, and for that reason it became the major power depicted by the two-horned beast. While they were a persecuting power in their territories that they controlled early on, that persecution power was ended for most other religions, except Catholics in 1689AD, and so this cannot be a new persecuting power after 1799, which was the expectation yet in Pastors time. The only way that would be true, is if was to come back together again, with it being a church and state system, which is impossible because the church of England does not control the government anymore after WW1.

“The Toleration Act 1689

(1 Will & Mary c 18), also referred to as the Act of Toleration,<sup>[3]</sup> was an Act of the Parliament of England, which received the royal assent on 24 May 1689.<sup>[4][5]</sup>

The Act allowed freedom of worship to Nonconformists who had pledged to the oaths of Allegiance and Supremacy and rejected transubstantiation, i.e., Protestants who dissented from the Church of England such as Baptists and Congregationalists but not to Catholics. Nonconformists were allowed their own places of worship and their own teachers, if they accepted certain oaths of allegiance.

It purposely did not apply to Catholics, nontrinitarians<sup>[6]</sup> and atheists.<sup>[7]</sup> The Act continued the existing social and political disabilities for Dissenters, including their exclusion from political office and also from universities.

Dissenters were required to register their meeting locations and were forbidden from meeting in private homes. Any preachers who dissented had to be licensed.

Between 1772 and 1774, Reverend Doctor Edward Pickard gathered together dissenting ministers in order that the terms of the Toleration Act for dissenting clergy could be modified. Under his leadership, Parliament twice considered bills to modify the law. Both were unsuccessful and it was not until Pickard and many had lost interest that a new attempt was made in 1779.<sup>[8]</sup>

The Act was amended (1779) by substituting belief in Scripture for belief in the Anglican (doctrinal) articles, but penalties on property remained.

Penalties against Unitarians were finally removed in the Doctrine of the Trinity Act 1813."

We believe that the vision of this two-horned beast, and the Image described in this Chapter, is a more detailed and later vision of the beast and Papacy, that was first seen at the beginning of Chapter 13. What we are going to be shown in this vision, is more detail regarding what the terrible beast was going to be doing during the height of its persecuting power—which was especially after it got full control over the kings. We will also see that the Image that was formed, is seen again later on, in the symbol of the beast with the eighth head in Chapter 17. The vision in Chapter 17, shows the harlot riding on the beast at the time of its fully developed power, which was shortly after 1179AD.

Because most churches don't see this break in the prophecy either, many of them are also still looking for a future fulfillment of this prophecy—not realizing that they are a part of the evil system that it shows us. When our Study group did our study, we did not find any commentators that came to the same conclusion as we did. Since then, we notice that the Benson Commentary, which we did not have access to at the earlier time, has a very close interpretation and conclusion that agrees with the conclusion that we had come to. We give that here, so that we can show that we are not the only ones that have come to this conclusion. We have bolded some quotes for emphasis. We have added details, above and beyond what they have, regarding how it took power, but the same basic system and idea is shown in their commentary.

Benson Commentary

As the first beast rose-up out of the sea, that is, out of the wars and tumults of the world, so this beast groweth up out of the earth — Like plants, silently and without noise; and the greatest prelates have often been raised from monks, and men of the lowest birth. He had two horns like a lamb — He had, both regular and secular, the appearance of a lamb; he derived his powers from the lamb, and pretended to be like a lamb, all meekness and mildness; but he spake as a dragon — He had a voice of terror, like Roman emperors, in usurping divine titles, in commanding idolatry, and in persecuting and slaying the true worshippers of God and faithful servants of Jesus Christ. He is an ecclesiastical person, but intermixed himself much in civil affairs. He is the prime minister adviser, and mover of the first beast, or the beast before mentioned. He exercised all the power of the first beast before him — He holdest imperium in imperio, an Empire within an Empire; claimed a temporal authority as well as a spiritual, and enforced his canons and decrees with the sword of the civil magistrate.

As the first beast concurs to maintain his authority, so he in return confirms and maintains the sovereignty and dominion of the first beast over his subjects; and curseth the earth, and them who dwell therein, to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed — He supports tyranny, as he is by tyranny supported. He enslaves the consciences, as the first beast subjugates the bodies of men. This ecclesiastical power, as Whiston observes, is the common center and cement which unites all the distinct kingdoms of the Roman Empire; and, by joining with them, procures them a blind obedience from their subjects: and so he is the occasion of the preservation of the old Roman Empire in some kind of unity, and name, and strength, which otherwise would have been quite dissolved by the inundations and wars succeeding the settlement of the barbarous nations in that Empire. “Here,” says Mr. Faber, “we have a plain prediction of some spiritual power, which should arrogate to itself universal or catholic authority in religious matters; which should coexist, upon the most friendly terms, with the ten-horned temporal Empire, instigating it to persecute, during the space of forty-two prophetic months, all such as should dare to dispute its usurped domination; and which, in short, should solve the symbolical problem of two contemporary beasts, by exhibiting to the world the singular spectacle of a complete Empire within an Empire. Where we are to look for this power, since the great Roman beast was divided into ten horns, let the impartial voice of history determine. Daniel, who fully delineates the character of the little horn, is silent respecting the two-horned beast; and John, who as fully delineates the character of the two-horned beast, is entirely silent respecting the little horn. The little horn and the two-horned beast act precisely in the same capacity; each exercising the power of the first beast before him, and each perishing in one common destruction with him.” — Vol. 2. pp. 291-293.

More Detailed History of the System

As we go on from this point, we will bring out a great deal of evidence, and much more detail that will support the above conclusion. In the prophetic description of the Image, we will see that it has already fulfilled the persecutions and killings that is described in this Chapter, and because of that we don’t have to look for a future system that will fulfill that part of the prophecy. That does not mean that there will not be more persecutions and killings, it just means that if there is anything more like that to come against the church, it does not have to come directly from this vision—which covers the time of its power. At this time, it could come from what is left of this evil system, the false prophet and the beast. Since the harlot system has not reformed, they just can’t do as much evil because they lost the civil power that they had during the 1260 years. At this very moment, we see them conniving and working hard to try to get control of the civil power again—if they do, watch out—especially since they are in control of the white house at this time!

This part of the Chapter does not have a numerical time frame attached to it, and so to place it in the proper place we will need to look at “history” to see if there is any time that describes events which are exactly like what we see here, or any scriptures that we can date that match this prophecy. If we don’t find a match, then we need to keep looking. If we do find a match, then we can feel confident that we have interpreted the Chapter properly. But as always with any prophecy, it’s always proper to continue to watch to see if anything else develops that would fit better. That said, the Study Group believes that we have a very good historical match for the events in this Chapter, and as we discovered, the Bengal Commentary agrees with that conclusion and it has a similar thought to what we will present next.

Chapter is Historically Fulfilled Already

At this point in our interpretation, we will depart from the common belief that the church and state system described in this half of the Chapter is still in the future, and we will show that what we see in the vision here has already occurred. We will also show that the evil system is still with us yet today, but not with the power that it had earlier, because the false prophet and the beast, have both lost the civil power horn or horns that they had. Whether they will get the civil power or the cooperation of the civil power back again, so that it can again attack the faithful church or not, is still an open question that causes us to keep watching what is happening in the world, and in the religious systems.

We doubt that they will directly come together as a church and state system, because we see that the false prophet and the beast, are both seen in Revelation chapter 19, and they are not joined together in power. The false prophet became the false prophet, because the two-horned beast lost its civil power horn, when it lost the control of the ten horns and the Papal States. The Image changed back into a pure beast, because the religious system lost control of it when the 10 kings took their crowns back. But that does not mean that they can't cooperate together against the faithful church, like what happened in Hitler's time, when the Bible Student church was rounded up in Germany and surrounding countries, and murdered along with the Jews.

John the Baptist Picture Still Possible

We will explain more on that later, after we see what this system has already done wrong in history. What we need to be looking at today, in regard to the question of whether or not this system is finished or if it will attack again, is more complicated than just looking at the Catholic System. The reason for that, is that the mother church has divided into many different denominations, and many of them have retained the same spirit of Satan which the mother system had. So if something is still going to come against the faithful church, we may be looking at the John the Baptist picture, where the mother asked the daughter to dance for the king, and the daughter was the one that obtained John the Baptists head—which her mother had asked her to do. So, since we don't know what form any further persecution could take, we need to continually watch and pray. Perhaps the end will come from anarchy, and not that system, but we don't have a sure picture one way or the other that we know of.

End of this Chapter Shows Us Formation of Image

The first half of Chapter 13, while it refers to events during the entire 1260 years, more closely focuses in on the earlier history of the Roman beast, where it hadn't gotten its full control of civil power yet. We will find that the latter half of the Chapter, also covers a large portion of the 1260 years, but more closely focuses in on the time just before the Image was formed in 799, and then continues onward to the time that the Papal church and state system was at the peak of its power which was after 1179, which formed the eighth head when Papacy was riding and controlling the beast. We intend to show that the forming of the Image has already happened long ago, and that it was a key historical event that everyone already knows about—they just don't know that those events are what formed the Image.

Chapter 17 is Later & Also, Shows the End

Chapter 17, when we get to it, will give us a third picture of this same evil system, in which we will find an exact description of both the civil and the ecclesiastical power, and how they worked their evil together at the height of their power. That portion of the prophecy, shows us more about what happened from when Papacy got control of the Western Roman beast, until the end of the church and state system. Towards the end of that Chapter and at the end of the 1260 years, we see the ten kings take back their power and burn the flesh of the harlot with fire, and we will find out that has already happened historically.

Church & State Power

In Rev 13:11, we will see that the two-horned beast, is actually showing us the further rise of Papacy, as it began to gather civil power to itself. From 539AD and onward, we see that Papacy had gained the ability to cause the Roman beast to attack anyone that did not agree with its corrupt doctrines. At that earlier time, it did not have much control over the Empire, but it did have a mouth or voice, and that was because the Empire was trying to re-establish control over the shattered Empire, and so it cooperated with Papacy, doing a lot of the evil things that Papacy wanted done. That was how Papacy began to exercise the power of the first beast, as the mouth speaking blasphemes against God, Rev 13:5-6.

Some historians say that he did not get control over the surrounding land and the city of Rome until the time of Charlemagne, which was when he made an agreement with him, which said that he should have control of that land and the city, and he called on the support of Charlemagne to accomplish that. See the history in regard to that grab for civil power, as given by Sir Isaac Newton, at the beginning of the full comments on the message to the fourth church.

New Empire Disappeared for Awhile

After Charlemagne died, the so called Roman Empire that he had created, did not last very long. By 843, the Empire was divided into three parts by his family. The Western Empire was eventually given new life by Otto the Great, 936-73, who claimed to be the Western Roman Emperor again, using the same arguments that had justified the crowning of Charlemagne as the Roman Emperor—linking Charlemagne's Empire to his, in order to give his reign as Emperor over the entire area legitimacy. That is the same Empire that the Pope in 1122-1179, gained full control of. See "Christianity, The First Three Thousand Years, Diarmaid MacCulloch: See pages 338-385, for a detailed history of what happened during that entire time. We are going to outline that history here.

Most importantly for our interpretation of this Chapter, Papacy crowned the New Western Emperor in plain sight of the Eastern Roman Empire, who didn't do anything to stop it, because they did not have the power at the time, and he then claimed the western Empire had the authority of the original Roman Empire, so as to make the new Emperor seem legitimate.

Rev13:12-13(12 It uses all the authority of the first beast on its behalf, and it makes the earth and those living on it worship the first beast, whose fatal wound was healed. 13 It performs spectacular signs, even making fire come down from heaven to earth in front of people. ISV

It appears that another reason the Eastern Empire didn't disclaim the new Emperor, is because the Eastern Emperor Irene was engaged to marry Charlemagne. The Eastern Emperor Irene, who Charlemagne had planned a marriage with, probably intended to join the two halves of the Empire back together. But evidently, the other officials of the East did not approve of that, and they overthrew her. The crowning of an Emperor, and the creation of a new Empire in the West, didn't immediately create a permanent new Empire, but later on, linked back to that same event in 799-800, the Empire came back into existence with Otto the Great, 936-973. Papacy himself, after a struggle with the kings, took control of that Empire after 1179, creating the theocratic eighth head.

That started the evil reign of the Papal system, which claimed that the so called Roman Empire that it claimed it had helped create, was a Holy Roman Empire—but as history shows, it was not an actual Roman Empire, nor was it holy. The new Empire was an Image of the original Rome, in the sense that it looked like the original Empire. When it was taken control of by Papacy, the bad situation went even further, and that created the religious eighth head that we will see in Chapter 17.

That is another very important historical point for our understanding of this Chapter, because the original vision of Pagan Rome only had seven heads on it, so that proves that this new Empire with an eighth head, was not legally a restored Roman Empire—it was only an image of that Empire, something that looked like it, but which really wasn't. It was actually a Roman Empire, because it was made up of German civil power.

The thing that started this downward spiral, leading to Papacies control of the civil power of Rome, was the donation of Pepin, which the history book below calls Pippin. That book and the pages we have marked off in it, contains much of what we are going to describe regarding the latter half of this Chapter.

Donation of Pepin

“In return, Pepin marched an army to defeat the Lombard's in northern and central Italy. Pepin then gave this land to the Pope to administer as a prince. For the first time the Pope was more than a temporal ruler, and it is this action that is referred to as the Donation of Pepin.

Fifty years later, Pope Leo III crowned the successor to Pepin Imperator Romanorum, Emperor of the Romans. This man was Charlemagne, the first Western Roman Emperor since Romulus Augustulus. This marked the high point of Frankish-Papal cooperation.

Charlemagne codified the actions of Pepin and confirmed the independence of the Papal States and the Donation of Pepin. The donation led to the crowning of a Western Roman Emperor, the first to claim political equality with the East since 476.

This meant an end of Byzantine claims to the Western territories of the Roman Empire. The eastern Emperor would accept this, and the split also helped to cement the political separation of the eastern and Western Christian churches.”

From: Encyclopedia of World History: The Expanding World, 600 CE to 1450, vol. 2.

False Donation of Constantine

Getting the land from the three horns that had been plucked up, was not enough for Papacy, and because of that Pope Leo the third had a forged document which was shown to Charlemagne, which claimed that Constantine had given the Pope control over all of the Western lands. He used that document to claim the right to exercise control over the Western lands, ruling over the kings. Other Popes after him used that document, as justifying their control over the Empire until the time of the Reformation. That control over the civil power, created the evil church and state system that reigned over and persecuted the faithful church during the 1000-year period after Charlemagne was crowned. One big problem with the donation of Constantine document, was that it was a created and fake document, that gave power to the Pope that was never authorized by Constantine.

Speaking Like a Dragon & Like a Lamb

Because of the acquisition of the Papal States, Papacy then had both an ecclesiastical horn, and a civil power horn, but he did not yet at that time have absolute control over the beast which was the Western Roman Empire itself. That is why the Bible describes him as a separate two-horned beast at that earlier point in the Chapter, and what the Bible says about the two-horned beast, actually tells us in those verses what the two horns represent. We see that he had a “religious horn or power”, because of the claim that he had the authority to settle doctrinal disputes in the Empire, and he was claiming to be the Lamb’s representative here on earth, and that is why it says that he was “like” a Lamb, but he was really not the Lamb or the Lord’s representative as he claimed.

The other horn he had, was because he was not really a Lamb, but he spoke as a dragon, which shows that he was also claiming to be a “civil power”, because of the land from parts of three countries that he had acquired—the dragon symbol also shows that Satan was behind the civil power horn. Eventually the civil power horn grew so powerful, that it took control of Western Rome. Papacy had fallen for the offer by Satan that our Lord had rejected, which was that he could control the civil power of the world that Satan had control of, if he fell down and worshipped Satan.

That new civil power horn, together with the little horn that Daniel had described, became the two horns on the beast that we see here. That is why this beast looked like a lamb, but it spoke as a civil power and Satanic dragon.

Another important point here, is that this beast spoke like a dragon. In Rev 16:13-14, we see three evil characters, the beast, the false prophet, and the dragon, uttering three unclean spirits. We will present evidence that the three unclean spirits are three lies, from the dragon Satan, the beast or civil power, and the false prophet or false doctrines of the evil system. In the end, those three lies will draw this evil system to the final battle of Armageddon. We will discuss what the lies are in the explanation of those verses of chapter 16.

Two-horned Beast Doesn't Exist On This End of Age

The symbol of the two-horned beast, doesn't actually exist in our time anymore, because all of the elements or parts that defined what it was, don't exist at this time. All that is left of it, is the false prophet, which was the fallen and corrupt religious system that had been in league with the Image of the Beast during the height of its power, which we will discuss next.

The Papal system, which was the so-called lamb-like part of the two-horned beast, has on this end of the age lost the support of the kings, and he has lost all of the stolen Papal land except for the land that the Vatican sits on! Because of that, there was no civil horn left after 1799-1870AD, unless you want to count the Vatican City as they do, but that is not a true civil power.

The religious horn that Papacy had, where it had control over both halves of the Empire is also long gone, because of the split in the two Empire and then later the splitting away of the Protestants. Any nations that Papacy ruled over was lost control of shortly after 1799. They gained some power back for a while, but then after that, WW1 took down all of the kings.

All Daughter Systems Part of False Prophet

All of the daughter systems, are all in the same situation, in that they don't have any civil power left at this time either, and so the entire fallen church system together, is now described as the False Prophet after 1914-18, and is not the two-horned beast anymore because none of them have any civil power.

So because of that, when the Bible considers the False Prophet, which we see on this end of the age, it includes the entire religious system and not just the Papal part, because the daughter systems have all descended from Papacy, and they kept most of the same doctrinal errors, and they also had their own church and state systems, which were also illegal. Since the Protestant churches are the daughters that split off from the mother Papacy, that then makes them a part of the still existing False Prophet. The churches of the East, are also descended from the same church councils that formed the false doctrines of Papacy, and they still have those same doctrines, and they were a part of that evil system until they separated, and so they are also a part of the false prophet.

That is why they are still dangerous even now, because they all still hold to all the false doctrines of the original system. At this point in time, they do not have the civil power backing them, but we need to watch, because that could change before we are done with the Gospel Age. That is one of the uncertain things, where we must wait and see what happens.

Satan is still using the same two different elements of control that were used in the original church and state system, which are the civil and the ecclesiastical control of the people. They are not joined or working together like they were when there was a church and state system, but as we go through this Chapter in our study, we will see that they are still Satan's system, and that they will need to be removed by the time of the kingdom. We also still need to be keeping an eye on them and what they are doing, because it's possible that they could still be dangerous to the faithful church.

Here are some key historical events that helped to build the power of the two-horned beast. Justinian gave the Pope authority over the entire church on earth in 545, the Adventists claim it was verbally done in 533 but offer no proof.

In 590, Gregory declares the Pope supreme over all the church.

In 710, Justinian II kisses the Popes' feet.

In 754, the Pope received the first Papal States.

In 756, Pepin gave him more land, which added greatly to the Papal States.

In 799-800AD, Pope Leo III acted against the Eastern Empire and crowned Charlemagne as Emperor over the Western Empire.

Creating the Image

The crowning of Charlemagne Emperor of the West in 799-800AD, is very important in our study of this Chapter, because a Western Emperor had not existed since the fall of Rome in 472AD. By crowning Charlemagne, Papacy had taken the final plunge into the grab for civil power, and in effect had created a new Roman Empire in the West, that history shows that he intended to control—which is proven by the falsified document he showed to Charlemagne, claiming the right to the control of the lands of the Western Empire.

That new Western Empire with Papacy claiming the right to control, is what the Bible calls the Image of the Beast. It was a counterfeit copy of the original Roman beast, which still existed at that same time in the East. That is one reason that it is called an Image, because it looked like the original Roman Empire, but it was not because it was not legally created by the laws and regulations of the civil power of the Western Empire. It was also not made up of Roman countries, but they were of German origin.

That is also why the scriptures say that he created the Image in the sight of the original beast in the East. When he created the Image, he was claiming that he was re-establishing the Roman Empire as it had been, but he was actually creating a new Empire that he planned on controlling. Because Papacy was the supreme religious authority in the Empire, that gave him religious control over both halves of the Empire for a time. Neither half of the Empire was happy about submitting to Papal religious authority, but because of religious superstition they did for a while.

Rev 13:11-13 (11) Then I saw another beast rising out of the earth. It had two horns like a lamb and it spoke like a dragon. 12 It exercises all the authority of the first beast in its presence, and makes the earth and its inhabitants worship the first beast, whose mortal wound was healed. ESV

2 Thess 2:8-11 (9 that is, the one whose coming is in accord with the activity of Satan, with all power and signs and false wonders, 10 and with all the deception of wickedness for those who perish, because they did not receive the love of the truth so as to be saved. NASU

Didn't Get Full Control Right Away

Papacy did not gain full control over this new beast right away in 799AD, because the kings resisted giving up total control of their power. There was a constant struggle back and forth as to who had the final say in the Empire, especially in the earlier part of the 1000 years of the new Empire. That is why the Bible in Daniel, describes the feet of the church and state part of the Image of Daniel as being made of iron and clay that don't cling together. The ecclesiastical and the civil power, never became one unified power like you would have with a true alloy of metal, but it remained separate as pictured by the lack of strength that you get when you combine iron and clay. At the end of the 1260, after 1799AD, the kings withdrew their support from Papacy completely, which was when the iron and clay were shattered in the feet. The civil power of the Empires still separately existed until 1914AD, when the entire Image of Daniel was shattered. We are now waiting for the four winds to finish blowing the pieces away.

After the Pope crowned Charlemagne in 799-800, for the next 1000 years, we see the Pope claiming the right to place the crown on the head of any new Emperors or Kings of the west, and he claimed that right because of the crowning of Charlemagne. He said that event gave him the right to claim power over the Emperors and the Kings of the Western Roman Empire. The Image of the Beast that was formed at that time, was what later became known as the so-called Holy Roman Empire, which was not holy at all. Any new Emperor after that time, was supposed to be crowned by the Popes, following the tradition of Charlemagne who was the first to be crowned.

We have in the past, pointed to the 799 crowning of Charlemagne by Pope Leo, as the key factor which eventually led to the Papal system getting supremacy over the kings, but we had not included any history of when and how that happened. Charlemagne's son was instructed to not let the Pope crown him, and at his ceremony he took the crown off the altar himself, and that shows that the Pope was not immediately accepted in his new role, as the Crouner of Emperors. It appears that Charlemagne was suspicious that such a ceremony would lead to the overthrow of the throne of the Empire, and history shows that he was right. The arguments back and forth between the Emperors and Papacy, continued back and forth for some time, the one incident below is the one that finally established the church on top.

There is a great deal more information in the Wikipedia article, including the information that He excommunicated Henry IV three times. Consequently, Henry IV would appoint Anti-Pope Clement III to oppose him in the political power struggles between the Catholic Church and his Empire. Henry IV lasted in opposition to four Popes in the original line of Popes, but after he died, his body was ordered to be buried in an unconsecrated grave. Later he was returned to a consecrated grave site. Gregory III was Pope until 1085, and most of the above events occurred towards the end of his reign.

History Of Papal Rise to Supremacy

Gregory VII Latin: Gregorius VII (born Hildebrand of Sovana (Italian: Ildebrando da Soana; c. 1015 – 25 May 1085 AD) was Pope from 22 April 1073 to his death in 1085

One of the great reforming Popes, he is perhaps best known for the part he played in the Investiture Controversy, his dispute with Henry IV, Holy Roman Emperor that affirmed the primacy of Papal authority and the new canon law governing the election of the Pope by the College of Cardinals. He was also at the forefront of developments in the relationship between the emperor and the papacy during the years before he became Pope. He was the first Pope in several centuries to rigorously enforce the Western Church's ancient policy of celibacy for the clergy and attacked the practice of simony.

He excommunicated Henry IV three times. Consequently, Henry IV would appoint AntiPope Clement III to oppose him in the political power struggles between the Catholic Church and his Empire. Hailed as one of the greatest of the Roman pontiffs after his reforms proved successful, Gregory VII was, during his own reign, despised by some for his expansive use of Papal powers.

It's a little hard to pin down what date we should use regarding the Papacy getting supremacy over the Emperors. Gregory VII did win out over the Emperor during his lifetime, with the Emperor coming and kneeling for three days and asking forgiveness. But Henry IV did not hold to that agreement for long, and the battle continued back and forth for some time, even after Gregory VII died. When Gregory VII died in 1085, on his death bed he ordered that there be a crusade against Henry IV, and so the argument was not settled for several years after that. The time that the church could order a secular ruler deposed, even though it was not accomplished at that point in time, is where we have decided to count the time from.

Investiture Controversy

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Myers, Philip Van Ness (1905), A medieval king investing a bishop with the symbols of office.

The Investiture Controversy or Investiture Contest was the most significant conflict between Church and state in medieval Europe.<sup>[1]</sup>

In the 11th and 12th centuries, a series of popes challenged the authority of European monarchies. At issue was who, the pope or monarchs, had the authority to appoint (invest) local church officials such as bishops of cities and abbots of monasteries. The conflict ended in 1122, when Emperor Henry V and Pope Calixtus II agreed on the Concordat of Worms. It differentiated between the royal and spiritual powers and gave the emperors a limited role in selecting bishops. The outcome seemed mostly a victory for the Pope and his claim that he was God's chief representative in the world. However, the Emperor did retain considerable power over the Church.

The investiture controversy began as a power struggle between Pope Gregory VII (1072–85) and Henry IV, Holy Roman Emperor (1056–1106).

A Theocracy

The church and state system created during that time, fits the definition of a theocracy, in that it claimed to be religious, and its laws were derived from the religious theology that Papacy was advocating. During the time of the peak of the Image of the Beast, after the eighth head was formed, its influence was far beyond its civil power borders, which were mainly in central Europe. Papacy controlled that Empire until 1799AD, when after that time in 1804, Napoleon took the crown and placed it on his own head. After the rest of the Kings who were still in power at that time, had seen that Napoleon got away with that without being struck down by God, it was only a matter of a short time that Papacy lost control and influence over the entire civil power of the Empire.

The Split in the Empire

While there was a unified Christian church in the Roman Empire at the time that the Pope had crowned Charlemagne in 800AD, the Eastern Church later in 1054AD, split away from the Papal church. For that reason, the scriptures are more closely following the Papal half of the Western Empire in this Chapter. We are not saying that the East didn't have the same doctrinal errors, but the West became much worse in some matters, because of the central figure of the Pope.

We also see that Papacy had formed the Image of the Beast, in the sight of the first beast, which was what was left of the beast with the healed head, which was the Christianized Roman Empire that had been restored in the East from the overrunning of the Empire by the Barbarians. Because Papacy was in control of the old Western Roman capital, that gave him considerable influence over the Eastern beast that still existed at the time that he took control over the Western part of the Empire.

It was the Papal system that systemized the torture of heretics, and then burned them at the stake, and that is why the Western system is more directly singled out in this prophecy. Some in the East did persecute some of the saints, but it wasn't as institutionalized like it was in the Papal system.

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia we have the history of what caused the split between the two halves of the Empire.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Christianity\_in\_the\_11th\_century

“In 1054, following the death of the Patriarch of Rome Leo IX, Papal legates (representatives of the Pope) from Rome traveled to Constantinople to deny Michael Cerularius, the reigning Patriarch of Constantinople, the title of Ecumenical Patriarch and to insist that he recognize the Church of Rome's claim to be the head and mother of the churches. Cerularius refused, resulting in the leader of the contingent from Rome excommunicating Cerularius and the legates in turn being excommunicated by Constantinople. Though this event, in and of itself, was relatively insignificant (and the authority of the legates in their actions was dubious) it ultimately marked the end of any pretense of a union between the eastern and Western branches of the Church. Though efforts were made at reconciliation at various times, they remained divided, each claiming to be the true Christian Church.”

We will see that the Eastern part, will come back into the prophetic picture in Chapter 18, under the symbol of Great Babylon. The symbol of Great Babylon includes all the daughter systems, and that would include the Eastern Orthodox, because they are also descended from the same false doctrines, and they all participated in the church councils that corrupted the truth about what Christ had done for the church and the world. Another place that the Eastern Empire is included, is in the punishment of the seven bowls of wrath.

We believe the East is included, because they were involved in the ecclesiastical damage to the church that we are shown in the first four seals and trumpets. That corruption was done by both halves of the Roman Empire, and that early corrupting influence on the faithful church, is part of what is being punished in the bowls of wrath. The bowls of wrath are directly linked to each corresponding trumpet and what was done wrong in each of the churches, and the Eastern churches were involved in the same doctrinal corruption in each church period just as the west was.

Continuing with the Western Empire, we see that a major difference that this later government had from the original, was that instead of being a political power that was in total control of its own destiny, it was a government that was being greatly influenced and controlled by Papacy, and for that reason it was a theocracy. In that kind of a situation, the symbol of an Image is very appropriate, since when you look in a mirror you see something that looks like the original, but it's reversed from left to right. In the original Pagan and even in the Christianized Roman Empire with the seventh head, the civil power was in control and the religious system was under its authority. As time went on, the Papal power and control increased in the West, until they were controlling the civil power most of the time, and it was doing the dirty work of killing those that Papacy called heretics—that is why it was an eighth head at that time.

The word Image is Strong's word 1504, which is from 1503 (fastness as a copy, to resemble). 1504 means a likeness or fig. representation, resemblance --- Image.

Controlled the Evil System With Superstition

The evil system got most of its power, by using the superstitions of the people to control the civil power of the beast. The kings still controlled their own countries, but they were forced to bow to Papacy a lot of the time. They did that because of superstitious fear on their own part, or in some cases because of fear that their own people would overthrow them if they didn't support Papacy or the church. That became especially true if the people felt that the king stood in the way of their salvation, when the church did things like close the churches or the stopping of the so-called sacraments.

That is how the two-horned beast, which was Papacy with its Papal States, could use the power of the Image of the Roman beast to make the people follow it. The civil part eventually allowed that control by Papacy, because of the superstitious strength that it brought to the Empire, but each half of the partnership was always attempting to get into control over the other. The following article confirms what we are saying about the character of the evil church and state system.

A quote from “THE APPROACHING END OF THE AGE by H. Grattan Guinness. 1879AD.

If kings and Emperors bowed thus before the Pope, it will easily be believed that the reverence of the common people for his person and office, and their submission to his arrogant and blasphemous pretensions, was complete. Not in respect of his power in secular things, but in things much higher, who knows not of the universal reverence and faith in his blasphemous pretensions exhibited throughout the long middle ages by Christendom? Look at the thronging multitudes on pilgrimage to Rome, in assurance of the salvation he promises them! Look at their reception of his dogmas in matters of faith, as very oracles from heaven!

*Look at their purchasing of his indulgences with their often hard earned money, in the belief of delivering thereby the captive souls of departed relatives, as well as their own souls, from the pains of purgatory and of hell!" (* Elliott, vol. iii., p. 171.) Look at the way in which thousands of all classes engaged in crusades and religious wars at the bidding of the Popes, and refused aid, even to their nearest and dearest friends, if they came under his ban! From the most private domestic relations of individuals, to the most public national acts of Empires, all fell under the rule, direct or indirect, of the Papacy. It was the last solemn united act, before the Reformation of the deputies of Christendom assembled in council, to subscribe the bull Unam Sanctum, which declares that AS THERE IS BUT ONE BODY OF THE CHURCH AND CHRISTENDOM, SO THERE IS BUT ONE HEAD, THE VICAR OF CHRIST-THE POPE; AND THAT IT IS ESSENTIAL TO THE SALVATION OF EVERY HUMAN BEING, TO BE SUBJECT TO THE ROMAN PONTIFF; and no subsequent Council ever revoked this decree."*

Papacy Claimed the Right to Crown or Uncrown Kings

When Papacy had gained the power to crown and uncrown kings, or at least when he made the claim that he had that right, he in effect had formed a new Western Roman beast, which was the Image of the original Roman beast. What was left of the Western Empire and the original Eastern Empire, still existed when Papacy did that, and that is why the Image was formed "in the sight of the original beast with the seventh head", just as we see described in this Chapter. Papacy gave breath to the Image that was formed—which is legitimacy. He did that by telling the people that God supported the newly formed church-state system, and he claimed that it was God's kingdom here on earth, making it a theocracy. All the nations that belonged to the Western Empire of Christendom, were held together by the theocratic claims of Papacy, and by superstitious fear.

Able to Kill All Who Disagreed

The Papal system, was eventually able to order that anyone who would not follow or bow down to the church and state system, should be killed, just as it says was going to happen in this prophecy in verse 15. Rev 13:15 And it was given to him to give breath to the Image of the Beast, so that the Image of the Beast would even speak and cause as many as do not worship the Image of the Beast to be killed. NASU

He was able to do that, not only literally in the inquisition which began in 1184, but also in the symbolic sense, in that they could cause anyone who would not go along with this evil system, to be excommunicated or cut off from the sacraments, making them think that they had lost their spiritual life.

Faithful Couldn't Buy or Sell Spiritual Goods

If you wouldn't do what this evil system wanted or you didn't support it, you weren't allowed to buy or sell in it, as is described in verse 17. That is the same thing as the two prophets lying dead in the street in Chapter 11, in that the witness of the scriptures was not allowed to be used against the fallen church system, and no one was allowed to preach against the church doctrines and practices. You had to preach what the evil system wanted to hear, if you wanted to be a preacher in that system. Rev 13:17 and he provides that no one will be able to buy or to sell, except the one who has the mark, either the name of the beast or the number of his name. NASU

Inquisition Used to Eliminate Heretics

That situation applied to not only to the right to do temporal business in the Empire, but even more so it was because the fallen church system forbid anyone to preach in the spiritual marketplace, if you didn't preach orthodox doctrines, because any religious dissent was absolutely forbidden. Anyone that was claiming that the fallen church was in error, was usually hauled before a church council or an official, and he was stripped of his office and any property he had. After that he was banished to a desolate place, or he was cast into prison. Later on at the height of the full power of the system, during the height of the inquisition, they were handed over to the civil government to be killed—just as verse 15 which is quoted above, told us that this system was going to do.

The Mark is a Symbolic Mark

The mark in the hand and the forehead are symbolic, and they show that those who were supporting this system were intellectually in agreement with it, and they were willing to help it with the work of their hands, as verse 17 which is also quoted above says.

The Study Groups original definition of the Image of the Beast, has changed slightly as we have looked at this prophecy, in that we now see that it was not just the church and state system by itself that was doing this, but it would also include the social and the financial aspects of the kingdom—four different aspects of society. The beast that Papacy controlled when the eighth head was formed, included the philosophy of mankind, and the social systems that made the civil world work, and they had the false idea that only that system was right or workable. The corrupt apostate religion of Papacy, was the glue that held it all together—although the iron and clay mixture was very weak, since the church and state elements of it were in opposition to each other.

The Image is the opposite of the original Roman beast, in that it's the philosophy of the religious world that eventually controlled all other aspects of the Image, such as the civil, social, and financial. That would also include all the ideas that made the world work, and by which the people deceived themselves into thinking that they have the only system that was correct. That the religious system could control the civil power, is what made this system into a theocracy—which was when the beast formed an eighth head. 2 Thess 2:8-11 (9 that is, the one whose coming is in accord with the activity of Satan, with all power and signs and false wonders, 10 and with all the deception of wickedness for those who perish, because they did not receive the love of the truth so as to be saved. NASU divine rule, or the pretense of divine rule. In practice, this term refers to a government operated by religious authorities who claim unlimited power in the name of God or other supernatural forces.

There are many governments--including the United States--in which leaders invoke God, or claim to be inspired by God, or claim to obey the will of God. This does not, in practice, make a government a theocracy. What makes a government a theocracy is when lawmakers actually believe that leaders are governed by the will of God, and write laws predicated on this belief.”

The more complex definition that we have for the Image now, is important, because it shows us how the system of both church and state has adopted and changed throughout history, so that it can keep mankind under its control. Even when the civil power of the Image of the Beast is separated from the religious power, as we see it now, the religious system that it has descended from, still keeps the people under control through superstitious fear, because of the false philosophy and ideas that are associated with that religious system.

Fire from Heaven

As Papacy gained power over the civil power, he was eventually able to make symbolic fire come down from heaven to the earth. In other words, he could make fiery judgments from the ecclesiastical branch against the common people. The inquisition, was one of the ways that he could punish the heretics that didn't agree, thus making the people think that he had that authority and the power of judgment from God. In other words, when he ordered the killing of the so-called heretics by the civil power of the state, he was claiming that the judgment or fire from heaven that was pronounced against them, was coming from God. They also burnt many of the saint literally to death, with actual fires, with the saints tied to a pole, and a huge bonfire lit under them.

It was also claimed by that system, that anyone that went against the system, would burn forever in hell fire. They used that threat, to keep the people in fear of the system, so that they would not question the evil system.

In the Old Testament, the fire that came down from heaven and which burned up the captains of fifty that Ahab sent against Elijah, showed that God was for him and protecting him. That the Papacy could make a false fire of judgment and death come against those who opposed them, seemed to confirm to the superstitious masses, that the Pope had the power of judgment and death from God. That is why they could institute the inquisition in 1184, and the people were not able to question the Popes false heavenly power of judgment. Even if they did not recognize that Papacy legally had that power, in most situations they were too afraid to do or say anything.

Rev 13:13 He performs great signs, so that he even makes fire come down out of heaven to the earth in the presence of men. NASU

One of the other means that Papacy used to bring fire down from heaven, was the ban of interdiction that he placed on countries that would not go along with him. Under those bans, the churches would be shut up, and the people denied access to the so-called sacraments. To the superstitious people, the cutting off the sacraments was the same thing as a death sentence. By being able to do that, they could deceive those who dwelt in that system, that Papacy had the God-given right to exercise control over the government, and to set up kings and take down kings, and to render a verdict of death to those who opposed them.

Another way Papacy could make fire come down on the earth from heaven, is when he called on the armies of the church and state Empire, to punish or destroy a country or people that had rebelled against his power. That included anyone who tried to bring out the religious truth, or to show that Papacy was the antichrist. That is what happened during the early reformers, and especially during the Reformation, when Papacy tried to bring the Protestants back under his control through the power of the army. Fortunately, the Protestants managed to survive those attacks, and to continue to study the Bible, which is the source of all truth, not Papacy.

The Breath

The wording, “Image of the Beast, is repeated three times in this set of verses that we are looking at. In ancient times, when something was repeated more than once, it was done so to add emphasis or show importance of something. In this triple repetition, the warning is clear that we are to definitely “look out” for the Image of the Beast.

What was the breath that is given to this Image by Papacy? To give breath to something would be to bring it to life, like when God breathed life into the clay, and brought Adam to life. The “words” or breath of Papacy, though “persuasive arguments”, created a counterfeit Western Roman Emperor, and brought the idea of a Theocratic Western Roman Empire into existence, when there wasn’t an existing Empire or Emperor in the West at the time. The other thing that Papacy eventually did with his “persuasive words”, was to give the Image the ability and authority to persecute and kill anyone that it didn’t agree with. As we will see in the next few paragraphs, that power grew more terrible and deadly as time went on.

The Inquisition

The Pope was first given the right to decide doctrinal disputes for both the eastern and the Western Empire, by Emperor Justinian in 545AD. See the documents authorizing the acquisition of that power, which was given by Justinian to the Pope earlier in this Chapter. That power grew in the West, but the East eventually split away when the Pope tried to grab full control of the Eastern Empire.

After Papacy, had gained influence over the civil power in 1169, he would not tolerate any ideas that opposed him or his false doctrines, and he began to persecute and kill all that disagreed with him. That intolerance had its more sinister application by the time of 1184AD, when Pope Lucius required bishops to inquire into the beliefs of their subjects. If they were found guilty, they were immediately excommunicated, stripped of their property, and generally persecuted. That was only 5 years after Papacy took complete control of the kings. Shortly after that, the spread of the Waldenses and the Albigenses caused Pope

Innocent III to call a Fourth Lateran Council in 1215AD. Under his leadership, the council provided for the state punishment of heretics, the confiscation of their property, excommunication for those unwilling to move against the heretics, and complete forgiveness of sins for those cooperating.

In 1220AD, Pope Innocent III took the inquisition from the hands of the bishops, and turned it over to the newly formed Dominicans, and nine years later the Synod of Toulouse systemized inquisitorial policies, leaving the alleged heretic with virtually no rights. The inquisitor was subject to no law, only to the Popes. The trials were secret, and the accused had to prove his innocence without the benefit of counsel or knowledge of the actual charges against them by their accusers. A lot of the time, they were not even told what they were being accused of, until after they were sentenced to death. The inquisition was started by Pope Innocent, who was of course not innocent at all.

Jewish Virtual Library

The Inquisition was a Roman Catholic tribunal for discovery and punishment of heresy, which was marked by the severity of questioning and punishment and lack of rights afforded to the accused.

While many people associate the Inquisition with Spain and Portugal, it was actually instituted by Pope Innocent III (1198-1216) in Rome. A later Pope, Pope Gregory IX established the Inquisition, in 1233, to combat the heresy of the Abilgenses, a religious sect in France. By 1255, the Inquisition was in full gear throughout Central and Western Europe; although it was never instituted in England or Scandinavia.

Initially a tribunal would open at a location and an edict of grace would be published calling upon those who are conscious of heresy to confess; after a period of grace, the tribunal officers could make accusations. Those accused of heresy were sentenced at an auto de fe, Act of Faith. Clergyman would sit at the proceedings and would deliver the punishments. Punishments included confinement to dungeons, physical abuse and torture. Those who reconciled with the church were still punished and many had their property confiscated, as well as were banished from public life. Those who never confessed were burned at the stake without strangulation; those who did confess were strangled first. During the 16th and 17th centuries, attendance at auto de fe reached as high as the attendance at bullfights.

Torturing Heretics

The final step came in 1252, when Pope Innocent authorized torture as a means of getting information and confessions from accused heretics. Such a thing was unthinkable before that time, but now that the church was supreme in authority, it became a reality. The church officials who were conducting the torture, were not allowed to shed blood by killing them. So, to get around that problem, after they found them guilty, they turned them over to the civil authorities where they were usually burned at the stake.

Religious Authority Did Not Kill Had Civil Do it for Them

Notice that the religious authority didn't do the killing, but they had the Roman authority do the torture and the killing for them! That is what it says happened in this prophecy in verse 15. Through the two-horned Papal beast's breath which are doctrinal arguments, it gave power unto the beast or the civil authorities to kill the heretics, many of which included the true saints. Don't forget that the little horn that was shown by Daniel, had a mouth that was speaking great things, and that little horn was seen warring against the saints. Below are the many scriptures that predicted the severe torture and persecution and death that this evil system brought against God's people.

Rev 13:15 and it was allowed to give breath to the Image of the Beast so that the Image of the Beast could even speak and cause those who would not worship the Image of the Beast to be killed. NRSV

Rev 17:6 And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus: and when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration. (KJV)

Dan 7:20-21) 20 And of the ten horns that were in his head, and of the other which came up, and before whom three fell; even of that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake very great things, whose look was more stout than his fellows.

21 I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them;

Dan 7:25 And he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High, and think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time. (KJV)

Fifth Seal Shows Many Murdered Saints

If we look at the fifth seal and church, which is the same time-period as the peak of the Papal power we are looking at here, we see the souls of those who had been killed, crying out to God. We don't think that it's a coincidence that those seen killed under the altar in the fifth seal, are asking how long before they were to be avenged. The fifth church is during the time of when the inquisition was established in 1184, and that was the time that the evil church was turning the so-called heretics over to the civil government to be killed. The fifth church would have begun according to the 360-year calculations in about 1158AD, and that fits exactly with where the torture and killing began during the inquisition of that time. The end of the fifth church would then be 1518. A "time" of 360 counting from then, gives us 1878!

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article is about the 12th and 13th century inquisitions. For later ones, see Inquisition (disambiguation).

Pope Gregory IX

The Medieval Inquisition was a series of Inquisitions (Catholic Church bodies charged with suppressing heresy) from around 1184, including the Episcopal Inquisition (1184-1230s) and later the Papal Inquisition (1230s). These were the first inquisition movements of many that would follow.

Rev 6:9-11)9 And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held:

10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and , dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And white robes were given unto every one of them; and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellowservants also and their brethren, that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled. (KJV)

The last verse in Rev 6:11, implies that there were going to be even more saints killed after that time, and you only need to consult a good history book of at least college level, or Foxes book of Martyrs, to see that the killing continued through the rest of the age. The article from Wikipedia above, lists many more inquisitions that followed those earlier ones. During the time that the corrupt church had the power, they did not hesitate to kill those who they consider to be heretics.

1799 Removed Papacies Power to Kill

Since they lost their civil power in 1799AD and onward, they have not been able to kill as easily those whom they oppose, in the open manner as they used to do in the dark ages. There are some that claim that they were involved in the killing of some members of rival religions and the Jews and even Bible Students in WW2. We have seen videos and pictures documenting the arrest of International Bible students during that time, and most of them permanently disappeared, showing that they were killed just as the Jews were. There is historical information that claims that the Catholic Church officials stood behind the German troops, and pointed out those who they wanted remove and killed. It appears to be true that a leopard cannot change its spots, and they would murder again if they had the power.

That is why we continue to watch, even though we believe that a lot of the prophecy of Revelation has been historically fulfilled already. Even today we see that there are many who do not understand that the Jews are coming back to their land because of prophecy, and they are still greatly prejudiced against them. We believe that we must stand for the nation of Israel, even though they are not perfect, and they still do things wrong. The support of the true church for Israel, could possibly get us into trouble with the governments of today, or with other anarchistic elements, who think that they can force others to stop supporting Israel.

At the time of this writing, we see that nations of the world are turning against Israel, which is setting the stage for the final conflict, where God will step in and save them. That tells us that our time on this earth is growing short.

Rev 13:16-17

Rev 13:16 And he causes all, the small and the great, and the rich and the poor, and the freemen and the slaves, to be given a mark on their right hand or on their forehead, Rev 13:17 and {he provides} that no one will be able to buy or to sell, except the one who has the mark, {either} the name of the beast or the number of his name. (NAU)

The Mark!

Many in the worldly churches, think that the mark is going to be a literal mark, or electronic chip or device. The mark that we receive on the forehead from the Lord, marking us as his, is not a visible mark. The same thing is true of the mark of the beast as we will see, in that it is symbolic of the support that the people give to the beast.

Can Still Get the Mark

Since the receiving of the mark has already historically happened, and is not something that is only going to happen in the future, it should be apparent that the mark must be symbolic and not literal—but we can still get it at this time if we are not careful. What it was and what it symbolically indicates about the one receiving it, is what we are going to be looking at in this section. While the main fulfillment of this has already occurred during the 1260 years, we need to know what it was, so that we are not doing the same kind of things wrong without knowing it. In other words, we are still under the same kind of testing that occurred during that time, but we are not living in the time of the 1260 years or the 1000 years of the time of the power of this system, but many in the church systems of today, still have the mark of support for the fallen church system, and its doctrines.

In the description of the Roman Empire in Rev 13:7, we saw that the beast had the power to kill anyone who wouldn't support it, and likewise we see that so did the Western Image that we see in Rev 13:15. The reason for the similar abilities, is because the persecuting power, was either Rome, or it had descended from Rome in both parts of the prophecy—Papacy and later some Protestant groups did the same kind of things against those that disagreed, as the original Roman Empire had done. The Image caused all who were supporting the church and state system to have a mark on their forehead and hands. It is not a literal mark, as is thought by some who think this mark is future yet, but it was symbolic of their support for the evil system, in that the symbolic mark in their forehead showed that they supported the fallen church system with their thoughts. The symbolic mark on their hand, also showed that they were willing to work for the evil system, and to support it with whatever labor that it needed—even killing for it. That is a similar description of the Roman beast earlier in the Chapter, in that it had caused all “who dwelt in the earth” to worship it, Rev 13:3-4, 8.

Nominal Churches Do Not Understand The Mark of Beast

Many of the nominal churches, have claimed that the “mark of the beast”, will be a literal mark or a computer chip, etc. One reason that they think that, is because they don't recognize that the evil system has existed for 1260 years or more already. The mark is not going to be some future literal mark, but it has already historically existed ever since the church and state system first came into power, and it still exists to a certain extent even after the evil system has lost its civil power.

The mark of the beast is a symbolic mark, and it's like the type of mark that the Lord gives to the church, to mark those who are his. You can't see that mark, because it's symbolic of a mental condition, and so you should not expect this evil mark to be any different, in that it is not visible to anyone, except that we can discern that it is there through a person's actions and beliefs. The mark that the Lord puts on us, signifies that we are his and that we do the things of good character that he approves of, working for the establishment of the kingdom. When we have the mark of the Lord, we are sealed by the Holy spirit, and it guides us to do the things of the Lord. Our mark is not visible upon our foreheads either, because it's symbolic of our support for the Lord and the Divine Plan. The evil system is the opposite of that, because it is controlled by Satan, and they follow his evil spirit and do his evil deeds, instead of following the Holy spirit.

That these also have a mark on their hand, shows that they work for the evil church and state system, and do things to perpetuate the system. They are sealed with the spirit of anti-Christ, and they do what their father the devil wants. That this verse says all do this, shows that anyone who actively supported that erroneous system, was of the same spiritual corrupted mind as the fallen church.

In Ezekiel Chapter 9, we see the faithful being marked with the mark of God, but the ones who were guilty, were in the end slain by the six men with slaughter weapons—six represents earthly ideas and doctrines. That is the same thing that is happening here, in that the faithful have the seal of God in our forehead, but the evil system has the mark of Satan in their forehead. The marking in the forehead that is being shown in Ezekiel, is not just at the end of the age as some think, but it has been going on through the entire Gospel Age.

Can't Buy or Sell

The Roman Empire, allowed most forms of Paganism to preach openly, but when Christianity tried to spread the truth of the Gospel, the church was persecuted bitterly, and many Christians were killed. So, we see that Christians couldn't buy or sell in the original Roman Empire's spiritual marketplace either. That situation didn't change when the mouth speaking great things, which was Papacy, began to take over the beast, except to get worse. The Image had the power to keep anyone from buying or selling spiritual ideas, unless they were recognized as a part of the corrupt church-state system, and they were supporting it. Anyone who wouldn't preach what this system wanted to hear, was first forbidden to preach, and eventually killed if they would not stop. That is one reason that we see the two witnesses lying dead in the streets of the Great City of Papacy in Chapter 11, in that the evil system did not want to hear the truth, and they suppressed any revelations of truth from the scriptures

Nicaea Council Began Decent Into Error

The first major forcing of doctrines on the church, started in 325AD at the Nicaea council, and then got even worse in 381AD. Theodosius issued the decree that all churches would have to follow the Nicene doctrine regarding the Trinity, and all other so called Orthodox doctrines. Anyone that didn't accept the Trinity doctrine, was to be banned from being bishops, and they had to give up their churches to the Nicene's, and they lost their tax exemption. They could not build new churches anywhere in the Empire. That decree caused the Trinity to be one of the first of many false doctrines that were forced upon the faithful church. The other thing that the decree did, was it banned all other religions, including the Pagan religion. That forced all of the Pagans into the church, and that caused even more Pagan doctrines and holidays to come into the church.

In 539AD, the Roman army was used to conquer the last of the Arians, and that capture of the Arians physically forced the entire church in the West to accept the Trinity doctrine. Justinian wrote the law giving Papacy the right to enforce any doctrine in both halves of the Empire shortly after the time of 539, and that law especially named the Trinity doctrine. The situation kept getting worse and worse after that, until the Papal system had enough power to institute the inquisition in about 1184, and they began to torture and burn at the stake all those who resisted the errors.

Even earlier than that, anyone who didn't say or preach what this system wanted to hear, was persecuted or killed, depending on the power that the system exercised. Their power varied from place to place and from time to time, during the history of the evil system, but in general they could persecute or kill throughout most of their history after 539. The power to kill and persecute was especially true after Papacy took control of the Image of the Beast and formed the eighth head, which was after 1179AD. See Foxes book of martyrs for a vivid and terrifying description of the horrors that this system brought against anyone who wouldn't conform to its errors after that time. 2 Thess 2:8-11 (9 that is, the one whose coming is in accord with the activity of Satan, with all power and signs and false wonders, 10 and with all the deception of wickedness for those who perish, because they did not receive the love of the truth so as to be saved. NASU

This again is not a literal buying or selling, although it was probably true that anyone who was branded as a heretic, would probably not be able to buy any worldly goods openly or sell any worldly goods at that time either. If they weren't outright killed, they would be shunned by everyone including the civil merchants. The more important meaning of this verse, is that the faithful saints were not allowed to preach against the false doctrines of the fallen church. If they tried to do so, they were persecuted or killed. Anyone that didn't believe the same false doctrines as the evil church did, was branded as a heretic. That is why we see the two prophets being killed in the middle of the Great City of Papacy.

Same As Two Prophets Lying Dead in Great City

That is the same thing that we saw in Rev Chapter 11, when the two prophets lay dead in the street for the 3.5 days = 3.5 X. They were not able to preach in the Papal church system, which is pictured as the Great City. For an explanation of why that is not 3.5 days, but should be looked at as 3.5 X 360, please consult the notes on that Chapter. It makes much more sense to look at that as being the entire 1260 years and not just 3.5 years at the end of the age as many do. That way, what we see is the scriptures not being used by the Papal church during that entire time of 1260 years, which historically was exactly what happened!

At that time, the truth couldn't be preached even indirectly by Gods word. They tried to keep the Bible hidden in the Latin language, so that only a few could read it. That is not to say the scriptures couldn't give a witness during that time, but they had to do it outside the evil church system, like Elijah did in his time. That witness is described earlier in Chapter 11, where we saw the two prophets testifying in sackcloth, which signifies mourning and implied a warning to the evil system that there was going to be a judgment for what was being done wrong. So, unless the mother church sanctioned you through the priesthood, and you preached what they wanted you to, you were not allowed to openly preach. Any attempt to do so otherwise, usually resulted in torture, banishment, or death.

Revelation 13:18

Rev 13:18 Here is wisdom. Let him who has understanding calculate the number of the beast, for the number is that of a man; and his number is six hundred and sixty-six. NAU)

The Number 666

The word used here for count or calculate means just that. So, that means that it should be possible to prove who the beast is, by doing mathematical calculations involving that number. The calculation of 1/3 being taken away, leaving 2/3 or .666, is a simple math calculation that ties the number 666 to this chapter, and to the removal of the one thirds of the first four trumpets, and a couple of other places.

When we considered the first four trumpets, we had noticed that each of the things being struck in the trumpets, was being reduced by 1/3. If you take 1/3 away from a complete unit of one, you have 2/3 left. It's no accident, that 2/3 translates into the decimal of .666 out to infinity. The same thing was true, regarding all the other one-third corruptions of several other symbols in the book of Revelation. The one third being removed, such as in trumpets and in the third of the stars being cast down in Chapter 12, showed us the corruption of the Faithful Church, as it was being changed into the 666 system.

The number six, is man's number, and is also related to Satan. When we were shown the corrupted system, reducing everything by a 1/3 in the first four trumpets, then we calculated that what was left of each symbol was .666. In other words, we see that what had been God's true and faithful religion, was step by step being changed into man's religion, which was being controlled by Satan.

In the following calculations, some might object to using  $1-.333=.666$  as a decimal number, because it's said that they did not have decimal numbers back in that time, and so we will show that God has been using this same method all through the Old Testament, but without using it as a decimal. In the book of Zechariah, we find this: Zech 13:8-9(8 "It will come about in all the land," Declares the LORD, "That two parts in it will be cut off and perish; But the third will be left in it. 9 "And I will bring the third part through the fire, Refine them as silver is refined, And test them as gold is tested. They will call on My name, And I will answer them; I will say, 'They are My people,' And they will say, 'The LORD is my God.'" NASU

In the Zechariah prophecy, we see that God is defining the two parts that are cut off as bad, and the one part that he takes out and refines in the fire, he is defining them as good. To prove that, we see that they are refined as gold and silver. So, when you see us use the decimal number one third or two thirds anywhere in this book, Zechariah Chapter 13:8-9 is the principle behind that calculation.

Cubits & 666

We believe that the Image of Daniel and the three Hebrews, is related to the Image of the Beast seen here in Revelation. We can show that the Image in Revelation, points to the Dark Ages system, by examining the Image found in Daniel Chapter 3 mathematically. Using what is called the prophetic 25-inch cubit, which is revealed and defined in Chapter 40 of Ezekiel, we find that there are some important mathematical relationships in that Image, that are very interesting and instructive. The original literal lengths of the cubits used in Bible times, were 18 and 21 inches in length. The 25-inch cubit is a prophetic one, a hands breadth larger than the largest normal one, which unlocks the chronology of the Bible, at an inch per year, Ezek 40:5. To see in more detail how this 25-inch cubit is used, see either reprint 6435 or the book "the Divine Plan of the Ages and its Chronology", in which the 25-inch concept is explored in great detail. We also discuss the 25" cubit in more detail in Chapter 21 of this book.

In Divine Plan of the Ages and its Chronology, we show that the prophetic 25-inch cubit can also be used to unlock the time features of the wilderness tabernacle, Solomon's temple, Ezek temple, and most other places that the cubit is used in the Bible. By using the 25-inch cubit in those areas, we constantly get repeating numbers that mean a great deal to us as Bible Students, regarding the coming kingdom. We get the numbers 1000, 6000, 7000, 2500, and even the 100 years of Isa 65:20! The time features found using this cubit, helps to confirm the Divine Plan, and the restitution of all mankind by the end of 7000 years.

The Image of Daniel

Using the 25-inch cubit key on the Image in Daniel, we get some interesting and familiar numbers. The dimensions of this Image were 6*6*60 cubits, which by itself indicates 666. It was 60 cubits in height and it was 6 cubits in breadth or 6*6.

Daniel's Image is shaped like the Washington monument, in that it is tall, with 4 edges or lines making the corners of the height of the Image. Taking one length or height of Daniel's Image which is 60 cubits, we find that  $60 \times 25 = 1500$ . Then taking the total of the 4 lines of the four corners which together make up the edges of the height of the Image, we get  $4 \times 1500 = 6000$  inches or 6000 yrs. From the fall of Adam in the garden, until 1874AD is 6000 years! Remember, blessed is he that comes to the end of the 1335 days of Daniel Chapter 12, which ended in 1874AD.

We find that the total dimensions of each end, are 4 times 6 cubits or 24 cubits. Taking 25 times the 24 cubits, we get 600, or  $24 \times 25 = 600$ . The number of the beast is given as 600 and 60 and 6 in the Greek text. Greek numbers are not written as we write ours, but they are written as separated out amounts of hundreds, tens, and ones. The original reprint article on the 25-inch cubit, showed us that you could get a lesson in some places, by using one cubit per year. Using both the one year per cubit method, and the 25 year per cubit method mixed together, we find another interesting number in the Image. If we take the  $25 \times 24 = 600$  inches or total years on one end, and the 60 cubits in the length, and 6 cubits of the breadth, we get  $600 + 60 + 6 = 666$ !

It's also interesting, that if we take the 60 cubits of the length, at one cubit per year, plus the prophetic figures of 600 inches from each end  $24 \times 25 = 600$ , we get  $600 + 600 + 60 = 1260$ ! If there was any doubt as to where or what time frame we should be looking at for the Image of the Beast, we should have some wisdom now, in that we have a positive method based on the scriptures themselves to calculate the number of the beast, and where in history to look! The calculated 25 inch numbers, are showing us that the Image was going to exist especially during the 1260 years. Just as Daniel gives prophetic numbers that reach to 1874AD, we see that the 6000 years from the Image points to the same date.

Another thing that is the same between Daniels image and the image in Revelation, is that in both places, if you did not worship the image, you were to be killed. But, one additional important thing that we see in Daniel, was that when the three Hebrews were cast into the fire, they were not burned up. The king saw that the three Hebrews were alive in the furnace, and that there was one like a son of man with them. That in a picture, shows us that we will be saved by our faith in God and in the Lamb.

More Witnesses of 666

There have been some interesting suggestions regarding the number 666 from others. There are actually many other names that have been suggested that would translate into 666, then what we include here, but the ones we picked out are the more likely ones, since they point positively to Rome and the Papacy. One of the suggestions is from an early church father, and the rest are from the Adventist movement, who also see the 666 pointing to the Papal system, which is the same belief as us.

An interesting suggestion was made by Irenæus, Against Heresies, Book 5, Chapter 30, paragraph 3. He was writing against heretics and he lived in 130-202AD. After warning that there would be a division of 10 first, he then suggested that the last beast of Daniel is what we should be looking at, not the name Rome, but the name "Lateinos", because they were the ones ruling Rome during his time. That name translates into 666 using the Greek number equivalents. History bears out that he was right about who it was going to be, because the seat of power of the Empire first moved to the East, but then when the Pope crowned Charlemagne the seat of power was again created in Western Rome. The numeric equivalents of Greek letters can be found in the Encyclopedia Britannica under "Languages of the World", Table 8.

Besides this we have another witness in the numbers found represented in the letters on one of the Popes crown. There are three Latin words inscribed on that crown, Vicarius, Felii Dei. That means the Vicarious Son of God, which is a false title and claim for the Pope. Using the system where each Latin letter is represented by a Roman numeral, the title adds up to 666. The name that is on the crown is falsely claiming that the Pope is reigning for Christ.

The name “VICARIUS FILII DEI” which is found on one of the Popes crowns, produces 666 using the Latin values for each letter. The Roman numeral values are: I = 1, V = 5, X = 10, L = 50, C = 100, D = 500, M = 1000.

Since the Jews were also a part of the prophecy regarding the 4 beasts of Daniel, and they were warned about the fourth beast, it would be interesting if we found that the name Rome would produce the same number in Hebrew number equivalents. See the Encyclopedia Britannica "Languages of the World", Table 50 for the Hebrew number equivalents. It turns out that it works perfectly if we use the word for "Roman Kingdom" which is "ROMIITH" and "Roman Man" which is "ROMITP".

Remember that two or three witnesses shall establish all things. These witnesses again show us that we should be looking at the Western Roman power, that Papacy created by crowning Charlemagne Emperor, and that kingdom was the Image of the Beast which was created in 799-800. Papacy then went on to take control of the new Empire after 1179, and that is why in Chapter 17, we will see the harlot riding on the beast and controlling it. At that point in time, the beast had an eighth head on it, because Papacy was controlling the kings of the new Western Empire, creating a theocracy. The original Roman Empire which was the seventh, still existed in the East, and it was also influenced and partially controlled by Papacy for a time. But when Papacy later on tried to take complete control of the Eastern church, that caused a split in 1054.

The Papal Badge of Keys above, taken from a Papal coin, is formed by a monogram. Which means it is made up of different Greek letters joined together. Breaking the image down into the original letters that form the monogram, and deriving their numerical value, gives us 666. The gold key claims the superiority of the Papal heavens over the silver key of the earth. Below on the next page, we find a close equivalent to the small letter xi laying on its back, being formed by the bottom cord and the lower part of the two heads of the keys, as shown. Next to it the drawing is rotated, showing the letter in its normal stance. The numerical equivalent of that letter is 60.

The two keys form an X at the left. The X is equivalent to 600. It may be that the lower half of the key heads that formed the small letter xi, should not be a part of the X, but we are not sure how the monogram was intended to be constructed, and it works either

There is a T on the top, which is equivalent to 6 as explained below.

Stigma (Ϛ) is a ligature of the Greek letters sigma (Σ) and tau (Τ), which was used in writing Greek between the Middle Ages and the 19th century. It is also used as a numeral symbol for the number 6.

Stigma \(letter\) - Wikipedia)
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Stigma\_\(letter\))

The three letters add up to  $600 + 60 + 6$ , which is 666. Those same three letters are actually used in some Greek texts to spell out 600 and 60 and 6 in the Greek.

Some Concluding Thoughts

If we review the facts, we should be able to see now that the later part of Rev Chapter 13, fits the apostate church and state system as a historically accomplished fact. It's not necessary to be looking for something else to fulfill this Chapter, because the fallen church-state system more than amply fulfilled all the things that were to be done by it.

Chapter 13, Appears to be Fulfilled

As to whether this fallen system will get power to persecute again, is not shown for sure one way or another by this Chapter. What the Chapter says will happen, has already happened during the dark time of 539-1799AD, and what we were told would happen, is that the beast was to get power for 42 months or 1260 years! Do we know for sure that this beast is done persecuting? We can't say that for sure, since the evil system would do anything to get their power back, but it is not as likely as it was before the destruction of the kings in WW1. Right now, the two-horned beast and the Image, as well as the original Roman beast, have been largely removed from the scene, regarding the symbols we have been looking at, especially after 1914-1918AD. The problem that we see at this time, is that both Papacy and the Protestants would like to get control of the civil power again, so that they can control the people again with their superstitious religious and other ideas.

Other Beasts Are Still in Existence For a Time

Daniel shows the fourth Beast being destroyed in a fire, but he also says that the other beasts will exist for a set time, and he does not tell us how long a time that is. They existed all during the time of the Roman Empire, and even during the church and state system. After the destruction of the kings in WW1, we now have the shattered pieces, which are the governments that we have yet today. We are not sure if the time that they still exist goes beyond the collapse of the system in WW1, or if that was the extent of what was meant by the angels statement. The set time, could be the 1260, 1290, 1335, or 2520, both of which we have shown elsewhere, has more than one application—regardless, we know the time is short. The last known date from those chronology cycles of 2520 was in 1989, which was the collapse of Communism, and the return of the Jews from the North.

Dan 7:11-12 (11 "Then I kept looking because of the sound of the boastful words which the horn was speaking; I kept looking until the beast was slain, and its body was destroyed and given to the burning fire. 12 "As for the rest of the beasts, their dominion was taken away, but an extension of life was granted to them for an appointed period of time. NASU

False Prophet Still Exists Today

The False Prophet, which descended from the Papal as well as the Protestant elements still exists, but the churches that makes it up have all lost the political power they had during the time that they were a part of the Image of the Beast. All of what is left of what had been called Christendom, is part of what makes up the False Prophet on this end of the age. We believe that the Eastern Orthodox are part of the fallen system, because they were involved in the corruption of the doctrines during the time of the first four churches. We can't say for sure that the False Prophet doesn't include Islam, since they are in what was the Eastern part of the Empire, but we are not for sure about that, since they have deviated from mainline Christianity even further than the furthest of any of the apostate churches. They only believe in Christ as being a prophet, and they don't see him as a savior. But then again, Papacy is not much better in its false doctrines, having displaced the truth of what Christ accomplished on the cross, with the Abomination of the Mass.

Could It Happen Again?

If there is anything that will replace it as a persecuting power, it would have to come from the modern religious and civil power that exists today. There are certain religious and civil elements that are trying to get power again. In other words, we need to keep watching, and wait and see if the Lord allows something to come up and remove the faithful church. The three unclean spirits shown in the bowls of wrath, have caused the start of the final time of trouble, called Armageddon, which is continuing to cause trouble since 1914, and which most likely will end in a final whirlwind of trouble before very long.

Whether the nominal Christian churches will get power back now, we don't know for sure, and so we watch and pray. Some of the churches have banded together in what is called the religious right, and they are working hard to get civil power for themselves, but whether that is successful or not, is not certain and so we need to watch just in case. Because the attempt by the churches to control the US military is actually happening, that is very dangerous, because the US has the most powerful military, and that would be very dangerous for anyone that disagrees with them if that were to occur.

The Lord is now in control of those kinds of events, and if he wants something to happen to close out the church that way, it will. Otherwise, the church could end in the whirlwind of trouble, or those who are spirit-begotten will simply be taken one by one as they complete their walk here on earth. The method will be up to our Lord, but we know that the age is ending very soon no matter the method.

Papal System Killed Jews & Bible Students in WW2

Has the false religious system lost all its power to persecute and to kill because of the loss of civil power after 1799? Unfortunately, the answer to that question is no. During WW2, there is historical documentation that shows that the Papal system was involved in the killing of Jews, as well as some other rival religious groups which included Bible Students. They didn't directly do the killings, but they encouraged the Nazi's to kill those with whom they disagreed with or wanted to get rid of. After the war, they then helped the responsible and guilty Nazi's to escape to South America. So, while we don't think that we need anything else to fulfill Chapter 13, we cannot rule out the fallen system of Papacy, or even the Protestants killing or persecuting us if they thought it was necessary.

Some of the religious right groups, appear to be of the type that could justify methods such as persecution or even worse, especially if they get political control and power. They would see us as heretics, because we don't believe in the Trinity doctrine, and as we saw earlier, that is a heresy to them, and that was part of the argument that was used to justify the taking of Ravenna away from the Arians in 539AD by force.

We sometimes look at the picture of John the Baptist and Herodias's daughter who pictures "Protestants", and who danced for Herod and pleased him. Her mother "Papacy", talked the daughter "Protestants", into asking for John the Baptist's head, and Herod the civil power, was forced to do it, even though he didn't want to. That was what closed out the Jewish age, and since John was the last prophet, some think that is a picture of what will happen on this end of the age. We again can't say for sure one way or another, because that is only a picture and not a type, we can only say that could be a possible close of the church. But since it's a picture, we caution everyone to continue to watch and pray, and to keep looking for whatever may happen.

There is something that has just occurred that may prove to be important. The newly elected vice president, originally a Catholic, is now a religious right follower, and if something happens to the newly elected president, the religious right would be in the position to use the power of the US presidency and government! There are many that think that the President elect, may not finish out his term, for one reason or the other. We will have to wait and see what happens.

So, we see that the existing religious system of this time, that has descended from Papacy and her daughters, is called the False Prophet, which we will see mentioned again in Chapter 16, and in Chapter 19. Don't forget that the entire religious system that exists today, descended from the original church and state system, and that the entire system was guilty of persecution and murder during the 1260 years. Beware!

Chapter 13 Shows the Rising-up Of Papacy into Power

Chapter 13, taken in its entirety, is showing us the gradual coming together of Christianity with the civil power, and it shows Christianity eventually gaining much power and influence over the civil power, especially after 799-1179AD. As we look at what was happening, we first see Papacy rising-up out of the existing order, and gaining in power and influence after 539AD. When they claimed that they were like Christ or representing him, they were speaking with the voice of Satan.

The two horns on the beast, showed that it not only had ecclesiastical power, but it also had civil power, and we saw that the two-horned beast was formed when the Papal States were given to it by Pepin. That it was like a lamb, shows that it claimed to be Christian, but it was not. That it spoke as a dragon, shows that it was claiming a civil power horn, after the Papal system gained political control of the three horns that had been plucked up. That it was like a dragon, also indicates that it was following Satan, who is symbolized by the dragon. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast.

Papacy Argued for Resurrection of Western Rome

Papacy supported the attempt to resurrect the Western Roman Empire in 799-800. He breathed life with his persuasive arguments, into the idea to create an Image to the original Roman Empire. That even further increased his power, when he later on took control of the Image—which happened after 1122-1179. What was created was an illegal Western Emperor 799-800, because Charlemagne was crowned by the Pope, who had no legal right to do that, because he did it on his own false authority, and not according to the laws of the original Roman Empire. Because Papacy crowned Charlemagne Emperor of the Western Roman Empire, that gave him the claim of control over the Empire that was created for the next 1000 years, but history shows that he was not able to take full control until after 1122-1179. There was a struggle back and forth, over who was to have the control up until that time.

The Bible pictures this church & state system, as an Image of the original beast, because it resembled the original Roman Empire in its goals, but it was not the same kind of Empire, in that the Emperors and kings were eventually appointed by and controlled by the Pope, which made it a theocracy. Charlemagne's son was instructed by his father, not to let the Pope crown him, and so they evidently understood the danger, and they were right.

Apostate Church Had Civil Power Murdered Saints

This apostate church and state system, persecuted the saints and killed all who wouldn't go along with them, and that got worse the more power they got control of. Starting in 539, they wouldn't let any buy or sell in the spiritual marketplace, unless they agreed with the evil system. In the early reformers time, the reformers were killed and persecuted by the church and state system. Later, when they made the system attempt to try to stop the spread of the Reformation, the reformers were branded as heretics, and killed or driven out, depending on how much control the system had over them. The Reformation succeeded because they had the support of some of the kings, who stopped the attacks by Papacy.

All who went along with the evil church system, received the symbolic mark in their forehead and in their hand, all through the time it was in power. That mark showed that they were supporting the system intellectually or with their thoughts, and they also supported it by the works of their hands, which meant that they were doing things for it.

Able to Bring Fiery Judgment on People

The ecclesiastical part was also able to show the world great signs of judgmental fire from heaven; in that it could exercise great and oppressive powers of judgment over the governments and the people. They claimed that the judgments that they handed out were coming from God himself. Another interesting thing, is that in Lev chapter 9, after Moses and Aaron came out of the tent of meeting and blessed the people, which is picturing the beginning of the Millennial age, then fire came down from God and burned up the sacrifice. The fire from heaven may also be related to Papacies false claim that he was representing God here on earth. This is what will happen in the next age, when the kingdom begins.

Lev 9:23-24 (23 Moses and Aaron went into the tent of meeting. When they came out and blessed the people, the glory of the LORD appeared to all the people. 24 Then fire came out from before the LORD and consumed the burnt offering and the portions of fat on the altar; and when all the people saw it, they shouted and fell on their faces.

That fire from heaven was very deceptive, in that it was claimed that they had this power as a God given right, and that all who opposed it were fighting against God. . It was also claimed, that anyone that went against the system, would burn forever in hell fire. During that time, there was also the concept of the Divine right of Kings, which claimed that God had given them the right to rule during the time of the Gentile times. God did not give them the right, he only allowed the kings to rule during the 2520 years, and we can see that he did not approve of how they ruled, because when the 2520 years was up, they were immediately removed from power. Only the saints who studied the Bible, could see that this was a false claim by both the Kings and Papacy, and that this evil system was indeed the great falling away that had been prophesied to come!

Papal Church State is Definitely the 666 System

That the numbers of the letters on the Popes crown add up to 666 is true, but critics of this method claim that it's too easy to come up with a system that does that. God has solved that by proving all things by at least two or three witnesses. The Image in Daniel, shows us the same number 666 through the 25-inch cubit. It also shows us where this unfaithful system had to exist chronologically. Mathematically it shows us the 1260 = 539-1799AD and the 6000 years which reached up to 1874AD. It's no accident that this is the same time which is described by the angel in Dan Chapter 12; 1260, 1290, and 1335. The third witness, is the fact that if one-third is removed from God's system of things, we get .666 or Satan's system.

We also are able derive 666 from the many names that apply to this evil system, in several languages. See detailed section for examples of those calculations.

The 144,000 Complete

The table above shows that just as the Lamb had overcome at the First Advent, we now see that the faithful 144,000 have followed in his footsteps, and have likewise overcome. Chapter 5 began the selection process of the New Creation, and here in Chapter 14, we see it completed. In Hebrews, we see that the Apostle Paul tells us that we have come to Mount Zion, and that we should not refuse the salvation being offered. In this picture, we see those who had accepted that call and who attained the highest reward, and they are on Mount Zion with the Lord.

Heb 12:22-26 (22 But you have come to Mount Zion, to the heavenly Jerusalem, the city of the living God. You have come to thousands upon thousands of angels in joyful assembly, 23 to the church of the firstborn, whose names are written in heaven. You have come to God, the judge of all men, to the spirits of righteous men made perfect, 24 to Jesus the mediator of a new covenant, and to the sprinkled blood that speaks a better word than the blood of Abel. 25 See to it that you do not refuse him who speaks. If they did not escape when they refused him who warned them on earth, how much less will we, if we turn away from him who warns us from heaven? NIV

We also see the contrast here of those that were faithful, to those that we saw in the previous Chapter 13 who were not. The rest of this Chapter and several other Chapters which follow, Chapters 14-19 especially, will show us the judgment and punishment of those who fell into the error of the fallen church and state system. This Chapter will warn the church against having anything to do with the beast and the Image, and it will also show us the punishment of those who ignore that warning.

Name of Father & Jesus Written on Forehead

Our Lord had promised the sixth church, which is the Reformation era church, that if they would overcome that he would write both the name of his Father and his name upon them, and here we see that very thing accomplished. This vision of them on Mt Zion with the Lord, shows the completed number of 144,000, which signifies a completed church

Rev 3:12 Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name. (KJV)

The New Song Equals New Covenant

The new song that is being sung here, is the same song that we saw the 24 elders sing in Chapter 5. There we saw that the message of the Old Testament had been changed into a new song, which represented the message of the New Covenant and the spirit of the law that was replacing the Old law covenant. This song is also about the plan of God that had been hidden from the foundations of the world, which was revealed when the Lamb had proven worthy. At the First Advent, the plan of salvation was being revealed through the Apostles, and that Gospel or good news has been preached ever since. That they sing the new song here, signifies that the 144,000 are complete, and that they understand the plan of God, and that it's now time to begin put the New Covenant into effect for the world. So, the difference is that we saw in Chapter 5 the New Covenant revealed, and here we see that it's time to implement it for the world.

That the 144,000 are the only ones who can sing that song, shows that the honor of being of the 144,000 is not an easy thing to accomplish. That only they can sing the song correctly here, shows that they will be the instruments used to bring the blessing of the New Covenant to the world, which is symbolized by the message in the song that they are singing. During their walk here on earth, they were the only ones that were able to sing that song, the rest of the world did not believe God's all-encompassing message of salvation. Eventually, in the next age, the world will learn the message of that song, as they walk up the highway of holiness.

Besides the understanding of the plan, they also have the same spirit as Jehovah and our Lord Jesus. They are willing to make personal sacrifices for others, especially when those sacrifices are needed to save and restore the entire world. They also have God's spirit of love, and they intend to save all who are willing. Those who have failed and have fallen into error, don't have God's spirit, and their message is very different, in that they have the spirit of the evil one, and they have blasphemed God by saying many untrue things about him.

Voice of Many Waters

The phrase "voice of many waters", is used elsewhere to describe the word of God. One key place that we find the voice of many waters is in Ezekiel 1:24. That link back to Ezekiel will be important later in this chapter, when we show the judgment of the nominal house. Ezekiel chapter one, as seen in the book "The Divine Plan of God and its Chronology", represents the 1845 year parallels, which points to that same judgment. We will also see the man with the writers inkhorn, and the six with slaughter weapons, which comes from Ezekiel chapter 9 and 10.

The 144,000 have a complete understanding of God's word at that point in time, because they have overcome, and they can sing in harmony with the Lamb about God's Plan of salvation. What we are also being given in this vision, is a brief description of what the 144,000 did to become overcomers. With the scriptures interpreted symbolically, we will see in the following verses that the fallen church which we saw in Chapter 13, did exactly the opposite of what the faithful did. That is another reason these verses are inserted here, setting up a contrast between the faithful here, and those who were not faithful.

No Woman Defiled

That no women defiled these and that they kept themselves chaste, is not literal as the Catholic system would like us to believe with the celibacy of their priests. It's symbolic and the key to understanding it, is in the verse that says that they followed the Lamb wherever he goes. That means that these overcomers follow the Lord, and not some man or a fallen church, as is indicated by the symbol woman. They followed the Lord, even if they were threatened with death, as was described in the previous chapter. The fallen church is guilty of following the woman that is riding and controlling the beast in Chapter 17. These ones that didn't follow the harlot and were pure, and they are ready to become the bride of Christ. That is one of the things that the rest of this Chapter warns the church about, when it tells them not to worship the beast and the Image.

One problem that many have fallen into, is that they follow their church leadership in doctrine and actions without question. As we have seen in the previous Chapter, and will see again in this Chapter, and later again in Chapters 17-19, there was to be a great falling away of the faith. So, to unquestionably follow a church's leadership without getting our own understanding from the scriptures is very dangerous. Because of that attitude, many have lost out and are following the harlot or one of her daughters without being aware of it. Even Bible Students of today, need to be careful that they don't do the same types of things wrong in an even more subtle way than what the nominal system was guilty of. Remember the two warnings about not falling down at the feet of the angel later in Revelation, those warnings are given for a reason!

The 144,000 didn't do that, but they have followed the leadership of our Lord and the Bible. They also allowed the Holy spirit to influence them and guide them in their understanding. Therefore, it says that they followed the Lamb "wherever" he goes. In other words, when they saw in his word that they needed to change their course or to leave a church that was not following the Lord, they did so without question.

Don't Be Wedded to Earthly Organization

The faithful church like Elijah all through the age, has had to separate from the apostate church system, fleeing from Jezebel. Later in Rev, we are told to leave the evil system, which is when the scriptures tell us to "come out of her my people Babylon". Thus, the church is to be chaste and pure and ready to be the bride of Christ, and not wedded to some earthly organization.

Didn't Have Any Lie

That these don't have any lie of doctrines in their mouths, contrasts with the fallen church that contains nothing but lies from their father the devil. The mouths of the 144,000 have nothing but blessed things to say about God and the plan that he has provided for the salvation of mankind. The fallen church blasphemes the name of God with their false claims and with the doctrines of hellfire and Trinity.

First Fruits

That these are first fruits, shows that the faithful of the church are selected and brought to God first, before the salvation goes to the world. There are many other references that show that the 144,000 of the church are to be first fruits unto God. In the law, which was a type and picture of this, the Israelites were to bring the first fruits of the field to God.

Exod 23:19 The first of the first fruits of thy land thou shalt bring into the house of the LORD thy God. Thou shalt not seethe a kid in his mother's milk. (KJV)

They are Blameless

Revelation 14:4 PP7 [For they are spotless]: this has to do with moral or spiritual purity. The same Greek word is used of Christ in <Hebrews 9:14> and <1 Peter 1:19>, and of people in <Philippians 2:15, Colossians 1:22, Jude 1:24>. Some English translations have "blameless"; RNAB has "unblemished," and Brc translates "faultless in their purity." One may also express this as "they have never done any evil things."

(from UBS Translator Handbook Series)

Unlike the Great Company, the 144,000 were quick to come to the throne of grace when they made a mistake and to ask for forgiveness. The Great Company doesn't do that, and hence the spotted robes that we saw in Chapter 7 that needed to be cleaned by the blood of the Lamb. The 144,000 kept their robes spotless from the world as they went along, while the Great Company didn't, and were only able to be saved because of the cleansing of the blood of the Lamb.

The three angels that we see next, bring different messages, which are messages of warning to that system. The messages that we see, are all important as regard to what the fallen church is doing wrong. The following are the messages of truth and warning that come from the three angels, and how they relate to the fallen Babylon church. The messages also contain warnings of punishment, if the warnings are not heeded.

Revelation 14:6-12

Rev 14:6 And I saw another angel flying in midheaven, having an eternal Gospel to preach to those who live on the earth, and to every nation and tribe and tongue and people;

Rev 14:7 and he said with a loud voice, "Fear God, and give Him glory, because the hour of His judgment has come; worship Him who made the heaven and the earth and sea and springs of waters."

Rev 14:8 And another angel, a second one, followed, saying, "Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, she who has made all the nation's drink of the wine of the passion of her immorality." (NAU)

Rev 14:9 Then another angel, a third one, followed them, saying with a loud voice, "If anyone worships the beast and his Image, and receives a mark on his forehead or on his hand,
Rev 14:10 he also will drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is mixed in full strength in the cup of His anger; and he will be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels and in the presence of the Lamb.
Rev 14:11 "And the smoke of their torment goes up forever and ever; they have no rest day and night, those who worship the beast and his Image, and whoever receives the mark of his name."
Rev 14:12 Here is the perseverance of the saints who keep the commandments of God and their faith in Jesus. (NAU)

The third angel sums up the difficulties and trials that were going to be coming from the three messages that were just given, and the explanation uses a word that means patience. There are many aspects to the word patience, one of which is endurance, as in James 1:3. If we examine the history of the 1260 years of the tribulation on the church, we can see that many fell away, which is what we will be shown at the close of this chapter with the punishment of the winepress. We can also see that 144,000 passed the test, and those are who we see standing on Mt Zion with the Lord at the beginning of Revelation chapter 14.

Rev 13:7-10 (7 And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and there was given to him authority over every tribe and people and tongue and nation. 8 And all that dwell on the earth shall worship him, (every one) whose name hath not been written from the foundation of the world in the book of life of the Lamb that hath been slain. 9 If any man hath an ear, let him hear. 10 If any man (is) for captivity, into captivity he goeth: if any man shall kill with the sword, with the sword must he be killed. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints. ASV

There is a question about the three angels seen in the midst of heaven in Rev chapter 14, and one of them is bringing forth knowledge about the everlasting salvation that Christ had secured on the cross, and in the symbol that he uses, he is also warning of the fall of the church. The other two angels are giving direct and clear warnings to the faithful church about the coming of the great falling away of the church that had been predicted to happen. There is a question on this chapter that has to do with whether these same three angels are later on added to the other four angels at the end of chapter 14, making a total of seven doing the punishing and harvesting at the time of the destruction of the vine of the earth. The total of seven angels of judgment and punishment, would then parallel the count of seven angels in the prophecy of Ezekiel chapter 9, which has the man with the writers inkhorn and the six others with slaughter weapons. The six men in Ezekiel chapter 9 with slaughter weapons, slay all who did not receive the mark of the Lord in their foreheads—with the man with the writers inkhorn being the seventh, who is symbolic of the Lord Jesus, and he is marking the faithful in the forehead with his mark all through the Gospel Age. If we have seven angels doing the punishing, we can then also look at the seven bowls of wrath as being parallel to the seven angels here.

Before we leave this chapter, we are going to show that there actually is a total of seven angels that had messages and rules to follow through the entire age. All seven of the angels bring out God's rules and laws that need to be followed by the faithful, and they will all be found together at the end of the age where we see the judgment and punishment taking place. Because of that, there is no doubt to us that these three angels are also included in the seven fold punishment.

Once we have shown that they are all involved in the punishment at the end of the age, then we will have proven that the Man with the Writers Inkhorn and the six men with slaughter weapons form an important picture that is an exact parallel of this chapter. We will also be able to see that the vision of destruction at the end of this chapter, is the same as the seven bowls of wrath and the vision shown in chapters 18-20. We will look into the possibility before we are done here, to see if the seven angels seen here are related to the seven messengers to the churches.

It's easy to see that there are seven angels involved in this chapter, if we see that the first three angels are also being included in the punishment, along with the other four angels at the close of the chapter. In other words, whoever ignores the three warnings of the first three angels, and the warnings of the other four angels that we will reveal later, will face the slaughter weapons of all seven at the end of the age. In our explanation of each angel's warning, we will also include the punishment that they will give out at the end of the age, as they and the four other angels together punish the fallen church. Because the fallen church system during the time of their 1260 years of power over the faithful church had completely violated the warnings from all three angels, then at the end of chapter 14 we will see that the sinful violations that they had carried out in the fallen Babylonian church, is what brought the harvest time punishments upon them—which is pictured by the casting of the vine into the winepress.

Some Interpretation Difficulties

One difficulty that is causing a problem for the interpretation of this chapter, is because of how Revelation chapter 14:6-12 is being looked at by most brethren. A lot of brethren are still waiting for the creation of the image of the beast, which is part of the warning of one of the three angels in this chapter. Our understanding which is different, is that the Christianized Roman beast gradually came into existence during the time of 313-539 AD, just before the start of the 1260 years that the evil system was to be in power. The beast that was wounded in the head by the sword, was the Christianized Roman Empire beast which was overran by barbarians in 476 AD—that beast was restored and elevated into Ecclesiastical power by 539 AD. The image of the beast, which was brought into existence by Papacies arguments, was created in 799-800AD. That was when Papacy who is symbolized by the two horned beast, had talked Charlemagne into creating a new Western Empire in 799 AD. That new Empire was a created image of the original Roman beast that didn't exist in the West at that time, and it was brought into existence by Charlemagne allowing himself to be crowned Emperor of the West by Papacy in 799-800.

Because of that different understanding, we don't feel that the symbol of the image still has to come into existence future from our time like many brethren still do. Most brethren don't realize that Pastor had borrowed a lot of the interpretation of Revelation from other early Adventists groups, and there were some things that were not really understood correctly by them either. Pastor shortly before he died, said that he would not write Revelation because he didn't fully understand it either—some brethren after he died wrote the seventh volume, which encourages a wrong understanding of Revelation that still exists yet today. When the angel told John that the sixth head existed at John's time, that is what we as Bible Students should have accepted, instead of moving the angel's statement into the future along with the other Adventist's groups—that has made it impossible to understand what Revelation is telling us, but if corrected everything in Revelation becomes a historical court record that was written in advance by God.

The Christianized Roman beast still existed in the East at the time of the creation of the image, as is actually stated in the later part of chapter 13, where it is said that the Western Image was created in the sight of the first beast. Rev 13:14 And those who are on the earth are turned from the true way by him through the signs which he was given power to do before the beast; giving orders to those who are on the earth to make an image to the beast, who was wounded by the sword, and came to life. BBE

Another timing difficulty, is that most brethren believe that when the second angel says that Babylon has fallen, they believe that the message about Babylon falling is the same event and at the same time as the complete falling and destruction of Great Babylon shown in chapter 18. We see in chapter 14, that what is actually meant when it says Great Babylon has fallen, is that she had fallen morally and not literally—you can fall either literally to your destruction or you can fall morally according to Strong's definition. We believe that the B metaphorical definition of falling from Thayer's Lexicon, is what applies to this chapter as we will explain.

NT:4098 b. metaphorically,

α. to be cast down from a state of prosperity:

β. to fall from a state of uprightness, i. e., to sin: opposed to hestanai, 1 Cor 10:12

γ. to perish, i. e., to come to an end, disappear, cease: used of virtues, 1 Cor 13:8 (from Thayer's Greek Lexicon, Electronic Database. Copyright © 2000, 2003, 2006 by BibleSoft, Inc. All rights reserved.)

To help prove that the Revelation chapter 18 fall of Great Babylon is different, we see that it has more adjectives describing the literal fall of Great Babylon, showing us that the fallen church was even more corrupt at the time of its actual literal fall, than she was at the time of the metaphorical Revelation chapter 14 fall! Another important difference that we have noticed, is that the angels in chapter 14 are seen while they are still in the midst of heaven—implying a different and earlier time. The angel that announces that Great Babylon has fallen in chapter 18, does so after the angel is said to be coming down to the earth, showing us that it is at a later point in history. The context of the chapter shows us that this coming down to the earth, was when the Lord was coming to judge the fallen system and to take his power in 1874 and to begin to reign. That beginning of the Lord's reign, was going to punish and destroy Great Babylon for both the civil and ecclesiastical crimes that she had committed during the time of her power.

An Examination of the Three Angels Messages & Warnings and the Punishment from the Three Angels

An important question is: when did all three angels give their messages and warnings, and how do we date them? As we have looked at this chapter, we have had several different thoughts on the timing of the three angels. The answer once seen, actually turned out to be a very simple one—the timing is given in the context of the messages of all three angels.

Another point we are going to make, before we look at the messages of the three angels, is that if anyone ignores the warnings given by the three angels, those same three angels will be the ones that will come and join the other four angels and they will punish them at the end of the age. That is shown to us at the end of the chapter, with the harvest of the vine of the earth and the throwing of it into the winepress.

When we look at the latter part of the chapter, we will explain how the other four angels seen at the end of the chapter, also gave their warnings of what not to do before the corruption of the church happened. It would do no good to wait until the corrupt church had fallen into extreme error and then give the warnings—the same thing is true regarding the first three angels and their message of warning that we are going to look at first.

The Seven Angels Warning First, Then Punishment on the Evil System

An important thought that came out of this chapter, is that the seven angels that we will show in this chapter giving warnings, seem to be the same seven angels who are messengers to the churches. We also saw that since the seven trumpets to the churches are directly linked to the bowls of wrath by the events that are described in them, it seems likely that the seven angels that execute the punishment of the seven bowls, are the same seven angels or messengers that we saw come out of the temple in chapter 15. In other words, since the seven angels of this chapter had warned the church not to get involved with the evil system, and to resist it, then they then were given the privilege of executing the judgment and punishment of the bowls, and the harvesting of the church out of the world. In other words, every place that we see seven angels, are most likely the same seven angels, but perhaps being seen at different times.

It's not completely clear whether these seven angels are actual angels, or if they are the earthly messengers that Christ and the Holy Spirit used in each church period. It seems likely to us that they would have been the earthly messengers at first, but when we see them coming out of the temple in garments of beauty, that would be after the time that they had passed away, and then they are definitely heavenly messengers or angels, and they were that way because they had passed their testing, and they are being allowed to execute the judgments written. So as we examine each set of angels, we need to keep in mind that they are faithful earthly members of the church at first, and then they are raised in glory after they have proven to be faithful. The only difference in what we have just said above, is that Brother Russell would have been doing his part on the earth at first, but then after he passed away, he would have joined the other angels, making a total of seven.

As we examine the seven angels of chapter 14, we will attempt to determine from history, what the church was guilty of in each church period.

First Angel

Angel one was said to have a mission to preach an eternal message of salvation to all who live on the earth, and it was to be over every nation, tribe, tongue, and people. In Rev chapter 17:15, we see that those are the same symbols of society that the harlot sat on, showing us that the Harlot early on had illegally taken control of the peoples and nations before the Lord's time of the earthly kingdom. The answer regarding the timing of this angel, is found in a simple question which asks: when was the church first given the mission to spread and preach the eternal gospel? The answer to that question is that the early church was given the mission to preach the eternal gospel to all peoples and nations at Pentecost, which was at the beginning of the first church period.

The early church was also warned about the coming apostasy, and we will see that there were symbolic warnings hidden in the statements that the first angel made, which points us to the trumpets, and the corruption of the spiritual heavens, the earth, the sea and the springs of water, which was shown to us during the vision of those trumpets. The angel told the faithful church to fear God and to give him glory, because the hour of his judgment had come, and to worship him who made the heaven, the earth, the sea, and the springs of water. The last three symbols named by the angel, were symbols from the first three trumpets that were going to be corrupted in the first three churches. They were named in the exact same order that the corruption occurred in in the first three trumpets—the corruption of the spiritual heavens that was named first by the angel, is actually pointing to the fourth trumpet, which names all of the symbols found in the heavens—the fourth church is also the time at which the system had been fully corrupted into being a 666 system.

Some think that the renewed preaching command that is mentioned in Revelation chapter 10, is the same as the first angel's Commission. That is an attempt of interpretation, which is designed to try to bring the message of the first angel up to this end of the age, but there is a problem in the wording of the command given in that chapter that does not agree with that thought. In Rev chapter 10, the church is told that they have to preach the gospel “again”, which is not the same as the command to “begin” to preach the gospel. The beginning of the preaching was what was accomplished by the first angel in Rev chapter 14—the second and different round of preaching at the time of the seventh angel, had become necessary because of the failure of the fallen church to reform, and because they had thrown away and completely lost the message of salvation that they were supposed to be preaching to the world. That renewed preaching will eventually bless the world of mankind, but first it must complete the church.

The Punishment From the First Angel

Each of the three angels will at the end of the age be involved in the punishing of anyone who violated the warnings that they gave earlier in the Gospel Age. After we explain each of the three angels warnings, at the end of each explanation, we are going to show what each angel’s punishment is for any individual or any institution that didn’t heed the warning.

The 1845 year judgment parallel that points to 1878 AD, judged and removed many of the corrupt individuals that had lost their crowns as shown in the final downfall of Great Babylon in chapters 16 and 18-19, and the fallen ones were going to need to be replaced by others, so that the 144,000 would be completed. The 1845 year parallel brought about the judgment of the evil system because they had failed to heed the first three angels warnings and admonitions and the warnings of the other four angels we will explain before we finish chapter 14. Great Babylon at the end of the Gospel Age, had fallen not only spiritually by the time of its final judgment, but the evil system at the end of the age was going to fall literally and completely, and be destroyed as a viable system, as shown in chapter 18.

One complaint that some will probably make about this interpretation, is that they believe that the hour of judgment was only coming at the time of the end, in either 1799 or in 1878 AD. But in actuality the hour of judgment was all through the entire age, in that the hour of judgment has to be passed by everyone, starting from the early church, until the last member of the 144,000 has been selected and proven faithful. The final judgment that occurred at the 1878 date, was the rendering of a verdict for every member of the church that had fallen asleep since the early church, and that is what the brethren who believe the hour of judgment was only at the harvest time are looking at—but it is only the final verdict of a process that had gone on during the entire Gospel Age for the sleeping saints. Those who were still alive and who passed that same judgment after 1878 AD, were resurrected immediately after they had faithfully finished their walk on earth, because that date was the time that they did not have to sleep in the earth anymore.

Second Angel

The second angel gave his message which was for sure after the first church. What is the clue for the dating of his message? What historical event would cause them to be called a spiritually fallen Babylon the Great in the second church? The second angel said that they had caused the nations to fall because of the wine of the passion of their immorality? The question for us is when did that first happen—we know that the nations were already corrupted by Great Babylon at the end of the age, but what we are looking for here is when did it first start to happen? The early church, in the second time period of the seven churches, was complicit in accepting the idea that Rome and the church should begin to work together as a church and state system. They started coming together in 313 AD, and they were in full partnership with Rome by 539. They had started the process of church and state working together in 313 AD when Constantine made the church the favored religion of the Empire. The scriptures show us that the unity of church and state was considered by God to be harlotry, because they were not being faithful to their first husband, who is our Lord Jesus.

The nations of the earth, through the agreements Justinian made that put Papacy in charge of the church of both halves of the Empire, began to especially drink the wine of her immorality fully after the time of 539, and the further unity of church and state that occurred after that, caused the complete corruption of both the church and the nations—which is why what came into existence at the time, is labeled by the scriptures as the Great City or Great Babylon.

The process of the beginning of a worse corruption is described in Rev 13:2, which was where the so called Christian church, was given three important things by the dragon Satan—and those three things quickly changed the faithful church into a fallen Great Babylon, which was called Papacy after that time. The three things given the fallen church at about the date of 539 AD, was the use of the power of the army to enforce orthodox doctrine, the throne of the beast, and great authority—they should not have accepted any of them, because our Lord in the 40 days in the desert, rejected the very same three offers that Satan had made to the church in 539. The power given to the Papal system by Emperor Justinian, was that the bishop of Rome was to be recognized as the head of the church over the entire Eastern and Western Empire, and that occurred very close to the 539 date—it was encoded into Roman law a few years after 539, and it wasn't long before the bishop of Rome began to be called the Pope.

The original Roman throne was given to the fallen church when they gained control of the city of Rome in 539, which was when the Arians surrendered to the Roman army, giving up control of the city, and after that date the civil throne of Western Rome became Papacies throne, even though the other half of the Empire still had its throne of power in the East. The temptation that came from the control of the throne of civil power, seems to be what started the church down the historical road of trying to gain full control of the Empire, which they did actually accomplish later on, in around 1100-1200—which is when the woman or harlot is riding the beast, as we are shown in chapter 17. The other very important great authority they were given at that early time of 539, was the ability to use the power of the armies of Rome, which allowed them to force their will on everyone that did not agree with the Pagan doctrines they were bringing into the church.

Punishment at End of Age from Second the Angel

The punishment for ignoring the warning about church and state, was that all churches who had been involved in church and state systems, were rejected by the Lord because of their unfaithfulness. They also lost the civil power that they had in 1914-18, and after that time they had no way of punishing those who did not follow that fallen systems doctrines anymore. That final punishment included both Papacy and her daughter systems. In looking at this chapter, we discovered that the initial punishment which began in 1914, was not the full destruction that was going to come upon the evil system just before the kingdom, which we will be shown in later Revelation chapters. That final punishment is when the false religious systems will be captured by the Lord, and that systems existence will be fully ended so that the people in them can be freed from error, and begin their walk up the highway of holiness.

Angel Three

We at first thought that the third angel was pointing to the time of the fourth church, because that was where the harlot had finally gained full power and control over the image of the beast, mounting the beast and riding it as we are shown in the vision of chapter 17. We are also looking at the third angel as the one issuing a warning to the faithful church not to get involved with the creation of the image. This warning had to of been given just before the time that the image was coming into existence. Because of the need to warn the system ahead of time, regarding the punishment that they will bring upon themselves if they begin to worship that evil system, then we should be looking at the third church period, because of the timing of the end of that church period, is a perfect time for that kind of warning. If we use the theoretical 360 per church, and we start in 1878.25, which is the exact end of the 1845 judgment parallel, we then get some interesting dates. We get 1878.25, 1518.25, 1158.25, and then 798.25, which is at the very end of the third church and just before the start of the fourth. There is another date for the beginning of this church, which would be 3.5 years earlier, but we believe that the date we used in each church period, which is 3.5 years after the start date, is actually the judgment date of each preceding church.

The third angel, at that time, warned the church not to worship the beast and the image. This warning is fairly easy to understand, in that the original Christianized beast still existed in the Eastern part of the Empire in 799 – 800, but there had not been a Roman Empire in the West since Rome had fallen to the barbarians in 476 AD. When Papacy crowned Charlemagne Emperor of the West in 799-800, that was when the “image” of the original Western Roman beast was created. It was not an actual Western Roman beast, because it was at first made up of French and German tribes and it was not created from Roman power, and for that reason it was called an “image of the beast”. The French made up part of the image for a time, but it wasn’t long before they lost their power in the image, and only the Germans were in control of the Image after that, and that image is what eventually became what was called the Holy Roman Empire.

It looked like the original Roman beast, in that it was imitating the original Roman beast with its traditions and laws. The new counterfeit Western image of the beast was created by the false arguments of the two horned Papal system—the two horns had been created from the civil and ecclesiastical power that Papacy had acquired when he gained control of civil lands, which started with the control of the city of Rome and it became especially true after the Papal States were given to Papacy by Pepin. The creating of the image of the beast was a bad mistake, because it later on turned into the terrible system of a theocracy of church and state in the Western Empire. That was when it began to kill all who did not agree with it. The warning given by this angel, was to not worship the “Eastern Roman Beast” or the newly created Western “image”, and if that warning had been heeded, the new evil system that literally persecuted and killed many, would not have come into existence.

That the first three angels messages, line up with the first three churches, is very interesting. We think that it is that way, because the three angels were giving warnings about what was going to come in the fourth church. When we looked at the symbols that the first angel mentioned in his warning, there is one more symbol that we did not cover yet. That is the heavens symbols that the fourth trumpet showed to us. That was the final corruption of the church, in that there were ten symbols that had been reduced to 666 by the end of the fourth trumpet. That was what the three angels were warning about, and that is why they had warned the faithful church just before that time, to not fall into the trap of the evil system—unfortunately the warning was ignored.

Punishment & Destruction from Third Angel

The punishment that comes from the third angel, is the most severe of all three, in that it warns about the total destruction of that system, and that the cup of the wine of the wrath of God which was mixed in full strength in the cup of his anger, is poured out on them. They are also to be tormented with fire and brimstone, and their smoke of their torment goes up forever in the presence of the holy angels and the Lamb. Those symbols indicate to us, that we need to look at the seventh bowl of wrath, and also chapters 18-19 where the Great Babylonian system is shown being totally destroyed.

We believe that the symbols of fire and brimstone began their destructive work in 1914-18, but that they have not completed their total work upon the fallen system yet. The symbolism shown to us, indicates that there will be a full and final destruction of the evil system—but even though the system itself is being destroyed, the people in it who repent when they see the blessing of the kingdom will be saved, but only with an earthly salvation as shown in the sand of the sea shore part of the Abrahamic Covenant.

Some of those of the Gospel Age church who made to many errors, will be assigned to the Great Company class. Others, depending on the judgement of the Lord regarding what they did during their walk on the earth, and the judgment of the Angel of the altar, will decide which class of salvation that they will belong to. The angel of the altar will also check them in regard to their understanding and the use of the blood of the Lord on the cross, because the Abomination of Desolation had established the Mass as a replacement for the completed sacrifice that the Lord had made on the cross. Some periods of the church will not be judged as harshly, because the scriptures regarding salvation were not allowed to be used by the laity, and so they did not know the full truth of what was going on. If the scriptures were available to them, and they still followed the Mass as being their only means of salvation, those who could have studied the scriptures and determined the truth about the Lord will be in trouble, because only the blood of the Lord from the cross has saving power. If they did what they should have done during their walk during the Gospel Age, and they did the seven different things that the 144,000 were supposed to have done, then they will be assigned to the 144,000 that we saw at the beginning of chapter 14. Only the Lord will be able to make the decision about where everyone belongs, in regard to the salvation that they had earned during the Gospel Age.

The Seven Angels of Destruction

Below is an outline of how all seven angels come together at the end of chapter 14, to complete the seven fold punishment and destruction. We will have a more full description later, of how the last four angels fit into this outline.

Angels 1-3: The judgment of the sins caused because the fallen church had ignored the three angels messages and warnings, and that is what has caused many of the members of that evil system to lose out and fall with Great Babylon in the seven different pictures of Great Babylon's destruction. Because of what they had done wrong during the Gospel Age, they had Satan's 666 stamped into their forehead and on their hands, and they did not receive the Lord's mark or seal of sanctification like the faithful church had—the work of their hands for the evil system, and their mental attitude regarding their love for that church and state system, is what eliminates many from the chance of winning a crown.

The man with the writers inkhorn from Ezekiel chapters 9-10, is Christ who is the one putting the Lord's mark of sanctification onto the forehead of all who are fighting against that evil system—the placing of the mark of sanctification is all through the entire Gospel Age, not just at the end. The three angels from chapter 14 that gave the initial messages and warnings, are three of the six men with slaughter weapons who are shown to us in Ezekiel chapter 9, and they help slay all who had ignored and disobeyed their warnings. The six doing the slaying, symbolically represents the number of man or Satan, and that shows us that they were being symbolically slain because of their earthly and Satanic ideas, the 666.

Angels 4-5: The angel that came out of the temple, cried out with a loud voice for the Lord on the cloud to harvest the earth. Each place a loud voice is used in Revelation, signifies a command to do something or is a judgment or both. Matt 13:30; but gather the wheat into my barn. ""

Angels 6-7: The seventh angel who had the power of destructive fire, 1 Cor 3:10-15. The destructive coals of fire, also pictures the ransom doctrine and the forgiveness and removal of sin, as shown in Isaiah chapter 6. The seventh angel came from the altar, and he commanded the sixth angel that had come out of the temple with a sharp sickle, to harvest the corrupt vine of the earth, and the sixth angel did that and he cast the vine into the winepress, where its lifeblood was crushed out—313-14 + 1600 = 1914 AD.

Final Judgment and Verdict From the Last Four Angels

We have now seen how the first three angels gave their warnings during the first three church periods. We also saw them doing their judgment and punishment work down on this end of the age, where they were allowed to participate in the destruction of those who had ignored the warnings that they had given earlier.

Rev 15:5-7 (5 After these things I looked, and the temple of the tabernacle of testimony in heaven was opened, 6 and the seven angels who had the seven plagues came out of the temple, clothed in linen, clean and bright, and girded around their chests with golden sashes. 7 Then one of the four living creatures gave to the seven angels seven golden bowls full of the wrath of God, who lives forever and ever. NASU

The question that this generates, is when did the other four angels give their warnings so that they could be a part of the seven on this end of the age, and what information or warning did they give that was or will be punished? As we will see below when we look at that question, the last four angels gave some warnings about important things that the church should or should not have done. But since their messages were not given in this chapter, we found that we needed to look elsewhere in Revelation to find out what they were.

We will find that angel five is paired with angel four, and that angel six is paired with angel seven, and that each of the two pairs have their own message or doctrine that is part of the testing needed during the Gospel Age. The four angels on this end of the age carry out God's end time testing's and judgments, so that the faithful can be separated from Babylon the Great, which was going to have a final and total fall, as shown in chapter 18.

One other interesting and most likely important point for us, is that the angels that do the testing in chapter 14, are also separated into two groups of three angels and then four angels. The same thing is true of the bowls of wrath in chapter 16. That separation is marked by the difference in how the bowls are poured out. In the first three bowls of wrath, the bowls are poured "into" the symbols that were to be destroyed, and they appear to be destroyed almost immediately during the 1914-18 war. The earth or society was destroyed, and the lifeblood of the evil system was removed, and the churches corrupt doctrines were allowed to be corrupted even further, by the influx of an earthly spirit. Because of those first three punishments of bowls 1-3, those who had spiritual life and who continued to support Great Babylon, lost their chance for a spiritual life with a crown of glory.

The last four bowls of wrath have the bowls poured out "onto" the symbols that were to be destroyed by them, and that destruction also began in the 1914-18 time, but not everything was immediately destroyed, like what had happened with the first three bowls. What we discovered, was that the last four bowls of wrath do destroy all of the symbols that they were poured out on, but in order to see the full destruction it is necessary to look at chapters 18, 19, and even chapter 20. So when we study chapter 18 in detail, we think that we will need to pay particular attention to any symbols that are being destroyed there, and we need to determine which symbols are related to the last four bowls or even the last four angels in this chapter, because they are most likely showing us events that are later than the symbols that are associated with the first three bowls.

Angels Four & Five Judge & Reward the Faithful

Rev 14:14 Then I looked, and behold, a white cloud, and sitting on the cloud was one like a son of man, having a golden crown on His head and a sharp sickle in His hand. NASU
Rev 14:15 And another angel came out from the temple, “crying with a great voice” to him that sat on the cloud, Send forth thy sickle, and reap: for the hour to reap is come; for the harvest of the earth is ripe.

14:16 And he that sat on the cloud cast his sickle upon the earth; and the earth was reaped.

Angels four and five are paired and work together, and we believe that angel six and seven are also paired and work together. In the pairing of angel four and five, we have a judge which is angel five, and an angel that rewards the faithful, which is angel four, who is our Lord Jesus. In the pairing of angel six and seven, we have an angel that judges, which is angel seven, and we have an angel that punishes and destroys the evil sinners, which is angel six.

The ones that were judged faithful and who were worthy to be harvested, were shown to us in the beginning of this chapter, and that is where we will look first for the reasons that they were selected to be of the 144,000.

Rev 14:3 And they sang a new song before the throne and before the four living creatures and the elders; and no one could learn the song except the one hundred and forty-four thousand who had been purchased from the earth.

Rev 14:4 These are the ones who have not been defiled with women, for they have kept themselves chaste. These {are} the ones who follow the Lamb wherever He goes. These have been purchased from among men as first fruits to God and to the Lamb.

Rev 14:5 And no lie was found in their mouth; they are blameless.

The Following List is What the 144,000 Needed To Do, in Order to be of the 144,000.

#1 Purchased from the earth by the Lamb’s blood #2 Not defiled with corrupt churches, as symbolized by the symbol “women” #3 Kept themselves Chaste—not wedded to the harlot #4 Follow the Lamb wherever he goes—following Christ, and not the evil system

#Purchased from among men as first fruits to God and the Lamb—the world will be later after the church is complete #6 No lie found in their mouths—they have pure doctrines about God’s salvation and no false doctrines that blaspheme God #7 Blameless—they have not made the mistake of violating the warnings that were issued by the angels, all seven. We discussed some of the seven properties of the 144,000 at the beginning of the commentary on chapter 14. See the beginning of the chapter for more information on those seven principles.

In the second pair of angels, we have an angel that does the judging and then because of the negative judgment against the ones who were tested, he commands the other angel to punish those who failed the testing. The punishment that they received, was because of the failure of the fallen church to repent and begin to do what the Lord was looking for in the faithful saints. In both places, the one commanding his partner angel does so with a “loud voice”. The “loud voice” seems to indicate either a command or a judgment, or both as we see here. There is a judgment and then a command to the other angel to act.

The Warnings About Not Following the Spiritual Jezebel by Angel four

In the above scriptures, we have Seven properties of the 144,000, by which they were judged worthy to be selected. The command of the messenger to the fourth church, was to make sure that you did not accept the doctrine of the harlot, which was symbolized by Jezebel, who was busy corrupting the church at that time. Jezebel was given the warning in the fourth church, that God would punish her in each of the next three churches. Jezebel is warned about a bed of affliction that was to come in the fifth church, and then a great tribulation that was to come in the sixth church, and the killing of her children in the seventh church. That is exactly what happened, in that she had great doctrinal affliction in the fifth church, because the Crusaders brought back many strange doctrines. The killing of the children in the seventh church, is exactly what happened when the judgment of the 1845 year parallel fell on that system in 1878 AD. The system was not immediately destroyed because the Lord wanted to get as many as he could out of the evil system before the time of punishment was to begin. The punishment began in Sept-Oct 1914 AD, which is exactly where the chronology from Daniel and from Revelation, said that it was due to begin.

Fifth Angel

The fifth angel of judgment that is seen here doing the judging, has the same judgmental properties as the angel of judgment that our Lord had satisfied in Rev chapter 5, and we now see this angel paired with the faithful Lord Jesus, judging favorably those of the church who had passed the testing of the gospel age. The ones selected by the fifth angel, are some of the 144,000 who were seen with the Lord on Mt Zion at the beginning of chapter 14, and they all had the seven properties that we listed above.

The great or loud voices that are uttered by angels five and seven, symbolizes that there are important judgments and announcements taking place at the end of the age. Every time in Revelation that there is a “great voice” or a “loud voice”, there is a judgment or an important announcement or a decision taking place. We see what is most likely the same judgmental type of angel or the same angel “with a Loud voice” that was seen earlier in Revelation chapter 5. That was where we saw our Lord Jesus pictured as the Lamb of God, and we saw that he was the first and only one that was judged by that angel as being found worthy to receive the scroll from the Heavenly Father. That was a favorable judgement for the Lamb of God that resulted in a favorable outcome for the church and the world—we see the same thing happening here in this chapter, but this time with the faithful church being judged worthy to each receive a crown of glory.

Our Lord Jesus in chapter 5, had satisfied the angel of judgement, by being able to keep God’s Mosaic law, when no one else had been able to do so. The harvest we are being shown here in chapter 14, is the harvest of all of the faithful who had received the mark of sanctification by the Lord in their forehead, all through the age. In Ezekiel, the man with a writers ink horn is our Lord Jesus, who is shown marking all of the faithful in the forehead, all through the entire Gospel age, with the mark of the spiritual sealing of the Lord. In order to receive that seal, they needed to accept the merit of our Lord Jesus’s sacrifice of blood on the cross in order to have forgiveness of sins.

In looking for some earlier work by the church that proved their faithfulness, or that tells us what they had proclaimed at the time of their church period, all we have to do is look at the fifth seal for what was going on in that church, where we see the souls under the altar that had been slain for the word of God. They are definitely some of the faithful saints that we will see being harvested out of the earth at the harvest time. The key thing that we are told, is that they were killed because of this: Rev 6:9 they were of those who had been slain because of the word of God, and because of the testimony which they had maintained; NASU

That tells us that the fifth angel’s message to the faithful church, was about the need to restore the scriptures which had been banned for many years by the fallen church. Only through the scriptures would the church be able to determine what was true salvation, and what was not.

The ones shown in the fifth seal, already had been judged by the Lord Jesus as being worthy to be counted with the faithful, because they were each given a white robe to wear, and they were told that they needed to wait for a time “360”, until the harvest at the end of the age.

In the “time” calculations, we started at the end of the 1845 year parallel and counted 360 backward in time, and we got  $(1878.25 - 360 = 1518.25)$ . The date 1518.25, is approximately the end of the fifth church and the start of the sixth, which would agree with a “time” being 360. There is actually a 3.5 year time period at the beginning of each church period, which would subtract 3.5 years from that calculation, but we are not sure which date is intended for the end of the church period. That 360 years was the amount of time after the close of the fifth church that they would have to wait for the judgment and the punishment of their enemies to come 1873.75 – 1877.25. The actual punishment was 40 years after the 1874 – 1878 dates, which was the time of WW1.

Rev 6:9-11 (9 When the Lamb broke the fifth seal, I saw underneath the altar the souls of those who had been slain because of the word of God, and because of the testimony which they had maintained; 10 and they cried out with a loud voice, saying, "How long, O Lord, holy and true, will You refrain from judging and avenging our blood on those who dwell on the earth?" 11 And there was given to each of them a white robe; and they were told that they should rest for a little while longer, until the number of their fellow servants and their brethren who were to be killed even as they had been, would be completed also. NASU

Another key test that the 144,000 had to pass, was for them to keep their faith in the blood of the Lord and the ransom, and to reject the doctrine of the Mass, which was the Abomination of Desolation. We see that test in the vision of the angel of the altar in chapter 8, where he took coals of fire off of the altar, and he cast them into the earth. That shows us that the coals of fire from the altar, were to be a test over the entire earth during the Gospel Age.

Isa 6:6-7 shows us the meaning of the symbolism of the coals of fire off of the altar. Rev 8:5 Then the angel took the censer and filled it with the fire of the altar, and threw it to the earth; and there followed peals of thunder and sounds and flashes of lightning and an earthquake. NASU

Isa 6:6-7 (6 Then one of the seraphim flew to me with a burning coal in his hand, which he had taken from the altar with tongs. 7 He touched my mouth with it and said, "Behold, this has touched your lips; and your iniquity is taken away and your sin is forgiven." NASU

Another place that it tells us about the importance of the blood of the Lamb, is in Rev chapter 12, where it tells us that the blood of the Lamb is what enabled the church to overcome the devil.

Rev 12:10-12 (10 Then I heard a loud voice in heaven, saying, "Now the salvation, and the power, and the kingdom of our God and the authority of His Christ have come, for the accuser of our brethren has been thrown down, he who accuses them before our God day and night. 11 And they overcame him because of the blood of the Lamb and because of the word of their testimony, and they did not love their life even when faced with death. 12 For this reason, rejoice, O heavens and you who dwell in them. Woe to the earth and the sea, because the devil has come down to you, having great wrath, knowing that he has only a short time." NASU

Angels Six & Seven Judge & Punish Great Babylon

Rev 14:17 And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, and he also had a sharp sickle. NASU

Rev 14:18-19 (18 Then another angel, the one who has power over fire, came out from the altar; and he called with a loud voice to him who had the sharp sickle, saying, "18Put in your sharp sickle and gather the clusters from the vine of the earth, because her grapes are ripe." NASU

The sixth church, is the church that had restored the meaning of the word Grace. They also did a great deal of work in regard to restoring the scriptures. In the fifth church, only small parts of the scriptures were able to be shown to the church. In this church period, the scriptures were eventually published in a bible that included the Old and the New Testament, and that restoration of the scriptures is what eventually led to the Divine Plan of the Ages in the next church period.

That the angel who had the power over the fire of the altar, came from the altar, shows us that the judgment that this angel is making was based upon the fire of the altar, which has a couple of applications. One is that the fire of judgment was going to test everyone, to see if their work would stand the test of fire, but only those who based their work on the foundation of Christ will stand the test, and they will receive a reward. Those who built on earthly rewards and ideas, will lose any heavenly reward that they could have gotten, 1 Cor 3:10-15, but they would be saved, but as through fire.

Another problem, is that the fallen church very early on had thrown away the scriptures that would have informed them about the importance of the blood of the Lord's sacrifice on the cross. Angel number seven, had cast the coals of fire off of the altar into the earth at the beginning of the age, which symbolically represents a Gospel Age test regarding the sacrifice of the Lord and the ransom. Those who rejected the blood of the Lamb and the ransom doctrine in the favor of the Mass, will be among those who suffer loss of their reward in the fire.

When we were looking for a previous judgement by the Lord that was going to destroy the tares at the time of the judgment and punishment of the seventh church, we actually found several places, and that is what we should have expected. One place that we found a warning and a judgment was in the message to the fourth church period. There we see that we have a message from the Lord Jesus himself: Rev 2:18-23 (18 "And to the angel of the church in Thyatira write: The Son of God, who has eyes like a flame of fire, and His feet are like burnished bronze, says this: 19 'I know your deeds, and your love and faith and service and perseverance, and that your deeds of late are greater than at first. 20 But I have this against you, that you tolerate the woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess, and she teaches and leads My bond-servants astray so that they commit acts of immorality and eat things sacrificed to idols. 21 I gave her time to repent, and she does not want to repent of her immorality. 22 Behold, I will throw her on a bed of sickness, and those who commit adultery with her into great tribulation, unless they repent of her deeds. 23 And I will kill her children with pestilence, and all the churches will know that I am He who searches the minds and hearts; and I will give to each one of you according to your deeds. NASU

The above message from the Lord in the fourth church period, is on the very topic that we are looking at, and that message gives us the information that the symbolic Jezebel who was “Papacy”, was teaching the Lord’s servants to commit acts of immorality, and to eat things sacrificed to idols. The eating of things that were being sacrificed to idols, was the false doctrine of the Mass that the system embraced, and that doctrine had been fully established by the time of the fourth church. In the Abomination of the Mass, they were symbolically sacrificing our Lord Jesus over and over again in the Mass, thinking that they needed to supplement Christ’s original sacrifice on the cross in order to cover new sins that were committed after the time of the cross, and sins committed between the times of the Mass.

They had forgotten that the Lord Jesus had paid the price once and for all times, and for that reason the true salvation did not need anything else to be done in order to save both the church and the world. We as Bible Students should also be very careful that we do not embrace any idea that subtracts from the full saving power of the blood of the Lord—we are also being tested on that important doctrine.

Heb 9:25-28 (25 Nor did he enter heaven to offer himself again and again, the way the high priest enters the Most Holy Place every year with blood that is not his own. 26 Then Christ would have had to suffer many times since the creation of the world. But now he has appeared once for all at the end of the ages to do away with sin by the sacrifice of himself. 27 Just as man is destined to die once, and after that to face judgment, 28 so Christ was sacrificed once to take away the sins of many people; and he will appear a second time, not to bear sin, but to bring salvation to those who are waiting for him. NIV

The warnings that our Lord gave in the message to the fourth church, actually needs to be applied to the next three churches. First there was a bed of spiritual sickness in the fifth church, which was the influx of more Pagan doctrine which was brought back to Western Rome by the Crusaders. There was to be great tribulation in the sixth church, and that was obviously the Reformation that split the Protestants from the Papal church. The French revolution was also a big part of the tribulation that came upon the Papal system at the time of the sixth church. Our Lord in the seventh church killed Jezebels children or tares with spiritual death, after they had been judged unworthy to be of the 144,000. That is the same event and the same result, as the casting of the vine of the earth into the winepress that we are shown here in chapter 14.

The message of the seventh angel to the seventh church, warned the fallen church system that they would be spewed out unless they purchased gold refined by fire, white garments, and eye salve to anoint their eyes from the Lord. In other words, they needed to get some of the pure truth that had stood the testing of fiery times, the white garments of salvation that were provided by Christ's blood, and spiritual eye salve so that they could see the truth, and recognize their faults. They needed to be able to see that they were really spiritually poor, blind, and naked, etc., and that they would need to overcome that in order to be accepted by the Lord.

Rev 3:15-18 (15 'I know your deeds, that you are neither cold nor hot; I wish that you were cold or hot. 16 So because you are lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will spit you out of My mouth. 17 Because you say, "I am rich, and have become wealthy, and have need of nothing," and you do not know that you are wretched and miserable and poor and blind and naked, 18 I advise you to buy from Me gold refined by fire so that you may become rich, and white garments so that you may clothe yourself, and that the shame of your nakedness will not be revealed; and eye salve to anoint your eyes so that you may see. NASU

Another place that we saw a judgment and a punishment being brought against the Babylonian church, was at the time of the seventh trumpet.

Rev 11:17-18 (17 "We give You thanks, O Lord God, the Almighty, who are and who were, because You have taken Your great power and have begun to reign. 18 And the nations were enraged, and Your wrath came, and the time came for the dead to be judged, and the time to reward Your bond-servants the prophets and the saints and those who fear Your name, the small and the great, and to destroy those who destroy the earth." NASU

The one place that we did not mention yet, is the seventh seal, which is written in symbolic language, that has hidden what the seventh seal represented. When we looked at that seal in our study, we found that the message that was being given by that seal, was judgment. That showed us that the system had been judged guilty in 1878, and the punishment would come in 1914 AD. As to how the about a half hour of silence indicates 1914 AD, we refer you to the full notes on Revelation chapter 8, where that is explained.

There was also great persecution that was going to come from this evil system, and it was going to have to be overcome and resisted by the true saints, and that terrible persecution of God's saints, is one of the reasons that Great Babylon was going to be punished and destroyed on this end of the age.

Rev 13:7-10 (7 It was also given to him to make war with the saints and to overcome them, and authority over every tribe and people and tongue and nation was given to him. 8 All who dwell on the earth will worship him, everyone whose name has not been written from the foundation of the world in the book of life of the Lamb who has been slain. 9 If anyone has an ear, let him hear. 10 If anyone is destined for captivity, to captivity he goes; if anyone kills with the sword, with the sword he must be killed. Here is the perseverance and the faith of the saints. NASU

Rev 13:14-18 (15 And it was given to him to give breath to the image of the beast, so that the image of the beast would even speak and cause as many as do not worship the image of the beast to be killed. 16 And he causes all, the small and the great, and the rich and the poor, and the free men and the slaves, to be given a mark on their right hand or on their forehead, 17 and he provides that no one will be able to buy or to sell, except the one who has the mark, either the name of the beast or the number of his name. NASU

Because the Lord had judged the fallen Babylonian system as being guilty as we saw above, and the many other times that the scriptures condemned them in advance, we see that the seventh angel used all of that information in the judgment that was used to determine the final sentence against the fallen church and state system. Once angel seven had found the Babylonian system guilty, by looking at the many proofs that the scriptures had brought against their fallen church and state system, he then called for the sixth angel to cast the corrupt vine into the winepress of God's wrath. There we saw the system destroyed and its life blood crushed out of it, but we believe that the individual people will be saved, with them being in either the Great Company or they will be brought back in the kingdom as earthly individuals, depending on their level of consecration.

In this section, we have looked at the thought regarding the possibility that the seven angels seen in chapter 14, are the same angels as the seven messengers to the churches. Since we were able to link some of the messengers to the churches, to the seven angels doing the harvesting and the destruction of the fallen church system, it appears that is correct. If that is correct, then the bowls of wrath and even the events of Great Babylon's destruction in chapter 18, are all related to each other. We will keep that in mind as we study further in order to see if there is more evidence showing that these angels are either all the same individuals, or if they are not

In the next section, we will first look at the chronology of Ezekiel chapters 2-3, and then we will examine the rest of the chapter verse by verse.

Bible Chronology

The chronology associated with the next two tables, comes from Ezekiel chapters 2-3, where we have the prophecy of the 40 and the 390 years. That chronology is directly related to the judgment that was going on at the time of the seven angels of Ezekiel chapter 9, and so we have included it. The 1845 year parallels are also found imbedded in the description of the four Cherubim of chapter one, and for that reason, the 1845 harvest parallels are a needed part of any interpretation of the seven angels of chapter 14, but we have not included that diagram because it is included in the full Revelation notes. The punishment part of the 1845 parallels is included in the 40 and 390 table below.

In the chronology of book two of the Divine Plan and its Chronology, we show a triple parallel table based on the 390 and the 40 years. The table has three columns, the chronology parallelism of the time of Babylon, the First Advent and the Second Advent. The table shows us in the third column that Papacy was struck and greatly weakened in 1799 when the kings were separated from the Papal part of the church and state system. Then as the step by step historical time of the end progressed, it shows that the entire religious system including the Protestants, were hit again in 1914-18, which was when the entire civil power of the kings of the church and state system was destroyed and removed at the time of the second blow—1914-1918.

There is still more destruction of Great Babylon that has to yet occur, because many of the broken up elements and pieces of the system still exist—Daniel shows that the broken up pieces will be removed by a great wind in time for the kingdom, which can be war or anarchy or both, and that final whirlwind will blow away the pieces. We are told that some beasts will exist for a time after the image of the beasts destruction, but we are not told for how long.

THE FALL OF EMPIRES

The Mark of the Beast

The reference to worshiping the beast and receiving his mark on the forehead or on the hand, is pointing us back to Chapter 13, where we have the vision of the Image of the Beast. Not everyone agrees that the beast and the Image existed during that time, but if you examine the Study Groups notes on Chapter 13, you will find that the visions seen in Chapter 13 occurred during the 42 months mentioned in Rev 13:5, which translates into the 1260 years of 539-1799AD. If you don't see that during that time was when the evil system was at the height of its power, that is ignoring chronology and a lot of terrible history that agrees exactly with what that Chapter says the evil system did wrong. Yes, we can't say that the evil system won't rise back up to be a persecuting power again, but even that idea recognizes that the evil system had already existed with terrible power during the 1260 years. If we see that the beast and the Image existed at the height of that systems power during the 1260 years, then we should seriously consider the idea that these warnings were being given right at that time.

The Smoke of their Torment

The punishment of tormenting with fire and brimstone, is not hell fire as some believe, but it symbolizes a testing and purging. Fire is symbolic of testing as we see in: 1 Cor 3:13-15) 13 Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is.

14 If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward.

15 If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; yet so as by fire. (KJV)

The idea that those who worship the beast and the Image are going to be tormented by literal fire forever as seems to be stated in verse 11, is not correct. The word torment used here means touchstone as we will see below, and that symbolizes or shows that their mistakes will be remembered forever, so that no one else will make the same mistake. They will be an example of what not to do, and they will suffer their embarrassment for all time, for their part in that evil system. Those who are totally repentant of that misguided support, will most likely be vigilant guards against that ever happening again.

Bad Things are the Touchstone Forever

The root of the word for tormented is a touchstone. It can be used as "tested or tried" as we see in the following definition:

931 basanos (bas'-an-os);perhaps remotely from the same as 939 (through the notion of going to the bottom); a touch-stone, i.e. (by analogy) torture:

KJV-- torment.

Strong's #929, is from root word #931

From the Analytical Greek Lexicon Revised, edited by Harold K. Moulton

"To apply the lapis Lydius or touchstone; met. to examine, scrutinize, try, either by words or torture; in N.T. to afflict, torment; pass. to be afflicted, tormented, pained, by diseases, Mat.8.6, 29, et al.; to be tossed, agitated, as by the waves, Mat. 14:24.

We find that Thayer's Greek Lexicon also agrees that it means touchstone, and that the torment or testing is done to derive the truth of a matter.

Liddle and Scot = to rub against the touchstone, to try the genuineness of a thing. Tried and tested in the minds of the obedient ones.

We also see that the same word is not translated torment in Math 14:24. It means that the ship was tossed or, in other words, tested by the waves.

Matt 14:24 But the ship was now in the midst of the sea, tossed with waves: for the wind was contrary. (KJV)

The idea is that the bad things that the system and the adversary did, will be used as a touchstone forever and ever. In other words, anything that would even resemble the bad things they did will not be allowed to happen again. For that reason, the memory of this evil system is to be kept as a touchstone, so that anything that is false or sinful when examined in light of this touchstone, will be immediately recognized as being bad.

The symbol brimstone is similar, in that it indicates a burning up or removing of the evil system, so that it will never come back. So the meaning of the reference to fire and brimstone above is not burning in hell fire as some believe, but it indicates a torment and testing of those who are in opposition to God and a removal of all of their works that don't stand up to the test as seen in the 1 Cor Chapter 3 reference above.

Worship God Not the Evil System

We also see that we are told to worship God, and not the fallen church and state system. The 666 mark is not a literal mark, but just as we saw in Chapter 13, the mark on the forehead signifies that you intellectually support the evil church and state system. The mark on the hand indicates that you work for it and support it with your labor. See the notes on the mark of the beast in Chapter 13 for more information on the mark.

That the ones who fall into this failed class will not have any rest, is like the nation of Israel, who also failed to enter the rest of God as explained in Hebrews Chapter 4. That does not mean that they will be tormented forever, but it means that they have not accepted God's salvation and entered a rest of faith. Even though many of these individuals will repent and be restored in the kingdom, the memory that they fell into the deception of that system and failed, will be a part of their and others memory forever.

Heb 4:1 Let us therefore fear, lest, a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to come short of it. (KJV)

The church members who are being judged as failed here, will forever have lost the prize of the high calling—just as the nation of Israel did. That is one of the things that the 1845 year parallels show us, in that just as the Jewish house was passed over because of unbelief and idolatry, that will also be the portion of the spiritual house that early on lost their knowledge of truth about the blood of the Lord on the cross and then later refused to re-accept the truth of what our Lord Jesus had accomplished on the cross.

Trinity Causes Wrong Doctrine About Salvation

The apostate churches would deny that they have serious doctrinal problems. But because of their belief in the Trinity, they cannot accept that Jesus is a corresponding price. Jesus is the corresponding price because he was one actual perfect man “Christ”, who’s perfect life paid for one fallen man “Adam”. Because Jesus ransomed Adam from the original sin, that perfect solution has freed the entire race from the sentence of sin and death and that means that all can be restored to full life rights during the Millennial age.

Rom 5:18-19 (18 Consequently, just as the result of one trespass was condemnation for all men, so also the result of one act of righteousness was justification that brings life for all men. 19 For just as through the disobedience of the one man the many were made sinners, so also through the obedience of the one man the many will be made righteous. NIV

The Trinity doctrine cannot admit that Jesus gave up everything and became only a man on earth, because the nominal house still thinks that he was still man + God while he was here on earth. Jesus could not be both, and pay the price for Adam and humanity, as we see explained in Hebrews and 1John.

*Heb 2:14-17 (14 Since the children, as he calls them, are people of flesh and blood, Jesus himself became like them and shared their human nature. He did this so that through his death he might destroy the Devil, who has the power over death, 15 and in this way set free those who were slaves all their lives because of their fear of death.

16 For it is clear that it is not the angels that he helps. Instead, he helps the descendants of Abraham.

17 This means that he had to become like his brothers in every way, in order to be their faithful and merciful High Priest in his service to God, so that the people's sins would be forgiven.(TEV)

*1 John 4:2-3 (2 This is how you will be able to know whether it is God's Spirit: anyone who acknowledges that Jesus Christ came as a human being has the Spirit who comes from God.

3 But anyone who denies this about Jesus does not have the Spirit from God. The spirit that he has is from the Enemy of Christ; you heard that it would come, and now it is here in the world already. (TEV)

The faithful church that we see in verse 13 are said to have entered God’s rest, and they are being contrasted to those who didn’t. There will be much weeping and gnashing of teeth by those who find themselves to be a member of the failed church after the Gospel Age is complete. They will never forget their shame of having been a part of such an evil system and falsely claiming to be of the Lord, and in that sense the smoke of their burning or loss will go up forever. They are not literally burned up, but their claims of being faithful to the Lord are burned up when they are tested by the fire of 1 Cor Chapter 3, and they suffer the loss of their reward.

Patience of Saints Also mentioned in Rev 13:10

The perseverance or patience of the saints mentioned in verse 12, was previously mentioned in Rev 13:10, which was just before we saw the rising-up to power of the two-horned beast and the Image, which again tells us what we are fighting against—the corrupt doctrines and practices of the fallen church. In chapter 13, the church was being warned to stay separate from the terrible things that were coming, and here they are being warned again to stay separate, and not worship that same terrible beast and Image. Patience and standing against the fallen system by the saints, is mentioned here as being the test, and it confirms that the last message of warning being given here, is being given just before the time that the system had reached its height of power, which was when the harlot began to ride the image.

The Rev 13:10 warning message, was given just before Papacy fully acquired its church and state power. Papacy began taking control of the newly formed Western beast after 799AD, but it was not fully in power over the civil power until about 1100-1200AD, which is where the early reformers are found in the stream of time. In other words, the third angel is warning that the faithful church needs to stay away from the deceptive and seductive power that this church and state system had fallen into.

*Rev 13:10 He that leaded into captivity shall go into captivity: he that killed with the sword must be killed with the sword. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

Rev 14:12 Here is the patience of the saints: here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus. KJV

This is a very serious warning to the faithful church, that they should not support the church and state system that had come into full power by that time, and it warned that there was going to be a severe test upon the church because of that—which is the same as the 1845 year judgment parallel that the Jewish system had failed. They not only would have to resist the temptation of the money, power, and prestige offered by the fallen system, but when they did resist it, they would have to be able to stand up to torture and even death. History is full of the terrible atrocities that this evil system perpetuated against the faithful saints in the name of the Lord during that time.

Revelation 14:13-16

Rev 14:13 And I heard a voice from heaven, saying, "Write, "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from now on!" "Yes," says the Spirit, "so that they may rest from their labors, for their deeds follow with them."

Rev 14:14 Then I looked, and behold, a white cloud, and sitting on the cloud {was} one like a son of man, having a golden crown on His head and a sharp sickle in His hand. (NAU)

Rev 14:15 And another angel came out of the temple, crying out with a loud voice to Him who sat on the cloud, "Put in your sickle and reap, for the hour to reap has come, because the harvest of the earth is ripe."

Rev 14:16 Then He who sat on the cloud swung His sickle over the earth, and the earth was reaped.

Dan 12:12 Blessed is he that waited, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and five and thirty days. (KJV)

Rev 19:9 And he saith unto me, Write, Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, These are the sayings of God. KJV

Isa 57:2 Those who walk uprightly enter into peace; they find rest as they lie in death. NIV

Heb 4:9 There remained therefore a rest to the people of God. KJV

In the next section of verses, we will see three more angels, plus the Lord sitting on the white cloud. The first angel had started publishing the doctrine of eternal salvation that the church needed, and the other angels had brought warnings, like the warning not to worship the beast and the image. Because of those warnings and publishing of truth, the next three angels will be carrying out a judgment that is based upon the truth about salvation and the warnings about the beast and the image that were given by the first three angels. Those who did things correctly, symbolically following the Lord wherever he went, will be harvested out and they will receive a crown and reign with him in the millennial age, just as we see shown in the beginning of this chapter. Those who did not do what they should have, will symbolically be cast into the winepress, which shows us that they will be punished for worshipping the beast and the image and doing other things wrong, and because of that, their punishment is that they will lose out on the privilege of being of the 144,000.

The six angels and the Lord on the cloud make a total of seven beings, and as we discussed in the earlier section before this one, all seven of these angels issued warnings of one kind or another. That same thing is pictured in Ezekiel chapter 9, where we are shown the prophecy about the man with the writers inkhorn, who was marking all who were sighing and crying about the things being done wrong by God's people. In that prophecy after the marking of the faithful, there were six men who were ordered to slaughter all who were not marked in the forehead by the man with the writers ink horn, "who is Christ". In Revelation chapter 14, those who are symbolically killed, had violated the warnings of all seven angels, and so they are removed because they were worshipping the evil system, and they had forgotten the truth about the eternal salvation that the church had been given at its start. The seven angels that are in this portion of the chapter as we discussed earlier, are carrying out the judgment of the fallen church system, which judged all who were still worshipping the remnants of the beast and the image that still existed on this end of the age, as being guilty—all who were guilty of that false worship all through the age, are retroactively judged and punished. The judgment is shown in this chapter to retroactively reach back at least 1600 years to the initial merger of church and state, as we will show when we get to that portion of the verses.

As we had seen earlier in the interpretation of this chapter, the man with the writers inkhorn in Ezekiel symbolizes Christ. The prophecy in Ezekiel is a picture of the judgment that comes at the harvest time of all three ages—the time of Babylon, the First Advent and the Second Advent. We have provided a table of that chronology in chapter 10, which is from Ezekiel chapter 4, which shows that all three ages were judged and punished by the 390 and 40 years. The link below will take you to that table, and another link will bring you back here.

Rev 5:2 And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a loud voice, "Who is worthy to open the book and to break its seals?"  Rev 5:5 and one of the elders * said to me, "Stop weeping; behold, the Lion that is from the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, has overcome so as to open the book and its seven seals."	Ezek 8:5 Then He said to me, "Son of man, raise your eyes now toward the north." So I raised my eyes toward the north, and behold, to the north of the altar gate was this idol of jealousy at the entrance. Ezek 9:2 Behold, six men came from the direction of the upper gate which faces north, each with his shattering weapon in his hand; and among them was a certain man clothed in linen with a writing case at his loins. Rev 14:19-20 (19 So the angel swung his sickle to the earth and gathered the clusters from the vine of the earth, and threw them into the great wine press of the wrath of God. 20 And the wine press was trodden outside the city, and blood came out from the wine press, up to the horses' bridles, for a distance of two hundred miles.	Rev 7:9 After these things I looked, and behold, a great multitude which no one could count, from every nation and all tribes and peoples and tongues, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, clothed in white robes, and palm branches were in their hands;  Rev 19:20 And the beast was seized, and with him the false prophet who performed the signs in his presence, by which he deceived those who had received the mark of the beast and those who worshiped his image; these two were thrown alive into the lake of fire which burns with brimstone.	Ezek 9:5-6 (5 But to the others He said in my hearing, "Go through the city after him and strike; do not let your eye have pity and do not spare. 6 "Utterly slay old men, young men, maidens, little children, and women, but do not touch any man on whom is the mark; and you shall start from My sanctuary." Ezek 3:19 "Yet if you have warned the wicked and he does not turn from his wickedness or from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but you have delivered yourself.

Ezekiel Chapter 9

Besides the table above, we are next going to summarize the link between Ezekiel's prophecy and the man with the writers inkhorn, and Revelation. We see that the marking on the forehead account in Ezekiel Chapter 9, parallels this Chapter in Rev 14, in that here we see the 144,000 who were marked with their Fathers name on their foreheads, showing that they were faithful. The marking in the forehead does not only occur at the end of the age, but that marking and separating occurs all through the Gospel Age—showing that the man with the writers ink horn is Christ, sealing the church in the forehead with his mark in the forehead, as is described in Revelation chapter 7.

Rev 7:3-4 (3 saying, "Do not harm the earth or the sea or the trees until we have sealed the bond-servants of our God on their foreheads."

*4 And I heard the number of those who were sealed, one hundred and forty-four thousand sealed from every tribe of the sons of Israel: NASU

These are the ones who are harvested out of the earth by our Lord Jesus, the angel on the cloud. In Ezekiel, the faithful are marked on their forehead by the man with the writers inkhorn, who is also Jesus, with the intent that all of the rest who don't have the faithful mark of the Lord would be slain. The marking in the forehead in Revelation is mentioned in Rev 7:3 which is quoted above, where it talks about the saints needing to be sealed before the earth and the sea could be harmed.

In Rev Chapter 14, those who were not faithful are cast into the winepress, with the same result as the spiritual deaths in Ezekiel, which symbolizes removal of the Lord's favor and the loss of any reward that they were going to get.

Six With Slaughter Weapons in Ezek Six Angels in Rev 14

In Ezekiel the sinners were symbolically slain by the six men, because they were guilty of having earthly corruption, idolatry and Satanic ideas. The ones who are slain here in Rev 14, are those who have accepted man's doctrines and who have rejected God's, just as what had happened in the time of Ezekiel, and at the First Advent. If we count the number of angels in this Chapter, we find that there were three giving warnings, and that there were three more angels seen after the vision of our Lord on the cloud who is the seventh, and that is the same number of seven individuals that we find in Ezekiel.

We will also see that the seven bowls of wrath in chapter 16, are going to do the same work of destruction of that fallen system, as what the six angels plus the Lord do in this chapter, but with much more detail. As we mentioned earlier, there are actually seven different pictures of Great Babylon's destruction, that show that destruction from seven different viewpoints.

Guilty of Secretly Worshipping False God's

In Ezekiel Chapter 8, we are shown that the ones who were slain, had been secretly worshiping false God's in the temple. That is what the first angel flying in the heavens in chapter 14 warned about, telling all to worship the one who made the heavens and the earth. The worship of idols is the same thing that the fallen church has been doing, in that they had brought strange and false Pagan doctrines into the church, fooling the people by claiming that they were from God, Ezek 44:6-9. In both places they are judged guilty, and the result is that they are removed from the Lords arrangement, and not recognized by him anymore. Those who were spirit-begotten and who have failed will become Great Company, Ezek 44:10-14.

The Ezekiel picture, symbolically shows us the judgment in the time of Ezekiel, the time of Christ, and the time of the harvest on this end of the age—three different ages of harvest work. In the book, “The Count of the Years”, and in chapter 10 of this book, we have a chronology table that is derived from the 390 and 40 years of Ezekiel chapter 4, showing the 390 and 40 years in all three ends of the age. See the link we placed earlier in this chapter, that jumps to Revelation chapter 10 and the 390-40 chronology that relates to the time of the harvest and the 1845 judgment. We also included that same chronology table at the end of the discussion regarding the three angels.

Ezekiel Saw Fire From the Altar Cast Over the City

In Ezekiel Chapter 10, we see the fire taken off the altar and cast out over the city, which is parallel to the account in Rev Chapter 8, where the fire off the altar was also cast into the earth. This casting of the fire over the city or the earth, represents a testing and failure of those who refused to accept the doctrine of the ransom and the truth of the Divine Plan, which is made possible by the ransom price. The fallen church cannot accept that a man died for a man, because they don't think that Jesus gave up everything and became a man, but they think that he was God when he was here on the earth. Since God cannot die, they cannot accept the doctrine of a corresponding price, which is one man Christ dying for another man Adam, thereby saving the entire race from the original sin that was committed in the garden. Many of the churches have the false idea that only their church has the proper doctrines for salvation, and that all of the others are in a suspect situation where they may not be saved unless they convert to their brand of Christianity—they may be surprised in the end to find out that their church is also lacking in the proper understanding of what Christ has done for salvation.

1874-1878AD Judgment

In these verses, we are shown the harvest at this end of the age, and we are shown the return of our Lord Jesus at his second presence in 1874 AD, as seen in verse 14. The crown on his head shows that our Lord came as a king and a judge, and the sickle shows that he is going to harvest and separate the good wheat from the tares. The time of final judgment that was warned about by the three angels, has fully come in 1874-78.

In Daniel Chapter 12, Daniel had asked the angel the question about how long these terrible events that he was seeing were going to last. The angel then explained to Daniel about how long the evil system was going to exist, and he gave him the time spans of 1260, 1290, and 1335 days. At a day per year, the 1335 days refers to 1335 years, which is counted from the start of the church and state system in 539AD, and which ended in 1874AD at the start of the seventh church. Those dates from Daniel, show us the gradual breaking down of that systems evil power.

Resurrection for Faithful Begins

The church is able to enter into the rest of God after 1878AD, because they are in a different situation than what had previously been true—this is the time that the sleeping saints are being resurrected. The faithful church has all through the age entered into the promise of the rest of God, in that if they were faithful they were promised that they would be resurrected and be with the Lord when he comes. All of their faithful deeds are remembered and restored with them at this time, as is stated in this chapter.

The apostle Paul also told us of a resurrection at the return of the Lord, when he told us that those who sleep until the last day, will rise to be with the Lord when he returns.

1Thes 4:16-17) 16 For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first: 17 Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord. (KJV)

The harvest time church believes that the sleeping saints were resurrected in 1878AD. That conclusion is based on the 1845 year harvest parallels. At the time of our Lord's first presence, he was resurrected in 33AD, and 1845 years later we arrive at the date 1878AD. Because of the 1845 year parallel, the original conclusion by Bro. Russell, was that just as our Lord was resurrected at the First Advent, the sleeping saints would be raised at the beginning of the Second Advent on the corresponding date that the parallel pointed to. That would also mean that any of the 144,000 who complete their walk after that date are immediately resurrected, just as Paul had said would happen.

1 Thess 4:16-17 (16 For the Lord Himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel and with the trumpet of God, and the dead in Christ will rise first. 17 Then we who are alive and remain will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air, and so we shall always be with the Lord. NASU

Divine Plan and its Chronology Confirms Resurrection

To confirm that this is correct, we see in the book “the Divine Plan and its Chronology”, in the section showing the 1845-year chronology pattern, the wing of the last and fourth Cherubim reaches to exactly 1878AD. Since the Cherubim were the beings that were assigned to block the way to the tree of life, that confirms that the way was open for the resurrection of the sleeping saints after that date. That their deeds follow with them, indicates that all those who were faithful during the age, will be able to continue their work with the returned Lord, starting with the work of the harvest and the establishment of the kingdom on earth. We have included the diagram in this book, that proves the resurrection happened in 1878. There are at least a couple of pages at that location that shows the 1878 date and the Cherubim.

ProofOf1878 Resurrection

This is the first time that we have heard from the spirit of God, since the seven messages to the seven churches.

One Like unto the Son of Man

The one like unto “a son of man” sitting on the cloud in verse 14, without a doubt has to be our returned Lord. If you look at other references that have similar phraseology, you will see that the term son of man refers to Jesus. See Rev 1:13, where our Lord is described with that same title. There are also several other biblical references that show our Lord returning and sitting on a cloud.

Golden Crown Shows He Came as a King

That he has a golden crown on his head, shows that he has returned to take over as king, with the right to rule over the earth—which he had won at the First Advent on the cross—see Psalms chapter 110, and other related New Testament scriptures that refer to that Psalms. This being a Second Return does not mean that he was not here during the Gospel Age working with the church, but it means that his work is changing to a work of final judgment and harvest, and that he is going to begin to take kingly control of the earth. It’s now time for him to finish the preparation for his kingdom, and to remove all enemies and opposition to his soon to be established rule. We will see the beginning of the process of punishment and destruction of the enemies in the next few verses in this Chapter.

Heb 10:11-13 (11 The priests do their work each day, and they keep on offering sacrifices that can never take away sins. 12 But Christ offered himself as a sacrifice that is good forever. Now he is sitting at God's right side, 13 and he will stay there until his enemies are put under his power. CEV

Harvest Time

The reaping of the earth that occurs first, is the separation and harvesting of the true wheat out of the church system that was to occur at the end of the age. The tares are seen here in the symbol of the vine of the earth, which is cast into the winepress by a second angel with a sickle. Our Lord used those of the faithful church, who were awake and searching at the time, to carry out the call of the harvest—which was from 1878-1918AD. Of those who were to be gathered to the Lord at the time, it appears that some had failed their test to win a crown, and they need to be replaced, and so the call has gone on after the 40 year harvest, and that call will continue until the last of the 144,000 have won their crown.

An Angel with a Loud Voice

Some commentators question who the angel is that comes out of the temple in verse 15, since he has the power to command that the Lord Jesus put in the sickle and harvest the earth. That he has a loud voice gives us a major clue in that regard again. The conclusion that we had arrived at earlier in Revelation in chapter 5, was that every time we see an angel with a loud voice, was that some sort of final judgment, or some important event is taking place with the use of God's word. That conclusion will now become important in the consideration of the reaping that is taking place in the next few verses. The first angel that comes out and commands the harvest to begin, symbolizes God's spiritual word, laws and justice—similar to how God's word is symbolized by the rod in chapter 11. which is the standard that is to be used in testing and separating the wheat from the tares. The judgment authority given to the Lord by that angel, is what is used to show that the faithful saints are worthy of the crowns that they receive.

Rev 11:1 Then there was given me a measuring rod like a staff; and someone said, "Get up and measure the temple of God and the altar, and those who worship in it.

The Standard of Judgment

The first angel because of the perfect law he uses, represents the spiritual standard of judgment that must be passed to win a crown, and that is why the Lord Jesus accepts the command from that angel, taking the authority of God's laws given to him by the first angel upon himself to use in the judgment, since he agrees with God's laws and standards, and it's now time to harvest the faithful church out of the evil system. God's word is the standard, as symbolized by the rod in chapter 11:1, by which all will be judged, including the world in the next age. That standard is not the literal law anymore because of Christ's sacrifice, but it is the spirit of the law that we are now under as long as we accept Christ. Rev 20:12 And I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing before the throne; and books were opened: and another book was opened, which is (the book) of life: and the dead were judged out of the things which were written in the books, according to their works. (ASV)

That this angel or messenger came out of the temple, shows that he came from God, and for that reason the message of judgment and the message of the harvest that he gives, is directly from God. Matt 13:27-30 (27 So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

28 He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?

29 But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them.

30 Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn. (KJV)

It's Time to Separate Wheat & Tares

In the angel's message, we find a time element, in that it's stated by the angel that "it's time to put in the sickle" and harvest the ripe wheat. God has ordained times and seasons for everything, and the time of the end of the age and the time to begin to finish the church and punish her enemies had come. This vision is therefore pointing us to 1878AD, where the harvest parallels show us that the apostate church was to be judged, and the faithful saints were to begin to be harvested out. The harvest was 40 or 43 years in length, depending on where you count from. If you count from 1874AD, it seems to go 43 years to 1917 or 18. If we count from 1878AD, which is the date of the 1845 judgment, then we get exactly 40 years to 1918AD. Besides that being the main harvest, we believe that we are now in the time of a gleaning of the field, which is the final effort needed to finish the 144,000—some fell in the testing during and after 1914-18, and they need to be replaced in order to complete the 144,000.

Harvest of Church

Our Lord was commanded to harvest the fruit of the earth, and that means that he was to get all the faithful out of the evil system and gathered to himself. The tares fall under the judgment standard of the angel that has the fire as we will see in the next section, which is the fire from the altar, as seen in Chapter 8. Most of the understanding of the ransom had been lost during the 1260 years, and the harvest message restored the doctrine of salvation and the ransom to a full understanding, but most rejected it, like the Jews did in their time of testing.

Both angels that do the commanding here had loud voices, which shows that just as our Lord had to pass the test of the loud angel in Rev Chapter 5, we now see the same thing here in that the 144,000 must meet the judgment standard of the spirit of God's word. By ourselves, we of course would not have a chance of meeting that standard, but with the Lord having redeemed us and having covered us with the robe of righteousness, we can now do it if we don't lose sight of what he did for us, and fall after the same manner as the apostate church system. That is why it is so important to get as good an understanding of what Christ did for us as we can, which gives us a clear understanding of how we can obtain our salvation. Angel five brought the spirit of the law to angel four's attention, and with that standard those who had passed that test were harvested out to the Lord.

Those who failed, did not measure up to the high standard of the spirit of the law that angel seven brought to angel six, who was the appointed angel of destruction against those who failed their testing, which we will see in more detail in the next section.

Revelation 14:17-20

Rev 14:17 And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, and he also had a sharp sickle.

Rev 14:18 Then another angel, the one who has power over fire, came out from the altar; and he called with a loud voice to him who had the sharp sickle, saying, "Put in your sharp sickle and gather the clusters from the vine of the earth, because her grapes are ripe."

Rev 14:19 So the angel swung his sickle to the earth and gathered {the clusters from} the vine of the earth, and threw them into the great wine press of the wrath of God.

Rev 14:20 And the wine press was trodden outside the city, and blood came out from the wine press, up to the horses' bridles, for a distance of two hundred miles. (NAU)

Those that were following and worshipping the fallen church system will be rejected—they followed Satan, and the beast and the image instead of our Lord. The sixth angel that had come out of the temple, is given the job of removing and destroying all of the tares that failed the test, like the destroying angel that killed the First born of Egypt, or like the six men who killed all who did not have God's mark in Ezekiel. In order to do that, this angel needed a command from God which gave him the authority to him to do that. The seventh angel that is over the fire of the altar gave him the command and the authority to expose those who were spiritual tares. One of the big problems was that they did not put the blood of the Lord on the door posts of their hearts—they believed in the Abomination of the Mass, as well as many other errors instead, and because of that the angel of destruction paid no attention to the false doctrine of the mass, and all who followed that doctrine, were cast into the winepress.

Fiery Judgment & Punishment

The angels that came from the temple and the altar in verses 17-18, brought the fiery judgment and punishment that the earlier seven angels had warned was going to come. They had warned about the time of trouble, and judgment that was going to come upon the system if they didn't repent, because of what they were doing wrong. The angel with a sharp sickle, was an angel of vengeance or destruction, like the angel of death that we saw in the killing of the firstborn just before the Exodus.

The seventh angel brought the power of the fire of the altar, and he commanded the sixth angel with the sickle to gather the corrupt clusters of the vine of the earth. The seventh angel of the altar, points us back to Chapter eight, where we saw the angel of fire at the altar, and we saw that he cast the coals of fire of the altar into the earth. That fire is used in the manner which is described in 1 Cor Chapter 3, where the fire destroys anything that is not built on a good foundation—which is the foundation of Christ's blood and sacrifice. Only those who have built on the sure foundation of Christ, will survive that judgment and get a reward.

1 Cor 3:10-15 (10 According to the grace of God which was given to me, like a wise master builder I laid a foundation, and another is building on it. But each man must be careful how he builds on it. 11 For no man can lay a foundation other than the one which is laid, which is Jesus Christ. 12 Now if any man builds on the foundation with gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, straw, 13 each man's work will become evident; for the day will show it because it is to be revealed with fire, and the fire itself will test the quality of each man's work. 14 If any man's work which he has built on it remains, he will receive a reward. 15 If any man's work is burned up, he will suffer loss; but he himself will be saved, yet so as through fire. NASU)

Blood on Door Posts Pictures Ransom

In the Exodus of Israel, we saw that those of the first born who didn't have the blood on the door posts were killed, and that is what we see here, in that this is like the angel of death who killed the firstborn of Pharaoh. Those who didn't accept the message of the ransom, preferring instead to believe the Abomination of Desolation's false doctrines of the Mass and other similar theologies, fell in the judgment that came in 1878 AD and that judgment was retroactive throughout the entire Gospel Age upon others who believed that awful doctrine.

We believe that the destruction of the evil system in the winepress began in 1914AD, and the crushing of the spiritual life out of it was most likely finished by 1918, but its physical earthly destruction continues yet today. That the fallen system will be destroyed does not mean that the people go down to destruction with it, but they will eventually be released from the spiritual bondage of the system by the drying up of the Euphrates of its support, and by it being exposed for what an evil system it is.

The angel of fire that commands the third angel with the sickle, again represents God's judgmental word or law because he has a loud voice, and he requires the use of the spirit of law, to carry out the order of judgment and justice against the unfaithful and guilty system, which is the vine of the earth in this vision. Angel six with the sickle can also be viewed as the destroyer of God's enemies, which are those who failed to heed the warnings earlier in the Chapter. That he is commanded by the seventh angel that had the power of the fire of the altar, shows that this final judgment has the spirit of the law and the ransom doctrine as a key or central test. In a sense, all seven angels are involved in the removing of those who worshiped the evil system, because the warning that was given earlier, removed any excuse that the system had of saying we did not know, because they were told. The ransom doctrine was the test at the First Advent, and history shows that most Jews rejected the salvation that Christ had provided on the cross. The same situation prevails at the time of the Second Advent, when the nominal house rejected the message of the corresponding price—which is a major part of the ransom doctrine. By rejecting the message of the crosses blood salvation, they are only left with the doctrine of the mass, which is a false Satanic deception—the Abomination of Desolation.

Winepress of Wrath

The casting into the winepress, represents the complete destruction of the evil system and its illegitimate fruitage who have failed. Since the apostate church is found to be in direct conflict with God and his laws, their illegitimate first-born will be symbolically cut off and removed from God's arrangement of a spiritual reward. Just as the firstborn of Pharaoh were symbolically children of the devil, that is the same problem here, because the cast off ones are the tares that the enemy of the Lord, the devil that had sowed the tares very early in the Gospel Age. Since this is the end of the age, the tares are to be removed, bundled, and burned up by fire. That is why we see the symbol of the winepress here, which is another picture of the same thing, that shows us the complete destruction of the evil system in a different picture. The fallen system will have its lifeblood crushed out of it by the winepress—which is pictured by the blood coming out up to the horses bridals. Blood up to and above the horses bridals, would cause the doctrinal horses to not be able to breathe and the false doctrines of the nominal horse would perish.

We are not saying that the individuals in that system will lose their lives, but we believe that this judgment operates in the manner of the 1 Corinthians Chapter 3 fire of testing, in which the individual who did not build properly on the foundation of the true salvation doctrines of the Lord, will lose his reward. Even though that one loses his reward, it says that he will be saved, but as though through fire.

In Rev 14:19, we see that this is the winepress of God's wrath, and that anything that is thrown into the winepress will not be coming back. It symbolizes the time of trouble that is destroying the evil system and its doctrines. The blood coming out of it symbolizes the corrupt life blood of the evil church and state system. Without the lifeblood of its false doctrines, that fallen church system will perish.

We find the winepress in the Old Testament in a couple of places, Isa 63:3, and Joel 3:13. All of those areas are pointing to the judgment and destruction in the end times that we are in now. In the Isaiah account, we especially see our Lord coming to punish and destroy the evil system, and in Joel we are told that the punishment comes because of great wickedness.

Here, just as in the time of the punishment of Israel and Babylon, we find that the church and state system is going to be punished and destroyed. The three warnings earlier in the Chapter, told the Faithful Church not to worship the beast or the Image, or they would find themselves being punished, and at the end of this Chapter we see the punishment being carried out.

1600 Furlongs = 1600 Years

The blood that came out of the winepress is said to have covered 1600 furlongs. It's not clear for sure exactly what that means, but one suggestion is that if we take 1914 and we subtract 1600 years from it, we get 314, which was the year after the edict of Milan had accepted Christianity as the religion of the Empire. That extra year would fit well with the amount of time that it would have taken for the news of the edict to spread throughout the Empire. One other good possibility for the year 314, is that is when Constantine began to assert his influence in the church at the council Arles. That was where they came up with the new date for Easter, which led the church away from calculating the Passover from the date of the Exodus. That seems to be a further step in leading the church away from its Jewish and doctrinal roots, so that they would forget that Christianity had come out of Israel. History shows that the combining of church and state which began at the time of Constantine, is what eventually led to the worst oppressive system that the world has ever seen.

The 1600 furlongs of blood, is saying that the punishment that falls on the system on this end of the age, especially applies to the entire time in which they were illegally allied with the Roman Empire, as a church and state system— which began in 313-314AD. We also see that  $1600 = 40 \times 40$ , and that the 40-year harvest reached exactly to the 1914 date that the 1600 years points to. In 1914, the world was plunged into a war that removed all the kings, and especially those that had been allied with the harlot. The last of the kings were destroyed in the war that began at the end of the  $7 \times 360 = 2520$  years to 1914AD, and that was the end of the illegal alliance between Rome and the church which had existed for 1600 years. It was also the end of Gentile control over Israel, which was 2520 years from 603BC, which was also counted from when Nebuchadnezzar became the head of gold, until the Ottoman Empire fell in 1918AD.

One other thing that may show that the winepress was to begin in 1914, is that it says that the winepress was trampled outside the city. There was a time limit set for how long the Holy City was going to be trampled “inside” the city in Chapter 11, which was 1260 years. In Daniel we see that it was actually reduced in power in steps of 1260, 1290 and 1335, which reached to 1874 AD. Rev 11:2 But exclude the outer court; do not measure it, because it has been given to the Gentiles. They will trample on the holy city for 42 months. NIV

Harvest Removed Tares Out of Holy City

The 1260 years of trampling was greatly reduced at the end of the 1260 years in 1799AD. If we include the 1290 and 1335 from Daniel Chapter 12, that extends the time to 1874AD. That was the beginning of the 40-year harvest, which was designed to harvest the saints out of the nominal house, and to remove the tares from the church. Once that separation was accomplished, the Holy City was symbolically out of the control of the fallen church. When the Holy City was symbolically back under the control of the faithful church, the trampling of the city ceased. Those who had been trampling the Holy City, were judged and cast into the winepress outside the city. That is another pointer, pointing to 1914 and the war that broke out there, which destroyed the lifeblood of that system as far as the Lord was concerned.

Harvest & Judgment Bringing Us to Seven Plagues

We believe that the fulfillment of the seven last plagues, began during the time of the seventh trumpet—especially from 1914AD and onward. The reason that the angels were given the seven plagues at that time, was because the 1845-year judgment parallel ended in 1878AD, and the fallen church was judged and convicted on that date.

Dan 7:9-10 (9 Thrones were set up while I was watching, and the Eternal God took his place. His clothing and his hair were white as snow. His throne as a blazing fire with fiery wheels, 10 and flames were dashing out from all around him. Countless thousands were standing there to serve him. The time of judgment began, and the books were opened. CEV

Since the fallen church had been judged guilty in 1878, God was after the harvest going to begin to punish the fallen church for the evil she had done to his people during the Gospel Age, but first it was necessary that he harvest out the wheat from the tares, as seen in the second half of Revelation chapter 14—before he began pouring the plagues out upon them, destroying that evil system. That is also why chapter 18 tells the saints to come out of her my people, so that you do not partake of her plagues. We also see the harvest first in Rev 14:15-16, and the destruction in the winepress right after that in Rev 14:17-20, which agrees with the 40 year harvest and then the punishment beginning in 1914.

As we will see when we look at the pouring out of the seven plagues, the church state kings were completely destroyed in 1914, but the rest of the nations and the fallen church systems still live on for an unknow time. The seven bowls of wrath are the destructive work that will remove the entire evil system. The last three bowls especially have the job of removing the remnants of the Satanic system in time for the kingdom—in other words they have a two-fold mission—the first mission hits certain key elements of the ecclesiastical system in 1914-18. The second part of their work is taken up in the seventh bowl of wrath, which shows in great detail how the work which the two other bowls of 5 and 6's had started are finished by bowl seven, and that work is to finish off the civil power and the support of that evil fallen system. Chapter 17 shows us first the harlot in power, and then it gives more detail of the destruction of that system by the kings who burn her flesh with fire, and in chapter 18, and even in 19 we are shown even more destruction of that system.

Dan 7:11-14 (11 I watched closely to see what would happen to this smaller horn because of the arrogant things it was saying. Then before my very eyes, the fourth beast was killed and its body destroyed by fire. 12 The other three beasts had their authority taken from them, but they were allowed to live a while longer. 13 As I continued to watch the vision that night, I saw what looked like a son of man coming with the clouds of heaven, and he was presented to the Eternal God. 14 He was crowned king and given power and glory, so that all people of every nation and race would serve him. He will rule forever, and his kingdom is eternal, never to be destroyed. CEV

In another picture, our Lord harvested the vine of the earth in Chapter 14, and then it was thrown into the winepress—which is again the time of trouble that began in 1914AD. The winepress punishment corresponds to the punishment that we are going to see in the seven bowls of wrath. It's using a different symbol here in Chapter 15 and 16, to give us a different view with more detail about what was going to happen to the church and state system.

Harvested Church

The harps of God that we see here, were seen earlier in Rev 14:2, and in Rev 5:8. The vision here is showing us a separated or harvested out church, which was after the 40-year harvest of 1874-1914AD. In the vision of Rev 14:2, the 144,000 are seen standing with the Lord on Mount Zion, but here they are only seen as separated out from the evil system, and it does not say that there are 144,000 completed yet. The reason that we believe that these are separated out from Great Babylon at the time of this vision, is because it says that these were victorious over the beast, the Image, and the number of his name. They had answered the call to “come out of her my people”, and had escaped that fallen system. This is the separation of the tares from the wheat, and the control of the Holy City after the 1260 years is being given back to the church, just as we described in the previous Chapter.

In chronology applications, we have the standard Bible Student 1260 years to 1799, but there is actually another  $1260 + 1260 = 2520$  that ends in 1914. That seems to show that there would be two phases to the destruction of the system, one in 1799, and the other one in 1914. The second and alternate application of the 1260, may be the one that is actually meant, because the literal Holy City was to be trampled for 1260 years. The literal city was not relieved by the 1799 date, only the church. The 1914 date, removed the obstacles to literal Jerusalem being restored, and spiritual Jerusalem was removed from Great Babylon's control, as seen in this vision with them standing above the trouble on the sea of glass.

One other interesting point about the three symbols that had been overcome by the harvested out ones, the beast, the image, and the number of his name does not include the two horned beast in the list. When we look at the battle in Rev chapter 19, we see the beast and the false prophet being captured, but not the two horned beast. We believe that the reason why that is, is because the false prophet is what was left when the two horned beast lost its civil power after 1914-18, all that was left of the two horned Papal system and even the Protestants with church and state systems, was the lies and the civil power they all had was gone after the 1914-18 war, and for that reason there was not a two horned beast any longer—both Papacy and the Protestants that had civil power, lost it in the WW1 war.

These Saints
Are Harvested Out
But Some are still on This Side of Vail

Since these saints are not seen with the Lord yet like they are in Revelation 14:2, nor are there 144,000 of them yet, it seems that we are looking at the harvested-out church, of which some are still on this side of the veil, or at least not selected yet. That some are separated out, but not with the Lord yet, helps to establish the time frame of when we are seeing them in this vision. The time frame in which we see them separated out, would have to be after the 40-year harvest, which ended in 1914 or perhaps as late as 1918 at the most.

Sea of Glass

One good possibility, is that the ones that are standing on a sea of glass, shows that they are symbolically lifted up out of, and above the fallen system, and they are able to see clearly the punishments that God is bringing against that fallen system. These are lifted into the spiritual heavens, where they can look upon the events happening in the world from a heavenly viewpoint, and they see what God is doing.

Another thought in regard to the sea of glass, is that in Solomon's temple they had basins full of water, which in the Septuagint translation were called sea's. The priesthood always washed in the sea in front of the tabernacle, and that could be added proof that the ones that we are looking at here are consecrated, but that they have not finished their walk and won a crown yet, which would be when they would be able to enter into the Most Holy. To be washing in the sea, symbolized a cleaning up of our human nature, and that shows that they had not finished that part of their consecration yet. In this situation, the sea of glass that they are on would be the sea of glass that is seen in chapter 4, in front of the throne, replacing the tabernacle laver, and it would symbolize that they are uplifted above the earthly people into the spiritual heavens and they are looking down upon the fiery punishments coming upon the fallen Great Babylonian church.

In Psalms 149, we see that all the saints have the honor of executing vengeance and binding the kings, etc., so the saints seen here could be on either side of the vail, or both. Either way, they are able to see the judgments that God has brought against the fallen church and state system. It may be that both possibilities are true above and that some are in the true heaven and some others are in the spiritual heavens, not having completed their walk yet

Ps 149:5-9 (5 Let the godly ones exult in glory; Let them sing for joy on their beds. 6 Let the high praises of God be in their mouth, And a two-edged sword in their hand, 7 To execute vengeance on the nations And punishment on the peoples, 8 To bind their kings with chains And their nobles with fetters of iron, 9 To execute on them the judgment written; This is an honor for all His godly ones. Praise the LORD! NASU

Glass Had Fire Mingled In It

That the sea of glass, symbolizing the people has fire mingled with it, shows that the message of judgment has physical punishment and anarchy mixed in with it—God’s judgments and plagues are seen falling upon the system after 1914. This fire is related to the judgmental fire off the altar that we saw in Rev Chapter 8, which was also shown to us in Chapter 14 through the angel that had charge of the fire of the altar, who commanded the harvesting of the vine of the earth. That symbolic fire which especially contains the doctrine of the ransom, destroys anything that is in opposition to the truth, but it does not harm the faithful church as shown in 1 Cor 3:12-15. Those who are in error will see their reward burned up, but they will be saved as though through fire.

This vision is an interlude in the vision of the bowls of wrath, and because we see the fire mingled with the sea of glass, indicates that a severe punishment and destruction of error was occurring at the time of the pouring out of the bowls. In other words, the last of the church members that were still on this side of the veil in 1914 when the bowls of wrath began to be poured out, could see the fire of punishment that was the beginning of the destruction of that evil system. That destruction will continue until the final battle, which is called Armageddon destroys the evil system as seen in Rev chapter 19.

Song of Moses & Lamb Equals God’s Plan

See Exodus 15:1-18, Deut 32:1-44 for the song of Moses.

The Song of Moses and the Lamb, points us back to the two prophets of Moses and Elijah that had been killed in the Great City of Papacy—here we see the bible alive and well and restored back to power in the heavens. At the time of the harvest message, which was given in 1874–1914AD, it was seen in the bible that God had a marvelous plan of salvation all along, and that it was a righteous plan that will benefit all, and not just a few individuals of a particular faith as most churches preach. That this is called the song of Moses and the Lamb, proves and shows that God had hidden his Divine Plan in types and shadows inside the Law of Moses and the Old Testament. He has had a plan of salvation from the foundations of the world. Each step of revelation along the way, has given us more insight into what those plans are. The law at the time of the First Advent, was seen to be full of types and shadows which pointed the way to Christ. The understanding of the Abrahamic Covenant, is the basis and foundation of the Divine Plan that was revealed during the harvest message, where we see that there was going to be a heavenly as well as an earthly salvation.

Song = New Covenant

If there was any doubt that the new song we saw in Chapter 5 was the Divine Plan, which was made possible because of the New Covenant, this verse confirms to us that that is what is intended. Here we see that ultimate means of salvation indicated in verse 4, because of the statement there that all nations were going to come before God and worship him because of the righteous salvation that will be revealed to them. God has been blasphemed and slandered since the fall in the garden, but now it will be seen that he has always had a wonderful and marvelous plan of salvation for all. Most churches think that God is going to destroy the world and the people in it at the end of the age, but this statement makes it clear that that is not so, and that he has a plan that will restore all who are willing back to a standing before God. All will at that time come to God to worship him, because his plan will be obvious and they will see that he does indeed deserve that worship—that same theme is shown in other scriptural statements later in Revelation that we will see.

All the glory and honor and credit for that plan will be given to God, since he had planned that salvation from the beginning of the world. Many have accused him of being a harsh and a judging God, but now it will be seen that he is also a God of love. He has four attributes, of wisdom, justice, love, and power, and it will be seen that these are all in perfect balance to each other. That perfect balance of his attributes is what has provided us the Divine Plan of the Ages.

Faithful Contrasted to Those Who Fell

We again see those who are faithful, contrasted to those who were not faithful in the previous two chapters. We are going to be given in the next few Chapters a much more detailed description of the judgment and punishment of the fallen church, and the punishment which comes against them because of their evil deeds and grievous error. That punishment will finish the wrath of God, and the kingdom will then be able to begin.

Ones Seen Here Were Victorious

These were victorious over the beast and his Image, and the number of his name, because they had recognized the fallen church and its institutions for what they were, and they had come out of her or separated themselves at least mentally so that they would not be a part of that systems downfall. That is showing us exactly what we believe is correct regarding the pouring out of the plagues having to wait until the finish of the 40-year harvest, and the completion of the command to “come out of her my people”. The saints that are seen here were still subject to further testing and replacement and they could still fail, but they had come out of Great Babylon and were not supporting her false doctrines, and so they were now free to run the race for the remaining crowns. Because of their coming out to the Lord, they do not have to partake of her plagues, which were due to begin to be poured out at the start of WW1 in 1914, and that is why they are seen as standing on top of the sea of glass—above the destruction and judgments that were taking place after 1814-18 AD.

See the earlier thought above, explaining that some of the ones pictured here could be on both sides of the vail, helping to render the punishment to the fallen system.

These Were Harvested Out

Some of these individuals might still have been physically in Great Babylon, but mentally they would not be counting themselves as part of her. The difference now in the seventh church, is that the individuals must come out to the Lord, because he does not recognize that judged system anymore, having spewed it out. That is exactly like what happened to the Jewish system at the First Advent, in that our Lord was not recognizing Israel anymore or their sacrifices after the time of their harvest, but he would still accept any Jew that were willing to come to him, even after Jerusalem and the temple were destroyed. The same thing is true on this end of the age, that even after the destruction of WW1 individuals could still come out of that system to the Lord, but they would not be recognized by him until they did.

Escape from Egypt

Just as in the time of the escape from Egypt when God used the 10 plagues to remove his people from that Egypt, we are going to see the same thing with the removal of his people from Great Babylon. We first had the three woe trumpets that fell on both the Israelites and the Egyptians, and now we are going to have the seven bowls of wrath, that fall only on the Egyptians, making a total of ten plagues. The last seven bowls of wrath fell only on the corrupted system and not the faithful church, because they were harvested out.

Three Woes & Seven Bowls of Wrath Equal Ten

At the time of the seventh plague, Pharaoh's advisors told him that all of Egypt had been destroyed already. That corresponds to the 1914-18 war, which did destroy the church and state system at that time. But Pharaoh did not listen, and so he was struck with three more and maybe even four more plagues as we will explain. That helps to show us, that the last three or four bowls of wrath are designed to begin to destroy Satan's entire worldwide system, by removing those last three or four symbols completely—we also see that the picture of three and the four bowls may be valid, because of the three bowls poured into the symbols and the four bowls poured onto the symbols.

As we will explain in more detail, the first three bowls show us the complete destruction of their symbols. The last four bowls of wrath, do not show us the full destruction of Satan's evil system, only the church state part that was destroyed in 1914-18. The last three seem to be especially that way, because they are talking about the destruction of physical items, where the fourth bowl of wrath is talking about destroying error. So we believe that the last three do their initial damage in 1914-18, but that they are intended to go further and point to a complete destruction of the symbols in those three last bowls, just before the kingdom. We will see more about that total destruction as we study the plagues.

Saints Seen Here Do Not Partake of Her Plagues

The three woes were designed to free the church from the fallen system and the four plus three more bowls of wrath are designed to not only destroy the fallen church, but to also free the earthly people still trapped in that system so that they will be able to accept the kingdom. We have separated the four and three, because the last three just as in the time of Pharaoh, are the ones that finish off the system. The saints in this vision are not affected by the last seven bowls of wrath, and are seen standing above the destructive fire on the sea of glass. They are not affected by the plagues because they had "come out of her" in the 40-year harvest, before the seven last plagues were poured out. Satan and his hoards, pictured by

Pharaoh and his army, will fall in the final time of trouble, just as what happened in the escape of the Israelites from Egypt. If any of the ones who have come out of her turn back to that system like lots wife, then they will receive the punishment and destruction of the plagues. Rev 18:4 I heard another voice from heaven, saying, "Come out of her, my people, so that you will not participate in her sins and receive of her plagues; NASU

Faithful Church Now Has Harps

In the vision of Chapter 5, we saw the 24 elders with harps, but now we see the faithful church with harps. We had determined earlier that the 24 elders represented the 24 books of the Old Testament as given by the prophets, which is how the Jews counted the books at the time of Christ or that they represented the 24 singers who sang God's word to the people. Either way they picture the scriptures. The harps and the song that they sang at the First Advent, was the message of good news regarding the New Covenant that was secured by the blood of the Lamb. That message had been hidden in the Old Testament scriptures, but at the First Advent it was revealed to the church.

Message of Truth Greatly Amplified At this Time

Here we see that the message of truth is going to be greatly amplified, in that the faithful church on this side of the veil is now also able to sing the song of Moses and the Lamb. The hidden message of salvation and judgment that was contained in the Old Testament, is now seen and understood by the faithful church at the harvest time, and that is why they can now sing the song of both Moses and the Lamb to the people. That completed message contains the Divine Plan of the Ages, and the fact that God is going to save "all", if at all possible.

The separated church is seen here at the beginning of Chapter 15, announcing the message of salvation to all who would hear. At that earlier time in history, most don't believe the message yet, and its actual implementation of blessing for the world must wait until all of the church is glorified. The actual implementation of God's Plan is pictured at the beginning of Chapter 14, where we see the completed church of 144,000, singing the new song of salvation. In the next age, that message of salvation will be available to all in the world, and the only ones who will lose out will be those who refuse to accept the authority of God and the Kingdom.

Question About Angels Having Plagues Already

One question that came up regarding the seven angels, was about the plagues that it seems to say that they already had. Most translations seem to show that they had the seven plagues, and that the bowls of wrath were given to them separate. There is some question about whether that is translated correctly. The UBS notes offer an alternate translation, that would seem to say that the seven angels are only going to inflict the punishment of the seven last plagues, by the pouring out the bowls of wrath. That seems like a good solution to this question, because we are never told that they pour out any plagues, but only the bowls of wrath.

Revelation 15:1 Seven plagues: for plagues see verse Rev 9:18. Care should be taken in translating seven angels with seven plagues to avoid giving the impression that these seven angels are suffering from some incurable disease. So it may be better to say "seven angels who had the responsibility of inflicting the seven last plagues on the world" or "... of causing the people of the world to receive the seven final punishments."

(from the UBS New Testament Handbook Series. Copyright © 1961-1997, by United Bible Societies.)

The only answer is that the UBS suggestion must be correct, and the verse should be translated that they are going to be the ones bringing the plagues—which are the bowls that they are given in verse 7. Here are a couple of translations that support that thought. We admit that the main bulk of the translations don't agree, but we believe that they are wrong in how they have rendered it, because of the scriptural conflict that it causes.

Rev 15:1 And I saw in heaven another mighty pageant showing things to come: Seven angels were assigned to carry down to earth the seven last plagues—and then at last God's anger will be finished. TLB

Rev 15:1 I saw in heaven another great and miraculous sign. Seven angels were about to bring the seven last plagues. The plagues would complete God's anger. NIV

One other possibility is that each of the seven earthly messengers had given a warning about what the punishment was going to be, similar to the first three angels of chapter 14, and now those same seven are going to help carry out the punishment.

Harvest Truth Revealed What the Evil System Had Done Wrong

The message of what had been done wrong against the faithful church, that was revealed in the seven seals and trumpets, was a part of the truth that was gathered together into the harvest message. That message was a condemnation of what the evil system had done wrong during the entire Gospel Age. The condemnation was not just against the mother church, but it was also against the daughter systems that had followed in Papacies footsteps. During the harvest time, part of the message that was given was a warning to come out of Great Babylon, because of all the evil that she had done was going to result in her destruction.

We believe that the bowls of wrath began to be poured out beginning in 1914AD with WW1. Since the bowls of wrath are what completes God's wrath against the unfaithful system, it seems reasonable that they could not be poured out until after the judgment had been pronounced against the fallen system in 1878, and the 40 year harvest had removed the faithful out of that system. The harvest message also revealed the error and sins of the evil system—showing us why it was going to be punished.

Another consideration regarding the pouring out of the bowls of wrath, is that in Chapter 7 the four angels were commanded not to harm the earth, the sea, and the trees, until the servants of God were sealed in their foreheads. That is why the harvest is shown to have separated the saints out of the system, as shown in Revelation 15:2, with them pictured as standing above the trouble. That does not mean that they could not be injured by physical trouble, but it does mean that they were sealed with the knowledge of God to the point where they would not be injured spiritually by the trouble. Those who had come out of Great Babylon, understood the reason that they had been separated out, and they also understood that the fallen church was guilty and that it deserved the punishment that was happening to them at the time. That is why the four winds could be partially released at the time of WW1 without injury to the saints. The full release of the four winds, which we believe is yet to come, can only occur after the church is complete, or they could cause it to be completed in the final trouble.

The Seven Angels

The seven angels that are seen here coming out of the temple, are in their garments of glory, showing that they have made their calling, and are in heaven with the Lord.

It's not clear who the seven angels are that are given the seven bowls of wrath, but in chapter 8 it says that they had stood before the God of heaven in order to receive the trumpets, and now they are coming out of the temple after they were given the seven bowls of wrath, showing that the punishment came directly from God. If we assume that they each stood before God, one at a time, each in his own age, then the seven angels with the bowls could be the same seven earthly angels that sounded the trumpets, and that would mean that they could then be the same as the seven messengers to the churches. The reason that we believe that they could be the same seven angels, as the angels of the trumpets, is because each bowl is directly related back to its corresponding trumpet as we will show in this chapter, with the same symbols in each.

Rev 8:2 And I saw the seven angels who stand before God, and seven trumpets were given to them. NASU

If they are the seven messengers, and they are the ones who sounded the trumpets for each church, they would have to be in the heavens with the Lord, having died by the time shown here, and that would be why they are seen coming out of the temple in garments of glory. It seems likely that the Lord would give them the chance to execute the punishment for the things they had warned the fallen church about not doing, but which the evil system had ignored.

It was the increase of biblical knowledge brought by the fifth woe trumpet, which began revealing the systems errors to the people, and that caused the early reformers to begin their work of restoring the lost truth of salvation. The knowledge of those early truths became brighter and brighter as time has gone on, until at the time of the seventh trumpet, the full import of the error of the system was being revealed through the harvest message.

Prov 4:18 But the path of the righteous is like the light of dawn, That shines brighter and brighter until the full day. NASU

Content of Bowls Related to Trumpets

As we will see as we look at this Chapter and the next, the messages of what was warned about in the trumpets, are directly related to the punishments of the bowls. The seals are also related, and we have included a table in the beginning comments on the seals that shows the relationship of all three, seals, trumpets, and bowls. The truths that the seven trumpets revealed about what the fallen system was doing wrong during the Gospel Age, did have some plaguing effect on the fallen church, especially during the time of the three woe trumpets. The trumpets from the fifth church onward, did more than just inform us about what was wrong, in that they also showed us some things that God had begun to do against that evil system. The torments and plagues of the three woe trumpets began to greatly afflict and weaken the Papal church, especially from the time of the Reformation onward.

Each bowl of wrath, relates directly back to what each corresponding trumpet had shown us was happening in the different church periods, in that they are a direct punishment for what was done wrong in each of the seven church periods. As we look at the bowls, we should recognize that bowl one relates back to trumpet one, bowl two to trumpet two, and so on. In the trumpets, we see the terrible wrongs that were being committed against the faithful saints, and in the bowls of wrath we see the punishment that was brought against the evil system because of those terrible wrongs. As we will see later, the bowls of wrath are just one of seven different pictures of the punishment and destruction of Great Babylon. The bowls of wrath give us an outline that the destruction of Great Babylon follows, but to get the entire picture of what is happening, you need to look at all seven descriptions of that destruction.

The bowls of wrath gave the seven angels the power and authorization to begin to destroy the evil system. The bowls are designed to outline whatever kinds of events were necessary to bring God's wrath against the fallen church system, and to begin to remove it and its error. In Chapter 16, we will attempt to identify what the bowls of wrath are doing to accomplish that destruction. That there are seven bowls of wrath, shows us that this is to be a full and complete destruction of all seven elements of the Satanic system that the bowls are designed to destroy.

Open Temple in Seventh Trump & Here, Same Time?

The last thing that we saw in the seventh trumpet, was the temple of the Lord opened in heaven, and there were flashes of lightning, thunder, an earthquake, and great hailstones, Rev 11:19. The opening of the temple in this Chapter, shows us the beginning of the bowls of wrath, which is when we see the seven angels come out of the temple. It's interesting that we see that all of the same symbols of lightning, thunder, an earthquake, and great hail, all appear at the close of the seventh bowl of wrath. The seventh bowl of wrath seems to be giving us an outline and complete look at how the wrath of God was going to "destroy those who destroy the earth”, which we were first shown in the seventh trumpet. That the seventh trumpet shows us the same punishment and destruction as the seventh bowl of wrath, seems to give us a clue that we need to look for other places that show us the fall of that evil system. In some of the prophetic pictures, it is called the fall of Great Babylon. After looking at this question as to how many places show us that destruction, we believe that there are seven places. Because there are seven different bowls of wrath, and seven different descriptions of the Great Babylon going down, (7 x 7), it is going to fall and not rise again! Only with all seven pictures of its removal looked at together, do we get a full and more complete understanding of Great Babylon’s removal, see the list a few paragraphs below.

In both the seventh trumpet, and here in the bowls of wrath, we see that the temple of God is open in heaven. It’s the time that the Ark of the Covenant was seen in the temple, and we believe that the open temple with the ark, at least represents the revealing of the Divine Plan of God that was part of the harvest message. That plan revealed very clearly, that there was going to be both an earthly salvation, as well as a heavenly salvation.

That both visions of the temples are described as open, seems to link this set of symbolic events with the one in the Seventh Trump. If that is correct, the thunders, lightnings, earthquake in both places are happening from 1874-1914, with the trouble that began there. The lightning and the thunder would then be pointing to the harvest truth and the controversies that the truth generated. There is also the possibility, that the thunder, lightning, earthquake, may be two different events, at different times, but we suspect that they are the same, and that we are looking at two of the seven pictures of the fall of Babylon. In other words, the seventh trumpet events may be fulfilled right after 1914.

Seven Accounts of Babylon’s Destruction

We noticed in the study, that there appears to be more than just the bowls of wrath coming against the fallen church at the same time. There are seven different scriptural pictures in Revelation that show us Great Babylon’s destruction. Those all seem to be happening in the seventh church period, or at least in the final end-time, from at least 1799 and onward. The seven different pictures of Great Babylon’s destruction show us that this is going to be a complete destruction, and that God is not going to let the church and state system escape punishment and destruction. The last final picture from Chapter 19, is where the destructive vultures of society come to finish off the remnants of the evil system. We need to study this relationship more completely than what we have so far. That more complete, combining of events, may give a more complete picture of what is happening on this end of the age.

Revelation 15:5-7

Rev 15:5 After these things I looked, and the temple of the tabernacle of testimony in heaven was opened,

Rev 15:6 and the seven angels who had the seven plagues came out of the temple, clothed in linen, clean {and} bright, and girded around their chests with golden sashes.

Rev 15:7 Then one of the four living creatures gave to the seven angels seven golden bowls full of the wrath of God, who lives forever and ever. (NAU)

The Tabernacle Opened

This verse confirms that these events begin during the time of the seventh trumpet, 1874AD and onward, since the other place that the temple is described as opened was when the seventh trumpet was sounded. Bible chronology shows us that the seventh trumpet was beginning to be sounded in 1874AD, and that was also the time of our Lord's Second presence.

Rev 11:19 And the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his testament: and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunderings, and an earthquake, and great hail. (KJV)

The "I looked" or "I saw" in the verse above, marks the start of a new vision, and in this new vision we are going to be shown the carrying out of the wrath of God upon the fallen church and state system.

Opened Tabernacle Provides Better Understanding of Salvation

Because the tabernacle was opened in heaven, that opening was allowing the harvest time church to see further into God's Plans, which were symbolized and pictured in the literal tabernacle, which was only a copy of the real tabernacle in heaven. In the time of the seventh trumpet, which is the time area that we are in here, we see even more information regarding this opening of the heavenly temple, as pictured by the vision of the Ark of the Testament. We also notice that after the harvest had separated out the saints from Great Babylon, it was time for God's wrath to begin to be poured out on that evil system.

Inner Sanctuary

We think that it's important to show that the angels came out from the inner sanctuary of the temple and not just the temple itself, since coming from the inner sanctuary would confirm that they had received their authority of judgment and the authorization to punish directly from God, Dan 7:9-14, 21-22. We will also see in Rev chapter 21-22, that the world will not be allowed into the holy or most holy, but only into the courtyard of the New Jerusalem. Here we see the angels coming out of the temple from the presence of God, ready to administer the wrath of God. For that reason, we include this quote from the Translators Handbook, that confirms that the Most Holy is what is meant here.

Revelation 15:4 PP7 [The temple of the tent of witness]: there is some uncertainty as to what this compound genitive phrase means. A literal rendering, such as RSV and NRSV, is quite ambiguous, but the average reader probably understands that it means that in the tent of witness there is a temple. There are three possibilities: (1) [the tent of witness] is in apposition to [the temple]: "the temple, that is, the Witness Tent" AT, NJB, SPCL, NIV, RNAB); (2) "the Witness Tent in the Temple" (TEV, FRCL, BRCL); (3) "the sanctuary of the Witness Tent" (TNT, REB, Brc, Phps). In favor of the last interpretation—which is the one that is recommended—is the fact that the word translated [temple] ([naos]) is used in a specialized sense of the inner sanctuary of the Temple, as contrasted with the large worship area ([hieron]). The inner sanctuary (in which the Covenant Box was kept) was separated by a heavy curtain from the worship area, in which were located the altar of incense and the table on which were placed daily the loaves offered to God. This was also the arrangement of the Covenant Tent, the "Tent of Meeting" (see <Exo 40:1-33>). It seems best, then, to translate here "the sanctuary (or, Most Holy Place) that was in the Witness Tent." The name "Witness Tent" (also <Acts 7:44>) was sometimes applied to the Tent of Meeting, or Covenant Tent, that the Hebrews carried with them in their forty years of wandering through the wilderness. A translation should use here the name most often used in the Old Testament and in <Acts 7:44>. (from UBS Translator Handbook Series)

These angels are wearing the same thing as the son of man in Chapter 1, showing that they are of the heavenly temple class, and that they have their garments on that they will go out to the people with after the punishment—which are garments of glory. The golden sashes about their chest represent servitude to the Lord. The angels that are seen here, are in their garments of glory, showing that they have made their calling, and are in heaven with the Lord.

As we mentioned in the previous section, it's not known for sure who the seven angels are that are given the seven bowls of wrath, but they stood before the God of heaven in order to receive the trumpets, and now they come out of the temple after they were given the seven bowls of wrath, showing that the punishment came directly from God. If we assume that they each stood before God in the spiritual heavens, one at a time, each in his own age, then the seven angels with the bowls could be the same seven earthly angels that sounded the trumpets, and the same as the seven messengers to the churches. Another reason that we believe that these could be the same angels, is because each bowl is related back to its corresponding trumpet, in regard to what was being done wrong.

Bowls of Wrath To Destroy Fallen Church & State

The bowls of wrath that the angels were given, are directly related back to the seven trumpets which had revealed truths and warnings about what was being done wrong in each of the seven churches, as we saw in the earlier table. We might consider the thought that the seals and the trumpets were showing us grievances and evidence of what was being done wrong against God's church during the Gospel Age. That historical evidence of what that system had done wrong, was gathered together at the time of the early harvest and it was used as evidence in God's court against them. The bowls of wrath that are based on that evidence, are now going to be the means to punish and destroy the evil system because of their evil deeds.

Living Creature Justice Handed Out Bowls of Wrath

It's most likely that the living creature that gave them the bowls, was the one that represents Justice, because that is what is now going to be carried out against the evil system. The cumulative effect of the means of destruction represented in the bowls of wrath, will destroy the system, but not the people. Besides destroying the evil system, one of the other most important things about the bowls of wrath, is that they are also used to free the earthly people from Satan's worldwide system by drying up the water in bowl six, so that the people can be freed to get up on the highway of holiness. That is like the freeing of the Israelites by the ten plagues, so that they could escape from Egypt and get to the Promised Land. The church was involved in helping the people to escape, because of the priests that stood in the midst of the river to stop it until the people had crossed. That picture represents the church helping during the time up to the kingdom, and then through the entire millennial age.

Each of the bowls of wrath is against different errors and abuses of the system, and that there are seven of them shows that the destruction will be total. As we mentioned earlier, with counting the three woe trumpets, there are actually a total of ten blows of punishment which represents earthly completeness, showing that the entire evil system must go by the time of the kingdom—and that final destruction is pictured by the 10 plagues of Egypt.

The Fall of Jericho

The destruction of this evil system, reminds us of Jericho, where the Israelites marched around the city seven times for seven days, and then on the last day they marched around the city seven additional times, and the shout brought the city down. In Revelation, we have seven trumpets, one for each of the seven churches. On the seventh day during the time of the seventh church, we also have seven bowls of wrath which finish off the evil system.

The wall that fell in Jericho, is symbolic of the civil power that had protected the apostate church up to 1914. There are still symbolic remnants of that wall left, but they are not protecting the fallen church system very much anymore. The civil wall of protection had been previously weakened in 1799AD, and by 1914-18AD, which was when its final collapse occurred, removing the ten kings of the civil power of the apostate church system. There is one more final blow of trouble yet to come, where the winds mentioned in Daniel 2:35, will remove the remaining rubble of Satan's system completely.

Josh 6:3-5) 3 And ye shall compass the city, all ye men of war, and go round about the city once. Thus shalt thou do six days.

*4 And seven priests shall bear before the ark seven trumpets of rams' horns: and the seventh day ye shall compass the city seven times, and the priests shall blow with the trumpets.

5 And it shall come to pass, that when they make a long blast with the ram's horn, and when ye hear the sound of the trumpet, all the people shall shout with a great shout; and the wall of the city shall fall down flat, and the people shall ascend up every man straight before him.

If we look at the downfall of literal Babylon, we find that it uses the same kind of language like what we see in the downfall of Jericho. The fall of literal Babylon, as prophesied by Jeremiah, is a picture of the fall of Great Babylon in our time. We will see a very detailed scriptural parallel of Jer 50, in chapter 18.

Jer 50:14-15 (14 Put yourselves in array against Babylon round about: all ye that bend the bow, shoot at her, spare no arrows: for she hath sinned against the LORD.

15 Shout against her round about: she hath given her hand: her foundations are fallen, her walls are thrown down: for it is the vengeance of the LORD: take vengeance upon her; as she hath done, do unto her. (KJV)

Revelation 15:8

Rev 15:8 And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God and from His power; and no one was able to enter the temple until the seven plagues of the seven angels were finished.

Filled with Smoke

1 King 8:10 And it came to pass, when the priests were come out of the holy place, that the cloud filled the house of the LORD. (KJV)

2 Chr 5:13 It came even to pass, as the trumpeters and singers were as one, to make one sound to be heard in praising and thanking the LORD; and when they lifted up their voice with the trumpets and cymbals and instruments of musick, and praised the LORD, saying, For he is good; for his mercy endures for ever: that then the house was filled with a cloud, even the house of the LORD; (KJV)

Isa 6:4 And the posts of the door moved at the voice of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke. (KJV)

Ezek 10:3-4 (3 Now the cherubim were standing on the south side of the temple when the man went in, and a cloud filled the inner court. 4 Then the glory of the LORD ROSE from above the cherubim and moved to the threshold of the temple. The cloud filled the temple, and the court was full of the radiance of the glory of the LORD. NIV

Smoke in Temple Equals God's Presence & Judgment

That the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, is what always occurred in the Old Testament whenever God made his presence known. That God is present when there is smoke, is consistent with the presence of Christ in 1874AD, who is his representative in this final struggle—Isaiah chapter 6 equals 1874 as seen in the chronology book "The Divine Plan and its Chronology". We also see that a judgment is taking place, which is parallel to the judgment of Israel in Isaiah chapter 6. The reason that we say that, is because there are Old Testament scriptures like the Isaiah and Ezekiel quotes above, that confirm that a judgment and a punishment was taking place in their times. This judgment does not mean the church is complete, but it does mean that no one can enter in until the church and the bowls of wrath have been completed, which is why the church is shown waiting on lower plane L on the Divine Plan chart.

Solomon's Temple

The 1 Kings and the 2 Chronicles references above, were quotes from the dedication of the first temple, and those scriptures give us a picture which correspond to the completing of the spiritual temple on this end of the age. The dedication of Solomon's temple started to be carried out before it was completed, and that would symbolically be the same thing that we see on this end of the age. The spiritual temple will not be completed until the 144,000 are complete, but the Lord has already come to his temple in 1874, in order to prepare for the establishment of his kingdom!

The fallen church had taken control of the court of the temple during the 1260 years, but now they are going to be kicked out of the temple area completely, so that it becomes obvious that they have been a counterfeit church during that dark time of 1260 years, even up to the 1335 days, which was when the Lord fully returned as king.

This is the true spiritual temple that the Lord and the church will reign from during the millennium, when it is complete it comes down to the earth and is called the New Jerusalem at the start of the kingdom.

Chronology & Parallels That Bring Judgment

In the book, "The Divine Plan and its Chronology", we see positive evidence that the vision in Isaiah Chapter 6 of God in the temple, which also filled with smoke, points us to 1874AD because of the 2500-year Jubilee cycles which mark that year, which are derived from the 2500 chronology of the wilderness tabernacle. In the Isaiah Chapter 6 account, we see that after the view of the Heavenly Father, the rest of the Chapter deals with the removal of the unfaithful Israelites from their land. The prophetic fulfillment of that prophecy, shows what is happening to the unfaithful of the evil church systems on this end of the age. The vision of the coals of fire off the altar that removed Isaiah's iniquity, is consistent with the coals of fire that we saw in Revelation Chapter 8, which were cast out over the city as a judgment against those who during the gospel age would give up the true blood of the Lord for the lie of the Abomination of Desolation.

To those who accept the ransom doctrines, the coals of fire are a blessing of sins forgiveness as they were to Isaiah, but to those who don't accept the ransom doctrine, the testing of the coals of fire will remove them from being able to get a reward. That testing and removal, is shown by the angel who had charge of the fire of the altar that we saw in the judgment and punishment portion of Chapter 14—see 1 Cor chapter 3. He is the angel who commanded the Lord to harvest the vine of the earth in Chapter 14, and in that Chapter we saw the vine cast into the winepress, where the blood which represents its corrupt life was crushed out of it after 40X40=1600 years of evil to 1914AD.

In Chapters 1-3 of Ezekiel, there is chronology hidden in symbolism there, that points us to the 1845 year parallels, which confirms 1878AD as the judgment of the fallen church, and the resurrection of the sleeping saints. See the book “The Divine Plan and its Chronology”, and the vision of the Living Creatures, which confirms the 1845-year harvest parallel chronology.

Man With Writers Ink Horn & 6 Men With Slaughter Weapons

We also have the same thing in Ezekiel’s vision in Chapter 10, in which the glory of the Lord appeared and the house filled with smoke when the coals of fire were taken off the altar. That the coals of fire were also cast out over the city at that time, represents the judgment and destruction of the Jewish system at the time of Babylon. There was a second prophetic application of that prophecy at the First Advent, when the Jews again rejected the ransom that our Lord provided for them. The 1845 year parallels also points us to what is happening again, through a third application of Ezekiel Chapter 10 on this end of the age—that application is against the Apostate Christians, who are also in opposition to the coals of fire of the ransom doctrine.

Ezek 10:2 And he spake unto the man clothed with linen, and said, Go in between the wheels, even under the cherub, and fill thine hand with coals of fire from between the cherubim’s, and scatter them over the city. And he went in my sight. (KJV)

In Ezekiel chapter 9, those who were faithful were marked in the forehead, and here in Revelation we see that the Lord was going to do the same thing with the sealing of the mark in the forehead, as seen in Revelation chapter 7. The man with the writer’s inkhorn in Ezekiel represents Christ, who is marking the saints in the forehead all through the Gospel Age. We don’t agree with the seventh volume that states that the angel is Bro Russell—we believe that it is Christ and the Holy Spirit who are marking the foreheads all through the age, and not just at the harvest time. Bro Russell was one of the messengers that our Lord used, but he was not the man with the writers inkhorn.

The 6 men with slaughter weapons, symbolically kill those without the mark of the Lord on their forehead, because of the earthly ideas and failings that they had brought into God’s house. See the explanation at the end of Chapter 14, where we see the same thing with the six angels and the Son of Man on the cloud. In Isaiah, Ezekiel, and again in Revelation, we see that all the unfaithful were going to be punished and removed from being God’s people. Isa 6:11-12 (11 Then I said, "Lord, how long?" And He answered, "Until cities are devastated and without inhabitant, Houses are without people, And the land is utterly desolate, 12 "The LORD HAS removed men far away, And the forsaken places are many in the midst of the land. NASB

Ezek 9:4-5 (4 And the LORD said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men that sigh and that cry for all the Abominations that be done in the midst thereof.

5 And to the others he said in mine hearing, Go ye after him through the city, and smite: let not your eye spare, neither have ye pity: (KJV)

“No Man” can Enter

That no man could enter the temple, until the seven last plagues were to be finished, shows that until God has satisfied his anger against the fallen church and state system, that the saints seen at the beginning of the chapter cannot come in. At one time we thought that this pointed to the men of the earthly kingdom, but the problem with that is that this is the inner sanctuary of the Holy and the Most Holy, and the world will not enter into that part of the temple, they will only enter into the courtyard, as we will see in chapters 21-22.

Those of the church who make their calling during this end time can be resurrected immediately, but they cannot enter the temple to carry out kingdom duties for the people until the time of trouble is over. Once the plagues are finished and the church is completed, then the church can enter into glory with the Lord, and the wedding will take place, which starts the kingdom.

To Enter Courtyard The World Must Accept God’s Arrangement of Salvation

Only then will the kingdom of God be able to come to the earth, and the people of the earth will then be able to enter the courtyard of the New Jerusalem, as we will see later in the book of Revelation—they cannot enter the inner part of the temple. Everyone must enter or come through the gates into the city, if they wish to receive the blessings of the city—both the church and the world. To enter the city, means that you accept God’s arrangement for your salvation, and you put your restoration and rehabilitation into his hands. Doing so will assure your life, and we know that there is no life by any other arrangement than by what God has provided through Christ.

Chapter 16 Revelation 16:1

Rev 16:1 Then I heard a loud voice from the temple, saying to the seven angels, "Go and pour out on the earth the seven bowls of the wrath of God."

Wrath of God?

One thing we notice in this verse, is that this is said to be the wrath of God, even though Jesus is acting as his representative during this age and the next. God is going to be a main part of this punishment in the sense that it's his people, laws, and his Divine Plan that were being attacked by this evil system. So, Jehovah through his perfect justice is the source of the punishment, even though our Lord Jesus is the one who carries out the punishment for him. We saw that same relationship in the trouble that came upon the church and state system in the sixth seal, where the judgment came from the presence of the "one" sitting on the throne, and from the wrath of the "Lamb". It tells us that this is the great day of "their" wrath, which is both Jehovah and Christ as seen in Revelation 6:16.

The Punishment & Destruction Begin

In our study of the seventh seal, we saw that it represented judgment and punishment, and that corresponds exactly to what we see happening here in Chapter 16. In the seventh seal, we provided some reasoning about the time period of about an half hour, showing that it most likely points to 1874-1914AD. The judgment of guilt that was pronounced against Great Babylon in 1878 AD, is now going to result in its destruction.

Reasons Why Seven Plagues Start in 1914

The Lord couldn't punish and destroy Great Babylon until the heavenly court had found them guilty, and that verdict was given in 1878AD, which is the date that the "1845-year harvest parallel" points to. Before the punishment could begin, the 40 year harvest was allowed to separate the wheat from the tares, so that the faithful saints would not partake of the punishment, as seen in the beginning of chapter 15. The punishment phase of the verdict began in 1914AD, and it continues until all seven elements of the evil system are eliminated and destroyed. Dan 7:26 'But the court will sit for judgment, and his dominion will be taken away, annihilated and destroyed forever. NASU

The 1845 year parallels show us that just as the Jewish system was judged and found wanting in 33AD, 1845 years later the corrupted Christian churches were going to be judged guilty and found wanting in the same manner. If we look at Daniel in chapter 7, it tells us there that the Son of Man was seen coming to the heavenly Father, and judgment seats were set up, and judgment was rendered in favor of the saints. The terrible and deadly beast was then cast alive into the fire that was to consume it, which was scheduled to begin happening in 1914—although some beasts are allowed to live for a season—no amount of time for that time period was given. Part of what has occurred from 1878AD and onward, was the public revealing of the error and sins of the evil system, which the scriptures call Great Babylon. After this system has been removed, there will be no doubt to future generations that it was guilty.

Another reason that the bowls have to start in 1914, is that the consecrated saints had to be harvested out before the plagues could come against the fallen church system, as stated in Rev chapter 18. We also have chronology from Ezekiel's 40, and 390 days, and the judgment and killing of those who were in error by the six men with slaughter weapons, who executed the ones polluting the temple at the command of the man with writers ink horn—who symbolizes Christ. Christ returned in 1874, so the punishment of the plagues has to happen after that time. The chronology from Ezekiel chapters 1-3, parallels the harvest and judgement of the Jewish Age 33 and 1878, and 69-70 AD also parallels the Second Advent judgment and harvest, pointing to 1914 as the punishment date.

Living Creature of Justice

The system had to be judged before it could be destroyed, and once it was judged, the Living Creature of Justice handed out the golden bowls of wrath to the seven angels. The three woes of churches 5-7, were on both the church and the saints, just exactly like the first three plagues of Egypt were on both. After that the seven plagues were only poured out on the fallen church. We also see that the consecrated of the church had to be harvest out of the fallen system before the plagues could strike their blows on the fallen church—that is why the saints are pictured above the glass sea looking down at the fiery trouble. The call to the church in chapter 18, to come out of her my people, so that you don't partake of her plagues, is what had placed them above the trouble and punishment that began in 1914 AD.

Seven Bowls Attack Seven Elements of System

One interesting thing is that all seven bowls were to be poured either into or onto the earth, each one hitting a particular element of that system, but we see that the earth itself was additionally hit in bowl one. We believe that the reason for that, is that even though bowl one was poured into the earth symbol, what was actually being hit were those who had the mark of the beast and who worshipped the image—the individuals with the plagues are those who supported the Empires that had descended from what was left of the Roman Empire in the first bowl—they were given symbolic loathsome and malignant sores as punishment.

The seven bowls of wrath are designed to destroy seven different elements of the evil Satanic System. Bowl one, strikes the earth and those who worship the beast and the Image. Bowl two, is the loss of all of the crowns of all spirit begotten in Great Babylon, who do not come out to the Lord. Bowl three poisons all their evil doctrines, so that their worldly doctrines become even more destructive to them, because they were the ones that had corrupted the faithful churches doctrines.

Bowl four, scorches them and their false doctrines with the light of truth. Bowl five, darkens the kingdom of the beast, because they no longer have the full throne of Satan helping them anymore after the kings are destroyed. Bowl six dries up the Euphrates, which represents the river of earthly support for Satan's system. When the water is all dried up as we will see in a different picture, the way of the kings of the East becomes a highway that leads dry-shod across the river into the kingdom for the world—Isaiah chapter 35.

The seventh bowl hits the power of Satan, and the different elements of his worldwide system, destroying them step by step. When all seven elements of that evil system are removed, then the kingdom is here.

Reason for the Difference of 4, 5, 6, and 7 Bowls of Wrath

We have puzzled over the reason that the last four bowls of wrath are different than the first three. What we have finally noticed is that the first three show us the total destruction of the symbols that are shown in them, while bowls four through seven do not show us the total destruction of the symbols that they were to destroy. What we finally figured out is that the last four bowls of wrath are only showing us what was designed to happen at the 1914-18 time frame, not what needs to happen by the time of Israel and the world entering into the kingdom.

So what we see happening in bowls four, five, six, and seven especially, is that we are only being shown what was designed to happen to Great Babylon at the 1914-18 point in history, but we know that later on those same symbols will be completely eradicated, so that the world can escape from Satan's evil system. The symbol of the sun of shining truth will eventually overwhelm the fallen systems error, and the remnants of the throne of the beast will be removed, the waters of the River Euphrates will be completely dried up, and the Great city and the mountains will all be destroyed completely, because of the world needs them removed for the start of the kingdom.

Helping to prove that there is a division and difference after bowl three, we see that the angel of bowl three tells us that they had been punished for what they had done to the faithful church as seen in seal five, and that punishment was the spiritual death of the ones still supporting the fallen church—a fitting punishment for what they had done to the faithful church. The punishment not only removes the crowns from those who were supporting the system, but it also retroactively punishes all who failed to heed the warnings of the seven angels from chapter 14, who are the seven messenger.

Rev 6:9-11 (9 When the Lamb broke the fifth seal, I saw underneath the altar the souls of those who had been slain because of the word of God, and because of the testimony which they had maintained; 10 and they cried out with a loud voice, saying, "How long, O Lord, holy and true, will You refrain from judging and avenging our blood on those who dwell on the earth?" 11 And there was given to each of them a white robe; and they were told that they should rest for a little while longer, until the number of their fellow servants and their brethren who were to be killed even as they had been, would be completed also. NASU

Rev 16:5-7 (5 And I heard the angel of the waters saying, "Righteous are You, who are and who were, O Holy One, because You judged these things; 6 for they poured out the blood of saints and prophets, and You have given them blood to drink. They deserve it." 7 And I heard the altar saying, "Yes, O Lord God, the Almighty, true and righteous are Your judgments." NASU

From bowls four through six, we see that the symbols being struck are not shown as being fully destroyed in this chapter. In order to see the full destruction, it's necessary to look at other pictures of Great Babylon's destruction, such as is shown in chapters 18 and 19. Bowl seven shows us the destruction of the symbols found in it, but it does not give us very much detail, which again requires us to look at chapters 18-19. Another important point is that the full details of the destruction of Great Babylon will not be fully seen, unless we look at the seven different pictures of Great Babylon's punishment and destruction. For example, we will see a more detailed picture of the destruction of Great Babylon in chapter 18, and in chapter 19 we will see that destruction finished.

We will also discuss a 4 + 3 split of the last seven bowls a little later on, which we also believe is valid.

Just Like Jewish System Judgment Arrived On Time

The actual punishment of the fallen system had to wait until 1914 AD before it could begin, because the harvest had to allow time to publish the message of judgment, and to give the saints that were still in Great Babylon time to get out and acknowledge that the system was guilty, so that they would not partake of her plagues. Rev 18:4 I heard another voice from heaven, saying, "Come out of her, my people, so that you will not participate in her sins and receive of her plagues; NASU

That is the same thing that happened at the First Advent, in that the Jewish system was not destroyed until 69-73AD, which was 40-43.5 years after our Lord had started his mission at the river Jordan. Masada, the last holdout, was taken in 73AD, which was exactly 40 years after the judgment that our Lord pronounced against the nation of Israel in Matt chapter 23, just before he was crucified in 33AD. Just as the Jewish house was left desolate, the same thing has happened to the Babylonish church and state system on this end of the age.

Matt 23:37-38 (37 "Jerusalem, Jerusalem, who kills the prophets and stones those who are sent to her! How often I wanted to gather your children together, the way a hen gathers her chicks under her wings, and you were unwilling. 38 "Behold, your house is being left to you desolate! NASU

The Harvest Church Predicted 1914 War

Similarly, on this end of the age, the war started in 1914AD and continued until 1918AD, which was 40 years from 1878AD. The date 1878 AD was where the judgment verdict was given against the fallen church and state system. Starting in 1879 AD on this end of the age, with the publishing of Zion's Watchtower, the Lord provided the condemning evidence in the harvest message as to why the punishment was coming against the church and state system in 1914 AD. The final destructive punishment of the fallen system began in 1914, after most of the saints had time to accept the harvest message, and to get out. 3.5 years later, the kings that had been part of the church and state system were all gone, effectively removing the last of the civil power that the churches had controlled for over 1000 years.

The faithful church had predicted the exact Sept-Oct 1914 date for the start of the conflict using Daniel's chronology, but they had wrong expectations about the close of the church, and that is why we are still here on this end of the age—they thought the time to the kingdom would be within a few years, but it has been much longer. See the book, "The Divine Plan and its Chronology", for an explanation of why the end did not come in 1914 as had been expected at the time of the harvest. It turns out that there is a hidden overlap of 118.5 years, that takes us until Israel is rescued by Jehovah from the attack of Gog and Magog.

Rev 18:4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues. (KJV)

See 1845 year table on next page that shows the judgement and destruction of the evil Great Babylonian system at the time of the harvest. That chronology is correct for the judgement of the fallen church and for the removal and destruction of the kings that had been a part of the church and state system. But as we now see, it did not show the close of the church, and there is a final removal of Satan's evil system that has to be accomplished yet.

Bowl Instead of Vial

We note that some translations use vials of wrath, rather than bowls of wrath. For consistency, we are going to use bowls of wrath in our commentary on both Chapters 15 and 16, so that everyone understands what is being discussed. A bowl seems bigger than a vial as we know them today, and so we want it understood that the seven bowls of wrath are big enough to bring total destruction to the seven different elements of the church and state system that are going to be removed by the seven plagues. In the Greek language, a vial or bowl is defined in Strong's dictionary as a broad shallow cup, and that would be closer to a bowl as we know it, while a modern vial is usually a small necked bottle, which does not fit the Greek definition of vial.

Relationship to Genesis the Trumpets, and the Seven Plagues

When God created the earth, that event in Genesis was described by certain symbols that made up his creation, such as, sun, moon, stars, land, and sea, fish in the sea, etc. In the first four trumpets, we saw those same symbolic elements being struck and damaged, with one-third of each symbol removed or destroyed in each trumpet. In the trumpets, those items were symbolic of God's true religious system and society. Removing one-third from a symbol, left two-thirds, which in the decimal system is .666, etc! In other words, Satan and the fallen church changed our Lord's true church and religion into man's and Satan's religion, since six is the number of man, and Satan's number is 666. When God retaliates in the bowls of wrath, the same symbols that were shown being corrupted in the trumpets, are completely destroyed by him after 1914, showing the eventual and complete destruction of the fallen church and state system.

In the following calculations, some might object to using  $1 - .333 = .666$  as a decimal number, because it's said that they did not have decimal numbers back in that time, and so we will show that God has been using this same method all through the Old Testament, but without using it as a decimal. In the book of Zechariah, we find this: Zech 13:8-9 (8 "It will come about in all the land," Declares the LORD, "That two parts in it will be cut off and perish; But the third will be left in it. 9 "And I will bring the third part through the fire, Refine them as silver is refined, And test them as gold is tested. They will call on My name, And I will answer them; I will say, 'They are My people,' And they will say, 'The LORD is my God.'" NASU

In the Zechariah prophecy, we see that God is defining the two parts that are cut off as bad, and the one part that he takes out and refines in the fire, he is defining that as good. To prove that, we see that they are refined as the symbols of gold and silver. So, when you see us use the decimal number one third or two thirds anywhere in this book, Zechariah Chapter 13:8-9 is the principle behind that calculation. Gold usually symbolizes the 144,000 and the silver usually symbolizes Great Company.

We think that seeing that step by step corruption of one-thirds is important, since Jehovah and Jesus are going to attack the makeup of the fallen church in the same way the evil system had originally harmed the Faithful Church. The fallen church was totally corrupted by the end of the fourth-church, which was about 1153AD as per the theoretical 360-year system for the length of the churches, and that is one reason why God made the last three trumpets into woe trumpets. Instead of continuing to just show us what was wrong in the fifth seal, and trumpet and onward to the seventh, we saw our Lord at that time begin to afflict and punish the Papal system, by starting to wear down its power with the reformers.

Warning & Hope of Reform

It appears that there were at least two reasons for our Lord beginning to begin to attack the fallen church from the time of the fifth church and onward. The first reason, was to try to get those who were in error to reform. We will also see later that the three woes were the three first plagues of punishment on the system, with the other seven bowls making a total of ten plagues.

The second and very important reason for the three woes was to weaken the fallen church, so that the faithful church could escape and have enough freedom so that they could begin to restore the truth of the Divine Plan—which was made fully available by the time of the seventh church, providing the knowledge that was needed for the harvest message. It was also necessary that the church and state system needed to lose enough power, so that it couldn't stop the harvest message from going forth. If that full message had been brought forth in the fifth church or earlier, all the faithful would have been killed and that would have been the end of the message of truth.

We also saw the same thing in Chapter 14, with the three warnings that were given to the church, telling them what would happen to those who failed to heed the messages of warning of the three angels. All seven angels seen in that chapter actually gave us warnings, even though we are only given the details of three of the warnings in that chapter. The other warnings are given in other places, like for example the messages to the seven churches seen in Rev chapters two and three.

Failure to Heed Warnings Results in Destruction

Since the evil system didn't repent by the time of the seventh trumpet and the harvest message of judgment, God was going to begin to destroy that system completely in 1914, as we will see described in this Chapter and later chapters. Although the Lord began to severely punish and destroy the evil system in 1914AD, it appears that there is at least one more final and serious blow, which is the whirlwind of destruction that is going to come upon Satan's entire world wide system just before the close of this age and the start of the kingdom. That final destruction seems to be especially pictured by the great hail that falls upon them in the last part of the seventh bowl, and the burning of the Great City of Great Babylon in chapter 18. In chapter 19 we will see the final capture and removal of any forces that were supporting that system.

First Three Bowls

The first three bowls of wrath completed most of their part of the destruction of the church and state system by 1918. The work they did was complete and permanent by that time, in that the corrupted elements that were to be destroyed in the first three bowls, were removed from the system at that time. Those three bowls of wrath destroyed the spiritual life of that system, turning it into a worldly church, with no heavenly hope left. Individuals could leave that system and come to the Lord on their own, but the Lord was not using that system anymore, which is an exact parallel to what happened when the Jewish house was cast off.

The process of turning the fallen churches of Great Babylon into worldly institutions, instead of vibrant spiritual churches was completed by 1918 AD. The remnant of the civil power of the beast which Satan still uses to control the world, is gradually being worn down until that control will eventually turn into anarchy. The gospel light keeps getting brighter and brighter, exposing more of that systems error and that will continue, and any new doctrines they come out with keep taking them deeper into spiritual darkness. They have fallen so far, that many of them have become susceptible to the message of Islam, because they don't understand what Christ really accomplished for them or the world on the cross.

Last Four Bowls of Wrath Remove Elements of Satan's System

As we will see, the last four bowls and especially the seventh one, are the ones that help begin the complete the full destruction of Satan's evil system. The last four bowls and especially bowl seven, give us an outline of how the destruction occurs, but the last four bowls do not show the full destruction of Satan's system by themselves. As we will do when we get to chapter 18, we will attempt to show where the bowls of wrath are being shown in more detail in that chapter. The beast and the Image were largely broken up after 1799, and then more so at the time of WW1, 1914-18, but the pieces of that Satanic system still exist, but in other forms. All of Satan's control and his worldly system, need to be swept away at the beginning of the kingdom. Revelation actually gives us seven different pictures of that destruction, of which the seven bowls are just one picture.

Summary of Seven Bowls And What They Do

In the first bowl, those who had the mark of the beast and who had worshipped the image, received malignant sores. They received malignant sores because they still worshipped the Old World system. Even though the Roman Empire had broken up into smaller pieces after 1799, the Papal Empire and at least three other Empires still existed as the Old World Order at the time of 1914. They would like to have restored themselves back to their full power if they could have, because of the riches and privileges that would have brought back to them.

In the second bowl, the sea being turned to blood, pictured what our Lord did to the fallen system when he spewed them out—the fallen church system had been warned in the message to the seventh church, that a spewing out would happen to them if they did not reform and get gold and white garments, and doctrinal eye salve. They were warned that they would be cut off from the life-giving spiritual water if they did not do that, which is pictured by the water being turned to blood in this bowl of wrath, and everything in the spiritual sea that had life, died because of the blood poisoning the water, just as what they had done to the faithful in the second church.

That was when the fallen system corrupted the church with the combining of the church with the civil power of Rome, and they began changing the doctrines of salvation to the doctrine of the Abomination of Desolation. The Lord is not working with the fallen church system anymore after 1914-18, which is exactly the same situation there was when he quit using the Jewish System at their end of their age of favor. He can still call individuals who have a hearing ear and a seeing eye out of that system, just as Jews could be called to the church after the removal of Israel from favor at the First Advent. But if those who had knowledge and crowns did not come out to the Lord in either age, they lost their crowns.

In the third bowl, the rivers and fountains of water were turned to blood, showing that just as they had corrupted the churches doctrines, the Lord was doing the same thing to theirs—giving them worldly doctrines on this end of the age, because they had brought Satan’s worldly spirit into the church and the Lord’s spirit was pushed out. Their extremely bad worldly doctrines have become even worse as time has gone on, to the point that most do not even know that there is a race to be run for the high calling. Many churches have changed over to a social Gospel, thinking that they are going to change the world over to being Christ’s kingdom by doing social work. Others think that they are going to conquer the world for Christ, and establish the kingdom by placing the church in control of the civil government—which is the same mistake the early church made when they partnered with Rome in a church and state system.

Difference After Bowl Four

The first three bowls, together represent the removal of that system from being the Lord’s church, just as what had happened to the Jewish system 1845 years earlier. One major difference in the first three bowls, is that they show us the complete punishment and destruction of their symbols. In the last four bowls, we do not see the complete destruction of the symbols being struck in chapter 16, but we have to look at chapters 18 and 19 in order to see the complete removal of Great Babylon. The only exception is perhaps bowl seven, which does give us an outline of how Great Babylon was being destroyed.

Another interesting thing about the last four bowls, is that they were poured “onto” the symbols that were to be punished or destroyed, where the first three bowls were poured “into” the symbols that they were to punish or destroy. Besides the change in how the bowls are poured out, there is a break in between bowl three and bowl four, which is marked by the proclamation of the angel which we quoted above, saying that the evil system deserved the punishment that they had just received. They had poured out the blood of the saints, and because of that, their symbolic spiritual life blood was being poured out. Their punishment by the end of bowl three, removed them from being God's people, and so we see that the symbols found in the first three bowls were punished and destroyed right away.

The fourth bowl, was the sun scorching them with the light of truth, but it says that they blasphemed God, and that they did not repent. The light of the harvest truth that came out at the harvest time exposed the doctrines of the so called Christian church systems as being corrupt, and it scorched them, but they did not accept the truth as being correct, and for that reason it did not destroy them at that time. They refused to see that their doctrines were in error, and they blasphemed God instead of repenting. When the time of trouble broke out exactly at the predicted time of 1914, they should have acknowledged that it was the predicted punishment, but they did not. Even the evil history of their system, and their being in conflict with common sense scientific ideas since the time of 1914, is part of the bright sun light that is scorching them. The full removal of error will not come until the start of the kingdom, where the waters of truth will cover the entire earth.

The symbols that the last four bowls strike, and which are being destroyed in the evil Satanic worldwide system, are not limited to the church and state system of the Old World order, and so those four last bowls have more work to do than what we see in chapter 16! They began their part of the destruction upon the church and state system in 1914, and they completed the punishment and destruction on that fallen system by 1918, but they still have the final work of destruction to do on Satan's worldwide system that is not shown in chapter 16. The broken up parts of the system that the last four bowls are designed to remove, were not completely removed from the rest of Satan's world-wide system by the trouble that came about in WW1, and so a more and broader and final destruction is needed to get rid of those evil elements.

In the fifth bowl, we saw the throne of the beast struck, and it was darkened but not destroyed. The fifth bowl does not show us the complete removal of the civil power of the throne of the beast, but the seventh bowl and chapters 17, and 18, 19 show us more detail, with those chapters showing the last of the independent civil power being removed in time for the kingdom. The removing of the power of Satan's terrible civil power beast is shown in Daniel chapter 7, where we see that the evil beast is thrown into the fire of destruction from which it will not escape. Several other governmental beasts are allowed to exist for a set time, but we are not told how long that time will be— which is when all civil power that won't bow down to the new king will be removed in time for the kingdom.

So we see that the throne of the beast was not eliminated completely in 1914-18, because Satan still controls the civil power of the governments of today, but the power of the throne was separated from the churches, and that happened because all of the 10 kings were removed in WW1. We won't see the remaining corrupt governments fully removed until the seventh bowl completes its work, and that will be when we see the Chapter 19 final capture of the civil power of Satan's system.

The sixth bowl has to do with the drying up of the support for Satan's evil system. Some of that was accomplished in 1914-18, with the removal of the Old World Order, but much more needs to be done in order to free up the people by the time of the kingdom, so that they can walk dry-shod into the kingdom, just like the Israelites did who left Egypt and crossed the river into the promised land. We will see more of that drying up of support in the seventh bowl and further onward in Revelation chapter 18, where we see several classes of people standing far off and away from her burning.

There is a Parentheses Similar to Seals & Trumpets

The parentheses, between the sixth and the seventh bowls, reveals Satan's three unclean spirits, which were what has gathered the kings to the great day of God, which results in the battle of Armageddon. We believe that battle started in 1914, and it continues until the end of the gospel age where we have the final and very severe battle—which is the battle that we usually look at as being the actual battle of Armageddon. The gathering of the kings together by the three unclean spirits actually began back when the church and state system with Rome was being formed at the time of Christianity. The arguments by the two horned beast, who is also the False Prophet even at the same time that it was the two horned beast, eventually formed the seventh head of Christianized Roman power, and from there the system grew in power until it became the terrible beastly power of the seventh chapter of Daniel, which was when the eighth head came into existence.

The seventh bowl starts its list of destructive events at the time of 1914, and those events go step by step from 1914 onward, and the destruction pictured in that bowl occurs during the remaining span of time, finishing just before the kingdom. We will examine these ideas in greater detail once we start covering the bowls of wrath, one by one.

$$\mathbf{3+4 = 7 \ \& \ 3 + 7 = 10}$$

There is also 3 woe trumpets + 4 bowls of wrath = 7 blows on the fallen church system, which completes both a spiritual and literal punishment upon the church and state system by the end of 1914-18—we get that result by counting the three woes with the first four bowls of wrath, which makes seven blows upon the symbols of the fallen church system by the end of 1914-18. In that picture, which is different than the three bowls versus four we discussed above, we add the destruction of the fourth bowl of the light of the sun to the destruction of the church state system. That destruction was completed upon those who still supported the doctrines of the fallen church. They were scorched by the light of truth that came out in the harvest, but after that error was exposed, that still left the world wide system of Satan's error, which still needs to be removed. Even though the fourth bowl of wrath did not complete the destruction of all of the error of Satan's system as we noted in the separation of the first three bowls from the last four, it did expose and condemn all the error of the Harlot and so it does form a 4 bowls plus three bowl pattern regarding the condemnation and destruction of that part of Satan's system.

The fifth bowl upon the throne of the beast, did remove the civil power from the church and state system, but it did not remove all of the civil power from Satan's control at that time—that still needs to happen. The drying up of the waters of the Euphrates, also removed a great deal of support for Satan's church and state system, but again, before this bowl's work is done we need to remove the support for Satan's worldwide evil system. The seventh bowl of wrath shows the outline of the events that began the removal of the support for Satan's evil church and state system, and then continues with eventual removal of the civil power from Satan's control, and with the falling of the hail that weighs a talent we see that the final error will be removed by the fall of hard truth upon the evil worldwide system of Satan.

So as we have looked at this in detail, we see that there is also a four and three separation in the bowls of wrath, besides the three plus four separation, because the fallen church systems error was exposed and condemned by the light of truth, completing that part of the destruction of error on the fallen church by the end of 1914-18. The full error of Satan's evil system has to be removed yet, and that is why the three and four pattern of full destruction that we looked at earlier is also correct. But because the fallen church's error was fully exposed and condemned by the harvest truth, we do have the picture of the first four bowls having completed their destruction of the fallen systems error by the end of 1914-18.

Picture of Egyptian Plagues

We also noted that the original ten plagues of Egypt were a type or picture that showed us several very interesting things that relate to the above questions about the bowls of wrath. One thing that was a prophetic picture, was that the first three plagues of Egypt were also on both the Israelites and the worldly Egyptians. That is the same thing we have on this end of the age, where we see that the three woe trumpets were on both the faithful saints and the fallen church and state system—1158-1914. The second thing that we noticed that was important, was that after seven of the Egyptian plagues had been poured out, Pharaoh's advisers told him that the entire kingdom had been destroyed already. The three woe trumpets plus the four bowls of wrath pictures the complete fall of the church and state system after the seven plagues of three woes and four bowls of wrath.

Last Three Bowls Continue Onward With Punishment

Pharaoh kept resisting God for three more plagues and eventually both him and his kingdom were destroyed because of that, which pictures the same thing Satan is doing on this end of the age, in that after having lost his church state system in 1914-18, he is still hanging on to the rest of the control that he has over the world-wide system of evil that he has left, trying to restore it. After the last three bowls of wrath are finished, including all seven pictures of Great Babylon's destruction, Satan's worldwide system will be completely destroyed, along with him being thrown into and locked up in the abyss for the millennium.

The double application, or the continuous much longer implementation of the last four bowls is necessary, because we noticed that a lot was accomplished in regard to the destruction of the Old-World order and the church and state system in WW1, but much more needs to be done yet in regard to the entire Satanic system. The full release of God's truth to the world, is going to be a major factor in the start of the kingdom, because if anyone still doubted and was blaspheming God, that would hinder the kingdom.

The kings that made up the throne of the beast lost their thrones in WW1, but the surviving governmental beasts and other Satanic pieces of the system that still exist yet, need to be kept from restoring their lost church and state empire of power, and bowl seven shows that power being completely removed, especially if we include Revelation chapters 17-19.

Dan 7:11-12 (11 "Then I kept looking because of the sound of the boastful words which the horn was speaking; I kept looking until the beast was slain, and its body was destroyed and given to the burning fire. 12 "As for the rest of the beasts, their dominion was taken away, but an extension of life was granted to them for an appointed period of time. NASU

The drying up of the water of the sixth bowl had a partial application against the Old-World order, where the masses of the common people were glad to get rid of that oppressive system. But the waters of support for Satan's worldwide system that still exist, will also have to be dried up in preparation for the full kingdom.

Last Three Bowls Lead to Whirlwind Same as Earthquake in Seventh Bowl?

If the last three bowls of wrath have an extended affect and are what result in the final whirlwind upon the worldwide system, then those who blaspheme God's name in the seventh bowl, would have to be some who refuse to quit supporting the evil Satanic system that exists today, because of the benefits it brings to them. That would be for example dictators and those who are hoarding all of the wealth or raw materials for themselves, or anyone that is harming others. It will be extremely difficult for the rich, who have hoarded up wealth way beyond what they need to give that up. That is why we see the Lord riding out on the white horse, with the armies of heaven following him, going out to remove those final elements of corruption. They need to recognize the warning that is given in Zechariah chapter 14, where it says that there will be no rain upon those who do not go up to Jerusalem—in other words they will need to accept the kingdom in order to get the blessing.

Interlude of Dragon, Beast, & False Prophet

Between the sixth and the seventh bowl of wrath, we have an inserted interlude, where we see three evil characters, the dragon, the beast, and the False Prophet. As we have edited this document, we have come to realize that our original view of when the three unclean spirits began to croak out their evil deception leading to the battle of Armageddon, was too narrowly defined. We had originally placed that croaking between 1799-1914, but as we looked at what was being said, we saw that the three unclean spirits were what had actually gathered the three evil creatures that are named in that parentheses, together into one big evil church and state system. The “dragon” was Satan, and “the false prophet” was Papacy. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast.

As it says in chapter 13, the two horned beast of Papacy gave the arguments as to why they needed to create the image of the beast, forming the theocracy of the church and state system. The “beast” was the original Roman civil power which created a church and state system, and which later morphed into the image of the beast when the Western Empire was put back together again after 799 AD, but it was reconstructed through German tribes rather than Roman nations—that is why it is an image, it only looked like a restored Roman Empire. That was the time when the power of the evil system started to really grow, taking absolute control of everything before it was done.

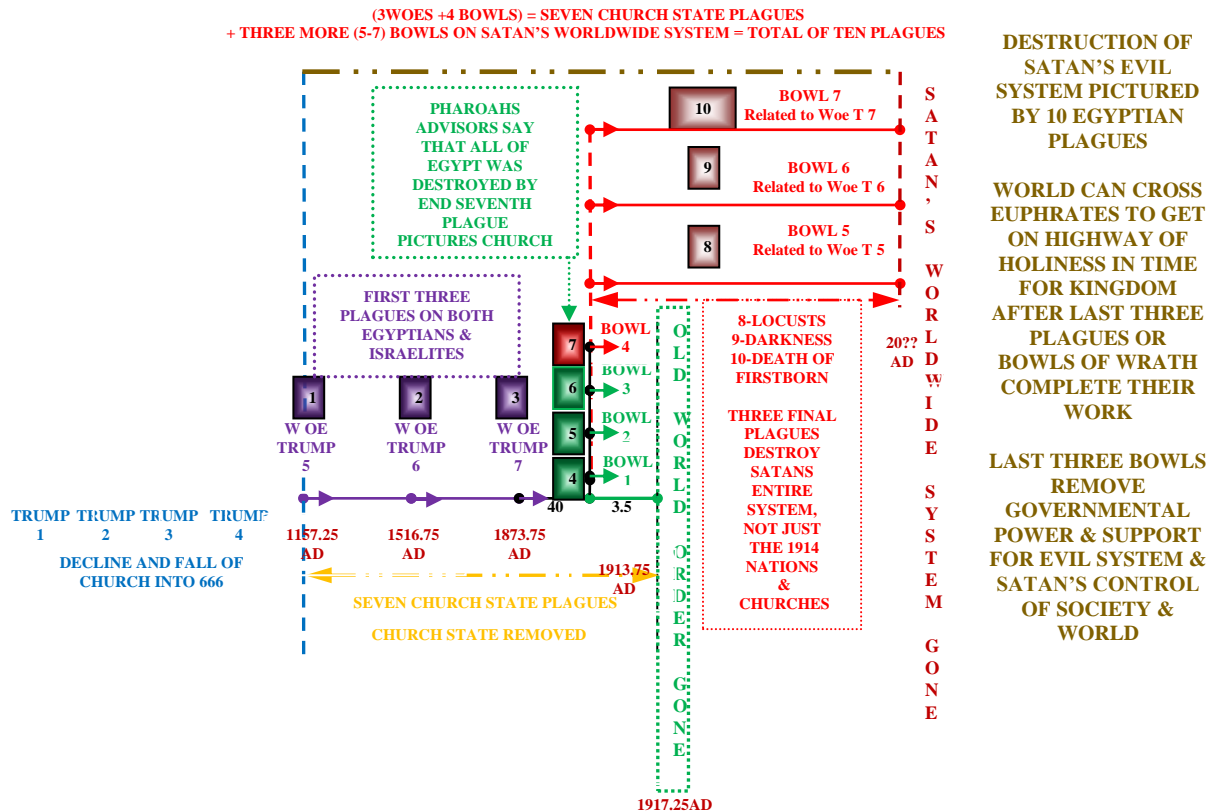

We will explain the croaking of the three unclean spirits, and why we placed that symbolism back at the time of the beginning of the corruption of the church, in much more detail when we get to that part of the chapter. Those croaking’s were the arguments that Satan, the two horned beast, and the Roman system used to bring together the evil church and state system. That system is what brings the kings together at the end of the age for the final battle.

The more complex diagram on next page, shows how we believe that the three woes and the seven bowls of wrath work together to finish off evil Satan’s system. The time flow of that diagram is also from left to right.

Diagram of Ten Plagues and Removal of Satan's Worldwide System

The first three bowls of wrath, destroy those who had killed the saints who were seen under the altar in the fifth seal. That the ones who did that killing were fully punished at the completion of the third bowl, is proven by the statement that the angel gave after the bowl did its work stating that the punishment was done, and the altar that had the dead saints under it, responded with an agreement with the angels statement. So the first three bowls of wrath have completed their work in the 1914-18 timeframe, but we note that the fourth through the seventh do not show us a full completion of their work in chapter 16. We have to go to chapters 18-19 in order to see the full and completion of the destruction of Great Babylon.

3 Woes & 7 Plagues?

The two different diagrams above shows the relationship of the ten plagues of Egypt to the three woe trumpets and the seven plagues. To get the complete picture of the ten plagues, we start counting with the three woe trumpets, numbering them 1-3 inside the three black boxes. The first three plagues in the time of Egypt were on both the Israelites and the Egyptians.

At the time of the fourth plague, the Lord said that plagues would only fall on the Egyptians, and that corresponds to the first bowl of wrath, which does not fall on the faithful church because they have been harvested out. After the third plague of Egypt, the rest of the plagues fell only upon the Egyptians, and the same thing is true of the seven bowls of wrath, in that they fall only on the Apostate church. After 1914 the plagues fell only on Great Babylon, because the saints with crowns were to have come out of Great Babylon by that date, or by 1918 at the latest—pictured at beginning of Revelation chapter 15. There could be new individuals called out of that system to the church after that time, but all who had crowns at the time it happened, were to have “come out her my people” or they were subject to being punished by the seven last plagues.

Ex 9:4-5 (4 "But the Lord will make a distinction between the livestock of Israel and the livestock of Egypt, so that nothing will die of all that belongs to the sons of Israel." NASU

Beyond the 40 Year Harvest

After the judgment of 1874-1878AD, those who had crowns, had 40 years to “come out of her my people”. Those who did not, would have run into severe difficulties shortly after 1914-18AD. The seven bowls of wrath fell on Great Babylon during that time from 1914-18. Just as the Israelites had to accept the blood of the Lamb to be spared and to escape Egypt, the same is true of spiritual Israel, and that will also be true of the world in the next age. Those who had crowns and did not accept the newly revealed knowledge about the blood of the Lamb for their protection, and if they stayed with the doctrine of the Abomination of the Mass, they would have lost their crowns.

Egypt Was Destroyed After Seven Plagues

At the end of the seventh, and before the start of the eighth plague of Egypt, the advisors to Pharaoh told him that all of Egypt was destroyed, and that he should let the Israelites go. As the recorded history shows Pharaoh did not heed the advice, and the last three plagues then came upon Egypt; which were Locusts, Darkness, and the final one which was the death of the First Born. Those three last plagues picture the final decline and fall of Satan’s worldwide system, which once accomplished will allow the world to enter the kingdom blessings.

We are not sure if those last three Egyptian plagues picture what is going to happen on this end of the age, but it is very likely. The Locusts may be the anarchists and others who rebel against the established society that exists in the world that we see around us today. The darkness may be the financial collapse of society or the complete ignorance of God’s laws which result in all men against other men, and that results in anarchy, war, and trouble that comes upon the fallen system. The death of the first born, would be the final judgment and demise of those who Satan would like to put back into power, with a restored system that he wants under his control. Any hopes that they had that they would be high ranking members of the church in heaven, would be seen to be false, they will be spiritually rejected completely—cast off.

Before the final end of that system, we see that the beginning of the failure all three of the elements of Satan's system were found in the downfall of 1914-1918. Unfortunately that was not the final end, but it was the beginning of the end and so here is what we see in that regard. We also point to and are looking forward to the complete removal and downfall of that fallen system.

- The remnant of the civil power that was left after the church state system was destroyed in WW1, is the remaining civil power of Satan which will be overturned in time for the kingdom to begin. Just as the darkness of the evil church system was exposed and seen in the fifth trumpet, this plague attacks and exposes the darkness of the remnant of the throne of the beast, showing that the civil power that Satan still uses to control the earth, is very oppressive and bad. WW1 removed the kings who were a part of the church and state beast, but other oppressive and beastly governments still exist at this time, as was predicted by Daniel in chapter 7, but they will be gone at the start of the kingdom, as shown in the seventh bowl of wrath, and Revelation chapters 17-19.
- The waters of support for the evil system will be gradually dried up, so that by the time that it's time for the kingdom to begin, the people will be glad to accept the kingdom. This trouble on the system is a continuation of the trouble that began with the release of the four angels that had been bound in the midst of the Euphrates, as was pictured for us in the sixth trumpet. Just as that trouble broke out upon the power of the church and state system in 1517-1799, the trouble that comes from the sixth bowl of wrath breaks down the control that the system still has over the people even further in 1914-1918. A lot of support for the old-world order was dried up in WW1, but Satan's evil system still has a lot of support and that will need to be completely dried up in time for the kingdom. The destroyed church and state system constantly works to gain more support from the people, trying to get full power and control back from the people and governments again. We will see the final removal of the error of Satan in the seventh bowl of wrath, when the hard hail falls on error and destroys it, and when we see the burning of the evil system in chapter 18.
- The First Born that the Apostate system had thought were saints, were removed after 1914-18 and they lost their crowns. At the very end, Satan will not have any offspring to carry on with his system, because anyone who will not quit supporting him will be literally cut off. Satan's spiritual control and power over the earth will be removed in time for the kingdom. The Great City of Papacy will be completely broken up, and the entire false religious system of Great Babylon destroyed, and the hard truth as symbolized by hail will shatter and expose all lies. Just as the church state system was judged and found wanting, Satan's control over the earth is found to be very bad, and it's to be removed in time for the kingdom. Satan lost control of a big piece of his Empire by 1918, when the church and state system as well as the old-world order went down, but he still control's the remnants of that system and the rest of the world's governments. In the seventh bowl, we see the bowl poured out on the air, and that is Satan's power of spiritual control, and that guarantees that he will not retain any control when the kingdom begins.

Remaining Three Plagues

Regarding the parallel to what happened in the plagues of Egypt, that country was effectively destroyed at the end of the first seven plagues, as Pharaoh's advisors had told him. Since he didn't listen, the remaining last three plagues destroyed the final remnants of his rule over the country, along with all his supporters, and him—red boxes in the second diagram. On this end of the age, Satan's system of church and state was effectively destroyed in the same way by 1918—which was after the three woes and seven bowls of wrath. That completed those bowls work regarding the church and state system, but there remains the need to free the world of mankind from the power of Satan, and to complete the church. After the 1914-18 war, the entire church and state system that Satan had been using to control and rule over the Empires, was punished and gone, and only remnants of that system still exist now. Satan has not given up yet and he still controls the governments of the world, and because of that the three remaining bowls of wrath continue to work against his system, and they will finish him and the remnants of his system off in time for the kingdom.

It appears that the main thrust of the last three bowls is initially punishing the fallen church state system, but the same types of destruction need to come against the rest of Satan's evil system, in order to prepare the people for the kingdom. We will see more of that final destruction pictured in chapter 19.

The final three plagues that occurred in the time of Egypt, and which finished off Pharaoh and his evil rule of slavery over Israel, are a picture of the same thing happening on this end of the age. Satan has tried to restore the lost the church and state system that he had been using to control the world, but so far he has not been successful. He has tried to re-establish it with the continuing lies of the three unclean spirits, and he has tried to recreate the major Empires that went down in WW1. He has had some partial success in those endeavors, but we know that in the end all those efforts will fail, because of the last three bowls of wrath are continuing their destructive work upon his evil worldwide Empire, and they will destroy it once and for all times. The final trouble of the battle of Armageddon, will be the result of the three unclean spirits or lies that he has doubled down on after his loss of control of his kingdom.

Ten Plagues

We mentioned this in Chapter 15, but we are going to cover this again, and hopefully add a few more interesting points. With the three woe trumpets and the seven last plagues that we are going to be considering in this Chapter, we have a total of ten plagues, which is the same number of the plagues as Egypt. We believe that the ten plagues of Egypt are an important picture to keep in mind as we consider this Chapter. The ten plagues of Egypt represented the total deliverance of Israel from Egypt, “both the priests and the people”. The first three plagues of Egypt were on both the Israelites and the Egyptians together, and after that the next seven affected only the Egyptians—likewise, the three woe trumpets fell on both the evil system and the faithful church, because the church had not been harvested out yet. The seven bowls of wrath after 1914, fell only upon Satan’s evil system and those who supported it—just as the last seven plagues of Egypt had fallen only on the Egyptians.

The three woe trumpets were designed to accomplish the separation of the faithful church from the apostate church—just as the Israelites were separated from the Egyptians after the third plague upon Egypt, by God stating that only the Egyptians would suffer the plagues from that time forward. After the third plague, no more plagues fell upon the Israelites and we see that the punishment did fall only on Egypt: Ex 8:20-24 (20 Then the Lord said to Moses, "Rise-up early in the morning and present yourself to Pharaoh, as he goes out to the water, and say to him, "Thus says the Lord, "Let my people go, that they may serve me. 21 Or else, if you will not let my people go, behold, I will send swarms of flies on you and your servants and your people, and into your houses. And the houses of the Egyptians shall be filled with swarms of flies, and also the ground on which they stand. 22 But on that day I will set apart the land of Goshen, where my people dwell, so that no swarms of flies shall be there, that you may know that I am the Lord in the midst of the earth. 23 Thus I will put a division between my people and your people. Tomorrow this sign shall happen." ESV

In the picture from Exodus, the last seven of the plagues helped both the priests as well as the people escape from Egypt. The same thing is true on this end of the age, in that the last of the spiritual priests, as well as the earthly people are delivered by the seven bowls of wrath, and the earthly people are especially delivered by the last three bowls of wrath, which will remove Satan’s control completely from the earth. As we mentioned earlier in this work, the last three plagues don’t stop working after 1914-18, but they expand their purpose and punishment, and they work against Satan’s entire worldwide system. They completed some of their work regarding the church state system in 1914-18, but they still must complete their work of freeing the world of mankind from Satan’s system. The complete fulfillment of the last three and even four bowls of wrath on this end of the age, will finish off Satan’s system, which will help cause the release of all the people from Satan’s power so that they can escape from Egypt to the Promised Land.

We have added the fourth bowl of wrath to the bowls that continue their work until all error is gone, because the fourth bowl was the light of the sun, which only scorched them in 1914-18, but by the end of the Gospel Age it will become like a burning fire that will destroy all error and all who refuse to submit to the new king. As we mentioned earlier, there is a separation of the first three bowls from the last four. The first three bowls have the plagues poured “into” them, and the last four bowls have the plagues poured “onto” them, showing that there is a difference in the method of destruction of into versus onto.

Mal 4:1-3 (1 "For behold, the day is coming, burning like a furnace; and all the arrogant and every evildoer will be chaff; and the day that is coming will set them ablaze," says the LORD of hosts, "so that it will leave them neither root nor branch." 2 "But for you who fear My name, the sun of righteousness will rise with healing in its wings; and you will go forth and skip about like calves from the stall. 3 "You will tread down the wicked, for they will be ashes under the soles of your feet on the day which I am preparing," says the LORD of hosts. NASU

We believe that there is still at least one more final blow that will remove the last of Satan’s governments from the earth as shown by the wind in Daniel Chapter 2, and our Lord will take full control of the earth after that. The three unclean spirits, have the last three counterbalancing bowls of wrath to resist them. The beast equals the civil power of the throne, in the fifth bowl of wrath. The false prophet supplies the flood of error that has to be dried up in time for the kingdom, in the sixth bowl of wrath. The dragon, which is Satan, controls everything through the powers of the air, in the seventh bowl of wrath.

The bowls of wrath are punishment for what had previously been done wrong to the faithful church by the fallen church. Each plague with its bowl of wrath is a direct correspondence to the same number of trumpet. In other words, the first bowl punishes what was done wrong in trumpet one, etc. The following table will help make that easier to see.

Trumpet to Bowl Comparisons

TRUMPET#1 = upon earth 1/3 trees all green grass	BOWL #1 = upon earth noisome and grievous sore on men with mark beast and those who worshiped his Image
TRUMPET#2 = mountain thrown into sea 1/3 sea became blood, 1/3 creatures that had life died, 1/3 ships destroyed	BOWL #2 = upon sea became as blood of dead man and every living thing in the sea died
TRUMPET#3 = upon rivers + fountains water 1/3 rivers, 1/3 waters became wormwood	BOWL #3 = upon rivers + fountains of water Water turned to blood - and righteous are your judgments Lord. Thou hast given them blood to drink
TRUMPET#4 = upon sun, moon and stars 1/3 sun smitten, 1/3 moon, 1/3 stars, 1/3 day and night shone not	BOWL #4 = upon sun power was given to this angel to scorch men with fire--They were scorched with great heat and blasphemed the name of God and repented not
WOE TRUMPET#5 = sun and air darkened , opening of bottomless pit--smoke darkened sun and air and locusts came out smoke	BOWL #5 = upon seat beast + kingdom full darkness they gnawed their tongues for pain and blasphemed God because of pains and sores--They repented not
WOE TRUMPET#6 = 4 angels bound in Euphrates 4 angels loosed to kill 1/3 mankind, army of horsemen	BOWL #6 = upon Euphrates , water dried up to make way for Kings of the East We also have a parenthesis which takes us back and shows three unclean spirits which gather the kings of the earth to the battle of the great day of God (Armageddon)
WOE TRUMPET#7 = nations were angry didn't want to give up their power  voices thundering lightning an earthquake great hail	BOWL #7 = upon air Voice out of temple says it is done. Great city was divided into three parts-- Nations fell-- Babylon came into remembrance to give her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath. Every island fled and the mountains were not found voices thunders lightning great earthquake great hail out of heaven

We also looked at the relationship that exists between the plagues of Exodus and the plagues in Revelation. While there are 3 woe trumpets and seven bowls of wrath making ten plagues of God in Rev, just as we saw in Exodus, the plagues are not always the same or in the same order. It doesn't seem very easy to directly link every plague in Egypt with the ones in Revelation, but it's possible to identify at least one element of each bowl of wrath and the three woe trumpets with the plagues of Egypt. For example, water turned to blood, hail, fire, darkness, boils, locusts, and the drying up of the water are all found in both accounts.

If we look at the plagues in relationship to all of Revelation we get a little broader picture which links us to Egypt, but one that was not easy to arrive at. The plague of flies did not seem to have any matching event in Revelation until we considered the actual Hebrew text. In the Hebrew text regarding the plague of flies, we found that the word flies does not exist in the Hebrew text, but it was supplied by the translators. That plague uses a word that means stinging and swarming insects, and that seems to be the solution to the link between the two sets of plagues. Using that information suggests a link to the stinging scorpions in the fifth woe trumpet and possibly even the sixth trumpet, with the stinging and torment being the matching elements.

	Aaron's rod became a serpent, swallowed up Egypt's serpents Staff to snake	Rev 9:19 Tails like serpents Christ who is a symbolic snake, eats Satan's deceptive snakes Num 21:9
Plague 1	Water turned to blood	Bowl 3
Plague 2	Frogs over the land	Croaking frog Bowl 6
Plague 3	Strike Earth-Plague of gnats	Rev 16:1 poured on earth
Plague 4	Plague of stinging flies	Stinging tails Rev 9:10
Plague 5	Pestilence on cattle	Rev 18:13
Plague 6	Soot from Furnace-Plague of boils	Bowl 1, trumpet 5 smoke of furnace
Plague 7	Plague of hail	Trumpet 7, Bowl 7
Plague 8	Plague of locusts	Trumpet 5 Locust from smoke of furnace
Plague 9	Darkness over the land	Bowl 5
Plague 10	Death of the firstborn	Bowl 2, Rev 18:23

What seems to be most important when we are looking at this, is that God used the ten plagues to completely remove his people from Egypt, and he is doing the same thing again when he is removing his people from Great Babylon and Satan's system, as is being shown to us here in Revelation. The number ten signifies a complete removal of the people in both ages, which on this end of the age is the deliverance of all of the people who are willing into the kingdom. The escape of Israel from Egypt, pictures both the deliverance of the church during the Gospel Age, and the deliverance of the people of the world in the next age. The destruction of the Egyptian king and his army pictures the final destruction of Satan's system of things, which had been keeping the people in bondage, and the removal of Satan from the control of the world.

Different Views of the Bowls of Wrath

There are generally at least three different views that the Bible Students have regarding how and when the plagues are poured out. Even amongst the following three general thoughts there are variations.

1. The first view does not think that anything has happened yet, because they believe that when the bowls are poured out there will be a more dramatic and immediate effect. That seems to be a more literal approach, which is very close to what the worldly churches have regarding destruction and punishment at the end of the age.

2. The second view is that they are poured out, and that they accomplished their work almost immediately by 1914AD. Some even pour them out during the harvest time, saying they were the six volumes and Tabernacle Shadows. This seems to be a very narrow view that does not consider the full scope of Satan's system, and the need to completely remove it from the earth. That evil system is going to take more than the written word to accomplish its removal, as the history of the time of trouble already shows. Satan's system did not end in 1914-18, but it will end in God's due time. Yes the knowledge in the volumes is important in the battle, but that is not the complete picture of what needs to happen.

3. The third view is that they are poured out starting in 1914AD, and that they gradually accomplish their work. There are at least four variations of this view.
  - A. One variation of this pours them all out at once, and they gradually destroy the evil system.

  - B. A second variation pours them out one by one over a period of time, again destroying the evil system.

  - C. A third variation pours out six of them right away and reserves the last or seventh bowl for right at the end to finish off the evil system. This one and the fourth variation below, are the two most likely possibilities, of which we are not sure which is the best explanation. In the end, the result is the same, with all three symbols destroyed.

In the study we favored the thought that the last four plagues continue their work to the end. But if the seventh bowl or some of the other Revelation prophecies shows how that final destruction finishes all four symbols, the end result is the same.

- D. A fourth variation which is slightly different than the one above, is the one that this study favors. The thought is that the first four bowls accomplish their work almost immediately on the church and state system after 1914-18, removing them from being God's people and punishing them for what they had done to the faithful church during their reign of terror—especially by removing the kings. The last four bowls which were also poured out on the church and state system shortly after 1914, after completing their work on the church and state system in 1914, would continue their destruction on the rest of Satan's entire system until the very end, although chapter 16 does not show the full completion of bowls 4, 5, and 6—we only see that full completion in the plagues of Egypt. Some of the final work of bowls four, five, and six being finished, is shown in more detail in bowl seven, like the removal of the mountains, and the pouring out wrath on the error of Great Babylon, and the Great City. So what we have concluded, is that the last four bowls of wrath do continue their work of total destruction of that evil system, but we are not shown that until chapters 18-19, and actually even 20 where we see Satan destroyed.

We have added the fourth bowl of wrath to the last three that had been decided on in the study. Since the study there was more evidence that showed we should have included the last four bowls as being of those which struck the evil system in 1914-18, but which then continued their work so as to remove Satan's complete worldwide system.

There are minor variations in all the methods above, and there are questions as to when they take effect. We believe that the important thing to see is that the bowls are designed to eventually remove all the bad parts of Satan's evil system, and to get God's people out of Satan's control, both the priests and the people. The first three bowls seem to be especially directed at the church and state system and the punishment that it receives almost immediately starting in 1914, because of that systems refusal to repent. The fourth bowl also struck the error of the fallen system, but it goes on and attacks the world wide error of Satan's system. The last four bowls, while having struck down their corresponding parts of the church and state system during WW1, and having punished that evil system accordingly, do an additional work, in that they are also showing us the destruction of the same three key elements of the present evil world, which is when they go after Satan's worldwide system—with the intention of freeing the people of the world from that system, as well as completing the church.

Three Key Elements of the System

The three elements that are being affected by the last three or four bowls of wrath, are the throne of the beast, which is civil power, the support of the people for the Satanic religious, civil, financial, and social system, and Satan's Pagan spiritual control over the earth. Those three evil elements which are related to the beast, the False Prophet, and the dragon, are specifically named in the parenthesis found in the sixth bowl, showing that they are of special concern. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast. The work of the last four bowls, continue to affect those same three symbols until the end, so that Satan's worldwide system of governments and false religion can be worn and torn down—with the objective being that the people will be released and made ready for the kingdom. In other words, the destruction of the symbols of the last four bowls, expands the scope of the destruction, so that instead of just punishing and taking down the church and state system, the destruction widens out to include all of Satan's worldwide system in time for the kingdom. The finishing of the work of bowls four, five and six, is shown in more detail in bowl seven, as we will show when we get to that part of the chapter—we also need to examine chapter 18-20, where we do see the total destruction of Satan's evil worldwide system.

The first view (A) does not consider that God does his work gradually, and that if we look at what existed in that system prior to 1914 and what exists now, there are major differences, especially in the amount of power that the system had before 1914 and what it has now. There is more to happen yet and it surely will, but it obviously has already been happening.

The second view (B) has some serious problems, in that the fallen religious system while greatly weakened and lacking the civil power that it once had, still existed after the First World War. The message of the harvest time work did not accomplish the destruction of that system to the point where the people of the world have been freed so that they can get up onto the highway of holiness. The 40-year harvest and the harvest truth, while very important in revealing the truth about that evil system, were not designed to destroy the evil system as the seven bowls of wrath together are designed to do.

In looking at (C) and (D), we prefer the fourth view (D), but we can see that bowl seven is finishing off the same three symbols.

The last three bowls are directly linked back to the three woe trumpets by the symbols that are common to both, and so we believe that since they are linked to the woe trumpets. They also directly counter the messages of the three unclean spirits that is still being uttered even at this time by the symbols of the beast, the false prophet, and the dragon, which are found in the parenthesis of the sixth bowl.

Fifth Through Seventh Bowl

In the fifth bowl, the civil power of the throne of the beast was struck, which was when all the kings lost their crowns. The kingdom was only darkened at that time because Satan still controlled most of the world's civil power, the only thing different was that he did not have the power of the kings that had supported the harlot anymore—those kingdoms were shattered into pieces, with different governments emerging from their destruction.

Satan is still using the governments of the world to control the people even though there are no kings of the old Papal system left, and so the governments that won't switch to the new king, will also have to perish by the time of the kingdom, as seen in chapters 18-20, see also Psa 2:12. The remaining pieces of the old-world order will need to be removed by the wind that blows the pieces away, just before the mountain or kingdom begins to take control of the world, Dan 2:35.

The kingdoms of this world still have their civil power at this time, but at the start of the kingdom, they will have to bow before the new king. We see the kingdoms losing power in the seventh bowl of wrath, which shows the removal of civil power very clearly. The rest of the beastly power that has continue onward after 1918, will be removed at the time of the start of the kingdom, as shown in chapter 19.

Dan 7:11-12 (11 "Then I kept looking because of the sound of the boastful words which the horn was speaking; I kept looking until the beast was slain, and its body was destroyed and given to the burning fire. 12 "As for the rest of the beasts, their dominion was taken away, but an extension of life was granted to them for an appointed period of time. NASU

In the sixth bowl, the Euphrates which represents the people's support for false religion and Satan's worldwide system, was further dried up, which is working towards the goal of releasing the people so that they will accept the kingdom. The power of the church and state system of the old-world order, was broken up in the 1914-18 war, but the rest of the Satan's erroneous religious systems still exists and must still be removed. For that reason, the sixth bowl continues its work, but the description of the final release of the people from Satan's system is not shown in the sixth bowl of wrath—we get that information from looking at the plagues of Egypt, and Rev chapter 18-20. We do see the full destruction of error in bowl seven, with the fall of the hard truth as symbolized in the hail. Anything that does not accept reform will be destroyed by that hail. The complete destruction of Great Babylon, and the freeing of the people, is actually shown in the seven different Revelation pictures of great Babylon's fall.

The seventh bowl struck the air, which is the powers of spiritual control, of which the main head is Satan. We know that our Lord began to bind Satan by removing some of his control over the people in 1874-78 and even more by 1914-18, but the full removal of that evil control is still to be accomplished yet. The remaining beastly governments and other elements of society that are controlled by Satan are not dead yet, and are still trying to regain and retain their power over the people at this time. For that reason, the work of the seventh bowl continues onward until the very end, which is shown in chapter 20 with the binding of Satan.

The remaining ecclesiastical, civil, financial, and social support by the people and Satan himself, will all be removed or reformed in time for the kingdom. The seventh bowl, shows a lot of details of the step by step destruction that occurs after the start of the 1914-18 war—as seen in the large number of symbols that are destroyed one after the other in it.

Jer 50:25-26 (25 The LORD hath opened his armory, and hath brought forth the weapons of his indignation: for this is the work of the Lord GOD of hosts in the land of the Chaldeans.

26 Come against her from the utmost border, open her storehouses: cast her up as heaps,

The Seven Bowls of Wrath

With these thoughts in mind we are now going to look at a final summery of the seven plagues, before we get to the bowl by bowl description of each. It appeared to the Study Group that it was likely that the pouring out of the bowls started in 1914. The seventh bowl shows Satan's entire worldwide system taken down, as well as his spiritual control over the earth.

Not only the church, but the people of the world must be saved and cross over the Euphrates after the church. In the original type on the way into the promised land, the priests and the ark went first into the river and stopped the flow of water, and then the people followed and crossed over. That the church stands in the midst of the water and stops the flood of water, seems to represent the intervention by the Lord and the church which will stop the flow of support for Satan's system as seen in chapter 16, so that the people who heed the call of the kingdom can escape into the promised land. It is not sure if that pictures a completed church at the point in time that the river is stopped or not, although it would seem like it should be the completed church.

The Interpretation of the Seven Bowls

As we examine the different symbols used by the seven bowls of wrath, we have somewhat struggled with the interpretation of the symbols and what they are showing us, especially regarding what was changed or was destroyed in the fallen church and state system by the pouring out of the bowls. We believe that we have come up with a reasonable explanation of the symbols as they relate to the Old-World Order, and the church state system that was destroyed in WW1. But we welcome any new ideas that will flesh out any of the thoughts that we have presented here.

There are some other scriptures that must be considered, especially when we are looking at end time symbols. One of those scriptures is found in the message to the seventh church, where that system is warned that if they do not buy several important spiritual things, like eye slave, and white garments of salvation from the Lord, they will be spewed out by the Lord! We will see that very judgment and warning being carried against the apostate system, as we examine the seven bowls. The Lord in the beginning of the seventh church, is warning the Apostate church system that if they do not repent and invite him in to sit down and dine with them, that they are going to be cast off from being a part of the Lord's people. We also know from the casting of the coals of fire into the earth in Chapter 8, that one of the biggest tests of the gospel age, was going to be the belief in the ransom and the blood of the Lamb, which the fallen church has rejected.

Those who do repent and open the door to our Lord's knocking, will be satisfied with the nutritious and bountiful doctrines of the harvest time. That is not saying that those who come out of that fallen system to the Lord, but who do not come to the harvest truth, cannot make it. But they need to make sure that they accept the message regarding the blood of the Lamb and the robe of righteousness, because those are the essential doctrines that the nominal house has lost—the shedding of blood on the cross, and the covering of our sins because of the robe of righteousness. The Trinity doctrine and the doctrine of the Mass, severely limits how much the individuals in the nominal house can understand about the ransom, unless they change their belief in those Apostate doctrines, but we leave all judgment to the Lord.

The above thoughts have influenced our ideas regarding what is happening in the seven bowls of wrath, and as much as we hate to see those kinds of things happen to those who lived in that system hoping for a heavenly salvation, the Lord had warned them to repent in the message to the seventh church! Many of the officials of the churches during the dark ages, had carried out many evil tortures and murders against the true church, and they will be retroactively punished for those acts. There was also a very extensive effort by the harvest church and its message, to inform the nominal house about what was going to happen, and the Great Babylon system did not want to hear it. See the explanation regarding the three warnings and messages from the three angels in the beginning of chapter 14, in the full notes from that chapter.

If anyone sees a better interpretation of what these symbols represent in the seven bowls of wrath, especially if they are of a symbolic and spiritual interpretation, using other scriptures to interpret what the symbols mean, we welcome any ideas from that kind of source. Just to put a meaning on the symbols without any scriptural backing, will not be very convincing.

Bowl 1 on the Earth

Revelation 16:2

Rev 16:2 So the first {angel} went and poured out his bowl on the earth; and it became a loathsome and malignant sore on the people who had the mark of the beast and who worshiped his Image. (NAU)

We are including the text of the corresponding trumpet that each bowl is linked to. That way we have an exact reference to what was done wrong in each trumpet, so that we can compare what is being punished in each bowl.

Rev 8:7 The first sounded, and there came hail and fire, mixed with blood, and they were thrown to the earth; and a third of the earth was burned up, and a third of the trees were burned up, and all the green grass was burned up. NASU

Bowl One

Against the Earth

In the first trumpet, we saw that the earth was struck by hail, fire, and blood, and that one third of the trees and all the green grass was burned up. The Lord in bowl one, is attacking the same symbol of the earth that we were shown being struck in the first trumpet. As we saw in the first four trumpets, all of the symbols that were struck were changed into 666. And that corruption is what is going to be removed on this end of the age by the bowls of wrath. Since “the earth” was the symbol that is being struck in the first trumpet, and the first bowl is being poured out on “the earth”, we need to determine what the earth represents, so we can see what is being punished and removed.

Social, Civil, Financial and Religious Systems

We are going to suggest that the Earth on this end of the age, represents the social, civil, financial, and religious society of the old-world order, which had been supporting the church and state systems, helping them to continue their existence and control of the people. In the time of the first church, the abuse of power over others started out small, but as time went on it grew into a horrible persecution. The word used in verse 2 to describe the system is porno, which points to the church state system that this system was illegally using all the way up until it was destroyed in 1914-18. The earth at the time of the early church, would have been the society that existed in the Roman Empire, which would have contained the same similar elements of society that we listed above. At the First Advent, you had the Roman Empire, and you also had the Jewish system up until 70-73AD.

Some in the church, began taking power and control to themselves which they were not supposed to have. They took that power first in the church and then later many took positions of power in the Roman Empire itself. Eventually the Roman Empire began to support and help the fallen church get absolute control over the people in the church and they wanted help getting control of the people in the Empire. The evil system that developed from that unholy alliance, is what began to persecute and kill the faithful church. Because of what the earth or society did to the faithful church, especially during the 1260 years, they are going to be punished on this end of the age by the seven bowls of wrath—the Old-World Order was going to be permanently removed.

Earth Consisted of Several Major Empires

The symbol of earth that we are looking at here on this end of the age, was made up of the enormous Old-World Empires that existed prior to and up to 1914AD. The beast and the Image that the people were not supposed to be worshiping, represented the civil and religious power of the earthly Empires that made up the old-world order. The Image represented earthly power, but at the same time it had a religious element to it, because it was comprised of governments that were either run by the Papal church or by a Protestant church. The Protestant parts of society were also allied with the civil power of the kings on this end of the age, and their corrupted worship was descended from the original Papal two horned beast. Because they had been a part of the Papal church before it was broken up by the Reformation, they are also a part of Great Babylon, and are also guilty of believing gross error. Even the areas that had been taken over by Islam, were also going to be punished, because they are also a destructive antichrist power, and they also adopted some of the Catholic churches doctrines, although they added different perversions of doctrine that came from Mohammad.

Throne of Beast is Different

The throne of the beast, which we will see punished in the fifth bowl, is not the same thing as the earth, because it only represents the power of the thrones or civil power of the kings of the Roman Empire, where the symbol of the earth represents all of the elements of the entire society that made up the Roman Empire. The Lord is going to deal with the civil power of the ten kings who were the throne of the beast, separately in the fifth bowl.

The church and state cooperation was greatly weakened after 1799AD, because Papacy was not controlling most of its civil power directly anymore. But even after that time the monarchies and the empires that existed, were still church and state systems, the only difference was that Papacy was not as firmly in control of its civil empire, as it had been during the 1260 years. Most of the Protestants still had their church and state Empires yet after 1799AD. Unfortunately, there were some kings who went back to supporting Papacy before 1914 arrived, and so we see that Papacy was working hard at trying to restore its full control over the civil power—but the Lord had other plans for their civil Empires.

Permanently Breaking Up the Empires

WW1 and bowl number one, were designed to break up “all” of the church and state Empires and their societies completely, while the blow in 1799 was limited to only reducing Papacies civil power. In the Daniel Chapter 7 account of the terrible beast, which we believe is showing us the terrible beast and Image, we see that after the combined civil power of the beast and the Image was cast into the fire, its civil power was being consumed. From God’s standpoint after it began to be destroyed, he was not going to let it return because it had been judged and found guilty. That is what history shows us happened, in that after the destruction of the kings in WW1, there is no way that Papacy and the Protestants were going to be able to restore the civil power of the combined beast and Image, because all the original civil power support that they had controlled, was destroyed when the kings were removed, and the Old World Order was destroyed.

The breakup of the monarchies in WW1, was actually the breaking up of the power of the beast and the Image. The new multiple governments that descended from that collapse, are now waiting for their final downfall as seen in the close of Chapter 19 where they are captured. The existing remnants which are the governments that we now have, must at that time bow to the new king, or they will be removed and replaced by governments that will want the kingdom and the blessing of people, as seen in Isaiah.

Isa 60:10-12 (10 And foreigners shall build up thy walls, and their kings shall minister unto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my favor have I had mercy on thee. 11 Thy gates also shall be open continually; they shall not be shut day nor night; that men may bring unto thee the wealth of the nations, and their kings led captive. 12 For that nation and kingdom that will not serve thee shall perish; yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted. ASV

One Third Earth Removed Equals Corrupted Society

The earth which symbolized all of society, is the first symbol that was shown being corrupted in the first trumpet. There we saw the beginning of the corruption of the early church, and that corruption of the church eventually led to the corruption of the society around it. The first trumpet showed us that one-third of the earth was eventually burned up, which symbolized that it was being gradually changed step by step into a 666 society, destroyed as far as God was concerned. The religious people were in a symbolic sense burned up or destroyed by falling into the trap of that corrupt system—those were the things that Paul had warned the early church about, saying that the corruption was already happening in his time.

The evil and corrupt society had small beginnings back at the time of the early church, but those early small errors of the first four churches were what led to the full church and state system later, and that’s when the full 666 applied to all of society—which was during the time of and after the fifth church. We also saw in the message to the first church, that there were Nicolaitans during the first church, and their attitude of seeking after power and trying to lord it over the Lord's people, was a key factor that led to the evil oppressive system that is now being punished in this bowl—the third church also had Nicolaitans, which shows that the Nicolaitan problem continued into at least the third church, getting worse. The Nicolaitans of the first church were mainly corrupting the church by taking unlawful power in the church, but by the third church they were grabbing for civil power.

Punishment from Bowl One

Regarding the punishment that bowl one inflicts, we see that the people in that society just prior to WW1, were still guilty of worshipping the power of the beast and the Image, even though the church and state power was not as strong as it had been prior to 1799. The several monarchies that existed at that time, were still involved with their respective churches, even if they were not allowing the churches as much control over the civil government as they had earlier in history. The support for the worldwide church and state system and the privileged class in that system, was so great that there were many that were willing to risk their lives in support of it. For example, the ruling classes were the first to march off to war in 1914AD, and they were almost all killed within the first year of the war. The religious institutions on both sides told the people to go fight, and they told the people that God would be for them, but we know God was for neither side.

The earth or the old-world order, was dealt a major blow in WW1 by the death of millions of those who had supported that evil society. So many of the ruling class were lost in that war, that after the war was over there was not enough of those who survived to advocate a return to the way things had been. There were many more common people, and they wanted reforms and a government that was for them, and not for the ruling class. The Old-World order was replaced by many new institutions after the war, which had some reforms that were needed, but not all. As time has gone on, some of the same types of problems have crept back into society. Because of that, there appears to be at least one more major travail or overturning that yet needs to occur, which will finish off the remaining elements of what's left of the beasts and the religious systems, and which will usher in the only pure and righteous government which is the Lord and the 144,000 of the church in the kingdom. That time is when the people will get the blessings that are needed to start to restore back the life rights that Adam had lost in the garden.

End of 2520

The pouring out of the first bowl of wrath on the earth began at the time of WW1, which was also the end of the 2520 years of the times of the gentiles. That the 2520 years had run out, was another good reason that the people who had the mark of the beast and who had worshiped the Image, were being punished by the bowl at that time. The lease of Gentile power had run out, and the Lord was not going to give them an extension of time. That the big empires went down with the kings, did not mean that all nations were gone, but most of the kings and monarchs that had been involved in church and state empires were removed—the left-over nations changed their nature or forms of government, and they were allowed to continue as beasts for a time—but we don't know how long.

Dan 7:11-12 (11 “Then I kept looking because of the sound of the boastful words which the horn was speaking; I kept looking until the beast was slain, and its body was destroyed and given to the burning fire. 12 “As for the rest of the beasts, their dominion was taken away, but an extension of life was granted to them for an appointed period of time. NASU

Bolshevik Revolution Overturns Religion

At the end of the First World War, the Bolshevik revolution also overthrew a large portion of the society that had supported the Eastern Church and State systems. That revolution was hijacked by the Communist, who turned against Christianity and tried to stamp it out, because the churches had tried to keep their own civil power of the kings by resisting the coming in of Communism. Under the oppressive power of Communism, the belief in the power of the church and state system was destroyed, and secularism was introduced in its place. The Communists allowed the Islamic people to keep their religion because they had supported the Communist revolution, but they didn't allow the Caliphate to regain civil power.

Even though great destruction of the Old-World Order of the beast and the Image was accomplished by this bowl, when we look at the new system that came afterward, we can see that there are still people that are blindly supporting their governments and churches, no matter what they are advocating or doing wrong. All these additional and continuing and oppressive problems, will be seen to be coming from the continuing and corrupting influence of the three unclean spirits, which we will examine in the parentheses of the sixth bowl. Once the water that was seen in the sixth bowl is completely dried up, which represents the removal of the support of the people for the remnants of the evil and fallen Satanic system, then the people will be glad to accept the kingdom as we will discuss in the sixth bowl of wrath.

Loathsome & Malignant Sores Describes Systems Supporters

In looking at the sores or ulcers that came upon those who had supported the fallen and evil system, we found that it was very instructive to look up the meaning of the two adjectives, loathsome and malignant that describes the sores. If we look at the definitions, we find that the ulcers that symbolically appeared upon them, were because of the terrible things that they had done during the time of their power. In other words, anyone that still supported and advocated for that system, was after the war seen to be morally depraved, injurious, hurtful, or evil, diseased, guilty, devilish, etc. None of the descriptive words used are anything that anyone would like to be called or associated with, but history shows that they were all true. So having the sores, symbolically meant that anyone that had been a supporter of the fallen system prior to the war or that was still advocated the old system after the war, was seen to be very sick and depraved after WW1. The second definition that is given below to describe this evil system is porneros, which means very hurtful or evil.

NT:2556 kakos (kak-os'); apparently a primary word; worthless (intrinsically, such; whereas NT:4190 properly refers to effects), i.e. (subjectively) depraved, or (objectively) injurious: KJV - bad, evil, harm, ill, noisome, wicked.

(Biblesoft's New Exhaustive Strong's Numbers and Concordance with Expanded Greek-Hebrew Dictionary. Copyright © 1994, 2003, 2006 Biblesoft, Inc. and International Bible Translators, Inc.)

NT:4190 poneros (pon-ay-ros'); from a derivative of NT:4192; hurtful, i.e. evil (properly, in effect or influence, and thus differing from NT:2556, which refers rather to essential character, as well as from NT:4550, which indicates degeneracy from original virtue); figuratively, calamitous; also (passively) ill, i.e. diseased; but especially (morally) culpable, i.e. derelict, vicious, facinorous; neuter (singular) mischief, malice, or (plural) guilt; masculine (singular) the devil, or (plural) sinners:

KJV - bad, evil, grievous, harm, lewd, malicious, wicked (-ness). See also NT:4191.

(Biblesoft's New Exhaustive Strong's Numbers and Concordance with Expanded Greek-Hebrew Dictionary. Copyright © 1994, 2003, 2006 Biblesoft, Inc. and International Bible Translators, Inc.)

Looking at the definitions above, we can see that the sores that came upon those that had supported this evil system during the power of the Old-World order, before and who now afterward still supported it, were seen to be evil and bad. Once the war was over, it was seen that most of the ruling class that had supported the original system were gone, and the kings that had supported that system were also completely gone. Because of that, there was no hope that the Old-World order would be able to continue. The common people were tired of being oppressed, and many of them had been forced by the evil system to fight in the war when they did not want to.

The grievous sores that came upon those who had been supporting the evil system in this bowl, also appeared because of the published history of the terrible things that had been done to God's faithful church and the other people in that system. The evil church had used the power of the beast and the Image all during its history, to torture or eliminates anyone that had opposed it. Besides regular history books, we find books like "Foxes Book of Martyrs", that show us how terrible it really was during the height of their power. Nothing that they can do or say, can ever remove the evidence of their evil history. That record stands as a derogatory testimony against that society, like grievous sores that won't go away.

After the War Governments Changed

Because of the previous exposure to the evils and sins of this system, the new governments that were formed after the war were not modeled after the church and state model where the church controlled the state. That type of government was deliberately avoided when the new forms of governments took control, and the reason for that was because no one wanted to go back to such an evil and oppressive system of religious government.

The ruling class at the start of WW1, had all the bad characteristics of the Nicolaitans, which the saints had been warned about in the messages to the first and third church. The totalitarian attitude of we are better than you by the ruling class, was very apparent during the sinking of the Titanic in 1912AD. That sinking occurred just before the war, and history shows that the lower classes were kept locked in the lower parts of the ship even though it was sinking, and the upper class got the lifeboats. So, we can see that the terrible sores that appeared on the ones that had lived and supported that evil system, were like ulcerous badges of shame that they could not get rid of.

Unfortunately, society has partially fallen back into the two-class society that we see again, because of the rich against the poor attitude that we see evident now. There are also some who are advocating that the corrupt churches be allowed to control the governments as they had before. So again, that wrong and oppressive attitude must be struck another major and final blow just before the kingdom.

Beast & Image

One thing that we see at the point in time just before the war, was that the Western part of the Roman beast had pretty much disintegrated into several smaller nations very early on. The Western Empire never came back together in the same manner as it had been in before the collapse of Rome in 476AD. As we will see, when we get to Chapter 17, that is why we will see ten kings supporting the image of the beast at that time. That there are ten separate kings, shows that the Roman Empire was not a single entity like it had been earlier in its history. The Eastern part of the Empire held together for a much longer period, but it also fell completely in 1453AD. In other words, neither civil half of the Roman Empire made it in one piece all the way to 1799AD, let alone all the way up until 1914AD.

So how do we still say, that there was still a beast and an Image of the Beast in 1914, if both halves of Rome had disintegrated politically earlier? The answer is that there wasn't an original image of the beast left, but shattered parts of it still existed after 1799. It was true that there was still a civil power beast, but it had been modified greatly into different Empires. Some of those who still existed after the war, would have liked to have gotten all of the different pieces back together and restored into a single and complete Roman power, showing that they were still worshipping the fallen system—with the hope of fully restoring it. The image of the beast had become a church and state system which was a theocracy, and with all of the kings removed by 1918, it was impossible to restore the original image back into power. Some of the churches are still trying to get back their political power back at the time of this editing, so we can't say that they never will, only time will tell exactly what will happen. We only know that they will lose all of their power in time for the kingdom.

But even though the Roman power of each of those Empires had disintegrated into individual nations by the time of WW1, they were before that time held together into different Empires, because of the social, financial, ecclesiastical, and the individual civil power elements of the original societies, and because of that they still partially cooperated with each other before 1914. That is why we will see the ten horns giving the beast that the harlot was riding, their support in Chapter 17, but they were still individual kings or civil kings when they did that. That system that came into existence after that happened, is what was being worshipped up to 1799-1914—to worship a false religious image was a grievous sin, and that fallen system had fit the requirements of worshipping a system that was not from God. The ten kings that this beast had under its control, is what resulted in the doctrine of the Divine right of Kings being advocated to the people, and that doctrine was claimed in order to give the civil power legitimacy.

Western Beast was Image

The original Roman beast, that is seen at the beginning of Chapter 13, lost its control over the Western Empire to the newly formed “Image” in 799-800. That occurred when the Pope crowned Charlemagne Emperor over a newly established Western Empire. As we saw in Chapter 13, that new Image of the Beast in the West was eventually taken control of by Papacy, and that is when the extreme evil and persecution began to come into existence. The new image was formed in the sight of the original beast in the Eastern part of the Empire, and Papacy claimed and eventually controlled some of the East’s authority for a time because of religious superstition—until the two halves of the Empire separated completely.

Rev 13:12 And he exercises all the authority of the first beast in his presence. And he makes the earth and those who dwell in it to worship the first beast, whose fatal wound was healed. NASB

Papacy did not control the civil power of the Western part of the Empire anymore after WW1, and the kings that had made up that Empire were gone, and because of that the symbol of the Image which was a theocracy, did not exist anymore after 1914-18, and the civil power of its individual nations transformed back into beast symbols. The image was fully destroyed when all of the church state systems lost their civil power in WW1. That destruction included the Protestant churches, which were also supported by the power of kings, in that they also lost their civil power support in WW1 when the kings went down in the war. The removal of the ten kings will be important when we look at bowls five and six, where we have the throne of the beast and the symbol of the beast, but no Image anymore—what happened to the image?

Image is Gone Now but Shattered Beasts Still Exists

That definition of the beast is why we see it still in existence in the parentheses of the sixth bowl, but the Image is not seen there at that point in history. In that vision, the beast represents the shattered civil power of the world that exists today, where we have many different nations which Satan is still and will be controlling, until it is taken away at the final end when he is cast into and locked into the pit. A lot of the civil power of today is descended from the same Roman Empire that had made up the original Pagan beast and even though the forms of government have changed, it’s still a beastly system of governments in God’s sight. Daniel Chapter 7 even tells us that after the terrible church and state beast was thrown into the fire, the other beasts still existed for a set time—but we are not told for how long—see the scriptural reference a few paragraphs earlier.

Some good examples of what existed prior to WW1, are the Austria-Hungary Empire, the Ottoman (Turkish) Empire, the Russian Empire, and the German Empire. Those are the four big Empires that still existed up to WW1, and which fell completely because of the war. Most of those Empires had monarchs who controlled the nations that were in their sphere of influence. Those monarchs kept the Empires and the society that they controlled together, and they tried to make sure that commerce and other activities in the Empires ran smoothly. The major complaint of the common people against those Empires, was that they supported class systems, in which the people with money or the aristocratic class thought that they were better than those who were under them. That was one of the things that those who supported this system liked about it, in that the system supported them with many advantages over the common people, and with the finest luxury available at that time—while the common people did all of the work. We still see that same kind of problem at this time, with the 1 % hoarding all of the wealth, but that situation will not last for very much longer.

Still Claimed to be Christendom before War

We think that another important part of this, is that both the East and the West still claimed to be Christendom before the war, except for the parts that had been taken over by Islam, even though the kingdoms were not completely united politically anymore. Even in regards to Islam, we see that they were not much different than Christendom, in that neither system believed in who Christ really was and what he had accomplished for salvation, and so they were all anti-Christ systems.

So Called Holy Roman Empire

The area that Papacy had most of its influence in at the height of its power, was what was called the Holy Roman Empire, which was believed by the people to be a religious continuation of the original Roman Empire. Papacies influence had at the height of its power extended beyond the countries that made up that Empire, but the so-called Holy Roman Empire was the territory where they had claimed the right to crown the Emperor, by claiming that it was the continuation of the old Roman Empire—even though it was only an Image of the original, and it was not even made up of Roman power.

Rulers Still Worshipped the Evil System

Even though Papacy had lost the right to crown the Emperor in the territory that he had influence in, the theocracy or Image still existed in 1914AD before the war, because many of the kings had gone back to supporting Papacy and others had never quit supporting the Protestant churches. The upper-class people that worshiped the original Empires, especially gloried in the great riches and control of the lower class of people that they had as servants. That arrangement had given them many benefits that the lower classes didn't have, because they were the cheap labor and the upper class had used that advantage to enrich themselves and to rule over those who were under them. They were the ones that still believed in the Divine Right of Kings, which was shown to be a false belief after WW1 when the kings all lost their crowns.

Rev 13:4 and they worshipped the dragon, because he gave his authority unto the beast; and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? And who is able to war with him? ASV

Rev 13:15 And it was given (unto him) to give breath to it, (even) to the Image of the

ASV*

Earth Equals Both Halves of Empire

In looking at the territory of the original Roman Empire, it appears that the symbol of the earth, should include the nations of both the Eastern and the Western Roman Empire, because both halves of the Empire were in existence and power at the time of the first trumpet through to the fourth trumpet, which was the time-period when the church was being corrupted by the removal of the one thirds, creating the 666 system. In other words, the first four trumpets were showing us the false doctrines and other things that were being corrupted in both halves of the Empire, so they were all guilty.

West

In the latter half of Chapter 13, Papacy created the Western Image of the Beast in the sight of the Eastern Roman beast that still existed at the time of 799AD. There was a religious unity of the full Empire which was controlled by Papacy until 1054AD, and after that time the church split into an Eastern and Western church, that only loosely cooperated. From the fifth trumpet onward, the vision switched more to the Western Empire, where Papacy had taken control of the Image in about 1179—see the chapter 13 comments. The earlier trumpets involved the corruption of both halves of the Empire, and because the bowls are direct punishment for what was being done wrong in the trumpets, then both halves of the Empire were to be included in the punishment of the bowls.

East

If the symbol of the Eastern beast encompassed all the countries that existed in that part of the Empire, we would then be looking at much more territory. The Eastern Christian church was the dominant religion in Greece, Romania, Moldova, Cyprus, Georgia, and the Slavic countries of Russia, Belarus, Serbia, Montenegro, Macedonia, Bulgaria, and Ukraine. Most of those nations at one time, had been part of the original Roman Empire. Early on the Eastern churches had allowed their doctrines to be corrupted, because of their attempts to keep their Empire united with Rome's. One thing that makes it certain that they were intended to be a part of the punishment of the bowls, is that those countries did become involved in WW1, and their Empires were all destroyed in that war.

Islam Included With East?

We are not sure if the bowls are specifically poured out against the Islamic countries, but we do see that WW1 did also destroy the Ottoman Empire, and so it seems obvious that they were included. It's perhaps important prophetically, that many of the Eastern countries which had been overrun by Islam, were just like Papacy in that they were also an enemy of true Christianity and natural Israel. The Eastern leg of the Empire contained a lot of Muslims that had a church and state system or Caliphate, and WW1 destroyed most of that system, so that by 1923 the Caliphate was abolished.

Islam is Against Israel Ezek 38 & 39 Still to Happen

Another reason we believe that the Ottoman Empire was included in the destruction of WW1, was because they were standing in the way of the return of Israel, which was because their Empire controlled the land that Israel had originally existed on. Both Islam and Papacy and some Protestants, are still seeking to get back the political power they had, and to re-establish their church and state systems, but we know that our Lord intends to establish his kingdom instead, and so any progress they make in that regard will be short lived.

At the time of this writing, we see that Islam had established a Caliphate, and because of their Koran prophecies, they intend to defeat the Western powers and then go on liberate the Land of Israel by destroying the Jews. At the present time, the world powers are destroying that caliphate because of its extreme cruelty and its desire to take over the world, and so that does not appear to be the Islam power that will attack Israel at the end, but we believe that something like that will arise, which will be called Gog and Magog.

We believe that the kingdom is a few years off because it seems too early, but only the Lord knows the timing. The Heavenly Father has other plans for the nation Israel and the establishment of the kingdom, and so he will not allow them to destroy Israel. That will be the last battle before the kingdom, and it is recorded in Ezekiel Chapters 38-39. Some of what's recorded in those two Chapters, is prophesying about the ecclesiastical things that we will be looking at here in Revelation, and the rest of the prophecy is about the final attack against the land of Israel by Gog and Magog.

Bowl 2 on the sea Revelation 16:3

Rev 16:3 The second {angel} poured out his bowl into the sea, and it became blood like {that} of a dead man; and every living thing in the sea died. (NAU)

Rev 8:8-9 (8 The second angel sounded, and something like a great mountain burning with fire was thrown into the sea; and a third of the sea became blood, 9 and a third of the creatures which were in the sea and had life, died; and a third of the ships were destroyed. NASU)

Sea Changed to Blood Equals Death of Spiritual

As we can see in the quote from the second trumpet, the corruption of the sea was caused by the falling mountain of Rome, which changed the sea into blood, and the death of the faithful spiritual creatures in the sea was caused by the corruption that occurred in the second church. Our Lord in this bowl, is going to do the same thing with their water, by changing it all into blood, so that all the living spiritual creatures in the fallen church system that did not come out to the Lord will die. That is symbolically showing us that anyone that had a crown and remained in that system and refused to come out to the Lord after 1914-18, would shortly lose their spiritual reward. That loss and spiritual death is pictured by the tenth plague of Egypt, which was the death of the firstborn. The firstborn in the law, were those who were to get a double portion in their inheritance, and for that reason the first born picture the 144,000 of the church.

Must Answer Door & Let Lord In

So, this second bowl is showing us that the Lord is not using that cast-off system anymore after 1914-18, and that any who wished to follow the Lord would have to answer the knock on the door by the Lord, as shown in the message to the seventh church. There are still some who are searching for the Lord, and those are the ones that he is even now calling out of the fallen system—but he is not working with that system itself. The warning contained in the harvest message that was given to the fallen church system, was that they were in the harvest period, and our Lord told them through the scriptures that there was going to be a spewing out of those who did not come to the Lord for remedies for their spiritual poverty and blindness. Rev 3:15-16 (15 'I know your deeds, that you are neither cold nor hot; I wish that you were cold or hot. 16 'So because you are lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will spit you out of My mouth.

Rev 3:18 I counsel you to buy from me gold refined in the fire, so you can become rich; and white clothes to wear, so you can cover your shameful nakedness; and salve to put on your eyes, so you can see. NIV

They were warned by the harvest message, that their evil system was going to be destroyed because of the grievous sins that had been committed during the Gospel Age, and just like Israel at the First Advent most didn't believe it. At the start of WW1, it was obvious that the warning had been correct, and that the house was on fire, and that if they didn't get out soon they would go down with it. How long they had to get out after the final trouble started, we don't know for sure, but there would be no point to the warning if they didn't have to stop supporting that system within a reasonable amount of time, and open the door of their hearts to the Lord, and let him come to them and sup with them as seen in the message of seventh church.

That the system is spewed out, is not saying that there are no individuals out in the world that the Lord has called since then, but it's saying that the Lord is no longer directly working with the actual nominal church systems. Just as the Jewish system was cast off at the First Advent, we see that the same thing was going to happen to this church system, and they would lose their exclusive right to the crowns. Individual Jews could still come into the church after 36 AD, but the Lord was not working with the Jewish system itself anymore. To become a spirit-begotten Christian now, the individuals must be searching and listening, and if they hear the Lord knocking, they need to open the door of their hearts to him.

Rev 3:20-21(20 Here I am! I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come in and eat with him, and he with me.

21 To him who overcomes, I will give the right to sit with me on my throne, just as I overcame and sat down with my Father on his throne. NIV

The Burning Mountain

The burning mountain that was thrown into the sea in the second trumpet, was the claim that Christ's kingdom had been established in the earth by the Roman Empire accepting Christianity. The mountain or kingdom that was established, was a counterfeit kingdom that was backed by the might of Rome. That they had the idea that the church had established Christ's kingdom, is proven by the name that they called themselves, which was "Christendom". That this bowl struck that false claim, is proven by the fact that after WW1 was over, there was no Christendom left, and all the civil power that had been supporting that false claim was destroyed in the war.

That church and state system with the church in control, is what Papacy as well as some Protestant groups would like to re-establish again. We think that if that happens at all, it will be very short lived, because our Lord has returned and the real kingdom is going to be established by him very soon! The false kingdom that called itself Christendom has been spewed out.

In the end, all of those who had thought that they had established Christ's kingdom, and who felt that they had the right to rule oppressively over others that didn't agree, are going to find themselves bowing down at the feet of the 144,000 and the Lord, and asking forgiveness from those they had persecuted. The true saints kept the Lord's command to endure and not to give in to the temptation to get wealth and power. Because of that, they will be the ones that will have won the true crowns of glory.

Rev 3:9-10 (9 Listen! As for that group that belongs to Satan, those liars who claim that they are Jews but are not, I will make them come and bow down at your feet. They will all know that I love you. 10 Because you have kept my command to endure, I will also keep you safe from the time of trouble which is coming upon the world to test all the people on earth. TEV

The Sea Equals Christian Believers

The meaning of the sea in the second trumpet, is the same as what we will see here in the second bowl of wrath. It's tempting to say that the sea represents only earthly people, because we see that symbol used in that manner in Rev Chapter 17, where we see the harlot sitting on many waters. But even in that picture, most of that sea would have been Christianized because that was who was supporting the harlot. So, in the second trumpet the sea represented Christians who were attending church, because the sea of Christianity is what the Roman mountain was thrown into in 313 AD. In an even earlier sense at the start of this church, Rome was involved because the church had gotten large numbers of converts and that caused many church officials to be corrupted by the civil power. It got even worse when they made Christianity the favored religion of the Empire in 313. As we noted in the comments on the second trumpet, the Christians that were represented by the sea were believers, but they would not necessarily all have been those who had offered themselves as living sacrifices, as Paul had recommended to the church in Romans 12:1. They could also be some of those who were not accepted by the Lord, because they had not offered to fully consecrate their walk with Christ for the heavenly call.

The ones that had offered themselves as living sacrifices and had been accepted, were represented by the symbol of the creatures that had life in the sea. Those faithful Christian's lives, is what the second trumpet shows being destroyed by the water being turned to blood. The consecrated ones who had a spiritual life, were being corrupted by the worldly spirit that was coming into the church from the Roman Empire, poisoning the spiritual water like blood making the water undrinkable, and because of that many true saints who had life, were lost at that time. Even before Rome came into the church, there had been a constant fight against the worldly spirit that was trying to corrupt the church. That earthly spirit came in much faster when Rome began to support the church, which caused greed and ambition to take over in the church, especially by those who wanted the favor of Rome and its support, and by those who wanted power and wealth.

2 Cor 5:16-17 (16 Wherefore we henceforth know no man after the flesh: even though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now we know (him so) no more. 17 Wherefore if any man is in Christ, (he is) a new creature: the old things are passed away; behold, they are become new. ASV

Churches at Time of Harvest Were Weak in True Bible Knowledge

That is the exact same circumstance that many Christian churches were in at the time of the harvest and WW1, in that most of them were not fully consecrated, mainly because they didn't have enough Bible knowledge to do so—they were not following or fully using the scriptures which could have given them life. There would have been some in that system, that did have enough knowledge and that had consecrated, and that would be those who had true spiritual life. Those are the ones that the Lord was calling out to in the harvest, with the command to “come out of her my people Babylon, so that you do not partake of her plagues. They should have had enough knowledge to recognize the validity of the call, and to reject the traditions of men, and if need be they would have needed to give up positions of leadership, or separate from friends or relatives. As the Lord had indicated in Matthew Chapter 24, not everyone would heed the call at the end of the age. Matt 24:40-42 (40 "Then there will be two men in the field; one will be taken and one will be left. 41 "Two women will be grinding at the mill; one will be taken and one will be left. Be Ready for His Coming 42 "Therefore be on the alert, for you do not know which day your Lord is coming. NASU

Traditions of Men We're Stumbling Blocks to Them

The traditions of men that contained all the accumulated errors of that system, were one of the reasons that kept many from coming out of that system in the harvest. It was hard for them to admit that they had been taught error from little on, and even harder to give it up, because the mind does not want to give up long-held beliefs, but those who were determined to follow the Lord no matter what they found, could do it.

Rev 14:3-5 (3 And they sang a new song before the throne and before the four living creatures and the elders; and no one could learn the song except the one hundred and forty-four thousand who had been purchased from the earth. 4 These are the ones who have not been defiled with women, for they have kept themselves chaste. These are the ones who follow the Lamb wherever He goes. These have been purchased from among men as first fruits to God and to the Lamb. 5 And no lie was found in their mouth; they are blameless. NASU

Water changed to Blood & Idea Kingdom Established

When Rome legalized Christianity, and Constantine began to call church councils in order to settle doctrine, that allowed corrupt bishops to bring in error, and that brought in a worldly spirit that caused a downhill slide that soon overwhelmed many in the church, That Rome was seen working with Christianity, instead of directly persecuting them, caused the idea that God's kingdom had been established with the power of Rome behind it to gain in popularity—the burning mountain of Rome thrown into the sea brought the idea that God's true kingdom had arrived, but the burning showed that it was a kingdom that had destructive conflicts and disagreements in it. The mountain was burning because of the civil and religious conflicts that were going on in the Empire, and that was one reason that Emperor Constantine had brought the Christian church into favor, because he thought that it would stabilize the Empire. That situation and the idea that the kingdom of God was here, eventually led to Papacy having full control over what doctrines were to be believed in the church, and eventually Papacy took control of the civil power, and that is when the worst time of persecution in the world's history began in the inquisition.

The loss of God's spirit, and the replacing of it with Satan's worldly spirit, was the blood in the water, which pictured the lies and errors that were brought into the church by the early church councils—which were taking forceful control of church doctrine. Those lies of the early church councils, caused many to lose the understanding of the ransom and the blood atonement. Those are the key things that allow us to overcome the world and the devil. That is why we see so many of the faithful in the history of that time, trying to fight against that corruption, but in the end as was predicted in Daniel, the church was eventually worn down by the corrupt system. Some were killed, and some gave up and joined the decline, and others fled or went into hiding from the evil system so that they wouldn't be killed. That many had to keep silent or to go into hiding, was the same as what Elijah had to do under the oppressive church and state system that he was fighting against in natural Israel during his time.

Earthly Spirit Takes Them Completely Over

In this bowl, God does the same thing to them that they had done to his Faithful Church. When the corrupt Bishops had taken over the early church, that was pictured by the one-third of the sea being changed to blood, which was changing it to 666. That bloody water represented the mixing in the spirit of the world and spiritual error into the waters of life that had nourished the faithful Christians. Because of the even worse error that the church fell into when Rome recognized them as the Empire's religion, many of the churches lost their spirituality and became worldly.

Many of them soon sold out for the benefits that the Empire could bring to the church, both wealth and power, and that was not what they were supposed to have done. Paul had warned that the church needed to stay out of that great falling away that was surely going to come, but many did not heed the warning. God's Holy spirit was forced out of the church at that time by the worldliness that came in, and the world's spirit and Satan's took control, hence the blood in the water changing it into 666.

This time in the second bowl of wrath, 100% of the sea is changed into blood, representing the total loss of spiritual life of any that tried to believe in and survive in that corrupt system—the worldly spirit began taking over the entire fallen church. The harvest message had warned those who were still in the fallen church system, that they needed to get out, and as we see described in this bowl of wrath, “all” of the spiritual creatures that had life in the sea died. What happened to Israel in the time of Babylon, is a picture of what happened to the church in the time of Great Babylon. God withdrew his spirit from Israel just before they were carried away to Babylon, and at the First Advent he took it from Israel, placing it on the faithful church, and this time at the end of the age, he withdrew it from the fallen church, and he placed it upon those who had come out in the harvest.

In this bowl, God was going to withdraw his entire spirit from the fallen church system, and any with crowns who had not come out were going to lose them. The same thing had happened to Israel at the First Advent, because after the end of Israel's favor in 36AD, he withdrew his spirit and support from Judah. It wasn't long before the Romans carried them away to all the nations—banning them from the Holy land.

When God withdraws his spirit from those who are not doing right, it's not long before their punishment overtakes them. Ezek 10:18-18 (18 Then the glory of the Lord departed from over the threshold of the temple and stopped above the cherubim. 19 While I watched, the cherubim spread their wings and rose from the ground, and as they went, the wheels went with them. They stopped at the entrance to the east gate of the Lord's house, and the glory of the God of Israel was above them. NIV

Ezek 11:22-23 (22 Then the cherubim, with the wheels beside them, spread their wings, and the glory of the God of Israel was above them. 23 The glory of the Lord went up from within the city and stopped above the mountain east of it. NIV

Literal & Worldly View Has Taken Over

Because God has withdrawn his Holy spirit from that system after 1914-18, that has allowed the worldly spirit and Satan's spirit to take complete control of that system, and that corrupt spirit has allowed and caused higher criticism and many other worldly ideas to come into the fallen church, dragging it from the spiritual heavens to the earth. We will see that even more so in the punishment of the next bowl of wrath. Those who are still in that system at this time of the end, are now a worldly church of which most don't study hardly any nourishing biblical doctrine, but they go to church because they like the social atmosphere, or the entertainment that they get while there—even gambling, like bingo.

Many of the churches that still exist, do so because they have been changed into social institutions, or they preach a social Gospel. Of the ones that do study the Bible, most have lost their spirituality, and they read the scriptures as if they were all literal. There are still some who are searching for the Lord, and those are the ones that our Lord is calling out to, asking them to open the door to him, so that he can sit down with them and feed them a feast of harvest time spiritual food. How long that call will still go on to gather the saints is not known—when the church is complete, the call will end.

Fundamentalists Have Lost Symbolic Interpretation

That is why the nominal churches have the wrong idea about what is going to happen in the end time. They look for a literal rapture or a literal burning up of the world. At the same time, almost all the above ones think that you must believe in the Trinity, hellfire, and other false doctrines that are traditions of men. There have been several different religious trends after 1914 that caused them to even more so lose sight of what the Lord is looking for in the faithful church.

The fundamentalist movement which existed from about 1910 and onward, came into a more organized existence in about 1920, and while some of the things that they advocated were ok, there were many other things that were added later which were not correct, such as the need to believe in the Trinity, the six literal 24 hour days of creation etc.

Prosperity Gospel

Another destructive Gospel that came into the churches after that time, was the prosperity Gospel, which claims that if you contribute huge amounts financially to the church, that the money you gave will come back to you many fold. This has especially come into prominence with the TV evangelists, who make those kinds of claims all the time to get money from the people. Most of these groups preach healing of the sick and lame, and many of them show or claim such supposed miracles on their shows. Those changes didn't happen all at once, but they have happened gradually as time has gone on, and those doctrinal changes have led the churches into even greater darkness. Isa 8:20-22 (20 To the law and to the testimony! If they do not speak according to this word, they have no light of dawn. 21 Distressed and hungry, they will roam through the land; when they are famished, they will become enraged and, looking upward, will curse their king and their God. 22 Then they will look toward the earth and see only distress and darkness and fearful gloom, and they will be thrust into utter darkness. NIV

Just as Satan had brought into the church worldly people and doctrines in the early part of the Gospel Age to overwhelm the early church, the Lord is doing the same thing to them in this bowl of wrath, in that he has withdrawn his spirit from that system and is letting worldly ideas take them over completely. That is why all of the sea is turned completely to blood—that changing of the sea to blood shows that the Lord was going to finish that entire evil system off, leaving them neither root nor branch. Mal 4:1-2 (1 “For behold, the day is coming, burning like a furnace; and all the arrogant and every evildoer will be chaff; and the day that is coming will set them ablaze,” says the LORD of hosts, “so that it will leave them neither root nor branch.” NASU

They Still Contain Doctrinal Error From Mother Church

At the time that the punishment came upon them in 1914-18, most of the branches of the different churches still supported all the doctrinal error that came from the mother church, and those are the false doctrines that keep them from accepting the truth of the ransom doctrine and the Divine Plan. The sea is turned to blood with no life sustaining properties, because of their grievous errors, and since it has become the blood of a dead man there is no spiritual life in that system anymore. Their church members are not able to get any spiritual nourishment from the blood that the water is turned into, and because of that any new creature that had stayed in that system would soon perish, because polluted and corrupted waters of truth will not sustain a true spiritual life.

To Get Spirit Begotten Must Come Out

Not only does the withdrawal of God's spirit allow the worldly spirit to come in even more quickly, but if God's Holy spirit is not in that system anymore, there will not be any more spirit begetting in that system either.

It's now up to individuals in those systems to hear the Lord and to open the door and let the Lord come in. He will then give them his message of truth and the Holy spirit so that they can grow into full-grown Christians, able to be of the bride class. Those are the ones that we are still calling out to now, trying to get them to answer the call of the Lord. There may even be some that come to the Lord, who are not necessarily following the Bible Students, but they would have to be using their bibles, and very earnestly considering the things written within.

Same Thing Happened to the Jews in 69-70

This situation is a parallel to the harvest time of the Jewish system, where the Lord quit working with the nation of Israel, but he was still accepting individual Jews if they heard the call and opened the door of their hearts to him. On this end of the age, we see the same thing, in that if individuals seek the Lord and come to him, he will then give them a measure of his spirit and will lead them to the fresh waters of truth that will support spiritual life.

The Jews that didn't follow the Christians out of the city in 69AD, were either dead or hauled away as slaves by the next year. At the end of the 40 years of the Jewish harvest, there was going to be destruction come upon the Jewish system, and we see historically that the last of the Jewish holdouts were killed in the battle of Masada in 73AD, and that is exactly parallel to 1918 and the end of WW1. So, while we can't say for sure, it appears that anyone that had a crown and stayed loyal to Great Babylon, very possibly would have been getting into very difficult circumstances with the Lord by 1918.

Death in the Sea Equals 666 Ideas Causing Them to be Slain

This bowl is showing the same thing that we see in Ezek Chapter nine, where the six men with the slaying weapons slaughter all those who don't have the mark of the Lord, which marks or seals those who are grieving over the things being done wrong in the city. If they didn't see a problem with the evil system, then they had too much of the worldly and Satanic spirit, which is shown by the fact that there were six men with slaying weapons. That there are six men with slaughter weapons, indicates that those without God's mark were being slain with worldly ideas, since six is the number of man. The number of 666 also indicates Satan and his false doctrines, which likewise would slay anyone that relied on them. Only those with the mark of the Lord in the forehead were being saved.

The false and corrupt doctrinal ideas that this system have, are branding them on the forehead and on the hand with the number 666, so that they can be separated from the faithful who sigh and cry over the things being done wrong in the evil church system. All those who do not have the mark of the Lord in their intellectual forehead, are to be spiritually slain, which means that they would have lost their crown and any chance for the high calling.

Once You Flee the Great City Don't Go Back

Of those who had been separated out and who had had gotten the truth in the harvest message or otherwise, if they fall away again in the testing that occurred after 1918 and after, then they fall into the Great Company class, which means that they would have also lost their reward. Remember, this is like Lot's wife, don't look back.

Blood of a Dead Man

The word "man" in the phrase "dead man" is not found in the text. The word "dead" that is used here has an interesting definition as found in Vines dictionary. It shows the true state of affairs in the apostate church after this time.

DEAD nekros ^3498^ is used of (a) the death of the body, cf. <Jas. 2:26>, its most frequent sense: (b) the actual spiritual condition of unsaved men, <Matt. 8:22; John 5:25; Eph. 2:1,5; 5:14; Phil. 3:11; Col. 2:13>; cf. <Luke 15:24>; (c) the ideal spiritual condition of believers in regard to sin, <Rom. 6:11>; (d) a church in declension, inasmuch as in that state it is inactive and barren, <Rev. 3:1>; (e) sin, which apart from law cannot produce a sense of guilt, <Rom. 7:8>; (f) the body of the believer in contrast to his spirit, <Rom. 8:10>; (g) the works of the Law, inasmuch as, however good in themselves, <Rom. 7:13>, they cannot produce life, <Heb. 6:1; 9:14>; (h) the faith that does not produce works, <Jas. 2:17, 26>; cf. <v. 20>. ## Bowl 3 on Rivers & Springs

Revelation 16:4-7

Rev 16:4 Then the third {angel} poured out his bowl into the rivers and the springs of waters; and they became blood.

Rev 16:5 And I heard the angel of the waters saying, "Righteous are You, who are and who were, O Holy One, because You judged these things;

Rev 16:6 for they poured out the blood of saints and prophets, and You have given them blood to drink. They deserve it."

Rev 16:7 And I heard the altar saying, "Yes, O Lord God, the Almighty, and righteous are Your judgments." (NAU)

Rev 8:10-11(10 The third angel sounded, and a great star fell from heaven, burning like a torch, and it fell on a third of the rivers and on the springs of waters. 11 The name of the star is called Wormwood; and a third of the waters became wormwood, and many men died from the waters, because they were made bitter. NASU

Rev 6:9-11(9 When the Lamb broke the fifth seal, I saw underneath the altar the souls of those who had been slain because of the word of God, and because of the testimony which they had maintained; 10 and they cried out with a loud voice, saying, "How long, O Lord, holy and true, will You refrain from judging and avenging our blood on those who dwell on the earth?" 11 And there was given to each of them a white robe; and they were told that they should rest for a little while longer, until the number of their fellow servants and their brethren who were to be killed even as they had been, would be completed also. NASU

End fifth church = 1518, then adding 360 = 1878 AD, which is when the judgment and verdict was given against the fallen church system. Forty years later, the sentence was carried out, and it had finished them off by 1918. A time is 360.

Satan is the Star

Who Fell On Rivers & Springs

There is a question about who the star is. Some believe it is Satan, and others believe that it is Papacy who has fallen from the spiritual heaven. We believe the star is Satan, because Satan's throne was said to be in the third church, but at the same time he was working through Papacy as his main tool or instrument of corruption. Our Lord also mentioned having seen Satan fall from heaven like lightning. The bright shining of the lightning that Satan brought with him down to the earth, was the false light of doctrinal error he was bringing to the church. The trumpet also describes the star as burning like a torch, which would be more like Satan than Papacy.

Another reason that we believe that the star was Satan, was because he is the mastermind behind all the doctrinal corruption, persecution, and murdering of the saints in the church. So regardless of whether the star is Satan or Papacy, there is no doubt that Papacy is the main tool that was being used by Satan during the third church to corrupt the doctrines, as we will explain below. Luke 10:18 And he said unto them, I beheld Satan fallen as lightning from heaven. ASV

Rev 2:13 'I know where you dwell, where Satan's throne is; and you hold fast My name, and did not deny My faith even in the days of Antipas, My witness, My faithful one, who was killed among you, where Satan dwells. NASU

Poisoned Rivers & Springs

In the third trumpet, the star had poisoned the rivers and springs of water, which represented the faithful churches sources of truth. Back in the early church, the rivers and springs of water, would have been the leaders of the church, the bishops or elders that were to interpret and teach doctrine for the other members of the church. The main source of truth which the leaders were supposed to be using was the Bible, but as things got worse, the Bible was more and more ignored and even banned. The church councils were making new doctrines without consulting the scriptures, or if they did they took things out of context, or mixed Pagan ideas in with them.

Where the big problem began that was irreversible, is that in this church period, Papacy was given complete control of all the doctrines by Justinian in about 534AD, and later on it was actually written into Justinian's law. Some other historians make it a little later than 534, by pointing to when the laws were codified, but the date does not matter as much as the fact that Papacy was given that power at that exact time. Satan then had no trouble using Papacy to change the doctrines to anything that he wanted them to be—which meant that he was removing the understanding of what Christ had accomplished on the cross.

No one was allowed to question any of the false doctrines that Papacy was allowing into the church after that time, and the giving of him the unquestionable right to decide doctrine did happen in the third church. Shortly before WW1 in 1870AD, Vatican one re-declared the infallibility of the Pope when he is speaking of certain things like doctrine. Papacies fortunes were sinking at the time, because he had just lost control of all of the Papal States, and he has never gotten them back. He must have been hoping that the claim of infallibility would gather the superstitious people together, to rally to support him in his claim to those territories.

Springs & Rivers Changed to 666

That Papacy oversaw the churches doctrines in the time of the third church, is what turned the springs and rivers of water into the bitterness of 666 by the removal of one third again,  $1-1/3 = .666$  to three decimal places. The very church leaders who were supposed to be guarding the doctrines, brought out spiritual poison to all who listened to them. They should have been bringing out nourishing spiritual food to the faithful church, but instead they were bringing out error and false doctrines that were taking away the truth of what Christ had done for us on the cross. Like trumpet one and two, the changing of one-third of the waters from the springs and fountains into wormwood or bitterness, left a remainder of two-thirds, and so what was left in decimal format, was again 666, showing that Satan was rapidly taking control of even more of the church, by the third church period.

The Decree of 381 Also Closed Any Dialog About Truth

At the close of the second church and the beginning of the third church, Theodosius in 381AD issued a decree, stating that all so-called orthodox doctrines had to be followed without question, all of which were Satan's false doctrines. By 539AD, the ones in power were already starting to use the civil power to persecute those who wouldn't go along with that corrupted truth. That kind of persecution continued all the way through history, especially when they had the civil power to back them up—that's when they began stating that it was no sin to kill those whom they claimed were heretics. That's why the angel of the waters is saying that it was righteous of the Lord to judge them, and to give them blood to drink in this bowl of wrath as punishment.

The message to the third church, tells us that Satan had a seat of power in the third church, showing that he had a very strong hold on the church by that time. The seat of power indicated that he had the power of judgment, and even the support of the people through Papacy. The third church is also where Papacy acquired full control of the city of Rome, in 539 AD which was the original seat of the Roman Empire—giving his power a big boost. That stranglehold on the faithful church, was how he was then able to force out anyone who was still trying to keep the church grounded in sound doctrine. The picture of that time is Elijah fleeing into the wilderness, where he was to be nourished by God, so he could escape being killed, and the same thing was happening to the faithful church during this third church period.

Rev 2:14 But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balac to cast a stumbling block before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication. (KJV)

Third Trumpet Directly Related to This Bowl of Wrath

The third bowl was designed to poison this fallen systems sources of doctrine, so that they would become a worldly church. Only those who are truly seeking after the Lord in the scriptures, will the Lord bless by coming in to sit down and to feed them with nourishing spiritual food, but to get that blessing they must separate themselves from the traditions and error of the system. They must leave that fallen system and return to the only true source of doctrine, and that is the word of the Lord in the Holy Bible. If they follow the traditions of men, and the even more destructive new ideas that have come into the church since WW1, they will not be of the 144,000.

We are not sure why the third bowl of wrath turns the rivers and fountains to blood, instead of the wormwood that the water was turned into in the third trumpet. It's likely that the Lord turns it into blood on this end of the age, because they had corrupted the understanding of the blood of the ransom when they were changing the doctrines. The use of the symbol of the blood in Revelation, also makes it match up with the water being turned into blood in the plagues of Egypt.

Jer 9:15 therefore thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, "behold, I will feed them, this people, with wormwood and give them poisoned water to drink. NASU

Jer 23:15 "Therefore thus says the Lord of hosts concerning the prophets, 'Behold, I am going to feed them wormwood And make them drink poisonous water, For from the prophets of Jerusalem Pollution has gone forth into all the land.'" NASU

Seminaries & Theologians

The third bowl of wrath was poured upon the rivers and fountains, which on this end of the age are symbolic of the religious schools, seminaries, and theologians. The social doctrines, the fundamentalist doctrines, the prosperity Gospel, and other errors that came upon the church after 1914AD, were a big part of the third plague. This plague has caused the sources of the fallen churches doctrines like the seminaries and the colleges of theology, to begin to teach ideas that have caused the loss of any true doctrine of salvation that would have secured their place in the faithful church. The ideas being taught by them during this end time, have caused them to become worldly churches, instead of being spiritual churches full of the truth. Most of the doctrines that are being preached today, are not grounded in a correct understanding of the scriptures, and that has led the churches into gross darkness.

Isa 8:20-22 (20 To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them.

21 And they shall pass through it, hardly bestead and hungry: and it shall come to pass, that when they shall be hungry, they shall fret themselves, and curse their king and their God, and look upward.

22 And they shall look unto the earth; and behold trouble and darkness, dimness of anguish; and they shall be driven to darkness. KJV

Claims of Infallibility & Use of Fear

The infallibility of the Pope, is saying to the Catholics that they have to believe what he says, and they are not to consult the scriptures to find anything out for themselves. Later on, that same thing has happened with many of the different Protestant churches of the fallen systems, who are told that if they listen to anyone else, that they will lose their salvation and suffer eternal torment or second death. Because of the fear of eternal torment, most of the people have closed their spiritual eyes and ears, and they will not listen to anyone that their church does not sanction. They don't know it, but all of the spiritual water that they are getting from their churches has been turned to blood, because it has been poisoned with worldly, Pagan, and Satanic ideas that had come into the early church.

Following a Church & Not the Lord is the Problem

The dependence upon their churches theologians, and not the scriptures, has led to ideas such as the one where they believe that salvation can come from their own efforts. Some think that all you must do is good works, and you will be ushered right into heaven. While those kinds of things are not wrong to do, they are not the source of salvation which we know is belief in the blood of Christ and the ransom. Most of the modern-day churches don't understand the blood ransom and what Christ accomplished by dying for us on the cross. The blood atonement looks bloody and barbaric to the average person, and so they try to win converts to the churches, without fully considering what Christ did on the cross, and because of that the message of the atonement has been toned down or lost completely. That is why some churches today have gone so far as to say that you can secure your own salvation with works, intimating that you don't need the blood sacrifice of Christ. With doctrines like that, they are not winning anyone to Christ anymore, because they don't even understand what he accomplished on the cross. Without the blood of Christ, there is no salvation for anyone in either age!

Higher Criticism & Human Reasoning Leading Astray

In addition, we see them attempting to make the doctrinal teaching of traditional religious ideas palatable with modern thought. That has caused the churches to teach human ideas that are not related to the biblical doctrines of God. Many of the scriptures have been subject to higher criticism, which seeks to explain away many parts of the Bible. That modern view also attempts to explain away the supernatural events of the Bible, and to explain them from the human or natural viewpoint. Instead of miraculous events, we are shown natural events, which supposedly occurred by accident at the right time. We actually agree that God can and does use natural events to accomplish his work, but nothing happens by accident. We also see that not all things that God does are explainable by natural means, as some would like to claim. The three Hebrews in the furnace are a good example, of something that can't be explained by natural means.

When it comes to the question of modern science or archeology, many of the church leaders agree with whatever the scientists say without consulting the Bible. The proper interpretation of the Bible is very important in determining what is true and what is not. When we say proper interpretation, we don't mean interpreting the 6 days of creation as being 6 literal days, with God having planted fake fossils to fool us as some think at this time. The proper study of the Bible, and using a good dictionary like Strong's, should tell us that the word day can be an undefined period of time, and that those days are much longer periods of time than 24 hours. One of the big problems that the churches have today, is that they have lost the Holy spirit, and because of that they have lost the spiritual intellect needed to discern what the correct interpretation of the Bible is, or what makes sense in respect to God's Plan of the Ages. That is why the message of the Bible has become a closed book to them, and they don't realize or recognize that they have become spiritually blind.

1 Cor 2:10-16 (10 For to us God revealed them through the Spirit; for the Spirit searches all things, even the depths of God. 11 For who among men knows the thoughts of a man except the spirit of the man which is in him? Even so the thoughts of God no one knows except the Spirit of God. 12 Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit who is from God, so that we may know the things freely given to us by God, 13 which things we also speak, not in words taught by human wisdom, but in those taught by the Spirit, combining spiritual thoughts with spiritual words. 14 But a natural man does not accept the things of the Spirit of God, for they are foolishness to him; and he cannot understand them, because they are spiritually appraised. 15 But he who is spiritual appraises all things, yet he himself is appraised by no one. 16 For WHO HAS KNOWN THE MIND OF THE LORD, THAT HE WILL INSTRUCT HIM? But we have the mind of Christ. NASU

They Think the Church is Supposed to Fix All Worldly Problems Now

Another thing that has happened, is that when people asked their churches about why God has permitted the evil that they see in society, such as poverty, drugs, crime, and sickness, etc., the answer their churches give them is that they don't know why. Because of them not understanding the permission of evil, they think that God intends that they should fix the problems at this time, and so many begin to try to do that. That idea sounds good on the surface, but that effort has taken the churches away from the true Gospel, which points to the Millennial kingdom as the cure for all of the evils of the world.

Social Gospel Has Not Worked

As we can see now more than a century later, it's obvious that the social Gospel has not been effective in solving the world's problems. All of the things that they have tried to fix with human effort have gotten worse as time has gone on. Without the power of God behind such efforts, as will happen in the kingdom, all human endeavors like that can only fix minor problems. The bigger problems which affect all of society, will remain unsolved until the time of the kingdom. So instead of the members of the churches working towards winning a spiritual crown of glory, and the use of Divine power that would give the glorified church the means to fix the problems, the nominal house has chased after futile worldly ideas. One good thing we can say about that, is that those kinds of good works will be a big part of what's needed in the earthly kingdom!

Entertainment Has Replaced Bible Study

The other thing that has happened in some of the churches, is the tendency to have human interest type worship, where they have music, singing, dancing, dinners, and entertainment, so that the people will come to church. Some have gone so far as to have gambling and bingo in the churches. That type of things has turned the church into one big social club—which is not teaching the doctrines that will lead one to the crown of life. Most who follow those kinds of ideas, don't even know that there is a crown to run for, nor are they able to clearly articulate where their salvation comes from.

Isa 5:12-12 (12 Their banquets are accompanied by lyre and harp, by tambourine and lute, and by wine; But they do not pay attention to the deeds of the Lord, Nor do they consider the work of His hands. 13 Therefore My people go into exile for their lack of knowledge; And their honorable men are famished, And their multitude is parched with thirst. NASU

*Hos 4:6 My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge. Because you have rejected knowledge, I also will reject you from being My priest. Since you have forgotten the law of your God, I also will forget your children. NASU

Think They Have to Convert World Now

Another problem, is that many of these churches think that they must convert the entire world to Christianity now. They have the false idea that they must preach and convert the world to Christ before he will come again. That has resulted in many missionary efforts all over the world. It's also possible that some of the wars that have been fought recently, have been influenced by the idea that they need to convert the rest of the world to their religious ideas before the end can come. The converts that they win by this method, are only tares, because they are being converted by erroneous doctrine, just as the Jewish system was doing in its time. Matt 23:15 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves. KJV

Christianity So Weak Some Think All Religions Are OK

There is also some movements at this time, that seeks to join all religion together, as long as they believe in God. Many of these don't think that the foundation doctrines are important, and because of that some of them go as far as trying to join together with Muslims, Hindu's, Buddhists etc., who especially don't see what Christ really did for salvation, nor do they believe in the blood of the ransom. Some think that they can even join together with the Muslims, who only see Christ as a prophet, and don't understand that he came as the savior of all mankind. That they don't see the Muslim or Catholic beliefs as a problem, shows how far they have fallen—which is very far away from the true salvation of Christ. The other Pagan religions in the world of today don't see Christ as anything important either.

Religious Fundamentalism Brings Error

Religious fundamentalism has resulted in the false church trying to interpret all the scriptures literally. Because they don't have the spirit of God anymore, they can't spiritually discern what the scriptures are telling us.

1 Cor 2:12-15 (12 We have not received the spirit of the world but the Spirit who is from God, that we may understand what God has freely given us. 13 This is what we speak, not in words taught us by human wisdom but in words taught by the Spirit, expressing spiritual truths in spiritual words. 14 The man without the Spirit does not accept the things that come from the Spirit of God, for they are foolishness to him, and he cannot understand them, because they are spiritually discerned. NIV

Some examples of mistaken literal ideas, are for example the instant rapture of all of the faithful church that they think happens when Christ comes with a literal trumpet. Another, is the literal count of the 1260, 1290, 1335, and 2520 days, rather than at a day per year. That gives the wrong idea of when the man of sin is to appear, and it even misleads as to who the man of sin was. They think that he is still going to come yet, missing the fact that he has already been here, and that the evil system still exists, and that they are actually a part of it.

We also find them having the interpretation of much of biblical prophecy as being literal, such as the book of Revelation, which keeps them from understanding what it's really showing us. They are still looking for most of this book to be fulfilled in the future, instead of recognizing that it has almost all been fulfilled already. They don't see that it's a court transcript written in advance, against the very system that they are in.

There are more examples of how this literalism is blinding them than we could give in these pages, but the few examples we have given here, shows us what has happened to them spiritually. It also shows us, that this has happened because they have invented their own false doctrines, and don't accept God's true biblical doctrines.

God had provided the means for them to escape from this plague, because he had furnished and published the harvest truth from 1874AD and onward, and all they had to do was accept that truth and they would have had nourishing doctrines again. Our Lord is still standing at the door knocking, but most have refused to look or even believe the harvest truth as it was revealed, and they didn't open the door to our Lord. Because of that, they stayed with their polluted and non-nourishing doctrines, which has caused them not to know enough to run for the high calling. Those who did accept the harvest truth and stayed faithful to it, are happy and are spiritually well nourished.

If you look at what kind of prophetic literature that the fallen church is printing today, you will find books about a literal rapture, the destruction of the earth in Armageddon, and other such untruthful doctrines. The reason for a lot of that distorted doctrine and ideas, is that they are looking for either a 3.5 or 7-year period of time, in which they think the anti-Christ will reign in the future. Even most of the Protestants have lost the prophetic thought that the Papacy had fulfilled that prophecy during the 1260 years of the dark ages. The total lack of knowledge about the evil of Papacies 1260 years, is why some of them can even think about joining the church of the harlot again.

Happened to Punish Them Because of What They Did

The altar in verse 7 says that it was true and righteous that the doctrinal fountains and rivers were turned to blood on this end of the age. Why was that punishment true and righteous? One of the big reasons is that they were guilty of killing the faithful saints all through the age, who were only guilty of trying to keep the polluted doctrines from coming into the church. The nominal house began polluting and corrupting the Faithful Churches doctrines starting in 325AD at the council of Nicaea, and again in the decree of 381AD, and during other church councils that soon followed.

During and after 539AD, they cast out or killed those who were opposed to the Trinity doctrine, and other orthodox and false doctrines that the church decided to put out. Jesus was turned into God by the Trinity error, which makes it impossible to understand the true doctrine of the ransom or the corresponding price. How can you have a man Jesus, die for a man Adam, if he is not an actual man, but who is thought to be a combination of God and man?

The basis for the mass, although it wasn't fully developed yet at the time of 539 AD, was also put in place at that time by the erroneous changes. They began to think that they were changing the bread and wine into the actual body and blood of Jesus, and because of that change, they then thought that they were literally partaking of God, and thus imparting immortality to themselves. Eventually, they began to believe that they are sacrificing Christ again for new sins every time that they offer a mass. Those false doctrines led to the full establishment of the mass, as a replacement for what Christ had already accomplished for all ages. They were making the people dependent on them for salvation. They forgot that Christ died once and for all times, not needing to be continually sacrificed, but his one sacrifice on the cross was sufficient for all ages.

Heb 9:28 In the same manner Christ also was offered in sacrifice once to take away the sins of many. He will appear a second time, not to deal with sin, but to save those who are waiting for him. (TEV)

Heb 10:14 For by one offering He has perfected for all time those who are sanctified. (NAS)

Because of those grievous errors, the truth about what Jesus accomplished on the cross, was lost completely, and they didn't think that he died on the cross, since they rightly see that the God of the Trinity couldn't die and then resurrect himself. Jesus and other scriptures, called the system that was to develop during this time, the Abomination of Desolation.

Angel of the Waters

The angel of the waters is Christ, the messenger of the covenant and of God's truth.

Mal 3:1 "Behold, I am going to send My messenger, and he will clear the way before Me. And the Lord, whom you seek, will suddenly come to His temple; and the messenger of the covenant, in whom you delight, behold, He is coming," says the LORD of hosts. NASU

The Lord God has judged that fallen system through his word, and we see here that the angel of the waters declares that it's right that they are being punished for what they did wrong. We believe that the angel is Christ as Michael in his pre-human role, and he also is the angel above the waters in Chapter 12 of Daniel, where he showed us the truth about the 1260-year duration of what was going to be coming, and it was to be a terrible and oppressive and unfaithful system, which existed from 539-1799AD. The 1335 days that the angel revealed, brings us to 1874AD, which is where the 40-year harvest of the fallen system began, and at the end of the 40 year harvest in 1914, it was time to punish that system for what was done wrong, all through the age.

Punishment Arrived in 1914

Even so Lord God, yes, it is right that this has happened to them. True and righteous are your judgments, and the souls slain under the altar by this evil system acknowledge that our Lord has punished that system as he had promised he would do. God had told the saints that they were to wait upon him, and that he would exact retribution for them in due time, and we see that the time had arrived, which was after harvest period of 1874-1914. The slain saints under the altar in the fifth seal, were told at their time of the age, to wait until more of them had been killed, and they were promised that in the days of the angel of the Seventh trumpet, that there would be "time no more". In other words, in the days of the Seventh trumpet, the punishment was to come upon that evil system with no more delay, and we see that it did come right after the trumpet began to sound. The allotted time for that systems existence, had ran out in 1914.

We also see that this punishment was authorized in the heavenly court of judgment which we saw described in Daniel 7:26, which took place in 1874-78AD, and that punishment resulted in the fiery destruction of the church and state system that came from the war that started in 1914AD. The judgment that has come upon them at the end of the age, brought the loss of their spiritual reward, and it will also apply retroactively upon all of those who earlier participated in the torture and killing of the saints, and who didn't repent.

None of them will be of the 144,000, but instead they will be symbolized by those in Ezekiel Chapter 44, who will be punished because of the error and evil that they brought into the Lord's church. In other words, they will be Great Company. When this is all over, there will be no one who will be complaining about the punishment that God has brought against them, because all will see that these were righteous judgments. They didn't repent of what they had done wrong during the height of their power, and for that reason, God has caused their doctrinal sources and their teaching seminaries to lead them into worldly doctrines, which has caused them to fall to the earth by the sixth time period, Rev 6:13.

They Are Spewed Out

They as a system are being spewed out, even as our Lord had warned the seventh church about what would happen if they didn't buy from him eye slave so that they could see. Their sins are so bad that they will be remembered forever, and no one will doubt that they were evil and deserved to be removed from any chance of being Gods elect. The smoke or remembrance of their burning, will go up forever, and no one will forget their evil ways. "Yes, O Lord God, the Almighty, true and righteous are Your judgments."

So, what we see happening to the nominal or unfaithful church, is that starting after the 1914-18 war, fundamentalism, social doctrine, and many other errors crept even more strongly into the fallen church, and that has led them further and further away from the true doctrines of salvation. In summary, we see that the decline has gotten so bad, that many of the churches don't seem to see the need for what Christ did on the cross anymore. They instead think that they can improve themselves, and get to heaven without him having paid the price for them. Their members are happy to come and listen to music, and have social gatherings, but many have no idea of how Christ has saved them by his sacrifice on the cross. Some in the Papal system have gotten so bad, that they think that Mary has more power regarding salvation than Christ has. Rev 3:17-18 (17 You say, 'I am rich; I have acquired wealth and do not need a thing.' But you do not realize that you are wretched, pitiful, poor, blind and naked. 18 I counsel you to buy from me gold refined in the fire, so you can become rich; and white clothes to wear, so you can cover your shameful nakedness; and salve to put on your eyes, so you can see.

Bowl 4 on Sun

Revelation 16:8-9

Rev 16:8 The fourth {angel} poured out his bowl upon the sun, and it was given to it to scorch men with fire.

Rev 16:9 Men were scorched with fierce heat; and they blasphemed the name of God who has the power over these plagues, and they did not repent so as to give Him glory. (NAU)

Rev 8:12 The fourth angel sounded, and a third of the sun and a third of the moon and a third of the stars were struck, so that a third of them would be darkened and the day would not shine for a third of it, and the night in the same way. NASU

One interesting thing about the last four bowls, is that they were poured “onto” the symbols that were to be punished or destroyed, where the first three bowls were poured “into” the symbols that they were to punish or destroy. Besides the change in how the bowls are poured out, there is a break in between bowl three and bowl four, which is marked by the proclamation of the angel saying that they deserved the punishment that they had just received, because they had poured out the blood of the saints.

We could assume that the angel is referring to just the fountains of water of the third bowl which had just been changed to blood, but it might be just as correct to assume that the angel meant all three bowls which had just been poured out at that point in time, and which had accomplished what had been promised—which was that the evil system had been judged, and their blood had been avenged. The turning of their water of life to blood, and the poisoning of their fountains of water, guarantees that they will not be of the 144,000. Bowl one on top of that, cast a bad light on the Old World order, causing most to reject that type of system after WW1, guaranteeing that it would not be restored. All three of the first three bowls of wrath, are described as having completed their punishment and destruction upon the fallen system.

The next four bowls, show us things that will also need to be completely destroyed in time for the kingdom, but which are not completely destroyed in the 1914-18 pouring out which we can see from the description of what occurs in each bowl. Each of the symbols in those four bowls are completely removed in time for the kingdom, but that is not being shown to us in chapter 16, where we are only shown a partial removal of the symbols of bowls four through six. In bowl seven, we see the symbols beginning to be completely removed. In actuality, the complete destruction of Great Babylon, is shown in seven different prophetic pictures in the book of Revelation.

The light of the restored truth caused the corrupt church system during the harvest of 1874-1918, great trouble, because many people began to wonder about the fallen churches doctrines when the light of truth was shined upon them. Unfortunately, Satan has been working overtime to restore his control, and he has modified and added to the original error in order to maintain his control over the people. But his efforts will be short lived, because we know that the light of the gospel sun, will begin to remove all error at the start of the kingdom, and that the long held error will be greatly exposed by the events that will begin happening at the start of the kingdom.

Mal 4:1 “For behold, the day is coming, burning like a furnace; and all the arrogant and every evildoer will be chaff; and the day that is coming will set them ablaze,” says the LORD of hosts, “so that it will leave them neither root nor branch.” NASU

The truth exposed the systems errors during the harvest time, but it didn't burn them totally up—because we are told that the people were scorched by the great heat, but that they didn't repent. We are also promised that the light of the sun in that day will be seven fold in time for the kingdom, Isaiah 30:26, and that perfect seven times of light will destroy all error in the kingdom.

In other words, the picture of great heat scorching the error, is not the one that fully takes down the evil system as seen in this chapter, but it only weakened it at the time of 1914-18. Likewise the throne of the beast in bowl five, while being greatly reduced in power in 1914-18, still needs to be fully removed, and we will see that happen in Rev chapter 19, at the time of the capture of the beast and the image.

Rev 19:20-21 (20 And the beast was seized, and with him the false prophet who performed the signs in his presence, by which he deceived those who had received the mark of the beast and those who worshiped his image; these two were thrown alive into the lake of fire which burns with brimstone. 21 And the rest were killed with the sword which came from the mouth of Him who sat on the horse, and all the birds were filled with their flesh. NASU

The drying up of the Euphrates as seen in bowl six, was partially accomplished in 1914-18 in the destruction of the Old World order and Satan's system, but it was not the full drying up yet at that time. The support for that evil system will need to be removed in time for the kingdom, but the 1914-18 punishment on the system, was not what fully dried it up. Once that support is dried up, then all of the people will be able to walk dry shod across into the promised land of the kingdom as shown in the picture of the Israelites crossing, which was a second crossing. They were crossing dry shod into the promised land at that second time, with the priests (144,000) standing in the river holding the water back. The Lord and the church will be there holding back the water, symbolically protecting the people during the kingdom, so that they can be fully restored during the time of the kingdom.

Josh 3:14 So when the people set out from their tents to cross the Jordan with the priests carrying the ark of the covenant before the people, 15 and when those who carried the ark came into the Jordan, and the feet of the priests carrying the ark were dipped in the edge of the water (for the Jordan overflows all its banks all the days of harvest), 16 the waters which were flowing down from above stood and rose up in one heap, a great distance away at Adam, the city that is beside Zarethan; and those which were flowing down toward the sea of the Arabah, the Salt Sea, were completely cut off. So the people crossed opposite Jericho. 17 And the priests who carried the ark of the covenant of the LORD stood firm on dry ground in the middle of the Jordan while all Israel crossed on dry ground, until all the nation had finished crossing the Jordan.

Memorial Stones from Jordan

4:1 Now when all the nation had finished crossing the Jordan, the LORD spoke to Joshua, saying, 2 "Take for yourselves twelve men from the people, one man from each tribe, 3 and command them, saying, 'Take up for yourselves twelve stones from here out of the middle of the Jordan, from the place where the priests' feet are standing firm, and carry them over with you and lay them down in the lodging place where you will lodge tonight.'" 4 So Joshua called the twelve men whom he had appointed from the sons of Israel, one man from each tribe; 5 and Joshua said to them, "Cross again to the ark of the LORD your God into the middle of the Jordan, and each of you take up a stone on his shoulder, according to the number of the tribes of the sons of Israel. 6 "Let this be a sign among you, so that when your children ask later, saying, 'What do these stones mean to you?' 7 then you shall say to them, 'Because the waters of the Jordan were cut off before the ark of the covenant of the LORD; when it crossed the Jordan, the waters of the Jordan were cut off.' So these stones shall become a memorial to the sons of Israel forever." NASU

So as we have seen, Satan's power of control was only partially removed in 1914-18, but at the start of the kingdom, he will be cast into the abyss for the 1000 years, which is when his control over the earth will be completely removed. The evil system was scorched by the truth regarding the salvation that Christ won on the cross, by the truth that was brought out at the time of the harvest, but the fallen church system did not admit that they were in error. As history shows, it was not time to completely destroy error at that earlier time, after the 40 year harvest. The reason for partial success at that time, was that there was more of the church that still needed to be tested yet on the question of what Christ had done for us on the cross. The fall of many in the nominal house came about because many of them refused to believe that they had been taught error by their church systems, and since they were still believing Satan's version of the error, that necessitated that they be replaced by ones that were willing to work for the coming kingdom and by those who wanted to know how God's Plan salvation was going to save all, if at all possible. Many of the replacements were of those who did not believe that a kind and loving God would condemn anyone to an everlasting torment of fire in hell, as was being taught in the traditional churches of Christendom.

The seventh bowl gives us a more complete picture of the destruction of Satan and his evil system than the other three of this set of the last four bowls, showing that even though these are seven last plagues, but there is more to the story as we will see, before the kingdom can fully start.

The Fire That Tests All Things Has Arrived

As Paul explained in Corinthians Chapter 3, the Day of Judgment, which is the seventh day, will test all things by fire. The sun or Gospel light, was going to test the work of that evil system, and burn up its error with symbolic fire. Only those who have built upon the true foundation of Christ, will survive the test of fire that this bowl of wrath brought.

This bowl did not complete the destruction of the false church's doctrines, like we see was prophesied to happen in 1 Cor Chapter 3, but it says that they were only scorched with great heat. That is true, in that as we saw above, those who heard and had the bright light of the harvest message shined on them, most did not give up their old false doctrines. They were made uncomfortable or scorched by the message of truth they heard, but it did not burn them up in the sense of removing their error.

The final removal of error, will be more full accomplished by bowl seven and the great hail, which are designed to counter Satan's lies. Any error that is left in the world after the time of trouble, will be overcome by the writing of God's laws on the hearts of mankind in the kingdom.

1 Cor 3:10-15 (10 By the grace God has given me, I laid a foundation as an expert builder, and someone else is building on it. But each one should be careful how he builds. 11 For no one can lay any foundation other than the one already laid, which is Jesus Christ. 12 If any man builds on this foundation using gold, silver, costly stones, wood, hay or straw, 13 his work will be shown for what it is, because the Day will bring it to light. It will be revealed with fire, and the fire will test the quality of each man's work. 14 If what he has built survives, he will receive his reward. 15 If it is burned up, he will suffer loss; he himself will be saved, but only as one escaping through the flames. NIV

The Light of the Sun is the True Gospel

The light from the sun that is being talked about here, is especially the truth and Gospel of light that has attacked the error of the ecclesiastical system on this end of the age. The Gospel light as seen in the harvest message, has also shined the extremely bright light of God's truth onto the errors of society, and they don't like their errors being exposed either.

As it says in this plague, they have blasphemed God by refusing to believe and accept the restored Gospel light that offers life to not only the church, but also to the rest of mankind. They would rather believe that God intends to throw everyone into a fiery pit of hell if they don't accept their false doctrines or go to their particular church. Their beliefs have put forth a ignorant and false view of a terrible judgmental God, who tortures people, and who supposedly agreed with and supported the evil church that had persecuted the saints during the 1260 years, and that idea is extremely blasphemous to God since he was not in support of the torture and murders that occurred during that time.

Harvest Truth is the Gospel & Divine Plan

Because the fallen church had lost the truth about what Christ had accomplished on the cross, a major work of the harvest time was to begin to restore the true and full Gospel light. The harvest truth has shined brighter and brighter as the message was broadcast to the fallen church and to the world. Those who saw and obeyed our Lord, and who came out of the apostasy during the harvest, will escape the punishment of the seven bowls of wrath, but those who refused to accept God's blessed truth and who remained in the fallen church's error, are being burned and scorched more and more by the fire of truth, as the predicted events have come true.

The truth is brightness and blessing to those who can see it and use it, but it burns those who are in opposition to it. Even though they have resisted the message of truth, bits and pieces of it have continued to confront them, and this will continue until their error is eventually overwhelmed. The truth will get brighter and brighter against them, until the darkness is overwhelmed.

Prov 4:18-19 (18 But the path of the righteous is like the light of dawn, That shines brighter and brighter until the full day. 19 The way of the wicked is like darkness; They do not know over what they stumble. NASU

They Are in Opposition to the Fire of the Altar

The fallen church system has also blasphemed God's restored truth, because it was painful to them and because the restored Gospel light disagrees with their long held traditions of men. One of the key doctrines that they are in opposition to is the doctrine of the ransom. The angel who has power over the fire of the altar is Christ, who tends the true altar in the heavens, and he had cast the fire of truth about the ransom into the earth at the beginning of the Gospel Age, as seen in the vision of the altar in Chapter 8. The doctrine of the ransom, as represented by those coals of fire off of the altar, tests all who come into contact with its truth, all through the age. Those who are in opposition to the fire of the ransom on the altar at any time during the Gospel Age, will find that the coals of fire representing that doctrine, will continue to burn and scorch them, even after 1914-18—eventually the truth of the ransom will overwhelm the error at the beginning of the kingdom. If they had repented and accepted the truth of what Christ did on the cross for all, they could have gotten a great blessing from the Gospel Age, but many of them will only get an earthly reward because of their refusal to believe the truth of what Christ accomplished on the cross.

Many did not repent and they did not want to give God glory, because they rejected the light of the truth that had become available, which was the same mistake that happened to the Jews at the beginning of the Gospel Age. The fallen Great Babylon system, does not want to admit that their erroneous doctrines came from Satan and men, and not God. So even though the bright light of the Gospel of the new day is shining on their error, they refuse to repent and give glory to God—preferring to blame God or others for their troubles that come upon them during the time of trouble that began in 1914, and which still continues yet today at the time of this writing.

We think that the light will continue to get brighter and brighter, until all the error is exposed in the evil system, and the people will want to leave it and to accept the refreshing truth the Lord will bring at the time of the kingdom. Right now, the people are still trying to believe in their traditional institutions, but worse and worse things keep getting exposed. The exposure has caused some to come out to the Lord, but the largest majority have not accepted the truth. Those who reject the truth, and instead keep their erroneous doctrines, will find in the end that the fire of truth has burned them up, and because of that they will not receive a spiritual reward. The removal of error in the kingdom is pictured by the seven years of cleansing of the land in Ezekiel chapter 39.

The full removal of the world's error will take the entire kingdom to accomplish, but those who are searching after truth, should now be able to separate truth from error, if they really are searching after the truth. If they want to know the truth, the Lord has promised that if they open the door to him, that he will sit down with them and give them a feast of wonderful truths.

Ezek 39:12-16 (12 "For seven months the house of Israel will be burying them in order to cleanse the land. 13 "Even all the people of the land will bury them; and it will be to their renown on the day that I glorify Myself," declares the Lord God. 14 "They will set apart men who will constantly pass through the land, burying those who were passing through, even those left on the surface of the ground, in order to cleanse it. At the end of seven months they will make a search. 15 "As those who pass through the land pass through and anyone sees a man's bone, then he will set up a marker by it until the buriers have buried it in the valley of Hamon-Gog. 16 "And even the name of the city will be Hamonah. So they will cleanse the land.'" NASU

Last of the Gospel & Truth Was Lost in Fourth Church

God is bringing the fourth bowl of wrath against the fallen system, because they had corrupted the last of the several symbolic elements of God's church during the fourth trumpet, and that corruption completed the downfall of the church, turning it fully into a 666 system,  $1-1/3 = .666$ , etc. The sun, the moon, the stars, and the day, were all corrupted in the fourth trumpet, with one-third taken away from all of those symbols, causing the system to become full of darkness, which makes it fitting that the light of the sun comes against that darkness in the fourth bowl of wrath.

The apostate church system, had changed all of God's faithful church into the error of 666 by the end of the fourth trumpet and church, it was then after that, that the 666 system of Revelation chapter 13 came into full church and state power. The sun that was corrupted in the fourth church, was the Gospel light that had been given to the church through Christ and the Apostles. The moon was the spirit of the law, which through its types and shadows supported the Gospel light. It also represents the New Law that was mentioned in Hebrews Chapter 7 in regard to our high priest Christ, and the New Covenant that he secured—they had completely lost sight of what that New Covenant was.

In the following calculations, some might object to using  $1-.333=.666$  as a decimal number, because it's said that they did not have decimal numbers back in that time, and so we will show that God has been using this same method all through the Old Testament, but without using it as a decimal. In the book of Zechariah, we find this: Zech 13:8-9 (8 "It will come about in all the land," Declares the LORD, "That two parts in it will be cut off and perish; But the third will be left in it. 9 "And I will bring the third part through the fire, Refine them as silver is refined, And test them as gold is tested. They will call on My name, And I will answer them; I will say, 'They are My people,' And they will say, 'The LORD is my God.'" NASU

In the Zechariah prophecy, we see that God is defining the two parts that are cut off as bad, and the one part that he takes out and refines in the fire, he is defining them as good. To prove that, we see that they are refined as gold and silver. So, when you see us use the decimal number one third or two thirds anywhere in this book, Zechariah Chapter 13:8-9 is the principle behind that calculation.

The faithful stars, that were shown being cast down in the fourth trumpet, were the faithful of the church that the evil system cast out and who were trampled by the beast, as seen in Daniel Chapter 8, and in Revelation Chapter 12.

The Sun

The sun, represents the Gospel light that Jesus had brought out at the First Advent. The harvest message that was delivered to the saints at the Second Advent, has restored and even increased the brightness of the Gospel light. As the events that the harvest message had predicted continue to be fulfilled, it gets brighter and clearer yet. For example, when the war broke out in 1914AD just as had been predicted, then the light on that part of the harvest message had become very bright.

The Gospel light has also gotten much brighter at the time of the seventh church, because we now have the history of the six previous churches to look back at. The light that we have now, is the message of the seventh church and the harvest time. It contains a message of blessing through the blood of the New Covenant, and it also contains a message of judgment for the fallen church system, because of all the evil things it has done through the entire Gospel Age. The light of all seven churches, now shines with a completed sevenfold brightness and power. The nation of Israel being restored, is also a prophecy being fulfilled before our eyes.

The following scriptures had a fulfillment at the First Advent, and they are now having a fulfillment again, on this end of the age—with the light getting seven time brighter at both the First and Second Advent.

Isa 30:25-27 (25 And there shall be upon every high mountain, and upon every high hill, rivers and streams of waters in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall.

*26 Moreover the light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun shall be sevenfold, as the light of seven days, in the day that the LORD bindeth up the breach of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wound.

27 Behold, the name of the LORD cometh from far, burning with his anger, and the burden thereof is heavy: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue as a devouring fire: (KJV)

The fire of Malachi burns up the sinners on both ends of the age, the First and Second Advents, which is when the sun rose with healing for the early church, and now it has arisen again, this time it will completely burn up the wicked leaving them neither root nor branch.

Mal 4:1-2 (1 For, behold, the day cometh, it burns as a furnace; and all the proud, and all that work wickedness, shall be stubble; and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith Jehovah of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch. 2 But unto you that fear my name shall the sun of righteousness arise with healing in its wings; and ye shall go forth, and gambol as calves of the stall. ASV

Truth Became Much Stronger at Harvest Time

Did the truth become stronger at the harvest time, to the point of where it began to scorch those in opposition to it? The ministers and churches of the time did not believe the message, and so most rejected it or fought against it, because it showed that they were not following Christ. In the reprints, we see that there were different times that Pastor had debated prominent ministers, and he had won the debates, at least as how we saw it at that time. We saw that those who lost those debates did not want to admit that loss to others or even to themselves. They rejected the clear teaching of scripture, for the traditions of men.

In agreement with that rejection of truth, this bowl of wrath says that they blasphemed God by refusing to believe the truth of what was shown to them. They preferred to believe that God was going to only save only a select few, and cast the rest of mankind into a burning hell. That is blaspheming God's name, because the exact opposite is true, in that God would have "all" to be saved, if at all possible. 1 Tim 2:3-4 (3 This is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Savior;

4 who would have all men to be saved, and come to the knowledge of the truth. ASV

The truth that was revealed in the harvest message, also showed that this evil system was the great falling away that had been predicted to come. It revealed the terrible history of the false churches, exposing the history of the millions that they tortured and killed. The restored Gospel message of the seventh church, showed that the doctrines that the apostate churches were preaching, were darkness that leads to spiritual death.

Warned About the Judgment

The harvest message, also published the warning that the evil system was being judged, and that it was going to be cast out into the outer darkness, and that it would then be destroyed in the time of trouble. The individuals that are a part of that system, are not what's going to be destroyed, but only the institutions that are keeping them trapped and in bondage and in ignorance about what God stands for.

Did the corrupt church acknowledge their errors and repent, when it became obvious that those who had preached the truth during the 40-year harvest were correct? History shows that most didn't acknowledge their errors, preferring to believe their false doctrines of hell fire, the Trinity, the mass, etc. They have also refused to admit that the time of trouble that broke out upon the church and state system in 1914, happened because of their doctrinal errors and the murder of the many of those who righteously opposed them throughout the Gospel Age.

Proof of Harvest Message Gets Stronger As Time Goes On

The proof of the harvest message has gotten stronger as time has gone on, especially with the restoration of natural Israel in 1948 AD, again showing that the predictions of that message are still coming to pass, but despite that, many have still refused to believe and have rejected the message of the Divine Plan. Some of those same churches, such as the Catholics, are fighting against Israel as a valid nation at the time of this writing, by trying to put Israel back into their pre-1967 borders or by being against Israel as a nation completely. They are going against God's Plans, by trying to give the Palestinians what they want, which is the destruction of the nation of Israel—there are some bible based churches that do admit that Israel's return is from God. Unfortunately most of them are believers in the Trinity and the doctrine of hell, which actually is leading the Jews back into a different darkness, which won't be lifted until the time of the millennial age.

Some churches are against the Jews because of prejudice against them—calling the Jews Jesus killers and so on. They can believe that false idea about the Jews, because they do not believe the scriptures that say that Israel will come back as a nation in the last days after their time of punishment has passed. They also don't see that Israel will play a central role in the kingdom of God and our Lord Jesus. Most are so lacking in prophetic knowledge, that they don't recognize that the kingdom of God is coming soon to the earth.

Restoration of Jerusalem Shows Time is Close For Kingdom

The second application of the 2300 days of Daniel, which is applied to literal Israel, had predicted that Jerusalem would be restored in 1967AD, and because of that some of the nations are actually going against God by trying to give Jerusalem back to the Arab's. The fulfillment of the 2300 days that applies to Israel, is counted from the time that Alexander the Great first attacked the Persian Empire in 334 BC, until Jerusalem was restored to Israel in 1967.

$(-333.25 + 2300 = 1966.75) - 333.25 = \text{Oct } 334 \text{ BC and } 1966.75 = \text{Oct } 1967\text{AD.}$

The people of Christendom, don't want to admit that the false teachings that they are following are wrong. They will have to admit that they are wrong before they can enter the salvation of the New Jerusalem, and hopefully by that time most will be humbled enough that they will accept that they have been wrong. Zechariah Chapter 14 shows that some will refuse, and it says that there will be no rain or blessing upon them until they do accept that they have to come to Jerusalem, if not literally, at least symbolically by accepting the kingdom in order to get salvation.

That is why in Isaiah Chapter 60 and in Revelation Chapter 21, we see the kings of the earth being forced by the people to come into the kingdom.

Isa 60:10-12 (10 "Foreigners will rebuild your walls, and their kings will serve you. Though in anger I struck you, in favor I will show you compassion. 11 Your gates will always stand open, they will never be shut, day or night, so that men may bring you the wealth of the nations — their kings led in triumphal procession. 12 For the nation or kingdom that will not serve you will perish; it will be utterly ruined. NIV

Some comments on this bowl in the early reprints explain the effects of it very well regarding what is happening currently.

Reprint # 499

"This increase of light is to affect all classes, as is indicated by its not being limited to a certain class as are the other plagues are limited; to "sea," "land," "rivers," etc. It comes upon men--mankind in general and upon representative leaders of men, in particular. It is the increase of light--knowledge-- which is causing independence of thought and action among all classes of society. It causes differences between kings and subjects, between capital and labor, between clergy and laity; the increasing light is doing it all. It is Gospel light too; for no matter how Infidels may scoff at the Bible and affect to have superior liberty to that which it teaches, it nevertheless remains a fact, that the grandest liberty is that where Christ makes free; and the essence of Gospel light is in the Master's words, "Ye shall know the TRUTH and the truth shall make you free." It is truth that is spreading--truth on every subject: truth relative to the rights and authority of kings; truth relative to the rights both of capital and labor; truth relative to the claimed superiority and lordship of a self-elevated class termed the clergy. The conflict is between truth and superstition --light and darkness; it will be a severe struggle, but TRUTH is mighty and shall prevail; debasing the proud and exalting the humble. Those whose deeds are evil--who are in the wrong, --hate the light, is the Master's testimony. It would curtail their power and lower their position to elevate all others to equality. These are scorched or troubled by the increase of light, and none more so than religious lords, for it is the increase of light which doubtless helps to turn the waters of their cherished channels into blood--corruption --making their doctrines and creeds, which emanated from fountains of

History of Decline by Fourth Church Brings Time trouble

The history of this system, and the evil that they did in God’s name during the dark ages of the 1260 years, has been revealed by the brighter light of the coming new day. When WW1 started, each side in that conflict was told that God was for them, and that he would give them victory. When the war resulted in great destruction for all sides, instead of rightly seeing that it was man’s ideas and false religion that caused all the evil, they then blamed God saying that he should not have allowed that terrible time of trouble to begin. They then claimed that God had caused the war and destruction, but they ignored the fact that the errors of the kings and their religious leaders had caused it.

In the fourth seal, we saw that the horse had gotten sickly green, and that anyone who was following that doctrinal horse, was heading for spiritual death. All of the error of doctrine that was in the previous three churches, had by the time of the fourth church accumulated into an evil and oppressive church, that had no real salvation, but only darkness in it. That is why the fifth trumpet shows us the gross darkness and error of that system at the opening of the abyss.

The message to the fourth church is just as bad, because we see that the symbolic Jezebel, which is Papacy had taken over, and was feeding the church things that had been sacrificed to idols, and was teaching them to commit fornication with the kings. The fornication with the kings was the union of church and state that the Papal system was involved in by the time of the fourth church, and the Protestant daughter systems were also later on guilty of the same thing. Because of those early gross errors, spiritual darkness had come upon the entire church.

Exposing the Error of the World

Besides the light exposing the error of the churches, we see that the other errors in society are also being exposed now, although they will not be fully exposed until during the kingdom. For example, the people see the rich getting more control of the governments again, so that they can get the rules changed so that they get all the benefits, while the working people and poor are getting less and less. As the light of day exposes that kind of thing even more, the whirlwind of change will soon overtake those who are hoarding all the wealth, and they will be overthrown, just like what happened in the French Revolution, which is a prophetic picture of what is going to happen at the end of this evil system, See James Chapter 5.

Sun Will Expose the Error & Evil of Entire System

We see that the sun in this bowl, is bringing light to bear upon all the evil things that society has been doing wrong. Because of the bright light exposing sin and error, those who are doing things wrong in society now have a hard time keeping it from becoming public. The news media is constantly looking for politicians, church leaders, or rich executives or others who are cheating on their wives, or doing other things wrong. They also look for those who are cheating their employees or the public. The way things have been going lately, they haven't had to look too hard to find those kinds of things.

As we get closer to the kingdom, we expect to see even more corruption exposed as the light gets brighter. For example, we see the Catholic Church's arrogance coming back to haunt them. They thought that they were above the law, but the child molestation problem has come back to haunt them. As widespread as these problems are seen to be, it makes us wonder how long this has been going on. We see that the previous Pope was personally involved in protecting the priests and covering up the crimes, and every attempt to sweep the problem under the rug was and is making it worse.

There's even a question regarding if the previous Pope was involved in the problem, in other words, did he commit child abuse himself? It's known for sure that he was involved in hiding the ones that had been involved. While we don't know the reason, he has resigned in favor of a new Pope, who is trying to moderate and reform everything so that the people will come back to the Catholic Church. Is this Jezebel prettying herself up again? Perhaps this is the last Pope, and the eunuchs will symbolically throw Jezebel out the window. We pray that is what will happen, because then we will know that we are in the final hours of the age.

The same thing has happened to many rich and powerful people, in that it has been revealed that they have been molesting women, by forcing or drugging them. There is also a very serious problem with the forcing of a sex trade with children and even adults. We pray that the kingdom comes soon and puts an end to these evil things.

Three and Four?

Before we look at bowl five, we need to consider again about how the three woes and the seven bowls of wrath fit together with God's plan of the destruction of great Babylon. See the diagram in the explanation of 16:1, where we looked at this idea in detail.

When we did our study on the bowls of wrath, we considered the possibility that they were divided up into four bowls and then three bowls, because that was the same pattern that we saw in the trumpets, with the last three trumpets being called woe trumpets. The woe trumpets were different, in that they weren't showing us things getting doctrinally worse as the first four trumpets were, they showed us that the Lord had begun to punish and weaken the evil system, starting in the first woe trumpet of the fifth church.

At the same time, contrary to that way of looking at it, it has been pointed out that the first three bowls of wrath were poured "into" the symbols that they were striking, and the last four bowls are poured "upon" the symbols that they were striking. That suggests a three four pattern versus a four three pattern. To show that there is an actual division because of "into" and "onto", we find that the angel of the water in the third bowl, is saying that the fallen system had been punished by the events that had just transpired in the first three bowls, as had been promised earlier in Revelation in the fifth seal. That gives the first three bowls an important role in the judgement and punishment of the fallen church and state system, because after those three bowls, the angel says that the punishment had been carried out.

The last four bowls of wrath are where we find that the symbols being struck in each of those bowls, are not shown being fully destroyed in the description given in chapter 16. Contrary to that, we noticed that the first three bowls punishment and destruction are shown as being fully completed in chapter 16. The punishment and destruction of the last four bowls of wrath, are not shown being completed until the events of chapters 18 and 19. That suggest that the first three bowls were fully carried out against the fallen church state system in 1914-18, in order to keep the promise to the saints under the altar. They were to be struck by the pouring out of the last four bowls at the time of 1914-18, but they were not scheduled to be full removed until just before the kingdom, as is shown in Rev chapters 18 and 19.

Four and Three?

One of the possibilities that implies that there could also be a four three pattern, is that we see that same pattern described in the ten plagues of Egypt. When seven of the plagues had been poured out on Egypt, Pharaoh's advisers told him that the entire nation had been destroyed already, which is parallel to three woes plus four bowls on this end of the age. Satan did not listen to the advisers, and for that reason there were three more plagues, which then totally removed him and his kingdom.

The only difference that we can see which would create a four three pattern, is in what is being struck in each bowl. The last three symbols match the three evil creatures that are uttering unclean spirits like frogs. The fourth bowl of wrath is the light of the sun, which does not match up with those evil creatures. The fifth bowl is on the throne of the beast. The sixth bowl is on the water of the Euphrates, and the seventh bowl is on the spiritual control of the air by Satan. Those last three bowls of wrath are attacking the three beings in the parentheses, that utter the three unclean spirits.

Ex 10:7 Pharaoh's servants said to him, "How long will this man be a snare to us? Let the men go, that they may serve the LORD their God. Do you not realize that Egypt is destroyed?" NASU

Pharaoh still did not let the Israelites go after the seven plagues had destroyed the nation, and because of that there was three more plagues, locusts, darkness, and the death of the first born in the tenth plague. Just as in that picture, Satan again is not letting the people go free after the 1914-18 destruction of his system.

It's going to take the full and utter destruction of the last three bowls of wrath on Satan's system, to bring about the release of the people of the world, so that they can enter into the kingdom. After the seven plagues of the Gospel Age had completed their work in 1914-18, everything was destroyed of Satan's church and state system. But he still had his worldwide control over everything in the earth, and that is still keeping the people in bondage to his evil system. The last three plagues are going to destroy that system and his control over the earth, and that will free the people so that they can cross over the Euphrates dry shod, and go and worship Jehovah in the kingdom.

In the previous section we had looked at the 3-4 division, where it shows us that the first three bowls were the ones that punished the evil system for what they had done to the saints, as seen in the fifth seal. In the remaining last four bowls, all of them go further than what is shown to us in their description in chapter 16, although bowl seven gives an outline of quite a lot of what is going to happen—but without a lot of detail.

When we considered the need for a further work of destruction of the last three or four bowls, we at first did not consider an important proof that does prove that there is a double application of destruction on the end of the age. There is a double chronology application regarding the 1260, 1290, 1335 year parallels. We showed that double application table in chapter 10, and we pointed out that the second application of that chronology follows behind the Second Volume chronology by 118.5 years. That double chronology system, seems to prove and show that there will be a double strike against the fallen and evil Satanic system. The first blow was more against the fallen Christian church and state system, of Great Babylon. The second blow, seems to deal more with Islam, and their final attack against Israel and in that second blow we are shown the final defeat of the nations that come against Israel at that time—there is an 118.5 year time period that separates the two 1845 year parallels. Control Double click

A Double Table

The last of the full defeat of the remnants of that system, which is brought about by the work of the last three bowls, is also shown in Chapters 18 and 19. Then in Chapter 20, we see Satan himself captured and cast into the abyss, and locked up until the end of the one thousand years.

Bowl 5 Summery

In bowl five, we have the kings and those who were supporting the church and state system removed by the end of WW1, especially those who were forcefully ruling over the people like the Nicolaitans. Because of the end of the 2520 years, we see that there was an immediate effect upon the kings that had ruled over the nations—with the kings being removed completely by the end of the war. As we look at history after that time, we see that even though the kings of the terrible beast are gone, the civil power of the terrible beast has evolved into different types of governments, most of which are still evil or bad. The continuance of the other beasts for a set but unrevealed time, is predicted in the Daniel 7 reference below.

Since all those remaining governments will most likely resist the coming kingdom because of their beastly nature, they will also need to be removed or changed. For that reason, we see that the work of the fifth bowl does not stop or was not fully completed by the end of WW1, but it did darken the throne of the beast by the end of 1914-18, because all of the kings associated with the terrible beast were destroyed in WW1. We will see the full removal of civil power of the remaining beasts shown in the seventh bowl, where we see the mountains gone, and the islands fleeing away. We will also see further important work being shown in the seventh bowl, like wearing away at what is left of the colonial Empires, and other evil systems like the Soviet Union.

That later and second removal of civil power, is what Daniel is showing us, in that we see the terrible beast destroyed first, but then we see that the life of the other remaining beasts are prolonged for a an unknown set time. Their beastly nature will have to be removed in time for the kingdom, and that will be finished by the end of the seventh bowl, as seen in the further description of chapters 18 and 19. Dan 7:11-12 (11 "Then I kept looking because of the sound of the boastful words which the horn was speaking; I kept looking until the beast was slain, and its body was destroyed and given to the burning fire. 12 "As for the rest of the beasts, their dominion was taken away, but an extension of life was granted to them for an appointed period of time. NASU

Bowl 6 Summery

Regarding the sixth bowl, we see that the people were partially freed from the power of the system with the drying up of the people's support for the Old-World order by the end of the 1914-18, but they are still supporting the governments and churches that are the remnants of that system at this time. All of the earthly type Pagan religions, will also need to be removed at the start of the kingdom, and so there is more to do regarding drying up the waters of the Euphrates. The waters of support must be completely dried up, so that the people are freed and are able to get up on the highway of holiness. We will see that helped by the full destruction of error shown in bowl seven, which will come from the fall of the hail, which is about the weight of a talent.

Bowl 7 Summary

Regarding the seventh bowl of wrath, we see that even though Satan lost a great deal of the control that he had over the world when the Old-World order was still in control, he has re-established some of that control within the remnants of that system. So, because of that, there will need to be more done regarding completely removing Satan and his system. Eventually, we see that he will be entirely removed from any control that he had over the people, and fully bound in time for the Millennial age—Rev 20:1-3.

In the seventh bowl, we will see the work that was started in bowls 5 and 6 finished, as well as many other elements of the evil system removed step by step—in other words we can say that the latter parts of bowl seven finishes off anything that was left after bowls 5 and 6 did their initial work. We will see the civil power of the mountains being completely removed, and Great Babylon and the Great City will be struck with a final and mighty blow, which will break the control and power of the Euphrates of support for Satan's system, which he uses to keep control of the people. Most importantly, we will see the spiritual power of the air being struck. The control of the power of the air which is controlled by Satan, is directly struck by the seventh bowl being poured on the air, and that strike against the power of the air is what eventually leads to his binding in chapter 20.

Symbols in 3 Last Bowls Related to the Uttering of 3 Un-Clean Spirits

Another important observation that we briefly mentioned earlier, is that the symbols that are struck by the last three bowls, are directly related to the three characters we see croaking like frogs in the parenthesis of bowl six; the beast, the False Prophet, and the dragon.

(1) The beast is the remnants of the civil power that we just discussed. The Roman beast was removed in the 1914-18 destruction, but there were many other beastly governments still being controlled by Satan that need to be removed.

(2) The control of society, and the belief of society in that system, is symbolized by the river Euphrates, which we see is being dried up by the sixth bowl of wrath. The False Prophet is the entire Christian religious system, that descended from the two-horned beast, which was just the Papal church when it had first gotten civil power, and it used that power to give the arguments as to why they needed to create the image. When Papacy broke up into many different churches, those fragments are still all together called the false prophet, because they all contain the same basic errors of the mother system, even though they differ over other minor doctrines or traditions. When Papacy lost its civil power, it still remained a part of the false prophet—false because it was still uttering lies about the true salvation of Christ, which were not the truth.

(3) Satan is the Dragon, who is controlling the spiritual realms and powers, and he is behind all the beastly governments and false religion, which are especially of Pagan origin—all of which still need to be completely defeated in time for the kingdom. The Dragon symbol still represents Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, and that was still true even after he had transferred his Pagan throne to the Christianized beast in 313 AD. The three lying unclean spirits which brought the evil system into existence and which at the end of the age brings the kings to the final battle of Armageddon, is another reason that the three last bowls continue their work up through the time that the church is completed.

The last three bowls and the events of the next few chapter, together are designed to completely overcome Satan's deception, and the remaining power that is symbolized in the croaking of the three unclean spirits. In that final battle, Christ head and body will defeat the final remnants of Satan's system, as represented by the beast and the False Prophet in chapter 19, and in Chapter 20 we will even see Satan himself bound and cast into the abyss where is to be locked up for 1000 years. The light of the sun from bowl four, will also be brought back into the destruction of the system, because in chapter 19 we will see the angel standing in the sun, calling out to the birds that fly in mid-heaven to come to the destruction of the evil system. The birds symbolize anarchists, and others who think that they have a better way than the fallen system does, but only the Lord will have the correct answers needed to bring prosperity and peace to the kingdom. But the birds of heaven will bring trouble upon what is left of the fallen system.

In summary, we see that the first three bowls of wrath are designed specifically to destroy the church and state system, and the Old-World order that existed at the time of WW1. They also accomplish the spewing out of those who refused to admit that they were in error and who wouldn't accept the truth from the Lord Jesus, as was brought forth by the fourth bowl of wrath. Rev 3:16-17(16 'So because you are lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will spit you out of My mouth. 17 'Because you say, "I am rich, and have become wealthy, and have need of nothing," and you do not know that you are wretched and miserable and poor and blind and naked, NASU

The Parentheses of the Sixth Seal Brought the Starting of Armageddon in 1914

The parentheses found in the sixth seal, which shows us the three unclean spirits, backs us up in time and is showing us how the three lies from the unclean spirits first brought that corrupt church and state system into existence, starting in 313 AD and then progressing worse and worse, growing in power as time went on. When we arrived at the end of the age in 1799-1874, the error of greed for wealth, the evil lust for civil power of the people and the false doctrines of the Pagan religions, are what gathered the kings of the nations to WW1 in 1914. That war was the early beginning of the battle of Armageddon. Satan did not give up trying to restore his evil system even after WW1, and the three lies have continued onward after WW1 and they are still deceiving the nations—that is causing the time of trouble to continue, and the tree lies are what is leading the world to the final and the worse part of the battle of Armageddon. The three lies will result in the battle of Armageddon coming to a final climax, which will finish off the remnants of the evil system in time for the kingdom.

Many brethren don't believe that the battle of Armageddon began in 1914, but we believe that it did in a limited sense, which Bro Russell even called a prelude to the final trouble. In R5735, Bro. Russell mentioned that the prelude to the battle of Armageddon had already begun when he was referring to the time of trouble that began in 1914. The final and severe climax that will occur at the final end, is what most brethren are waiting for when they are talking about the battle of Armageddon, but it's important to recognize that the battle of the Great Day is not necessarily a single event, so we can get a clearer understanding of prophecy. Chapter 3 of Joel is a prophetic picture of that same battle. When all the prophesied trouble and punishment described in that Chapter is completed, then the kingdom will have arrived. In Jeremiah chapter 30, our Lord describes the time of trouble as being like travail upon a woman, and that is what we have had since 1914 AD.

Jer 30:6-7 (6 Ask ye now, and see whether a man doth travail with child? wherefore do I see every man with his hands on his loins, as a woman in travail, and all faces are turned into paleness? 7 Alas! for that day is great, so that none is like it: it is even the time of Jacob's trouble; but he shall be saved out of it. KJV

Jer 50:43 The king of Babylon hath heard the report of them, and his hands waxed feeble: anguish took hold of him, and pangs as of a woman in travail. KJV

Bowls 5-7 Counter the Lies of Three UN-Clean Spirits

So as a summery, what we see is that bowls 5-7, are designed to expose and to overcome the error of the three unclean spirits that had originally caused the evil system to come into existence, and we know that Satan will not give up easily, and so he continually tries to overcome the truth that has been raised against the three lies, and as we will see, the truth against the three lies is contained in the last three bowls of wrath.

What the last three bowls of wrath are designed to accomplish, will be what we will discuss in the next section. We will also look at the three unclean spirits, and what the three lies most likely are that the tree evil characters are uttering. Like all things that are at least partially future yet, it is difficult to know fully what is exactly meant by the wording of the prophecy. We will endeavor to give what seems reasonable to us by the history that has already passed and what we think has to happen yet, but we caution that we all need to constantly watch and study to see what is going to occur, and to adjust our viewpoint accordingly as events change and the scriptural interpretation is seen more clearly.

We believe that the three unclean spirits that bring the kings to the final battle at the end of the age, are directly related to the same three lies or temptations that Satan brought before our Lord while he was in the desert for the 40 days of the three wilderness temptations. Our Lord passed that testing, but later on the fallen church system fell for the same three lies or temptations, and that falling away of the church is why the testing and tribulation of the 1260 years of the great wilderness tribulation came upon the faithful church. Once we see what those three lies are as we study this, we will recognize that Satan is still busy trying to promote the same evil lies that is contained in them, and that he has especially been pushing those lies again after 1918, because he wants to restore his lost power and control. We believe that the last three bowls of wrath are designed to defeat the three lies and to help usher in the kingdom.

The last three bowls of wrath do not show us the full details of the complete destruction of the symbols that are represented in the three last bowls. They show the symbols being struck and damaged, but the full details of the destruction of those symbols is not clearly or fully shown in the description of the last four bowls of wrath. We know that the last four bowls of wrath will cause the full destruction of the symbols that are contained in them by the time of the kingdom, and so we will show in the table below where the complete destruction is shown being accomplished in the later verses of Revelation. Don't forget that there are seven different pictures of the destruction of Great Babylon, which looked at together, finishes of that evil system.

What Was Struck by Bowl	Where the Symbol is Finally Destroyed

Bowl 5 on Throne of Beast Revelation 16:10-11

Rev 16:10 Then the fifth {angel} poured out his bowl on the throne of the beast, and his kingdom became darkened; and they gnawed their tongues because of pain,
Rev 16:11 and they blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores; and they did not repent of their deeds. (NAU)

Rev 9:1 Then the fifth angel sounded, and I saw a star from heaven which had fallen to the earth; and the key of the bottomless pit was given to him. 2 He opened the bottomless pit, and smoke went up out of the pit, like the smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened by the smoke of the pit. NASU

Dan 3:17-18 (17 "If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the furnace of blazing fire; and He will deliver us out of your hand, O king. 18 "But even if He does not, let it be known to you, O king, that we are not going to serve your gods or worship the golden image that you have set up." NASU

It's obvious that the blazing furnace that the three Hebrews were rescued from, is a picture of the terrible persecution that was going to come upon the church during the 1260 years, and that punishment came about because of their refusal to worship the Abomination of desolation, which symbolized the terrible idol worship that most of Christianity had fallen into during the entire 1260 years of the dark ages.

Crowning of a Western Emperor in 799 Began Final Rise of Papacy to Power

The original Roman beast still existed in the East in 539 AD, as we saw described in Rev 13:2—but the Western Empire was still shattered into pieces at that time. The two horned beast came into existence when Papacy was given a civil power horn in 756 AD, which was added to his ecclesiastical horn which he had gotten in 539 AD, when Justinian gave him religious control over both halves of the Empire. He actually acquired some civil land at that time, because he gained control over the City of Rome and its surrounding area. But that only gave him limited civil power, and so that is probably not when he acquired his second horn. The acquiring of the Papal States definitely did give him the second horn in 756, when Pepin gave him some of the re-captured land that he had gotten. Pepin owed his throne to Papacy, because Papacy had intervened in a power struggle in favor of Pepin acquiring the throne, and so the land seems to have been a payoff for that help.

The start of the acquisition of the power of the throne of the beast began when Constantine partnered with Christianity, but the church did not have much use of the civil power early on. In 539 Papacy acquired a larger share of the power of the throne of the beast at that time, when Justinian gave him the use of the civil power of Rome to force settlements of Doctrine on both halves of the Empire. Papacy did not outright fully control the power of Rome in all matters of the Empire yet at that time, he only controlled the ecclesiastical matters.

The Western Empire had come back together in a loose configuration of nations that said they belonged to Rome after 539, but they only re-joined Rome because of the protection that gave them from their enemies. The throne of Roman control in the city of Rome had been lost in the West at the fall of the Roman Empire in 476 AD, and in 539 AD Papacy got control of the Roman throne of the beast in the Western Empire when the Arians lost to the Roman army and were forced out of the city.

Later when the Pope crowned Charlemagne as the new Emperor in the West in 799 AD, where there had not been an Emperor since the fall of Rome in 476 AD, Papacy did not actually have the legal right to do that, but the Eastern Empire saw it happen and they did not oppose it. That new Empire in the West is what created the image of the beast, because when Papacy created a new Empire in the West, but it was not a Roman Empire because the new Empire was made up from German tribes. For that reason it only “looked like” a newly recreated Roman Empire, but it was not because it only looked like a re-creation of the old Western Roman Empire—it was an image of the Old Empire.

After 799, Papacy began to earnestly work to acquire control over the civil power, but it took quite some time before he actually gained full control—that happened about 1179 when the kings admitted that he had the right to crown the Emperor and other offices in the Empire. The battle after that time, went back and forth for a short time, but it was soon settled in Papacy's favor. That led to even greater darkness in the evil system, because that event gave Papacy unchecked power over both the civil power and the Ecclesiastical church, even though the agreement was supposed to limit Papacy to only Ecclesiastical decisions—that part of the agreement did not last and he soon took full control, riding the beast.

Two Parts to the Blow Against Throne of Beast

We believe that there is going to be two blows of destruction on the throne of the beast, the first was on the kings of the church and state system of Christendom in 1914, and that is what chapter 16 shows us. The second blow will be on the civil power of Satan's worldwide system of governments, and it is designed to completely remove the remaining civil power if the governments do not submit to the kingdom. That final closing event is not completely shown by the fifth or even the seventh trumpet, but it is shown in chapter 19 where the remaining kings and their followers are captured and defeated.

In the first blow on the throne of the beast, it says that the throne was only darkened, but when the seventh bowl and chapter 19 have completed their work of destruction, the evil system will go completely down to full defeat, which finishes everything opposed to the kingdom off. That same thing is true of the drying up of the waters of the Euphrates, in that the final defeat of the error of that system will also be shown in the seventh bowl with the hail, which contains a more detailed description and appears to go further down the stream of time. The capture of the false prophet in chapter 19, also shows the removal of the remaining religious error.

First Blow Was in 1914 on Kings

We are going to first start the explanation with the punishment that came upon the church and state system in 1914. The smoke of darkness and trouble that the evil system had brought upon the faithful at the time of the fifth church, was being punished in this bowl by the darkening of their throne of civil power. This bowl darkened the prospects of the evil system, by taking away the power and thrones of the kings of both the East and the Western Empires. The kings had supplied the civil power that had allowed the fallen church to bring evil and darkness and great persecution upon God's church.

Historical records show that the church and state system, using the civil power of the throne, had caused the worst time of persecution and trouble that had ever come upon the earth, which is what Daniel chapter 12 had predicted would happen. By the time of the fifth church period, which was just after 1179, Papacy was directly influencing and fully controlling the civil power that was represented in the throne of the Western beast, and that power was being used to support the inquisition—which was torturing and killing the saints in large numbers at that time, as seen in the fifth seal. That was only a few years after the Investiture Controversy was settled, which in reality soon gave Papacy full power over the kings, even though it wasn't supposed to do that.

The power of the throne of the beast of the original Roman Empire that still existed in the East, was not as violent as the one in the West, but it was not authorized by God either, and Revelation defines the entire church and state relationship as harlotry.

Christendom Lost its Kingdoms

Papacies and the Protestants church and state systems, were darkened when they lost the support of the kings after WW1, because without the civil power supporting them, they could not as easily persecute and kill those who opposed them and their doctrines. The loss of the civil power of the kings, also exposed as a lie the idea that they had established Christ's kingdom on earth. Without the kings, they were not Christendom anymore, and it was seen that there really was not any such thing as the Divine Right of Kings, as had been claimed during the 1260 years. That is why the Catholic Church made a concordant with Hitler just before WW2, in that the Pope was hoping that they could re-gain control or influence over the civil power again, thus re-establishing a church and state system. That did not work out, because Hitler was defeated.

The lie which claimed that the evil church and state system was Christ's kingdom, had been used to justify the murders that they were being committing in Christ's name. The loss of the kings, also exposed the lie that was being used during the 1260 years, when they were claiming territory in the name of Christ all over the new world. Not only was that error exposed, but the result was that they no longer had the means to take control of territory using the force of the civil power like they could earlier.

Idea of Divine Right of Kings Exposed as Wrong

The idea that there was a Divine right of Kings had been used to justify their power and control over others, and the many murders committed by that system. The kings were removed from their thrones on this end of the age, and that showed us that God didn't authorize the Divine right of Kings—God had not given them that right or allowed the church state power to reign over the nations, but they had taken it upon themselves. It would not have been so bad if they had ruled wisely and for the benefit of the people, but they had not. God set a limit of 2520 years on their evil reign of power, which ran out in 1914.

Unfortunately, even though that part of the civil power of the evil system had fallen after WW1, this bowl has more work to do, because we see that the civil power needs to be further ground down into smaller pieces as described in Daniel, and then blown away in time for the kingdom. The description in the fifth bowl does not say that, but we know that the civil power of the remaining beasts that still exist, have to be removed or converted to an acceptance of the kingdom. We will see more removing of civil power happen in bowl seven, and in chapter 19.

Satan Switched His Throne From Pagan to Christian Rome, 313-381

The throne of Satan at the time of the early church, existed in the dragon of the Roman Empire, when it was still a Pagan Empire. Once Christianity became popular, Satan changed tactics, and he then began to Christianize the Roman Empire. That was when the scriptures tell us that the dragon gave his throne of power to the Christianized beast. The dragon picture changed to the beast picture in Chapter 13, when the church joined with the Roman Empire. The civil power of Pagan Rome was transferred to the support of the Christianized beast in 313AD, when Constantine recognized Christianity as the religion of the Empire, which was when Paganism had lost control of the Empire. The symbol of the dragon being in power, for sure changed to the beast symbol by 381, because the Empire had become fully Christianized by the decree that all religion had to switch to the so called Orthodox Christianity, which was a Paganized form of Christianity.

The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast. From 313-381, the merger of Rome and Paganism with Christianity, changed the head on the Roman beast from number six, which was at the time of John, to number seven which was the Apostate Paganized Christian head. In the beginning of chapter 13, we are shown the collapsed Roman Empire coming back up out of the sea in 539, with Satan waiting for it to emerge, so he could help it regain civil power, intending to take control of it the civil power again.

Satan is Core Dragon symbol Empires are Heads & Horns on it

The church was not supposed to become involved with an earthly power, and when they did become involved, that is why the symbol changed from Satan's Pagan dragon, to a Christianized Roman beast. That it was still showing us the same central control of Satan in the Christianized beast as what it had in the Paganized beast, is proven by it having the same seven heads and ten horns which had appeared on the Pagan beast. They had moved to the Christianized beast, because Satan gave his throne of power to it. Satan is the being behind all of the earthly Empires that Daniel saw, that were going to rule over the earth for 2520 years.

Satan is represented in the central symbol of the dragon, and the civil power and the different histories in the Empires that he controlled, are represented in the seven heads and the ten horns, which he transferred to the Christian beast from 313-381. Note that Satan himself is still seen as a dragon after that time, as is seen in the beginning of Revelation 13, but he is seen only as the core symbol of the dragon, without heads and horns of civil power—they were on the newly created beast. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his civil power throne to the Christianized beast. We see that the horns and heads were on the Christianized Pagan beast that came up out of the sea at the beginning of chapter 13. The transfer of the throne to the newly Christianized beast, is symbolized by the ten horns and the seven heads being placed on the seventh beast.

Rev 13:2 And the beast which I saw was like a leopard, and his feet were like those of a bear, and his mouth like the mouth of a lion. And the dragon gave him his power and his throne and great authority. NASU

Beasts Still Exist in Broken up Power of Rome

The symbol beast still exists at this time, because the civil power we have today is descended from the original symbols of the Pagan dragon and the Christianized beast. The beasts of today represent the combined civil, social, financial, and religious power of the systems that Satan is still using to control the people of today. The throne of the beast is the civil or governmental part of that combination, and because of that definition we see that the darkened symbol of the throne of the beast still exists on this end of the age, but all of the kings who had sat on the thrones of the Empire were destroyed in WW1. All the earthly governments we have today are symbolized as earthly beasts, because of their bad destructive nature, but they only have an unknown amount of time left to them—they have been granted a further extension of time, as Daniel 7:12 predicted.

The only thing that is different now, is that the forms of government have changed after the original kings lost their crowns in WW1. The new governments do not support the church systems to any great extent anymore, and that is what Papacy and the Protestant churches would like to change, and that is one reason that Satan's three lies are still being propagated—the churches would like to re-gain control. The different beasts and the “Image” of the beast, dissolved into being several different civil beasts after WW1. Papacy and the Protestant churches lost the power and support of the 10 kings in WW1, and so they are not church and state systems anymore. The Image of the Beast which had been a theocracy, turned back into a pure civil power beast, or perhaps more accurately into several multiple beasts after 1799, and even more so after WW1, which are the beasts that Daniel mentioned above that will exist for a set time—which is an unknown period of time.

Throne of Beast Represent Both Halves of Empire

The throne of the beast in its entirety just before WW1, was all of the civil power or kings of the original Roman Empire that were in league with the Christian church and even the religion of Islam which had control in the East, and for that reason it included both halves of the Empire. At the time of WW1, the Western part also included the Protestant part of the Empire that had split away from Papacy, and the East had the Eastern Orthodox, and the nations of Islam. They are all included in this prophecy, because they descended from the original beast and the Image of the Beast, and they each had a part of the original throne of the beast under their control. Each Empire controlled or influenced the kings in their respective church and state governments—even Islam is a false prophet. When the kings were removed in WW1, that was when all of the fallen churches boastful words that they had uttered during the height of their power were silenced, and the throne of their kingdoms were darkened as it tells us in the fifth bowl.

Great Babylon Literally Fell After WW1

If we define Great Babylon as being all the Christian religions and both civil power halves of the Empire, then we see that after WW1, Great Babylon was no longer sitting as a queen, but was reduced to sitting in the dust weeping and longing for what she had, as we will see described in Chapter 18. The evil system was no longer able to dictate to others of the world or to easily torment or persecute those who opposed them after 1918AD.

When there had been only one church, which was the Papal system, it was called the Great City, but when the system split into separate churches, the entire system together was called Babylon the Great, which still included the Great City of Papacy. In other words, the relationship between the Great City and Great Babylon, seems to be that the Great City started out with the Papal system, and that is the core meaning of the Great City. Great Babylon contains the Great City of Papacy, but it also contains all of the Daughter Systems that have sprang off from her, propagating the same false doctrines. Great Babylon is like ancient Babylon, in that it was made up of the many countries it had conquered, yet it contained a central city called Babylon—which is the Great City of Papacy in Christendom.

Gnawed Their Tongues

Because of the darkness that had fallen on what had been their church and state system after WW1, the churches gnawed their tongues and could not brag anymore about their greatness and power. They were in great pain because of the loss of the civil power and because of the previous bragging that they had done. They now had to be silent about their outrages and false claims. For example, their claim that their religious system wouldn't ever see widowhood, had turned out to not be correct. The pains and sore "ulcers" of the Old-World Order that we saw in bowl one, now has the darkness of the smitten thrones of the kings added to them, and so they cursed God because of the pain that this loss of power had caused them. Bowl one had caused sores and ulcers to appear on those who were supporting the Old-World order. The sores and pains that they were seen with in bowl one, are now being added to by bowl five—since the symbol of the earth also contained the throne of the beast as one element or part of the society that the earth represented.

In other words in bowl one, the worshippers of the Old World order received plague boils because of they should not have supported that corrupt system, and now in bowl five, the support of the throne of the beast that Papacy and the other churches had used in their church and state systems, was also gone. The earthly society was the civil power, financial, ecclesiastical and social parts of the earth—the civil power came from the kings of the throne of the beast. When the thrones of the kings fell in 1914-18, the fallen churches lost a great deal of their ability to force the people to their will.

Without the political support of the kings, the church and state systems and the Image that had existed for over a thousand years, had little hope of regaining their former power. The religious part of the Empire still exists, and it still tries to worm its way back into politics, but most of the new forms of government don't want to go back to the Old-World order of that evil church and state system. The thrones of the kings that supported the fallen church for all those years are gone, but we still have the thrones of the new forms of government to contend with.

All Religions Lost Civil Power

Both the Papal as well as the Protestant churches lost their civil power, and even the Islamic system lost the civil power of the Ottoman Empire, that had been supporting them prior to the war. We see that the Islamic system now trying to re-establish a caliphate with civil power so that they can forcibly propagate their false religion—it does look like the Lord will allow that system to continue to exist until the end, and we are watching what is going to happen.

In chapter ten, we showed that there is a double application to the 1260, 1290, and 1335 chronology, which shows that Islam has only had one blow upon their corrupt system, where Papacy has had two. That shows us that there will be one more final and deadly confrontation at the end of the age, and it looks like Islam will receive its final blow at the time when they attack Israel, as seen in Ezekiel chapters 38-39.

Papacy, Protestants, and Islam Trying to Regain Power

Did Papacy and the Protestants repent from their harlotry and realize that they were not supposed to have formed a church and state system? No, just as it says in this bowl of wrath, they didn't repent and since then we see that Papacy, and even the Protestants, have been trying to regain control or influence over civil governments, so that they can get their power back—they are trying to follow Satan's lies that have re-doubled their efforts to put the church and state system together again. The religious right are involved with the United States government, and the president that we have right now. We don't know what is going to come out of that attempt to gain power. That situation shows us that the religious system is still a harlot in its heart and does not want to be reformed, but whether they gain power again is up to the Lord.

Radical Islam also wants to get its civil power back, and they most likely will at least partially succeed, because that is most likely who leads the final battle against Israel—which indicates that they will succeed temporarily. There are two different opposing sects of Islam, and we don't know which sect or if both sects will be involved in the final attack.

Ottoman Empire Falling Opened the Way to Restoration of Israel

It's also important to see that the demise of the Empires at the end of the 2520 years, opened the way for the Jews to return to Israel. At the end of the war, we saw the Balfour Declaration, which helped Israel establish a claim on Palestine. Recently the Palestinians asked Great Britain to reject the Balfour Declaration, and return all of Jerusalem to them. The Ottoman Empire, which had control of the holy land before the war, lost that war and then England took over control of the holy land which opened the way for the return of the nation of Israel. WW2, and the murder of millions of Jews, caused the UN to set aside land for Israel in the original homeland, and after WW2 the nation of Israel was established again after almost 2000 years of not being in existence. There has been continual conflict since that time from Islam, who wants to push Israel into the sea and destroy them as a nation—Ps 83:3-4.

Chapter 7 of Daniel Shows the Destructive Beast

In Chapter 7 of Daniel, we see a parallel description of the same events regarding the Roman beast, except there it's described as a terrible beast. The destruction of the beast shown there began with the seating of the court, which gave authority to the Son of Man who had just returned to judge that system, and he was to render judgment against the terrible beast. After that, its dreadful civil power was taken away, and the beast was given to the burning fire of WW1, which removed all of the kings, and in the end will begin to consume all the rest of the elements of that system in the kingdom.

Beast Cast into the Fire

The beast that is thrown into the fire in Daniel, was the beast that changed the times and the seasons, and wore out the saints, and it was a terrible theocratic church and state system. Even though that the terrible beast was cast into the fire of destruction, which symbolizes its removal, we see that Daniel tells us that the lives of the other beasts or governments are to be prolonged for a time. We are not told the amount of time that the other beasts are to exist, which is the time interval which we are in at this time.

Dan 7:11-12 (11 "Then I continued to watch because of the boastful words the horn was speaking. I kept looking until the beast was slain and its body destroyed and thrown into the blazing fire. 12 (The other beasts had been stripped of their authority, but were allowed to live for a period of time.) NIV

Catholics & Protestants Still Trying to Get Power Back

The late Pope John Paul traveled the world far and wide trying to get some of the former influence and power back, but he only succeeded in gaining a personal influence that didn't translate into political power. The Protestant churches have also been working for several years, trying to take control of the US government so that they can push their religious agenda, but so far they have not been completely successful—although they are dangerously close at the present time.

If there is going to be a short resurgence of church and state power, the religious right appears to be the most likely candidate to bring it into existence as we mentioned above. We also see evidence that the Papal system is trying to talk the Protestants into coming back to the Mother church, which if they do shows how far they have sunk down in the true knowledge of God.

Isa 23:15-17 (15 Now in that day Tyre will be forgotten for seventy years like the days of one king. At the end of seventy years, it will happen to Tyre as {in} the song of the harlot: 16 Take {your} harp, walk about the city, O forgotten harlot; pluck the strings skillfully, sing many songs, that you may be remembered.

17 It will come about at the end of seventy years that the LORD will visit Tyre. Then she will go back to her harlot's wages and will play the harlot with all the kingdoms on the face of the earth.

There was also an attempt by Papacy to regain power again by becoming associated with the Nazis during WW2, but that also failed when Hitler lost the war. The Papal church showed its guilt in that regard, when they helped smuggle the Nazi war criminals out of the European countries and into South America, but that didn't gain them any power over the nations.

More to Come With This Bowl?

A big question about this bowl, is whether the 1914-18AD destruction of the kings during WW1 is the only thing we should expect? We think that there will be a final destruction of civil power, even though the fifth bowl of wrath does not show us that—the picture of civil power removal that we see in chapter 16, seems to go further with bowl number seven and chapters 18-19. Just as we see in the Daniel's vision of the stone smiting the Image on its feet, we see that the entire Image was smitten in 1914AD, with the destruction of the kings and the breakup of the Empires in WW1, but the wind has not blown the remaining pieces completely away yet. We know that the dominion of the beasts that were left after the destruction of the main church and state power, were only to be prolonged for a set time, and so it seems obvious they will likewise have to be either changed or removed before the kingdom comes in. As we mentioned before, we will see those remaining pieces removed in bowl number seven, and in Rev chapters 18-19. In the seventh bowl, we will see a progressive step by step description of the final destruction of Satan's system, and in chapters 18-19 we see the destruction and capture of the elements of that system.

To prove that, we see that there is plenty more happening after WW1, in that there has been a further crushing and grinding of the nations as they war between themselves, especially when we had WW2 and other conflicts. The destructive process continued in the breakup of the colonial Empires and the collapse of Communism.

Right now, the nations of the world are experiencing financial problems that may bring them down further yet. Many of the nations that were formed out of the larger colonial Empires were controlled by dictators, and recently the people have been overthrowing many of those governments. The new governments that have been taking control of many of those nations are radical Islamic governments, which can only lead to trouble, and which we believe will eventually bring us to the final battle over the land of Israel.

Smiting the Image

An examination of the smiting of the Image in Daniel Chapter 2, seems to show more than one event doing the destruction, and we see that even after the entire Image is completely shattered, there is even a crushing and grinding phase, and then the wind comes and blows the pieces away.

Dan 2:33-35 (33 His legs of iron, his feet part of iron and part of clay.

34 Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out without hands, which smote the Image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them to pieces.

35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, broken to pieces together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshingfloors; and the wind carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the Image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth. (KJV)

In Daniel, the stone first fell in verse 34 on the feet or the political power of the beast in 1799AD, which was immediately after the 1260 years ended, and which was when almost all the kings at least temporarily withdrew their support from the Papal church and state system. That is symbolized by the breaking apart of the iron and the clay when the feet of the Image was smitten, and that breaking apart pictured the separating of the civil power from the ecclesiastical. But even though the feet were shattered, the main body of the Image, which contained all of the elements of the four universal Empires, still existed after 1799.

The religious system was not a solid part of the feet of the Image, because the clay which is the religious system, was very weakly joined to the civil power which was the iron. Some of the kings later reunited with the Harlot, and that reduced power continued up until 1914AD, when the entire Image was smitten or shattered into many different pieces.

At the second blow of destruction in verse 35, we see more than just the iron and the clay affected, in that we see that the entire statue of the iron plus clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold were all shattered together in 1914, and that started the final destruction of the civil power or throne of the beast, from which they will not recover. The iron plus clay and the brass, the silver, and the gold, were the elements that made up the four universal Empires, and exactly at the end of the 2520 years of the Gentile Times, the remnants of those Empires were shattered by WW1.

One other possibility that we need to consider, is that the 1260, 1290, and 1335 has a second application. That seems to indicate that there will be one more final blow on at least the Islamic part of the Empire, and anyone that joins with them when they attack Israel, and that will be when the last of the small broken up pieces are blown away.

Even now the pieces are being further crushed and ground up by other wars that have followed WW1 and WW2. When the final winds of trouble blow the ground up pieces away, that is when Christ head and body will come and establish the growing mountain that fills the whole earth, and that mountain symbolizes the kingdom of God being established on the earth.

People Lost Faith in the Kings in WW1

The events of WW1 caused the people to lose faith in the kings, who had ruled the system with an iron hand. So after WW1 we see that all kingly power was removed, and the doctrine of the Divine Right of Kings was seen to be false. What few kings or Queens remained after the First World War such as in England, don't directly hold the reins of power anymore. WW2 likewise broke the power of the great Colonial Empires that were still in existence at that time into even smaller pieces, eventually giving many of them freedom.

Broken Pieces Still Exist Waiting For Final Wind

We still have the broken pieces, which are being ground up into smaller pieces with the intent that the whirlwind will blow them away in the end. Those who claim that the smiting of the Empires shows the 144,000 completed, would be correct in their interpretation if the stone that did the smiting was Christ head and body. As we will see below, the scriptures don't agree with that definition of the stone, but they show that it represents Christ alone.

The stone that is pictured in Daniel Chapter 2, can't be the completed Christ head and body as is traditionally thought. That interpretation has caused some to give up their hope of the high calling, because it's historically obvious that the 1914AD war shattered the kings of the universal Empires, that belonged to the Old-World order.

So, if the stone is not the completed church, then what is it? The simple answer is that it represents Christ and his coming kingdom. The time that the stone grows into the mountain that fills the whole earth, is the time that Christ head and body are complete, and our Lord takes control and begins to reign, but it's not the complete head and body at the time that Christ himself smites the Image first in 1799 and then in 1914. To prove that the stone is Christ singular, all we have to do is look at a few of the Bible references that define who the stone is. The third and final blow on Islamic power at the time of their attack against Israel, will most likely be the completed head and body of Christ, because the church will be completed by that time, ready for the work of the kingdom.

There are other scriptures about Christ being he stone that we did not quote, but these should suffice.

Ps 118:22 The stone which the builders refused is become the head stone of the corner. (KJV)

Isa 28:16 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: he that believeth shall not make haste. (KJV)

Zech 3:8-9 (8 Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, thou, and thy fellows that sit before thee: for they are men wondered at: for, behold, I will bring forth my servant the BRANCH.

9 For behold the stone that I have laid before Joshua; upon one stone shall be seven eyes: behold, I will engrave the graving thereof, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day. (KJV)

Acts 4:10-11 (10 Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole.

11 This is the stone which was set at naught of you builders, which is become the head of the corner. (KJV)

Eph 2:20 And are built upon the foundation of the Apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone; (KJV)

So, we see that the throne of the beast was darkened in WW1, and the Christianized part of the kingdom of the beast was also darkened because of the loss of its civil power. While the kings have been removed from their thrones in WW1, the remnants of those governments are not completely gone, and so they still exist but in different forms. That they did not repent of their evil deeds, is obvious in the history that has occurred since that time. The governments are still oppressing the people as much as they can get away with, and they don't seem to care about the poor and working little guy at all. The politicians only care about keeping their political power, and making as much money off the corrupted system as they can.

All of the civil power still has to be removed or changed when the kingdom begins—that final removal of civil power from Satan's evil system, will be found in the seventh bowl of wrath, and in the closing vision of Revelation chapters 18-19, and even in chapters 21-22.

Bowl 6 on Euphrates

Rev 16:12

Rev 16:12 The sixth {angel} poured out his bowl on the great river, the Euphrates; and its water was dried up, so that the way would be prepared for the kings from the east. (NAU)

Rev 9:13-14 (13 Then the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God, 14 one saying to the sixth angel who had the trumpet, "Release the four angels who are bound at the great river Euphrates." NASU)

Jer 51:36-37 (36 Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will plead thy cause, and take vengeance for thee; and I will dry up her sea, and make her springs dry. 37 And Babylon shall become heaps, a dwelling place for dragons, an astonishment, and an hissing, without an inhabitant. (KJV)

The Euphrates

If we are looking for proof that the work of the fifth, sixth, and the seventh bowls will reach to the start of the kingdom, then we see that the fifth bowl of wrath is a good example of how it was poured out starting in 1914 and it darkened the throne of the beast, but we expect that what we see shown in bowl seven and some of the later chapters of Revelation, will completely remove the civil power of Satan's throne. The same thing is true of the sixth bowl that we are looking at now, in that it dried up the support for the Old World order, but did not completely end the support for the rest of Satan's evil system by 1918 as shown in the description of bowl six in the Revelation chapter 16.

We know that the work of this bowl will not be fully completed, until the water of support for the Satan's worldwide system is also completely dried up, and the highway of holiness is opened for the world of mankind so that they can escape from Satan's system into the Millennial kingdom. In this bowl, the Kings of the East symbolize and picture the Lord and the completed church coming to reign over the world, and so that shows that the picture of the drying up of the waters of support of Satan's system continues all the way to the kingdom.

So we can see that the symbols that are attacked in all three of the last bowls, do not show us in chapter 16 the complete removal of the power of their symbol from the system, but they are showing us what must be removed in time for the kingdom. Other visions that are shown in the later chapters from chapter 16 to the end of this Revelation, give us more detailed information about how all of this evil systems power is removed.

Cyrus Pictures

Drying Up of Euphrates

In ancient history, we see that Cyrus had diverted the water of the Euphrates so that his army could walk into the city of Babylon right under the walls. Here we see in a symbolic picture, the same thing happening, in that the Lord is drying up the waters so that the city of Great Babylon will fall, and the earthly people will be released so that they can get up on the highway of holiness—Isaiah 35:8. The coming of Cyrus to the city and capturing it, pictures the coming of our Lord and his capture of Great Babylon. Going under the walls, symbolically shows us that the civil power of this world, symbolized by the walls, will not be able to stop the coming kingdom. This again may have a double application, in that we have Christ coming in 1874, and in 1914 removing the power of the fallen church system. But there may again, be another coming of the Lord, as Christ head and body, and that time he along with the church will remove the power of Satan and his evil system at the start of the kingdom. That is when the waters of the Euphrates will be fully dried up.

There is some history that indicates that when the ancient city of Babylon fell, that the people welcomed Cyrus into the city. Evidently the Babylonians had oppressed their own people in the city, and they were glad to be rid of them. That is very much like the worldly governments that we have today, in that most of the time they do not do much for the people, but they fill their own pockets and their rich friend's pockets, and so there may be a large number who are glad that the old order of things is to fall, and a new and more righteous order is to replace it.

Cyrus Symbolizing Jesus Dries Up Support for Satan's System

That makes a good picture for us regarding what is going to happen when the Lord, pictured by Cyrus, finishes the drying up the water of support for that evil system. Things will most likely have gotten so bad, that the people will be glad to escape from that system into the kingdom. The governments of this time, have very similarly gotten so bad that they are oppressing their own people again. The rich and the financial systems are sucking up all the wealth, thinking that they will save themselves from the coming trouble, and as we know from the Bible, their gold and their silver will not save them at all in that day. The people will revolt, and the scriptures tell us that the rich will throw their gold and their silver into the streets, and they will try to hide during that final time of trouble, to no avail.

Sixth Trumpet Related to Sixth Bowl

The sixth plague is poured out on the Euphrates, which represents the institutions and support of the people that were the source of Babylon the Great's strength, power, stability, and wealth. Unfortunately, it is still the source of Satan's World Wide System's strength, power, stability, and wealth—Babylon the Great's power is mostly gone, but Satan's World Wide support and power must also be removed. The seventh bowl of wrath shows us a lot of the final destruction, but chapters 18-19 will give even more details about that destruction.

Destruction of System Started at Reformation

In the sixth woe trumpet, we saw a vision of the four angels that were bound by the power of that system in the Euphrates River. The four angels being bound there, represented the restraints upon the civil, financial, ecclesiastical, and the social power of that system, which were binding the people to the church and state system that they were in. In the sixth trumpet, the four angels had been kept ready for the hour, the day, the month and the year, so that they could be released, and that release is what started the Reformation. The events of the Reformation made major changes in that system that partially freed some of the people, and because of that Bible knowledge made major advances all the way up until the time of the seventh messenger, and the Divine Plan that was revealed at that time.

There are several significant historical steps that were further developments of destruction on the evil system, which occurred after the release of the four angels at the time of the Reformation. Those were the French Revolution, and the 1799 breakup of the Papal church and state. The removal of the Papal States from the control of Papacy in 1799-1870, was another big part of this, which brought the two-horned beast to an end when Papacy lost the last of its civil power horn. The sixth bowl that was poured out during WW1, helped cause the support for the Old-World order to dry up, but the final drying up of the Euphrates Satan's world wide support will occur again just before the kingdom, and that will most likely be at least partially caused by the hail of hard truth that we will see in the seventh bowl.

Whirlwind at the End

Since this bowl is one of the three that seems to have a cumulative effect, this bowl still has a lot to accomplish. There is going to be a final whirlwind which is the last part of the drying up process of this river, and that final whirlwind of trouble will remove the power of the modified and remaining governments that had resulted from the fall of the Old-World Order. The final phase of this bowl will not violate the command from Chapter 7, to not harm those who are being sealed, because the church will be completed by that point in time, or they will at least be completely harvested out of that system, as we see shown in the beginning of chapter 15, with the saints standing on the sea of glass, with the fiery trouble seen below them. Even in 1914, we see in the beginning of chapter 15, that the saints are harvested out and they are standing up on the sea of glass, out of the trouble and looking down on the flashes of fire that were destroying the fallen church and state system.

When Satan's worldwide system goes down in total collapse at the very end, which is when he will be bound, it will release all the earthly people that had been bound in the river of that evil system. That frees them so that they can get upon the highway of holiness, and that highway is mentioned in this bowl, and it is described as the "way" of the Kings of the East. Only those who are fools will fail to get up upon that Highway of Holiness, but the scriptures indicate that there will be some who will resist, Zech 14:7.

What we are going to be discussing and looking at in this bowl, are the further things that need to happen to free the people from Satan's evils system. The freeing of the people will not be an easy task, because we will see that Satan and the three unclean spirits during this intervening time, are still uttering the three lies that are designed to keep the people locked into the mode of supporting the evil worldwide system. In the end when the church is completed, the Lord will overcome those lies and free the people, so that most will eagerly want to join the kingdom blessings.

Way of the Kings of the East

The Kings of the East represent Christ and the completed church, that will come from the rising of the Millennial day sun. They are going to replace the rulers who supplied the civil power to the throne of the beast. These new kings will be the legitimate rulers of God's kingdom, and not the counterfeit ones that the Image of the Beast had supporting it.

Mal 4:1-3 (1 "For behold, the day is coming, burning like a furnace; and all the arrogant and every evildoer will be chaff; and the day that is coming will set them ablaze," says the LORD of hosts, "so that it will leave them neither root nor branch." 2 "But for you who fear My name the sun of righteousness will rise with healing in its wings; and you will go forth and skip about like calves from the stall. 3 "And you will tread down the wicked, for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet on the day which I am preparing," says the LORD of hosts. NASB

Rev 20:4 Then I saw thrones, and they sat on them, and judgment was given to them. And I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded because of their testimony of Jesus and because of the word of God, and those who had not worshiped the beast or his Image, and had not received the mark on their forehead and on their hand; and they came to life and reigned with Christ for a thousand years. NASU

Their way will be prepared, because of our Lord's gradual wearing down of the power of that system, which will cause many of the people to lose hope in earthly institutions and in the fallen church system by the time of the kingdom. The earthly people will eventually be able to flee Great Babylon by "the way or highway" that is opened for them by the sixth bowl of wrath, and the events of the remaining chapters of Revelation. The events of the seventh bowl of wrath will also show us the removal of a lot of Satan's system, but again the further chapters will paint a more complete picture of what is happening.

The Highway!

The word used for way, in "prepare the "way" for the Kings of the East", in the sixth bowl of wrath means:

HIGHWAY, HIGHWAYSIDE

hodos ^3598^, "a way, path, road," is rendered "highways" in <Matt. 22:10; Luke 14:23>; in <Mark 10:46>, RV, "way side," KJV, "highway side"; in <Matt. 22:9>, the word is used with diexodoi ("ways out through"), and the phrase is rightly rendered in the RV, "the partings of the highways" (i. e., the crossroads), KJV, "the highways." See

WAY. (from Vine's Expository Dictionary of Biblical Words) (Copyright (C) 1985, Thomas Nelson Publishers)

The way or the highway that is going to be opened across or through the Euphrates by the drying up of the waters, is spoken of in many Old Testament passages. By removing the people's support for the fallen church system and for the governments of this world, the way of salvation and escape was opened first for the church, and then secondly it will also be opened for the people in the kingdom. That way or highway is how all the worldly people can escape from Satan's system of sin and death, and as they proceed up that highway they will enter the perfection and blessing of that kingdom. That will be when they are restored to perfection, and they are able to enter and rise to perfect standards of the New Jerusalem.

*Isa 35:8 And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called *The way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein. (KJV)

*Isa 11:15-16 (15 And the LORD shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea; and with his mighty wind shall he shake his hand over the river, and shall smite it in the seven streams, and make men go over dry-shod.

16 And there shall be an highway for the remnant of his people, which shall be left, from Assyria; like as it was to Israel in the day that he came up out of the land of Egypt. (KJV)

Isa 62:10-11 (10 Go through, go through the gates; prepare ye the way of the people; cast up, cast up the highway; gather out the stones; lift up a standard for the people.

11 Behold, the LORD hath proclaimed unto the end of the world, Say yes to the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy salvation cometh; behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him. (KJV)

Isa 40:1-5 (1 Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God.

2 Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her, that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned: for she hath received of the LORD's hand double for all her sins.

*3 The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the LORD, make straight in the desert a highway for our God.

4 Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low: and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough places plain:

5 And the glory of the LORD shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it. (KJV)

Escape from Egypt

The drying up of the water in this bowl, is pictured by the same thing that had happened to literal Israel when they were in bondage in Egypt. Pharaoh, who symbolizes Satan, didn't want to let the people go, but God forced him to let them go with the ten plagues. The Red Sea was dried up at that time, so that the Israelites could cross over and escape, and that's the same thing we see happening in the sixth bowl with the drying up of the Euphrates.

The sixth trumpet and the reduction of the power of the evil system at the time of the Reformation, resulted in a highway being opened for the church to escape from the Papal system, and with the sixth bowl, we see that it will also be opening a way for the worldly people to escape Satan's system. Just as the 10 plagues of Egypt prepared the way of escape for all the Israelites, the three woe trumpets and the seven bowls of wrath are doing the same thing here—adding up to ten plagues.

Satan will not be allowed to cross into the kingdom, as is pictured by the waters coming back and drowning Pharaoh and the hordes of supporting soldiers. We will see him and his entire system defeated in the seventh bowl of wrath, and in the later chapters of Revelation.

Support For Evil System Eroded More Must happen

We see that some of what is needed has already partially happened with the drying up of the water or the support of the people for the Old World Order and the apostate church, especially right after WW1. God at that time had exposed the errors of the evil church and state system to the worldly people, and many of them, especially in Europe have already abandoned the large institutionalized churches. Many of those churches are standing empty today, and have become little more than tourist attractions.

Today we see that many of the young people are questioning many of the doctrines and ideas that are found in the nominal churches. Unfortunately, there is still some support for this evil system, and the churches have worked hard to indoctrinate more of the young people into the error of that system. For that reason there remains more to happen in that regard, and that is why there will most likely be a full release of the four winds of anarchy at the very end, which will finish off the entire evil Satanic system in time for the kingdom. The support for the rest of Satan's evil worldwide system, will be removed by the four winds that will take down the last of his system.

Power of Evil System Reduced for Church's Escape

Without the power of the fallen church and state system being gradually broken down, the faithful church would not have escaped from Great Babylon prior to 1914AD. In the height of that system's power, the faithful church would have all been first tortured, and then they would have been killed when they were turned over to the inquisition. Starting with Wycliffe, and then the Reformation, the way of escape has gradually been opened for those who want to serve the Lord. The harvest message which began to be published in 1879AD, provided even more incentive for the Lord's people to flee from Great Babylon. Because of the evil systems weakness on this end of the age, the faithful church is free to meet and to preach at this time.

There are Many Already Discouraged With Satan's System

When it comes time for the kingdom of God to take over, there will most likely still be a large group of people who don't believe in anything. As we mentioned above, in Europe now there has already been a sharp decline in Christianity. So we can see that the Lord has been wearing that system down even further, especially as we get closer to the kingdom. Unfortunately, some of the ones who have gotten free from false Christianity, are falling for the false and dangerous message of Islam, and that is a major contributing factor in the criticism of Israel.

When the kingdom comes, the ones that don't believe in the institutional churches anymore, will be hungry and thirsty for the truth of pure waters that will cover the earth, as the waters cover the sea, Isa 11:9, Hab 2:14. When they see the blessings begin in Israel, most will accept the new King and Kingdom, and they will leave the errors of Great Babylon behind and they will get up on the highway of holiness that leads across and out of the dried up Euphrates, into the new world which will begin blossoming like the rose, and that new kingdom will be both literally and symbolically full of milk and honey blessings.

Isa 11:9 They will not hurt or destroy in all My holy mountain, for the earth will be full of the knowledge of the LORD as the waters cover the sea. NASU

Hab 2:14 "For the earth will be filled With the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, As the waters cover the sea. NASU

Elijah & Elisha Smiting a Picture

The picture of Elijah and Elisha smiting the water, so that they could cross over dry-shod, could also be a picture of the drying up of the Euphrates River. This is not a picture that we usually look at in that regard, but the picture of Elijah and Elisha may be a picture that makes sense here, because the "water is smitten twice", and that matches with what we think might happen with the two phases to the drying up of the water. After the second smiting and crossing by Elisha, the picture then shows us the miracles that will be occurring in the kingdom.

It's likely that the two smiting's are the blow of the start of the seven plagues at the time of WW1, and the full completion of the destruction by the plagues of the bowls of wrath at the end, which completes the drying up of the Euphrates. That double smiting of the Jordan, could also represent a second pouring out of truth from the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh bowls of wrath. The message could be a final message of truth regarding the beastly civil power, the false religious system, and the answer to Satan's three lies that he advocates. We believe that those things would especially be a part of the message, but we also believe that a final witness preaching the soon to come kingdom would be a major part of that message, as well as the message that Israel is destined to become God's people again, and that the kingdom will start there after the time of trouble.

Evil World is Against Israel

That may be a timely message, because we can already see the forces of this evil world gathering together against Israel in favor of the Palestinians, even though they are the ones actually deliberately causing all the trouble. They want to force Israel to give up Jerusalem and to go back to the 1967 borders, and that is only the first step on the top of their agenda. Doing that would eventually lead to the full destruction of Israel, and so we believe that we would have to speak out against their giving up of Jerusalem, and a major portion of the land. God did not bring them back to their land after 2000 years to have them give it all up—especially the city of Jerusalem that God returned to them in 1967, which was predicted by the end of the 2300 days which was calculated from the time of Alexander the Great traveling to the battle that would establish the New Empire of Greece.

The cleansing of the sanctuary had two different fulfillments, one for the cleansing of the church from error, and the second for the actual cleansing and restoration of Jerusalem and the temple mount that the original sanctuary was on. See the book, “Biblical Count of the Years” and the chapter on Lev chapter 26, for chronology that show several key dates for Israel’s return on this end of the age, which are already fulfilled, and a few that are not yet fulfilled. The chronology that comes from the sevens in Leviticus chapter 26, actually mark off the amount of time before the land of Israel was to be cleansed from sin, and it generated several key dates in the restoration of Israel, and the year 1967 is the last fulfilled one that we have. That shows that the time of punishment has expired and that God is not going to let them be pushed back out of the land.

Harvest Smiting & Chariots & Horses of Israel

There was a smiting of the water from the truth message that was given out by the Elijah Class during the harvest time, 1878-1918AD. That message of truth made it possible for the harvest time church to escape, or to “Come out of her my people”. The things that hindered the Faithful Church in that escape were, the symbolic chariots and horses of Israel that Elisha saw when Elijah was taken up. Chariots represent organizations, and the horses represent doctrines. Those chariots and horses represent the organizations and doctrines of Babylon that are chasing after the faithful church, trying to keep the priest class and the people from escaping out of Egypt.

Historically that is what has happened to the truth movement, in that Babylon’s erroneous doctrines keep trying to creep back into the harvested-out church after 1914. Besides the problem of overcoming the fallen churches doctrines and organizations, we have had the Jehovah Witnesses that fell away and changed their doctrines into a more unrighteous Babylonian type of judgment, which makes them think that the kingdom is here and that the people have to except their message right now, or perish. There is also the Johnson movement that decided that the 144,000 of the church is complete, and they have discouraged many from running for the high calling. Besides truth groups that have fallen away, we also have had individuals that were overtaken by Babylon's doctrinal horses and chariots, and they have fallen back into trap of the evil system. Some of those that fell had crowns that they lost, and those need to be replaced.

Elisha Picturing the Completion of the Church?

Because of the fall of some after 1914, we believe the full number is not completed yet. The completing of the church seems to be especially pictured by Elisha and the double portion that Elisha asked for, which Elijah told him that it was a hard thing that he asked, but which he could only get if he saw Elijah go. What makes that an interesting symbolism in interpreting the picture of Elijah and Elisha, is that the double portion is the inheritance of the first born, which is what the 144,000 of the church get. So it seems possible, that Elisha may picture a replacement class of the church, that must-see certain things about Elijah going in order to get a crown and to be a part of the 144,000. What Elijah going means, is not exactly clear, but it may be that it means that we must see that the Gospel Age and harvest ended the Elijah class in 1914, and that there are only replacement positions left after that time—in other words if all of the Elijah members had made it there at that time, there would have been no open positions past the harvest time, but since the full number was not most likely not there, the selection and testing goes on.

We looked at the meaning of the names of the two prophets, and we can see that Elijah's name means strength of the Lord. He was involved in confronting the church state system of his time, the same thing that the church has done up to the harvest time, where church and state was destroyed.

If Elisha is the church that fills in replacements, until the left-over remnant crosses over the river into the kingdom, then his name "God is my Salvation" is very interesting.

Pastor Said He Wasn't Sure

Pastor Russell said that he thought that Elisha could represent the Great Company, but he wasn't sure. The reason he thought that was most likely correct, was because of the idea that the harvest time church thought that there would be a huge amount of Great Company come out of the churches right at the end of the harvest. As we saw in Chapter 7, while there would have been Great Company that came out right at the end of the 40-year harvest, it was not necessary that there had to be large amounts of Great Company right at the end of the 40-year harvest, nor was there likely to be any large amount, even in the future from there.

The reason for that was because the Great Company has come out of the tribulation of the entire age, and not just the tribulation that came on the church and state system at the end of the age as was thought at the time. We think the alternate explanation is much more likely, because of the large amount of time that has gone past the end of the harvest parallel that Pastor didn't anticipate, and because of that we believe we need to look at an alternative possibility regarding who Elisha represents.

Second Blow by Elisha Second Message?

The second smiting of the Jordan by Elisha, seems to represent a final blow of truth against the fallen systems error or at least a message related to the soon to come kingdom. That final message seems to be given by the last of the church, and it opens the path across the river again, where we again see the way of escape open for the world into the kingdom. Not all Elisha members are of the 144,000, because the symbol of Elisha himself eventually crosses over into the promised land. After the second crossing, we see kingdom blessings being done by Elisha. One part of the interpretation that Pastor had proposed in his explanation that would stay the same, is that the second crossing to the other side of the Jordan, would represent the beginning of the kingdom.

Elisha Mixed Class?

Before the smiting of the Jordan the second time, the symbolic Elisha class may be a mixed class, made up of both earthly and spiritual members. Elijah gave Elisha a means by which he could get a double portion of his spirit, and we think the double portion that some will get, represents those who become spirit-begotten, and who have a chance for a crown. Those who see Elijah go and who see and escape the doctrinal problem of the horses and chariots of Israel which has plagued the truth movement since 1916AD, may symbolically represent the last of those who can overcome the doctrinal horses and chariots, and they will make up the last part of the 144,000, so that the full number will be completed. We should take heed and warning, that even if we are in the truth movement, that we could be overtaken by false doctrines or organizational chariots of Satan, and without knowing it we could be making the same kind of mistakes that the fallen church had, but of a subtler kind—beware of Satan’s deceptions.

Those of the Elisha class who don’t get the double portion and who are not of the Great Company, would be those who are left over, and they are those who cross over the river into the kingdom, and who would then join with the Ancient Worthies and begin to do kingdom work as Youthful Worthies. While we don’t like to think about it, some of those who belong to the Bible Student movement may not be of the spirit begotten class, and may represent those who cross over and begin the earthly kingdom restoration work. We will only know for sure who belongs to what class after the events of the second crossing of the river are completed. No matter what happens, we should accept the wisdom of the Lord, who would know what position we would be best suited for, heavenly or earthly.

Revelation 16:13-14 Three Unclean Spirits

Rev 16:13 And I saw {coming} out of the mouth of the dragon and out of the mouth of the beast and out of the mouth of the False Prophet, three unclean spirits like frogs;

Rev 16:14 for they are spirits of demons, performing signs, which go out to the kings of the whole world, to gather them together for the war of the great day of God, the Almighty. (NAU)

All Three Lies Together

We originally had thought at the time of the Study Group, that the three lies had come into existence from about 1799 onward because of the symbol of the false prophet, which we thought could only exist after Papacy had lost his civil power. But after further reflection, we concluded that there really is no reason why the ecclesiastical horn of Papacy, that had formed the two horned beast by acquiring civil power, could not have been the false prophet from very earlier in church history, especially from 313, 325, or 381 or even from 539 onward when he was given control over the doctrines of the church for both halves of the Roman Empire—each of those dates and others, added step by step to the systems false doctrines. Papacy claimed to be the infallible leader of the church which everyone had to follow, no matter what doctrine he advocated, but history shows that he did not base his doctrines on the scriptures—preferring to pollute and corrupt the truth with many pagan doctrines.

The new conclusion that we have recently come to, is that the three unclean spirits or lies are what caused the church to begin to fall into error after the joining of the power of Rome to the church, starting in 313 AD. The lies got worse and worse as time went on, with 325, 381, and 539 being key dates—there were also many church councils that added error after error during that same time period. All three lies especially went to work at the time of 754 or especially 799AD, when Papacy began to work very hard to gain control of the civil power of the image that had just been created by his suggestions. Papacy had even presented a counterfeit document to Charlemagne a few years before 799-800, called the Donation of Constantine, that said that Constantine had given Papacy control over all of the Western lands. That was an attempt to get him to give Papacy control over the Western Empire, but Charlemagne never fully consented to that false claim, although he allowed Papacy to take full control of the civil power of the city of Rome at that time.

The three lies can also be understood as being (1) The Divine Right of Kings which has changed to nationalism at the present time (2) the ultimate authority of the clergy over the people, which the religious right is advocating again at this time and (3) the idea that personal greed at the expense of others is ok, which all of the rich people of today say is how the world works—they deserve the wealth. The three lies lost out for a short time after 1799 when Papacy lost its civil power, and again in 1914 when all of the kings fell. But, those three evil ideas are now doubling down again, and continuing to wreak havoc in the world, trying to re-establish their power. Those three lies, are what our Lord is going to prove are the evil of the world wide Satanic system, and then he is going to remove that evil system when the kingdom begins, as seen in Chapter 19.

All three lies continued to work together after the time that Papacy had created the Image of the Beast and had tried to claim the power over the kings in 799, but the kings did not want to allow the church to get control over their kingdoms. We see that Papacy right away claimed the right to crown the Emperor in the Western Empire, but the kings resisted until about 1179 AD or shortly afterward. But, unfortunately we see that after a number of years of struggle with the civil power, that Papacy did get full control of the power of a theocratic church and state system. That was when the Harlot began to ride the beast, and began to kill all who did not go along with her evil reign, as seen in chapter 17. That was when all three lies had accomplished their purpose, which was to have Papacy get full control of the civil power of the kings. That was when the worst time in the history of the world was at its peak of evil, which is the fulfillment of Dan 12:1.

After its peak of power, the fallen and corrupted church split up into many different Protestant factions in the Reformation, and because of Papacy being their mother, most of the daughter churches still have basically the same Pagan doctrines, and because of that they are all a part of the composite false prophet which still exists yet today. They had been given a chance to reform during the harvest time because of the harvest truth that was being published at that time, but only a few individuals saw the truth and reformed.

As we will see, after the evil system lost most of its power in 1914-18, the three unclean spirits began to double down with the deception of their three lies, trying to restore the powerful church and state system.

A Break in the Prophecy

In the prophecy above, we notice that we have an “I saw”, which tells us that there is a break in the prophecy or a parenthesis. So because of that, it doesn’t necessarily follow that this section continues onward from the same historical place of 1914 and afterward that we have been discussing. We think that it backs up in time to first show us the building up of the power of the evil system, where it’s first showing us how the three unclean spirits of Satan’s lies formed that evil system. The three lies continued throughout the entire time of the church and state system, until the time that the system began to fail, after 1799.

That was when Satan doubled down on the three lies, and he is trying to put his control of the evil system back together again. The same lies are again what gathered the kings to the war of 1914 and those lies are still gathering the kings of the earth to the final battle of the war of the great day of God Almighty, which will occur just before the kingdom at the attack of Gog and Magog. The prelude to the battle of Armageddon began in 1914 with WW1, and that trouble continues onward until all the evil parts of Satan's system are removed in the final battle of Armageddon.

The Three Lies of Satan's Testing of the Church in Desert

How do we know what the three lies are, and when they began to be uttered? We believe that these three unclean spirits are the same three lies that Satan tested our Lord with in the desert. Our Lord's testing in the desert is a symbolic picture of the testing that the church has had to go through during the Gospel Age. Our Lord passed his testing without falling for Satan's deception, which was designed to cause him to sin and to fail in his spiritual mission, which was to save the entire world, if at all possible even if it meant his death. We will find out that the church has been tested by the same three unclean spirits or lies during the Gospel Age, but many of the church fell for the lies, and that is what caused the great falling away that had been predicted to happen. We will look at the lies first, and how they affected the early church and earthly society, and then we will consider the three evil characters, and what they are.

The situation had gotten so bad by the time of 539, we see that whoever was left of the faithful woman of chapter 12 and her spiritual seed, had to flee into the 1260 years of the symbolic desert, which is the same kind of desert where Jesus went for his testing. The three lies listed below, are the testing's of Satan that made the un-faithful of the church fall as we will explain, leading to the 539 AD start of the 1260 years of the reign of terror. We will also show before we are done, that the three lies that created the evil church state system are still continuing yet today, but Satan has doubled down and he has modified his methods slightly, because he is trying to make his message sound more reasonable, so that he can re-take control of the world that he lost control of after his defeat in 1914-18. In other words, we expect that there will be at least one more final battle before the kingdom, before he is defeated for good.

The Three Lies

The three temptations of Christ, are what gives us the pattern as to what the three unclean spirits or lies are that we looked at earlier. Christ passed his test, and did not accept Satan's deceptive lies, but the fallen church system was tempted early in its history with the same three lies, and many accepted the temptation of all three lies starting in 313 AD, and especially from the time of 539 AD onward, which was when Papacy was given complete spiritual control over both halves of the Empire. The three lies were not successful in taking complete control of the church until much later, which was when Papacy began to ride the beast as seen in chapter 17. The same three lies are still being advocated again on this end of the age, and that is what is causing much of the trouble we see in the world today—Satan wants his evil control back again.

Early Church Failed the Testing

(1) Unclean spirit or Lie number one. This lie is uttered by the beast, because of the temptation of having civil power over others. Fall-down and worship me, and I will give thee control of all the kingdoms of the world. Jesus knew that it was not the time for him to take control of the civil power at the First Advent, and so he rejected Satan's offer, because we are not to worship anyone else but Jehovah—who is the creator of all things.

The early church didn't reject the offer from Constantine in 313AD, and that is what started the development of the terrible church and state system that Daniel and Paul had predicted was going to come into existence. Matt 4:10 Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. (KJV) Duet 6:13

The misuse of civil power by the Kings or Emperors of Rome, is what had caused all the other universal Empires to come into existence, as shown by Daniel where we saw them coming up out of the sea of mankind. The creation of those kingdoms and control over others, is the origin of the false idea of the Divine Right of Kings. In modern times, after the end of the 2520 years brought the kings to WW1 and the loss of their power, the lie has changed and has taken the form of nationalism, and political power, and control over others, and can even represent financial control of people which enriches some at the expense of others. Corruption and misuse of power, are descended from the actions of the Nicolaitans that even oppressed the people in the early church, and that is why they are those who the faithful church were warned about twice in the messages to the churches. The reason for the warning to the church to stay away from any kind of power of control, is because power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely. We see that lie that its ok to take control over others for your own gain, is being used to take control over the people again at the present time.

Nationalism is Also a Problem

The spirit of nationalism was a big reason when all the nation's chose up sides and went to war against each other in WW1. The people were taught to support their nation or kingdom no matter what, and that idea had such a hold on the people, that many of them rushed to sign up to fight for their country. The lie of nationalism continues yet today, in that many volunteer and go to fight for their country, assuming that the people on the other side are the ones at fault, and that they need to be defeated and taught a lesson, which history shows is most likely not true.

The idea that your country is doing the world a favor by taking control of others, is a deception of Satan, and in the end it will turn and bite you. Just ask Babylon what happened to them. In the time of Rome, and all through the dark ages, they thought nothing of taking control of other countries, and their wealth, and look at their final result.

At the present time, the United States has fallen for the idea of nationalism, especially white nationalism, which is against anyone who is not white in color. We don't know the full outcome of that problem because it is still going on at the present time, but it most likely will not be good. It looks as if the democratic government that we have, may fall to a dictatorship, or something similar, because to many of the politicians have fallen for the idea that we can make America great again if we get behind a strong and powerful leader. They don't realize that the real problem is the greed that they have, and the desire to have power and control over the rest of the world. Any country that has done that in the past, has come to a bad end, and we will not be an exception to that as we see in the scriptures below.

Hab 2:5 Yea also, because he transgresses by wine, he is a proud man, neither keeps at home, who enlarged his desire as hell, and is as death, and cannot be satisfied, but gathered unto him all nations, and heaped unto him all people: (KJV)

Hab 2:8 Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all the remnant of the people shall spoil thee; because of men's blood, and for the violence of the land, of the city, and of all that dwell therein. (KJV)

Conquest for Mineral Wealth

As the world's resources get much more limited like oil, coal, gas, and food, we are going to see even more problems regarding this lie. Even rare minerals, especially the kind that are going to be used in the electric cars of the future, are going to be fought over. Some of the scarcer minerals are in small countries that the large nations will be tempted to take control of, so that they can exploit the wealth for themselves at cheap prices. We will see more of this kind of problem in lie number 3.

Ecclesiastical Deception

(2) Unclean spirit or Lie number two.

Satan's temptation of Jesus was that he should jump off the temple to demonstrate his spiritual power and the backing of the Heavenly Father. Jesus knew that doing what Satan wanted, was not God's way at that time and he rejected that offer. Matt 4:7 Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. Duet 6:16

In the test of the Nominal house, the false prophet, as part of the two horned beast, did many signs and miracles in order to convince the people that he was God's representative, and that they should believe and follow the doctrines and methods of church and state governing that he was advocating. During the early time of the church, Satan especially corrupted the doctrines of the church during the first four church periods, and those same corrupted doctrines stayed with the daughter systems when they split away from the mother church. For that reason, all of those churches who are offspring of the harlot are collectively a part of the false prophet. The many false doctrines that came into the church at that earlier time of the falling away, are still with that system yet today.

The apostate churches who have fallen for Satan's lies, do not want to give up the corrupted doctrines, because many in those churches are convinced that they have to believe them or they will not be saved. Many present day church members believe in the fake miracles of the clergy, which are designed to convince the people that they are the true spiritual leaders from God. These are some of the signs and miracles, that would deceive all but the very elect if possible. What are some of the miracles and the signs? Pentecostal or Charismatic speaking in tongues, and the consulting with the dead, are just some of the Satanic things that they do at the present time. They also claim to be able to heal the sick and the lame and cure all manner of disease, just by the laying on of hands and praying over them. Most of those things are deceptions that are designed to bring in big money to the ones doing them, but Satan may actually do some actual small miracles for them, to suck more people in.

Clergy Only to Interpret God's Word

Another big lie, is the claim that only the clergy can speak for God, and interpret the scriptures for the people. The Papal church was the first to use this lie, to hide the fact that what they were teaching was not from God or the bible. They go out of their way, to argue that the scriptures are not the only word of God, and that only the Pope can guide and instruct the church. Papacy claims infallibility, regarding setting doctrines. But now, we see a similar thing in some of the Protestant churches, in that if you ask their members what they believe, they must consult a creed or catechism or their minister to explain their doctrines to you.

Because of this deception, many don't know what the Bible really teaches. Their churches pick out doctrines that have emotional appeal to their members, but God and Christ may have different ideas about what is correct for the church members during the Gospel age. This lie tells us to trust the clergy to handle our salvation, and it also says that we are not to trust in individual responsibility regarding our religion—don't worry about what the scriptures say, you only need to follow what we are telling you are the churches doctrines. That is the same thing that was going on in the dark ages, where you had to believe only what they preached. They deceived the people into thinking that they were unlearned in spiritual things and not capable of interpreting scripture, and that only the clergy can do it for you. We as Bible Students need to make sure we aren't falling into the same kind of error regarding what the scriptures teach—we need to verify what the scriptures really teach by reading the bible for ourselves.

The most dangerous lie is the idea that the clergy or even our Elders have the ultimate authority of doctrine, and because of that some claim that they know exactly what the bible teaches, which we need to check against their claims. Some in the nominal house claim that they are infallible, and we need to make sure we are not following error in our church officials, by not reading and meditating on what they are really saying in the scriptures. That is the root of the doctrinal idea of some churches that says we are right and everyone else is not, and because of that only our church will be saved. The people of some churches are also told that they must get the so-called sacraments from the church, or they will perish.

Use of Fear

That is why gross darkness still holds sway over the people, and there is not much progress in teaching them the truth. Catholics are taught that only their churches can interpret the scriptures, and that they should not listen to anyone else. Other churches are guilty of believing some of the same things. Their people are told that if they accept doctrinal ideas from others, that they will go to hell, or some churches say that they will die from the second death if they get different ideas than what the leaders are teaching. That tactic is the use of fear to keep the church members in bondage to the church doctrines, and that is the same use of fear that was used in the dark ages of the 1260 years.

At this time, many church leaders have false revelations of what they call “receiving a word of knowledge”, which are said to be from God, but which are not from him or the Bible. The faithful church should know that if it doesn’t come from the actual word of God which is the Bible, it’s a lie from Satan, or from wrong motives of the person claiming it. Isaiah says, if you don’t get your truth from the bible, you are in darkness and you will be distressed and fearful, and will not know what is happening.

Isa 8:20-22 (20 To the law and to the testimony! If they do not speak according to this word, they have no light of dawn. 21 Distressed and hungry, they will roam through the land; when they are famished, they will become enraged and, looking upward, will curse their king and their God. 22 Then they will look toward the earth and see only distress and darkness and fearful gloom, and they will be thrust into utter darkness. NIV

Lie, That Dead Don’t Die

The clergy also promote the lie that the dead don’t die! In modern times things have gotten so bad, that they have shown on TV where the dead are supposedly consulted. Matt 24:23-25, 2 Thes 2:9-11, Duet 13:1-3. They seem to have forgotten that we need to consult the scriptures, which tells us that no one is to talk to the dead or to spirits. We also see claims of visible miracles at the present time, like Mary appearing and healing people.

All These Lies Brought Them to WW1

That the people believed those lies in the dark ages, helped to develop that system into great power at its peak, and then after that those same lies were used to bring the church and state system to the battle of the great day in 1914. The people were told in church that they should believe anything that the clergy or their leaders tell them without question, because they claimed to represent God. The clergy were at the time of WW1, telling the people that they could go to war for God, and he would protect them, and even if they died, they would go straight to heaven. They were also being told that they were fighting for God and for his church and state system, or even for the Empire.

Each side claimed that their part of the religious Empire, was the only part that was doing right and was being supported by God. The enemy is always portrayed as being out of harmony with God, and that they deserved to be punished. We also see now as Satan redoubles his effort, that the churches tell the people how to vote to get favor and control with a candidate that will support the churches doctrines. That lie is happening because the churches are promoting the idea that everything will be just great for Christianity if the church can control the governments again a second time. We all know how that worked out during the 1260 years of the reign of terror.

In the dark ages, the churches could make symbolic fire or judgments come down from the spiritual heavens to the earth or upon society, which deceived the people into thinking that the church had been given the power of life and death over the earthly governments and people. The fire or judgments were coming from the corrupt religious system that was trying to kill off anyone that disagreed with them. The ability to persecute and kill, provided the false impression that they were governing with God's approval. That same thing is what they are still claiming should happen at the present time, when they say that God wants them to take control of society, and they most likely would feel that it would be a good thing to get rid of anyone who does not agree with them and their doctrines or their church and state control if they get it back. At this time they don't have the power of the kings to back them up like they did during the 1000 years—although Satan is using any civil power that he can to gain control again. So far they can only use the superstitious power that they have over the people—but we don't know if they will get full control of the civil power again of the government or not, so we need to watch.

Religious Right Want Original Control Back

Some like the religious right, have been working to regain governmental power by infiltrating the government, and taking key positions of power in the government. Some of them believe in the right of the church to rule over the government, and they are called Dominionists, and they believe that they can take control of the government with only about ten percent of the peoples support—right now they have about 30-40 percent support. We pray that they don't succeed in taking full control like Hitler or the Communists did, but the situation is getting very dangerous.

It's easy to see that if the fallen churches had full political control again, which they have partially gotten at this time, and we see that they would force their false and corrupt religious views and agenda on others if they had the power. With the partial control that they have gotten, they are actually starting to make changes in the laws of society that most people don't even know that they are doing. If they get full control, which they are close to having, the danger would especially apply to those who they would brand as heretics or those who resist them, which would be ones like us, since we don't believe in hell or the Trinity doctrine, or a lot of their other false doctrines. The only kingdom or government from God that we would agree to, is the real one that Christ will establish himself, without any help from the apostate churches.

Selfish Greed at others Expense

(3) Unclean spirit or Lie number three. This lie comes directly from the dragon or Satan himself—turn the stones into bread, don't worry about the people, think of yourself. Selfishness is one of Satan's great lies, and he tries to convince people that greed is good. Greed was one of the factors that led to the rise of the original church and state system, because many in the church were corrupted by the chance to get power and wealth that the combining of the church with the Roman power brought. That corruption is what built the fallen church into the worst evil system that the world has ever seen. The lie of greed continues onward even after the time of trouble started in 1914, but with other corrupt methods as we will show below.

Satan is Father of Lies

The dragon which is Satan, controls all elements of society from behind the scenes throughout the entire world, religious, social, financial, and civil power. The Dragon symbol still equals Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast. He is known as the father of lies, which is one of his favorite tactics which he has used to lead the people astray. He is also the accuser of the brethren, because he is always trying to claim that the saints are sinners, and not worthy for one reason or another. In the dark ages, he was always behind the scenes supplying the reasons as to why the saints should be tortured or killed by the evil system. His main goal is to defeat the church so that he won't be bound and locked into the abyss by the Lord, and lose control over the earth.

Tempted to Misuse Power to Enrich Themselves

One of the lies of Satan to Jesus, was that he should use God's power which was only supposed to be used only for the people, to turn stones into bread for himself and forget what anyone else needed. The power that Jesus had from the Heavenly Father, was not given so that Jesus could enrich or feed himself, but it was only given to further the witness of God's coming kingdom. Even though the fallen church does not have power or wealth from God himself, the fallen church system seems to have forgotten that it is wrong to have gone after great wealth all through the Gospel Age. This lie is no different now at this time as we will see described below in this section, except that the lie is from the churches and the governments and the rich and powerful individuals who are trying to gather all wealth to themselves.

Jesus says Matt 4:4 But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. (KJV)

This lie is obvious now, as we can see that greed is being promoted to the point of satisfying your hunger at the expense of others. The idea is that greed, which goes way beyond what you need, is no problem and that it's ok to acquire things at the expense of others. That is why we see corporations and executives and others, paying themselves extravagant salaries, while their workers live in poverty. We even see it in the churches, where the TV ministers or the mega churches receive tremendous amounts of money from people who can't really afford to give, and those ministers use that wealth for lavish lifestyles and expensive churches. They have no thought of mercy for the deceived poor from whom they collect this money.

Three Evil Symbols

We next are going to look again at the three evil characters that utter the unclean spirits. We will look at how they worked during the 1260 years of terror, and how they are still working yet today.

Core of the Dragon is Satan

When the dragon was being described in Rev Chapter 12, the civil power that Satan was using at that first sighting, was the Pagan Roman Empire that he was working with. Later in history, as described in Rev 13:2, we see that he had transferred his throne of Pagan civil power to the Christianized Roman beast, which was the shift of the seven heads and ten horns to the beast symbol—that was when the church failed the civil power test, because they had accepted the power of the throne of the beast, and the religious corruption that came with the acceptance of church and state. Remember, Christ refused Satan's offer of civil power, but the church did not. After the transfer of the throne to the beast, the Dragon symbol still symbolized Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth.

In Chapter 12, where we first saw the Pagan Roman dragon, we discovered that it has four different names, Dragon, Serpent, Devil, and Satan. Those four different names represent four different aspects of Satan's power, and indicate four different methods that he uses to control the world. When our Lord binds Satan in Rev 20:2-3, we will see that all four aspects of him are again named there, and that shows us that all four aspects of his power will be bound at that time. In other words, all the methods of control that he has used on mankind and the false church all through the age, will be removed from the earth when the kingdom begins.

When we see the beast at the beginning of Chapter 13, it's being shown to us at the time of 539AD, which was when it had just come back up out of the sea after the 476AD destruction of Rome by the barbarians. When Rome had fallen, and been defeated by the Barbarians, it had dissolved back into the same sea of mankind that Daniel had originally seen it come out of. At the point in history, which was just before 539AD, it was coming back into existence out of the sea of mankind, and it was being restored back to essentially the same Christianized Roman Empire that had originally been created by the edict of Milan, and the 381-decree banning all other religion. The one difference is that we are told that its head had been smitten, which was because of the fall of Rome in 476AD, but it was at least partially healed or restored at the 539 date, but at that time it had divided into 10 different civil divisions. In other words it did not actually come back into being a unified Western Empire until 799 AD, when Constantine was crowned the Emperor of what was supposed to be a new Western Roman Empire. The problem was that it was only an “image” of the original Empire, because of it being a Roman Empire, it was formed from German tribes, instead of Roman civil power.

Civil Power of Eastern Part of Empire?

Both sets of East and West churches were guilty of corrupting the Lord’s truth, but the East was not as guilty in that they didn’t have a central policy of systematically killing all the so-called heretics, although they did kill some. Including both parts of the Empire in with the symbol beast is correct, because both halves of the Empire were guilty of working together when they were first corrupting the doctrines of the church, as is shown in the first four churches, seals and trumpets.

The events that we saw in the first four trumpets, showed us the downward decline into 666 of both halves of the Empire. The church did not split into two halves until during the time of the fourth church, which was after both were already corrupted by the same Pagan church council doctrines, which happened during the early time-period of the first four churches.

Satan the Dragon Desperate to Get Control Again

After 1799 and especially after 1914, Satan is still using all aspects of his power and the three lies, to try to bring everything back under his full control again. This time there is one difference that has caused him trouble, and that is that our Lord is present as it states in the parenthesis just after the verses that we are looking at now. The apostle Paul mentions the very thing contained in that parenthesis, in that he said that our Lord’s coming would bring that evil system under judgment and destroy it. Instead of allowing Satan to get full control again, our Lord manipulated and used Satan’s three deceiving miracles and lies to cause the kings of the earth to come to the start of the time of trouble, which was where they all fell in 1914. The final fall of the evil system will be at the final conflict, which is when the last battle of Armageddon occurs at the very end, and that is when all civil power has to bow down to the new king or perish.

Even though all the original kings of the church and state system did fall in WW1, we believe that the remaining remnants of the governments will also have to fall before the final end, because they are also controlled by Satan. If we look in Daniel, we see that the terrible beast Daniel saw was given to the burning fire, which was 1914, but he tells us that there were other beasts that would prolong their lives for a set time. Their final demise is pictured by the crushing and grinding up of the pieces of the statue, and the wind that blows the pieces away. So what we see is that there are different events that happen after the early parts of the battle of Armageddon had started 1914, and those events eventually take everything down in the final battle of Armageddon.

When Elijah came out of the cave he was hiding in, he first saw the wind which is war, then the earthquake which symbolized revolution, and then he saw fire which is anarchy.

It appears that we are entering the anarchy phase of the destruction of the system about now. The wee small voice is the start of the kingdom.

2 Thess 2:8-12 (8 and then the Lawless one will be revealed, whom the Lord Jesus will sweep away with the tempest of His anger, and utterly overwhelm by the awful splendor of His Coming. 9 The appearing of the Lawless one will be attended by various miracles and tokens and delusive marvels--for so Satan works-- 10 and by every kind of wicked deception for those who are on the way to perdition because they did not welcome into their hearts the love of the truth, so that they might be saved. 11 And for this reason God sends them a misleading influence that they may believe the lie; 12 in order that all may come under judgement who have refused to believe the truth and have taken pleasure in unrighteousness. Weymouth

Dragon Symbol Exists Until the Kingdom

The symbol of the dragon which is Satan, will still exist until the church is complete and Satan is locked into the pit for the 1000 years. The reason that Satan still exists after 1914-18, is because the seventh bowl of wrath being poured out on the air, is what will remove Satan and all of his four aspects, and that won't have fully happened until the church is complete. When we see Satan cast into the pit in Chapter 20, and when he is destroyed at the end of the millennium, we will then be seeing all aspects of the dragon being removed.

Four Evil Aspects

As we noticed in Chapter 12, there are four different aspects of power that Satan uses to control the world. Just looking at a few of the things that Satan does, we see that he is a liar, and a false accuser of the brethren, and the mouth of the snake that we see him symbolized with in the garden of Eden, points directly to the lies and the false doctrines that he has corrupted the fallen church and even the world with. He has used all four of those methods from the time that he tempted the church into joining with the power of the Roman Empire

The Pagan doctrines that the Roman Empire worshiped came from him, and the false doctrines of the ecclesiastical mess that the fallen churches have today, are descended from that same Pagan doctrine. He is behind many other kinds of sins and corruption, such as greed and the idea that a nation can take what it needs from others to enrich its citizens. The greed factor is one of the big reasons that the nation's went to war in 1914AD, and that is why wars continue even yet today.

The Beast = (Civil Power & All Aspects of Society)

The beast or beasts, that represent the kingdoms that Satan controls, have four actual different elements to them, Social, Financial, Ecclesiastical, and the civil power in them. The hybrid beast that existed all during the dark ages, was the church and state system that resulted when the Roman Empire accepted Christianity. Some governments, such as Communism on this end of the age, suppressed the ecclesiastical part after 1914, but prior to then most Empires had a religious part. The symbol of the beast that we see here represented the Empires which existed prior to WW1. After WW1 the terrible beast was given to the burning fire, and what we have now are all of the other beasts under one beast symbol that Daniel chapter 7 said would be allowed to exist for a time. Those other beasts include the remnants of the governments that resulted from the fall of the kings—which are the pieces of Daniel’s image after it was shattered. They are still governmental beasts, but they have changed their form or types of governments after the war from kings that had claimed a Divine right to rule, to many different forms of government.

Several Power Blocks Existed in 1914

Both the Eastern and Western Empires prior to WW1, were made up of individual nations, but they had treaties and agreements that unified them politically and religiously into power blocks. Those are the power blocks or monarchies that existed at the start of WW1, when they began to war against one another. Before the time of 1914, the original Roman Empire had broken up into many different countries, which were grouped into 4 main power blocks. The treaties that they had made with each other, proved to be their downfall, because all of them were dragged into the war because of those treaties. The Empires that fell completely after WW1, were the Austria-Hungary, the Ottoman (Turkish) Empire, the Russian Empire, and the German Empire.

Only Individual Beasts Existed After the War

The nations or remaining beasts that came into existence after the war, were in most circumstances not interested in bowing down to Papacy or the Protestant churches, and they wanted to keep control of their own countries. Daniel does mention that after the terrible beast was destroyed which symbolized the church and state system, that the other beasts would continue for a time. Those remaining beastly governments are what exist now, and they are what must go just before the start of the kingdom.

Dan 7:11-12 (11 "Then I kept looking because of the sound of the boastful words which the horn was speaking; I kept looking until the beast was slain, and its body was destroyed and given to the burning fire. 12 "As for the rest of the beasts, their dominion was taken away, but an extension of life was granted to them for an appointed period of time. NASU

That the broken-up nations after WW1 are still represented by the symbol of beasts, is why there needs to be one more blow on the governments that are still oppressing people and advocating war to get what they want. As shown in Daniel, the final blow on the church and state system, which is shown in the seventh bowl of wrath, continues to wear down the civil power all the way up to the point where the wind blows the pieces away just before the kingdom.

There actually may be three or even four blows on the evil system, because of the double application of the 1260, 1290, and 1335 chronology. In the first application, the church and state system was first struck in 1799, and it had its second and final blow in 1914. In the second application of the prophecy, there is an 118.5 year overlap after the blow of 1914-18, which most likely is Islam and perhaps other countries attacking Israel at the final battle. Islam had their first blow in 1918 which was when the Ottoman Empire went down, and also when Communism took over and suppressed them. They will have their final blow and downfall when they attack Israel.

Only Beast Symbol After WW1

The symbol of the remaining beasts is the only thing that exists during the remaining time, because Papacy evidently does not get his civil power of the image back, which was the 10 kings—they were destroyed after the war of 1914-18. That does not mean that some sort of cooperation between the churches and governments cannot happen, and unfortunately it already is at the present time.

The symbol of the remaining beasts was not going to be only struck once during the time of WW1, but the remaining beast's destruction was going to come upon them, like travail upon a woman, or in other words the crushing and grinding as seen in Daniel, would continue until the time that the wind blows the pieces away—several wars, and other difficulties were to take place during the time we are now in.

After WW1, the Satan controlled governments still existed as beasts, but they are in a greatly modified form, since the social, financial, ecclesiastical, and civil elements all changed after that war—began to melt as Peter had predicted. The society of the Old-World order, was the one that existed just before the war began, and it's that Old-World order that was changed or was mostly destroyed by the war. All those changes have made it impossible for Papacy and the Protestants to go back to the same church and state system that they had during the dark ages. That is the beast that was given to the burning fire. What is left of the modified power structure that came into existence after WW1, is what we believe will go down in the final trouble and whirlwind that comes at the end of the age. The only way those governments can survive into the kingdom, is if they repent and swear allegiance to the new king. The final phase of the destruction of the last three bowls of wrath, is guaranteed to accomplish the final and complete destruction of this beastly and evil system—which is shown in bowl seven.

Our Lord was tempted by Satan to fall down and worship him, and in exchange he would give him control over all the nations of the world. Jesus refused his offer, and in the end, our Lord Jesus is going to get the rulership of the entire world anyway, and it will be under the kingdom of the Father. Unfortunately the fallen church accepted Satan's offer of civil power, and the worst system in the history of the world resulted.

The False Prophet (All Christianity)

The religious part of the two-horned beast, which was Papacy with civil power, is the false prophet, which at the beginning of the 1260 years was Papacy. After the split in the church into the Protestants and others, the other churches are also a part of the false prophet, because they still contain the error of the mother church. Because of that error, the remnants of the original so-called Christianized religious systems, are now collectively called the False Prophet. The False Prophet represents the religious doctrines and lies that this entire religious system still propagates. Because all of Christendom descended from the original two-horned beast, we need to broaden our view of the False Prophet on this end of the age, to be not only Papacy, but to also include all the daughters who still hold the same Papal errors.

The False Prophet, which was the all of the different religious elements of the pre-war society, played a major factor in bringing the nations to war against each other in 1914AD. On both sides of the conflict, they were telling the soldiers that God was for them, and that if they got killed in battle that they would go immediately to heaven. We don't know of the different churches exact motivations, but it's possible that they had hoped that the war would bring about a change of fortune, which could restore their civil power back to them, especially if they blessed the efforts of the kings and Empires as they sent the armies to war.

Satan had tempted Jesus to throw himself off of the temple to prove that he was the Messiah, but Jesus refused. The early church accepted that offer, and the worst time of trouble came upon the world, as seen in the history of 539-1799. The false prophet started to bring out false doctrine in 325, then again in 381, and again after 539, and all of that evil error was used to support the development of the abomination of the church and state system. The false prophet of Papacy had turned into the two horned beast when he had gotten control over the civil property of the Papal states. The two horned beast was Papacy with civil power, and that is who showed signs and wonders, so as to create the image of the beast in 799. He later on took control of it, and that's when he gave arguments about why anyone that did not worship the image should be killed, which for sure began at the time of the inquisition—but the evil system killed through most of its history, even before that time. So all Christian religion which had descended from the false doctrines of the two horned beast, are all now collectively the false prophet again on this end of the age—they all lost the civil power horn in WW1, but kept their false prophet status because they kept all of the false doctrines.

Great Babylon Still Existed in 1914

We know that Great Babylon, which includes all of the daughter systems as well as Papacy, still existed as a symbol at the time that Christ came in 1874AD, because of the picture of how Cyrus dried up the water of the city of Babylon so that he could conquer the original Babylon. Cyrus pictures Christ, and the water of support is going to be dried up from the symbolic Great Babylon on this end of the age, as is shown in the sixth bowl of wrath, where our Lord dries up the water of support for the evil system. Paul shows us that same thing in second Thessalonians, in that he said that when Christ was going to come in his presence, that he would judge and then destroy the evil system. So, the prediction by Paul shows us that Great Babylon would still exist at the start of our Lord's Second Presence. Cyrus who pictures Christ, dried up the water so that the army could walk right into the city, and so we know that part of the picture began to be fulfilled after the start of the second presence in 1874AD. In Chapter 17, we will see that the harlot which was Papacy, was the mother of all the other harlots, and that collectively they all together make up the Empire of Great Babylon. The Papal system is symbolized by the name Great City, which was the capital of Great Babylon, because she was the mother of all of the other harlots.

The events of the last Seven bowls are showing the destruction of the entire evil system, but the last three bowls seem to especially show the beginning of the finishing off of the system. Which agrees with what Paul is saying about its destruction after our Lord returns, and that is confirmed because Christ mentions his 1874 presence in the parenthesis. After 1914-18AD, the civil power of both the Papal and the Protestant parts were destroyed or overturned in the war. The civil power of the Eastern Empires also fell, and a lot of the Eastern part was taken control of by Communism after 1918. Since then, the Lord has been breaking up the original large Empires, into smaller and smaller pieces.

What Happened to the Image?

One question that came up regarding the three characters that we see uttering the three unclean spirits, is why don't we see the Image of the Beast mentioned in those verses? We believe that is because the image was a part of the original Roman Beast, since it was a re-created Western Empire, and the Eastern Empire was the other half. The image was a Western Empire which was not really Roman since it was made up of German tribes. All of the East and Western Empires broke up into several different countries at the end of the Gentile Times in 1914AD, and because of that the image does not exist anymore. Germany was actually descended from those tribes, and its power was definitely destroyed in WW1, and so if the image still existed because of the linkage back to the original creation of the image, then we know it did not exist anymore because Germany was decimated in WW1.

What About the Roman Beast

Since both halves of the Roman Empire were a part of the original East and West Empire, which became a Christianized beast in 381, the scriptures seem to be referring to both halves of them under the same terrible beast symbol in Daniel chapter 7 and Rev chapter 16. Daniel says that the terrible beast was cast into the fire, which we believe was 1914, but after its destruction the other beasts were to be prolonged for an unknown amount of time—which appears to be the time we are in right now. Both halves are included in the punishment, because the breakup of the beast and the image created several power blocks, which together controlled the East and the West—the Lord treated both halves of the Empires as being corrupt. That the Lord considered them as being parts of the original terrible beast of the Roman Empire, is confirmed by the fact that when the 1914 battle began which destroyed the kings, took down both halves of the Empire.

If we look in Daniel, we see that the terrible beast Daniel saw was given to the burning fire, but there were to be other beasts that would prolong their lives for a time. Their final demise is pictured by the crushing and grinding up of the pieces of the statue, and the wind that blows the pieces away. So what we see, is that there are different events that happened after the battle of Armageddon had begun in 1914, which eventually will take everything down by the time of the final conflict—that destruction is especially shown in the step by step destruction of the symbols of the seventh bowl of wrath. When Elijah came out of the cave, he saw first the wind which was the 1914 war, then the earthquake which was the Communist revolution, and then he saw fire which is the symbol for anarchy. It appears that we are entering the anarchy phase, and the final destruction of the Satanic system at this time.

The symbol dragon is sometimes thought by some to be only Pagan Rome, and while that is partially true, we need to remember that Satan controls all the civil power in the world, Matt 4:8-10. The main core of the symbol of the dragon is only Satan, but when we first saw him in Chapter 12, we saw him with seven heads and ten horns—which were symbolic of the control he had over the civil and Pagan power of Rome, which existed at that early time of the church.

The crowns on the heads represented the various empires that Satan used to control the world, and the heads represents the history of the seven different Empires or forms of governments that Satan will have used throughout the entire time of history. The heads and horns of the dragon are shown as having moved to the beast in Chapter 13, which is Satan giving the Christianized beast his throne and power. That happened when Christianity had become an accepted part of the Empire in 313AD—that was when the seventh head came into existence, and that was the head that was smitten in 476 AD.

The beginning of chapter 13 shows the fallen head of the Roman Empire being healed, when the governments of the West formed a partially restored Roman Empire, but the ten kings kept their civil power to themselves—that is why the crowns were moved to the ten horns, which symbolized the total governmental power that made up the Western power. That civil power and Emperor Justinian is what gave Papacy the use of the army so that he could control the religion of both halves of the Empire. Papacy also acquired what had been the seat of the Old Roman Empire before it moved to Constantinople. God saw the new Christianized government as a dreadful beast in Chapter 13, which should tell us that God did not approve of the church joining together with the civil power of the Roman Empire. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast.

The Three Unclean Spirits

All three of these characters have spirits like frogs that come out of their mouths, which reminds us of how noisy croaking frogs are. Since these spirits are like frogs, that shows us that these were loud and boisterous proclamations. The illegal church and state power that the unclean spirits had promoted all through the time of the systems history, is one of the main things that brought the system into conflict with God on this end of the age, and that is why the kings have been brought to the war of the Great Day of God Almighty. Because this system is corrupt and fallen, they have been gathered to the battle so that they can be destroyed. See Joel Chapter 3, where we see them all being gathered to the battle of Jehoshaphat, where Jehovah has prepared a day of reckoning for them.

Unclean Spirits Proves These Lies Originated with Satan

The symbol of “unclean spirits”, shows us that all three lies originated with Satan who rules the spirit realm. He through the dragon symbol, uses the other two elements that he controls, which are the False Prophet and the beast, to help utter the unclean spirits, which we believe are three different lies—the False Prophet and the beast symbol are his ecclesiastical and governmental agents here on earth. The battle of Armageddon began with WW1, and for the same kinds of reasons continued again in WW2, further weakening the support of the people for the Old-World order. Likewise, we see other wars like the cold war, continued onward after the end of WW2. The final phase of the battle of Armageddon still lies ahead of us, and it will finish off the last of the religious and civil power opposition before God’s kingdom.

Cold War Changed to Radical Islam

The trouble of the cold war conflicts, is now being added to by the war on terror, which is caused by radical Islam that wants to overthrow the West and Israel, and to establish a final caliphate that will take over the world for Islam. The cold war had been cooling down, but that conflict seems to be also heating up again. Islam had recently established a caliphate that was Satanic in nature—as shown by the evil things that they were doing to the people and property. The Western nations had finally taken notice of that, and they are destroying it. The problem is that they have destroyed the caliphate, but that has scattered the evil Islamic radicles and their ideas all over the world—which may be the ideas that lead to the final conflict.

The Islamic war of terror has the same three lies of Satan behind it. They want to take over the world and its wealth, and to force their religious, civil, and social ideas onto everyone else. So, the heating up of the cold war, and the conflict with radical Islam, shows that we are getting closer to the final conflict. Since there are at least two different branches of Islam, we can’t be sure that the current one is the one that attacks Israel, only time will tell. The UN has recently voted against Israel, saying that they need to return back to their 1967 borders, and because of the UN being against them, it may actually be a mixed group of armies with UN support who come against Israel—only time and events will show us for sure what will happen.

The Western world wants to hang onto the wealth and natural resources that they have control of, and so they are against the forces of Islam. That Islam is involved is not surprising, since they are descended from one of the legs of Daniels Image. The remnants of the Papal religious system, together with the Protestant systems, are the other Western leg. Both Islam and what was Christendom are both False Prophets, and both are shown in the Old Testament prophecies.

Islam in Revelation?

The Study Group, tried to see if Islam is directly shown in the book of Revelation, as some have claimed, but we don't believe that is correct. The book of Revelation seems to deal mainly with what the fallen system has done to the saints during the 1260 years, and what God is going to do to them to destroy and punish that system. Some think that the stinging locusts are Islam in the fifth trumpet, but the locusts are commanded not to harm those who have the seal of God, and so they cannot be Islam, because Islam harmed the church when they took over the Christian lands in the east. The angel of the abyss who is Jesus as we showed in that trumpet, is also not over Islam as some think, but only over the faithful church.

Joel May Be Different

In the book of Joel, we notice that the locusts there are not given that same command, and so there could be some elements or parts of the army in Joel that are Islam. When we see the Islamic problem prophesied about in the Old Testament, we see that those prophecies show more about the conflict between them and the nation of Israel, which is what occurs at the end of the age where we are now. In those Old Testament prophecies, we eventually see Islam defeated, and Israel become the nucleus of the kingdom.

Satan is trying to establish a new counterfeit kingdom through Islam that he can use to control the people. We don't believe that our Lord will allow that to be successful, but we see that he might allow them to get a great deal of control and power before he removes them in time for the kingdom. It appears that Islam is getting increased power now, because it appears that they will be a part of the forces that attack Israel at the end, which is just before the kingdom is established..

The same thing is true of the Papal and Protestant churches, in that they would like to regain control of the civil power they had previously, so that they can return to the absolute control that they had over the people during the 1260 years. Likewise, we don't believe that the Lord will allow them to be successful very long, but if they do it may be very bad for the faithful church.

Section Outlining Things That Will Cause Satan's System to Fall

Greed is Good?

A big lie of Satan, is the idea that you are entitled to all material things, even if you must take them from someone else. Individualism, says to do what is right for yourself and satisfy your own self-interest, and don't worry about anyone else. The form of capitalism that has taken control of the world today is based on greed, and has no mercy for anyone that lacks the essentials for life. It's claimed that anyone who isn't doing their part, is a part of the problem, and that they don't deserve any help because that would cut into profits. Some of the politicians have even claimed that a science fiction book by Ayn Rand, called Atlas Shrugged, is the model that we should be following, which advocates cutting off the poor and the elderly from aid, most of which was paid into a trust fund by the very people that they want to take the benefits from. They seem to want to believe that this science fiction book is more authoritative than the Bible, which preaches that we are to help the poor, the elderly, and the disadvantaged, not steal from them.

In that book, the hero of the story and others withdraw any help from those that they claim are takers, which would be the poor, handicapped, unemployed, and the elderly retirees. In other words, they are against unemployment, Medicare, Medicaid, and things like Social Security, and other programs that help people. They claim that since they are the makers and building of things, that they deserve all the profit, and that they should not have to pay taxes to help anyone else unless they want to. That this idea is more widespread than we would have thought, is shown by one of the political parties using the phrase "we built that" as a chant at one of their political primaries, when they selected their candidate for president during a previous election cycle.

They forget that the workers who do the actual work, and who are not being paid enough to live on now, are those who build the things we use in this society. Because the workers are not paid enough to live very well, they also do not have the means to save for a retirement, unless the government sets up a program that is designed to save for them like Social Security. The rich people and owners of the factories, who have enough to retire upon, don't believe that they should have to contribute towards anyone else's retirement, and many of them want to do away with those programs. That greedy attitude is going to be one of the big things that will cause the final downfall of the system. That this system is destined to failure, is emphasized by the several economic crashes that have already occurred because of the extreme greed inherent in the system.

Socialism is the other side of the coin, which may be closer to the way the kingdom will operate, but it too has a very serious flaw, and that is that greed has caused that system to fail every time it has been tried. People do not want to work extra hard, unless they get a benefit from it.

The last financial crash that happened didn't teach the leaders of the nations any lessons, because the politicians are accepting money that is bribe money from the very people who caused that crash—it seems to be the same pattern at the time of each crash. The politicians lower the taxes on the rich and take all of the controls off of the financial markets. That type of corruption is what caused the last crash. The ones responsible were not arrested for their crimes of greed, even though they collapsed the world economy because of the bribe money that was paid to politicians. Even worse, they want the legislators to look the other way again, while they game the system even more, so that they can get even richer yet. The financial systems are still writing the rules for themselves, and because of that they have made sure to guarantee that they can continue to take big risks, so that they can continue to make lots of money and bonuses.

The few meager rules that were put back into place after the last crash, are already being repealed by the politicians who have been bribed by the banking system to have them removed. The last crash used up almost all the financial resources of the nations in bailing out the banks, so that they will not be able to afford to bail out of the system the next time, even if they even survive that final crash.

Isa 1:23 Your rulers are rebels And companions of thieves; Everyone loves a bribe And chases after rewards. They do not defend the orphan, Nor does the widow's plea come before them. NASU

Mic 7:3 Both hands are skilled in doing evil; the ruler demands gifts, the judge accepts bribes, the powerful dictate what they desire — they all conspire together. NIV

Any Penalty is Put on the People

The conservative elements, have gotten a great deal of control at the present time, and they don't believe in helping anyone but themselves and their rich friends. The banks don't want to lose any money, and so they have been putting all the losses on the working people, making them lose wages, retirements, houses, and other benefits etc. which is eventually going to cause the people to rise-up and resist the injustice, because they know that the rich caused the collapse that the common people to lose their money and houses in the first place. The situation will be especially bad if the crash happens again and the people lose even more, and they know it happened because of the rich and powerful bribing those who should have been protecting them with just laws.

Because the financial people are not taking the losses they caused, and instead are putting the losses on the people, that is what is causing the entire economy to stagnate and do poorly, because the poor and the middle class don't have the money to continue to live decently. The rich have recently changed the tax laws, so that all the excess money is flowing into their pockets. Another reason that people don't have money, is because the rich have moved all the jobs to places where the people are desperate, and they will work for extremely low wages. That has caused almost all the good jobs that used to exist, to have disappeared, or to reduce their pay.

The rich seem to have forgotten that it doesn't matter how many factories you own, if the people have no money to spend, the factory must shut down because the products that they are making, even if needed can't be bought by people who have no money or credit. If the people don't have enough to live on and they start to get hungry, the woman that banged on the empty bread pan that started the French Revolution in 1789AD, is still out there or at least her descendants are. There is a good reason why the book of James warns the rich about withholding the pay of their workers in the last days.

Riches are Going to Prove a liability Not an Asset, to the selfish

James 5:1-6 (5 And a final word to you arrogant rich: Take some lessons in lament. You'll need buckets for the tears when the crash comes upon you. 2 Your money is corrupt and your fine clothes stink. 3 Your greedy luxuries are a cancer in your gut, destroying your life from within. You thought you were piling up wealth. What you've piled up is judgment.

4 All the workers you've exploited and cheated cry out for judgment. The groans of the workers you used and abused are a roar in the ears of the Master Avenger. 5 You've looted the earth and lived it up. But all you'll have to show for it is a fatter than usual corpse. 6 In fact, what you've done is condemn and murder perfectly good persons, who stand there and take it.

Economic Problems Inescapable with Current System

Because of these problems, it appears that at some point in time, we will be heading back into a deep recession or even a deep depression, and there will be no money left to bail out the failing system, like there was in the time of Roosevelt or like the bailout that was just done in 2007, that mainly helped the rich. That kind of major failure will eventually bring on the final whirlwind of trouble, that will sweep away the remnants of the system so that the kingdom can begin. The collapse of the financial system will guarantee that the world will collapse into anarchy. After that time of trouble, in the kingdom our Lord will establish a financial system and methods of manufacture that are fair to all.

Good Employment For People is Needed

It's true that just giving people food is not the final answer, but the creation of good jobs so people can support themselves and their families is a necessity. It is a basic human right, that people should have food and shelter, but many well to do people do not want to pay for others that need those basics, no matter how desperate their situation is. One thing that is causing this, is that the rich are getting richer and are not passing along the wealth to the people. Their current plan is to eliminate the middle class, because they don't want to pay the higher wages, but the greedy rich don't seem to realize that the system as it exists today, will not support itself without a middle class—who is going to buy their products if the people don't have any money?

Greed Has Blinded them

Because of their greed, they are blind and they are sawing off the very limb that their own prosperity is based on. We see that the wages that people need to support their families, are being reduced to below the poverty level, so that greater profits can be made by those who are already wealthy. This is causing the divide between the rich and poor to become much greater, at a faster and faster rate. The wealth disparity that we have now, is greater than what it was just before the collapse of the economy in the Great Depression, and it collapsed then because the working people did not have any money to buy anything. Eventually, the wealth disparity will cause the entire evil system to collapse from the oppressive weight of its own greed. When there is no money to buy the products that the greedy rich are producing, then their businesses will go broke.

Selfishness and greed, are going to bring the system down on top of the heads of the rich and powerful. Perhaps they think that if they amass enough wealth, that they will be able to survive the coming trouble—but the Bible indicates otherwise. Even governments seem to be preparing for that kind of problem, by supplying the police departments with military equipment, because they believe that they can control the rebelling masses with military might. God has a different opinion.

Zeph 1:18 Neither their silver nor their gold will be able to deliver them in the day of the Lord's angry judgment. The whole earth will be consumed by his fiery wrath. Indeed, he will bring terrifying destruction on all who live on the earth."

Arab Nations Are Big Factor in Final Conflict

The Arabs could hold the rest of the world hostage to the supply of oil, and they may eventually use that power in the end to keep anyone from helping Israel. The other thing that could cause that kind of situation, is a major financial collapse. The people of the world and even some in the US, are turning against Israel now, blaming them for the trouble in the Middle East. But it's not Israel causing the trouble, it's the Arabs that want Israel destroyed. Looking at these things happening, it's not too hard to imagine what could cause the final battle of Ezekiel 38 and 39.

Right now, the Palestinians have gotten a legal claim to Jerusalem and a large part of Israel through legal maneuvers at the UN. Satan is working hard to try to justify Israel having to give up Jerusalem and much of their land. One previous president of the US, even stated that Israel should give their land back to the pre-1967 borders, which would also mean giving up Jerusalem. The UN has recently granted the Palestinians, non-member status, which helps to strengthen their claim to the land of Israel. They have also joined the world court, believing that the court will rule in their favor, and tell Israel that they must give up the land and the city of Jerusalem. Israel says that they would not listen to any such corrupt decision, setting up the reason for military intervention by the world governments.

Another way they are working on this, is that since the Arabs have gained some legal status in the UN, the next step is to try to get the UN to grant them national status, which would legalize their attempt to push Israel back to the pre-1967 borders, and which would give the city of Jerusalem back to the Palestinians. They have already demanded and will be continuing to try to establish that legal claim in the UN, and whether it's granted or not, they will claim that it should have been. The current Palestinian leader chastised Great Britain for celebrating the 100 years of the Belfour Declaration. He also said that they need to force Israel back to pre-1967 borders, giving up Jerusalem.

That UN decision, could allow the nations of the world to use that as legal justification to organize an attack against Israel by all nations who will agree amongst themselves that Israel should give everything up. We see that the Palestinians even admit privately that they don't intend to stop at the pre-1967 borders, but they want Israel completely gone. They think that they will be able to band together to completely defeat Israel and take control of the land, but as we know God has other plans.

Ps 83:2-5 (2 Even now your enemies are in tumult; those who hate you have raised their heads. 3 They lay crafty plans against your people; they consult together against those you protect. 4 They say, "Come, let us wipe them out as a nation; let the name of Israel be remembered no more." 5 They conspire with one accord; against you they make a covenant — NRSV

The logo of the Palestinian Liberation Organization's mission at the United Nations has no Israel on the map of the Middle East. The logo displays a map of "Palestine" covering all the lands that the Jewish state now inhabits. Israel is nowhere to be found on the map. The phrase "Palestinian Liberation Organization", is displayed at the top of the logo, and "National Unity" is below.

The Whirlwind Will Come From the Three Lies

The three lies continue and will eventually bring the conflict to a conclusion, in which the beast, the False Prophet, and the dragon all go down together in the final whirlwind.

We see all those battles prophesied about in Ezekiel Chapter 38 and 39. Not only do we see the literal battle or battles of those who want to eradicate Israel described in those Chapters, but certain parts of Chapter 39 seem to match up very well with the symbolism found in the latter part of Chapter 19 of Revelation. There we see the beast and the False Prophet that has attacked and harmed the faithful church all through the dark ages destroyed in those final battles. Some of that appears to be after the church is completed, because we see the Lord and the completed church involved in that final conflict.

The other participants in that final battles, are killed with the sword that comes from the mouth of him who sat on the white horse. That seems to indicate that a lot of those who are defeated in that final time are not going to be literally killed, but they will see through the sword of truth what has been going on in the world, and they will switch their allegiance to the Lord at that time.

Those who had worshiped the beast and his Image, will either have to give that worship up by the end of 100 years, or they will be literally thrown into the lake of fire—which would mean second death. If they give up that false worship, then only the false organizations will be what are cast into the lake of fire.

Revelation 16:15-16

Rev 16:15 ("Behold, I am coming like a thief. Blessed is the one who stays awake and keeps his clothes, so that he will not walk about naked and men will not see his shame.")

Rev 16:16 And they gathered them together to the place which in Hebrew is called Har-Magedon. (NAU)

The Lord Arrived in 1874AD

These two verses, are still a part of the parenthesis that we have already been looking at in verses 13 and 14. “Behold I am coming like a thief”, points us to the second presence of our Lord Jesus in 1874AD. Even before the time of 1874, Christ was working unseen on reducing the power of the system, preparing for the time of his second presence. When he arrived at his second presence, only those of the faithful church who were watching, understood that he had arrived to start taking control.

Keeping garment On Equals Ransom Doctrine

The rest of the corrupt church, refused to believe that he had returned, and they did not accept the harvest message. That harvest message included the belief in the doctrine of the ransom, and the message that there was going to be both a heavenly and an earthly salvation. Those who didn't accept the doctrine of the ransom were not covered by the robe of righteousness, and so in the symbolic sense of the verses above, they are walking naked—all their sins are still being held against them, because they have rejected the true salvation of the cross.

Rev 3:3 Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard, and hold fast, and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come on thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. (KJV)

Matt 24:42-44 (42 Watch therefore: for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come. 43 But know this, that if the Goodman of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken up.

44 Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh.

The apostle Paul in 2 Thessalonians tells us that our Lord was going to destroy Satan's system with his coming or presence. 2 Thess 2:8 And then the lawless one will be revealed, whom the Lord Jesus will overthrow with the breath of his mouth and destroy by the splendor of his coming. NIV That is why, we see that Revelation 16:15-16 is about the second presence, and the battle of Armageddon, and those two verses are inserted as a parenthesis into the description of the bowls of wrath. When our Lord arrived in his presence in 1874AD, he judged the evil system guilty. That was the same time that Satan was drawing the kings of the church and state system to the start of the trouble in WW1, in 1914AD. That war ended up destroying the kings, and the trouble that began there, continues today and it will go on until all the forces of Satan have been captured or neutralized.

If we look in Daniel chapter 7, we see that the terrible beast Daniel saw was given to the burning fire, but that there were other beasts that would prolong their lives for a time. Dan 7:11-12 (11 I beheld at that time because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake; I beheld even till the beast was slain, and its body destroyed, and it was given to be burned with fire. 12 And as for the rest of the beasts, their dominion was taken away: yet their lives were prolonged for a season and a time. ASV

Their final demise is pictured by the crushing and grinding up of the pieces of the statue, and the wind that blows the pieces away. Dan 2:34-35 (34 Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out without hands, which smote the image upon its feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them in pieces. 35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, broken in pieces together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshing-floors; and the wind carried them away, so that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth. ASV

So what we see happening, is that there are different events that happen after WW1 that had begun in 1914, which are designed to eventually take everything down. When Elijah came out of the cave after hiding, he first saw the wind which was war, then the earthquake which was revolution, and then he saw fire, which is anarchy. It appears that we are entering the anarchy phase of the destruction of the system.

Armageddon

Verse 15, sets the time frame for the gathering of all to the battle of Armageddon, or at least the beginning of it. Armageddon is an actual location in Israel where many important battles began against Israel's enemies, but here we see that it's symbolic of the final conflict between good and evil, which we believe began in 1914AD and which continues yet today—Pastor called WW1 a prelude to the battle of Armageddon. Many brethren think that the battle of Armageddon is all future yet, but we believe that it is not just a single battle, but that it's a series of events that are designed to remove Satan's system. The final conflict, will most likely be a very severe and it will be the final chapter in Satan's evil system, and that final battle will at the end match the expectations of those who are looking for the extreme trouble at the Battle of Armageddon.

Revelation 16:16 [Armageddon]-- Har, a mountain, and Megiddo, in Manasseh of Galilee, the scene of overthrow of the Canaanite kings by God's miraculous interposition under Deborah and Barak; the great plain of Esdraelon. Josiah, too, as ally of Babylon, was defeated and slain at Megiddo; and the mourning of the Jews just before God shall interpose for them against all nations confederate against Jerusalem, is compared to the mourning for Josiah at Megiddo <Zech. 12:11>. [Megiddo comes from gaadad (heb 1413), `cut off'-- i. e., slaughter. Compare <Joel 3:2,12,14>, where "the valley of Jehoshaphat" (i. e., `judgment of God') is mentioned as the scene of God's vengeance on the God-opposing foe. Probably some great plain, antitypical to the valleys of Megiddo and Jehoshaphat, will be the scene. (from Jamieson, Fausset, and Brown Commentary)

Joel Chapter 3 Pictures That Conflict

Joel Chapter 3, refers to a gathering to the Valley of Decision or the valley of Jehoshaphat, and that Chapter is a picture of the battle of Armageddon. The word decision means a thrashing sledge with sharp teeth. Joel also says, that the Day of the Lord is near in the valley of decision. The battle of Armageddon, is also pointing us back to the original battle of Jehoshaphat, which is in 2 Chron 20:20-25, in which Israel's enemies battled each other and destroyed themselves. God gave the victory at that time, and Israel didn't have to do anything.

God's Enemies Will Destroy Each Other

That is exactly what happened in WW1 and WW2, in that the nation's fought amongst themselves and destroyed their kingdoms, which is the same thing as what happened back in the historical time of Israel. We in the past have wondered if the two different doctrinal forces of Islam, the Sunnis, and the Shia, will also go to war against each other, or if they will together attack the former nations of Christendom, so that they will wear or tear each other down.

At the time of the editing this document, we see the conflict beginning to happen, with the Sunnis and Shia lining up against each other. The Issis Caliphate that was just defeated in the Middle East, was threatening the Western Powers with an attack that they thought would defeat the West and establish Islam as God's kingdom. In reply, the Western Powers are attacking the caliphate, reconquering land and cities at the present time. These events all bear watching, since they indicate that things are moving quickly along towards the final conflict, even if it is several years away, the final trouble will come for sure. The fighters from the caliphate are scattered all over the world, and that indicates further trouble before the kingdom. In other words, the remnant forces of the battles that have just occurred may come together, and they may at least be a part of the hoard of forces that form the final battle of Ezekiel 38-39.

Death of Josiah is Also a Picture of This

Zech 12:9-11, says there will be great mourning in Hadadrimmon, which is the same place Josiah the last independent king of Judah was wounded at so that he later died, and it's also called the mount of Megiddo. The word Armageddon in Revelation has two root words that together mean "mount of Megiddo". After Josiah's death, Israel was a subject first to Egypt and then to Babylon, then Medes and Persians, then Greece, and then finally Rome, never fully regaining their independent country again until in 1948AD. The death of Josiah may be a picture of the destruction of the civil power that the churches had control of prior to 1914. After 1914-18, the churches do not have any civil power at all anymore.

Zech 12:9-11 (9 And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

10 And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplications: and they shall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourned for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his firstborn.

11 In that day shall there be a great mourning in Jerusalem, as the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddo. (KJV)

The battle of Armageddon on this end of the age is pictured by the original mount of Megiddo, where many of the important battles of the Bible occurred. We think that this battle has already begun, and that the first part of that battle began when the kings that had been associated with the harlot were destroyed in 1914-18AD. The destruction is not limited to those kings, in that all the other bad elements of society are to be changed or removed in this battle. In the end of the age, all bad things will be shaken out, and only the good elements will remain, as we are told in Hebrews 12:26-28. That same thing is also pictured by the melting of the elements of society, mentioned in 2Peter 3:10-12.

Israel Losing Civil Power Pictures Church State Losing Civil Power

In the original battle of the Mount of Megiddo, Israel lost its civil power or independence as a nation when Josiah was killed, and that is a picture of what was going to happen to the church and state system on this end of the age. In WW1, we see that Papacy and the Protestant churches lost the last of their civil power in that war or soon after, just as what happened to Israel at the time of Josiah, and in a second picture in history, Israel totally lost their nation, which occurred at the battle of Masada at the First Advent, which is a picture of the 1918 destruction of the church and state system. The church and state system after WW1 no longer exists, because the war destroyed all the original kings that were in power with Papacy and the Protestants. What countries are left, are bits and pieces of the old Empires, which will pass away with the final whirlwind that will sweep the pieces away, so that the kingdom can begin.

Just as Israel had to learn many hard lessons during the 70 years that they were exiled, we see that the remnants of the church and state system on this end of the age, must eventually change their ways. Those who quickly learn the lessons will have an easy time and will enter the kingdom with great joy, but there will be others that resist and try to hold onto the old ideas, and the blessings will be withheld from those until they repent, Zech 14:16-19.

Heb 12:26-27 (26 When he spoke from Mount Sinai his voice shook the earth, but, "Next time," he says, "I will not only shake the earth but the heavens too."

27 By this he means that he will sift out everything without solid foundations so that only unshakable things will be left. (TLB)

Fallen Church is Blind & Naked

The fallen church doesn't understand what Christ has done for us. The doctrine of the Trinity keeps them from seeing the corresponding price that redeems us all from the fall of the race, and without that doctrine they don't have the robe of righteousness, and that lack of the robe here is described as them being seen walking naked. The refusal to accept the ransom doctrine has left the nominal churches during the seventh period of the church without any legal means of salvation, and so unless the individuals who are in them open the door of their heart to the Lord when they hear him knocking, they are left spiritually blind and naked.

They are naked because they don't have the robe of righteousness that was provided by Christ's blood, and they don't even know it. We will see the doctrine of the ransom again in the seventh plague, where the hail which is about the weight of a man, falls on the evil system in order to destroy its error so that the people are freed, which is so that they can enter into the kingdom.

Rev 3:17-22 (17 'Because you say, "I am rich, and have become wealthy, and have need of nothing," and you do not know that you are wretched and miserable and poor and blind and naked, 18 I advise you to buy from Me gold refined by fire so that you may become rich, and white garments so that you may clothe yourself, and that the shame of your nakedness will not be revealed; and eye salve to anoint your eyes so that you may see. 19 'Those whom I love, I reprove and discipline; therefore be zealous and repent. 20 'Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if anyone hears My voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and will dine with him, and he with Me. 21 'He who overcomes, I will grant to him to sit down with Me on My throne, as I also overcame and sat down with My Father on His throne. 22 'He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.'" NASU

Bowl 7 Revelation 16:17-21

Rev 16:17 Then the seventh {angel} poured out his bowl upon the air, and a loud voice came out of the temple from the throne, saying, "It is done."

Rev 16:18 And there were flashes of lightning and sounds and peals of thunder; and there was a great earthquake, such as there had not been since man came to be upon the earth, so great an earthquake {was it, and} so mighty.

Rev 16:19 The great city was split into three parts, and the cities of the nation's fell. Babylon the great was remembered before God, to give her the cup of the wine of His fierce wrath.

Rev 16:20 And every island fled away, and the mountains were not found.

Rev 16:21 And huge hailstones, about one hundred pounds each, came down from heaven upon men; and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail, because its plague was extremely severe. (NAU)

Rev 11:17-19 ("We give You thanks, O Lord God, the Almighty, who are and who were, because You have taken Your great power and have begun to reign. 18 "And the nations were enraged, and Your wrath came, and the time came for the dead to be judged, and the time to reward Your bond-servants the prophets and the saints and those who fear Your name, the small and the great, and to destroy those who destroy the earth." 19 And the temple of God which is in heaven was opened; and the ark of His covenant appeared in His temple, and there were flashes of lightning and sounds and peals of thunder and an earthquake and a great hailstorm. NASU

It is Finished

When we examined the Greek word "finished" in the study, we found that it is not the same word as was used by our Lord on the cross, when he said that it is finished, which is Strong's word # 5055, meaning it is completed. Here in the seventh bowl of wrath, it is word number 1096, which means to cause to be, which indicates that the final phase of the destruction that was about to begin, was going to be caused by the final pouring out of this last bowl. So, while it was tempting to say that the statement about it being finished, was referring to the close of the church as some think, we can see that thought is not supported by the Greek word that was used.

Right now, we believe that we are still in the time of the events of bowls five, six and seven, and we saw earlier that the destructive work of bowls 5-6, were not shown in the description of those bowls as being fully completed, as we will explain more completely in this section. Why would the Lord pour out a bowl on a particular symbol of this evil system, and not fully destroy it? We believe that what we are being shown, is that bowls 5-6 did not complete their work during the 1914-18 destruction of the system. The same thing will be true here in bowl seven, where we will be given a more complete look at the description of the downfall of Great Babylon, but we will still need to look at other visions of that destruction like chapters 18-19, to get the full story—as we mentioned earlier, there are seven different pictures of the downfall of Great Babylon that we need to look at together in order to get the full description.

The initial work of bowl five and six, did a great deal of destruction on those elements of the church and state system, but we believe that more civil power and removal of support for Satan's system needs to be accomplished in time for the kingdom, and we will see the final details of some of that being accomplished in bowl seven, and in even more so in Rev chapter 18-19.

Rev 16:17 Then the seventh angel poured his bowl into the air; and a loud voice came out of the sanctuary from the throne, saying, "Everything is now ready." Weymouth

Rev 16:17 The seventh angel emptied his bowl into the air. A loud voice came out of the Temple, from the throne, saying, "The end has come!" PHILLIPS

Weymouth and Phillips may have a more correct thought, by saying it is now ready, or the end has come, rather than saying it is done. It seems better to look at the pouring out of the seventh bowl, as being the last thing needed to finish off Satan's system, so that the final and full destruction of the evil system can begin to be completed step by step. That thought seems to be borne out by the series of events that began to happen after the seventh bowl was poured out. The seventh and last bowl of wrath, is the last of the three bowls of wrath which have a much longer time of operation or destruction, which began when they destroyed the power of the evil church and state system, and then in their full and final application of their destruction of Satan's system, they destroys his entire worldwide system of things.

Seventh bowl Summery

The pouring out of the seventh bowl upon the air, starts limiting and removing Satan's control over the earth. The first major problem that Satan had, was that the kings that he had controlled for over 1000 years, were destined to be destroyed by the end of WW1. WW1 caused the breakup of the Great City into its original three parts, resulted in the fall of the kings who no longer existed after 1918, and the only civil powers that still exist at this time, are no longer a part of a Christian church and state system. The churches no longer are supported by the kings or vice versa, and so they are on their own. Satan has much less control over world events after the breakup, and the splitting up of his Empire Great Babylonian Empire. Our Lord is winding the binding the chain of chapter 20 around him, more and more as time goes on.

The earthquake caused the breaking up of the Great City, which was the Papal church and state system as it existed prior to 1914. The cities of the nation's falling, are the loss of the kings and their governments. The symbolism that shows us how to interpret the cities as governments, is taken from the symbol of the city of the New Jerusalem being God's government, which will take over rulership of the earth after the time of trouble is over.

The fleeing of the islands, and the fact that the mountains are gone in this prophecy, point us to the fall and breaking apart of all large power blocks during this end time. The colonial Empires that still existed at the time of WW1 and WW2, are all broke up into smaller nations by the time of this editing in 2018. The fall of the USSR is another example which shows us that the removal of the mountains is an ongoing process, which may have begun its final phase in 1989 when the Soviet Union collapsed. The date 1989 is pointed to by the last 2520 cycle of time, as seen in the book, "The Divine Plan and Its Chronology".

The breakup of the EU, which appears to be beginning to happen at the time of this writing, with the splitting off of Great Britain, is another possibility of a union of different nations which is breaking up into smaller pieces at this time. The breaking up of the governmental power that existed just before WW1, is prophesied in Daniel chapter two, with the pieces of the statue representing different Empires were broken up into pieces which are gradually being blown away. The US and its trade partnerships are also starting to have problems at the present time—the current president is breaking apart the trade partnerships that existed at the time he became president. In other words, the tendency during this time up to the end, will be to break up the larger nations and trade blocks into smaller pieces, as is shown in Daniel and the smiting of the statue.

One other interesting possibility regarding this last bowl of wrath, is that some of the symbols used in it appear to come from Ezekiel 38:17-23. This should not be surprising since we have found out that not all parts of Ezekiel 38:1-23, 39:1-29 apply to the final battle against the returned nation of Israel. One part applies to Revelation chapter 19 and the final battle pictured there is taken from Ezekiel 39:17-20. The part that appears to apply here, is Ezekiel 38:17-23. We see in that chapter of Ezekiel a great earthquake, which appears to be the same earthquake as the one that split the Great City into three parts. The beast of the field, is the beast that is captured in chapter 19, all the mountains falling down, is the removal of all of the great kingdoms and colonial empires. The pestilence and blood is shown in the earlier bowls of wrath, and that is used to punish those who had worshipped the beast and the image. We also see the hailstones, that here is said to be the weight of a talent, and the fire and brimstone are the final destruction that the beast, the false prophet are cast into.

Ezek 38:17-23 (17 'Thus says the Lord GOD , "Are you the one of whom I spoke in former days through My servants the prophets of Israel, who prophesied in those days for many years that I would bring you against them? 18 "It will come about on that day, when Gog comes against the land of Israel," declares the Lord GOD , "that My fury will mount up in My anger. 19 "In My zeal and in My blazing wrath I declare that on that day

there will surely be a great earthquake in the land of Israel. 20 “The fish of the sea, the birds of the heavens, the beasts of the field, all the creeping things that creep on the earth, and all the men who are on the face of the earth will shake at My presence; the mountains also will be thrown down, the steep pathways will collapse and every wall will fall to the ground. 21 “I will call for a sword against him on all My mountains,” declares the Lord GOD . “Every man’s sword will be against his brother. 22 “With pestilence and with blood I will enter into judgment with him; and I will rain on him and on his troops, and on the many peoples who are with him, a torrential rain, with hailstones, fire and brimstone. 23 “I will magnify Myself, sanctify Myself, and make Myself known in the sight of many nations; and they will know that I am the LORD .”

Similarity of Seventh Trumpet to Seventh Bowl of Wrath

When we examine what was in the seventh trumpet that this bowl of wrath links and relates back to, we find that it says that the nation’s became angry. The seventh trumpet also says that the time of your wrath came, which is referring to God’s wrath. That wrath is the same wrath that we are looking at regarding all of the seven bowls of wrath, which it tells us completes the wrath of God when it says it is finished in this bowl of wrath. The word wrath, confirms that the time and events of the seventh trumpet, overlap the start of the time of the seven bowls of wrath, as will be shown in the similar events.

Temple Being Opened is Similar

To help confirm that some of the events are similar, we see that the seventh trumpet also showed us the temple being opened in heaven, and that is the same event that we saw when the seven angels with the bowls of wrath came out of the open temple in Chapter 15.

Some of Same Events as Seventh Trumpet?

Since there are similar symbols in both the seventh trumpet, and the seventh bowl of wrath, the question becomes this, are those symbols referring to the same events or are they showing two different sets of events with the same symbols? They appear to be the same events regarding God’s wrath, with the seven bowls of wrath supplying us with more detail than what we see in the seventh trump—taking us step by step towards the end of the age. Part of the message of the seventh trump was that the punishment of God and his Son was going to come upon the evil system and finish it off, and that is what the seven bowls of wrath show us being accomplished.

Seven Bowls of Wrath Give us the Final Details of What Seventh Trumpet Showed

The seven bowls of wrath, appear to be showing us the fine details of what the seventh trumpet does not show us. Rev 11:19 And the temple of God which is in heaven was opened; and the ark of His covenant appeared in His temple, and there were flashes of lightning and sounds and peals of thunder and an earthquake and a great hailstorm.
NASU

The seventh bowl is going to show us an outline of detail about what it is doing to remove Satan's evil worldwide system, and to end the Satanic control over the earth. In this seventh bowl of wrath, we will see the step by step detail of what is going to be eliminated. The seventh bowl, will help prove that the work of all of the last three bowls continues all the way to the end of the age, by showing us the symbols of the system that are being removed during the last period of time before the kingdom. To get the full picture, all seven pictures of the destruction of Great Babylon need to be included in this study—especially chapters 18-19. We will see the symbolism of civil power being hit, which includes the throne of the beast, and we will see the fall of hard hail on Babylon's errors, which is symbolized by the drying up of the Euphrates. The hard and heavy hail, also symbolizes hard and strong truth, which is especially the ransom doctrine, and that hail will be exposing the Pagan error that keeps the people locked up and not being able to cross the symbolic river Euphrates into the kingdom of God.

Seven Blows Against Ecclesiastical System Three Against Earth Society

Since we have three woe trumpets and seven bowls of wrath, we find that they add up to a total of ten plagues. Before we begin, we wish to mention that we need to keep the ten plagues of Egypt in mind when we discuss the Revelation plagues. There are many similarities, like for example the first three plagues fell on both the Israelites and the Egyptians, and the same thing was true of the three woe trumpet, in that they struck the faithful as well as the fallen church. The last seven plagues only fell upon the Egyptians, and not the Israelites, which pictures the faithful church escaping the plagues, by coming out in the harvest. We noticed something else interesting, in that the first seven plagues, counting the three woes as being the first three plagues, strike mostly Ecclesiastical parts of the church and state system. The last three bowls, which also strike some Ecclesiastical symbols, seem to be more directly aimed at the civil power and social structure of Satan's worldwide system.

(1-3) In the first seven plagues, we see that the three woe trumpets are mostly against the fallen church and its false doctrines, but they also hit some earthly civil power elements, especially in the seventh trumpet. Then when the seven bowls begin to be poured out, we have the same situation, in that more ecclesiastical symbols during the first four bowls are hit, than earthly ones.

- (4) the first bowl strikes the worshipers of the beast and the Image.
 (5) In the second, God's spirit is removed from the system by the turning of the water to blood, so that they can't drink it to refresh their spiritual life.
 (6) In the third, the turning of the doctrinal rivers and fountains of water to blood, so that their new doctrines are leading away from spiritual to worldly ideas.
 (7) In the fourth, the light of the sun causes them to be smitten with severe heat, which are strong truth doctrines of truth scorching them.

The last three bowls, seem to be more concerned with earthly things that will lead to the kingdom, although they do hit some ecclesiastical symbols. The difference in the last three, reflects the switch from the main mission of judging and removing the fallen church and state system out of a position of power, to the different mission of removing the control of Satan's civil power and society out of the earth, so that the people can be free to choose the kingdom when it comes.

The last three bowls do not show us the completion of the destruction of the symbols that they strike, they only show what was accomplished on the Babylonian church state system. In order to see the full destruction of the symbols, we need to look at other pictures of the destruction, like chapters 18-19.

- (8) The striking of the throne of the beast, which removed the civil power out of the churches, and it destroyed the Monarchies.
 (9) The drying up of the water of the Euphrates, which represents the drying up of the support of the earthly people for the Old world Order which existed before 1914.
 (10) The breaking up of the Great City, which breaks apart church and state, removing the kings of the earth so that it has no civil power, and taking Satan's Spiritism type control of those systems away. We also have the removal of the cities of the nations, and the mountains, which represent large civil power groups being removed. The hard truths of the hail shows us that the doctrines of the mass and that fallen church system have no salvation in them at all.

The Symbol of the Air

Eph 2:1-2 (1 You were dead through the trespasses and sins 2 in which you once lived, following the course of this world, following the ruler of the power of the air, the spirit that is now at work among those who are disobedient NRSV

That this last bowl is poured out on the air, shows that it's poured out on the spiritual powers that have controlled the world, including the Satanic power that controls the fallen Christian church system. Our Lord began to bind Satan step by step at the time of his return, but the full binding is not completed until the very end of the Gospel Age.

The previous 6 bowls, each had a symbol to destroy, and they were all poured out on their respective symbols. This the seventh and last bowl, and it destroys the powers of the air that Satan uses to keep control of the world. With all seven parts of Satan's system completely destroyed, there will be nothing left standing in the way of God's kingdom.

This Bowl Also Strikes the Fallen Churches Control

The powers of religious control that we see struck here, included the Papal system, as well as the Protestant and the Eastern Orthodox churches that were in control of earthly kingdoms prior to 1914AD. Since Satan is in control of all false religion, this bowl will eventually affect all false religions like Islam, Buddhist, etc., and remove them from the earth, but initially this bowl starts with the fallen Christian churches, because their time of punishment began in 1914AD. Just as the Judgment began with the Jewish house in 33 AD at the First Advent because of the 1845 parallel judgement, it also struck the nominal house of the Great Babylonian system at the Second Advent, again through the 1845 year parallel which this time pointed to 1878 AD. After the pronouncement of judgment in 1878 AD, we then see that the punishment of the church and state system began in 1914—which was pointed to by the 2520 years of Gentile control.

1 Peter 4:17 For the time (is come) for judgment to begin at the house of God: and if (it begin) first at us, what (shall be) the end of them that obey not the gospel of God? ASV

Satan is the head of the controlling spiritual powers, and he has manipulated the entire system throughout the entire age. This is the very same religious system that is guilty of having tortured and killed our Lord's saints all through the Gospel Age, and the day of vengeance has come upon that evil system to punish them for what they have done. The destruction starts with the evil church state system, because Christ promised the faithful church that the evil things that this system had done to the faithful would be punished and destroyed when he came, and we see that he has kept his word, because the destruction has begun in 1914, right on time.

The removal of Satan's system of control over the world, will also be a process that continues until the evil system is weakened and destroyed enough so that the people of the world can also escape from error across the Euphrates, walking on the highway of holiness.

Lightning & Thunder

The flashes of lightning and the thunders that we see described here, are the truth that is being revealed at the harvest time and onward in the spiritual heavens. Since the harvest time message was broadcast into the spiritual heavens starting in 1878AD, the truth that was revealed has been echoing back and forth in the ecclesiastical heavens like thunder. The light of truth from those flashes of light, have exposed the sins of Great Babylon, and foretold of her judgment and destruction. A big part of this message of truth is the ransom doctrine, which all other doctrines are linked to.

That message of truth was not believed by that evil system at the harvest time, just as Israel didn't believe what Jesus had accomplished at the First Advent harvest. That disbelief caused lightning, thunder or controversy in the heavens, because no one wants to admit that the churches that they had attended since birth were guilty of such horrible crimes. The proof of the predicted judgment and destruction came in 1914AD, right on schedule with the outbreak of WW1 and the great earthquake that took the evil system down.

The seventh trumpet also showed us the beginning of the same lightnings and thunders, and the same earthquake that we see here, and finally the hail. For that reason we believe that this bowl of wrath seems to start out concurrent with the seventh trumpet, and it covers the same events, but it includes much more detail. That the same lightnings, and thunders occur a second time in the bowls, could indicate that the same truth will need to be broadcast a second time, but it is most likely reinforcing the fact that a lot of the seventh trump falls at the same time as the bowls of wrath.

Message of Truth Continues until End

There may be more flashing of lightning and thunder that must come at the very end, but we won't know exactly what that final message of truth will be, until that time has come. It may be that the church will have one more message of truth about the coming kingdom to deliver before the Gospel Age's completion, or it may be that God will bring about the revealing of truth by natural means, where the people begin to see the truth about the religious systems on their own because of the pouring out of the Holy Spirit. If there is a final message, that message could be about Israel and their impending final attack by enemies of God, or it could be about Israel's soon to come role in God's government.

Elisha?

We suspect that the most likely situation, is that the church may have one more message of truth to deliver, even if it is not shown here. That last message may be pictured by Elisha smiting the waters a second time as we mentioned earlier, but only time will tell. We believe that there is a very good possibility that Elisha represents more than the just the Great Company. The key that makes that possible, seems to be in the request that he made of Elijah to be given a double portion of his spirit. An inheritance of a double portion, is the inheritance of the first born—which is what the church gets. Elijah did not say that he could not get that double portion, but he only said that it was a hard thing that he asked, and he also said that Elisha had to see him go for him to get it.

That seems to say that some of the Elisha class could be selected for the 144,000, but not all of them would be, because some could be destined to remain on earth or some could be Great Company. Some of the Elisha class may also be some that have not completed their consecration yet. The reason for that conclusion, is that we see that Elisha as a type eventually crossed over the Jordan, and he began to do kingdom like miracles, and so we see that some of those represented in the symbol of Elisha, were not selected by God to be of the heavenly church, and they will only have an earthly salvation. In other words, Elisha seems to represent several different classes of salvation, perhaps because after the 40 year harvest, there is only a gleaning class of the church working, which may have several different rewards to work for—some for the earthly class and some for the heavenly class.

Satan Gradually Removed From Control

Satan has controlled the powers of the air from behind the scenes throughout history and he begins to be separated from that power with the pouring out of this bowl. The start of this bowl doesn't mean that Satan has been completely bound immediately, but it means that he is beginning to be bound and to lose his control of power to the new king. He is being bound by the chain of Revelation Chapter 20, link by link, taking away in steps, different things that he can still do. All of the elements of society that Satan uses to control the people, are going to be gradually removed from his control. The three lies of the unclean spirits that he has been using to control the people all through the age and at the end, will be exposed as being untrue by the time of the establishment of the kingdom.

Great Earthquake

What happens first after the seventh bowl is poured out, is first described as lightning and thunder, and then what is described as a great earthquake, in which the city is split into three parts. What city was that? It was the Great City of Papacy that represents the Papal church and state system. In Rev 17:18 the harlot riding on the beast, is also called that Great City. In Chapter 18, we will see that the daughter systems are a part of the symbol of Great Babylon, and so all of the false Christian churches are being punished under the symbol of Great Babylon. We see that shown in the pouring out the cup of wrath on all of Great Babylon, and that is done because they all have the same errors of the mother harlot. God does not care that they divided into different branches of Christianity, because they are all descended from the same original Great City, which is the harlot of Papacy, and most of the daughters are guilty of bringing their false Papal doctrines with them when they separated from the mother church.

It's not clear if the wine of the cup of the fierce wrath of Jehovah, is a separate cup from God's wrath that is mentioned in Rev 11:18, or if the angel is just emphasizing what this bowl of wrath is all about. We think that it is most likely the same wrath of God, and it seems to be telling us in both places that God's wrath is going to come upon that system because it is time. God's wrath was going to destroy the entire system so that there is nothing left of it, and at the same time making sure that it can't return.

Three Parts of the City

The city being split into three parts, is a description of the Great City being divided back into the three parts from which it had originally come from. The question is, what were those three parts? It should be obvious that whatever the 3 parts of the city were, the great city of Papacy would have contained those same parts through all of the 1000 years of its power. We believe that the three parts are directly related back to the three evil characters that are shown in the parenthesis which is after the sixth bowl of wrath, and they are the dragon, the beast, and the False Prophet.

The three parts of the city are the different elements of Papal society that were created by those three evil characters lies, which we examined at the beginning of Rev 16:13-14. We provided some reasoning as to why those three unclean spirits or lies, were related to the lies of Satan's temptation of Jesus. Jesus passed the test of those lies, but the fallen church did not, because they accepted Satan's offer—failing on all three tests.

The civil power of the throne of the beast was struck and darkened by bowl 5, the support of the false religion of Papacy and the Protestants was started to be dried up by the sixth bowl, and Satan's mysteries of spiritualism and Paganism, and his behind the scenes control which had been brought into the fallen church, was struck by the seventh bowl. Rev 17:5 and on her forehead a name was written, a mystery, "BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH." NASU

The Great City was made up of the civil power of Rome, and the Papal church system and later in history it included the daughter systems. The city also included the Pagan dragon or Satan, who was behind the scenes controlling every evil thing that happened. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast. It's called the Great City, because that city symbolize the original government of the Papal system, which was the church and state system of the Western Empire that was formed by the crowning of Charlemagne. That event formed the Empire of the image of the beast, which Papacy eventually began to ride and control, as seen in chapter 17.

As time went on, the religious part of the Great City split off the Protestant daughter systems, who are also harlot systems, because they also had similar church and state systems, with the same condemning doctrines. The several religious parts that were generated by the Reformation, are pictured by symbol of Great Babylon. Papacy started the Great City, which later grew into Great Babylon, because it contained all the daughter systems as described in chapter 17. By the time we get to chapter 18, and the fall of Great Babylon, the city is a mixture of all of the daughters, which are different branches of false Christian religion, just as the city of Babylon had many different captured people from other countries in it.

They were all a part of Great Babylon, because all the different church groups that split off, still had all the same false doctrines of hell fire, Trinity, and the mass, etc. We are not sure if other religions rather than Christianity are included in Great Babylon, but we don't think so, because the name Great Babylon was written on the harlots forehead, symbolizing the corrupted and Paganized thinking of Christianity. In this part of the prophecy, which tells us about the splitting up of the city into different parts in 1914-18, the symbol Great Babylon applies to both Papacy and the daughters.

The symbol of Great Babylon, which includes the daughter systems, was hit by the pouring out of God's cup of wrath on her. That shows that the daughters of Babylon the Great, all had the cup of the wine of God's fierce wrath poured out on them at the same time that the Great City of Papacy was being broken up into the three parts. That comprehensive destruction occurred in 1914-18, and the war that resulted in the fall of all of the kings, were all deeply involved with both Papacy and the Protestants.

All of the daughter systems are symbolized as being in Great Babylon together, to again show that none of them are going to escape the judgment, and the wrath of God—they are all guilty, because they all follow the same corrupted doctrines, and they all formed or kept church and state systems when they split away from Papacy.

The Three Parts of Great Babylon The Dragon

The dragon which is Satan, controls all elements of society from behind the scenes, throughout the entire world, religious, social, financial, and civil power. All of those elements of society were used by the dragon Satan, in order to bring the evil system into existence, and now those elements are being removed from that fallen system, helping to separate the fallen church system back into the original three parts.

Satan also controls all of the corrupt angels behind the scenes—using them to carry out his evil works. He is known as the father of lies, which is one of his favorite tactics, which he uses to lead the people and the saints astray. He is the reason that Paganism was brought into the church, and that is why Paganism is a key characteristic of the symbol of the dragon. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast.

Satan is also the accuser of the brethren, in that he is always trying to claim that the saints are not worthy for one reason or another. In the dark ages, he was always behind the scenes, supplying the reasons as to why the saints should be tortured or killed by the evil system. His main goal is to defeat the church, so that he won't be defeated and be bound up in the abyss by the Lord, and lose control over the earth and all of society.

Lost Church & State Civil Power

As our Lord began to take control of his kingdom after 1914, Satan who is the Pagan dragon, is gradually being forced to give up his control of the world. That loss of control by and after WW1, is the process of the step by step binding of Satan, as we will see described in Chapter 20. His kingdom of church and state was shattered by the loss of the kings in WW1, and that has left him with no easy means to inflict his will on those who don't agree. He can still use oppressive governments to kill the saints and Jews, like what occurred in Germany in WW2.

He has been working hard to keep control over the other aspects of society that he still has, so that he can keep control of the masses of people of the world. His control over the people in the Papal church, was greatly weakened by the simple fact that he cannot have the church officials order the civil power to kill those who had rebelled against the false church. He could do that during the height of the systems power, which was when he controlled the civil power. He still has his superstitious control of the people, but a lot of the people in the more educated countries, are not as superstitious as they used to be, and a lot of them have simply lost their faith in religion.

Still Attacks with False Doctrine

Satan is still active in trying to defeat the church, but he can't use the physical attacks as much without his civil power, so he is trying to corrupt the saints mentally with Pagan doctrines that the fallen church systems still have. Unfortunately, we see historically that some have fallen for that tactic, but we know that the 144,000 will be completed no matter what, and then he will be fully bound after that. As wonderful as the message of the Divine Plan of the ages was back in Pastors time, many still fell away after his death, which shows how dangerous Satan is.

Tries to Eliminate the Jews

He has also tried to have the Jews exterminated, so that they couldn't return back to their homeland, but our Lord turned that around on him. The attempt to exterminate them was the means by which they were brought back to their nation after almost 2000 years. The attempt to push Israel into the sea is still going on, but evidently he thinks he can ignore the scriptures that tell of his defeat at the end of the age.

Controls the Financial

The financial part of the world that he controls, has been knocked down several times, but he continues to restore it each time, because greed is a great method to control the people. In the end, the collapse of the financial system will most likely be the element that takes everything else down when it goes, and it wouldn't be surprising if greed is what causes or triggers the collapse, since greed is one of the three lies uttered by the unclean spirits in the parenthesis of the sixth bowl.

In the next symbol which is the beast, we will see some of the nations who do not want to give up their power to our Lord, and who are still oppressing the people.

The Beast

The beast that was one-third of this city, is the civil power of the Christianized Roman beast. The nations of the Eastern Orthodox had the Eastern Roman Empire, and the Papal system had the Western part of the Empire under its control. The two halves of the Empire, together are the Apostate Christianized beast that is described as rising-up out of the abyss in Chapter 11, and that beast is what attacked the two prophets of the Old and the New Testament and it killed them by banning their use by the laity, and by keeping them in dead languages. Chapter 11, is the first Chapter where we see the Great City of Papacy described, and that is the time that the Bible was overcome by the beast for 1260 years.

The Cup of God's Wrath on Great Babylon

The cup of the wrath of the wine of God's fierce wrath in this bowl, is poured out on the entire system of false Christianity, which is called Babylon the Great. The Image of the Beast did not exist at all after WW1, because all of Papacies civil power had been removed with the loss of the Kings. That corresponds to the casting of the terrible beast that was seen by Daniel into the fire that consumed it. The other beastly governments still exist, but they are not the same type of governments anymore, and Daniel says that some of them will still exist for a set time, but he does not tell us how long that will be.

The False Prophet Contains all Christianity

The false prophet is the religious third of the Great City. The false prophet started out in 313 AD, when Christianity had their doctrines corrupted by the merger with Rome, and the use of church councils to decide doctrine instead of the scriptures. When it had acquired a civil power horn with the acquisition of the Papal States, it then became the two horned beast through much of the history of that system. When both Papacy and the Protestants lost control of their civil power by the end of WW1, the religious part of both the Catholics and the Protestants became the false prophet. Just as the harlot on the beast who was Papacy, is only a part of Great Babylon, we see that Papacy is only a part of the False Prophet at this time. The original False Prophet now includes all of the churches of the daughter systems, because they all have descended from the Pagan doctrines of the original two-horned beast of Papacy. That is why they are called daughter systems in Chapter 17. The False Prophet of Pagan Christianity, along with the Dragon who is Satan, and the beast which is made up of what is left of the civil power, are the three entities who we saw spewing out unclean spirits in the sixth bowl.

The Protestant churches when they had left Papacy, had kept the kings in power that belonged to the part of the kingdoms that they controlled. WW1 and the loss of almost all kings who had been a part of the original church and state system, has made the restoration of the church and state system impossible, for not only Papacy, but also for the Protestants. That is one of the results of the pouring out of the cup of the wine of the fierce wrath of God on Great Babylon, in that church and state system is finding it almost impossible to get back together—although they are trying to regain church and state power anyway. We believe that they may be able to get limited control of some governments and perhaps persecute the last of the church, but it definitely means that they won't be able to restore the original church and state Empire of the Great City of the Papacy.

Eastern Churches Are Part of False Prophet

The Eastern churches are also included in the False Prophet symbol, because they got their corrupted doctrines from Papacy when they were under Papal control during the time of the first four churches, and so they hold many Babylonian doctrines in common. There was only one church to begin with during the first four church periods, and only later on in history after they were already corrupted by Paganism, did the East and Western Empire split into two parts. The total corruption of the church by the end of the fourth church, is shown in the first four seals, and trumpets.

The Breakup of the Great City and the cup of Wrath

So what has happened in this bowl, is that the three parts that had made up the composite church and state system, are after 1914AD irrevocably separated into their individual three components. We have the Pagan dragon or Satan having lost much of his control of the church and state system. Papacy used to be able to have anyone that disagreed with his Pagan system persecuted or even killed, but in most situations after that time he has not had that option, except perhaps during the time of Nazism, when they cooperated with Hitler and they rounded up and sent both Jews and Bible Students to the death camps. The civil power that was symbolized by the Roman beast, and which had been controlled by the Papal Church, was shattered into smaller and smaller pieces in WW1 and WW2, and those pieces will be either destroyed or absorbed into the kingdom, depending on if they bow down to the new King or not. Because the Roman power is shattered, that includes the Image of the Beast that was in the West, and which was controlled by Papacy.

More to Happen Yet As Shown in Chapter 19

But even though we see a lot that has happened so far, we see that there is more to happen yet. We will see the detailed destruction of Great Babylon and the Great City in chapter 18, and we will see the final round up of Satan's forces in chapter 19.

In Chapter 19 we see another picture of our Lord doing battle with the beast and the False Prophet, starting in 1914. (1) There we see the remnants of the Pagan religious system being destroyed, and it's called the False Prophet at that time, which is a composite of all of the fallen churches of the system of Christendom. (2) The civil power beast, which is made up of what's left of the kings and their armies, is also defeated and cast into the lake of fire in that same battle. (3) We don't see the dragon or Satan defeated in that Chapter, but if we read a little further to Chapter 20, we see that our Lord there completes the binding of the dragon Satan with a chain and casts him into the abyss, so that he can't deceive the nations for the 1000 years.

Trouble Comes in Spasms

Since trouble comes like travail upon a woman, we have had other spasms of destruction on that system since 1914, and we believe that we will have at least one more very intense one at the very end. The full completion of the work of the seventh bowl is still ahead of us. That conclusion of things will be the complete destruction of the entire apostate church and state system, and all of its seven different elements.

Jer 50:41-43 (41 Behold, a people cometh from the north; and a great nation and many kings shall be stirred up from the uttermost parts of the earth. 42 They lay hold on bow and spear; they are cruel, and have no mercy; their voice roareth like the sea; and they ride upon horses, every one set in array, as a man to the battle, against thee, O daughter of Babylon. 43 The king of Babylon hath heard the tidings of them, and his hands wax feeble: anguish hath taken hold of him, (and) pangs as of a woman in travail. ASV

Air is Last Life Sustaining Symbol Destroyed

The symbol of air, is the seventh and the last life-sustaining element to be destroyed by the bowls of wrath. The other six bowls have smitten (1) The worshipers of the beast and the image, which were part of the earth or society (2) the sea which represents the people of the Apostate churches, (3) the fountains and springs of water which are the source of the systems false doctrines, (4) the sun shining with the symbol of great heat on the men of the system, which represents strong and clear truth being revealed, (5) the throne of the beast which are the ruling governments of the evil church and state system, was darkened, but more civil power or beasts still need to be removed (6) the river Euphrates or the support of the people is being dried up, and (7) the air which represents the powers of spiritual control and especially Satan's control, is being removed.

Eph 2:2 Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience:

Voice of God From Temple

The voice out of the temple in the seventh bowl, which was from the throne, is the voice of God announcing the final judgment and destruction of the evil system. See Chapter 6 of Isaiah, and Chapters 9-11 of Ezekiel, where we see the same thing happen when God's spirit was withdrawn from Judah. The cutting off of air from anything causes it to die quickly, and that seems to be the theme here in that this last bowl gives us a step by step process of how God will finish off the evil system relatively quickly, by cutting off Satan's control. We now know that quickly means a lot longer in God's time scale, and so this is going to take several years, but how many we are not sure. But we definitely know that the Satanic systems time is growing much shorter.

Final End Coming

That the end has come with the phrase "it is done", shows us that this bowl of wrath is going to begin a process of punishment and destruction, which will completely finish off Satan's system. This doesn't mean that it will fall instantly, but it means that its end has started in 1914, and it will not survive the conclusion of that end. In Ezekiel, we see a prophecy which points in symbol through the 1845-year parallel to the same end.

Ezek 7:2-4 (2 Also, thou son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD unto the land of Israel; An end, the end is come upon the four corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come upon thee, and I will send mine anger upon thee, and will judge thee according to thy ways, and will recompense upon thee all thine Abominations.

4 And mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I have pity: but I will recompense thy ways upon thee, and thine Abominations shall be in the midst of thee: and ye shall know that I am the LORD. (KJV)

The final punishment and destruction, started in 1914AD, with the time of trouble that began there. When the time of trouble is finished, there will be nothing viable that is left of this evil system.

Jer 51:13 O thou that dwellest upon many waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come, and the measure of thy covetousness. (KJV)

The Lord is gradually taking control of the spiritual realm, and removing the power of the prince of the air who is Satan, so that the Millennial kingdom can operate without Satan's influence.

Great Earthquake

The great earthquake that split the city into three parts in WW1, began the overthrowing of the alliances between religion, government, and Satan's Pagan control of society, during that war. The entire Old-World order was being overthrown at that time, and it was being replaced by the different kind of society that we have today. This system is still corrupt, because it has descended from the original evil system, but because of the systems breakup into three different parts, the religious system has lost a lot of its power to persecute. The result is that Satan is still partially using this evil system, but he is not able to control or use this system's religious power to oppress the faithful saints and the people, at least not to the same full extent that he had previously done.

Satan Still Controls Other Civil Gov Power

Unfortunately, Satan still has the remnants of the civil power, and that has caused a great deal of problems for the people. During the battle of Armageddon that we have been in since WW1, we have had further and very bad troubles, such as the Communist revolution, the great depression, WW2, the Korean War, the cold war, and the war on terror, Islamic terrorism, etc. We also have nuclear weapons that could wipe out all life on earth. All those further spasms of trouble or aftershocks, have caused even more changes in society.

The statement that "this great earthquake was so mighty and so great, and that it was greater than any other since men were on the earth", tells us that this is "the time of trouble such as there never was since there was a nation", and that extreme trouble is the worst trouble ever that is mentioned in Daniel Chapter 12, and that trouble was prophesied to come when Michael who is Christ was going to stand up. Dan 12:1 "At that time Michael, the great prince who protects your people, will arise. There will be a time of distress such as has not happened from the beginning of nations until then. But at that time your people — everyone whose name is found written in the book — will be delivered. NIV

Our Lord Christ stood up gradually from 1799-1874AD, and then he began to gather or deliver his elect from the four winds, or in other words, to call his faithful saints out of the system during the 40-year harvest. The end of the 40-year harvest points us to the 1914 date as the start of the trouble, and that was the start of the great earthquake that was going to break up the evil system. There is still a gleaning of the field at this time, as far as we know, and when that is finished then the system will finish disintegrating, and the wind of trouble will sweep it away, so that the kingdom can begin. The final remnants of that system that still exist at this time, will yet in turn be shaken and removed, because they don't conform to the new heavens and the earth that Christ is establishing.

Will there be a final third world war to finish everything off? We don't know for sure and we hope not, because with all the terrible weapons of war that has been invented since the time of the other two world wars, there would be extreme death and destruction from such a war.

If there is an outbreak of such a destructive war, we pray that the Lord will intervene and cut those days short, as is described in Matt Chapter 24.

Matt 24:21-22 (21 For then there will be a great tribulation, such as has not occurred since the beginning of the world until now, nor ever will. 22 Unless those days had been cut short, no life would have been saved; but for the sake of the elect those days will be cut short. NASU

*Isa 13:13 Therefore I will shake the heavens, and the earth shall remove out of her place, in the wrath of the LORD of hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger. (KJV)

*Jer 50:46 At the noise of the taking of Babylon the earth is moved, and the cry is heard among the nations. (KJV)

The earthquake that began in 1914AD, has split the church and state system back up into its original components of civil power and ecclesiastical power, with the third element Satan re-doubling his efforts, trying to re-establish some sort of control over the pieces. The aftershocks of this earthquake are still occurring, and some of them may be bigger than the initial quake—which can happen in nature. That is one reason that we think that at least one more very intense shaking will occur right at the end, and that will correspond to the whirlwind that will blow away the pieces of the Image.

Satan is Still Advocating the Three Lies

The entire evil system was created by Satan's three unclean spirits or lies, which we described earlier. Unfortunately, those three lies continue onward until the final binding of Satan is accomplished, when they will be fully exposed as lies by that time.

The three lies are (1) The Divine Right of Kings or nationalism (2) the ultimate authority of the clergy over the people and (3) the idea that personal greed at the expense of others is ok. Those three evil ideas, especially the greed one, are still continuing to wreak havoc in the world, and they are what our Lord is going to prove are evil lies and spirits, and then he is going remove those lies fully when the kingdom begins. Those three lies, are the same three lies that Satan tempted our Lord with in the desert.

The various economic systems that have existed in the world after WW1, still have greed as their main driving force. Even Communism which was supposed to overcome that problem, fell into greed when all the wealth flowed to those who were in power and not to the people. The many dictators that came about after that time have that same problem, in that they have also gathered all power and wealth to themselves. The capitalist system that we have in the west at this time, has been corrupted to the point that the rich are controlling it, so that they can enrich themselves.

They are doing it at the expense of the elderly, and the middle and the poor classes, which will also help result in the final downfall of the system, and which will cause the people rise-up against the injustice. It appears that the entire world has fallen into the trap of Satan's lies, saying that greed is good, and that nationalism will make everything great again. Even the churches are claiming that if they only had control, that they would make everything righteous again.

Greed has caused the capitalism that we have, to become oppressive to the working people, just so that a few can live in luxury and splendor. We quoted this scripture earlier in the sixth bowl of wrath, but what it says is so important, that we are going to give it again in different translation, which is different than the message Bible that we used before.

James 5:1 (1-6 And now, you plutocrats, is the time for you to weep and moan because of the miseries in store for you!! Your richest goods are ruined, your hoard of clothes is moth-eaten, your gold and silver are tarnished. Yes, their very tarnish will be the evidence of your wicked hoarding and you will shrink from them as if they were red-hot. You have made a fine pile in these last days, haven't you? But look, here is the pay of the reaper you hired and whom you cheated, and it is shouting against you! And the cries of the other labourers you swindled are heard by the Lord of Hosts himself. Yes, you have had a magnificent time on this earth, and have indulged yourselves to the full. You have picked out just what you wanted like soldiers looting after battle. You have condemned and ruined innocent men in your career, and they have been powerless to stop you.

PHILLIPS

Voices, Lightning, Thunder, Earthquake

The Table lists some of the symbols that are found in this bowl, and that are also found elsewhere in Rev. That we have the same symbols used in the seventh trumpet, as what we see here in the seventh bowl, confirms the idea that the seventh bowl is related to the seventh trumpet. The events that are shown in the seventh trumpet, were directed against the church and state system, and they struck that system during and after WW1.

33, 70AD	Rev 4:5	voices, lightning, thunder
70 & 135AD	Rev 8:5	voices, lightning, thunder, earthquake
1914 - 1918AD	Rev 11:19	voices, lightning, thunder, earthquake, great hail, Isa 28:17
1918 -????AD?	Rev 16:18	voices, lightning, thunder, earthquake, 100# hail, Isa 28:17

The voices represent messages of Bible truth that are revealed and then proclaimed or witnessed to others.

Lightning represents suddenly bright and sharp truth or penetrating messages of truth.

Thunder is controversies over the newly revealed truth in the ecclesiastical heavens.

The earthquake is the overturning of the fallen system.

Hail is the hard truths that come down upon the system.

That the coals of fire in chapter 8, were what caused the initial voices, lightning, thunder, and earthquake, shows that the doctrine of the ransom should be associated with the symbols of voices, lightning, and thunder, wherever we see them in Revelation, and we will show that is correct here also.

Islands & Mountains

Many cities of the nations' or governments, fell at the time of trouble which began in 1914. Many big Empires still existed yet after that time, and they are the mountains that still needed to melt away. We suggest that the mountains symbolized the colonial Empires that still existed after WW1. Some of those mountains or colonial Empires fell in WW1, and many more fell in WW2, but a few of them still existed up until recent times.

Another example of a great mountain that was recently removed, is the situation with the breakup of the USSR in 1989. Russia is trying to put that Empire back together again at the present time, but the Lord does not seem to be allowing them to restore very much of that shattered empire.

The 1989 date that the Soviet Union fell on, is the last date on the 1260-2520 chronology pattern that we showed in Chapters 4 and 5. So that either shows us that was the last of the fall of the mountains, or that shows us that we have entered the final phase of the fall of the mountains, and that we are in the final step of time to the kingdom. There are no other dates after that one on that chronology pattern.

Many nations that still existed after WW1 and 2, are now smaller and could be considered as islands in contrast to the bigger Empires that had existed. They are described as fleeing away, suggesting that they are having a hard time keeping their countries together. If we look around the world right now, we can see that almost all countries are having a hard time maintaining a stable and prosperous country, hence the islands are fleeing away.

This Time Destruction Removes Them

In the sixth seal, we saw that the mountains had been moved out of their places by the Reformation and the French Revolution and other events, but they were not destroyed. At this end of the age where we are at now, most of those mountains have been removed, and the time has come that any remaining mountains need to be completely removed. Right now it looks like even the US may also have to fall, because of the corruption that has taken hold of it, but if it can fix those problems it could survive because of its support for Israel. If it quits supporting Israel, then it most likely will also fall. If it does fall, it will probably be just before the final battle of Ezek 38-39, and that could explain why the scriptures don't seem to show the US in that final battle. The 2016 election has caused the polarization of the country at the time of this editing, and that could lead to severe trouble. With one party in control of the entire government at this time, they have started trying to take away the social safety net, and that is probably the road leading to uncontrolled anarchy.

We don't know for sure what is going to cause the final fall of the rest of the nations at the end of the age, but it most likely is going to be financial, but we also can't say that it will not be another world war, or both, only time will tell. Great Babylon which still contains the religious systems, cannot be let off without a total destruction of the evil system, because of the grievous sins she has committed, and we see that final downfall described in great detail in Chapter 18. We believe that the symbol of Great Babylon is representing the entire false religious system that has to go to make way for the coming kingdom. Satan's worldwide system must completely go and it must be replaced by the kingdom.

Great Hail

The very last thing we see, is the hard hail that is about the weight of a talent. In the plagues of Egypt, the hail destroyed the livestock of the Egyptians, but not the Israelites livestock, because they had heeded the Lord and brought their cattle into shelter. Some Egyptians who believed in Jehovah also brought their cattle in, and they were spared.

The very large hail, is a picture of the final revealing of hard and strong truth that sweeps away the refuge of lies and prepares the world for the kingdom. This is in another symbol, a finishing up of the drying up of the Euphrates river that we saw in the sixth bowl of wrath. If the hail began at the beginning of the day in 1874, then we believe that the hard truth keeps falling until the error becomes obvious. That they blaspheme God, while under the punishment of the seventh bowl, shows that they are not accepting the truth that God is revealing, and that has been true since the harvest message was published. It was very hard and strong truth, as symbolized by the huge hail. We also remember that Zech chapter 14 talks about some who will not come to Jerusalem, and they will not get any rain of blessing on them until they do.

Great hail upon men from heaven, represents hard and strong truths that have fallen, and which are still going to continue to fall upon the apostate Christians until they repent. It represents the destruction of lies, deceptions etc., that the evil system still holds. Hail is not found at the First Advent, because the destruction of lies was not going to occur until the time of the end, as shown in the earlier table where lightning, thunders, etc. started at the time of early church, but there was no hail at that time. There was an earthquake at the overthrow of the nation of Israel at that time.

In Lev 26:14, we see that stoning to death was the punishment for spirits, mediums, wizards, or blaspheming God's name, etc. and that punishment appears to be occurring here in the symbol of the huge hail coming down on the evil system—as a stoning to spiritual death of those who are bringing out error.

Every hailstone was about the weight of a talent. This is the only place this word is found, which is Strong's number 5006.

The word for money is 5007. The root of 5006, which is the word talent, is: 5007 talanton (tal'-an-ton); neuter of a presumed derivative of the original form of tlaō (to bear; equivalent to 5452); a balance (as supporting weights), i.e. (by implication) a certain weight (and thence a coin or rather sum of money) or "talent": KJV-- talent.

In 1 Kings, we see that there is also a description of one man's life for another man's life, and if the man that was to have been protected had died, it would have been the life of his guard, or it would cost that guard one talent of silver. That Old Testament passage seems to show that one talent of silver was the equivalent of a man's life.

1 King 20:39 And as the king passed by, he cried unto the king: and he said, Thy servant went out into the midst of the battle; and, behold, a man turned aside, and brought a man unto me, and said, Keep this man: if by any means he be missing, then shall thy life be for his life, or else thou shalt pay a talent of silver. (KJV)

There is a scripture from Isaiah Chapter 28, which shows what this hail is all about. It not only brings the costly cornerstone of our Lord's sacrifice to our attention, but it ties that together with the destruction of lies by hail, and the false covenant of death that the Abomination of Desolation has claimed they have in the doctrine of the mass. Their false salvation will be exposed and shown to be grievous error, and destroyed by the hard truth regarding the ransom, which is symbolized by the hail.

Isa 28:16-18 ("Behold, I am laying in Zion a stone, a tested stone, A costly cornerstone for the foundation, firmly placed. He who believes in it will not be disturbed. 17 "I will make justice the measuring line And righteousness the level; Then hail will sweep away the refuge of lies And the waters will overflow the secret place. 18 "Your covenant with death will be canceled, And your pact with Sheol will not stand; When the overwhelming scourge passes through, Then you become its trampling place. NASU

Especially represents Ransom Doctrine

*The perfect man Adam sinned.
The perfect man Jesus offered
"a corresponding ransom"*

Rom 5:18-19 (18 Consequently, just as one trespass resulted in condemnation for all people, so also one righteous act resulted in justification and life for all. 19 For just as through the disobedience of the one man the many were made sinners, so also through the obedience of the one man the many will be made righteous. TNIV

We believe that the hail about the weight of a talent that came down upon men, especially represents the ransom doctrine, but most likely includes even more doctrine than that, because all other doctrines and truths of the Divine Plan must agree with that central foundation. In other words, the great hail that we see here is not only the ransom doctrine, but it would also include all other doctrines like the Divine Plan, that revolve around that central concept, because without the salvation of the blood of the Lord we would have no salvation for either age.

UBS translators notes says that a talent was between 80-120 pounds. So we see that a talent is about the weight of a small man, and as shown in the Old Testament scripture above, our Lord's human life was the equivalent of a talent of silver. In other words, our Lord was going to ransom all of mankind, both men and women with the ransom price that redeems Adam back from the fall in the garden. That the talent is equal to the weight of a man, reminds us of the balance scale that we see representing the ransom doctrine, as shown above. On one side of the balance, we see Adam, and on the other side of the balance, we see Christ raising him and the rest of mankind back up through the doctrine of the ransom.

Water is truth and hail is hard frozen truth, that God has saved until the end of the age. This hail includes all other doctrinal truths about what Christ has done regarding salvation, and the revealing of which will destroy the refuge of lies as we saw quoted above.

In Zech, a talent of lead is seen holding wickedness captive in a basket, so that it can be removed. That appears to be another picture of the binding of Satan by our Lord, so that he is not able to deceive during the kingdom. The ransom doctrine will make it possible to remove wickedness from mankind permanently, as pictured by the weight of the talent holding down the lid, so that wickedness cannot escape. The binding of Satan has been made possible by our Lord giving his life for all, and again that shows that the talent is the ransom doctrine which saves us from wickedness.

Jesus even told the disciples that if he didn't go away, which we know was to pay the blood price for us on the mercy seat, the comforter wouldn't come and amongst several other things he said that the prince of the world wouldn't be judged if he didn't go. We also saw in Revelation Chapter 12, that Satan was symbolically cast down from heaven, and that it occurred because of the blood of the Lamb.

Zech 5:7-8 (7) And, behold, there was lifted up a talent of lead: and this is a woman that sitteth in the midst of the ephah.

8 And he said, This is wickedness. And he cast it into the midst of the ephah; and he cast the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof. (KJV)

What we saw revealed to us in the symbols of the different covenants in Revelation Chapter 12, shows us that the recognition of the blood of the Lamb is very important in the overcoming of Satan. The price of one perfect man for another fallen man which ransoms all people, is a very key doctrine and we believe that will be one of the final things that is going to be forcefully revealed to the world—proving that the fallen system was indeed the Abomination of Desolation, desolate because it had no true salvation in it.

Christ and the ransom truth that he represents, is going to remove haughtiness and pride from all who are in opposition to it. It's destructive on those who come into opposition with it, but a blessing to those who are following Christ. The hail regarding the ransom, began to fall in the seventh trumpet from 1878 and onward, but the nominal system did not want to give up their false doctrine of the Trinity to accept it, and that is why they blasphemed God, when they refused to accept the wonderful salvation of the Divine Plan that was revealed to them.

The seventh bowl is designed to continue to pound them with heavier and harder truths, so eventually they must see it to be able to enter the kingdom. Any who doesn't accept that salvation, will not be able to enter the courtyard of the New Jerusalem until they do, as we will see later when we look at the vision of the New Jerusalem in Chapter 21-22.

To help prove that the hailstones in the seventh plague are the ransom doctrine and directly related to the Lord Jesus, we have a scripture directly from Jesus himself. This scripture first applied to the nation of Israel, but we see that in a secondary application of this, it also applies to the nominal system who also lost the doctrine of the ransom and substituted the doctrine of the mass in its place. The Jews, as well as the nominal house fell on the stone and they were both broken because of it.

Matt 21:42-44 (42) Jesus saith unto them, Did ye never read in the scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner: this is the Lord's doing, and it is marvelous in our eyes?

43 Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof.

44 And whosoever shall fall on this stone shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder. (KJV)

This hail is going to remove all error and sweep away the refuge of lies, so that during the kingdom there will be no doubt about what the truth is. While we think that some of the hail or hard truth has fallen already, especially the truth about the ransom in the harvest message, we think more very hard hail is still coming just before the end, and that the systems of this world will be exposed as being part of Satan's evil system, and then destroyed by that hard hail of truth if they don't change.

Some Scriptures that describe the trouble that the Lord is bringing on this system with the seven bowls of wrath.

Jer 25:15-16 (15 For thus saith the LORD God of Israel unto me; Take the wine cup of this fury at my hand, and cause all the nations, to whom I send thee, to drink it.

16 And they shall drink, and be moved, and be mad, because of the sword that I will send among them. (KJV)

Jer 25:31-32 (31 A noise shall come even to the ends of the earth; for the LORD hath a controversy with the nations, he will plead with all flesh; he will give them that are wicked to the sword, saith the LORD.

32 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, evil shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great whirlwind shall be raised up from the coasts of the earth. (KJV)

Isa 13:1-13 (1 The burden of Babylon, which Isaiah the son of Amos did see.

<sup>2</sup> Set ye up an ensign upon the bare mountain, lift up the voice unto them, wave the hand, that they may go into the gates of the nobles.

<sup>3</sup> I have commanded my consecrated ones, yea, I have called my mighty men for mine anger, even my proudly exulting ones.

<sup>8</sup> and they shall be dismayed; pangs and sorrows shall take hold (of them); they shall be in pain as a woman in travail: they shall look in amazement one at another; their faces (shall be) faces of flame.

<sup>9</sup> Behold, the day of Jehovah cometh, cruel, with wrath and fierce anger; to make the land a desolation, and to destroy the sinners thereof out of it.

<sup>10</sup> For the stars of heaven and the constellations thereof shall not give their light; the sun shall be darkened in its going forth, and the moon shall not cause its light to shine.

<sup>11</sup> And I will punish the world for (their) evil, and the wicked for their iniquity: and I will cause the arrogance of the proud to cease, and will lay low the haughtiness of the terrible.

<sup>12</sup> I will make a man more rare than fine gold, even a man than the pure gold of Ophir.

<sup>13</sup> Therefore I will make the heavens to tremble, and the earth shall be shaken out of its place, in the wrath of Jehovah of hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger. ASV

Blaspheming God

Men blasphemed God because of the hail. The revealing of the error of the system by the harvest message, has caused them pain and problems, as well as having brought punishment and destruction upon themselves, because of what they have done to the saints in the past. They have blamed the troubles that started in 1914 on God, not admitting that they brought the punishment on themselves.

They blasphemed God because they refused to believe in the salvation of the Ransom for all that God has provided through the death of his son. That salvation is the cornerstone of the Divine plan and of the harvest message that was rejected by the fallen system at the end of the Gospel Age. They refused to believe the truth, and they made it even worse by saying that God didn't provide salvation for all men, but that he was going to burn sinners and heretics and all others that don't agree with the evil system in hell forever. They do not want to give up the doctrine of hell that has no scriptural basis, and they think that God wants to torture and torment sinners forever—by believing that they blaspheme his name because he has never intended anything like that.

Jer 7:30-31 (30 "For the sons of Judah have done that which is evil in My sight," declares the Lord, "they have set their detestable things in the house which is called by My name, to defile it. 31 "They have built the high places of Topheth, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire, which I did not command, and it did not come into My mind. NASU

Because the plague thereof is exceedingly great or very important, the time of punishment will be very severe, and the error that is revealed at the end of the age, will be shown to be very bad. They have been living a lie, and what they thought that they had regarding salvation, was nothing but Satan's lies. This truth will become completely evident when they find that they must come to the Lord and admit their error to receive salvation in the kingdom.

Chapter 17
Revelation 17:1-2
Judgment of Harlot

Rev 17:1 Then one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls came and spoke with me, saying, "Come here, I will show you the judgment of the great harlot who sits on many waters, Rev 17:2 with whom the kings of the earth committed {acts of} immorality, and those who dwell on the earth were made drunk with the wine of her immorality." (NAU

In this Chapter, we will suggest that it was fulfilled by the Papal system at the time of it being at the height of its power, which was from the time that Papacy had succeeded in getting the upper hand over the kings, which was just after 1179. The end of this Chapter, goes to the time of Papacy's loss of that power in 1799-1918AD. We will give the full history and reasoning behind that conclusion and the other details in this Chapter in the following pages.

Angel Giving Vision
is one of the Seven

Jer 51:13 O thou that dwellest upon many waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come, and the measure of thy covetousness. (KJV)

See also Isaiah Chapter 57 and Nahum Chapter 3:

There are two possibilities regarding who these angels are. This angel is one of the angels with the seven bowls of wrath, and so it could simply be that the angels that poured out the bowls of wrath, were actual angels.

A second and more likely thought, is that the messengers to the churches, the angels with the trumpets, the angels with the bowls of wrath, are the same seven earthly messengers. If that is correct then when they delivered their messages to the churches and they blew the seven trumpets, they were earthly pastors. At the time they delivered the bowls of wrath, they were on the other side of the vail, having made their calling and election. This angel is the messenger that delivered the truth about the fallen church system, showed us the coming kingdom, and many other truths. That could only be the seventh messenger—in this vision, the truths that were going to be revealed by the seventh messenger, are being delivered to the church in a vision by Jesus's angel, through Revelation. What is being revealed, points to the message that the seventh messenger was going to deliver to the church on the seventh day.

While this Chapter was of a somewhat difficult interpretation, we believe that the final explanation presented here, fits with historical facts. It's not a future system as many still think, but its main fulfillment was during the time of the height of the power of Papacy—shown by the Harlot riding on the beast. It's the time that Papacy had risen high enough in power, that he had taken over and was controlling the civil power of the Western Roman Empire. So rather than a future fulfillment, this Chapter gives us a description of the beast and the harlot, which covers the evil system from the height of the church and state power, until the time that they were separated from that power in 1799-1918AD. As we go through this Chapter, we will give a detailed explanation of why we came to the conclusions that we did.

The Eight Heads

There are three or four different thoughts that we know of, that define who the heads are in a manner constant with our understanding of the Chapter. The one that we selected in our study, is the first one we will present, and it is based on chronology and on the Empires that have ruled over Israel and the faithful church. The second one that has been shown to us since the study, is similar, in that it also selects heads that ruled over the land of Israel. But it selects them from the seven different heads that were seen on the four beasts that Daniel saw come up out of the sea. We will present those heads, after the table where we show our initial view. Both views have the sixth head of Rome existing at the time of John, which is what we believe is correct. We make one change from Jim's view at the time of the seventh head, making it the change to the Christianized beast, rather than the moving of the Empire's government to Constantinople. There is a third method that we have not had time to look at in detail yet at the present time, and it is based upon picking seven different forms of government of Rome, in other words, limiting the heads only to the Roman beast.

Study Group's Definition of Seven Heads

Departing from the traditional Bible Student view, we believe that the seven heads of the beast that are mentioned in this Chapter, are the seven major Empires that have ruled over the Lords people throughout history: (1) Assyria, (2) Egypt, (3) Babylon, (4) Medes and Persians, (5) Greece, (6) Pagan Rome and (7) Apostate Christian Rome →(8) Theocratic Western Rome. An interesting point that we can make about this explanation, is that it matches what the angel said at the time of John and Pagan Rome, where he said that 5 had fallen and that the sixth one existed right at the time that he was talking to John—actually all three explanations arrive at the time of John, at the time of the sixth head.

Rev 17:9-11 (9 "Here is the mind which has wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains on which the woman sits, 10 and they are seven kings; five have fallen, one is, the other has not yet come; and when he comes, he must remain a little while. NASU

Since all the Empires from the time of Assyria onward, had conquered each other in turn, with Rome especially taking control of all the territory of the others, Papacy sat on the combined might of all seven Empires—seven hills. That is why the early church could call Rome Babylon, since Rome was a successor of the original Babylonian power that had carried Judah away.

Before we start the explanation of this Chapter, we will present a historical, chronological diagram, that shows all the Empires that have affected God's people, and caused their downfall from the time of the loss of the ten tribes to Assyria and onward. We will see that the chronology derived from Bible prophecy, confirms that we are looking at the correct interpretation of the heads. The numbers pointing to the seven heads are 2520, 1260, 1845, 2300, 1000, 70, 40. Those numbers will define for us who the eight Empires or heads were.

Chronology Defines All of the Heads

Assyria has a 1260 and a 2520-year chronology cycle associated with it. Babylon has 2520 years pointing to it. Egypt conquering Judah at the death of Josiah, which marked the start of the 70 years of Jeremiah. The Medes and Persians, have the 70 years of punishment of Jerusalem and the temple ending, when they took over from Babylon. Greece, has the 2300 years from Alexander the Great conquering Persia, to 1967AD where Jerusalem was restored. The 2300 years of the cleansing of the spiritual sanctuary, is an ecclesiastical event which occurred during 1846-48 and is not shown on the diagram, because this diagram is only showing us events that occurred concerning civil power, which is what the heads represent.

We also see that Rome took control of Israel in 47 BC, and that is where the sixth head begins. If we start the 1845-year parallel in 47 BC, then the 1845 years later the parallel points to 1799AD. That's the same 1845-year parallel that we have in the second volume, which is 33AD to 1878AD, but we have expanded it here to cover earlier dates which are also parallel to later dates. We are not sure without researching history, if anything obvious sticks out regarding Israel's restoration in 1799AD. If we had to decide the question from what we know now without looking, we would say that date was important because it broke the back of the church and state power, and without that happening Israel could not have returned as a nation, and the church would have still been oppressed as long as Papacy had civil power. If that system had continued to exist, that would have stopped all of the later events involved in the parallel that relates to the restoration of Israel.

Forming of Seventh & Eighth Head

The seventh head, began at the so called Christianizing of the Empire in 313AD and was probably fully developed by 381, when all non-Orthodox religion was banned. The eighth head began to develop in 799-800AD when Charlemagne was crowned as Emperor of the Western Empire, but Papacy did not get complete control over the kings until about 1179—that was when the harlot began to ride the beast. The first seven heads were Roman, but the eighth head was not a Roman government, but it had sprang up from German tribes—that's why chapter 13 says that it is the image of the beast, or that it is an image of the original Roman beast. That is why the original vision of the Roman beast, only had seven heads on it, because the eighth was not Roman.

The eighth head, ends in steps starting at the close of the 1000 and the 1260 years in 1799AD. We only show the 1799AD end on the chart for the eighth head or the Image, and not the 2520-year end. The eighth head still existed, but in greatly reduced power until 1914, when all the civil power of the kings was removed and they were all destroyed. That this beast was going to go to its destruction, is exactly what we see described in Daniel 7:11-12, 25-26, where the beast is destroyed and the saints are given the kingdom.

This system was blasphemous to God, because this Empire claimed to be God's kingdom on earth, but it was not God's kingdom. What should have been heaven on earth, if it had been God's true kingdom, became a literal hell on earth. One way that it blasphemed God's name, was because it claimed that this abusive Empire was God's, when it was not since it was Satan's Empire. It was also a false 1000-year reign, which was not a blessing to the people, but it was the worst time of trouble and oppression that the world has ever seen. This system brought a very severe time of trouble on the faithful church, but on this end of the age God turned that around into the worst time of trouble on the nations that had supported that system, and that trouble was definitely the worst trouble that has ever been, since there was a nation. That trouble happened, in order to punish the evil system for what they had done to God's people during that dark time of 1260 years.

On the next page is a table that list all eight heads, and where we believe that they were located. If you examine the table, you should notice that almost all the locations of the heads are determined by Bible chronology, except for the four heads prior to Greece—which are marked by the 2300 days!

As we go through the explanation of the Chapter, we will offer more proof and explanation regarding where the heads existed. We will also explain why the eighth head cannot be fulfilled at this end of the age future from where we are at in the stream of time, as many still think. Table of Chronology & The Heads on next page.

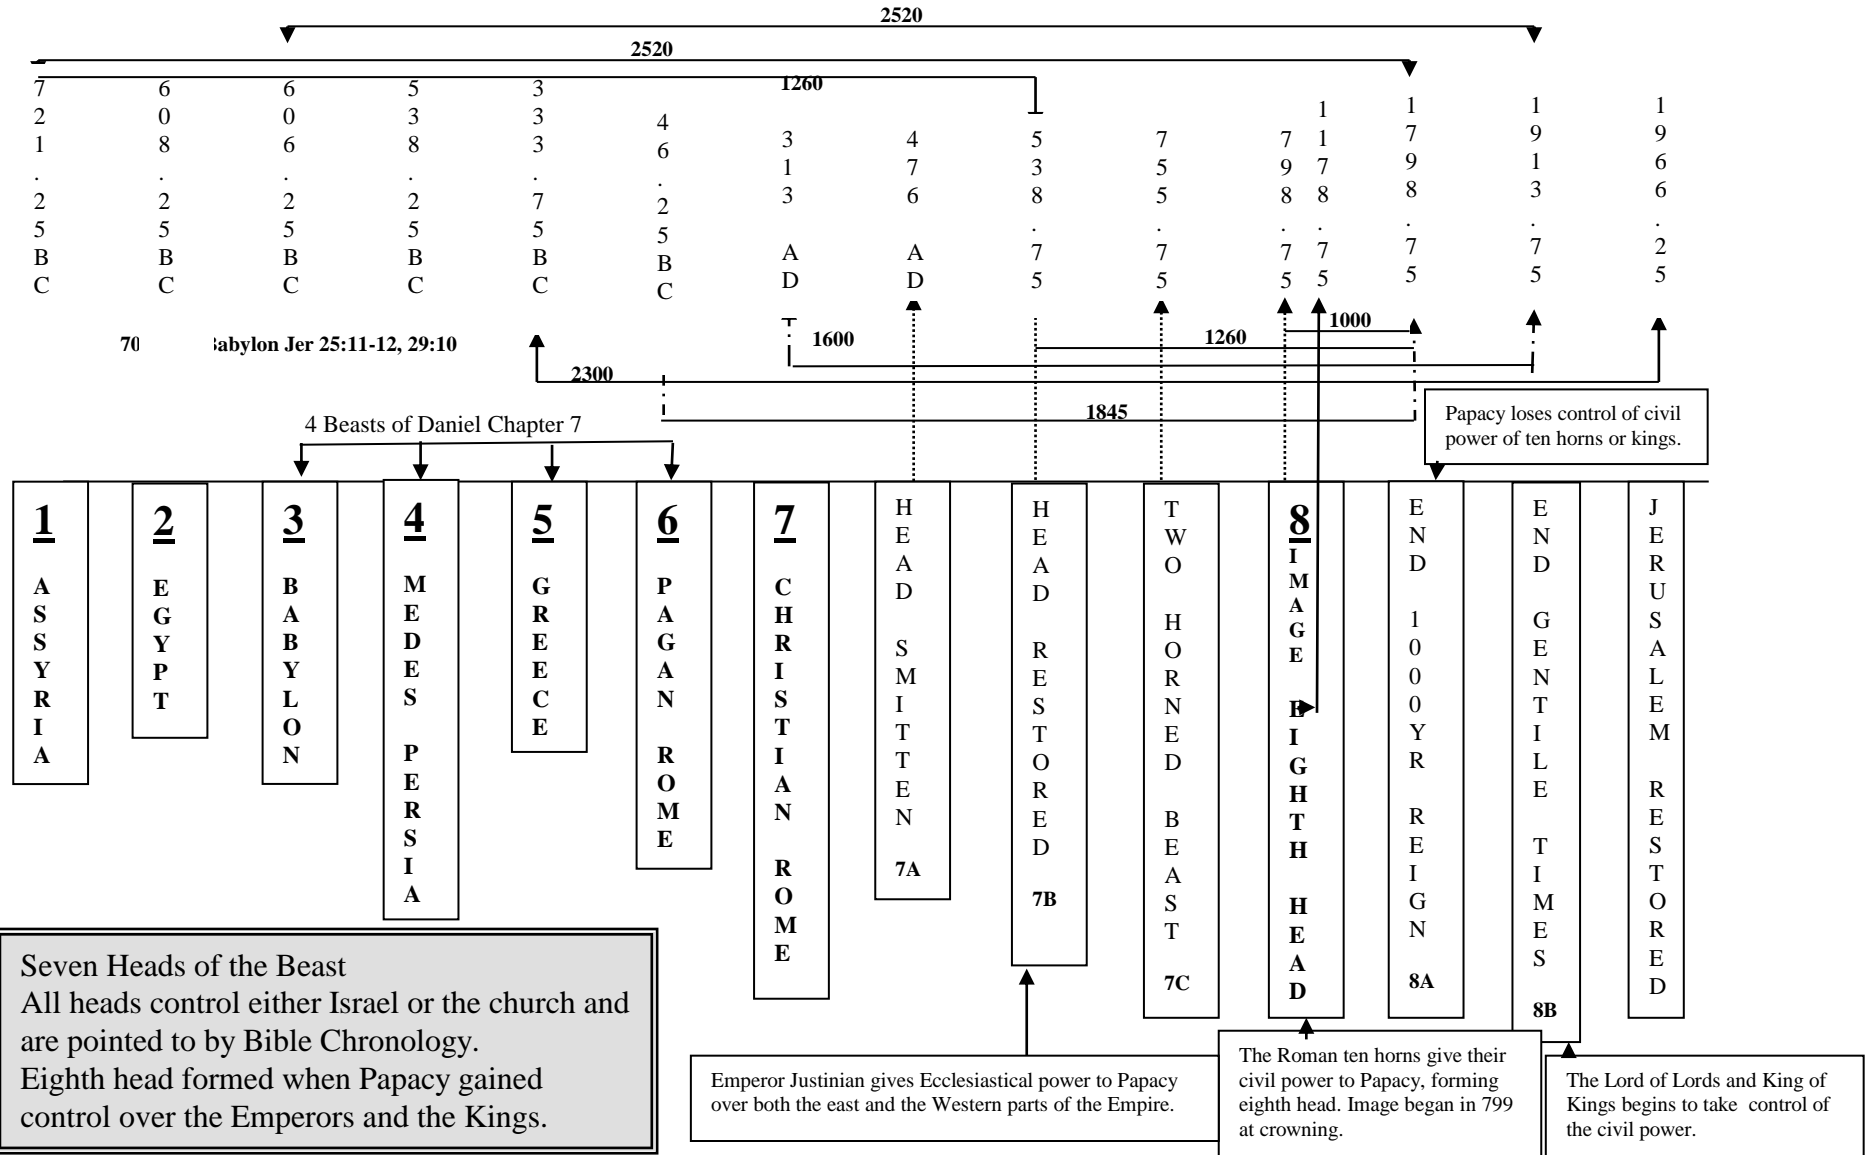

See also the table of chronology and the rise of Papacy on the first page of chapter 13. Besides the fulfillment shown on this diagram, there are two other possibilities that we will mention. Bro Jim Shuckers method will follow the diagram. Both possibilities regarding our way of interpreting the seven heads, use the scripture from Jer 50:17, where it mentions Assyria and Babylon as being the two Empires that had savaged Israel. Assyria took control of the ten tribes land, before being absorbed by Babylon themselves, who then took the other two tribes. Assyria is also mentioned in many other scriptures, regarding the damage they did to Israel. That is why we had picked Assyria as the starting Empire. We sometimes forget, that the conquest of Israel began with the ten tribes in 722 BC.

The other option is that instead of Egypt, some interpreters pick the Medes and the Persians as being two heads, and they drop out Egypt. We still favor including Egypt, because while it is not always recognized, they took full control of Israel for about 4 years before Babylon took that control away from them.

1. Assyria destroys 10 tribes. 2. Josiah killed by Egypt. Israel is vassal state to Egypt. 3. Begin Gentile Times with Babylon and Nebuchadnezzar. 4. Medes and Persians defeat Babylon-end Jeremiah's 70
 5. Greece conquers Persia. 6. Pagan Rome takes control of Jerusalem-begin 1845 parallel. 7. Christianized Rome-Edict of Milan. 7A. Barbarians destroy Western Empire and sack Rome. 7B. Justinian restores Empire and gives Papacy control over all Christianity-begin 1260. Begin little horn. 7C. Two-horned beast was formed when Papacy was given the Papal States by Pepin in 756. 8. Image and Eighth head is formed when the Pope crowns Charlemagne Emperor-begin false 1000 yr. reign. Papacy took theocratic control of Rome. This is an Image because church is over state, instead of Rome being in control of Christianity like the original beast was. This became the so-called Holy Roman Empire. 8 A. End of false 1000 yr. reign at loss of kings 8B. End Gentile Times!

Alternate View of Seven Heads

This is the Alternate view regarding the seven heads on the four beasts of Daniel, which we received after we had completed our study. This is a portion of Jim Shucker's Revelation notes on that subject. We would change the dates slightly, in that we would have 334 BC for Alexander, because that's when he defeated Persia, and that's the date that the alternate 2300 days starts on which reaches to 1967AD. The quote begins below, and we will comment afterward.

"Everyone recognizes that the 4 beasts rule in succession one after the other, but it is a little trickier to name the successive ruling cities, not historically, but from the graphical Imagery given here. The problem graphically is that it looks like the cities rule in the following order. Babylon from Babylon, Persia from Shushan. The 4 divisions of Greece Macedonia, Egypt, Syria, and Thrace, and last but certainly not least Rome. But what do we find historically? Babylon at Babylon starting in BC 607 (the 1st head) began their gentile dominion over Israel, Persia at Shushan in BC 536 (was the 2nd head), followed by Greece at Pella in Macedonia under Alexander the Great in BC 336 (the 3rd head) note Daniel 11:3-4. After Alexander dies, his kingdom is divided to his four Generals, and General Ptolemy Soter of Egypt rules from Alexandria and obtains Israel in BC 323 (the 4th head) Note Daniel 11:5-9. There is civil war in Greece between the north and the south and the Syrian King Antiochus the King of the north takes Israel in BC 198 and Antioch capital of Syria becomes the 5th head. Note Daniel 11:10-15.

At this point in time, 3 of the 4 Grecian heads have successively ruled Israel, i.e. Pella in Macedonia, Alexandria in Egypt, and Antioch in Syria. There is but one Grecian head left, Thrace, the 4th division of the Grecian Empire. Therefore, you would think at first glance that the next country or power in line to take Israel would be Thrace a division of the Grecian Empire that had not yet ruled Israel. But the problem is as described in Daniel 11:16 "he that comes against him" (that is against the King of the North Syria) is not Grecian at all. "He that comes against him" is Roman (the 6th head) in BC 64. At this point many feel that maybe the four heads are only referring to the 4 divisions that Greece was divided into after Alexander, or maybe we missed the rule by Thrace. But let us not be too hasty, if this were the case there would be no difference between a head and a horn. Let's dig a little further. Maybe Revelation can shed a little light on this subject. Let's turn to Revelation 17 and read verses 9-10. "And here is the mind which has wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sits. And there are seven kings: five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come; and when he comes, he must continue a short space". Wow!!, this must be the answer to our dilemma... "Five heads are fallen" Babylon at Babylon 1st head, Persia at Shushan 2nd head, Greece at Pella 3rd head, Greece at Alexandria 4th head, Greece at Antioch 5th head. At the time Revelation was given to the Apostle John, Rome the 6th head was ruling. That leaves one head left, Greece at where??? But wait was there a Grecian kingdom left after Rome conquered? Yes and No. Most of the Grecian Empire was absorbed into or under the power of Rome, but as it is stated in Daniel 7:12 "they had their dominion (over Israel) taken away: yet their lives were prolonged for a season and time."

So back to our question, when did the Thracian portion of the Grecian Empire rule over Israel as a Grecian power? And the answer is never. So are we to look to the future? No!!! The answer is held in Daniel 8:24 where it states that “his power shall be mighty, but not by his own power:” the idea being described here, is that of another country coming and setting up their seat of power in a foreign land. This is exactly what Rome did! So then this horn is not a Grecian power, it is a Roman power being exercised from a Grecian land. Daniel 8:9 is referring to the “little horn which waxed exceeding great, toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the pleasant land”. Note the “pleasant land” is Israel. It is stated in Daniel 8:23 *“in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors are come to the full a king of fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences shall stand up. And his power shall be mighty, but not by his own power.” Well then whose power was it? It was a Roman power! When? In AD 330 Constantine moved his capitol to Constantinople in Thrace and the kingdom began to be called the Greek Roman Empire or the Eastern Empire. Thus in AD 330 Constantinople in the Grecian land of Thrace became the 7th head or capital to Rule over Israel.”

End of quote.

Our Slightly Different Conclusion About Heads

The method that Jim uses to add up the first six heads, seem to be another way to add up heads on Daniels beasts and to define the first six heads. Both methods may be two different ways of counting, and so that there is no argument about who the sixth is, with both methods showing that Pagan Rome is the sixth head at the time of John. Jim’s way of looking at the heads, is viewing them from a civil power viewpoint, defined by what country was in power. Our Study Groups way of looking at the heads, is viewing them from the ecclesiastical viewpoint, looking at who has had control over God’s people all during that time. So up to the time of John, there are two different ways of counting, but regardless of which conclusion we accept, the most important thing to see is that both methods show that Rome is the sixth head, just as the angel told John.

From that point onward, we would add another thought onto Bro Jim’s selection of Constantinople and the Eastern Empire as being the seventh head, which we would not disagree with. The only difference that we would have, is that although the seventh head began to form then, it most likely was not fully formed until 381, when Paganism was banned at the decree of Theodosius. Jim bases his selection on his interpretation of Dan 8:23, saying that is referring to Roman power being exercised in Greece land, which was when Constantine moved the capital to Constantinople. We disagree that the seventh head is only the civil power of the Roman Empire, because we believe that the forming of the seventh head is showing us the Roman power at the time of Constantine, joining together with the church, which is what our diagram at the beginning of this chapter and the other diagram at the beginning of chapter 13 shows. Historically 313 AD, is when Constantine and Rome began to accept Christianity as the religion of the Empire, and so we believe that we need to see that the change to the Christian religion at that same time, is what created the seventh head by 381. When you change the form of government, such as the change from one Empire to the next, that changes the head. That time in history is when Pagan Rome fell and Christianity was recognized by the Empire, as well as the capital moving to Greece. Historians are still not sure why the capital was moved to Greece, but it helps to define the seventh head.

There is also a third way of looking at the heads of the beast, as being limited to the changes in the government of Rome. In this interpretation, we list the seven different changes of government that are suggested in that method.

“The full list of the heads would then be --

- 1) Kings
- 2) Consulars
- 3) Dictators
- 4) Decemviri
- 5) Military Tribunes
- 6) Imperial
- 7) Exarchate (after Justinian)
- 8) Imperial under the Holy Roman Empire (Charlemagne)

Curiously, the symbology of the Pope’s triple crown includes this very thought. It is symbolic of 1) the State of Rome, 2) the Exarchate of Ravenna, and 3) the Kingdom of the Lombards. See Isaac Newton on the Prophecies, Dissertation 14, sect. 4.

This view also ties the meaning of the power of Rome (illustrated by the Pope’s Crown) with the description of the various forms of Roman power which Revelation 13 describes as civil and ecclesiastical. The rise of the seventh head, the rise of Papal power and authority is timed with the subordination of the Arian Christian leadership in the time of Justinian. This is the period where the 1260 days begins and the woman begins her flee into the wilderness. This idea incorporates the same 1260 day period which Revelation 11, 12, and 13 introduced.”

The above list does place the sixth head at the time of John, and that was the Pagan dragon. Where there is a problem with this list, is that it does not take into account the change from the Pagan Dragon, to the Christian beast, which occurred from 313-539 AD. That is a necessary change, because that is the beast that had its head smitten, and we then were shown it ascending up out of the sea in 539 AD with a restored head. That is a necessary step in the government, because that is when the ten horns were formed, and that linked the rise of the beast back up out of the sea to the 539 AD date and the 1260 years of Rev 13:5.

This list could still be a possibility if we drop out the Exarchate (after Justinian), which was when Western Rome was made up of several territories and one of them was called the Exarchate of Ravenna—which does not fit with it being a new head governing Rome, because that was only a territory. Instead of using that as a form of government, the change from the Pagan Dragon government, to the Christianized beast government, fits much better and solves all of the above mentioned problems—leaving the list with the same changes of government that we have in our list from the time of John onward. Pagan Rome to Christianized Rome, and Christianized beast to the Image of the beast that was created by Charlemagne accepting the title of Emperor.

The only other thing that would be necessary for this list to be valid, is if we can verify that the heads or changes of government up to the time of John, are not subject to questions. If there are other forms of government that were ignored, or if there something that was named in the list that was not an actual governmental change.

If all that could be verified, and the change to the Christianized beast is accepted, then we would have three different ways of arriving at three different lists of the heads, that conclude with the same heads at the last three heads of governmental change.

Jim’s method could actually generate a fourth list with Constantinople instead of the change from Paganism to Christianity—both being accomplished at about the same time, which was during the lifetime of Constantine. We prefer the Pagan dragon to the Christianized beast of Constantine.

Some Believe that Antiochus is Who is in Chapter 8

This section is our thoughts on who is indicated in Daniel chapter 8. Chapter 8 says that he became great, but not by his power—Papacy used the Roman power of both the East and the West Roman Empire to take control of the church, and then later on the Western Roman power was completely taken over by Papacy. All the things that are said about the horn in chapter 8, are true of Papacy, especially the part about him opposing the prince of princes, Christ.

Some interpreters would object and say that this refers to Antiochus Epiphanes, but there are things in there that don’t completely fit him, and we believe that the Roman and Papacy combination is a greater and more complete fulfillment of it as we will show. We can accept Antiochus Epiphanes as a partial fulfillment or picture of the future Anti-Christ, but he is not the main fulfillment of that chapter as far as we are concerned.

One problem, is that his being against the Prince of Princes, is a problem for it being Antiochus Epiphanes, because the only similar scripture is in Rev chapter 19, and it only says that about Christ, while using different but similar meaning names—King of Kings and Lord of Lords. Christ didn’t assume those titles until after his resurrection, when all power and authority was given to him, and that was a long time after Antiochus Epiphanes. After both East and Western Rome became Christianized, and Papacy began to take control, then the chapter fits Papacy exactly.

Chapter 8 is pointing to Papacy and his use of Roman power when he was part of a church and state system, and that is similar to what is shown in chapter 7, where the little horn plucked out three of the ten horns, leaving seven. Since seven by itself, is symbolic of spiritual perfection, that shows that Papacy eventually turned the ten horns into an ecclesiastical system, pictured by seven horns. The seven horns were not a perfect Ecclesiastical system, because Papacy was still in the midst of the seven horns. What Papacy had created was a theocracy, or a church state system, with the church on top controlling the Empire, as we will see described in this chapter where the harlot is riding the beast. That is why chapter 8 says that he became great, but not with his own power, he used Rome's power to rule over other nations.

Here are some parallels of chapter 8 to other places in Daniel, where we know that the Papacy is what is intended by the prophecy.

By a quick comparison of the "fourth Beast" and its "little horn" from chapter seven with the "little horn" of chapter eight, we see that they both represent the same power:

Dan 8:9-11 (9 Out of one of them came forth a rather small horn which grew exceedingly great toward the south, toward the east, and toward the Beautiful Land. 10 It grew up to the host of heaven and caused some of the host and some of the stars to fall to the earth, and it trampled them down. 11 It even magnified itself to be equal with the Commander of the host; and it removed the regular sacrifice from Him, and the place of His sanctuary was thrown down. Dan 7:8 "While I was contemplating the horns, behold, another horn, a little one, came up among them, and three of the first horns were pulled out by the roots before it; and behold, this horn possessed eyes like the eyes of a man and a mouth uttering great boasts. NASU

The stars being thrown down, is the same thing that we see in Rev chapter 12. Here we see that it may have had a similar application with Rome or Greece corrupting the Jews, but it more especially applies to Satan using Papacy to corrupt the church, casting out those who didn't agree with Papacy out of the spiritual heavens.

We see both of the chapter 8 destructive forces in Dan chapter 9. The prince that destroys the city is Rome, and the one that makes desolate, "is the Abomination that makes Desolate," who is Papacy.

Dan 9:26-27 (26 And after the threescore and two weeks shall the anointed one be cut off, and shall have nothing: and the people of the prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and even unto the end shall be war; desolations are determined. 27 And he shall make a firm covenant with many for one week: and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease; and upon the wing of abominations (shall come) one that maketh desolate; and even unto the full end, and that determined, shall (wrath) be poured out upon the desolate. ASV

Daniel 7:21 says that he makes war with the saints and in Daniel 8:24 we see that he destroys the mighty and the holy people.

Dan 7:8 says that he has a mouth speaking great things, and Dan 8:11 says that he magnified himself.

Dan 7:19 says that he is exceedingly dreadful and Dan 8:23 says that he is a king of fierce countenance.

This power is broken “without hand” (vs. 25), is an expression alluding to the rock cut out “without hands” that destroys the image of Daniel 2.

Dan 8:25 And through his policy also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart, and by peace shall destroy many: he shall also stand up against the Prince of princes; but he shall be broken without hand. KJV

Dan 2:34 “You continued looking until a stone was cut out without hands, and it struck the statue on its feet of iron and clay and crushed them. NASU

So, we believe that the complete fulfillment of the little horn in chapter 8, is pointing to Papacy, and the church and state system. The correct fulfillment of the seventh head has to be the entire Roman Empire, which began to adopt Christianity in 313, and which was completely taken over by the so called Orthodox Christianity by 381.

The other thing about this fulfillment, is that it agrees with the angels statement about the 2300 days, in that the holy place and the host were to be trampled for 2300 days. That complete fulfillment, is the stars of heaven being trampled by Papacy and the power of Rome, as seen in Rev chapter 12. For the church, that time of 2300 ran out in 1846-1848AD. That 2300 started counting at the time of the decree to restore and rebuild Jerusalem in 455 BC, but there was also a defeat of the Greek army in 453 BC, which is why we added a couple of years to the 1846 date, making it 1848—that was where the Seventh Day Adventists left and formed their own church, going back to a lot of the nominal system doctrines—that also cleansed the sanctuary when they left, because the ones that believed in the nominal house errors left the Second Day Adventists, taking the error with them. From the 1848 date to the 1967 date, is 118.5 years, which is a key chronology number.

The application of the 2300 days that applied to Rome, began in 387 BC, which was when Rome had lost a major battle, and they began to build their military might as a response. That 2300 ran out in 1914AD, which was when the remnants of the Roman system and the kings were removed from power. That date is also the end of the 2520 years from Daniel.

We believe that the 2300 days for Israel, was up in 1967 when Jerusalem was restored. That 2300 was counted from Alexander's march against the Persian Empire in 334 BC. From 453 BC to 334BC, was also 118.5 years. See the book "Biblical Count of the Years-B2" for an explanation of the 118.5 years, and how it pops up in Israel's and the churches' history in 12 different places. From 334BC to 1967AD, was also exactly 2300 years.

Seventh Head Entire Empire of 381

The decree of Theodosius fully created the seventh head over both East and West Empires in 381, and when the Western Empire fell in 476, the seventh head still existed in the East at Constantinople. The smitten part of the Western head was restored by 539 AD, but it was not as centrally located as it had been, because some of the nations that joined back up with Rome did so rather loosely. In other words they belonged to the Roman Empire for protection, but they had kept a measure of their independence.

We will show in this Chapter, that the eighth head has to be the head that Papacy began to create when he crowned Charlemagne Emperor of the West in 799—even though it took many years for Papacy to get complete power over the Emperors, which was about 1179 AD. That was when the theocracy that was created by the Pope controlling the kings, established the eighth head—a different head because it was a different form of government again.

Creation of the Image

When Papacy crowned Charlemagne in 799AD, he established an Image of the Roman Empire in the West, where there had not been an Emperor since 476AD. Rev Chapter 13, says that he did it in sight of the other beast that still existed in the East at the time. The new Western Empire with Papacy controlling or attempting to control it after 799, lasted for 1000 years, until Napoleon took the crown from the Pope and put it on his own head, signaling the end of Papal control of that Empire.

The Harlot Jezebel & the Eighth head

In this chapter, we see the final step, in that we see Papacy riding and controlling the beast, showing that Papacy had gotten full control over the kings of the earth. We believe that happened during the time period of 1122-1179 AD. The first date of 1122 was when Papacy won the investiture controversy, and the later date of 1179 is when he actually crowned an Emperor.

"When Victor III died, the cardinals elected Urban II (1088–99). He was one of three men Gregory VII suggested as his successor. Urban II preached the First Crusade, which united

Western Europe, and more importantly, reconciled the majority of bishops who had abandoned Gregory VII. In the end, Gregorian Reform won out over Henry IV.<sup>[17]</sup> Preaching the Crusade had one important consequence. The pope was now viewed as the head of the Church. No longer would kings and emperors think themselves equals of the pope, or the head of the Church in their kingdom. This was the situation from 1122 until the Reformation.<sup>[18]</sup>

Several years later, Henry IV died in a deep gloom as had Gregory. It remained for his successor, Henry V to agree with Pope Calixtus II in 1122 to a compromise of the conflict over lay investitures known as the Concordat of Worms.<sup>[13]</sup>

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Concordat\_of\_Worms

A compromise was reached in Worms in 1122, by which the emperor abandoned investiture “by ring and staff” to the pope, and promised to respect the freedom of elections and consecrations, but kept for himself the right to invest bishops with the temporalities of their sees “by scepter”.<sup>[11]</sup> Though the Emperor retained some power over imperial churches, his power was damaged irreparably because he lost the religious authority that previously belonged to the office of the king. In France, England, and the Christian state in Spain, the king could overcome rebellions of his magnates and establish the power of his royal demesne because he could rely on the Church, which, for several centuries, had given him a mystical authority. From time to time, rebellious and recalcitrant monarchs might run afoul of the Church. These could be excommunicated, and after an appropriate time and public penance, be received back into the communion and good graces of the Church.<sup>[12]</sup>

Some say that the Pope did not fully get power over the Emperor, until he crowned Alexander III in 1179. Gregory VII had fought against the Pope in 1073 AD, because Gregory had still claimed that right of crowning, while at the same time the Pope was claiming it. That started the fight over who had that power, which the Pope won in 1122, when he got the kings to agree to a compromise, or for sure in 1179, when he actually took and exercised the power of crowning royalty. In 1179 he conferred the title of king, with ensigns of royalty, upon Alphonso I, duke of Portugal. Regardless of which date is the final control, once he had all of that power, that is when the beast became the eighth head—it was the eighth head because it was a different form of government than the seventh head. It became an Apostate theocracy, which was when Papacy got full control over the civil power. That is also the time that the Papacy began to persecute and kill all who disagreed with him, and it was when the harlot began riding the beast. The sixth and the seventh heads were Roman, but the eighth head was not a Roman government, because it had sprang up from German tribes. Daniel’s vision of the Roman beast only had seven heads on it. Daniel did not have a vision of the eighth head, he only saw that the last beast was the most terrible of them all—Rev gives more detail and tells us that the eighth came out of the seventh.

The woman that we see here in this Chapter, is a harlot because she was not faithful to our Lord. The Christian church was not to have formed a union of church and state with the kings of the earth. See verse 2, 15, 16, 18:3, 19:2. Her being shown as an unfaithful woman, a harlot, is a symbolic picture of the Papal church system. The beast that she is riding on, is symbolic of the civil power that she controlled. As we were already shown in Chapter 13, she was guilty of shedding the blood of the faithful saints, but there it uses different symbols to represent that same system. She is also pictured by the Old Testament Jezebel, who brought Pagan doctrine into Israel, and that is exactly what Papacy did to the faithful churches doctrines. Ahab, represents the kings who were joined together in power with her. Many of the terrible things done by the Old Testament Queen Jezebel, pictured the terrible things that were done by the Papal harlot.

Elijah in the Old Testament stories, was the prophet that fought against her corruption, and he pictures the faithful church. We don't see him pictured in this Chapter, but he was pictured in Chapter 11, in the plagues that the two prophets could bring against the error of the system. The Ravens that were bringing food to Elijah, pictured God protecting and feeding of the church with spiritual food during the 1260 years. That help is the same thing that we saw that was promised in Chapter 12 of Revelation, when the woman with wings flew into the wilderness, where she was going to be fed and protected from the serpent for 1260 years.

Jezebel Named in Message to Fourth Church

To show that the Old Testament picture of Jezebel is a valid picture for the Gospel Age, we see her named in the message to the fourth church of Revelation, where it tells us that our Lord had given Jezebel a chance to repent and she did not. The 360-year theory gives us 794-1154 for the fourth church, and Papacy crowned Charlemagne in 799-800AD, which is when the beast that the harlot is riding was created. By the end of the fourth church, Papacy had taken control of the Western Roman beast, and was beginning to murder heretics. The inquisition started in 1184, which was the start of the fifth church, and got more aggressive and horrifying as time went on—as shown in the fifth church, with the fifth seal. The dead under the altar in the fifth seal shows us that in the fifth church she was going to be killing many of the saints, and history confirms that church period as being especially bloody. History, therefore matches up with the description of the harlot in this Chapter, and what she was doing wrong, thus placing the start of this vision of the woman on the beast, at the time of the fourth and fifth church. The reason that we say that, is because that was a time that she was in power when the Reformation had not started yet. Later in Chapter 17, the vision jumps to the time of the end where the kings were glad to get rid of her influence.

Time of Reformation

During the sixth period of the church, which was when the Reformation occurred, Papacy continued to kill many more, as she tried to overcome the Protestant movement. She killed many of God's people, when she as Jezebel in a symbolic picture, pursued after the faithful church, symbolized by Elijah, trying to kill him. He pictured the Dark Age faithful church, that had to hide from her in the wilderness to survive for the 1260 years. The 3.5 years of drought during which time Elijah was fed by the Ravens, shows in a prophetic picture the plight of the church during the  $3.5 \times 360 = 1260$  years of the terrible time of her power.

The Second volume 1260, goes from 539-1799. We know that there is an overlap of worsening events before 539 and a similar overlap of improving freedom before the end of the 1799, like the start of the Reformation. In other words, events took time to get to the point where all witnessing was stopped in 539, and the reformers took some time to win out over the Papal system, so that there was freedom again. The Reformation brought religious freedom and the discovery of the new world opened a place to escape to from the oppressive system.

Start of Harlot, is Only the Papal System

The symbol of the harlot seen in this Chapter, is pointing to only the Papal system in this vision. The Protestants were guilty of having church and state systems also, but the start of this vision is before the Reformation. This Chapter confirms that this is only the Papacy at first, by saying that this woman is the mother of all the other harlots. The Protestant systems and Papacy belong to the same symbol of Babylon the Great—because they are all harlots, since Papacy is their mother. We will see as we go through this Chapter, that the beast that she is riding, is the same beast as the Image of the Beast that was shown to us in the latter half of Chapter 13. The Image was formed in 799-800, when Papacy crowned Charlemagne as Emperor of the Western Empire, where there had been no Emperor for hundreds of years. When Papacy got control over the kings of the beast after 1179, that formed an eighth head which was a theocracy.

New Form of Government Equals New Head—the Eighth

The creation of the image in 799, created a civil power beast that looked like the Roman Empire, but it was not—Papacy created the new Empire in sight of the original Roman beast, which still existed in the East. The difference that makes this an eighth head in this chapter, is that the main part of the vision is starting us further along in the stream of time, where Papacy had gotten enough power to control the civil power of the Image of the Beast, which was in about 1179. With Papacy in control of the beast, that was then a new form of government, and because it was different than the original Roman Empire, it was an eighth head or government that was controlled by the Papal church.

It's instructive that the original vision of the seven heads and the ten horns, both in Chapter 12 and in the book of Daniel, seems to limit the Roman Empire to the sixth and seventh heads. Why is there an eighth head in this vision if that is true? The difference is that this beast is not a descendant of the Original Roman Empire. The reason for that, is because this beast was created by using Papacies authority, and it did not come from the original Empires laws and institutions, and that is why it is called an image of the beast—it was not a resurrected Roman Empire, it only looked like it. The eighth head was not a Roman government, because it came from German roots.

East Had a Church State System Also

The Eastern Empire did have a church and state system also, but there was no central religious figure that had gained complete control of the Roman Empire in the East, like there was in the West after the split from Papacy. We believe that the East will also be included in the fall of Great Babylon in Chapter 18 because it is part of the first beast of chapter 13, but the vision that we see here occurs mainly in the West. The time that we see the woman on the beast here, is when she was in complete control of the entire Western Empire and so this vision has to start before the Reformation.

Reformation Created Many Harlots

When the Reformation began and the Protestant system split away from Papacy, they kept a lot of the problems and erroneous doctrines of the mother system. That is why this Chapter says in verse 5, that she was the mother of all the other harlots. The Protestant children were harlots too, because they kept their church and state systems. There are more than just the Protestant offspring that are her children, because the Eastern churches are her children also. Papacy had corrupted the entire Empire, with the same false doctrines that she had, when she had gained control of both the East and West churches shortly after 539.

In Chapter 13, we saw a progressive and step by step vision of how the church and state system came into power, and a description of what it did. Those series of visions, take us all the way up until the beast or Image was killing any who were not in agreement with it. The vision here in Chapter 17, starts us at the time of the killing, and begins with the harlot riding and already in control of the civil power of the beast. This Chapter is mostly focused on the time of the height of the power of the church and state system, and is pointing directly to the mother church, which is the Papal system. Part of the prophecy does back us up in time to the time of John, and gives us a brief history of how this system came into being, so that we would have no doubt about who it is, and then after that it moves back forward in history, and goes into more detail about the time of the height of Papal power. When we get to Chapter 18 and the description of Babylon the Great, then we will see that the Protestant or daughter systems, as well as the church and state systems of the East, are also represented in that Chapter, and they all go down in judgment together with the mother system. This Chapter is going to be another witness about Papacy and what she did wrong, especially the torture and killing of the saints, and it confirms without a doubt who the harlot controlling the evil church and state system is.

Ten Kings Equals Civil Power Part of the Evil System

The ten kings we will see in this Chapter, are those who supplied the civil power to the evil system. These are the so-called Christian nations of the earth, that were in power with her during the Gospel

Age. They are not Christ's kingdom as was claimed by them, but they are Satan's counterfeit church state system, which Christ's true kingdom will replace in the next age. As we have discussed elsewhere, the ten kings may or may not be ten literal nations. It would fit better with the entire history of this system, if the ten kings are symbolic of the total civil power that the church and state system had at any point in time, no matter how many nations belonged to the system. We believe that symbolic definition is the most correct one for this time area, but there appears to have been 10 actual countries at an earlier time of around 539.

That the harlot committed fornication with the kings, is symbolic of the fact that she enticed the powerful ones or kings of the earth into the illicit relationship of church and state. The Papacy did that to gain personal power, and to ensure the support of the people, so that they would contribute their wealth to the church. The kings used the superstitious reverence of her, to enhance their control over the people. That illicit union grew into the evil church and state system of the dark ages, and reached its peak of power about 1179-1517AD.

One interesting thing about the ten horns, which proves that the vision we see in this Chapter is from later in history than the vision we saw in Chapter 13, is that the 10 kings were seen with crowns on their heads in Chapter 13. In this Chapter, we see that they do not have the crowns on their heads anymore, because this is the time that they had already given their crowns or authority to the woman—about 1179. When it talks about them in the beginning of this Chapter, it says that they have not received a kingdom yet, and we believe that what that is saying, is that at the time of John, they had not received a kingdom yet. They received that kingdom in 799-800, when Charlemagne was crowned by the Pope, creating a new Western Empire, which was the image of the beast. But at the time that the woman is shown riding the beast in 1179, that was when they had given the power of their kingdoms to the woman—which is why she is shown riding the beast, and controlling the civil power of the Empire.

Rev 17:13 They have one purpose and will give their power and authority to the beast. NIV

Many Waters Equals

The angel gives us the meaning of the many waters the harlot is sitting on, and they are explained as being many peoples, nations, and tongues. We know from history, that the Roman Empire was made up of many different cultures, and languages, and nations, and so that description fits very well.

Harlot is Drunk With Power

She was made drunk because of the great power that she had, which made her so powerful that no one could question anything that she did. The people thought that this illicit union was from God and that it was his kingdom, because they could not see how she could have all that power, unless God had given it to her. What they did not consider, was that the God that gave her that power and control, was Satan. Those who supported this system were especially those individuals that had a vested interest in maintaining the system, because of the wealth and power that it brought to them.

Without the harlot, they would have lost their influence and advantages. They and the harlot like drunks, overrode and suppressed the many basic human principles that should have kept them from doing the evil things that the Papal church demanded, like the murder of those who were trying to be faithful.

Wine of Fornication Intoxicated Her Followers into Doing Bad Things

The wine of her fornication, included the false idea that this was Christ's kingdom, and that everyone had to follow her teaching and commands no matter what. Those following her were deceived by her doctrines, and they did many terrible things in God's name. They were deceived into believing that the reign of the church over the powerful individuals and kings of the earth, was God's arrangement, even though it had led to the most oppressive and evil system that ever existed.

She was called a harlot, because she was unfaithful to her covenant with the Lord, and she had sold herself to the kings of the earth for a price. The price was that she would support their kingship, if they would support her claim that she was God's kingdom. The faithful church was supposed to be in the world, but not of the world, and since the church was to have remained separate from the world, she should not have been involved with the kings of the earth, and for that reason Revelation calls this an act of immorality. This was not God's time for the kingdom to be established, yet the fallen church-state system had tried to set up its own kingdom, and they falsely claimed that they represented God in that kingdom.

Revelation 17:3-5

Rev 17:3 And he carried me away in the Spirit into a wilderness; and I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast, full of blasphemous names, having seven heads and ten horns.

Rev 17:4 The woman was clothed in purple and scarlet, and adorned with gold and precious stones and pearls, having in her hand a gold cup full of Abominations and of the unclean things of her immorality,

Rev 17:5 and on her forehead a name {was} written, a mystery, "BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH." (NAU)

Beast & Wilderness

The area that the harlot controlled, was the Western Roman Empire, and at the height of Papal power it included what was called the Holy Roman Empire, which wasn't holy at all. The actual Empire at the height of its power, controlled more than just the part known as the Holy Roman Empire, because Papacy had considerable influence over the surrounding nations as well, and even the Eastern Empire. As we have studied Revelation, we have broadened our interpretation of the beast that the harlot was riding, to include more than just the civil power. We now see that the symbol of the beast represented not only the civil power of the beast, but it includes several other elements such as the financial, ecclesiastical, and the social support of the people. The harlot was the ecclesiastical or religious part of the society that made up this evil system, and because the people were religious, we could say that the beast she was riding on, also had a religious element to it, because it was for all intents and purposes a theocracy.

Desert = 539-1799

Chapter Fulfilled During that Time

The desert or wilderness, is symbolic of the desolate condition that society and the religious system became under the rule of the evil church. Both the Faithful Church and the harlot were in the wilderness, but as we saw in Chapter 12, the Faithful Church was to be fed by the Lord and protected there from the serpent which was Satan. The wilderness symbol was especially appropriate during the 1260 years, which was especially from 539-1799AD, but not limited to that time. As we get closer to the kingdom, the waters of truth are gradually removing that desert. But it will not be fully removed, until we see the Isaiah Chapter 35 water bring the desert to full life.

Vision in Wilderness

That the vision in Chapter 17, is in the “wilderness”, helps to confirm that we are looking in the right time frame for this Chapter, because the church was to be fed and protected during the wilderness time of the same 1260 years. In other words, the fulfillment of this Chapter must be at some time during the 1260 years, and not at some yet to arrive future time as some think. That is one reason why the eighth head is not future yet, but it had to of existed during the time of the 1260 years of power.

Same Evil Things Done by this Beast as Chapter 13 Image

In Chapter 13, we saw the two-horned Papal beast making arguments, with the intention of establishing an image of the original Western Roman Beast in the West. The ten horns that we saw there, are the same ten symbolic kings in this Chapter—which may not be ten actual kings, but only symbolic of the total civil power. The ten kings that this beast had, is what resulted in the doctrine of the Divine right of Kings being adopted, which was done to give the civil power legitimacy. In Chapter 13, the two-horned beasts influence with the leaders of the Western nations, eventually created the Image of the Beast in 799, and in that Chapter we saw it get even more power, it began to kill and destroy all who wouldn't go along with it. Now in this Chapter, we will see the same evil church and state system, in a different symbolic picture, that gives us a different and more detailed view of the same thing, in that we have the harlot riding on the 10-horned Image of the Beast, controlling its kings, and again killing the saints. We believe that the two sets of killing of the saints, are referring to the same events, but this chapter goes further down the path of history.

Beasts & More Beasts

In this Chapter, the time to which the vision of the woman riding the beast is pointing to, is described as the time that the beast had an eighth head. The original Christianized Roman beast with the seventh head began in 313AD when Christianity was first recognized as the favorite religion of the Empire, and then it grew in power when it was recognized as the only Religion of the Empire in 381AD. The beast with the seventh head fell when Rome collapsed, but the seventh head was restored at the time that Rome was restored from the attacks of Barbarians that had occurred in 476AD. That restoration was around the 539AD date, which was when the city of Rome was restored to the Empire at the time of the fall of Ravenna. The situation had been so bad prior to that time, that Rome itself had been sacked and taken control of by the barbarians—who were Arians.

After the Empire was restored from the Barbarians attacks, then we saw in history that from 539AD and onward, the Papal system worked to increase its wealth and power by being in league with the beast with the seven heads. Papacy became a two-horned beast when he acquired the Papal States in 754AD. See Chapter 13, for more information about why the two-horned beast began with Papacy. When Papacy plucked the civil horn out of the territory of the three horns, that gave him two horns, since he already had an ecclesiastical horn which he had acquired from Justinian, when he was given religious control over both halves of the Empire. Dan Chapter 7 gives us that information.

Dan 7:8 "While I was contemplating the horns, behold, another horn, a little one, came up among them, and three of the first horns were pulled out by the roots before it; and behold, this horn possessed eyes like the eyes of a man and a mouth uttering great boasts. NASU

History of Image & Eighth Head

The Image was formed when Charlemagne was crowned in 799-800, but the Pope was not able to establish control over the kings of the beast until about 1179, which then became an eighth religious controlled head when the kings gave their crowns to the beast. Papacy had grown in power, until he could control or influenced the power of all the kings under his jurisdiction, and that is when we see the harlot in this Chapter riding on the Roman beast, controlling it. From then on, Papacies power was largely unchecked until the time of the Reformation, which weakened it, but Papacy was not completely separated from his kingly power until the end of the 1260 years, which arrived in 1799AD. Papacy got some limited civil power back for a short time after that, and then we see all the civil power of Papacy and the Protestants destroyed in WW1, at the end of the 2520 years of the Gentile Times.

Will Any of the Religious System Get Power Back?

Will that system get any of that church and state power back so that it can do as it used to do as some think that it might? That's a question that we don't know for sure about, but it appears to be unlikely that the world powers would give it control like it had in the dark ages. As this Chapter points out, at the end of the hour of its power, the kings hated the harlot and burnt her flesh with fire. Daniel even tells us about the beast being cast into the fire and destroyed.

But as a word of warning, even if the fulfilled history of this system matches what we see here in Revelation exactly, we need to be aware that during WW2 the Papal system was encouraging the Nazi's to arrest and get rid of those with whom they didn't agree with doctrinally, and some of those being killed were actual Bible Students, and not just Jews. The terrible acts of murder that the Papal church encouraged at that time, shows that she still has the heart of a harlot, and that she would do anything to get back into power with the kings.

That terrible cooperation with evil, didn't give her any power as she had hoped, because Hitler lost, but she had tried, and she or her daughters could try again. We still need to watch to see if anything else might develop, either from the Papal system or from the religious right in the U.S., who are the daughters that are descended from her, since they are also trying to get back into power through politics right now. The religious authorities who advocate a return to a church and state system, obviously have forgotten the history of how the oppressive Papal system came about and the terrible things that it did. The new administration at the time of this editing, appears to be in league with the religious right, and so we might have a cooperation of them together, which might decide to get rid of some of us that they do not like.

Vision of the Harlot & the Beast

In this Chapter, we are going to be shown the entire church and state system working together during the height of its power. This vision shows the relationship of both, and how they worked together, and what eventually happened to them. This is another witness against this evil church system, so that there is no doubt as to who the guilty party is.

John Was in the Spirit Seeing a Vision

Carried away in the spirit represents being in a spiritual condition and seeing a vision. Being carried away in the spirit is how Paul described his experience when he saw the vision of the third heaven, although he said he wasn't sure if he went there bodily or in the spirit. Ezekiel had the same type of experiences in his visions, like for example when he saw the valley of the dry bones, and the vision of the temple.

Wilderness Came From First Four Churches of Decline

Earlier in Revelation Chapter 8, in the first four trumpets, we saw the step by step destruction of God's church by this system as it grew into power. In those first four churches, the trumpets showed us 10 different elements of God's system that were each being reduced by one-third—God is actually looking at the third church, for when the system had lost all truth, but the fourth made it worse. The reduction by one third of each of those ten different items left .666 in decimal form for each item, showing that the apostate church had corrupted all of God's faithful church and had turned it into Satan's system by the end of the fourth church. Each item was changed like this,  $1 - (1/3) = 2/3 = .666$ , rounded to three places. See Zech 13:8-9, for two parts cut off and one part saved, which shows that the two thirds was bad, and the one third is good.

Joel 2:3 A fire consumes before them And behind them a flame burns. The land is like the garden of Eden before them But a desolate wilderness behind them, And nothing at all escapes them. NASU

Vision About 1100-1200

The vision of the beast, is being shown to John at the time that it's in power with Papacy, as we see in verses 3-6. Since the woman is riding on the beast, that shows that Papacy is in control of the civil power at the time of the vision, and for that reason we see historically that this vision would have to apply sometime after 799AD, and is most likely showing us the harlot around 1100-1200AD, and we believe it was when Papacy had achieved a great deal of control over the kings in 1179. Papacy by that time, could tell the Emperor and the kings what to do, and he claimed the right to crown and uncrown them.

Both the faithful church and the harlot were in the desert, and as we saw in Chapter 12, the faithful church was to be fed and protected there by the Lord during the 1260 years, so that the evil system could not wipe it out—this is like Elijah's experiences of the threat of death that he received from Ahab and Jezebel.

Wilderness Equals No Water of Truth in System

That this is a wilderness, shows that there is nothing good in this system, and that they had destroyed anything that God considered of value. This is the same wilderness and desert into which the water of truth began to flow after the Reformation and after 1799AD. As time goes on, the water flow increases, and the full truth will eventually break forth, and the desert will blossom like a rose. The water will bring new life to the world, and establish the true kingdom as shown in Isaiah Chapter 35.

Names of Blasphemy

Full of names of blasphemy, represents false claims of representing our Lord Jesus here on earth, and claiming that all the evil things that she was doing were approved by our Lord. Papacy claimed that the kingdom that he ruled over was God's kingdom, even though it was filled with murder and oppression. God's kingdom will be a time of blessing, and will not be the worst time of oppression and trouble ever in the history of the world, as this system was. The blasphemy also included the many false doctrines that were not from God, such as the eternal torture of hellfire, and the Trinity doctrine which makes it impossible to understand the ransom doctrine, and the Mass that replaces what Christ had supplied as salvation, with the Abomination of Desolation.

Purple & Scarlet

That we see that this beast was scarlet colored, tells us that it's a very sinful system. In Isaiah Chapter one, Israel's sins are described as so bad, that they were scarlet, and that is the same kind of problem that this system has. Not only does the prophecy of Isaiah apply to literal Israel, it's also prophetically pointing to the Empire that we see Papacy controlling in this Chapter. The thought seems to be that the systems sins were so obvious, that they stood out like something scarlet colored would.

Isa 1:18 Come now, and let us reason together, saith the LORD: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. (KJV)

In the original Roman Empire, the only one who could wear purple was the rich, government officials and the Emperor. If any common person wore purple, they were subject to death. That this woman was clothed in purple and scarlet, shows that she was claiming the right to rule over the Emperor and the kings of the Roman Empire. That she had scarlet on, showed that she was just as guilty and sinful as the scarlet beast that she was controlling. That she is in purple and scarlet at the time of the vision, also confirms that we are looking at the correct time for the fulfillment of this vision, because this was the only time that Papacy wielded enough power to tell the Emperor and the kings of the West what to do.

Golden Cup

That she had a golden cup in her hand, shows a couple of things. One thing the cup represented was that she was claiming the right to judge and punish, just as God had used the symbol of the cup in the Old Testament, to indicate judgment on Israel and the surrounding nations, by making them drink from his cup. The drinking of the cup in Jeremiah, had pointed to the destruction and punishment that was coming to Israel and the surrounding nations because of their sinful ways. What's different here from Jeremiah, is that this cup is in the harlot's hand and not the Lord's. This woman is claiming the judgmental right of God for herself. In other words, she falsely claimed the right to sit in judgment of the nations and peoples, and from looking at the use of the cup in Jeremiah we see that right belonged only to God, although she claimed that she was representing God—which she wasn't.

Jer 25:15-16 (15 This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, said to me: "Take from my hand this cup filled with the wine of my wrath and make all the nations to whom I send you drink it. 16 When they drink it, they will stagger and go mad because of the sword I will send among them." NIV

Handwriting on the Wall Equals 2520 to 1914

The sinful and false doctrines that she had in this cup, had intoxicated the nations with the idea that they were God's kingdom on earth, and that she had the right to do whatever she wanted in his name. In a similar manner as what we see the harlot doing here, the Babylonian king Belshazzar had misappropriated the gold vessels from the temple, and used them in a drunken feast just before Babylon's destruction. See Dan Chapter 5. That Chapter in Daniel, is a very good picture of this situation, in that Babylon had misused the cups from the Lord's temple at the feast. The harlot of great Babylon is misusing the Lord's vessel in her drunken reveling. When the hand appeared, and wrote on the wall, they were frightened and called for Daniel. Daniel reminded the king of what had happened to Nebuchadnezzar, and told him that the days of his kingdom were numbered.

Dan 5:25-28 (25 "Now this is the inscription that was written out: 'MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN.' 26 "This is the interpretation of the message: 'MENE' — God has numbered your kingdom and put an end to it. 27 " 'TEKEL' — you have been weighed on the scales and found deficient. 28 " 'PERES' — your kingdom has been divided and given over to the Medes and Persians." NASU

In Aramaic Mene Mene Tekel Upharsin
 "Mene, Mene, Tekel Upharsin.
 Numbered, Numbered, Weighted, Divided."

In Hebrew Minah = 1000 gerahs
 Minah = 1000 gerahs
 Shekel = 20 gerahs -- (shekel, a fiftieth part of a thousand)
 Peres = 500 gerahs -- (peres, a half part of a thousand)
 _____ Total = 2520 _____

'seven times 360' = 2520, which is equivalent to the 'seven-times curse' of Leviticus Chapter 26.

What Daniel told the king above, is plainly stating that the kingdom of Babylon was going to come to an end. At that time, the prophecy of Lev Chapter 26 indicated  $7 \times 10 = 70$ , which is the 70 years that Babylon was in power over the nations. That is a good prophetic picture of what has happened to Great Babylon after 1914, when the  $7 \times 360 = 2520$  years ran out then, and the kings of the church and state system all lost their thrones in WW1. As we show in the book "The Biblical Count of the Years", there are actually several applications of 2520, the last of which is 1989, which was the fall of Communism.

Lord's Truths Mixed With Error

The lesson in Chapter 5 of Daniel, seems to settle the question about whose cup the woman had in her hand. The harlot had misappropriated the Lord's cup, and then mixed the true Gospel in it with all kinds of Abominations and unclean things. Her cup was filthy on the inside like a whitewashed sepulcher, full of the Abominations, filthiness, and intoxicating portions, which were her false teachings and the sinful practices that she advocated. Naming a few of the false doctrines, we find the mass, hellfire, Trinity, and the gross misrepresentations of Gods character and of his kingdom, etc. Those doctrinal errors were only a part of what she had in the cup that she gave the nations to drink.

Her Riches

There are two ways to look at the riches that she had, both of which are true. The first implication of all those jewels, etc., is that she considered herself to be rich in worldly wealth, and that was true of Papacy. They own lots of properties and other riches of this world, which they had collected from the poor people who were barely able to live. In Chapter 18, we will see all that wealth taken away from her and her daughters. The Lord will use that wealth in the establishment of the Millennial kingdom.

Isa 23:18 Her gain and her harlot's wages will be set apart to the LORD; it will not be stored up or hoarded, but her gain will become sufficient food and choice attire for those who dwell in the presence of the LORD. NASU

Besides being literal jewelry, the gold and precious stones and pearls, could also represent Gods truths, which the evil and apostate system had misappropriated to herself and mixed with error. What little truth she has, she has mixed with grievous error, hence the Abominations and filthiness of her fornication which are seen in the cup.

Name of Mystery

This title was written into her character, and was plain to see for all who look with understanding. Just as literal Babylon took actual control of natural Israel, Babylon the Great had taken forceful control over the Gospel Age church in the same manner.

The UBS translator notes say that she has a name that has a secret meaning, known only to the initiated. This is the same Greek word as is used in Col 1:26, where we find the mystery hid from the ages. A well-kept secret from her people, is that she is Anti-Christ, falsely claiming to be Christ's church. The word mystery written in her forehead, shows us that she was the mystery of iniquity that was predicted by the Apostles to come. This Chapter gives us a great deal of information, and a detailed description, so that those who diligently study the scriptures would be able to recognize the evil system that Paul had predicted.

On this end of the age, we again find that Babylon the Great has done the same kinds of bad things to God's people, that the original Babylon had done to Israel. Smith's dictionary says Babylon means gate of God. Strong's says that it means confusion and that definition fits the best. The apostle Paul gives us a description of the mystery of iniquity that was to come, and we can see that it matches this evil system exactly.

II Thes 2:6-11(6 And now ye know what withholdeth that he might be revealed in his time.

7 For the mystery of iniquity doth already work: only he who now letteth will let, until he be taken out of the way.

8 And then shall that Wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming:

*9 Even him, whose coming is after the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders,

10 And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.

*11 And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie:

The one that stood in the way and kept the Papal power from succeeding earlier, was the Roman Empire. Rome stood in Papacies way to power, but when it fell, she jumped at the opportunity that came because of Rome's weakness. She eventually took over what was left of the civil power of the West, and used it to give herself riches and control over the people.

Only the faithful saints had recognized her for what she was during that dark time, and tried to fight her. That is why we see the souls of those who had been slain, because of their testimony about Jesus in the fifth seal. The fifth church was at the height of her power at that time, and she used that power to persecute and kill all who opposed her, or her false doctrines. That is also the time area where they began the inquisition, torturing, and killing of all who didn't agree with her.

Mother of Harlots

That she is the Mother of Harlots, shows us that the Roman Catholic System begat all the "Daughters" which are Protestantism, and the other branches that have developed since the time of the Reformation. Most of them are likewise harlots and follow in her footsteps, in that they also had illicit union with earthly institutions. The Eastern churches can also be thought of as daughters, because they received their doctrines from her when she controlled both sides of the Empire. They all attended and agreed to the same church councils that corrupted all of God's truth, and which substituted Satan's doctrines in their place. So, the Eastern churches are also being referred to as daughters at the time of the vision of her power here in Chapter 17. The Protestants were also daughters that came out of her later during the Reformation. The Faithful Church is symbolized as being a virgin that follows the Lord no matter where he goes, and because of following the Lord she has stayed separate from worldly organizations.

Abominations of the Earth

And that she is the “mother of the Abominations of the earth”, is the same word as in verse 4, where we saw that “in her golden cup”, she has “detestable” or “abdominal things”, depending on the translation.

Abomination = 946 bdelugma (bdel'-oog-mah); from 948; a detestation, i.e. (specially) idolatry: KJV-- Abomination.

The Abominations, represent the many false doctrines that all the daughter systems still follow yet to this day! Many of her offsprings still adhere to a form of the mass, which is an Abomination to God, in that they attempt to sacrifice Christ every hour on the hour in the Mass. They also believe in hellfire, the immortality of the soul, the Trinity, the Divine Right of Kings, and the many other Abominations that came from her. In Matt Chapter 24, we find the warning our Lord gave us about the Abomination of Desolation that was going to come, and historically we see that it did come. Daniel tells us, that from the time that it was set up, until it would come to an end, would be 1260, 1290, and 1335 years, which represent 1799, 1829, 1874AD.

Matt 24:15 When therefore ye see the Abomination of Desolation , which was spoken of through Daniel the prophet, standing in the holy place (let him that readeth understand) ASV

Dan 12: 11-12 (11 "And from the time that the regular sacrifice is abolished, and the Abomination of Desolation is set up, there will be 1,290 days.

12 "How blessed is he who keeps waiting and attains to the 1,335 days! NASB

Some Daughter Systems

Also Persecuted & Killed the Saints

We see that some of the daughter systems are just as guilty as the mother, in that many of them still persecuted and killed the saints after they broke free of their mother. Because they were guilty of the same types of things as their mother, we will see them lumped together with the harlot in Chapter 18, where it uses the term Babylon the Great to cover them all. Just as Babylon was made up of all the countries that she had captured, there are a multitude of different branches of Apostate Christendom represented in the name Great Babylon.

Kings Were Drunk

With the Combined Power of the System

That the kings of the earth were drunk with the wine of her immorality, shows that the kings willingly entered this union with her. They saw this union with her as a benefit to themselves, which helped them to keep control of the people. That they were drunk when they entered this union, shows that they were not thinking very clearly when they did so. They were inflamed with the desire for power and it clouded their judgment.

Later in the Chapter we see that they regretted their decision and they left her and burnt her flesh with fire. The reason that they regretted their decision, is found in the history books for this time, in that this is one of the most brutal and terrible times in the history of the world. Not only the people, but the kings of the earth were also subjected to extreme abuse by the Papal system.

Revelation 17:6

Rev 17:6 And I saw the woman drunk with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the witnesses of Jesus. When I saw her, I wondered greatly.

Drunk with Blood of the Saints

That she was drunken with the blood of the saint's, shows that she was intoxicated with her success in persecuting and killing the faithful saints, whom she called heretics. The word martyrs in the Greek means "witnesses", and that's what the faithful saints were. The word used here is translated martyrs in some translations, because they were killed because of their witness against her. The more honest history books, claim that Papacy has slain millions. The inquisition was one of the main instruments of this killing, but there were also outright wars against other nations, who disagreed and tried to break free from Papal control. Foxes book of Martyrs lists many of those killings, and it documents the barbarity of the methods used. And I saw and I wondered with great admiration, is translated utter amazement in Philips. UBS says greatly astonished. How could a supposed Christian church behave in this manner?

That the woman was drunken with the blood of the saints, shows what was historically true, in that this system claimed to be doing good when they killed God's people, and that they claimed a God given right to do so. They had no shame at the time, and openly bragged about it, claiming that they were doing God a service. They even claimed that they were helping their victims, because if they could get them to recant, then they claimed that they were saving them from hell. For that reason, we see that her being drunk on the blood of the saints, is a reference to the inquisition that began at the height of their power in about 1184, which helps to date this vision. Instead of just persecuting the saints as they had done previously, the evil church system decided that they had a right to torture a confession out of individuals who wouldn't go along with their corrupt doctrines. Once they tortured a confession out of them, they then turned the individual over to the civil power, where they were usually burned at the stake. If they confessed they were strangled before they were burned, but if they did not confess, then they were burned alive. That this Chapter is talking about the same evil system as Chapter 13, is confirmed when we look and see that the Image of the Beast was also killing the saints, exactly like this woman and beast were.

Rev 13:15 And he had power to give life unto the Image of the Beast, that the Image of the Beast should both speak, (KJV) and cause that as many as would not worship the Image of the Beast should be killed.

Wearing the Saints Out

The beast that we are shown, which was the one carrying the woman, is the Western Roman power that was carrying or supporting Papacy, during the peak of her power. This was at the time of the eighth head, which was when the Pope had gotten a great deal of control over the civil power of the Western Empire, which was about or shortly after 1179AD. The faithful church had resisted the evil system as best that they could, but eventually the Papal system wore them down. Once she was at the height of her power, she used the inquisition to murder all those resisting her that she could find.

Dan 7:25 And he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High, and think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time. (KJV)

The wearing out of the saints that Daniel prophesied about, is what we see here in this vision. The faithful church was gradually worn down, until Papacy controlled every aspect of the lives of those who were under that system's power. That they sought to change the times and seasons, as it says in Daniel, refers to the fact that they claimed that they had already established God's kingdom here on earth. The changing of the laws occurred when they had established their own oppressive rules, laws, and false salvation in place of God's. The 3.5 times 360 or 1260 days, are the 1260 years during which they had their oppressive power, at a year per day.

Revelation 17:7-8

Rev 17:7 And the angel said to me, "Why do you wonder? I will tell you the mystery of the woman and of the beast that carries her, which has the seven heads and the ten horns.

Rev 17:8 "The beast that you saw was, and is not, and is about to come up out of the abyss and go to destruction. And those who dwell on the earth, whose name has not been written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, will wonder when they see the beast, that he was and is not and will come.

History of the Beast That Was, Is Not, and Will Come Out of the Abyss

The beast that was and is not and will come out of the abyss, shows that there was something different about the beast that the harlot is riding. At one time, we thought that it “was not”, because Papacy had taken control of the Western Roman Empire and turned it into a theocracy. While that was not a bad answer because it is exactly true, we believe that there may be an even more important meaning behind the phrase “the beast that was, but was not”. It gives us a very important clue next, when it says it’s about to come up out of the abyss and go into perdition or destruction.

That it’s coming up out of the abyss, gives us a major hint that we need to look back at Chapter 13, to see if there is anything similar mentioned in that Chapter. In Revelation 13:1, we saw the collapsed Christianized Roman Empire just as it was coming back up out of the sea. That vision was showing us Rome coming back into existence, after its head had been smitten, which was just after it had been overrun by the Barbarians in 476AD. We see the same thing in this Chapter, but here it’s described as coming up out of the abyss, instead of up out of the sea. In Chapter 11 in a third reference, we see it described as coming up out of the abyss like it is here and killing the two prophets, which is the same symbol of the abyss that we see used here.

Rev 11:7 When they have finished their testimony, the beast that comes up out of the abyss will make war with them, and overcome them and kill them. NASU

In other words, it was the so called Christianized Roman Empire at the time that it had existed after 313AD. And then for a time “it was not”, after Rome fell in 476, and that was when it was in the abyss as described here in this Chapter, and the other two scriptural references. The reason that it was in the abyss, was because Rome had become so weak, that the Barbarians hoards had overrun it in 476AD, and they had sacked Rome and destroyed the Western part of the Empire. When it’s seen coming back up out of the abyss, is when it comes back into existence again around 539AD. The Roman Emperor Justinian restored some of the Western power of Rome after the collapse, and he was also the one who gave Papacy ecclesiastical control over both halves of the Empire around the time of 545AD, when the laws were written down and codified. Papacy had gotten a defacto control over the religion of the Empire in 539, because the seat of the Old Roman Empire had become his when Ravenna was captured and Rome freed from barbarian control. The Adventists say that he was verbally given command over both halves of the empire just before 539, by Justinian.

Same Events With Different Symbols in Chapter 13

To help confirm that this is the same event in Chapter 13 and here, we see the same statement in both Chapters, where it says “the whole earth wondered about the beast.” So, regarding this beast, “coming up out of the sea” is exactly and symbolically equivalent to “coming up out of the abyss”.

Rev 17:8 The beast that thou sawest was, and is not; and is about to come up out of the abyss, and to go into perdition. And they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, (they) whose name hath not been written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast, how that he was, and is not, and shall come. ASV

Rev 13:1-3 (1 and he stood upon the sand of the sea. And I saw a beast coming up out of the sea, having ten horns, and seven heads, and on his horns ten diadems, and upon his heads names of blasphemy. 2 And the beast which I saw was like unto a leopard, and his feet were as (the feet) of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gave him his power, and his throne, and great authority. 3 And (I saw) one of his heads as though it had been smitten unto death; and his death-stroke was healed: and the whole earth wondered after the beast; ASV

It should be obvious that the beast coming up out of the sea, and the two places that it is coming out of the abyss, are the same events. That it’s about to come out of the abyss here in Chapter 17, and come back into existence after its having been overrun by the Barbarians, is shown by the statement in verse 8, where it says it was in the abyss yet, and that it will come again, which we know happened after 539. This is another witness regarding who the evil system is, in that it is being described by two to three witnesses using slightly different symbols, so that there can be no doubt as to who it is.

Some might complain that two of the places that the word is used, use abyss rather than the sea. But a close examination of the word, shows that it can be used for an ocean or flood of water, in other words out of a deep sea, and so this can be an abyss of the ocean or the sea.

NT:12 ábyssos [abyss] A term for the underworld as a. the prison of the disobedient (Luke 8:31; Rev 9:1) and b. the realm of the dead (Rom 10:7).

Originally an adjective for an implied "earth," ábyssos is used in Greek for the depths of original time, the primal ocean, and the world of the dead. In the LXX it denotes the original flood, then the realm of the dead (e.g., Ps 71:20).

A Further Development in Next Section

In the next section, we are going to find out the same thing as what we saw in Chapter 13, where we saw that after the restoration of the original seven-headed beast, there was later on going to be a further development. That further development is going to be described as an eighth head on the beast, and that beast existed in the Western Roman Empire. The seven-headed beast, just before it was overrun by the Barbarians, included the entire Empire of both the East and West. But the Image or eighth head was only in the Western part, and that is the beast that Papacy is seen riding on.

Revelation 17:9-11

Rev 17:9 "Here is the mind which has wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains on which the woman sits,

Rev 17:10 and they are seven kings; five have fallen, one is, the other has not yet come; and when he comes, he must remain a little while.

Rev 17:11 "The beast which was and is not, is himself also an eighth and is {one} of the seven, and he goes to destruction.

Eighth Out of the Seventh Beast

This Chapter makes another statement regarding the beast in verse 11, telling us that it is also an eighth beast, and that it's "out of" the seventh beast. That is the same thing that we saw regarding the Image of the Beast in Chapter 13, in that the Image was not the same thing as the original Roman beast that had existed before the Barbarians collapse. The Image was created in the sight of the original beast, and the two-horned beast was the one that deceived them into creating it in 799AD, by the crowning of Charlemagne Emperor.

Image Turned into Eighth Head When Kings Gave Power to Beast And Papacy Controlled it

The beast with the healed head, had originally included both halves of the Empire, but when it came back into existence there was no Emperor over the Western half of the Empire for many years, from 436 to 799AD. That changed when Papacy crowned Charlemagne Emperor of the West in 799-800. He created a new Western Empire, where there had been none since the fall of Rome in 476AD. That new Empire was the Image of the Beast we saw in Chapter 13, but it did not turn into the eighth head until Papacy got full control over the kings—creating a theocracy after 1179. That new Empire and theocracy, is the eighth head that we see on the beast in this Chapter. That is when he gained even more power, enabling the beast to kill anyone that did not go along with the systems corrupted doctrines and practices.

Once we see what has happened, we then know that the beast that the woman is riding on in this vision, is not exactly the same beast that was seen coming out of the abyss or even out of the sea. It was a new beast with an eighth head, and it was a descendant of the original seventh or Christianized Roman beast. The reason that it became the eighth beast, is because its form of government was different from the original Christianized Roman Empire, in that it was directly controlled by Papacy—making it a theocracy. The first seven heads were Roman, but the eighth head was not a Roman government, because it had come from German tribes. That is why the vision of the Roman beast in Daniel, only had seven heads on it.

Charlemagne should not have been called a legitimate Emperor at all, because the Eastern Emperor was the only legal Emperor at the time. The Eastern Empire was rightfully ruled by a woman Emperor named Irene in 799AD. Before the collapse of Rome by the Barbarians, there had been two Emperors, with the Eastern Emperor being considered as being greater in power than the Western one. When Rome had collapsed, there were no more Western Emperors until Papacy crowned Charlemagne as a new Western Emperor. The new Western Emperor that was created there lasted for 1000 years, even though it was illegally created by Papacy, it was illegal because Papacy did it through his own authority, and he did not use the laws of the Roman Empire to do that. It was also not a Roman Empire, because the Charlemagne Empire was created from German Tribes. Once it was being controlled and manipulated by Papacy, as described in verse 11 of this Chapter, it is then an eighth governmental head. Rev 17:11 And the beast that was, and is not, is himself also an eighth, and is of the seven; and he goeth into perdition. ASV

The Western Roman Empire was never actually able to come back together as the same unified Empire as it had been after it fell apart in 476AD, and the same thing was true when Papacy crowned Charlemagne. What came together was a unity of several nations that gave their power unto what eventually became a theocracy. The ten kings gave their support unto the beast when that happened. In practice as time went on, and after Papacy had gotten a great deal of power, the kings then became afraid to disagree with Papacy.

The image was initially a civil power beast, but it was not the original Roman beast, even if Papacy was claiming that it was the Roman Empire. So, we see that is one way that it became an Image as described in Chapter 13, because it only looked like the original Roman Empire—but it was not, it was a German Empire.

This Beast is the Eighth When Controlled by Papacy

The angel was telling John that “at the time of the writing of Revelation”, that 5 had fallen and that the sixth one was “then in existence”. He was also telling John that the seventh would come later and only exist for a little while, and that the one that the woman was riding on would be the eighth, which came out of the seventh. Some interpreters, as well as most Bible Students, move the placement of the sixth head after the end of the 1260 years, which is after 1799AD. They believe that it is correct to do that, because it’s felt that the seventh church is symbolically the John class, and that the vision that he is being given applies to the church on this end of the age. We believe that it is a mistaken interpretation to move it future, and that the sixth head existed in John’s time, exactly where the angel said that it was in existence, and there is no scriptural authority to move it anywhere else later in history. The seventh and eighth head the brethren are waiting for, has not emerged yet after 219 years, and we predict it will not, because it has already existed in history.

Five Had Fallen One is at Pagan Rome

At the beginning of this Chapter, we pointed out that there had been 5 different Empires or nations that had taken control of the Holy Land before the time of Rome, which was the sixth one. The seventh head came into existence, replacing the Pagan sixth head when Christianity was recognized as the religion of the Empire in 313AD, with the edict of Milan, and especially by the decree of 381. It’s also very interesting that we find that every one of the eight heads are defined and placed into history by our Bible Student chronology. See the diagram at the beginning of this Chapter.

All Shall Wonder Here & in Chapter 13

In this Chapter, the prophecy uses the same statement that it used in Chapter 13, saying that all who dwell on the earth “shall wonder” when they see this beast—this again proves that this is the same beast. They wondered if this was really God’s kingdom, because the harlot had enough power and control over the beast, that it looked legitimate. All who weren’t spirit-begotten were deceived, but the faithful saints were not, because they were looking for just such a terrible event to come, and because of their understanding of the scriptures, they knew it was the great falling away that had been prophesied about by Paul.

The ones who were deceived, were those whose names were not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world. Only the faithful church has their names written in the book of life of the Lamb, and so the Study Group concluded that this verse should include the phrase “of the Lamb”. That would be an easy thing for a copyist to drop out of the text. The reason that we think that addition is correct, is because there are several other places that tell us that the church’s names are written in “the book of life “of the Lamb””, and the addition “of the Lamb” would make this verse agree with all the other places. Otherwise we could understand that the book that was meant was the book of the Lamb, even if it does not say that.

The Study Group also concluded that the book of life for the world, has everyone’s names written in the general book of life when they are born. Their name remains in that book unless they have their name taken out because of grievous acts or sins, such as what is mentioned in Hebrews Chapter 10, or unless the name is moved to the Lamb's book of life. Hebrews explains to us about what could happen to a member of the church, if he rejects the salvation that Christ had provided for him, but in a secondary application we can see that anyone in the kingdom could fall into the same problem. Heb 10:26-31 (26 For if we go on sinning willfully after receiving the knowledge of the truth, there no longer remains a sacrifice for sins, 27 but a terrifying expectation of judgment and THE FURY OF A FIRE WHICH WILL CONSUME THE ADVERSARIES. 28 Anyone who has set aside the Law of Moses dies without mercy on the testimony of two or three witnesses. 29 How much severer punishment do you think he will deserve who has trampled underfoot the Son of God, and has regarded as unclean the blood of the covenant by which he was sanctified, and has insulted the Spirit of grace? 30 For we know Him who said, "VENGEANCE IS MINE, I WILL REPAY." And again, "THE LORD WILL JUDGE HIS PEOPLE." 31 It is a terrifying thing to fall into the hands of the living God. NASU

If those who are in the book of life for the world consecrate and are accepted by the Lord, then their names are moved to the Lambs book of life, and those are the ones that are described as not being deceived by the beast and the harlot. It would not be reasonable that all of those who were part of the harlot system had their names removed out of the general book of life, because that would imply that they all went into second death. That is not a reasonable expectation, because we know that God would save all if possible, and most of those in the fallen system have done wrong in ignorance. Only those who did the evil things in full knowledge will be in danger, and we pray that not very many will fit into that category. The rest will fall into the Great Company or worldly class, and they will be saved, but they will not get the reward of the high calling.

Didn't Exist At Time of John

That it was yet to come in verse 10, shows that it was something that didn't exist yet at the time of the writing of Revelation in John's time, but that it would surely come there was no doubt, because Daniel had prophesied about it. This was the great falling away that had also been prophesied to come by the Apostle Paul, and he most likely was looking at the Old Testament book of Daniel when he made that prediction.

2 Thess 2:3-4 (3 Let no one in any way deceive you, for it will not come unless the apostasy comes first, and the man of lawlessness is revealed, the son of destruction, 4 who opposes and exalts himself above every so-called god or object of worship, so that he takes his seat in the temple of God, displaying himself as being God. NASU

Revelation 17:12-14

Rev 17:12 "The ten horns which you saw are ten kings who have not yet received a kingdom, but they receive authority as kings with the beast for one hour.

Rev 17:13 "These have one purpose, and they give their power and authority to the beast.

Rev 17:14 "These will wage war against the Lamb, and the Lamb will overcome them, because He is Lord of lords and King of kings, and those who are with Him {are the} called and chosen and faithful." (NAU)

10 Horns Have Power for One Hour With Beast

In Rev 17:12, we are told that the ten horns received power with the beast for one hour. That one hour is the 1000 years from 799, when the image was created, until 1799 or perhaps until 1914 at the latest. As we have studied this beast and its history, we have refined things down into finer detail. The Image was created when Papacy crowned Charlemagne in 799-800, but Papacy did not develop the eighth head on the beast until sometime later, when he took control of the kings. The sixth and the seventh heads were Roman, but the eighth head was not a Roman government, but it had sprang up from German tribes. The vision of the Roman beast, only had seven heads on it, because Daniel only saw the destruction that came from the seventh beast, but this chapter shows that the eighth head was a further outgrowth of the seventh head, which had become a theocratic government with Papacy controlling it.

So, the question about this is should we count the hour from the Image in 799, or from the later time when Papacy took control in 1179? The crowning of Charlemagne was a behind the scene agreement with the civil power. Papacy taking control later, was not agreed to by the kings, and they were forcibly taken over by the much more powerful religious system at the time. Since the original agreement between the civil power and Papacy was a joint agreement, that is where we start the one hour of 1000 years, which was the image of the original Roman beast—but the new beast was not Roman, it was German. Napoleon took away the ability of Papacy to crown kings and Emperors in the Empire shortly after 1799.

When the kings were taken over and they gave their crowns unto the beast, we notice that the horns do not have crowns on their heads, nor do the seven heads. That is because the ten horns gave their crowns or civil power to the beast. The heads do not have crowns on them, because the eighth head is the one with the power on this beast. The ten kings that this beast had, is what resulted in the doctrine of the Divine right of Kings being adopted, which was done to give the civil power legitimacy.

One thousand years after the creation of the image, which was counting from 799AD, most of the kings abandoned the harlot with only a few of them rejoining her later. But that briefly restored partnership only lasted until the end of WW1, and then all the kings that had supported her were destroyed or their governments were turned into other types of governments. One other reason that they were all destroyed then, was because the 2520 years of the gentile powers ran out in 1914AD, and all the kings of both Papacy and the Protestants were destroyed then. Most governments that have gotten free from the church and state system, do not want anything to do with the harlot anymore after that time, and if they do anything they attack her like the Communist governments did.

This Chapter is the only place that we find the eighth head described. The eighth head is not shown in the original view of the Roman Empire, which was pictured with only seven heads in Revelation Chapter 13, and in the book of Daniel. Rev Chapter 13 speaks of the healing of the head, and then later tells us about the Image, but it doesn't call the Image an eighth head. That the eighth head is not included in Daniel or even earlier in Rev Chapter 12 and 13, is proof that the eighth head is not the original Roman beast, but it is the Image of the Beast at the time that Papacy had taken theocratic control of it.

Daniel's Beast
3 From 10 Horns
to 7 Horns + Papacy = 8

Daniel does not show us an eighth head either, but he does show us a little horn that had plucked up three other horns. In 754-756AD, Papacy acquired the civil power of the three horns mentioned in Daniel with the land grant he got from Pepin. There doesn't seem to be any argument against the idea that there were three literal countries that were plucked up, because history seems to document that very well, and there should be no disagreement, that if Papacy was given control of much of that three countries, he had acquired a civil power horn. The three countries were the Heruli in A.D. 493AD, the Vandals in 534AD, and the Ostrogoth's in 539AD. The plucking up occurred by 539, but Papacy did not get full control of that land until 754 at the donation of Pepin, which created the Papal States.

Civil Power Acquired by Papacy Created Two horned Beast

A lot of that territory was given to Papacy by Pepin, who was the father of Charlemagne, and that acquisition of civil power was a major step in Papacy's rise to power. History records that Pepin was put into power by a decree from Papacy. Papacy upheld Pepin as a ruler over a territory, against some other ruler who lost because of the Papal decree, and that is why Pepin was obligated to him. The ecclesiastical horn over both halves of the Empire was the power over the church that Papacy had been given by Justinian, and the civil power horn that he acquired from Pepin, is what placed a civil power horn next to his ecclesiastical horn, changing him into the two-horned beast from Chapter 13.

In our discussion of the dragon in Chapter 12, and the beast in the beginning of Chapter 13, the Study Group saw that the plucking up of the three horns may also have a symbolic application rather than being just three literal countries. By Papacy taking three horns off of the beast, the beast would have only had seven horns left on it. What we think that would represent prophetically, is that the ten-horned civil power of the beast, would have been turned into a seven-horned theocratic power. The eighth or little horn or head was Papacy controlling the original Roman beast, and when he was seen in the middle of the seven other horns, he was the eighth—a little horn, just as Daniel saw him. In the Bible, the number 8 signifies the beginning of something new or a new era or order. That evil system was something new that the world had never seen before, and they now hope that they never will see again.

Daniel and the Eighth Horn

Even though Daniel does not show us an eighth beast, we see an eighth horn that took control over the beast, which is equivalent to an eighth head. What we see pictured in the plucking up of the three horns, is that Papacy had made an Empire that he could claim was the kingdom of God, because the seven horns that were left pictured it as a religious Empire. This of course was an apostate religious Empire, and was not the true kingdom of God, especially when we see Papacy directing the affairs of the kingdom. That he was in the middle of the other horns, made it add up to eight horns and thus it was not a genuine authorized religious kingdom from God—it was only a counterfeit.

A Cautious Warning About Persecuting Powers

We wish to give a word of warning regarding the church-state system of the dark ages being the eighth head and the Image, etc. Even if we see that the fallen church-state system that fulfilled those prophecies, existed during that time, that doesn't mean that it couldn't still persecute us in the future. The system has lost its civil power and the power to persecute through civil power now, but that doesn't mean that they have changed their ways. It's still the same evil church system, but with its teeth pulled. If it or the daughters saw the chance to take power again and to remove those whom it considered heretics, it would do so if it could. The picture of John the Baptist seems to be a possible picture of what could happen, but only time will tell.

Other Commentators Agree About the Danger

Other commentators who hold similar views about the evil of Papacy, have given the same warning about that possibility. The book "A Woman rides the Beast", as well as the book "Romanism and the Reformation", all gives the same warning. That warning becomes especially critical as we see many radical Protestants, like the religious right who have forgotten what the Reformation was all about, trying to reunify Christianity together with Papacy, in order to get political power—which is happening at the time of this editing. That’s the same mistake that the early church made, when they got involved in politics.

The Papal system was involved in persecuting and having those with whom it didn’t agree with murdered, as late as during WW2, by cooperating with Hitler. Clearly, even if we don’t have a specific prophecy to point out the danger, the original prophecy still applies as a warning even if it’s been fulfilled completely by the original system. If they did it once, they would do it again if they get the chance! It may be true that since the Lord is present, that he will not allow it to come back again, but we don’t know if he wouldn’t allow it to get power or influence for a short time, so it could complete the church. Alternatively, the church could of course be removed in the whirlwind of anarchy that we think will come at the end, and so we don’t know for sure what event will complete the 144,000. We could even all die of natural causes, or the kingdom may overtake us. We caution everyone to watch regardless, because there is no way to know for sure what will happen at the very end.

Amos 9:13 “Behold, days are coming,” declares the LORD, “When the plowman will overtake the reaper And the treader of grapes him who sows seed; When the mountains will drip sweet wine And all the hills will be dissolved. NASU

Rev 17:15

Rev 17:15 And he said to me, "The waters which you saw where the harlot sits, are peoples and multitudes and nations and tongues. (NAU)

This verse again gives us an important description of this system, so that we can identify it. We see that the people that would be supporting this system, would not all be from one nation, nor would they all have the same language, as indicated by the word tongues. This is an exact description of the Roman Empire, in that it was made up of many different nations at the time we are looking at. Originally Rome had annexed all the nations that they had conquered and made them a part of the Empire, but after the restoration of the Empire from the Barbarians attacks, that was no longer true. The nations that belonged to the restored Empire, kept at least part of their individual nation status, but at the same time swore allegiance to the Empire, so that they could have the protection of the Empire.

Revelation 17:16-17

Rev 17:16 "And the ten horns which you saw, and the beast, these will hate the harlot and will make her desolate and naked, and will eat her flesh and will burn her up with fire.

Rev 17:17 "For God has put it in their hearts to execute His purpose by having a common purpose, and by giving their kingdom to the beast, until the words of God will be fulfilled."(NAU)

The Fire From the Ten Horns

It tells us in Rev 17:8, that after the beast came out of the abyss in 539AD, that it was eventually to go into the fire of destruction at the end times. That tells us that there was going to come a time when the beast was going to be destroyed, as shown in Daniel. In Daniel, we see the actual destruction of the beast pictured when it's cast into the fire of destruction. Dan 7:11 "Then I kept looking because of the sound of the boastful words which the horn was speaking; I kept looking until the beast was slain, and its body was destroyed and given to the burning fire. NASU

That this is the symbol of a destructive judgmental fire, shows the final consumption of the apostate church-state system and that destruction will not be reversed. It was cast into the fire in 1799, and by 1914-18, the Image of the Beast was gone—all that remains now, are shattered pieces of nations that will eventually be removed. Many of the kings that had been in power with that system, realized their error in 1799, or there about, and began to remove themselves from her system of power. They also began to attack the harlot, pointing out her many flaws.

If we look at the civil power represented by the 10 horns of Rev 17:14, and the kings of 19:19, we would have to say that the evil system was gradually being worn down for some time in preparation for the kingdom. Since 1918AD, most of the kings that had been associated with Papacy, have been destroyed or drastically changed. Most of the nations have not been in direct power with the harlot or even the Protestants anymore since 1918AD, and we have been in the situation of Rev 17:16 for quite some time, in that the kings have hated the harlot and have been burning her flesh with fire, especially since 1799AD.

10 Kings Dropped Most of their Support after 1799

Western Europe and the governments there, have not supported the evil church very much at all since 1799AD, and especially after 1918AD. The support for the Papal church has been drying up as was predicted in Rev Chapter 16, and the sixth bowl of wrath. The scientific institutions have been attacking religion, mainly because they see the abuse that the evil system caused in the dark ages. The other problem that the fallen churches have, is that many of the false Dark Age doctrines that they still adhere to, are unreasonable from a scientific viewpoint, and that makes them an easy target of the governmentally backed science community. The scientists do not agree with a literal six-day creation, and we agree with them that each of those time-periods are much longer in length. What we don't agree with, is that they think everything happened by accident. We believe that God has been the intelligent designer behind the entire creation, and that he does use the methods of natural selection. Changes in species can occur by the natural pressure of their environment, but the creation of separate species came from God himself. For example, the difference between Lions, dogs, and cows, etc.

Final Destruction Still Coming

In Rev 19:21, we see the remnants that are left over after the beast is slain by the sword of him who sat on the horse. The final destruction of the remnants of the evil system has not been fully accomplished yet, but those final events will occur after the church is complete. All their organizations such as the beast and the False Prophet, will be destroyed by being thrown into the lake of fire, but that is not the destruction of the people that are in those governments and churches, but only the destruction of the systems. They will be freed from that evil system by its destruction, and they must come up to the mountain of the Lord if they want the blessing of the kingdom. That is the same thing as the drying up of the waters of support in the sixth bowl of wrath, which releases the people so that they can escape and get up on the highway to the kingdom. If they don't come up to the mountain or kingdom of the Lord, then they won't get the rain or blessings that are due at that time. After 100 years, if they don't accept the salvation of God, they could literally wind up in the lake of fire, which symbolizes permanent destruction. See Isaiah 65:20 regarding the 100 years.

Water of Peoples, Multitudes, and Nations Same as Waters of Euphrates

Rev 17:15, tells us that the waters that the harlot sat upon were peoples, multitudes, and nations. These are the waters of the Euphrates or the support of the people, that is gradually being dried up to make way for the Kings of the East, as seen in the sixth bowl. As we saw in studying the sixth bowl of wrath, the drying up of the water accomplished a major work after WW1, but that work is not complete yet, and that is what will be finished at the beginning of the kingdom, when all the people will leave Satan's system. The Kings of the East that are coming, are the Lord and the completed 144,000 of the church, that are to come from the East or the sun rising, as seen in the sixth bowl of wrath. The East in that bowl represents the sunrise, and that points to the dawn of a new day—the Millennial age!

Mind of Wisdom

Here is the mind = intellect Strong's #3563

That this is the mind that has “wisdom”, is the same word as found in Rev 13:18, where it uses “wisdom” in regard to the understanding of the number 666. This is not a single individual, which is the wrong interpretation many churches fall into, but it is anyone that can understand Chapter 13 and this Chapter. Both Chapter 17 and Chapter 13, refer to the wisdom that is needed to understand the prophecy, and that again shows us that both Chapters are talking about the same thing. This description seems to be telling us, that if we have wisdom and can think logically with reason, then we can understand both Chapters and see that they are telling us the same story of a terrible and evil system that existed especially during the 1260 years. Prophecy has warned us, that this evil system was going to persecute and kill many of the faithful church, and historically that very obviously already happened. In other words, both Chapters were predicting terrible things that were going to happen, which we can see from looking at history really did happen. A terrible period in history was fulfilled exactly like these Chapters had predicted.

The Ten Kings of Church and State

This is a repeat of information, but because it's important, we include it here again, and we believe this new section adds some new information. The ten kings could represent ten actual countries, as is generally thought, and that seems to have been true shortly after the restoration of the Western Empire in 539. But it's also very possible that because there are ten symbolic kings and the number ten in symbol represents civil power, that the ten kings may be simply showing us the entire civil power of the beast, rather than just ten literal countries. That way we would not have to be concerned about identifying who the ten kings are at different times in history.

Dawn Publication

“Daniel, Zechariah, and Revelation”, on page 25

But since the Bible sometimes shows things in more than one way, we have looked for a method that would identify 10 actual kings or kingdoms. One interesting method that may help identify the ten different kings, is through some coins that were issued at the time. Each of the ten countries that we are listing as possibilities had coins that had crowns on them, and no other countries could do that: (1) Heruli (2) Ostrogoth's (3) Lombard's (all three are part of modern Italy). (4) Vandals (Sicily and North Africa) (5) Visigoths (Spain) (6) Sueves (Portugal) (7) Franks and (8) Burgundians (both in France) (9) Allemans (Germany) and (10) Anglo-Saxons (England). This information is found in the Dawn publication “Daniel, Zechariah, and Revelation”, on page 25.

Total Civil Power in 10 Horns?

Regardless of whether there were ten actual nations, or that they just represent the total civil power of the beast, the ten-king's support has been gradually broken down from the time of the Reformation onward. At the end of the hour, the kings completely took their power back to themselves by abandoning the harlot in 1799AD. A few joined back up with the harlot for a short while, but all the kings were completely overthrown in WW1. In Chapter 18, we will find that it says that her judgment came in one hour, and that seems to indicate that her time had run out in 1799AD.

Kings Burnt Harlot with Fire After 1799

After 1799AD, some of the kings began to burn her flesh with fire, as was prophesied in verse 16. When the civil power abandoned the harlot, they began to attack her doctrines and ideas, finally recognizing that they should not have been associated with her in the first place. This especially happened with France, who outlawed the Papal system, but at the time they were not the only ones in Europe who rejected that evil system totally after 1799. This happened almost immediately, in that after 1799AD many governments that had been associated with that system, no longer wanted anything to do with the religious church and state system. Many of them such as France, went out of their way to ban participation in religion after the bad experiences that they had while under her power. For a while, things had gone against Papacy to the extent that many believed that her days were numbered. Unfortunately, that system eventually recovered, and we are still waiting for its complete end yet today.

Many Wanted to Destroy the Harlot Before 1799

There were many people that hated the harlot before 1799, but the church had too much power, and they didn't dare openly resist it. Sir Isaac Newton is a good example of that, because he didn't dare publish his biblical writings while he was still alive. Many of the things that he was looking at in his writings, are looking exactly at the same system of evil that we are. The only question that Newton had in his time, was exactly when to start the 1260 years, because he was before his time, and he did not have any historical things yet on this end of the age to link the chronology to.

Rebellion Against Papacy Began

After the decline of her power in the Reformation in 1518 and then again in 1799, many began to rebel openly against her. During that time, there were many scientific discoveries that were made, and those discoveries led many to abandon the churches superstitious doctrines, because they saw scientific explanations for many things the church had wrong. This was also the time of the theory of evolution, before which the superstitious doctrines of the church didn't stand a chance. The government backed schools began to teach science that disagreed with the church. That especially happened in the schools of higher learning, and many of those so exposed became atheists.

The nations that were turning against Papacy, were in a sense burning her flesh with fire, because they were taking away members that had been loyal to her, and convincing them that they needed to support the state instead. There were also many that were advocating different ideas like communism, and other strange ideas that were pulling people away from the religious systems. We know that there were ones like Voltaire and others that were publishing against the religious system during that time—exposing the evil of the system. There were also some religious people that were opposed to the doctrine of Papal infallibility, as well the idea that the Popes claimed the right of supremacy over the nations or even the church. The people of the time had begun to question everything regarding the religious system, especially as they saw that the system was corrupt. They saw that church and state was not a God given right that the churches had, and they advocated the breakup of those church and state systems that still existed.

The Final Destruction of Old World Order

The final destruction of the Old-World order that occurred in WW1, was the final destruction of what was left of the old original Roman Empire at the end of the 2520 years. We see that the war cast the Image of the Beast into the fire of destruction, as is shown in Daniel 7:11, and that picture shows us that once it's on its way to destruction, there is no return for it and Papacies control. That is the same outcome as pictured by the crushing and grinding up of the pieces of the Image, and the final wind that we are still waiting for that will blow them away as shown in Daniel. The final wind of that prophecy has yet to blow the pieces away as far as we can see, but it is not far off.

The Eighth head and the image was destroyed when Papacy lost control of the kings in 1799 AD. The First World War was when all the kings went to their final destruction, and we find it nowhere mentioned that any of them ever returns from their condition of destruction. Nahum 1:8-9, tells us that God will make a complete end of that evil system, and that it will not come back again!

Nahum 1:8-9(8 But with an overflowing flood He will make a complete end of its site, and will pursue His enemies into darkness.

9 Whatever you devise against the LORD, He will make a complete end of it. Distress will not rise-up twice. (NAS)

Dan 7:11 I beheld then because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake: I beheld even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and given to the burning flame. (KJV)

Dan 7:26 But the judgment shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it unto the end. (KJV)

All the land and civil power that Papacy had gained from the donation of Pepin, was taken away from her by 1870AD. She no longer directly controlled a civil Empire after that time, as she had since the time of Pepin, when he had given her the land that came from the three horns. In 1929, the Lateran Treaty settled the Pope's relation to the Italian state, and set up an independent city-state called Vatican City, and that small piece of land that the Vatican sits on, is all the land that they now have.

All Christian Religion Rebelled

So, we see that after the kings broke free of the evil system, that they began to take people and other things away from her. That symbolically is burning her flesh or support with fire. This rebellion was not just against the Papal system, but it also included the Protestant systems. That especially happened in Eastern Europe when communism took over after WW1. Since then in Western Europe, the people have left the churches in large numbers, such that many of the great cathedrals are museums now. Unfortunately, a lot of the people are accepting Islam, and that may be why there will be a problem at the final time of the end, when all nations come against Israel.

Rev 17:18

Rev 17:18 "The woman whom you saw is the great city, which reigns over the kings of the earth."(NAU)

Rev 11:8 Their bodies will lie in the street of the great city, which is figuratively called Sodom and Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified. NIV

Rev 16:19 The great city split into three parts, and the cities of the nations collapsed. God remembered Babylon the Great and gave her the cup filled with the wine of the fury of his wrath. NIV

Great City Symbol Includes More Now

We have saved this verse for last, because there is an important point that needs to be made regarding who the Great City and Great Babylon are. In Rev 11:18, which is quoted above, we see that the Great City was only representing the Papal system. The reason that it was only the Papal system, is because that was the only Christian religious authority that existed at the time of that vision, and even at the time of Chapter 17. Verse 18, says that the harlot is the Great City, and that would agree with Chapter 11, where the Great City is first seen.

By the time of the vision in Rev 17:5, we see that the Harlot has also acquired the name “mystery, Great Babylon, the mother of harlots and all of the Abominations of the earth”. Since she is also called Great Babylon, and the mother of all the other harlots, that would make her and all her offspring, which are the other Apostate churches, a part of Great Babylon. The Great City and Papacy is like the city of Babylon, which was a part of the Babylonian Empire, but at the same time existed separately as a city—the Great City.

As Papacy split from the Daughter systems, that fragmentation was what was created Great Babylon. Great Babylon, is like the old Empire of Babylon, which was created out of many people, tongues, and nations etc. That shows that the central city of Great Babylon, is the same thing as the Great City—which is Papacy. When we look at what the word Great means, we find that it means big or large, and that makes sense if we include all the rest of Christendom in the name Great Babylon. So, the Great City is Papacy, and the symbol Great Babylon includes Papacy, but it also has all of the other Apostate Christian religious systems in it.

NT:3173 megas (meg'-as); [including the prolonged forms, feminine megale, plural megaloi, etc.; compare also NT:3176, NT:3187]; big (literally or figuratively, in a very wide application):

KJV - (+fear) exceedingly, great (-est), high, large, loud, mighty, (be) sore (afraid), strong, to years.

(Biblesoft's New Exhaustive Strong's Numbers and Concordance with Expanded Greek-Hebrew Dictionary. Copyright © 1994, 2003, 2006 Biblesoft, Inc. and International Bible Translators, Inc.)

Verse 5 is therefore telling us that Papacy is not the only fallen church that is a part of Great Babylon. It tells us that she is the mother of all the daughters, and they are also harlots because they are corrupt like her, and follow her false doctrines. Because of that corruption from the mother church, they are also a part of Great Babylon. In other words, the name Great Babylon is not exclusive to Papacy, but anyone that descended from her evil practices is included in that name.

Included in Great Babylon, are Papacy, the Protestant system, as well as the Eastern and Russian Orthodox, because they got most of their false doctrines from her, and because of that they are described as having descended from her. What we see described here, is that the original Great City of Papacy, later in history, was a part of a larger entity that is called Great Babylon—all the offspring who have descended from the Great City belong to Great Babylon.

Rev 17:5 and on her forehead a name was written, a mystery, "BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH." NASU

Rev 17:18 "The woman whom you saw is the great city, which reigns over the kings of the earth." NASU

Seeing that Great Babylon includes Papacy and all the daughter systems and their branches at the end of the age is important, because when we study Chapter 18 next, then we will understand that the downfall and the destruction that we see in that Chapter, is more than just the Papal system, it will include all the daughter systems that have inherited the evil ways of their mother and who also need to be removed, so that they release all their people before the coming Millennial age.

Chapter 18 which is next, will in the name Great Babylon, include Papacy, the Protestants, and all the Eastern churches, who still agree with the false doctrines, and maybe even the Religion of Islam is included, who all come from the Eastern part of the Empire. Islam is involved in the final trouble for sure, but we have not decided if they are part of this prophecy. They are a later part of prophecy that involves the nation of Israel, during the Ezekiel 38-39 prophecy.

Chapter 18
Revelation 18:1-3
Fall of Babylon

Rev 18:1 After these things I saw another angel coming down from heaven, having great authority, and the earth was illumined with his glory.

Rev 18:2 And he cried out with a mighty voice, saying, "Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great! She has become a dwelling place of demons and a prison of every unclean spirit, and a prison of every unclean and hateful bird.

Rev 18:3 "For all the nations have drunk of the wine of the passion of her immorality, and the kings of the earth have committed {acts of} immorality with her, and the merchants of the earth have become rich by the wealth of her sensuality." (NAU)

Bowl seven was poured out upon the unclean demons and spirits of the air that we see dwelling are dwelling in Great Babylon, because it was time that their influence was going to be removed from the earth.

Rev 16:17 Then the seventh angel poured out his bowl upon the air, and a loud voice came out of the <sup>H</sup>temple from the throne, saying, "It is done." NASU

Babylon Has Fallen
& Cannot be Recovered

The relationship between the Great City and Great Babylon, is that the Great City is only the Papal system. Great Babylon on the other hand, contains the entire religious system of both Papacy and the Protestants. Great Babylon is like ancient Babylon, in that it was made up of the many outer countries it had conquered, yet it contained a central city which was called Babylon—that central city of Babylon is symbolic of the Great City of Papacy. The Daughter Systems mentioned in chapter 17, are the church systems that have sprang off from the harlot Papacy, propagating the same false doctrines that they had gotten from their her.

Rev 17:18 The woman whom you saw is the great city, which reigns over the kings of the earth." NASU The symbol Great Babylon, which for sure includes Papacy, has all of the other Apostate religious systems added into it. Initially it was only the Papal system, but as the daughter systems came into existence, they split off from the Great City, and the many different versions of Christianity then formed Great Babylon. We can look at it as if Papacy the Great City, was the central or founding city of the country of Great Babylon, and all of the other harlots or daughters make up the country of Great Babylon.

The angel coming down from heaven, represents the beginning of the harvest time work of our Lord Jesus, who came down to earth in his second presence in 1874AD, Dan 12:1. Some count the time from 1799, up to 1874 AD as a time of preparation for the Second coming, with more truth and the organization of many groups that had expectations for him to come. That is a possibility because of the picture of him coming down to the earth, but not down completely, which is the same thing that we saw in Rev chapter 10. For sure 1874 AD is the time that he is coming to exercise his power and to begin to take charge of his kingdom, and to begin destroying the remnants of Great Babylon and its power. To start out, he is the one that supplied the full harvest message to the seventh messenger, so that the harvest truth can be revealed to the church.

Heb 10:12-13 ( but He, having offered one sacrifice for sins for all time, SAT DOWN AT THE RIGHT HAND OF GOD, 13 waiting from that time onward UNTIL HIS ENEMIES BE MADE A FOOTSTOOL FOR HIS FEET. NASU

That “all” of the nations committed spiritual fornication with Great Babylon, shows that more than just the Papal system is included in the title Babylon the Great. Because of that, we believe that all of the daughter systems are included in the name Great Babylon at this end time point in history—the Protestants, and the Eastern churches are also included in the name Great Babylon. The daughter systems kept most of the false doctrines that they got from their mother, and that’s another reason they are included in the symbol Great Babylon. They are all guilty of church and state unions, and all of them derived most of their heretical doctrines from the Papal system.

God does not care that they divided into different branches of religion, because they are all descended from the original harlot—bringing their same basic false doctrines with them. That is similar to literal Babylon back in the time of the destruction of Israel, where Babylon absorbed all of the nations that she captured, and added their slaves and armies to her system in order to enhance her power. In other words, Babylon was made up of more than one nation after it had conquered the other nations, and the same thing is true with Great Babylon, in that it is made up of many different countries and offshoot religions at the end time, when we see it being destroyed in this chapter.

Eastern Churches Also Believe in A Form of Mass

The Eastern churches, unlike the Papal system, didn’t openly take over the governments of the countries that they were in, but they still had a union of church and state where they had great influence on the governments. They were also guilty of adopting the false Papal doctrines during the time that the Papal system was in charge of both the Eastern and the Western churches, and because of that they also have a form of the mass where they believe that the bread and wine are actually turned into the body and blood of our Lord Jesus, where they sacrifice Christ over and over again, but they don't call it transubstantiation, saying that they prefer to leave it to be a mystery.

1845 Parallel Brings Punishment

Another very important reason that we think that all of Christendom is involved in this final and literal fall of Great Babylon, is because of what we will see in verses 4-6, where we will see Great Babylon getting a double punishment. The double punishment will be seen to be pointing to the 1845 year parallel, and just as all of Israel was judged at their end of the first 1845 at the First Advent, the same thing is true of Great Babylon at the time of the Second Advent. The 1845 year parallel shows all of Christendom being judged and not just the Papal harlot. That all of God's people are being called to come out of her in verse 4, also confirms that we are looking at the harvest time of 1878 - 1918.

That he is illuminating the earth in this vision, shows us that this is Christ, since we see the same event described in Thessalonians, where it tells us that it is the Lord Jesus who will come with brightness.

II Thes 2:8 And then shall that Wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming:(KJV)

Babylon Has Fallen Completely

Earlier in Revelation 14:8, we saw a similar statement regarding Great Babylon, where it also said that she had fallen. The angel that made that announcement was seen in mid heaven, where we see that this angel is described as coming down to the earth—showing that this is at a later time in history. Even though it was not the traditional thought for that Chapter, in our notes for that section, the Study Group felt that was the beginning of the fall of Great Babylon, and that the downfall that is mentioned there, may have started during the time of the second and third woe trumpet. The reason the Study Group felt that time was the beginning of her fall, was because the church and state system already began to come into power at that time, and the Faithful Church was being warned in that Chapter not to have anything to do with that system.

It would be too late to warn the saints not to worship the beast or the Image, if we were to wait until 1878 to issue the warnings, because the beast and the Image had come into existence during the latter part of the third and the beginning of the fourth church. We don't believe that the Lord would have neglected to warn the saints not to have anything to do with the evil system when it existed in great power. The warnings not to worship the beast and the Image that were issued during that earlier time, were still in effect when the seventh church began. The message to the saints of the seventh church, changed to "come out of her my people Babylon", showing that the other warnings in Chapter 14 were earlier in history.

The Fall of Babylon Here Has Stronger Wording

In Chapter 18, much stronger adjectives have been added to the statement concerning her fall, than what was said about her fall in Rev Chapter 14. Here in this chapter, it says that she is a prison house of every unclean and hateful bird. Every hateful bird is not translated as well as it could be in King James, in that the word hateful means detestable.

3404 misero (mis-eh'-o); from a primary misos (hatred); to detest (especially to persecute); by extension, to love less: KJV-- hate (-ful).

The word unclean also has an interesting meaning, in that it means to be impure or ceremonial or morally unclean. The reason that the entire system has literally fallen this time, is because it's so bad and corrupt that it's not able to be used by the Lord anymore, and for that reason its cast off or spewed out, as they were warned would happen in the message to the seventh church.

169 akathartos (ak-ath'-ar-tos);

from 1 (as a negative particle) and a presumed derivative of 2508 (meaning cleansed); impure (ceremonially, morally [lewd] or specially, [demonic]): KJV-- foul, unclean

Just as Chapter 17 was further along in history or at least more detailed than the Chapter 13 picture, this vision is also further along than the Chapter 17 vision, in that this one starts out right at the final judgment and destruction of Great Babylon. Some of the events may begin as early as 1799, but most of them show the 1914 and onward destruction, which is a final destruction of the evil system.

Into First Three Bowls Onto Last Four Bowls

In chapter 16, we were shown the destruction of the church and state system, and the kings of the earth. One interesting thing that we found out in our study, was that the first three bowls of wrath, completed their work of destruction in the 1914-18 time frame of WW1, but that the last four bowls did not fully complete the destruction of their symbols in the 1914-18 time frame. The description of the bowls as to how they are poured out, confirms that there is a difference between the first three bowls of wrath and the last four. In the Greek text, we found out in the study that the first three were poured "into" their symbols, and the last four were poured "onto" their symbols.

The "angel of the waters" confirmed for us that there is a difference, because after the third bowl was poured out, he confirmed that the first three had completed the punishment that had been promised to the dead under the altar. The "voice from the altar" confirmed that same thing: Rev 16:7 And I heard the altar saying, "Yes, O Lord God, the Almighty, true and righteous are Your judgments." NASU

So the question becomes, why is there a difference between the first three bowls and the last four, especially since we do not see that the last four bowls symbols are not being shown completely destroyed in chapter 16? What we determined is that chapter 16 does not in general show us the full destruction of the last four sets of symbols, that the last four bowls were to destroy—there are a total of seven symbols that were to be destroyed by the seven bowls of wrath.

It appears that in order to get a complete table of the destruction, we have to include the latter part of chapter 17, and the first part of chapter 20. Chapters 17-20 do show us the complete destruction of those symbols, because in those chapters, for example in chapter 19, we are shown the full mopping up of Satan’s worldwide system, which is what the last four bowls of wrath are especially dealing with. Chapter 17 has the destruction of fire by the kings against the harlot, and chapter 20 shows us the final removal of Satan in time for the kingdom. The last four bowls of wrath start the destruction of their symbols in 1914, but they do not complete that destruction until the time of the kingdom is almost upon us—but the symbols of bowls 1-3, which deal mostly with the church and state system, are completely destroyed in the 1914-18 time frame.

This table is still under study and modifications. But it shows us where the bowls of wrath seem to re-appear again to show us the final destruction of their symbols.

Isaiah

In Isaiah, we have a prophecy regarding the fall of literal Babylon. That prophecy is also a prophetic picture of the fall of Great Babylon on this end of the age. In that prophecy we see the watchman in the tower watching to see what was going to happen, which is a picture of the church watching to see when Great Babylon was going to fall.

Isa 21:6-9 (6 For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Go, set a watchman: let him declare what he sees:

7 and when he sees a troop, horsemen in pairs, a troop of asses, a troop of camels, he shall hearken diligently with much heed.

8 And he cried as a lion: O Lord, I stand continually upon the watch-tower in the day-time, and am set in my ward whole nights;

9 and, behold, here cometh a troop of men, horsemen in pairs. And he answered and said, Fallen, fallen is Babylon; and all the graven Images of her gods are broken unto the ground. ASV

Jeremiah

If we look at Jeremiah Chapter 51, we are being shown literal Babylon at the time that she had fallen. That's when Israel was told to flee from her, and now we see the same thing on this end of the age with Great Babylon, because in Revelation 18:4, the faithful saints are told to flee out of her. Almost the same language is employed in describing literal Babylon as the language which describes Great Babylon. The scriptures that talk about literal Babylon, have a second and prophetic application for Great Babylon where they are speaking about Great Babylon and what is happening to destroy her.

Jer 51:6-9(6 Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and deliver every man his soul: be not cut off in her iniquity; for this is the time of the LORD's vengeance; he will render unto her a recompence.

7 Babylon hath been a golden cup in the LORD's hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations have drunken of her wine; therefore the nations are mad.

8 Babylon is suddenly fallen and destroyed: howl for her; take balm for her pain, if so be she may be healed.

9 We would have healed Babylon, but she is not healed: forsake her, and let us go every one into his own country: for her judgment reacheth unto heaven, and is lifted up even to the skies. (KJV)

Jer 51:37 "Babylon will become a heap {of ruins} a haunt of jackals, an object of horror and hissing, without inhabitants. (NAU) Jer 5:27-31(27 As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: therefore, they are become great, and waxen rich.

28 They are waxen fat, they shine: yea, they overpass the deeds of the wicked: they judge not the cause, the cause of the fatherless, yet they prosper; and the right of the needy do they not judge.

29 Shall I not visit for these things? saith the LORD: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

30 A wonderful and horrible thing is committed in the land;

31 The prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests bear rule by their means; and my people love to have it so: and what will ye do in the end thereof? (KJV)

Jer 51:13 O thou that dwellest upon many waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come, and the measure of thy covetousness. (KJV)

Great Babylon is the Great Falling Away

Great Babylon is the corrupt religious system that is described as the "Great Falling Away", because it had fallen away from the Lord and the original Gospel message—which 2 Thessalonians had predicted would happen. The fornication that Christendom was committing, was the illegal union of church and state that occurred because of the power and riches that it brought to both parties. Both the Harlot and most of the daughters and the Eastern churches, were all guilty of fornication with the kings.

2 Thess 2:1-5 (2 Now we request you, brethren, with regard to the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our gathering together to Him, 2 that you not be quickly shaken from your composure or be disturbed either by a spirit or a message or a letter as if from us, to the effect that the day of the Lord has come. 3 Let no one in any way deceive you, for it will not come unless the apostasy comes first, and the man of lawlessness is revealed, the son of destruction, 4 who opposes and exalts himself above every so-called god or object of worship, so that he takes his seat in the temple of God, displaying himself as being God. NASU

Four Elements of System

The entire fallen system, is made up of the four elements of society, which are Social, Political, Financial, and Ecclesiastical. The kings of the earth were associated with this system for political gain and support, because the people thought that if the church supported the king, then he was approved by God. During the dark ages, the common people were oppressed by the evil system, and they were told that they had to support it with what little money they had. That is where Great Babylon had gotten the great wealth from that we will see a little further on in this Chapter, where it is being removed from her. On this end of the age, Peter says the elements of society that made up that system, will symbolically melt with fervent heat, and that is another symbolic picture of the destruction of that system.

Revelation 18:4-5

Rev 18:4 I heard another voice from heaven, saying, "Come out of her, my people, so that you will not participate in her sins and receive of her plagues;

Rev 18:5 for her sins have piled up as high as heaven, and God has remembered her iniquities. (NAU)

Judgment & Fall of Babylon

Jer 51:7-10 (7 Babylon was my golden cup, filled with the wine of my anger. The nations of the world got drunk on this wine and went insane. 8 But suddenly, Babylon will fall and be destroyed. I, the Lord, told the foreigners who lived there, "Weep for the city! Get medicine for its wounds; maybe they will heal." 9 The foreigners answered, "We have already tried to treat Babylon's wounds, but they would not heal. Come on, let's all go home to our own countries. Nothing is left in Babylonia; everything is destroyed." 10 The people of Israel said, "Tell everyone in Zion! The Lord has taken revenge for what Babylon did to us." CEV

Rev 6:9-11 (9 When the Lamb broke the fifth seal, I saw underneath the altar the souls of those who had been slain because of the word of God, and because of the testimony which they had maintained; 10 and they cried out with a loud voice, saying, "How long, O Lord, holy and true, will You refrain from judging and avenging our blood on those who dwell on the earth?" 11 And there was given to each of them a white robe; and they were told that they should rest for a little while longer, until the number of their fellow servants and their brethren who were to be killed even as they had been, would be completed also. NASU

The judgment and fall of Babylon and those who still support her, is the reason for bowl 2, which cuts them off from being a part of the 144,000 if they don't stop supporting her and come out of her to the Lord. Those who do come out of Great Babylon, are not destroyed with her, but they are symbolically lifted up above the fiery punishment that is going on below them.

In the first bowl of wrath, those who had the mark of the beast and who worshiped the Image, received boils and sores as the beginning of punishment. The punishment from the bowls of wrath, is some of what we are going to be seeing in this Chapter. In the seventh bowl of wrath, we see that God remembered to give Great Babylon the cup of his fierce wrath. All of those things can be escaped by the saints, if they come out to the Lord in the harvest. Even if literal destruction falls all around them, they will not lose their faith in the Lord, because they will know that the destruction is the punishment against the evil system.

Rev 16:19 The great city was split into three parts, and the cities of the nation's fell. Babylon the great was remembered before God, to give her the cup of the wine of His fierce wrath. NASU

Rev 15:2 And I saw something like a sea of glass mixed with fire, and those who had been victorious over the beast and his image and the number of his name, standing on the sea of glass, holding harps of God. NASU

Ps 91:1-10 (1 He who dwells in the shelter of the Most High

Will abide in the shadow of the Almighty. 2 I will say to the LORD, "My refuge and my fortress, My God, in whom I trust!" 3 For it is He who delivers you from the snare of the trapper And from the deadly pestilence. 4 He will cover you with His pinions, And under His wings you may seek refuge; His faithfulness is a shield and bulwark. 5 You will not be afraid of the terror by night, Or of the arrow that flies by day; 6 Of the pestilence that stalks in darkness, Or of the destruction that lays waste at noon. 7 A thousand may fall at your side And ten thousand at your right hand, But it shall not approach you. 8 You will only look on with your eyes And see the recompense of the wicked. 9 For you have made the LORD, my refuge, Even the Most High, your dwelling place. 10 No evil will befall you, Nor will any plague come near your tent. NASU

Harvest Separation From Great Babylon

That we see here “another voice”, indicates another angel that is like the one in 18:1. This second voice from heaven gave the call for the saints to come out of Great Babylon. It’s not certain exactly who the angel is, but it is most likely the messenger to the seventh church, Bro Russell and those who were with him. If this is an actual angel, he would have been the one who gave the message to Bro Russell and those who were with him at the time. They were to begin calling out for those who had a hearing ear and a seeing eye to come out of that evil system.

It was time for the saints to be separated from that evil system, because the time of its judgment and destruction had come. For that reason, this voice represents the call of the harvest time and the saints are being warned to get out, so that they don’t partake of Great Babylon’s soon to come plagues, which would begin in 1914AD.

If you had a crown and continued supporting that evil system after 1914-18, you would have been participating in her sins, and then you would then be judged guilty of her sins with her. The call to come out of Great Babylon, was the separating work of the harvest of the end of the age that began in 1874-1878AD. That was the time of the 40-year harvest, in which those who were of the faithful church, were to come out of her. If they didn’t come out, they would have begun to receive of her plagues at the time of her punishment and destruction, which began in 1914. Our Lord had warned in the Gospels, that the harvest time would come at the end of the age, and this vision is pointing to the end of the age, and it shows that the time had run out.

7 Bowls of Wrath Poured Out After Harvest

As we saw in Chapter 16, the bowls of wrath began to be poured upon Great Babylon after the 40 years. If you stayed in her after that time, you were in danger of losing your crown and of partaking of her plagues—just as our Lord had warned. We are not saying that there cannot still be individuals with hearing ears and seeing eyes being called out yet today, but it appears that all who had a crown at that time should have heeded the call to come out and done so. After the harvest time, anyone who was called out, was called out because of the need for replacements for those who lost their crowns.

Nominal House Spewed Out

It would be more correct to say that we are being called out of the world and not out of the nominal house after 1914. God was not dealing with Great Babylon as a system anymore after 1878, but individuals who were striving to serve God could still be called and given a crown and a chance to run the race. That is the message that we saw given in the seventh church, where we saw the Lord standing at the door and knocking. It’s up to the individual to hear our Lord’s voice, and to open the door and let him in. If they opened the door to him, he then sat down and provided them with nutritious spiritual food. That picture, is the same thing that was true of the Jewish system at the First Advent, in that even though the Jewish system was cast off, any individual Jew could still answer the call of the Lord and come into the church.

Scriptures From Old Testament About Babylon

Again, we see many Old Testament scriptures that originally applied to literal Babylon, that say the same thing as what we see here in Rev Chapter 18 regarding coming out of Great Babylon. In Jer 51:45, it gives us the message that they were to flee Babylon, so that they could save themselves from the fierce anger of the Lord, and that is the same warning given here in Chapter 18, where the saints are told to “come out”, so that they don’t partake of her plagues.

Isa 48:20 Go forth from Babylon! Flee from the Chaldeans! Declare with the sound of joyful shouting, proclaim this, send it out to the end of the earth; say, "The LORD has redeemed His servant Jacob." (NAU)

Jer 50:8 "Wander away from the midst of Babylon and go forth from the land of the Chaldeans; be also like male goats at the head of the flock. (NAU)

Jer 51:6 Flee from the midst of Babylon, and each of you save his life! Do not be destroyed in her punishment, for this is the LORD'S time of vengeance; He is going to render recompense to her.

Jer 51:7-9 (7Babylon hath been a golden cup in the LORD's hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations have drunken of her wine; therefore, the nations are mad.

8 Babylon is suddenly fallen and destroyed: howl for her; take balm for her pain, if so be she may be healed.

9 We would have healed Babylon, but she is not healed: forsake her, and let us go every one into his own country: for her judgment reacheth unto heaven, and is lifted up even to the skies. (KJV)

Jer 51:45 "Come forth from her midst, My people, and each of you save yourselves from the fierce anger of the LORD. (NAU

Isa 52:11 Depart, depart, go out from there, touch nothing unclean; go out of the midst of her, purify yourselves, you who carry the vessels of the LORD. (NAU)

Her Sins have Reached unto Heaven

That her judgment had reached unto heaven, was a common statement in the Old Testament, whenever Israel or some other nation committed grievous sins, as we saw above in Jer 51:7-9. It was past the time that God was going to put up with her iniquity, and it was now time that he was going to remember her sins and punish her. This is the same picture as when Sodom and Gomorrah had become so corrupt that God couldn’t overlook their sins anymore, and he destroyed them. As we see in both scriptures below, we even have the same symbol of the smoke of their burning, and destruction rising into the air, as what we saw in Jeremiah.

Gen 19:27-29 (27 Now Abraham arose early in the morning and went to the place where he had stood before the Lord; 28 and he looked down toward Sodom and Gomorrah, and toward all the land of the valley, and he saw, and behold, the smoke of the land ascended like the smoke of a furnace. 29 Thus it came about, when God destroyed the cities of the valley, that God remembered Abraham, and sent Lot out of the midst of the overthrow, when He overthrew the cities in which Lot lived. NASU

Final Punishment Began in 1914

Because she has been judged and found guilty in 1874-1878AD, God could begin to punish and destroy her after the final 40-year period ended in 1914. For that reason, all that were truly God's people and who had crowns should have come out of her by the time of punishment, as verse 4 is warning them to do. This is the separating of the wheat from the tares, that our Lord told the church would occur at the end of the age. In that parable, we note that the tares were burned after the separation.

Matt 13:28-30 (and he said to them, 'An enemy has done this!' The slaves said to him, 'Do you want us, then, to go and gather them up?') 29 'But he said, 'No; for while you are gathering up the tares, you may uproot the wheat with them. 30 'Allow both to grow together until the harvest; and in the time of the harvest I will say to the reapers, "First gather up the tares and bind them in bundles to burn them up; but gather the wheat into my barn."'" NASU

Thus, all who had crowns and who didn't heed the call to come out within a reasonable amount of time, would have had their opportunity of being of the 144,000 lost. The burning of the tares is like the fire described in 1 Corinthians Chapter 3, where all the dross is destroyed, and the reward was going to be lost by those who didn't build on the true foundation of gold and silver, which was truth from the Lord.

Revelation 18:6

Rev 18:6 "Pay her back even as she has paid, and give back {to her} double according to her deeds; in the cup which she has mixed, mix twice as much for her. (NAU)

The Double Punishment

This verse is not a call for the saints to do the punishment, but it is a command to the Lord to carry out the punishment on Great Babylon, and that was what he was going to do at the time of his return. In the seventh bowl of wrath, Babylon the Great was remembered before God, to give her the cup of the wine of His fierce wrath. This is the Lord's cup that she had misappropriated for herself, and now he is going to bring double punishment against her.

The double here could have several possibilities, but the most interesting and likely one points to the 1845 year judgment double, which authorized the destruction that began in 1914AD. The 1845 year double started with Jacobs's death, and then was mid-pointed at the Jewish harvest in 33AD. From that time, another 1845 years passed and it then pointed to the harvest parallel of 1878AD—which is the date of the judgment of Christendom. Just as the Jewish 40-year harvest came upon the Jews and they were found guilty and punished after 33AD, the same thing was going to happen on this end of the age with Christendom. See the second volume “Studies in the Scriptures”, for much more detail in regard to “the 1845 double” and what it means.

We have included a table of the judgment double in the notes on Chapter 7 of Revelation. In that Chapter, we saw that the judgment on the evil system, came upon them in 1878AD. In 1914AD the war that began at that time, was designed to punish and eventually remove Christendom—which corresponds to the final fall of Great Babylon that we are going to see here. The prophecy we will see here is not going to be saying that the entire system would be completely destroyed in a short time, but as we have seen historically, all of the Kings that had been associated with the church systems in harlotry were either destroyed or lost their crowns by the end of WW1. Their punishment came on them in several steps, like travail upon a woman—as shown by the pouring out of the bowls of wrath. Each bowl is poured out on a particular part of that system, with the goal in mind that the entire system will eventually be removed, so that the world will be able to get free and get up on the highway of holiness.

The double being the harvest parallel, seems to fit very well, and so we are going to explore that in more detail to see if we can find some more proof. We think that the harvest parallels as presented in the Second Volume, Studies in the Scriptures, has been proven correct by historical events, such as the outbreak of the WW1 which occurred in not only the right year, but also in the exact month. Since everything should be proven by two or three witnesses, we are going to look at the concept of the double punishment in the Old Testament, and how it was originally applied by Jehovah, and then we will look at how we think that the prophecies would re-apply at the first or Second Advent.

Old Testament Double

There are the several places in the Old Testament that use a form of double.

Jer 16:18, 17:18. OT 4932 mishneh – A repetition, a duplicate

Isa 40:2 OT:3718 OT: 3718 lp#K# kephel (keh'-fel); from OT:3717; a duplicate:

KJV - double. (Biblesoft's New Exhaustive Strong's Numbers and Concordance with Expanded Greek-Hebrew Dictionary. Copyright © 1994, 2003, 2006 Biblesoft, Inc. and International Bible Translators, Inc.)

This is the definition of the New Testament word double used in our text in Revelation Chapter 18.

NT:1363 NT: 1363 diplo/w diploo (dip-lo'-o); from NT:1362; to render two-fold:

KJV - double.

Looking at the meanings of the different words, we get common words of “repetition, duplicate, and double”.

Next we are going to look at the Old Testament texts, and see how they applied in the prophet’s day, because some brethren don’t believe that they apply to the 1845 year double. If we find that there was an application of the original Old Testament prophecy involving some sort of a double of time, that would help confirm that they are prophetically used again in a second application for the 1845 year double on this end of the age. In other words, a similar use of the word double in the Old Testament, would also help confirm that we are looking at this correctly in Revelation Chapter 18.

Jer Chap 16

We will first look at the usage in Jer Chapter 16.

Jer 16:18 I will first doubly repay their iniquity and their sin, because they have polluted My land; they have filled My inheritance with the carcasses of their detestable idols and with their Abominations. (NAU)

In Jeremiah 16:18, it seems to be saying the same thing as what we find here in Revelation regarding the double. Looking at the original application to Israel, we see that the double punishment was coming because of what they did to his land and their worship of idols and the Abominations that they brought into Israel.

In a second application of the prophecy in Jeremiah Chapter 16, we see that it first points to the 1845 year judgment at the First Advent, and then again on this end of the age it is pointing prophetically to the 1845 year double that Israel has to go through before they can get their blessings restored. The same thing applies prophetically to spiritual Israel, because they polluted spiritual Israel with Pagan doctrines and idols of all kinds; literal as well as spiritual. We can see that the second application of this prophecy fits very well with “the 1845 parallels” of both the first and Second Advent.

In confirmation of that double, we see that Israel definitely began to be restored at the end of the second 1845 year period. That was also the time of the judgment of Christendom that we are looking at here in Chapter 18. As Great Babylon goes down, Israel comes back up. The prophecy in Jeremiah, also goes further than the end of the parallel, to the time of the kingdom blessings, where we see the gentiles coming to the Jews in verse 19. While there were some gentiles who came to the Jews after they returned from Babylon and again at the First Advent, we will see the main fulfillment of that verse of the prophecy when the kingdom starts.

Jer 16:19 O LORD, my strength, and my fortress, and my refuge in the day of affliction, the Gentiles shall come unto thee from the ends of the earth, and shall say, Surely our fathers have inherited lies, vanity, and things wherein there is no profit. (KJV)

Jer 17:18

It doesn't appear that the Jeremiah 17:18 reference to a double punishment, is being used in exactly the same manner as the Jeremiah Chapter 16 double. It's indicating a complete destruction, because of the double destruction connotation, which did happen at the time of the carrying away to Babylon. Because of that fulfillment, we believe it's also pointing to the First Advent judgment and destruction of the nation of Israel and the Second Advent judgment and destruction of Great Babylon. The destruction that came upon them at the time of both advents, was also because of the 1845 year judgment double.

Jer 17:18 Let them be put to shame that persecute me, but let not me be put to shame; let them be dismayed, but let not me be dismayed; bring upon them the day of evil, and destroy them with double destruction. (ASV)

Isa 40:1-2

The last place that we are going to look at the double is in Isa 40:2.

Isa 40:1-2 (1 Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God.

2 Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her, that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned: for she hath received of the LORD's hand double for all her sins. (KJV)

This has a fulfillment exactly as the one in Jeremiah 16:18, in that the original Isaiah prophecy is referring to the double punishment that happened to Israel, first at the time of Babylon and then again at the First Advent. That being correct, the second, and prophetic application of the prophecy would also point to the 1845 year judgment parallel, which applied at both the First and Second Advent. The end of the second 1845 pointed to not only the judgment and destruction of Great Babylon, but it also pointed to the re-awakening of Zionism, which began calling for the return of Israel.

This double has more to do with the restoration of Israel on the end of this age. On the next page is a diagram of a possible application of a parallel application, showing how long Israel has to wait until their favor is restored with God. This table is only a possibility, and only time will tell if it is correct. This table was copied from the book "Biblical-Count of the Years-B2", which a lot of interesting chronology information.

The table above, seems to indicate how much time Israel must fulfill to satisfy their double punishment. The 1845-year double is what is commonly understood by Bible Students, but we now realize that there must be more time involved because they are not back into full favor yet.

Isa 40:1-2 (1 “Comfort, O comfort My people,” says your God. 2 “Speak kindly to Jerusalem; And call out to her, that her warfare has ended, That her iniquity has been removed, That she has received of the LORD’S hand Double for all her sins.” NASU

Revelation 18:7

Rev 18:7 "To the degree that she glorified herself and lived sensuously, to the same degree give her torment and mourning; for she says in her heart, "I SIT AS A QUEEN AND I AM NOT A WIDOW, and will never see mourning."(NAU)

Pride of Heart is Punished

Those who have pride of the heart are singled out for a more severe judgment and punishment. God hates those who are proud of heart, especially those who cause great harm to others through that pride.

Rev 16:19 The great city was split into three parts, and the cities of the nation's fell. Babylon the great was remembered before God, to give her the cup of the wine of His fierce wrath. NASU

The original Babylon had the same pride of heart as Great Babylon does, and is likewise being punished for it. The following references regarding what happened to Babylon apply the same way to Great Babylon.

Jer 49:16-18(16 Thy terribleness hath deceived thee, and the pride of thine heart, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, that holdest the height of the hill: though thou shouldst make thy nest as high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD.

17 Also Edom shall be a desolation: every one that goeth by it shall be astonished, and shall hiss at all the plagues thereof.

18 As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD, no man shall abide there, neither shall a son of man dwell in it. (KJV)

Old Testament Babylon

Pictures Great Babylon

We have decided to include this rather long quote from the Old Testament, because of the very similar statements that are made about Babylon are again found in Chapter 18 of Revelation regarding Great Babylon. We believe that it's important that you read this about Babylon, and compare it to what is said here in this Chapter about Great Babylon, so that the exact similarities and parallel between Babylon and Great Babylon are seen.

Isa 47:1-15(1 Come down, and sit in the dust, O virgin daughter of Babylon, sit on the ground: there is no throne, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called tender and delicate.

2 Take the millstones, and grind meal: uncover thy locks, make bare the leg, uncover the thigh, pass over the rivers.

3 Thy nakedness shall be uncovered, yea, thy shame shall be seen: I will take vengeance, and I will not meet thee as a man.

4 As for our redeemer, the LORD of hosts is his name, the Holy One of Israel.

5 Sit thou silent, and get thee into darkness, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, The lady of kingdoms.

6 I was wroth with my people, I have polluted mine inheritance, and given them into thine hand: thou didst shew them no mercy; upon the ancient hast thou very heavily laid thy yoke.

7 And thou said, I shall be a lady for ever: so that thou didst not lay these things to thy heart, neither didst remember the latter end of it.

8 Therefore hear now this, thou that art given to pleasures, that dwellest carelessly, that says in thine heart, I am, and none else beside me; I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the loss of children:

9 But these two things shall come to thee in a moment in one day, the loss of children, and widowhood: they shall come upon thee in their perfection for the multitude of thy sorceries, and for the great abundance of thine enchantments.

10 For thou hast trusted in thy wickedness: thou hast said, None sees me. Thy wisdom and thy knowledge, it hath perverted thee; and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none else beside me.

11 Therefore shall evil come upon thee; thou shalt not know from whence it rises: and mischief shall fall upon thee; thou shalt not be able to put it off: and desolation shall come upon thee suddenly, which thou shalt not know.

12 Stand now with thine enchantments, and with the multitude of thy sorceries, wherein thou hast laboured from thy youth; if so be thou shalt be able to profit, if so be thou may prevail.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels. Let now the astrologers, the stargazers, the monthly prognosticators, stand up, and save thee from these things that shall come upon thee.

14 Behold, they shall be as stubble; the fire shall burn them; they shall not deliver themselves from the power of the flame: there shall not be a coal to warm at, nor fire to sit before it.

15 Thus shall they be unto thee with whom thou hast laboured, even thy merchants, from thy youth: they shall wander everyone to his quarter; none shall save thee. (KJV)

Both Papacy & Daughters Included in Punishment

God was going to unseat both Papacy and her daughters from the civil power that they had, and historically that happened in several steps from 1799 to 1918AD, during which time the church and state systems totally lost the support of the kings that had provided their civil power. When Communism took control in the East, that was the end of the cooperation between the civil power and the Eastern churches, and it wasn't too long after that that the Communists began to discourage participation in the Christian church. As we look at history, we see the tremendous amounts of splendor and wealth that this system had amassed to itself, while the people were starving and being oppressed. God was going to hold that system accountable for those excesses, and he did.

The Proud Queen Falls & is Widowed

That Great Babylon saw itself as a queen, shows that it didn't see herself as the evil system that she was. She didn't think that she would be rejected by the Lord, but as we will see she has been rejected and is being punished because of the many things that system had done wrong. Christendom has always claimed that they were God's system, but God is going to show them that they were wrong, and that he didn't ok the excesses that they justified in his name.

It's now Christendom's turn to be punished, and just as they thought that they were untouchable because of all the wealth and power they had, they were going to be unseated from that power and wealth. Historically their losing control of the civil power, separated them from much of that wealth. What is left of their wealth is being further removed from the Catholics now by the lawsuits against the priests who are sexually abusing children. Not only was that done in the United States, but we are now seeing that this system is being found guilty of sexual child abuse all over the world, and that the higher up church officials were involved in covering up the abuse.

Protestants Guilty Also

The Protestants that were also guilty of being involved in church and state, have also lost the wealth that those kingdoms had brought to them and their churches. There are some Protestant leaders that have recently been caught in wrongdoing, and some of them have been overturned by exposure. Others are guilty of fraud, and have been found out and lost their ministries and their unjust wealth. Some have been caught in all kinds of sexual sins, and have lost their ministries because of that exposure.

All their riches, power, and wealth will be removed from them and given over to God, who will use it to establish the kingdom in the next age. In other words, any wealth that the system still has when the kingdom comes in, will be used for the benefit of the people.

Zeph 2:15 This is the rejoicing city that dwelt carelessly, that said in her heart, I am, and there is none beside me: how is she become a desolation, a place for beasts to lie down in! every one that passes by her shall hiss, and wag his hand. (KJV)

Tyre is Another Picture

In Ezekiel, we see that Tyre is another picture of Great Babylon, and what it was doing wrong during the Gospel Age. As shown in Chapter 28 of Ezekiel, the Prince of Tyre is a very good description of Satan and Papacy, who he used to control the apostate church and state system all through the age.

*Ezek 28:2-8 (2 Son of man, say unto the prince of Tyre, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because thy heart is lifted up, and thou hast said, I am a god, I sit in the seat of God, in the midst of the seas; yet thou art man, and not God, though thou didst set thy heart as the heart of God; —
 3 behold, thou art wiser than Daniel; there is no secret that is hidden from thee;
 4 by thy wisdom and by thine understanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten gold and silver into thy treasures;
 5 by thy great wisdom (and) by thy traffic hast thou increased thy riches, and thy heart is lifted up because of thy riches; —
 6 therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because thou hast set thy heart as the heart of God,
 7 therefore, behold, I will bring strangers upon thee, the terrible of the nations; and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdom, and they shall defile thy brightness.
 8 They shall bring thee down to the pit; and thou shalt die the death of them that are slain, in the heart of the seas. ASV*

Revelation 18:8

Rev 18:8 "For this reason in one day her plagues will come, pestilence and mourning and famine, and she will be burned up with fire; for the Lord God who judges her is strong. (NAU)

Rev 17:16 And the ten horns which you saw, and the beast, these will hate the harlot and will make her desolate and naked, and will eat her flesh and will burn her up with fire. NASU

Dan 7:11 "Then I kept looking because of the sound of the boastful words which the horn was speaking; I kept looking until the beast was slain, and its body was destroyed and given to the burning fire. NASU

This is the earth or society of bowl one being plagued and destroyed. They were warned about worshipping the beast and the Image, and they did it anyway.

That this judgment came in one day, points us to the sixth trumpet, because when the four angels were released, there were four symbols given, an hour, a day, a month, and a year—here we have the day. Do we have the same symbolism and punishment in both places? It seems that we should be looking at several places, regarding the punishment and destruction of Great Babylon. In chapter 14, we saw that God began warning about what would happen to those who worshipped the beast and the image—saying that the hour of judgment had come.

At the same time, we see that the kings were to be in power with the beast for one hour, which was from 799-1799, and then they were to be punished and removed. So we can see that there were several different hours being mentioned in the different places, and here is the 1000 year hour. The sixth trumpet and the hour in chapter 14, were hours of judgment, but the chapter 17 hour is the same as the chapter 18 hour, and it is the 1000 years of days of power from 799 to 1799.

Rev 14:7 He said in a loud voice, "Fear God and give him glory, because the hour of his judgment has come. Worship him who made the heavens, the earth, the sea and the springs of water." NIV

2 Peter 3:7 By the same word the present heavens and earth are reserved for fire, being kept for the day of judgment and destruction of ungodly men. NIV

Mal 4:1 "For behold, the day is coming, burning like a furnace; and all the arrogant and every evildoer will be chaff; and the day that is coming will set them ablaze," says the LORD of hosts, "so that it will leave them neither root nor branch." NASU

Hos 5:6-7 (6 They will go with their flocks and herds To seek the LORD, but they will not find Him; He has withdrawn from them. 7 They have dealt treacherously against the LORD, For they have borne illegitimate children. Now the new moon will devour them with their land. NASU

Isa 66:22-24 (22 "For just as the new heavens and the new earth Which I make will endure before Me," declares the LORD, "So your offspring and your name will endure. 23 "And it shall be from new moon to new moon And from Sabbath to Sabbath,

All mankind will come to bow down before Me," says the LORD. 24 "Then they will go forth and look On the corpses of the men Who have transgressed against Me.

For their worm will not die And their fire will not be quenched; NASU

Isa 34:8-10 (8 For the LORD has a day of vengeance, a year of retribution, to uphold Zion's cause. 9 Edom's streams will be turned into pitch, her dust into burning sulfur; her land will become blazing pitch! 10 It will not be quenched night and day; its smoke will rise forever. NIV

Isa 61:1 The Spirit of the Sovereign LORD is on me, because the LORD has anointed me to preach good news to the poor. He has sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim freedom for the captives and release from darkness for the prisoners, 2 to proclaim the year of the LORD 's favor and the day of vengeance of our God, to comfort all who mourn, NIV

Isa 63:3-4 (3 "I have trodden the winepress alone; from the nations no one was with me. I trampled them in my anger and trod them down in my wrath; their blood spattered my garments, and I stained all my clothing. 4 For the day of vengeance was in my heart, and the year of my redemption has come. NIV

Peter is saying that the day of judgment and the symbolic fire will melt the elements of society, and remove the evil men. The year symbolically translates into 360 days = 360 years, which added to the date of the Reformation of Oct 517, brings us to Oct 1877AD. The very next year the judgment fell upon the evil system, and the fire of destruction could begin. We also saw in chapter 14, that Ezekiel's 390 and 40 years applied to that evil system. 521 to 1911AD = 390, and 1874-1914 = 40.

The new moon that devours them, is symbolic of the New Law that will come upon the earth in the next age. In that day, all evil will be removed. The change of the moon in Isaiah 66, seems to be saying that the new law or New Covenant, will devour them, if they do not abide by it.

The last three scriptural references that we included, all talk about the day of vengeance.

Bowls of Wrath Duplicate Elements of Punishment

Chapter 18, is also a more detailed account of the effects of the seven bowls of wrath from Chapter 16. Rev 16:8-9 (8 The fourth angel poured out his bowl upon the sun, and it was given to it to scorch men with fire. 9 Men were scorched with fierce heat; and they blasphemed the name of God who has the power over these plagues, and they did not repent so as to give Him glory. NASU

She said that she would not see death and she got widowhood. She said that she would not have mourning, and she got sorrow. She said that she would not see famine and she lost the support of the kings and her queenly living.

Pestilence Equals Spiritual Sickness

The symbol pestilence means death through sickness. The Papal children that are associated with Great Babylon will suffer spiritual death through the loss of any crowns that they have, but most will be saved as individuals, but as though through fire. See the quote from 1 Cor Chapter 3 below.

Power & Wealth is Removed From Them

The system is in mourning for the power and wealth that it has lost. The famine is for the loss of money, power, and influence, and the hearing of God's word—which the fallen system was not accepting anyway. It is going to be destroyed by the fire that consumes all its error.

2 Pet 3:10 But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up. (KJV)

1 Cor 3:13-15 (13 Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is.

14 If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward.

15 If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; yet so as by fire. (KJV)

Rev 2:21-23 (21 And I gave her space to repent of her fornication; and she repented not. 22 Behold,

I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds. 23 And I will kill her children with death; and all the churches shall know that I am he which searches the reins and hearts: and I will give unto every one of you according to your works. KJV

Jer 51:30 The mighty men of Babylon have ceased fighting, they stay in the strongholds; their strength is exhausted, they are becoming {like} women; their dwelling places are set on fire, the bars of her {gates} are broken. (NAU)

Jer 51:58 Thus says the LORD of hosts, "The broad wall of Babylon will be completely razed and her high gates will be set on fire; so the peoples will toil for nothing, and the nation's become exhausted {only} for fire." (NAU)

Fire & Hail Destroys Them

During the plagues of Egypt in Exodus 9:23, they had fire with hail like there had never been before. That Exodus plague is a picture of the hard truth, and the symbolic destructive fire that came upon this system. It's great wealth and power are being removed, and it's being consumed by the many conflicting false doctrines that it had created over the years. Recently one Pope said that there is no fiery hell, and the next Pope said that there was a fiery hell. The hail or hard truths are pounding upon the fallen system, while the fire of truth consumes it simultaneously. It appears that the hail as seen in the seventh bowl of wrath, will get even heavier and more destructive just before the start of the kingdom, so that there will be nothing left of that evil system and the people will be freed from it, so that they can get up on the highway of holiness.

Rev 16:21 And huge hailstones, about one hundred pounds each, came down from heaven upon men; and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail, because its plague was extremely severe. NASU

Widowhood Equals Lord Spewing Them Out

The systems mourning will be because of the loss of its wealth and the loss of its spiritual children. That it has widowhood, is because the Lord is no longer dealing with it as a church system after 1914-18 and has given it a bill of divorce because of its harlotry and other major sins. They also have lost the support of all the kings by 1918. The Christian system does not recognize what has happened to it in that regard now, but in the end, they will be standing with those who weep and wail over what they have lost. They still think that God is for them, but they wonder why they have suffered the loss of civil power and the many church members and wealth that has left them.

In this Chapter, we are told that the plagues come after a day in verse 8, and it says in one hour in three other verses, 10, 17, 19. The use of the word day here could be an undefined amount of time, but it for sure is indicating a short time. It very likely refers to the Day of Judgment that was to come upon the evil system at the time of the end.

Day & Hour

One good possibility regarding the hour used here, as we mentioned above, is that we saw in the sixth trumpet that the four angels were to be released for the hour, the day, the month and the year. At the time of our original study of the sixth trumpet, we saw that prophecy was most likely first pointing to the time of the Reformation, and then to French Revolution, and to the loss of the civil power in 1799AD. The hour that is mentioned in the sixth trumpet is the judgment that began at the Reformation, 1517-1914. The year, as we saw above = 360 years, which brought us to Oct 1877, which was just as Pastor was beginning his ministry. The system was also judged through the 1845 year parallel, in April 1878AD, which was only one half year different.

Daniel's chronology system points to the same events, and the judgment of the Harlot. Starting at the time of the end in 1799AD, our Lord began to bring the Great City of Papacy down in a series of steps, as defined by the 1260, 1290, and the 1335 days of Daniel, Chapter 12. The 1335 days pointed to 1874AD, which is also the end of 6000 years from the fall of Adam and which was also the beginning of the harvest. The final judgment of Great Babylon, includes all of the daughter systems, who were also judged for their harlotry, and because of that they also came under punishment in 1914. The punishment came at the end of the 40-year harvest period from 1874 – 1914 AD. We still await the final whirlwind of trouble that will remove the last of Satan's system, which comes at the very end.

Revelation 18:9-10

Rev 18:9 "And the kings of the earth, who committed {acts of} immorality and lived sensuously with her, will weep and lament over her when they see the smoke of her burning, Rev 18:10 standing at a distance because of the fear of her torment, saying, "Woe, woe, the great city, Babylon, the strong city! For in one hour your judgment has come."(NAU)

This is the Great City of Babylon, which includes Papacy and all of the daughter systems. The trouble that the kings saw, started in at least 1789, and onward. The first problem was the French Revolution, which removed one tenth of the city, when France declared Catholicism illegal, banning it for a number of years. After that, the kings that had been associated with the harlot and her daughters wanted their freedom, and when Napoleon captured the Pope and got away with it, the kings began to pull back away from the religious system. They saw that God was not going to step in to help the Pope, and that broke the superstitious hold on the kings that religion had up to that time.

As the people began to awaken to the truth about the fallen system, the support for the religious system began to weaken further, and many people began to leave that system, choosing to believe in science and new ideas that were taking support for the system away. That was a symbolic fire that was dissolving the flesh and symbolically removing the people out of the system.

Rev 16:19 The great city was split into three parts, and the cities of the nation's fell. Babylon the great was remembered before God, to give her the cup of the wine of His fierce wrath. NASU

Rev 17:15-18 (15 And he said to me, "The waters which you saw where the harlot sits, are peoples and multitudes and nations and tongues. 16 And the ten horns which you saw, and the beast, these will hate the harlot and will make her desolate and naked, and will eat her flesh and will burn her up with fire. 17 For God has put it in their hearts to execute His purpose by having a common purpose, and by giving their kingdom to the beast, until the words of God will be fulfilled. 18 The woman whom you saw is the great city, which reigns over the kings of the earth." NASU

Those who had worshiped the beast and the Image against the warnings that they had been given, were going to be punished, and we see that punishment begin in these verses. The kings were also going to be punished after this time as several scriptures had also warned them. That punishment came upon the kings in 1914-18, when all of them were removed from their thrones.

Rev 16:10-11(10 Then the fifth angel poured out his bowl on the throne of the beast, and his kingdom became darkened; and they gnawed their tongues because of pain, 11 and they blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores; and they did not repent of their deeds.

Rev 17:12-14 (12 "The ten horns which you saw are ten kings who have not yet received a kingdom, but they receive authority as kings with the beast for one hour. 13 "These have one purpose, and they give their power and authority to the beast.

14 "These will wage war against the Lamb, and the Lamb will overcome them, because He is Lord of lords and King of kings, and those who are with Him are the called and chosen and faithful." NASU

Burning of Great City Equals Burning of Babylon, the Great

Here we find the name Great City and Babylon the strong city together, and that would make sense in the context of this verse. What it is telling us in verse 10, is that both the mother and the daughters are in the hour of their judgment. The result of the judgment for both parts of the system is given in verse 9, where we see the smoke of the systems burning and final destruction. It appears that the judgment and punishment started with the mother system, first in 1799AD, but now both sets of churches are in trouble by the time of WW1 and after.

Two Blows of Daniel's Stone

We find many Old Testament references to Babylon being destroyed, some of which we quoted above. That the kings are weeping over her, seems to show that even after they had been separated from her after 1799, that some of them still lusted after the wealth and power that she had brought to them during the dark ages. That is probably why some temporarily joined back up with Papacy for a short time just before their final destruction, which occurred when they were all removed by the end of WW1. That some punishment fell upon the church and state system in 1799AD, is consistent with the first blow of the stone in Daniel Chapter 2 that first struck the feet and separated the iron from the clay—separated the iron of civil power, from the clay of the church. Between 1799 and 1914 AD, is most likely the time that we see the kings mourning over the smoke of the destruction that was coming upon the church and state system, because after 1914-1918 the kings were all gone. Papacy was almost completely defeated at the earlier time of 1789-99, because of the French Revolution showing the other nations that she did not really have any power from God.

The second blow that shattered the entire Image fell upon it in 1914AD, and that blow was at the end of the 2520 years of gentile power, and that is why the kings were all destroyed after that date. The harlot Papacy and the other church systems are still waiting for their final destruction, but there is no doubt that the loss of civil power is what has caused them to sit down in the dust of the earth, weeping over the civil power that they have lost. As we go through this Chapter, we will see that many of the statements about the loss of power, already applies to what has already happened to Papacy, and even to the Protestant system, because they also had church and state systems which are gone.

Kings Distanced Themselves after 1799

The kings began to distance themselves from Papacy, when they saw that the people were turning against her. That began to occur during the Protestant Reformation, and even more so when the Bible societies were formed, and many like the Adventists began to preach against the harlot, and even against the Protestant religions. The truth about the fallen church system became much more evident, and many separated themselves from that system, because of the preaching against false religion that was going on during that time. Society, and especially those who had education, saw the terrible history of that so called Christian system, and that horrible history turned many to atheism and agnosticism—it was not Christian, but was derived from Pagan and Satanic doctrines.

The hour that is mentioned here, is not the hour of judgment from the sixth trumpet, but it is a different span of time, which is the hour of power the church system was to have from 799-1799—Rev 17:12.

Light Has Gotten Brighter & Many Have Dropped Out

As the light has gotten brighter, more and more have separated themselves from not only the Great City of Papacy, but also from the daughter systems that are part of Great Babylon, because they were guilty of doing the same kinds of terrible things wrong as the mother. That revealing of the evil of that system, is what the Lord is accomplishing with the brightness of his coming. The truth about that evil system, has become a matter of history, and has caused many to drop out of religion and not want anything more to do with it—especially in Europe. Those individuals will be like a clean slate when the kingdom comes, and hopefully they will be among the first to accept the kingdom.

Isa 47:15 "So have those become to you with whom you have labored, who have trafficked with you from your youth; each has wandered in his own way; there is none to save you.

Amos 5:16 Therefore thus says the LORD God of hosts, the Lord, "There is wailing in all the plazas, and in all the streets they say, "Alas! Alas!" They also call the farmer to mourning and professional mourners to lamentation. (NAU)

Revelation 18:11-19

Rev 18:11 "And the merchants of the earth weep and mourn over her, because no one buys their cargoes any more

Rev 18:12 cargoes of gold and silver and precious stones and pearls and fine linen and purple and silk and scarlet, and every {kind of} citron wood and every article of ivory and every article {made} from very costly wood and bronze and iron and marble,

Rev 18:13 and cinnamon and spice and incense and perfume and frankincense and wine and olive oil and fine flour and wheat and cattle and sheep, and {cargoes} of horses and chariots and slaves and human lives.

Rev 18:14 "The fruit you long for has gone from you, and all things that were luxurious and splendid have passed away from you and {men} will no longer find them.

Rev 18:15 "The merchants of these things, who became rich from her, will stand at a distance because of the fear of her torment, weeping and mourning,

Rev 18:16 saying, "Woe, woe, the great city, she who was clothed in fine linen and purple and scarlet, and adorned with gold and precious stones and pearls;

Rev 18:17 for in one hour such great wealth has been laid waste!" And every shipmaster and every passenger and sailor, and as many as make *their living by the sea, stood at a distance, Rev 18:18 and were crying out as they saw the smoke of her burning, saying, 'What {city} is like the great city?'

 Rev 18:19 'And they threw dust on their heads and were crying out, weeping and mourning, saying, 'Woe, woe, the great city, in which all who had ships at sea became rich by her wealth, for in one hour she has been laid waste!'(NAU)*

These events of destruction on the fallen system, began with the pouring out of bowl four where the gospel light of the sun beat down upon them, but here it's at a further stage, where the heat and fire of destruction is more than just tormenting, it has progressed to the point where it is consuming and melting the entire society with fire, especially the part that had made money off of that system, 2 Peter 3:10-13. In other words, the first major removal of her wealth began in 1799, became much worse in 1914-18, and we suspect that there will be one more final burning and destruction that comes upon them—which will be the total removal of them and their false religion from the earth. We will see that in the verses that follow this set of verses. The total destruction comes because of the events shown in the full drying up of the river Euphrates in bowl six. That is where the final removal of her wealth and popularity, and those who support her occurs, as shown by the angel throwing the millstone into the sea.

Great Wealth is Being Removed From Great Babylon

Of all the great wealth that we see here in the list, we see that it was both literal and spiritual goods that were being lost. The merchants of the earth were literally enriched by their association with her at the height of the Catholic and Protestant church state systems Power. All the countries that were part of that religious system, could trade with each other and make money. As this system is being broken up, the opportunity to make wealth from her is being greatly diminished.

Just as it says in Chapter 13 of Revelation, you had to have the mark of the beast in your hand and forehead or you would not be allowed to buy or sell in that system. That buying and selling was both regarding literal goods, as well as spiritual ideas. The faithful saints were not allowed to bring truth and nourishing doctrines into the Great City of Papacy, because they refused to hear them and tried to kill all that would have reformed her. The banning of the scriptures so that the laity could not have access to them occurred very shortly after the scriptures were canonized. That ban on the bible remained in effect until just before the time of the Protestant Reformation, but even then the Catholic system did not want their church members reading the scriptures—most likely because they would have then seen how far out of harmony the church was with the scriptures. After 1914-18, the decline in scriptural knowledge became even worse in the entire religious system, with many different worldly ideas coming into the church, causing a worldly spirit that is contrary to what Jesus had taught.

Many of those churches who were a part of Great Babylon were in error, because they had received their doctrines from the mother church. They also had gone along with the oppressive system, and because they had shared in her wealth and power, that had corrupted them to the point where the Lord could not use them either—except for the few individuals that have heard his call and who have opened the door of their hearts to him.

The variety and number of things described above shows us how rich she was, in that she had everything that could be imagined at the time. All that wealth and power is gradually being removed from that system. The bad thing about this wealth, is that she stole or tricked the superstitious people into giving all that wealth to her, because that was how they believed they would be able to go to heaven. They were told that if they did not support the evil church, that they would die and burn in hell forever.

Literal Babylon Pictured Great Babylon

The same thing that was true of literal Babylon, is true again of Great Babylon.

*Ezek 27:12-22) 12 "Tarshish was your customer because of the abundance of all {kinds} of wealth; with silver, iron, tin and lead they paid for your wares.

*Ezek 27:27-30) 27"Your wealth, your wares, your merchandise, your sailors and your pilots, your repairers of seams, your dealers in merchandise and all your men of war who are in you, with all your company that is in your midst, will fall into the heart of the seas On the day of your overthrow.

*28 "At the sound of the cry of your pilots the pasture lands will shake.

29 "All who handle the oar, the sailors {and} all the pilots of the sea will come down from their ships; they will stand on the land,

30 And they will make their voice heard over you and will cry bitterly. They will cast dust on their heads, they will wallow in ashes. (NAU)

Table Showing Three Main Groups Who Profited

The table below shows that there were at least three groups mentioned in this chapter, that were profiting from their association with the harlot and her daughters. There were the kings of the earth who had the civil power that she used. There were the merchants who profited from their association with her. Those who profited from her, would also include those who controlled the financial strings of the Empires. It was true during the dark ages, that unless you were part of that system that you literally could not buy or sell. The Jews were a good example of this, in that they sometimes had to carry on trade amongst themselves, because the Catholic Church didn't recognize them, and she condemned them, saying they were Jesus killers. The Protestant systems were not much better when they broke free from the harlot in the Reformation, and we saw in history that Luther himself became harsh against the Jews later in his life. The traders and merchants were most likely the smaller businessmen—those who moved the goods and services from place to place in the kingdom.

There is most likely a symbolic aspect to all of this wealth, in that the goods that are being talked about in these verses, could symbolically be the false doctrines that she sent out missionaries to spread around the world—but it was also true that the merchants and kings made great wealth off of this evil system.

Revelation 18:20

Rev 18:20 "Rejoice over her, O heaven, and you saints and Apostles and prophets, because God has pronounced judgment for you against her." (NAU)

The above verse of Revelation 18:20, should read "saints", to be better understood as NAU has it, instead of "holy" as King James has it.

Rev 15:7 Then one of the four living creatures gave to the seven angels seven golden bowls full of the wrath of God, who lives forever and ever. NASU

The living creature that gave the seven angels, the seven bowls of wrath, is most likely the one that represents justice. That the living creature that represents justice was able to give out the seven bowls of wrath, shows that God had pronounced judgment upon the fallen and evil system, which is what Daniel shows us happening after the close of the 1260 days—we believe that the full judgment occurs after the 1335 and the 1845 days.

Dan 7:25-26 (25 'He will speak out against the Most High and wear down the saints of the Highest One, and he will intend to make alterations in times and in law; and they will be given into his hand for a time, times, and half a time. 26 'But the court will sit for judgment, and his dominion will be taken away, annihilated and destroyed forever. NASU

Judgment Pronounced Against Her in 1878AD

In Rev 6:10, the dead saints under the altar asked how long before she would be punished, and Rev 18:20 is God's response in this Chapter to those who had been slain under the altar, with God stating that he has judged her. We believe that judgment came in 1878AD, because of the 1845 year parallel. The other interesting thing, is that if we take the theoretical date of the end of the fifth church, and count the word chronos as being 360, which works in many places, we get  $1517 + 360 = 1877$ . The next year after the end of the 360 is 1878 AD.

This is also a further and final result of bowl three, where all her doctrines are poisoned and she can't grind out any new spiritual food, and it's also making it so that she cannot heal herself and return to power—at least so far.

Rev 16:5-6 (5 And I heard the angel of the waters say, Thou art righteous, O Lord, which art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast judged thus.

6 For they have shed the blood of saints and prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drink; for they are worthy. (KJV)

In Chapter ten, where we saw the angel with the scroll coming down to the earth, we were told that in the days of the seventh angel when he blows his trumpet, 1874, that there would be time no longer—the end of the 360! The seventh angel could be a literal angel as we discussed in Chapter 10, but he would be one that supplied the Seventh Messenger with the harvest truth that was due at that time. That message included the truth about the 1845-year judgment that came against the fallen church system in 1878AD.

The harvest message also included the information that the evil system was going to be punished, and that the time of trouble was going to come against that system in 1914. In other words, the souls waiting under the altar for retribution against the ones that had killed them, would not have to wait any longer, they would be resurrected and the system that killed them was going to be destroyed. In Chapter 10, we also saw that the scroll that the angel was bringing had both a message of blessing and one of judgment. Because it has been judged, we see that Great Babylon's complete and final fall is a sure thing, as we will see in verse 21 regarding the millstone.

Jer 51:10 The LORD has brought about our vindication; come and let us recount in Zion the work of the LORD our God! (NAU)

Jer 51:48 "Then heaven and earth and all that is in them will shout for

Isa 26:21 For behold, the LORD is about to come out from His place To punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity; and the earth will reveal her bloodshed and will no longer cover her slain. (NAU)

Revelation 18:21

Rev 18:21 Then a strong angel took up a stone like a great millstone and threw it into the sea, saying, "So will Babylon, the great city, be thrown down with violence, and will not be found any longer. (NAU)

Babylon Being Swallowed up By Water, Symbolizing People

Rev 16:19-21(19 The great city was split into three parts, and the cities of the nation's fell. Babylon the great was remembered before God, to give her the cup of the wine of His fierce wrath. 20 And every island fled away, and the mountains were not found. 21 And huge hailstones, about one hundred pounds each, came down from heaven upon men; and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail, because its plague was extremely severe. NASU

Jer 51:42 The sea is come up upon Babylon: she is covered with the multitude of the waves thereof. (KJV)

Jer 51:62-64 (62 Then shalt thou say, O LORD, thou hast spoken against this place, to cut it off, that none shall remain in it, neither man nor beast, but that it shall be desolate forever.

63 And it shall be, when thou hast made an end of reading this book, that thou shalt bind a stone to it, and cast it into the midst of Euphrates:

64 And thou shalt say, Thus shall Babylon sink, and shall not rise from the evil that I will bring upon her: and they shall be weary. Thus far are the words of Jeremiah. (KJV)

Millstone May Represent Counterfeit Rock of Christ

The millstone we see here, is the counterfeit of the true rock or stone which is Christ, who feeds us with the true bread of life. Papacy falsely claims to have the true rock "Peter", which she supposedly built her church upon. She has used it to grind out false doctrines for those who are in her, and this stone is the Harlot and her daughter's millstone that the angel takes up and casts into the sea.

Loss of Millstone Seals Her Doom

The sound of a millstone was a necessity to a city in ancient times, because without it there was no flour to eat. So, if there was no sound of a millstone, that meant that the city was desolate or soon would be. The removal of the millstone would also show that she would not be able to produce any more corrupted spiritual food for her people. Because of the lack of a reasonable explanation for her corrupted doctrines, many of the people will leave her and begin to work to overthrow her. The third bowl of wrath, as punishment, also removed the ability to bring out true spiritual doctrines—causing the system to begin to adopt worldly doctrines.

Rev 16:4-7 (4 Then the third angel poured out his bowl into the rivers and the springs of waters; and they became blood. 5 And I heard the angel of the waters saying, "Righteous are You, who are and who were, O Holy One, because You judged these things; 6 for they poured out the blood of saints and prophets, and You have given them blood to drink. They deserve it." 7 And I heard the altar saying, "Yes, O Lord God, the Almighty, true and righteous are Your judgments.")
NASU

The stone the angel threw in the sea, was most likely representing the upper grindstone. Without the upper stone, she was done for, because she couldn't grind any spiritual food. Duet 24:6, says that it was illegal to sell or take away the household's upper grindstones, because the household would be losing its means of life or living.

Deut 24:6 "No one shall take a hand mill or an upper millstone in pledge, for he would be taking a life in pledge. (NAS)

The throwing of the millstone into the sea, shows that she was judged and she was condemned to a complete and final destruction, because of the evil things she had done to God's Faithful Church and people. That it was cast into the sea makes it unretrievable, and it was done that way, because that terrible evil system is not going to be allowed back in the kingdom.

Three References to Mighty Angels

There are only three references to mighty angels in Revelation, 5:2, 10:1, and 18:21. The first reference was the angel who did the judging of the Lamb, who passed his test and was found worthy to open the scroll. The second in Chapter 10, was in 1799AD when we see our Lord beginning to take control of the land and the sea—nations and people. The third time in this Chapter, is the final announcing of the judgment on the system in 1878AD that we see here, and that judgment leads to Great Babylon's complete destruction. The mighty angel is our Lord Jesus, who has been given the authority to judge, condemn and punish. That message of the systems impending judgment and destruction, was included in the harvest message. It and the message of the Divine Plan, were published in the message of the six volumes and in the Watchtowers.

The millstone cast into the sea is a picture of the masses of mankind swallowing up or re-absorbing the unfaithful system, so that it never rises again, or we can look at it as a picture of that systems members melting back into earthly society. That is the same type of situation as the drying up of the Euphrates in the sixth bowl, which symbolized the removal of the support of the people for that system. A lot of that type of destruction has happened to the system to a certain extent already, but it's not completed yet.

Rev 16:12 The sixth angel poured out his bowl on the great river, the Euphrates; and its water was dried up, so that the way would be prepared for the kings from the east. NASU

Jer 51:26 "They will not take from you {even} a stone for a corner nor a stone for foundations, but you will be desolate forever," declares the LORD. (NAU)

Ezek 26:21 "I will bring terrors on you and you will be no more; though you will be sought, you will never be found again," declares the Lord GOD. (NAU)

Dan 11:19 "So he will turn his face toward the fortresses of his own land, but he will stumble and fall and be found no more. (NAU)

Revelation 18:22

Rev 18:22 "And the sound of harpists and musicians and flute-players and trumpeters will not be heard in you any longer; and no craftsman of any craft will be found in you any longer; and the sound of a mill will not be heard in you any longer; (NAU)

All Elements of System to be Destroyed

This is going to be a total destruction, and there will not be any craftsmen to rebuild her. There will not be any gaiety and singing in her, because all of the joy and the musicians will have left her. All of these things are gone, showing that she is being destroyed, and none of these things will exist in her anymore. The sound of the mill being gone is because of the verse above, where we saw the millstone cast into the sea, and that guarantees that she cannot supply polluted spiritual food to those who are in her.

This is just like Israel being taken over by Babylon, in the end Babylon was destroyed by God, as shown in Jer Chapter 25. That is a picture of what is going to happen to Great Babylon, in that the church was taken captive by Great Babylon in the dark ages, but in the end, Great Babylon is being destroyed because of the harm to God's people. The faithful church is set free, first by the early reformers, and then by the Reformation. Each time that the church gains her freedom, Satan works overtime to try to put the faithful back into chains of darkness. We have again been set free at the harvest time, but again Great Babylon is pursuing after us. Israel at this time is also being restored back again, while the apostate system is going down, but again Satan is also trying to hinder and destroy them. We pray for the completion of the church, which is when the rest of the people of the world will be set free, and Satan will be bound so that he cannot interfere in the blessing and restoration of the kingdom.

Jer 25:11-13 (11) And this whole land shall be a desolation, and an astonishment; and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years.

12 And it shall come to pass, when seventy years are accomplished, that I will punish the king of Babylon, and that nation, saith the LORD, for their iniquity, and the land of the Chaldeans, and will make it perpetual desolations.

13 And I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah hath prophesied against all the nations. (KJV)

Isa 24:8 The gaiety of tambourines ceases, the noise of revelers stops, the gaiety of the harp ceases. (NAU)

Ezek 26:13 "So I will silence the sound of your songs, and the sound of your harps will be heard no more.

Revelation 18:23

Rev 18:23 and the light of a lamp will not shine in you any longer; and the voice of the bridegroom and bride will not be heard in you any longer; for your merchants were the great men of the earth, because all the nations were deceived by your sorcery. (NAU)

The Light of Truth is Removed From her

The light of Christ will not be found in her anymore, because he has left her, and he has removed her lamp stand. The lamps that our Lord is seen with in the midst of Chapter one of Revelation, will not supply any true light to her anymore. Both the bridegroom who is Christ, and the bride which is the Faithful Church, are not found in her anymore because of her judgment. The bride has come out of her, so that she won't have to partake of Babylon's plagues. The bride's flight to safety was during the harvest time, which was from 1874 – 1914-18AD, and individuals are still being called and are coming out of her, either to the church or to the world.

All of Her Publications Contain No Truth

If we consider all of the spiritual works and books that were published before 1874AD, we can see that the Lord was still using some individuals in that system prior to that time. If we look at what has been published since that time, there are very few books or works that have any true spiritual value. Most of the books are sensational type books or movies that falsely portray a literal version of what they think is going to happen when the Lord returns. So we can definitely see that the lamp of the Lord has been extinguished and removed from her—that is the result of the third bowl of wrath.

Church Was Called Out of Her

After the harvest time, if you had a crown reserved for you and you remained in that system you would begin to partake of her plagues, and before long you would lose your crown and the crown would have to be allocated to someone else. Most of the individuals who have come out of Great Babylon after the time of the 40 year harvest, didn't have a crown laid up for them when they were in her, but they came out because of the call of the Lord and the need for replacements. That's especially true now, because enough time has passed in that all who would have had crowns at that time would have died by now. In order to get a crown now, individuals have to hear the Lord knocking and open the door of their heart to him, as we saw in the message to the seventh church. If they do that, then the Lord will sit down to eat with them and supply them with nourishing spiritual food, so that they can run the race to earn their crown. That process will continue until the 144,000 are complete.

The ones seen here were not true spiritual leaders, but they were earthly leaders that tried to keep her doctrines from contradicting each other, because her merchants were great men or princes of the earth and not of heaven. They had supplied their labor and support because she had deceived the people and the nations into believing that she was God's Faithful Church. That was the 666 mark on the forehead and the hand that her supporters had. It was not a literal mark, but it was only symbolic and represented the intellectual support (forehead), as well as the physical support (hand), that the people gave the system.

Again we see that the Old Testament nation of Babylon, was a picture of what was going to happen to Great Babylon. That Babylon's children were to be destroyed, shows that the Lord will not take any of Great Babylon's offspring to be of the 144,000. Those who get the crowns now have to separate from her at least mentally, and recognize that she is not God's system. Then Christ can work with them and feed them with nourishing biblical truths.

Jer 25:10 Moreover, I will take from them the voice of joy and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the sound of the millstones and the light of the lamp.

Isa 47:9 "But these two things will come on you suddenly in one day: loss of children and widowhood. They will come on you in full measure in spite of your many sorceries, in spite of the great power of your spells. (NAU)

*Nahum 3:4-7*4 {All} because of the many harlotries of the harlot, the charming one, the mistress of sorceries, who sells nations by her harlotries and families by her sorceries.

5 "Behold, I am against you," declares the LORD of hosts; "And I will lift up your skirts over your face, and show to the nation's your nakedness and to the kingdoms your disgrace.

6 "I will throw filth on you and make you vile, and set you up as a spectacle.

7 "And it will come about that all who see you will shrink from you and say, "Nineveh is devastated! Who will grieve for her?' Where will I seek comforters for you?" (NAU)

Revelation 18:24

Rev 18:24 "And in her was found the blood of prophets and of saints and of all who have been slain on the earth." (NAU)

Guilty of Murdering Saints

In one way or another, Great Babylon has been guilty of all of the evil in the earth during the Gospel Age. Great Babylon was guilty of killing all those who opposed her, and that was especially true of God's saints. That was why the time of her power, was the worst time of trouble in the world that had ever occurred in the world, Dan 12:1. The saints were tortured and killed whenever they tried to reform the system. Sometimes, whole areas were killed in an effort by the evil system to try to eradicate what they saw as a heresy doctrine. They were stretched on racks, put into iron maidens, burned with hot irons, burned at the stake, and many other evil methods that are too terrible to mention were used. Foxes book of Martyrs, is a good book to shine light on the evil that this system had done during its reign of terror. The two earlier quotes from Revelation, which we are giving below, spells it out very clearly that God is holding them accountable for all of the saint's deaths.

*Rev 6:9-11(9 And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held:

10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and , dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And white robes were given unto every one of them; and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellowservants also and their brethren, that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled. (KJV)

Rev 16:4-7 (4And the third angel poured out his vial upon the rivers and fountains of waters; and they became blood.

5 And I heard the angel of the waters say, Thou art righteous, O Lord, which art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast judged thus.

6 For they have shed the blood of saints and prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drink; for they are worthy.

7 And I heard another out of the altar say, Even so, Lord God Almighty, and righteous are thy judgments.(KJV)

Just Like Israel Was in its Time They are Guilty of Murder

Just as Israel was guilty of the blood of the prophets during the Jewish age, the same thing is true of this evil religious system, in that they are guilty of all the slain of the Gospel Age. Israel was destroyed as a nation because of her killing of the prophets, and likewise here we see that Great Babylon was judged and is being destroyed because of the death of the Lords saints that they are guilty of.

Just as the blood of all the prophets and the early Christians came upon the Jewish system in 70AD, the same thing was going to happen to Christendom in 1914, because of all of the saints that they had killed during their reign of terror.

Matt 23:34-36 (34 Wherefore, behold, I send unto you prophets, and wise men, and scribes: and some of them ye shall kill and crucify; and some of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

35 That upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, from the blood of righteous Abel unto the blood of Zacharias son of Barachias, whom ye slew between the temple and the altar.

36 Verily I say unto you, All these things shall come upon this generation. (KJV)

Chapter 19

Revelation 19:1-4

Rev 19:1 After these things I heard something like a loud voice of a great multitude in heaven, saying, "Hallelujah! Salvation and glory and power belong to our God;

Rev 19:2 BECAUSE HIS JUDGMENTS ARE AND RIGHTEOUS; for He has judged the great harlot who was corrupting the earth with her immorality, and HE HAS AVENGED THE BLOOD OF HIS BOND-SERVANTS ON HER."

Rev 19:3 And a second time they said, "Hallelujah! HER SMOKE RISES UP FOREVER AND EVER."

Rev 19:4 And the twenty-four elders and the four living creatures fell down and worshiped God who sits on the throne saying, "Amen. Hallelujah!" (NAU)

Rev 14:9-12 (9 Then another angel, a third one, followed them, saying with a loud voice, "If anyone worships the beast and his Image, and receives a mark on his forehead or on his hand, 10 he also will drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is mixed in full strength in the cup of His anger; and he will be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels and in the presence of the Lamb. 11 "And the smoke of their torment goes up forever and ever; they have no rest day and night, those who worship the beast and his Image, and whoever receives the mark of his name." NASU

The Smoke of Its Destruction Rises Forever

As we can see, this part of the Chapter is a continuation of Chapter 18. The loud voice calls out that the judgment of the harlot is completed, and that the blood of God's bondservants who are the faithful church, has been avenged. Those who were guilty of worshiping the beast and the Image, have now been punished, and the punishment that fell upon the guilty will be remembered by them and everyone else forever. That is because of the symbolic smoke of their torment that goes up forever and forever, so that no one ever forgets the lessons learned during that time.

There is Great Rejoicing After the Destruction

There is great rejoicing because the judgment has been completed. How long that took from the time of the judgment until the system was completely avenged is not stated.

Church is Shown Completed in This Chapter

As we look at the context of this Chapter, we will see that the church is shown as being completed here in this Chapter. We will also see that after the church is completed, that the Lord Head and Body rides out and takes full control of the earth. It's interesting to note that the winepress feature of the time of trouble continues after the church is complete, and that probably indicates that not everyone will want to give up their power of control to the new king. This Chapter is showing us that it will require the work of the start of the kingdom to remove all of the wrong ideas, etc. That is similar to Ezek Chapter 39, where we see a special work of searching out the bones of Gog and Magog, which pictures the work of the kingdom, and the removal of the remnants of the wrong ideas of Satan's system.

True Salvation Only Comes From God

We also hear here in this Chapter what should be obvious to all, and that is that genuine salvation comes only from God. Without him providing the ransom price through his son, there would be no salvation possible. For that reason all the praise belongs to God.

A correct translation of verse one, omits the word Lord as (NAU) has it. Omit also the words "and honor".

Verse one is the first of seven hallelujahs, if we count verse 4 as having two of them. Hallelujah means praise God, and that is the same as the two-word phrase that is uttered in verse 5, thus making a hidden hallelujah. In verse 5, if we count the small and the great, as being two different classes, with each class uttering praise to God, we then get seven Hallelujahs. Since seven is a number that represents spiritual completion, we believe that is the correct way to view this.

Great Multitude Are in Heaven, Verse 1

That we see the Great Multitude in heaven in verse 1, is setting the time frame for us here, in that all of those who were spirit-begotten are beyond the veil by the time of this Chapter. We also see that God has completed his vengeance upon the great harlot and the Protestant systems, and that places us at the final and extreme end of the age where the seven bowls of wrath have completed their work of destroying the main part of that evil system. There will be still work to do in removing all of the erroneous thinking that Satan's system has caused on the earth, but from this point on, all things will begin to be made new.

That the Great Multitude is shown in heaven, proves that the Great Company class of Rev Chapter 7, will not be on the earth as some claim. That the church is complete by the time of this Chapter, is shown here because all of the 144,000 will be with the Lord before the Great Company is seen in heaven. To again confirm that this is where we are in the stream of time in this part of the prophecy, we see in verse seven that the time has come for the marriage of the Lamb, which can't occur until the selection of the full number of the 144,000 has been completed.

Any spirit-begotten or Great Company that are left after the 144,000 are complete, will have to finish their earthly course before the kingdom can begin, and that appears to be completed in this Chapter, with the Great Company being seen in heaven. The final close out of the Gospel Age, may take both the last of the 144,000 and the last of Great Company in the whirlwind of trouble that ushers in the kingdom. Another possibility is that all who are needed to complete the church, may simply complete their course one by one, until all spirit-begotten are on the other side. Once the 144,000 of the church is complete, there is nothing to stop the Lord from taking all of the rest of the spirit-begotten out of the earth in a short time. But the final method to close out the Gospel Age is not known for sure, and it could just as easily be a final rising-up of church and state power that does it. We will leave it up to the Lord as to how he will close out the church.

All Groups in Heaven Shown in Chapter

This vision is going to show us more than just the Great Multitude of Chapter 7, because it includes all of the groups that are in heaven—both actual and symbolic. We see the 24 elders and the four living creatures, the voice from the throne, the great multitude of Chapter 7, and the bride. All of these groups are pointed out and mentioned in the next few verses.

God Gets Praise Because it's His Plan

God is getting the praise here, because by this time in history he has judged the harlot and avenged the blood of the saints. See Rev 15:3, 16:7, 2K 9:7. We see the judgment of the whore in Rev 17:1, 18:2, and 10. All of those who are faithful followers of God on this end of the age, should recognize the appropriateness of the fall of Great Babylon, and the correctness of the worship and praise of God because of it.

Vengeance Has Been Carried Out by This Time

That God has avenged the blood of his bondservants, also indicates that all of the events of Chapter 18 have been executed and carried out against Great Babylon by this time, with the possible exception of the final battle at the end of this Chapter. It's not certain at exactly what point the battle at the end of the Chapter occurs, except that we see that the completion of that battle has to be after the church is completed. That battle is the final defeat of Satan's system that the last three bowls of wrath are designed to accomplish. See the notes on Rev 16:1, for more information on why the last three bowls are the ones that accomplish the removal of Satan's worldwide system.

That battle would also seem to indicate the final cleanup and removal of Satan's system of things in the very beginning of the kingdom, and we know that it happens after the church is complete, because we see the armies of heaven following after the Lord when he rides out to battle. The cleanup and removal of all of Satan's false ideas may take some time to be removed, and so we will have to see how long that part of the work takes. Ezek 39:14-16 (14 "Men will be regularly employed to cleanse the land. Some will go throughout the land and, in addition to them, others will bury those that remain on the ground. At the end of the seven months they will begin their search. 15 As they go through the land and one of them sees a human bone, he will set up a marker beside it until the gravediggers have buried it in the Valley of Hamon Gog. 16 (Also a town called Hamonah will be there.) And so they will cleanse the land.' NIV

Verse 3 is the second hallelujah, and again we see that Great Babylon has been judged and shattered at this point in the Chapter.

Isa 34:8-10(8 For it is the day of the LORD's vengeance, and the year of recompences for the controversy of Zion.

*9 And the streams thereof shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into brimstone, and the land thereof shall become burning pitch.

10 It shall not be quenched night nor day; the smoke thereof shall go up for ever: from generation to generation it shall lie waste; none shall pass through it for ever and ever. (KJV)

Counting two different groups of beings in verse 4, we have hallelujahs three and four, once for the 24 elders, and once for the four living creatures.

All the Old Testament scriptures which are symbolized in the 24 elders, give credit to God for the downfall of the evil system. As we looked at the description of the downfall of Great Babylon in the previous Chapter, we saw that the description of the downfall of literal Babylon foreshadowed and typified the events that occur on this end of the age regarding the downfall of Great Babylon.

The four attributes of God, as seen in the four living creatures, wisdom, justice, love, and power, all agree that the judgment and downfall of the harlot was just and they also praise God because of it.

Revelation 19:5-10

Rev 19:5 And a voice came from the throne, saying, "Give praise to our God, all you His bond-servants, you who fear Him, the small and the great."

Rev 19:6 Then I heard {something} like the voice of a great multitude and like the sound of many waters and like the sound of mighty peals of thunder, saying, "Hallelujah! For the Lord our God, the Almighty, reigns."

Rev 19:7 "Let us rejoice and be glad and give the glory to Him, for the marriage of the Lamb has come and His bride has made herself ready."

Rev 19:8 It was given to her to clothe herself in fine linen, bright {and} clean; for the fine linen is the righteous acts of the saints."

Rev 19:9 Then he said to me, "Write, "Blessed are those who are invited to the marriage supper of the Lamb.'" And he said to me, "These are words of God."

Rev 19:10 Then I fell at his feet to worship him. But he said to me, "Do not do that; I am a fellow servant of yours and your brethren who hold the testimony of Jesus; worship God. For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy." (NAU)

Voice From the Throne

The voice from the throne calls on all who fear him to praise God, and then we again hear for sure the voice of the Great Company. There is a question on verse 6, regarding the sound of “many waters”, and the sound of mighty thunders praising God. It’s possible that this could be one or two other groups in heaven, rather than a further description of the Great Company, but if it’s someone else other than the Great Company, then it’s not clear who they would be. We do have a similar description regarding waters in Ezek Chapter one, where we see the four Cherubs of God, and there the sound of waters is said to be like the voice of God, who was on the throne at that time, and so that is another possibility. Ezek 1:24 I also heard the sound of their wings like the sound of abundant waters as they went, like the voice of the Almighty, a sound of tumult like the sound of an army camp; whenever they stood still, they dropped their wings. NASU

Thunders Indicate Presence Voice of God

We also know that thunders are associated with the presence of God, like for example when he appeared to the people at Mount Sinai, so perhaps these additional sounds are indicating the presence of God. Regardless of whom they are, all the voices in heaven are giving praise because the marriage of the Lamb has come and the Lord God Almighty has begun his reign through Christ and the 144,000 of the church. The fear of God is the beginning lesson of the kingdom. If you don't fear or reverence God, you will be in opposition to him and be caught up in the events that follow shortly with the white horse and the armies of heaven.

The meaning of the word Alleluia is to praise God, which is what it says in verse 5, and so in verse 5 we have an intimation of an Alleluia even though it's a different word, which would make this the fifth and sixth ones if we count great and small as two different classes.

239 allelouia (al-lay-loo'-ee-ah); of Hebrew origin [imperative of 1984 and 3050]; praise ye Jah!, an adoring exclamation: KJV-- alleluiah.

The seventh Alleluia is found in verse 6, and it's coming from the Great Company.

In Rev 14:2-3, we see the same symbols of waters and peals of thunder as we do here in verse 6, and in Chapter 14 we see that those symbols are associated with the completed 144,000. That seems to be a correct conclusion, because in the next verse we are told that the marriage of the Lamb has come or has already occurred, which shows that the 144,000 are complete at the time of this vision.

In Ps 150 we find God being praised in a similar manner.

Ps 150:1-6 (1 Praise ye the LORD. Praise God in his sanctuary: praise him in the firmament of his power.

2 Praise him for his mighty acts: praise him according to his excellent greatness.

3 Praise him with the sound of the trumpet: praise him with the psaltery and harp.

4 Praise him with the timbrel and dance: praise him with stringed instruments and organs.

5 Praise him upon the loud cymbals: praise him upon the high sounding cymbals.

6 Let every thing that hath breath praise the LORD. Praise ye the LORD. (KJV)

There is a question regarding who the voice from the throne is: Jesus, the Church, or both? See Rev 16:17 where we likewise heard a great voice from the throne, and that was Jesus. The Greek word used here means from the throne. We think that the church now has the same message as their Lord Jesus, because they have made themselves ready and the marriage has occurred, and for that reason they can help proclaim the new message as seen in Rev 22:17. Because of that the voice could be coming in unison from both the 144,000 and our Lord, but if not from both it's coming from the Lord Jesus.

Rev 22:17 The Spirit and the bride say, "Come." And let the one who hears say, "Come." And let the one who is thirsty come; let the one who wishes take the water of life without cost. NASU

Marriage Has Come Bride Made Ready

In verse 7, Marshals interlinear says the wife prepared herself, and the marriage of the Lamb had come, past tense. In other words, the marriage of the Lamb had already occurred at this point in time in the vision. We are not told in these verses that the blessed are to come to the marriage, but they appear to be only invited to the marriage feast. We are told that everyone who is invited to the marriage supper of the Lamb is blessed. The wedding supper always occurs after the marriage ceremony, and so this is after the marriage of the Lamb. Who will be able to attend the marriage supper? It would for sure include all of those who attained a heavenly salvation, including the Great Company. It's not clear if the world is included in the marriage supper or not, but it would make sense that they are included in the picture as receiving the benefits that come because of the wedding having been completed. The wedding feast may be shown here because of the benefits of the New Covenant that is offered to Israel and the world at that time.

The Great Company most likely won't be raised until after the 144,000 are complete. If correct, that would indicate that the 144,000 of the church may be involved in the raising of the Great Company. The Great Company is not seen in Chapter 7 until after John sees the 144,000 complete, and then it says "after this" I saw a Great Company. We know that each of the overcomers that won one of the 144,000 crowns started to be resurrected in 1878AD, but it's not as clear that the Great Company began to be resurrected then as well. It's possible that they could be resurrected at the same time, but we have no information that we can think of that shows one way or the other.

This is the third time that the Great Crowd says hallelujah. They should rejoice because they were saved despite what they did wrong. Any time that something is repeated three times in the scriptures shows us its importance.

The Bride Can now Help With the Restoration Work

That this is a marriage, shows us that Jesus is going to share all the promises that the Father made to him with the church, just as a bride shares in the husband's wealth. That makes it possible for the 144,000 to get the power and ability they need to share in the work of restoring mankind. See Eph 5:25-33. It should be obvious that the church will always acknowledge Jesus as the ultimate authority and power in all things that need to be decided or done—just as a faithful wife would do. Likewise, everything that Christ head and body does, will be in accordance with the Father’s Divine Plan.

Ps 45

Ps 45:13-15(13The king's daughter is all glorious within: her clothing is of wrought gold.

14 She shall be brought unto the king in raiment of needlework: the virgins her companions that follow her shall be brought unto thee.

15 With gladness and rejoicing shall they be brought: they shall enter into the king's palace.(KJV)

Ps 132:9 Let thy priests be clothed with righteousness; and let thy saints shout for joy. (KJV)

Isa 53:12 Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he poured out his soul unto death, and was numbered with the transgressors: yet he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors. ASV

The 144,000 were not able to be recognized for their righteous acts, until they won the prize of the high calling. They can now stand before Jehovah and Christ, and they receive credit for what they had accomplished in their walk here on earth. They are also given immortality at that time, and the power that they will need to help restore the earth. Their righteousness is displayed or shown by the white robes that they are wearing, which are embroidered with decorations that indicate their righteous deeds that they did during their walk on the earth. See Psalms 45 above.

Falling Down to the Angel

Since this warning is given right after we see the church completed, and the great Company in heaven, we believe that this is something that needs to be considered and looked at very closely. Failure to do that could very well cause the one not heeding the warning, to fall into the Great Company.

In verse 9, King James says, “He.” Who is the “He” in this verse? It appears that the “He” we see here goes all the way back to 17:1, and the angel there was one of the seven angels with one of the bowls of wrath. There does not appear to have been a change in angels since that Chapter. We saw the Lord coming in 18:1, and in 18:4 there was a voice from heaven, but no other angels appeared, and so the one in Chapter 17 must be the same as this one. The message of judgment that began there, goes from the beginning of Chapter 17, to all the way to the end of Chapter 20. The vision of the coming kingdom that is given in Chapters 21-22 is also given by this same angel.

The Messengers

In our study of the messengers to the seven churches, we saw that they do appear to be earthly individuals who had received their messages through the Holy spirit and passed it on to each of the churches. We believe that the Lord used Pastor Russell to show the judgment of the Harlot and Great Babylon in this Chapter, because we see the completion of the church, and that tells us that we are seeing the vision in the seventh church. This angel through Pastor Russell, showed us the Divine Plan of the ages, and the vision of the New Jerusalem coming down to the earth, which shows us the coming kingdom and the blessing of the world of mankind.

The seventh messenger in Chapter three, is confirmed to be Pastor Russell, as shown by the 360-year spans of the second through the sixth churches. See the notes on the messages to the churches and the appendix that examines the possibility of the 360-year spans of time for the churches for more information.

Don't Worship Angel Worship God

We are being warned not to worship this angel, but we are told that we are to worship God. We believe that the lesson given here, is telling us that the actual messenger is not as important as what the message is, and that is the very thing that this angel tells us here and again in Chapter 22. Don't worship the messenger, but worship God, the one who sent the message. The same thing is true of the one that the angel uses to deliver the message. Just as Pastor himself told us, don't follow me if you see that the scriptures teach something else than what I have told you, then you must follow the scriptures and not me. That is exactly what this angel is warning us about in this Chapter, so pay very serious attention to what he is saying!

Prove All Things in Scriptures

Prove all things in the scriptures and give all the credit to God, who is the one that has planned and established the Divine Plan. It does not matter if this angel is a real angel or not—we are not to worship him, but only God. The same thing would apply to any important earthly leader that we have. The fallen churches made the mistake of following their leaders and founders, without questioning the things that they were taught, and that is one of the reasons that they fell into error. We need to be careful that we don't follow someone simply because they said something, but we need to follow the Pastors advice and not accept anything without proving it in the scriptures.

Regarding the other angel in Chapter 22, we find a similar statement where John fell down again, except it says “of them which keep the testimony of this book”, instead of “for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of the prophecy”. So, the important lesson, is that no matter who is delivering a message of God or Christ to us at any time, they are not to be worshiped, since the plan comes from God.

Rev 22:9 And he said to me, "Do not do that; I am a fellow servant of yours and of your brethren the prophets and of those who heed the words of this book; worship God." (NAS)

Col 2:18-19 (18 Let no man beguile you of your reward in a voluntary humility and worshipping of angels, intruding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind, 19 And not holding the Head, from which all the body by joints and bands having nourishment ministered, and knit together, increases with the increase of God. (KJV)

The Testimony of Jesus

The testimony of Jesus may be what helps interprets other prophecy for us, or it could be that it means that the prophets testify about Jesus. The UBS commentary gives both options. Those who hold the testimony of Jesus, are the seed of the woman found in Rev Chapter 12, and they represent the faithful church.

Rev 12:17 And the dragon was enraged with the woman, and went off to make war with the rest of her offspring, who keep the commandments of God and hold to the testimony of Jesus. (NAS)

Revelation Directly Related to Old Testament

At least a part of the testimony of Jesus is the book of Revelation. If Revelation is the spirit of the prophecy, that would seem to indicate that Rev is the key to understanding the Old Testament. Rev has indeed proven to be a key help in understanding prophecy in the Old Testament, especially in books like Daniel, and so that may be the reason for the difference in the words in Revelation Chapter 22. The reverse is also true, in that looking at the Old Testament and the book of Revelation together regarding similar testimonies from the scriptures, the Old Testament helps us to understand what Revelation is showing us. In other words, it's a Two-Way Street, with the Old Testament helping us to understand the New, and the New helping us to understand the Old.

We have seen that principle demonstrated as we have gone through the book of Revelation, because it refers to the Old Testament in a very large percentage of the verses in it. That it does that, helps us not only to get an understanding of the book of Revelation, but it helps us to understand the Old Testament prophecies. This study has helped to tie the entire Bible together, so that the music coming from the harp of God, is harmonious with all the scriptures, and that harmony shows us that God has indeed predicted the beginning from the end. We now see that he had hidden his Divine Plan in the Old Testament, and that the Revelation of Jesus is the key to unlocking and understanding that plan.

Harp of God Plays in Harmony With God's Four Attributes

It's not true that you can play any old tune on the Bible, because we see that everything that comes from the harp of God harmonizes with his four attributes. If that is done correctly, then there is only one tune and song that you can play on the harp of God, and that is the Divine Plan of the Ages and the salvation for all mankind—both the heavenly and the earthly. That salvation is only possible because of the blood of the Lamb, and the New Covenant that the blood guarantees.

Revelation 19:11-16

Rev 19:11 And I saw heaven opened, and behold, a white horse, and He who sat on it {is} called Faithful and True, and in righteousness He judges and wages war.

Rev 19:12 His eyes {are} a flame of fire, and on His head {are} many diadems; and He has a name written {on Him} which no one knows except Himself.

Rev 19:13 {He is} clothed with a robe dipped in blood, and His name is called The Word of God.

Rev 19:14 And the armies which are in heaven, clothed in fine linen, white {and} clean, were following Him on white horses.

Rev 19:15 From His mouth comes a sharp sword, so that with it He may strike down the nations, and He will rule them with a rod of iron; and He treads the wine press of the fierce wrath of God, the Almighty.

Rev 19:16 And on His robe and on His thigh He has a name written, "KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS." (NAU)

I Saw

Signals a Break in the Prophecy

Since there is an "I saw" again at the beginning of this section, we are not certain exactly where this is in the stream of time. At one time we assumed that the this pictured a completed church because of the armies in heaven clothed with linen. But we now see that does not have to be a completed church, it would only have to be a resurrected church, from 1878 AD and onward. When we look at the events that are described in this portion of the chapter, we can see that the events described seem to fit with events that began in 1914. In other words, the resurrected saints are on the other side of the veil, helping the Lord bring down the evil system, as is shown in Psa 149. The saints are told to execute vengeance on the nations, punishment on the people, to bind the kings with chains, and their nobles fetters of iron. The punishments that are described in that Psalms, are events that began to happen in 1914.

Ps 149:5-9 (5 Let the saints exult in glory: let them sing for joy upon their beds. 6 (Let) the high praises of God (be) in their mouth, and a two-edged sword in their hand; 7 To execute vengeance upon the nations, and punishments upon the peoples; 8 To bind their kings with chains, and their nobles with fetters of iron; 9 To execute upon them the judgment written: this honor have all his saints. Praise ye Jehovah. ASV

Faithful & True Equals Jesus

In the New Testament, we see that the words faithful and true describe our Lord Jesus, who has acquired those same attributes from his Father. Below are some examples that show that the one coming on the white horse must be our Lord Jesus. That he is on a white horse indicates that he is coming with pure and true doctrines that are not polluted like the doctrines of the False Prophet.

Isa 49:6-7(6 And he said, It is a light thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel: I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou may be my salvation unto the end of the earth.

7 Thus saith the LORD, the Redeemer of Israel, and his Holy One, to him whom man despises, to him whom the nation abhorred, to a servant of rulers, Kings shall see and arise, princes also shall worship, because of the LORD that is faithful, and the Holy One of Israel, and he shall choose thee. (KJV)

Heb 2:17 Wherefore in all things it behooved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people. (KJV)

Rev 1:5 And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful witness, and the first begotten of the dead, and the prince of the kings of the earth. Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood, (KJV)

Rev 3:14 And unto the angel of the church of the Laodiceans write; These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of the creation of God;(KJV)

Rev 3:7 And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write; These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and no man shutteth; and shutteth, and no man openeth;(KJV)

Rev 6:10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth? (KJV)

Winepress in Old Testament

That he is going to come and judge in righteousness, is shown in many Old Testament scriptures. Isa 63:3 mentions the winepress and the garments stained with their blood, which we see in verses 1-3. The winepress picture, also points to 1914, because of the blood coming out for 1600 furlongs, which reaches to 1914, as we showed in chapter 14.

Isa 63:1-6 (1 Who is this that cometh from Edom, with dyed garments from Bozrah? this that is glorious in his apparel, travelling in the greatness of his strength? I that speak in righteousness, mighty to save.

2 Wherefore art thou red in thine apparel, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the winefat?

*3 I have trodden the winepress alone; and of the people there was none with me: for I will tread them in mine anger, and trample them in my fury; and their blood shall be sprinkled upon my garments, and I will stain all my raiment.

4 For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the year of my redeemed is come.

5 And I looked, and there was none to help; and I wondered that there was none to uphold: therefore mine own arm brought salvation unto me; and my fury, it upheld me.

6 And I will tread down the people in mine anger, and make them drunk in my fury, and I will bring down their strength to the earth. (KJV)

All of Chapter 63 and the rest of the Chapters of Isaiah, cover end time events that are like here, and we recommend that you read them with spiritual eyesight.

Ps 72

We see in Ps Chapter 72, that Jesus received the ability to judge in righteousness from his Father. That this verse is referring to that judgment and righteousness at this point in the book of Revelation, shows that the Lord is shown beginning to take control after 1914.

Ps 72:1-2 (1 Give the king thy judgments, O God, and thy righteousness unto the king's son.

2 He shall judge thy people with righteousness, and thy poor with judgment. (KJV)

Isa 11:3-5 (3 And shall make him of quick understanding in the fear of the LORD: and he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither reprove after the hearing of his ears:

4 But with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity for the meek of the earth: and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked. 5 And righteousness shall be the girdle of his loins, and faithfulness the girdle of his reins.

Jer 23:5-6 (5 Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth.

6 In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely: and this is his name whereby he shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS. (KJV)

Jer 33:15 In those days, and at that time, will I cause the Branch of righteousness to grow up unto David; and he shall execute judgment and righteousness in the land. (KJV)

Eyes are Flames of Fire

That his eyes are flames of fire, is the same description that we see given to Jesus earlier in Revelation. That indicates that nothing will be hidden from his sight, and that he will not be able to be fooled in his judgments. The remnants of Satan's system that he is coming to remove, will not be able to lie to him, because nothing will be hidden. Anything that is not in harmony with righteousness and the blessings of the kingdom, will be shaken out and removed.

Rev 1:14 His head and his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow; and his eyes were as a flame of fire; (KJV)

Rev 2:18 And unto the angel of the church in Thyatira write; These things saith the Son of God, who hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and his feet are like fine brass;

Heb 4:12-13 (12 For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

13 Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do. (KJV)

Many Crowns of Authority

The many crowns that he has, shows that Jesus has many kinds of authority over different aspects of society, and that he rules over all nations and all things pertaining to his kingdom.

Matt 28:18 And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. (KJV)

Ps 8:5 For thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and hast crowned him with glory and honour. (KJV)

Isa 62:3 Thou shalt also be a crown of glory in the hand of the LORD, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God. (KJV)

King of Kings Again

The name King of Kings, is also found in Rev 17:14, where we see our Lord making war with the kings of the earth. The remnants of those same kings or governments are what are being finished off by our Lord and the armies of heaven here in this Chapter.

Rev 17:14 These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings: and they that are with him are called, and chosen, and faithful. (KJV)

Name No One Knows

The name that no one knows, is not the names given in verses 13, 16. To have God's name written on you, shows that you belong to him and that you have his authority. The name that God has written on Christ, is most likely the same name that we see mentioned in Exod 23:21, and Judges 13:18. The angel of the Lord was Michael, who was Christ in his pre-crucifixion role, and that he still has God's name is showing us that he is acting with God's authority in this judgment and punishment.

One of the root words of the Greek word for Michael means like God. OT:4317

Miyka'el (me-kaw-ale'); from OT:4310 and (the prefix derivative from) OT:3588 and OT:410; who (is) like God?; Mikael, the name of an archangel and of nine Israelites:

KJV - Michael.

Jesus Writes His Name on Individuals of Church

The same is true of the Lord Jesus' name, in that if he writes his name on individuals in the church, that shows that they belong to him and are acting with his authority. That the names are secret, shows that no one will be able to counterfeit the name of God or Jesus, or any of the 144,000, but each will have to earn their name. The church and state system, has claimed that they have our Lord's name, and that they are doing his will. That this is a false claim, is shown in the next few verses in Revelation Chapter 19, where they are being removed from power. They will not get the reward of the 144,000, and they will only be saved by their falling into the great Company, or being of the worldly class. That the 144,000, will have the Lord's name written on them, is also mentioned earlier in the messages to the churches in Revelation.

Exod 23:21 Beware of him, and obey his voice, provoke him not; for he will not pardon your transgressions: for my name is in him. (KJV)

Judg 13:18 And the angel of the LORD said unto him, Why askest thou thus after my name, seeing it is secret? (KJV)

Isa 9:6 For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. (KJV)

Rev 2:17 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it.(KJV)

*Rev 3:12 Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name.

As we saw above, the entire Chapter of Isa 63 is the same picture that we see here. We see the Lord coming in judgment to remove the evil elements that are in the earth. If we continue to read through the rest of Isaiah, we see that the world has hope, because he is also coming to establish the New Heavens and Earth, and we will see the same New Heavens and Earth mentioned a little further on in Revelation. See also Isa 65:17, 66:22, 2 Peter 3:13, and Rev 21:1. The establishment of the New Heavens and the Earth, is when the New Covenant will be revealed to the nation of Israel, and then through them to the rest of the world.

The Word = Jesus

That he is called "The Word" in Rev 19:13, confirms for us that this can be none other than Jesus. It's hard to find a translation that doesn't try to make Jesus into God himself, but he is only acting for God here. The correct idea is that he is "God like", as the root of Michael suggests, but it does not mean that he is God.

Armies in White Linen

The armies of heaven were clothed in white linen, and they are following our Lord on white horses, and that shows us that the resurrection of the sleeping saints has begun, but it does not mean that the church is complete at this time. Those who have been resurrected, have the honor of executing the judgments written, as we see in Psa 149.

Ps 149:4-9 (4 For the Lord takes pleasure in His people; He will beautify the afflicted ones with salvation. 5 Let the godly ones exult in glory; Let them sing for joy on their beds. 6 Let the high praises of God be in their mouth, And a two-edged sword in their hand, 7 To execute vengeance on the nations And punishment on the peoples, 8 To bind their kings with chains And their nobles with fetters of iron, 9 To execute on them the judgment written; This is an honor for all His godly ones. Praise the Lord! NASU

They are all on white horses, because when the church is complete, they will all have the pure and complete doctrine or all knowledge of God and his plans.

Isa 11:9 They will not hurt or destroy in all My holy mountain, For the earth will be full of the knowledge of the Lord As the waters cover the sea. NASU

Angels & Saints

There are many scriptures, that say that both the angels and the saints shall come with the Lord, and they give us a further picture of what the Lord will be doing to remove the last of Satan's system and perverted ideas. The mighty angels and the saints, are seen to be the same when we look at all the prophecies that apply to that time. It may also be true, that all the other faithful angels will be becoming with the Lord and the church, when it comes time to remove the last of the evil from the earth, and to begin the kingdom.

Zech 14:5 And ye shall flee to the valley of the mountains; for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azal: yea, ye shall flee, like as ye fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah: and the LORD my God shall come, and all the saints with thee. (KJV)

*II Th 1:7-8 (7 And to you who are troubled rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels,

8 In flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ:

Matt 25:31 When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory:(KJV)

*Jude 1:14-15 (14 And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints,

15 To execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him. (KJV)

Zech 10:3-5 (3 "My anger is kindled against the shepherds, And I will punish the male goats; For the Lord of hosts has visited His flock, the house of Judah, And will make them like His majestic horse in battle. 4 "From them will come the cornerstone, From them the tent peg, From them the bow of battle, From them every ruler, all of them together. 5 "They will be as mighty men, Treading down the enemy in the mire of the streets in battle; And they will fight, for the Lord will be with them; And the riders on horses will be put to shame. NASU

Two Edged Sword From Mouth

The two edged sword represents the Old and New Testament. It also represents Gods word, and his truth and standard of true judgment, and it's able to discern the intent of men's hearts.

Rev 1:16 And he had in his right hand seven stars: and out of his mouth went a sharp twoedged sword; and his countenance was as the sun shined in his strength. (KJV)

Rev 2:12 And to the angel of the church in Pergamos write; These things saith he which hath the sharp sword with two edges;(KJV)

Heb 4:12For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

Rod of Iron or Scepter

Any who wish to resist this new king, will do so at their own risk, because he has a rod of iron to enforce his will upon those who don't want to submit to him. The word "rod" means scepter, and that he has the scepter indicates that no one better dare to resist him, because he is now the king. If they want to do that, they better read Ps Chapter 2 first, so that they know what their fate will be. See of all Psa Chapter 2 for a vivid description of what the Lord will be doing against those who resist him.

Ps 2:9 Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.(KJV)

Rev 2:27And he shall rule them with a rod of iron; as the vessels of a potter shall they be broken to shivers: even as I received of my Father. (KJV)

Rule = Shepherd

The word "rule" means shepherd, which indicates a reign that will be a blessing, but at the same time it will be a tough reign—not allowing any nonsense or sin. The sheep will be protected and nursed back to health during that time, but at the same time they will be disciplined and kept from doing harm to others. Any wolves that refuse to repent, will be removed from the kingdom!

Rev 12:5And she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne. (KJV)

Ps 110:1-2(1 The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.

2 The LORD shall send the rod of thy strength out of Zion: rule thou in the midst of thine enemies. (KJV)

The word feed and rule are the same and means to shepherd them.

4165 poimaino (poy-mah'-ee-no); from 4166; to tend as a shepherd of (figuratively, supervisor): KJV-- feed (cattle), rule.

2 Thes 2:8

In this Chapter, we see the Lord completing what Thessalonians has long promised the church would eventually happen. The final destruction of that system began in 1914, and continues until all error is removed.

II Th 2:8 And then shall that Wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming:(KJV)

Isa 11:4 But with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity for the meek of the earth: and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked.(KJV)

Ps 110

Another important place that talks about the Lord reigning over his enemies, that is like what we see in this Chapter, is in Ps 110. The Lord has been waiting for the time that the earth would be made a footstool for his feet. That means that it will be placed under his control, and he will be able to eliminate his enemies as we see happening in these verses.

Ps 110:1-7 (1 The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.

2 The LORD shall send the rod of thy strength out of Zion: rule thou in the midst of thine enemies.

3 Thy people shall be willing in the day of thy power, in the beauties of holiness from the womb of the morning: thou hast the dew of thy youth.

4 The LORD hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.

*5 The Lord at thy right hand shall strike through kings in the day of his wrath.

*6 He shall judge among the heathen, he shall fill the places with the dead bodies; he shall wound the heads over many countries.

7 He shall drink of the brook in the way: therefore shall he lift up the head. (KJV)

1 Tim 6:15 Which in his times he shall shew, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, and Lord of lords; (KJV)

*Rev 19:12-13(12 His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crowns; and he had a name written, that no man knew, but he himself.

13 And he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood: and his name is called The Word of God. (KJV)

Revelation 19:12 [And he had a name written] That is, probably on the frontlet of this compound diadem. Compare the notes on <Rev. 13:1; 14:1>.

*[That no man knew but he himself] See the notes on <Rev. 2:17>. This cannot here mean that no one could read the name, but the idea is, that no one but himself could fully understand its import. It involved a depth of meaning, and a degree of sacredness, and a relation to the Father, which he alone could apprehend in its true import. This is true of the name here designated-- "the Word of God"-- the "Logos"-- [Logos] (grk 3056); and it is of all the names which he bears. See <Matt. 11:27>. Compare a quotation from Dr. Buchanan in the Asiatic Researches, vol. 1, vi. p. 264, as quoted by Rosenmuller, Morgenland, in loco.

(from Barnes' Notes)

King of kings and Lord of Lords is found in Rev 17:14. Ps 2:1 ps 110:1 1 Tim 6:15-16 Rev 19:12 isa 63:1>

THIGH meros ^3382^ occurs in <Rev. 19:16>; Christ appears there in the manifestation of His judicial capacity and action hereafter as the executor of divine vengeance upon the foes of God; His name is spoken of figuratively as being upon His "thigh" (where the sword would be worn; cf. <Ps. 45:3>), emblematic of His strength to tread down His foes, His action being the exhibition of His divine attributes of righteousness and power.#

3 Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O most mighty, with thy glory and thy majesty.(KJV)

Revelation 19:17-21

Rev 19:17 Then I saw an angel standing in the sun, and he cried out with a loud voice, saying to all the birds which fly in midheaven, "Come, assemble for the great supper of God,

Rev 19:18 so that you may eat the flesh of kings and the flesh of commanders and the flesh of mighty men and the flesh of horses and of those who sit on them and the flesh of all men, both free men and slaves, and small and great."

Rev 19:19 And I saw the beast and the kings of the earth and their armies assembled to make war against Him who sat on the horse and against His army.

Rev 19:20 And the beast was seized, and with him the False Prophet who performed the signs in his presence, by which he deceived those who had received the mark of the beast and those who worshiped his Image; these two were thrown alive into the lake of fire which burns with brimstone. Rev 19:21 And the rest were killed with the sword which came from the mouth of Him who sat on the horse, and all the birds were filled with their flesh. (NAU)

The battle that is going to be finished here, is the battle that the beast, the false prophet, and the dragon had called the kings too in Rev 16:13-14, which was the battle of Armageddon. The latter part of this battle, will also include the final battle against the restored nation of Israel. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast, and so that will most likely be a major part of the battle, Paganism against Christ.

Question About Where Vision Located in Time

There is some uncertainty as to where this vision starts in time, because this vision also starts with “Then I saw”. This vision does not necessarily follow the events shown in the previous vision, even though the two sections are most likely related to each other because of the armies in heaven. When we did this study, we thought that it only applied at the very end of the age. But then we noticed that it says that that he called to the birds that were in the mid-heavens. As we have looked at this, we can see that what may be happening here is that the dissatisfied birds of destruction from the midst of heaven, that had afflicted the system during the time of the three woe trumpets, may now be gathered by the Lord back together again, to finish off the system at the end of the age in the final battle.

These are all the discontents of society that think they know a better solution, or who think that they can create something better, or who want to right all the wrongs in the world, etc. They will be used to help take down the last of the system. Since there is an I saw at the beginning of this section, the vision backs us up in time. Since we earlier noted that the Battle of Armageddon started in 1914, this vision could be starting as early as 1870 or even 1914, or it could be showing us the final and most intense part of the battle right at the very end. It’s not certain, but the gathering together of the kings to battle started just before 1914, and so we believe that the vision starts with the birds of heaven coming and attacking the fallen church, starting in 1914.

Previous Use of Birds

In Revelation 8:13 we saw that the eagle that was seen flying in mid heaven issued the warning of the three woes, which were the last three woe trumpets. That vision goes from those earlier events, until we see the Lord finishing the job of mopping up just before the kingdom starts. One other place that we see the vultures, is in Matt 24 where the vultures are also seen consuming the carcass of the system at the end of the age, which is what we see being described here in this Chapter. What we are seeing in these different references, is the consuming and the destruction of the fallen system. The thought that the vultures represent the church in Matt 24 does not make sense. It fits much better, that they are the elements of society that are being used to destroy the false and evil system. They were used back in the time of the three woes, and they are going to be used at the final end time to weaken and finish off the evil system.

This battle appears to be showing us the final destruction of Satan's system. The three woes were the start of the destruction of the evil system, and here in this Chapter we are seeing the results of the seven bowls of wrath, which were poured out in 1914. Three woes plus seven bowls adds up to ten, and that then follows the picture of the ten plagues of Egypt that freed the Israelites. Here in Revelation, we first have the church freed from that system by the three woes, and then once the seven bowls have completed their work, the people of the world will have been freed from Satan's evil system and will be able to symbolically cross over into the Promised Land.

The first part of the trouble is more upon the fallen church system, because judgment begins with the house of God. Then, the last thing that happens is that Satan's complete worldwide system is overthrown. The final overthrow of Satan's system, has to include the final battle that occurs in the land of Israel, at the very end.

1 Pet 4:17 For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the Gospel of God? (KJV)

Angel Standing in Sun

The angel standing in the sun gives us a vision showing the destruction of the apostate church and state system and society. The light that is coming from the sun is the Gospel of Good News that was rediscovered by the early reformers, and which was still being restored on this end of the age by the Seventh Messenger. That our Lord is standing in the sun, shows us that this message is based on clear strong Gospel light, and that the light of the sun is illuminating the error of the system showing why it needs to be removed.

Call to Birds That Eat Dead Things

The call to the birds that fly in midheaven are to the type of birds that eat dead things. These birds represent all different elements of society that do not like the church-state system, or even elements of Satan's worldwide system. Some of the early attacks against Papacy were events like the Reformation and other religious movements. Others were scientific ideas which expose the fallen systems ideas about the world as being pure superstition. As time went on and the time was reached where we believe we are at in this vision, there was anarchists and communist, etc. attacking that system and began wearing it down, especially after 1914-18. The vultures have been picking at the carcass of an already dead system, taking members from that system whenever they can.

The intimation is that the remnants of this army are spiritually dead before the final battle ever began. The eating of the flesh is symbolic and not literal, and it most likely indicates the removal of the people's support for that system. Remember that Satan's system of things will be destroyed and removed, so that the people will be freed so that they can enter the kingdom with no hindrance to holding them back—that is the drying up of the Euphrates. We note that the ones consumed by the birds, are not cast into the lake of fire as the symbols of the beast and the False Prophet are, and that means that their institutions are consumed and dissolved, but not the individuals. When that happens, the people themselves are then symbolically freed from the false doctrines and ideas, so that they can be brought into the kingdom.

Image Does Not Exist Any More

On this end of the age, the beast or beasts still exists, but the Image does not exist anymore since Papacy is not controlling the Western Empire anymore, and the kings that had established it were shattered and removed in WW1. The remnants or pieces of the Image still exist, in that Papacy is a part of the False Prophet, and the civil power that had formed the Image, is a part of the beast system that is referred to here. After WW1, the large power blocks were shattered into smaller beastly governments that must still be dealt with.

The birds we see in Chapter 19, and in the parallel Ezekiel reference, are Communists, anarchists, socialists, radical Islamists, nihilists, etc. that have been tearing down the old order of things. At the end of the age where we are at now, we see these kinds of groups rising again and trying to overthrow the established order of things, thinking that they have the better solution, such as communism in 1918. Even if they don't have a viable solution, they will want the old order gone, because they see how corrupt that it is. We see that the unjust financial system, is also being shown to be corrupt and designed to make the rich wealthy, at the expense of the poor. The unjust system will eventually result in anarchy at the very end, that will cause the old order to be swept completely away. That destruction is the last work of the Lord's great army from Joel. Earlier in our study of Joel and the trumpets of Revelation, we saw that the Lord's army has been working against the evil system since the start of the three woe trumpets, and not just since the end of the age. That is what we see here, in that the work of destroying the power of that system began with the fifth trumpet. But it has a second phase that began in 1914, and was brought about by the seven bowls of wrath. That continues until all elements of that system are destroyed or captured.

Final Battle of Armageddon is Completed in This Chapter

The final part of this battle has already been going on sense since WW1, but the trouble continues yet today in that the evil system and the power structure holding it all together has not met its final end yet, although it has been greatly weakened. The Lord is going to make a complete end of this system and its different elements, so that it will not rise back up again. The organizations that Satan uses to control the world will be quickly done away with, but the wrong ideas will take a long time to remove from people's minds. That will be accomplished by the writing of God's laws on the people's hearts during the 1000 years.

Jer 51:21-26 (21 And with thee will I break in pieces the horse and his rider; and with thee will I break in pieces the chariot and his rider;

22 With thee also will I break in pieces man and woman; and with thee will I break in pieces old and young; and with thee will I break in pieces the young man and the maid;

23 I will also break in pieces with thee the shepherd and his flock; and with thee will I break in pieces the husbandman and his yoke of oxen; and with thee will I break in pieces captains and rulers.

24 And I will render unto Babylon and to all the inhabitants of Chaldea all their evil that they have done in Zion in your sight, saith the LORD.

25 Behold, I am against thee, O destroying mountain, saith the LORD, which destroys all the earth: and I will stretch out mine hand upon thee, and roll thee down from the rocks, and will make thee a burnt mountain.

26 And they shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations; but thou shalt be desolate forever, saith the LORD. (KJV)

All Influential Leaders will be Captured

The kings or rulers, the captains or leaders of men, and the mighty men who are seen here, are those who are influential in society. Many of the kings and rulers have been captured already at this time, such as the kings after 1914, but much more is going to happen in that regard. The horses are doctrines, ideas or teachings, that will be shown to be false, and because of that they will eventually lose their hold over people. Those that sit upon the horses are those who direct or lead the doctrinal or civil organizations. The flesh of all men shows that this destruction will fall upon all who are a part of society, no matter how small or great. The bond or slaves are those that are held in bondage in the system, through superstition, financial necessity, and fear. Many are trapped in the system because of religious ideas, or they are in support of the civil system because of nationalism, or even greed. We see that their confidence in that system will be removed in this battle, and because of that they will be freed from it so that they can begin to journey up the highway of holiness.

Some of this Section of Verses

Matches Ezek Chap 39

Ezek 39:17-24 (17 "As for you, son of man, thus says the Lord GOD, 'Speak to every kind of bird and to every beast of the field, "Assemble and come, gather from every side to My sacrifice which I am going to sacrifice for you, as a great sacrifice on the mountains of Israel, that you may eat flesh and drink blood. 18 "You will eat the flesh of mighty men and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, as though they were rams, lambs, goats and bulls, all of them fatlings of Bashan. 19 “So you will eat fat until you are glutted, and drink blood until you are drunk, from My sacrifice which I have sacrificed for you. 20 “You will be glutted at My table with horses and charioteers, with mighty men and all the men of war,” declares the Lord GOD. 21 “And I will set My glory among the nations; and all the nations will see My judgment which I have executed and My hand which I have laid on them. 22 “And the house of Israel will know that I am the LORD their God from that day onward. 23 “The nations will know that the house of Israel went into exile for their iniquity because they acted treacherously against Me, and I hid My face from them; so I gave them into the hand of their adversaries, and all of them fell by the sword. 24 “According to their uncleanness and according to their transgressions I dealt with them, and I hid My face from them.””” NASU

In Revelation Chapter 20, when we discuss Gog and Magog, we will show that the above portion of the prophecy of Ezekiel Chapter 39:17-20, does not all apply to literal Israel. It's the exact same wording as we see here in Rev Chapter 19 regarding the birds, and mighty men etc. The portion that deals with the final battle that occurs with natural Israel, is in Ezekiel Chapter 38:1-16, 39:1-16. The above quoted portion of Chapter 39, is the part of Armageddon that removes the remnants of Satan's false system in preparation for the kingdom. So, we can see that some of the verses of the first part of Ezekiel Chapter 39, deal with the elimination of the church and state system, and are thus parallel references to Chapter 19 of Revelation. That the scriptures from Ezekiel Chapter 39 are quoted in this part of the prophecy, seems to indicate this vision in Revelation about the final battle, includes the events of Ezekiel 38 and 39 and that those who are defeated in Ezekiel, are included in the picture of the ones that are defeated here.

Joel & The Valley of Jehoshaphat

In the third Chapter of Joel, we come to the valley of Jehoshaphat, and we find that it is another description of the end of the evil and unfaithful system. After the destruction of the evil system, we see that the kingdom is established in verse 17.

Joel 3:11-17 (11 Assemble yourselves, and come, all ye heathen, and gather yourselves together round about: thither cause thy mighty ones to come down, O LORD.

12 Let the heathen be wakened, and come up to the valley of Jehoshaphat: for there will I sit to judge all the heathen round about.

13 Put ye in the sickle, for the harvest is ripe: come, get you down; for the press is full, the fats overflow; for their wickedness is great.

14 Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision: for the day of the LORD is near in the valley of decision.

15 The sun and the moon shall be darkened, and the stars shall withdraw their shining.

16 The LORD also shall roar out of Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and the heavens and the earth shall shake: but the LORD will be the hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel.

17 So shall ye know that I am the LORD your God dwelling in Zion, my holy mountain: then shall Jerusalem be holy, and there shall no strangers pass through her any more. (KJV)

Beast & False Prophet Captured Here

As we have studied Revelation, we have gradually come to the realization, that we need to broaden our view of what the beast represents. It has in the past been understood by most commentators to be the Roman Empire or Papacy. That it was the Roman Empire was correct at the earlier point in history, where it was in power with the harlot. On this end of the age, we now see that it represents all mankind's governments, which claim that they can rule the world without God. Since the original Roman beast and Image have broken up into pieces, we see that the nations that have resulted are still beast like in God's sight.

That is what we see in Daniel Chapter 7, where he is told that after the most terrible beast was thrown into the fire, there were still other beasts that had their life prolonged for a time. That appears to be where we are at now, since the main part of the church and state system was destroyed in 1914-18, but there are still beastly governments in existence. Those are what are going to be removed in the final battle seen in this Chapter. Dan 7:11-12 (11 "Then I kept looking because of the sound of the boastful words which the horn was speaking; I kept looking until the beast was slain, and its body was destroyed and given to the burning fire. 12 "As for the rest of the beasts, their dominion was taken away, but an extension of life was granted to them for an appointed period of time. NASU.

The beast that is shown being destroyed in the fire in Daniel, is the Image of the Beast, because it is said that it's the beast that changed the times and the seasons and wore out the saints.

People to be Freed From System

The people are going to be freed from Satan's system by this final battle, so that they can decide if they will accept the kingdom and get on the highway of holiness. They can refuse to accept the kingdom, but if they refuse they will not receive salvation and the blessing of the time the restoration of all things.

Zech 14:17 And it shall be, that whoso will not come up of all the families of the earth unto Jerusalem to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, even upon them shall be no rain.

18 And if the family of Egypt go not up, and come not, that have no rain; there shall be the plague, wherewith the LORD will smite the heathen that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

The False Prophet

The False Prophet was originally the two-horned Papal beast of Chapter 13, and it became the two-horned beast when it received the land and countries that became the Papal States. The two-horned beast then caused the Image to be formed in 799-800AD when Papacy crowned Charlemagne, and because of that it caused the people to get the mark of the beast because they were supporting that system. The two-horned beast in its later incarnation, became the False Prophet, because it has lost all its civil power. The present-day society has only the False Prophet, which is the combined religions of all of Christendom. The Protestant churches are included in the False Prophet, because they also kept most of the Papal doctrines and they descended from the original two-horned beast of Papacy. That is why Chapter 17 said that the harlot riding on the beast was the mother of all the other harlots. The same thing is also true of the Eastern churches, who have most of the same false doctrines and practices, which they had gotten from the same church councils in the first 4 church periods, during which time God's system was changed by Satan into 666 by the removal of one-third, .333. {1- .333 = .666}

In the following calculations, some might object to using 1-.333=.666 as a decimal number because it's said that they did not have decimal numbers back in that time, and so we will show that God has been using this same method all through the Old Testament, but without using it as a decimal. In the book of Zechariah, we find this: Zech 13:8-9 (8 "It will come about in all the land," Declares the LORD, "That two parts in it will be cut off and perish; But the third will be left in it. 9 "And I will bring the third part through the fire, Refine them as silver is refined, And test them as gold is tested. They will call on My name, And I will answer them; I will say, 'They are My people,' And they will say, 'The LORD is my God.'" NASU

In the Zechariah prophecy, we see that God is defining the two parts that are cut off as bad, and the one part that he takes out and refines in the fire, he is defining them as good. To prove that, we see that they are refined as gold and silver. So, when you see us use the decimal number one third or two thirds anywhere in this book, Zechariah Chapter 13:8-9 is the principle behind that calculation.

At the time that we see these final symbols destroyed in the lake of fire, the statement that they were still alive, shows that they were working their evil and deceit up to the very end. That this fire is with brimstone, shows a final destruction of this evil system that won't come back. The destruction of the beast or beasts, is the removal of all governments that are in opposition to the kingdom. This vision is not showing us the people being destroyed along with the organizations, but it's showing us the destruction of the system that has held the people in bondage. After they are freed, it will be up to them whether they make it in the kingdom or not.

Jer 31:29-30 (29 In those days they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge. 30 But every one shall die for his own iniquity: every man that eats the sour grapes, his teeth shall be set on edge. ASV

The new broader definitions that we have for the beast, the False Prophet, and even the Image, is important, because they show us how the false system of both church and state has adopted and changed throughout history, so that they can keep mankind under control. The society has changed greatly since the end of the time of the 1260 years of power, but they are still Satan's society and system. That is why both the governments and the churches are still dangerous even now, even when the two powers are not in league anymore. This broader definition also represents all the daughter systems, because they are using the same error of the mother system in their churches. The entire system of Great Babylon, has tried to get back into control of the civil power which was lost in 1914-18, but the Lord has not allowed that to happen, and we pray that he does not.

Fowls
Consume & Destroy
Leaders of Satan's System

The fowls are those who will be glad to see the unrighteous leaders (political, financial, military, etc. fall, and will be glad to participate in consuming them. We see some of that consumption of the Old-World order since 1914AD, but the problem is that anything new that they have created in the old systems place such as communism, socialism, and, etc., was still from man and thus was not fair and workable like God's system in the kingdom will be. Man in this end time, has been allowed to try all different solutions, but we see that all will fail without God watching over man's efforts. The reason is that man cannot control greed, corruption, etc., but God and our Lord Jesus can, because they can see all things as pictured by the eyes like flames of fire. The 144,000 of the church that will be helping, will also have the same ability to be able to see the intent of the heart.

This final phase of the battle, is when the birds of heaven consume what's left of the kings, the mighty men, horses, and riders, and the flesh of all people, free and slave, small and great, and that will be when they are absorbed into the kingdom. The absolute final part of this battle, will most likely include the events of Ezekiel 38:1-17, 39:1-8, which is Gog and Magog attacked the restored land of Israel.

We note that all the symbols that we just listed here, represent actual people, and that the birds consuming them means that they are removed out of whatever earthly organization that they were in. The people are not cast into the lake of fire as the symbols of the beast, and the False Prophet are. The False Prophet represents the organizations of false religion, and the beast represents the corrupt governments of mankind, especially those that practice the three lies of Satan that came from the unclean spirits. Both of those kinds of organizations are not allowed into the kingdom, but they are destroyed in the lake of fire.

Chapter 20
Revelation 20:1-3

Rev 20:1 Then I saw an angel coming down from heaven, holding the key of the abyss and a great chain in his hand.

Rev 20:2 And he laid hold of the dragon, the serpent of old, who is the devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years;

Rev 20:3 and he threw him into the abyss, and shut {it} and sealed {it} over him, so that he would not deceive the nations any longer, until the thousand years were completed; after these things he must be released for a short time. (NAU)

Mark 3:27 No man can enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he will first bind the strong man; and then he will spoil his house. (KJV)

Casting out Satan at First Advent Small Picture of Kingdom

At the First Advent, our Lord was casting out Satan and evil spirits out of people. That was a small work compared to the influence of Satan that must be removed at this end of the age. Once Satan is fully bound, our Lord can then fully destroy his house or his evil kingdom, and put his own kingdom in its place.

Has He Been Bound Yet?

There are several different opinions amongst Bible Students about the binding of Satan. There are some that think because Christ has returned, that Satan has been bound already, and that it is the other evil angels that are causing all the trouble. The Study Group did not agree with that thought, because it would not make sense that our Lord would leave all the other angels running around free, if Satan had been completely bound already.

Satan Partially Restricted

Others think that nothing has happened yet about the binding of Satan, because when they look out into the world and see what is going on, it's obvious that Satan is still causing all the trouble that he can. The view is the one that the Study Group sympathized with the most, but in the end we arrived at a compromise view. In the compromise view, we believe that Satan is being restricted regarding what things he can cause trouble with, but that he is not yet fully bound. One thing that is making things more difficult for Satan, is that the harvest truth has been brought out, and that truth is exposing his lies and that makes it harder for him to keep the people in darkness. One other thing that has happened, is that the kings that had supported the church-state system are all gone, and so there is no hope for him that the terrible church-state system will be able to come back—at least with the same form and power that it had. Since WW1 killed off so many of the aristocratic rulers of the Old-World order, that system is also gone.

He is of course working overtime with the three lies of the unclean spirits, trying to restore his systems of control or its equivalent. It does not appear that he will be able to be very successful in any of those efforts, at least not for very long. Unfortunately, it would not take a very long time to cause extreme trouble for the last of the faithful church, especially if the fallen churches get influence with a major power like the US, which the religious right are trying to do right now. We don't know for sure that is what is going to happen, but we believe that all things should be watched for, so that we are not surprised and fall because of something we had not expected.

Being Bound Link by Link

It appears that Satan is being gradually bound, link by link, so that as each thing that gives him his power is bound, he gradually loses more and more power and control. Once the church is complete, then all the links in the chain that are binding him will be completed, and that is when he will be completely removed from power. We believe that the full binding will at the same time include all the other evil angels that have refused to repent. The binding and sealing of them in the pit, will last until the 1000 years is over. The pit or abyss represents a locked-up condition, as in the grave in which there is no activity in the real world. Later after the 1000 years are finished, we see that Satan will be released, and he will be able to interact with the world again, to test and try those who dwell upon it.

The angel that we see here is Christ, who is shown with the key to the abyss. The chain is representative of truth, light, and knowledge, which has gradually restrained Satan so that he has lost control of his evil church and state Empire. He is not cast into the bottomless pit yet, because he is still able to act in the real world, deceiving and controlling people as much as he can with the three unclean spirits or lies of Chapter 16, trying to bring the kings and other forces together for the final battle of this age.

This vision points for sure to 1874 and then to 1914AD, where we see several steps in the binding of Satan's power. The complete binding is done in several steps over a period of time, with it being finished just before the start of the kingdom. The last part of his Empire that must go, is his control over society and the civil governments of the world, and that will happen just before the kingdom as we just saw pictured in Chapters 16 and 19.

A Thousand & The Thousand?

The pattern of "a" thousand and then "the" thousand is repeated 3 times ending in verse 7. It's not certain if there are two related 1000 year periods, as is sometimes understood from the "a" and "the", or if there is only the chronological 1000 that began in 1874AD, with the little season being only a short time at the end of the 1000-year chronological period. Some believe that the 1000-year reign of our Lord and the church, won't begin until the church is complete, but there does not appear to be any definite way to determine for sure if a chronological overlap exists or not. That question leaves in doubt the exact end of the Millennial age, and that uncertainty may be involved in the trial or testing at the end of the 1000 years. The Jubilee cycle shows that the time of restitution will be over in 2874AD, but it does not show if there is an overlap of the reign of Christ and the church past that time or not.

All Four Aspects of Satan are Here

The fact that there are four different terms used here for Satan, which is the same as we saw in Chapter 12, shows us that all four different aspects of Satan's evil methods are going to be bound. The dragon symbolizes the governmental power he used. The serpent is the deceiver and confirms that he has been a liar from the beginning. The Dragon symbol still equaled Satan and the Pagan doctrines he uses to corrupt the truth, even after he had transferred his throne to the Christianized beast. The word devil means accuser of the brethren. He has always done that as we can see from the book of Job. The name Satan means to be an adversary. If you are a servant of the Lord, you can be assured that Satan will be your adversary and do what he can to trip you up or to accuse you.

Satan's Aspects Opposite of God's

The meanings of Satan's names are the exact opposite of God's attributes of wisdom, justice, love, and power. The dragon represents Satan's power which is in opposition to God's power. The serpent or to be a deceiver, is the opposite of wisdom and truth. That he is the devil or adversary, is the opposite of love, which seeks to restore and build up the servants of God, and not be in opposition to them like the devil is. Satan is a false accuser of the brethren, which is the opposite of Justice.

Because Satan is a false accuser, one of the first things that our Lord did when he came in 1874AD, was to supply the harvest truth to the church, and a big part of that was proof that the establishment churches are the ones that are in error. That new evidence makes it much more difficult for him to continue to blaspheme God's name and deceive the brethren, although he is still deceiving the worldly churches. Another big thing at the harvest time, was that the faithful church was shown that God had had a plan from the very beginning that is going to save not only the church, but all who are willing in the Millennial age. Satan continues to blaspheme God's name by falsely painting him as an angry, vengeful God, who is going to burn a large portion of mankind in hell for all eternity. Because of the Divine Plan that was revealed in the harvest message, we know that is not true at all.

Throw Indicates Fast Removal at End

The word throw or cast, seems to indicate that the last part of the total removal of Satan and his influence will be sudden and forceful. In other words, the wrapping of him in the chain can be gradual or link by link, but when he is cast into the abyss after the completion of the church, that part may be very sudden. That final event will occur at the very end of the time of trouble when the church is complete, and just before the Millennial age begins. That binding and removal of his evil system, is a part of the battle that we just finished studying in the latter part of Chapter 19.

Abyss Shut & Sealed

That the abyss is shut and sealed, shows that once he is cast in the pit, he will not be able to have any influence over the affairs of men during the kingdom. The seal is added to show that he will not be able to escape from that confinement until the end of the Millennial age. He cannot deceive the world of mankind during that time, because he will be locked up, and God's truth and knowledge will cover the earth as the waters cover the sea.

Must be Released!

At the end of the 1000 years, we see that it uses the phrase "must be released", indicating that there will be no choice in that he must be released at the end of the 1000 years, so that he is present to complete God's Plan. His release is necessary so that the hearts of mankind can be tested "in the little season", to see if they have learned their lessons and have realized that God's rule and laws are needed and just.

That Satan is completely bound for the 1000 years, is one argument that is made for a second and overlapping 1000-year period, since it doesn't appear that Satan has been bound completely yet as we look at the problems in the world. One explanation given, that we mentioned above, is that those who think there is only one-thousand-year period, is that they say that he is bound, but that his angels are not bound yet, and that is why we still have devilish problems yet. But if that is correct, then why don't we have a second scriptural reference where we see that the other devils are also bound, because they also must be out of the way by the time of the full kingdom? Since Satan is not going to be allowed to interfere in the kingdom, it seems reasonable that when he is cast into the bottomless pit, that all the other evil angels that haven't reformed, are put there with him.

Another explanation given by some, is that only the Lord reigns for 1000 years, and that the church only enters it for part of the 1000 years. That is a possibility, but since that is an interpretation that is designed to support a position that does not have a scriptural proof, we have no way of knowing if that view is correct either. Either way, we see that Satan is gradually bound tighter and tighter, until he is finally cast into the abyss and sealed away until the time of the little season at the end of the millennium.

The little season is described in a lot more detail in verse 7, where we will consider it again.

Revelation 20:4-5

Rev 20:4 Then I saw thrones, and they sat on them, and judgment was given to them. And I {saw} the souls of those who had been beheaded because of their testimony of Jesus and because of the word of God, and those who had not worshiped the beast or his Image, and had not received the mark on their forehead and on their hand; and they came to life and reigned with Christ for a thousand years.

Rev 20:5 The rest of the dead did not come to life until the thousand years were completed. This is the first resurrection. (NAU)

(I saw thrones and the 144000 sat upon the thrones, even the souls of them that were beheaded)

They = Faithful Church

The ones called “they”, are the faithful church, who are seen in verses 4 and 6. The thrones include for sure the throne that Jehovah and Christ sit upon. We also see that the 144,000 of the church are here, and they are on their thrones showing that they are reigning with the Lord at the time of this vision.

The translators supply the words, “I saw” the souls of them. It should be the word “even” instead of “and”, and that makes it clear that the “they” which came to life, are the church who are described in the latter part of verse 4.

Who’s On the Thrones?

In an alternate interpretation, some Revelation Students make the argument that that those who sat on the thrones were the guilty Kings, and that the judgment that was given to them was given against them. They agree that the ones who came to life are the church, and they point to similar language in the fifth seal that is used for the dead under the altar. We can see why they might possibly think that, about these thrones, and we discussed the thrones in our study, but the scripture that we quote below from Daniel 7:9, about thrones being set up, seems to be these same thrones, and the ones in Daniel were being set up to judge the fallen system. In Daniel, the thrones were set up with no one in them, but then the Heavenly Father sat down in his throne. The books being opened will be seen towards the end of this Chapter in Revelation, and in Daniel verse 9. The Heavenly Fathers throne is seen in Daniel, as well as here in Revelation 20:11.

Dan 7:9-10 (9 "As I looked, thrones were put in their places, and God, who has been alive forever, sat on his throne. His clothes were white like snow, and the hair on his head was white like wool. His throne was made from fire, and the wheels of his throne were blazing with fire. 10 A river of fire was flowing from in front of him. Many thousands of angels were serving him, and millions of angels stood before him. Court was ready to begin, and the books were opened. NCV

Dan 7:21-22 (21 "I kept looking, and that horn was waging war with the saints and overpowering them 22 until the Ancient of Days came and judgment was passed in favor of the saints of the Highest One, and the time arrived when the saints took possession of the kingdom. NASU

Came to Life & Reigned

That they came to life and reigned, is the resurrection of the church. The word lived means resurrected in other verses. See Vines dictionary for a more comprehensive definition. Because we see the church resurrected in this verse, this vision sets the time frame for this prophecy, for at least after 1878AD, which is where the resurrection of the sleeping saints began. It is more likely that this vision is after the time that the 144,000 are complete, because it tells us that they reigned with Christ for 1000 years. They are to participate in the judging and testing of the Millennial age and the removal of Satan's evil system of things, and that is where this vision has brought us to.

Like Sanhedrin Judgment Seats

This scene is showing them enthroned on judgment seats like the Sanhedrin, which sat in judgment on all weighty matters. Here the judgment is not only upon the fallen church and the nations, but it includes the testing of the people of the world in the Millennial age.

White Throne Equals Judgment of Millennial Age

The Great White throne in Rev 20:11, is representative of the judgment we see coming in the Millennial age. Daniel Chapter 7, is also giving us a more detailed look at the same thing that we see here in Revelation. There we see Jehovah on his throne, and then we see the Son of Man who is Jesus, come to him and receive a dominion, glory, and a kingdom. We next are shown the judgment of the evil system, and the saints receiving their reward in the kingdom, and that is where we are at here in Rev Chapter 20, where the church is resurrected, and they live and reign with the Lord for the 1000 years.

Matt Chap 25

We also have the throne scene in Matt Chapter 25. Matt 25:31-33 (31 "But when the Son of Man comes in His glory, and all the angels with Him, then He will sit on His glorious throne. 32 "All the nations will be gathered before Him; and He will separate them from one another, as the shepherd separates the sheep from the goats; 33 and He will put the sheep on His right, and the goats on the left. NASU

Dan Chap 7 Thrones Set Up

There are several verses in the scene in Daniel, that also describes what is happening here in Revelation in more detail.

Dan 7:9 "I kept looking Until thrones were set up, and the Ancient of Days took {His} seat; His vesture {was} like white snow, and the hair of His head like pure wool. His throne {was} ablaze with flames, its wheels {were} a burning fire. (NAS)

Dan 7:13 "I kept looking in the night visions, and behold, with the clouds of heaven One like a Son of Man was coming, and He came up to the Ancient of Days and was presented before Him. (NAS)

Dan 7:14 "And to Him was given dominion, glory and a kingdom, that all the peoples, nations, and {men of every} language might serve Him. His dominion is an everlasting dominion which will not pass away; and His kingdom is one which will not be destroyed. (NAS)

Dan 7:18 'But the saints of the Highest One will receive the kingdom and possess the kingdom forever, for all ages to come.' (NAS)

Dan 7:26-27 (26 But the court will sit {for judgment,} and his dominion will be taken away, annihilated and destroyed forever.

27 'Then the sovereignty, the dominion, and the greatness of {all} the kingdoms under the whole heaven will be given to the people of the saints of the Highest One; His kingdom {will be} an everlasting kingdom, and all the dominions will serve and obey Him. '(NAS)

That is what we see here in Revelation, where in verse four, they sit on seats of judgment.

Below are a couple of other references that show the church reigning and judging with the Lord in the Millennial age.

Matt 19:28 And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me, in the regeneration when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel. (KJV)

1 Cor 6:2-3 (2 Do ye not know that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters?

3Know ye not that we shall judge angels? how much more things that pertain to this life? (KJV)

There are lots of places in Revelation where the church is warned not to worship the beast or his Image. If they were to do so, they were warned that they would lose their chance to be of the 144,000, and they would suffer the same punishment as the unfaithful church does. The worship of the Image of the Beast represents support and trust for human governments and human institutions, especially the religious institutions. The mark on the hand and on the forehead, is the stamp of those philosophies on your thinking and actions. The church is supposed to follow Christ our head wherever he goes, and we are to resist and not get involved in the apostate church and state system.

Beheaded Both Literal & Symbolic

That the saints were beheaded, could be either figuratively or even literally. That they lived means, they came to back to life.

The Alexandrian manuscript does not have the word “again” associated with lived. It also does not include the word “but.”

2198 zao (dzah'-o); a primary verb; to live (literally or figuratively):

KJV-- life (-time), (a-) live (-ly), quick.

Rest of the Dead Not Coming to Life?

There is some question regarding verse 5. It's possible that a portion of that verse is spurious, as it was thought in Pastors time, but since his time it has been accepted as a valid part of the text. Because of that, it's hard to prove that the “rest of the dead lived not until the 1000 years ended”, is spurious, because there is conflicting manuscript evidence that shows it otherwise. There is some evidence that it may have been added during the time of the Papal grab for power, and its claim that it was God's kingdom. It could have been done to explain why the dead were not coming back to life at the time. That was a problem at the time, because of the false claim that the kingdom Papacy had established was God's kingdom. If it was God's kingdom, then people may have wondered why the dead were not being resurrected, and they may have added this verse to explain that problem away.

We unfortunately, only have indirect evidence that the text was doctored at that time. So, barring any new manuscripts being discovered that are older and more complete than what we have, we have no sure way to tell. One argument that is made against this being in the text, is that the Eastern Bible does not have it in it, and that is perhaps why it was thought to be spurious in Pastors time, although most modern Bibles and textual evidence in the West include it.

If Spurious No Difficulty

If it's spurious, then there is no difficulty, and we wouldn't have to explain why it says that the world is not resurrected until the end of the 1000 years. That the dead would have to wait until the end of the millennium to be resurrected doesn't make sense, because the church reigns over the world during the 1000 years. It would be impossible to reign over them and to restore them if they were still in the grave yet. The main reason for the kingdom is to restore all of mankind back to an upright standing before God, and so it wouldn't make sense to not resurrect them during that time either. The main purpose of the kingdom is to restore what Adam lost, and if there were no subjects to restore, then the kingdom would have no purpose. Because of that we know that the world will be resurrected during the kingdom, not at some time after.

If Not Spurious An Explanation

If the verse is not spurious, then it requires some explanation to make it harmonious with the Divine Plan and the Millennial age. To fix that problem, we need to explain scripturally what this verse means, other than the dead not being literally resurrected until the 1000 years are over.

The only possible explanation would be if the meaning of “lived”, is not just simply coming back to the same kind of life that they had during this age, but that it would have to be that it means restoration to moral perfection, and all the life rights that were lost in the garden. Then there would be no problem with mankind gradually coming back to moral perfection, so that they could have full life rights so that they can stand on their own by the end of the Millennial age. That is exactly what the kingdom is designed to do.

Codex A or the Alexandrian manuscript does not have the words “but” or “again” in the text. That makes the sentence easier to explain if it is not spurious. Lived, is the Greek word zao, which is not a full standing before God, but Strong’s does allow that it can be used figuratively. If we use the figurative meaning, then we would not have any difficulty, since the intent of the kingdom is to restore everyone to a full moral recovery, so that everyone is back to the same kind of perfection that Adam was created with. Even if the people are resurrected out of the grave, it would be obvious that they would not be restored back to full life rights, until the end of the kingdom, when they had passed the testing of the little season.

The word resurrection used here, is the word anastasis, and we see that it could be interpreted either way, thus allowing for a gradual and moral restoration.

386 anastasis (an-as'-tas-is); from 450; a standing up again, i.e. (literally) a resurrection from death (individual, genitive case or by implication [its author]), or (figuratively) a (moral) recovery (of spiritual truth):

KJV-- raised to life again, resurrection, rise from the dead, that should rise, rising again.

New Information Since the Study

Since we did our original study on this verse, an interesting piece of information has come to light. For some reason, in the Online Bible program the NKJV, AV, and IGNT uses a different text with a different form of the word “lived”, which is very interesting and which would support the idea of a gradual moral restoration. If you look at the definition of word #326 below, you can see that the “1a1” definition, would show the people of the world being gradually restored to a better moral state. In other words, they would have until the end of the 1000 years to be restored back to the perfection needed to pass the test of the little season, and there would be no problem with the statement that the rest of the dead didn’t live until the end of the 1000 years. What it would be saying, is that they would not have full life, until they were restored to a perfect moral state.

326 anaxaw anazao an-ad-zah'-o from 303 and 2198; TDNT-2:872,290; v
AV-be alive again 2, revive 2, live again 1; 5

1) live again, recover life

1a) to be restored to a correct life

1a1) of one who returns to a better moral state

1b) to revive, regain strength and vigour

As of right now, we don't know where or from what manuscript they are getting the word #326, from, "which is the normal word used in this passage, but with another word added to it, which is #303". We need more info on where this text came from, and if it's supported by ancient manuscript evidence, because that could help resolve the question.

Same Word in Parable of Prodigal Son

The same form of the word "lived", is used in Luke regarding the prodigal son. There we know that he was not literally dead, but that he had been spiritually dead. The father declares that he is alive again, or spiritually restored after he returns. What he is saying, is that he has been restored back to a correct relationship with his father. All of mankind needs to be restored back to a proper relationship with the Heavenly Father.

Luke 15:24 For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry.

Luke 15:32 It was meet that we should make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found. (KJV)

We Can Explain the Verse Either Way No Matter Which Correct

If word number 326 is correct, we then have no difficulties with this verse, because it would be showing a gradual restoring of moral health—which is what we know the Millennial kingdom is designed to do. We could also live with the form of the word 2198 if we must, but it's not as easy to explain because it could also be interpreted the other way. Since it includes the possibility of a moral restoration to life, that part of the definition is what we believe must be the correct translation of this verse. The translators don't understand the kingdom, and they have translated it the other way, and that is confusing the meaning of the verse. We know that the world will be resurrected during the 1000 years and that they will be gradually restored to moral perfection and will not have full life rights until the end of the kingdom, and so to us the obvious meaning is the restoration of the moral properties of the people by the end of the 1000 years, no matter which word is correct. That is exactly what the New Covenant is designed to do.

Jer 31:33-34 (33 The new covenant that I will make with the people of Israel will be this: I will put my law within them and write it on their hearts. I will be their God, and they will be my people. 34 None of them will have to teach his fellow countryman to know the Lord, because all will know me, from the least to the greatest. I will forgive their sins and I will no longer remember their wrongs. I, the Lord, have spoken." TEV

The better manuscript evidence seems to support the meaning of 2198, but it would be nice if someone could find a manuscript that is older than those that we currently have, so that we would have positive evidence on this verse one way or the other. Otherwise, we will have to wait until the kingdom to find out which is correct.

Revelation 20:6

Rev 20:6 Blessed and holy is the one who has a part in the first resurrection; over these the second death has no power, but they will be priests of God and of Christ and will reign with Him for a thousand years. (NAU)

Church Gets First Resurrection

The individuals mentioned here all will have a part in the first resurrection, and since they are resurrected in a state of perfection, the second death will have no power over them. The word “part” that is used here, would probably be a better-translated portion in this verse. That reminds us of the portion or spoils that the church is promised in Isaiah Chapter 53. The portion that the Lord received because of what he accomplished on the cross, is divided with the strong—who are the 144,000 of the church.

Isa 53:12 Therefore I will give him a portion among the great, and he will divide the spoils with the strong, because he poured out his life unto death, and was numbered with the transgressors. For he bore the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors. NIV

Church Reigns With Lord For 1000

The class “they”, shows that it’s a group that reigns with the Lord for the 1000 years, and it’s therefore possible that an individual does not necessarily get the full 1000 years as some think, but only that the Lord does. The fact that some are with the Lord from 1878AD and onward, but others must enter in as they are resurrected, could be the answer regarding the church reigning, for those who think that there is only a single one-thousand-year period. The only problem for those who would support that view, is that the Lord returned in 1874AD, and the resurrection did not begin until 1878AD, and thus they would be short by 3.5 years. That is why it seems that the overlap solution is more likely the answer to this, or that only the Lord gets the 1000 years, and the church only enters in as they complete their earthly walk. We are going to leave this as an open question, since we don't have a positive answer to this question. That the 3.5 year offset to 1878 could generate a 3.5-year overlap at the end of the 1000 years is another possibility, since that would give us 3.5 years for a little season. In other words, there are several possibilities and no known answer—which it appears is how God has designed it, so that no one knows the complete answer.

Could Be That Way Because of Little Season

As we have just said, this question may have been left this way because of the little season and the opportunity that some might have to get the wrong idea, which would mean that they are not trusting in the Lord. If they rebel against the kingdom because of that misunderstanding, then they will not pass the little season, because they will have doubted God. That is the same problem that Eve had in the garden, when she believed Satan and not God, and ate of the tree of knowledge of good and evil. She should have trusted God no matter how the situation looked, but she accepted the lie of the Serpent. The Serpent will be let out of the abyss at the end of the millenium, and he will be happy to deceive anyone that chooses to doubt God and his plan at that time.

Second Death For All Who Fail

The second death is the final death for those who are incorrigible and who can't be rehabilitated during the Millennial age. They die and never get another chance, because they had a chance for life, and they refused to meet the terms necessary to get life and keep it.

Rev 1:6, 5:10, 1Peter 2:5 are references to the church being a kingdom of priests and reigning on the earth. Some translations try to make the church into kings, rather than being a kingdom and priests.

1 Pet 2:5 Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ. (KJV)

We see that the church has been made to be a kingdom of priests, because of the payment of the blood of the Lamb as shown in Chapter five.

Rev 1:6 and he made us (to be) a kingdom, (to be) priests unto his God and Father; to him (be) the glory and the dominion for ever and ever. Amen. ASV

Revelation 5:9-10) 9 And they sang a new song, saying, "Worthy are You to take the book and to break its seals; for You were slain, and purchased for God with Your blood {men} from every tribe and tongue and people and nation. 10 "You have made them {to be} a kingdom and priests to our God; and they will reign upon the earth." (NAU)

Revelation 20:7-10

Rev 20:7 When the thousand years are completed, Satan will be released from his prison,

Rev 20:8 and will come out to deceive the nations which are in the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together for the war; the number of them is like the sand of the seashore.

Rev 20:9 And they came up on the broad plain of the earth and surrounded the camp of the saints and the beloved city, and fire came down from heaven and devoured them.

Rev 20:10 And the devil who deceived them was thrown into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the False Prophet are also; and they will be tormented day and night forever and ever. (NAU)

Must be Released & Is Necessary!

Verse 3 tells us that he “must” be released. The word “must” carries the thought that it’s binding. There is also the thought that it’s a reasoned necessity. 1163 dei (die); third person singular active present of 1210; also deon (deh-on’); neuter active participle of the same; both used impersonally; it is (was, etc.) necessary (as binding): KJV-- behoved, be meet, must (needs), (be) need (-ful), ought, should.

It’s part of God’s Plan to test all of mankind, just as he had tested the early parents of humanity, Adam and Eve. It will be the same situation as the time of Adam at the time of the test, because all mankind will be tested to see if they have learned their lesson about God’s laws and obedience, and every man will stand or fall on his own merit. If they have made good use of the help and grace that they will be provided with during the Millennial age, they will have no trouble passing. But if they didn’t or if they harbor some wrong idea or fleshly weakness that they didn’t correct, then they will not pass.

Jer 31:29-30 (29 "In those days they will not say again, 'The fathers have eaten sour grapes, And the children's teeth are set on edge.' 30 "But everyone will die for his own iniquity; each man who eats the sour grapes, his teeth will be set on edge. NASU

Help Will Be Available That Can Help Anyone

We believe that during the Millennial age, that anyone who takes full advantage of the help that will be available at that time, will be able to overcome all the negative and bad things that they have learned during this age, and they will be able to pass the test of the little season. If they don't take advantage of that help during the Millennial age, because they don't want to give up the sins and bad habits, they will fail the test. We don't know all the reason that some will fail—but those who have the most advantage of wealth and power now, and don't want to give that up, may have a very difficult time in the kingdom.

Mark 10:23-27 (23 And Jesus, looking around, said to His disciples, "How hard it will be for those who are wealthy to enter the kingdom of God!" 24 The disciples were amazed at His words. But Jesus answered again and said to them, "Children, how hard it is to enter the kingdom of God! 25 "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God." 26 They were even more astonished and said to Him, "Then who can be saved?" 27 Looking at them, Jesus said, "With people it is impossible, but not with God; for all things are possible with God." NASU

The other problem, is that those who are deeply immersed in sin now may have a very hard time overcoming it, and they will need to rid themselves of those bad habits or they will not make it either. The writing of God's law in their hearts, is designed to fix those problems, but they need to fully avail themselves of the New Covenant and the help that will be available at that time, so that they can reach moral perfection, and so that they can pass the test of the little season.

Released From Bottomless Pit

The prison that Satan was cast into, as seen in verse three, was the bottomless pit. The word prison used in verse 7 means cage. One interesting point about Satan's release here, is that only three of the four names that he was named with in Rev 20:1 are used when he returns. The name of dragon is not used, because he will not have control over the nations at that time like he did when he controlled all the nations of the earth. So, we see that he comes back as an accuser, a deceiver, and an adversary, but he does not have the throne or civil power. That is probably what he will be after again, and he uses all three of his other attributes to deceive the people, and to try to get that control back. Those who have learned the lessons of the kingdom will not be deceived, but those who have not will fall in that last test.

Gog and Magog Equals Those Against God's System Ezek 38-39

In Ezek Chapters 38-39, we see that God will make himself know to the nations. He tells us there that he will re-gather Israel and remove their disgrace and pour out his spirit on them. Gog and Magog represent the symbolic enemies of God's kingdom arrangements. Magog, Meshech, Tubal, are sons of Japheth, a son of Noah. See Gen Chapter 10.

Gog = enemy of God

Magog, Meshech, Tubal = Barbarians of northern region.

That we see Gog and Magog here again, doesn't mean that this is describing the same events as Ezek Chapters 38 and 39. In looking at that prophecy, we have found that a portion of it applies to the end of the Gospel age, and a portion of it applies to the entire millennium, and some of it applies at the end of the millennium, including the final testing or little season at the end. We think that what it shows us, is that Gog and Magog is a symbol for anyone that is against God's people or his system of things.

That is what we see Gog and Magog doing wrong in different parts of Ezek 38-39, in that they represent those who were against God's Christian church and those who are against the nation of Israel. The final attack against restored Israel is shown in Ezek 38:1-14, 39:1-6. The destruction of the church and state system, and the rest of Satan's evil system, is shown in Ezekiel 38:17-23, 39:17-20

The only part that applies to the attack that we see here in Rev chapter 20, is the final search for the bones of Gog, Ezekiel 39:14-16. The seven months that they bury the bones of Gog, is symbolic of the removal of all sin and evil things out of the kingdom. The final search, is the testing of the little season, which is the gathering of the error of Gog and Magog from the four corners of the earth. If you learn your lessons during the kingdom and you had removed all sin and allowed God's law to be written in your heart, you will not join the God and Magog attack. Those who did not learn their lesson will join that symbolic army, and they will fail, and perish with the rest of Satan's following. This is not necessarily saying that there will be a literal army come against the New Jerusalem, but there will be some sort of rejection and going against God's kingdom arrangement that Satan will instill in those who do not support God and trust in him no matter what.

Beginning of Kingdom Cleansing of the Land

Ezek 39:7-16 (7 "My holy name I will make known in the midst of My people Israel; and I will not let My holy name be profaned anymore. And the nations will know that I am the Lord, the Holy One in Israel. 8 "Behold, it is coming and it shall be done," declares the Lord God. "That is the day of which I have spoken.

9 "Then those who inhabit the cities of Israel will go out and make fires with the weapons and burn them, both shields and bucklers, bows and arrows, war clubs and spears, and for seven years they will make fires of them. 10 "They will not take wood from the field or gather firewood from the forests, for they will make fires with the weapons; and they will take the spoil of those who despoiled them and seize the plunder of those who plundered them," declares the Lord God.

*11 "On that day I will give Gog a burial ground there in Israel, the valley of those who pass by east of the sea, and it will block off those who would pass by. So they will bury Gog there with all his horde, and they will call it the valley of Hamon-gog. 12 "For seven months the house of Israel will be burying them in order to cleanse the land. 13 "Even all the people of the land will bury them; and it will be to their renown on the day that I glorify Myself," declares the Lord God. 14 "They will set apart men who will constantly pass through the land, burying those who were passing through, even those left on the surface of the ground, in order to cleanse it. At the end of seven months they will make a search. 15 "As those who pass through the land pass through and anyone sees a man's bone, then he will set up a marker by it until the buriers have buried it in the valley of Hamon-gog. 16 "And even the name of the city will be Hamonah. So they will cleanse the land." NASU

Gog & Magog Are Those Who Did Not Arrive At Restoration

What it appears that we see happening at the end of the millennium, is that Gog and Magog are symbolic of those who haven't made full use of God's kingdom arrangement, and they go against those who have actually made it and who are under the protection of the New Jerusalem. In order to get into the city, it was first necessary that the people accept God's arrangement for salvation. Then they would have had to make use of the provisions of the kingdom and have brought their hearts up to perfection. Once they have done that they are fully in the city or in the courtyard of the city, and under God's protection. If they don't accomplish that, then in symbol they have one of the bones of remembrance of Gog that they did not get rid of. Those bones represent wrong and sinful things that had made up the ideas that created the Gog and Magog army in the first place, and those should have been buried during the time of restoration.

Outside City Shows Them Outside God's Arrangement

That these others are still outside the city, indicates that they have not made full use of God's arrangement for salvation, and they are not those who will pass the test of the little season. Since the New Jerusalem is not a literal city, but it represents God's government, the people being in it at the end of the millennium, represents those who have accepted God's salvation and arrangement and have brought themselves up to perfection. Because of that city being symbolic of a condition, it will not be so easy to tell what the test will be, or who has made it or not at the time, because this is not a literal city. It represents a condition of salvation and acceptance of God's arrangement and salvation. Perhaps not everyone will be able to bring themselves to accept the kingdom conditions, and without that acceptance you will not be able to pass the test.

Nations Should Have Recognized Re-Gathering Israel as from God

On this end of the age the nations should have recognized that the re-gathering of Israel just before the start of the kingdom was from God, but they don't want to believe it, and thus we have the final battle against Israel that we see in Chapter 38. Jehovah is shown intervening and destroying the attacking hoards, in Chapter 38 and 39—thus saving Israel, and symbolically removing Satan’s evil system. He tells us that he did that to magnify his name, and to make himself know in the eyes of all the nations. Ezek 39:1-7, is a recap of the final battle against the nation of Israel and the successful outcome of Chapter 38.

Ezek 39:17-24
Shows Battle Armageddon
Chap 19

In Ezekiel Chapter 39, we see that verses 17-24 show us in picture the destruction of the same unfaithful religious systems and political power, social, financial, etc., which is what we just saw destroyed in the later part of Chapter 19 of Revelation. In verses 25-29, we see a prophecy regarding the re-gathering of natural Israel and a sign to them that Jehovah is their God again. He also gives his promise that his favor shall always remain with Israel. Pouring out of the spirit upon them, signals the beginning of the Millennial age as we see prophesied in Joel and several other Old Testament references. After that time is when the nations can symbolically join themselves to Israel so that they will receive the blessing of the kingdom.

*Isa 32:15-17 (15 Until the spirit be poured upon us from on high, and the wilderness be a fruitful field, and the fruitful field be counted for a forest.

16 Then judgment shall dwell in the wilderness, and righteousness remain in the fruitful field.

17 And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness quietness and assurance forever. (KJV)

Isa 44:2-3(2 Thus saith the LORD that made thee, and formed thee from the womb, which will help thee; Fear not, O Jacob, my servant; and thou, Jesurun, whom I have chosen.

3 For I will pour water upon him that is thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground: I will pour my spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring: (KJV)

The Sand of the Sea

The ones that it says are like the sand of the sea in Revelation Chapter 20, are those of the world who are promised an earthly blessing in the Abrahamic promise. The phrase sand of the sea points back to the nations of the earth, and the blessing of the earthly class of salvation that was described to Abraham. The stars of heaven class are those who are of the spiritual class or the Gospel Age church, which are also promised a blessing through Abraham’s promise.

Those Who Reject Kingdom
At the End

The phrase “Gog and Magog”, represents those of the sand of the sea class who are lacking in moral development by the end of the kingdom, and they are led by Satan into destruction in this final test. They most likely will not know that what they are doing is from the devil. Hopefully, this will be a small number who fall, but we have no way to tell, since the number of those who fall cannot be a predetermined number. It's thought by many that because it uses the term sand of the sea, that it will be a large number, but it's not a number that is represented by the sand of the sea, which only symbolizes that it's an earthly class that goes against the kingdom as is shown by the symbol "the sand of the sea". Because the symbol of the sands of the sea normally has lots and lots of particles, that has nothing to do with this symbol as some think, it only represents an earthly class.

May Want Their Own Government

It's possible, that Gog and Magog may be an attempt by the rebellious of the earth at the end of the Millennial age, to establish their own government and rule, which is contrary to God's Plan. The reason that we wonder about that, is because the names "Gog and Magog" mean Great Mountain and a great mountain in symbol represents a powerful kingdom. But we are not certain what the test will be, and that is how it should be, because if everyone knew what the test was ahead of time, it would not be a test that would weed out those who have not learned their lessons. I once had a teacher that told the class that if I tell you something two or three times, it will be on the test. God has told us what is required for the test in his word, he just has not told us exactly what that test will be, and it is up to us to use the kingdom help, and make sure we know what will help us pass the test.

"From God", which is after "from heaven" in King James, is not found in most modern translations. Omit in A, Incl -S. UBS rates it a C-level certainty to omit it.

Restoring Men's Hearts During Kingdom

Jer 31:33-34 (33)"But this is the covenant which I will make with the house of Israel after those days," declares the LORD , "I will put My law within them and on their heart I will write it; and I will be their God, and they shall be My people. 34 "They will not teach again, each man his neighbor and each man his brother, saying, 'Know the LORD ,' for they will all know Me, from the least of them to the greatest of them," declares the LORD , "for I will forgive their iniquity, and their sin I will remember no more." NASU

So, what we see, is that the searching and correcting of men's hearts goes on through the entire kingdom, and at the end of seven months or at the end of the kingdom, we have a final intense search to cleanse the land. That is the final test to see if the people have learned righteousness and have given up all sin. Those who have not are destroyed and buried with the rest of Gog and Magog, which means that they are destroyed forever.

That is why we believe that the symbols of Gog and Magog should include more than just a literal army that comes against Israel at the end of the age. Gog and Magog are all those during the Gospel Age, and just before the start of the kingdom, and again at the end of the millennium as seen here in this Chapter, who are against God's laws and principles and his faithful people.

Faithful Saints Are in City

The word “and” which is between the camp of the saints and the beloved city, seems to mean “also” here, because it precedes the word city in the Greek text. See Vines explanation. In other words, when we see that they encompassed the camp of the saints and the beloved city, we see more clearly that they encircle both together. In other words, the saints are in the city which symbolizes God’s government, and it shows that they are under its protection.

The word “camp” has an interesting definition, both in Strong’s and Vines, in that it seems to indicate that they were in battle array, which means they were assembled in a defensive position, protecting God’s kingdom arrangement. That would seem to make the forces of Gog and Magog, guilty of being against something in the kingdom arrangement.

Camp = 3925 pample (par-em-bol-ay');

from a compound of 3844 and 1685; a throwing in beside (juxtaposition), i.e. (specifically) battle-array, encampment or barracks (tower Antonia):

KJV-- army, camp, castle.

ARMY

3. pample ^3925^, lit., "a casting in among, an insertion" (para, "among," ballo, "to throw"), in the Macedonian dialect, was a military term. In the NT it denotes the distribution of troops in army formation, "armies," <Heb. 11:34>; a camp, as of the Israelites, <Exod. 19:17; 29:14; 32:17>; hence, in <Heb. 13:11,13>, of Jerusalem, since the city was to the Jews what the camp in the wilderness had been to the Israelites; in <Rev. 20:9>, the "armies" or camp of the saints, at the close of the Millennium.

It also denoted a castle or barracks, <Acts 21:34,37; 22:24; 23:10,16,32>.#

(from Vine's Expository Dictionary of Biblical Words)

(Copyright (C) 1985, Thomas Nelson Publishers)

Fenton uses fortress for the camp of the holy.

The Greek text supports the following translation from Philips.

They came up and spread over the breath of the earth, they encircled the army of the saints, defending the beloved city, but fire came down from the sky and consumed them. Philips

It could be possible that they only come against the visible representatives of the Government, which would be the Ancient Worthies, but it’s most likely that the attack will be against all those who have been morally perfected, and who stand for God’s kingdom. That they went up on the breadth of the earth, shows that they attack more than the literal city of Jerusalem. That they attack the New Jerusalem, which represents the government of God, does not mean that the attack will only occur against literal Jerusalem. That attack is not only against the literal city of Jerusalem, even though that city will most likely will be the center of the kingdom’s power, and so it will probably be literally attacked, but the attack will be against God’s government over the entire earth. For that reason, the attack will not be limited to the actual area of Jerusalem, but could be any place on earth that God's government or faithful people are represented.

The Devil Destroyed

Verse 10 should say, "where the beast and the False Prophet were cast", and it should not say "are also." In other words, the beast and the False Prophet, are already there when the devil is cast forever into the same fire of permanent destruction. King James supplies the verb "are also", but it's not actually there. That change would make the verse agree with the fact, that the beast and the False Prophet are cast into the fire at the beginning of the millennium, and that now at the end of the millennium after the little season, we see the devil cast into the same fire of permanent destruction that they are already in.

Tormented Forever

The root of the word for torture is touchstone. It can be used as "tested or tried", as we see in the following references. The Strong's definition is not very revealing, so we have supplied some others that give a better definition.

931 basanos (bas'-an-os); perhaps remotely from the same as 939 (through the notion of going to the bottom); a touch-stone, i.e. (by analogy) torture:

KJV-- torment.

Strong's Concordance #928, from root word #931

From The Analytical Greek Lexicon Revised, edited by Harold K. Moulton

"To apply the lapis Lydius or touchstone; met. to examine, scrutinize, try, either by words or torture; in N.T. to afflict, torment; pass. to be afflicted, tormented, pained, by diseases, Mat.8.6, 29, et al.; to be tossed, agitated, as by the waves, Mat. 14:24.

We find that Thayer's Greek Lexicon also agrees, that it means touchstone and that the torment or testing is done to derive the truth of a matter.

Liddle and Scot = to rub against the touchstone, to try the genuineness of a thing. Tried and tested in the minds of the obedient ones.

The same word is not translated torment in Math 14:24. It means that the ship was tossed or, in other words, tested by the waves.

Matt 14:24 But the ship was now in the midst of the sea, tossed with waves: for the wind was contrary. (KJV)

The idea we see here, is that the bad things that the system and the adversary did, will be used as a touchstone forever and ever. The touchstone here, is an example of what not to do! This is not the literal torment of hell, where these are being tortured forever and forever, as some would like to claim. In other words, anything that would even resemble the bad things they did, should not be allowed to happen again. For that reason, it's kept as a touchstone or example for ever—so that anything that is false or sinful like it, will not happen again.

Revelation 20:11-12

Rev 20:11 Then I saw a great white throne and Him who sat upon it, from whose presence earth and heaven fled away, and no place was found for them.

Rev 20:12 And I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing before the throne, and books were opened; and another book was opened, which is {the book} of life; and the dead were judged from the things which were written in the books, according to their deeds. (NAU)

Old Heavens & Earth Still Exist

When White Throne Established

In verse 11, we see our Lord dealing with the former system of things, both the heavenly and the earthly institutions or the old heavens and earth. That the Old Heavens and Earth flee away, shows that beginning with 1914, they are not able to stand up to standards of the new judge and king, and that they begin to disappear or change to make way for the New Heavens and Earth. In verse 11, the institutions of mankind are under judgment, but the individuals are not under testing until verse 12, which happens after the church is complete. Verse 11, describes more of the situation that we have been in since 1874-1914AD, in that the evil system was judged, and is being gradually destroyed piece by piece as a system after 1914, but the people of the world are not yet under judgment.

Corrupt heavens & Earth Being Removed

The earth and the heavens that flee away, are the old heavens and earth that are corrupt, and which are gradually being done away with. The earth will not be destroyed, but the things on the earth will be transformed just as we saw that the world of the flood was not destroyed, but changed. A good prophecy regarding this change of the heavens and earth, is 2 Peter chapters 2 and 3, where we see society transformed in the symbol of the melting elements, but not destroyed. The word translated “elements” that is used there, does not mean the elements of the earth as they are found in the periodic table, but those elements refer to the elements of society. So, what is being destroyed is the old heavens and the earth—which is the old society of the earth, and the old and corrupt heavens of the religious system. Both of those will be replaced with the new heavens and earth of the kingdom, wherein dwells righteousness.

2 Pet 2:5-7(5 And spared not the Old-World, but saved Noah the eighth person, a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly;

6 And turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes condemned them with an overthrow, making them an ensample unto those that after should live ungodly;

7 And delivered just Lot, vexed with the filthy conversation of the wicked: (KJV)

2 Pet 3:10-13 (10 But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up.

11 Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness,

12 Looking for and hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat?

13 Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness. (KJV)

Verse 12 is After 144,000 Complete

In verse 12, which is after the 144,000 are complete, we then see our Lord on the throne ruling and judging over individuals during the Millennial kingdom—which is when individuals must begin to make progress on the highway of holiness, as seen in Isaiah Chapter 35. The events of verse 12, will not occur until the 144,000 are completed and in power with the Lord. Even then, the individuals of the world will not be judged or destroyed, until they have failed to take an advantage of the restitution of all things. That time of restitution is described by Peter in Acts, where he told the Jews that Jesus would remain in heaven until the time of restitution or restoration of all things. When he comes out of the heavens at that time, he comes as Christ head and body. That is the time that Israel and the rest of the world must listen to the prophet like Moses, or they will perish from the people.

When 144,000 Completed New Jerusalem Comes Down

As seen in Revelation Chapters 21-22, Jesus does not come down to the world until the 144,000 are complete, and then he comes down when the New Jerusalem comes to the world and the kingdom. Then the people are under judgment as seen in verse 12, but before the sentence of death is carried out, they are restored from sin and death by the New Covenant. They are first restored to perfection by that New Covenant, through the writing of God's laws in their hearts, and then in the little season they are tested to see if they have learned their lessons. If they pass the test of the little season, is what determines if they are cut off from the people or not. There is good reason to believe, that those during the Millennial age who refuse to make any progress, and who may be doing harmful and damaging things to others, will be cut off before the end of that age. There will be some that fail as we see stated in Isaiah 65:20. Those who accept will have God's law written in their hearts by the New Covenant, and the Holy Spirit.

Jer 31:33-34 (33 "But this is the covenant which I will make with the house of Israel after those days," declares the LORD, "I will put My law within them and on their heart I will write it; and I will be their God, and they shall be My people. 34 "They will not teach again, each man his neighbor and each man his brother, saying, 'Know the LORD,' for they will all know Me, from the least of them to the greatest of them," declares the LORD, "for I will forgive their iniquity, and their sin I will remember no more." NASU

Acts 3:21-23 (21 He must remain in heaven until the time comes for all things to be made new, as God announced through his holy prophets of long ago. 22 For Moses said, 'The Lord your God will send you a prophet, just as he sent me, and he will be one of your own people. You are to obey everything that he tells you to do. 23 Anyone who does not obey that prophet shall be separated from God's people and destroyed.' TEV

This Time is Restoring & Learning About God's Plan

We see that this judgment is a time of learning and restoring. In other words, the people are not being resurrected and taken before the throne to hear a sentence of judgment about things they did wrong before they died. If that was true, they would be condemned and destroyed without a chance. Instead, they are resurrected and are gradually restored during the kingdom back to moral perfection, so that they can pass the final judgment at the end of the millennium.

*Isa 26:9 With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness.

The words "small and great" in verse 12, shows us that this judgment includes everyone regardless of their station in life. Jeremiah says that everyone will be involved in the kingdom, from the least to the greatest.

*Jer 31:33-34 (33 But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel; After those days, saith the LORD, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

34 And they shall teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the LORD: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the LORD: for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more. (KJV)

The Dead in Sea Are Spiritual Dead Needing Restoration

The dead that we see in verse 12, are those of the world that don't have eternal life yet. This would be the entire world who has not achieved life yet at the beginning of the kingdom. As all of them are gradually brought back to moral and physical perfection, they are being given up by the sea and the grave. The dead in the sea, are those who are physically alive, but who are not morally upright at the start of the kingdom, and we see that they are a part of those of the world who are to be restored. Those who are in the grave, are those who have already died, and are at that time resurrected to life, but even they will still need to be restored to a moral and perfect life.

Matt 8:22 But Jesus said unto him, Follow me; and let the dead bury their dead. (KJV)

Luke 9:60 Jesus said unto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but go thou and preach the kingdom of God. (KJV)

Meaning of Books Being Opened

The understanding of God's truth and plan and all other necessary things, is symbolized by the books being opened, and that has not happened for the world yet during the Gospel Age, but it will happen in the next age, when the knowledge of the Lord will fill the earth.

Isa 11:9 They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea. (KJV)

Hab 2:14 For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea. (KJV)

According to their "works" or "deeds", is the word ergon which carries the connotation of working. What this is saying is that they are not judged by the things written in the book about what they did when they were ignorant of God's laws, but they will be judged by the laws and principles that are written in the books, after they have reached perfection. They will need to be able to keep those laws and principles, after they are restored to life and moral perfection by the end of the kingdom. That is what the New Covenant is going to do when it writes God's laws into men's hearts. The little season will test them, and decide if they have learned God's laws and principles, so that they can have life without being harmful to others!

DEED, DEEDS

1. ergon ^2041^ denotes "a work" (Eng., "work" is etymologically akin), "deed, act." When used in the sense of a "deed or act," the idea of "working" is stressed, e. g., <Rom. 15:18>; it frequently occurs in an ethical sense of human actions, good or bad, e. g., <Matt. 23:3; 26:10; John 3:20-21; Rom. 2:7,15; 1 Thes. 1:3; 2 Thes. 1:11>, etc.; sometimes in a less concrete sense, e. g., <Titus 1:16; Jas. 1:25> (RV that worketh, lit., of work). See LABOR, WORK.

Throne Scene of Matt 25:31-46 Gives More Detail

In the throne scene of Matt 25:31-46, those who were judged wicked, were those who didn't help any people when they saw that they were sick, hungry, thirsty, in need of shelter, naked, or in prison. That appears to be one of the main principles of the kingdom that is written in the books, and that is the idea that everyone will need to be his brother's keeper. They will have the obligation to help one another up the highway of holiness, and to help one another with the necessities of life. If they don't do that, they will be judged unworthy of life. The current idea of some that says that I don't want to pay any taxes to help others, will not be acceptable.

You Need to be Your Brother's Keeper

That should be a warning to those in the present evil world, who don't want to be their brother's keeper. If you don't care about anyone else now, you will have a hard time turning that attitude around in the kingdom, and failure to do that will place you on the goat side of the judgment seat, and you will lose your chance for life.

Standing Before Throne Not God

Some translations say that they are standing before God, rather than his throne, which is "not" correct. The Greek word is actually "throne", not God. This is important, because it shows that God will be using Christ and the 144,000 to do the judging for him during the millennium, and we know that they will be on the throne at that time. Rev 20:12 And I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing before the throne, and books were opened; and another book was opened, which is {the book} of life; and the dead were judged from the things which were written in the books, according to their deeds. (NAS)

Acts 17:31 Because he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead. (KJV)

We also have Matt 25:13, which was mentioned above, in which we see that Christ is going to do the judging.

Dan 7:13-14 (13 I saw in the night visions, and, behold, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him. 14 And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations, and languages, should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away,

and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed. (KJV)

Book of Life & Book of the Lamb

It appears that there are two books of life in which God writes the identification and names of those who have been born. It seems that everyone is written in the world's book to begin with, but if they are unrecoverable and evil, then their names will be taken out of the book as we see in the references to the book of life below. The book that we see here is the book which has the names of all who are born into the world. There is also a Lamb's book of life, in which those who are purchased out of the earth move from the world's work of life to the Lamb's book, which is for the church, which we will look at following the worlds list which is first.

World's book of life

Ps 139:14-16(14 I will praise thee; for I am fearfully and wonderfully made: marvelous are thy works; and that my soul knoweth right well.

15 My substance was not hid from thee, when I was made in secret, and curiously wrought in the lowest parts of the earth.

16 Thine eyes did see my substance, yet being imperfect; and in thy book all my members were written, which in continuance were fashioned, when as yet there was none of them. (KJV)

Ps 69:26-28(26 For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten; and they talk to the grief of those whom thou hast wounded.

27 Add iniquity unto their iniquity: and let them not come into thy righteousness.

28 Let them be blotted out of the book of the living, and not be written with the righteous. (KJV)

Exod 32:31-33(31 And Moses returned unto the LORD, and said, Oh, this people have sinned a great sin, and have made them gods of gold.

32 Yet now, if thou wilt forgive their sin--; and if not, blot me, I pray thee, out of thy book which thou hast written.

33 And the LORD said unto Moses, Whosoever hath sinned against me, him will I blot out of my book. (KJV)

Dan 12:1 And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people: and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book. (KJV)

There is a second and special book of life, that only the church has their names written into. Here are the references that support that book. That is not the book that is being talked about in this verse.

Church's book of life

Luke 10:17-20 (17 And the seventy returned again with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subject unto us through thy name.

18 And he said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven.

19 Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall by any means hurt you.

20 Notwithstanding in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because your names are written in heaven. (KJV)

Rev 17:8 The beast that thou sawest was, and is not; and shall ascend out of the bottomless pit, and go into perdition: and they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, whose names were not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is. (KJV)

Mal 3:16 Then they that feared the LORD spake often one to another: and the LORD hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the LORD, and that thought upon his name. (KJV)

Revelation 20:13-15

Dead in Sea Equals Those Without Spiritual Life

In Rev 16:3, every living thing in the sea died. We also see that the sea or waters that the woman sat upon in Chapter 17, are defined as peoples, tongues, and nations. The dead that come out of the sea, are especially those who were trapped in the waters of the evil system. They come out of the sea, where they were spiritually dead, and are gradually brought back to physical and moral uprightness, and to life. The dead in the sea here are figuratively dead, as in “let the dead go bury the dead”. They are brought back to a condition of life, which if exercised properly in the kingdom, will lead to everlasting life. The old heavens and earth are done away with, and all that are left are the sea of people who will be brought to the new heavens and earth in the Millennial age. If the extra text in verse 5 is not spurious, then it describes the exact same moral restoration that we see here.

Isa 60:4-5(4Lift up thine eyes round about, and see: all they gather themselves together, they come to thee: thy sons shall come from far, and thy daughters shall be nursed at thy side.

5Then thou shalt see, and flow together, and thine heart shall fear, and be enlarged; because the abundance of the sea shall be converted unto thee, the forces of the Gentiles shall come unto thee.

(KJV)

Those who are in the grave or hades, are also brought back to life, and restored to full life rights. Those who are morally dead in the world, are restored to a living and moral condition in the kingdom, and they also get full life rights. Everyone will still have to pass the little season to keep that everlasting life.

Life in Old Age Not Considered For Life in New

The wrong deeds that were committed previously, will not determine the outcome for those who are awakened, outside of the fact that the worse the sinner was previously, the more they must overcome in the Millennial age. All those who are on drugs or have a wrong disposition towards other people during this age, etc., will have more to overcome. Those who are filthy rich or are powerful rulers, and who look down on other people, will also have a very hard time of it in the kingdom. Not only will that bad attitude towards others not be allowed, but the wrong heart condition they had in this age must be overcome.

Luke 18:22-27 (22 Now when Jesus heard these things, he said unto him, Yet lacks thou one thing: sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me.

23 And when he heard this, he was very sorrowful: for he was very rich.

24 And when Jesus saw that he was very sorrowful, he said, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

25 For it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

26 And they that heard it said, Who then can be saved?

27 And he said, The things which are impossible with men are possible with God. (KJV)

God Will Remove All Previous Sins

God says that he will remove the sins of Israel and cast them into the sea, and that same thing will apply to all Gentiles from the earth, who are adopted into Israel in the Millennial age.

Micah 7:18-19 (18 Where is another God like you, who pardons the sins of the survivors among his people? You cannot stay angry with your people, for you love to be merciful.

19 Once again you will have compassion on us. You will tread our sins beneath your feet; you will throw them into the depths of the ocean! (TLB)

These will be judged regarding how they overcome their faults and sins in the kingdom—not what they did previously. Everyone must bring the flesh and character up to perfection, and to be in harmony with the kingdom. We see that the time of the kingdom is the time that the world will learn righteousness, and must overcome sin and error.

Isa 26:9 With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness. (KJV)

Ps 62:12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongs mercy: for thou renders to every man according to his work. (KJV)

See also Romans 2:6-11

The Time of Restoration Of All Things

Acts 3:19-21 (19 "Repent therefore and return, that your sins may be wiped away, in order that times of refreshing may come from the presence of the Lord;

20 and that He may send Jesus, the Christ appointed for you,

21 whom heaven must receive until {the} period of restoration of all things about which God spoke by the mouth of His holy prophets from ancient time. (NAS)

Once everyone is brought up to perfection, and has passed the final test, then we will see death itself being done away with. This is another proof that death will not exist after that time, since everyone willing, will have been restored back to perfection by that time. Everyone who is going to fail will have done so, and will have been removed before that time.

1 Cor 15:25-26 (25 For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.

26The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death. (KJV)

Lake of Fire Symbolizes Permanent Destruction

Anything that goes into the lake of fire, will never return or come back. This is not a literal hell, but it symbolizes destruction and complete removal. In Rev 20:6, we see that the church will not be subject to the second death, because they are overcomers during the Gospel Age, having already passed their testing. King James does not have "this is the second death", but all other translations and manuscripts do.

The book seen here, is the general book of life for the world of mankind on earth. Those who are blotted out of the book of life, will only have that happen because they didn't make use of the kingdom opportunity to be restored to perfection and righteousness, and so they will fail the final test.

All those who don't succeed in being restored to the point where they can pass the final test, don't get to keep their name in the book of life. That is why it says that this is the second death in verse 14. The first death occurs during this age, and there is a resurrection for that one. The second one is a final death, and there is no restoration from that final failure!

Chapter 21

Revelation 21:1

Rev 21:1 Then I saw a new heaven and a new earth; for the first heaven and the first earth passed away, and there is no longer {any} sea. (NAU)

Verse 1, should be a part of the previous Chapter, because this verse is a completed picture of the kingdom at the end of the millennium, which is after the work of the kingdom has totally removed the old heavens and earth. When the new heavens and earth are finally completed, the earth and the old sea of mankind mentioned in Revelation 20:11, will have completely fled away, as it states here. The new heavens and earth will not be completely in place, until the kingdom has done all its restoration work, and there will be no more dead left, symbolic or actual. They will all have attained to life by that time, unless they refused to accept the terms of the kingdom, and they did not make the effort needed to overcome.

The Old Testament, gives more information about the new heavens and the new earth that we see here in Revelation. Remember that these verses are symbolic, and they are talking about a symbolic removal of the old heavens and earth, and a creation of a new heavens and earth. There is not going to be a literal destruction of the old heavens and earth as many churches believe.

Isa 65:17-18 (17) For, behold, I create new heavens and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind.

18 But be ye glad and rejoice forever in that which I create: for, behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy. (KJV)

Isa 66:22-24 (22) For as the new heavens and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, saith the LORD, so shall your seed and your name remain.

23 And it shall come to pass, that from one new moon to another, and from one sabbath to another, shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the LORD.

24 And they shall go forth, and look upon the carcasses of the men that have transgressed against me: for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched; and they shall be an abhorring unto all flesh. (KJV)

Isa 51:4-6 (4) "Pay attention to me, O My people; and give ear to me, O My nation; for a law will go forth from me, and I will set My justice for a light of the peoples.

5 "My righteousness is near, My salvation has gone forth, and My arms will judge the peoples; the coastlands will wait for me, and for My arm they will wait expectantly.

6 "Lift up your eyes to the sky, then look to the earth beneath; for the sky will vanish like smoke, and the earth will wear out like a garment, and its inhabitants will die in like manner, but My salvation shall be forever, and My righteousness shall not wane. (NAS)

Isa 51:16 "And I have put My words in your mouth, and have covered you with the shadow of My hand, to establish the heavens, to found the earth, and to say to Zion, 'You are My people.'" (NAS)

2 Pet 3:12-13 (12 Looking for and hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat?

13 Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness. (KJV)

The new heavens are the spiritual control of Christ and the church over the kingdom. The new earth, is the earthly society reorganized under God's kingdom, which is based on love and justice, instead of selfishness and oppression, and other bad things.

The word "first" used with the old heavens and earth, is misleading, in that it means more accurately "the prior heavens and earth. The heavens and earth that exist now, are the second heavens and earth, since the first heavens and earth were destroyed at the time of the flood. The present heavens and earth that exist now, will pass away and be changed gradually into the third and new heavens and earth. The Apostle Paul, was granted a vision of the third heavens that are going to come in the next age. 2 Cor 12:2 I know a man in Christ who fourteen years ago — whether in the body I do not know, or out of the body I do not know, God knows — such a man was caught up to the third heaven. NASU

Melting Elements Equals Dissolving and Changing Heavens & Earth

The word melt used in the 2 Peter reference to the dissolving of the elements, indicates a change in the elements of society. Satan's control over the old heavens and earth will be removed, and Christ will take control over them over and transform them into the new.

Isa 60:5 Then thou shalt see, and flow together, and thine heart shall fear, and be enlarged; because the abundance of the sea shall be converted unto thee, the forces of the Gentiles shall come unto thee. (KJV)

Ps 46:2-6 (2 Therefore we will not fear, though the earth should change, and though the mountains slip into the heart of the sea;

3 Though its waters roar {and} foam, though the mountains quake at its swelling pride. Selah.

4 There is a river whose streams make glad the city of God, the holy dwelling places of the Most High.

5 God is in the midst of her, she will not be moved; God will help her when morning dawns.

6 The nation's made an uproar, the kingdoms tottered; He raised His voice, the earth melted. (NAS)

See also Luke 21: 5-36

Revelation 21:2-4

Rev 21:2 And I saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, made ready as a bride adorned for her husband.)

Rev 21:3 And I heard a loud voice from the throne, saying, "Behold, the tabernacle of God is among men, and He will dwell among them, and they shall be His people, and God Himself will be among them,

Rev 21:4 and He will wipe away every tear from their eyes; and there will no longer be {any} death; there will no longer be {any} mourning, or crying, or pain; the first things have passed away." (NAU)

God's Kingdom is Established on Earth Starting Here!

Isa 4:2-6 (2 In that day the Branch of the LORD will be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the earth will be the pride and the adornment of the survivors of Israel. 3 It will come about that he who is left in Zion and remains in Jerusalem will be called holy—everyone who is recorded for life in Jerusalem. 4 When the Lord has washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion and purged the bloodshed of Jerusalem from her midst, by the spirit of judgment and the spirit of burning, 5 then the LORD will create over the whole area of Mount Zion and over her assemblies a cloud by day, even smoke, and the brightness of a flaming fire by night; for over all the glory will be a canopy. 6 There will be a shelter to give shade from the heat by day, and refuge and protection from the storm and the rain. NASU)

Starting with this section of verses, we are going to see how the kingdom of God is going to be established on the earth. God's kingdom is going to do away with all painful and sorrowful things that are in the world now. Death will be done away with, and everyone will have the good health and vitality that Adam and Eve had originally been created with in the garden. These things will not be completely fulfilled until the end of the millennium, but the process that will accomplish this will start right away, as soon as the kingdom is established, as symbolized by the New Jerusalem coming down to the earth.

Heavenly Tabernacle Comes Down With City

The heavenly tabernacle that Christ is High Priest in, will also be a part of this city, as we are told in verse 3. That is important, because with Christ as the high priest, the people will have forgiveness of their sins under the provisions of the New Covenant that he established on the cross. The earthly tabernacle that Moses had established, was only a copy of the better heavenly one that Christ and the church will administer to the people from. They will be teaching the people about God and truth, and restoring them back to moral and physical perfection.

Ezek 44:15-16 (15 "But the Levitical priests, the sons of Zadok, who kept charge of My sanctuary when the sons of Israel went astray from Me, shall come near to Me to minister to Me; and they shall stand before Me to offer Me the fat and the blood," declares the Lord God. 16 "They shall enter My sanctuary; they shall come near to My table to minister to Me and keep My charge. NASU Ezek 44:23-25(23 "Moreover, they shall teach My people the difference between the holy and the profane, and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean. 24 "In a dispute they shall take their stand to judge; they shall judge it according to My ordinances. They shall also keep My laws and My statutes in all My appointed feasts and sanctify My Sabbaths. NASU

See the references in Rev 21:9-10, Gal 4:26, Isa 52:1-2, 54:1, 61:10, Rev 3:12, Heb 11:10, 12:22, 13:14.

The Bride is Made Beautiful For Not Only Christ But For World

That she is "as a bride", shows that she is not just a bride. It is saying that she has been beautified like a bride, so that she is attractive to the world to which she is coming. Isa 54:11-12 (11 "O afflicted city, lashed by storms and not comforted, I will build you with stones of turquoise, your foundations with sapphires. 12 I will make your battlements of rubies, your gates of sparkling jewels, and all your walls of precious stones. NIV

We note an interesting thing about the word bride, in that one of its meanings is "a Son's wife", although we don't know if that is implied here, but it would be interesting if it was because this bride will be the bride of Christ. 3565 numphe (noom-fay'); from a primary but obsolete verb nupto (to veil as a bride; compare Latin "nupto," to marry); a young married woman (as veiled), including a betrothed girl; by implication a son's wife: KJV-- bride, daughter in law.

Another important point here is that this is a married bride, and is pointing us back to the picture of Sarah, who represents the Abrahamic Covenant, as shown in Isaiah Chapter 54. The Gospel Age church's salvation, which is from the stars of heaven portion of the Abrahamic covenant, has been represented in the heavenly Jerusalem all through the age. Now that it is coming down to the earth, and it is coming to bless the sand of the seashore part of the covenant, which represents the nations and people of the earth. In Isaiah Chapter 54, we are told that the covenant's husband is Jehovah, and for that reason it cannot fail.

Gal 4:26-28 (26 But Jerusalem which is above is free, which is the mother of us all.

27 For it is written, Rejoice, thou barren that beareth not; break forth and cry, thou that travails *not: for the desolate hath many more children than she which hath an husband.

28 Now we, brethren, as Isaac was, are the children of promise. (KJV)*

Isa 54:5 For thy Maker is thine husband; the LORD of hosts is his name; and thy Redeemer the Holy One of Israel; The God of the whole earth shall he be called. (KJV)

The Completed 144,000 is the New Jerusalem

The completion of the 144,000 of the church, is what will symbolize the completed heavenly New Jerusalem, and the completed city will contain and bring salvation for the world, as represented in the heavenly tabernacle in it. That the New Jerusalem coming down from heaven, is now being described as the bride of Christ in this Chapter, and that shows that the completed church was necessary before the world could be blessed. The completed church is not only described as the bride of Christ, but she is the New Jerusalem that will come down to the earth at that time. The symbol of the New Jerusalem, represents God's government that comes down to the earth to establish the kingdom. The blessing that comes from the Abrahamic and the New Covenant, makes that salvation possible. Just as the Jerusalem above was the mother of the church, Christ head and body symbolized here by the city New Jerusalem, will be the mother that brings life to Israel, and through them to the world.

Jehovah Does Come Down With the City!

The God that is coming down from heaven to dwell among the people, is Jehovah, but Jesus and the church will be the mediators between God and man at that time, and so the world will not have to deal directly with God. Tabernacle means dwelling place, and just as in the wilderness tabernacle where God could not be directly seen by the people—the same thing will be true here. Jesus will be the mediator between God and men, until the end of the Millennial age, so there will not be direct contact between God and men until then. After all death has been done away with, and all mankind has been restored back to perfection and tested, Christ will then turn the kingdom back over to God. Then God will be able to look upon perfected men, and they will be able to look indirectly at him. That situation will be like when the Israelites were in the wilderness, and God was inside the tabernacle. The people didn't see God directly, but they saw signs of his presence in the cloud and the fire.

Ezek 37:27 My tabernacle also shall be with them: yea, I will be their God, and they shall be my people. (KJV)

Lev 26:11-12(11 And I will set my tabernacle among you: and my soul shall not abhor you.

12 And I will walk among you, and will be your God, and ye shall be my people. (KJV)

God will come to the New Jerusalem during the Millennial age as the latter part of the verse says.
Eph 2:19-22 (19 So then you are no longer strangers and aliens, but you are fellow citizens with the saints, and are of God's household,

20 having been built upon the foundation of the Apostles and prophets, Christ Jesus Himself being the corner {stone}

*21 in whom the whole building, being fitted together is growing into a holy temple in the Lord;

22 in whom you also are being built together into a dwelling of God in the Spirit. (NAS)

Jehovah Does Come With the Saints

The Lord God comes with all the saints, and so we see that it says that he does come, but the question is in what manner. In Zechariah Chapter two, we see that Jehovah comes to dwell in Israel's midst, but it also implies that he sent a representative in verse 11, because it says "you shall know that the Lord of hosts has sent me to you." This second being can only be our Lord Jesus, who acts as Jehovah's representative, and the completed church is with him at the time.

*Zech 2:10-13(10 Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion; for lo, I come and I will dwell in the midst of you, says the LORD.

*11 And many nations shall join themselves to the LORD in that day, and shall be my people; and I will dwell in the midst of you, and you shall know that the LORD of hosts has sent me to you.

12 And the LORD will inherit Judah as his portion in the holy land, and will again choose Jerusalem."

13 Be silent, all flesh, before the LORD; for he has roused himself from his holy dwelling. (RSV)

In Chapter 14 of Zechariah, we again see that Jehovah is coming with all the saints with him. If we take into consideration Zech 2:11, we see that he comes through his representative Jesus, who is Christ head and body at the time.

Zech 14:5 And ye shall flee to the valley of the mountains; for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azal: yea, ye shall flee, like as ye fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah: and the LORD my God shall come, and all the saints with thee. (KJV)

Christ is Mediator Between God & Man

Just as Moses was the Mediator in the original tabernacle, and went in to represent the people, we see the same thing here. The people will not see God directly, but they will have the Lord Jesus as the mediator, with the church, the great Company, and the Ancient Worthies in that order, in-between them and God. Even though they are unable to see him directly, they will have the assurance that God is there, so that they will know that the blessings are coming from him. Just as Jesus said, "if you see me, you see the Father", and we know that claim was true, because Jesus was reflecting the Father's character and perfection. During the Millennial age, the world needs the mediator because of their imperfection. There will be no mediator needed after Christ turns the perfected kingdom over to the Father, nor will there be any need for one, because anyone who didn't attain perfection by that time, will have fallen in the little season.

God will in the end, have complete authority over his kingdom, as we see in 1 Cor Chapter 15, and that will be because it was his plan that will have restored the world of mankind. While this in the full sense will be God's kingdom after the little season, we think that Christ and the church will continue to help administer the rule of the kingdom for him. God's law will have been fully written in everyone's hearts at that time, through the blessings of the New Covenant. In Rev 21:8, we will see a list of sinful things that will need to be removed from men's hearts during the time of the kingdom.

1 Cor 15:24-28(24 Then cometh the end, when he shall have delivered up the kingdom to God, even the Father; when he shall have put down all rule and all authority and power.

25 For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.

26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.

27 For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, all things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted, which did put all things under him.

28 And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all. (KJV)

Isa 25:8 He will swallow up death in victory; and the Lord GOD will wipe away tears from off all faces; and the rebuke of his people shall he take away from off all the earth: for the LORD hath spoken it. (KJV)

Hosea 13:14 I will ransom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death: O death, I will be thy plagues; O grave, I will be thy destruction: repentance shall be hid from mine eyes.

*Isa 35:10 And the ransomed of the LORD shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

Isa 60:20 Thy sun shall no more go down; neither shall thy moon withdraw itself: for the LORD shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended. (KJV)

Isa 65:18 But be ye glad and rejoice forever in that which I create: for, behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy. (KJV)

All Of Satan's System to be Removed

The things that are said to be passed away in verse 4, are not just death and sorrow, but include all aspects of Satan's old system of things. The Greek word "protos" here, indicates that the former things that passed away, were the things that existed before the New Jerusalem took control. The promise is that the new order of things, as represented by the New Jerusalem, is going to remove death and sorrow, etc. That will be fully accomplished by the end of the Millennial age. The last death that occurs, will be at the test of the little season, and then the kingdom will be turned over to the Father. That he is going to wipe all tears away, and that there will not be any more death or pain, is the ultimate purpose of the kingdom. All things will be made new or restored to a perfect state.

A Tent or Tabernacle

We see in the description of the Great Company, that it tells us in Rev 7:15 that "he shall spread his tent or tabernacle over them", rather than as it says here, God shall dwell among them. This is the same tent that we see mentioned in Isaiah 54:2-3, which is described regarding the Abrahamic Covenant that is established through Sarah, and which is to take control of all the nations. That tent represents God's Abrahamic covenant, that will bless all the families of the earth, and not just the nation of Israel.

Isa 54:2 Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thy habitations; spare not: lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes.

Isa 54:3 For thou shalt spread abroad on the right hand and on the left; and thy seed shall possess the nations, and make the desolate cities to be inhabited. ASV

The Tent of Salvation is In the Middle of the People

In Revelation 21:3, we see a slightly different picture, in that God places his tabernacle amongst men, but not over them. That the tabernacle is in the middle of the people, shows that they will be covered because of God's covenants. That the tent is in the middle of them, also seems to confirm what we will mention later, in that the people of the world will not be in the cube of the New Jerusalem where the tabernacle is, but they will be limited to the court or streets between the wall and the cube of the city. That the tent is spread over the Great Company, as is stated in Chapter 7, shows that they are different than the world. They are a spiritual class, and because of that they will be able to go into the cube of the city where the heavenly tabernacle is. But because they fell into error, they will not be able to be directly on the throne like the 144,000, who are on the throne with our Lord. They will only be able to come before the throne.

Ezek Chap 44

Pictures Four Classes of Salvation

Additional proof of that, is found in Chapter 44 of Ezekiel's temple, where we see the Great Company and the 144,000 pictured together. It shows in a picture, that the Great Company will not be able to come fully before God, as do the 144,000, but they will still have the service of the people in the temple. The prince or ruler described in that Chapter, represents the Ancient Worthies, and that seems reasonable since they are the rulers of the Millennial age or the Sabbath day—which is mentioned regarding the prince shown in that Chapter.

Ezek 44:1-3 (1 Then the Lord brought me back to the outer wall's eastern passageway, but it was closed.

2 And he said to me: "This gate shall remain closed; it shall never be opened. No man shall pass through it; for the Lord, the God of Israel, entered here, and so it shall remain shut.

3 Only the prince-- because he is the prince-- may sit inside the passageway to feast there before the Lord. But he shall go and come only through the entry hall of the passage." (TLB)

Ancient Worthies Approach Closer to God

We find that the prince or ruler comes into the temple to worship on the seventh day, but even he is not allowed in where the priests are, but he can approach closer than the people. We believe that the prince in that prophetic picture, represents the Ancient Worthies.

Ezek 46:1-2 (1 The Lord God says, "The inner wall's eastern entrance shall be closed during the six work days but open on the Sabbath and on the days of the new moon celebrations.

2 The prince shall enter the outside entry hall of the passageway and proceed to the inner wall at the other end while the priest offers his burnt offering and peace offering. He shall worship inside the passageway and then return back to the entrance, which shall not be closed until evening. (TLB)

Tabernacle Separation between Priest & People in New Jerusalem

So, we see that the spiritual class is in the temple, but the world and the Ancient Worthies are not going to be in the temple, but only in the court between the cube of the building of the city and its wall. That is where the water of life flows through, and the trees of life are found on both sides of its banks, and so it makes sense that is where the people will be. They will get their life from the water and the fruit and leaves of the trees of life. We will look at that arrangement in more detail as we go through this Chapter.

Revelation 21:5

Rev 21:5 And He who sits on the throne said, "Behold, I am making all things new." And He said, "Write, for these words are faithful and true."

Word New Points to Restoration of All Things

The word new here, is not new in the sense that it's something brand new, like a brand-new car, but it means new in the sense of refreshed, refurbished, or new as in form or quality, or of a different nature from what is contrasted as old. See Vines comments on this word. This is the same word "new", that is used in all places when the scriptures are talking about the New Covenant, except for one verse. In other words, he is not going to totally destroy the earth as some think and replace it, but he is going to renew and restore it, so that it is restored to the original perfection that God had intended when he created man. This is the day of restitution, in which all the things that have been corrupted and destroyed by sin and error, will be restored. Acts 3:19-22 (19 "Therefore repent and return, so that your sins may be wiped away, in order that times of refreshing may come from the presence of the Lord; 20 and that He may send Jesus, the Christ appointed for you, 21 whom heaven must receive until the period of restoration of all things about which God spoke by the mouth of His holy prophets from ancient time. NASU

He who is sitting on the throne could be Jehovah, or it could be Jesus—since they both sit on the throne. The context seems to be pointing to Jesus, who is going to be doing the work of the kingdom for the Father.

Jesus Commands John to Write

The command “to write,” is used by Jesus in most of the places where it is used in Revelation. The angel of the Lord uses it one time, but Jesus uses it all the other times, so that’s a good indication that this is Jesus speaking. Rev 1:11, 19, 2:1, 8, 12, 18, 3:1, 7, 12{twice}, 14, 14:13, 19:9, 21:5

Faithful & True = Jesus

“Faithful and true” is used of Jesus in at least two of the four places it’s used in Revelation and the other two places can be interpreted to be him also. See Rev 3:14, 19:11, 21:5, 22:6. See the notes on Rev 1:8, for the discussion which ties those four references together, and which helps to prove that the Alpha and the Omega must be Jesus.

Faithful & True Means There is No Doubt it Will Happen

That these words are faithful and true, also tells us that there is no doubt that these things will be accomplished. That is why he says that he is making all things new. This is another indication that this statement is at the beginning of the millennium, since by the end of the millennium it will not be necessary to say that it will happen, since it will be obvious that it will have already occurred.

Revelation 21:6-7

Rev 21:6 Then He said to me, "It is done. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give to the one who thirsts from the spring of the water of life without cost.

Rev 21:7 "He who overcomes will inherit these things, and I will be his God and he will be My son. (NAU)

Done Means to Cause to Be

It “is done” in verse 6, is found in two other places in Rev 16:17, 22:6. Marshals interlinear translates this as, “it has occurred”. This is not the same word “done” as in the Gospel of John, when Jesus on the cross said that it was done. It means to cause to be, or to come into being. This means that the Gospel Age part of God’s Plan is finished, and the water of life will now be available to all from this point forward.

The promise above, is for the church, because it says that the one who overcomes will be my son. The world will get the water of life also, as we will see in chapter 22, but they will not inherit all things, only the church will.

The verses in this and the next Chapter, continues to tell and show us more about what is going to happen during the Millennial age. Jesus in verse 7, points to the reward that the world will get if they overcome, but then gives the warning about what will happen to those who do not overcome in verse 8.

Alpha & the Omega

In the early beginning of our Revelation study, we initially had determined that the Alpha and the Omega in Rev 1:8 was Jehovah, because of the titles that were used there appeared to fit only with Jehovah. We later received new evidence, that showed that there had been some tampering with the wording of verse 8 in the Greek manuscript. We also saw that verse 7, is pointing back to Zechariah 12:10, and the Hebrew phrase “Aleph-Tay”, that is found there. Because of that new evidence, and some other things we discovered, we have now concluded that the title Alpha and the Omega belongs to Jesus, and for that reason the three places that use that same title point to Jesus. See the notes on Rev 1:7-8, for a complete discussion of why this must be Jesus.

Rev 1:8 I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty. (KJV)

God = Jesus in These Verses

Even though it uses the word God in verse 8 in many translations, that verse is not indicating God, but it’s pointing to Jesus. The word that is used there is Theos, which could be God, but it also could be any deity like Christ is. The reason that we say that this is Jesus, is because he identifies himself as the Alpha and the Omega in verse 6, and that name is why this must be Jesus as was determined earlier in the Revelation study.

Beginning & Ending in This Verse = Jesus

In the Rev 1:8 verse, where Jesus uses the same title, we see that most modern translations drop the “beginning and the ending” out of the text. They do that because they know that Jehovah has no beginning and ending and that if the verse did have that in the text, then these titles would belong to Jesus. Not all Greek texts support removing it in Chapter 1, and it’s still in the original textus recepticus used for the King James translation. We see that Chapters 21 and 22, do have “the beginning and the ending” in the text next to Alpha and Omega, so even though they removed it in Chapter 1, they didn’t accomplish their intent of showing that this must be God, because it’s found in the two other places. We remind the reader that God proves all things with two or three witnesses. See the notes on Rev 1:7-8.

“The” God added?

It’s also not clear that the word “the” before God belongs in the text in Rev 1:8. There is some textual evidence that seems to show that it had been added during the controversy over the Trinity doctrine. Rev 1:8 I am the Alpha [even I] and the Omega, [beginning and end] says Lord [the?] God, the being and the was and the coming, the Almighty.

Not Found in Chapter 21

We also note that the title “the God”, is not found in Chapter 21 regarding the Alpha and the Omega. The Sinaitic manuscript in Rev 21:7 says, “I (Jesus) will be (a) god to him, and he (the overcomer) shall be to me a son”. If this verse in the Greek text had the article “ho”, which is “the” in it, then it would be pointing to the Heavenly Father and not to Jesus. But since there is no article before Theos, the text should read “a” god, and with that change we see that the text is pointing to our Lord Jesus.

Beginning & Ending

That he says that he is “the beginning and the end” here, again points to Jesus, since he did have a beginning with the Father in creating all other things. He is also the beginning in the sense that he accomplished God’s salvation on the cross, and he will be the end of the work that the Father has given him by the end of the millennium. It is done, can be rendered “it has occurred”. See Marshalls interlinear.

One other major point for this being Jesus, is that he says that he will give water to drink from the spring of the water of life. There are at least two other scriptures that point directly to Jesus as being the one that will do that, even though he is doing that for the Father.

John 4:14 But whosoever drinks of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life. (KJV)

*John 7:37-38(37 In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink.

38 He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water. (KJV)

Rev 7:17 For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters: and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes. (KJV)

Isa 49:8-10(8 Thus saith the LORD, In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, to establish the earth, to cause to inherit the desolate heritages;

9 That thou may say to the prisoners, Go forth; to them that are in darkness, Shew yourselves. They shall feed in the ways, and their pastures shall be in all high places.

10 They shall not hunger nor thirst; neither shall the heat nor sun smite them: for he that hath mercy on them shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guide them. (KJV)

This Water is Also In Isaiah Chap 55

I will give unto him in verse 6, is future tense, and indicates that this offer is at the beginning of the millennium. The water will be supplied to the world in the next age, and is the same water that we will see in Chapter 22 coming out of the temple.

Isa 55:1-3 (1 "Ho! Everyone who thirsts, come to the waters; And you who have no money come, buy and eat. Come, buy wine and milk Without money and without cost. 2 "Why do you spend money for what is not bread, And your wages for what does not satisfy? Listen carefully to Me, and eat what is good, And delight yourself in abundance. 3 "Incline your ear and come to Me. Listen, that you may live; And I will make an everlasting covenant with you, According to the faithful mercies shown to David. NASU

Christ is the One Who Overcomes

Marshalls interlinear shows that "it is done" is a plural word. It's pointing back to all the things listed in the previous verses, in other words saying that they have all been accomplished or are being accomplished.

Suggested corrected translation: He that overcomes shall inherit these things and I will be to him (a) God and he shall be to me (a) Son.

All the messages to the seven churches talk about him who overcomes, and those who overcome in the seven churches are obviously the faithful church. But here we see that the world will also have to overcome and be restored from their fallen state during the kingdom. Just as the literal nation of Israel was chastened and disciplined during their earlier time as a nation, the same thing will apply again during the kingdom and will include the rest of the world who will be adopted into the nation.

2 Sam 7:14 I will be his father, and he shall be my son. If he commit iniquity, I will chasten him with the rod of men, and with the stripes of the children of men: (KJV)

In verse 7, Rotherham, translates son as being "Father of futurity". Kolenberger translates son as being "Father of everlasting. Being a father here does not prove that this is Jehovah speaking, because we see in Isaiah that Jesus was going to be an everlasting Father.

Isa 9:6 For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. (KJV)

Revelation 21:8

Rev 21:8 "But for the cowardly and unbelieving and abominable and murderers and immoral persons and sorcerers and idolaters and all liars, their part {will be} in the lake that burns with fire and brimstone, which is the second death." (NAU)

Sins causing Failure

The world of mankind during the kingdom, will still be subject to the second death, until they have reached perfection and have passed the test of the little season. To fail that test in the kingdom will result in the second death, and there is no recovery from that death.

Fear triumphs over trust and those who are fearful and unbelieving don't have faith. We don't think that this means that there will be anyone who does not believe that salvation has come, because we know in the next age that the knowledge of God will fill the earth. They evidently don't believe or have faith that they can overcome, and perhaps some won't even try.

The ones that don't overcome the following sins will be of the second death class.

Being abominable is doing things that are going to be considered sin and an Abomination in the next age. Failure to give those kinds of things up will result in failure.

ABOMINABLE, ABOMINATION

This is said of the Image to be set up by Antichrist, <Matt. 24:15; Mark 13:14>; of that which is highly esteemed amongst men, in contrast to its real character in the sight of God, <Luke 16:15>. The constant association with idolatry suggests that what is highly esteemed among men constitutes an idol in the human heart. In <Rev. 21:27>, entrance is forbidden into the Holy City on the part of the unclean, or one who "maketh an Abomination and a lie." It is also used of the contents of the golden cup in the hand of the evil woman described in <Rev. 17:4>, and of the name ascribed to her in the following verse. # (from Vine's Expository Dictionary of Biblical Words)

Idolaters will also not be allowed in the next age. This would not have to be obviously worshipping a false god, but could be of the subtler kind where something besides God has a higher priority, such as money, property, influence, or even following some earthly leader, rather than seeing what God wants.

eidololates <sup>^1496^</sup>, an "idolater" (from eidolon, and latris, "a hireling"), is found in <1 Cor. 5:10,11; 6:9; 10:7>; the warning is to believers against turning away from God to idolatry, whether "openly or secretly, consciously or unconsciously" (Cremer); <Eph. 5:5; Rev. 21:8; 22:15>. # (from Vine's Expository Dictionary of Biblical Words) (Copyright (C) 1985, Thomas Nelson Publishers)

Liars are those who deceive and who pervert the truth. The Greek has the word "all" in it, so that tells us that any form of lying or untruth will not be allowed. Deception or lying will not be allowed in the kingdom anymore, since all things will be revealed. Those who persist in trying to distort the truth, especially about what God is doing in the kingdom, or who make arguments against restrictions that the kingdom has put upon them, will be removed from the kingdom. This will especially occur in the little season, if those types of persons spread Satan's new deceptions at that time.

In summary, we see that all things that are evil and which cause harm to others, must be overcome, or the one harboring any of these wrong ideas will fail in the second death. The means to overcome the faults will be provided in the next age, and Satan will not be there trying to corrupt the people, and so that will make it much easier. The Holy spirit will provide direct help for any that are having difficulty with old habits, and any physical defects will be corrected, so that there will be nothing that can't be overcome. All mental illness and any physical causes of such illness will be corrected. All persons will be restored to complete physical health during the kingdom, so that there will be nothing that will hold anyone back.

Revelation 21:9

Rev 21:9 Then one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls full of the seven last plagues came and spoke with me, saying, "Come here, I will show you the bride, the wife of the Lamb." (NAU)

Bride = New Jerusalem

Here we are shown the bride or wife of Christ, and we find that the bride is symbolized as being on a high mountain or "kingdom", and it is also seen as the New Jerusalem, which is God's government. The completion of the church is what has completed the heavenly New Jerusalem, and that completed city contains the tabernacle which is the source of the salvation for the world. In Galatians Chapter 4, Paul tells the church that the Jerusalem above is our mother, and during the Gospel Age it was symbolic of the heavenly portion of the Abrahamic covenant, and that is where the church gets its salvation from. Now that the church is complete, God's Plan is ready for the second portion of the Abrahamic covenant, and the earthly blessings contained in it are going to come to the world.

New Jerusalem Comes Down When Church Complete

That the New Jerusalem that is coming down from heaven is now being described as the bride of Christ, shows that the completed church was necessary before the world could be blessed. The completed church is not only described as the bride of Christ, but she is also a key part making up the symbol of the New Jerusalem, which represents God's kingdom arrangement, and the salvation that will come down to the earth. The Abrahamic Covenant, brings life to the world through the sand of the seashore portion of the Abrahamic covenant. The symbol of the city, is the protection that the world gets through the blessing of the covenants that makes that salvation possible.

To confirm that the church is complete at the time the New Jerusalem comes down to the earth, the angel shows us the Lamb's wife or the completed church in verse 9. That is why the next thing that we are shown by the angel, is the New Jerusalem coming down from heaven to the earth ready to begin the kingdom restoration.

Isa 61:10 I will greatly rejoice in the LORD, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decked himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorned herself with her jewels. (KJV)

Rev 21:10 And he carried me away in the Spirit to a great and high mountain, and showed me the holy city, Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God,

Table of Similarities to Ezekiel Temple

This section of Revelation has several parallels with the temple in Ezekiel, and so we have made a table that shows those similarities. We think that Ezekiel's temple, while seeming to be different in some things, is showing us the same thing as Revelation, as we will see later in our discussion. The symbolism in both places, points to the same lessons in both books— even if it uses different symbolism in each place. See table on next page.

Rev 21:11 Having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal;	Ezek 1:27-28 (27 And I saw as the color of amber, as the appearance of fire round about within it, from the appearance of his loins even upward, and from the appearance of his loins even downward, I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and it had brightness round about. 28 As the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the LORD. And when I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake. (KJV)
Rev 21:12 And had a wall great and high, and had twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel: Rev 21:13 On the east three gates; on the north three gates; on the south three gates; and on the west three gates. (KJV)	Ezek 48:31-34 (31 And the gates of the city shall be after the names of the tribes of Israel: three gates northward; one gate of Reuben, one gate of Judah, one gate of Levi. 32 And at the east side four thousand and five hundred: and three gates; and one gate of Joseph, one gate of Benjamin, one gate of Dan. 33 And at the south side four thousand and five hundred measures: and three gates; one gate of Simeon, one gate of Issachar, one gate of Zebulun. 34 At the west side four thousand and five hundred, with their three gates; one gate of Gad, one gate of Asher, one gate of Naphtali. (KJV)
Rev 21:15 And he that talked with me had a golden reed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.	Ezek 40:3-4 (3 And he brought me thither, and, behold, there was a man, whose appearance was like the appearance of brass, with a line of flax in his hand, and a measuring reed; and he stood in the gate. 4 And the man said unto me, Son of man, behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thine heart upon all that I shall shew thee; for to the intent that I might shew them unto thee art thou brought hither: declare all that thou seest to the house of Israel. (KJV)
Rev 21:16 The city was laid out like a square, as long as it was wide. He measured the city with the rod and found it to be 12,000 stadia in length, and as wide and high as it is long. (NIV)	Ezek 48:16 "These {shall be} its measurements: the north side 4,500 {cubits} the south side 4,500 {cubits} the east side 4,500 {cubits} and the west side 4,500 {cubits.} (NAU)
Rev 21:17 He measured its wall and it was 144 cubits thick, by man's measurement, which the angel was using. (NIV)	Ezek 40:5 And behold, there was a wall on the outside of the temple all around, and in the man's hand was a measuring rod of six cubits, {each of which was} a cubit and a handbreadth. So he measured the thickness of the wall, one rod; and the height, one rod. (NAU)
Rev 22:1-2 (1 Then the angel showed me the river of the water of life, as clear as crystal, flowing from the throne of God and of the Lamb 2 down the middle of the great street of the city. On each side of the river stood the tree of life, bearing twelve crops of fruit, yielding its fruit every month. And the leaves of the tree are for the healing of the nations. (NIV)	Ezek 47:1 Then he brought me back to the door of the house; and behold, water was flowing from under the threshold of the house toward the east, for the house faced east. And the water was flowing down from under, from the right side of the house, from south of the altar. (NAU) Ezek 47:7 Now when I had returned, behold, on the bank of the river there {were} very many trees on the one side and on the other. (NAU) Ezek 47:9 "It will come about that every living creature which swarms in every place where the river goes, will live. And there will be very many fish, for these waters go there and {the others} become fresh; so everything will live where the river goes.

Similarities Between Prophecies

Both cities have a wall around them, and they both had 12 gates, and both cities were square. In both places, we have an angel measuring the city with a reed or rod, which symbolizes a testing and proving of all who are in the city by the divine standard. In both places, we see a river of water coming out of the city, bringing life which is for the healing of the nations.

The glory of God is shown in both tabernacles, and the Cherubim on top of the mercy seat are not seen any more in Ezekiel's temple. That shows that they are not blocking the way to the trees of life anymore, like they were when they were stationed at the gate of Eden, and when they were seen in the two earlier tabernacles—the wilderness, and the rebuilt temple after the return from Babylon, which the First Advent temple was also a later iteration of.

Bible Chronology Confirms 1878

In the 1845-year chronology pattern that we have shown earlier in this book, and in the book the Divine Plan and its Chronology, we noted that the wing of the fourth and last living creature, as seen in Chapters 1, verses 9-11 of Ezekiel, reaches to 1878AD. That indicates that the harvest time church was right in believing that the sleeping saints began to be raised on that date.

That the water of life and the tree of life are seen in both Ezekiel's temple and here in Revelation 21 & 22, shows the curse being lifted. The way in both places is opened to the fruit and the leaves of the tree of life, which will restore all who are willing back to perfection and life.

Prince Coming in Shows Door Shut

We also see in the Ezekiel's temple description, that when the prince came in from the east, the door was shut. That shows that the Ancient Worthies, as represented in the symbol of the prince, will come to the world at the time that the door to the high calling is shut. This vision shows us that when the church is complete, and Christ head and body comes to the world, then there will be no more call for the high calling. The door to the high calling will be shut before the Millennial age can begin.

Sons Zadok Equals Faithful Saints

We see the faithful sons of Zadok described in Ezekiel Chapter 44, and they picture the faithful 144,000. We also find a description of the unfaithful Levites and what they did wrong, and we see from the description found there that they picture the Great Company. The third class of salvation for the world is also shown there, because the people are mentioned separately from the Levites. It tells us that the failed Levites will minister to the people, but that the failed Levites will not be able to directly approach God like the faithful Sons of Zadok will be able to. The fourth class shown in that Chapter is the prince who represents the Ancient Worthies.

Jasper or Diamond

The gemstone seen making up the city here in Revelation, is a clear stone, which represents the glory of God. It would seem that it has to be clear, because being bright and clear, it would transmit the most light. That would picture clarity of character and hardness or fixed character, which fits God perfectly, because of his character is perfect and unchanging.

This stone is most likely a diamond, since the jasper of today is not a clear stone. Chalcedony is another possibility, but it comes in a variety of colors, including clear. Diamond is the hardest naturally occurring material, and is very valuable, and so that is what we think this material has to be. The clearer and brighter a diamond is, the more valuable it is. This diamond material is obviously without any flaws and is perfect. It would also show that God does not change, but that his character is fixed and unchangeable—as pictured by the hardness of the diamond.

Revelation 21:12-14

Rev 21:12 It had a great and high wall, with twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels; and names {were} written on them, which are {the names} of the twelve tribes of the sons of Israel.

Rev 21:13 {There were} three gates on the east and three gates on the north and three gates on the south and three gates on the west.

Rev 21:14 And the wall of the city had twelve foundation stones, and on them {were} the twelve names of the twelve Apostles of the Lamb. (NAU)

12 Gates = All Israel Spiritual & Literal

That there are twelve gates, shows us that all of Israel is represented, and that they all will be saved if they are willing, as Paul tells us in Romans. The Gentile world will also be able to enter the gates, but only by being adopted into the twelve tribes of Israel.

Ezek 47:21-23 (21 "You are to distribute this land among yourselves according to the tribes of Israel. 22 You are to allot it as an inheritance for yourselves and for the aliens who have settled among you and who have children. You are to consider them as native-born Israelites; along with you they are to be allotted an inheritance among the tribes of Israel. 23 In whatever tribe the alien settles, there you are to give him his inheritance," declares the Sovereign LORD. NIV

The reference here is descriptive of the spiritual Israelites, because of the term children of Israel. In Revelation Chapter 7, we see that the list is different, because two of the tribes are shown as failing, regarding the 144,000. There weren't 12000 from Dan in Revelation Chapter 7, because he pictures second death. In Ephraim, again in Chapter 7, we see the same thing, in that there weren't 12000 selected from them either, because that tribe represents the Great Company.

The twelve original tribes, as selected by Ezekiel, would seem to fit with the earthly salvation better, because the original promise to Abraham would come down through those 12 sons.

Original promise of blessing to Jacob, which comes from Abrahamic root. Original tribes' picture completed salvation to the world. That is shown by this same list in Ezekiel's temple which pictures the salvation of the earthly kingdom. Ezek Chapter 48	Levi couldn't inherit because of being priestly class. Joseph was picture of Christ who gave up his earthly inheritance in order to establish a spiritual house. Gen 49:22-26	Dan was removed because he pictures the second death class. He was like a serpent who caused the rider to fall backwards off his horse. Gen 49:17  Ephraim was not one of the original 12 sons, but he was named in the Numbers Chapter 2 list. Ephraim pictures those who went astray and who began to sin and worship idols. They picture the Great Company because God removed them from their inheritance and they never returned to that inheritance like Judah did.  That Ephraim was not one of the original tribes may picture for us that the Great Company was not a deliberate part of God's Plan like the 144,000 or the earthly class, but that as a class it was added so that those who would fail could have salvation and life.

The Golden Rod

The golden rod that was used to measure the gates and the wall, is a divine standard of judgment. In Rev Chapter 11, we saw the same measuring rod, and there it was used to measure the temple of God, the altar, and those who worshiped there. In that Chapter, it was different, in that it was the Divine standard to which the Gospel Age church had to measure up to. There the angel was told not to measure the court without, because it was given to the Gentiles. That showed in symbolism, that the world was not under judgment yet at that time. In Ezekiel's temple, we see all the nation's being brought into God's kingdom, and that is why we see the same Golden Rod this time, measuring the wall and the city in Revelation. It's now time for the world to be uplifted, so that they can in the end measure up to God's standards as represented in the golden rod, so that they can receive everlasting life.

Separate Wall in Both Prophecies

In Ezekiel, we see that there is a separate wall about the city, separate from the central temple, and we think that the same thing is true here. The foundation stones which represent the 12 Apostles, would be in the base of that wall. If you place one on each corner, and then place two equally spaced in between the corners, making twelve, the foundation stones would make three openings on each side. Those would be where we believe that the pearly gates, and the angels are located. The angels at the gates, are pictured as gatekeepers, who keep out those who don't want to give up sin and error. To enter through the outer gates, the people must want to give up all the things that have made the present world a bad place to live.

That is not saying that that they must be perfect when they begin to enter in, but they must have a consecrated heart to want to overcome, and that begins their walk into the city courtyard, which leads to their restoration from the trees of life and the water of life. Once they accept the kingdom, the Lord and the church will be able to work with them, and they will be covered by Christ's blood for the things that they can't do, so that by the end of the kingdom, they will be able to pass the final test. The list of sins that we gave definitions for a little earlier in these notes, is a good example of some of the things that must be overcome.

12 Gates Represents 12 Different Personalities For Helping Similar People

With the names of each tribe on the gates, we see that each could represent a different type of personality. That is like when the Lord chose different personality traits for each of the Apostles, and he then pairing opposites with each other to balance their strengths and weaknesses. In this picture, we think that the 12 tribes named in Chapter 7, are the tribes that make up the 12 gates. Each division of the sons of Jacob, with their positive features and their faults, are described by Jacob at his final blessing, and those same characteristics seem to apply to the 12 divisions of the completed church. That makes it possible for any type of person to find a niche or tribe that matches their personality, where they could overcome whatever their bad personality faults were. Depending on whatever type of person you are, you would be grafted into that tribe, and enter by that gate. Those of the 144,000, that are of that spiritual tribe, would have had the same weaknesses that they had to overcome during the Gospel Age, and those experiences would qualify them to help others with similar problems.

Have to Come Symbolically to City For Help of Kingdom

To be blessed, the people must come up to the city and begin to enter in through the gates of the wall. If they don't voluntarily come to the city, they will not receive the salvation and blessings of the kingdom. Zechariah has a couple of good references that tells us that whoever is left of Israel's enemies must come to Jerusalem to get the blessing. If they don't, there will be no rain on them or no blessing.

Zech 14:16-19 (16 Then it will come about that any who are left of all the nations that went against Jerusalem will go up from year to year to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, and to celebrate the Feast of Booths.

17 And it will be that whichever of the families of the earth does not go up to Jerusalem to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, there will be no rain on them.

18 And if the family of Egypt does not go up or enter, then no {rain will fall} on them; it will be the plague with which the LORD smites the nations who do not go up to celebrate the Feast of Booths.

19 This will be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all the nations who do not go up to celebrate the Feast of Booths. (NAS)

Zech 8:22-23(22 'So many peoples and mighty nations will come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem and to entreat the favor of the LORD.'

23 "Thus says the LORD of hosts, 'In those days ten men from all the nations will grasp the garment of a Jew saying, "Let us go with you, for we have heard that God is with you."'"(NAS)

The city is in the same arrangement that the tabernacle of the wilderness was in, in that three of the tribes camped on each side. The foundation of the church is the 12 Apostles, and they are represented in the foundation stones of the wall. In the drawing, we have not placed the names of the Apostles upon the foundation stones. It's not certain if there is any reasoning by which we could determine where to place the names, nor does it look like it would be important, because the scriptures don't tell us the order. Since we don't know for sure, we have left the names off.

Revelation 21:15-18

Rev 21:15 The one who spoke with me had a gold measuring rod to measure the city, and its gates and its wall.

Rev 21:16 And the city lieth foursquare, and the length is as large as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs. The length and the breadth and the height of it are equal.

Rev 21:17 And he measured the wall thereof, an hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of the angel.

Rev 21:18 The material of the wall was jasper; and the city was pure gold, like clear glass. (NAU)

The Golden Rod

The gold measuring rod, is the divine standard of judgment that is used during the Millennial age. Everyone must measure up to that standard to pass the testing of the little season. That the rod is gold, indicates that it's of a Divine origin. We see the same measuring rod being used in Ezekiel's temple, and all the numbers revealed there are significant numbers pointing to salvation in the kingdom.

City is Cube With Courtyard

The city is built like a cube. If you take the length of the lines of the cube, there are 12 x 12,000 furlongs, which equals 144,000. The area of one wall of the cube of the city would be 144,000,000 square furlongs. That would seem to indicate the 144,000 protecting and restoring the world for 1000 years. 144,000 x 1000. As time goes on, we believe that there are other calculations that belong to the dimensions of this city that will bring out its symbolic meaning.

See the diagram of the city on the next page.

The New Jerusalem

25 Cubits at an inch per Year

Ezek 40:5 = 25 inch cubit at 1 inch per year

(144 cubits = 100 + 40 + 4) This is how the numbers are written and separated in the Greek text.

(100 X 25 = 2500 = 50 X 50 = Jubilee) This points to 1874AD as the beginning of the times of restitution.

(40 X 25 = 1000 = Millennium) This shows that the restoration of all things will end at the end of the 1000 years.

(4 X 25 = 100 = Isaiah 65:20 Only incorrigible sinners die this young.)

Taking only the 100 + 40 cubits together we get an interesting number.

140 X 25 = 3500 = Midpoint of the 7000 Years = Hab 3:2 Revive thy work in the midst of the years. (-626.25 + 2500 = 1873.75 or Oct 1874AD) or (-626.25 + 3500 = 2873.75AD.

See the book "The Divine Plan of the Ages and its Chronology" for the importance of Hab 3:2 and the midpoint of the years.

It's not clear if 144 cubits is the height of the wall or the thickness or both. In the Ezekiel account, it was both the thickness and the height of the wall which was indicated in that temple, so that's likely the same here. See the diagram of Ezekiel's temple at the end of the notes on this Chapter, for some more interesting lessons.

As we have drawn the city above, we see that the world will be in the courtyard, and not in the cube of the New Jerusalem itself, which would contain the Holy and Most Holy in the tabernacle, because the Lamb and the Heavenly Father are there. That the actual length of the wall is not given, has an important lesson for us. That we don't have the length of the outer wall, shows that the salvation of God is unlimited, and that his tent or tabernacle can expand to cover any number of people who come in, as is mentioned in Isaiah Chapter 54:2. The Heavenly Father would have all men saved, if possible. Galatians Chapter 4, quotes from Isaiah Chapter 54, regarding the salvation that Christ secured at the First Advent. That reference, shows the tent of God's salvation expanding to include all who are willing, in both the Gospel age and in the next age. Isa 54:2 "Enlarge the place of your tent; stretch out the curtains of your dwellings, spare not; Lengthen your cords, and strengthen your pegs. (NAS)

A Cubit of Seven Handbreadths

The 25-inch cubit used in Ezekiel, was a handbreadth larger than normal, for a total of seven hands breadths rather than six. The original Egyptian cubit, which Israel most likely used, was about 20.24 cubits long. They also had a longer royal cubit, which the "Cyclopedia of Biblical, theological, and ecclesiastical literature, Volume 2, By John McClintock, James Strong" on page 598, lists as being 21.888 inches. Schaff-Herzog encyclopedia page 288, gives the longer cubit at 21.6 inches. So, we can see that we know the approximate dimensions of the different cubits, but not the exact dimension of a royal cubit.

Sir Isaac Newton, in his dissertation on the cubits, claimed that the sacred cubit of the Israelites, equaled approximately 25 British inches. Great Pyramid Passages, vol. 1, page 22-26, establishes that the sacred cubit is 25 Pyramid inches, of which each pyramid inch is .999 of a British inch. Using the 25-inch x .999, we get 24.975 British inches for the length of the sacred cubit.

Checking to see if the 24.975 number is a reasonable length, we see that the normal cubit had 6 handbreadths in it, and the Ezekiel cubit said that it was a handbreadth longer than normal. That would make it a total of seven handbreadths for the Ezekiel sacred cubit. If we take 7 handbreadths, for each one of Ezekiel's sacred cubits, we get  $24.975/7 = 3.5678$  inches as a handbreadth. As a test, we can then take the 6 handbreadths of the normal cubit times 3.5678 inches and we get 21.407 inches which is very close to the 21.6 estimate given above by Schaff-Herzog encyclopedia, for the normal longer cubit. That is less than .2 of an inch difference, so the 25-inch sacred cubit figure given above is reasonable.

It makes sense, that Ezekiel's cubit was 7 hands breadths long, since seven is a perfect spiritual number, and six is an earthly number. Some try to make the larger sacred cubit in Ezekiel the same size as Israel's longer cubit, which was about 21.6 inches, but we believe that this cubit was a special heavenly measure, and not a man's measure. Each rod was a normal cubit of six handbreadths + one more handbreadth = seven. Going by the numbers above, each measuring rod was then 25 pyramid inches.

Ezek 40:5 And behold, there was a wall on the outside of the temple all around, and in the man's hand was a measuring rod of six cubits, {each of which was} a cubit and a handbreadth. So he measured the thickness of the wall, one rod; and the height, one rod. (NAS)

In the book “The Divine Plan and its Chronology”, by using the prophetic 25-inch cubit, we show that the measurements of Ezekiel’s temple is indicating the salvation in the Millennial kingdom. We also saw in that book, that using that 25-inch prophetic cubit, the wilderness tabernacle, and even Solomon’s temple, we had measurements that indicated numbers that pointed to kingdom salvation. For example, we get from the dimensions of the wilderness tabernacle buildings, some very interesting numbers. We get, 2500 or 50 x 50, 1000, 7000, 6000, 40, and much more. Solomon’s temple, which was built much later than the tabernacle, likewise indicates the same kinds of measurements that point to the kingdom salvation.

Using that same concept here in Revelation, we again get some very interesting results. The number 144, as written in the Greek text, is separated into 100 and 40 and 4 cubits. Using the prophetic 25-inch cubit at an inch per year, we get “100” x 25 = 2500 or the 50 x 50 Jubilee. If we take “40” x 25 = 1000 we get the length of the Millennial kingdom. The “4” x 25 = Isa 65:20 and the 100 years that everyone gets as a trial period, before being removed if incorrigible.

Isa 65:19-20 (19 I will rejoice over Jerusalem and take delight in my people; the sound of weeping and of crying will be heard in it no more.

20 "Never again will there be in it an infant who lives but a few days, or an old man who does not live out his years; he who dies at a hundred will be thought a mere youth; he who fails to reach a hundred will be considered accursed. (NIV)

In our discussion of where the people of the world are in this city, we noted that they are most likely only in the court, and that the spiritual class is the only ones allowed in the cube of the building, because that is where the tabernacle of God is located. The dimensions of the wall seem to confirm that. The numbers of 2500, 1000, 100 that are represented in the 144 cubits, seem to show that mankind must manage to come into the city through the gates in the wall, and be restored during the time that the Lord has allocated. If they don’t enter the city in time, they will not be saved, because they must enter soon enough so they can be perfected by the time of the little season—at the end of the millennium.

If we don’t use the 4 cubits of the 100-year trial period, but only the two numbers that are indicating salvation, we get 140 x 25 = 3500 years. It’s 3500 years from the fall in the garden, to the midpoint of the 7000 years. From the midpoint of the years, to the end of the millennium, is 3500 years.

Hab 3:2 LORD, I have heard the report about Thee {and} I fear. O LORD, revive Thy work in the midst of the years, in the midst of the years make it known; in wrath remember mercy. (NAS)

The midpoint of the years, is the central pivot point for the 1845, (1260 - 2520), and 2500-year chronology patterns that are shown in the book, “The Divine Plan and its Chronology”. Those patterns show judgment, the illegal dominion of Papacy and the legal dominion of Christ ruling in the Millennial age, and the salvation of the Jubilee in which all willing will be restored. Even though God brings judgment with the 1845 year Ezekiel patterns, he also remembers mercy as seen in the times of restitution that comes from the anti-typical Jubilee fulfillment of the 2500 years.

Transparent Gold

A question came up regarding gold: Is there such a thing as transparent gold? We did find that if gold is thin enough, it can be transparent, since it has a crystalline structure. We also found that when gold leaf is placed in contact with glass, and heated to a high temperature, it becomes transparent. Gold can be beaten into a transparent gold foil (0.00013 mm thick), over 500 times thinner than a human hair.

We did some research on the Greek words to see if they were translated correctly, and it appears that there is no problem with the translation. Verses 18 and 21, use two different words for transparent, so it appears correct that this gold can be seen through. Verse 18 is transparent, and verse 21 is: di-aph-a-nous (d-f-n s)adj. 1. Of such fine texture as to be transparent or translucent: diaphanous tulle. 2. Characterized by delicacy of form.

People Outside Can See Salvation Within

The gold in this city and its streets, is unusual in that it can be seen through, or at least let light through. We need to remember that this city is symbolic of the kingdom and government of God, and thus the world will not actually see a literal city come down to the earth that is made of transparent gold, and so we believe that it has a symbolic lesson to teach us. That the city is of Divine origin, shows that the salvation pictured in the city comes from God. That the gold is transparent, would seem to indicate that on that day, those who are outside the city, will be able to look within and see the benefits that they will get on the inside. In other words, God’s truth and plan will be clear and transparent, so that there is no doubt about the wonderful blessing that any who work to come into the city will get.

That the wall of the city is of jasper or diamond that is clear as glass, also shows that the plan of God will be seen to be crystal clear at that time—because the divine light shines through it. That will make it easy for everyone outside of God’s arrangement to see what wonderful things he has prepared for all mankind and the decision to enter into that salvation should be easy. If anyone refuses, like Zechariah chapter 14 implies that there will be some, then any failure will be on their own head.

Revelation 21:19-20

Rev 21:19 The foundation stones of the city wall were adorned with every kind of precious stone. The first foundation stone was jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, chalcedony; the fourth, emerald;

Rev 21:20 the fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, topaz; the tenth, chrysoprase; the eleventh, jacinth; the twelfth, amethyst. (NAU)

Three stones

Isa 54:11-12 (11 O thou afflicted, tossed with tempest, and not comforted, behold, I will lay thy stones with fair colors, and lay thy foundations with sapphires.

12 And I will make thy windows of agates, and thy gates of carbuncles, and all thy borders of pleasant stones. (KJV)

9 Stones + gold

Ezek 28:13 Thou hast been in Eden the garden of God; every precious stone was thy covering, the sardius, topaz, and the diamond, the beryl, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold: the workmanship of thy tabrets and of thy pipes was prepared in thee in the day that thou wast created. (KJV)

3+9 = 12

12 Precious Foundation Stones

We saw above in the diagram of the city, that the foundation of the wall that surrounds the city was laid on top of the foundation of the twelve Apostles who brought the salvation, and the foundation of God's Plan which saves the church first, and now here we see the city coming down to the world in the Millennial age, so that it can save and restore the world. These precious stones are most likely the same ones that were on the breastplate of the high priest, since they were numbered for the twelve tribes of Israel.

Identity of Jem's Uncertain

Others have tried to match these gems up with those of the breastplate, but we are not going to do that, because the names of the gems have changed so much over the years, and so it's uncertain as to what each of them are. It's possible that could be done if we put a lot of effort into it, but the important thing is that they are most likely the same as the 12 gems of the high priest, and that they have now been magnified into the greater and antitypical salvation that is shown here.

The 12 Apostles may also represent 12 different personality types that the world will fit under in the kingdom, as we mentioned earlier. That is why we see all of them as different stones. They were all valuable to the Lord, but because of different purposes—thus the different types stones.

World Will Be Grafted into 12 Tribes

We see that the world will be grafted into the twelve tribes, as shown in Ezekiel Chapter 47, where it says that the strangers that live in your midst, shall inherit according to the tribe that they live in. So, as the people of the world are grafted into Israel, they will be placed into whatever tribe fits their personality or needs the best.

Ezek 47:21-23 (21 So shall ye divide this land unto you according to the tribes of Israel.

22 And it shall come to pass, that ye shall divide it by lot for an inheritance unto you, and to the strangers that sojourn among you, which shall beget children among you: and they shall be unto you as born in the country among the children of Israel; they shall have inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel.

23 And it shall come to pass, that in what tribe the stranger sojourned, there shall ye give him his inheritance, saith the Lord GOD. (KJV)

Lord's Jewels Are Faithful Church

We are also reminded that the Lord was going to make up his jewels in that day, and they are those who were his faithful servants and that is what we see pictured here in the foundation of the city wall.

Mal 3:16-18 (16 Then they that feared the LORD spake often one to another: and the LORD hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the LORD, and that thought upon his name.

17 And they shall be mine, saith the LORD of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels; and I will spare them, as a man spared his own son that served him.

18 Then shall ye return, and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that served God and him that served him not. (KJV)

The wall and the city and the salvation that they represent, are the fulfillment of the types that had been hidden in the law and in the construction of the wilderness tabernacle. God's Plans have become clearer and are much greater than man has ever thought of. As time has gone on, during this time of the end, the magnification of the knowledge of God's plans has become clearer and greater.

Cherubim Change From Tabernacle to Tabernacle

The differences from the wilderness tabernacle, to Solomon's temple, pictured the change from the law to the Gospel Age. In Solomon's temple, the Cherubim changed from facing each other, to facing outward, to bless all those who entered the new and living way during the Gospel Age. They also moved behind the mercy seat to the back of the Most Holy, to make it clear that the way was open to the faithful church to follow our Lord through the veil into the Most Holy, only if those who entered believed in the blood of the New Covenant— that is what opened the way. The blood that was placed on the mercy seat at the First Advent, was how the way was opened. The Cherubim are watching, so that no one tries to enter in by any way other than by Christ.

In Ezekiel's temple, which pictures the Millennial age, we see that the Cherubim are gone, and they are not blocking the way to life anymore. Remember that the Cherubim were placed at the gate of the garden to guard the way so that no one could get to the tree of life. Because they are gone, the world will be able to enter the gates of the city and receive salvation when the church is complete. In the Millennial age, the world will be able to use the fruit and the leaves of the trees in the courtyard, to be healed and restored. In the New Jerusalem, the Lord and the church are on the throne with Jehovah who is above the mercy seat, and the water of life is flowing out to the world in the courtyard—bringing life. Ezekiel's temple and the New Jerusalem seen here in Revelation, have enough similarities, so that we can know that they are showing us the same thing, but from two different viewpoints. See the comparison table in the comments on verse 10.

Revelation 21:21

Rev 21:21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls; each one of the gates was a single pearl. And the street of the city was pure gold, like transparent glass. (NAU)

That the street of the city was of pure gold, shows in symbol that it is of Divine origin. Those who think that the city is valuable, because of the literal gold in it, have missed the important message of this vision. The street of gold that is seen here in the city, points us to the highway of holiness which is found in Isaiah Chapter 35—which the world of mankind must walk upon, and make progress in order to attain the full benefits of the kingdom. It is a divine street or highway, that all who would be restored and saved, must get upon and begin their walk to the promised land.

Gates of Pearl

See Reprint 1756 on pearls. A pearl in nature is formed from an irritation caused by sand, and because of the irritation the oyster forms protective layers of pearl over the sand. Remember the parable of the field and of the pearl given by our Lord. In the first parable, the Lord bought the whole field, to get the treasure of great price, which was the world. In the second parable, the man sold all that he had, to buy the pearl of great price—which was the church. Those two parables represent the Divine Plan of the Ages, which has two salvations in them, salvation for the world and salvation for the church.

Matt 13:44-46 (44 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant man, seeking goodly pearls:

46 Who, when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

The 12 tribes, that are assigned to the gates, are not the literal tribes of Israel, but are the 12 tribes named in Rev Chapter 7. Each of the 12 tribes represents 12000 saints, or 144,000 saints in total. The entire church had to suffer and overcome sin throughout their entire lives, and in their overcoming of the sinful irritation of the world, they have become beautiful like pearls. The individual's irritants of sin, and the overcoming of the world, are covered over with the pearl-like substance that formed from their resistance to those irritants. Remember that the church must overcome the world, the flesh and the devil. Their suffering has covered them with beauty, and because of that, the suffering that they endured will be looked on as a badge of honor. The pearl material that was formed during the lives of the 144,000, is what symbolically makes up the gates of the city.

The 144,000, are in symbol pictured as the pearly gates, because they will be there with their experiences of overcoming, so that they can help the world overcome similar sins. The experiences that the church had in overcoming the world, the flesh and the Devil, are how they will be able to help the world in the next age pass through the gates, because their experience will show others how to overcome the same kinds of sins.

Don't Forget Day of Atonement

The help that the church will be able to bring to the world, is pictured by the sin offering on the Day of Atonement. We see not only our Lord's experiences being offered to help the world in the next age, but we see that the church follows in his footsteps, and by the things that they overcame and suffered, they likewise can help the world in the next age overcome. In the 144,000, it will be possible to find someone who has had the same kind of experience with a certain kind of sin and who had to learn to overcome it. Because of that, there will not be anyone in the world who will be able to say that they have any problems that someone else has not overcome already. Because the members of the 144,000, will have had personal experience in overcoming all types of sin, they will be able to help the world overcome the same types of things.

We also see, that there were twelve gates in the original and literal city of Jerusalem, as recorded in the Companion Bible, on page 84 of the appendixes.

Revelation 21:22-27

Rev 21:22 I saw no temple in it, for the Lord God the Almighty and the Lamb are its temple.

Rev 21:23 And the city has no need of the sun or of the moon to shine on it, for the glory of God has illumined it, and its lamp {is} the Lamb.

Rev 21:24 The nations will walk by its light, and the kings of the earth will bring their glory into it.

Rev 21:25 In the daytime (for there will be no night there) its gates will never be closed;

Rev 21:26 and they will bring the glory and the honor of the nations into it;

Rev 21:27 and nothing unclean, and no one who practices Abomination and lying, shall ever come into it, but only those whose names are written in the Lamb's book of life. (NAU)

More On the City

Both the street and the city are made of gold. The city is also constructed by the completion of the 144,000, who each fit into a particular niche in the city. All of the church has the divine nature, and that is another reason that we see that it's constructed of gold, since gold is symbolic of the divine nature.

This city is a place to meet with God, but it doesn't need a literal earthly temple, because God and the Lamb are there. In the world, the most prominent building in a city was always the church building, but here you don't have that, you have the cube of the 144,000 in the center. A temple without God and the Lamb, would be nothing, but if you have God and the Lamb, you have the true temple of God. In the original temples, they always had an inner room to conceal God from the people, whether he was there or not, but in this city, God and Jesus will be there, and will be able to answer questions or issue instructions. So, you won't need an earthly temple building to indicate that they are there, because they will be obviously there.

Just as in the original tabernacle, the people will not be allowed into the inner part of the city, where they can directly see God. Only Christ and the 144,000 will be able to approach him directly, just as Moses did in the original tabernacle, and they will bring any communication from God out to the people. Ezek 48:35 It was round about eighteen thousand measures: and the name of the city from that day shall be, The LORD is there. (KJV)

Where Are the People in the City?

Where would the people be in the Revelation picture? As we have studied this, it appears most likely that the world will not be in the cube part of the city itself, because that is where the true heavenly tabernacle is located that Christ is the high priest of. That thought is contrary to what most think, but the inner cube part appears to be reserved for the Lord, the 144,000 and the Great Company. Even the Great Company, will not be allowed to come directly before God and be on the throne, but they will only be able to be before the throne and do the service of the people, which would most likely correspond to the Holy of the original tabernacle. It doesn't say that the people of the nations will enter the cube of the city—it only says that they will walk by the light of it.

By the city, we are talking about the cube-shaped part of the building, not the court which is inside the outer wall and between it and the city. We get that thought from Ezekiel's temple that has an outer wall, and then inside there is a temple complex. The church can only enter the inner court yard, but not into the temple building itself, as described in Ezekiel.

In the courtyard, there will be the river of water that is flowing from the throne, and the trees of life that will be growing on either side of the banks of the water. The world will only have access to the fruit and the leaves of the tree, and not the tree itself, which pictures immortality. Only the 144,000 will have full access to the tree of life. In agreement with the above thoughts about where the people are, we see in Ezekiel's temple, that the people can come into the inner courtyard next to the Holy and Most Holy, but they are not to be allowed into the innermost part of the temple, which corresponds to the cube-shaped part that we see here in Revelation. The street that is seen in the courtyard, is the highway of holiness that is mentioned in Isaiah Chapter 35.

Must Cross Courtyard in Ezekiel's Temple

To get to the inner court of Ezekiel's temple, we see that the people must cross an outer courtyard which is 100 cubits wide. Taking the sacred cubit of 25 x 100, we get 2500 years or 50 x 50 which indicates the Jubilee. The 2500 Jubilee counting from the midst of the years, points to the 1000 years of the times of restitution. Building off of that information, in 1874 AD we see that there were only 20 Jubilee cycles left in 1874 AD, of the original 70. If we take 20 x 50 we get 1000. That lesson is parallel to and teaches the same thing that the 144 cubits do, where we saw that those numbers represent 2500, 1000 and 100. The Jubilee cycle, points to 1874AD as the point at which the times of restitution began, and that there will be 1000 years for the restoration of mankind to be completed starting then.

Crossing Courtyard Pictures Process of Restitution

To get to the inner courtyard that Ezekiel's temple shows us, the world must bring themselves up to perfection through the process of restitution, and they will have the entire time of the kingdom to do it. If they don't bring themselves up to perfection, they will not get into the inner courtyard which symbolizes coming back into harmony with God. Being in that restored condition will guarantee them life rights, such as what Adam had in the garden. If they don't attain the perfection of that goal, they will fall in the little season.

Golden Street Equals Highway of Holiness

That they walk by the light of this city, again reminds us of the world walking up the highway of holiness or path of salvation that is found in Isaiah Chapter 35, which the world of mankind must get up one.

The Kings of the Earth

The traditional view, is that the kings in this Chapter of Revelation, are the Ancient Worthies. That at first glance would seem to make sense, in that they will be the rulers on the earth in the next age, while the church will be in heavens. But contrary to that, we see that the Ancient Worthies definition for the kings, does have several problems, one of which is that they are called “princes” and “not kings” in the Bible. In Ezekiel’s temple, we see the “prince” who comes in from the sun rising, and that symbol of a prince refers to the Ancient Worthies—who will be civil rulers in the kingdom.

The second problem with the interpretation of the kings here as Ancient Worthies, is that there are only two different uses of the title of kings in the entire book of Revelation. The first interpretation, is regarding the ten kings, who join up with the beast and who oppose the Lamb. The second one, is the faithful 144,000, who will live and reign with the Lord during the Millennial age. So, we can see that of the two different uses of the symbol kings given in the book of Revelation, neither of them is the Ancient Worthies.

If we look at the possibility that the kings of the earth that are mentioned here, are not the Ancient Worthies, but are the 144,000, we get a little better result, but as we will see there are some problems with that solution also. On the positive side of that interpretation, they are one of the sets of kings, who the Bible and even Revelation itself tells us are going to be kings in the next age.

Rev 1:5-6 (5 And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful witness, and the first-begotten of the dead, and the prince of the kings of the earth. Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood,

6 And hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen. (KJV)

Rev 5:10 And hast made us unto our God kings and priests: and we shall reign on the earth. (KJV)

Rev 20:4 And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgment was given to them. And I {saw} the souls of those who had been beheaded because of the testimony of Jesus and because of the word of God, and those who had not worshiped the beast or his Image, and had not received the mark upon their forehead and upon their hand; and they came to life and reigned with Christ for a thousand years. (NAS)

Another positive thing is that the kings of verses 24, being the 144,000 of the church, would solve the problem of verse 27, which is that the only ones that are going to be written in the Lambs book of life, are the church. So, right now, if we stopped our discussion here, we would have to conclude that the kings must be the faithful church.

Problem With Church Being Kings?

The problem with that interpretation, is that there is a Chapter in Isaiah, that exactly parallels this Chapter in Revelation, and it points to the kings mentioned there as being the kings of the world that are forced to enter the city in the next age, because the people want to come into the salvation that is in the city. Isaiah Chapter 60, shows us the bad kings after the time that they are humbled, and then shows us that they are forced by the people to come before the new king, and bow down to him. Since Isaiah shows that the kings of the earth do come humbled to the Lord, the question becomes this—are those kings the same as the kings we see here in Revelation?

Parallel Table Showing Kings of Earth in Isaiah

To help show how Isaiah 60 is an exact parallel to Revelation, we are going to construct a table that places the two sets of verses side by side. As we will see, Isaiah shows us the peoples and nations of the earth, as well as their kings coming before the Lord and bowing down to the new king. It also gives the warning, that anyone that does not come into God's arrangement will perish.

Both Interpretations of Kings Are Correct!

After the table, we will discuss how we can harmonize the kings in Isaiah, with the kings in Revelation. We will also explain, that it is also possible to find the 144,000 kings in this same section of Rev Chapter 21. As you will see below on the next page, the table shows that Isaiah Chapter 60 is a direct parallel to Chapter 21 in Revelation.

Table of Isaiah 60 and Rev 21

Both Definitions of Kings Are Correct

So, it appears that the kings in this Chapter, must be the kings of the earth coming into the city. We will show that is mostly correct, but that there are two of the verses regarding kings in Rev 21 that are different, and they will be the church. What we will show, is that both definitions of kings that we discussed above, are correct.

We are going to first present a view regarding the kings in Rev 21:24-25, that links them exactly to the kings in Isaiah Chapter 60. See also Zech14:6 and Hos 2:7-9. Any view, that does not support an exact correspondence between the two sets of scriptures in Isaiah, should be suspect. When we are explaining this, we are going to show that it is the 144,000 that are represented in Rev 21:26-27, and that they are not the same as the earthly kings mentioned in verse 24-25. The fallen earthly kings, are not going to be written in the Lamb's book of life, but the church's names are going to be.

People of World Will Force Their Kings to the City

It's a little unclear about the kings in Isaiah, because of several different translations that confuse the issue, but it appears that the gentiles will be bringing or forcing their kings or leaders to come to the Lord. A very good reason that they would force their kings or leaders to come is found in verse 12. Isa 60:12 For that nation and kingdom that will not serve thee shall perish; yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted. (ASV)

Some Difficulties That Were Discussed in Study

If the Isaiah Chapter 60 cross reference is correct, that the kings in verse 24-25 are the defeated earthly kings, and it looks like they are, then we must explain a couple of difficulties. One problem is that it looks like in Revelation, that these defeated kings are going into the cube of the city, in verse 26-27, and that does not appear to be possible. The reason is that in Ezekiel's temple, that there is a separation between the world and the spiritual class, as to where the people of the world can go in the temple. In the New Jerusalem, we understand that only the faithful spiritual class can enter the cube part of the city. The world must be out in the court between the wall and the cube of the city, where the water and the trees of life are. Revelation also says that the nations will walk by the light of the city, and that seems to imply that they are not in it, but next to it where the light can shine upon them.

Another very important difficulty, is that whoever is represented in verses 26-27, are written in the Lamb's book of life, and we know that the defeated kings of the next age, will not be in the Lamb's book of life, but only in the general book of life which is for the world. It seems clear that only the spiritual church will be written in the Lamb's book of life, so any solution we find for these verses must resolve that difficulty. The Sinaitic manuscript gives a variant reading, which says that this "is the book of the life of heaven", which would make it even more positive that this is the church.

A Solution to Both Problems!

A big part of the problem, appears to be the translation of the preposition "into". We find the same word "into", in verses 24, 26 and 27. In verse 27, we find one very important difference from the other two places, in that there is an extra word added to into, which is Strong's # 1519. In verse 27, we have two words, "1525 enter and 1519 into". That shows that the verse 26-27 individuals, actually "enters into" the cube of the city, and not just into the court. Another thing that seems to help solve the problem, is that the definition of the word used for "into", when it is by itself, does not have to mean "into", but it can mean "to or up to" which makes a big difference in what is being said, especially regarding the kings coming into the city in verse 24. In other words, the earthly kings enter through the gates into the courtyard, but they can only come "to or up" to the cube of the city, and not into it.

1519 eis (ice); a primary preposition; to or into (indicating the point reached or entered), of place, time, or (figuratively) purpose (result, etc.); also in adverbial phrases:

So, in verses 24-25, we can see that it's more correctly saying, that the "kings of the earth" will bring their glory "to" the city, which would be into the courtyard of the city. Since that does not mean into the cube of the city, that would resolve the problem of the people not being able to come into the cube of the city, which is the inner temple, but they would only be able to come through the gates and into the courtyard of the city—which would be the same as is described in Ezekiel's temple. The kings in verses 24-25, are the same as the ones in Isaiah Chapter 60, and what they are bringing into the temple, is not necessarily only monetary wealth, but they need to bring a humbled character that understands that they must submit to the new king. The word “glory” that is used for them in verse 24 means: NT:1391 doxa (dox'-ah); from the base of NT:1380; glory (as very apparent), in a wide application (literal or figurative, objective or subjective):

Verse 26 Belongs Together with Verse 27

While it does not make a lot of difference to this set of verses, there is one other thing we must consider here. To properly fix the last of our questions, we believe that the “they” in verse 26 is a different group than the kings of verse 24-25. The group “they” not only bring their “glory” into the city, but they also bring their “honor”, which is a different word for honor than the one used for the verse 24-25 kings. This word for “honor” fits with the 144,000 much better than with the honor used for the kings of the earth. The definition of that word shows that they have something of great value and esteem of the highest degree. The 144,000 fit that definition exactly, where the literal kings of the earth do not.

NT:5092 timh/ time (tee-may'); from NT:5099; a value, i.e. money paid, or (concretely and collectively) valuables; by analogy, esteem (especially of the highest degree), or the dignity itself: KJV - honour, precious, price, some.

(Biblesoft's New Exhaustive Strong's Numbers and Concordance with Expanded Greek-Hebrew Dictionary. Copyright © 1994, 2003, 2006 Biblesoft, Inc. and International Bible Translators, Inc.)

The kings in verse 24 are from the earth, but the ones in 26 and 27 are from out of the nations. We saw in Chapter 5 that the church was purchased out of the “nations”, and not out of the “earth”.

Rev 5:9 And they sang a new song, saying, "Worthy are You to take the book and to break its seals; for You were slain, and purchased for God with Your blood men from every tribe and tongue and people and nation. NASU

Ones With True Glory & Honor are 144,000

So, because of those two differences between the two groups that enter the city, we see that the ones that have glory and honor and who enter the cube of the city, are the 144,000 who live and reign with the Lord for the 1000 years, as shown in Chapter 20 of Revelation. The kings in verse 24-25, are the humbled human kings, who can only come into the courtyard of the city, and they must submit themselves to Christ, and they do not have true honor. Our Lord is the promised King of the Millennial Age, and the 144,000 who are on the throne with him are faithful kings also.

The earthly kings will be bowing down to all of them. In other words, the kings who were involved in murdering the saints all through the Gospel Age, must come and bow down to them also. As we will see in Chapter 22, the courtyard is where the water of life is, and where they will get the fruit and the leaves of the trees of life for the healing of the nations.

Ps 72:11 All kings will bow down to him and all nations will serve him. NIV

Isa 60:14 The sons of your oppressors will come bowing before you; all who despise you will bow down at your feet and will call you the City of the Lord, Zion of the Holy One of Israel. NIV

The Sun

The sun as the Gospel light, won't be needed, because the church will have the light of both God and Christ to explain to us all things that are necessary. The scriptures will not be the only thing used to decipher what is going to happen, because it will be clear what is happening. God and Jesus will be able to answer any question or issue any instructions necessary at the time. The world will be able to get the answer to all their questions, but they must go through the Ancient Worthies, who will be the earthly representatives of the kingdom at that time.

The Moon

The moon as respecting the law will not be needed, because we will have the true light of God's law from its source. Jehovah and the Lamb are the original source of the scriptures, and you can't do any better than getting the word directly from them as the source. It will be made plain at that time, as to what the rules and laws of the kingdom are. Whatever God's laws are, they will be reasonable and beneficial, and based on the law of love, justice, power, and truth. The New Covenant will write those laws on the hearts of the people, so that they will know what is correct and what is not.

Courtyard Here

Matches Ezekiel's Courtyard

We think that the courtyard that we see here inside the cube of the New Jerusalem, is symbolically same as the inner courtyard that we see in Ezekiel. The outer court of Ezekiel, is not directly seen in the New Jerusalem. We think that the test that the outer court of Ezekiel pictures, is shown by the 100 x 25 cubits' dimensions of the outer court, and in Revelation the same test is shown in the wall of the New Jerusalem instead. See the diagram of the New Jerusalem given earlier, and the diagram of Ezekiel's temple at the end of this Chapter.

The reason for that conclusion, is that we see the same exact symbolic numbers shown in the wall of the New Jerusalem, as what we see in the outer court of Ezekiel. We saw earlier that the 144 cubits was split in the Greek into 100 and 40 and 4. So we have the same  $100 \times 25 = 2500$  or  $50 \times 50$  as what we see in the courtyard of Ezekiel. In Ezekiel, the distance of the outer court is 100 cubits which equals 2500 years, and the same thing is found in the 100-cubit portion of the dimension of the wall of the New Jerusalem.

Door Will Be Open On the Sabbath

In Ezekiel 46:1-3, we see that the door to the inner courtyard, where the world will be able to go to worship God, was to be opened on the Sabbath and on the New Moon celebrations. The prince that comes in at that time, represents the Ancient Worthies. The Sabbath represents the seventh 1000-year day of the millennium, and the new moon pictures the New Covenant that the world will be under in the kingdom. The symbol of the moon, represents the new law and with the New Covenant the old strict letter of the law, has been replaced by the spirit of the law, and the law of love. The change in the law has been made possible because of the shed blood of our Lord Jesus.

Heb 7:11-12 (11 If perfection could have been attained through the Levitical priesthood (for on the basis of it the law was given to the people), why was there still need for another priest to come — one in the order of Melchizedek, not in the order of Aaron? 12 For when there is a change of the priesthood, there must also be a change of the law.

Heb 7:21-22 (21 but he became a priest with an oath when God said to him:

"The Lord has sworn

and will not change his mind:

'You are a priest forever.'"

22 Because of this oath, Jesus has become the guarantee of a better covenant. NIV

The prophetic picture in Ezekiel, shows that the earthly class of people will only be allowed to come to the inner courtyard on the seventh day. In other words, they will have the seventh 1000 years to bring themselves up to perfection, and then the door will be shut in the evening. That closing of the door, would correspond to the close of the Millennial day, and if they have not brought their flesh up to perfection by that time, it will be too late.

Ezek 46:1-3 (1 The Lord God says, "The inner wall's eastern entrance shall be closed during the six work days but open on the Sabbath and on the days of the new moon celebrations.

*2 The prince shall enter the outside entry hall of the passageway and proceed to the inner wall at the other end while the priest offers his burnt offering and peace offering. He shall worship inside the passageway and then return back to the entrance, which shall not be closed until evening.

3 The people shall worship the Lord in front of this passageway on the Sabbaths and on the days of the new moon celebrations. (TLB)

Ezekiel's Temple Shows No Wall Between Jews & Gentiles

In Ezekiel's temple, there is no wall separating the gentiles from the Israelites. That shows that when the world joins to Israel to get the salvation, that there will be no difference between them and the natural born Israelites. The people of the world, must become Israelite immigrants, with one or other of the 12 tribes, and when they do they are to be treated as if they are Israelites.

Gentiles to Be Adopted in As Israelites

Ezek 47:22-23 (22 "You shall divide it by lot for an inheritance among yourselves and among the aliens who stay in your midst, who bring forth sons in your midst. And they shall be to you as the native-born among the sons of Israel; they shall be allotted an inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel. 23 "And in the tribe with which the alien stays, there you shall give him his inheritance," declares the Lord God. NASU

Being in Courtyard Equals Walking Up Highway of Holiness

In Ezekiel, when the people are still in the outer court, that represents that they are not up to perfection yet, and that they are still walking up the highway of holiness. They must accomplish that perfection before they can enter the inner court to worship the Lord. Those who walk up the highway of holiness, can achieve their spiritual journey to the inner courtyard at any time during the 1000 years, but if they fail to do so by the end of the 1000 years, it will be too late.

Ezek 46:9 But when the people of the land shall come before the LORD in the solemn feasts, he that entereth in by the way of the north gate to worship shall go out by the way of the south gate; and he that entereth by the way of the south gate shall go forth by the way of the north gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but shall go forth over against it. (KJV)

We have placed a diagram of Ezekiel's temple on the next page, and some comments on the symbolism of the measurements found there. For a complete discussion of Ezekiel's' temple measurements see the book "The Divine Plan and its Chronology".

One other interesting point, is that Ezekiel's  $25 \times 100 = 2500$ , and that corresponds to  $50 \times 50 = 2500$ , which is 50 Jubilee cycles from the midst of the years to 1874 AD.

In the original earthly tabernacle and God's plan, we see that there was 70 Jubilee cycles, and that in 1874 AD, 50 of them had been completed. That left 20 more to go, and  $20 \times 50 = 1000$ . From 1874 AD + 1000 = 2874 AD, or the end of 7000 years.

Ezekiel's Temple

One thing that we notice about the temple, is that the dimensions of the different parts are constantly reminding us of the 50 x 50 Jubilee. That number is found in all the places that we see 100 cubits, because 100 cubits' times the prophetic 25-inch cubit = 2500 or the Jubilee. The gates coming through into the outer court, as well as those leading into the inner court, are 50 cubits apiece. So, we see that to get to the inner court, besides crossing the 100 cubits of the outer court, we have the length of two gates of 50 cubits apiece, (50 +50) = 100 cubits. The people will have until 2874AD to be able to enter the inner court. After that time, the little season will eliminate all who have failed to enter in. The inner court corresponds to the court of the New Jerusalem, where the people can directly worship the Lord. The outer court of Ezekiel’s temple has the same 2500-year jubilee lesson as the wall of the New Jerusalem.

This also seems like a good place to bring in the wilderness tabernacle, which is the original tabernacle, and show that God’s Plan was designed from the foundation of the earth. In that tabernacle, we see a plan of God that is the foundation of what we see here in Revelation.

The concept for this tabernacle chart originally came from reprint article 6435-36 that was published after Bro. Russell died. We have one difference in that we think that Jephthah and his daughter are on the corner instead of Jair as the original article had. That change is based on a different method of counting the 450 year period of the Judges.

the cubit that can also be used to unlock the time features of God’s plan. There were originally at least two different cubits used in Biblical times. The first was 18 inches and the second was 22 inches. The 25-inch cubit is the sacred one that is described in Ezek 40:5 as being about a hands breadth larger than normal, (which is 3 inches more than the 22 inch).

The dates on this chart are similar to the 1845 and the 1260, 2520 year patterns in that they are also symmetrical about the midst of the years, 626.25 BC. This pattern has 7 important dates on it.

7000 Years around the Tabernacle!

As an example of how this works we see that the tabernacle is 100 by 50 cubits. From each gate post to each corner is 15 cubits. The total distance from the corner post of the first gate, all the way around the tabernacle and back to the other gate post is 280 cubits, (15+100+50+100+15 = 280). At 25 years per cubit that represents 25 x 280 or 7000 years!

A Symbolic 25 Inch Cubit

The dates on this chart are derived from the symbolic 25-inch

As we can see, the wilderness tabernacle uses the concept of the 25-inch cubit, at an inch per year, and that makes the tabernacle 7000 years from the RH gate post to the LH gate. Around the tabernacle we have seven valid dates confirmed, which are important ones that we all as Bible Students recognize. So, we can see that God already had the plans for the restoration of mankind when he gave Moses the dimensions of the tabernacle. If you consult the book, the Divine Plan and its chronology, you will find that the 25-inch cubit can be used to generate a 2500 repeating Jubilee pattern, which proves the times of restoration that we are looking at here in Revelation Chapters 21-22. That pattern can be shaded in to show the four Seraphim of Isaiah Chapter 6.

Chapter 22 Revelation 22:1-2

Rev 22:1 Then he showed me a river of the water of life, clear as crystal, coming from the throne of God and of the Lamb, Rev 22:2 in the middle of its street. On either side of the river was the tree of life, bearing twelve {kinds of} fruit, yielding its fruit every month; and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. (NAU)

This Chapter is a continuation of the previous Chapter, and should not have been divided into separate Chapters. We also notice that this is the same angel that has been showing us the New Jerusalem since the beginning of Chapter 17.

Old Testament References in Rev 22

Below are some references that show that what we see here in this Chapter, has been previously described in the Old Testament. For example, the tree of life that was in the Garden of Eden is now seen again, and it will be fully available for the church and its leaves and fruit will be for the healing of the nations.

Gen 2:9 And out of the ground made the LORD God to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight, and good for food; the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil. (KJV)

Gen 3:23-24(23 Therefore the LORD God sent him forth from the garden of Eden, to till the ground from whence he was taken.

24 So he drove out the man; and he placed at the east of the garden of Eden Cherubims, and a flaming sword which turned every way, to keep the way of the tree of life. (KJV)

Ezek 47:2-12 (2 Then brought he me out of the way of the gate northward, and led me about the way without unto the utter gate by the way that looked eastward; and, behold, there ran out waters on the right side.

3 And when the man that had the line in his hand went forth eastward, he measured a thousand cubits, and he brought me through the waters; the waters were to the ankles.

4 Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through the waters; the waters were to the knees. Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through; the waters were to the loins.

5 Afterward he measured a thousand; and it was a river that I could not pass over: for the waters were risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed over.

6 And he said unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen this? Then he brought me, and caused me to return to the brink of the river.

7 Now when I had returned, behold, at the bank of the river were very many trees on the one side and on the other.

8 Then said he unto me, These waters issue out toward the east country, and go down into the desert, and go into the sea: which being brought forth into the sea, the waters shall be healed.

9 And it shall come to pass, that everything that liveth, which moved, whithersoever the rivers shall come, shall live: and there shall be a very great multitude of fish, because these waters shall come thither: for they shall be healed; and everything shall live whither the river cometh. (KJV)

10 And it shall come to pass, that the fishers shall stand upon it from Engedi even unto Eneglaim; they shall be a place to spread forth nets; their fish shall be according to their kinds, as the fish of the great sea, exceeding many.

11 But the miry places thereof and the marshes thereof shall not be healed; they shall be given to salt.

12 And by the river upon the bank thereof, on this side and on that side, shall grow all trees for meat, whose leaf shall not fade, neither shall the fruit thereof be consumed: it shall bring forth new fruit according to his months, because their waters they issued out of the sanctuary: and the fruit thereof shall be for meat, and the leaf thereof for medicine. (KJV)

4000 Cubits

4000 Years?

In the Ezekiel account, there is sometimes an application of one year per cubit. That would make the 4000 cubits of Ezekiel reach back approximately to almost the time of the promise to Abraham, or at least to the death of Sarah. In Isaiah Chapter 54, we see that Sarah in symbol represents the Abrahamic covenant. From the time of her death and going 4000 years into the future, we get Oct 2017. That date is most likely not the exact date of the kingdom, but we believe that it is getting very close. No man knows the day or the hour, but that calculation shows that the four sets of 1000 are bringing us very close to the time that the sand of the seashore part of the covenant will be fulfilled.

Since the promise to Abraham contains the salvation for both the Gospel Age as well as the Millennial age, that is a very interesting application.

Here is another interesting thought one of the brethren has brought out previously, which is that 12 fruits x 12 months' x 1000 = 144000.

Water, Trees of Life People in Courtyard

Ezekiel's temple shows the water of life coming out from the sanctuary and going outside the city, but the nations are only shown in the court in the New Jerusalem, where they get the blessing of the water. The fruit and the leaves that are seen in both accounts are for the nation's healing. That there are twelve manners of fruit is interesting, because there were 12 tribes, and there are twelve gates entering the city. Twelve is symbolic of government perfection, and so the salvation provided through the fruit will be perfect, and all things associated with the kingdom and God's government will be perfect.

Water Life Flows From Jesus & Church

The church is involved in supplying the water of life, which symbolizes the Holy spirit, to the world, and that spirit comes from God who is the source of life. The blessing and restoring will be coming from God through Christ, and then out to the world through the church. Our Lord's words in John show that there will be an abundance of water coming out of the city to the people

John 7:38-39 (38 He who believes in me, as the scripture has said, 'Out of his heart shall flow rivers of living water.'"

39 Now this he said about the Spirit, which those who believed in him were to receive; for as yet the Spirit had not been given, because Jesus was not yet glorified. (RSV)

The water of life is symbolic of the outpouring of the Holy spirit that will be poured out upon all flesh.

Joel 2:28-32 (28 And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions:

29 And also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my spirit.

30 And I will shew wonders in the heavens and in the earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke.

31 The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and the terrible day of the LORD come.

32 And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the LORD shall be delivered: for in mount Zion and in Jerusalem shall be deliverance, as the LORD hath said, and in the remnant whom the LORD shall call. (KJV)

Zech 14:8 And it shall be in that day, that living waters shall go out from Jerusalem; half of them toward the former sea, and half of them toward the hinder sea: in summer and in winter shall it be. (KJV)

Isa 55:1 "Ho! Every one who thirsts, come to the waters; and you who have no money come, buy and eat. Come, buy wine and milk without money and without cost. (NAS)

Tree of Life Restored & Multiplied

The tree of life as originally seen in the Garden of Eden, is now restored as seen in the New Jerusalem, and will heal the nations from the fall that occurred in the garden. The original tree is multiplied here in Revelation, in that there are trees on both sides of the river. Since the trees are on either side of the river, that shows that there is more than one tree—as in a grove of trees and that agrees with what Ezekiel says about the trees. See the quote from Ezekiel 47:1-12 above.

In addition, look up Isa 12:1, 44:3, 55:1, 58:11, 61:3, Joel 3:18, Zech 13:1, 14:8

Tree of Life For Church Leaves & Fruit For World

The complete tree of life itself is not for the world, but for the church, because the tree of life itself symbolizes immortality which is given only to the 144,000—only the leaves and the fruit of the tree are for the healing of the nations. In a slightly different picture, we see in Ezekiel that the fruit is given to the nations, but of the tree itself only the church has full access to that as was promised by our Lord.

Rev 2:7 He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To him who overcomes, I will give the right to eat from the tree of life, which is in the paradise of God. NIV

Street is Highway of Holiness Isaiah Chap 35

The word used for the street here represents a broad place or Broadway. This symbolic street is the highway of holiness mentioned in Isaiah Chapter 35. This is a wide street or way going all around the courtyard, with the river running down the middle of the street—with the tree of life on both sides of the river. Once the world gets up on that street or highway, they then have access to the water of life and the fruit and leaves of the tree, which will heal them and will enable them to reach a righteous standing before God.

STREET 1. plateia ^4113^, grammatically the feminine of platus, "broad," is used as a noun (hodos, "a way," being understood, i. e., "a broad way"), "a street," <Matt. 6:5; 12:19> (in some texts, <Mark 6:56>); <Luke 10:10; 13:26; 14:21; Acts 5:15; Rev. 11:8; 21:21; 22:2>.#

Isa 35:8-10 (8 And a highway will be there; it will be called the Way of Holiness. The unclean will not journey on it; it will be for those who walk in that Way; wicked fools will not go about on it. 9 No lion will be there, nor will any ferocious beast get up on it; they will not be found there. But only the redeemed will walk there, 10 and the ransomed of the Lord will return. They will enter Zion with singing; everlasting joy will crown their heads. Gladness and joy will overtake them, and sorrow and sighing will flee away. NIV

The Lord is the source of the fountain of life.

Ps 36:9 For with thee is the fountain of life: in thy light shall we see light. (KJV)

Jer 2:13 For my people have committed two evils; they have forsaken me the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water. (KJV)

Jer 17:13 O LORD, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee shall be ashamed, and they that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the LORD, the fountain of living waters. (KJV)

Revelation 22:3-4

Rev 22:3 There will no longer be any curse; and the throne of God and of the Lamb will be in it, and His bond-servants will serve Him;

Rev 22:4 they will see His face, and His name {will be} on their foreheads.

The Curse From Garden Removed

In the garden, we see the curse that was placed upon mankind—but here we see it lifted forever. That has always been the intention of the Divine Plan, which God foreknew from the foundation of the world. The curse on mankind will be completely lifted at the end of the 7000 years—which will have passed since the fall of Adam in the garden.

Gen 3:16-19(16 Unto the woman he said, I will greatly multiply thy sorrow and thy conception; in sorrow thou shalt bring forth children; and thy desire shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee.

17 And unto Adam he said, Because thou hast hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree, of which I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it: cursed is the ground for thy sake; in sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life;

18 Thorns also and thistles shall it bring forth to thee; and thou shalt eat the herb of the field;

19 In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, till thou return unto the ground; for out of it wast thou taken: for dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return. (KJV)

The kingdom is designed to remove the curse and restore mankind back to a full standing with God, and that work will require the full 1000 years to be accomplished completely.

The word translated “serve” in King James, can mean to worship him. The servants that serve and worship him here, are the 144,000 of the church, because the promise was to the faithful church regarding his name being written on their forehead. The Great Company will not be on the throne or even in the Most Holy, because of their errors, but they will have salvation and can work with the people as a go-between, just like the under priests of Israel could work with the people of Israel in their day, but not go into the Most Holy. See Ezek Chapter 44:10-14

Rev 3:12 'He who overcomes, I will make him a pillar in the temple of My God, and he will not go out from it anymore; and I will write on him the name of My God, and the name of the city of My God, the new Jerusalem, which comes down out of heaven from My God, and My new name. NASU

There are several other references that show that the saints will see the Lord’s face when they are resurrected.

Ps 17:15 As for me, I shall behold Your face in righteousness; I will be satisfied with Your likeness when I awake. NASU

1 Cor 13:12 For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known. (KJV)

1 John 3:2 Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is. (KJV)

Heb 12:14 Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord:

Matt 5:8 Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God. NIV

Revelation 22:5

Rev 22:5 And there will no longer be {any} night; and they will not have need of the light of a lamp nor the light of the sun, because the Lord God will illumine them; and they will reign forever and ever.

The Sun No Longer Needed God Will Illuminate

Isaiah 60, which we saw earlier, is a more detailed parallel description of Chapter 21 of Revelation, is still paralleling Chapter 22 up to this verse. Verse 6 and onward, appear to be the concluding thoughts for the book of Revelation.

Isa 60:19 (19)The sun shall be no more thy light by day; neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee: but the LORD shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory.

Isa 60:20 Thy sun shall no more go down; neither shall thy moon withdraw itself: for the LORD shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended.

Isa 60:21 Thy people also shall be all righteous: they shall inherit the land for ever, the branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified.

Isa 60:22 A little one shall become a thousand, and a small one a strong nation: I the LORD will hasten it in his time. (KJV)

Reigning For Ever & Ever?

There is a question about the reign of Christ and the church, because it says in Rev 20:1-4, that the church reigns for only 1000 years, but here it says that they reign forever and ever. In Rev 11:15, we also see that both the Lord God and Christ reign forever. Our Lord and the church reign over the earth during the 1000 years, with the purpose of restoring mankind back to perfection and a standing with the Heavenly Father. At the end of the millennium they step out of the way, and the testing of the little season will determine who has learned their lesson, and recognized the wisdom of God's laws.

We think that the answer to the question about the reign, is that the 1000 years is a special time that is set apart during which mankind is to be restored back to perfection. After the little season, those who have passed the test, will be able to govern their own affairs, if they are in harmony with God. They will still be subject to oversight, and so in that sense the reign goes on forever. If we think that the Heavenly Father and Christ and the church will step completely out of the way, and let the earth rule its own affairs without any supervision or reign from heavens or its Administration, then we have come to the wrong conclusion. In Corinthians, we are told that God will be in control after Christ turns the authority back to him. We see in 1Cor 15:27 For the Scriptures say, "God has put all things under his authority." (Of course, when it says "all things are under his authority," that does not include God himself, who gave Christ his authority.)
28 Then, when all things are under his authority, the Son will put himself under God's authority, so that God, who gave his Son authority over all things, will be utterly supreme over everything everywhere.

So even though the world in a sense will stand on its own after the millennium, having been brought back to perfection and a correct standing with the Father, the people will still be subject to the rule of the Heavenly Father afterward. The difference is that instead of Jesus as the head of the reign of the 1000 years, they will have the Heavenly Father as the supreme head. We believe that our Lord Jesus and the church will also be actively involved in that everlasting reign, and that is why it says here that they reign forever and ever.

The 1000 years of Rev Chapter 20 is the time that the world is being given Divine help to reach the upright standing that they need to pass the little season. In Revelation Chapter 20, it says that they reign as priests during the 1000 years. After the 1000 years, the world will not need the priestly help anymore, because everyone should have reached perfection by that time. If anyone does not reach perfection by that time, they will fall in the little season.

The church will not need any other source of light, other than what our Lord Jesus supplies them with. All things will be revealed, and they will see him as he is.

Rev 22:6-7

Rev 22:6 And he said to me, "These words are faithful and true"; and the Lord, the God of the spirits of the prophets, sent His angel to show to His bond-servants the things which must shortly take place

Rev 22:7 "And behold, I am coming quickly. Blessed is he who heeds the words of the prophecy of this book." (NAU)

This is the first of three places in this Chapter, that our Lord says that he is coming. The other two places are verse 12 and verse 20. It seems likely that the three places make a chronological step by step progression, the last one being where our Lord fully arrives as “Christ head and body”, and comes to the world with the Millennial blessing.

- This verse which is pointing to the first part of his coming, is a warning to the church to heed the prophecy of this very book, because it tells the church what is going to happen, and it contains the warnings needed to keep the church safe through the dark ages and then through the harvest time of 1874-1914, and the judgment that was due during that time.
- The second warning about his coming in Rev 22:12, seems to be referring to 1914 and afterward, which is the second phase of the coming, which pours out the bowls of wrath and punishes the fallen church. Our Lord begins to punish and remove the fallen system after they have been judged guilty of having done extremely bad and terrible things during the Gospel Age. The second phase of the return, also rewards the saints who have been faithful, because he says that his reward is with him. It may be that means that the risen church was given a more active role after 1914, when the Lord began to rule over the nations, Psa 149.
- The third time appears to be the last phase of his coming, which is after the church has been completed, and he is then shown coming to the world to begin the blessing of the kingdom.

Translation Correction

Some translations try to make the Lord Jesus in verse 6, into God or Jehovah of the prophets, but we see that several translations add punctuation, that makes this into the Lord “Jesus”, who is the God of the spirits of the prophets. Fenton, NAS, NAU, NIV, RSV agree with that thought. The correct punctuation removes the conflict with verse 16, where we see it definitely stated that it was the Lord Jesus who had sent the angel. Those who would try to make Jesus into Jehovah, would favor the other translation, but that kind of translation definitely is not correct.

Jesus Was the Angel of the Prophets

Jesus was the angel of the prophets as shown in the Old Testament. After Israel had sinned in regard to the golden calf, we see that Jehovah didn't go with Israel himself, but he sent his angel, who was the pre-crucifixion Jesus. After that time in dealing with Israel, he used his angel or the Logos to communicate with Israel. It seems evident that this angel was Michael, who was our Lord Jesus in his pre-crucifixion role. Exod 32:31-35 (31 And Moses returned unto the LORD, and said, Oh, this people have sinned a great sin, and have made them gods of gold.

32 Yet now, if thou wilt forgive their sin--; and if not, blot me, I pray thee, out of thy book which thou hast written.

33 And the LORD said unto Moses, Whosoever hath sinned against me, him will I blot out of my book.

34 Therefore now go, lead the people unto the place of which I have spoken unto thee: behold, mine Angel shall go before thee: nevertheless in the day when I visit I will visit their sin upon them.

35 And the LORD plagued the people, because they made the calf, which Aaron made. (KJV)

Exod 23:20-23 (20 Behold, I send an Angel before thee, to keep thee in the way, and to bring thee into the place which I have prepared.

21 Beware of him, and obey his voice, provoke him not; for he will not pardon your transgressions: for my name is in him.

22 But if thou shalt indeed obey his voice, and do all that I speak; then I will be an enemy unto thine enemies, and an adversary unto thine adversaries.

23 For mine Angel shall go before thee, and bring thee in unto the Amorites, and the Hittites, and the Perizzites, and the Canaanites, and the Hivites, and the (KJV)

Gabriel was Michael's Assistant

Our Lord Jesus, who was called Michael, and who was one of the highest angels, had his own assistant angel named Gabriel who he worked with previously, as we are shown in Daniel Chapter 10.

Dan 10:12 Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel; for from the first day that thou didst set thy heart to understand, and to humble thyself before thy God, thy words were heard: and I am come for thy words' sake.

13 But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days; but, lo, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me: and I remained there with the kings of Persia.

Angel in 1:1 is Most Likely Gabriel

The angel that is mentioned in Rev 1:1, is most likely Gabriel, who is the angel that we see with Michael in several Chapters of Daniel. The angel that we see in Luke Chapter 1, identifies him as Gabriel. That makes it very likely that the Lord's angel that he sent to John, is Gabriel—because Michael and Gabriel used to work together as seen in the book of Daniel.

Dan 8:16 And I heard a man's voice between the banks of Ulai, which called, and said, Gabriel, make this man to understand the vision.

Dan 9:21 Yea, whiles I was speaking in prayer, even the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly swiftly, touched me about the time of the evening oblation.

Luke 1:19 And the angel answering said unto him, I am Gabriel, that stand in the presence of God; and am sent to speak unto thee, and to shew thee these glad tidings.

Moffat moves verses 8-9 ahead of verses 6-7, because that is referring back to what John saw, but we prefer to leave things in the order in which they were written.

Faithful and true regarding Jesus, is found in 4 places, Rev 3:14, 19:11, 21:5, 22:6

Jesus is the faithful and true witness, and the words that he utters are faithful and true. Jesus offers the water of life in Rev Chapter 2, and again in Chapter 22, proving that he is the Alpha and the Omega.

Blessing to Those Who Keep the Prophecy of This Book

In verse 7, he says that those who keep the prophecy of this book will be blessed. The time of blessing is at the end of the age as we see in Daniel Chapter 12 and earlier in Revelation. Dan 12:12 Blessed is he that waited, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and five and thirty days. Rev 14:13 And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them.

The chronology of Daniel Chapter 12, points to the time of blessing as being from 1874AD and onward, and additionally the Lord came in 1874AD, and the resurrection of the sleeping saints began in 1878AD.

Coming Soon

The coming mentioned in this verse, is the warning that he will come to the world soon, which occurs when the 144,000 are complete. He has already come to the church in 1874 at this point in the prophecy. That future coming, is when the Lord comes with all his holy angels with him.

Zech 14:5 You will flee by my mountain valley, for it will extend to Azel. You will flee as you fled from the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah. Then the Lord my God will come, and all the holy ones with him. NIV

1 Thess 3:13 May he strengthen your hearts so that you will be blameless and holy in the presence of our God and Father when our Lord Jesus comes with all his holy ones NIV

2 Thess 1:7-9 (7 and give relief to you who are troubled, and to us as well. This will happen when the Lord Jesus is revealed from heaven in blazing fire with his powerful angels. 8 He will punish those who do not know God and do not obey the Gospel of our Lord Jesus. NIV

Nominal House Began to be Punished in 1914

The time of punishment came upon the evil church and state system in 1914AD, which was the final blow to the Image, and has continued to crush and grind the pieces ever since. Once the church is complete, we will see the final wind blow the pieces away, and the kingdom come after that. The beginning of the time of blessing was also the time that the judgment began upon the house of God, and that judgment separated out those who were doing right, from those who were not doing right. We will see in Rev 22:11-15, a further warning to those who didn't keep the words of the prophecy, and a promise to those who did. Chapter 14 of Revelation, also gave the earlier warnings to the church about the evil system that they needed to stay out of, and Daniel Chapter 12 gives the church the 539-1799AD chronology, which shows us when it would be at the height of its power.

Revelation 22:8-9

Rev 22:8 I, John, am the one who heard and saw these things. And when I heard and saw, I fell down to worship at the feet of the angel who showed me these things.

Rev 22:9 But he said to me, "Do not do that. I am a fellow servant of yours and of your brethren the prophets and of those who heed the words of this book. Worship God." (NAU)

Don't Fall Down to Angel

The angel that John fell at the feet of, is traceable all the way back to Chapter 17, where we see that he was one of the seven angels with the seven bowls of wrath. The angels with the bowls, are very likely the same as the seven angels with the trumpets. As we will discuss a little further onward, the angel that the Lord sent to John with the message of the book of Revelation, could be Gabriel. We will present that thought in the verse below, that talks about Jesus sending his angel.

John fell at this same angel's feet in Chapter 19. In Chapter 21, this same angel showed us the New Jerusalem, and that description of the New Jerusalem continues into Chapter 22, where John again tries to fall at his feet, and again is here warned not to.

Don't Worship Messenger

Is this angel an earthly messenger? There are two possibilities regarding who these angels are. This angel is one of the angels with the seven bowls of wrath, and so it could simply be that the angels that poured out the bowls of wrath, were actual angels.

A second and more likely thought, is that the messengers to the churches, the angels with the trumpets, the angels with the bowls of wrath, are the seven earthly messengers. If that is correct then when they delivered their messages to the churches and they blew the seven trumpets, they were earthly pastors. At the time they delivered the bowls of wrath, they were on the other side of the veil, having made their calling and election. This angel is the messenger that delivered the truth about the fallen church system, showed us the coming kingdom, and many other truths. That could only be the seventh messenger—in this vision, the truths that were going to be revealed by the seventh messenger, are being delivered to the church in a vision by Jesus's angel who is most likely Gabriel, through Revelation. What is being revealed, points to the message that the seventh messenger Bro Russell was going to deliver to the church on the seventh day.

So, even if the angel is an actual heavenly messenger, then we see that we are being told not to worship him, but to worship God. We believe that the lesson given here, is telling us that the actual messenger is not as important as the message is, and that is the very thing that this angel tells us here. Don't worship the messenger, but worship God, the one who sent the message.

This message is there for being delivered to us through the book of Revelation, and it was also delivered in person by the seventh messenger. So no matter who the message comes from, from a literal angel or an earthly pastor, we should worship him, but we are to worship God, the one who's plan this is. Pastor himself told us that we were not to blindly follow him. He said that if you see that the scriptures teach something else than what I have told you, then you must follow the scriptures and not me. That is exactly what this angel is warning us about in this Chapter, so pay very serious attention to what he is saying! Prove all things in the scriptures and give all the credit to God, who is the one that has planned and established the Divine Plan. It does not matter if this angel is a real angel or not, we are not to worship him, but only God. Again, the important lesson here is, that the same lesson would apply to any important earthly leader that we have, because they are not the ones that designed the Divine Plan—they have only revealed God's plan to us.

The warning here in this Chapter, has "of your brethren the prophets", where Chapter 19 has "those who bear the testimony of Jesus". We know that the prophets of old will be Ancient Worthies in the next age, but it seems to be pointing to Gospel Age prophets here. That seems to indicate the same kind of problem as the earlier falling down, with a different symbol being used here. Those who are prophets in the Gospel Age church, especially on this end of the age where all the momentous things in Revelation are being deciphered and revealed, can be wrongly worshipped by the church when they bring out this wonderful vision. Again, no matter how wonderful the message, do not fall down at the feet of those who bring these things out—they are only bringing forth God's Plan, worship Jehovah who created the plan.

Revelation 22:10

Rev 22:10 And he said to me, "Do not seal up the words of the prophecy of this book, for the time is near.

Rev 1:3 Blessed is he who reads aloud the words of the prophecy, and blessed are those who hear, and who keep what is written therein; for the time is near. (RSV)

Don't Seal up the Book Get Understanding From It

This warning especially applies at the end of the age, but it has a general application for the entire age. Pay attention to the warnings in the book and listen to God's son. Matt 25:9. Heb 1:1-2, 2:1-4

The warnings in this book would do no good, if they were not able to be understood. So even from the time of the early church, the Apostles were warning about the great falling away that was coming.

Some of the information about this falling away was not revealed until the time of the seventh church. Enough was revealed so that the church could recognize what they were not to do, but the information that would positively convict the evil system, was sealed up until the time of the end. See the notes on Chapter 10 of Revelation, for more information on the mystery of God that was to be revealed after 1799-1874AD. Dan Chapter 12, tells us that the book would be sealed up until the time of the end, and we see that the time of the end began in 1799AD.

Revelation 22:11-12

Rev 22:11 "Let the one who does wrong, still do wrong; and the one who is filthy, still be filthy; and let the one who is righteous, still practice righteousness; and the one who is holy, still keep himself holy."

Rev 22:12 "Behold, I am coming quickly, and My reward {is} with Me, to render to every man according to what he has done. (NAU)

I come quickly is found in Rev 2:5, 3:11, 22:7, 12, 20, Matt 25:6 >. This judgment and rewarding will continue until the last member of the church is complete. This judgement is pointing to a future date where the last member has completed his walk.

If You Continue to Sin I Am Coming to Reward & Punish

This message is to both the faithful and the fallen church. He is not saying go ahead and continue to sin or be bad, but he is saying that if you continue to do so, I am coming quickly, and you will be punished, but if you are found to be doing good you will get a reward.

This is like 1 Cor 3:10-15, where those who have not built on a good foundation, will not get a reward. Those who have built properly will get a reward. See also Matt 13:18-43, 25:9, Heb 2:1-4 (Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip.

2 For if the word spoken by angels was steadfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward;

3 How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him;

4 God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will?

II John 1:8 Look to yourselves, that we lose not those things which we have wrought, but that we receive a full reward. (KJV)

We see that he is coming for his faithful saints, just like in the parable of the wise and foolish virgins.

Revelation 22:13

Rev 22:13 "I am the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end." (NAU)

See the notes on Rev 1:8 for proof that Jesus is the Alpha and the Omega.

Is 45:1, 49:10

John 4:10-14 Rev 21:6, 22, 17:1, 7:17

Isa 55:1, 49:10

Revelation 22:14

Rev 22:14 Blessed are those who wash their robes, so that they may have the right to the tree of life, and may enter by the gates into the city. (NAU)

KJ Commandments is Spurious Here

King James has commandments, which is spurious. The word blessed here is the fiftieth and last time it occurs in the New Testament. See the notes on Rev 7:14, for how the Great Company had problems washing their robes during their life on earth.

Church Must Wash Their Robes-World?

Those who wash their robes here, appear to be the faithful of the church and not the Great Company. That is correct because these are the ones who have direct access to the tree of life—which our Lord only promised to the faithful church in the seven messages to the churches. If you look at the quote from Rev 2:7, it is obvious that the church must be washed or cleansed to be faithful, and that overcoming then gives them the right to the tree of life.

Rev 2:7 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God. (KJV)

We don't normally think that the faithful church must wash their robes, but they do. The difference between the faithful church and the great Company, is that the faithful church comes before the throne of grace as soon as they can, and they ask for help in washing and overcoming their faults. The Great Company doesn't keep their robes cleaned in a proper and timely manner, and they are eventually forced to confront their error and to wash. Here are some supporting scriptures.

One question that comes up about this section, is does the world get a covering of Christ for the next age? We assume that the world does, but what symbol shows their covering by Christ, or is it that they are covered by entering the gates into the city? We need to discuss and study this more. We assume that this is for sure the church, because of their getting the tree of life, which was promised to only the faithful of the church. The world will also be covered for their sins in the next age, it just doesn't appear that this is how they are covered.

Eph 5:25-28 (25 Husbands, love your wives, just as Christ loved the church and gave himself up for her 26 to make her holy, cleansing her by the washing with water through the word, 27 and to present her to himself as a radiant church, without stain or wrinkle or any other blemish, but holy and blameless. NIV

2 Peter 3:14-15 (14 So then, dear friends, since you are looking forward to this, make every effort to be found spotless, blameless and at peace with him. NIV

Rev 6:11 Then each of them was given a white robe, and they were told to wait a little longer, until the number of their fellow servants and brothers who were to be killed as they had been was completed. NIV

Rev 3:4-6 (4 Yet you have a few people in Sardis who have not soiled their clothes. They will walk with me, dressed in white, for they are worthy. 5 He who overcomes will, like them, be dressed in white. I will never blot out his name from the book of life, but will acknowledge his name before my Father and his angels. 6 NIV

John 13:6-11 (6 He came to Simon Peter, who said to him, "Lord, are you going to wash my feet?" 7 Jesus replied, "You do not realize now what I am doing, but later you will understand." 8 "No," said Peter, "you shall never wash my feet. "Jesus answered, "Unless I wash you, you have no part with me." 9 "Then, Lord," Simon Peter replied, "not just my feet but my hands and my head as well!" 10 Jesus answered, "A person who has had a bath needs only to wash his feet; his whole body is clean. And you are clean, though not every one of you." NIV

*1 Cor 6:9-11 (9 Do you not know that the wicked will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived: Neither the sexually immoral nor idolaters nor adulterers nor male prostitutes nor homosexual offenders 10 nor thieves nor the greedy nor drunkards nor slanderers nor swindlers will inherit the kingdom of God. 11 And that is what some of you were. But you were washed, you were sanctified, you were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ and by the Spirit of our God. Rev 2:7 He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To him who overcomes, I will give the right to eat from the tree of life, which is in the paradise of God. NIV

Rev 19:8 Fine linen, bright and clean, was given her to wear." (Fine linen stands for the righteous acts of the saints.) NIV

Zech 3:3-5 (3 Now Joshua was dressed in filthy clothes as he stood before the angel. 4 The angel said to those who were standing before him, "Take off his filthy clothes."

Then he said to Joshua, "See, I have taken away your sin, and I will put rich garments on you."

5 Then I said, "Put a clean turban on his head." So they put a clean turban on his head and clothed him, while the angel of the LORD stood by. NIV

Two Different Sets of Gates

It appears that the gates that the faithful church will enter in by, are not just the ones in the wall, but are also the gates into the cube of the city. If we compare Ezekiel's temple, we see that there were 12 gates in the walls, as well as 12 gates in the temple building itself. Since we believe that only the faithful church will be able to enter the actual cube of the building, then the gates that are mentioned here, must be in the cube. The gates that the world will enter, will only get them into the courtyard, where they will have access to the fruit and the leaves of the tree, which only impart everlasting life, but not immortality. The faithful church is the only ones that have full access to the tree of life, and that shows that they have immortality.

Revelation 22:15

Rev 22:15 Outside are the dogs and the sorcerers and the immoral persons and the murderers and the idolaters, and everyone who loves and practices lying. (NAU)

All Evil Practices Must End or Not Allowed In

It appears from the context of verses 14-15 that goes with these verses, that this warning is for the church, but we believe that anyone, the church or the world, that does not want to give up the evil practices that we see listed above, will not be able to come into the city to get life. Those who are guilty of these kinds of things will be given help to overcome them. If they don't overcome them, they will symbolically remain outside the city, and they will not have access to the leaves or the fruit of the tree of life or the water of life.

Revelation 21:27, which is similar, is the church, because they are the only ones who will be written in the Lambs book of life.

Rev 21:27 And there shall in no wise enter into it anything that defiled, neither whatsoever worketh Abomination, or maketh a lie: but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life.

See the comments on Rev 21:27, for an explanation of why the ones entering in Rev 21:26-27, are the church and are not the same as the kings that are entering in Rev 21:24-25. The Greek text shows that the individuals of verses 26-27, "enter into" the cube of the city, where the others in the previous verses do not, they only come up to the cube of the city and thus are in the courtyard.

Another Warning

This is another warning to those of verse 11 for what will happen if they continue to practice their evil deeds. These are those who are not doing the Lord's will during the Gospel Age. The nominal system during their reign of terror, has both in symbol and actuality, done all the sins in the above list. The first warning and punishment in verse 11, was designed to destroy the institutions of evil. The second warning given here is telling them that if they do not repent after their institutions are destroyed, that the next and final thing destroyed will be them.

That those who are outside, are dogs, which would indicate that they are not of the faithful church. Just as to the Jews, the gentiles were considered dogs and outsiders, the same thing is alluded to here, in that the ones that have these faults cannot be a part of the faithful class, and are outsiders. The word used for outside is interesting, in that it means outside of doors—outside of gates of the city? That's, exactly what will happen if they don't repent.

The following sins are things that should not be found in the church. We see that the lesson here is not only the literal sin, but includes the symbolic application also. To show that we are going to list the definitions of what these sins are.

Poisoning

NT:5332 farmakeu/$ pharmakeus (far-mak-yoos'); from pharmakon (a drug, i.e. spell-giving potion); a druggist ("pharmacist") or poisoner, i.e. (by extension) a magician:

KJV - sorcerer.

(Biblesoft's New Exhaustive Strong's Numbers and Concordance with Expanded Greek-Hebrew Dictionary. Copyright © 1994, 2003, 2006 Biblesoft, Inc. and International Bible Translators, Inc.)

This is more than just a literal poisoning, but is also truth or scripture that are being spun for a corrupt viewpoint, or represents persons who are spiritually destroying others, like poisoning the spirit of an ecclesia.

This may also be the mixing of Pagan doctrine with truth doctrine, which is what happened in the early church that caused the great falling away.

Prostitution Equals Church & State

NT:4205 po/rno/$  pornos (por'-nos); from pernemi (to sell; akin to the base of NT:4097); a (male) prostitute (as venal), i.e. (by analogy) a debauchee (libertine):

KJV - fornicator, whoremonger.

(Biblesoft's New Exhaustive Strong's Numbers and Concordance with Expanded Greek-Hebrew Dictionary. Copyright © 1994, 2003, 2006 Biblesoft, Inc. and International Bible Translators, Inc.)

Immoral persons or prostitutes, include much more than the literal understanding. It may be like those who sell their integrity. It would also be those who advocate the harlotry of church and state. The harlotry of the evil system, is one of the important topics of the book of Revelation.

Murderers

NT:5406 foneu/$ phoneus (fon-yooce'); from NT:5408; a murderer (always of criminal [or at least intentional] homicide; which NT:443 does not necessarily imply; while NT:4607 is a special term for a public bandit):

KJV - murderer.

(Biblesoft's New Exhaustive Strong's Numbers and Concordance with Expanded Greek-Hebrew Dictionary. Copyright © 1994, 2003, 2006 Biblesoft, Inc. and International Bible Translators, Inc.)

Again, this does not have to only be a literal murderer, but could include those who have spiritually led astray the faithful so that they are caused to fall away from the true faith or are those who hate others.

Idolater

*NT:1496_ei)dwlola/trh$ eidololatres (i-do-lol-at'-race); from NT:1497 and the base of NT:3000; an Image- servant or) worshipper (literally or figuratively):

(Biblesoft's New Exhaustive Strong's Numbers and Concordance with Expanded Greek-Hebrew Dictionary. Copyright © 1994, 2003, 2006 Biblesoft, Inc. and International Bible Translators, Inc.)

Literal idolaters are included in this warning, and this would be like the statues that are in many of the churches, where the members bow down to the statue and pray to it. This is especially bad regarding those who pray to Mary all the time thinking, that she has more power to save than Jesus.

At the same time, the church can have spiritual idols that they are wrongly worshiping. This could be leaders that they follow no matter what, or it can even be false doctrines that are held in high esteem, like the Trinity and hellfire doctrines. Therefore, the worship of idols is one of the things main things that the Lord was warning about when John fell at the feet of the angel and tried to worship that angel. We pray that none of us are doing that without realizing it!

Lies

Bringing Out False Doctrines

*NT:5579_yeu=do$ pseudos (psyoo'-dos); from NT:5574; a falsehood:

Again, this could be a literal lie about anything, but it could also include lies about spiritual things. For example, the nominal churches believe in a literal hell, and it could be possible that some of the leaders know better. But because it helps keep the flock in fear and control, they have perpetuated that lie. They could also be using the message regarding a fiery and burning place, as an incentive to get people to give more money to keep themselves or their relatives out of hell, or the other falsehood like purgatory.

Revelation 22:16

Rev 22:16 "I, Jesus, have sent My angel to testify to you these things for the churches. I am the root and the descendant of David, the bright morning star." (NAU)

Same Angel As Rev 1:1?

This angel is most likely the same angel as seen in Rev 1:1, and is most likely Gabriel, but we can't prove that for sure. During the study, we didn't believe that this is the same angel as the one that John tried to fall down at the feet of in verse 8, but after the close of the study, we found evidence that shows that Gabriel is one of the seven angels that stands before God. In Luke 1:19, we found that he says, "I am Gabriel that stands in the presence of God", and that makes him one of the angels with the seven trumpets, who most likely are the same angels with the seven bowls of wrath, or perhaps more correctly, the angels sent from God who work with the earthly messengers.

Angel of Chap 17

The angel in Chapter 17, was one of the angels with the bowls of wrath and this seems to be the same one. So while it is not certain, it may be that the angel that the Lord Jesus sent, is the same angel as the one that John fell down at the feet of. It's likely that he would be the angel of the seventh trumpet and the seven bowls of wrath, because he seems to be one of the more important angels, being the only other one that is named in the Bible. The angel that John fell down at the feet of, was never named, and the one that we believe was possibly Gabriel in Rev 1:1, was not named either, but we believe that Gabriel is a good assumption for both. Again we should not forget the lesson, and that is that the name of the messenger is not important, the one who sent the message and who devised the Divine Plan, is the only important being, because he is God who designed the plan.

In our study, we had concluded that the angels with the seven trumpets, were the same angels that were given the seven bowls of wrath, and starting in Rev Chapter 17, the angel that had one of the bowls, was showing John all of those things, and he continued revealing new things, until we saw John fall down at his feet. Since the seven angels are angels that stand before God in heaven, that makes it impossible for them to be earthly Pastors. Contrary to popular thought, Pastor Russell cannot be the angel with the seventh trumpet, and he never claimed to be. He is the messenger to the seventh church, as seen in Rev 3:14, and in that Chapter we see that the Holy spirit is what delivered the message to him, and he then delivered his message to the church. This angel, is most likely the one that delivered the Harvest message through brother Russell, using the Holy spirit.

In the Old Testament, we see that Jesus was prophesied about by Balaam, and that he was called an offspring of David.

Numbers 24:17 I shall see him, but not now: I shall behold him, but not nigh: there shall come a Star out of Jacob, and a Scepter shall rise out of Israel, and shall smite the corners of Moab, and destroy all the children of Sheth.

Isa 11:1 A shoot will come up from the stump of Jesse; from his roots a Branch will bear fruit.

Matt 22:41-46 (41 While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them, 42 "What do you think about the Christ? Whose son is he?" "The son of David," they replied. 43 He said to them, "How is it then that David, speaking by the Spirit, calls him 'Lord'? For he says, 44 "'The Lord said to my Lord: " Sit at my right hand until I put your enemies under your feet." 45 If then David calls him 'Lord,' how can he be his son?" 46 No one could say a word in reply, and from that day on no one dared to ask him any more questions. NIV

Revelation 22:17

Rev 22:17 The Spirit and the bride say, "Come." And let the one who hears say, "Come." And let the one who is thirsty come; let the one who wishes take the water of life without cost. (NAU)

Bride of Christ & Holy spirit Call to the World

Here we see the bride of Christ with the use of the Holy spirit, is going to bring the message of the salvation of the kingdom to the world. The call of the bride will include the outpouring of the Holy spirit to Israel, and then from them to the world.

Joel 2:28-29 (28 And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions:

29 And also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my spirit. (KJV)

Our Lord, will use the spirit and the bride to call to the world, so that he can get them to get them to accept the kingdom. The Lord is going to do it through the bride of Christ, because the world will be more willing to accept the call of the kingdom from those who had once been of the earth. If the call came from just our Lord alone, they might question if they can do what he wants. But the fact that the church has already done it, under poorer conditions, would be proof to the world that they can indeed do it. That the call is coming through those who have already made it, would indicate to them that it's possible to do what is necessary to begin the walk up the highway of holiness. They will have 1000 years to accomplish their walk, or at least a large amount of that time, while the church had to do it in the short lifetime that we have.

The water of life does come directly from our Lord, as we see in Revelation 21:6, but here he is using the spirit and the church to bring it to the world.

Those Who Hear Must Also Call

The portion of the verse that says “let him who heareth say come”, indicates that many of those who accept the kingdom early on, will then call unto others and tell them about the benefits of accepting the kingdom. These are those who first recognize the value of what is being offered. As soon as they receive the restitution blessings, they will rejoice and gladly spread the message of joy. Their restoration to health, regaining of sight, hearing, and speech, etc., will convince others the benefit of accepting the kingdom.

Isaiah Chap 55 Water of Life

In the Old Testament, we find a prophecy about this same call to the free water of the kingdom, which is the same call that we see here. This call to partake of the water of life, first went out to the church during the Gospel Age, and now it is going to go out to the world of mankind.

Isa 55:1-3 (I Ho, every one that thirsted, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price.

2 Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which satisfied not? hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is to receive good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness.

3 Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David. (KJV)

Revelation 22:18-19

Rev 22:18 I testify to everyone who hears the words of the prophecy of this book: if anyone adds to them, God will add to him the plagues which are written in this book;

Rev 22:19 and if anyone takes away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God will take away his part from the tree of life and from the holy city, which are written in this book. (NAU)

Warning do not add or Take Away
From this book

If you add things to God's word, he will add the plagues onto you. If you take things away from his word, God will take away your right to the tree of life. That it's the tree of life that will be taken away, shows that that the warning is to the church. Only the faithful church will be able to enter the cube of the city and to have full access to the tree of life.

The fallen church and state system, did not heed this warning, and tried to eliminate the message of the entire book. The reason that they did that, was to take the spotlight off their wrong behavior, because the message of the book was pointing right at them. Those who fall on this point, are not necessarily second death, but they for certain lose their crown or right to the tree of life.

This warning does not mean that you can't have a mistaken interpretation, but it means that you cannot make intentional changes.

Warning Applies to Entire Gospel Age Retroactively

The warning about the plagues falls upon the entire Gospel Age, because even though the system is only judged guilty at the end of the age, the plagues or punishment fall on the guilty of the entire age. The plague that comes upon them is the loss of their reward or their crown.

Revelation 22:20-21

Rev 22:20 He who testifies to these things says, "Yes, I am coming quickly." Amen. Come, Lord Jesus.

Rev 22:21 The grace of the Lord Jesus be with all. Amen. (NAU)

Third Time Coming Quickly

This is the third time in this Chapter that Jesus says that "I am coming quickly", verses 7, 12, 20. When something is important, or the speaker wants to emphasise what he is saying, the important part is usually repeated three times. There are also three phases to his coming on this end of the age, starting with his presence in 1874AD. There is the presence, the bright shining or revealing by 1914AD, and then the actual coming to the world after the church is complete, and that is what we see here. It's interesting that the three places make a chronological progression through Chapter 22, starting from 1874-1878AD, until our Lord does come to the world in the kingdom. The third time that he says that he is coming quickly, is just after we see the spirit and the bride offer the gift of the waters of life, which is free. That is what will happen at the third and final phase of the coming, when our Lord comes to the world after the church is complete.

First Time Coming Quickly

In this Chapter, we see that the first time he says he is coming, he says blessed regarding those who keep the words of this prophecy, which is the church. The word blessed is also used in Daniel Chapter 12 regarding those who would come to the end of the 1335 days or years. That chronology reached to 1874AD.

Second Time Coming Quickly

The second time he says he is coming, is when he warned about the judgment and punishment that he was going to be carrying out, as we see in verse 14. That was when the 2520 years of time ran out and the gentile Times ended in WW1, in 1914. He then says blessed are those who wash their robes, and then he goes on and lists things that the church should not be doing, or they will not be allowed into the city. This warning is to both the faithful of the church that needed to win their crowns, and it also applies to the Great Company, who must wash their robes in the blood of Christ at the end of the age to be saved. The second time that he says that he is coming quickly, also points to the judgment that came upon the nominal house, and it results in the spewing out of those who had not heeded the warnings—remember the word outside means outside the door or gate. There was a 40-year period where this punishment fell upon the nominal house, and at the time of this writing, we are now in a final testing and sifting regarding those who had been called out in the harvest message.

Judgement of Zechariah Two Thirds Removed

This judgment reminds us of Zechariah, where we see that one-third is called out, and two-thirds cut off, which would seem to correspond to the harvest time. The one-third that is called out, is then further sifted and tested in the fire to see who is faithful, and that would seem to fit very well with the time-periods we have been in since 1918AD. The one-third being called out would leave behind two-thirds, or .666 in decimal form. So, those who did not come out, would then be seen to be a part of the 666-evil system that the church had been warned about.

Zech 13:8-9 (8 In the whole land," declares the LORD , "two-thirds will be struck down and perish; yet one-third will be left in it. 9 This third I will bring into the fire; I will refine them like silver and test them like gold. They will call on my name and I will answer them; I will say, 'They are my people,' and they will say, 'The LORD is our God.'" NIV

Even from the start of the Gospel Age, our Lord was going to come relatively quickly, compared to the previous history of the world. Since we are at the end of the age now, he is indeed coming quickly from this point in time. If the Lord had told the church that he was not coming for almost 2000 years, they would have been discouraged.

Matt 24:42-44 (42 Watch therefore: for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come.

43 But know this, that if the good man of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken up.

44 Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh. (KJV)

Our Lord said that he was coming quickly to a couple of the earlier churches 2:16, 3:11. In other words, he wanted the church to always be ready, as if he was coming soon.

Rom 13:11-12 (11 And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleep: for now, is our salvation nearer than when we believed.

12 The night is far spent, the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armor of light. (KJV) See also Matt 25:13

We pray that our Lord comes quickly, with the complete 144,000, and that Satan's system is quickly removed, and the blessings of the kingdom will begin to restore all who are willing.

The nominal church fell at the end of the 40-year harvest in 1914 - 1918AD.

The Above Chart is for Theoretical Consideration Only

This appendix is given for consideration only, and is not considered to be an absolutely proven idea. We present it with the thought in mind that it may have some validity and that it seems to be more systematic than other methods used to date the churches. This type of pattern is what we would expect from the Heavenly Father. The problem with the present method of trying to define the churches, just by events, seems to result in some inharmonious looking lengths for the churches, where there are some real short duration churches, and some long ones. There is also another table below, a little later in this portion of the book, that shows that the 360-time-periods, go all the way back to 646.25 BC. That date began a 40-year period that ended when Nebuchadnezzar began to conquer Palestine. Those calculations are based on the corrected or enhanced chronology found in the book "Biblical Count of the Years". Those corrections fix some historical and biblical problems at the time of the Babylonian exile and return, but do not change any of our end time harvest time dates.

Chronos and Kairos

The table is a development of the thought, that each of the seven churches, the 7 seals, and the 7 trumpets, all individually belong to the same time frame. Using this concept, it's possible to find a statement in most of the churches, that helps to show that all except the first and the last church, are 360 years in length. The keywords that we are looking for are "Chronos" and "Kairos", which are generally translated time, times, space, and in Revelation and other areas of the Bible, are used to define the chronological periods of the 1260 years.

Even if we didn't find this pattern defined in the scriptures, we would want to try out the 360-year cycle, just to see if it would work. We would be justified in saying that it was a valid theory, if we found that the churches and their messengers fell in the right places. That we will see is the exact situation, in that we find that 5 of the 7 of the seven messengers to the churches that are suggested in the reprints, are the same and intersected exactly. The other two alternate messengers to the churches, are found to be fighting against the Trinity, and the rise of church and state power, and so they are doing the same thing as the ones that had been originally suggested. Even if the evidence is weak, or if it be proved that we can't use the words chronos or kairos, this solution seems more like what the Heavenly Father would design, rather than one where the lengths of the churches are chosen through private interpretation of events. The many differing opinions that come from that method, shows us that method is not very conclusive. See the explanation of the second church, for one other possible solution or reason for the 360's.

Some More Information in Divine Plan & its Chronology

Just as an interesting side note for further study, those who have access to the booklet, "The Divine Plan and its Chronology, as demonstrated by Cherubs, living ones, Seraphim, and Cubits”, will see that regarding the 2520-year Gentile Times, there is more than one 2520-year circle. There is an overlapping 2520 that starts 40 years before the start of the one that ends the times of the gentiles.

If we take the 2520-year circle, which is in the midst of the years, and which starts 40 years before the conquest of Babylon in 606.25 BC, and follow it to its end, we see that it ends 40 years before the end of the Gentile Times in 1874 (646.25 BC + 2520 years = 1873.75AD). That places a 40-year period before the start of the 2520. Because  $2520 = 7 \times 360$ , we see that the last 5 of the 360's generated and colored red, are the same as the start dates picked for churches 2-6!

We find this pattern interesting and worthy of further study and thought! Does the seventh church technically end at the end of the 40 years, where the closing out punishment fell on the nominal house in 1914. If so, we would then not be in the seventh church, but we would be in a replacement phase for the lost crowns, that are still needed to complete the church?

The 360's Of Churches 2-6

	Church 1	Church 2	Church 3	Church 4	Church 5	Church 6	Church 7

End Date	73.75AD	433.75AD	793.75AD	1153.75AD	1513.75AD	1873.75AD	1913.75AD?

Another Table, showing an interesting 360 pattern, going back to Midst of 7000 years!

Jeremiah Begins	Subtract 40 Years								Add 40 years
646.25 BC	646.25 - 40 = 606.25	286.25 BC	73.75AD	433.75AD	793.75AD	1153.75AD	1513.75AD	1873.75AD	1873.75 + 40 = 1913.75

Midst of Years

In the table, if we start at the capture of the ten tribes land, and if we count 360-year cycles, blue in color, we intersect the birth of Christ. If we continue with seven of the 360 cycles, we arrive at 1799AD, which was the end of the 1260 years of the power of the church and state system. If we continue the blue 360 cycles for 10 cycles, we overlap the end of the 7000 years by 3.5 years. Little season?

Church 1 Pentecost

CHURCH 1 - There are at least 3 choices that we know of, for a starting date for the first church. The least likely is 35.75 or Oct 36AD, when Israel lost its exclusive favor. We don't think that is the correct date, because the Apostles were given the command to go and make converts shortly after our Lord was crucified. Another possibility would be when our Lord was immersed in the river Jordan, at the start of his ministry. That might be a good choice, except that we think that the better choice would be when the Holy spirit was given to the church at Pentecost. For that reason, we think that the first church should start with Pentecost or approximately 32.25AD + 50 days. The closing date for the first church, has been calculated by figuring backward from 1873.75 or Oct 1874, in steps of 360 years. That then intersects the theoretical closing date for the first church, at 73.75, which falls about 1 year after the final defeat of the Jews in 73AD at Masada. From the beginning of the church at Pentecost, until the defeat at Masada, is exactly 40 years, but to the intersect date is 41 years.

We don't think that the time span of the first church, was intended to be 40 years as we might at first have thought, even though there is a 40-yr. period in it, just as there is in the seventh. The only way that we could make this into 40, would be if we thought that the conversion of Cornelius could have occurred 1 year after the crucifixion. Traditionally that event has always been thought to be after 36AD, which is after the exclusive favor to the Jews ran out. For that reason, we conclude that this church was not intended to be 40 years, unless it started counting from the Apostle Paul's conversion, which would be at about the correct time.

Paul is most likely the messenger to the first church, since he was an Apostle to the Gentiles, as well as giving us many of the writings of the New Testament, which laid the foundation of the church, Col 1:24-27. If this church follows the pattern of the next six churches, which would be reasonable, we should find the messenger 3.5 years after the start of the church at Pentecost, or in 35.75AD or Oct 36AD. Paul was an Apostle to the Gentiles, more than he ever was to the Jews, so Oct 36AD would be reasonable, even if Paul was converted before that date. Neither Paul's conversion, nor the call to the gentiles are certain dates, but the end of the seventieth week in 36AD, seems to be logically the time that the call would have gone out to the gentiles. In the book of Acts, if we assume that the book is in chronological order, we see Paul's conversion in Chapter 9, and then the call to the gentiles in Chapter 10. So, it appears that Paul's ministry to the gentiles would have begun in 36AD, even if he was converted in 34 or 35 and that would be when we would count his ministry from

We can figure the time of the second church, by the time Jesus made the statement in Revelation 1:3, where he says that the "time" is at hand, he is giving us an important clue. In that verse, he uses the word (Kairos), which is elsewhere used in times time and a half, 3.5 x 360 = 1260. He seems to be saying that, not only is the time at hand for that church, but that the 360-time span is starting for the second church and he possibly could be indicating that we should count 360 years' cycles from there, up to the seventh.

In other words, the second church was to be the start of a series of 360-year cycles, the last of which ended with the end of the sixth church. Remember, that in the sixth church in Revelation 10:6, we are told that in the time of the Seventh Messenger, that there is “time no longer”. Not only would this be the start of a time of punishment, but it also implies that the count of time or 360 cycles, would end at our Lords return!

For the start date of this church to work, we would also have to assume that John is the messenger of the second church, and that he is writing his books, especially Revelation at that very time. The time calculated, does fall within the time frame generally accepted for the writing of Revelation, which was 73 - 100AD, but we don't have a certain date for that event. Most commentators date the writings closer to 90-100AD, but a few sources admit that he could have written as early as 70AD. The ones that favor the later dating, do so because they think that some events that are mentioned in Revelation, had to occur before John wrote. But we don't buy the idea that God couldn't have revealed those events in prophecy ahead of time if they are of a valid interpretation, and so the earlier dating seems more likely to us.

The thought that he wrote it later, is based on the higher criticism idea that he copied parts of his Gospel from Mark and Luke. We don't understand why that would be correct, since he was a direct witness to the same events. Besides, John is not the author of Revelation, but God is, but the critics can't seem to admit that. The dating for this church may also date from his earlier writings, rather than from Revelation, so there would be no conflict that we can see, even if the Revelation dating is correct.

For that reason, John would be the logical messenger to this church, and his message would be 3.5 years after the start of the church, which would be 77.25AD. That would have been a reasonable place for the giving of either Revelation or perhaps his earlier writings. The church, may have been concerned with the destruction of Jerusalem, that had just occurred, and would have needed reassuring that God had everything under control, and that he knew the beginning from the end.

CHURCH 3

The third church, has no proven time reference, but is defined by the churches on either side of it, and by the assumption that it's also 360 years. It was during this time, that the rise in Papal power occurred, which put Papacy on the throne of the old Roman Empire. We know that the doctrine that was being called to question at that time, was the doctrine of the Trinity and the dual nature of Christ. The apostate church claimed that Christ was God, and a part of a divine Trinity.

Arius is generally considered as the messenger to this church, since he led the fight against the Trinity doctrine during his time. The only problem that we find with him as the messenger, is that he is too early to meet the date that our table points to. There are several others that carried this same fight onward after his time, and we are going to consider a different one, who just happens to fall exactly at the correct time.

Nestorius of Constantinople is perhaps the most famous one, that was involved in this argument, since he caused the debate which led to the council of Ephesus in 431AD. He had called into question the doctrine that said that Mary was the mother of God. He said that she should be called the mother of Christ, since to believe otherwise compromised the reality of Christ's human nature. This church seemed determined to make Christ into God through the Trinity doctrine, no matter what the contrary evidence said.

Nestorius was condemned and thrown in prison for his views, after which he wrote a work entitled "tragedy", in about 435AD, which was just prior to the date we are looking for. He was banished to a remote area because of his views, shortly after that. His ideas lost most of their influence in the West after the council of Chalcedon, but his views continued to spread in the Eastern churches. The error that he fought against, is still believed by most in the apostate church system, in that they think that Christ was part God and part man. Barbour had that very same problem, which led Pastor Russell to separate from him.

While Nestorius and the others in the third church, including Arius, didn't have everything correct, they at least were fighting the false concept that Christ was God while he was on earth. They realized that he had to be a man to pay the ransom price.

The other possible candidate for the messenger is Jacobus Baradaeus, who had organized a large group of Syrian Christians, who repudiated the Patriarchs of Antioch for supporting the Council of Chalcedon in 451AD. That council had affirmed the dual nature of Christ, which taught that he was man + spirit, and these faithful Christians were still fighting against that error. This was the same argument which had brought about the council of Ephesus. While this date is too late, it may be that he was involved in this argument about the nature of Christ prior to the council of Chalcedon. This church closes and the fourth starts about 5 years before 799AD, which was the time that Charlemagne was crowned by the Pope.

CHURCH 4

The messenger to this church is not as clear, but there was the problem of the Pope trying to get control of the civil power at that time, and that brings to our attention a couple of possibilities.

The trouble is usually blamed by the Catholic historians on two individuals, who were relatives of the previous Pope. They were Paschalis and Bishop Campulus. It's not clear what office Paschalis was, but he was a high church official. They had issued charges against Pope Leo, and if you read the Catholic historians on this, they only know that he was accused of Simony and immoral conduct. It took a lot of looking, but we finally found that what the trouble was all about, was the attempt by the Pope to take control over the civil power of Rome—which the civil nobles did not want. The trouble came to a head in 799AD, when the Pope was attacked by a mob of individuals, and it is claimed that they tried to cut out his tongue and eyes, so that he could no longer be Pope.

Pope Leo the Third, was also the Pope who crowned Charlemagne, king in 799AD. We have found some very interesting information, which is about some church officials who resisted the Pope at that time, but were eventually overcome by him. They may be the same individuals as the ones above, since the timing is the same, but unfortunately Sir Isaac Newton does not name them. This information is found in the writings of Sir Isaac Newton on Daniel and Revelation. It's not clear where he got the historical information, but it shows that there were ones who were resisting the Papal grab for power at the time. Here is the quote from his writings. See the third church, for 793 as being the start date for this church, with  $793 + 3.5 = 796.5 = 797$  as being the key date. Looking at the history below, we can see that was the time that Papacy was starting to take control of the government and the church.

“In the year 796, Leo III being made Pope, notified his election to Charles the great by his Legates, sending to him for a present, the golden keys of the Confession of Peter, and the Banner of the City of Rome: the first as an acknowledgement of the Pope's holding the cities of the Exarchate and Lombardy by the grant of Charles; the other as a signification that Charles should come and subdue the Senate and people of Rome, as he had done the Exarchate and the kingdom of the Lombard's. For the Pope at the same time desired Charles to send some of his Princes to Rome, who might subject the Roman people to him, and bind them by oath in fide & subjection, in fealty and subjection, as his words are recited by Sigonius. An anonymous Poet, published by Boeclerus at Strasburg, expressed it thus:

Admonuitque piis precibus, qui mittere vellet
Ex propriis aliquos primoribus, ac sibi plebem
Subdere Romanam, servandaque foedera cogens
Hanc fidei sacramentis promittere magnis.

Hence arose a misunderstanding between the Pope and the city: and the Romans about two or three years after, by assistance of some of the Clergy, raised such tumults against him, as gave occasion to a new state of things in all the West. For two of the Clergy accused him of crimes, and the Romans with an armed force, seized him, stripped him of his sacerdotal habit, and imprisoned him in a monastery. But by assistance of his friends he made his escape, and fled into Germany to Charles the great, to whom he complained of the Romans for acting against him out of a design to throw off all authority of the Church, and to recover their ancient freedom.

In his absence his accusers with their forces ravaged the possessions of the Church, and sent the accusations to Charles; who before the end of the year sent the Pope back to Rome with a large retinue. The Nobles and Bishops of France who accompanied him, examined the chief of his accusers at Rome, and sent them into France in custody. This was the year 799. The next year Charles himself went to Rome, and upon a day appointed presided in a Council of Italian and French Bishops to hear both parties. But when the Pope's adversaries expected to be heard, the Council declared that he who was the supreme judge of all men, was above being judged by any other than himself; whereupon he made a solemn declaration of his innocence before all the people, and by doing so was looked upon as acquitted.

Soon after, upon Christmas-day, the people of Rome, who had hitherto elected their Bishop, and reckoned that they and their Senate inherited the rights of the ancient Senate and people of Rome, voted Charles their Emperor, and subjected themselves to him in such manner as the old Roman Empire and their Senate were subjected to the old Roman Emperors. The Pope crowned him, and anointed him with holy oil, and worshiped him on his knees after the manner of adoring the old Roman Emperors; as the aforesaid Poet thus relates:

Post laudes igitur dictas & summus eundem

Praesul adoravit, sicut mos debitus olim

Principibus fuit antiquis.

The Emperor, on the other hand, took the following oath to the Pope: In nomine Christi spondeo atque polliceor, Ego Carolus Imperator coram Deo & beato Petro Apostolo, me protectorem ac defensorem fore hujus sanctae Romanae Ecclesiae in omnibus utilitatibus, quatenus divinae fultus fuero adjutorio, prout sciero poterique. The Emperor was also made Consul of Rome, and his son Pepin crowned King of Italy: and henceforward the Emperor styled himself: Carolus serenissimus, Augustus, a Deo coronatus, magnus, pacificus, Romae gubernans imperium, or Emperor Romanorum; and was prayed for in the Churches of Rome. His *Image was henceforward put upon the coins of Rome: while the enemies of the Pope, to the number of three hundred Romans and two or three of the Clergy, were sentenced to death. The three hundred Romans were beheaded in one day in the Lateran fields: but the Clergymen at the intercession of the Pope were pardoned, and banished into France. And thus the title of Roman Emperor, which had hitherto been in the Greek Emperors, was by this act transferred in the West to the Kings of France.

From Ages Digital Library”

Again, if you look at the Catholic historians, they say that Paschalis and Campulus were involved in the plot, which is what most others quote from the Catholics. There are a few other sources that say that they were not involved in the plot, and that they carried him to St Peters church, where he was supposed by the Catholic historians to have his eyes and tongue miraculously healed. Sir Isaac Newton’s history does not say anything about the attempt to cut out the eyes and tongue, and so we suspect that it never happened. The two above church officials, wrote a letter to Charlemagne expecting their charges against the Pope to be heard. Unfortunately, Pope Leo fled to the protection of Charlemagne, and invoked the protection agreement between him and the Pope. Charlemagne sent an army back, and arrested the two church officials, and many supposed co-conspirators.

In 800AD, Charlemagne came to Rome and instead of there being a trial or hearing of the evidence, the Pope was allowed to stand and swear an oath that he was innocent. That was accepted as being all that was needed, and the two church officials were not allowed to speak or tell their side of the issue. The 300 co-conspirators, were executed by beheading, but the two church officials were banished to France.

Two days later, the Pope crowned Charlemagne, and the 1000 years had begun. Jezebel and Ahab had joined forces, and began their evil reign together.

Peter Waldo CHURCH 5

The messenger for this church, is most likely Peter Waldo. We think that he is the correct messenger and not Wycliffe, because he started his ministry right at the beginning of this church in 1157AD, which is where we would expect the messenger to be.

Another good reason for Waldo to be the messenger, is that he started earlier, translating the Bible into the language of the common people so that they could understand it by 1160AD. His translation would have been completed if not exactly on time, very close to the 3.5 years into this church, which is needed to mark him as the messenger. Remember that this church was told to remember what they had before they had lost it. The Bible is God’s word, and the unfaithful system was especially not using it by this time. Revelation 3:3 "So remember what you have received and heard; and keep {it} and repent. Therefore if you do not wake up, I will come like a thief, and you will not know at what hour I will come to you. (NAU)

The translating of the Bible, helped to bring about the fulfillment of our Lords statement to this very church, that if they didn't repent he was going to bring upon them the bed of sickness. That sickness, was the doctrinal controversy that erupted, when the common people could read the scriptures, and find out for themselves that what the church was teaching disagreed with the Bible.

Wycliffe's Followers Finish Last 150 Years of this Church

The fifth church by this table, is in an unusual situation, in that Wycliffe falls about 150 years before its close, so it appears that he is not the messenger. This at first seems strange, until we examine the fifth trumpet, which is the same time as this church. We first see the fallen star, who represents Peter Waldo, opening the pit. Out of the pit came smoke like a furnace, which symbolizes the spiritual darkness that the system was in, revealing Papacies false doctrines. Out of that smoke of spiritual darkness, is where the Locusts came from that Wycliffe led against the Papal system.

It tells us that the scorpions were not to kill anyone, but only torment them for 5 months or  $5 \times 30 = 150$  years. If we calculate backwards 150 years from the close of this 360-year period, we find that the date is 1367.25AD or April 1368. That date falls exactly into the time of the ministry of Wycliffe, who lived from 1330 to 1384. Since he is at the wrong date, he is not a messenger, but he begins the final part of the punishment of the fifth woe trumpet!

The ability to calculate this date from the end of the 360-year period, which is exactly at the time of Luther's 95 theses, seems to demonstrate the correctness of the idea of using the 360 chronological periods to calculate the length of the churches.

The Reformation Begins CHURCH 6

We find that almost exactly 3.5 years into the sixth church, we had the nailing of the 95 theses on the church door by Luther on Oct 31, 1517. That event and the diet of worms about 3-4 years later in 1521, set Europe on fire with the Reformation, and led to the breaking up of the apostate church system into the Protestant and Papal camps. By the spring of 1518AD, Luther had been branded a heretic by the Pope, and was called to defend himself on April 26, 1518, at the "Heidelberg Disputation". There was no turning back after that, the truth was released by the scriptures being available again, and bible knowledge about God's Plan of Salvation kept increasing all of the way to the seventh church.

The Time of the Seventh Messenger CHURCH 7

The first question that presents itself, is exactly where does the seventh church begin? We need to know this, to have a date to start counting backwards from. The date that we feel was correct is 1873.75AD or OCT 1874, since that is the beginning of the 7000 years. We believe that Revelation 11:15, is pointing at 1874, since that is where the chronological 1000 years started. That date is also where our Lord has returned as king to claim his kingdom and where the Jubilee cycles point to for the start of restitution.

The only other thing that we need to take note of, is that we think that the date we are looking for where the messenger does his work, should be 3.5 years past the start of each church or 1878AD. While that is not a certainty, we find that most of the other churches follow that same pattern, and it would be reasonable to expect that this one would be the same.

Messenger Has to be Charles Russell

The messenger to this church could only be Bro. Russell, since he is the one who showed us the mystery of God and the Divine Plan, Revelation 10:7. Pastor withdrew from the Herald of the Morning in 1878AD, and began preparations to publish his own paper, which was called the Watchtower, in the spring of 1879AD. That date, is where the message to come out of her my people, began to be published in earnest because of the judgment of the harlot. That is the date that the Lord judged this system, and he said that he was going to spew them out, Revelation 3:16. Using Bible chronology and the proper understanding of what it meant, Pastor received the legal right to make the call to come out of her my people, from that time onward.

If we consider that the church could have been finished at the end of the 40-year harvest parallel, if all had made it, then the seventh church is approximately the same length as the first church. But since many fell, and the 144,000 still need to be finished, we are in a replacement phase of the church. Because only the number 144,000 is predestined, the members of the church are not predestined to be finished at any date. We only know that the Jehovah has left enough time, so that the selection can continue until the number is full.

We don't wish to speculate on the length of the time after the seventh church period closed in 1914, if the seventh period of time really did end then. If that is what is happening, we don't have any way to determine when the replacement period after 1914 would end. There are too many different conclusions that could be arrived at, and any dates that we could find might cause more harm than good, because we would have no way to know if they are correct. Historically that has always proved to be true.

We should always live as if today was to be the last day of our life, and that the kingdom is going to be tomorrow. For that matter, even if the date we picked were to be correct, the church would be ended before that date, since any date we could find, would be the start of the kingdom rather than the end of the church, which has to end first. We know that time is short, since we have been in a replacement phase of this church since Pastors time, and there are most likely not many crowns left to fill.

Appendix C

Matt 13 & 7 Churches.

REVELATION CHURCH	MATH 13: PARABLE
#1 FALSE APOSTLES Errors come to the first church early on and the saints need to hold fast to their first love (Christ) and to remember from what they have fallen. The false Apostles were from some whom claimed that they had the right to teach the church. These are those who later became the Papal system.	SOWER GOOD SEED AND THE THORNS Those with depth of root can withstand the persecution and the errors that are coming into this church. The Jews who want the church to go back under the law and the persecution that resulted from them and the Roman Empire are a big part of this problem.
#2 FALSE JEWS-SYNAGOGUE SATAN Those who claim to be of the church but are not are beginning to gain a foothold. They have too good a hold to separate them from the Faithful Church by this time. Satan has caused this error.	TARES FROM ENEMY SATAN Satan sows tares or errors amongst the wheat or church and they spring up. The servants are told to wait until harvest to separate them from the Faithful Church.
#3 SATAN DWELLING IN CHURCH Satan has almost complete control of the church at this time especially through the Papal claim to be able to rule the church from Rome. This was the Nicolaitans (conqueror of the people).	MUSTARD SEED - BIRDS AIR The mustard seed show that from small beginnings the apostate church system was going to take control of everything. The birds in the tree show that Satan and his evil companions dwell in the apostate church and control it.
#4 JEZEBEL WON'T REFORM By the fourth church the system is proud and haughty and doesn't want to reform. This shows how bad things have come to be and we see this same thing in the fourth seal with the sickly horse.	THREE PECKS OF MEAL The leaven of sin by the fourth church has taken over almost the entire church.
#5 NAME IN BOOK OF LIFE Those who repent and wake up will be able to be saved because of the white robe (The ransom) and be part of church.	TREASURE HID IN FIELD The treasure hid in the field is the Faithful Church. Our Lord purchased not only the church but also the world (field)
#6 THE OPEN DOOR The open door represents the salvation that the Lord had provided at the beginning of the church. This had been closed by the false doctrines of the nominal church. The Lord had to point out this salvation opening this door of salvation again.	PEARL OF GREAT PRICE The Lord found the pearl of great value or the church. He gave all that he had to purchase it, which was his life. This opened up the new and living way of salvation making it first available for the church and then in the next age for the world.
#7 I WILL SPEW THEE OUT The apostate church is going to be separated from the Faithful Church at this point. All those who refuse are to be disciplined and instructed will lose their crown to someone else.	BAD FISH THROWN AWAY The bad fish that are thrown away represent the apostate church system or tares that are not acceptable for the office of the high calling. The furnace of fire will burn away all of the error and falsehood from the apostate church. This is the harvest at the end of the age.

(NAU)                  Note- There are some references that we could put down that have the Lord the God Almighty in them, but we don't think they are the same as who is being referred to in Rev 1:8. If you notice in that verse, it does not say the Lord God the Almighty, but it separates those words into two different adjectives, which separately can apply only to Jesus.

(NAU) Revelation 17:3 And he carried me away in the Spirit into a wilderness; and I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast, full of blasphemous names, having seven heads and ten horns. (NAU) Revelation 21:10 And he carried me away in the Spirit to a great and high mountain, and showed me the holy city, Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, Revelation 4:1 After these things I looked, and behold, a door {standing} open in heaven, and the first voice which I had heard, like {the sound} of a trumpet speaking with me, said, "Come up here, and I will show you what must take place after these things." (NAU)	about to sound, then the mystery of God is finished, as He preached to His servants the prophets. (NAU) Revelation 5:1 I saw in the right hand of Him who sat on the throne a book written inside and on the back, sealed up with seven seals. (NAU) Revelation 10:8 Then the voice which I heard from heaven, {I heard} again speaking with me, and saying, "Go, take the book which is open in the hand of the angel who stands on the sea and on the land." (NAU) Revelation 13:8 All who dwell on the earth will worship him, {everyone} whose name has not been written from the foundation of the world in the book of life of the Lamb who has been slain. (NAU) Revelation 17:8 "The beast that you saw was, and is not, and is about to come up out of the abyss and go to destruction. 	DANIEL	REVELATION
-- DESCRIPTION --	-- SEA BEAST --	-- TEN HORNED SEA BEAST --
Rises from Sea/Abyss	Daniel 7:3 And four great beasts came up from the sea, diverse one from another.	(Rev 11:7 [NASB95]) When they have finished their testimony, the beast that comes up out of the abyss will make war with them, and overcome them and kill them. (Rev 13:1 [NASB95]) And the dragon stood on the sand of the seashore. Then I saw a beast coming up out of the sea, having ten horns and seven heads, and on his horns were ten diadems, and on his heads were blasphemous names. (Rev 17:8 [NASB95]) "The beast that you saw was, and is not, and is about to come up out of the abyss and go to destruction. And those who dwell on the earth, whose name has not been written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, will wonder when they see the beast, that he was and is not and will come.
Makes war, conquers and kills the saints	Daniel 7:8 (LXX), 21, 25 Daniel 7:8 I considered the horns, and, behold, there came up among them another little horn, before whom there were three of the first horns plucked up by the roots: and, behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking great things. Daniel 7:21 I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them;	(Rev 11:7 [NASB95]) When they have finished their testimony, the beast that comes up out of the abyss will make war with them, and overcome them and kill them. (Rev 13:7 [NASB95]) It was also given to him to make war with the saints and to overcome them,

		and authority over every tribe and people and tongue and nation was given to him. (Rev 13:10 [NASB95]) If anyone is destined for captivity, to captivity he goes; if anyone kills with the sword, with the sword he must be killed. Here is the perseverance and the faith of the saints. (Rev 13:15 [NASB95]) And it was given to him to give breath to the image of the beast, so that the image of the beast would even speak and cause as many as do not worship the image of the beast to be killed.
Had ten horns	Daniel 7:7, 20 Daniel 7:7 After this I saw in the night visions, and behold a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with the feet of it: and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it; and it had ten horns. Daniel 7:20 And of the ten horns that were in his head, and of the other which came up, and before whom three fell; even of that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake very great things, whose look was more stout than his fellows. Daniel 7:25 And he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High, and think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time.	(Rev 13:1 [NASB95]) And the dragon stood on the sand of the seashore. Then I saw a beast coming up out of the sea, having ten horns and seven heads, and on his horns were ten diadems, and on his heads were blasphemous names. (Rev 12:3 [NASB95]) Then another sign appeared in heaven: and behold, a great red dragon having seven heads and ten horns, and on his heads were seven diadems.
Resembles a leopard	Daniel 7:6 After this I beheld, and lo another, like a leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl; the beast had also four heads; and dominion was given to it.	(Rev 13:2 [NASB95]) And the beast which I saw was like a leopard, and his feet were like those of a bear, and his mouth like the mouth of a lion. And the dragon gave him his power and his throne and great authority.
Resembles a bear	Daniel 7:5 And behold another beast, a second, like to a bear, and it raised up itself on one side, and it had three ribs in the mouth of it between the teeth of it: and they	(Rev 13:2 [NASB95]) And the beast which I saw was like a leopard, and his feet were like those of

	said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh.	a bear, and his mouth like the mouth of a lion. And the dragon gave him his power and his throne and great authority.
Resembles a lion	Daniel 7:4 The first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made stand upon the feet as a man, and a man's heart was given to it	(Rev 13:2 [NASB95]) And the beast which I saw was like a leopard, and his feet were like those of a bear, and his mouth like the mouth of a lion. And the dragon gave him his power and his throne and great authority.
Given power and authority by Dragon	Daniel 7:6 After this I beheld, and lo another, like a leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl; the beast had also four heads; and dominion was given to it.	(Rev 13:2 [NASB95]) And the beast which I saw was like a leopard, and his feet were like those of a bear, and his mouth like the mouth of a lion. And the dragon gave him his power and his throne and great authority.  (Rev 13:4 [NASB95]) they worshiped the dragon because he gave his authority to the beast; and they worshiped the beast, saying, "Who is like the beast, and who is able to wage war with him?"  (Rev 13:5 [NASB95]) There was given to him a mouth speaking arrogant words and blasphemies, and authority to act for forty-two months was given to him.  (Rev 13:7 [NASB95]) It was also given to him to make war with the saints and to overcome them, and authority over every tribe and people and tongue and nation was given to him.
Wounded fatally	Daniel 7:11 I beheld then because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake: I beheld even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and given to the burning flame.	(Rev 13:3 [NASB95]) I saw one of his heads as if it had been slain, and his fatal wound was healed. And the whole earth was amazed and followed after the beast;

		(Rev 13:12 [NASB95]) He exercises all the authority of the first beast in his presence. And he makes the earth and those who dwell in it to worship the first beast, whose fatal wound was healed. (Rev 13:14 [NASB95]) And he deceives those who dwell on the earth because of the signs which it was given him to perform in the presence of the beast, telling those who dwell on the earth to make an image to the beast who *had the wound of the sword and has come to life.
Speaks great things with mouth.	Daniel 7:8, 20 Daniel 7:8 I considered the horns, and, behold, there came up among them another little horn, before whom there were three of the first horns plucked up by the roots: and, behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking great things. Daniel 7:20 And of the ten horns that were in his head, and of the other which came up, and before whom three fell; even of that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake very great things, whose look was more stout than his fellows.	(Rev 13:5 [NASB95]) There was given to him a mouth speaking arrogant words and blasphemies, and authority to act for forty-two months was given to him.
Blasphemes God	Daniel 7:25; 11:36 Daniel 7:25 And he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High, and think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time.	(Rev 13:5 [NASB95]) There was given to him a mouth speaking arrogant words and blasphemies, and authority to act for forty-two months was given to him. Rev 13:6 And he opened his mouth in blasphemies against God, to blaspheme His name and His tabernacle, that is, those who dwell in heaven.
Rules 1260 days	Daniel 7:25 And he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High, and think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time.	Revelation 13:5; 12:14 (Rev 13:5 [NASB95]) There was given to him a mouth speaking arrogant words and blasphemies, and authority to act for forty-two months was given to him.

		(Rev 12:14 [NASB95])          But the two wings of the great eagle were given to the woman, so that she could fly into the wilderness to her place, where she *was nourished for a time and times and half a time, from the presence of the serpent.
Ten horns are ten kings	Daniel 7:24 And the ten horns out of this kingdom are ten kings that shall arise: and another shall rise after them; and he shall be diverse from the first, and he shall subdue three kings.	(Rev 17:3 [NASB95])          And he carried me away in the Spirit into a wilderness; and I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast, full of blasphemous names, having seven heads and ten horns. (Rev 17:7 [NASB95])          And the angel said to me, "Why do you wonder? I will tell you the mystery of the woman and of the beast that carries her, which has the seven heads and the ten horns. (Rev 17:12 [NASB95])          "The ten horns which you saw are ten kings who have not yet received a kingdom, but they receive authority as kings with the beast for one hour. (Rev 17:16 [NASB95])          "And the ten horns which you saw, and the beast, these will hate the harlot and will make her desolate and naked, and will eat her flesh and will burn her up with fire.
Goes to destruction	Daniel 7:11 I beheld then because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake: I beheld even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and given to the burning flame. Daniel 7:26 But the judgment shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it unto the end.	(Rev 17:8 [NASB95])          "The beast that you saw was, and is not, and is about to come up out of the abyss and go to destruction. And those who dwell on the earth, whose name has not been written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, will wonder when they see the beast, that he was and is not and will come.

		(Rev 17:11 [NASB95])          "The beast which was and is not, is himself also an eighth and is one of the seven, and he goes to destruction.
Thrown into fire.	Daniel 7:11 I beheld then because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake: I beheld even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and given to the burning flame.	(Rev 19:20 [NASB95])          And the beast was seized, and with him the false prophet who performed the signs in his presence, by which he deceived those who had received the mark of the beast and those who worshiped his image; these two were thrown alive into the lake of fire which burns with brimstone. (Rev 20:10 [NASB95])          And the devil who deceived them was thrown into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet are also; and they will be tormented day and night forever and ever.

DANIEL, PAUL, AND JOHN COMPARISON (Short Version) from Jeff Mezera
Daniel 7	2 Thessalonians 2	John
The Little Horn	The Man of Sin / Lawlessness	The Beast
Rises up in the midst of the ten horns – which are ten kings (7:7, 24), arising out of the head of the fourth beast (7:24; 7:8, 20) – who rises from the sea (7:3), and is the fourth kingdom (7:17; Daniel 2:40-44). The little Horn differs from, and is more stout, than the other horns (7:20, 24), is a King (7:24), has the eyes of a man (7:8), has a mouth speaking great things (:6, 11, 20), the power of the Beast is centered in him (8:25), and so the Little Horn is virtually the Beast; makes war with the saints and prevails against them (7:21).	Rises, as soon as he that letteth is taken away (2:6, 7).  A Man (2:3).. A Mystery (2:7). Sitteth in the Temple of God, and is worshipped (2:4).	Rises from the sea (13:1), s compounded of the emblems of the first three kingdoms of Daniel (13:2); is wounded mortally, but received a new life (13:3, 12, 14); has ten horns (13:1; 17:3, 12), which have crowns and are ten kings (13:1; 17:12), who receives power with the beast, and give their strength to him (17:12, 13, 17). Has the number of a Man (13:18). Becomes the seat of the Woman, whose name is Mystery (17:5, 7); he is worshipped (13:4, 8), has a mouth speaking great things (13:8).
	Worketh signs, and lying wonders (2:9).	Worketh great wonders by agency of the second beast (13:12, 13).
Speaks great words against the Most High, and wears out the saints of the Most High (7:25), persecutes during a time, times, and a half a time (i.e. three and a half years, 7:23).	Exalted himself against all that is called God. (2:4)	Opens his mouth in blasphemy against God (13:5, 6), wars against the saints (13:7), acts forty-two months, or three and a half years (13:5),
	Is the son of perdition (2:3).	goeth unto perdition (17:3, 11).
Finally the Beast (whose power subsists in the Little Horn) is slain, and his body given to the fire (7:11).	Will be consumed with the spirit of Christ’s mouth (2:8).	The Harlot sitting upon him is burned with fire (18:8), and finally the Beast himself is cast into the lake of fire (19:20; 20:10).

Appendix I

Other Interpretations Regarding the 3.5 days we looked at

We have several possibilities before us which we will consider, saving the only one that fits history exactly, for last. We will look at these possibilities, because some of them are ones that the brethren look at regarding this prophecy.

Interpretation 1

(1) One idea that came from the Adventist movement, and which is commonly used to explain the 3.5 days by many Bible Students, is that the 3.5 days is said to be a literal period of 3.5 years, from 1793 to 1797.

There is a major problem with considering that time, because that was not a time that Papacy had reason to celebrate. That was the time that Papacy suffered a very crushing defeat, and they lost control of all their civil power shortly afterward. The Catholic religion was banned in France at that time. Napoleon also took away their ability to control the people regarding what religion the people had to follow. In the areas that Napoleon controlled, he left it up to the people as to what church they wanted to attend. That was a crushing blow to the Papal church, that previously could mandatorily require the people to attend the Catholic Church.

The verses that we are considering here, say that the fallen church system would overcome and kill or do away with the use of the scriptures. But the historical reality was that because of the greater freedom that the people had gotten at the end of the 1260 years, they had a much easier time of consulting the scriptures and using them in their doctrinal arguments. That again was not a favorable thing to the Papal system, which most of the time used Papal bulls and canon law.

The banning of religion that happened in France about that same time, is also thought to be the killing of the prophets that is spoken of in this Chapter, but that idea also has some very serious problems. The fulfillment of this prophecy cannot be a localized event, as in for example just France, but needs to be a religious system-wide defeat of the scriptures, which that event was not. The other thing about the law that was passed against religion in France, was that it was passed because the people of France did not want anything more to do with the Catholic system or any other religion. That does not sound like a victory that Papacy or even the Protestants would celebrate, but it was a strong proof that their time of power was ending. The histories other than Adventist sources, do not agree that religion was banned for 3.5 years, because events show that the total ban was for only a few months, and the partial ban was about 1-2 years, not 3.5.

Another big problem for solution number one, is that the scripture says that the “entire beast” that came up out of the abyss, made war with the saints and killed them, and so we see that since France was only one of the ten horns on the beast, and because of that it couldn’t fulfill this prophecy by itself. The Adventist view, tries to make the leaders of the brutal uprising into the beast that rises up, but the scripture definition of a beast as seen by Daniel, does not agree with that thought. For that reason, we believe that we need to look earlier in history, at a time when the fallen church system still had a great deal of power, and at a time when the scriptures and those who used them in the faithful church were almost crushed into non-existence. We have several choices in that regard because of the extreme persecution of the saints throughout history.

Interpretation 2

(2) Since there does not seem to be anything that fits very well at the end of the traditional 539-1799AD time, some feel that perhaps there is another 1260 years much earlier, that places the defeat in a time where the two prophets were overcome. The time-frame suggested for the end of this new 1260, was for it to end at or shortly after the beginning of the Reformation. The problem again, is that the scriptures were winning their battle with the fallen church at the time of the Reformation, because the Bible was being accepted again by the Protestant churches as the standard of truth. A lot of non-biblical Papal dogma was being removed by the reformers, because the Bible showed that those false doctrines were not from God, but from Pagan sources.

The other problem that we see here, is that we don’t see a mathematically way to make a new 1260-year cycle at that point in history. The traditional 1260 that began in 539 and ended in 1799, seems to fit history and the traditional Bible chronology very well, regarding the Christian church. We believe that there is a second application of the 1260 years, as we mentioned earlier in Chapter 10, but that second application applies only to Israel and not to the church. We think that there is a simpler solution to this problem, as we will see shortly.

Interpretation 3

(3) Another possibility, which is related to the one above, is one that our Study Group at first saw as possibly correct, but later changed our minds about it, because we had found a better solution. This one, is the idea that the killing of the two prophets could have occurred just prior to the Reformation, regardless of where the 1260 years was located at.

The thought that the 3.5 years was fulfilled just prior to the Reformation, is found in Barnes notes on this area. We are only going to mention the outline of his thoughts, since we now see a better method, which we will explain next. The history that he gives, did happen, but we don't believe that it fulfills this prophecy. Basically, what happened was that the Papal system had been making war and overcoming the saints, especially since at least the third Lateran council starting in 1179AD. The bad events that were going on there, are some of the bad events that had been prophesied elsewhere in Revelation and Daniel, where it tells us that the beast was going to make war with the saints and overcome them.

Revelation 13:7 And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over all kindred, and tongues, and nations.

The idea suggested by Barnes, is that the witnesses would not have had to literally complete their testimony at that time. It was suggested that the terminology and wording used in this verse, would seem to indicate that it only means they would have perfected or finished their testimony about the fallen church system. In other words, it would have become obvious from their testimony, that the apostate church system was the great falling away.

Things had gotten so bad for the faithful by the time of the Lateran council in 1514AD, that the Papal church system had invited any heretic who still had the courage to show up, and promised that they would be heard if they did. At that point in history, if any still existed, it seemed that they were too weak and lacking in courage to stand up and be counted, since no one showed up. Barnes suggested that this showed that the system had either killed or weakened the opposition, to the point that they were not able to resist anymore. There may have been ones left who were still fighting against the fallen church system, but they were too afraid to say anything against the all-powerful church.

The Lateran council ended itself, because of the lack of opposition, declaring that no one stood in opposition to the Papal church anymore, and that all enemies had been defeated! That statement was about 3.5 years prior to the time that Luther nailed the 95 theses on the church door. This then at first glance, seemed to be the 3.5 years that we needed to fulfill this scripture, exactly at a day per year! But then we found another solution that makes even more sense.

That solution does not believe that the period of 3.5 years, is a literal time-period, but that it is a symbolic time-period that spans the entire 1260 years at a symbolic time of  $3.5 \times 360 = 1260$  years. That solution is explained in great detail in Chapter 11, where we start with the two prophets being killed,

Article From Adventist University Supporting 3.5 Years Just Before 1799

This the entire article from the Adventist University, which gives their arguments against some that they out line at the beginning of the article, who don't believe that there were 3.5 years of banning of the church and the scriptures just prior to 1799.

THE REIGN OF TERROR Jan Voerman Geesbrug, The Netherlands Traditionally, historians have endorsed the idea that the Reign of Terror that occurred as a part of the French Revolution lasted for a period of three and a half years. Ellen White, for instance, noted regarding the length of the French Revolution that "It was in 1793 that the decrees which abolished the Christian religion and set aside the Bible, passed the French Assembly. Three years and a half later a resolution rescinding these decrees, thus granting toleration to Scripture, was adopted by the same body."<sup>1</sup> However, do the facts sustain a period of three and a half years of terror by the governing body of France? Or did the declaration against Christianity and the Bible last only a few weeks or months at the most? Critical students such as Harold Snide call this period into question, proposing instead that the Reign of Terror "ended after a few months."<sup>2</sup> Snide contends that we can discover no adequately significant event coming even approximately three and a half years after the atheistic supremacy, to mark the close of the period. Three and a half years from November 1793, would bring us to the spring of 1797. It has been asserted that the Convention then repudiated its atheistic pronouncement. History shows no such action. In the first place, the Directory was in power, not the Convention, in 1797. Furthermore, the atheistic intolerance had spent its force and had been repudiated by decree and by the new constitution of 1795, so this work did not remain to be done in 1797.<sup>3</sup> Snide supports his argument with the following outline of events: • On November 26, 1793, the Council of the Commune outlawed all religions, including Christianity, except for the worship of Reason. • Nine days later, the Convention forbade violence relating to religious liberty. • On May 9, 1794, the Convention, under the influence of Robespierre, decreed the worship of the Supreme Being. • On September 20, 1794, government support of religion was abolished, bringing considerable religious liberty, although "non-juring

An attempt was also made to restore "the tenth-day festivals [of Reason] in the hope of competing with Christianity and its weekly Lord's Day; but this effort was a ludicrous and dismal failure." • On February 21, 1795, Boissy d'Anglas made a motion for the complete separation of Church and State, which allowed for "any kind of religious worship throughout France, but with some restrictions as to place, advertising, endowments, etc. Persecution still took place. "The refractory clergy were still considered criminal, but this was a political matter, and could hardly be considered the death of God's Two Witnesses [i.e., the Old and New Testaments]. In the provinces, there was much delay and opposition by local officials in permitting the liberty granted by the Convention.” • On August 17, 1795, a new constitution, written by “comparatively moderate men,” was adopted that among other things mandated the separation of Church and State and guaranteed freedom of worship.<sup>4</sup> He then concludes: “Thus we see that in less than six months the atheistic enactment of November 26, 1793, was abrogated; and in less than two years there was greater religious freedom guaranteed on a fundamental legal basis, than existed prior to the outbreak of atheism. The ‘Two Witnesses’ just simply did not stay ‘dead’ three and a half years.”<sup>5</sup> When approaching the subject of the Reign of Terror we must bear in mind, however, that we are dealing with a time of revolution—a time of terror, while, at the same time, liberty, equality, and fraternity were the leading watchwords of the day.

The historical facts point to a harsh reality: although these words were at that time France’s propaganda device, there was excessive terror and much bloodshed—a sinister caricature of France’s well sounding motto. The purpose of this article is, therefore, to examine the historical events that make up the period of time referred to as the Reign of Terror in order to determine whether the period lasted for three and half years as traditionally proposed by older historians, or only a few months as contended by some contemporary scholars. The event that marked the beginning of the Reign of Terror was seemingly innocuous.

A Revolutionary Calendar with a new name for each month was adopted with September 22, 1792 to September 21, 1793 as year one. However, the new calendar annulled saints’ days and Sundays and this gave great impetus to the de-Christianizing movement. All Christian worship was abolished and civic festivals were dictated with dances in the cathedrals <sup>4</sup> Ibid., emphasis original. <sup>5</sup> Ibid. The Reign of Terror 119 every décadi or tenth day. And so there was in fact no freedom of Christian worship, as we will soon discover more clearly. On October 15, 1793 (15th Brumaire of the year II), Marie-Joseph Chénier proposed to found a new religion instead of the Christian faith. “Wrench,” he said, the sons of the Republic from the yoke of theocracy which now weighs upon them. . . . [T]hen, freed from prejudice and worthy to represent the French nation, you will be able, on the ruins of fallen superstitions, to found the one universal religion, which has neither secrets nor mysteries, whose one dogma is equality, whose orators are the laws, whose pontiffs are the magistrates, which asks no incense from the great human family to burn save before the altar of our country, our mother, and our deity. <sup>6</sup> We are informed that this speech was made in the name of the Committee, applauded by the Convention, and officially printed.<sup>7</sup> Thus solicited and applauded by the Convention, soon a conscious war with Christianity and the Bible raged. Everywhere in the country, priests, bishops, and ministers renounced their beliefs and resigned, often accompanied by public declarations of their religious fraud and folly. Shameless and ridiculous processions took place. Donkeys were dressed in bishops’ robes and miters and led through the streets. In Lyon, an ass “with a bible and a missal tied to its tail, was followed by cartloads of church vessels.”<sup>8</sup> The movement of de-Christianization quickly became general. Religion was renounced. Christian churches were closed and then reopened as Temples of Reason. No other religion was propagated than that of Liberty and Equality, while the resistant clergy were denounced and arrested. A. Aulard noted that The Commune of Paris . . . on the 3rd Frimaire of the Year II (24th November, 1793), on the request of Chaumette, . . . decreed “that all the churches and chapels of every religion and sect which exist in Paris shall be closed forthwith,” and also that anyone who asked for their reopening should be arrested as a suspicious person.<sup>9</sup> Although the situation throughout the country varied from district to district, especially in the rural areas, there was, in general, no real freedom of 6 A. Atheistic Enactment Abrogated with Worship of Supreme Being On May 9 (or rather May 7 of the 18th Floréal of Year II), 1794, under the leading influence of Robespierre, the worship of the Supreme Being was decreed. However, what did this mean? Were atheistic measures actually put to an end within six months of the initial decree? Was freedom of religion restored? Did France return to the worship of the true God of heaven, and was Christianity once again established? Aulard explains that “There was one to which I have only alluded—namely, the establishment of the Worship of the Supreme Being, under which the attacks on Christianity went on and which was in truth only the continuation of the Worship of Reason under another form—the form initiated by Robespierre.”<sup>10</sup> Thus it is clear that the establishment of the worship of the Supreme Being was, in actuality, an attack against Christianity—the attacks went on. The worship of Reason was continued under another form—Deism. It was also in a sense atheistic since the true God of the Bible was worshiped no more than with the worship of Reason. Aulard, in his Preface, states: A de-Christianization of France started in 1793, and in the Year II, first with the Cult of Reason, then with that of the Supreme Being. . . . The peril thus run by Christianity at the time of the Worship of Reason and the Worship of the Supreme Being is the most outstanding episode in the religious history of the French Revolution. . . . [I]t was the whole of Christianity which was involved, and at a solemn hour, when a New France was being called in existence.<sup>11</sup> There was no positive change for Christianity under the worship of the Supreme Being. The de-Christianization went on as before, leaving Christianity and the Bible to remain in peril. The English newspaper, The Times, on August 2, 1794, nearly three months after the introduction of the cult of the Supreme Being on May 7, listed a number of stipulations imposed by the French government on its people. Under the heading French Consistency these stipulations included: <sup>10</sup>Ibid., 124. <sup>11</sup>Ibid., 13-14. The Reign of Terror <sup>121</sup>Decreed That religious worship shall be exercised as usual. Ordered That all Priests and Bishops performing Mass, be put to death immediately. Decreed That there is no God, nor any power superior to man; and that a throne be erected to Reason. Ordered That it be made known to the Public, that the Convention do believe in a Supreme Being, who is above all things. Decreed That death is an eternal sleep, and the idea of an hereafter ridiculous. Decreed That the French Nation is free, and every individual shall fully enjoy LIBERTY. Decreed That all persons shall enjoy full Liberty of Speech. Ordered That whoever finds fault with the proceedings of the Convention, be sent to the Revolutionary Tribunal—that is—put to death. Ordered That whoever talks of restoring Royalty as a branch of the Constitution, be put to death. Ordered That Great Britain be invaded, and the national flag hoisted on the Tower of London; and that the English be invited to follow the example of France, and destroy Royalty.

Decreed That France is a brave, a generous, and a humane people; and that their wish is to make all mankind happy. The Times adds the following significant words to the stipulations: Such are the out-lines of that constitution which France at present is cured with; and which is not only recommended as a proper one for this kingdom, but actually endeavored to be established here by a set of Jacobins who are a disgrace to their country, and a dishonor to human nature. The violence of their proceedings seem, indeed, to be a token of their despair; and, from the resolute activity of government, there appears every reason to hope, that the sword of the law will speedily bring such rebellious miscreants to justice.<sup>12</sup> There is no doubt these ordered and decreed sentences do not reflect freedom of Christian worship. “That there is no God, nor any power superior to man” is a clear anti-Bible and anti-Christian decree. Further, the Supreme Being is not the true biblical God of heaven, but more a philosophical being, indicating nature and the people. <sup>12</sup>The Times, Saturday, 2 August 1794, 2, column 4. <sup>122</sup>Seminary Studies 47 (Spring 2009) Robespierre’s introduction of his Supreme Being was, in fact, a disgusting mockery to the righteous and only true God of the Bible. Note how Edmond de Pressensé describes this act: The future high priest of the Supreme Being was ascending thus by bloody steps to the altar of his god. To arrive there he marched over the dead bodies of his friends, of those at whose table he had sat, and whose marriage contracts he had signed. Master in the Jacobin Club, and in the Committees, this most pure, this incorruptible saint of demagogism, was always ready with some furtive plan of conspiracy, in the elastic meshes of which he entangled all his adversaries, or, more truly, all his rivals.<sup>13</sup> The Christian History Institute concurs: “On this day, May 7, 1794, the Committee of Public Safety, which controlled France, decreed worship of a Supreme Being. This was not the God of the Bible, who enters into personal relationship with men, but a Deist god.”<sup>14</sup> John McManners points out that “In effect, it was all the same; his new religion was but an episode of the de-Christianization—as Mercier’s errand boy observed, ‘There’s no longer a God, only Robespierre’s Être Suprême.’”<sup>15</sup> Walter Scott also declares that Robespierre’s religion involved no worship of the true God, stating that “His acknowledgment of a Divinity . . . involved no worship of the Great Being.”<sup>16</sup> Aulard describes the pretended freedom to believe in the principles of the new philosophical anti-Christian religion this way: “You may believe in them or not as you like. If you do not believe you will be banished, not for irreligion, but for lack of social sentiment.”<sup>17</sup> Simon Schama calls the Festival of the Supreme Being that was to replace Christian worship a “most ambitious political production” and explains: Robespierre had announced the creed a month earlier, on May 7 (18 Floréal), in a painfully crafted speech on “the relations between moral and religious ideas with republican principles.” “The true priest of the Supreme Being,” Robespierre declared to the baffled and the bemused, “is Nature itself; its temple is the universe; its religion virtue; its festivals the joy of a great <sup>13</sup>M. worship reflecting much of Rousseau's ideas—actually desired to make this “the State religion and to be himself the pontiff of it.”<sup>19</sup> An opera singer named Mademoiselle Maillard “was proclaimed goddess of the feast of freedom and reason.”<sup>20</sup> She declared, as the representative figure of Reason: “Let the world consider it! This, O National Convention, wonder of the universe, is our New Divinity; Goddess of Reason, worthy, and alone worthy of revering. Her henceforth weADore.”<sup>21</sup> On the feast of the Supreme Being, it turned out that Robespierre himself was worshiped and received similar honor, much to the disgrace of his opponents: In his craven soul, he has worshipped not the Supreme Being, but only himself, Robespierre.<sup>22</sup> Incorruptible Robespierre, not unlike the Ancients, as Legislator of a free people, will now also be Priest and Prophet . . . the “Existence of the Supreme Being.”<sup>23</sup> Look at it one moment, O Reader, not two. The shabbiest page of Human Annals: or is there, that thou wottest of, one shabbier? Mumbo-Jumbo of the African woods to me seems venerable beside the new Deity of Robespierre; for this is a conscious Mumbo-Jumbo, and knows that he is machinery.<sup>24</sup> His pompous self-glorification on the festival of the Supreme Being . . . gave fresh irritation to all classes of his opponents, who thenceforth spared no pain to accomplish his ruin.<sup>25</sup> 18Schama, 831. 19Aulard, 125. 20Samuel Macaulay Jackson, ed., The New Schaff-Herzog Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge (New York: Funk and Wagnalls, 1909), 4:387. 21Thomas Carlyle, The French Revolution (New York: Thomas Y. For a moment the Vicar of God fancied he was himself God!<sup>26</sup> The man stood forth in his glory, he appeared as a leader of the Government and as a religious leader, at once a pontiff and a dictator . . . and we have seen that the work of destroying Christianity went on apace.<sup>27</sup> Aulard further states that letters have been found among Robespierre's papers “in which he was regarded, not as a mere pontiff, but as a divinity.”<sup>28</sup> In a leading newspaper of 1794, Robespierre is addressed as being a Deity and to express his horrible pontificate, he, with his party, was characterized as “wholesale dealers in human flesh.”<sup>29</sup> Thus it is clear that with this new form of worship the only true God of heaven was not glorified. There was no relief for Christianity whatsoever. The destructive work against Christianity went on apace. The worship of the Supreme Being was revolutionary and antichristian, as Shailer Mathews also clearly confirms: “As Robespierre and the Committee of Public Safety gained influence, the cult of Reason was repressed, and France recalled to the better but no less revolutionary and antichristian worship of the Supreme Being.”<sup>30</sup> Aulard explains that everyone was commanded to think and act as Robespierre, and those who did not were branded as “enemies of the Republic” and as “men who are corrupt.”<sup>31</sup> What is more, he concludes: “So under this pontificate there would be no more religious liberty.”<sup>32</sup> Great crowds, dressed in their Sunday best, attended the Festival of the Supreme Being, but did this day have any favorable effect? Did it bring some relief and freedom to the oppressed people? François Furet informs us that Accounts agree on this point, which is hard to comprehend, since the Terror was going full swing and the dread machine had been still for only a day . . . the illusion did not last very long—the bloody law of Prairial [May 1794] followed in a couple of days. Nor did the festival have a favorable effect on the Conventionnels, who had seen in it only its political, and even personal aspect. The Supreme Being did not have the same hold over them as the Committee of Public Safety. The Reign of Terror 125 fear remained the political and psychological mainsprings of the revolutionary dictatorship.<sup>33</sup> Consider how the grim situation deteriorated two days after the procession of the Supreme Being when the law of Prairial was presented by Couthon. John Dalberg-Acton describes the act as follows: It is the most tyrannical of all the acts of the Revolution, and is not surpassed by anything in the records of absolute monarchy. For the decree of Prairial suppressed the formalities of law in political trials . . . no time was to be lost with witnesses, written depositions, or arguments. . . . Robespierre had only to send a deputy's name to the public accuser, and he would be in his grave next day. . . . The victims increased rapidly in number . . . the guillotine was removed to a distant part of the city, where a deep trench was dug to carry away such quantities of blood.<sup>34</sup> Schama, commenting on the decree of 22 Prairial, says: Henceforth anyone, denounced for "slandering patriotism," "seeking to inspire discouragement," "spreading false news" or even "depraving morals, corrupting the public conscience and impairing the purity and energy of the revolutionary government" could be brought before the Revolutionary Tribunal . . . no witnesses would be allowed to be called nor could the accused have a defense counsel. We're not the jurymen, after all, good citizens, capable of coming to a fair and unbiased verdict on their own judgment?<sup>35</sup> The execution rate went up extremely high. It reveals that the worship of the Supreme Being had not exerted any softening influence upon the Reign of Terror. The alarming effect on the public is not surprising: "Public opinion was shaken, and the practices of the repression abetted the fear."<sup>36</sup> When Robespierre and his accomplices were themselves sent to the guillotine, did this end the Revolution and bring any immediate relief to Christianity? George H. Allen justly remarks: Robespierre's downfall has sometimes been regarded as the conclusion of the Revolution. Difficult as it is to assign any definite limit to this great movement of the Revolution, the 9th Thermidor of the Year II (July 27, 1794) is manifestly premature. For revolutionary activity continued with scarcely <sup>33</sup>François Furet, The French Revolution, 1770-1814 (Oxford: Blackwell, 2001), 148- 149. <sup>34</sup>John Emerich Edward Dalberg-Acton, Lectures on the French Revolution (London: Macmillan, 1920), 287-288. <sup>35</sup>Schama, 837. <sup>36</sup>Georges Lefebvre, The French Revolution from 1793-1799 (London: Routledge & Kegan Paul, 1964), 125. 126 Seminary Studies 47 (Spring 2009) abated intensity. . . . [T]he Terror was still maintained as an instrument of government although in waning measure; and the revolutionary leaders were still intent on plans for the remodeling and reforming of the framework of society.<sup>37</sup> De Pressensé writes: "The situation of France immediately after the fall of Robespierre was very peculiar. The party which had triumphed held in the main the principles of him who had fallen."<sup>38</sup> Since the triumphant party was mainly led by similar principles, no real change was to be expected. No wonder then that we read: "Too often, however, the reaction which set in on the fall of Robespierre was but a continuation of the Reign of Terror."<sup>39</sup> It is clear, then, that the situation remained much the same and that the objectionable laws were not repealed. As to matters of religion, the fall of Robespierre in Thermidor induced no very rapid change. Persecution was no longer so atrocious, but still all the laws of proscription remained un-repealed, even liberty of worship had been theoretically reestablished—a liberty which was suspended on the slightest suspicion. Public opinion had not yet returned to Christianity. The reaction of Thermidor was imbued fully with the infidel philosophy of the day.<sup>40</sup> W. Henley Jervis informs us that The change was not immediate, for the men who succeeded Robespierre in power—such as Tallien, Barras, Fouché, Thibaudeau, Barère—were not less fiercely hostile to Christianity and the Church than any of their fallen colleagues and by no means disposed to repeal the bloodthirsty legislation of the Terror.<sup>41</sup> Thus it is made clear that after the fall of Robespierre there was just as much hostility to Christianity and the Bible as before. Thus it is no wonder that although a decree of freedom of worship existed it was grossly violated. It only meant freedom of worship of the state religion on the tenth day and meanwhile secularization went on. The decree of the 16th Frimaire of the year II, which had proclaimed liberty of worship, had not been repealed, though it was violated almost in every direction. . . . But the work of secularization went on. Thus on the 3rd Frimaire of the Year III <sup>37</sup>George H. Allen, The French Revolution (Philadelphia: George Barrie's Sons, 1925), 4:240-241. <sup>38</sup>De Pressensé, 249. <sup>39</sup>Ibid., 251. <sup>40</sup>Ibid., emphasis supplied. <sup>41</sup>W. Henley Jervis, 259, emphasis supplied. The Reign of Terror 127 at Albi, Mallarmé and Brouillerot, representatives “en mission”, prohibited all exercise of public worship within the district, and all meetings except to celebrate the “décadi” [the tenth day].<sup>42</sup> The Reign of Terror was a period of great chaos, agony, doubt, insecurity, and uncertainty. The ruling powers were divided, inconsistent, and contradictory. “The Convention was characterized by inconsistencies that loom large in the history of legislatures. It followed policies so contradictory that at first glance it seems impossible to find a common feature among them.”<sup>43</sup> Freedom of Worship with the Speech of Boissy d’Anglas On February 21, 1795 (the decree of the third Ventôse of the Year III), Boissy d’Anglas made a speech about the separation of Church and State. It is true that in several districts this decree led to the reopening of churches, but many were soon closed again, while the priests “were obliged to conceal themselves through fear of the penal legislation of the Terror, which was not yet repealed.”<sup>44</sup> Thus since these iniquitous laws were still in force the churches were, in fact, still in peril. “In many districts the magistrates exerted themselves by unfair and arbitrary proceedings of all kinds to obstruct the execution of the law of the 3rd Ventôse.”<sup>45</sup> In other places, where priests exhorted people to come and hear mass on Sundays and Festivals, they were “forthwith denounced for having insulted the Republican Calendar, which was still legally in force. Sometimes meetings for worship on Sundays were expressly prohibited . . . and Dumont insisted that the Terrorist legislation should be enforced to its full extent.”<sup>46</sup> When we look carefully at the facts, it will soon be clear that there is only a difference of strategy with exactly the same intention as before Robespierre’s execution. “Boissy d’Anglas was by education a Protestant, but had abandoned all belief in Christianity, and was a philosophical freethinker of the most advanced type.”<sup>47</sup> Aulard records Boissy’s report to the citizens of France: “Citizens,” he said, “public worship has been banished from the Government and it will not return.” Then he declared the Catholic religion to be intolerant, domineering, sanguinary, childish, absurd and harmful. The ideal would be that instead of <sup>42</sup>Aulard, 135-136. <sup>43</sup>Lefebvre, 160. <sup>44</sup>Jervis, 271. <sup>45</sup>Ibid., 267. <sup>46</sup>Ibid., 267-268. <sup>47</sup>Ibid., 263. 128 Seminary Studies 47 (Spring 2009) religion men should be led by the light of reason and bound to each other by ties of mere common interest, by the principles of social organization, and by that imperious feeling which draws men to gather together and love one another. It was by “the wisdom of the laws” that the Convention would prepare for the “sole reign of philosophy, for the sway of morality alone. . . . Absurd dogmas will be no sooner recognized than despised. Very soon the religion of Socrates and of Marcus Aurelius and of Cicero will be the religion of the world.” But to attain this end we must go slowly, like nature. Let there be no Hébertism, no persecution.<sup>48</sup> Aulard concludes: “Thus the plan of substituting natural religion for Christianity was reaffirmed. Christianity could not be overthrown by violence. They hoped to do it by liberty—and strict legal restraints.”<sup>49</sup> Thus although this decree proclaimed liberty, it, in actuality, prohibited all external ceremonies, signs or inscriptions and all public proclamations or calling of assemblies. No one might appear in public in canonicals or wear ornaments used in religious ceremonies. All religious gatherings were placed under police supervision. The communes were not to acquire nor let [i.e., rent] any place for religious purposes. No endowment, either permanent or temporary, might be created, nor might any tax be imposed for the maintenance of religion.<sup>50</sup> We can only conclude that in reality there was not that kind of freedom as some would think. Furthermore, it was not at all the religion of the Bible that was favored. The philosophies of Socrates, Marcus Aurelius, and Cicero were advocated as the religion of the world and, therefore, we can confidently say that this was not in any way a Christian revival; on the contrary, as was prophesied, God’s two Witnesses (the Old and New Testaments) remained dead. Says de Pressensé: At the close of the Reign of Terror the moral condition of France was truly deplorable. The nation had begun by making of liberty a religion. Disgusted finally with the crimes committed in its name, and possessing no longer that faith which gives consolation in disappointment, and saves the soul from universal and morbid doubt, the people seem to have lost the faculty of believing in God. Thus the greatest bond of moral restraint was broken. . . . Never did debauchery parade itself with more audacity in open day. . . . A journal of the time gave the true explanation of this deplorable situation. “We are the only people in the world,” said the Éclair, “who ever attempted to do without religion. But what <sup>48</sup>Aulard, 139. <sup>49</sup>Ibid., 139, emphasis supplied. <sup>50</sup>Ibid., emphasis supplied. The Reign of Terror 129 is already our sad experience? Every tenth day [this Sabbath of the infidels] we are astounded by the recital of more crimes and assassinations than were committed formerly in a whole year. At the risk of speaking an obsolete language, and of receiving insult for response, we declare that we must cease striving to destroy the remnants of religion if we desire to prevent the entire dissolution of society.”<sup>51</sup> Thus there was no Christian revival yet. De Pressensé notes that Entire religious liberty did not exist a single day during the whole course of the Revolution. Even under the “régime” of the separation of Church and State it was seriously trammelled by the general government. And in many cases the legal impediments were rendered tenfold more severe by the passions and injustice of the provincial magistrates. These acted almost everywhere in the interest of the anti-religious tendency.<sup>52</sup> No Repudiation of Atheistic Laws in the Spring of 1797 It is hard to believe that the Two Witnesses had come to life in France much before the end of the prophesied three and a half years. No sign of the influence of the Bible was perceptible in the disorderly situation that reigned supreme. Further, we are informed that the situation grew worse under a divided government. With violent factions in the directory; it sank under its own weight and disorder reigned supreme. . . . The country, like its government, went blindly on at random. . . . The people threw themselves headlong into all forms of pleasure-seeking. . . . [T]he dissolution of morals was unbridled, gambling was carried likewise to unheard-of excesses; the police did nothing, bands of brigands multiplied. The south was laid waste by the “compagnons de Jéhu” and the “enfants du Soleil”; the “chauffeurs” terrified the west. It seemed as if the whole state was on the verge of dissolution.<sup>53</sup> However, during the first part of the year 1797, a clear change came about. “The election of 1797 had fortified in the government the party of moderation. Several of the new delegates, such as Camille Jordan and Royer Collard, were strangers to the violent measures of the Revolution. They were especially strangers to antireligious passions, and represented constituents who were attached to Christianity, and more and more weary of the intolerance of the Directory. The legislative session began with a revision 51De Pressensé, 293-294. 52Ibid., 292. 53Victor Duruy, A Short History of France (London: Everyman’s Library, 1918), 363. 130 Seminary Studies 47 (Spring 2009) of the revolutionary laws.”54 Although some advance was already made in behalf of Christianity in 1796, it was not until the first part of 1797 that the lot of the religious became more favorable: But the lot of the religious was making advance toward betterment during the year 1796 and the first part of 1797. On June 17 Camille Jordan, deputy from Lyons, delivered an address in favor of the priests and calling for a revision of the laws respecting religion. On June 24 the directorium reported to the Five Hundred that, in consequence of the more favorable outlook in religious affairs, a large number of priests had returned and many religious organizations were asking for freedom of worship.55 Camille Jordan, “a young man of good sentiments and a lively imagination,”56 was “elected at Bordeaux to carry out a program involving the restoration of religion on the basis of a liberal Separation.57 The role of Jordan is recorded thus: On the 4th Prairial Dumolard had applied for the nomination of a Commission to revise the laws affecting the government of religious worship. This was duly appointed: Camille Jordan was elected chairman, and the Council, while waiting for his report, sent a message to the Directors demanding the immediate release of all incarcerated priests.58 Camille Jordan became the organ of the complaints which were everywhere made against the infractions of the liberty of worship. He pronounced a memorable discourse in favor of indiscriminate liberty of conscience for all citizens, and feared not to borrow arguments from the excellency of Christianity. . . . “If you desire to erect a dike against the fearful progress of crime and disorder, you must guarantee complete religious liberty.” Jordan then proceeded in the most reasonable manner to explain in detail how this liberty should be respected. . . . This discourse was a marked event. . . . The Assembly, by a strong majority, repealed the most of the intolerant laws which yet disgraced the code of France. Liberty of conscience obtained a signal triumph.59 Among the most important subjects to which the new members purposed to direct their attention were religion and the laws concerning the priests. The commission charged with this 54De Pressensé, 280-281. 55The New Schaff-Herzog Encyclopedia, 4:388. 56Louis ADolphe Thiers, The History of the French Revolution (Freeport, NY: Books for Libraries, 1971), 5:91. 57Madelin, 523, emphasis supplied. 58Ibid., 525, emphasis supplied. 59De Pressensé, 280-283, emphasis supplied. Camille Jordan proposed the abolition of the oaths, the repeal of the oppressive laws which had been the consequence, permission to use bells, and to have cemeteries, in which each religion could place such religious signs as it pleased upon the graves. The principles of this report, though expressed with dangerous emphasis, were just.60 The events linked with those developments culminating with Jordan’s report clearly indicate that his work and address were not at all insignificant, but played a definite role in procuring a real change that made large numbers of priests return and many religious organizations ask for freedom of worship. Jordan’s Address was officially published in the French Gazette Nationale ou Le Moniteur Universel. To all, he sacredly promised full religious freedom.61 Jervis explains:

“A Committee was appointed to revise the laws of the Revolution, more particularly those affecting public worship and the clergy; and on the 17th of June, Camille Jordan, a young barrister from Lyons, presented its report, which is a document of singular ability and interest.”<sup>62</sup> He continues: Jordan pointed out with stern emphasis the true sources which had produced the existing state of confusion and distress. “Within the last few years we have enacted thousands of laws; we have reformed all branches of our jurisprudence; and yet never has this noble Empire been more shamefully ravaged by crime. Why is this? Because you have displaced from the hearts of Frenchmen that great law which was implanted there by nature, that law which alone distinguishes right from wrong, which alone gives authority to every other legislative statute. Recall that mighty law to life and energy; grant to all forms of religious worship the faculty of reestablishing it in every heart; then we shall have no further need of all this apparatus of ordinances and penalties. Religion, of whatever shape, ought not only to be tolerated, but protected; because all religion promotes morality, and is therefore beneficial to mankind. To proscribe religion of any kind in France, after the sanguinary lessons that we have received, would be an impious thought; it will never find admission among the representatives of the people; it is execrated within these walls. I swear it by the representatives of the people; it is execrated within these walls. I swear it by the shades of five hundred thousand Frenchmen <sup>60</sup>Thiers, 101-102, emphasis supplied. <sup>61</sup>Gazette Nationale ou Le Moniteur Universel, no. 275, vendredi, 23 juin, 1797, 1097, Corps Législatif, Suite du rapport de Camille Jordan. “Que tous nos concitoyens soient donc aujourd’hui pleinement rassurés; que tous catholiques, protestants, assermentés, insermentés, sachent que c’est la volonté du législateur, comme le voeu de la loi, qu’ils suivent en liberté la religion que leur coeur a choisie. Let our fellow-citizens be henceforth fully reassured; I renew to them in your name the sacred promise—Religious worship is free in France!<sup>63</sup> If there was already free religious worship in France, why then this pleading address? Wouldn’t that be like knocking on a door that has been already opened? We are compelled to admit that everything points toward the fact that there was no real religious freedom yet. And so Jordan, in his courageous and impressive speech, demanded a complete restoration of Christianity with all its signs, symbols, ceremonies, and practices.<sup>64</sup> It is, however, not surprising that not everyone agreed with all the details of Jordan’s report, and it seems that particularly his pleading for the use of church bells was not appreciated by everyone and caused some hilarity that gave him the nickname Bell-Jordan. After Jordan’s presentation a report about the laws with regard to the clergy was presented: “A second report followed, presented by Dubruel, which had for its object the total abrogation of the penal laws against the clergy, and their reinstatement in all rights and privileges of French citizens.”<sup>65</sup> A prolonged and sometimes heated discussion followed, but when at last the Council was ready to vote, a very remarkable result was gained: “When the vote was at length taken on the 18th of July [1797], there appeared an immense majority in favor of the first proposition of Camille Jordan and Dubruel; and the iniquitous legislation of the Revolution against ecclesiastics was in consequence annulled.”<sup>66</sup> This remarkable event that marked the end of the prophesied period of three years and a half, paved the upward way for the Bible and for Christianity. There was no foreign power imposed—it was the same body—France’s own ruling Government that adopted after a period of terror of three years and a half “a resolution rescinding these decrees, thus granting toleration to the Scriptures.”<sup>67</sup> George Croly summarizes the events as follows: “By the decree of the French Government, declaring that the nation acknowledged no God, the Old and New Testaments were slain throughout the limits of Republican France.”<sup>68</sup> He continues: “In three years and a half from the abolition of <sup>63</sup>Ibid., 287, emphasis supplied. <sup>64</sup>Ibid., 288. <sup>65</sup>Ibid., 289. <sup>66</sup>Ibid., 290, emphasis supplied. <sup>67</sup>White, 287. <sup>68</sup>George Croly, The Apocalypse of St. John or Prophecy of the Rise, Progress, and Fall of the Church of Rome; The Inquisition; The Revolution of France; The Universal War; and the Final Triumph of Christianity (London: C. & J. Croly concludes: Those regulations, in comprehending the whole state of worship in France, were, in fact, a peculiar boon to Protestantism. . . . The Church and the Bible had been slain in France from November 1793, till June 1797. The three years and a half were expended, and the Bible, so long and sternly repressed before, was placed in honour, and was openly the book of free Protestantism!<sup>71</sup> Conclusion Thus after the termination of the prophesied period of three years and a half in June 1797, a free and upward way was paved for the Bible and Protestantism. De Pressensé noted that as soon as religion became free from the civil administration, and was left to itself, it recovered itself with astonishing rapidity from the discredit into which it had fallen. It is noted that “Finally a decree was passed to restore to the priests their civil rights though in September of 1797, during a temporary period of control by the republican radicals, persecution of the priests was renewed, and of the returned priests stern requirements were made.”<sup>73</sup> Jervis writes: The rapid successes of Napoleon Bonaparte in the north of Italy had paved the way for the execution of one of the favorite projects of the ruling powers of Paris, namely, the overthrow of the Pope’s temporal authority.<sup>74</sup> The Constitutional clergy, again, while professing theoretically the deepest reverence for the Holy See as the center of Catholic unity, were in reality thoroughly opposed to any program of pacification which should assert in practice the spiritual supremacy of Rome.<sup>75</sup> The Reign of Terror had ended, following three and a half years of violence. Its ending brought with it true freedom of religion for all the people of France, in which each citizen could worship God in the manner each preferred, and thereby restoring the Bible to its rightful place. <sup>72</sup>De Pressensé, 292. <sup>73</sup>The New Schaff-Herzog Encyclopedia, 4:388. <sup>74</sup>Jervis, 318. <sup>75</sup>Ibid., 325.
